CHURCH UNION NOW IN FIRST STAGE AT GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Rev. W. J. Clark Declares in Its Favor, But Leave It to People.

PARTY SHOULD NOT SWAY

Strong Appeal to Commissioners to Allow Majority to Rule on Question.

[By Staff Reporter.] Woodstock, June 8.—The first stage of the discussion of the church union question was reached this morning in the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, with the presentation by Rev. Dr. W. J. Clark, of Montreal, the convener of the union committee, of the views of the majority of the committee, and a reply by Rev. Dr. D. D. McLeod, of Barrie, on behalf of the minority.

Dr. Clark declared that while in his own view the time had come when a union of the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational churches should be consummated, he would not be in favor of coercing the minority if, on a vote of the people, it was found that a very considerable minority existed who were opposed to union.

Go With People.
"But," he added, "if the people belonging to this church vote overwhelmingly in favor of union, even in spite of a possible disruption, I would go on with it. Disruption is a terrible thing, but there are worse things than disruption."

Dr. Clark called attention to the fact that since last fall an organization had been formed to oppose the union.

ROLL OF MONEY IS MISSING FROM THE RUINED DWELLING

Police Are on Guard in East Zorra — Tornado Scattered Furniture All Over Farm—Some Peculiar Tricks.

[Canadian Press.] Woodstock, June 8.—Hundreds of people from this city and district flocked to the scene of last night's terrible cyclone in East Zorra Township this morning, and gazed upon the chaos left by the wind and hail.

A staff of county constables was put in charge last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bartley, which was completely demolished by the tornado, and all attempts at looting were put down.

The belongings of Mr. and Mrs. Bartley are being gathered together as quickly as possible. Much of the furniture of the house, including stoves, beds, dressers, etc., was smashed to pieces by the storm and parts are to be found a quarter of a mile away. A large roll of money, which Bartley had in the house, cannot now be found, while several valuable family treasures are missing.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Bartley have been brought to this city, by order of coroner MacKay.

A son of the aged couple, 28 years of age, is heart-broken over the tragic occurrence. He had just ordered a supply of lumber from a firm in the city, intending to build his parents a new home this fall.

Across the road from Bartley's farm hundreds of curious paid a visit to E. Brown's house. All was confusion there. A great scuffling from the Bartley house pierced the wall of the Brown house and fell in the front parlor, cutting a hole in the wall as cleanly as if it was done by a carpenter.

In one of the bedrooms a small stick of wood, about three feet long and two inches in diameter, pierced its way through the panel of a door, showing the remarkable force with which it must have been driven.

In Woodstock many windows were broken by the hail, which was as big as a small hen's egg. Greenhouses suffered very heavily.

DELAWARE CHURCH PROPERTY SALE IS CAUSE OF TROUBLE

London Conference in Warmest Debate Over Request to Annul.

TRUSTEES ARE SCORED

After Making Sale Majority Now Ask That It Be Barred.

[By Staff Reporter.] SARNIA, June 8.—The trustee board of Sharon Methodist Church, in Delaware Township, Middlesex County, has muddled up the sale of the old church property on the fourth concession, and the action has precipitated the warmest debate that has so far engaged the London conference. The tangle was straightened out when the conference rose for lunch at noon. The old church has been torn down and a new structure erected on the next concession.

The trustee board advertised and sold the old site by public auction, subject, as is constitutional, to the sanction of the conference. Today, however, a memorial was submitted to the conference on behalf of the church board, asking that the sale of the property be annulled. Those who favored holding up the sale stated that there were rumors that the property had been purchased for the erection of a dance hall, and dance halls are not particularly favored in Methodist sections. The about-face attitude of the church trustees was scored by several delegates, who scented some "underhand move," as it would be impossible for a dance hall to thrive in such a neighborhood.

It was asked, "How do we know that the majority of trustees are opposed to the deal going through?" whereupon a delegate from Delaware waved aloft a paper, which he declared, was signed by eight out of the eleven trustees, asking the conference to bar the sale. Then came a storm. It was demanded if that petition was signed in regular meeting of the board of trustees. The answer was in the negative.

"It is a queer thing that the members of a board of trustees will meet and agree upon a sale in regular session, and in private get their heads together, eight out of eleven, and reverse their decision," shouted a delegate. It was moved that the report be referred back to the church board to be threshed out during the next year. After much argument the question was put and lost.

When the conference rose for noon session, the delegates were debating a motion to refer back to the conference committee. There were comments being freely made in half undertones that the real trouble was that another would-be purchaser was behind it all.

His offer would be worth more in dollars and cents than the price at which the site was knocked down at auction.

All Agree to This.
Another motion affecting the same parish met with no objection. It asked sanction for the sale of the old house, which was at the new church.

The conference approved an application of Birr circuit, in the London district, for authority to sell the old parsonage, the proceeds to be applied toward the purchase of another at Lidderton.

Union Church, in the Wingham district, is to be sold, and the funds applied to building a new church.

Tithes Proposed.
The committee on systematic giving urged that the ministers endeavor to educate their congregations into the system of giving tithes of their incomes.

In addition to the eight names of those elected from the ministerial section of the conference as delegates to the general conference published this morning, Rev. E. Wilson, of Stratford, today received a sufficient vote to add him. Balloting will go on until eleven more get a sufficient number of votes to elect them.

Rev. D. E. Martin, who is transferred from Kingsville to Brantford, in the Hamilton conference, addressed the delegates, dwelling upon his regrets at leaving such inspiring and conventional associates.

Considerable damage was caused to property along the coast and in Chaleurs Bay.

THE DEAD.
The names of the dead at Caraquet are, F. Albert and his two sons, Jean Baptiste and Martin, Oliver Beaulieu, Joseph Patraut and his two sons, Jean and Frederick, and Theophile Dugas.

Reports from Gaspé say the storm broke with sudden and tremendous fury and many of the schooners were overturned one after the other. Those which got near the shore were smashed to pieces on the rocks.

A search is now being made for bodies along the coast near the shipwrecking places.

IT'S SURE A HOT DAY

HUERTA DECIDES TO SUSPEND BLOCKADE

Threatened Action of Mexican Government Was Causing Considerable Anxiety.

MEDIATORS ARE WAITING

A Reply From Carranza to Last Note Sent Him Expected on Tuesday.

[Canadian Press.] Mexico City, June 8.—The Mexican Government today decided to suspend the blockade of Tampico, which has been ordered.

Some Storm Clouds.
Niagara Falls, Ont., June 8.—Storm clouds hovered over the mediation proceedings today. The Mexican delegates anxiously awaited word from the mediators as to the attitude of the American Government toward the proposed blockade of the Huerta gunboats of the port of Tampico, held by the Constitutionalists.

The American delegates were informed early today by Secretary Bryan of the attitude of the United States, and they were ready formally to present it at a conference called for 11 o'clock. As the Antilla, a Cuban ship laden with ammunition for Constitutionalists, is en route to Tampico, the test case of Huerta's right to blockade of ports held by the Constitutionalists is at hand.

A Prickly Question.
A disagreement over the right of the Government to blockade Tampico might easily lead to a disruption of the proceedings, but the mediators are hopeful that the difficulty may be overcome. The embarrassing feature to the United States lies in the fact that not having recognized the Huerta Government, it cannot concede that Huerta is entitled to engage in an act involving international law.

Along with the Antilla incident the mediation colony was intensely interested in what Gen. Carranza might say. Continued on Page Eleven.

Alliance Makes First Trip Successfully in One Hour and Half.

[Canadian Press.] Panama, June 8.—The first passage through the Gatun locks by an ocean liner was successfully carried out today by the Panama Railroad steam ship Alliance, a vessel of 4,660 tons.

The trip was made a test of the working of the electric towing locomotives in handling a large vessel. The operation passed off without any incident, the time required being about an hour and a half each way.

SOME CONFESSIONS BY COLONEL HUGHES

Government Tried to Give Contracts to Tories, But Found Them No Good and Had to Go Back to Liberals.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, June 8.—The Minister of Militia paid a tribute to the management of the militia department during the Liberal Administration, and on Saturday was criticized from his own side. His estimates were on, "I may as well be frank," said Col. Hughes. "When we took office we proposed to change the system and arrange so that good Tories would secure contracts. But we found that this resulted in loss, in failure, and in dissatisfaction. So we had to give it up, and go back to the same old Liberal contractors."

Then G. W. Fowler got after the Minister of Militia. He had bought 100,000 acres of lands in the wilds of New Brunswick for $2 an acre. Mr. Fowler said that the land was low, rough and unsuitable for training grounds, that it was not worth 25 cents an acre, and that the Provincial Government was delighted with the great price they were able to realize from the sale. "Fighting black flies and mosquitoes will keep the men busier than anything else in the camp." To make a training ground would involve an expenditure of three million dollars. He said that the minister should have stuck to the Sussex camp.

Col. Hughes replied that Sussex was too small. He wanted more room in New Brunswick and in Ontario on which to train men. Therefore, he proposed to get away from Sussex and from Niagara, which was so small that he might as well attempt to train men on a square in Toronto.

BRICKLAYERS STRIKE IS THREATENED HERE

May Go Out in Sympathy With Carpenters Is Now Rumored.

The usual daily average gain in the membership of the local union of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners was reported for Saturday. The men claim that they have no fear but that success will incline to their side of the struggle with the contractors and builders in their demand for a 40-cent minimum wage.

There is some possibility of the bricklayers going out in sympathy, but nothing definite in the matter has been decided as yet.

J. G. Hussey, president of the local Trades and Labor Council, stated yesterday that he had heard nothing of a labor parade of local unions in sympathy with the carpenters next Friday night. Members of the carpenters' local also discredited the rumor.

BOY DROWNED.
[Canadian Press.] Capetown, June 8.—Lloyd Vinton, 14 years of age, who was bathing in a pond near the Grand Trunk tracks yesterday afternoon, stepped into a hole and was drowned. The body was recovered two hours later.

