Microfilming of archival records held by Manuscript Division is intended to protect often fragile originals from damage through handling and to make the material more widely available through inter-institutional loan.

Although original records are generally in good physical condition, researchers should be aware that some documents are faded, that some of the colored paper stock and inks used may not photograph well, and that some type of documents may not reproduce well on microfilm. Negative photostats, too, often fail to appear clearly on microfilm. It should also be noted that because of their size, some documents have to be filmed in several sections. The National Archives of Canada has attempted to the best of its ability, to reproduce what information is legible and provide at least a reference for what is not.

ARCHIVES NATIONALES DU CANADA
Division des manuscrits

AVIS

La division des manuscrits microfilme les documents d'archives pour empêcher que les originaux, souvent fragiles, ne finissent par s'abîmer à l'usage et pour accroître la disponibilité de ces documents au moyen du prêt entre institutions.

Bien que ces originaux soient généralement en bon état, nous rappelons aux chercheurs que certains documents ont pâli à travers le temps, que les encres et les papiers de couleur ne se prêtent pas tous à la photographie et que certains types de documents sont difficiles à reproduire sur microfilm. La reproduction de copies négatives de photostats, souvent ne donne pas une lisibilité parfaite. A noter que certains documents ont dû être microfilmés en plusieurs sections étant donné leur format. Les Archives nationales du Canada se sont néammoins efforcées de reproduire toute l'information lisible et de faire mention des passages qui ne le sont pas.

King, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie. (1874-1950). Prime Minister.

Original, 1641, 1703, 1815-1969, 231.650 m. Photocopies, 1908-1950, 7.250 m. Transcripts, 1893-1950, 17.340 m.
Finding Aid No. 502.

7-2061

William Lyon Mackenzie King, a grandson of William Lyon Mackenzie, was born in Kitchener (then Berlin), Ontario, 17 December 1874. He attended the University of Toronto (B.A., LL.B.), the University of Chicago, and Harvard University (M.A., Ph.D.). His field of study was Political Economy, with labour problems as his special interest. In 1900, he was appointed the first Deputy Minister of Labour and editor of the of the Labour Gazette. In 1908, he resigned to enter the House of Commons and in 1909 he entered the cabinet as the first Minister of Labour. He left politics after his defeat in the election of 1911 and from 1914 to 1917, he worked for the Rockefeller Foundation investigating industrial relations. He re-entered politics in 1919 after he was chosen leader of the Liberal Party. At the end of 1921, he became Prime Minister and held the post (with the exception of three months in 1926) until his party's defeat in the election of 1930.
He was Leader of the Opposition until October 1935 when the Liberals came back into power. From that time he was Prime Minister until he retired on 15 November 1948. He died 22 July 1950 at his Kingsmere estate.
The W.L. Mackenzie King Papers were deposited in the Public Archives of Canada by the terms of Mr. King's will. The papers were the property of his literary executors until they became the property of the Crown. The final transfer occurred 30 June 1977.

Public Papers.

Primary Series Correspondence, J1 Series. Original, 1889-1950, 44.700 m. (Vol. 1-447).

This series consists of the important correspondence both from the Prime Minister's Office and from Laurier House. The correspondence is arranged alphabetically by author within each year, with enclosures and any replies kept together. The pages of the entire series are numbered consecutively. For the correspondence up to 1921, there are both subject and author indexes. The subject index is in four 10 cm boxes and the author index consists of index cards. The subject index is also available on microfilm reels C-4591 to C-4593. For the 1922-1942 correspondence a detailed subject and author index is available in the form of computer printouts. A detailed subject and author index for the period 1943 to 1950 is in preparation. A subject list for the entire period prepared by the biographers is available in the Political and Public Affairs Archives.

Prime Minister's Office Correspondence, J2 Series. Original, 1921-1930, 1935-1948, 52.000 m. (Vol. 1-520).

This series consists of the subject files remaining after the Primary Series correspondence was selected. A file list is available in two separate bound volumes.

General Correspondence, J3 Series. Original, 1915-1950, 15.200 m. Photocopies, 8 pages. (Vol. 1-161).

This series consists of personal letters which were kept at Laurier House. These letters were left after correspondence was selected for the Primary Series (J1), the Family Papers (J7), and the Personal Correspondence Series (J8). A file list is available in the finding aid. A more detailed author list is available in the Political and Public Affairs Archives.

Memoranda and Notes, J4 Series. Original, 1887-1950, 43.800 m. (Vol. 1-431).

Memoranda, notes and some correspondence are found in this series, arranged in subject files within four chronological periods (1887-1921, 1922-1932, 1933-1939 and 1940-1950), with additional material at the end. A complete file list is available in a separate bound finding aid and on microfiche.

KING, Le très honorable William Lyon Mackenzie (1874-1950). Premier Ministre.

Originaux, 1641, 1703, 1815-1969. 231.65 m. Photocopies, 1908-1950. 7.25 m. Transcriptions, 1893-1950. 17.34 m. Instrument de recherche no 502.

William Lyon Mackenzie King, petit-fils de William Lyon Mackenzie, est né à Kitchener (alors Berlin), Ontario, le 17 décembre 1874. Il étudie aux universités de Toronto (B.A., LL.B.), de Chicago et Harvard (M.A., Ph.D). Il se spécialise en économie politique et s'intéresse particulièrement aux problèmes ouvriers. En 1900, il est nommé premier sous-ministre du Travail et rédacteur de la Gazette du travail. Il démissionne en 1908 pour entrer à la Chambre des communes; en 1909, il devient le premier ministre du Travail. Il quitte la politique après sa défaite aux élections de 1911 et de 1914 à 1917, il étudie les relations industrielles à la Rockefeller Foundation. Il revient à la politique en 1919 après avoir été élu chef du parti Libéral. En 1921, il devient premier ministre et conserve ce poste (sauf pour quelques mois en 1926) jusqu'à la défaite de son parti aux élections de 1930. Il est chef de l'Opposition jusqu'à la reprise du pouvoir par les Libéraux en 1935. Il réintègre alors son poste de premier ministre qu'il conservera jusqu'à sa retraite en novembre 1948. Il meurt le 22 juillet 1950 dans son domaine de Kingsmere.

Les papiers W.L. Mackenzie King furent déposés aux Archives publiques du Canada conformément au testament de M. King. Les papiers sont demeurés la propriété de ses exécuteurs littéraires jusqu'au 22 juillet 1975, date à laquelle ils sont devenus celle de la Couronne.

Les instruments de recherche des papiers King ne sont pas encore terminés. La description de chaque série comprend une note explicative sur son (ses) instrument(s) de recherche. Consultez les archives des premiers ministres pour les instrument de recherche en préparation.

Les séries suivantes sont disponibles sur microformes: Première série de correspondance (J1), Mémoires et notes (J4) 1887-1939, Discours (J5) 1889-1932 et Journaux intimes (J13). L'instrument de recherche de chacune de ces séries comprend une liste de conversion des microfilms.

Dear Willie:

Mother and I are alone here so we thought we would like to write to you. Doubtless Father has given you all the news but I shall give it over again.

As you may imagine the uppermost thought in our minds at present is that not talk any more about that.

We were to have gone down to the Michie's tonight but John Michie's father-in-law, Mr Walter S. Lee, died and they did not want us, so Mac has gone out to do some more "vic-pulling", Isabel has gone down to her mission band and Father has gone to hear the returns of the elections.

Tomorrow Amy, Hazel and Ethel, are coming over to lunch with the Leo before his departure. Then they are trying to get up a sleigh party with supper afterwards

Within is Mr. Hugo Klein's receipt in full for the Army Revolver Case. I wish you would write me a line to say whether you received the Winchester Gun & Rifle. I sent them on the 27th December last. The last mail was the Holidays. The last mail, I fear will be the same, & no doubt you have left Ottawa before this reaches you. Sometime, I hope soon I shall have a chance to run down & see you all. Sometime, if this fine weather lasts, I shall have the Team out & we will have a sleigh ride. Have you any time now to go hunting? We have had very little snow here & the ice is very bad. The Rideau Club have their Tournament on Thursday next & I am going down to play in it. I am not playing very well this year, but I am going down for the fun of it. I suppose you are busy with your studies & have no time for anything else. I am very busy myself, but I am not working very hard. I am going to the Theatre this evening to see Richard Mansfield in "Richard III". I am told he is very good. I am going with Mr. Cowan & Miss Cowan. I suppose you are going to some of the dances. I am not going to any. I am getting too old for that sort of thing. I am getting quite grey, & I suppose I look old. I am not very well this winter. I have had a bad cold for a long time & I have not been able to get rid of it. I am taking some medicine for it now. I hope it will do me good. I am going to bed early tonight as I am not very well. I will write you again soon. Remember me to all the boys. Write me soon.

Yours affectionately,
Mackenzie King.

My Dear Willie:

Nothing in to-days pm. edition of the Globe that the Army Medical Corps will leave here on the 23rd of Thursday, 9th, inst. for Halifax. At that rate they will not go to Ottawa, so that, if you wish to stay down here, you may have to go to Montreal, as you first suggested. Tomorrow, if this is so, I may see you and have spent an hour with you at Ottawa, & you could not have lost any time away from the office. You can see how it is in the morning papers. The recruiting tables close here on Wednesday, & it is quite likely, announced, that they will all start on Thursday.

Lots of love.

My dear Willie:

Just a line or two to let you know that it is definitely settled that I am to leave on Thursday eve. for Montreal & Halifax. Sir G. day rec'd. a letter from Smith. Dr. Finnegan, one of the Physicians of the N.W.M.C. (which was enclosed to him by Dr. Montgomery here, who had written J. on his behalf) stating that he would leave then. So that apparently he may not be going to Ottawa — for which I am very sorry as you account of the other reasons. You will probably go to Montreal by the time I get, unless you come up here by-and-bye might.

I sent you (redirected) a photo. which came by the English mail, also letters from the other home folks. They all go by subsequent post.

With love,
Father.

I am patiently plodding away, endeavouring to discharge my duty as faithfully as I can. I laugh with some misgivings to myself because of my inability to undertake a multitude of petty things which are at hand. I have met Chouinard once since, though Parliament meets next month I must have one. I cannot satisfy my mind as to the real fitness for the work of any of the Abbéccards. It is strange how few men seem to have taken to heart the greatest of all the causes of this century, how few the men are who are really properly fitted for the doing of responsible work!

The greatest pleasure I have had for some time was listening to the sermon preached by Rev. McComb (?) of Queen's on Sunday night. He is one of the finest preachers I have ever listened to, one of the greatest men I have ever met. He is a great friend of Mackenzie's, was in the same city with him for some years.

Dear Mother - Father - girls:

I have received all your kind and loving letters, the ones from mother and Bella yesterday Father's and Jennie's today. I was glad to learn by them that you are all well and that you have looked upon Max's going away in the best reasonable light, the circumstances being as they are, namely that he is gone. I was glad to, to hear word of him as I have not had a line though I expect he will write me soon. He is the sort of a boy, to whom an experience of this kind will be very profitable and enjoyable. I have often envied him his enthusiasm for adventure, and his apparent indifference to what one might call 'conventional feelings', and the freedom with which he can carries, what to my nature, would be cares.

Here is something that Principal Grant knows what is the best comment of a American? and then he can send it anonymously, I mean to say, without signature.

I am expecting the Queen's University to Victoria Memorial Prize on, this about 1850 and I expect to hear from Kingston to-morrow with them.

Yours affectionately,
Willie.

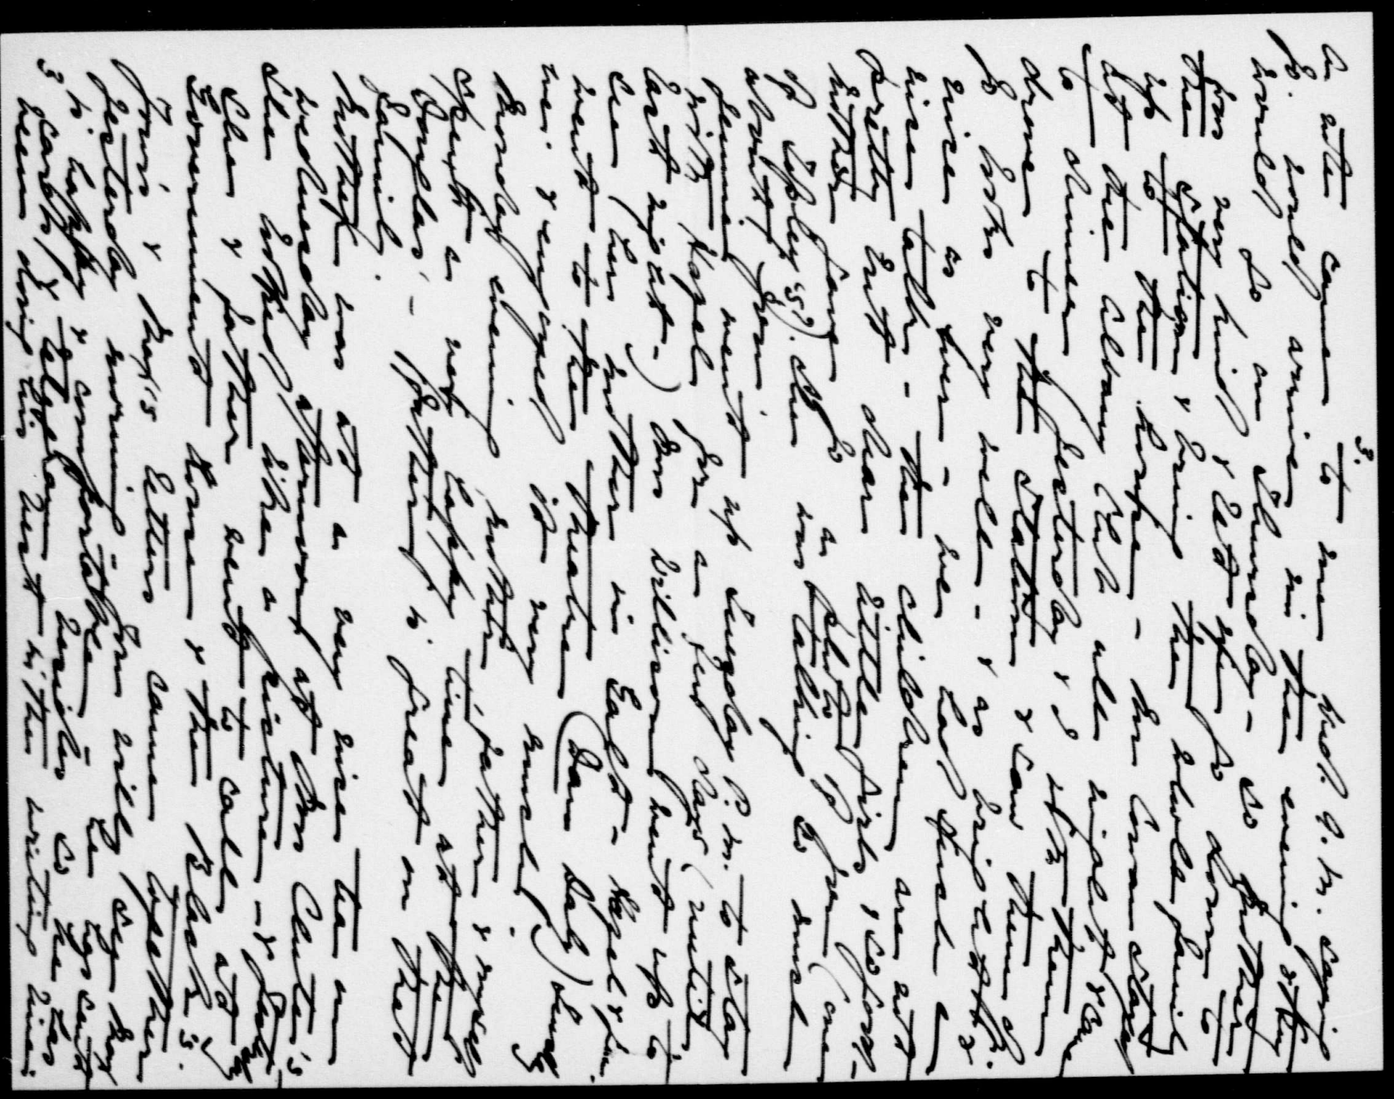

PS Then, Kennedy is with me & I enjoy it exceedingly much, how certain times does this mean? Say until the end of September perhaps not, by reason and to my comfort. If Capt. Lee Tim resigns it is because the Minister is anything else commercial which Parliament must be the case with?

My Dear Willie:

Just another line or two to let you know that Isaac was accepted the moment he was presented to the recruiting officers this morning. Col. Otter to Ottawa Col. Worthington stayed at the Col. Otter to accept him, & as soon as he obtained they said "Shake hands with Jim King; you stand on him." That looks well already. He leaves Toronto Thursday P.M. to-morrow (Thursday 9th) at 6 o'clock. All the girls are going down to the train & Jim will be 10 men selected here - Mackenzie those of the year, Biffen (son of C.R.W. Biffen Esq.) of 3 Dey car the Park & Mr. B. Hunter of Toronto, and one medical student from Trinity. The other 3 were not students, but belonged to the hospital corps. Isaac says they are all fine fellows. I must say I quite like that telegram from Col. Worthington.

We had a little farewell for Isaac last night at home. The Mitchell girls, Hazel, Mavis Mackenzie, Dr Keith, Forster (who happened to drop in) & Norman McLeod & Effie Jones. It was a very jolly time - dancing, music, singing, dancing etc. We retired about 2 a.m. Hazel, Mary & Ethel K. are all at lunch just now, and Hagel & Eagen the next letter day. I wish I had been there; I would have thoroughly enjoyed it. Had a sad days de Cowboy dance in which we completed until the stars ran down our cheeks.

Jesse is talking scarcely any morning office and with him — not much more than that he will have on. He will be fitted out at Halifax, and will sail on the Manchester troopship next Tuesday with the first half of the 3d Canadian Mounted Rifles. She is a splendid ship, we are told, very comfortably fitted up for a transport. Col. Hamilton, the Deputy Minister, has gone to Montreal to meet the R.M.C. either to-day or to-morrow. You may probably meet him on the train or at Montreal. You would notice that Chas. Boyce did not get the Secretaryship of the Board of Trade. Paul Jarvis was the man chosen. My Dear Willie:

Your letter came to-day at noon, following a postal card from Rose from Montreal of a very cheerful character. He had had a good sleep, (two in a berth) a good breakfast, and was having a long walk with Young Laws, stopping apparently on the way to write his card. I wrote him yesterday to Halifax. I marked letter "To be called for", but I am now thinking that was not necessary, as the contingent & A.M.C. will have a letter carrier and P.O. of their own for a week or two, perhaps. I had the Toronto & other eastern men left Montreal yesterday at noon, along with the Montreal recruits, by the Intercolonial for Halifax. He was to send another card as soon as he got there.

NEW FACTORIES' ACT MAY RAISE DISPUTES

New Zealand Law Will Be Hard to Carry Into Effect—Can't Decide Overtime.

Wellington, Jan. 2.—The new factories act proves rather difficult to carry out. Former factories acts, while taking charge of the sanitation and guarding machinery in all factories only interfered with the working hours and wages of women and boys. The new act fixes a forty-eight-hour week for men also, with a minimum rate for overtime, and how the matter is to be kept in hand it is difficult to say so far as inspection goes.

The rule used to be that before overtime could be worked by the women and boys an inspector had to give written permission, and the permit was hung up in the workroom, so a check on the number of hours worked was thus created. The overtime of men cannot be treated in this way, as in the rural districts the working places are often many miles away from an inspector, so that trust will have to be placed in the employers' overtime books, and many a squabble there will be over them.

Move for State Ownership.

The parliamentary session has just closed. There were few measures of general interest passed, except the state coal mines act, which allows the government to acquire and work coal mines, and thus enter into competition with private enterprise. It is said to be a step toward the nationalization of steamship lines, and so takes New Zealand one more move toward being the "awful example" of state socialism.

There has been some little excitement here lately on the subject of the best practical way of rating city properties. Hitherto rates have been paid on the assessed value of the property—that is, upon the value of the land and building thereon. An act was passed by the government some little time ago whereby a municipality by a majority vote of its ratepayers could adopt "rating on unimproved values"—that is to say, that buildings escape and only land is taxed.

Rich People Escape.

The advocates of the measure say that this is the fairest way, as otherwise rich people buy lots for speculative purposes and let them lie idle on purpose to gain the "unearned increment" arising from the increased values of lands around them, improved by other people's outlay. Again, they urge that the present rating is a tax on improvements, and as soon as a man builds a room or veranda on his house which helps improve the city his rates are raised.

The opponents of the new rating say that under this system the costly buildings on one section owned by a rich man pay no more than those on the lot beside it used by a cottager for his small house and garden; that it will squeeze out all gardens and open spaces and make the "skyscraper" a necessity. At all events, the City of Wellington has adopted the new principle for good or ill.

CANDIDATES [illegible]

AUSTRALIA'S NEW LABOR LAW.

New South Wales, the wealthiest and most important of the Australian States, has taken the lead in regard to the settlement of labor disputes by arbitration. The passage of the industrial arbitration bill has placed the matter in such a shape that practical tests will now be possible. The bill is meant to work both ways, and under its provisions strikes and lockouts will be out of the question. The whole industrial world will watch the operation of this law with eager interest. A judge of the Supreme Court will preside over the Arbitration Court, and have extensive powers. An important feature of the bill is that it gives the court power to declare a standard wage. It is very doubtful if such an arbitrary way of settling the differences between employers and their workmen will ever succeed. The law seems good in theory, but we doubt if it will work out satisfactorily when put to a practical test. It is only by a process of friction and attrition that the relative rights of capital and labor can be adjusted and determined. There is bound to be strife between two such antagonistic forces. The only place where compulsory arbitration has been put to the test in New Zealand, and New South Wales has apparently been impressed with the working out of the idea in that state. New Zealand has been referred to as a land without strikes, but conditions in that country are considerably different from those that prevail in Canada or the United States. But even in New Zealand there is not wanting evidence that its radical labor laws have not been an unqualified success. The special effects observed in preventing strikes and lockouts have been accompanied, it is alleged, by a general effect upon initiative in industry, as if there was a felt discouragement among employers because they were in the grip of a power adverse to them. It has been said that a manufacturer there has a good deal of business zeal taken out of him by the apprehension that he will be interfered with and "put right" by a court which sometimes miscalculates his interests and hampers him by vexatious conditions. Dissatisfaction of some kind under such a system is inevitable, and there has hardly been a sufficient experience under the law to fix its character permanently as a factor in the development of industry. The working of compulsory arbitration in Australia will be watched with interest the world over. World, 11 Dec '01.

My dear Willie:

There is not very much news to give so this must of necessity be a short letter. We were so glad to get your letter yesterday telling us you had a good sleep regular Michie evening. When they said good night to me, one said "Good night Mrs Morris" while the other said "Good night Mrs McKinnon". I told them that Morris would doubtless be quite pleased if he could hear them. They are the most perfect idiots I ever met and they kept asking if I was ill because I could not make as much noise as they did. However we enjoyed the evening and they are very kind. Friday morning Nellie, Douglas and I walked out to Upper Canada Col. and back. Jim looks so much better and is sitting up in bed.

for I think Mother was so much worried about you as she was about Rae. Your dear Father was quite well and very jolly does not- I am glad to get. You remark no trouble right- there I did want to see Clive for a while I have been to Ottawa & left at 6 this but it was very hard to leave. Mac was quite bright and ever since his card came yesterday Mother has felt perfectly at ease about him. She is not worrying at all and went off to church this morning with Isabel and Father as perky as you please. Her last remark as she quitted the house was that they must manage somehow to skip Frederick so you see she is in her usual health. Isabel and I were down at the Ritchie's for dinner on Friday evening and we had a

My dear Pupils,—

Your several letters arrived safely & I need hardly tell you were very very welcome. I watch each mail with a great deal of interest & would always like to get something if it be even a card. I would write oftener if I had the time but in my present position I have a lot of extra work so that nearly every minute I am kept occupied. As yet I have written no letters save to Will & yourselves & you know what a great book there are to be written.

This soldiering business is a great thing. The discipline, smartness & exactness I should imagine would be very good for one. Carry. Each morning after getting up at 6.30 I have to take charge of the fatigue party. That means that about a dozen men are chosen by the sargent-major & put under my charge. I have to devide them in sections of two, three, or four & put an under corporal or sargeant over each section. Each section then goes to its fatigue work of dusting, sweeping, etc. The privates mess, the non-coms mess, the wash & back-house rooms. The men over the sections are responsible for the cleaning up & have to remain where sent until I inspect & pass the verdict O.K.

In return I am responsible to the sargeant, he to the sergeant-major & the sergeant-major gets shades from the inspecting officer if everything is not all right.

On the marking column you will see the work I have to do by a note to fill.

In the capacity of Asst. Steward Sargeant I have not as yet many duties to perform save checking over the stores. At camp if I remain in the same position it will be to see to the dieting of the patients that is that they get the proper meals & that they get them at the right time.

Every other night, (i.e. until tied line) I am on duty in the privates mess seeing that no one is husked up, etc.

As regards the officers (not non-com's) any relations are totally different than you, at any rate Mrs. Ambrebus, imagine. In order to speak to the col. I have to get the sergeant-major to take me to him & ask permission of him for me to speak to him. Of course he may send for me & speak to me any time he wishes.

The col. is a typical looking soldier, fine build & handsome. He is, I should imagine, a jolly fine fellow. Major Jones, the aide of the Governor here seems a good head but I like Captain Johnson much better. He seems continually to have a smile on his face & might be taken for an elder brother of Lt. Toronto to be well. Rt. Tremaine has not as yet arrived.

The night before last Wm. A. A. King of Dalhousie Med. College, fourth year, took me to the academy to see a very nice little play. After the play we went to a restaurant & had fried oysters, (which by the way I enjoyed more than any I have ever tasted) ginger beer, cigars, etc.

Last night I went out with Law to see a couple of his lady friends (I forget their names) They were just leaving for the theatre so that we were out of it, but they asked us over to-night & I have got one of the sergeants to take my duty here.

Since last I wrote, we have been given our dress uniforms etc. so that the first opportunity I get I shall have my photo. taken.

The Victoria arrived here to-day. I expect we shall be sailing on her about a week from Saturday. I would not mind if it were to-morrow. This running around in a town town is most certainly town. Halifax is the billiest, clopsiest & most uninteresting town I have ever been in I am glad I have had very interesting work as I have & such enjoyable companions or I think I would be lonely in this God-forsaken hole. Actually I haven't seen a pretty girl since I struck the joint.

Do you not think I have done well to sling off five sheets. I must sing off here because I have nothing more to write.

I hear the call for collecting letters so must close anyway. With love

My dear Everybody,-

Following three letters have reached me O.K. I was very pleased to get the news-paper clippings. Roberto gave me that scrap of Lennie's the other day. It is a Jeune Beaute only I fear Lennie was almost too extravagant in buying it.

I am also going there some evening this wk.

You had better send me my shaving brush & razor as the corps' are pretty poor. We sail on a week from Tuesday I expect but I shall here from you I hope many times before that & undoubtedly you will here from me.

I had my photo taken & enclose the proofs. I did not like it.

With love.

I wrote a long letter the day before yesterday so that there is very little more to tell. This morning I we had a church parade to St Pauls. We were headed by the LXIII Bugle band & I think made a very good show.

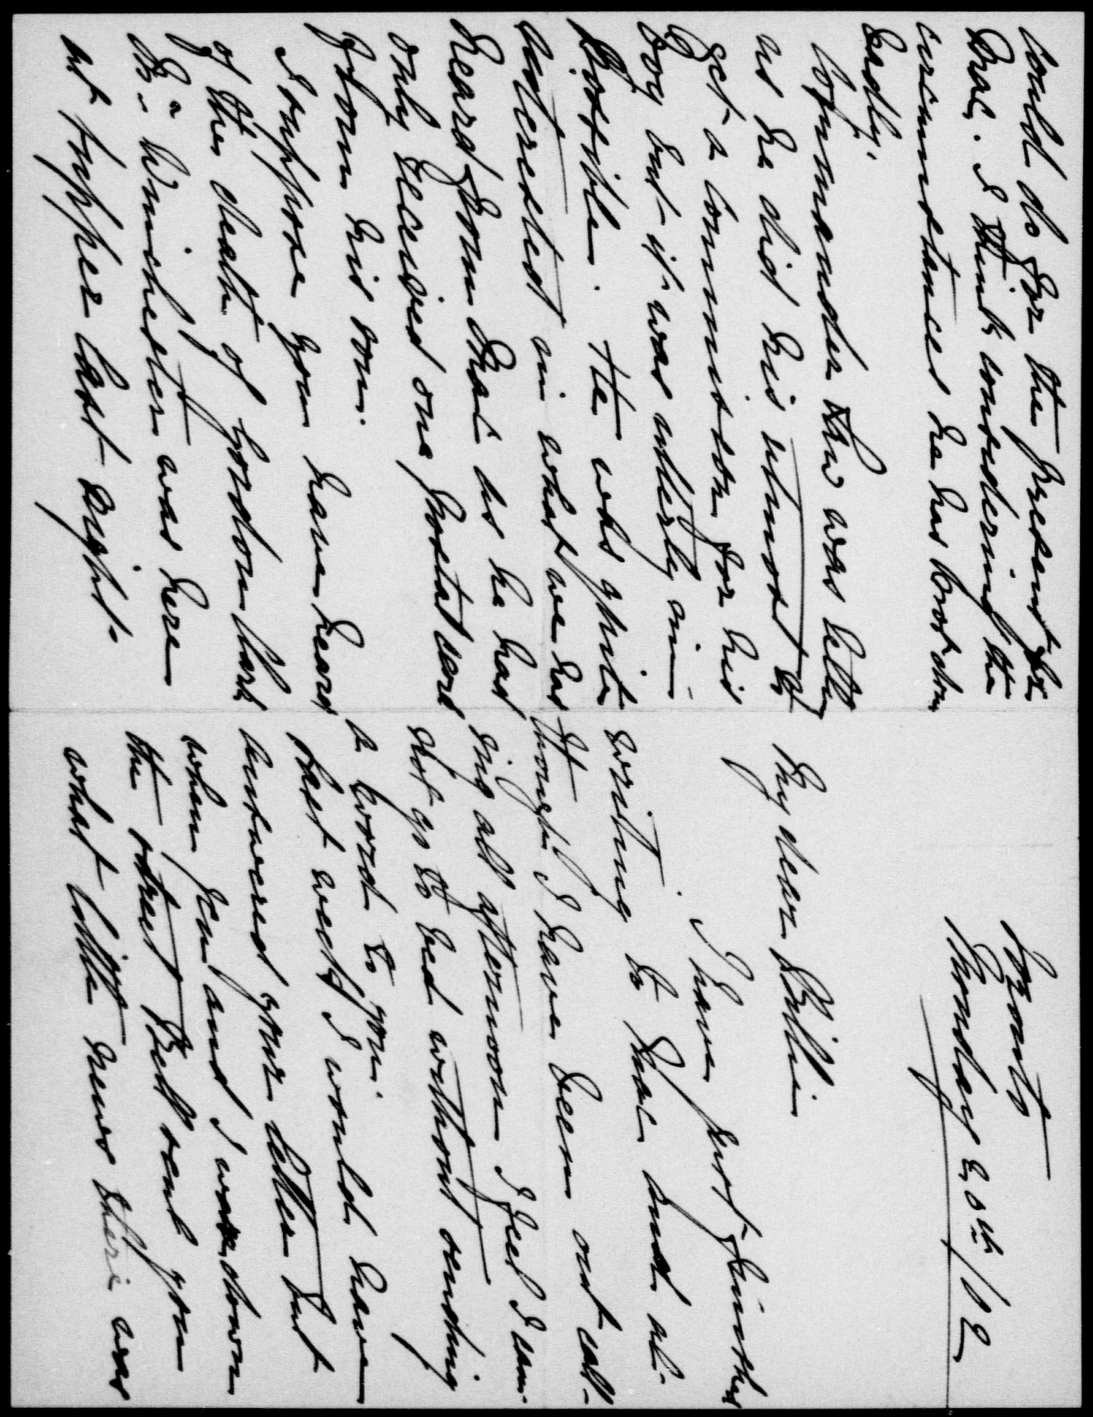

Friday night the Y.P.S. of St. Pauls' church gave us a social. I met a very pretty young lady there who sings like a bird (the only pretty & the prettiest girl in Halifax) She is acting the kind missionary & taking me to church to night where she is to sing a solo.

Another young lady, a Mrs. Taylor has asked me to come & spend the evening to-morrow night & bring a couple of my friends with me.

The Hairingtons, the place I am took me to, are very nice indeed. Morris knows them. They are very musical, having quite a few musical instruments in the house.

"I am to day challenged to adopt the policy of Lord Durham in Canada. It is to me a very extraordinary thing that gentlemen who talk about the precedent of Canada have evidently not taken the trouble to read the history of those times. They speak as if there were some similarity between the two cases. The hon. member for Welland discriminated- and laid great stress upon the discrimination - between the judgment of Lord Durham and the conduct of his Majesty's present Government, and he forgot to tell you - because, perhaps, he did not know - that the policy of Lord Durham was a policy of unconditional surrender. When the rebellion was put down nothing but an unconditional surrender was accepted, but let me for a moment in two or three words remind the House what took place in Canada. The Canadians had great grievances, which the Cape rebels had not. The Cape rebels had every liberty, every right, every privilege which the Canadians desired or which they have since acquired. There was justification - or an excuse - for the conduct of the Canadian rebels. There was no justification of any kind for the conduct of the Cape rebels. In the case of Canada there was justification which was admitted by subsequent legislation."

(Extract from the Speech of Mr. Chamberlain, Colonial Secretary, in the House of Commons, on January 20, 1902, as reported in the London Times.)

Received your letter this morning and will take pleasure in replying to it at once. I have been very much grieved to learn from your letter of the illness of Mrs. Ross and I am sorry to say that I have not been able to write her as I should have liked to do. I have been very busy with the affairs of the Department and have had a great deal of correspondence to attend to. I am sorry that you have been ill and hope that you will soon be well again. I am glad to hear that you are getting along so well with your studies and that you are doing so well at school. I am sure that you will be a great help to your father and mother when you grow up. Dear People -

Here I am sitting in the Quartermasters room giving directions which boxes are to be mailed up etc, & so on, & snatching this only chance of writing a few words before sailing.

I received all your letters on Saturday which it is needless to say were very much enjoyed by me. By this time to-morrow I shall be aboard the boat & we weigh anchor at 2 P.M.

One of you in your letters hint at home-sickness & do not bother yourselves; I think my last letter will show you what sort of a time I have been having. I expect to be dreadly sea-sick for the next three day but with all due deference to, & Beverley I have not as yet experienced as yet a moments home-sickness since leaving.

I have shown the little picture of Mother far and wide (to the Col. included) & everybody thinks it is lovely.

Yesterday I went to church twice. The morning parade we had two bands escorting us & consequently had music every step of the way. In the afternoon I called on nurse Scott. She seemed very pleased & surprised to see me & expressed the wish that we should meet on that distant shore in the sweet bye & bye.

I have just received the razor & brush from Will. I hope the photo will come in time. By the way I was quite right in my future address viz. Coyl. D. M. 14.

South Africa, altho' it is "as large as Canada" after calling on Nurse D. Feare home & had a sleigh. In the evening I went with a young lady to the Rev. McKinnon's church. He preached a splendid sermon on "Remember the Sabbath day, etc." I could tell you every word of it if I had the time. I wish very much indeed that we had him in Toronto. It was the best sermon I have heard since McCaughan left.

On Saturday morning I had charge of the fatigue guarding the transport on the docks beside the Victorian. She is a very large boat, fifteen ft. longer than the Manhattan & a much faster sailor. I shall give you a description of her sometime when I have the time.

Good-bye for the present. Will write soon only do not fear your christ if by any chance my letters are delayed a half a year as is quite possible. Give enquiring friends my love & address. Bones, etc. with love Mac

My dear Will -

It is almost impossible to snatch a moment to write. I have just finished writing home & consequently exhausted all the news there is to tell. They will doubtless send my letter on to you.

I find it is going to be impossible to keep a diary except to take note of a thing to be put in a letter. I shall endeavor to make my letters as full as a diary, & therefore kindly keep my letters on file.

I received the razor & brush this morning for which I thank you very much. The photo. has not as yet arrived but doubtless will before I leave.

Regarding the cable I think it would be unnecessary expense. On landing the Col. will send full particulars. You may depend on it I will be O.K. & if not I certainly would not cable in the negative, because it could not possibly do any good. Again you cannot cable C. O. D.

I really dare not skip duty anymore or I shall get into trouble so I must fly.

My Dear Willie:

Your letter for your message this leave for Ottawa to morrow a.m. at 9.15, so that you may call out for her in the evening. She did not think of going just yet, but your message finishes her, she has been preparing for her flitting all day. I am very glad she is going to be with you for a while also. I shall miss her very much. But her visit will brighten her up & the change for some-thing & people she does & knows & with whom she will feel at home. You will enjoy her visit also, I hope you will both have a very happy time together, apart from her visit here. At about I am sure will be very enjoyable also.

Scholastic qualifications, & has the other qualities as well for want a loyal, trusty man whom you can rely on always, & who will see the work pricks our sake.

Mod a long message by wire from Mac this a.m. He was in great spirits, & he received letter in his life made us write often. The ship which carries him to the Cape — & upon which he is sailing as I write — takes out letters from people aboard he will get at Cape Town on his arrival. Senator Jones from him a fine letter to the representative of the Jewish people at Cape Town. The Block procured it for him, bought it up & the name & those on it then carried it to the station & posted it himself. It was very kind of him. Mac seems to love his office there & at Halifax.

I want $ if possible, to finance some extra expenses while I have just months by a draft on Jno. J Jno dont object, which I will take up here when due— a draft say at a in March, & merely want the proceeds of the draft for January; which is always a hard month for me. What I propose is a draft by myself, or better still by some firm, on Jno, for say $70. or so about the 20th. If Jno accepts the draft

Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Telegraph.

All Messages taken by this Company are subject to the following terms:

It is agreed between the sender of the following message and this Company that the said Company shall not be liable for damages arising from failure to transmit or deliver, or from any error in the transmission or delivery of an unrepeated telegram, whether happening from negligence of its servants or otherwise, or from delays from interruption in the working of its lines, for errors in cypher or obscure messages, or for errors from illegible writing, beyond the amount received for sending same. To guard against error, the Company will repeat back any telegram for an extra payment of one-half the regular rate, and in that case it shall not be liable for damages beyond fifty times the amount received for sending and repeating.

Correctness in the transmission of messages can be insured by contract in writing, stating agreed amount of risk, and payment of premium thereon, at the following rates, in addition to the usual charge for repeating messages, viz.:—One per cent. for any distance not exceeding 1,000 miles, and two per cent. for any greater distance.

This Company shall not be liable for the act or omission of any other Company, but will endeavor to forward the telegram by any other Telegraph Company necessary to reaching its destination, but only as the agent of the sender, and without liability therefor. This Company shall not be responsible for messages until the same are presented and accepted at one of its transmitting offices; if a message is sent to such office by one of the Company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the sender's agent; if by telephone, the person receiving the message acts therein as agent of the sender, being authorized to assent to these conditions for the sender. This Company shall not be liable in any case for damages unless the same be claimed in writing, within sixty days after receipt of the telegram for transmission. No employee of the Company shall vary the foregoing.

My Dear Willie.

I wrote you in such a hurry after my pen. lecture yesterday that I forgot to mention my correspondence with Dr. Morton in my drawer Harper. I now enclose my letter (a copy) & his reply; so that you can obtain him Harper as you think fit.

You that Cook has been appointed to the Gazette. I hope it will turn out satisfactory. I know what you know about him. I believe it will. I am very glad you have settled the matter at any rate. It will be a relief to your mind, & will give you a little more time and freedom for other things.

Your mother went off this a.m. very happy indeed. She had hardly time to say good by to her, as my morning was so full. Two lectures a day with a good deal more matter in a steam; I felt I needed a rest. She sends love to it & herself. I am always glad when Friday comes. I am tethered, however, with a hard in my side — the result, I think,

I called through my typewriting. Not a good choice to-day, as indeed there is seldom good copy, although there could said much about it.

Did you see this am. that it is not certain that the Laird Hospital Ship will land at Cape Town, but that they may be sent on to Durban. That means that they will be marched at once into the field of active operations. The Victorian is said to have sealed orders, what will probably be disclosed after the fleet sails out to sea.

Have a nice letter from Mr. Penn this am. They have all had La Grippe at his house. Mrs Penn wanted for the Local House, & will certainly be elected - perhaps by acclamation.

Your mother will see Jim's letter

My dear Miss Jeanie,

I hasten to answer your delightful letter of the 22nd which contained so much interesting news. Let me at once say how much I appreciate, and how grateful I am for all your kind wishes for my success. I was much interested hearing about Max, and can think of no finer duty than that on which he is about to engage. I am sure he will make his mark in South Africa. But all the same I can readily understand that you found it pretty hard work saying good-bye to him, and that his absence will indeed make itself felt. I quite agree with you that it is terribly hard work saying "good-bye". It is an ordeal that everyone has to undergo at some time or other, and it is a relief when it is over. Still as you say with modern transportation facilities in such an advanced state, one does not need to wait such a very long time before meeting again.

