Prohibition, Racetrack Bettin g and Other Orders-in-Council Will Be Considered by Dominion Parliament At Next Session-Early Proclamation in Great Britain Will Be Followed by Immediate A ction in Canada.

Ottawa, July 32—Parliament will be in session again before the war measures act, and the race track betting, prohibition, and other war-time orders-in-council passed under its provisions, expire. Such is the understanding here and was the understanding here and was the understanding when Parliament prorogued a fortnight ago. At this time, the final complete text of the peace treaty with Germany had not been received in Ottawa, and, therefore, could not be submitted to Parliament for ratification.

Drafts as prepared, had been received and changes made were cabled from Parls. But it was not until the arginal provisions, will not be operative after expiration of the war measures, act, is generally conceded. A similar opinion was given by a committee of legal experts in Great Britain with regard to orders-in-council passed under the defence of the realm act.

fore, could not be submitted to Parliament for ratification.

Drafts as prepared, had been received and changes made were cabled from Parls. But it was not until the arrival in Ottawa of Hon. C. J. Doherty, who with Hon. A. L. Sifton, signed the treaty as Canadian plenipotentiaries, that the text as signed at Versailles was available. The understanding with the British Government when Sir Robert Borden left London was that there would be no proclamation of peacy by Great Britain for some time, and not before the Canadian Parliament had full time to ratify.

Special Session in Fall.

Since then, however, greater necessity has apparently arisen in Great Britain for an early proclamation that a state of war no longer exists. It is understood that the Government here is in communication with the imperial authorities on the subject, and that stress is being laid on the necessity for full opportunity being given to the Dominion Parliament for discussion of the treaty's terms before formal proclamation of peace by the King. Notice has already been given of a special session in the fall for ratification.

But the arrival in Ottawa of Hon. C. J. Doherty, who with Hon. A. L. Sifton, signed the arrival in Ottawa of Hon. C. J. Doherty, who with Hon. A. L. Sifton, signed the arrival in Ottawa of the really and associated powers. The principal allied and associated powers. The principal allied and associated powers are defined in the treaty as: United States, British Empire, France, Italy and Japan. Ratification of the treaty with Germany alone, is not regarded as being sufficient to end the war, and the war measures act. There would also need to be ratification of peace with Austria, peace with Germany would be merely a partial peace. But whether the proclamation of the treaty is the proclamation of the war, and the war measures act. There would also need to be ratification of the treaty with Germany alone, is not regarded as

WHEN CAN LIQUOR COME INTO ONTARIO?

(From Toronto Telegram.) Presuming that Sir Allen Ayles-Presuming that Sir Allen Ayles-worth is right in contending that all legislation under the war measures act, ends with the proclamation of peace with Germany and Austria-Hungary, there are other orders-in-council besides that against speculation on horse racing which will soon be invalidated. The most important of those which have not already been repealed is that which has made Ontario nominally "bone-dry" for the past fifteen months.

The war measures act was passed by the Dominion Parliament August 22, 1914, in view of a state of war then existing against Germany and Austria-Hungary. The former and Austria-Hungary. The former minister of justice proclaims that when His Majesty George V. officially proclaims the British Empire again at peace with those two original belligerents the act itself and all orders-in-council issued under it have no further validity.

On December 22, 1917, announcement was made of an order-incouncil, prohibiting the importation of liquor into Canada after December 24, 1917, and the transportation after April 1, 1918, of intoxicating liquor into any part of Canada where its sale was illegal under local enactments.

As soon as this order-in-council As soon as this order-in-council ceases to be effective—which will presumably be within a few days—it will be possible for residents of Ontario to import again from other

In addition, while retail sale was recently legislated against in Quebec, provision was made for the selection of ten firms who were to be allowed to import into that province and export into the rest of Canada. It is understood that they may also act as inter-provincial distributors for such wet goods as are still allowed to be manufactured under the Quebec act.

Pressure is said to have been brought to bear upon the Ontario Government to divert to this province from its eastern neighbor some of the profit of this sale for home consumption, which it is powerless to prevent, in view of the Senate's action in throwing out the bill passed by the House of Commons to extend the term of national prohibition.