IN BATHING SUITS MEN BUILD BRIDGE

Sweltering Pedestrians Watch the Coolest Job in London Today.

WATER IS FREELY USED

Temperature Yesterday Almost Reached 90 Degrees in the Shade.

The coolest job in London today was the work of six bridge builders on the Hamilton bridge over the Thames River on the Wharfedale road. The men were bathing suits and were immersed in the cooling waters of the river while they were getting up the false work which is to support the steel overhead beams.

Perspiring pedestrians walked by, mopping their brows, and eyeing with envy the six men in the river, who splashed about in high glee, as they peered up from time to time at the stream of parboiled humanity which seemed to gaze upon the river with suicidal intent.

"That's the only kind of a job to have on a hot day like this," declared Electrical Engineer E. V. Buchanan, as he watched the men for a few fleeting seconds.

Gain in Water Consumption.
The sultry weather of yesterday and today caused the water-gauge at Springbank to jump upward by leaps and bounds. The city's consumption was increased from 4,000,000 gallons to 4,500,000 and 5,000,000 gallons in 24 hours. It was the greatest increase shown this year, and indicated that water was being used freely to help the widespread discomfort from the heat.

The only relief that some people got Sunday was by sitting in their bath tubs at home, while others rigged up an impromptu shower contrivance at the bathtub tap to get the running-water effect.

At Springbank it was said that there was a good supply of water on hand to Continued on Page Eleven.

ANOTHER EMPRESS VICTIM BURIED

Remains of William Hopper Interred at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

The funeral of William Hopper, the young Englishman who lost his life in the Empress of Ireland disaster, was held this morning at ten o'clock from Smith, Son & Clarke's undertaking parlors to Mount Pleasant Cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. A. Claria, of the Southern Congregational Church.

The undertaking parlors were crowded with friends of Mr. Hopper, a sad feature being the absence of relatives, as Mr. Hopper had none on this side of the water. The floral tributes complete, covered the casket. The pallbearers were, Walter Ashenden, Peter Nye, Fred Price and Louis Nye.

MAYOR WILL NOT ENTER RACE FOR FEDERAL HOUSE

Declares He Will Make No Attempt To Succeed Major Thos. Beattie—Picks Controller Moore To Carry Tory Standard.

Mayor Graham announced today that under no circumstances would he be the Conservative candidate for member of parliament to succeed Major Thomas Beattie. He said he had so notified the leaders of the party some time ago. "There are two reasons why I will not consider the matter," said the mayor. "First, I can't afford it. Second, I wouldn't sacrifice my home and family life for all the parliaments in the world."

The mayor stated that Controller Percy Moore was the logical man for the position, and no doubt would be the nominee of the Conservatives.

Regarding the candidacy of Adam Beck in the Provincial Legislature, Mayor Graham said that the Conservatives would probably not call a convention to nominate him, as the party did not expect any opposition to Mr. Beck. It was explained that under the election act any two men could nominate a man in opposition to Mr. Beck by putting up a deposit of $200, but the deposit would be forfeited if the candidate did not qualify. It was also claimed that Mr. Beck would have easy sailing so far as the leaders of the Conservative party were concerned in the campaign to succeed himself.

THURSDAY IS SET FOR PROROGATION

Both Houses of Parliament Tacitly Agree to Get Through — C. N. R. Likely Pass — Not Farmers' Bank Bill.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, June 8.—Prorogation on Thursday is a plan to which both Houses of Parliament have tacitly acquiesced. Only one thing could prolong the session in the face of anxiety of members to leave. That would be the determination of Liberal senators to throw out the C. N. R. bill. There is no doubt but that this was seriously considered, but in the face of warnings that such action would precipitate financial disaster, the majority in the Senate shrink from following the inclination which many of them had of voting a substantial amendment to the Canadian Northern bill. Though not finally settled, it looks now as though the bill would pass.

Bank Bill Doomed.
If reports are true the Farmers' Bank measure will not succeed. Its discussion will not occupy any considerable time. Naturalization is pretty well disposed of. These are the only measures of importance which remain to be dealt with. It is expected that with morning sittings going on in the Senate everything can be cleaned up on Wednesday, and the governor-general called in to prorogue parliament on Thursday.

Commons this morning the G. T. P. bill was given its plentiful reading.

E. B. Devlin read a resolution by the Montreal Trades and Labor Council, asking that the Government appoint a royal commission to devise some way of coping with the serious situation which has arisen through lack of employment.

Premier Borden replied that the request had not yet been received by the Government and had therefore not been considered.

Still Possible.
It is stated that there is still a possibility of the redistribution bill being passed.

Mr. Fardeau, chief Liberal whip, returned to Ottawa today and negotiations for an agreement upon the terms of the bill were resumed.

STRAWBERRY CROP A RECORD BREAKER

Indications Point to Lower Prices Than for Several Years—Lots of Cakes.

Strawberry shortcake will be plentiful this year, because the dealers say strawberries are going to be plentiful. The outlook at present is for a record crop. Prices are likely to be cheaper this year than they have been for several years, according to growers on the market this morning.

Weather conditions are almost perfect for berry-growing. A good rain would make it perfect, the dealers say.

The danger of very light frosts is not yet past, despite the temperature of 87 yesterday afternoon, and 89 on Saturday.

The berry season is on about the fifteenth of the month. It promises to be several days earlier this year, with a record crop for every day. So far only two boxes have been on the market. They sold for 20 cents each.

FIRM WAS "WISE" SO SHIPPED TIES HERE, SAYS SPITAL

Port Stanley Commissioner Hands Out Explanation of 45-Carload Purchase.

DID NOT KNOW OF ORDER

Supplies, Already in London, Purchased for Electrifying L. and P. S. Road.

"OFFICIAL STATEMENT"
Story Handed Out, After Star Chamber Session, Tells of Ordering of Material.

At a meeting Saturday night, from which the members of the press were excluded, the London and Port Stanley Railway Commission claimed to have let contracts to the lowest tenderers for steel and ties on the proposed electrification job on the Port Stanley road.

The forty-five carloads of ties, some of which have already arrived in the city, were accepted by the commission. William Spittal, who apparently was delegated to hand out the official statement of what the commission did, explained the mysterious presence of the ties in the city by saying, "I know nothing of these ties being ordered beforehand. The firm simply took a chance by sending them on and they evidently knew that their price was so that it would be accepted."

The business that the commission claimed to have transacted, was awarding a contract to the Algoma Steel Company for 3,000 tons of steel and giving the Manitoulin Lumber Company an order for 75,000 ties, which order includes 45 carloads already in the city.

Adam Beck presided at the meeting. Commissioners Philip Pocock, M. D. Fraser and William Spittal were present.

Twenty-Five Buildings in Powassan Destroyed by Fire—
Loss Reaches $300,000.

[Canadian Press.]
NORTH BAY, June 7.—Twenty-five buildings were destroyed and sixteen families burned out in a fire which this morning swept the village of Powassan.

North Bay and Callender were called upon for assistance and sent sections of their brigades, who rendered valuable assistance.

The fire started in the cellar of the Queen's Hotel, which was totally destroyed. Other buildings burned were: Kelly and Anderson's general store, A. Graways store and residence, D. Cushman's residence, a barber shop and poolroom, office of Dr. Harcourt, R. Barber's confectionary store, G. Drinkwater's dwelling, F. B. Backler's residence and office, R. Barrett's residence and photograph studio, and A. Mitchell's residence.

In addition, the Trout Creek Lumber Company lost a million feet of lumber and considerable bark and pulpwood was destroyed. The total loss is estimated at $300,000, with insurance of about half that amount.

Conservatives Try to Prevent Registering
of Temperance Men

[Special to The Advertiser.]
QUELPH, June 7.—A rather smart election trick has been nipped in the bud.

Several young men of well-known temperance views were approached by Conservative workers with cards. When these cards were filled out the young men were informed that they had been registered, and no further registration was necessary.

Several boarders at the Y. M. C. A. were taken in on this, and would have let registration later, had they not called at the Carter's committee rooms and learned the actual facts.

Much Pain From Kidney Disease

Doctored in Vain Until Dr.
Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills
Were Used.

Kidney derangements are often associated with disorders of the liver and bowels, and under these conditions ordinary kidney medicines usually fail to effect cure. It is because of their unique, combined action on the liver, kidneys and bowels that Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are so generally successful, even in the most complicated cases.

Mr. Emanuel Bernard, farmer, St. Paul, Kent County, N.B., writes:—"About eighteen years ago my wife was bad with kidney disease, and suffered greatly from headaches, pains in bowels and stomach, and her heart was affected. For a year she was treated by her doctor, with no apparent benefit. She then used five boxes of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with most satisfactory results. This gave us such a good opinion of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills that we always keep them in the house to be used for all derangements of the kidneys, liver and bowels." EXPERTS BAFFLED
IN ATTEMPTING TO CAP BIG GAS WELL

Strong Packer Ripped to Pieces
Like Paper When Inserted—
Three Men Overcome by Gas While Working on It.

PETROLEA, June 7.—So far all efforts to cap the big gas well have been in vain, and experts declare that the flow of gas is becoming steadily stronger.

It was found that capping by the ordinary way of screwing a cap on top of the casing was impossible, and it was decided to try to cap the well by running down about 900 feet of 3-inch pipe and using a "packer." This packer is of the very best rubber on iron and about 400 feet above the gas rock is about an inch thick.

Yesterday afternoon a 3-inch pipe was put in, during which work three men were overcome by gas and carried out, and the packer was started down the hole. No sooner had it started to somewhat restrict the flow of gas than it was ripped as if it were tissue paper and made useless, thus halting operations.

Another Attempt Today.
It was intended to motor to London after a new one, and another attempt will be made to cap the big well on Monday. This delay is most expensive, as the company has to pay nearly a score of men ten dollars a day to risk their lives in the attempt to cap the well. There is certainly real danger. The men work with their ears wadded with batting and handkerchiefs over their ears. Some wear goggles to protect their eyes. Hats and ropes blew around as in a 90-mile-an-hour gale.