Possibly you may not know that my eldest sister is on her way to Victoria. She has some kind of travelling companion I understand with an officer's wife to the Pacific coast, & is there to act as governess. I hope she will like her post, but I am quite certain that the change will do her good. The engagement lasts one year, I believe.

We have had very cold weather indeed lately in Nelson, and the Lake is now frozen over, rather an unusual occurrence, and the skating is excellent.

Seeing that my note paper met with such a kind reception I have again ventured to use it in private correspondence. Will you remember me most kindly to your family, and thank your sister particularly for her postscript.

With kindest regards to yourself,

Yours very sincerely,

Douglas Lay.

My dear Mother, Father, Girls & Will,-

At this early date I am going to commence a letter home & if possible add to it day by day. But first I must thank you all for your kind letters before I left, for the many kind & loving wishes you sent to me & Will for thoughtfulness in sending the telegram.

The people of Halifax gave us quite a send off, but nothing such as we would have got in Toronto. You see contingents leaving Halifax is now an old story to the people living there. However we had two bands accompany our T.M.C. to the boat & a very great many young ladies. We set sail at 2.15 amid cheers from the land answered by the boys on the ship. The Victorian is quite a large boat measuring 5-33-' in length & about half the breadth of the Olympia in her widest part. She is iron clad & carries four masts which act as cranes for raising & lowering the luggage from & to the hold.

Starting up near Heaven there is first the look-out bridge then comes the Captains & officers deck which covers about one half of the boat. Below this is the main deck where parades are held & the boys have their hammocks. Going down lower still is the stable deck where 600 horses are lined up side by side with their faces towards the passage. It is

So far there has been nothing about the voyage 1902 that has surprised me. So far the waves so far have not come up to my expectation. There has been a steady wind behind us since we left & occasionally the waves have come on deck but I do hope before we land we will have a rousing old storm.

One morning we sighted three vessels & another morning we sighted one but that is the only excitement since sailing except that yesterday a case of small-pox was found on board. The patient is a young Indian French Canadian from Medicine Hat. I was asked by the Col to take him in charge last night but this morning Major Devine of the C.M.R. who is a regular little spit-fire & who has charge of the hospital on board ship flew off the handle & said the Col. had not a d - thing to do with it. My idea of it is that the Col. will be jolly glad to get rid of the case & hand it over to the C.M.R. (the patient is a C.M.R. man) Devine minded the proper diagnosis & is therefore dropping mad.

(Will continue in my next.)

Since last writing there has been very little of interest happened. Each morning we have physical drill & this morning after drill I pulled off & had a good plunge in the salt water bath on deck. Two of these baths are rigged up out of oiled sails & filled every other morning. I do not like going in after so many other fellows but this morning I broke it first. I did not tell you that I have had my head clipped clean all over with the clippers. I find it much cooler & easier & wash it every morning. To-night the C.A.M. are to give their concert. I hope that it will be a great success as we are decidedly in the minority & the C M R's at first looked on us a tender-feet but after a few days, when they had seen us drill & use the gloves, etc, they very soon changed their minds.

I see the Col. every day, sometimes several times; he looks very well & very handsome with a soft khaki hat something like Talbot wears. Tremaine has been very nice to me. He often asks & talks to me & during drill watches at me.

We are now across the equator and on the homeward stretch. Yesterday we had quite a time when, as we crossed the equator, Father Neptune came up & initiated those of us who had never crossed before. I knew what was coming because some of the boys told me that I was in for it first so that I could afterwards help do the others. We had the hose going & both the baths full of water. Being forewarned I had everything off but my shirt & cap. The other fellows we dropped in the bath with all their clothes on. At noon we sent up word to the officers, those for several hours.

During the last few days I have seen several shoals of porpoises & I do not think I told you of the great number of flying fish that daily skud over the water for a hundred yards or more.

Feb. 13. —

Again there comes a lull in the siege of events & there is practically nothing news to tell.

The Pursers of the ships gave a concert on Tuesday night. The crew were the chief participants in the programme & consequently is slightly farcical, somewhat like Monroe Park but however it afforded much amusement.

It seems to me that Mothers birthday happens along pretty soon, in fact too soon for this letter to reach her in time — well Enid I wish you a very happy & prosperous year & hope that before the great occasion comes around again that we shall all be together. A happy occasion that will be. In fact I am already beginning to look forward to it.

I think I shall adopt the scheme of numbering each of the letters I send home? so that there will no confusion as to which was the last sent. I wish you would work the scheme each one of you numbering your own letters & each using consecutive numbers for his or her own batch of letters.

Feb. 17.

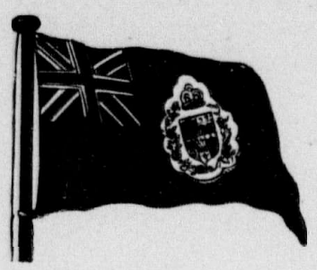

Another Sunday is framed & with it a very lovely day. As before we had service in the morning & sangley mass at night. All afternoon I sat up on the officers deck in an easy chair with Baird. Baird is one of our Corporals from Ottawa. He was to have been a dentist for the crowd & is very wealthy. Shortly after leaving he had a bad attack of appendicitis & is just now convalescent. For the last half week I have had charge of him on the officers deck. One day Tremaine came along & Baird saying he was hungry I went down with Tremaine & got two cups of tea (China cups) & some fancy cakes. Since then each day we two have had 5 o'clock tea on the officers deck. Yesterday (Sunday) the Col. came out, sat down & talked for a long while to us. He brought out a pile of photos & showed them to us. I spent nearly the whole day yesterday reading the Sky Pilot.

Friday & Saturday shooting matches were held on board. The field hospital did splendidly, coming very little behind the C.M.R.

This morning (Monday) four more cases of small-pox have broken out. Major Devine of the C.M.R. now recognizes it as such. If he had carried out my plans about isolation in the first place there would have been no more trouble.

I do not suppose you saw the letter of introduction I got from Lemain Jones. In it he says. - Dr. King is the grandson of the late Hs. L.M., & I am sure that, altho. you live a long way from Canada, you will connect the name with the early history of Canada in a way that will indicate to you that Dr. King is from the right stock to be the right sort of help in the settlement of difficulties that have arisen in your country as this as his Grandfather did help materially in the early history of this country. ——

I know that I have troubled you much in the past, & that I have in no sense repaid you (that can never be done) for the many kindnesses you have shown, espec. to Canadians, but I feel that you will not consider it a trouble to make the acquaintance of Dr. King, & if difficulties in his case should arise necessitating immediate friendship, or in any way you can be of service to him, you would gladly do so & I am sure it will be greatly appreciated by him & by Rev. Dr. A. Black, & myself, & you will be repaid if in any way I can repay you. etc. You will see for yourselves what a kind letter this is.

My Dear Willie:

Under the rules of the Bank of Commerce, which prevent a customer discounting paper at a branch outside the district in which the customer carries on business, Mr. Best, who was to discount my drafts on you, cannot do so. The manager told him that the paper was as good as gold, but that he could not discount it for that reason. Mr. Best was very sorry, but of course he could not help it.

The only other way to manage — and it is even a better way — is for you to draw on me for $146.00 in two drafts of $73.00 each at 30 & 60 days respectively. That will put you in funds for the amount of the two drafts, less the bank charges, & you can then send me a cheque for the amount. You will draw on me through Your own bank

My Dearest Father:

Yesterday was a very quiet day. At one time this morning it looked as though we should have a visitor, and, incidentally, to paint Laurier, who seems to be taking the Cabinet and Parliament with him to Ottawa. "Father may like to paint me" said Laurier to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, "but I'll be d—d if I'll paint him." Laurier & Knight are the only Cabinet Ministers who have refused to be painted. Sir Wilfrid, however, has been a very kind friend to Laurier, and the latter is very anxious to please him. Sir Wilfrid has been sitting to Mr. Russell, R.C.A., for a portrait which is to hang in the Senate Chamber. Mr. Russell is a Toronto artist, and a very good one. He has painted Laurier, and Laurier

My Dearest Wife:

For some little time past I have noticed at times that I could not write as my pen would not work as it should, but I attributed it to the cold weather. Yesterday, however, I found that the ink would not flow from the pen at all, and I was obliged to write with a lead pencil. I then tried the ink in the inkstand on my desk, and found that it was frozen solid. I then tried the ink in the bottle on the mantel piece, and found it in the same condition. I then tried the ink in the bottle on the window sill, and found it in the same condition. I then tried the ink in the bottle on the window sill, and found it in the same condition. Dear Billie:

We are glad to hear you arrived and that you will be in Ottawa on Monday. We do wish we could see a few more days and then go to Ottawa and have a little time of what fun we are having. You will be sorry to hear that Mrs Lount is very poorly to-day. Grace thinks she is getting all she can but Mrs Lount thinks if she could get to the office or if the doctor would call she will take it. Mrs Lount is to get up to-day and we will be glad she will be able to do so. I am a little anything but well myself to-day. I am to see a Dr I will stop & see you a little later.

My Dear Willie:

I sent you a card last night about those drafts, but my thumb was so sore — cracked chilblained — that I was scarcely fit to write. I accepted the drafts returned them to the Bankers Bank here (Cox Friday, and at the same time told the Bank to obtain their Ottawa office of the acceptance that my cheque. I did this so that you might be put in funds immediately and might send me my cheque less $40.00 already transmitted. You had better inform at the bank that if you have not been put in funds, so that you can send me my cheque, because I really need it very much, as you will understand what that means.

If you send me a cheque on the Bankers Bank — your own bank — it seemed to me that the banker might know that the drafts were merely accommodation drafts — which it would be better he did not. Rather suggested that you send me a draft through some other bank at Ottawa. However do as you please about that.

I closed my lectures with the 3d year this morning amidst the greatest enthusiasm, and with a presentation by the year of a handsome pipe and a can of splendid tobacco. I was taken completely aback. I never knew

Reward about 6 this evening on with my lecture in Criminal Law in the usual way when, about 20 minutes before the hour was up, Ernie Armour, who sits in the front row, got up & on behalf of the class made a very nice little speech thanking me for all I had done for them, and expressing the most kindly feelings of the class towards me. It was a complete speech & well expressed. He then had a box of bonbons for the use of the boys. I thanked the boys very heartily and made them laugh a good deal. They cheered me tremendously time and again, and sang "Jolly good fellow" with great gusto at the close. It was really a very happy close of my connection with the class. As you may remember it was some months ago that I first met the class, & only the other morning I told them I would dismiss the lecture because they did not like telling when I told them to. Yesterday Jimmy told me that the boys all like me, and that their action was prompted entirely by their regard for me. It was the first affair of the kind that has ever taken place in the Law School & I feel very proud of it. With much love to your mother & yourself

P.S. - Did you see the reference to Jimmy & Jean made in the speech in the House on Friday? I think it was in the article in Tuesday's Globe.

Dear Rofle,

I am sitting in the ambulance waiting for orders to move. We expect to entrain here to-day for Klerksdorp, Transvaal. Doubtless you have received the news of the mess Melhuish & the C.D.V.s got into at the above place. They are now running up there between 70 & 100 thousand troops & we are to form the field hospital for the column. We expect a very large decisive battle with Delarey & possibly Botha if he can be induced to join the other. De Wet broke through our lines about a week & ten days ago not very far from our former position at Newcastle.

We left Newcastle three days ago & had two days tracking to our present town. We sat all day yesterday ready to despise the peomanry. Gen Lyon of everybody talking against them.

Orders to move — must close here.

Lovingly
Mac

P.S. Very pleased to get Father's & Letters & letters from the girls telling of Walter going to Ottawa. Write very often & tell all my friends to do the same.

all. I paid Mrs. Lyon last night just before starting for the Attorney-Generals dinner. I will attend to the drafts promptly.

I am much interested in that Montreal trip & in the legislation which will follow, especially if it follows the suggestions thrown out by Willie. I am so glad that he met the President of the C.P.R., & if his work in connection with the matter will make the C.P.R. more friendly to the Government, which benefitting the workers, it indeed a good stroke. I was very glad also to hear of the promised increase in Willie's salary. It is both just and well deserved. But I can't begin to enumerate all the items of Willie's letter which pleased me immensely.

The Attorney Generals dinner last night was by far the nicest thing of the kind I ever was at. There were about 45 present, a mixed party of gentlemen, Judges, some of Sifton's friends from Hamilton, some members of the House Pense included. I sat beside Warren Burton of Hamilton & found him a very agreeable companion. Armour, Falconbridge & Mr. Moss were the Judges. There were Mrs. Harcourt, Davis & Harcourt members of the Government, London also, Ferguson. Jack Scholes, Hartley Dewart, the Speaker & the House (Evanturel) with whom I had a fine talk as I also had with Mrs. Ross. I left at 11.30 p.m. Christopher Robinson K.C. came over to me when I was sitting with the Speaker & he was looking for some one to walk down with, so we came away together and had a very nice talk about Hamilton & other matters on the way down. South East Coast of Africa, Feb. 22 1902

Dear Everybody,—

The long letter I sent from Cape Town yesterday was hardly finished. I had stopped writing for several days because we were informed that no letters would be allowed to leave the ship on account of the small-pox.

I can remember nothing of interest before we reached Cape Town.

At Cape Town we arrived about 7 A. M., having passed a large troop ship the night before. Cape Town as I have tried to represent in a little diagram, is situated at the foot of mountains. The mountains appeared to be, from the ship, about a dozen miles beyond the shore; but they say they are 5 or 6 miles back. Table mountain is over 4,000,000 ft. high & when rolling out in the evening we could see the clouds piling up the sides of it.

The scenery immediately brought back to memory the scenery of our Toronto Exhibition side show where they have the fire works. The mountains actually looked so clear cut that one might almost expect to call, on going around to the back, plank canvas on which was a painted scenery.

Sunday Feb. 23rd.

To-day is another beautiful day only a trifle warm. We are scudding along the South coast of Africa in the Indian Ocean & expect to arrive at Durban to-morrow. The trip now is not quite so monotonous because we are in sight of land & very interesting it is. The ocean here, they say, is swarmed with sharks but the noise of the boat frightens them away & consequently I have not as yet seen any.

The water in places is covered with a very fine sand colored sea-weed so that one might almost imagine he was about to run on a sand-bar.

The coast in spots is formed by mountains rising directly out of the ocean: Again there are sandy spots which at a distance resemble very much snow-banks.

This morning we held our last divine service on board.
The remainder of the day I have been reading the Man from Glengarry. It is very good but does not in my estimation nearly come up to the other two books. The death of Mack Cameron brought back to me the death of poor Bert with all its sadness & since reading it again & again Bert has come

The boys at last got off the first this evening & we rushed immediately into a train to go away up country. Everybody in fact has gone except Tremaine, myself & a fatigue of three men who are to follow to-morrow with the stores. We have left the fatigue to sleep on the boat & have come to our present destination.

It was fairly late when we got here but we hired a couple of rickshaws, pulled by kaffirs wearing brass bells &c, etc. I sent you a ride thro the town. But I must really get some sleep to-night because I have to work hard to-morrow. There is an enormous amount of description necessary to give you any idea of this place but that I shall do when next I write if possible.

Dear Mother & Willie:

Bella has given you all the home news, so that I need only to write about myself. I had a talk with Foldemi on the Howard vacancy. He said he feared he could not help me much, as with the exception of Prof. Horton, all his Howard friends were gone. I told him no man's word had more weight at Howard than this. He said they dropped me as "half a Yankee," they said. "So I am." He did not promise to do anything, because he really didn't know Dr. Eliot, but he kept the copy of the letter to Dr. E. that I gave him & it is just possible that he did do something; but I did not care to press him.

Dear Willie and Mother:

I write just to say that I have to-day taken up the Irish draft for $73 $\frac{00}{100}$ which does not fall due till March 10th. I will take up the other at the end of March. This leaves us with $52 $\frac{00}{100}$ to pay along on this month; but we will try & manage it.

I am not counting very strongly on the Judgeship. I would far rather have a place in the High Court than in the Court of Appeal, when the vacancy occurs. It is worth $1000 more, & is more acceptable otherwise. Ritchie had a letter from the Minr. of Justice to-day. It suggests that Ireland should be influenced, because the Ontario Ministers will really decide it. The letter is very nice otherwise — Ritchie & Fitzpatrick being old friends. I could Arnoldi is going to write the Minister at Ritchie's request; so is young Cartwright, a lawyer, Sir Richard's son. Fitzpatrick told Arnoldi in Ottawa that Watson was a tricky man, & Arnoldi denounced his appointment strongly. Ritchie thinks I should go to Ottawa & look after it, but I can't do that. Jaffray, who wants the place, is there now. I really think Meredith is the King pin in the whole business; Fitzpatrick suggests that in his letter. Is there anyway that we can get at him?

Letter No. 4.

The Hill, near Two Rivers Ont.

March 3, 1902.

Dear Everybody -

This is certainly writing under difficulties. It is snowing hard and is quite cold. The last storm we had was very severe. It began on Saturday night like this & kept up all day until yesterday morning. We were snowed in completely. The roads were filled with drifts & no teams could get through. Mr. Bowman was the first to make a track. He came up with his horses & sleigh on Monday & then Mr. Gill followed suit. Mr. Gill came up with a sleigh & Mr. Bowman with his horses. Mr. Gill's sleigh was the first to get through & he made a track for Mr. Bowman to follow. Mr. Bowman's horses were not used to the snow & would not go through it. Mr. Gill's horses were used to it & would go through it. Mr. Gill's sleigh was the first to get through & he made a track for Mr. Bowman to follow. Mr. Bowman's horses were not used to the snow & would not go through it. Mr. Gill's horses were used to it & would go through it.

Dear Willie:

Yr letter with enclosures received this a.m. The Hansard is interesting reading. There is nothing very new in the judicial matter. Farrow is working a big push for the place and may get it. I have written Jas. Young, Galt, Buchingham and Livingstone re-M.P. of Baden, also Mr Bowood of Hamilton, to use their influence. Buckingham has answered promptly saying that he has written Murdoch & Sutherland, also his nephew Preston, M.P.P. for Brant urging him to do something. Ritchie & Percy P.

has done much for us. Frank Arnold K.C. also. I don't know how we can get at Jolc. C.J., & I don't think Willie would do much good. Adam Wright saw Murdock & talked to him for us, but the latter was non-committal. Things are very well at the time, Adam said, but are friendly. Adam gathered that he wished to be participated by letters to himself and his Ontario colleagues. Whatever may happen at the present vacancy, my chances are much better under the present Minister of Colonial affairs, than under Hicks. I believe Owen to-day also.

I wrote your mother on Sunday to Quebec, & I sent her Jack's copy of your report. Send copies also to Buckingham, Jimmy etc. I wish you would send us a dozen more copies. We are all well. With much love

Father.

Since last I wrote nothing very exciting has happened. We receive many exciting reports but one soon learns to take them with a great deal of salt. If reports received by the colonel are correct the war is practically over Botha having surrendered & De Wet being caught in a trap from which he cannot escape. I now enclose a form of draft on me for $50.00 at 60 days. All the trouble is how it to you acceptance at once, & to all their agents here to return the ac-

you can't send me the funds — the pro-until the acceptance is returned. Think you had drawn the day you got my letter, because I am not entirely sure as much as would buy a postage stamp, & have a lot more letters to send away.

At this point I am just wondering whether I have already written you about this my thing — I confess in such a whirl of letter writing that I can't be certain — but if I have there is no harm done.

Toronto, March 16th Sunday Morning 1902.

My Dear William:

Again thanks for the Victorian which I have read from cover to cover in the intervals of the rain which today has been almost incessant. I am glad you are so much pleased with it. I have also read Mr. Bourinot's paper on Canadian Constitutional Development and found it very interesting. I am glad you are getting on so well with your studies and that you are finding time for some recreation. Hockey matches are all very well in their way but I am afraid you are devoting too much time to them. Remember that you have your future career to think of and that you must not allow anything to interfere with your studies. Have you yet made up your mind what you will do when you graduate? Have you any preference as to the line you will follow? Of course you have plenty of time to think of it but it is well to be considering the matter. Have you seen anything of Mr. Bourinot lately? Has he been in Ottawa during the session? I suppose you have been to hear Mr. Foster's budget speech. I have not yet had time to read it but I see by the papers that he has made a very clever statement of the financial position of the country. I am glad to see that the Government have decided to increase the Militia Grant. I think it is a step in the right direction. I suppose you have been following the debate on the Militia Estimates. Mr. Borden's speech was a very able one and I think he made out a very strong case for the increase. I am glad to see that Mr. Tarte has been forced to resign. He has been a source of weakness to the Government for some time past and I think they are well rid of him. I suppose you have been following the Yukon Election case. I think the Government will have a majority of about 20 when the House meets. I suppose you have been following the Transvaal War. I think the Boers are getting pretty badly whipped and that the end is not far off. I suppose you have been following the Alaska Boundary question. I think the Commissioners have come to a decision which will be very satisfactory to the United States. I suppose you have been following the Venezuela matter. What do you think of the action of Germany, England and Italy? Do you think they are justified in their action? I suppose you have been following the Behring Sea Arbitration. I think the decision of the Tribunal will be very satisfactory to Canada. I suppose you have been following the Canadian Pacific Railway matters. I think the Government have been very wise in their action in the matter. I suppose you have been following the Manchurian question. I think Russia is acting very wisely in withdrawing her troops from Manchuria at a certain date. I think Japan is justified in her attitude in the matter. I suppose you have been following the Chinese question. I think the Empress Dowager is acting very wisely in her attitude towards the Foreigners. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of King Edward. I think the Coronation will be a very grand affair. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the Pope. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the Czar. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the Emperor of Germany. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the King of Italy. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the King of Spain. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the King of Portugal. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the King of Greece. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the King of Denmark. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the King of Sweden. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the King of Norway. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the King of Belgium. I think he is a very able man. I suppose you have been following the Coronation of the King of Holland friction arose between the Local Crown authorities & the Grand Trunk which the government want to avoid; they but want to antagonize a great corporation of that kind; & so they want a Crown counsel who, as "the Atty - Genl. said, will conduct the case "discreetly." I am to be the "discreet" counsel. There may, of course, become other business. Britton, the new Judge, is to take the assizes.

There is nothing particularly new in my matter. Attorney & Chancellor, Solicitors, have individually recommended me strongly. Mr. Dewar & Hamilton will do the same thing. Had a very friendly letter from them. Saw that a mere notice in the Evening Banner? If you could get the Evening Press or Citizen to copy it, it would be a good stroke. Sent an Advertiser & asked him to look and get it in the Hamilton Times.

I am told that J. D. Clarke, Mills' former secretary, & also, Scripture is still in the Justice Department is a great friend of R. R. My dear Billie

I see by the papers the death of Mrs Bell. Do you remember how she stood by us at the Drawing room? and to think how she is gone to her long home never to return. Is it not dreadful the sudden deaths we read about?

Here but a wee baby in the house makes a odd difference. I think this is my third letter to you and today I felt that you must be forgetting your poor old friend. Just a wee line pleases me. Father told me how you had been at Lady Minto's dining and how Lady Ogilvy had invited you to her farewell and that you had spent the evening with Mrs Dent. How did you like the latter?

I have nothing of interest to write about but give my love to enquiring friends. I wonder

I also see that the Master Painters of Toronto are to have a look out. Does that mean you will be going to Toronto?

You see I have not more time to write and read than I had in Ottawa.

The weather has been very unpleasant. Yesterday we started out for a drive and had just been about half an hour when the rain came pouring down. The streets are unfit for walking but perhaps the rain will carry the slush away.

Mr. Dart has been very busy with his meeting of Presbytery. We have some Ministers staying here.

How are they all at the manse? Give them my love and tell Mrs. Herridge I will likely be along at the end of next week and will expect her to be ready to go home with me.

They are all very kind to

Dear Everybody, -

Altho' I expected we should some time ago have moved from our present position still we hang out in the same old ranche. The most exciting thing that has happened since last I wrote was the receiving of a letter from home on Sunday last. My Dear Willie:

As I like you to see or know what intelligent men are thinking or saying about you, I enclose a letter just received from Mr. Buckingham, who wants his boy at U.C. College terms & so occasionally, you when I have put on a little kindness professionally. You might forward it & send when you have perused it & tell me what to enclose, but to return it here.

Nothing specially new here except the very sudden death of Mrs. J. W. Ross. Clarence is sick at 4.30 this a.m. She went to bed between 8 & 9 last evening with a headache, & died from a paralytic stroke at the hour mentioned. It seems she had a slight stroke on a former occasion. But, all the same, it is a great shock to Mr. Ross. Have just written him offering this & sympathy.

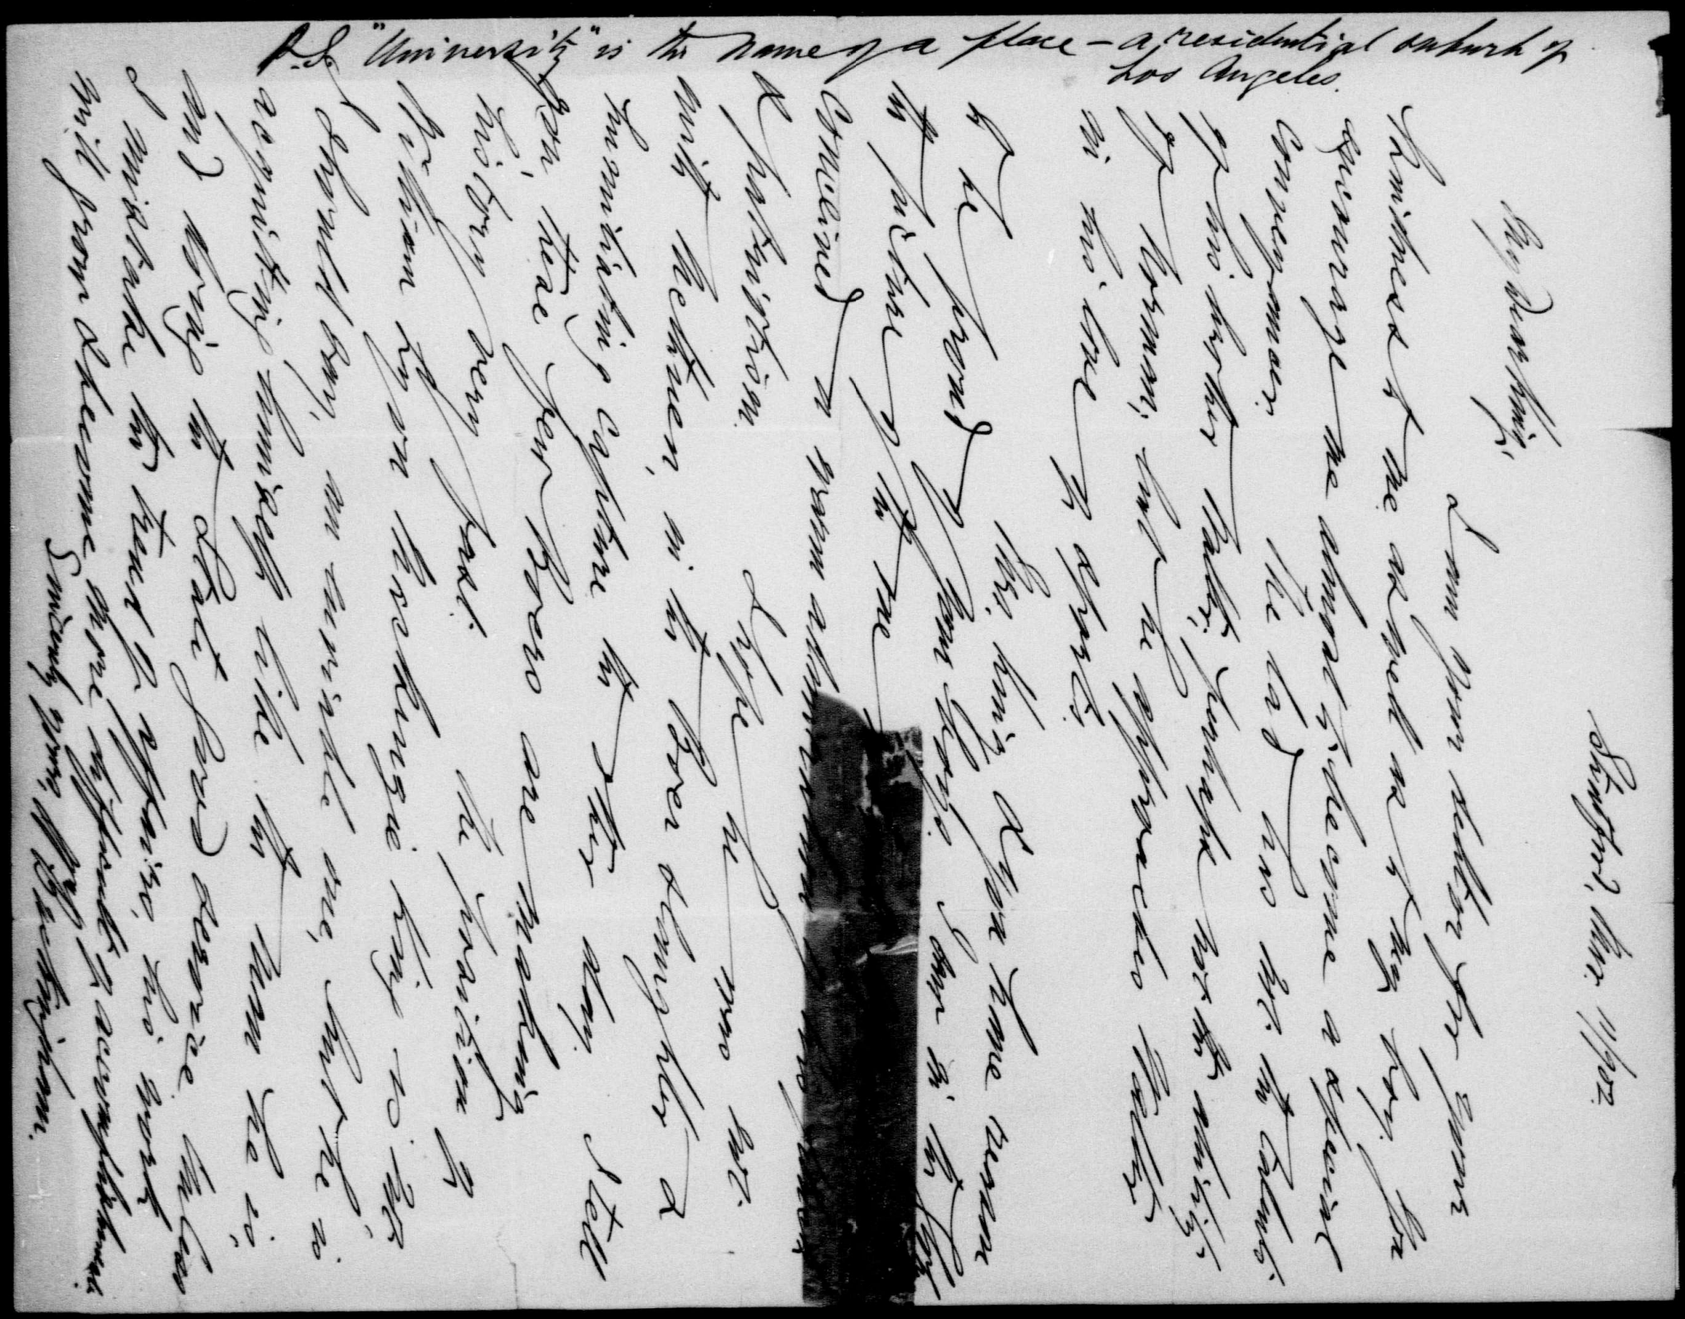

All well here. With much love

Father.

Sunday evening
March 16th/02

My dear Billie

I was so glad to get your letter and will be equally glad to see you again.
This last week has been a very weary one to Mr. Sifton. They have had a meeting of Cabinet Secretary and Mr. Mr. Blount who is the Clerk of Privy Council has been staying here and they have been very much worried over the garbled accounts that has been given to the papers about an unfortunate affair in Something happened on the way Father sent me five dollars but part of that is gone.

I bought rubbers flowers &c. and it is astonishing how money slips out of your hand.
I am ashamed to ask you for any but I may not have to use it.
Will I go from the one station to the other in Montreal. I can get a car but what shall I do about my baggage going straight through to Toronto?
I neglected putting this letter in with the one I sent home as I thought I would not waste a stamp you could inclose it with one of yours.
I think that is a most friendly

I guess anywhere, especially in the lower provinces. I am sure that indeed all the members of the Government will be pretty pleased.
It was really on of the biggest strikes we have ever had in Canada, both in point of the numbers involved and the magnitude of the interests affected. The result altogether is a remarkable tribute to the merits of conciliation, and to your own skill and tact and judgment as conciliator.

Mr Clark puts the special despatch a prominent place on the first page of the paper to-day (Saturday), and has headings in which your name figures. The Mail & Empire has a short despatch — the World nothing is very full and interesting and reads well.

All join me in hearty congratulations; they were well deserved. You must give us particulars of a personal and private nature when you write.

I am immensely pleased with the Halifax of the debate on the estimates for your Parliament that part of the report. There is one other thing I wish

Dear Willie:

I don't know how it happens that I am the last to write and congratulate you on your great success but Billie dear if you could only hear how often & lovingly we all speak of you, you would know you are never out of our thoughts for one moment. That little personal item in the Halifax paper is simply lovely and made Mother say that the man who wrote it two Mackinnons were here in the evening and we played chess and ping pong till after eleven and had lots of fun.

Last night we were down at one Club which closes in two weeks much to our joy.

This morning we had letters from and this afternoon Mother & I are going to call on Mrs Percy Parker, Mrs Pepler & several others.

I am reading David Elginbrod and enjoying it immensely. It is pretty Scotch but that is scarcely a disadvantage.

Isabel is going to catch up to me and we are going to finish it alone. I thought the Right of way rather weak. Excuse this miserably written little note, but there isn't much to tell. Best love Jen.

I thank you for the Warwick which is very interesting. The Hobbs business was fall twaddle for some of the Canadian legislators, and I was greatly amused at the way Laurier M.P. rubbed in your praises in the Hobbs Herald. If Borden, M.P., the Opposition leader had said a few kindly words in your favour, I think he would have shown a more liberal spirit. I was disappointed with him.

The house is large & airy rooms and in perfect order. It will be all ready the last week we are here in, & you will be delighted with it. Downstairs there is a drawing room, dining room and breakfast room with a pine kitchen & butler's and other pantries behind. There are stationary washstands, gas chandeliers in nearly all the rooms, & large mirrors over the mantels in a number of the rooms. The halls up & down stairs are spacious. There are 3 principal rooms on the second flat and 2 in the rear of that flat, and there are on the 3d flat another series of 4 rooms. All the rooms are beautifully papered, and everything connected with them is excellent. There are 2 furnaces of modern construction, one in front & one in the rear, a laundry, stationary wash tubs, a fine coal cellar and two other cellars, all in exact order. What we miss [illegible] in cool days will be made up the difference in the rent as compared with our present house. Mr. Denny says he has managed with 12 tons of coal this last season. Among the letters was a letter from Mackie one stopping in Montreal. Both were a very quiet Thanksgiving as one indeed in every line seemed to be.

Dr. Pyne & Miss Cuppage dined here on Wednesday & Miss Cuppage & Dr. Pyne left for Toronto by the Cobalt & gave it as Dr. Wallbridge's wish that Mackenzie & the writer call upon him. This they did on Saturday & Dr. Wallbridge stated that the object of the letter of Miss Cuppage was that Mackenzie & I should before Dr. Pyne saw Mr. Hearst, the Premier & Mr. Ont. which is by the way against Mackay's wish, however & answered the question fully although I gave them a few good advice like it's the same time. He told me he had left my letter go on - also he knew it would do no good.

Dear Willie:

We are all very much excited about the trip & running over to Europe. Mary is packing. Paul's going to come up on Thursday & see the last of us before we depart. Mary thinks she'll take it and I'll have to pack up & take it away.

Am sending this down by Paul

Dear Ralph.-

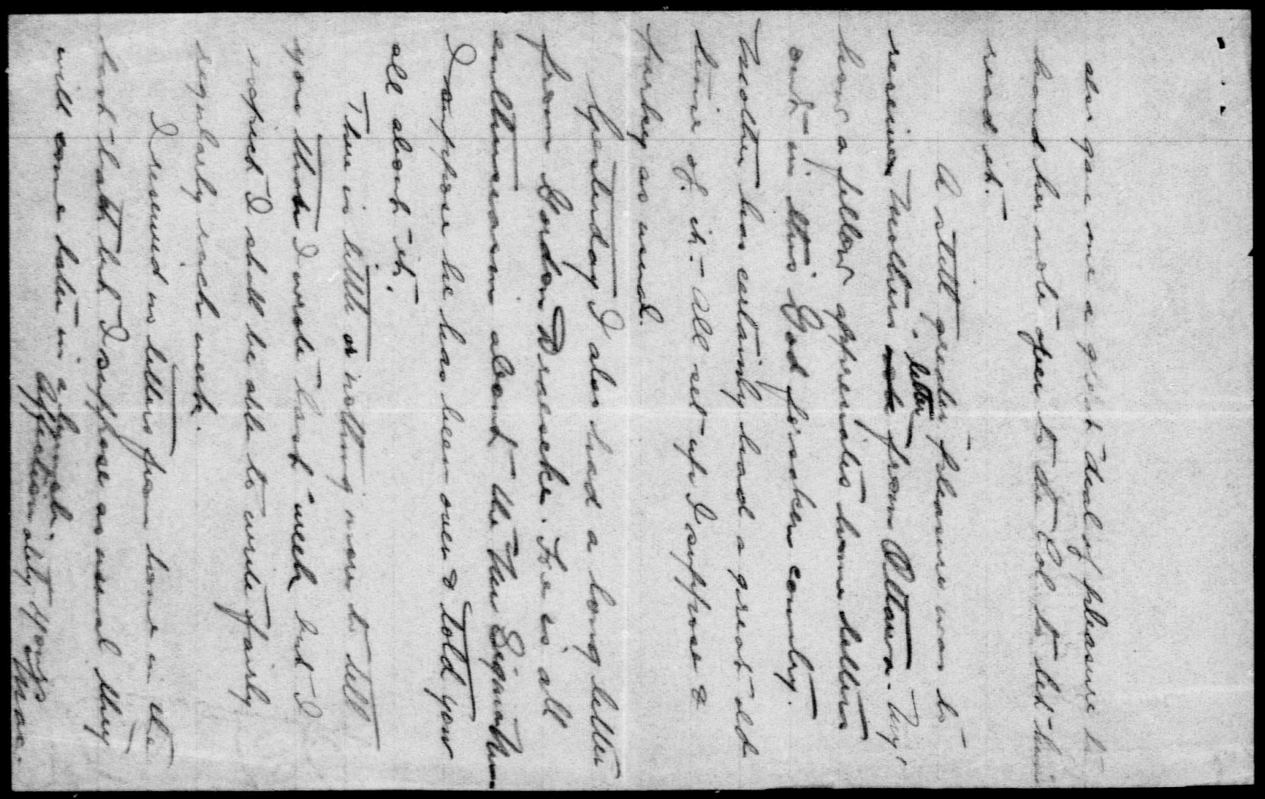

Your welcome letter with the Allowance to hand. I am glad to know that you are well and that the Club is flourishing. I am not taking part in anything this week as I am busy preparing my thesis which I hope to have finished by the end of next week. I am very glad to hear that you have been doing so well in your studies. I expect to be home about the 15th of May. I will write you again before I leave. Love to all from your affectionate brother you will if you possibly can.

I made a favourable settlement with Mrs. Lyon. I pay rent only $ 15 may, when I must vacate, & I am allowed $ 10.00 for last year's painting. I can move into the new house whenever I like, but pay no rent there till end of June - my monthly. I really get half a months rent for nothing, & am sure trouble

we were disposed to be prejudiced, but at first, but we are all agreed that the locality is a very nice one. The open spaces, tree and boulevards and double rows of shade trees all along Wellington Place, make it, we think, an attractive place, especially in the green springtime. If you come up on Friday night come to 22 Wellington Place just opposite Lambeth Abbey & a short distance west of Shadmia Ave.

I am to take the Crown business at Guelph next Monday. We ope there will be a decent docket. Gibson is evidently keeping me in mind, & I am glad he is.

The sequences of moving & the settling up some things have necessitated my arranging with you for another draft. The draft for $50

My Dear Willie:

We were very glad to get your letter to-day, as it seemed very funny we had anything like a letter from you. Not knowing the circumstances I am afraid I can't say much about matters in re Murdock. Withered of course has consideration & you deserve it than earned it, but his manner is worse than he is himself; at heart he is all right. My impression is, from what Adam Wright has told me, that he is still a sick man more or less, & he is certainly overworked — for which no one will thank him either now or hereafter. Still he is a powerful friend, has been, with all his deficiencies, a good friend when we needed friendship, & I would not like to be out with him, nor would I like you to be. A few talk with him when he is in the right mood will, I am sure, put things all right meanwhile, & in less than a month he will be across the Atlantic, & you will then have things entirely in your own hands.

As you have your own business to attend to,
I don't think you could be expected to be showing much attention to the Toronto girls down there. We are all afraid on that, but your taking them to the theatre with Peter Jennings, I am sure, go a long way to make up, & would please them very much.