Toronto, July 23.—News that the long threatened strike of miners at Cobalt had at last become an accomplished fact, had little effect on the mining market here today, probably because it has been expected in most quarters for some time. Some of the members of the mining exchange here express surprise that the mine managers did not immediately accept a board of conciliation, as suggested by Senator Robertson.

Andrew Bonar Law, the Government spokesman, told a questioner in the House of Commons today that as far as the Government was aware there was no particular persons behind the miners' unrest and that the movement seemed to be a protest against the increase in the price of coal, against the high cost of living, against military interference in Russia and conscription.

The strikers, however, appear to be in a rather bad mood and seem to fear that troops will follow the naval men in an attempt to break the strike.

The conference of the triple alliance, which will be held at Westminster tomorrow, may have an influence on the situation.

The conference will be followed by a meeting of the executive of the Miners' Federation, at which the situation will Liverpool, July 23 .- The strike among the dockers, which broke out here early this week, has resulted in bringing about chaos in the arrangements for handling more than 200 ships at this port, their sailings being cancelled or indefinitely postponed. The steamer Scotian, with 2,000 passengers, was ready to sail for Montreal yesterday, but was unable to leave. The Adriatic, due to leave on Thursday for New York, and the Orduna, scheduled to sail for New York on Saturday, have had their sailings indefinitely postponed. Box Cars Derailed; Tie Up G. T. R. Traffic Five Hours

Accident At Kingscourt Causes Damage But No Injuries To Crew.

Four box cars on extra eastbound freight No. 560 were derailed about 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon, one mile west of Kingscourt, and as a result traffic on the Grand Trunk main line from Sarnia to London was tied up for about five hours. Trains were rerouted via Stratford, and extra passenger trains were run east to Brantford from this city to maintain conections during the tie-up.

The train, in charge of Conductor The train, in charge of Conductor Ryan of Sarnia, was proceeding to this city at a rate of about twenty miles per hour, when a broken truck on the fourth car from the engine caused the derailment, three succeeding cars leaving the rails and blocking both the east and west bound main lines. The London auxiliary was ordered to the scene of the according and traffic was resumed about accident, and traffic was resumed about 6 p.m. No one was injured by the de-railment, although several cars were smashed and the rails were torn up for a considerable distance.

The theft so the charge wick cocurred in January and Feb-strivity ast. Having pleaded guilty to a charge of escaping from custody, no evidence was offered the court on this count. Elvin Richards, a discharged soldier, testified that when serving with the Army Service Corps here he missed a pair of boots. He was informed that a pair had been turned in to the army stores shortly after the theft by Baker in exchange for a larger pair. He identified these boots as his own, by means of a spur tab, found in one boot, and peculiar markings upon the sole. However, as Pte. Cox, the man to whem Baker is alleged to have turned in the boots, was not present to testify, being in Vandour, acting for the defendant.

TROOPS WERE CALLED

Bullets, Beer Bottles and Chairs Used During the Disorders.

Berlin, July 23.—Ten persons were shot during disorders which attended the breaking up of a Majority Socialist meeting by Communists and Spartacans here Monday. Those attending the meeting, which was held in the trades union building attempted to lynch the man who fired the shots, but he was saved by his believes who were in the man who fired the shots, but he was saved by his helpers who were in the building. Several Majority Socialist meetings did not develop as smoothly and quietly as they began. Communists and Spartacans, by a pre-arranged plan, smuggled fellow Radicals into halls where the Majority Socialists were congregated, and there broke up the meetings by cat-calls and other noises, and even by violence.

At countless meetings the Majority when the correspondent visited the building in a tour of the meetings. The Communist agitator responsible for the uproar in the trades union building jumped on the stage while Erish Kuttner, editor of the Vorwaerts, was speaking and made a counter-speech.

Shots Were Fired.

The hall instantly was transferred into bedlam, which increased as the opponents began to throw glasses and seize chairs with which to belabor each other. Suddenly shots were fired. Some ten persons were wounded, in-cluding Herr Kuttner, who was attend-ed by workers and hospital helpers. The audience tried to lynch the shooter, who also was saved by the hospital helpers.