Although the gas does not smell it is just as deadly, and, as J. M. Cooper, driller for Union Gas Company, expressed it, "Just get a whiff of that gas in the right way and you're a dead man. People think it is a joke, but there's every kind of danger."

Mr. Glover, manager of the Union Gas Company, who has had every kind of experience in this line, made an effort to cap the well, but along with two others was overcome with gas.

Besides this there are nearly 40,000,000 feet of gas wasted each day. That is, there is already about $16,000 worth of gas lost, estimated at only ten cents a thousand.

Through quiet parts of the country when the wind is favorable the roar of the gas can be heard ten miles away. When within fifty feet of the well shouting into a person's ear is useless, for one cannot be heard. All conversation between The Advertiser representative and the drillers had to be carried on in writing.

People are flocking today from all parts of Lambton to see this wonder, and there are never less than a score of people standing about with hands over their ears.

J. M. Cooper, driller for the Union Gas Company, has brought in 1,000,000 feet per day from a gas well about a quarter of a mile south of the big well, and is well satisfied. This is the attitude of most drillers of the district, for if many big wells were brought in there would only be a few put down and by this both district and drillers would be losers.

FORMAL SUSPENSION.

[Canadian Press.]
London, June 8.—Formal announcement of the suspension of the Canadian Agency Limited was made today. It is understood that the official receiver has been appointed provisional liquidator of the concern, while Sir William Plender, the accountant, is to be special manager of the suspended institution.

COMMERCE CONGRESS.

[Canadian Press.]
Paris, June 8.—The International Congress of Chambers of Commerce and Commercial and Industrial Associations was opened today in the great amphitheatre of the Sorbonne by Raoul Peret, French minister of commerce. R. E. BUTLER CHOSEN
TO OPPOSE ROWELL

For the Fourth Time Candidate in North Oxford—Hon. W.
J. Hanna Present.

[Special to the Advertiser.]

WOODSTOCK, June 6.—R. E. Butler, on three previous occasions an unsuccessful aspirant under Conservative auspices for provincial parliamentary honors, was nominated at a convention of the North Oxford Conservative Association in the city hall here today as the party's champion for the fourth time to contest the constituency with N. W. Rowell.

Five names were placed before the convention, but two of them, John R. Shaw, Woodstock, and Robert Johnston, Woodstock, withdrew. Robert Lockhart, Woodstock, and Daniel Quinn, Thamesford, allowed their names to stand, but it was evident from the beginning that Butler would be the choice of the meeting.

W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, was the speaker of the afternoon, and in order to give him an opportunity to say all he had to say, the other speakers were limited to five-minute addresses in the case of those who decided to stand for nomination, and to two-minute addresses in the case of those who wished to withdraw.

Plea From Mr. Lockhart.

Mr. Lockhart, who contested the riding in 1911, made a pathetic appeal to be given a second chance.

"What's the good," he asked, "of sending back these men who have tried and failed three or four times. If I had run and been beaten twice you would not see my face here today. I ran once and I was beaten, but it's only British fair play to give me a second chance."

Mr. Butler said he regretted that the temperance question had been raised in the campaign. He described it as the football, which was being kicked about to obscure the real issue, but he didn't attempt to explain what the real issue was. He declared he was a better temperance man than N. W. Rowell.

If Mr. Hanna is to be believed, there never was such a splendid body of men as the members of the cabinet of Sir James Whitney's government, whereas, according to him, the Liberal party never contributed anything at all in the way of reform. Since his audience consisted of Conservatives, of course, his utterances went unchallenged.

Makes Fun of the Rowell Banishment.

He made fun of the Rowell banishment policy, declaring that it was made a plank in the Liberal leader's platform only because the latter could think of no other planks out of which to build a platform. He even went further, and charged that Mr. Rowell's policy was the stolen from the Conservative party; that, in fact, Mr. Rowell had only adopted that policy, because he realized that otherwise the credit for reform in the matter of the liquor traffic would be given to the Government.

THREE YOUNG MEN
ORDAINED AT SARNIA

Will Enter the Ministry of the Methodist Church.

SARNIA, June 7.—Ordination service was held this morning in the Central Methodist Church, one of the largest gatherings in the history of the building being present, while many were turned away, as there was no room.

Ex-President McAllister preached the ordination sermon from the text: Timothy, 4:5. The sermon was followed by the ordination service, when the president of the conference, the chairman of the districts and a number of the other ministers laid their hands upon three young men to ordain them to the ministry of the Methodist Church.

The new ministers are: William C. Graham, M.A., B.D.; Arthur Roy Johnson, B.A., B.D.; and Alvin Earnest Milson, B.A. The pulpits of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches of the city were occupied by visiting brethren, while a number of the visiting ministers were in the Methodist Church pulpits in Port Huron.

Monday morning the business will be again taken up at full pressure, but

LONDON, MONDAY, JUNE 8

A GREAT SUCCESS.

ONCE upon a time a man, who knows what drink means to himself and others, had a dream.
He saw a broken, stony road and a long line of feeble, staggering mankind. Their eyes were red and they trembled with some sickening fever. Some fell and did not rise again, in spite of the fact that a man lashed at them with a whip. The others faltered on, weakening at times, but unable to resist the man who was driving them.
Behind them lay a place that was labelled "Bar," and beyond them lay a place that was labelled "Prison Farm." "Is it not a fine institution?" asked the man with the whip.
"Which one?" asked the dreamer.
"The one to which all these men are being driven," replied the individual, who was proud of the parade.
"What do you call it?" questioned the dreamer.
"It is my prison farm," replied the other.
"And what is it for?" the next question.
"Why, when these men ruin themselves at that place—pointing to the bar—"we bring them up here. The bar keeps my prison farm running. The greater success it is the more men must be ruined by the bar. It is something on the order of the asylum and the jail, only a refinement of them. Tell me, is it not a fine?"
Just then the dreamer shuddered and woke up.

LET LONDON PUT UP A FIGHT.

WHILE Mr. Rowell and the Liberal and temperance candidates in many ridings are preparing for a fight to the end on the "Abolish-the-Bar" policy, it would seem a pity if the Liberals and the temperance people of London did not give the leader the support that he would naturally expect from a community of London's moral standing.

London is one of the finest cities morally in Canada. The statement stands without fear of contradiction. London is essentially a city of homes, and almost all of those homes are linked with some one of the many churches in the city. Church life and the home life are the strongest features of our communal existence, and closer by far to us than material considerations are those that effect the home and the boy and the girl.

It is, therefore, the duty of the Liberal forces and the temperance forces to join hands, and go on record as being in active support of the most sweeping moral reform policy that was ever introduced in Ontario. Even though there is a possibility of defeat, the Liberal party and the temperance party should be prepared to fight for such a principle. There are many temperance Conservatives who will put this principle before any material consideration. They may be supporters of Hon. Adam Beck and his hydro-electric policy, but if they are true to their principles, they will know that the abolition of the bar appeals to their hearts, while the only possible appeal of hydro-electric is to their pockets. Hydro-electric might be taken from London tomorrow, and the moral plane of the city would not be lowered; but if every bar were taken from the city tomorrow, it would be the greatest single violation of good influence that the city could feel.

Let Mr. Beck declare himself on this policy. It is memorable that a Liberal member was defeated, and Mr. Beck placed in his present position by the temperance party. Now, when conditions are reversed to a certain extent, when the temperance people declare themselves to be eager to secure the adoption of Mr. Rowell's policy, why should another kind of logic be applied? At the time the temperance party showed its sufficient strength to defeat Liberalism there was no issue in concrete form before the people. Now the whole temperance movement has been crystallized in a definite promise of immediate abolition of the bars.

Let London put up a fight for Mr. Rowell's policy!

ERB FOR SOUTH PERTH.

THE nomination of Mr. D. K. Erb as candidate in South Perth for the 'legislature should mean his election. It will if the Liberals of that riding throw some of their old time enthusiasm into the contest. They have not only a good cause but a good man to vote for. Mr. Erb is well known to the electors. He served a term in Parliament some years ago, and showed his ability there. He would be a truly representative man, not only of the Liberal party, but of all the reforms advocated by Mr. Rowell. Complaint has once or twice been made in an election campaign that the Liberal candidate had no previous record as a friend of advanced temperance legislation. But no one will deny that Mr. Erb is a consistent temperance reformer, with a record behind him of which his friends need not be ashamed. Both in his private and his public life he can point to an honorable and consistent past, in perfect harmony with the advanced sentiment of the present day. Men of all parties who believe that Mr. Rowell's policy is in the best interests of the province can safely vote for D. K. Erb. And if they all vote as they profess to believe he will sit in the next legislature.

MR. FLAVELLE TO MR. DUFF.

MR. J. W. FLAVELLE is one of the leading Conservatives in the province with his own reasons for seeing Ontario advance. His opinion of the Ontario Agricultural department's work under the direction of Hon. James Duff is interesting.

Here is an extract from a letter written by Mr. Flavelle to Mr. Duff:

"You have permitted, you are now permitting, thousands of young Ontario farmers, the cream of our agricultural people, to leave their own province for the West, while, by your inertia, you show you are not cognizant of the advantages of continued residence in this province. If full advantage is taken of the opportunities which open in response to intelligent effort."

Mr. Duff, or the press that upholds him, have said that such movements as the "Stay in Ontario" movement are "partisan."

GOOD ROADS FOR THE FARMERS.

SIR JAMES WHITNEY in his address to the electors says that his government is in favor of good roads throughout the country and will do all that can be done to secure them. And a Conservative contemporary, with more zeal than judgment, says that if the people "think this province should have a great system of roads, making traffic easy and quick, and thereby increasing trade, they will support their view by voting Conservative. If they wish that a great system of roads shall not be built, they will vote for the Rowell party."