I enjoyed you both such a pleasant time with Peter, & any extra outlay you had for him will, I am sure, be repaid many times & in many ways. You did right in not under-taking literal work during your holidays.
However else you may occupy yourself there,
the resolve not to teach was a wise one.

We will be out of the old home forever on Saturday. Your mother & I sleep at the new house to-night. The moving is going on, but it is tiring for your mother & the girls. You will be officially impressed with our new home and the environs, or I am much mistaken. Like yourself

My Dear Willie:

Your letter enclosing $40 and Isaac's last letter came at noon to-day. I am very grateful for this loan, because I had not a dollar left for any purpose when I received the letter. I had just borrowed $5.00 from Ritchie to toll me to Guelph Assizes on Monday, & promised to return it on Tuesday - which of course, I will do. The Co-Attorney advises me that there is no criminal business there. So that I will just get $20 out of which I must on Monday without fail, so that there will be no hitch about the $50 draft on Tuesday a.m.

As to Isaac I settled with him by a note which falls due on 21st inst. It is the only note I have given, and it is a renewal, & I felt I must give him something then. I can't ask another renewal, & what to do I don't know. I suppose I could join him the balance of my Guelph fee, but there are the house necessities to provide for. I had thought of a note such as you propose at 3 months - which would fall due in August - but that is the only other alternative. Oh what a wearing strain pay expenses. I will go and return the same day. So as to save what I can.

What is really pressing is the $50 draft which falls due on Monday and I often. As to the former what I propose is this: to pay $25, of what you have sent me, on that draft on Tuesday am. — the bank here has promised to hold draft till noon on Tuesday — ~~on that draft~~ and for me to get a renewal for the other $25.00 at 60 days. In other words, you draw on me for $25.00 at 60 days adding interest for the 60 days + bank charges — which will not be much — these on the $25 in cash on Monday, & I will then take up the draft on Tuesday am. You can easily explain to the banker, who will think nothing of a renewal for half the amount, that I will be getting my periodical cheque within that time, & that the $25 renewal will be paid in fact before it falls due. I will pay it out of my cheque at end of June. This plan relieves you from the objection which you have to ask for further accommodation as proposed by me in my last letter. But please do this

My Dearest Wife:

Upon this my fourth day in this spot I can write you a few lines. I am glad I can do so, for I am sure that during the time I am away you will be anxious to hear from me. I am very well indeed, and enjoying myself immensely. The weather has been simply perfect, and the country is looking its very best. Everything is green and the trees are in full leaf. The lilacs are in bloom, and the apple trees are just showing their blossoms. The birds are singing their sweetest songs, and altogether it is a most delightful season of the year. I am sure you would enjoy it all very much. I wish you were here to share it with me.

I have a pleasant room here, with a fine outlook. It is on the ground floor, and has a window opening out on the lawn. I have my own bath-room adjoining, and a fire-place which makes it very cosy in the evening. The food is excellent, and I am well looked after by the servants. I have my breakfast in bed, and lunch and dinner in the dining room with the family. Lord Minto is very kind indeed, and I enjoy my talks with him very much. He is a most interesting man, and has had a very wide experience of life. He is very fond of outdoor exercise, and is a splendid horseman. He has a number of horses, and rides every day. I have been riding with him twice, and enjoyed it very much indeed. I am to ride with him again on Thursday next, when we are to have a long gallop. He has also invited me to play golf with him, and I am looking forward to a game with pleasure. I am to play at 6 o'clock this afternoon for the first time. I am sure I will enjoy it. Should you not put this away if you do not

2/ and bank charges; I would accept that draft then when presented, & that would pay the balance ($25) meanwhile. When the draft fell due I would pay it. I would not, as you seem to think, renew for the balance then without action on your part. I would only renew by your advancing further $25 & by my accepting the draft here. And that is what I wish you would do, & you need have no feeling, so far as the banker is concerned, about re-drawing for the $25, as it is the most common thing in the world for an acceptor of a draft to pay part and get a renewal for the balance. Every person in business does that, & it is the most usual sort of a transaction.

What has been done is this:- Today I paid $25.00 on the $50 draft, & had the receipt marked for that amount ($25.00) marked on the back of the draft. The draft will be returned

3/ to your bank, when you leave at Ottawa, to-day. So that all you have to do is to go to the bank there in the morning — to-morrow am — and ask the banker to let you draw on me for $25 at 60 days, adding bank interest & charges, which will be trifling. The draft which sent here for acceptance, & I will accept & pay when it falls due. I say 60 days, because there other things in the interval, & that time will be most convenient for me. You can fix any notice you please for my paying back & wishing renewal for balance — attending also to office, morning, bank payments & life insurance etc. etc. I assume the renewal will be all right.

You did not need to explain to me about your financial position. You have been very good indeed in helping me, & am exceedingly grateful — more words than myself. If you can,

My dear Everybody -

I have been waiting until after the 15th to write you as the registration that time might be necessary if there had been a fight. The election was held on the 15th & was carried off very quietly & orderly considering the bitterness that existed. It is thought that the Ministerialists generally & that a majority will be returned by 1000 or more. I am glad to say that I received a majority of 1 vote over all polls & returns are yet to come in county in and again after a few days time, during which we shall have had Lady Laurier's reception.

Gladstone Fielding who kept that shop & he Canadian has, I believe, been taken ill & never recovered with the exception of Hamilton. If I had remained with the column I should have come in for this excitement but as it is I am very glad that I am where I am.

who of course will not be told anything about this affair (as shall tell nobody), told us, when he heard mention of that Jones was up with the Corps, that Jones had the reputation of being a tyrant. He certainly has to prove himself in Mackenzie's case; but I will say nothing more now. You might write Mac & comfort him all you can. We are all sorry that Mac's mother should be just extremely sorry for the failing infirmity which has been sent upon him for, at the most, a very venial shortcoming.

My Dear Willie:

Thanks for your letter & its enclosure received this am. I have to pay the amount mentioned in my last letter - Eaton, Mrs Lyon & life insurance. These are pressing, Eaton & life insurance especially. Must. I may manage to steer off this Eaton week, but the other two must be paid on Thursday: or sooner. Out of the $40.00 sent me I need. To-day I will pay Eaton $30.00, & offly balance on $12.48 for insurance, clothing, if possible, something from your mother out of my small sum in her hands to make up the difference. So you see the position I am in exactly. I have not rec'd. cheque for $ £o. as from the Government, but have just written them about it.

I've received the enclosed letter from Mac with much interest, but am much pained and most indignant, as we all are, at the harsh & unfair treatment which he has received at the hands of Major Jones of the 63rd R.—C., a Halifax man, who, I assume men from that quarter, is not above playing the part of a drunken tyrant. Mac says to say or write nothing about the incident to anybody, & for his sake, I shall do so; but I shan't in for Mr. Jones if there is any way of machinating. It makes me furious to think that an upstart of a militia officer, who was himself drunk on duty, & also fined has to be censured for his conduct in that respect, shd. dishearten any boy of mine by holding from him his non-commissioned rank in the service. I assume Mac acted as his duty on every occasion. Technically he may be wrong at Sarnia, because it may be when his business & not that the line containing the bandoliers formed part of the outfit (as that Mac says nothing) but what a sentence for something in regard to which no order was given by his superior officer! I wish Mr. Kennedy,

My Dear Willie:

When you come up to-morrow night please bring with you the policy of insurance on the clothes included in the chattel mortgage. The conditions of the policy require, if I am not mistaken, that the Company be notified of any change in the mortgage security and any change in the place where the clothes are stored; otherwise, in case of loss by fire, the Company could object to payment of the loss. No loss is likely to occur, but it is just as well to be on the safe side.

We shall be very glad to see you, especially in this lovely Spring

I am in hopes, however, that letters may come in the next letter from S. Africa.

mother which I hope will continue.

I have thought a great deal of poor Mac and his cruel punishment since I wrote you, and I cannot tell you how sorry I feel for him. The more I think of it the more I feel that he has been most harshly & oppressively treated, & the more determined I am that the injustice shall be rectified. His reputation is the thing I feel about & the pain which the poor boy must himself be suffering. If the sentence stands & is confirmed — as I presume it must be before by the Col. before it takes effect — it will have to be reported to the Minister at Ottawa. I do pray that Col. Worthington will intervene in Mac's favour — if he has not already done so. If that is not done, I shall certainly take some action on Mac's behalf, because it is too serious a matter to treat otherwise than seriously. If I was known his duty in the matter, & did not do it, he was to blame at fault, but, even in that case, the punishment was too severe. If he did not know that he had to go that he was to go with the expedition, he was not at fault. My understanding of the rule governing in such a case is, that the Sergeant major is really responsible. My dear Josephine -

I must write a line before leaving for Toronto. Yesterday I received the Queen's Quarterly for May with Pelletier's article on Laurier & Confederation. I am very much pleased with it, and am glad you sent it to me. I shall return it to you when I come to Ottawa. I shall go back to Toronto on Tuesday (Sunday) I shall have a great deal to do in connection with the Exhibition, & many engagements. I am very tired, & shall be very glad to get back to Ottawa. Our visit here has been very pleasant, & I am glad we came. Mackenzie is very well, & very much interested in his work. He is very busy with his lessons. One of the boys is ill with Quinsy, & I am afraid we shall have to remain over Sunday on account of it. Mackenzie, a young

Dear Sir,

Declaration of Peace was read out in the Chamber this morning. Things certainly look favorable now that this war has come to a close. Despite that fact we really intend to go home however we shall be right there with you all the time and if the year allows I shall hope to be home for Xmas.

There is much talk now of a move of some kind on Canada's part to have Kruger & party come to Canada, & they will then probably go to Holland. It may not however be carried out.

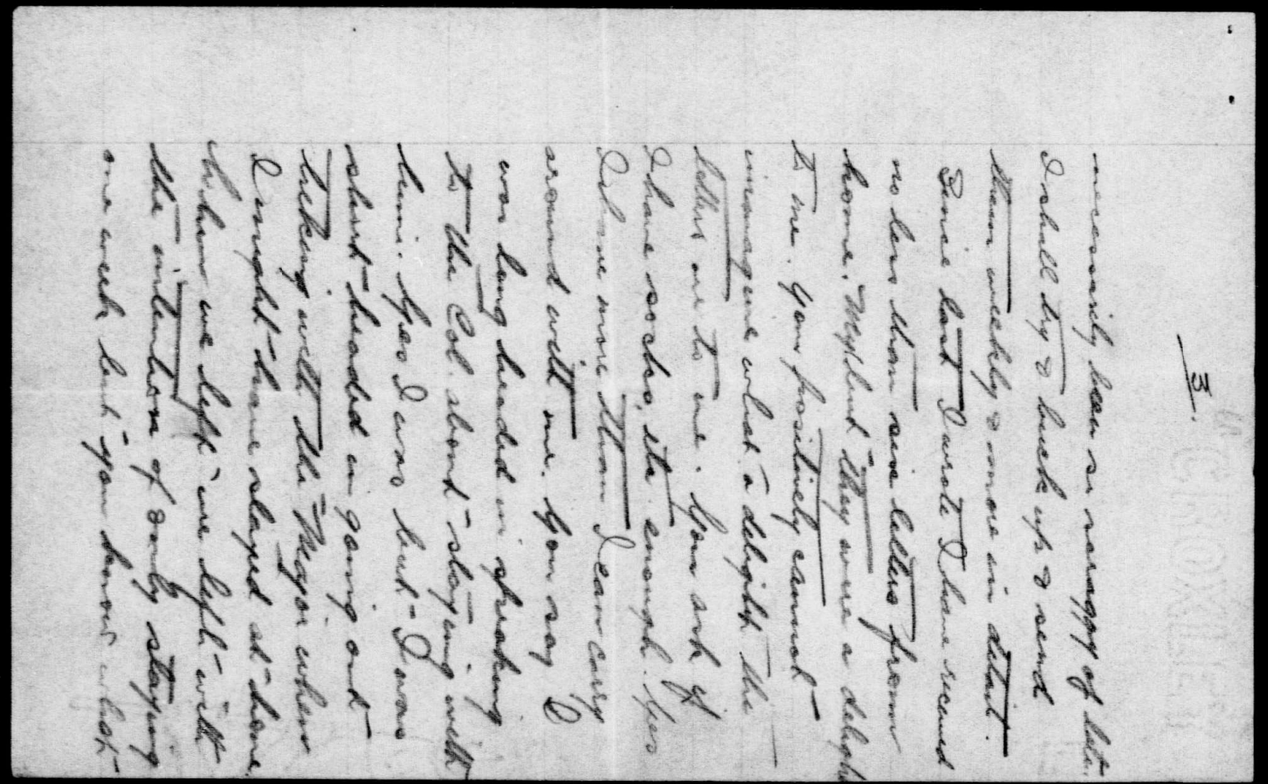

The Col. also being in London will be able to look after matters there on hand.

I am very busy these days

Mr. Col. is again unwell, having returned from Quebec some days ago. He is immensely popular among the boys & does the philosophic to me. Our last report is all that we could all (all Canadians I guess) go to Quebec for the Coronation ceremonies, & will very shortly. Then their conclusion would for Canada. This is indeed good news & might will be carried out to the letter. If this arrangement are finished & should probably the home coming in the last of August or the beginning of September

My dear Billie

I was very much disappointed at not seeing Dr Herridge. I had hoped to have had him for lunch and father went up to the Assembly that night. He was at the Queens dinner to ask him and then before he left. He told father he would be down to see us and the day he left I waited in until after five. expecting him to come either the next day to lunch, or to call. That day I was prompted to go to a little tea or rather this evening at Dr Treadgold's and did one of my boys with me anyway.

Murlock's first thought must have been what would come most naturally to himself. That was lack of money & that was just as well to take him a day to think over it and then tell him of your decision.

I am glad you feel that the life at Kingsmere is doing you good - certainly a good table will add much to your comfort.

Jennie has gone into Brickies to supper. Father and I are sitting in the library together and I feel as if a little fire would be a great improvement. If you were here I am sure we would have a fire.

Write soon with best love

Mother

Thomson sop as we may have thought the situation. The fact that there will be other applicants shows pretty well what the Benchers & the profession generally think of our services.

Your mother is worrying a good deal over me, especially when we don't hear from home. She fears that he is discouraged, etc. etc. I am sure that he has felt Jones' treatment of him far more deeply than his letters indicate, and I am disposed to feel pretty much as his mother does about it. However we shall see how his "scheme" that he talks about works out. We are all well. Didn't go to Trinity yesterday — too wet.

My dear Father

Enclosed please find Bank Draft for $100.00 which I trust will be satisfactory. Baby is getting on splendidly. Have been out in the garden every day this week. Yesterday we had a picnic on the Island. Mrs Bowser & Mrs Bruckles Boy were also present. Today I am feeling very well. Mrs Bowser & Mrs Bruckles Boy are coming to tea. Tomorrow I intend going to the Island again. Mrs Bowser & Mrs Bruckles Boy are also going. Mrs Bowser is a very nice woman. Mrs Bruckles Boy is a very nice boy. Mrs Bowser & Mrs Bruckles Boy are very nice people. Mrs Bowser is a very nice woman. Mrs Bruckles Boy is a very nice boy. Mrs Bowser & Mrs Bruckles Boy are very nice people.

You will find mail at the Bank.

With best love from Baby

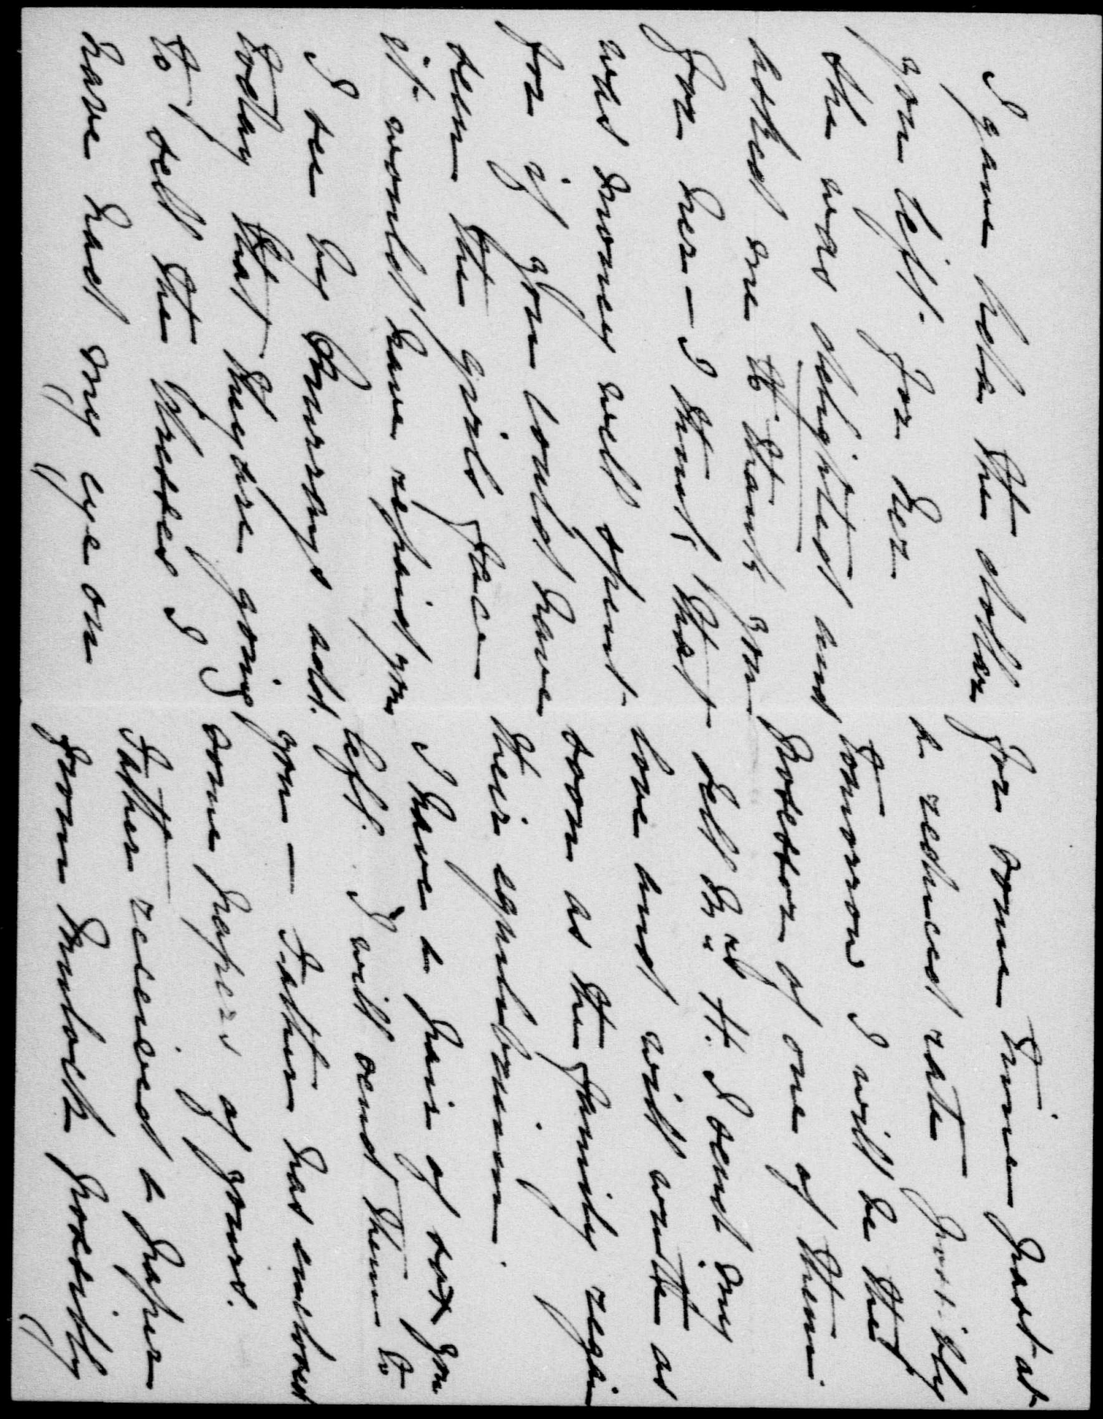

Your own dear

Bunnie

English men of letters series. -
There books are really instructive, & [illegible] entirely without pretension any one who aspires to public life or service. I am glad to [illegible] with Morley - a scholarly British Liberal, who writes pure English, & who is still living. He was a great friend of Gladstone & is employed on his Life & Services. Burke is splendid, his essay e.g. for the Sublime & Beautiful. I really think Jim should do more of that sort of reading than he does - consistent of course with his time & your other employments.

Hope you will let me review your annual report & what you have written of Jim

My dear Willie:

I am enclosing a renewal of the chattel mortgage. It must be renewed before the 20th inst. What I want is it in proper form, & will be complete when you sign your name when I have marked X in pencil, & after you have sworn to the affidavit annexed to the statement. The affidavit may be made before any commissioner for taking affidavits, Harry Burbidge, or any lawyer who is a Commr.
Please complete the document at once & return it to me, & I will file it in the proper Registry.

I also send the warrant of attorney as soon as you have sent me the renewal. I want to endorse on that copy the exact time of the filing of the renewal. Please attend to this to-morrow.

I am glad you liked your stay at home. I thought it was a very dull holiday for you, but I could not myself do much to enliven your visit. I was disappointed — and am still — at this summer holiday season. I had pictured all of us together for about a month, which would have been a most pleasure — it would have been so much brighter & happier for you & all of us; but that was not to be on account of the individual ar-rangements not concurring. Your mother was dis-appointed also. But there is no use of repining now; the summer is passing rapidly & the autumn & fall will be upon us before we know where we are.

I have been working away, although my typewriter only returned to-day. I have raised my exposition into about an hours fixed reading each day — hard reading as I think will benefit & interest you also. A certain amount of matter around is all right, but for solid, substantial robust reading let me recommend you to John Morley's Walpole, in the Twelve English Statesmen Series, Rosebery's Pitt in the same series & the 1st Vol. of Edmund Burke's works, also Morley's Burke in the

be an excellent companion for you down there, & it would do you both good, & might open up a way for him in his profession.

But I must close with kindest personal.

Ever loving father.

If I do that, & I can do it easily, although not as easily, I cannot, if the MSS. is typewritten.

Your friends and Canning shout at the Colonial or Canada Club dinner, reported in "Yesterday's Globe". He comes out straight in a justification of the rebellion of '37. That pleases me immensely. Let me also ask you to read the concise description of Jno Sandfield Macdonald's life & services, & the independent honest praise of both, in "the Seat in British North America" by W. J.

Rather say I am interfering it in Vol. II.

Then another disappointment. The girls & I were asked to Kingsdown. That with a distinct loss to both of them; but it can't be helped.

Mac went to Guelph on Saturday, & only yesterday returned to-morrow. Jessie Watson or one of the girls was invited to Midland to visit Mrs. John Rowe, formerly of Berlin: but neither can go. Mrs. Arnoldy called with Muriel the other day. They are both greatly pleased with our house. Jean Watson has decided to talk in the Limerick farm this autumn. Had given up the idea, but she suddenly proposed it, & so it will be. Sir William sent me a copy of the London Spectator with his article, & other pamphlets on it, & then wrote thanking him. These are the only items of our life here that I can think of. The others have told, or will tell, you all the news.

Is there any prospect for a place for Mac in the Ottawa hospital? He would

To all at Home.

Please do not wonder at my long neglect in writing. I have simply been attempting to do too much, and have not had time. The fatigue of writing has compelled me to allow the letters I owe to stand over for a few days but I will try and write tomorrow or Wednesday. It has not all been work, but a little social recreation which

Dear Father/-

I mailed you last night in a registered letter the document conserning which you wired me this morning, I did not comply to the letter as I contemplated that after having sent it you have probably received the letter by subsequent mail, and would understand therefor why I did not go to any additional expense in telegraphing. Please thank Bella for the letter which I received from her this morning. Tell her that I did not think of opening the parcel which was sent from home, but on doing so this morning I found the studs O.K.

Tomorrow is a holiday in the service, and I expect to spend it at Kingsmere,with coats, who is spending part of his vacation there. I hope that you and mother will have a pleasant visit on Sunday.

Love to all, I remain,

Affectionately yours,

My dear Max/-

I enclose herewith a statement of my indebtedness to you. I think you will find it correct in every particular. I can turn over part or the whole amount to you any time after the 15th of the present month;before if necessary.

I have made inquiry about the hospitals here but find,as we had feared,that all of the positions of resident physiatans are full.

I would advise you not to accept too hastily the offer of the Ontario Government to look after smallpox patients. I think the establishment of a professional connection with some good doctor in Toronto,if that is possible,would be by far the most desirable thing to do. I will be glad if you will let me know with what success you are meeting in this regard.

Dear Willie:

Our letters are slightly irregular just now but as our movements are the same it cannot be helped.

Mother had a very nice little letter from Mrs Heriidge this morning. She has evidently had a busy summer. Isn't Emma Harper going down to visit her? Frank said he would probably be here tomorrow when he comes down with "Eri" who is on her way to Kingsmere. We surmised from that she was going to Mrs Heriidge's. We expect Frank to spend a few days with us but have not heard from him since I wrote. Helen too is coming for a few days on her way from the Soo and as Isabel is away Mother and I will have to do the honors.

Mac is writing to you so I suppose he will tell you about his offer from Huntsville we think it a very good chance for him but I am rather sad about the hunter camps as I was going with him if he went and had built castles which have had to

My Dear Willie:

Jour mother, who is writing by me at my side, is probably telling you of the handsome present which is in store for me — a portrait of myself by Forster of the same size as that of Jour mother. It is a gift from himself in acknowledgment of what little service I have rendered him. I was delighted when he told me this afternoon in his studio where I had called at his request. He told me that he felt very grateful to me for all my kindness to him — my counsel included also, & that he wished me to sit for my portrait just as soon as I pleased. I told him that he had been very welcome for any little things I had done for him. He said he knew that, & appreciated it very much. I thanked him cordially; I indeed felt all I said, heaven I think it is a great kindness. I am sure it will be a picture worth having, and that it will go down in the family as an heirloom when I am far away.

I had an interesting talk with him

y about his visit to England. He was away three months, he was commissioned by the Queen's own Regiment to paint Lord Roberts for the Regiment. He had no end of trouble in securing sittings from his Lordship on account of the red tape which surrounds all royal personages in England. "Bob's" secretary, Col. Streatfield, was constantly putting him off until finally the Reg. - probably Sir William Dr., who sent a letter from himself to Lord R. enclosing one from R. expressing sittings. R's reply came from the funeral himself appointing a Friday at his (R's) own house. Doctor went there & had over an hour's sitting she had further sittings on the Saturday Thursday — after days began he sailed for home. J. likes Lord Roberts very much, but he didn't like Lady R. one bit — He says she is one of the plainest looking ladies he ever saw, & her manners are not much better than her looks.

He painted Sir Gilbert Parker on his (R's) own order, & is now employed on a portrait of Seniore, the first governor of Upper Canada.

While in London he called at the Studio of Geo. Frederick Watt, R. A., an English artist of world-wide reputation, who has recently had the new Order of Merit conferred on him by the King. He (J.) had with him the photo. of your mother's portrait & Watt was charmed with it. He told J. (who is a modest man & does not say much about himself)

King, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie (MG 26 J 7 vol.3) Family Letters September 1902

3/ that the portrait was very artistic, and that it possessed the fine quality of penetrating the character of the subject in the picture itself. F. told H. that he had learned that quality from a study of Ward's own paintings, & that he had on one occasion made a pilgrimage to New York for the very purpose of studying Ward's collection of portraits which were then on exhibition.

It was Sir William H. who first told F. of the account in the Globe of the presentation of the portrait to the University. Sir Wm. was evidently very much pleased. F. met him when they were both coming away from the review of the colonial troops.

I was introduced to Lord Dundonald the other day at the Normal School & shook hands with him. I was finally rolled with him both there & at the exhibition on the opening day & heard him speak at both places. He has made a most favorable impression in Toronto & has struck every one as being the right man in the right place.

We got your ticket & your mother & I took in the whole show. We enjoyed it exceedingly. The spectacular piece "The Orient" was very beautiful & I never saw as fine a display of fireworks in Toronto before. What a very happy day together. But I must close with love from us all.

Ever your loving Father.

My Dear Willie:

I rushed through that matter which you sent me & got it off by this morning's train to Ottawa, but I had not time to enclose a letter. I was obliged to put aside a pressing matter of business of my own in order to push the mine through; but I knew you would be anxious to have it in the morning. There are two or three sentences that are not intelligible to me, & I do marks them. I hope you will send me a printed proof when it is ready, so that I may have a final reading of the report, because I was really too pressed for time to do it justice. The open typewriting was much easier to go on than that which was closely printed, but I had to use the pencil, instead of the pen, on account of the oily surface of the machine writing. I assume, however, that what I have sent will not go to the printer, but will be used merely as a guide for your own corrections. I think the report as a whole will be very readable, & will be an

My Dear Willie:

In many thanks for your very kind and affectionate letter and its enclosure received this am. It was a great pleasure to me, because I knew every word of your kind wishes came from the heart of one whom I love dearly, and who I know loves me truly in return. Such demonstrations of affection from those so near to one are very deeply cherished; they cheer and encourage and help one along the rugged and steep way of life, and make one hope and trust, as I do most fervently, that I may really see "many returns of the day"; & that there may be many returns of the same day in the lives of each of you. I pray every day & any own life that we all may be long spared to each other. & that the happy remembrances, reciprocated in every one core, may be multiplied to each and all as the years roll on.

I have had a terrible day of it, received some pretty little remembrances from the home folks there, a kind little note — which I will answer later — from Mrs. Cartwright, a card from Isabel Watt &c. &c. & letters my birthday was a good one of course all round.

I returned the proofs, but have not read the forms and schedules. I would recommend you to do over

My Dear Willie:

I receive the enclosed letter from the Rev. A. J. Jarvis, Anglican rector of Streetsville, at noon to-day. He is a son of the late Prof. Jarvis, architect of whose life I contributed to the Encyclopedia. I have replied this evening suggesting an arrangement with a publisher for the publication of my memoir of Dr. Lunn, Prof. Croft & Prof. Jarvis in a volume, after I have got my other work off my hands. Meanwhile I might collect & put in order some additional materials for the Sketches. I have an idea that a neat little volume might be produced in that way, including not much more than a reprint of the former Sketches which might be embellished with some University photographs etc. & perhaps just open letters in my way. What do you think of it? I am beginning to think that I am yet destined to be an author. The enclosed from Macmillan will interest you. Please return both letters. All well.

With love. Father.

My Dear Willie:

I return Mr. Forster's letter which is pleasant all round with respect to any one mentioned. At my sittings in his studio this p.m. he said he had had a very complimentary letter from you — I presume with the cheque, and towards of praise added. He has certainly been very nice to us — kind & considerate in every way. He is very greatly taken up with the painting of my portrait, and is evidently very much pleased with the way it is turning out. To-day had three sittings, & you would think he has made already. He is a rapid painter, & has me pretty well on to a finish. He was working this p.m. at the gown, coat, neck etc. — having already done the face pretty fully — & I was quite tallen with the results so far. The gown looks wonderfully natural, & the same may be said of the drapery altogether. I am quite sure that the face, head etc will be equally good, and that when finished the portrait will be an admirable one — a splendid companion for that of your mother. The pair will be a possession to be proud of. You must come & see it soon when you come up next week — or next, by the way, which we are anticipating with much pleasure. I showed Sir William Mulock the objection which you addressed the conference & charities, & you may depend that the Hamilton press will do you justice. By the way I would like to get you a letter to H.J. Gardiner, editor of the Journal, who has had such excellent notices of yourself & your work. Mac knows him. You should also see in the Board of Trade, Hon. A.T. Wood, Senator, also. He is a friend of mine, y[e] is wealthy & influential & a great admirer of your grandfather.

I am to go to Shalford again on Monday, & if there is no business, will return the same day. I would not like to miss seeing you; wished I could take tea with you at Hamilton, but I am afraid that can't be.

That frame for your mother's portrait was wonderfully cheap. The frame of my portrait in the library — only half the size of the other — cost $23.00.

I called on Sir William on Sunday at his house & had quite a talk with him, 2 hours or so, and afterwards walked over with him to Toronto where he called on Lady Kirkpatrick. We talked on politics principally; such a thing as a judicial mind was never even hinted. He could not help being under a cloud, but that is very natural to him. On the whole, however, he was as agreeable as a man of his peculiar manners could be expected to be. His stay in Paris, his meals arranged at Paris, things he is to do there etc. Paris is certainly playing a strange part as a member of a Cabinet whose policy is not protectionist — especially in the absence of his leader to, for a time at least, behead the tactics of his colleagues. If this protectionist cloak of it will divide the Liberal party; but, as I told Sir William, if the farmers were organized as the manufacturers are, they would sweep the country.

Tom has not come yet, but I suppose it will be a good time. We are always glad to see Mr. Schuch-Ham for early next week.

With love, Father.

Your cheque for $1.65 arrived all O.K. & thank you very much for it, but there was no rush & your exceeding promptness was quite unnecessary.

I suppose father sent my letter home on to you. It will give you a sort of idea as to the kind of place this is. Dear father/-

I enclose herewith a circular re "Types of Canadian Women and of Women connected with Canada and memo attached, which were sent by Mr.Morgan to me. I have written him to-day saying that I had forwarded the communication to you and stating that you would probably give him the information some time during the course of the coming week. It is altogether probable that Mr.Morgan's account will be bases almost entirely on the information which you send to him so that it would perhaps be well to prepare it carefully. I do not think that he desires a very long account.

My Dear Willie:

Professionally a postscript to my Wednesday's letter which was delayed in the sending, Mrs. Tait & her little boy being here, & I being pressed to get through with my typewriting at the Hall. I have ended the proof. It was quite a task going over it carefully, because it really needed care. I have made so few changes as possible, but some that I think were not necessary. The mark S/ means a delete of the word, or words, as the case may be. Please remember that the particular in telling the printer about it; otherwise the mark will be misunderstood, & may lead to fresh errors. I think the report is very creditable & readable also. Its disclosure of the official methods & machinery of the Department is specially interesting. I am glad you did not need the proof till Monday am. because I was perfectly sick with a bad cold most of this week. I am in arrears to-night & shall probably [illegible]

Forster has finished the portrait. Had my first sitting this pm. Your mother & Bella being present a great part of the time. They are delighted with the picture. He first a week since I had my first sitting, & I have sat every working day since except Tuesday. Forster intends evidently to furnish the frame also. He spoke of that to-day, but when he comes to dinner to-morrow (Sunday) — he will be at church with us — I intend telling him that he has done enough in painting the portrait, and must let me pay for the frame.

If you have no, in Toronto. Perhaps we want the doctor himself, not a young assistant. If there be with others in person in many cases, I will be put on his mettle. It will make him work and think and give him the problem - the training & experience - necessary for a physician in actual practice. He sent us four beautiful trout the other day - charges paid. ah!

Thanks and from Mr. Farmer. He thinks my idea a good one, but we have yet to see whether it is possible. If the three Sketches are published together, the constituency of each will be enlarged, & one Sketch will help to sell the other. I shall walk in from Mount Royal. Hope you will stay a few days when you come up. Try & arrange that, as it will give us great pleasure.

With love

Y the f of grounds &c. & having a very pleasant time. Mr. Wilkinson has been very kind to her. Mrs. W. is still at her mothers.

We would perhaps notice that the Mail & Empire fave for the last nothing of all in connection with the Wednesday evg. meeting at Hamilton. The report for which idea of your kind discussion, and work very well. Prof. H. was dismissed with only a few lines.

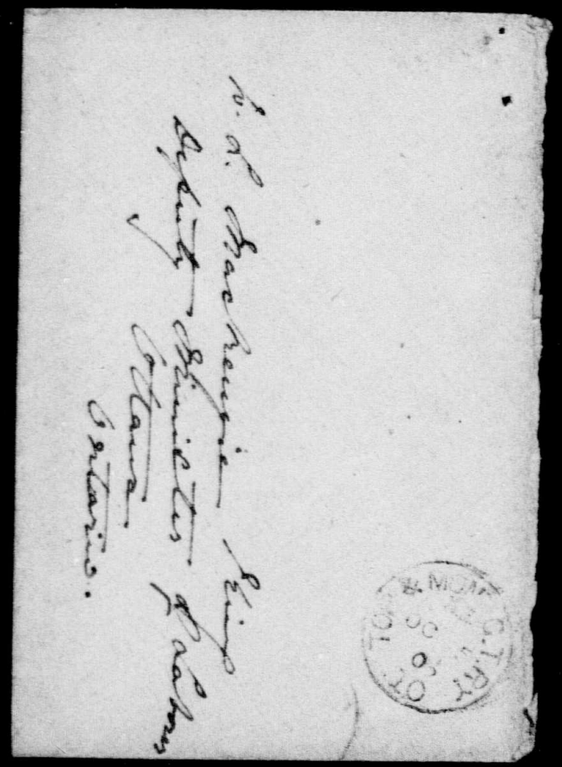

I have really no more to write about. Send along the balance of your report when it is ready. We are all well otherwise, but much perplexed about our supply of coal. It will be a very serious item this winter. The Ewan Society has no staff, & as a consequence we shall have to abandon the lecture rooms & talk to Executive Hall which is heated by the furnace. Our lectures will begin then at 9, 10 & 11 a.m. respectively, because it is the only other place available. This is only another illustration of the labour problem. With much love from us all,

Merlin, Oct. 6/02.

Dear Everybody,-

Thanks very much for all your letters. They have been a very great pleasure to me & I am constantly looking for them.

I am very sorry however to hear that everybody is going to [illegible] not three weeks after I left home. It looks as though you are having a private hospital at 24 Wellington Place after all.

This evidently seems a pretty sick time for a great many people. I have been up all night for three nights during the last week looking after poor unfortunates about the county.

A young chap by the name of Broadbent came in the other night with his arm badly burnt up to the shoulder with gasoline. He suffered a great deal from shock & I was afraid several times during the night that his heart was going to play out. However he got along all right but last night we were called out to see him again & now has a touch of peritonitis.

The day before a young girl came in with a piece of needle on wich a agnater clung in her hand. It had been there for six weeks a few days before the doctor had cut down but was unsuccessful in finding it. However I cut down again & had the good fortune to get it all O.K. She had just gone when a man came in with a poisoned arm & I had the pleasure of giving him a jab.

I have three or four patients of my own who will not go to Dr. Bell & have left Dr. Oliver to come to me. Dr. Bell says I am the first assistant he ever had who took patients away from him.

I have enclosed two testimonials which Dwight Talbot would have six copies made of immediately & send them to me at the earliest possible date.

Last Thursday night we had a very good concert here. The exhibition was to have taken place on Wednesday & Thursday but owing to the rain it is postponed until the 15th & 16th. Le Roy Kennie of Toronto was the special feature of the evening & was really the best comedian I have ever heard. He was supported by Miss Webster, Miss Stevenson & Miss Brashaw of Chatham. The girls stayed here all night & we had a very good time. Miss Webster is to be back to sing at the next on the 16th.

Dr. Bell & I are going to the Chatham exhibition on Wednesday & to Judge Bell's for dinner. The doctor was in to Chatham yesterday & the Judge sent me a special invitation.

I hope the next letter from home will tell me that you are all quite well.

How did Father get on with the Stratford arrears. I wish he could get the Chatham arrears; there are going to be several good cases.

Love to all,

Yr ar.

P.S. - I enclose a letter from the photo advertising light. I wrote there re the testimonials & photograph sent in answer to an ~~application~~ advertisement of some doctor answered in the last week of August. The photo has not been returned & I wish Father to write a legal letter as I want both testimonials & photo back.

My Dear Willie:

Enclosed a letter just received from Mac enclosing two testimonials of which he wants 6 copies made immediately. Thanks no means here for making copies at present, and perhaps you will kindly do that for him & send them the copies c/o Dr. J.C. Bell, Merlin, Ont. In the meantime the prospects favourably. His manner is good, whatever his physic may be, & he will make his way all right. Judge Bell of whom he speaks, knows me very well, & will be very kindly to Mac. The Judge is a very nice man, & I am glad Mac is going there.

Mama & Aunt Scratch Bell who has had a very sick time of it. She is somewhat better to-day and up and about. Why have you not written home? Mama wondered very much at not hearing from you.

With love from us all,

Father.

My Dear Willie:

When do you think you will be in Toronto? Will you be able to come up for Thanksgiving, which will be next Thursday? Jourdain was asking me to-day. Your next sitting with him is very important, as he wants to put the finishing touches, as far as possible, on your portrait. I saw to-day his portrait of Lord Roberts in Khaki uniform, just as it was from England when it was painted. It is a splendid picture, Roberts, he tells me, was very much pleased with it. He was one of Jourdain's warm admirers. I like it. At the Senate meeting to-night I got through unanimously my report accepting as the prize for the University Law Students of a complete set of the American Law Book Co's Cyclopedia of 35 volumes. That is two handsome prizes which I have secured for the Law men in addition to a complete set of the Cyclopedia for the University Library. My report also recommended the establishment of the degree of LL.B. (Master of Laws) open to LL.B's only, & providing for a post-graduate

My Dear Willie:

I have just read your Sunday afternoon's letter to myself, Father & the family. Candidly speaking I think you have made far too much of W.H.'s attitude. I am inclined to think he was rather more independent in manner than was in the slightest necessary. He is tired with a more settled than ever — for a restless head he certainly has. He was very much pleased with you & if he had not been Scotch brother I should have thought of flattering myself about him. In offering him any particular attention here. I don't think he amounts to anything, & I should think

Dear Father:

I return herewith that letter re Hay. which you sent me by mistake. I was glad to learn from it, that Ben is to get a position on a hospital staff and I hope it may prove beneficial to him. Perhaps next year he may get into the Toronto General.