Government troops had to quell wordy riots in other halls. The Berlin press is indignant at the uproar. The Vor-waerts heads its leader: "Instead of conciliating the people—civil war." The People's Gazette calls the day "The senseless strike Monday." Other newspapers treat the matter

WOMEN'S FRANCHISE BILL PASSES SECOND

British Government Bill Is Substitute For Adamson Measure.

London, Tuesday, July 22.-The bill entitling women to hold public offices and exercise public functions, which passed the second reading in the House of Lords today, is one introduced by the Government as a substitute for the bill of Willam G. Adamson, in the House of Commons on behalf of the Labor party. The Adamson bill gave women the franchise on the same terms To Remain.

The Government bill does not change the women's franchise and does not remove the disqualification clause excluding women from the higher ranks gation to the peace conference today of civil service. It contains a clause issued a denial of assertions that the entiting peace is to the peace conference today of civil service. entitling peeresses in their own right to sit in the House of Lords, but this clause was only included as a conclusion to the wishes of some regarding the racial clause in the league of nations covenants.

The lord chancellor in introducing the bill, explained that the Government did not desire a change in women's franchise bill, because it would entail another general election, and further, because a committee was being ap-pointed to study the question of legis-

"I do not remember that statement."

Coroner Shakes Hand of V.C. Winner After Jury Says "Murder"

OTTAWA, July 22.—That William Artick came to his death as the result of wounds inflicted by Corp. Philip Konowal, V. C., was the verdict of the coroner's jury in Hull in disposing of the tragedy that occurred on St. Redempteur street late Sunday afternoon. Following the verdict Konowal was taken to the jail, and tomorrow he will appear in police court charged with the murder of Artick. Much consideration was shown Konowal at the inquest, and as he walked out Coroner Davis shook hands with him.

CIVIC EMPLOYEES OF WINNIPEG WHO WENT OUT LOSE HOLIDAYS

WINNIPEG, July 22 .- No holidays will be given to civic employees who went on strike. A resolution to this effect was passed at last night's council meeting by a vote of seven to six. It was argued that this action was necessary if the public works program was to be completed this year.

The proposal to ask the Dominion Government to help pay the cost of the special police engaged during the strike was accepted by the council. The cost amounts to $209,655.09.

PROHIBITION TIGHTENED UP BY U.S. HOUSE

Vote Is 287 To 100 in Favor of Measure,

CONSIDERED DEATH-KNELL

Prediction Is That Traffic Has Been Suppressed "Forever."

WASHINGTON, July 22.—By a vote of nearly three to one, the House, weary of talk on prohibition, today passed a bill for its enforcement, with provisions and penalties so drastic as to bring from the men who framed it the prediction that it would forever suppress the liquor traffic on American soil.

Exactly one hundred members—52
Democrats and 48 Republicans—refused to support it. Against this even hundred, the probbitionists, putting up a solid front to the very last, polled 287 Sona front to the very last, polled 287 votes. The measure now goes to the Senate, where many of its restrictions may be modified or stricken out. The cloakroom rumor persisted that all of this legislative effort might end on the shoal of a presidential veto, although the general view was that it would be signed as passed igned as passed.

QUEEN CITY BUBBLING

Some of Present Tory Members Are Due For Replacement.

TORONTO, July 22.—The political pot is beginning to boil briskly in the city, and the air is filled with rumors of all kinds as to what is likely to happen in the event of an election, but so far both political parties are just busy thinking and making plans which have not as yet crystallized.

Conservatives are busy, but nothing definite will be known until after the meeting of the Central Conservative Association on Thursday night, and perhaps not even then. One thing is clear, and that is, that among the rank and file of Conservatives there is considerable dissatisfaction in the city. A few of the local members are destined for displacement.

Demanding Convention.

One bone of contention among the onservatives is the question of hold-ga convention. Some complain that a Government has not dealt fairly the Government has not dealt fairly with them in connection with a request made by the local Conservatives last spring. They want this convention to take place before any election is held. This matter will receive attention at the meeting next Thursday night.