The premises are not sound, and therefore the conclusions are false; more than that, they are ridiculous. The good roads movement was inaugurated by the Liberal administration under Mowat. And when they commenced by appointing a commission, Mr. Whitney and his friends moved to strike the appropriation out of the estimates as an unnecessary expense. The Liberals have always been helping on the good roads movement. They have been in advance, while the Tories have lagged behind. In the first platform announced by Mr. Rowell when he was the leadership of his party, there was the proposition for a measure covering the entire province. After urging them along Sir James and his colleagues are now in favor of good roads, and are to be congratulated that they have at least come around to the advanced ground of Liberalism.

If the farmers want a system of good roads, making traffic easy and there-fore, they want it by voting for the party what they want is by voting for the party that initiated the movement, that has always helped it, and that has always been in power in promoting this reform as readily as the Conservatives, if not more so.

COMPULSORY REFORMS.

THE Whitney government has no record of constructive achievement. The prison farm seems to be the only thing it has created, and the idea was an outgrowth of a much written-up experiment in different parts of the United States. Everything that has been done in the way of improvement or reform has been forced upon the reactionary administration by public opinion and the battling Opposition.

The Workmen's Compensation Act was refused time and again after the Opposition asked for it in 1907. It was the combination of Liberals agitating in the Legislature, and Labor demonstration throughout the province, that won the act through. At the present time the Canadian Manufacturers' Association is practically promising that the act will be remodelled at the next session of the Legislature. The manufacturers know full well that Mr. Rowell will make no radical changes in the act, which was drafted by Sir William Ralph Meredith. They are relying upon the return of Mr. Hanna to reduce the claims, and to lessen their responsibility to their workmen.

The Advertiser has recently been handed a circular of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association under date of May, 1914, which outlines the work a committee has undertaken to perform since the act was introduced. The report expresses the hope "that the act will be radically amended at the next session of the Legislature." In view of the Government's attitude to labor's only representative in the House it would not be surprising, unless Labor takes a stand to declare its strength, if the Government should give in to the demands of the manufacturers.

THE MAD WOMEN.

OPTIMISTIC folk who a year ago predicted an early petering out of the militants' campaign are probably surprised, if not amazed, by the current activities of Mrs. Pankhurst's band of "mad women." The bulge tenacity which we claim for British men appears to have gotten into their "shrinking sisters," and while the publicity methods adopted of late are not especially novel, they indicate that the movement has lost none of its vigor.

There are indications, too, that Mrs. Pankhurst's threat of "an incident that will shake the world" may be nearer than is generally supposed. The militants have repeatedly asserted that they will never shed blood, but it is possible that the shedding of blood may come from the side of an exasperated public. Perhaps this is what Mrs. Pankhurst has been hinting at. Dr. Conan Doyle, a keen observer, fears that lynch law may be used to try the furia. Such a thing seems impossible in staid old England, but of late Englishmen's nerves have become raw under the rap of political and social strife, and a mob, under the spur of some particularly atrocious act, may take a leaf from the militants' book and become a law unto itself.

But, after all, would it act as a deterrent? Wouldn't such a gruesome, terrifying incident be just the advertising the militants seek? Nobody questions now but that Mrs. Pankhurst, her daughters and scores of her followers, would consider the sacrifice of their lives a glorious and successful climax to their fight for recognition. And martyrdom invariably wins fresh adherents to a cause, regardless of how weak or unpopular it may be. An Englishman doesn't like to be bullied into doing anything, but from here it looks as if a concession or two at this moment might prevent a serious situation. Some sort of a salve is what is required for such a sore. It will never heal while neglected, and when roughly treated becomes worse.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE.

HON. TOM CROTHERS, of the Dominion cabinet, in a belated speech sought to blame Hon. W. S. Fielding for the Farmers' Bank crash. Other Tory politicians took the same attitude. Sir William Meredith, who investigated the case from a judicial standpoint, said, Mr. Fielding was not at fault.

Which would you prefer to believe, a petty politician or an unbiased judge?

Keep the bars going and watch the farm prisons grow.

If the "Abolish-the-Bar" proposal does not go far enough, why do not the Conservatives go further.

Sir William Ralph Meredith was the man who said the Workmen's Compensation Act should be carried.

With two circuses in the city this week London kiddies become the envy of their kind in less favored parts.

Duff, Hanna, Pyne, Reaume, Foy—are they not the greatest aggregation of legislative stars Ontario ever knew?

Labor has one representative in the Legislature. And the Workmen's Compensation Act will need some protecting unless Mr. Rowell gains a victory.

Ontario has remained the premier province of the Dominion, in spite of the unprogressive Whitney administration.

If Dr. Reaume is left at home who will be minister of public works? Well, there's G. Howard Ferguson, chief of the Hog Commissary Department.

Sir James proposed anti-treating legislation. Then he dropped it. "The boys" most as bad as calling up "the boys" and then expecting some one else to pay.

Doesn't Dr. Pyne's new primer on "Manners" say that we should always be respectful to those above us? And see how those men of Essex snubbed Sir James.

The Conservative machine has made a dead set at Allan Studholme, Labor's fighting member of the Legislature. That doesn't look very rosy for the future of the Workmen's Compensation Act.

What of that petition of 9,000 young Conservatives that asked for advanced temperance legislation? It has been ignored and made light of by the party of these young men. Perhaps they will take a surer way of attaining the goal on June 29.

His political enemies say that Mr. Rowell is an idealist, as if that made him any the less worthy to lead. In that class are Gladstone, Parnell, Lloyd George, President Wilson, Sir Wilfrid Laurier. The fact of the matter is that the idealist is too clean for a certain type of machine politician.

The Toronto Telegram congratulates Sir James Whitney on having such a fine warm month in which to campaign. Also, he should remember that that is the kind of weather that generates cyclones. There is an ominous rumbling already that may culminate in a storm breaking over the head of the big boss of Queen's Park on June 29th.

VAIN HOPE.

He—I wish I had as much nerve as the chimney.
She—What on earth do you mean?
He—Then I'd smoke in spite of you.

THEN HE'D THE CRUST TO LAUGH.

Judging from the way the Tory candidates are getting under the Rowell umbrella, it looks as though they expect a deluge of water on June 29.

AT A PROPITIOUS TIME.

[Toronto Telegram (Cons.).]
Perusal of Sir James Whitney's election manifesto does not disclose any very urgent reason for the somewhat precipitate appeal which the Government is making to the electorate. Indeed, the only excuse of any magnitude that can be discerned for an election this month is that figuratively and literally it is splendid weather for it.

FAR IN THE REAR.

[Stratford Beacon.]
If the Whitney Government would go as far as public opinion would warrant on all questions it might not be so bad, although it would still be a mark of unprogressiveness, but it is being so far in the rear shows that it is not worthy of the support of the people of the province of Ontario, of which we boast that it is the most progressive in the Dominion. It ought to be, but it cannot with an unprogressive government in power.

Quickness in repartee has been credited to Paderewski. A gentleman once introduced the pianist to the champion polo-player of England, and added: "You are both leaders of your separate professions, though they are, of course, very different."

'Tis set with little cottage homes, a garden to each one.
Its green and flowery fields are bright where silver waters run.

My golden valley wimpling shines in the hot noontide,
And, glowing toward my mountains, I see the vivid meadows say:
"Leave thy grim fortress, prison child! Come down to us and play!"

But well I know that, verily, once should I cross the stream
That makes my valley's silver gate—no longer would it gleam
With magic or with mystery or any elfin dream.

So, gazing from my mountains high, where cold ice barriers shine,
Far off I see the precious place set in a mystic shrine,
Held by imagination's grace—never, yet always mine!

Of course, we all know that farming does not pay. Have we not been told that

Mr. Rowell, the Liberal leader, have in not a few cases obliterated party lines, many prominent and other Conservatives going over to him on his reform and temperance policies who have always been Conservative. At the Massey Hall meeting in Toronto last evening, ex-Tory, frankly admitted that he was on the platform because of the lack of progress along temperance lines in his own party. Rev. John McNeil, of Cooke's Presbyterian Church, Toronto, speaking of the way the various governments had dealt with the liquor traffic, he said:

"Whether it be Liberal or Conservative, it has 'chivied' this question about from pillar to post, but a great leader, God bless him, has come forward, who says there shall be no beating about the bush, and he must have the support of all those who wish to 'abolish the bar.' (Applause.)" "If Sir James Whitney had come forward first and said: 'I will abolish the bar,' I would have been with him, but he has not said it, and is not saying it. Mr. Rowell has said with blood-hot emphasis that there shall be no bar. We ministers go with him, and the people should be with him. If not, I for one, will want to know the reason why." (Loud applause.)

The effect is very pleasing, and the garment is comfortable and affords ample protection for the dress worn beneath it. The skirt has a front, side fronts, and back portions and is joined to the waist under a belt. The design is good for lawn, percale, gingham, seersucker, sateen or brilliantine. The pattern is cut in six sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches, bust measure. It requires 4 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for a 38-inch size.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Songs We Used to Whistle and Sing

THE SLIPPERY STANE.

This old Scottish song has been requested by one of our elderly readers, who wishes to refresh his memory with the printed words as learned in youth.

Wae canny thro' this weary war,
An' pick your slipper care,
No'er wif' your neighbors quarrel,
But aye do what is fair.
Folks fa' an' never rise again,
Wha never fell before,
For there's aye a muckle slipper stane
At ilka body's door.

Gin your neighbor chance to slip,
Ye mauna pass him by,
But len' a han', an' help him up—
Dinna let him lie.
The case may some time be your ain,
The' ye hae wealth in store,
For there's aye a muckle slipper stane
At ilka body's door.

There's a slipper stane where'er ye gang,
At palace, cot, or ha',
An' ye maun watch' an' ne gang
Wrasling.
Or owe them you may fa',
For emperors an' kings hae fallen,
An' nobles mony a score,
For there's aye a muckle slipper stane
At ilka body's door.

Very Few Failed To Answer Appeal

"Buy a Rose?" Answered By Dive For Pocket Or Purse.