I was glad to get your little letter of this morning short as it was. I agree with what you say as to Frank. He has a lot to learn and is in great need of reduction of the upper story. Others here are of

I do not think I will be able to get up to the Kappa Alpha At Home on account of the invitations of the night before. I hope, however, that you will all go. It will be a pleasant affair and for many reasons I would like the girls, also you and mother to be on hand.

I imagine Carter will get the G.B. He certainly has gone a little far. The Liberals will lose nothing by being consistent and true to their policy.

With best love to all.

the same opinion. I think of all men, the man with a smelled head is the hardest to abide, and it is not infrequently found in inverse ratio to true ability.

I don't know whether I told you that I was having my head treated. I have been going to a Mrs. Lewis, who has been applying mixtures of some sort of another and giving massage treatment for baldness. I have had 7 rounds already, and she says that new hair is coming in. I think that some good will come of it. There are 13 rounds altogether for $5. Laschinger is having his head marked on as well.

I was glad to get Mother's letter note, this morning to hear that Ada had suffered the injury she has. I hope her eye will soon be quite well again.

Mrs. Murdoch came back yesterday. He is looking very well. I had quite a long and pleasant talk with him, during which he asked me about my savings. He told me that when I had a little money put aside, if I cared to leave it, he would give me the benefit of his experience in the matter of making investments, and would let me know the best chances. This is more than he has ever said either Mr. Coulter or Laschinger, and shows, I think, his interest and purpose to be a sincere one.

Dear People,-

I have just received from Toilet copies of testimonials the same as those modified ones I got last time. When I wrote I asked you to get the copies of all my South African testimonials lying together either loose or in an envelope on my study tables. I mean them all - the one from Peters, Bryer, Black, McPhedran, Coright & the whole caboose of them. I want three copies of the lot in the form, date & all, in which they were presented to me. When I was away before you remember I sent two, one from Black & Hodgetts, somewhat changed, date etc.; - those two are to be sent along last copies as I have scattered them, viz: in their original form. Please then send all the testimonials as you will find them there to Will & get him to copy them all three times as they were presented with the original dates etc. which I have again made as they were before. I thought I had explained this in my other letter but evidently my powers of explanation do not come up to the degree required by your framers of understanding. I am very anxious to get those copies immediately as upon their forwarding may depend my future success.

It seems funny that nobody but Mother can find the time to write a line. I hope you are not all terribly ill or that you are not beginning to work harder than ever before.

I must thank Mother very much for her letter. It being the only line from home since I arrived here made it exceptionally welcome.

My Dear Willie:

I must write you a few lines; if it is only to tell you about Sir Williams hunting. I must say was very much disappointed with the poor attendance, but very much pleased with the address. I was heard the speaker do so well. Lucidity, tone & delivery he has improved very much, and he created a most favorable impression. Coming away from the meeting I heard praise on all sides of his address. He was very complimentary & generously in connection with the strike settlement — spoke of you repeatedly as the able Deputy Minister, described your work and its winning public support, the appreciation of both employers and employees alike, & the warm thanks which he so well deserved of the people of Halifax etc etc. At one point he spoke of the able Deputy Minister, "whose father honours us with his presence here to-night". All these references to you & the new Dept. were loudly cheered, & some one called out "well done". When I got home I wrote a note of congratulation to Sir William directed to Jarvis St, but as yet I have not had the honour of a reply. I did not stamp the letter, & I am wondering whether he received it.

You mother had a very nice letter from Lucy. Martin of the Pariag, Wrinderman, to-day. She is putting up her new beautiful home in splendid style. We have a most cordial invitation to visit the Pariag whenever we go to England. By the way I have an offer from the Henry Clark Law Book Publishing Coy to write the article for their Encyclopedia on Defamation. They want 160 pages of English, American & Canadian cases & will pay me $600 and give me a copy of their Encyclopedia in addition. If I finish it in two years that will do. I am not pretty tolerably with the other knowing as I do what the labour

N.B. Jessie has been having a great time at the Williams. Mr. W. has been exceedingly kind to her — went with her personally — without Hegel & Mascarpi, & has in every way shown his appreciation of her. Both by this & previous & our family have been coming out in the home interests of them. He thinks all the members of the family clever, and has said to & Hegel time & again. He has quite an admiration for you & your ability, & he has been saying some very complimentary things about me also, so I am told. Hegel told me on Sunday night that her uncle had said I wrote beautiful English. He told Jessie that I had a very keen understanding of the force & value of words & the shades of their meaning, & that many an article proving that had gone into the Globe unknown to the public at large. He was evidently very much pleased with anything I have found him for the paper, & I am glad of that. As I can truly say — as I told Hegel — I am not conscious of any particular excellence in that kind. I am not a facile writer; I can do all right if I get time, but I can't write hastily myself unless with an effort more or less extended. I must correct, re-correct, change & amend, polish & repolish, & that requires time & constant thought. W.L.K.

My Dearest Willie:

How just written mac to wish him a happy birthday to-morrow, & I will send you a line just to tell you that I have a nice letter from Sir Wm. this am. in acknowledgment of my little note & congratulations on his address the other night. What pleases me most in it is this about yourself: "I value more & be proud of Willie, as one of the brightest men in the service, level-headed, truthful, frank and true". How mentioned this to mac also. Sir Wm. certainly appreciates your worth, & it is a great thing for you to feel this, & to know that you have his respect confidence & regard.

I will write more anon. I hope you will enjoy your State dinner to-night. Jean mother & I called at Williams yesterday (Sunday) am. instead of going to church. It was Williams birthday, & we called to express our congratulations. We did not see him — he was sleeping — but we left our message. Jennie is still there.

My dear Will,—

This is the first opportunity I have had of writing to thank you for that beautiful present which arrived yesterday & for the telegram & letter. It is really too much trill to give such a beautiful thing for a present to me.

This last birthday is the first I have ever spent away from home & it made it all the more pleasant to receive all the thoughtful messages.

I find it a pretty busy time here but £10 a month seems awfully small pay for the work I do. I take in myself an average of £10 per day for the doctor & do for him a great deal of rough driving etc besides my work in the hospital. There is a Dr. Sheahan of St. Catharines who was in the same year in medicine as you were in Arts & who says he knew you, wants me to take his practice in St. Catharines for six months. If he offers me a fair salary I shall feel very inclined to take it.

This morning a letter came from the Old Country with an offer from Drs. Pindell & Johnson of Romer Broughton, Manchester of £200 per annum with rooms, coal & gas but I am not registered in England I cannot accept;

18th November,1903.

My dear Max/-

I was very pleased to receive your letter this morning and to know by it that you are pleased with the little gift I sent you on your birthday. I hope that the brushes may long continue to be of some practical use to you.

I am glad to know that you are busy as after all practice is more important at the present time than remuneration,still I think,as you say,the amount you are getting is none too much.

I am sorry that I do not know Dr.Sheahan of St.Catharines, whom you refer to in your letter. In the event of taking the practice from another man you want to get a pretty sure guarantee that he can and will pay the amount which he undertakes.I would insist too on receiving payment by monthly cheque. Not knowing anything of Dr.Sheahan I am unable to advise you one way or the other in the matter of his offer should the same be made to you.

I am leaving to-day on a somewhat extended tour going direct to Washington,D.C.,stopping over at Burlington and Albany on the way. I will be in Washington for a day or two and then going to New York and Boston each for a week.

After returning from Boston I am then going to Chicago, Rochester and Buffalo. I expect to be pretty most of the timebut having the evenings free and knowing people in all of these cities I may have a good deal of pleasure. Giddens,who I think you have met,is going with me.

I have taken out two life insurance policies,one a 20 year endowment for $5,000.00; a life policy for $2,500,both in the Canada Life Insurance . These with the $2,000 accident insurance should be a protection in the event of anything happening to me while at the same time I regard it as a good investment to make if all goes well.

I have not time to write you more as I expect to leave by the afternoon train. If you have time I would be glad to hear from you either at the Manhatten New York next week,or at the Touraine Hotel,Boston,the week after.

I am sending you under separate cover a copy of the testimonials which you wished me to have made for you.

With best love,

I remain, Your affectionate brother.

My Dear Willie:

I received your letter enclosing the cheque for $30.00 to-day, and am very much obliged to you. December is a hard month for me as there my Secretaries certificate to take when my annual certification for which I receive the Law reports. That costs $17.00, and it may be that I will not have enough to pay the note for interest, even with what you have given me. My Law society cheque is for $125.00. Out of that I must pay assessment $35.00, interest $48.00, life ins in R.A. + St. Law. $.00. certificate $17.00, total $108.00. With what you have given me that leaves me $17.00 to live on. You have no idea, not being at home, how this pennury worries and distresses me — myself particularly, because I am the bread winner.

I am writing to the Law Book Coy. + asking a cash payment of $1000. instead of $800 for a copy of their Cyclopedia ($916.00), which will be no use to me, as there the books here. I will make some kind of a contract with them, but I don't want to get all I can; $5.00 a page is too little, + I may as well try to get more. It will be hard and difficult work, + I am dealing with sharp customers. And, moreover, there are good deal for the Coy. in getting their Cyclopedia first on the Henry. curriculum. Hat makes them to fish all their copies of the works into Canada free of duty.

I am very glad you trip promises to work, & I am sure it will be a pleasant one. Hope you will enjoy it thoroughly. We will want you.

You would notice that J. J. Maclaren K.C. was appd to the Ct. of Appeal, & hopes made Chief Justice. The profession here do not think much of these appointments. He should have been C.J. & putting grass on his head is regarded as most unfair to an old, able experienced Judge. Maclaren has little reputation, & his appt. is a decided surprise — due, it is said, to the Methodist temperance influence. Maclaren has had everything to do with these affairs, & they will have wished to help him politically. The government also. I am beginning to despair of his giving me a life, & your mother tells me that you thought he would not help me. If he does not he is an ungrateful & treacherous friend. That is all I can say about it.

I am glad you have resigned your seat. It was a wise & prudent move, & is a good investment. The Canada Life is, however, a great close company.

I am sending some old letters, but they are a stubborn thing, & show still a good deal of pain & much trouble in moving about. But it will go in time. Meanwhile it unfits for work, & although I am lecturing each day this week, I complete very nervous and shaky on my pins.

We are all otherwise, & send much love & deepest wishes for a happy & prosperous trip.

Your loving Father

EDITORIAL NOTES.

To the legal profession the judicial changes just announced have caused surprise, and the feeling is not confined to one side of politics. While the elevation of Chief Justice Armour to the Supreme Court is regarded as a judicious move, that gentleman being one of the ablest occupants of the bench, the other appointments are not looked upon as quite so fortunate. Mr. Maclaren is known to be an excellent lawyer, but his selection for the Court of Appeal was not anticipated. Much less was it expected that one of the recent appointees to that court, able though he is, would be promoted to the Chief Justiceship over the head of the senior judge, who has served for twenty-three years with unusual ability and acceptance. The duty of manning the courts is not performed with the care and impartiality which were characteristic of former times.

Most unfortunate is the elevation of Mr. J. J. Maclaren, K.C., to the bench at the moment when his services and his vote are needed in the cause of prohibition. But, of course, it is too much to expect that any gentleman will devote his entire life to referenda and plebiscites.

Dear Bella,

We are so glad to get your letter and to know that you have safely crossed the ocean & that you are enjoying your visit. We are looking forward to your coming to us in Dec. & hope you will be able to stay with us for some time. We are very busy preparing for Christmas & have a number of things to make & buy. Grandpa is very well & sends his love. He is very much interested in the Coronation & has been reading about it in the papers. We have been very busy with the Exhibition & Grandpa has been very much occupied with it. He has had a number of meetings to attend & has been very tired in consequence. We are very much pleased with the Exhibition & think it will be a success. We have had a number of visitors from Toronto & other places. Grandpa has been very busy with his correspondence & has had a number of letters to write. We are very glad to hear that you have had such a good time & that you are enjoying yourself so much

Visit to Washington

Dict.C.

------- Washington,D.C.Nov.22,1902.

To all at home:

I was sorry before leaving that my time was so taken up that I had not opportunity of sending you more than a line. On Friday,when it was decided to leave,until Tuesday afternoon,when Mr. Giddens and I left at 4.20,we were kept pretty busy preparing to get away.

I spent Tuesday night at Burlington with Seamen,who met me at the station at IO P.M.,and we had a little supper before retiring. In the morning I gave a lecture to his classes in political economy on the effects of the recent coal strike on conditions in Canada. I suppose there were between fifty and sixty students present. They were extremely attentive and appreciative,and I enjoyed thoroughly the re-taste of academic life After the lecture Seamen drove me about the city,and we left at noon for Albany. Seamen,by the way,has an exceedingly fine house and establishment generally. In fact,I know few places,if any,in Canada that will compare with it. He has two exceptionally fine horses. His wife,unhappily,was ill with a severe cold,so I had not the pleasure of seeing her again.

Burlington is an exceedingly pretty city,and the University buildings and surroundings,though not on so large a scale,quite as fine in some respects as Harvard. The water and mountains about the city make it an exceptionally delightful place in which to live.

We arrived at Albany about five o'clock on Wednesday afternoon,and put up at the Ten Eyck Hotel. Before dinner we did some work on an article for this month's Labour Gazette,and after dinner retired comparatively early. On the following morning we visited the Department of Labour of New York,seeing over the capital building at the same time. The New York department seems to be well equipped,and of course is larger than ours,but I was gratified to find that our methods of working were,with the means at our disposal. quite as good as theirs,and as up to date.

We came on to New York by the afternoon train,taking the trip over the N.Y.Central Railway,which runs by the side of the Hudson River the entire way. It was after five when we reached New York, so we put in an hour or two walking about the streets and then went to Delmonico's restaurant for dinner. At night we were driven across the city to the South Ferry station and took the boat for Jersey City,getting on train there for Washington.

We arrived in this city at daylight this morning,and came to the Normandie Hotel,where we are now staying. The Shoreham which is across the way,is undergoing repairs,and is closed for the present time. Our mail which is addressed there is,however,forwarded to this hotel

Washington is indeed a very beautiful city. We have been most fortunate in fine weather most of the way. To-night we are both sitting with our coats off and the windows up,and find it then somewhat too warm. Most of to-day has been spent at the Department of Labour. The staff is very much larger than ours,and the appropriation at the disposal of the Department between three and four times as great. So far as the Labour Gazette is concerned,I think we are ahead of the publication of the Washington Department,which is the Bulletin of Labour,and this the Chief Clerk virtually admitted to-day. The Department here has many features which I have often wished we could have at Ottawa,one in particular being a good library with suitable librarians. There appears also to be quite a number of men who are capable of revising and completing statistical work on their own account. These,also,we are much in need of. On the other hand,I do not think that either in the forms or methods adopted in obtaining,compiling or publishing information we have anything considerable to learn.

Another very important feature,and one in which we are without question in advance of either the Federal Bureau here,or,so far as I know,any of the State bureaus,is in the work of our Fair Wages branch,and in the Conciliation and Arbitration work. Both these phases of our work are thoroughly practical,and affect at first hand large numbers of people. There is nothing of the kind in connection with the Washington department

Apart from the advantage of seeing the workings of the Department here,and the pleasure of seeing Washington itself,I think I have been able to secure some information which will be helpful in the matter of the particular investigation for the Canadian Government on which we are at present engaged.

After leaving the Department of Labour we went to the top of the Washington tower. We also took a walk over some of the main parts of the city,and during the course of the day had a stroll as far as the Capitol. Our hotel is in the very best part of the town. a little more than a stone's throw from the White House. The whole city has a quiet,steady-going and at the same time fine appearance. In its plan and the style of many of its buildings,it is not unlike Paris,though there is white brick or stone in the latter city,while this city is largely built in red brick.

The State of Virginia lies just to the South of us,and can be seen across the Potomac River. We will not have time to visit it, but I expect to put in Sunday somewhere in the State of Maryland, which is also an adjoining State.

King, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie (MG 26 J 7 vol.3) Family Letters November 1902

Peter Gerry has written me here,inviting me to stay with him while I am in New York,and I will probably accept his invitation for a day or two during the latter part of the week,if I find that we get through the work satisfactorily. We have a big,and rather difficult task in hand,and a sight of New York,even in passing through does not help to lend it any colour of easiness. I have no doubt,however,that by this time next week we will have pretty well mastered the main features of the situation.

From New York we will leave for Boston,either on Saturday or Sunday night,and will likely put in a week in that city,returning to Ottawa for a few days before going west. I will then likely go directly to Toronto before going either to Chicago or any of the other American cities. Taking the trip thus far,it has been exceptionally pleasant,as well as profitable in many ways. This stay in Washington is certainly delightful in every way.

I hope that father received all right the letter I sent on the day of leaving. I had,on the same day, a pleasant letter from Max. I mailed him,also,the copies of the testimonials which he wished. I hope all at home are very well. As yet,no letters from Canada have reached us,but probably to-morrow's mail will bring in some.

With best love to all,

I am,

Very affectionately yours,

& it is a spring chicken. He would be paid nothing, but would get laundry, board & lodging. O'Reilly says there is a spring opening among a very nice class of people for a surgeon, & that Mac would have a splendid chance, if he took this, of establishing a practice there when he got through. He says that going to Brantford at present will be better than getting into the General Hospital here, & he told me to tell Mac that, if he applied, he was to say that he & Dr. O'Reilly recommended him. O'R. says that he believes the Board will take whatever he recommends. So I am writing Mac urging him to do so. He looks wonderfully well, has had some excellent sobering at Woodstock. He had some of his friends in on Sunday night, & we had a very enjoyable evening.

Maggie Crawford, who was visiting Kindly for tea, was here to-day calling. She & Tom are going to live in Edmonton N.W.T. Tom is manager of the Commercial there. She was in town on her way there.

My Dear Willie:

Your welcome letter from Washington, D.C., amid this fun. turmoil was delightful to hear from you. I am sending you just a little letter as I am to catch the night mail for Huntsville with a letter for Mac who came down on Friday, had a dinner in his honour at his Psi Sigma Psi Chapter House on Saturday evg. & left us on Sunday night. I had a talk to-day with Dr. O'Reilly about him — I mean O'R. of the General Hospital. The Dr. said he would do anything in his power for Mac & told me of an opening for him at the General Hospital in Brantford, where he would have no charge and responsibility. There are 6 or 8 beds

Visit to New York

------- Manhattan Hotel,
New York,Nov.27,1902.

Dear Father:

I received this morning your kind letter written on Tuesday night,but did not receive until yesterday your letter and mother's,which were sent to me at Washington. By some mistake,our mail was not delivered there,and we did not get any letters until after they were forwarded here.

Our trip continues to be an exceedingly pleasant and profitable one. On Saturday,in addition to doing a little work at the Department of Labour,we saw a good deal of the capital,visiting the Capitol,Congressional Library and other places of interest in the city. I spent Sunday in the State of Maryland,part of the time at Annapolis,the capital,and part of the day at Baltimore. We arrived in Jersey City shortly after midnight Sunday,taking the boat across the Hudson,and getting to our hotel about I.30.

All of Monday and Tuesday we spent in interviewing persons who were informed as to social conditions in the city,endeavoring to get from them the best sources for the investigations which we have in hand. This has brought me into touch with a great many persons whom I have known well by reputation for some time,but have never had an opportunity of meeting. Most pleasant of all,perhaps,have been the men who are associated with The Outlook and the Century Magazine. Yesterday Mr.Tolman,who is Secretary of the League for Social Service,gave a luncheon party for me,at which were present Dr.Josiah Strong,Mr.Wm.Howland,Manager of the Outlook,Mr.Gilder of the Century,and Mr.Oger,partner of Wanamaker,who has the very large departmental stores in Philadelphia and this city. Luncheon was given in the art gallery on the top floor of Wanamaker's large establishment,and was quite unique. To-morrow I am going to lunch with Mr.Reynolds,who is the Mayor's secretary,and a man who has,perhaps,done more in connection with the settlement movement in America than any other person here. He is very much of the Arnold Toynbee type,and an exceedingly fine fellow. Dr.Lyman Abbott has invited me to lunch with him on Saturday,and has asked to meet me,Mr.Sparr,the economic writer on the Outlook,and Hamilton Wright Mabie,for whose writings and essays,as you know,I have the highest admiration. I met this gentleman yesterday,and enjoyed exceedingly the talks I had with all of them.

Peter and Bob Gerry have been extremely kind to me here. They wanted me to come at once to their house to stay,but I thought it better to wait until I saw how we were going to get on with our work. They have put me up at the Metropolitan Club and at the Knickerbocker Club. The former,by the way,is the millionaire's club,of which J.P.Morgan,Chauncey Depew and others of the same sort,are the leading members. Bob and Peter and I dined there together on Monday night. Last night Peter invited Dr.James and one or two others to dine with us at Sherry's which is,perhaps,the finest restaurant in the city. We went to the theatre during the afternoon,and had a little supper at one of the cafes later. Peter also took me for a little trip around the city in an automobile. I expect to take my trunk up to the Gerrys this afternoon,and we will dine at the house then. Mrs.Gerry has said that any time I want her box at the Grand Opera I am welcome to it. Dr.James has arranged some party for Saturday night.

I count on leaving here on Sunday night,and will go to the Hotel Touraine in Boston,as arranged. I will be glad to hear from any of the family who have time to write while there. Tell mother that her letter was a great pleasure to me,as,of course,yours also have been. I have not time for more just now,but will write again probably when we reach Boston.

Yours affectionately,

euchre and they had a good talk. I think her very pretty.

Our reading club met here yesterday afternoon and we had two hours good reading. We have finished Stubbs famous anthem and are now reading Victor Hugo's "les Miserables". We are just getting into it and I think it will be quite interesting. It is rather hard to read aloud as there are so many French words but it will be good practice and none of us are severe critics.

My Dear Willie:

Your letter from New York came this morn. and gave us great pleasure, because we were sure you were well and happy. You have indeed been very fortunate in the friends you have met in Ny., and in the kindly hospitality extended you. I can picture Jamey's delight at meeting the Jersey boys again, and make also. The men of the Outlook and Century are leading thinkers & writers — the stamp & style of men that does one good to come in contact with, & who know how to appreciate the work & service in which you are engaged. Enjoy for the journal and intellectual satisfaction which a career with such men affords. It makes useful life is worth living.

I avoid you to-night & see the American Book Company for me. I wrote them proposing $100 instead $200 — assuming, as I did, that their copy of the Cyc was here & the compensation their affair. I told them as politely as I could that it was cash I was after, not terms; & I fear I may have given offence. It was certainly most innocent on my part; but, as I have not heard from them, I felt warned, & so thought it well to ask you to see them. You should get the message in the morning. It was sent to the Manhattan as I did not know Mr. Jamey's home address. I wish how to do the work carefully with a light winter, & that means cash on account. Such dollars & a little over for a year is not unreasonable; it is dry, hard work requiring the most minute care, & will take a great deal of time. They should not be thus dismissed over a business matter.

Have not heard from home yet about Hartford business. Have left it to himself. He must decide. Your mother is getting on her cold. & we are all well otherwise. I will try to manage this 15th dec. business matter. You did not draw on former funds. With much love & many kind wishes, Father.

------- Hotel Touraine, Boston,Dec.I,1902.

Dear Father:

We arrived at Boston a little before twelve o'clock last night,but your letter written on Friday last was received only tonight.

The telegram of which you speak was not delivered to me in New York,and I have just written a letter to the manager of the Manhattan Hotel,making complaint of their negligence in this regard. I am extremely sorry not to have got the telegram,as I would with pleasure have attended to the matter which you refer to in it. I do not think,however,that the delay on the part of the law publishing company in answering your last note,is of any particular significance. If,however,you do not hear from them by the time this letter is received,I think it would be well to send another line.

The last few days of our stay in New York were very pleasant indeed. I was exceptionally busy through the daytime,and pretty well fagged out at the close of each day,but managed nevertheless,to combine a good deal of profitable pleasure and recreation with work. In the latter connection the best event of the week was perhaps the luncheon on Saturday with members of the Outlook staff, as Dr.Lyman Abbott's guest. I was seated on Dr.Abbott's right,and between him and Mr.Mabie,Mr.Howland and Mr.Sparr of the Outlook,being the other gentlemen present. We talked for a long time,both at luncheon and afterwards,and from what Mr.Sparr said to me,I was evidently very fortunate in having so long a conversation with Dr. Abbott. I certainly never met a more interesting or entertaining group of men. The luncheon with Mr.Reynolds,Seth Low's secretary was also quite a pleasant one He is a fine man personally,and a good man to know.

Peter and Bob Gerry were very kind to me,although unfortunately Bob had made arrangements to go to the Adriondacks with Alfred Vanderbilt,and so was away a good part of the time. We dined with the family on two evenings of the week,once at Sherry's and on Saturday night at Delmonico's as Dr.James' guest. We took in one or two of the smaller theatres,but missed the opera one night because we were too long at dinner,and another night because I had too bad a cold to really go out again. The cold,by the way,is all right now,though it located in one side of my face,and I had an abscess in a bad tooth,which had to be lanced to bring along some relief. Yesterday Peter Gerry drove me out to the suburban Club, where we had lunch together,taking in,on the way,some of the prettiest drives in New York city and the suburb,Harlem. The suburban Club is on the banks of the Hudson,about two miles from Grant's tomb,and one of the finest views of the river is to be from that point.

Although we were very rushed during the whole week,I think we have succeeded in getting a large amount of valuable statistical information and certainly enough for the purposes of the present investigation. We have had a very busy day to-day, spending a good part ofthe time at the Department of Labour of Massachussetts,which,by the way,is the finest government department I have ever seen. No where,in any line,have I seen work and thorough systems arranged as there. Mr.Wadlin,the chief,moreover,has assisted us very materially in placing at our disposal a good deal of statistical information which is precisely of the sort we are after,and in giving us directions as to where we may be able to obtain the balance. We covered a good part of the ground which he outlined,to-day,and I am in hopes of completing the balance of it by Wednesday night. We will probably leave here on Friday night,so as to be in Ottawa on Saturday. It was a year ago on that day that poor old Harper was drowned,and on that account I would much prefer to spend the day quietly in Ottawa than to be in other parts. He has been in my mind very much throughout the whole of this trip,and in some ways I shall be glad to see the week safely passed. If we get through our work by Wednesday night,I will likely spend Thursday and Friday in renewing old associations and friendships and seeing poihts of interest and profit roundabout. It is a great delight to me to be back in Boston. I feel here the atmosphere which was in some respects the best I ever breathed in life; the whole association of the place is very dear to me.

I have read with considerable interest what you say in regard to Jenny taking up some work on the new paper,of which Mr. Willison is to have sole charge. I am sorry that I cannot fall in with your views on the matter. If the work were that of book reviewing,writing of stories for children,or anything of that kind,I would most heartily endorse the proposal. For the work of a society editor or reporter,however,I have only the most profound contempt, and I might add,as you perhaps already know,that I have hardly a less contempt for the sort of people,in whose interest and for whose entertainment this kind of work is undertaken. It is furthering a false ideal,and belittling to true womanliness for any girl or woman to lend her life or ability to so unnatural and worthless a task.

I think Jenny would make a mistake to leave Toronto,and a very great mistake to go to any of the American cities,especially New York. It is quite an erroneous view to think that anything is to be gained by a girl who has no friends or associates on this side,taking up work in any place like New York. I shall keep in mind her wishes and desires,and let her know of anything that I may hear of by chance. In the meantime,I hope that she will not decide definitely on any course.

I hope that you are all well,as your letter leads me to believe that you are. If you write again,count on our leaving here by Friday night and being in Ottawa on Saturday. If writing Ottawa for that day you had better address me to 33I Somerset St.,as I may get in after office hours,and a letter sent to my rooms will be sure of reaching me.

With best love to all,

I am ever,

Affectionately yours,

THE CRUMBLING OF THE ASH.

"WILL I tear off November?" A man looked up and saw his son with his hand on the calendar.

"Yes," he answered, "yank it off."

There was the sound of tearing paper, a crumbling up in the hand, the flame of a moment, and the page of November days was gone, and in its place a few black flakes fluttered about the grate.

The child went out to play, but the man sat by the fire, and thought of the month that was past. The wind whirled down the chimney and scattered the ashes about the room, and one flake flew upon his hand. He touched it, and it crumbled to powder in the touch.

"And so," he mused to himself, "are the days, so am I, so is this old earth on which I move, and so are my friends about me. To-day we are full of life, thrilled by our little pleasures, or stirred by our petty hates; to-morrow we are as the ash that crumbled upon my finger."

And, musing, the man saw the ultimate vanity of all save good, and in the crumbling of the ash he ceased to envy the rich man, for he saw that even he must go, and that his great house would crack and wreck, and the rumble of his carriage cease, and in the crumbling of the ash fashion seemed foolish and strength weakness; pity came stealing in and envy fled.

As the man mused he fancied he heard the wash of eternity's sea, and he became less harsh to the enemies who wronged him, and forgave the friends who misjudged him; hate became more hateful; love became more lovely; and charity was more beautiful than all. In the crumbling of the ash money seemed sordid. There were no titles, no social positions, for we were all one, hurrying towards the sea whose waves he heard.

The man looked again, and saw that only good was lasting, and he repented the ill that he had done during the month now gone, and grieved for the errors that stood out so clearly.

"Regrets are vain," said a voice.

Then, reproved by the words, and animated by a purpose to succeed, he buttoned on his overcoat and went out with a firmer step to meet the world.

Dear Billie:

All the family are minding a time so mine too. You have had a lovely trip but evidently from your last letter it has not been all pleasure. We were sorry to hear about your tooth. I am afraid Dr Gow has not fixed you up as well as he has me. He did my teeth beautifully I hope you are quite well again and that your little visit in Boston was all you could have wished. We shall talk you or any one else, down I don't know anything else to tell you & I have lots of fancy work to do before Christmas. I am so glad you are safely home again and that we shall see you so soon.

With best love
lovingly Jennie.

My Dear Willie:

Your mother wrote you a day or two ago, & I don't know that I can add anything of importance. We have been expecting to hear from you - assuming, as we did, that you reached Ottawa last Saturday a.m. as you expected. You have probably been very busy since. As I suppose the Yoguelli will be crowded as we always the 15th.

Sir Wm. Sir Wm's statement on the main feature of the bill, viz: "that of compulsory, or what is equivalent to compulsory, arbitration, was apparently indicative of what the

Dear father/-

Would you kindly fill out and make the enclosed declaration in regard to my age and return it to me by next mail.

I have now in my possession two policies one No.087713 a 20 year endowment policy for $5,000 on which I pay $245 annually with the privilege without extra cost of paying the premium semi-annually,the other a life policy NO.087714 for $2,500 with an annual premium of $57.50 and same privilege of payment half-yearly.

By having this certificate as to age signed at the present time & sending it in to the company I can secure an acknowledgement from them which will do away with the necessity of proving age at any future time.

When I have a little more money saved I intend to take $2,000 with the Government which I can settle on a single premmum payment. This I think is all that I will have to do for some time in the insurance.

Love to all Your affectionate son,

Dear Billee:

It is lucky you have to read instead of listen to what I say for I cannot speak a word plain.

Tomorrow will be your birthday and I hope it may be a very happy day as well as the beginning of a very happy year. My little remembrance will be late this year and I fear you may not see it till Xmas for I have not been able to do a stitch of work for nearly two weeks. However not to be able to open your teeth even half an inch.

It is too bad you cannot be here for the Douglas euchre tomorrow evening for it is bound to be pleasant & you would have met so many of the nicest girls. I am glad Mac is here to go with Isabel.

I think one side of my throat has just broken and though the taste is somewhat unpleasant the relief is tremendous.

This is no birthday letter at all, but dear Billee I think all the birthday thoughts and you are ever in our minds. Your little visits home are among our brightest memories and you will never know how good we think you.

I must stop now with all loving wishes for tomorrow & the new year Your loving Jennie

we are so delighted at the thought of having you home for a day or two and are looking forward to having you for a week. I will be at home from tuesday for a week. I can arrange just what time you it was you will be a trifle wearied, for this year I will be a trifle way. Thats quite a long way from my friends and that before we meet a fog
P.S. Hazel is feeling very badly. Her brother died yesterday afternoon and

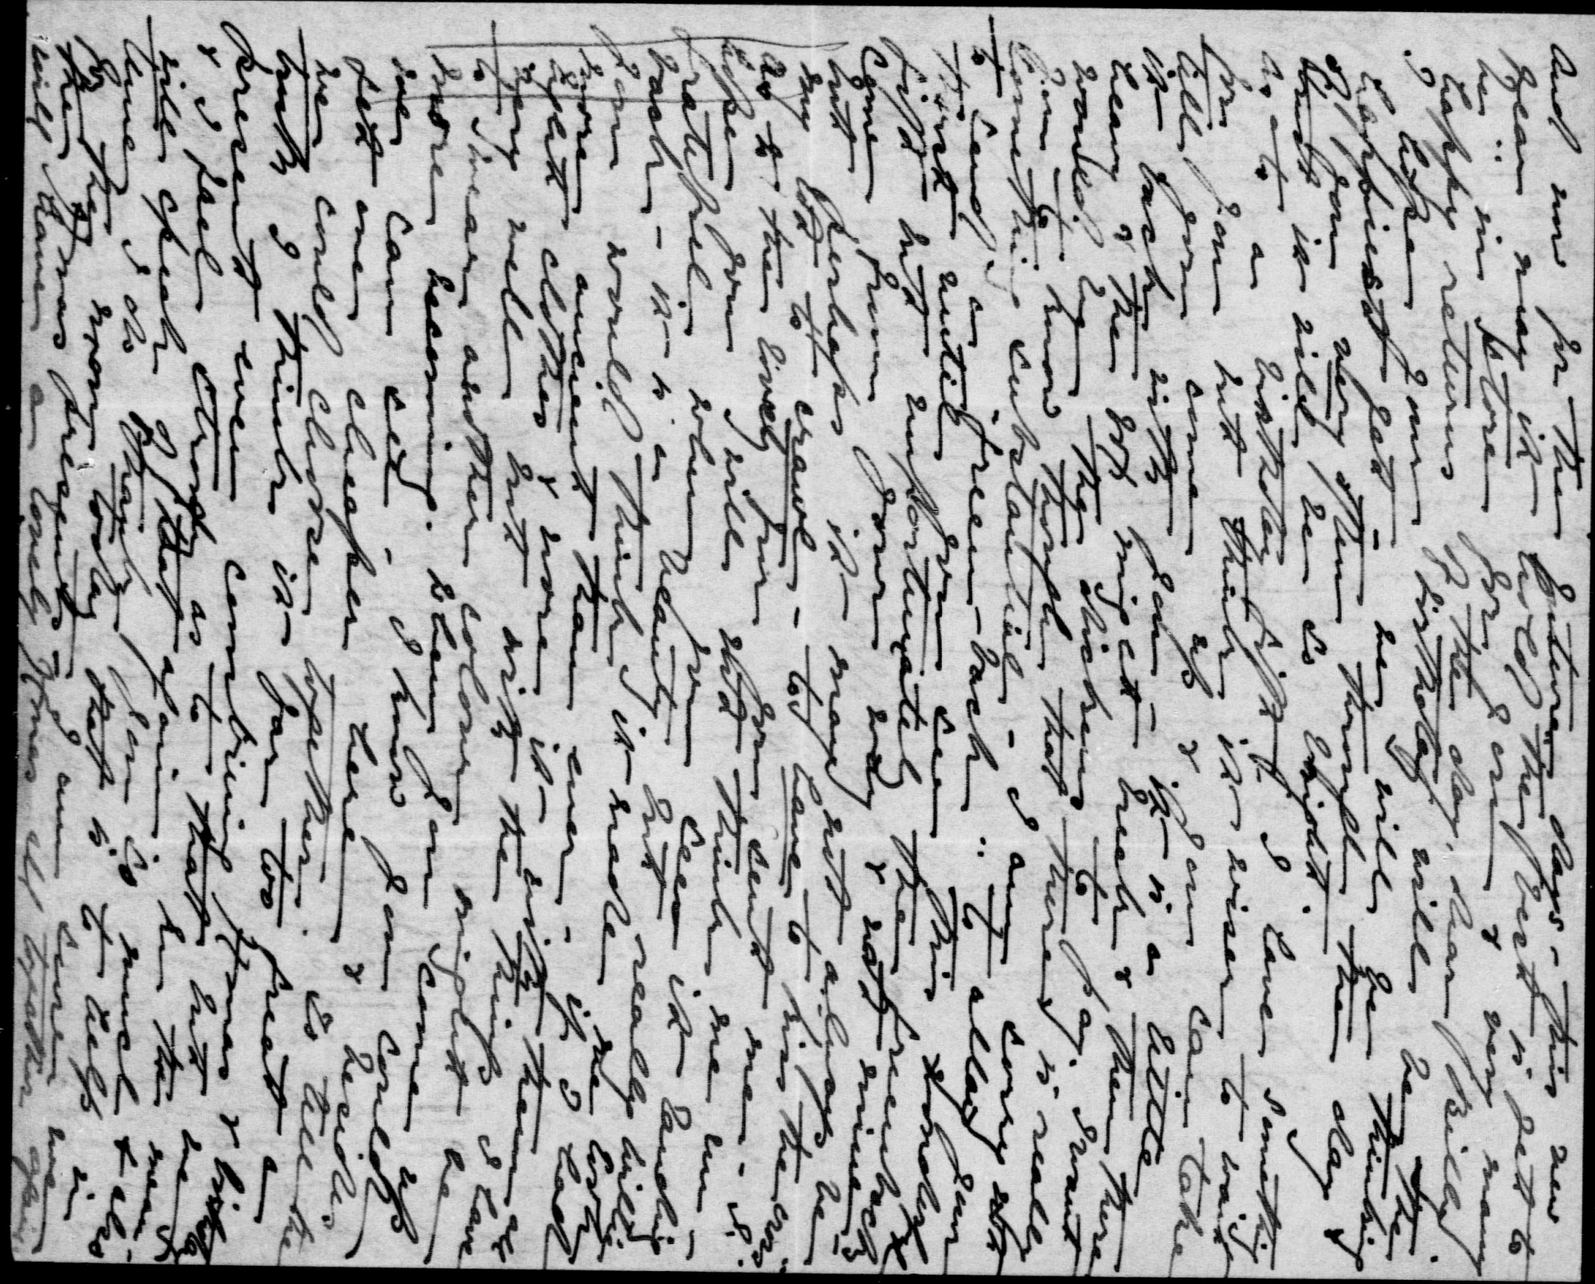

I think his death must have been a great shock. They knew he might die any day but had hopes he would live for two years. Consumption is such a deceitful disease. I wish I could go and see her but perhaps she will come and see me when the funeral is over. I must say this is a bright birthday letter but you must make allowance for my brain. I am very like Fat Boy in Pickwick for whenever I am left alone for a minute I go to sleep no matter what position I am in. I will be so glad when I am better for I am an awful nuisance to everybody & besides it is very awkward

My dear Will,-

This is one occasion upon which you generally receive an annual epistle from me.

At present as you see by the heading I am under the parental roof & pretty darn cold it is too. I am not going back to Pembroke as I expect to get either the Toronto General or the John S. Stratford Hospital, Brantford, before the year ends.

I am sure you will appreciate, without me entering into minutiæ, all the kind wishes I have for you at this season.

The family seem to think you would like a brass candle stick. I do not think it is as pretty as something else I might get but I thought the others knew more about it than I did.

Again wishing you a very happy birthday with many returns.

Mac.

I got pretty sick of the small doings of Old Man Hanbank he make the practice of medicine too much of a shark game to get money & asked me to to enter into so many little swindle games that I got heartily sick of him.

Michell who was my colleague is also pretty tired of things & would get out of he could find anything better to do.

I have been reading your letters from different parts of the States & you seem to have had a great old time. I should have liked jolly well to have been along to join in the aerial dinners, millionaires clubs & grand opera theatre boxes. The number of men you met connected so closely with your own work would, I should imagine, be of great advantage to you.

Yesterday while down town I met Dan Bourke an enthusiastic member of the Canadian Press Association who was with us on the last trip down east. He says the Assn is hoping to arrange a trip to the Old Country for next year. If this is successfully done he is going to rig up a four-in-hand which is to drive from Liverpool to London. This is to carry the musical members of the party & he wishes me to be one of the members.

This is a pretty poor apology for a birthday letter but I and I am sure the gun that keeps time will be equally so, & in many respects even more satisfactory and suitable.

We shall all be thinking much of you all the day, wondering what you are doing, how you are feeling, & how the hours will pass away. I have no doubt you will be thinking of us also. Thus in spirit we shall all be near to one another throughout, at all events; as indeed we always are, but particularly so on these anniversary occasions.
They are notable days — milestones in life's journey, and possess a significance which is full of many happy remembrances. Indeed, I love them; they always inspire.