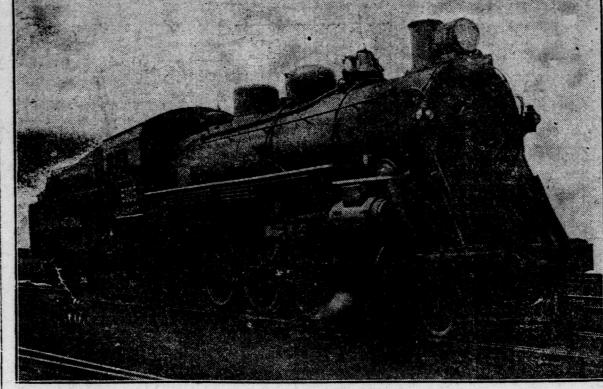

Hon. W. D. McPherson, it is expected, will have opposition in the convention. A local politician stated today that returned soldiers would offer themselves in several ridings of the city, and Major W. C. McBrien is talked of as the man likely to try and wrest from Hon. W. D. McPherson his seat in Northwest Toronto.

H. Bartlett in police court Monday morning, with the option of a four months' term in prison, which he ac cepted.

According to the standard set by the magistrate in the first case, this confessed bootlegger should have been assessed a fine mounting into several thousands of dollars, with the option of a prison term of from one hundred to three hundred years. It sounds like the ravings of a drug fiend, and yet the facts remain as stated.

The magistrate does not come in for condemnation, because, under the Ontario temperance act, the law sets the minimum penalty at three months, with the optional fine, and he has no alternative when a conviction is registered. The second offender, in addition to the sentence imposed, lost liquor worth $1,600 at his own valuation, or $2,600, according to the price set by the police authorities. Canada's War History

The time has come when the question may be asked as to what course is being pursued in recanadian nation since 1914. It is among the most vital problems that could be brought up for discussion at this juncture, although everyone will realize that plans must be gathering which will ultimately bring about a council of the best opinion of the country. Many histories may be written. Every publisher in centres which more and more are producing Canadian history and biography will develop a phase of the share taken by Canada in the war. Each of these histories will centribute to the accumulation that will stack the bookshelves of our libraries, but in the end the demand will come for an authentic history, pre pared from official records and containing the whole story of achievement from beginning to

It should not be hurried in its workmanship nor lack an effort that will add a fact of importance to the whole recital. It should not be a dryas-dust sequence of developments, but neither should it be a loosely-knit collection of war stories. It should be a Canadian product, written by Canadians, of Canadians, for Canadians in the cen-

Above all this history must be broadly Canadian in the sense of being non-partisan and not narrowly confined to any theory of empire or nationality. It should be prepared with a regard to the strength of character of the council that will undertake its preparation, and the greatest of Canadians should be called together, great as measured by their cognizance of real Canadian spirit and character.

It will be a thrilling narrative in any event. A recital of the Canadian experience in the war A returned soldier, after more than four will move the emotions of the world, but the whole story with none of the vital meaning lost will mean a new structure of history that will stand the test of time and influence the future of

The Shantung Trouble

Fiume and Shantung were the two issues that came closest to wrecking the Peace Conference. After some sensational backing, stalling and filling, Italy compromised over Fiume sufficiently to avert a split. The German Empire concentrated into one generation the decadence of centuries, for the German Government willed it so. Every precept and law that stood in the way of a German world-dominion was undermined. The law of love and mercy became the new law—"Become hard, O my brethren, for we are emancipated, and the world belongs to me." It was because the German nation were taught that the lighest duty was to make the state supreme, that the German armies set forth on their war of extermination. feud between the Ashleys and the Raymonds.

Originally the two farms had been one; three hundred acres of woodland and rolling meadows, the property of Henry Ashley and his father before him. Asa, Henry Ashley's son, had grown up with the expectation of inheriting it some day. But the elder Ashley plunged much too heavily one year in backing a colt of his own raising at the neighboring country fair. The pacer lost by a neck; Mr. Ashley was unable to meet his obligations.