[By One of the Sellers.]

"Buy a rose girl?—It's in aid of the preventorium." What an interesting record it would make if some sort of an "ometer" had been invented to register the number of times each of the volunteer ladies selling the wild roses on the streets of London Saturday made this appeal. One lay when questioned was sure she had asked at least several thousand people, others thought they were talking "roses" in their sleep. Be that as it may, the question was asked, and answered most satisfactorily by the citizens of London, as the ever increasing weight of the collection boxes went to show.

Perhaps the first thing every worker did upon rising Saturday morning was to view the weather. And for once the weather man was kind. Bright and early the volunteers took their places on the street corners and other spots that suggested a favorable sale, all rejoicing at the sunshine and delightful breeze.

One certainly meets with all sorts and conditions of people in an enterprise of this nature. Quite apart from the personal interest which each seller felt in the object of her sales, the preventorium, arose a secondary interest in studying the various samples of human nature exhibited upon hearing the appeal "buy a rose." And right here one might utter the trite saying that it is in many cases impossible to judge the hearts of people from their exterior. Gruff-looking men, would soften and smile and make a dive for their pockets at once, when approached. Grim, hard-working men, would be asking rather timorously "would you take anything as small as a dime?" and upon being heartily assured "yes" in the affirmative, reached quickly for their shabby purses and a quite proudly pinned the dainty rose to their coats.

In one wood-working establishment in the region of Adelaide street, the writer was invited to enter with her wares. And a royal good fellows the employees were! One man was busy driving nails into a piece of work he was engaged on. "I'll drive a nail for you," he said, "buy a rose, the volunteer." The offer was taken up with a shout, the men crowding around to see the performance, and finally, with many bruises on the head the nail was driven right to the head of the volunteer received her donation.

In the region where the writer was stationed, quite a number of English women passed during the morning, and several of them in chatting told of "Rose Day" in the old land, where on Saturday hundreds of aristocratic ladies engaged in rose selling for a charitable very similar to that which the local society are aiding. Most of them bought roses, and all appeared very interested, it seeming like "a bit of home" to many of them.

And so the hours wore away. People big and people little, haughty looking ladies leading fluff puddles, more ordinary looking ladies "jugging" market baskets, men in the garb of the laborer, business girls tripping down-town to work—all passed in one long panorama, as it were, and very few failed to respond to the cry of the rosesellers, "buy a rose?"

Empress Avenue Mothers' Club.

THE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE GIRL THIS SUMMER IS THE GIRL WITH THE CAPE

Capas are the most popular of all wraps, and it does not make any particular difference if you are short or tall, thin or fat, the clerk or the dressmaker will try to sell you a wrap. The ones shown are of the two most popular varieties for morning and afternoon wear. The plain one is of blue satin-faced broadcloth, with a black satin collar. The fluffy-ruffle one is made of soft, black, moire silk, with ruffles of black taffeta.

Wants a Fig Pie.

Dear Miss Grey—Please print a recipe for a fig pie made with two crusts, also give me a menu for a good substantial dinner for ten people. I want it nice, but not too elaborate.

JEMIMA J.

A.—1. Fig Pie—One-quarter pound of figs, one cup sugar, juice of one lemon, one rounding teaspoon of cornstarch moistened with two spoons of cold water, two-thirds cup of boiling water. Chop the figs, add sugar and lemon and last the cornstarch mixture; bake with two crusts.

I wonder how this menu sounds to you:

Roast Veal, Stuffed Brown Gravy
Mashed Potatoes New Beans
Cucumber and Tomato Salad
Black Coffee.
Strawberry Shortcake with Whipped Cream.
Bonbons Candied Fruits.

Developing Exercise.

Dear Miss Grey—Please give me an exercise for developing the bust.

LUCILLE.

Ans.—Lift hands to a horizontal position in front of body, palms facing each other, then raise them over head, inhaling as you do so, lower hands to a horizontal position, exhaling as you do so. Repeat this exercise with as much vigor as possible, and with the shoulders held well back. Do not look for improvement too soon, but persevere in the exercise.

Beauty Troubles.

Dear Miss Grey—What causes

blackheads and pimples on the forehead? Is there any remedy for them? What color flowers would be pleasing to wear with a pale blue dress? How may I secure a fair complexion? What would one say to a bride when one meets her after marriage? Would it be right to congratulate her?

AURORA.

Ans.—Blackheads are enlarged oil glands filled with dust, which may be remedied by cleansing the face with toilet cream every night, after thoroughly washing with pure castile soap and warm water, then drying. Rub with a cloth over the fingers press the "heads" out then go over with toilet cream. The pimples show bad circulation, for which you will have to consult a physician or take some simple clearing tonic. You can only secure a fair complexion by good, simple food, well digested and assimilated; plenty of outdoor exercise, fresh air, sensible clothing and plenty of sleep. Steaming the face by applying cloths, wrung out of hot water, then following with a dash of very cold water, will act as a tonic for the skin.

2. Yellow, deep red, pink and violet look well on blue.

3. Do not congratulate the bride. Tell her you wish her every happiness possible during her new life.

Snow Pudding.

One-quarter box gelatin, one cup sugar, one pint milk, one cup boiling water, one lemon (juice), two eggs, one teaspoon vanilla.

Cover the gelatin with cold water and allow it to soak for a half hour. Add the boiling water, sugar and lemon juice. Strain and when partly set beat with an eggbeater until it becomes white and "snowy." Stir the stiffly beaten egg whites into this mixture. Fold and leave in a cold place to harden. Serve with a boiled custard sauce made with the milk, yolks of eggs, a half cup of sugar and vanilla. Pour the cool custard around the pudding.

WOMEN SHOULD STUDY BIG QUESTIONS

Mrs. Hughes, of Toronto Urges This Upon Members of Women Teachers' Guild—Then Be Ready to Vote.

Members of the Women Teachers' Guild were the hostesses of a most delightful banquet in the Alexandra School on Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. James L. Hughes, wife of the chief inspector of public schools of Toronto, was the speaker and guest of honor.

Mrs. Hughes chose for her subject "Democracy and Suffrage," stating that democracy was no new term, but had existed since the time of Plato and the ancient Greeks. It had been working like leaven for many centuries, until today it had reached the women of the world.

"It is a divine woman of the world. It is power working in humanity. It is God Himself. Today we see a definite end, and that is suffrage. In all ages every great movement has had many sides. This great reformist movement is but one of the many that are permeating the world today, but all will ultimately combine to form a great democracy."

"We women have always been property. The men are our masters. The very fact that a married woman wears a wedding ring shows that we are bound to a man. We hear a good deal about women's inferiority. If you get to vote, what are you going to do? There is a great deal more involved in suffrage than merely voting. Are we women ready for it? Are we capable of discussing the great questions of government necessary to our country?"

Study Great Issues.

Mrs. Hughes, although an ardent suffragette herself, pointed out that the danger in women having the ballot was their tendency to sentimentalize too much; women would be more apt to include minor reforms and planks in their platform rather than great issues, she stated. Woman's work in the home was not that of fifty years ago. The candle-dipping, meat-curing, weaving, and kindred tasks had become a part of the industrial world. Women had more leisure and should devote it to the achievement of noble qualities and a better grasp of the bigger things of life. "Remember, you are not a woman alone, but an entity and individual, a part of God's plan, out of which he is molding the future," said Mrs. Hughes in conclusion.

A very hearty vote of thanks was tendered the speaker at the close of her address, the motion being voiced by Miss Macklin, seconded by Miss Yeates.

Mrs. Small, of Toronto, who was present, also spoke a few words, stating how glad she was to meet the teachers of London. Miss Tolhurst, president of the guild, presided.

The guests.

The tables were most attractively laid, and adorned with tall vases of purple and white lilies. A heavy of youthful maidens were very attentive waitresses. Besides the members of the guild, the following guests were present: Mrs. E. M. Tiley, Mrs. Gordon Wright, president of the London Suffrage Society; Mrs. P. P. Betts, president of the Women's Canadian Club; Mrs. A. T. Edwards, Mrs. Yarker, president of the Local Council of Women; Mrs. Radcliffe, with her guest, Mrs. Small, of Toronto; Mrs. C. B. Edwards, Mrs. F. E. Leonard, Mrs. C. C. Walter, Miss Blackburn, Miss Rush, head of kindergartens, Hesterboro; Miss Abram, Chatham; Miss Walker, Mrs. H. B. ST. THOMAS W. F. A. TEAM BEAT McCLARYS UNITED

St. Thomas W. F. A. senior team defeated McClary's united team in a game of soccer at Springbank Park Saturday afternoon by the score of 2 to 1. The visitors scored their first goal in ten minutes, and the next a few minutes later. In the last period McClarys played a much better game than their opponents, but could not overcome the McClary team, while Jacques' work in goal was the feature of the visitors' play.

OTTAWA TAKES LAST GAME FROM PETES

"Lefty" Rogers Sprained His Ankle Sliding Into Second.

SCHETTLER NOT EFFECTIVE

Senators Hit Him Hard All Through—Kubat Chased by Umpire Miller.

OTTAWA, June 7.—Ottawa made it two out of three from Peterboro Saturday afternoon, winning a snappy game 4 to 1, and jumping out in front of London in the Canadian League race. The champions, after their lurid display on Friday, came back strong in every department, and slammed Louie Schettler, the ex-Philadelphia National twirler, all over the premises. Fourteen hits in all were collected from the Peterboro flingers' offerings, and the smallness of the score was due to the fact Schettler was pretty tight with men on.

Rogers Hurt.

Lefty Rogers, Ottawa's star outfielder, sprained his foot very badly sliding into second in the seventh and had to be carried from the field. He will likely be out of the game for a week at least. Kubat went in for Ottawa, and with his curve ball working perfectly, the Petes could do little or nothing with him. In the eighth with two on, Welsh was the only cision on a play at first, and kicked himself out of the game. Shocker replaced him, and held the Petes safe the rest of the route. A fast double play wound up the game. D.usty Bullock had three safeties in five trips, one being a double and another a long triple to right in the eighth with two on. Welsh was the only visitor who hit the Ottawa pitchers, getting three in four times up.