We were very glad to get your letter yesterday, & to read all about your doings when away from home. I am glad you got back safely & well. You have been very thrifty in purchasing a warm winter overcoat; while investment cannot be made. It is an absolute necessity in this climate, & particularly at Ottawa, which, I always regard as in an uncommonly cold zone.

I really shall feel obliged if you will not spend one cent for me for Xmas. I don't want anything whatever. Your simple lines will be the best remembrance I could wish for, & I do truly hope you will bear in at that.

Your letter of yesterday came this a.m. We are so glad you liked our letters and the contents of the parcel. I thought that cushion a beautiful present, and it will certainly be a great addition to your apartments. Hope your mother's deft handiwork makes it all the more welcome & valuable in the right sense of the term.

I am writing more particularly about money matters, at your mother's request. Your last coming up to Toronto, on Sunday a.m. last, was not the plans. She gave me the taxes money for my insurance, which I owe only. Even with that unpaid bill on me I am not so cool. And, by the way, instead of paying out for

On receipt of this please send $20 at least. That is what your mother observed was insurance — it was $19 some odd cents —

Your friend Macdonald called this evening. He wish him for 6 p.m. tea on Sunday, as untold him you would be at home. What you propose about you home-coming is probably a better plan. If you can be here for New years Day do Shall be so glad.

Have not a Brantford dentist seen Shalfoot about that appointment. If not it made he will likely get it, or S. Lefroy knows; but there is a dentist Opinion in the Hospital Board with getting whom keeper.

Jennie's throat is inflamed again this eve. — probably from fresh cold. She was out of bed yesterday, but feeling weak a month. She has had a hard time of it. But I must close. With much love the family from Mother to you all

My dear Billie

As we have no dead heads we will do the next best thing write and wish you a bright and happy New Year /

"Look not mournfully into the past, it comes not back again. Wisely improve the present, it is thine. Go forth to meet the shadowy future without fear, and with a manly heart."

With all good wishes for the year we are entering on.

My Dear Billie:

I join with all my heart in all the good wishes, & in the timely quotation in its fullest significance, which appear on the opposite page. Hope you will have a very happy new year, commencing to-morrow and continuing on & on to the end. I am only sorry you will not be here on new years day to accompany us on our round of calls. We would have had a glad time together; but duty calls come first. Let us hear from you soon, & meanwhile believe me

Your Loving Father.

Dear Billie:

Best love and all good wishes for the new year

Dear Billie,

Mother and Isabel have written to you and now that I have had a little sleep I feel more in the mood for writing. Mother is most energetic tonight and it is rather pleasant to see her for she has been rather dis away for a few days. We had very nice calls this afternoon among others we called on Mrs Judge Gallow who is receiving for the first time today. She is quite nice

Rev. Frank C. Harper last night. He says there is the chance of his getting a church at Sturgeon Falls, 20 miles west of North Bay. I told him I thought it would be a good place for him to start. He said Mrs Ross was delighted with the card(?) you sent her.

I saw Eva Bennett the other day and she said her husband had told her you called at her place on New years day and she was very sorry she was not at home. I am so glad you called on her but sorry you did not meet her as I know she is the style of girl you will like. I must not write any more. Best love dear Billie and all good wishes for the New Year. Yours lovingly

Jennie.

My dear Billie

Jennie and I have been out making calls consequently my letter writing will be brief.

The Mac Day left today at one P.M. for Preston to take charge of small post. I do not know how many but this I do know he is to get six dollars a day and all expenses.

I suppose by now you have finished all your different engagements. With Lady Minto & L. H. A. when you were dining with your friends at the Fredricks the first time Mr. D. has made any calls.

We all look back with very happy thoughts of your X Mas visit. I think X Mas day was an exceptionally happy one. So many people have admired the girls furs. I fixed over Jeni's hat and she looked quite pretty today when she was out calling and when I went into Mr. Riordans she said she thought I was a young lady. So much for her new bonnet and dark gown

I have not been very well for the last few days but I am much better tonight thanks you.

I must not write any more

My Dear Willie:

I am hoping after a few minutes, in an adjournment of a case which I have to try, to write you hurriedly. Your Sunday letter reached yesterday & was for me a pleasure, especially as showing the interest taken in your work by the Government Home people, & especially by Lord Dundonald, and the kindness shown by personally - ally by other people. The whole thing is exceedingly satisfying and may lead to important results in your future career. That is the advantage of being in Ottawa. It brings you in contact with & forms friendships with influential people everywhere, & that is a very great advantage to a young man. We were all very much pleased with the whole of your letter; but I can't write more at present about it.

My note to Rogers comes due on 28th inst. The exact amount is $35.25. That includes cheque we with Bochner & with him. I am clearing myself with Rogers, & will have something to the good.

William Hunt for one yesterday said he would give me some writing for the News. He starts the new paper on or about next Monday. But I must close with the Canadian Courier on my chest is waiting.

Dear Willie:

Your letter gave me all a great deal of pleasure. It will do you a world of good to go out a little for your mind needs a rest and it is as well at times to reflect on people instead of ~~things~~ books. The Government House people have certainly been most kind but their kindness is not going to mean much to them. Mr. Thistle and Morris were here for supper on Sunday. It was a terribly stormy day but we all went to church in the morning & enjoyed the grate fire in the evening. We had quite a number of callers on Saturday afternoon. Lady Pinlock, Mrs. Falconbridge Hazel, Mrs. Boyle & Amy Wright all arrived one after the other They had afternoon tea & departed before. 6 o'clock

Monday evening Isabel & I went up to Marys and had some lovely music. I must not begin another sheet so good bye for the present Yours lovingly

Jen.

Arcanum & Workmen, $3.78 $2.00 respectively, & the $11.40 due on 7th Feby. I can get Harcourt & wait another month. But my life insurance I must protect. Have written to Berlin as to transferring my membership to Toronto both as to R. A. & A.O.U.W.

Am glad your lunch went off so well. You have formed a valuable friendship in that quarter.

Dear father/-

I am enclosing herewith some proof of the annual report of the Department,which will probably be received from the printers this week.

I am sending you the proof in full with the exception of pages 49 to 64 inclusive,which I cannot find. They are taken up in part with a continuation of the list of contracts entered into by the Department of Railways and Canals and by mention of the work of the library of the Department and the list of its publications.

As soon as the report itself is received I will mail it to you,but there will be sufficient here,I think,to enable you to make a good review and any comparisons with the report of the previous year.

I am enclosing also a report of last year in case you may not have one at hand. I do not think that the review should be more than a column,or possibly a column and a half in length. You had better have it ready for the Saturday press but do not use it then unless you hear from me in the interval.

Yours affectionately,

John King,Esq.,K.C.,

22 Wellington Place,

Toronto,Ont.

As this is part of the proof that was revised by the Department I would like to keep it for reference in the future so I would ask you to return it to me when you are through with it.

Dear father/-

I am enclosing herewith the memorandum of payments of which I promised to send you a copy.

My undertaking was for the exact amount given at the time of taking the memo which made a total of $160.15. You were to meet other items of expenditure under other heads,or for amounts due on any of these heads but not included therein.

The $30.00 advanced for certificate fees was to be applied out of the February account on some of these items. That had better be applied on the life insurance item of $21.40.

There was no understanding,however,that the monthly dues of $3.75 and $2.00 respectively were to be included in the list which I herewith enclose. These were to be met out of the monthly cheque.

I would like this arrangement to be followed as strictly as possible. If doing this might lead to any embarrassment I wish you would let me know in time.

The memo given to me of Harcourt's account was $30.00. I should therefore not be expected to make up the difference,in what it may happen to be. In bringing the total to $160.15 I was financing as closely to the line as possible and I will be very disappointed unless each expenditure is met precisely in the manner and at the time as agreed upon.

Yours affectionately,

John King,Esq.,K.C.,

You and Lou so far about our offering the money exactly as bargained for. I am only too glad to get the chance. I will talk up the Dafoe matter & - assure everything else will be settled as arranged.

We were also very pleased to hear the news of your success socially and of the compliments paid you re lecture. Miss Sifton, who was in Toronto for a day, rang up the Williams and told Hazel W. that she was simply delighted with your lecture. She spoke of it in the highest - possible terms, & also in equal terms of your self personally. She said she it far surpassed your friend Daly's & that she never heard anything of the kind that was so interesting, or that pleased her so well.

Your mother & I were at Martimer Clark's at dinner when your telegram about the Dunbarton Park was received. The trouble of hunting for it drove us Bella also searched high & low for it in vain, & also then at my suggestion (on return via Denver) wrote you as to the particulars scarce & to get copy of Post in the Ottawa Parliamentary Library. I had an impression that I had sent you the Post & am relieved to know that you have it safely. Will you please bring it up when next you come, unless Miss Lambton has carried it off with her. Dear Father, Mother - all at Home:

As Mackie's birthday comes in a few days there must be mostly a letter to Father. more especially as in it I must speak of an article we were talking of together. I am enclosing a copy of the proposed "Railway Labour arbitration Act." It is an excellent subject for an editorial. Indeed, I know of none better at this time in any way. This is only a draft, but it indicates clearly the proposed measure. It is being distributed to members of a deputation for discussion in the Union lodges and so might be expected to find its way into the press. An editorial

I think that the subject of Railway at this time affords material for an excellent editorial, and one which also I think it would be well to credit Murdoch personally rather than the Govt with the initiative. Mention his forethought - wisdom in seeing the importance of the labour problem - providing in the first instance a means of dealing with it through the Department of Labour which could gather information - get ready to administer machinery necessary to carrying out of legislation. Wisdom in taking means how to gauge public opinion, & to grapple first hand with the biggest industrial problem of the age. He deserves the whole credit for he has had to fight his way in Council & with all on the Parliament & before the nation.

I think that the subject of Railway at this time affords material for an excellent editorial, and one which had better be prepared at once. If in any of the papers a news item appears mentioning the bill the editorial might follow at once, but if there is none such, then next Saturday's issue would be early enough, and it would be better that it should not be earlier. The article should not be written as revealing an intimacy with the exact wording of the Act; but only its essential features Sec's 3. and 10. are the important ones The points to be noted in an editorial are.

1. The real means of interdependence of industry etc of some means of preventing strikes eg. recent coal strike.
2. Special need on railways etc for.
3. Wisdom of Ministers introducing bill last session so as to get benefit of public opinion, views of labour organizations, parties concerned etc - a referendum feature worthy of being followed by important legislation. It is equivalent to such.
4. Wisdom of dealing with one branch of industry first features of the bill.

Strong bonus for investigation & Board of Arbitrators of causes etc restrictive, - banning enforcement of award & public opinion, compelling the taking of evidence under oath etc.

dilate on importance of public opinion, as a means of settling disputes, bill grounding means for ascertaining & intelligent means of shaping opinion -

note differences from other bill

no compulsion. same in taking of evidence. public opinion rather than coercion. which to have better effect

Board for each dispute better than standing Boards, effect of bill - Employers & employees both to settle rather than appeal to public wrongs under oath.

I conclude by pointing out that such of the worst kind. I doubt whether I have many flaws & other vaccinations. Stafford about sixteen, I think, since last week. I am going to repeat my lectures for St Andrews Church missionary society. They are charging 25¢ admission & have only 500 tickets. It is to be on July 16th. Mrs Shaw promised it later to St. Patrick's society an Irish Catholic institution with a large membership among the working classes.

You will be sorry to hear Mrs Merrick has been quite ill. She has been in bed two weeks. A part of the time a nurse has been in to give her treatment. It is her kidneys which seem to have collapsed somewhat. I know she would like a letter from you all & I hope you will all write at once to her. Her brother was going to have a consultation three days ago. She was so much. I think now she is some better & is going to try a bath of sulphide today.

I was glad to hear of Mary's success. It was an excellent one. Send me his address & I will write him. The last home letters were very bright. With best love to all will have its weight in helping to mould public opinion & shape future legislation. Conceal the source of information, and get it ready quickly there are the two points to remember. follow at once for it will call forth much writing.

Affectionately yours
Mackenzie

I received a long letter from Roy Norton which I will send you to read some time. It is a most interesting production & beautiful letter on Labour subjects.

I sent you the Annual Report yesterday one of the first special copies. They are not yet ready for general distribution but unless I am hear from me to the contrary they the article on it might be published on Wednesday's issue.

T This cost much I have been out rather too much.
Monday night small dinner party at Colonel Sollers

Tuesday night large dinner party at Sir Louis Davies. — Mr & Mrs Blair. Sir Fred & Lady Borden Mr & Mrs Collingwood Shreiber, Mr & Mrs Sormally Mr & Mrs Sanford. Mr Borden Mr Foster & myself.
1 After dinner we had some good fun singing

T songs. Sir Fred. Borden played the violin an accompaniment most pleasing in good form. Sir Louis & Mr Blair sang in good form "Jenny on old camp ground" "Old Black Joe" & other songs

Last night - Mr Davies gave a dinner at Dublin for Mr McCarthy Lady & myself. Just the four of us, - the three others are to be married in June. They are all exceptionally fine men. I went after for a little while to Col Todd's, (Son of Alphaeus)

Thursday night dinner at Hon Sydney Fisher's. Hon C Fitzpatrick & Mrs Fr. Mr & Mrs Roswell Fisher of Montreal, Miss Borden, Miss Griffen, Mr Chas Wood, Mr Sharpe & myself.

Last night I was at a dance at the Victoria - I took Miss Hyndman & Miss Muriel Davies to see the Bonnie Brier Bush tableaux Yesterday. It was most beautiful

This is a terrible record & how not to stop. If for no other reason because I am sick of eating. But truly it is fully

My Dear Willie:

Another year a gone & a new one begun. Let us hope that the latter may be a happier one than the former. Tho' I have had many things to be thankful for during the past year, I have also had many things to cause me sorrow & pain. Perhaps the greatest of these has been the illness of our dear Father. Since I last wrote you he has been very ill indeed. He was confined to his bed for over a week & was unable to attend to any business. He is now up & around the house but is very weak & feeble. He has not been out of doors since he was taken ill. The doctor says he must not go out for a month at least. He is very anxious to get out for a drive & I am afraid he will do so before he should. He has been very much pleased with the many letters & cards he has received from his friends. I have had a number of letters from Mr. Mackenzie & Mr. Mackenzie. Mr. Mackenzie is very much pleased with his new position. He has been very busy since he went to London. He has had to make a number of speeches & has been very much feted by the people of London. He is very much pleased with the way in which he has been received by the people of London. He has had to make a number of speeches & has been very much feted by the people of London. -y great pleasure & shock at lectures. I am like a man semi-intoxicated. For two days past there have been lectures on responsible Government, the students however immensely pleased. You could hear a pin fall as I rolled off my periods with scarce a glance at my notes.

Westholme must wait. Hendry this eve. Your letter came as did also Bertie to your mother. We are all sorry to hear of his wife's sickness, I wish he would take her up south instead of a stormy one.

We are all well, except myself, & I'll be all right in a few days. Thanks.

Mac's address is— Bruce Mayor King, The Isolation Hospital, York. He is as well as can be, & busy as a nailer. Could write to us twice he must away, but communicates by telephone with Nora who tells me by letter how he is.

If you can send me $22. or by Friday eve, that will do nicely, the rest will do after the 15th. I must pay my R.A. York dues on Friday.

Wilson didn't change a single word in my article. With much love,

Father.

9th February,1903.

My dear Mack/-

The last few letters from home have mentioned the fact that since your appointment as Medical Superintendent of the smallpox [illegible]ment in [illegible] nothing has been heard from you except indirectly from Mrs.Goldie with whom you communicated at times by phone.

I hope that you are quite well and that the reason for your not writing is due to isolation and not to sickness of any kind in your case.

While going over some papers on my desk I came across the enclosed copy of the Globe which has some pictures that may interest you. I thought it best to send them to you with this line to say that I trust you are quite well.

With best love,

Affectionately yours,

Sunday morning.

Dear Billee:

We are all delighted at the thought of seeing you on Tuesday and if you could not come on a letter day for there is a dance at the Lash's on Tuesday night and I would love to go if you will go with me. I have to go and study my lesson so must not write any more. Be sure and bring your dress suit with you for you will give yourself and me a great deal of pleasure by going.

All send best love and look forward to seeing you Tuesday morning.

Yours lovingly

Jennie

lot of girls you like and the Earls dances are the very nicest in town. We come with the Miller for I can't see at a dance since that night & until after and really want to go.
We were out at a little tea in Fred Burbidges room yesterday and had great fun Gray Hall was with us and there were several others, about twelve in all. Fred was extremely kind and I poured tea.

"Karlie Gordon" of Winnipeg is to preach tonight in Bloor St. Church and the family are going to hear him. Mrs Partridge is very much better and certainly looks well. She is quite bright again and is a great sleeper. She is going home she says this week but I don't know whether she will go or not.

From letters

Dict.G.

------ On C.P.R. North Shore Lake Superior,
Feb.21,1903.

Dear Father:

I am sending you this note just to let you know that we are progressing safely on our journey and are now skirting alo g the north short of Lake Superior,within one or two hours distance of Fort William. The country through which we have been travelling all day is rather desolate and dreary,save that here and there in this part one gets beyond the smaller bays very beautiful glimpses of the waters of Lake Superior on which the sun has been shining brightly all the day. We have passed here and there a few Indians at some of the villaes along the route,and have been one Indian woman driving some dogs hitched to a sleigh along a trail through the woods,but these are about the only glimpses of human life or objects of human interest we have thus far seen.

I have managed,since leaving Toronto,to read about fifty pages of Lecky's book--The Map of Life- and a hundred or more pages of Jane Eyre. The latter novel does not interest me very much,and has,in fact,been rather tedious reading,but Lecky's book is exceedingly good. I have got off a few letters,and the better part of two articles for the March Gazette,so that the time thus far has been actively employed.

I find that we reach Fernie on Tuesday morning early, and not on Tuesday night,as I think I wrote to mother. I would be glad to receive there a telegram collect on Tuesday,telling me how you all are at home,as I have felt rather worried,and not a little anxious since leaving.

Give my best love to mother and the girls,and to Mrs.Herridg e,if she is with you when this letter comes,and with best love to yourself,

Believe me ever,

Affectionately yours,

John King Esq.,

My dear Billie

After your departure Mrs H. and I laid down and had a rest. The next afternoon we spent in doing Bazaars Eatons & Simpsons also Tyrrells where Mrs H. bought Emerson sleeps which she gave to father and myself and the Parables of Life she gave to the girls.

Your books you sent to me by father was a great surprise and pleasure We commenced and if it gives us stronger insight into what will guide us more clearly on the way then it will let us see and speak more freely where heart will understand heart. You have never been out of my mind since you went away and I pray withall heart that you will let no weary come into your heights where love is so strong the good must overreach the evil

We have all been very happy since you left and Mrs H will leave us on Wednesday morning I hope feeling stronger in more ways than one

We got such a nice letter from Dad this morning

Friday, 1903.

My Dear Willie:

I am trying from Ayr this morning to write you a few lines before I leave for Toronto. I have had a most delightful visit here with Mr. Cockburn and family. Mr. Cockburn is a most interesting man and I have enjoyed my visit with him very much indeed. He has been telling me a number of interesting stories about his early days in Parliament, and I have had a most delightful time. I am sorry that I have not been able to see more of you, but I hope that you will be able to come to Toronto before long. I am sure that you will enjoy your visit there. I am looking forward to seeing you soon.

I am sure that you will enjoy your visit to Toronto. I am sure that you will enjoy your visit to Toronto. I am sure that you will enjoy your visit to Toronto.

Jessie an article on the Belfast which I have already partially written.

Your trip to Toronto was talked about by some of the people at the Funeral the other day. Judge Britton, among others, was speaking to me about it. I hope you will have good luck, & I have a strong conviction that you will. It will be a splendid piece of work.

I finished up that article on Sunbeam last night & sent it in on Friday. It will record 5 or 6 words, the limit rule, but I suppose W. that he could easily cut it in two, & the last part is quite distinct from the first.

Send us a line occasionally, or a wire message. It is often nice to know how you are.

With much love

Father.

N.B. I should not omit to mention that Jessie & Mother were delighted with the book you sent her, & has already started reading it. I read the chapter on "Labor Legislation", which is very good. Miss H. Gordon finds Hughes "Paradox of life" & Jessie & Mother & Emerson Essays — the three which you & Jessie & Mother were reading at Ottawa. J.K.

The Herald had another little skit about you. It said that you had gone out to B. C. & Mother was away the Times, but "Sir William Mackenzie showed his lively Scotch mother & North York & Mother knew up there".

If this leaves us to-morrow (Wednesday) afternoon at 9.15. She is calling Sydney Mrs Mellett & I think has enjoyed her visit. Jim's mother and the girls have certainly done their best to make her stay pleasant. Without, of course, entertaining or anything of that kind.

Jimmie was ill a very small part of the day at the Williams to-day — allegedly colic — a very mild and easily curable affair. Jim's measles have been very happy. He has been carrying on in his usual jumpy mood ever since. Both times. Wonder can down town shopping this afternoon & had a regular dander.

The papers to-day have little notice of the students present to me. I was very glad to see them. & Fletcher was saying it showed a very kindly feeling to me in the part of the men. That is why I value it. Hardly with you had been there. & if that even suspected that anything of the kind was afoot I would have had you there.

The Fletchers think we have a very nice house. They were just taken with it

Sunday Morning.

Dear Papa -

Doubtless you have been taking the whole plan as a matter of course & thought me stupid for not writing before now.

Well it was funny in a way but I assure you an awfully unpleasant one. I'll tell you all about it when I come home. It was difficult to write about & I'm afraid you will find it difficult to read. However I'll do my best.

The first day I was sick I felt very much about. It was cloudy & cold & we had such a long carriage drive that I was sick & all the rocking of it. It by afternoon I felt all right & we had a lovely time. My room is a dream & looks over the river & mountains. I've had a couple of letters from Mrs Rhinehart & she is very kind indeed. She is a very nice woman & I like her very much. She is very fond of children & the house is full of them. Mrs Rhinehart is an enthusiastic Christian & she & Mr Rhinehart are very active workers in the church. Mr Rhinehart is a lawyer & has a very large practice. He is also a director in the Bank of Montreal & in several other companies. He is a very busy man & has to be away from home a great deal. He is very fond of children & has a very pleasant home life. He has also a lovely

My dear Billie

If all is well I will leave here next Wednesday morning. I will be so glad to be with you a little while.

Did you hear that Lount had returned and is very ill. His place will have to be filled. Is there no hope for father?

We hear Watson is in Ottawa. I suppose he is working for himself. Can you do nothing?

There is a lecture to be given by Dr Hiram Corson. Miss David, Lady Dy, daughter sent us letter to Bell and said she thought it would be a lecture we would enjoy as she had heard him before and as it is the kind of thing we thought we would like to go to, we said we would take two tickets seeing that father gets his money on the first.

My Dear Willie:

You will see a little change in the address of this letter. I am going to Toronto for a week or so, and on Tuesday, the 21st inst. I shall be in Montreal for a month. I am sorry to be leaving Ottawa, but I am looking forward to a very pleasant month in Montreal. Mackenzie & Mann have a number of interests there, and I shall be in touch with many of the leading men of the city. I am also to have a room in the Windsor Hotel, which is centrally situated.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier is away. I am sorry he is not here, as I should like to have had a talk with him before leaving. I am sure he will be glad to hear that you are getting on so well with your studies. I am glad to hear that you are getting on so well with your studies. I am glad to hear that you are getting on so well with your studies.

Dict.C.

April I5,I903.

Dear Father:

The Minister has told me that I may have to leave at any minute for the West,but I think he is anxious to have me here until the debate on his railway labour disputes bill is over. It may come up this afternoon or to-morrow. I am sending you this note,therefore,to let you know that I cannot tell definitely when I will leave,but that I will send a telegram before so doing. I intend to go by way of Chicago,so as to be able to stop over at Toronto en route. The Minister has altered the Order-in-Council,so as to allow me $5 a day,as well as expenses.

Yesterday's success at Hawksbury was,I think,one of the best triumphs for the Conciliation Act we have had yet,as matters had been in a pretty lively state there for some days previous, and the settlement appeared to bring much satisfaction on both sides. I am sending you under separate cover, a copy of the Ottawa Citizen,which contains a somewhat complimentary account of the settlement.

I am enclosing herewith cheque No.60 for $20 to meet the payment coming due of which you spoke in your letter. I will be glad if you will have it applied for the purpose mentioned.

I received your telegram,also letters from mother and yourself,which were a great relief to my mind. I had,from a little overwork,I think,become somewhat nervously excited,and was somewhat anxious at not having heard from home for some time,especially as I have felt that mother's not coming down at the present time would be a disappointment to you as well as to myself. However,I think everything is much better as it has now turned out.

With love to all,I am,

Affectionately yours,

My dear Billie

I am indeed very sorry you have been disappointed in not hearing from me before. I commenced a letter on the 8th then thought it would be jolly to send it as you would be here so soon. Then yesterday I was going to write but I went to Communion in the morning took a sleep in the afternoon Hattie & Helen were here for afternoon Tea and instead of writing to you I went to Church in the evening. Had visiting and some people being here for supper I never got a chance until

I am always a little afraid that you do not get my letters before you start and if they fell into any one elses hands I would feel bad as I am not proud of them.

Trusting we will really see you soon the girls join me in sending best love too late. I am so much obliged for the money you sent me and I have it safe It seems if the fates have conspired against my getting to Ottawa but it is only a pleasure postponed

I heard it was in Saturday night that I was the guest of Mr. Herridge and last Mondays Globe said I had left for Ottawa that day.
I told nearly every one I knew that I was going to spend Easter with you then spend a time with Mr. H. and Lyrell.
I think you will think my clothes quite pretty.

Yes Saturday when at the University Mr. Dennison "Lady Gay" introduced me to a Mr. H.
Hearn who told me the last heard your lecture. Lady Gay asked me if she might telephone to you yesterday. Sunday, for I told her you would be here. I said certainly but I never said we had one telephone for there were a lot of people standing round and I was not going to explain Isaac was looking well and he like ourselves was dreadfully disappointed you were not here for Easter We had one of our happy days and were so sorry you were not here to share it We were all thinking and talking a great deal about you

CHICAGO - ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS
"GREAT WESTERN LIMITED"

Moose Jaw N. W. T.
Monday Morning.

Dear Mother & Father:

I am snatching one or two moments delay between trains here to let you know that the journey thus far has been very pleasant. I met Geddes at London and we arrived in Chicago on Saturday morning. We went direct to Hull House where we had breakfast with Miss Addams & some of the old residents there. The place has grown so much I would scarcely recognize it. Would you believe that it was eight years since I lived there. We went out to the University and for a walk thro' the parks and back to Hull House for lunch

I had not a chance of seeing Mr Laughlan over from Cypt at Regina & we came by the Chicago & great Western Ry. to St Paul. It is the finest road I have ever travelled over. Had breakfast at St Paul & came on travelling by day thro' the state of Minnesota & North Dakota, & the border & arrived here just a few minutes ago Mr C.P.R. main line train has just now come in so I must hurry to conclude and get on board

I enjoyed my little stay at home very much, tho' I have missed a good deal about the chair since I am convinced I paid out more than I should of, but I am saving on meals now & in other ways to try & make up the difference.

I inclose a little blue flower which I gathered yesterday on the prairie

I will look for letters to the "Driard Hotel" Victoria, by early & frequent mails

With love to all

Ever affectionately Yours

Willie

evening & had quite a talk with him. I took him up two articles one on "The B. C. Labour Commission" & the other on "Rural Education in England". He read on the Commission article while I was there and said it was very good. I will send you a copy of the issue containing it. He explained that the reason he did not answer the former article I sent him about your mission to the Coast was because he feared it would look like a vindictive thrust at Mr. Jeffray. He was in sympathy with the article & wanted to put it in, but forbore to do so for the reason mentioned. He says the News is doing splendidly. Its average circulation fell off at first, but it is now going up steadily. Its average circulation daily last week was 20128. It has 10000 outside of Toronto. The advertising is increasing well. When they get into their new building, with their new press, they will print over 70000 copies of the News complete in one hour. What a Hercules machine that press must be? He was quite interested in Jno Hawkesbury Roseveare whom I was describing to him; & told me he could publish anything I cared to write about Murdock whom he thinks a good minister but a bad mannered man. He is not sure whether he keeps the balance of the article on "Labour Reforms" which appeared particularly to Murdock, but he will try & find it & will put it in after the passage of the railway Labour dispute bill. If he can't find it I will write a new article on the same

~~OTTAWA.~~ Dallas Hotel,
Victoria,
Sunday morning, May 3.'03

To all at home:

Giddens and I are at present sitting out on the rocks overlooking the straits of Juan de Fuca, on what at home would be one of the brightest of summer days. The sun is shining brightly on the water, which washes continuously against the rocks, and in the distance opposite is a view of the Olympic Mountains, rising, as it were, out of the sea, and losing themselves with their snow-capped summits in the ~~eculds.~~ clouds.

We arrived in Victoria on Wednesday night, and chose as our headquarters the Dallas Hotel because of its being beside the sea and away from the busy part of the city. We have splendid rooms commanding a view of the water and the mountains, and are very happily situated. The journey across the continent was a delightful one, and on the whole very pleasant and interesting. At Chicago it was pleasant to see Hull House and meet acquaintances among the residents there, also the University, Jackson and Washington parks and their associations. The journey by rail to the Canadian frontier was more pleasant on the whole through the states of Minnesota and North Dakota, than it would have been across the pairie before and after reaching Winnipeg. There is a greater variety of landscape scenery and decidedly less monotony. It was a good time of the year to go through the mountains, and I think that seeing them for a second time one enjoys their beauty even more than at first. I feel, however, that without question the Selkirk Range was much finer than the Rockies, and I was inclined to feel that the scenery along the Fraser River canyon, after passing the Rockies and Selkirks, was perhaps the grandest on the whole route. We came, in the last day of our journey, into a sort of spring and summer climate, where the trees were already in bud and blossom, and where everything had the freshness and beauty of new life about it. We arrived at Vancouver about noon, and after having dinner on the boat had a most delightful sail across the straits to Victoria. There is nothing finer in Italy or Switzerland than what one sees during the last day of this trip, and I regretted very often and sincerely that you allwere not with me to enjoy it.

I have had several conversations with the Reverend Dr. Rowe and Chief Justice Hunter in regard to the work of the Commission, and have been engaged in making preparations for the first sitting of the Commission at Ladysmith on Monday next. We have given public notice in the press, and have rented a hall which will be used as a court-room. Both sides are employing counsel, and I think it altogether probable that the proceedings will be extremely interesting throughout. Chief Justice Hunter and Mr.Rowe are very different, but both splendid types of men. The Chief Justice is very unconventional in his manner,but one can see that he is a man well informed and of ready and firm decision. He will hold the Commission down to its purpose,and may be expected to shape its findings in a way that may lead to some useful legislation. Mr.Rowe,if left to himself,might cover too large a part of the universe in his work, as he already now does in his body. He is a good-natured,affable and whole-hearted man,and is a good complement for the work which we have on hand,to the Chief Justice. As far as I can learn,the general opinion of the people in this province appears to be that two more suitable men could not have been selected,both sides appearing to have confidence in their ability and sincerity,and the impression seems to be that the Commission,being a dignified affair,much good may be expected from its existence. I doubt very much if we shall be able to conclude the work by the end of this month. I think,however,that by the I5th June we will probably get back to Ottawa.

I wish I had time to tell you of the charm of Victoria,and of the country about here,but I will have to wait for another opportunity. It is by long odds the most delightful city in its situation and general appearance of any of the cities in Canada,and I am happy to say that on this occasion we will be able to have a little better opportunity of seeing something of it. Yesterday we were at Ladysmith and Nanaimo,and to-morrow return to the former place probably to spend the balance of the week there.

I have read through the report of the Commission of the Pennsylvania coal strike,and find it one of the most interesting bits of exposition on trade union subjects that I have ever come across. I would advise you writing to the Hon.Carroll D.Wright at Washington for a copy of this report,as I think you would enjoy reading it through,and might find it of value for purposes of future writing on labour subjects. I will send you a copy of an article written by Mr.Haldane,K.C.England,on the status of trade unions. It is an excellent thing and very opportune at this time. I think that you might make one or two paragraphs in that article the basis of an editorial on the opportuneness of the present Royal Commission. There is a sort of interesting parallel between the kind of Commission which he suggests,and our Commission,which might be worth a reference.

I am enclosing herewith one of my cards, and wish that you would place it, together with a one-cent piece, in the box of carvers which I got for Dr.Minnes' girl when in Toronto. I think the box had better be sent, express prepaid, to her at Winnipeg, and if you will send it as soon as this letter is received, I will be much obliged. Her address is Miss Fortin, care Archdeacon Fortin, Winnipeg. The little present for Miss Blair can wait until I get back, or at all events until I receive an invitation to the wedding. I am still worrying a little about the present I bought for Daly's wife. I am beginning to think it is about time I took some enjoyment out of the pleasure it may give to them. I hope that it was shipped and received by Daly all right. If it has been I will doubtless hear from him during the present week.

I have had no news from home as yet, but doubtless there will be a letter to-morrow morning. Except for the dispatches and the papers here, one learns little of what is going on of interest in the East.

I was sorry that my stay at home was not longer than it was, but it was, nevertheless, most enjoyable. Tell Jennie that I ~~have~~ think very often of her class and their splendid work. It was one of the most enjoyable performances that I have ever been at, and she has great reason to be proud of it. Bella, too, may congratulate herself on being so much better for the additional sleep she has had, and for the income she has made in consequence.

Tell mother that I am looking forward to her trip to Ottawa as soon as I get back.

With love to all, I am,

Very affectionately yours,

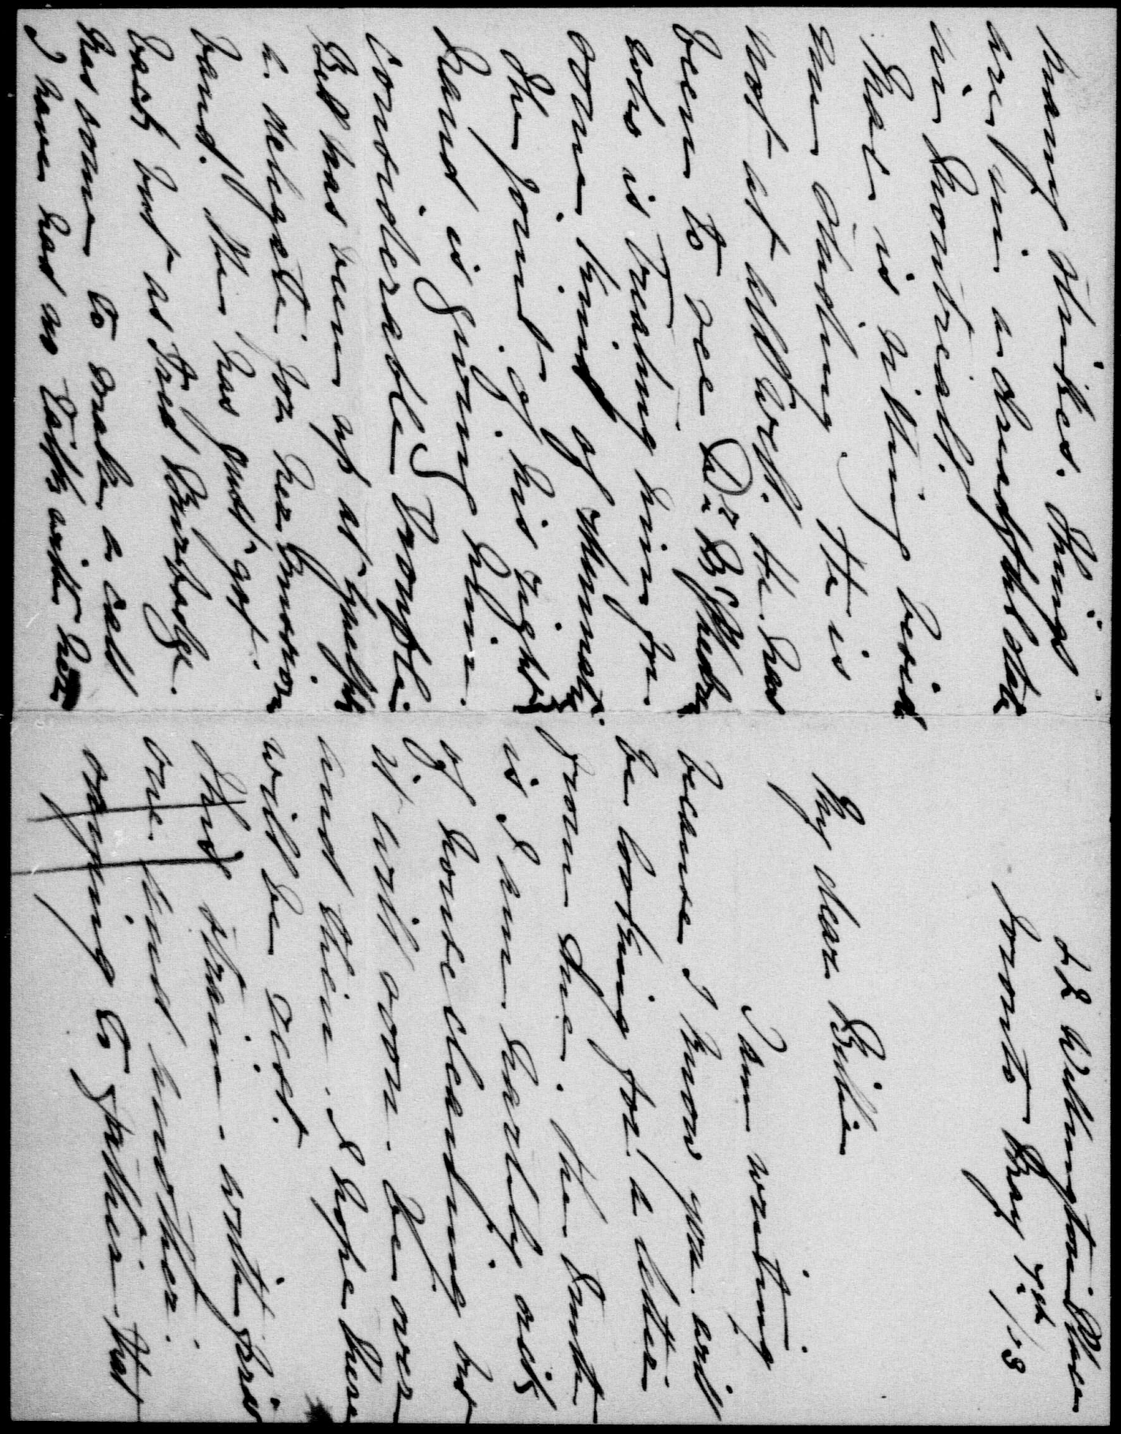

Willie

P.S. Perhaps it would be better to put the present for Miss Fortin in a cover addressed to her, as Miss Fortin (simply), than in a cover of different color addressed to Dr Minnes, Cor. Kutcaffe & Maria Sts Ottawa

My Dear Uncle:

Your kind letter, with cheque for $25, I duly received, and I am very much pleased to hear that you have a little boy to name after you. I am sure he will be a credit to you, and I hope that he will grow up to be a comfort to you in your declining years. I am very much pleased to hear that you have been able to get your property rented, and I hope that you will be able to get a good tenant for the house. I am sure that you will be very much pleased with the new tenant, and I hope that you will be able to get a good tenant for the house. I am sure that you will be very much pleased with the new tenant, and I hope that you will be able to get a good tenant for the house.

Enclosed you will find a cheque for $25, which I hope will be of some use to you. I am sure that you will be very much pleased with the new tenant, and I hope that you will be able to get a good tenant for the house. I am sure that you will be very much pleased with the new tenant, and I hope that you will be able to get a good tenant for the house.

evening at Wellington University. It was a fine scholarly address & was very much appreciated by a splendid audience. His voice is not very pleasant, & his delivery was not at all excellent, nor was his personal appearance particularly attractive. But he is a broad-minded liberal man & I should say has a capital head for business. He was amused in Cobden, down his cafe where delivering his address which was written entirely. The news published it in full. It was entitled "The relation of religion & the higher life". He spoke most highly of the Canadians on Chicago & referred to the large number from Toronto. The Hall was packed, & dozens were turned away. This is the 1st of our Convocation week year, 1904.