Just at this critical juncture John Raymond happened along, bent on the purchase of a farm. Henry Ashley offered him a hundred acres at a reasonable price, but Raymond, after looking carefully over the place, decided that he wanted half the farm or none—and that half with a condition.

and that half with a condition.

John Raymond built a house fronting on the highway, as the Ashleys had done, and brought his small daughter and a housekeeper to live in it. Asa Ashley, who lived in his father's home, Ashley, who lived in his father's home, had a young wife and a small son. Knowing well enough that the blame for the division of the farm rested on his father's passion for racing horses, Asa nevertheless chose to place it on the shoulders of John Raymond. He never returned the latter's greetings, and forbade his wife to visit the new neighbors or his son to speak to the Raymond child.

When in the course of time Asa Ashley came into the shrunken inheritance,

A faithful old farm hand met Harry at the station, and on the drive home related all the news of the county. "That Raymond gal's a-running the "That Raymond gal's a-running the place now, and she comes over the wall every day, jest like her dad used to." Here the old man chuckled.

Reconstruction Is Necessary For Nation-Wide Prosperity, Says M. Mills.

These days are so full of work that erforce the pen has been idle, for Margery Mills is a really truly farm voman. This is harvest time, and fruit ime, and picnic time too, and with so many calls upon her time and thought something had to be left undone. She

By dint of crowding two or three days' work into one, I am in a pleasant farm home overlooking Nottawasaga Bay this afternoon. In the distance are the hills afternoon. In the distance are the hills—mountains, rather—forming a beautiful background for a picture which suggests quiet and comfort, and a certain degree of prosperity too. For this is a long-settled district, and if one did not stop to remember that these beautiful homes represent in most cases the life work of two, and in some cases three, generations, the surroundings are such that we might ask why all this talk about farm problems—could conditions be bettered? for are they not very desirable as they are.

That the farmer is thoroughly aroused in many localities is very evident. These gatherings, where men and women meet in thousands to hear questions of in thousands to hear questions of national import discussed, indicate that very clearly. They are taking the first necessary step at last, viz., awakening to the fact that a democracy cannot exist except in name, unless the individual citizen realizes that his bounden duty as a citizen is to acquaint himself with national issues, in order that his vote may be what it must be if real democracy—government by the about farm problems—could conditions be bettered? for are they not very desirable as they are.

But here, as elsewhere, is the same old story: Men, single-handed, or with unsatisfactory help, working early and late to produce what they can for the nation's food, and because of the meagre help unable to accomplish what would in proper conditions be possible. Hampered, too, this season, by unfavorable weather at seeding time and since. One cannot help wondering what the outcome will be.

This debt must be met mainly by the "top six inches of the soil," necessarily, when from that source comes directly or indirectly 80 per cent of the nation's wealth, and the rural population is filling up hamlet, town and city. Canada—agricultural Canada—with depleted farms, consequently lessened production, means just one thing: If this state of affairs continues, if some definite, practical solution of the problem is not found, and that right speedily, national prosperity will be utterly impossible.

auty as a citizen is to acquaint himself with national issues, in order that his vote may be what it must be if real democracy—government by the people—be established.

His voice in national affairs—not a mere little scrap of paper upon which he marks an X in the particular corner in which his grandfather placed his figuratively speaking, for grandfather did much of his voting orally, and with no more real intelligent thought than baby uses when with the little calboy hand she marks the window-pane. That day is passing fast; we've had some illustrations, and surely in the elections.

Strowger's Joke Umpiring Mars Games When Indians and Red Sox Break Even Stewart's Team Beats Estelle in First Contest, But Newton Outpitches Marry in Abbreviated Fracas-Police Mix In.

BRANTFORD, July 22.—The Red Sox and "Dad" Stewart's men broke even re today in a double bill. The Indians took the first game handily by 9-6. here today in a double bill. and dropped the second by 4-2. They showed a great fighting spirit in both contests, and in the first of the program seven runs of the nine were scored after two men were down. In the first inning five counters were put across on "big" Tom Estelle in this way, and every hit was a clean one.

Newman Does it.