It rained Sunday afternoon, and the game at Dupuis Park was called off.

NATIONALS BEAT TORONTO.

Twelve to seven was the score, and goes to show that the Nationals are a fast scoring team.

THE WORLD'S WORK DEPENDS ON THE WORLD'S DIGESTION

From the captain of industry to the mod carrier—from manly in the sun to the woman with the scrubbing brush—the accomplishments of every one of us depend absolutely on the accomplishments of our stomachs. Backed by a good digestion, a man can give the best that is in him. When his stomach fails, he becomes a weakling.

To this loss of power no one need submit. Right habits of eating, drinking, sleeping and exercise, aided by Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, will restore and maintain the full efficiency of the human mind and body.

Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets contain the active principles needed for the digestion of every kind of food. They go to the assistance of the weakened stomach, and enable the sufferer, right from the start, to assimilate and get the benefit of the food eaten. With this assistance, the digestive organs regain their tone, and soon the use of the tablets is no longer necessary.

If your stomach is not working properly, try Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, soc. at your druggist's. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal.

HUGHEY WAS BATTED HARD

Saints Also Got to Dorbeck and Morse, But Fitzpatrick Pulled Game Out of Fire.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

ERIE, P.A., June 7.—The Yankees and the Saints engaged in a slugging match here this afternoon that resulted in a victory for Erie by a score of 6 to 2. Hughey, who took the slab for the visitors, was in fine form until the fifth, but in this stanza Gygl's crew began to solve the mystery of his delivery, and they kept the bombardment up through the remainder of the battle, scoring in the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth. Dorbeck started to go bad in the seventh inning, and was relieved by Morse, who failed to deliver, and with a couple on, was relieved by Fitzpatrick, who kept the visitors safe.

ERIE BUNCHED HITS AND BEAT BEAVERS

ERIE, P.A., June 6.—By bunching their hits in the sixth, the Yankees put a trio of runs across the plate this afternoon, and won from Toronto 3 to 1. Brown, who was on the firing line for the locals, went well through the entire contest, and kept the hits well scattered. The only inning in which he wavered at all was the third, and here the visitors got their lone tally. Five errors chalked up against the visitors figured largely in the victory for Gygl's men.

PARIS, 11; BERLIN, 7.

PARIS, June 6.—The Paris baseball club defeated Berlin on Saturday afternoon at Agricultural Park by 11 runs to 7. The visitors played good ball, and had Paris beaten when their pincer went to pieces in the sixth-inning, and before the last man out, Paris had put in ten runs, and clinched the game. Mr. Bennett umpired satisfactorily. The batteries were, Master and Boettger; Gibbs and Chixby.

All skin diseases such as Eczema, Salt Rheum, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples, and Itching Skin Eruptions, are always caused from the blood being in a bad condition, and it is impossible to eradicate them from the system unless you produce, but the entire system is renovated and invigorated at the same time.

Mrs. G. A. Day, Somerville, N.B., writes:—"Last spring I had a bad attack of Eczema. I tried several patent medicines as well as the medicine of a physician, but they seemed to make the disease worse. I was advised to try Burdock Blood Bitters, and I did so with the result that in two weeks time the sores began to disappear. I continued to take it until I had taken three bottles and they worked a complete cure."

Continuous Quality Did It

There never has been a let-up in the quality, hence there never has been a let-up in the demand for Dunlop Traction Tread Bicycle Tires. Not only this year, but each and every year since 1888 there has been no leader except DUNLOP.

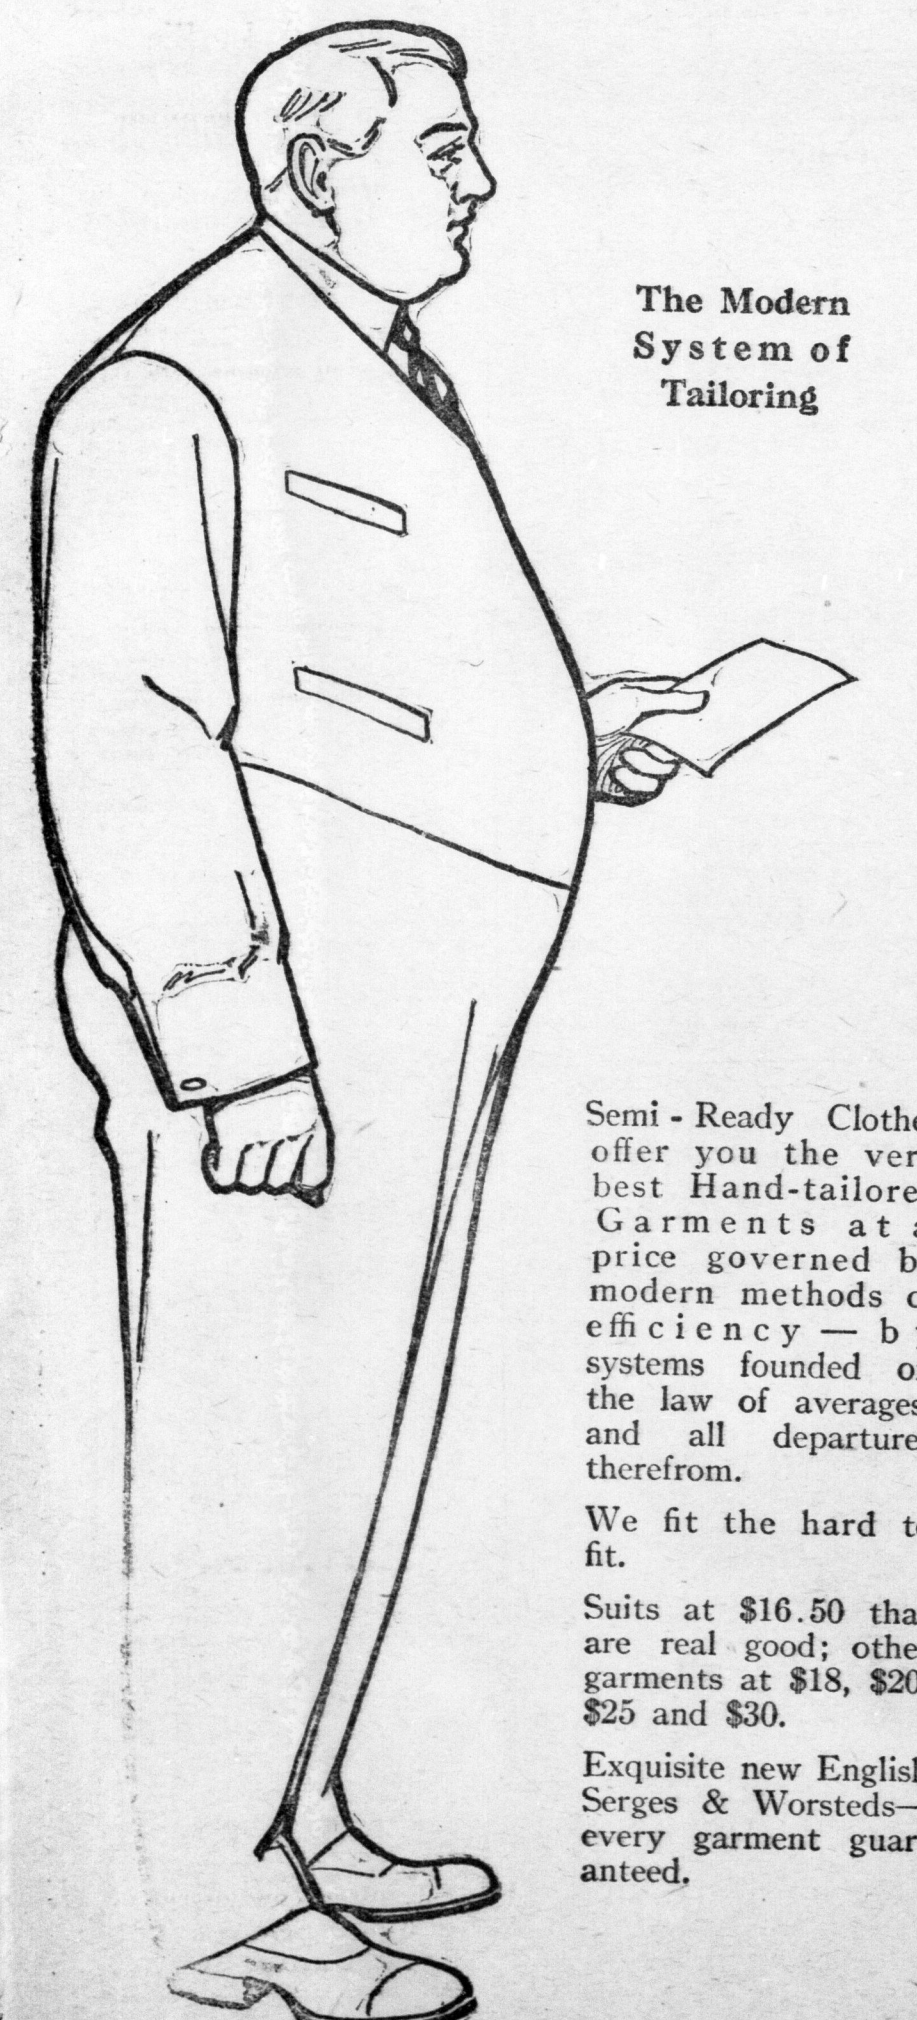

If your dealer hasn't Dunlop Tires, write us direct and we'll tell you where to buy them.

BOLT WORKS BEATEN BY LEONARD TEAM

"Billy" Williams and His Players Spring a Surprise on the League Leaders.