We are expecting a letter from you every day, & regularly which you are not there. Don't disappoint us on any account. The weather is beautiful here, the trees in leaf, the blossoms out & the grass fresh & green. Everywhere I look our grass for the first time this afternoon. We all send much love & kisses, & I am

be examined about fifteen witnesses this week, as well as holding one sitting at Extension. Extension is where the miners are rebuked, the case of the men has been to show that they were compelled to give up their homes & go at Extension and come and live at Ladysmith a town site owned by the Companies the same owners, - a distance of 13 miles away. The stories they have told of having to tear down their homes rebuild, or have their families in Extension and go to them there by stealth, so as not to have it known they were staying over over a Sunday in Ladysmith, have been distressing, so much so that C.J.
Hunter told the Co's solicitors plainly on two occasions that a very heavy onus was upon the Co, to show that the men had been fairly dealt with, his way of putting it to me was that it was a "damned outrage"

Wife + Father + Mother + all at Home! —

This is a lovely day after last Sunday afternoon and I am writing to you from my room at the Dallas Hotel, looking out across the sea to the Olympic range of mountains in the distance. It is almost like midsummer so beautiful is the air and warm. I have received both your letters, the first one written in Vancouver, and further card in reference to it, also the other letter written I think, last Sunday, but none of the only letters received thus far. After the reading you addressed others to Hotel Vancouver, Vancouver BC. as I will likely be there for a week or so in connection with the meeting of the Pacific Coast Fisheries Commission which is to be held there on the 20th inst. I am sorry to hear that you have been unwell, but hope that you are now quite recovered. I am glad to hear that Mr. Foster has been so kind to you, he is a most genial man and I am sure will be glad to do anything he can for you. I am glad to hear that Mr. Foster has been so kind to you, he is a most genial man and I am sure will be glad to do anything he can for you. The first week has been one of much and interesting experience and has passed quickly by. On Monday morning we left for Ledgemith and opened Court there at 2 in the afternoon. Golden & I had fitted up a large hall as a Court house, with the Chief Justice, and his two house the Commissioners behind tables on a platform, and ourselves on a smaller elevation below, in front of us tables for the lawyers and reporters and to the left a witness box. General seats for the public around and in a gallery. When the Court opened my first duty was to read aloud the Commission, and then to file Statement from counsel. Enclosed have their selections. Bodwell, KC for the Commission and Wilson KC for the miners. We are dealing first with the strikers now on in the Commission mines. The first week was accomplished except to explain proceedings, and on the day following an early adjournment was had to see if it were possible to arrange a settlement. The Commissioners however failed in this, as the men are determined to hold out for recognition of their union, and rightly too, I think, from the way they have been treated. The whole proceedings are conducted in a regular way. It is my duty amongst others to swear the witnesses. The Chief Justice tells me that my jurisdiction is "full book bah below decks" I call the witnesses, give them the oath, record their names, file exhibits, issue subpoenas etc etc. I have made arrangements with the Victoria Times to give them accounts of the work of the Commission and have sent them about ten or fifteen columns thus far each week. It takes up every second of my time but I may make enough to pay for that chair in this way.

in the city again. I mean her to do whatever she thinks would give her most pleasure. I cannot say that I am sorry I am to have a disappointment of that kind again. Meanwhile, of course, my $ is safe a day longer, and the saving of expenses, as well as what little extra I can make from a return to newspaper work, in the matter of special correspondent.

I did not tell you in former letter that my brother was kept off at Port Huron by the Customs. I had to come on without it and only got into the last night for the first time. It was sent along from Chicago, their arrangements I made there and has been here for a week. Everything is all right, and not having to bother about it a saving in time. I did not let it cost me anything in money.

Got a very nice note from Mrs Allan, then about to go, asking me to look after one of the maids out. Unfortunately, the letter arrived at Allans

When when the men tried to form a union to prevent this sort of tyranny every man who joined it was forthwith dismissed. The Co. has to put in its statement to-day, this week, and the documents will be examined, among the rest. At Extension we took the school house for a court; let the children have a half holiday. We went up and back on special train, and had altogether a most interesting afternoon there. A village a year ago of between 1000 & 2000 has now only a few people in it. Stores, churches, hotels &c all closed up. Just think of this mill of the autocrat who owns in his own right about 1/3 of Vancouver Is. and 1/2 its wealth. I don't wonder workingmen are becoming socialistic. They are being driven to it.

Tomorrow we open for a two or three days sitting here in Victoria, and will sit where the assize Court has been held. The Attorney General has placed the Court House at our disposal in all the places where there are any. After concluding Victoria, we return to Esquimalt, then to Nanaimo, and perhaps to Cumberland. — And that brings me to another point, which is that I will likely not be back till the 1st of July. The Commissioners felt they could not do justice to the work in the time allotted and asked me to write for an extension of time & funds. We have got now to July 1st and an additional $5000. Then I waited on Friday to get the government steamer Quadra put at our disposal and got a wire back that the Minister of Marine had instructed she was to be. I have since made arrangements about her here. We will have the boat now for what-ever we want her, and will probably use her next week to go to Cumberland which is near the North end of Vancouver Is. It is possible that both Mrs. Hunter and Mrs Rowe will take that trip with us. How I wish Mother were here to do the same. How I fear Mother's illness will still have to suffer another postponement. I am most sorry to disappoint her again so often. If it is July before I get back it will be for her to decide in the interval whether she would rather come down during that month, when the chances are we would be most of the time at Kingsmere, for Ottawa would be too hot; or wait until the fall, when we would be both

H Cameron, Hobbs Registrar of Supreme Court, is not looking out for himself he would be the best one to speak to Fitzpatrick. I think every stone possible should be turned. I would write myself, but I know Hulock would resent it, and he would be more likely to do something by not doing anything. If Falles could establish an office connection of some kind it would do much good, the want of one is apt to militate against him. If any of the present judges could put in a word, as well as members of the bar it would be a good thing. Perhaps something might be worked up in the nature of a petition to the powers from some school graduates, if it could be gotten into secure hands, and were certain of getting it. If generally signed it would be something this power could not overlook, but would be better left alone unless certain to be well filled. No doubt Falles is watching every thing, but I would have no hesitation in reserve, even to speaking to Hulock himself if a suitable occasion were presented.

I must tell you that I like both Chief Justice Meredith and Mr. his Honor very much. They are both fine men. The C.J. is extremely unconventional and has no use for frills or belly crawling. He is a man out and out and one I think most desirous of being eminently fair.

I was interested in seeing by the papers that Sir Wm had been

The Hamilton Times still relies on Stratton.

The Ross government is delighted that it built up Ontario before this crisis in the building trades occurred.

The longshoremen of Montreal came to terms suddenly. They must have heard that W. L. M. King was coming.

Canada might resent this insolence from Andrew Carnegie, if he had not paid for it in advance at a fairly high rate per word.

The Telegram is still anxious to know how it is possible for anyone to have cold feet with the mercury only sixty-five degrees below zero.

A little pressure, diplomatically exerted, might induce the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway to patronize Canadian ports in consideration of a subsidy of seventy-five million dollars.

The Globe is hot on the trail of perjurers, and witnesses for the defence in the Stratton investigation may consider themselves lucky that they did not offend in this particular respect.

Strange, that Attorney - General Gibson should not be enthusiastically in favor of municipal ownership, when the Hamilton and Cataract Power Co., of which he is president, worships the principle from the bottom of its heart.

Wallace Nesbitt, K.C., a Tory, has been appointed Registrar in the Supreme Court. There is great indignation over this insult to the Provincial Bar & Liberals generally, & it will be condemned tomorrow. Every one is astonished. It is a political blunder & worse than that. Sutherland is unwell for that.

Arthur Anglin has not been appointed yet, but there is no doubt Murdock had been intended by him; but there have been letters of remonstrance sent to Ottawa by numbers of persons, & it is just possible the appointment may not be made. Communicated with Ross who said he would confer with Mr Murdock & Fitzpatrick to-night. Ross said he thought I deserved the appointment, & he would confer with Laurier & put the matter strongly. I also saw Johnson who was to write Murdock on my behalf also this afternoon. Then I saw Aylesworth who went to Ottawa to-night & will see Fitzpatrick & Murdock to-morrow. My dear Willie:

I am held on to the former letter in order to keep you about letters arising this am: Both Sir William and Sutherland answered promptly, & both letters are rather formal. Murdock says that I do him an injustice in saying that he has a controlling influence and can appoint me if he wants, & goes on to explain that, at the Council, Ministers exchange views, & are less often to differ than others, & that the Council is more often governed than ruling. But he ends up with this: When the question of another appointment to the Bench comes before Council I shall have a pleasure in recomfrom a name for favourable consideration".

That sounds better than one of his former letters in which he said these things were in the hands of the Minister of Justice, that he (Sir) could not promise. What do you think of it?

Sutherland says, inter alia, "I know these Judicial appointments pretty much to the members of the legal profession in the Cabinet, but I shall be very pleased to put in a good word for you in this connection if opportunity offers".

I saw Sir Louis Davies last evening at the Parliament Buildings. He is out of town to-day. Ross said he would introduce me & I could then tell them.

Mr Chipman writes me saying that, at his (Sir) request, Premier Mr. A.E. for Board, Solicitors constituency, has had his hope the Hon. Attorney General come out for a Judicial appointment & the Family Compact on the Bench. Have written for some copies of the paper.

To all at Home;

I was glad to receive Father's long and interesting letter this week, with the enclosed article on the Commission, which I think a first rate one. This is the only letter received however, as soon as I read what was said about not working for a Peerage I telegraphed at once, that I had made mention in last Sunday's letter. There were twelve in the press of the Appointments, one headed Herbert - the other Sir Robert is there not yet a third? My feeling is that if Father had an offer or partnership of some kind his name would be greatly improved, and I think if it could be made only for the term of Parliament with some firm that has a large practice it would be a desirable thing to taken this last week has gone to show that thro' the influence of agitators from the United States, one or two Canadian unions have been compelled or induced to break their agreements with their employers and that considerable loss to Canadian trade has followed in consequence. I think the best that report will take will be to advise legislation which will secure to local unions complete control of their own affairs, avoidance of interference from without, the incorporation of trade unions, the settlement of disputes by compulsory investigation, with powers to the parties to submit to compulsory final arbitration where difference of sufficient importance. Also the advisability of long term agreements between employers & organized trade unions as a protection against sympathetic strikes, or with or other strikers. The right to belong to a union and to employ non union men, with adequate protection to both rights, and further legislation against intimidation and boycott will likely be other features I see the English Government have decided upon a Commission to visit the States of Trades Unions there.

The work has left me very busy, but except for a heavy cold of which I am getting rid I depress I think I am much better for the change. I feel much benefited and the chance of making an additional $500 a my salary is I assure you abhorred to the full.

Those all are well at home. Jessy a letter a week after it is written is rather unsatisfactory but a crime to me as secretary of

My Dear Willie:

I am writing my own letter to tell you about the judgeship question, except that Mr. Barwick, M.P.P., Mr. Patterson's strongest supporter, & the publisher of the Mail and Empire, has written Patterson strongly in my favour. I was also handed to-day at the Governor-General's garden party Mr. Foster's letter in reply to Dr. Black's. It assures Dr. Black that he will take very care to ensure full consideration being given to my claims when the question of filling the vacancy is under the consideration of the

You were here too. She asked if you had any sketches of her nephews Lord Dunlevy & your mother said very often & very kindly. Your mother thanked both Lord & Lady Minto for their kindness to you & they said they were pleased to see you very much. I was glad they were so well & your mother also, I am sure, made a most favourable impression on them. We were very late in getting to the party — late as I am to write but we enjoyed it very much. We are all very well & I hope you are. You must not worry any more over that claim, & I am very sorry you are teasing yourself with unnecessary regrets. If you follow my advice you will find that after all the work, the money you need it.

We all send much love & I am, ever,
Your loving Father.

for one in your present position to coincide with a party measure. However much fair your correspondence may be if it left out it will prejudice you. William is advocating compulsory arbitration in the News, & my two articles on the Colonial Cities & the City Members have not seen it. I see him another article a few days ago on the Macdonald Memorial — supporting the proposal to erect a memorial to the late Sir Hector ~~Memorial~~ Macdonald. The Peters have been very nice in their stay with us & how they are our warm friends. He has also read his Evelyn Talbot's wedding. Jane went to Ottawa no doubt. He and had some long walks with me Peter also is very companionable. On Sunday we went up through the old Fort & then the Stanley Barracks grounds, & yesterday (holiday) we went to the Island (Hanlan's Pt.), walked round the Centre Island, down to the Ferry took a boat, down & right past all through there, & back again by the Church cars. My Dear Willie:

As your mother has just written you I can't add very much except about myself & my doings. We were at the Woodbine on Saturday, the opening day of the races, & enjoyed the day secondarily. It was an ideal day. Your mother looked well & attracted a good deal of attention. Mr Peters took us down in ~~Mrs~~ P's of course went with us. The only sad incident was Joe Seagram's loss of his horse Ally-in-Amber. He broke his leg had to be shot on the track. Mr. Mrs. William were here to supper on Sunday evg. & stayed late nearly midnight. Mr. W. is very much interested in your commission & asked me if you intended to study existence or Forms. was one of the things he told Lord Aberdeen to depend on in the Globe. He seemed to enjoy his evening very much. I thought it strange that that should have been the first evening he spent in my house after all these years. Justin always say about the Judgeship. Having an office of any one, or such a business connection as Dr. mentions, is simply impossible. I can't afford the one, & as to the other I am called upon as a possible appointee to the Bench & did not like to accept a business connection under these circumstances. I am very fortunate in having the use of an office of the Hall. Sonia & I were at Lord Sutherland's & showed the letters of Mrs. Reeve & Mrs. Pettypiece to Mrs. S. in the same facetious strain as he answered her. By the way I am not sure that I told you of Mrs. Sutherland's said of him that he knows my qualifications and owned "Globby fort in a good word". Mrs. S. thinks this "distinctly favorable" & so do I. The other replies from Mrs. S. are to the same effect. Confer these with the others I have told you about & I think the prospects not unfavorable. My being a Presbyterian might operate in view of the fact that no less than four of the Cabinet Ministers, Clark, Winchester (Co. Ch. Judge) Judge Chisholm are Presbyterians. Archie Wolfe is also. If he can be induced to attend, the Cathedral. Just now I have received more letters than you mention from home. We have written regularly, & for a time I wrote every other day or so to Lily & you about the Judgeship. Most of our letters went to the Hotel Dalton, but Cathy, within the last week or so, to the Hotel Vancouver. I think you should drop your correspondence with the Times for two reasons, first, on the score of such a worry towards, and second, because it is unbecoming 5th Dec. In the evening Lily Jones & her husband & Dick Williams being here we had singing, dancing, etc. I think the Peters are going on Saturday & we shall miss them very much.

It was rather cold yesterday, but it turned warmer to-day; the rain, which was really needed, has fallen finely & everything looks beautiful. It is the season that I really enjoy.

Jim chartering the Quadra was a good stroke, & Jim seems on her with much loyalty. I really wish we were all with Jim. Jim's mother & the girls particularly. which for them as I read.

I am getting disgusted with the Clothiers Incendiary it is so namby-pamby-a-how-straddle-the-fence concern. I don't think it is of much help to the Liberal party or to either the Dom. or Provl. government. As a party paper it is going down, for two years I would give it up altogether. Incendiary does not write as the Papers William did, & unless he mends his ways he ought to get the sack. Preston is on the paper now shorthanding for some time, & Incendiary was telling me that he would like to get Lewis back again.

Morgan paid me part of what he owed on the watch I did for him Dec 24th Cross - Ely Venner Company & the Wedding of Ste. I declined to pay the balance, & I really owed Lewis, because we can't afford to lose the debt. You may remember that I sold and assigned to you all the debts that would be payable to me in that matter. It has occurred to me that, as you will not return till July, it would be well to cancel that assignment to you & for me to sue for the claim & have it taken in my own name, without delay, the claim can be tried. Are you willing to do this? Please reply at once as I want to take action for Morgan also who owes Lewis balance.

We are very well at home. Hopkins left us last Monday a.m. & we shall miss them. They were very nice visitors & very well at home. I found them very companionable & Jessie himself especially.

I sent Willison to-day two Star articles - one on "Confessing," & the other on "Dr. Hunter's films," & he is College friend of mine, who is in the city, from London, England. He is a distinguished preacher, scholar, lecturer & author. Pulpit, public & platform. Willison wants me to hear him last Evg. at St James Square. I saw you were heartily taken with his discourse, but he is one of the leaders of the British church at the same.

I have nearly my little other news. Jessie mother will probably write to-day. I feel I have items that I have omitted. I am only assuming you that always well at home. in the past few weeks been reduced to comparative penury as a result of their ventures in stocks. And it is to be hoped that the recent sad experience of the community may have from henceforth a salutary restraining effect on the speculatively inclined.

Dr. Munro Gibson.

The presence in Toronto of Dr. Munro Gibson, of St. John's Wood Presbyterian Church, London, is interesting to many besides those within the pale of his own communion. Dr. Gibson is a Canadian, who, as preacher, lecturer, scholar and author, has made the name of Canada respected and honored in the Mother Land. His eight or nine volumes on various phases of the evidences of Christianity and Biblical truth, and his able contributions to the best periodical literature of the day, have made him famous in all churches. His gifts are many, and are of that practical, popular character which enable him to use them to the best advantage, and to give him a wide range of manly, Christian influence. They have been recognized by his elevation to the highest positions of honor in the English Presbyterian Church and in the National Council of the Free Evangelical Churches of England and Wales. A divine of liberal views, and of broad, genial, kindly sympathies, Dr. Gibson is altogether an attractive personality, and a first-rate all round man.

As the first winner of the Prince's Prize, the gift of the present King, and the once highest distinction of our Provincial University, in a brilliant period of its history, Dr. Gibson will be welcomed there. He revisits his old academic home, through which hundreds of gownsmen have passed since his day, to see it girdled with colleges, and a great centre of the higher learning and of national influence. He will find an old classmate its President, and not a few of his contemporaries in the most honorable places in Church and State, on the bench, in the busy marts of commerce, and in the educational and learned professions. He will find, also, Canadian national sentiment stronger than ever it was, and Canada, we doubt not, will always find in him a true and loyal friend.

Lord Minto, whose welcome stay in Toronto has popularized himself, his family and his high office in many ways, gave some good advice to the school-boy cadets. "Be courteous" was the main tenor of his brief but seasonable speech. His Excellency said:

"Both pupils and teachers ought to remember that it is not the actual education, but the training of the general character which tends to insure the success of the race. With all the self-reliance that marks a new country like this, it would be well to remember the generous traditions and the courteous manners of the Old Country. There was sometimes a tendency to demonstrate self-reliance by a want of respect to fellow-men and to those in authority. While he was a believer in self reliance and in the words of the poet:

'The rank is but the guinea's stamp,
The man's the gowd for a' that.'

he thought one was much more likely to succeed by learning respect to those above and courteous manners. Respect was not at all an imitation of servility, and he felt sure that the younger generation would benefit by studying the generous traditions of the Old World to which he had already alluded."

This advice implied no reflection on his Excellency's public school audience. But it was timely, and, if what has been remarked by other observers be true, it touched one of the infirmities of Canadian youth. The Canadian boy has a fair average of virtues. He is probably neither better nor worse than other boys; but in a country described by an eminent publicist as "rough, raw and demorratic," juvenile graces of behavior will always stand in need of cultivation. It is well to see ourselves as others see us and not to be over-sensitive of the criticism. Dr. Newman Hall, the famous preacher of Surrey Chapel, who labored among the working classes and the slums of London, once said that Canadians could learn something of respect for their elders from the poorest lads in his parish. The gallery witticisms of a university convocation are too often the scene of rudeness, although probably not so intended. The president of Princeton College was so "roughed" on one of these occasions in Toronto that he was forced to bring his address to a close. The late Premier, Mr. Hardy, was similarly treated. Lord and Lady Aberdeen, most kindly critics of anything Canadian, more than once hinted that youthful respect for age and authority in this country might be very much improved. Dr. Armstrong Black, a good sample of the courteous Scottish divine, spoke very plainly on the same topic to his hearers at St. Andrew's not very long ago. "Courtesy and a consideration for the feelings of others is one of the best tests of a gentleman," was the fit rebuke of a Toronto college professor to his ill-mannered, unruly class. Obedience is on the same plane, and it was impressed on the cadets by Earl Dundonald. "They must remember," he said, "that no man ever became great in commanding others who did not first learn to obey. The man who could not obey could never command." And he might have added that the courteous youth is never slow to obey in either civil or military life.

In his "Recollections of an ex-French Master in England," Max O'Rell says: "I have often been asked the question, 'Are English boys better or worse than French ones?' Well, I believe the genus boy to be pretty much the same all the world over. Their characteristics do not show in the same way, because educational systems are different. They are both inclined to bestow their affection and respect on the man who is possessed of moral and intellectual power; it is in their nature to love and respect what is powerful, lofty and good. Boys are what masters make them."

The clever Frenchman, who delighted many an audience with his shrewd observations on men and manners, knew what he was writing about. The courteous master makes the courteous boy.

Dear Father:

Will you please, on receipt of this letter, send to W. Fitzgerald Superintendent of Insurance, Finance Department, Ottawa. a declaration made before a commissioner as to the date of my birth, and age. Before leaving I arranged to take out a paid-up policy for $2,000 with the government. In order to get it at the 28 year age the certificate has to be in by the 16th of the month. I have sent the money, and will rely on you sending the certificate on receipt of this letter.

Mr. Fitzgerald, when he was talking to me, said he knew you very well, so perhaps, in enclosing thecertificate, you might enclose a personal note to him.

With many thanks,

Yoursaffectionately,

July 16th 1903.

Dear Father & Mother:

I have at last started on the home route having the first three weeks it has been work work all the time to get the report through mostly and I have left writing [illegible] more than I had intended. However, I will have lots of news to give you when I arrive Saturday & I came over yesterday, and leave today I intend to stop off at Laggan or Banff for a day to see the scenery, and then have to stop at Calgary probably for a day or two on account of a strike there. Unless I get a telegram from Ottawa to me under the belief I will return by way of Toronto.

I have never enjoyed 3 weeks more than the time spent with the Hunters, we have all got to be great friends, and we all felt it hard to break of the ~~last~~ night before last. I have gained 14 lbs. since coming out, most of it at the Hunters and weigh now in summer clothes 177 lbs. The change of work and climate has done me an immense amount of good.

I am hurrying now to get the train, but must to take a photograph of Jean Dawnie's house before leaving so must close. This is only to send my best love to all and to let you know I will probably turn up in a day or two.

Ever Lovingly Yours.

I am glad Daily's lecture was such a success. I will tell you a funny thing about Daily's letter. I walked on Sat before Christmas and she returned

Despite my promise to do better I fear I have again allowed a long time to pass without writing. The truth is really this, there has been so much to do and so much that I would like to tell about that I allowed the letter always to have a reproach of the former, which for the moment does not seem justified in view of possible Parliamentary more favourable.

To begin with, it soon became apparent after we were at Vancouver, that the business we had there was so important that it could not be concluded properly in two weeks, this meant letters and [illegible] of time of the Commission, or cutting

Mr Vancouver we managed to effect a settlement of the W&K & strike and sympathetic strikers, largely thro' the pressure we were able to bring to bear & compounding all the letters and documents relating to the trouble on both sides, and procuring all telegrams sent during the preceding months to our inquiry. The latter have given us a complete case against the foreign agitators. and the strike itself and its management - an excellent opportunity is shown of the weak spots in labour organization and suggest means for its effective betterment.

The sittings at Vancouver were concluded a week ago today, and we came then to Victoria. Since Tuesday I have been with the Chief Justice at his house. Mrs Hamber has been here most of the time, tho' on one or two days we were alone, she being at their Summer home at Cobble Hill. They have both been exceedingly kind to me, and there is every thing here to make the time pass very happily. The house is situated by the water's edge and I can look out at the water thro' the trees from my bedroom as I lie in bed, or from the French windows of the book library in which I work. The Judge and I are working up the report together. All week I have been trying to piece the narrative together, and he has been outlining recommendations. His home is working up recommendations and some points he thinks ought to be brought out. We have worked pretty steadily all week, morning afternoon & night. There is an immense amount of material, over 2000 pages of evidence alone. Fielden has not been able to complete it all yet. I have yet to know both Mr & Mrs Hamber very well and like them both exceedingly. They are whole hearted natural people and good company in

I expect to have quite a number of views to show. I enclose one as a specimen, to illustrate state of health, and quality of camera. It was taken on the way over to Victoria from Vancouver, the day we concluded the sittings there. I will be able to take better views in her Canadian dress, and some of the other members of the family in many modes and places. I think the investment a good one.

I am through with the newspaper work, which I gave up after Judgement in Cumberland, largely because I was too much worked. I got a check for $45.50 for the work I did, which will nearly pay for that chair. Judge Hunter told me when I came to stay here, that Hewes was not doing this for the fun but for me, and he wanted me to understand I was render a better account on my bill of expenses. This means a saving of another $50.00 or more. While there are disadvantages in being away so long there are still compensations.

My dear Max:

Your letter,which was mailed at Toronto on Friday night, was not received by me until this morning. I see from the post-mark that it was received at ten o'clock on Saturday morning but as we are only in the office half a day on Saturday it was not delivered until this morning.

I have read with great interest all that you say about Denver,and must say that I think you have been very fortunate in the kind of prospect which you appear to have secured there. Should you remain determined in your decision to go to Denver,or any other place,I will,of course,be only too glad to give you any assistance financially which it may be in my power to do when occasion arises,although,as you know,it is well to avoid incurring obligations on possible future contingencies,no matter how certain they may appear to be. For example,I feel that it is very probably that a Dominion election may come off this fall. Should the Liberal government be defeated,and a Conservative administration returned to power,it is quite possible that my services might be altogether dispensed with,in which event any little savings I have on hand might be necessary to tide me over the temporary stranding of some kind or another. The amount I have laid aside thus far is not very large. In fact it is little more than enough,if it is enough,to guarantee my ability to meet the premiums on a somewhat heavy life insurance which I will be called upon to meet in the next two or three years. I have taken a heavy insurance,as I believe that is the best way for one in my position to save money,and at the same time be of service to those who have a right to look to me for help. I feel that the money which I have thus far saved during the next few months should be left intact to secure the payment of my insurance politices for the next few years. On the other hand,I have great confidence in your ability to succeed,and don't think that once you have commenced practice in any place you will ever become much in need of financial aid,and as I have already stated that if that time should ever come,and I am in a position to help you,you may count with absolute certainty upon my aid.

I have been turning over in my mind very carefully,since my last visit hom,what father and mother both said to me in regard to your desire to begin a practice in Ottawa. Their idea was that if you felt I were agreeable,you would prefer to open up here and come to Ottawa,in preference to going elsewhere. I can assure you that as far as I am concerned it would be a great pleasure to me to have you here,and since I have come down I have been making enquiries from one source or another as to the probable future which you would have in the event of beginning a practice here. I have also tried to see if there is any chance of getting you into one of the hospitals here. Dr Minnes,who is one of the appointing board at the Protestant Hospitalwhich is the best hospital in the city,and which has some six or eight resident doctors,says that he thinks he can assure you the first vacancy which may arise at that hospital. He was able to get his brother-in-law and a friend of his from Kingston on the resident staff,and if you thought of coming to Ottawa he thinks that your wisest plan would be to begin as a resident physician at a hospital and start up practice later. All of the hospitals are filled at the present time,and you may have to wait sometime for a vacancy,so that you could not count definitely even on that. On the other hand,if you thought of beginning practice without entering a hospital first,I would be quite prepared to enter into some arrangement with you whereby we could take a house together and share expenses. My suggestion would be that we rent a small house in a good part of the city,and secure a working house-keeper,who could look after our meals,washing &c. and wait on any patients who might possibly show up during the course of the year. With careful financing on a division of expenses,I think we might get along in this way on an outlay of $300 or $400 a piece for the first year. An arrangement of this kind would not involve you in any expense beyond what you have,cash in hand to meet. On the other hand, you would,at the end of the year,if you found it was difficult to work up a practice,have all but a certain chance of getting into one of the hospitals here or in Toronto.

Of course I am not able to advise you as to what headway you might make here. While from what I see,I am inclined to believe that with the friends you might make and in other ways,a moderate practice might be soon obtained,I feel that as a matter of years there is no doubt an excellent practice might be worked up in time. Dr.Minnes,who is a young man of about 34,has really more business than he can look after. Dr.McCarthy about the same age,but who had good connection through his father and uncle,Sir James Grant,has also a practice of the same kind He is,unfortunately, unwell and I am afraid may not be able to resume his work in Ottawa. Dr.McArthur who came here a little over a year or so ago,but who,as you know,is a man well on in years,has worked up,I believe, a first-rate practice and is doing well. I know one or two doctors who have not much business,but I don't think they have the personality which is apt to inspire the kind of confidence which it is essential for a successful practictioner to create.

As between Denver and Ottawa I do not think that I am competent to advise you,and I feel that the decision is one which you should arrive at by yourself. If you go to Denver, as I have said,I will be pleaed to give you any assistance which I may be able whenever occasion requires. If you come to Ottawa I will do all I can to assist you here,and as I have said,would personally be very glad to have you come.

I fear that unless taken to Toronto by special work it will not be possible for me to get up this week. Perhaps you might be able to work your way down on board ship through the Rideau Canal. If so,I will be glad to look after you when here,and you could then have an opportunity of talking with and getting the view of the doctors,and looking over the ground yourself. Perhaps you would feel that the circumstances warranted the outlay on your part of sufficient to pay the return trip to Ottawa by rail. If so,come along at any time,and I will be glad to welcome you.

With best love,

Affectionately yours,

July 30,1903.

My dear Jennie:

I have been talking to Mrs.Daly about your chances of getting something to do in connection with one of the schools in Boston or Cambridge,and she has been very kind in offering to do anything she can to help you in the matter. She says that,not being a university graduate,you would have little or no chance at the outset in the schools for grown-up girls who are being prepared for the university,but that there might be an opening in some of the schools where younger children are trained. She mentioned,in particular, a school in Cambridge,which I know very well,and which was formerly Miss Markham's school. Miss Katherine Thompson succeeded Miss Markham when the latter was married,and it is now her school. Miss Daly is going to write to her personally about you,and she has advised me to tell you to write to Miss Thompson direct. Her address is Katherine M.Thompson, 2 Mercer Circle, Cambridge. In your letter,Miss Daly suggests that you say you are desirous of becoming a regular teacher in a school for girls or young ladies,that you have not had a university training,but that you have had a good deal to do with teaching children and managing them. Mention that you think you would be qualified to do elementary teaching in any of the branches which children are likely to be taking up,that you could teach music if necessary,and also make special mention of the physical culture work,telling her of classes of girls which you have trained in dumb-bells,Indian clubs and the like. Say that you would be pleased to know the nature of the different classes in her school,and the kind of preparation required. Also say that if she thought there was a probability of your being taken on to her staff that you would,if necessary,go to Cambridge and talk with her about the matter. (I will,if necessary. see that you get a return ticket for this purpose). You might conclude by saying that if she has not an opening in her own school at the present time,that you would be pleased if she would keep you in mind in the event of their being future openings,and also ask her if she could suggest possible opportunities elsewhere.

I think I have met Miss Thompson one myself,during a recent visit to Cambridge. You might mention,in an indirect way,that possibly she knows your brother,who is Deputy Minister of Labour at Ottawa,who mentioned to you that he had met her in Cambridge about a year ago. I would suggest that you take care care in the letter which you prepare to send to Miss Thompson,to make it as brief and concise as possible. Perhaps it would be just as well to say nothing about terms,and let her know that what you wish is an opportunity of commencing work of the kind,and that you desire particularly to be in either Boston or Cambridge because of the opportunities for study,as well as the advantageous associations of the places in other ways. Perhaps father would revise the letter for you before you send it,but I would advise you to send it as soon as possible. Mrs.Daly will probably write at once.

MrsDaly's younger sister,who is about your age,has recently taken over a girls' school in Savannah,S.C. She is going to visit Mrs.Daly probably in the latter part of August or September,and Mrs.Daly thinks that maybe she could make an arrangement with you whereby the two of you could have something to do in the running of her new school,provided her staff is not already made up to the full. Of this,however. I will write you more fully another time.

The salary at the start would probably not be more than $400 up to $600,which would be the amount paid for 8 months' work. If in any way I can help you to get an opening at either of the places I have mentioned,I will do so,as I think in every way it would prove of great advantage to you.

I got your letter from Belle Ewart and thank you very much for it.

Yours affectionately,

Miss Jennie King,

Hon. Wm. Mackenzie
Dict. C.

Aug.8,1903.

Dear Father:

I enclose herewith the copy of which I wrote to you yesterday. There is in galley form a review of the report of the Commission,as it will appear in this month's Labour Gazette. In writing,therefore,any article for any of the papers on this report it might be well not to follow too closely the exact language of this review,but change it about,making some additions from the report,the proofs of which I am also enclosing in page form. I don't think that the report will be laid on the table of the house before the end of next week,probably Friday. If you should give it to the paper before that date,see that they hold it until you give authority to release it. I will write or telegraph you in time. I think that perhaps you might make quite a lengthy news article,giving the substance of the report,particularly that part dealing with general conclusions, and perhaps write two or three editorials on different parts of the report and its recommendations. It might be well to talk over this with Mr.Willison first.

I wish you would tell Max that my letter to him was intended as a promise to give him a loan of money,if I have it at the time. It is quite impossible for me to forsee possible happenings any more than it is for him to know what amount in all he may require. If I have the money,and so far as I see at present I see no reason why I should not have it,I will certainly make him the advance that he requires. To say that I would be sure to give him the amount he asks could not be any stronger promise than the one I am making in this way. I am only putting in a saving clause which is absolutely necessary.

I have been thinking a good deal about the possibility of Jennie getting an opening at Boston. In every way I feel it would do her a great deal of good. Mrs.Daly has written very fully and heartily to Miss Thompson,and I am sure that if she has an opening at all with her school Jennie will get it. You might tell her that I will give her the trip to Boston as a birthday present,or if she does not receive a favourable reply. will give her a trip down here to meet Mrs.Daly's sister from Savannah,who is likely to be here the end of this month,and during September. She could come by way of the Rideau lakes with

Max,if he decides to take the trip also,and in that way might spend a day or two at the Penses in Kingston,and she and Max could have a couple of days in Ottawa. I mention this now in case that she may feel there are a few things that she would like to get ready in the interval.

I hope that Max is much better,and that both mother and yourself feel relieved of anxiety,and are up to the mark again.

With best love to all,

Every affectionately yours,

Aug.I5,I903.

My dear Jennie:

I have just this minute opened your letter,with which is enclosed Miss Thompson's reply to you. The latter I like in every way,and think it is promising rather than otherwise.

I should have mentioned in my letter to you that my idea was that you should enter Radcliffe College,which is a ladies school corresponding to Harvard,as a student in English and History or whatever other subject you thought you would care to become specially familiar with and subsequently teach. You would not live in the school at which you would teach,but at a private residence where you would have your own room. In this connection I thought of my old room at Mrs.Williams on Somner street. The teaching would probably take only a couple of hours each day. The rest of the time you would have for studying and attending lectures at Radcliffe. You might not get enough out of teaching the first year to meet all living expenses,but I would endeavor to see you through on that score. In fact if I can secure for you work of any kind in Cambridge I would like you to have a year at Radcliffe and get an opportunity to start there.

My own life at Harvard I look back to as the most inspiring period of my life,and Cambridge is the most delightful city to live in that I know of. I think that the atmosphere of the place and its associations would do you a world of good, and I would rather have you take up seriously good,practical, useful work of this kind which would be a source of improvement as well as enjoyment to you all your life,than have you spend any of your talents on work which can only help to serve the ends of individuals who already are too much pampered by this world's goods.

I would like you to act at once on Miss Thompson's suggestion,and write to Miss Mary Coes,Secretary of Radcliffe College,IO Garden Street,Cambridge,Mass.,stating to her that you are desirous of undertaking teaching in Cambridge,particularly in connection with some school for young girls or children; that in the event of not forming a connection with a school,you would be willing for the first year to undertake the teaching of children privately; that your wish is to attend Radcliffe College as a special student,taking courses in English and History. You might mention to her that you have already had considerable experience with the teaching of girls and managing them,and that at the present time you are in charge of a holiday house,where you are giving a summer outing to a number of children that you have been looking after through the winter months. Mention your calisthenic work &c.

Then you had better write also to Mr.Arthur Gilman. 36 Concord Ave.,Cambridge,in much the same strain as you wrote to Miss Thompson. You might say in both letters that you can get the best of testimonials &c. from the best sources in Toronto. and say also that Mrs.Daly,now of Ottawa,Canada (née Miss Haskell formerly head of a ladies' school on Marlborough street,Boston) would be pleased to write them privately as to you.

I am going to write to-day to Miss Marsh,of Cambridge, who has done some teaching herself,and might be able to put you on the right track,and I will write to Mrs.Williams,telling her that there is a possibility of your going to Cambridge,and not to let my old room go untilshe hears definitely from me.

Please do not lose any time about writing to both persons mentioned in this letter. Mrs.Daly's sister,who has succeeded her in Boston,is in Ottawa for a few days,and I will talk with her to-day. She and Mrs.Daly are going out to Kingsmere for the afternoon. Her other sister will be here early in September,and I would like,on that account,for you to get replies from Cambridge before that time,if possible.

I hope that in thanking Miss Thompson you did not say anything about living in the school. I presume that you have not. You would be much freer the other way,and it is the kind of arrangement that is most generally made.

You had better make up your mind that you will be leaving home in September to fit yourself for special work on the lines mentioned,as I feel quite confident that if this matter is pressed,an opening of some kind will come.

It has occurred to me also that perhaps I had better write to Mrs.Scudder (formerly Miss Markham,who lives in Cambridge,and who would be a good person to interest herself in you.

You had better,in writing to Miss Coes,ask her to send you a calendar of Radcliffe College,and also any other particulars as to course of instructions,giving fees &c. Have father look over the letters that you write,but lose as little time as possible concerning them.

when taking the room. I start to-night at a ranch called the Harlan, across the road from the Ames. I shall probe there by the week & after getting to know all the people there pretty well shall move on to another place.

I should have told you I saw Dr. Sewell on Friday night & part of Monday morning I spent with him on his rounds. Saw lots of things & enjoyed myself generally & I find my work comes from 9-11 hrs morning in the week after Xmas & before that time I shall have to take charge of some first year surgeries. Consequently my office hours will be 11 to 1 in the morning & 4 to 6 in the afternoon, evenings & Sundays by appointment.

the most satisfactory hotel I have as yet stayed at in Denver. Yesterday Sunday morning I started out looking a room & secured one in the same block as the Arms, just across the road from a large establishment, the G. W. C.A. My land lady is quite thick with the Irish & promises to adventure me. However I do not intend to stay here permanently but shall lie in wait for an opening at the Arms. My room is a front one with three windows & promises to be very comfortable. The land lady is shutting in a telephone for me & I am in a very convenient location for Dr. Denelli's rooms & my office. However after two meals to-day I decided to go out on 'phoin which I obtained perhaps you, like Jennie, might pick up some little thing that I have left behind, for example there is an very good telescope valise there which I am sure would arouse warm feelings when using.

I arrived in Denver at 8.30 (on Tue) on Sunday night. It was, & is still, quite cold here, almost freezing. However it was very splendid after the sweltering heat of things. On telephoning to the Arms, the boarding house I had intended to live in, I found that every room was taken & there was nothing for me left to do but to take a hotel for the night; so accordingly I put up at the Albany which proved to be

Dear Mr. Mackenzie King,

I am sending you herewith a copy of the Municipal Act, and can be found among the Statutes of Ontario. Chapter 223 of the Revised Statutes of Ontario. The Act is divided into Parts, and Parts into Sections, and Sections into Subsections. Part XII deals with Police Villages, and Section 541 is the Section which deals with the Police Village of Rockcliffe. Subsection 1 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

1. For establishing a police village, and for defining the limits thereof, and for altering the limits of any police village established by the Council."

Subsection 2 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

2. For providing for the appointment of a board of police village trustees, and for defining their duties."

Subsection 3 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

3. For providing for the appointment of a police village clerk, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 4 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

4. For providing for the appointment of a police village constable, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 5 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

5. For providing for the appointment of a police village treasurer, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 6 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

6. For providing for the appointment of a police village auditor, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 7 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

7. For providing for the appointment of a police village assessor, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 8 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

8. For providing for the appointment of a police village collector, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 9 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

9. For providing for the appointment of a police village solicitor, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 10 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

10. For providing for the appointment of a police village engineer, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 11 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

11. For providing for the appointment of a police village surveyor, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 12 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

12. For providing for the appointment of a police village inspector, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 13 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

13. For providing for the appointment of a police village overseer, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 14 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

14. For providing for the appointment of a police village pathmaster, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 15 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

15. For providing for the appointment of a police village fence viewer, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 16 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

16. For providing for the appointment of a police village pound keeper, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 17 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

17. For providing for the appointment of a police village weed inspector, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 18 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

18. For providing for the appointment of a police village sealer of weights and measures, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 19 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

19. For providing for the appointment of a police village sealer of leather, and for defining his duties."

Subsection 20 of Section 541 reads as follows:

"Subject to the provisions of this Act, the Council of a township may pass by-laws for the following purposes:

20. For providing for the appointment of a police village sealer of boots and shoes, and for defining his duties."

Jennie encloses the Calendar of the Conservatory Physical Culture & letter enquiries. Terms for a special physical culture course is $30 (see p. 27). That presumes it for the whole four years course; but I will ascertain definitely before I send this letter. The tuition, etc is in the forenoon; so are Mrs. Irving's lectures, so that Jennie could not take both.

Thursday, am.

Since writing the above I have seen Mrs. Carlton as to the physical culture course. The whole course for one term, e.g. from now to Xmas, is $30.00 — an absurdly high price in my opinion, and not to be thought of. The purely physical culture course, without the literature, etc. would be $10.00. We are told, however, that there are two other teachers who are just as good, but who charge less, & we shall be able to hear them right away. The Mrs. Carlton's course is one hour (9 & 10 am.) every day for 5 days. If this week, it would conflict with Jennie's English History at the University, if she took those subjects. The Nursery Jun for Eng. & Philos. are $15.00 — both in advance. Terms for physical culture, I understand, are the above both in advance.