After Mitchell and Hagel had been retired, Newman dropped one over third, good for two bases. "Dad" Stewart hit to left, but Newman was held at third. Newman and Sewart worked the delayed steal, Newman scoring standing up. Then Pittenger beat out a smart hit to short, and Bullock lined to left, scoring Stewart. Command tripled to left, scoring two ahead of him, and Witry singled scoring Command.

Command's home run with Pittenger Command command's home run with Pittenger on gave London two more counters in the sixth, and two more were added in the eighth. Bullock was safe on an error, and Command was purposely walked. They both advanced on a passed hall, and Witry brought them over with a single to centre. The Red Sox hall, and Witry brought them over with a single to centre. The Red Sox battled hard to overcome the lead, and got two counters in their sixth. Cameron got a fluke home run after Smith had reached first on Bullock's error.

In the fifth, Clarke's double scored Brady, who had walked and stole second. Henrion held the heavy hitters on the Sox outfit all but hitless to the minth, when Estelle got a double. He died at second as the two Murphys were retired.

Witry Banned; Reilly Pinched.
The second game was more or less of a pitching duel, Doc. Newton, lately of Baltimore, getting the decision on Marry. Newton was touched up rather freely, Command getting three nice wallops in three times up. When Martin Murphy stole home in Brantford's fourth Murphy stole home in Brantford's fourth lining, a nice-sized row was precipi-tated on the field, the upshot being the banishment of Witry from the field, while Reilly was escorted out of the Sir Allen Aylesworth Says

The game was featured by such work all the afternoon until the home fans yelled quit. From an umpiring stand-point, the London series just concluded here was a joke from start to finish. Strowger at no time had control of the players of either team, and his decisions were very bad. London's two counters were the result of Bullock and Command's singles and Witry's hit to right in the first inning, and Marry's hit which drove Command over in the fourth. Four double-plays featured the work the London team both games, and ey outfielded the Red Sox. A crowd of 1.000 watched the game.

INSIDE PRICES on 30 x 3½ tires

WHEN a tire dealer offers you a 30 x 3½ tire for $15.00 and you have been used to paying $22.00 for the same size tire.

You want to know

Where he gets his tires.

When your cousin's chum who works in a garage gets you a $22.00 tire at the "inside" price of $18.00.

You want to be sure

It's a $22.00 tire

And not a $15.00 tire.

When an "independent" tire dealer offers you a "cut price"

He ought to prove that the price

Has been "cut."

If there is any way to save money on your tires you want to know about it.

If "cut price" tires are good tires sold at a low price you want to know about it.

If they are good value—you ought to buy them—and we ought to sell them.

We don't sell them.

We don't offer them to our customers.

And the reason we don't

Is that

We know what they are.

Tires offered as "bargain" tires, "cut-price" tires, "inside-price" tires, are none of them well-known tires.

Then, what are they?

1st—Culls from the big tire factories. That is "seconds." That is tires not good enough to bear the maker's name and come within his guarantee. These tires are of uncertain value; some give fair mileage, while others give low mileage.

2nd—Second-hand tires. When re-made these tires show no evidence of the mileage they have already given. It is a pure gamble as to what service they will give the buyer.

3rd—Special Tires, made down to a price.

These come from factories (a) That are practically unknown—under brands unknown. They are made to sell—not to build a reputation for the maker—not to give maximum mileage. (b) Well-known makers who produce an admittedly inferior, low-priced tire to meet competition.

These are the so-called money-savers.

Would you expect us to handle them?

Would you expect us to recommend such tires to you?

Even at the low price we consider them expensive tires to buy. For they cost more per mile of service than good tires.

Motor Car Makers will not consider putting low-price tires on their cars.

Would they hesitate to do so if the lowprice tire was a real economy?

Follow the Car-Makers' Lead

Automobile manufacturers equip new cars with tires of established make and quality—because they want every part of the car to give satisfaction.

They know how such tires are made.

They know that the established tire factories, through huge production, scientific purchasing of materials, modern manufacturing methods, and wide sales organization, can sell tire mileage at the lowest possible figure. Motor Car men—the biggest buyers of tires—are influenced by only one consideration in buying tires—LOW COST Mileage.