One of the biggest surprises of the city soccer season was sprung on Carlisle Heights Saturday afternoon, when the Leonard team, under "Old Billy" Williams, defeated the hitherto unbeaten Bolt Works eleven by the score of 1 to 0. Billy Williams is an old soccer player, who has seen service in the Boer war, and has played football in England, North Wales, South Africa and this country. He picked up a bunch to represent Leonard's Saturday, and his team made a great showing. Wakefield scored the only goal after ten minutes' play in the first half. The Bolt Works tried hard to overcome the lead, but the great defence work of the Leonard team prevented them. Wakefield, Plumb, Leagus, and Dickson were in the line of the winners.

YOUNG MOTORCYCLISTS WERE HURLED 25 FEET

Crash Into a Horse on Road Near Ingersoll, But Are Uninjured.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
INGERSOLL, June 7. Colliding with a horse that was loose on the road, two young riders of a motorcycle were hurled a considerable distance today and had a narrow escape from serious injury. The accident happened on the Culloden road, a couple of miles from town. As the machine was passing the animal it suddenly turned and was struck broadside. The riders, who were strangers, were thrown about 25 feet, but were apparently uninjured.

Since Saturday there has been a persistent rumor which, however, lacks confirmation, that Dr. J. B. Coleridge will not be the Conservative candidate in the approaching municipal election. It is stated that owing to the state of his health he has decided not to be the standard-bearer and has so informed the executive of the Conservative Association of the riding. The annual meeting of the association has been called for Wednesday, June 10.

In North Oxford today the death occurred of Margaret Ethel Ross, wife of Mr. Henry Edwards, who followed an illness of three months' duration. She was in her 34th year, and besides the husband, is survived by three children. Her parents reside in Embro.

PRODUCE.

Winnipeg, June 6.—In the early hours of the session there was a good demand for cash wheat and with higher prices, July wheat was strong. Opening prices here were 1/4c to 1/2c higher. The former prices, however, were not fully maintained, and nearing the close they were easier, closing 1/4c to 1/2c higher. The cash situation was active for all grains, and especially for wheat. THE SAD RUMOR AS TO G. H. FERGUSON

Hanna's Muckraker-in-Chief Is Pilloried in House of Commons.

A SCATHING CRITICISM Conservatives and Liberals Unite in Denouncing Report on Trent Valley Canal.

[Special to The Advertiser.] OTTAWA, June 7.—A condemnatory resolution was passed in the House of Commons today.

G. Howard Ferguson and the report which he made upon the Trent Valley canal were denounced by Liberal and Conservative members. The man who broke the law of the land to muck-rake the canal construction and who had to have an emergency law enacted at all-night sitting of the Legislature to clear him, found no friends in Parliament.

Not since F. B. Carvell drove the Hon. A. B. Morin out of Canadian public life with a speech or since Hon. G. P. Graham pilloried Guelph and St. John's upon investigations by royal commissions.

The Government has been unfortunate in its choice of scandal-hunters. They have not found scandal, but they have made it.

To Shame of Country. "It is to the shame of our country that such a man remains in public life," was the comment of Mr. Gaudreau upon Mr. Ferguson. "The whole conduct of the man appears to have been a carefully planned and executed campaign of distortion and misrepresentation," said Hugh Guthrie. "His findings are largely both unwarranted and untrue, and in many cases are disproven by the evidence itself. He has submitted a strangely perverse report which appears to be deliberately untrue."

D. D. Mackenzie declared that it was the duty of the Government to seek the recovery of the money which had been paid Mr. Ferguson for his alleged services as royal commissioner.

These words of reproach were all from the Liberal side, but Conservatives failed to give the report of Mr. Ferguson their support.

Honest Man Accused. Hugh Guthrie said Mr. Ferguson had made grave charges against William Hewitt, superintendent at the Hawk Lake Dam. "All that I have been able to learn concerning this man shows him to be the most honest and efficient," said Mr. Guthrie.

"There is no better man and none more honest," said Col. Sam Hughes, emphatically.

"I believe that," said Mr. Guthrie, "but here is what Royal Commissioner Ferguson says of him." Mr. Guthrie then read from the Ferguson report.

"That is humbug," said Col. Hughes. A paragraph which Mr. Guthrie read from the report stung two Conservative members in the House. Mr. Ferguson commented upon the practice of buying expensive and costly foods for consumption on the canal and charging them to the Government. Mr. Guthrie read an affidavit which affirmed that the food and drink in question was bought for the consumption of J. H. Burnham, the Conservative member for West Peterborough, for J. H. Sexsmith, the Conservative member for St. Catharines, and for Mayor Bradburn, when these gentlemen made an inspection trip up the canal.

"The Conservative members jumped to their feet instantly. 'I didn't know we were getting anything on the Government; I didn't, anyway,' said Mr. Sexsmith.

"I paid for everything that I got," protested Mr. Burnham. Mr. Guthrie read the list of the luxuries which the report enumerated as having been consumed on the trip. The recital was punctuated by sarcastic comments from the Liberal side. "What did you have?" asked A. K. MacLean.

"How much did you consume?" inquired Mr. Gaudreau. Mr. Burnham and Mr. Sexsmith protested that the report was most unfair.

"You appreciate how untrue most of this report is," retorted Hon. G. P. Graham.

Sought a Partisan Report. Mr. Guthrie opened the matter, and at the outset declared that he had no intention of shielding wrong-doing. He believed that the superintendent had done wrong and that there seemed to have been a wrong system on the work throughout. However, the greatest wrong which had been committed in carrying out the work of construction was that the report which had been done by Mr. Ferguson as investigator.

Instead of fairly dealing with the merits of the charges and honestly reporting upon them, Mr. Ferguson had attempted to twist everything to make out a partisan case against the late Government. The result was a report which was flagrantly dishonest and in many cases directly contradictory to the evidence and to the facts. The report was misleading, and an unfair summary was given to the press for the purpose of poisoning the public mind.

The House was startled by the disclosure which Mr. Guthrie made of the investigation methods of Mr. Ferguson. He read affidavits which showed that where evidence was given which Commissioner Ferguson did not want, he ordered the stenographer "Not to take it down," and it was suppressed. In some cases he had refused to hear the evidence of witnesses. Mr. Guthrie drew attention to a witness said to be Miss Carr, a stenographer. She had said that there was no such witness and that the pay list had been padded with her name.

Mr. Guthrie read an affidavit made by Miss Carr in which she stated, under oath, that she had been paid only for the work which she did.

"Surely this commissioner should be investigated," said A. K. MacLean.

Affidavits in Denial. "In the early pages of the report," Mr. Guthrie said, "Commissioner Ferguson found that Superintendent McLellan was 'dishonest and deceptive,' that McLellan admitted that certain sums of money for which he could not account 'may have gone into the Liberal campaign funds,' but Mr. Ferguson never called as a witness a single one of the persons implicated by McLellan to give evidence on this point, though they were available and could have been examined at any time. All of these facts are set out in affidavits in absolute denial of what was said of them. The fact is, the report repeats the insinuation which McLellan made when he could not account for money which he had put into his own pocket."

Among the affidavits read were one from Hon. J. R. Stratton and one from Mr. Robert Hall, both former members of Parliament.

Mr. Ferguson had not made a report upon the fact that a boat used on the canal had been hired from a prominent Peterboro Conservative and "removed at the expense of the people."

Col. Hughes Does Not Believe Report. "I do not believe the findings brought by the commissioner so far as McLellan is concerned," said Col. Sam Hughes, "and as for this man Hewitt, he is as square a man as ever lived," added the Minister of Militia.

There was a comment from the Liberal side on the fact that a Conservative minister did not agree with a Conservative investigation. "I don't care about that, I am telling the facts as they are," said Col. Hughes, warmly. He added that the names of innocent people should never have been introduced into the report as they had been done by Mr. Ferguson.

Hon. J. D. Reid, who spoke a little later, endorsed this opinion.

"I think that in a great majority of cases the Government got dollar for dollar for everything that was supplied the canal," continued Col. Hughes. Hon. Mr. Graham said that the Ferguson report was another example of the unfairness and bias of the commissioners who had been appointed by the present Government for the purpose of investigating the canal.

EXPECT LARGE CROWDS AT THE FERARI SHOW

Large crowds are expected all this week at the Ferrari show which are playing all this week at Queen's Park under the auspices of the Royal Order of Moose.

The Ferrari shows are well known in London and district, having played here on several occasions. The fact that they come back again and that they are always well patronized is evidence, in itself, that they are appreciated by the people and that the shows are clean and good.

Several added attractions have been added to the list this year and visitors to the exhibition will see some of the wonders of the world.

BIG CIRCUS PARADE IS FOUND SEASAW A REAL ATTRACTION REALLY BESSEMER?

Miles of Wagons Include Many New and Varied Features.

FINE ANIMAL COLLECTION Menagerie on Wheels Proves Drawing Card for the Small Boy.

The downtown streets were the Mecca for small boys this morning. Although no official half-holiday had been declared from the mills of education, the younger element of the city was attracted to the answer is simple. It is circus day.

The big parade was scheduled to start at 10 o'clock from the east end grounds. Long before this time had arrived, Richmond, Dundas and streets along the line of procession were crowded with hot, dusty but expectant children. There was a real representation of older people at that.

Like Big Serpent. The first impression of the parade was that a long, varicolored serpent was crawling slowly but surely through London's principal thoroughfares. All made defensive motions as they passed. There were miles of wagons with pictures of ancient warriors and dazzling females on the outside, plucking the curiosity to the bursting point as to what was inside.

There was a chariot for every nation with the national flags floating, and folks dressed up like the natives of each are supposed to dress, and sometimes ten horses (two working) drawing it. Russia had a bery of "Russian" ladies with fur caps and coats, carrying white linen parasols, and surmounting Egypt was Cleopatra, so gorgeous she must make Anthony's bones rattle every time she bumps over a crosswalk.

Phalanx of Blondes. The parade was led by a phalanx of blondes on cream horses, and interspersed along the huge caravan were blondes and brunettes with a few of the variety escorted by noble cavaliers. There were pony fours-in-hand and one big chariot had 16 camels hooked four abreast.