Tuesday evening I spent at the home of Miss Doran the young lady I told you about meeting at Cooke's church. Her parents the Wilsons are very nice people & have any amount of money. Miss Doran & her sister Miss Wilson have been abroad in England & Scotland for several years & also went to Mrs. Dixon's for four years.

The land lady's daughter is all right again & I shall get a few dollars off my room rent on that deal. I have made arrangements to have breakfast at the house in the future as it will be very much more convenient & cheaper. On Saturday evening I had a very pleasant time at the Watsons. They had a regular old time Hallowe'en party, ducking for apples etc. A prize, in the form of a big box of candies, was given for the best ghost story. ~~Between~~ Between times we were given a little ~~pot~~ of alcohol & had to tell a story while it burned. I won the prize. They were off with

This old paper must be used up before I spend the change.

Father & Mother's letters arrived the other day, as did the newspapers, which all were a great pleasure to me. I read Father's speech with very much interest. Also the correction of Bell's mark arrived & I read it over. There seems to be quite a list of mark & I should not wonder if Bell will find it pretty heavy after so many years of cerebral inactivity. However if she attends to that & leaves church work alone I think she will probably make a great success of it.

I must say I rather expected that speech from Father in regards to the lecturing & so was not at all shocked by the criticisms the family of having some very nice music.

I got one of the students as a patient the other day. There is no money in it but I considered not quite a compliment he should come to me, when he had the whole faculty to choose from, as none of them would charge him anything.

To night I am going to a ball at Cobourg Ball given by the Acanthus Club. Robinson who has been quite a friend of mine got me a complimentary invite. I shall tell you all about it when I write again.

Dear Brother,

I was so sorry yesterday before a letter written to you as the one to Clarke had to go. I do hope she had a happy birthday, the weather certainly is at its worst. We have not had a wind from sea in a very long time which must mean for us a very happy holiday. It is one way it seems unfortunate that we have been away two weeks, and yet again it seems for here even here home. The house is very quiet and Pettie and I miss you & Clarke very much. I will try and finish from Ottawa so you hope for at home. I do love to have Florence & Horace try to realize as it will take me all my time. I forgot a Xmas card with Horace for Charlie's birthday but had not time to make it. I sent her from Father & me, a pair of side combs, a thing to hold down her blouse and a doll "to play with". Poor Isabel. I feels so sorry for her; she is so conscientious. I saw Annie Wells at Marion's wedding and she said Isabel had been so discouraged and told Annie that if she did not succeed Willie would think she had not done her best. Annie says she is getting used to it now and is feeling much better.

Wednesday.

Jean's letter came yesterday; also the one from Isabel. I am sorry you have been feeling poorly but I do not wonder after all the rushing about. Isabel's note is a shade brighter. I think her birthday set her up.

Min was here for a couple of hours yesterday and went on to New York. Poor Min, it is rather tough on her

Dear Mother:

Mrs Bulleyment is in town for three weeks. Do you think I could have her for a couple of days to get my white dress made. Thursday is the only day I have no lectures so I would want to know in time to send her word.

I do hope you are quite better by now. We were very sorry to hear you were so poorly.

I asked Elsie Perrin out for today but she could not come. I was rather disgusted as the Willison boys have the tickets to take us to the theatre and she did not send me word till this morning.

The lecture is just going to begin so I must stop.

Best love to you & Willie

Dear Billee:

This of course is for Mother too but I want to ask you a couple of questions. First. Will you be here for the tenth and if so will you come with me to Government House Ball? If you will I should love to go as I have not been at a dance here for nearly three years. It is not to be a very large dance but I am sure will be most enjoyable as the Clarks know how to entertain. Then the next thing I want to know is whether you will let me have "Bryce" history for I am almost afraid there are to be exams before Xmas. I don't know anything of the work and when I get home from lectures am too tired to study. I think it must be, because I am not accustomed to so much knothing.

Thursday a. m.

Dear Mother:

I have only a moment this morning but want to send you Mac's letter and the enclosed envelope. Father has had to pay $50 on his insurance so you can imagine we are a little short for Christmas time.

Try & get Willie to come up for the ball for I should love to go but will not go without him. It is not to be a very large dance I believe.

I did not go to my lecture yesterday as I felt pretty sick but am alright again today. Mrs. Bulleyment is sewing for me but I would not have had her had I known about Father's insurance money. I hope you will not think me extravagant, but I had to pay out considerable for my dress.

We are looking forward so eagerly for your home coming. It seems scarcely possible that you will be home so soon. Mr Pense wanted to know if he got me a pass would I go down for the Christmas holidays. I told him nothing would induce me to be away for Christmas but he evidently thinks I will go down right after and I hate to refuse him but do not want to go.

Hope you are now quite strong again. We will take good care of you when we get you home.

Best love dear Mother, to you and Billie, also all enquiring friends

Yours lovingly

My dear Will, -

Why have you never written & let me know about the money? Here I am nearly stranded & I do not know which way to turn. If I only knew definitely whether or not you could let me have it I could govern my actions accordingly, but I do not want to draw upon my office etc. if you can possibly help me out. Do let me know right away.

I know you have been very worried with Mother or ill. Tell me exactly how she is. The fact that you do not write & do not tell me anything makes me think she must be very seriously ill.

Lots of patients are coming in but no money but I feel confident if I can only hang out a good paying practice will come.

Hoping you are quite well yourself & happy.

My dear Will,-

Although a little previous, I may not get the opportunity of some time again to write & wish you a happy birthday & so I am taking advantage of this beautiful Sunday afternoon to write. I have just returned from making a call at a house where a little girl let some hot water fall on her feet & rather badly scalded them. There is no ink but I imagine I shall have to wait a little while for it.

Yesterday we opened our Salvation Army dispensary, & have really got very nice rooms in the Salvation Army barracks. Many people in town are taking quite an interest in it & it has been freely discussed, in a complimentary manner, in the news papers. Dr. Cobb, the minister of the Central Presbyterian church, is going to refer to it from the pulpit,

Not that I envy it & shall ever have to call but I wish at the same time to know that it is there if really necessary.

a while it is best for one that I keep very quiet.

Jean enjoyed Gov. House. Had her photograph taken. There were a great number there. The Clarks were very nice to her. She was very tired today - she did not go to Sunday school but lay down and took a sleep and did not wake up again until father came in from church tonight.

Have you written to Mac yet? We have not heard from him since the last letter we had in Ottawa.

We were a Jew this letter up when you read it for I have a decided objection to having it left on your table.

Were the roses still fresh that we bought at the fair? I mean those left in your room.

I am glad you have been going out some. I think mixing with the people is as necessary as too much reading for too much knowledge is a weariness of the flesh. so the good book says.

I am going to bed thinking of how happy we were this day week ago.

With best love from all at home and especially from your loving

Mother

My dear Will, -

If I had the money I should telegraph you to night about the money. Here I am dead broke & have had to borrow to keep things going. My office rent is due on the 18th. & it means pay it or get out. And even if I do get out of the office what am I to do for board or room. Really I am nearly worried to death about it. If I knew decidedly that you could not give me the money it would be a relief for then I would get out & earn some of the means or somewhere, but I think you surely would have let me know before if you were not going to be able to help me, so am hanging on with the hopes of it showing up. I am getting desperate alright & am sure I shall make it go but I cannot get any money in. Please telegraph me a conclusive reply this time.

Your affectionate brother,
Mac.

Dear Mackenzie and Jessie.

I received your letter and was glad to hear that you were all well. I am very busy at present as we have a number of customers. I am getting on very well with my studies. I am in the Junior Fourth Class. I am also taking Shorthand and Typewriting. I like it very much. I have a good many lessons to learn. I am also taking Physical Culture

Jessie wrote you? They are waiting & your mother will return them in good time. I posted letters to Mrs. Hendry, the latter Capt. Hamilton last night at the station.
Your mother also wrote Mrs. H. & will post it to-day. Tell Miss Elliott that your mother further a Xmas card which I posted last night at the station also. We did not know her street address, but the direction was "Miss M. Marie E. Elliot, Opposite the Sherbourne, Ottawa" - was written very plainly as the ink ran on the soft cardboard.

We were all at church this ~~evening~~ afternoon.
Said Hoffs new year to every one. An offhand address from Dr. Mackay which we all liked. On returning Mrs. Denny & went together & collected our votes. Others commenced to make open calls in afternoon & evening, so much else with much love from everybody
Yours Loving Father.

Day by Day

New Year's Day, 1904. The event kindles the dullest imagination. It brings with it the sentiment as well as the reality of change; a sense of the untried, the unknown, the possible, pervades the idea of the New Year more than of any other time. The seasons in their course have each their secret possibilities, which we shall not know or realize until the season comes; but what enigmas are lying in the heart of the New Year! For once we may let ourselves go free, and live on New Year's Day under the golden roof of our all-sufficing "castle in Spain," where in fancy dwelleth the Lady Bountiful, where everything is possible if nothing is sure.

It is often said that it is well we do not know what is before us; that the future has been mercifully hidden; and that foreknowledge of events would rob man of all his energy and life of all its joy. This is but a half truth, to be measured according to the proportion of fear or hope in the individual mind. To some this prescience would be an incalculable blessing to others just as great a bane. The timid who lose their time and fret out their hearts for remote possibilities—who always foresee the worst, and take their chances of the die as already cast against them; who discern death in every sickness, ruin in every venture, misery through love and destruction through hate—would be spared many an unhappy hour if they could penetrate the dark veil of futurity, and see for themselves how vain their fears, how idle their forebodings. And those again, sanguine without cause, who count their harvests before seed time, and spend their strength in maturing profits that have neither vitality nor stableness, what a boon it would be to them if they could see ahead, and know in time that their work is of no more value than weaving garments of cobwebs, or spinning ropes out of sands of the sea! If something of precious energy would be lost, more of futile labor would be prevented; and of the two, perhaps, the latter would be the greater gain. Where we should lose would be in our foreknowledge of the happenings of evil, or of the final partings from those we love. If this would make us more tender and considerate, it would also make us more miserable and depressed. We should live in the shadow, growing darker as it advanced, and in its sombreness would be unfit for the duties of life. In no case would it be an unmixed good not to know, nor would it be an entire evil to be forewarned.

ness amidst the crowd of encircling mediocrities; and truths, as yet only half understood and not even half welcomed, will have advanced one stage nearer to general comprehension, and have gained a larger following. There will be changes, too, for the very need that man has to change—changes that will not mean either progress or retrogression, that will be just balancing and shifting without resultant harm or good.

So the year will go; the general circumstances of life keeping ever on the same level and on a like average; but the distribution varying, falling now on one side and now on the other—crowning this head, breaking that heart. Of one thing we may be sure—the year will not pass without some changes of circumstance to us all. Whether for good or for evil, the lines of our fortunes will be shifted more or less, with some greatly and for all time, with others faintly and only for a season. Wherever the opening New Year finds us, its close will not leave us. Friends will have been made or lost; work will have been done or forsaken; our moral life will have grown or will have dwindled. Grave or gay, for gain or for loss, the smooth untrodden expanse of the New Year cannot fail to inspire us all with cause for thought and subject for hope or fear. We can, at least, trust it will be a happy year, and happy it will be if it enables us to sweeten the lonely lot, or bring happiness in any measure to any of our fellowmen.

time, and spend their strength in maturing profits that have neither vitality nor stableness, what a boon it would be to them if they could see ahead, and know in time that their work is of no more value than weaving garments of cobwebs, or spinning ropes out of sands of the sea! If something of precious energy would be lost, more of futile labor would be prevented; and of the two, perhaps, the latter would be the greater gain. Where we should lose would be in our foreknowledge of the happenings of evil, or of the final partings from those we love. If this would make us more tender and considerate, it would also make us more miserable and depressed. We should live in the shadow, growing darker as it advanced, and in its sombreness would be unfit for the duties of life. In no case would it be an unmixed good not to know, nor would it be an entire evil to be forewarned.

One thing is certain: the world will go on as before, and the New Year have its achievements great and small like the Old One. Ere its last hours shall have come, what histories will have been transacted, both in private lives and public events? Some whom now Fortune has endowed and the Fates made glad will be desolate and impoverished. Love will have forsaken them, and their riches will have taken wings and flown away. Their glorious health will be broken, their now spotless fame tarnished; the New Year, which has come in with the light feet of a golden-sandalled god, bearing the born of plenty filled to the brim, will go out trailing behind it disasters and the ashes of many joys. The flowers and fruits which were about their path in the beginning will all have drooped or faded, and, instead of dewy roses or ruddy grapes, they will have only the fruits of bitterness for their portion. And some who are now in the shadow will be then in the sunshine; all their evil set behind them, and only the good henceforth for the future. There will be no one who will not have realized the unstability of human things and the shifting quality of the sands of time.

Out of the unknown of the coming months will spring surprises as certain on the average as the souls that will come into the world, and the souls that will make their eternal exit. There will be friendships broken for a word misunderstand, and act wrongly taken; and old enmities knitted up into forbearing and enduring kindness. There will be loves destroyed, some at a breath, others by the heart's wearing anguish; and there will be loves born into being like the springtide blossoms, and the fledgling birds of the summer-time. Pinching wants and cares will sit lightly on some — those who have taken to heart the blessed virtue of patience, and the bearing meekly what must be borne; by others these will be cast aside altogether, no matter what obligations go with them, what promises broken, or duties undone. Nor will the New Year be barren of great things. In the vast realm of human knowledge and activity it will leave some landmarks for future time; in works of goodness and beneficence it will help on humanity and brighten the dark places of the world. Some great men will shine forth like stars in the dark-

I did indeed wish to see you before you left for Ottawa, but was unable to do so. I was kept very busy all day yesterday with a number of matters which came up at the last moment, and which I could not well put off. I was also very much disappointed that you did not call on me, as I had hoped you would do, but I suppose you were too busy with your own affairs to think of anyone else.

I am very glad to see that you have been elected by acclamation, and I hope you will have a very pleasant session. I am sure you will be glad to get back to your own home, and to be with your family again. I am sure they will be very glad to see you, and I hope you will be able to remain with them for some time. I am sure that you will be very glad to get back to your own home, and to be with your family again. I am sure that you will be very glad to get back to your own home, and to be with your family again.

Dear People -

This is the first opportunity I have had to write a line home for sometime because I have been especially busy with the Hons work starting in at the university & with trying to get private tutoring.

Your letters were all a great pleasure to me & all the kind Xmas wishes ought to see me through 1904 all right. Oh would like me if you could send a few wishes that would turn into dinners or a few others that had wings. By the way, what about the secretary? You did not say whether you would make the donation or not.

The prescriptions are quite interesting. I have not had the chance to look at them very closely as yet, but shall do so.

be me this week. It is worth about $3 000 a month but would require an initial investment of $700. It lasts only for 4 months & would require my living out of town most of that time. I would not take it, but was very glad however that I had the chance to.

I have been doing a good deal of studying the last week & have been out very little. One night the Toolas gave a skating party at the City Park which I went to & enjoyed very much. The weather here is still grand. So sunny & balmy in the day time & quite sharp at night.

I do not feel a bit like writing at present as you may judge by my letter. I am really too busy to attempt it. I am trying very hard to get some tutoring & besides the University have lined several of the high schools & private schools. Please write very often & tell me everything. Affectionately Mac.

My dear Miss King.

I was indeed sorry that you were not coming back to us this term. I think I understand your difficulty, and I sincerely sympathize with your desire to be at home if possible, and I wish you every success in all your future studying.

I do not remember what your different examination marks were, but I will get them and inclose them in this notei I do not think you will find them very discouraging as a whole, when you consider your disadvantage in entering the class late.

We are at last at work in the East wing of the new building, although there are still a few things lacking, and the girls are enjoying their first practical lessonsvery much. If the Residence were only further along, I should be satisfied. You must at least come back and visit us when we have everything finished.

It is not too late I hope to wish that this year may prove a very happy and prosperous to you.

Yours sincerely,

May Eric Watson.

Memo.

Marks taken by Miss Isabel King of the Junior Normal Class at the Christmas Exams. 1903.

Ed. 1. (Psychology) = 44. Econ. 1 (Economics) = 79. Science 1. (Chemistry) = 80.
Sc. 3+4 (Biology) = 74. D.S. 6 (Hygiene) = 28. D. A. 2. (Foods) = 35.
D. S. 4 (Foods) = 43. General Average. = 55.0p.

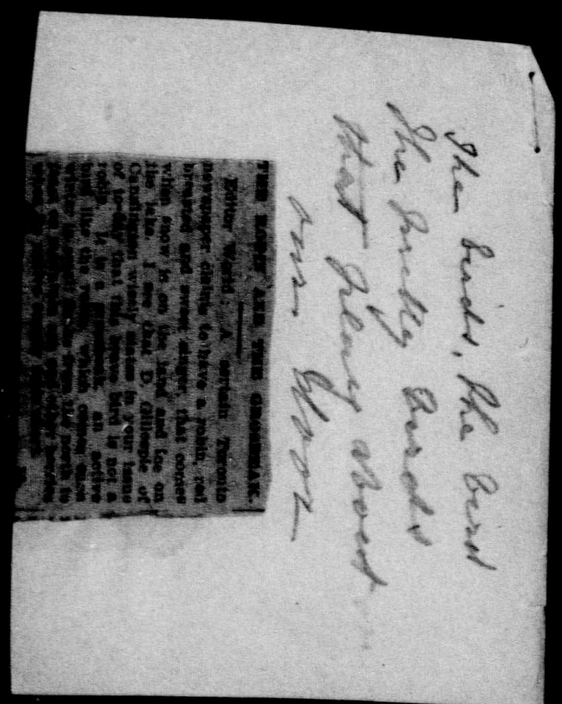

Below the line in D.S. 6 but having gained over 500p. on total such does not constitute a failure at the term examinations.

These marks are very creditable considering the difficulties encountered by Miss King.

THE ROBIN AND THE GROSBEAK.

Editor World: A certain Toronto newspaper claims to have a robin, red breasted and sweet singer, that comes when snow is on the land and ice on the lake. I see that D. Gillespie of Cannington wisely states in your issue of to-day that this brave bird is not a robin. It is a grosbeak, an active bird like the robin, which comes each winter in small flocks from the north to feast on mountain ash and other berries when its native supply fails short.

Jan. I8,I904.

Dear Max:

I am enclosing herewith American express order for $30, $I0 of which is a Christmas gift and the balance an advance as mentioned in your last letter.

I received your letter of the 8th inst.,but notice that you date it December 8,I904,which was evidently a slip. I am greatly pleased with the success with which you are meeting,but I am inclined to think you were right in turning down the railroad offer,as you did. Requiring the initial outlay which it did it would have been difficult for you to make the arrangement necessary, while on the other hand,being only temporary work it would probably cut into any foot-hold where you are. As you say,it was very pleasant to have the opportunity of turning the offer down.

I am very sorry that I delayed so long in writing to you last time,but I will try to be more prompt in the future. As I have said,I want you to always write me frankly and a little ahead of time as to funds of which you may be in need,and I will do what I can to meet any advances.

We have a banquet of the Canadian Club of Ottawa to-night and I am to propose the toast of Canada,to which Sir Wilfrid Laurier and R.L.Borden,leader of the opposition will reply. Mr.Montague of England is staying with me for a couple of days and Percy Parker came down this morning,so that with the work which I will also have to do in the matter of preparing arrangements for the dinner I have little time for writing at any length. Please let me know if this letter reaches you safely,and expect to hear from me at greater length before long.

With best wishes.I am ever

Your affectionate brother.

Dear Rexfie. -

Father's two letters & Mother's letter arrived this morning & a few days ago respectively, & needless to say, were a great pleasure to me. Also a letter from Jennie, from Kingston, arrived the other day & was very highly appreciated. I had thought she happened to Bell in regard to letter writing! I suppose she is very busy with the school work. It might do her any amount of good if she behaved herself & got to bed at a decent hour.

Do Mother is anxious to know if I am going to fly from Denver & Father wants to frighten me in the blues of discouragement. Well to both, like Father & the secretary, I shall have to give an negative answer. If I have

I dined at Dr. Bowlby's for dinner yesterday (Sunday) & also the Sunday before & once during the week. They are very kind indeed to me & take the greatest interest in my welfare. Mrs. Bowlby I enjoy very much indeed. She is from Montreal & has travelled all through India, Egypt, Europe, etc.

It does one good to hear of the cold weather at home. I have been sitting here writing with both windows wide open & the balmy mountain breeze from the South blowing on me. Oh! the weather is simply grand here beyond description.

Let me hear often & fully from home as I think of you all nearly all the time & long to hear what you are doing.

My dear Will -

Very many thanks for the Christmas gift & also the loan of $20.00. I assure you that nothing else at present could be so highly appreciated as the straight cash. I had owed Eleanor $25.00 for office rent & telephone some two weeks ago & of course, paid him immediately on the arrival of the cheque. That leaves me with the balance $5 & $12 which I have taken in his name with until your next remittance, & of course I shall probably later send in, in the meantime, my expenses, no matter how I try, run up his balance $60 - $70 a month, so you seem to doubt my frankness, that I have not a cent in reserve, except a few bills that are waiting to be paid, but I cannot say when that will be.

I only have one pupil as for the latter. She is a hem sued. in the 2 nd

I give her only 2 lessons, of 1 hr. each a week, but I am hoping to get more pupils as it comes nearer to exams. The highest fees I can get is $1.00 an hour as there is so much competition. Another student has spoken to me & will probably take lessons later. Then I thought I

Dear Father:

I am enclosing herewith the article on Sir Hector Macdonald which Mr.Giddens has kindly typewritten. I think it is one of the best articles you have ever written,and I would like very much to see it get a deserving place in a suitable publication. There might be no harm in your sending it to the Outlook,with a letter stating that it may be used in such way as the editors thought best. My only fear is that the Outlook, being an American publication,there is not the same reason for its publication there. Another source that occurred to my mind was one of the leading Liberal dailies in Great Britain,in which event the article might be signed "A Canadian" or "Canadian Soldier," or something of the kind. I sympathize very strongly with all you say in the article,and I am sure there are thousands who will do the same.

The Governor-General was speaking to me on Wednesday night about my speech at the Canadian Club banquet. He said it was an excellent speed,and would like very much for different reasons to have a copy of it. I am enclosing herewith a copy of what I said to him to-day,and would be glad if you would keep it for me. I feel its limitations,but in view of the low ebb to which public life seems to have got in the Province of Ontario at the present time it may not be without its application at the moment.

Affectionately yours,

Have just time to make a break to try & get a letter written home. For the last two weeks I have been on a mad rush & correspondence that had to positively be neglected. It was indeed a great pleasure to hear from you all at intervals & to read the article written by Talbot on the Supreme Court & Goldwin Smith. With letter enclosed in Arthur, which arrived yesterday, also pleased me immensely & gave me that old time desire to be preaching in Alberta that I might have the chance to stand in with the right sort of aristocracy, for you must know that at times I get very tired of the American democracy & long for

My dear Mother,-

This is the first opportunity I have had of writing a line to wish you a happy birthday - this is no opportunity at present as I am sitting at my boarding house table with all the people around me chattering. I hardly know how to express my wishes for your coming year. I certainly think that increased income might be the best wish I could give you as I am sure that in this case would be the root of all happiness. I also hope that before next birthday comes along I will have had you as my visitor at Denver.

Unfortunately I know of nothing I can send you for a birthday present now do I feel I would be sensible in frying out my present cash at this stage in the game to buy you one. However I shall hope by next time to be able to

Doubtless you will be looking for a letter about this date informing you of what I shall require for the coming month. I think possibly $20.00 will carry me thro' the month altho' it will leave me with a big margin to make up myself. When you consider that I require $65.00 at least a month to make things go on I do not think I am doing badly to be able to cover the difference. How much do I owe you up to date? I think about $40. I imagine I may not have to borrow more than 2 or 300.00 in all. I may have to borrow more next month than usual but of course that depends on the news once I get Saskatchewan more than then.

Read his letter over & tell me what you think of it. Also please return his letter to me.

In a letter from home I see Dr. Hodgetts has been appointed to Ryerson's old position of Prov. Sec. of Board of Health. The vacancy Hodgetts creates is not to be filled for some time but I have no doubt when the next epidemic strikes Ontario it will have to be filled. I should like greatly to have it. Do you think anything could be done in that line? I was delighted with your home letter & shall look for one that you promised.

VICE-REGAL ORATORY.

The reports of the speeches at the recent banquet of the Canadian Club at Ottawa go far to show that post-prandial oratory in Canada is much above the average. The toasts, which were few in number, were proposed admirably, and responded to eloquently. A strain of patriotism ran through them all. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. R. L. Borden delivered addresses that did them exceptional credit as the leaders of the two great political parties, and his Excellency the Governor-General made a particularly happy response to the toast of his health. Lord Minto makes no pretensions as a public speaker, but he is evidently a far better speaker than he thinks he is. Whether it be his native modesty, the constraint which a person in his position is apt to feel on such occasions, or his official timidity—if we can use such a term with respect to one who has shown the courage of his convictions—his Excellency has never done himself full justice in the field of oratory.

Some of his predecessors in office were not troubled with any such infirmities. Lord Elgin, under the ante-Confederation regime, was a bold orator. He spoke on every occasion that offered with great candor, and probably felt confidence in so doing, because he had the happy faculty of combining the suaviter in modo with the fortiter in re in all his public efforts. He was criticized, of course, and sometimes quite severely—for there are always writers in the press who like to go for high game—but he always ignored the critics, and went on his way with perfect equanimity. The man who fearlessly did his duty as a constitutional Governor-General, by assenting to the Rebellion Losses Bill, amidst a storm of mob violence and popular passion, was not the kind of man to be affrighted by attacks. Lord Dufferin's abilities as a public speaker are well known. He had all the ready mother wit, fluency and eloquence of his countrymen. He is said to have been a pretty expensive Governor-General; but, be that as it may, he unquestionably rendered the State great service by his public addresses. Lord Minto is far more retiring in this respect than either of the noblemen we have mentioned; but he has always shown the possession of one of the best qualities of speech-making. "The business of oratory," wrote Lord Chesterfield, "is to persuade people; "and you easily feel that to please peo- "ple is a great step towards persuading "them." Lord Minto has always managed to "please people," even when, like Lord Elgin, he has left an opening for the critics.

His public addresses in Toronto, during his popular visit here last summer, created an impression that is not forgotten. His graceful little speech to the pupils of the public schools on the virtues of courtesy and deference to their elders was a model of good taste and tactful admonition. His latest address at the Ottawa banquet, so felicitous in expression and admirable in tone and sentiment, and at the same time so home-like in the speaker's self-identification with Canadian spirit and aspirations, makes one regret that the King's representative in Canada is not oftener heard at public functions. Additional interest was lent to his Excellency's utterances by the fact that his term of office is nearing its close, and that he and Lady Minto, who has filled a large place in the hearts of the people, will soon be vacating a sphere of official and social duties which have their own cares and anxieties, and in the performance of which their Excellencies have gained the affection and good will of all classes of Canadians.

UNIQUE EXHIBITION.

PICTURES ILLUSTRATIVE OF TENNYSON PLACED ON VIEW.

Interesting Feature of the Regular Meeting of the Tennyson Club Held Last Evening.

The regular meeting of the Tennyson Club was held last night in the chapel of Victoria University, which was filled with a large audience, the members of the club having extended an invitation to their friends to be present at an unique exhibition of Tennyson pictures, which had been mounted on slides by Professor Chant, of Toronto University, from the Tennyson collections of Mr. C. C. James, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and Mr. John C. Saul, of the Educational Monthly of Canada. Professor Reynar, of Victoria, acted as chairman, and Mr. James named the pictures to the audience, frequently quoting lines from Tennyson's poems connected with the scenes portrayed. The exhibition opened with sixteen Tennyson portraits, including the better known examples by Millars, Rossetti, the bust by Woolner, and photographs by Mrs. Cameron and Lewis Carrol, besides several portraits by unknown artists. These were followed by interesting and beautiful views on the wolds and coast of Lincolnshire; of Somersby and its surroundings, particularly the rectory where Tennyson was born, and the parish churches at Somersby and Bay Enderby; scenes at Louth, at Cambridge, portraits of Arthur Henry Hallam and his father, and several photographs of the church at Clevedon where Hallam was buried. The later views included portraits of Lady Tennyson, the present Lord Tennyson, of Lionel Tennyson, who died on his way home from India, and of Jowett, as a single representative of Tennyson's many friends. Views were also given of Tennyson's various places of residence, the house near Twickenham, Farringdom, on the Isle of Wight, and Aldwerth, in Surrey, besides pictures of the resting place of the poet in Westminster Abbey and of the Tennyson beacon. During an interval Professor Corson, of Cornell, read "The Lotus Eaters and Ulysses."

last night was the first meeting of our euchre club. Jack Innes has joined and he went with Isabel & me last night to Helen's. We had lots of fun.

Tuesday morning I got a note from Jack Innes saying he had intended to ask me to go with him to the Merchant of Venice but the manager had gone away and he could not leave the office and sent me the two tickets. You can imagine how delighted Mother & I were to go for we never dreamt we should hear Irving this time. Wasn't it good of him? He came for dinner last night and stayed one car fare. Coming home we missed the last car and it cost him 50 cents as Charlie and Annie did not get theirs in very quickly. Yesterday was Sophie's birthday and she came in, family beaming, to tell us John had given her $15-0 to get a Persian lamb coat for Lent

The News

J. S. WILLISON, Managing Director.

AN INDEPENDENT JOURNAL, Devoted to Politics, Education, Literature, the Presentation of Current News, and the Diffusion of Useful Information.

TORONTO, CANADA, FRIDAY, FEB. 19.

THE PROVINCIAL COURTS.

Whatever may be said to the contrary, it is manifest that the delays in the administration of justice, of which much has been said and written during the past year, still continue, and it is still as true as ever it was—and of the truth there is no question—that these delays mean expense and loss to litigants, and sometimes a denial of justice. If the newspaper press of Toronto were to give publicity to all that is communicated to them, directly and indirectly, in regard to this matter, it would be seen that public opinion has reason to be indignant at the dallying determination of the large number of cases that are undisposed of in the courts. In the early part of the present week there were some 60 cases on the Divisional Court list remaining to be argued. Many of these have been there for months, and a considerable proportion of them will, in all probability, go to the Court of Appeal, and perhaps to the Supreme Court at Ottawa, before the parties interested will know exactly what their legal position is.

In the Court of Appeal there were at the same time as many as 52 appeals which had not yet been heard, and a fair proportion of them, also, will in all likelihood find their way to the higher court. A large number of these cases, both in the Divisional Court and the Court of Appeal, are of a most important character, affecting large interests, and the fortunes and reputation, in many ways, of many persons. There are also six election petitions to come before the Court of Appeal, which, if they take up as much of the precious time of that tribunal as did the few that were argued there last year, will of necessity retard seriously the other business of the court. Then again, there are the courts at Ottawa and London every week, known as the "weekly courts," which require in each case the presence of a High Court Judge. There are also the weekly single courts and judges' chambers, and the frequent sittings of the High Court for the trial of actions with and without a jury in Toronto. There is a lengthy list of these cases still untried. To crown all this plethora of judicial work, the Spring Circuits have commenced, necessitating the attendance of the judges at the Assizes in different parts of the Province, and adding, as these sittings always do, to the volume of business which can be disposed of nowhere else than in the Divisional Court and the Court of Appeal in Toronto. One almost inevitable result of the judicial dispersion, during the periods of circuit work, is the holding of the Divisional Court with only two of its members on the Bench instead of the legal number, three. The Judicature Act provides, that "every "Divisional Court of the High Court "shall be composed of three judges, un- "less from illness or other unavoidable "cause a third cannot be obtained, in "which case it may be composed of two been made, although they might legally have been made three months ago. Barring political exigencies and considerations, there appears to be no reason why these judicial offices should not be filled; so far from that, there is strong reason why they should be. Despite a few incidental opinions to the contrary, there is "ample room and verge "enough" for the new court, and its establishment in proper working order would at once relieve the congestion, and give increased vigor, promptitude and despatch to the legal business of the country.

There are also the weekly single courts and judges' chambers, and the frequent sittings of the High Court for the trial of actions with and without a jury in Toronto. There is a lengthy list of these cases still untried. To crown all this plethora of judicial work, the Spring Circuits have commenced, necessitating the attendance of the judges at the Assizes in different parts of the Province, and adding, as these sittings always do, to the volume of business which can be disposed of nowhere else than in the Divisional Court and the Court of Appeal in Toronto. One almost inevitable result of the judicial dispersion, during the periods of circuit work, is the holding of the Divisional Court with only two of its members on the Bench instead of the legal number, three. The Judicature Act provides, that "every "Divisional Court of the High Court "shall be composed of three judges, un- "less from illness or other unavoidable "cause a third cannot be obtained, in "which case it may be composed of two "members, provided that in case of "divided opinion upon any matter ar- "gued, the same shall; at the election "of either party, be reargued before a "court of three members."

The legal profession, and all who have had business in the courts, know how unsatisfactory it is to have only two judges sitting in a Divisional Court. A difference of opinion as to any case argued before it—and this is not an uncommon occurrence—may necessitate a reargument with all the attendant delay and expense. There are surely delays and costs enough under ordinary circumstances, without litigants having to bear the additional burthen of a defective constitution of the court. Nor are matters being improved by any diminution of litigation, or of the number of those who are entering the legal profession. "The more lawyers the "more law" is almost a truism; and the prevailing prosperity helps rather than hinders professional employment. Judges may come and judges may go, but litigation, like Tennyson's brook, "goes on for ever."

Who is responsible for these delays in clearing the lists of standing causes at Osgoode Hall, and at other sittings of the High Court? It can hardly be said that the judges are, for, as far as we can learn, the judges are doing the best they can under the circumstances. Two or three of them are probably not as fit physically for the strain of judicial work as they should be; but they are not shirking it, and, with the niggardly retiring allowances under the present law, there is small inducement for any of them to step down and out. The real remedy appears to be in the hands of the Local and Dominion Governments. The former, having been impressed, and we believe rightly so, with the necessity of increasing the strength and efficiency of the judicial tribunals of the Province, created a new division of the High Court of Justice, to be known as the Exchequer Division, which is to be composed of three judges. The appointments to this court, which are in the power of the Dominion Government, have not yet

APPROPRIATION OF $1,000.

Board of Control Make First Provision For Paying Extra Clerks.

The Board of Control this morning made an appropriation of $1,000, on account of the investigation. The Mayor stated that the City Clerk had employed extra help for the preparation of lists of voters to be used in connection with the canvass by policemen. At Controller Spence's suggestion, the Mayor will ask Judge Winchester to certify to the various accounts in connection with the investigation.

Coughs, colds, hoarseness, and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Cresolene tablets, ten cents per box. All druggists.

MARRIAGE A FAILURE.

Forty Years' Experience Convinces Mrs. Simpson of This.

After forty years' experience as man and wife, Robert and Julia Simpson have arrived at the conclusion that marriage was a failure, so far as they were concerned. Mrs. Simpson appeared in the Police Court this morning and demanded an order of protection. She said that he had a habit of coming home in an intoxicated condition and abusing her. She thought it would be better for both of them to be separated. Simpson did not raise any serious objection to this demand, and his Worship adjourned the case for a week to allow some arrangement to be effected.

Sailor, Ahoy!

WHAT, sir. A mariner with no port in view?

Do you mean to tell me that you are sailing on this sea without a destination? Is it true that you have set away for the other shore without a compass on board? No, no; it is hard to believe, sir, that a man who is as sane, who is as hard-headed, and who is as well-balanced as you appear to be, should plow the deep of life's sea without a destination, without a port to steer to.

And yet, you tell me, with much complacency, that you have no port in mind. That is indeed extraordinary. I saw a sturdy greyhound of the ocean slip her hawsers and point her nose out past the Goddess of Liberty in New York City, and asked a man: "Can you tell me where that boat is bound for?" And the man turned and said one word: "Liverpool." And I knew that each night and each morning would see that boat pointing towards its destination.

Is it true, sir, that you have no Liverpool in your mind, no port to point to? I cannot believe it. You are more than a ship, sir. You are a man. And, mushing on your answer, "I have no Liverpool, no port to point to," I beheld the whole world as a world of mariners.

There were no nations, there were no climes or classes, nor were the ships of different make or build, but all small, all tiny, all specks on the great ocean of life.

And in each little craft was a man—each in his little craft, each with his eye set according to his idea; each with his hand on the rudder; each pointing—did I say each pointing?—that, sir, is a mistake. I beheld some asleep.

Asleep on the deep? Yes, asleep on the deep; and I shouted, "Ahoy! Wake! Wake, the waves are rising! Your little craft will sink! Wake! Bail out, and steer straight!" Did they wake? Yes, they awoke, and over the waves I heard the voices: "Do not disturb us. Let us sleep." "Insane? Yes, they must have been insane. I looked again and the craft had sunk from sight.

I looked once more, and over the waves I beheld some mariners whose little craft were moving in a circle. They made no progress. I saw upon them anxiety, for they scanned for the port. And I shouted, "The port lies west!" Over the billows floated back the melancholy admission, rising high above the brow of the storm: "Aye! Aye! but we have no compass!" Careless? Yes; a carelessness bordering upon madness, for theirs would never be the port. Ah! I can see them now. Their eyes were red and bloodshot, straining for the lights of the harbor they would never see, their faces pale, their hair dishevele, their clothing tattered, and the waves lashing them. Friend, I could not save them. They were lost. They had no compass.

And as I sat with the Muse, I saw once more the ocean and its tiny craft and those who were tossed by its sea. And here were many little boats quite splck and span, and we sailed beside them and talked a while. We asked them how they fared, and they told us that they had the port in mind, and that their compass pointed straight, but that their rudder was strained and they were not masters of their bark.

And in this I saw the plain figure of those who desired to do right, but whose wills, unaided, had failed them. They were unable to make for the port, yet they were trying to repair these rudders. And quietly the Muse told me: "These sailors may yet mend their rudders and make their port, their Liverpool."

And over the waters I called: "Who has a Liverpool? Who bears towards the port?" But there was no answer. And I called again. And out from the cry of the waves, out from the sob of the wind, came a voice: "I, sir." And looking, I saw one sailing, lashed to his boat; his hand was on the rudder, his eye was on the compass. I hailed him, but he did not signal back. I called again, but he would not bring his little craft about. And then I spread all sail and overtook him. And over the seas went our voices: "Friend, you sail well."

"I have a chart," he said. "I have a compass, and my rudder's true."

He told me that the voyage had been a stormy one, and that he had not yet seen the port to which his little vessel headed, but the chart said it was there and he believed it. The waves had threatened him, the wind had torn his canvas, and he was scudding with but little sail. But he did not mind. He had heard that the port was a beautiful one, that the harbor was large, and that the winds and the waves were gentle. He believed, and his eye was bright, if his cheek was pale.

"You sail well." He told me that he was sailing in hope of the harbor. "Then I said: "Here is a man who knows the deep through faith." So I followed him. The gale roared and the spray drenched, the darkness deepened, but the craft did not turn, though the night was thick.

And I saw a light, and under easy sail we swept into the harbor of the Beautiful City, and there was brightness, there was music, and the wind wafted us gently towards the port. And then, behold! we were gazing into the eyes of our friends who had gone before.

88 Wellington Place
Toronto Feb. 21st:

My dear Willie –

This part week has flown very quickly & it seems I have never had a moment to write & tell you of all the happy doings during Rowell's short visit. Mother, I know wrote last Sunday & came day last week & has probably told you all about it – Still you may like to hear it again – at least I hope so!

Rowell came Thursday P.M. & the first call went to an very stiff & formal At Home at Mrs Herbert Mowatt's. I introduced Rowell to (some 3 men, not many) of the elite – he came home & enjoyed an quiet evening before the praise.

Friday Rowell & I went down town shopping after I got home from school – & in the evening went to the Ontario Art Exhibition. Some of the pictures were really beautiful – the room was small – & the pictures unframed as they did not lose to the best advantage.

Saturday morning we started up to Shep & Rowell to lunch at Mrs Rumsey's & then hustled to the theatre where we took much delight in Hamlet. I do not remember ever enjoying anything more in the line of a play in my life – Forbes Robertson & his wife made her all you say of them – truly refined & very high types of actors.

handly in the house before I saw him with a letter half written to you - & I said to him "I suppose Father you are speaking of the portrait to Willie". Oh! Willie, I am sure mine is not dreamy dark - I am sure mother and Ethel in the guise of Father & I think she would die laughing. When I saw the pictures in the Ex. (the calendar) that was another triumph.

I have given a great deal to tell you Father's speeches to me - he was here to supper Sunday night & then I saw him at the ass. thing last night. She is so funny for anything.

This is a very dry letter & I fear with Father's contributions I am still keen to Ex. Engineers & for a time to get them read.

I am enclosing a cutting from the Star - do you not think it a lovely thought? Jim's letter was a great pleasure telling us of your doings. I am interested in hearing more about Mrs Baker's fortune telling. By the way, Jennie had a lovely letter from Jim Lay on Friday.

Do all look forward & hope to hear from you soon - Jim's big sister Bella

My dear Willie -

Some questions came on about yesterday which I thought I would put to you, but I find myself so busy with Laurier that I can't write you now. I will keep them for the evening when I am alone.

1. Which is the average rainfall of a month from May to October?
2. What is the average rainfall of a month from May to October?
3. What nation in the world's Canoe Race was won by Ellis Brigden?
4. What is Brigden's (Ellis') occupation?