If there is any "inside" price

If there is any special buying scheme

The car maker knows it.

And the car maker buys tires of recognized standard make—always. If you want the "inside" price—the lowest cost per mile tires—buy the same tires for your car as the car maker buys.

While excessive thinness might be attributed to various and subtle causes in different individuals, it is a well-known fact that the lack of sufficient phosphorus in the human system is very largely responsible for this condition. Experiments on humans and animals by many scientists have demonstrated beyond question of doubt that a body deficient in phosphorus becomes nervous, sickly and thin. Be Carefyl What You Wash Your Hair With

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali. for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain mulsified cocoanut oil, for it is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces, You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance chat is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair cries quickly and evenly, and is soft fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy, and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.—Advt.

armies of Admiral Kolchak's all-Russian Government are fighting the Bolshevists on four fronts that extend for 7,500 miles, the general staff announced today.

These fronts are the eastern, southern, northwestern and northern fronts. The eastern front stretches from the Caspian Sea, and along it are troops of the Siberian army and all Cossacks, Except those under Gen. Denekine. The southern front reaches from the Caspian Sea to the Dieney River, where the volunteer army, the Don and Tersk Cossacks and mountaineers of the Caucasus are fighting under Gen. Denekine.

Along the northwestern front, running from south of Pakov to Petrograd, Russian and Esthonian troops are grouped. On the northern front, from Onezhsk Lake to the mouth of the Pechora River, the error of the Pechora River the volunteer army is commanded by Gen. Muller.

Invitation to Sir Adam.

Mayor Mercer today, with authority from the city council, forwarded an invitation to Sir Adam Beck, to come to Galt and, at a date convenient to him, look over the local situation and address a meeting of representatives of interested municipalities. Since the Grand River Railway intimated a few weeks ago that it would not seek a renewal of its franchise on Water street, Mayor Mercer has been carefully considering the situation, and while the removal of the railway tracks from sidering the situation, and while the removal of the railway tracks from Water street does not mean the loss of the line, it leaves an opening, and he feels that the hydro radials could profitably fill the gap.

According to officials at the O. A. C. the velocity of the wind was over ninety miles an hour. The rain came so suddenly and lasted so short a time that no official gauge was obtained. It is considered the heaviest ever seen here. Many of the streets were flooded to a depth of a foot above the sidewalks, and it is feared that the city will have to face many suits for damages due to the inability of the storm drains to carry away the phenomenal rainfall.

PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 23.—The basis for the cost of lard, bacon and pork rose to a new record today. Live hogs this morning were selling at $23.35 per cwt, as against $23 yesterday. Until today $23 was the highest price ever reached.

Decrease in the number of arrivals of hogs is the reason given for the new record-breaking advance of prices.

Chicago, July 23.—Provisions scored a material advance all around owing to the strength of hogs and corn. Trade, though, was dull.

For a short time at least, it was decided, the association will remain in its rooms on Queen's avenue instead of taking over the soldiers' club on Dundas street. However, a committee from the organization will set to work at once to devise a means by which a bylaw can be passed giving the war veterans a permanent building in this city at the earliest date.

Prior to the meeting, Secretary Cunliffe was engaged for almost an hour signing on new members. The total number enlisted was 136.

Twelve With Death of Photographer.

CHICAGO, July 22.—Only theories as to the cause of the explosion and destruction by fire of the dirigible machine resulting in twelve deaths and injury to 28 other persons yesterday were elicited at the first session of the coroner's inquiry today.

The cause of the disaster seemed as far from disclosure as at the moment when flames spurted along the gas bag as it soared above Chicago's skyscrapers before plunging down through the roof of a great bank, spreading fatal flames among bookkeepers, clerks and stenographers preparing to end their day's work.

A grand jury investigation will be made according to information at the criminal court building today. Prosecution is certain, according to Assistant State's Attorney John M. Lowry.

The twelfth victim of the calamity was Milton G. Norton, a photographer for a morning paper who died today. He was injured in attempting a descent from the balloon with a parachute. He was a veteran newspaper man and sought the assignment to go with the dirigible on one of its early test flights.