But though the excitement ran high because of all the joys mentioned, there was a riot of ecstasy when a dozen huge cages with sides of rolled by, first came the leopards and their spots, then wolves and tigers, and then somebody down the line shouted "lions." Sure enough, with a gaily dressed guide riding beside them, rode Mr. and Mrs. Lion, and what d'ye think Mr. Lion was asleep. Surest thing this morning, his head was one whopper, and his big paws pointing skyward. "Just like the lazy man," someone with a surfrage button was heard to murmur, and all the time Mamma Lion was doing a marathon around the cage. Then pianos and more leopards, and another family of lions, where Mamma Lion managed to keep her legs lord awake. And then the elephants.

Public Opinion. "Keep back, Micky, or they'll getcha," shouted one small kid.

"Now, day won't nudder, if ye ain't got no tobacco widge," was the scornful reply.

There they were, sure as you live, marching just like the animals did going into the ark, and each had a red-coated and white-battered keeper on his head with a long, sharp hook (Ugh! betcha it'd hurt, gotcha, bet it would). There were 24 of 'em, and they each hung on to the tails of the one in front of them with their trunks. There was one whopper, with iron chains on his feet, hooking him to those in front and behind, and, oh, gee, but they sure were great!

The third thing was the steam plow, and the deluge of the thousands of those who braved the broiling sun and the heat of the pavements and pushed and shoved and oiled and ached while the mile of parade passed by.

"Keep back, Micky, or they'll getcha," shouted one small kid.

CHURCH UNION

come into being, the object of which was to halt the negotiations.

"This organization," he said, "proposes to stand for the maintenance and preservation of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. This is what I have been at ever since I joined the church, and what I am working for now, but I believe the time has come when we can carry on our work best by uniting."

No Party Question. A feeling may exist in the minds of some of you that having espoused the cause of the new organization, you must be loyal to your party. I don't think the idea of loyalty to any party should sway you."

"We have not arrived at that stage where we are divided into opposing factions and it is possible that that time may never come."

He went on to say that the opponents of union contended that practical unanimity was necessary before such a union as suggested could be successful and that such unanimity did not exist; that when the last vote was taken a very considerable number were opposed to union and that there was no indication of any change in the situation.

Change Indicated. "There is indication of a change," he said. "We have not held any caucus to find out what the present situation is, but there are evidences of a very decided change. For instance, at the assembly in Edmonton some years ago the committee appointed to consider this question contained quite a large proportion of men opposed to union, but at least six of them have changed their attitude and have come over to the majority."

If we do not proceed along the lines of the present majority recommendation and give our people a chance to vote on the question, we shall be breaking faith with them; we shall not be acting as honorable men. We are not justified in stopping now."

Let Majority Rule. "I am not behind any man in my love for the Presbyterian Church in Canada, but I have always believed and I still do believe that in this great church of our fathers we come to discussion of questions on which there must be difference of opinion at times. We know that good men may differ, and the only way those differences can be settled is by a vote of the majority."

At times when a vote has been taken I have been on the losing side, but I have always gone away with the feeling: 'Well, I will abide by the wishes of the minority.' It would hurt our feelings very greatly if we went away from this gathering with the feeling that the minority has been allowed to rule."

No Ritual Absolute. "The minority may say to that, that this is not a question of majorities or minorities, but of the very constitution of the church itself, and that we have no right to discuss the obliteration of the Presbyterian Church in Canada. My response to that, to my thinking, there is no organization of the church, no ritual which in the divine order is absolute forever. To my thinking that understanding of every true Presbyterian. The idea of the church is that the church of God has given to the church no ritual, grace, and that only in that organization can grace be found. I cannot understand any free man holding that view."

Church Has Changed. "As a matter of fact the church has changed. The Presbyterian Church of my boyhood days is not the Presbyterian Church of today. We are not adhering to any absolute type. We are free men and we are bound to deal with the conditions which face us now in Canada. And those conditions are not the conditions of a generation ago. If the minority is allowed to rule and call halt to our work, if for one will feel like going away from this assembly saying: 'I abhor—the glory is departed.'"

Cannot Go Back. If we take the position that we are superior to the Methodist Church, that we are too big to unite with them, that is Pharisaical and there will be an increasing of the denominational spirit and denominational effort. We cannot simply go back to where we were at the beginning of these negotiations.

Another thing we have to take into consideration is the fact that many people are coming into this country to whom the Presbyterian Church means nothing, but who are human souls for whom Christ died. If we don't Christianize these people we are going to evangelize them badly. At this point Rev. Dr. Campbell rose and objected to Dr. Clark attempting to give his opinion as to the views of the minority. Dr. Clark, he said, was not to put into the mouths of other people the arguments he expected them to make.

"I would not attempt to do that," was the reply, "the minority will have an opportunity to express their own views."

EXPECTED SPECIAL AGENT BUT HE WAS HOME

Local Immigration Man Did Not Know Middlesex Commissioner Had Returned.

Just whether it was expected that Thomas Benstead, special immigration agent of the Middlesex Publicity Association, would return from England with a blare of trumpets and a retinue of attendants, heralds and bodyguards, that would fully advertise the fact of his return to all London, does not matter now. Certainly, his return was looked forward to by Dominion Immigration Agent, John Riggs, and a large number of farmers, who hoped to secure farm laborers from the party of immigrants Mr. Benstead was expected to bring with him. Word was received from Mr. Benstead that he was sailing on May 15, which he did, making a safe and uneventful voyage.

Landing in Quebec, Mr. Benstead somehow failed to meet S. D. Dawson, stationed there to meet incoming immigrants, and came on to London. He had secured men for all of the farmers, making application for help before Mr. Benstead left for England, and he brought with him a number of other men not placed in advance, and also seven domestics, for whom positions were waiting.

Mr. Benstead ticketed straight through all the men for whom positions were waiting and sent the others to Mr. Riggs, who but it seems that they did not make it clear to Mr. Riggs that they had come over with Mr. Benstead, whom Mr. Riggs continued to expect. While local members of the Publicity Association were wondering what had become of Mr. Benstead, he had been safe at home for nearly two weeks.

Another party of men booked through by Mr. Benstead sailed from England yesterday.

EXPLAINS PUBLIC HEALTH TO WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

Dr. Hill Lectures at Annual Meeting and Shows Women Research Work.

An interesting address on the work of the Institute of Public Health was given by Dr. H. W. Hill at the annual meeting of East Middlesex Women's Institute, held in the Public Health Institute building on Saturday afternoon.

"While the Women's Institute and the Institute of Public Health could not exactly be called sister institutions," said Dr. Hill, "they might very well be considered as brother and sister institutions."

After speaking of the great advantages of rural life, Dr. Hill showed and described illustrations of a great many disease microbes, germs and cultures which are under observation at the public health institute. Afterwards the members of the Women's Institute were conducted through the health institute and shown the laboratories, research rooms, lecture rooms, animals for experimental uses, and other departments of the institute. The work conducted for the benefit of the public health, the clinical work for the physicians of London and Western Ontario, and the work of the institute as a department of the Western University was explained.

The prize-winning essay on "The Future of Rural Life in Ontario" was read by Mrs. Dawes, of Belmont, winner of the competition conducted by the Women's Institute. Mrs. W. S. Laidlaw, retiring president, presided.

The following new officers were elected: Mrs. Dawes, president; Miss Hobbs, secretary; Mrs. W. S. Laidlaw, first vice-president, and Mrs. Wilkins, second vice-president.

Today's Moving Picture Story

"THE MARRIAGE OF CUPID."

A Two-Part Drama from the Greek Mythology—it Will Appear at the Majestic Theatre today and Tuesday.

CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Psyche..... Mile. Napier Kowska of the Paris Opera
Cupid..... Mile. Andree Pascal

For beauty of characters and the settings in which the action takes place this film has never had an equal. Add to this the fanciful romance and mystifying mythology that run through the piece and you have an idea of the beauty which it will exercise over its audiences. We are truly glad to have so fine a film to recommend to exhibitors.

Psyche, the daughter of a king, and a mortal, is so beautiful that even the God of Fame is fascinated by her charm. He hurries to tell Venus, Goddess of Beauty, that her loveliness is surpassed by a mortal.

The jealousy of Venus is aroused and she orders her son Cupid, the God of Love, to avenge the indignity. One glance at Psyche and Cupid revolts. He beseeches his mother to relent, but Venus is deaf to his pleading and swears to destroy her rival's powers.

While Joy reigns in the court of Psyche's father, Venus strikes at Psyche by inflicting an illness upon the King. His malady baffles all, and in desperation the King consults the oracle. The oracle decrees that when Psyche marries a mortal her father will be saved. However, Psyche's husband will be a monster who will devour her.

Psyche consents to the sacrifice and is bound to a tree on a mountain top, where she is left to await the prophesied husband, but Cupid finding her, braves the anger of his mother, and with the aid of Zephyr, God of the Winds, and Morpheus, God of Sleep, he sets her free.

Cupid confesses to Psyche that he loves her, but must be kept hidden from her gaze since he is a god and she is only a mortal. Psyche agrees to this arrangement and with Cupid she lives in perfect contentment until the visit of her sisters.

They persuade Psyche that her husband must be the monster predicted by the oracle.

Psyche is overcome by the temptation, and finding Cupid asleep and a veil covering his face, she steals it. Immediately Cupid disappears because of Psyche's broken vow.

In the meantime Venus has sent men to capture her rival, and Psyche, wandering on the mountain, finds the men in fidelity, falls into their hands. Pardon is offered her provided the girl secures the beauty box from Prosperpine, the Queen of the Underworld. Psyche starts on her mission, succumbs to the charms of the monster and consents to take her over the River Styx. Her trip is successful and Psyche returns with the treasure. Venus, now assured of her superiority, makes Psyche immortal and permits her marriage with Cupid.