Then we came to the Tariff. Then we had a speech of a man running for Parliament. Then we had a speech of Ellis Brigden (Ellis) and then we came home. I am very glad this Resolution has all congratulated her upon getting on the honour roll of wife. Mother is to be to write her herself.

Hour letters

Dist.C.

Feb.25,1904.

Dear Bella:

I do not know that I can be of much service in suggesting answers to the questions mentioned in your letter,which I received yesterday,but perhaps I can make one or two suggestions that may be of service.

As to the first question:"What is the average wage of a workingman to-day?" I think you should point out that this will vary considerably according as to what is meant by the term "workingman," and also according to the province and locality in which he may be working. There are,broadly,two classes of labour, skilled and unskilled,both of which are sometimes included under the general term "workman",although the unskilled labour is more generally spoken of in this way,artisans and mechanics being the term used for the former.

As to the wages of unskilled labour they vary very much as I have said,in the different localities. In the larger centres where there is a greater demand the wages paid are usually higher than in smaller localities,although this is sometimes offset by the fact that the supply of labour is greater. Speaking generally $1.25 to $1.50 might be regarded as a fair rate for common labour in a good many parts of Ontario. There are localities in Ontario where,during the past winter,ordinary labour has got as high as $1.75. Of course there are others where only $1.00 a day has been paid. For Ontario I should think perhaps $1.40 might be a fair average.

In the province of Quebec the rates will be lower than this, $1 to $1.25 being more common than $1.50. The rates are also lower in the Maritime Provinces than they are in Ontario. Then in Manitoba and British Columbia the rates are also higher, and getting out to the Yukon one would pay as high as $4 or $5 a day for ordinary unskilled labour.

If skilled labour is what is meant then this will vary according to the trade to which the men belong. If you will look in the first number of Vol.I of the Labour Gazette,which you will find on the shelves at home,you will find a number of fair wage tables which give the rates of wages which the government considers as the current rates in different localities,which are to be paid to men in the building trades. From this you will be able to tell how much would be regarded a fair wage for bricklayers,masons, plumbers &c. Also,if you will look in other copies of the Gazette

King, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie (MG 26 J 7 vol.3) Family Letters February 1904

National Archives of Canada
Archives nationales du Canada

C 95 05 00

you will see the rates paid to machinists and men in different trades. Speaking generally $2.50 might be regarded as a fairly good wage for skilled labour, although, as for example in the case of masons rates will run up as high as $3.60, the rate they are at present receiving in Ottawa. It is to be noted, however, in this connection, that in some trades work is only procurable during part of the year. What I have said as to the difference in different provinces will hold good in this case also.

As to the average wage of a store clerk per day I cannot speak with much certainty, but I am inclined to think that the average male store clerk gets about $9 or $10 a week, and the average female somewhere about $5. Of course rates run considerably above this, and in some stores also considerably below, but these I think can be taken as fairly representative.

As to the nations in the world which have been noted for their thrift father can probably tell you more than I can. Broadly speaking I am not inclined to think that the northern nations have been much more thrifty than the southern people, or those in the warmer climates where nature is prodigal, and a man is not forced by external conditions to save in order to subsist. The Germans I think are a good example of a thrifty nation, including in the word "thrifty," industry as well as capacity to save.

I am inclined to think that the word "thrift" indicates the possession of three qualities, (1) industry, (2) carefulness in the matter of controlling expenditure, and (3) judgment. I think the Jews might be regarded as an acquisitive rather than a thrifty people. The Scotch are a thrifty people where the Irish are largely the opposite. Perhaps you should embody also the quality of perseverance, which is perhaps what the Irish and like people lack.

As to the division of a salary of $1,000 a year I think you should make the division first as to the necessaries, comforts and luxuries. A thousand dollars would leave the man who has a family with practically nothing for luxuries, and only a limited amount for comforts, most of his income having to be devoted to supplying the necessaries of life. Of course these shade into comforts, and he would be able to supply the necessaries to such an extent as to be quite comfortable on this income

National Archives of Canada
Archives nationales du Canada

which is,perhaps,more than the average head of a family has to go on. Rent,clothing,food and fuel would be an important item of expenditure. Rent is apt to absorb about one-quarter of an income of this size,especially in the cities. In the country places the outlay for rent would not be as great. Fuel in certain localities would be more expensive than in others,as,for example, in Ottawa,more than in places where the winter is less severe. Clothing would depend,of course,on the size of the family,and would be more than the fuel. Of food you have to divide the amount between meats,vegetables,cereals etc,but you will know more of these things than I do. I think it would be a good thing to suggest that where an income is limited to a thousand dollars a man would be foolish if he did not lay aside a small amount each year on a life insurance investment,say perhaps $40 or $50,out of this amount. I would also suggest,if I were you,that it would be advisable in every case to make up one's expenditure on the basis of an income of $900,so as to leave a small margin for unforeseen expenses,such as sickness and the like,and a possible margin for saving.

I am sending you under separate cover a book which belongs to the library of the Department,and which I would like you to return to me after you have finished reading it. It is called "The Cost of Living," and contains some ideas which I think you might work into your article. I would also suggest that from time to time in these articles you look at the bound volumes of the Labour Gazette in the index,and see if there is not something which will be of help to you.

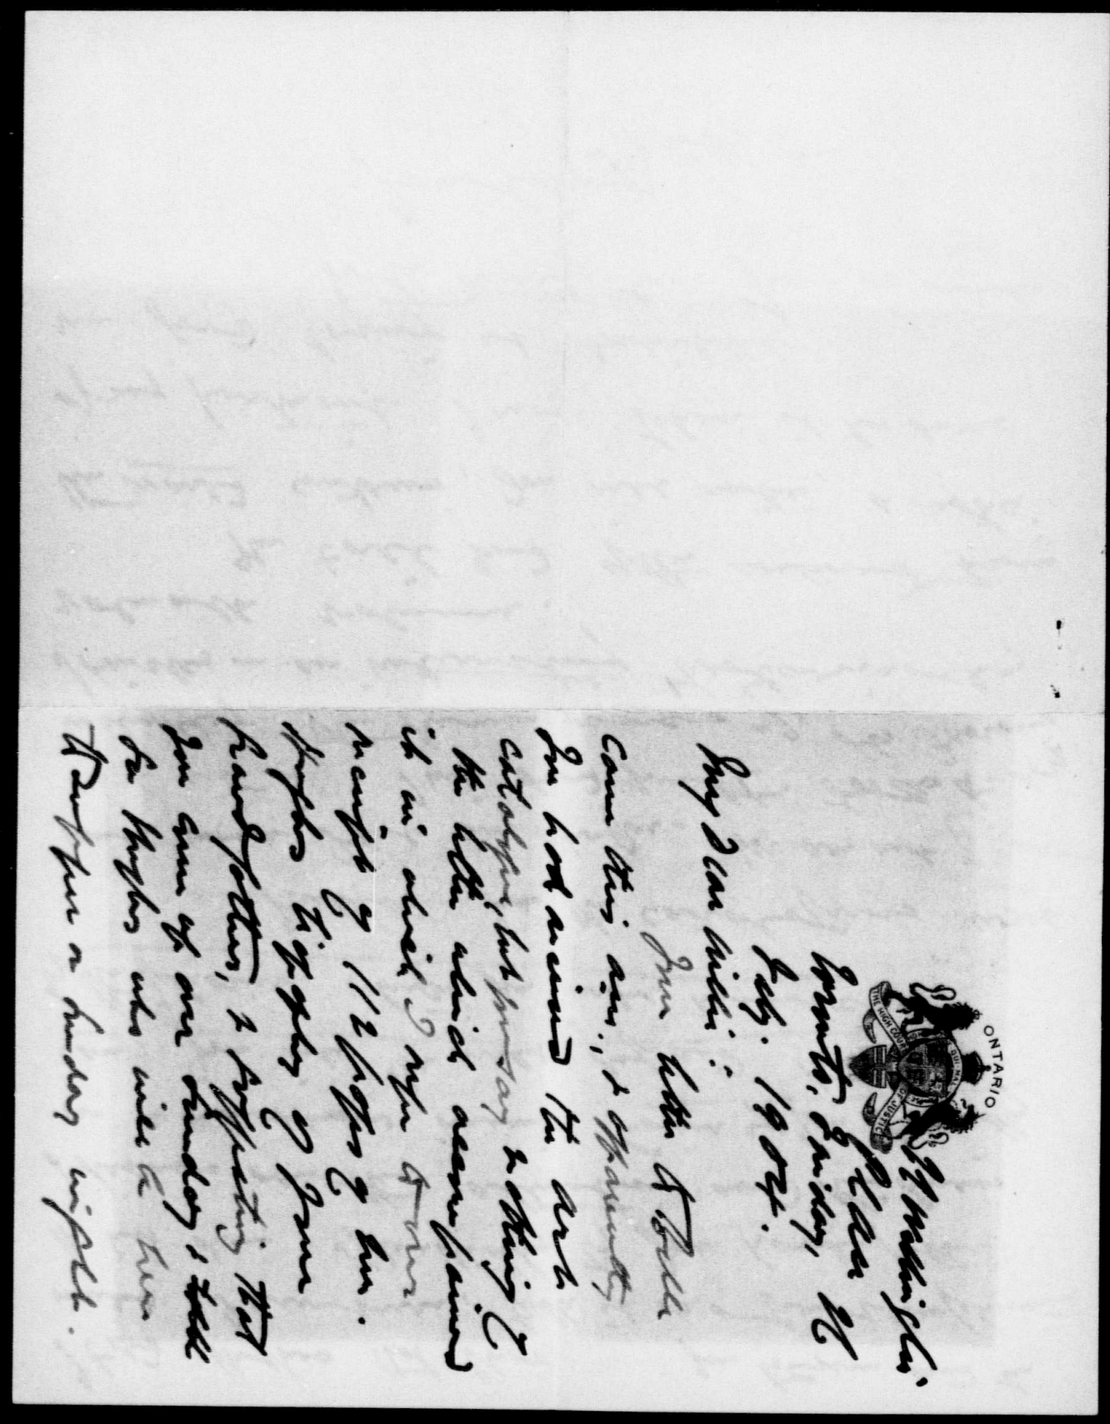

I was much pleased to hear you were getting on well in the gymnasium . I hope you and Jennie will take all that work that you are able.

Yours affectionately,

Miss B.King,

Dear Billie

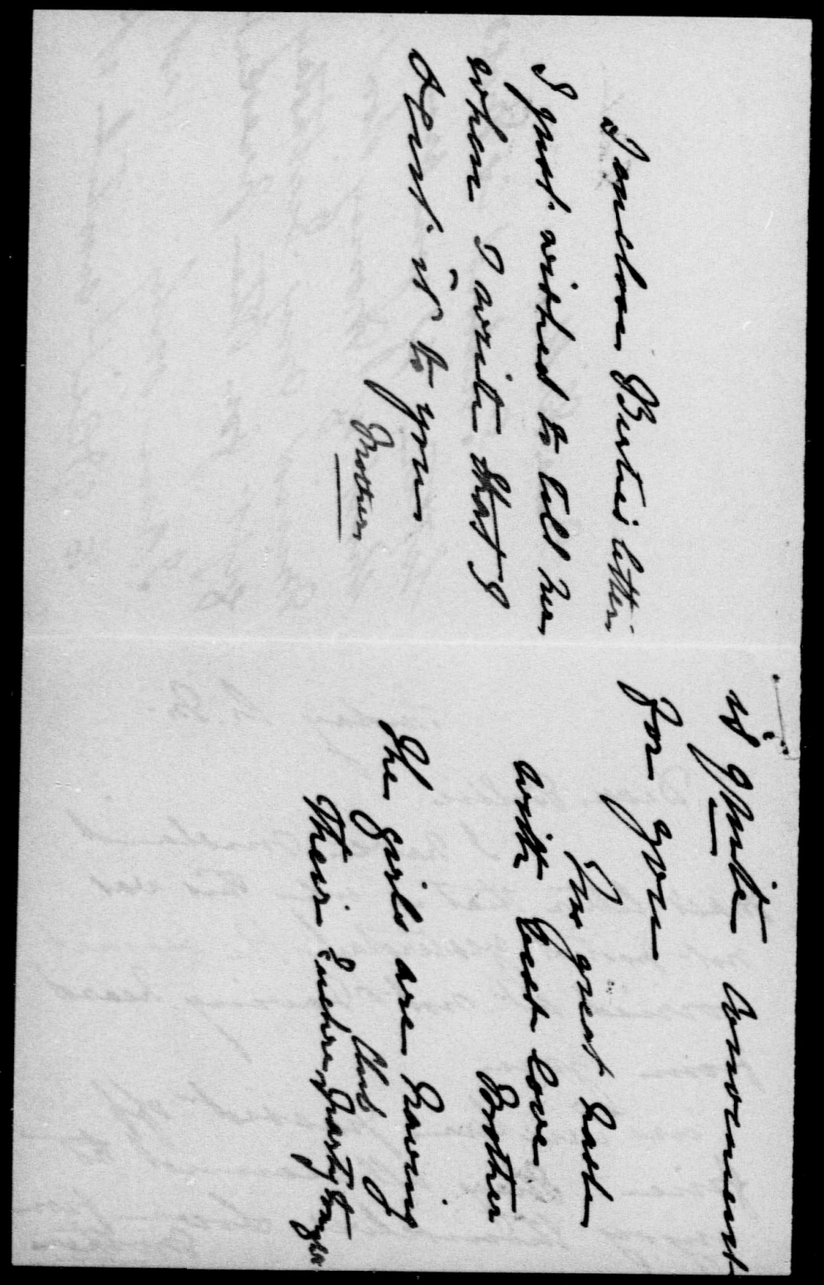

Letter from Mother this morning. Glad you are getting along nicely. Expect Gertrude Greenshields down tomorrow. Sorry I missed her when she was here. Am very busy just now. Will write you a long letter soon.

Friday P.M.

Dear Billie

I have mislaid Jack's letter that is why this was not posted yesterday. He seemed worried at not having heard from you.

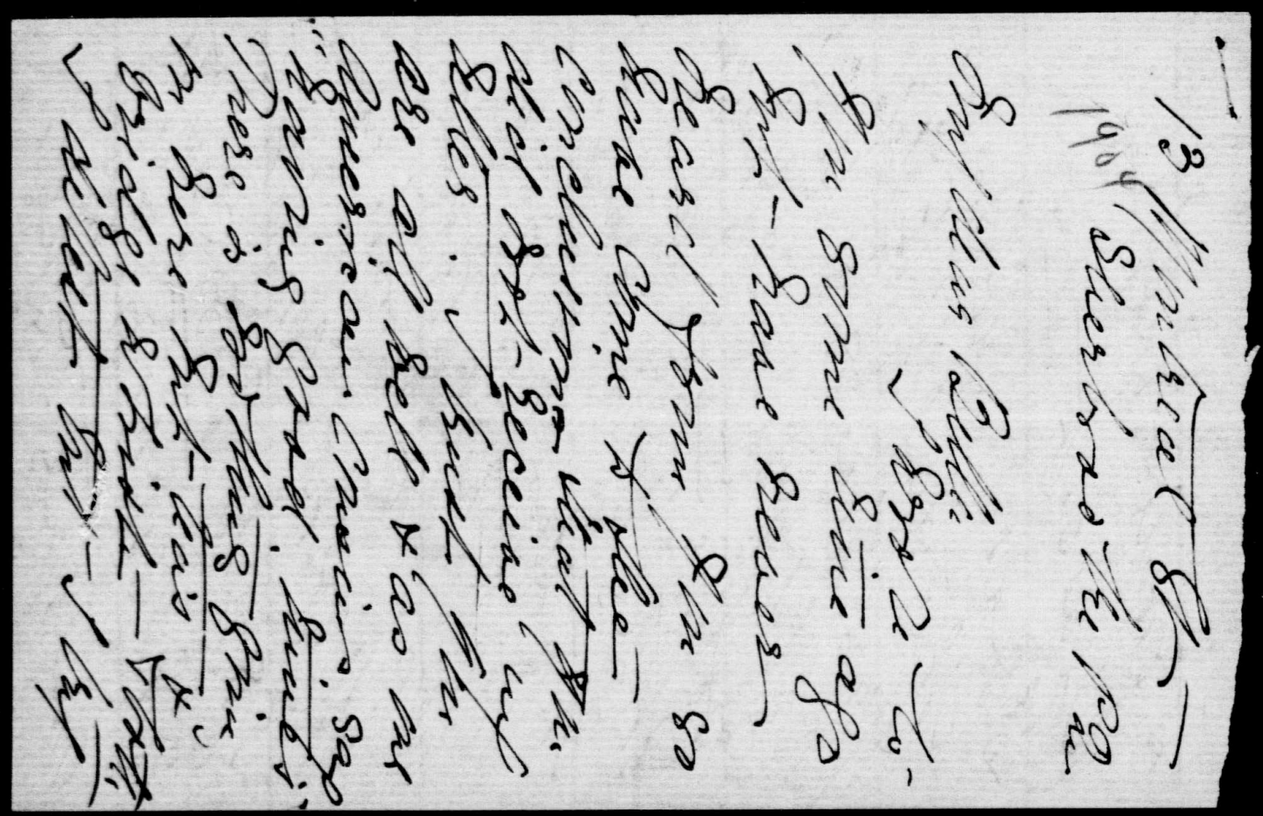

Our euchre passed off fine. They all seemed to enjoy themselves. Love from Mother

My Dear Willie:

I received your letter, and have ordered the photographs of your grandfather & myself. I have ordered two of your grandfather for you, & also two of myself. was that right? The one of myself is not as large as that of your grandfather; it is more of the size of a cabinet photo — probably a little larger. They will be 50 cts each. The art catalogues are 25 cts each.

I spoke a little about writing to Laurier, but he said he did not think that would be prudent — that he would try to get a friend to write him instead, & would speak to Laurier about me

Your mother has been warned a good deal about Mac & his practice at Denver, especially from what you said in your letter. You can wonder at that, because she fears the consequences of your withdrawal of help. It would be a very serious thing for Mac, who is showing great energy & perseverance, & also I am sure will succeed & repay you every cent of borrowed money. If help was withdrawn it would mean an absolute throwing away of what has already been advanced. If Mac succeeds, as I think he will, I don't think he would return to Canada, & I certainly would not encourage him to do it for his practice was established; it would be a foolish step, because he would have a larger better field of practice there. Words I often with Dr Bryce's estimate of Mac's want of patience. He doesn't know nothing about Mac's patient plodding habits of work. He did not see him as we have seen him. He takes a corpse towards up to a gazing friend in a cafe shoves, but the means of when in Ottawa on the 31st, if the appointments were not made before that time. He happens this am. to speak of Frank Anglin as also certain of our other Judgeships - an announcement that is universally condemned here, especially in view of the fact that 3 of the new Co. Court Judges are R. C's. My own name is not even referred to, & I am bitterly disappointed. It is said the appointments of Johnston as Chief Justice, & Anglin & Douglas as puisne Judges were arranged last Friday. That is the news that the Globe Editors, M.P. brought up from Ottawa, on what authority I don't know. If I am passed over this time I feel it is either because the Government - or rather Murdock - think they have done enough for me, and that I may look for nothing more. If so, I wish to have done with the Liberal Party. I wish never again to have anything to do in favour of the Government or any of its departments, but until recently it is in every way possible. I say this very deliberately. The Government are making a great mistake in disappointing so many R.C's. It will not capture that vote, which is always treacherous, & it will rouse the anti-Catholic feeling among Protestants as much as among Conservatives. Murdock will be the man who will be blamed most especially so, because he is the ruling mind in these things in Ontario.

I had asked Gibson to see me in Ottawa, but I am doubtful if I will see him. If I do I will go down on the night of the 23 inst. If anyone say nothing about it to any one, as I fear I will be disappointed again.

Dear Pop,

If I do not commence a letter immediately another week will slip by without my writing home. The home letters have been a great pleasure to me & also "The News." Let me know what you had to pay to subscribe to it. Was not the article about Gibson written by Talbot?

I also received a long letter from Will last week advising me strongly to come back to Canada. Unfortunately I can not see things the way he does in that regard nor would I consider it prudent to throw up a city like this without giving it a fair trial.

I have very much to tell you but I must defer writing. I have not gone back to Ottawa yet but will start tomorrow or the day after. I am in Montreal today in Archbishop Bruchesi's Public Library To-day I came in at 10 o'clock. The city is full of snow and it is very pleasant to look out upon it from the window where I am writing. It is not very cold and a moderate degree of warmth for this climate. We have had quite a number of days this month equally as fine as this one.
Last Sunday I was at Spirit Lake Camp with Dr. Daniels. We were all down at Dr. Daniels' cottage at Cranbrook Saturday & some of us often spend more Dr. Roberts & Dr. Hanington but I am now at Drummond Campbell in Montreal; also Dr. Tye & Dr. Hagarty when I have spoken before. Everything was pleasant as usual & many enjoyable meals.
Love and Prayers to my mother

Toronto, Canada.

427 Rideau Street,
Ottawa, March 1st, 1904.

My dear Uncle,—

Many thanks for your kind, quick response to my letter, with the enclosed cheque, which arrived about noon today. I am very pleased indeed to have your opinion about the Klondyke, but cannot quite see my way clear to act upon it. I should be very glad, however, to have Uncle Dave's opinion, but cannot ask him, as he has been ill for some months, and I should not like to trouble him.

I wrote to Mr. Ross, as you suggested, in my letter to you, as well as wrote privately to Mr. Ogilvie, but I cannot see that anything can be done. Should you see Mr. Ross, you may express my thanks for his kindness in regard to the matter. I am still undecided what to do with the money. I should like to spend it, but I do not see how I can. Perhaps I should invest it. Should I do so, I would like to have your opinion as to the best investment.

thing, I am convinced, but to suggest that I could think of going in for it is folly & I certainly never imagined for a moment that any body else would think of going in to it for me. I wanted to know particularly if you remembered Rodgers. When I hear of a thing of that kind I always find out fully about it because one never knows but the time may come when he wants to find something of the kind for himself or for one of his friends.

As for going to Japan I have practically given up that idea, wholly on Mackie's account. I confess I should like very much to go. I am young & such an experience would educate me in a way nothing else would. I would not give up my Dr. Afrian experience for thousands of dollars & I can see every day new advantages

The expenses are high here th[e] the same. Alth[o] the same time the doctors fees are just twice as they are in Toronto. And there never was a good thing yet that did not require a great deal of waiting & working for.

Again, I enjoy my University work here. I am doing well with it & the faculty are all my friends. All of this would be lost if I were to go to another town.

I think I have answered all your arguments & I hope you see things the way I do, in the right light, & write me soon

Dear Billie:

We had hoped you would be up on Sunday and so thought we could talk instead of write. There is so much we want to talk about and I want to discuss the examination question. I asked the fee clerk how much it would be for the occasional to write on the exams and he says there is no reduction if you write on only one subject. $14 seems a little steep for exams and if I write on both history exams it would be $28. I think there are so many necessary ways for $28 to go to waste it on exams which cannot do me any special good. It is not as though I were going to use it afterwards for I never will. If I use anything it will be my physical culture work for that is the thing I understand how to teach. We have discussed the matter at home and the family I think agrees with me but I want to know your opinion on the subject. I would look at $28 a long time before I presented it to the University. We had feast fun last night when Mr & Mrs Hughes came down for supper. Father wrote a little note and asked Mrs Hughes and the answer came back that he and Mrs Hughes would be pleased to come. I told Mother that to one he would think supper meant six o'clock and so it proved. At 6.45 in arrived the company with "Well, here

We've been all home on the road and had to come round by Yoke St." I nearly dropped for I knew Mother wasn't ready and neither was supper. There were a few rapid changes and then the company sat down in the drawing room and we had to go and get them a cup of tea to sustain them till supper was ready. We really enjoyed talking to them and certainly his life of Grandad is most interesting. They stayed till twenty minutes to twelve after telling us they were sorry they had to go but they had promised to be home early. I can imagine their feeling when they found they had missed the last car and had to walk home. Tuesday. Yesterday was the worst storm we have had for sixty-seven years. It was simply terrible and nearly all the cars were blocked for some time. We were at our different studies and it was awful trying to get home. We walked up this morning and came near to being overcome with the difficulty of getting on. All day they have been casting away the snow. Brother and I went down town this afternoon to do the month's shopping. You see by this that Mother is quite well again. I was home from lectures most of last week trying to keep away grippy and for the present I am free from it. I had a touch of toothache last week but it was pretty slight.

Miss Kendrick is here to tea tonight and she was wondering if you have met her niece Miss Adele Hall who is staying at Government House. Miss Kendrick says she is an awfully sweet girl & she is sure you would like her very much.

The Euchre Club meets here on Thurs. evening and we are looking forward

My Dear Willie:

I sent you the photos yesterday, & I am wondering how you like them. I think they are somewhat flattering, but they show me as I am at lectures — the "alert, keen, serious man of business," in the language of the world. I had an sketch N for more & sent it at the same time for him.

Jackson perhaps saw the Unsolved has a notice of this presentation under the "Personal" heading.

Millican told me on Sunday night, when your mother & I were there — Hopper, that he had made a mistake in not publishing the "Sir Hector Macdonald" article — he had not enquired into the facts sufficiently & he would have done so. He & I had a talk with him that night. He not only wrote Murdoch about me first when the appointments were made, but he telegraphed him also. He has stuck to me loyally.

We are all well. Mackenzie is to be with us over Sunday. You would be pleased with Bella's success. She got honours in every subject — over 80 per cent. Mrs. Cowan is now attending the School also.

My dear Willie -

I am very very sorry to have thanked you before now for the cheques you were so good to send. If I had written a line at the time it would have been the only right thing to do but I meant each day to write & thought Father had acknowledged it. He told us he had written. We have been very busy part both with visitors. First I must tell you that Monday finished the term. Tuesday there was a very nice tea given at the Institute & Jennie & Lawrence am exhibition of the calesthenics. There was an exhibition of each department of work. Mrs Mortimer Clark & Miss Clarke with a number of the nicest people came. Wednesday was sweeping day & I went to a small tea at the Davidsons on St George St.

By the way. Wednesday morning Jennie came home from Varsity & told me Miss Stiles the physical culture teacher had asked me to play for her & that I could make some money if I played for her. The music which was somewhat difficult I had to get to work & learn. Every moment I could spare I have been at that so that is why I have not written before. This morning Clem told me I did very well. It does but the humorous side - Thursday Mrs Cutler was here to call Clem wished very pretty & talked

'Theo ideals all the time' - I wished Jos were here as I found it very just to know what to say - Mother & Jennie had been over calling at Mrs Clapperman's & the Winchesters & Mrs Masters - they came in while Mrs Cutler was here.
Thursday night was the dance at the Dechenes - I did not go - for which now I think - as the girls said they had any amount of fun & there were such a lot of nice men there. Jennie will tell Jos all about it -
Mother will tell Jos about her

Society is very much interested in the clever "Extravaganza" to take place at Massey Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, and Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Arthurs is the directress, which in itself is a proof that it will be an artistic and successful entertainment. Proceeds are in aid of the furnishing fund of the new Toronto Free Hospital for Consumptive Poor, near Weston. A full dress rehearsal will take place to-morrow. The chaperons are: Mrs. Loudon, Mrs. W. Crowther, Mrs. E. F. B. Johnston, Mrs. Greville Harston, Mrs. M. Alexander, Mrs. E. Sprague, Mrs. F. J. Phillips, Mrs. R. A. Smith.

My Dear Willie:

I notice with great surprise and pleasure also, at the foot of the first letter of the world to-day, a little item saying that the Senate has decided to make you an LL.D. Otto J. Klotz and A.L. McDougall are in the same list. I had not heard even a hint of such a thing, nor has the report of the Committee come before the Senate. I can only hope that the world "item is -time, because the despatches finish-an honour, and, in your case, one I have been con-ferred on the youngest man who has yet received that distinction. Had no idea that the K.C. Com.

-mittee had even met. If I had known or heard [illegible]
I would have suggested Sir Wilfrid Laurier & Sir Richard Cartwright (perhaps Earl Dundonald.
If this offer is genuine, it includes the Scottish people for I had hon. offers in advance. I don't know who suggested you, but I am quite sure Messrs. C.J.O., would be on your waiting for you. The report of the Committee has to come before the Senate & be approved of — so no doubt it will be. If the statement is true you have the warmest congratulations of many friends. It is a very honourable distinction, and will add very much to your reputation, and be followed,
I have no doubt, by other distinctions of the same kind from other Universities.

I can't write more now. We are all very well, as I hope you are. I enclose a sketch cut from the Kingston Whig of Earl Dundonald.

Please send me a copy of your annual report.

Don't laugh too much at the LL.D. I see there is a W. F. King, B.A. '75, a gold medalist in Mathematics, who is in one of the Departments at Ottawa, twice connected with the Alaska Boundary award. He is an astronomer. Where, I am inclined to think he is the one required to. I didn't think of him when I wrote you.

Hmm. I really know nothing, than heard nothing, about the matter. The World item is an Hansum, & there I am hoping that it was true, but from another source I learn that the announcement was making me clueless.

I can't wait much now, as there are other things on hand.

Dear People, —

As you doubtless perceive by the above address I have changed my place of residence & am now on the most prominent corner on the South Side, viz. the corner of 18th & Broadway. Mrs. Nutter, my old land lady, had made up her mind to move & in fact had chosen a house & accordingly I had to get busy & look for a new location. At that time one of my patients, Miss Heilman by name, came to me & said she was thinking of going in the large fine house & wanted to know if I would come in with her. And as I am here; my land. lady, Mrs. Nutter, as a matter of fact, did not move, but she is going to take in boarders & required my room for a dining room. The room I have at present is the parlor of the house, the corner down stairs room. It has a mantle with grate & large mirror,

Dear Father,-

I see by the News of May 6th: that the C. P. R. are going to build a railway from Sudbury to Toronto. There is a chance there for a doctor to earn big money by getting the contract to look after the men constructing the railway. The contractors are generally the men who appoint the doctor. Could you please make enquiries & let me know if there is any chance of my getting that position. It is generally worth from $1000 to $1500 a month & would set me on my feet in great style. My Dear Mackie:

We received the enclosed letter from Mr. Ivey this morning. I am sorry to say it is a disappointing one. Mr. Ivey seems to think that we are not entitled to any rent after 1st May. I am writing him that I think we are entitled to a year's rent, as we have had no notice to leave, and that I am willing to accept $75 for the year, a day. Perhaps you had better see him.

Yours affectionately,
Mackenzie King.

Dr. Mackie.

We are not getting on with Mr. Ivey at all. He wants us to leave on the 1st May — which is not at all convenient for us. Will you please see him. Yours affectionately, Mackenzie King

1904? Brockville. May

Dear Billie:

Your letter was a great pleasure to us all and we are looking forward to our summer holiday with great enthusiasm. We shall enjoy our quiet time greatly and it will do us all good.

I am sure Aunt Mackintosh will do us A.M. Rowe while we are away. We do not know whether Jennie is going to be married in June or not. I think it is time a change. We are very fond of Jennie and we certainly have a pleasant home as well as any girl. We are not going to try another girl and put another maid from home as

Mr. Rowe and the rest of us went up to St. Paul's to hear Rev. Canon and we enjoyed it very much. The church was well filled and Rev. Canon Clark did about his letter. The Queen's left at 10 for Ste. Anne de Bellevue to take Blair Mc Lean to Toronto

I must be quite ready as I want to get this off tonight. Brother Dan will write Brother days etc. will write you in a couple of days. Did you read the Sun all means that building operations will begin at once, which will be very unpleasant. If we can get a certain time we may move promptly, if we are paid something for getting out. But times are terribly scarce, rents are away up, and the prospect altogether is very gloomy. I feel sick over the whole business. It will knock off our summer, & disarrange my plans about finishing my book upon lectures before. If I have chance we should move before we go to Kingsmere, it will of course interrupt my work very seriously, & will delay our going down; but if we can't get a house, we shall just have to stay on this over time it's only I suppose it will be easier to get a house in the spring than in the fall. That is the present situation, & it is an exceedingly aggravating and annoying one.

Yours lovingly

Dear Dr. King

You will very likely wonder who in the world I am, until I tell you that I am Graeme Stewart's sister. My brother Grant is a member of the Stock Co playing at the Gardens this summer and his little girl and I have come with him. (Graeme probably told you that Grant lost his wife two years and a half ago & I have been living with him ever since).

Graeme tells us that you have settled out in Denver and we shall be delighted to see you if you have time to come out so far. We are staying on Tennyson St. at a house immediately opposite the "double figure 8 toboggan" so I don't think you can possibly miss it. The little garden is fenced in with iron railings and there that. The articles in the News on the local matters affecting the city generally are written by the former editor of the News - I forget his name just now - of the article to which Murdock refers me, I am fairly sure, from that person's pen. You are fairly right in telling Murdock that I am not responsible in any manner or in particular for the Government; but I am pained and disappointed, I know that fighting still. He used him for me all he could if he wanted to, and he can do so still; but I shall never approach him again on the subject. Still Governments are notoriously stingy, but both of them will get a shaking up at the next elections that will teach them a lesson. The shock will come just as much from their political friends as from their opponents, and they richly deserve it. The Dundonald affair will damage them very much as it should, whatever the constitutional merits of the case may be. There is universal sympathy with Dundonald, and his dismissal is a loss to the militia and to the country. But the Government could not have acted differently, only it is a pity that the difference was not patched up in some way. I am enclosing a paper sent me by Mrs. Dandurand from Quebec. The references in the article on the Dundonald affair to Sir Frederick Enclosed letter which I have sealed with the Cooper Enclosed I forgot to ask you what Murdock wanted the News to do with respect to the G. T. P. & the Depart-ment. However no occasion yet for defending the Depart-ment on that score. We are beastly about the Exposition use. Of course I understand that Mr's name and Exposition are not to be mentioned.

When Winchester's report comes in then with a chance for an article; & also the introduction of a more stringent alien labour law; but I know of nothing else — in the meantime at least

It strikes me the Department ought to be on the alert over our threatened street railway strike, should not wait for a strike in order to intervene. I thought the Government was also about the employing with the employment of alien engineers on the G. T. P. line. I hope they will not be slow about the street railway.

My Dear Willie:

Your letter was, as it always is, very welcome, and I am now writing about a house that your mother & Jennie have been looking at. They think it beautiful, & it is in perfect order, only we can't get it for less than $40-00 a month — $5:00 more than we are paying here. It is the house occupied by Mr. Kirkpatrick on Golden's Sheriff's property a "Mortgage"; we just ask the driving room both ends on the lower storey. It purchasers will be very in something to get over the winter, & that would help materially for the first year anyway. I wish I was both ready this year. I have already a volume ready for the Press written on the Law & Criminal Libel, & I am working hard at the Vol. on Civil Libel; in fact I never walked besides since I and my two Beams, & I intend to Walk home every week down with me.

What do you think about it? We must fix a final answer on Friday first; otherwise we will be out quite.

With much love:

Father.

Mackintosh is ill & is under the doctor for his health, & he is going up his case which happens in September. If we take the house — and I am very anxious to get it, if possible — we could get possession in Sept. as Mrs. K. & the children are going to Metis for the summer. That would enable us to go to you at any time in the very near future. Mrs Mackintosh is delighted with the house — only there is the $5.00 extra a month. It would be most convenient for me at the Hall, would save much in the way of car fare, as near the cars as he could be, & is in a much respectable neighbourhood. From all I can learn, there enquiries are low rents. I don't think it will be possible for us to get a decent house for less than $40.00 a month. I really must not get for from the Hall; that is everything here for lectures for the Library. There no doubt the

Your mother was talking to me very fully about it after she took for her letter. She thinks it "an ideal home" 1 smaller than the one we are in, & will be suit Mrs. Kirkpatrick also, if we let her

Dear People, —

The home letters which arrived this week were as ever full of interest & happiness for me. I am very glad you saw Dr. Sewall & only wish you could have had both him & Mrs. Sewall at the house for dinner. Bonnie & suppose the Dr. was very busy & had a large number of friends to see.

I agree with Will that now is the best time to move & for Mother to go to Atlanta during the ordeal. Mother's arguments about the car tickets etc. when living out in Rosedale, or somewhere else on the outskirts, I do not think amounts to much. Suppose you used an average of six tickets a day, which I think is very unlikely, it would amount to $9.00 a month for car fares. In such a house you would save $15.00 a month on rent, 2 or 3 on gas, & easily $5 a month in the winter on fuel. Such a saving, as well as comfortably enclosed. Am a little at a loss to know what to say. I got a very good deal more than I expected & I think they thoroughly enjoyed it. Shall write Mackenzie, Dunn, Blair, Frank, and others tomorrow. Dunn & Blair were nearly got into the other day. Blair is really a very fine old fellow. I enjoyed his company much more than I expected. Have Sunday evening also & must entertain Dr. Parkin & Mrs. Parkin who has travelled all the way from Montreal to see me. He is a professor in Trinity & Mrs. P. a good friend of mine, & used to be at the Gerrard St. Church. Am glad I had come to Toronto & to be with Mackenzie, & to have had a talk with Blair. Shall write to Mackenzie, Dr. Parkin & Mrs. Parkin & others. Of course I gave the cable a little thought & also Edmund, with a very pretty little thought that also was glad I had come to Toronto & was near when anything became of any kind.

I bought with that expectation, & I am relying on their selling by September when (on 15th or thereabouts) Mrs. Kirkpatrick will return from the sea. She will buy her things there meanwhile, & if we can arrange to have them on ours & take her home if she is willing to assist us in that way. Every one here is taken immensely with the Grange house, & I don't wonder. I took a look into part of it on Saturday, & it is the cosiest, big enough for us, in perfect order, & compact of plan in every way. It would be an ideal home, & I am sure you would be charmed with it, especially the view from the easterly windows into the Grange grounds. The rent is most reasonable because rents have gone up tremendously, & Mr Smith came down a great deal, because he wanted to help us afterwards. We are all most anxious to get there, & I truly hope things will so turn out that we can move in September. It would be infinitely better to take a house ourselves than to rent the chances of the new house, because I am quite certain we should not get such a chance again - It is indeed, a rare chance. I can easily see that the heating will effect a saving, the rooms being smaller in size & number, the ceiling lower, & the house more compact. The neighbourhood is all we could desire & the distance from the Hall less than from the old Bungalow. I know we could sell the few things that would be needed in the new house & get good cheap, because they have been used, & are not dear even when new. The foot rests are not nearly so good as

Dear Father & Mother:

I received Jennie's letter this morning and was glad to know that you had understood aright my delays in writing and had not been too much put out by the many postponements. I am sorry to have put so far behind in the work, that I doubt if it will ever be overtaken, without other help, however, once the session is over some relief may come.

Bank & Somerset - If I can I will go out to Kingsmere Friday night & get things into shape, in which event I come in at 8.50 in the morning & meet you at the Station at that time, & you had better get breakfast in the restaurant there. I will call in at the restaurant for you. - If I do not call in at that time you will know I have remained in town in which event I will be at the house, & if you get tired waiting at the Station tell them & I shall be out in the country come to my room & I will follow you there. I will be busy at the office till one but will try to get off then. If you come by the Saturday

I have my doubts on the Parliament ending this week, however, Parliament or no Parliament, girl or no girl, you had better come and take luck as it turns up. It will be best. I think to come down on Friday night, best if you find it more convenient, the day train on Saturday will arrive in time to make connection (the baggage might not connect). If you get Mr. Mulock to Allan, that will be best. It will be as easy to secure Kingsmere hitch here. You cannot hire to Kingsmere, but only to Chelsea. We have 4 miles stage from there, so in packing baggage keep this in mind. Bring bathing suits brushes & combs, the if father is going to sleep in the tent which I rather advise, he had better bring a night cap as well. If you come on the night train you had better come to my house on Somerset St. take a car at the station and transfer at-

'goodbye' I think Sir Wm will be coming shortly for the old country but - of this I cannot say.

If you find the library in the new house is going to be too small & would like to bring down the English Encyclopedia or other books I will try to find room for them here.

My dear Mackenzie

Yesterday I received a letter from Rose Lem Cook, a copy of which I enclose herewith. I also received a letter from Mrs. Arnold's solicitors, a copy of which I also enclose herewith. Rose Lem Cook's letter is very touching. I am writing to her to-day, and will do what I can for her. I am sorry to say that I do not think it would be wise for you to attempt to do anything for her at present. I will write you more fully in a few days. I have read the letters over carefully, and do not think you should do anything in the matter at present.

My dear Willie:

The enclosed verses were left for you by Mrs. Dr. of Leigh. Madison Ave, the other day when she called. They are her own composition, & the handwriting on them is hers. They are really well done in many ways, & I should send her a note thanking her, because it was a gentle, kindly act on her part.

We had settled about the house. It was arranged to-day. The owners of this property sold that house — whether I could get some of my manuscripts typewritten when I am down with you, upon paying something for it. It will help me very much in getting out my book, or books, as the case may be, & will aid me in bargaining with the publishers, in the printing, & in every other way. Clean typewritten manuscript will be most desirable for the printer, my own handwriting not being good copy. The time of any one in your office, who could do it, would be his own after office hours, & there could be no objection on that score. The two conditions which I named with a smile would be (1) a reasonable charge; and (2) fact is the difference in the rents between our present & future house upon our getting up possession, & we can get up possession whenever we like. Mrs. Cayley, who is agent for Mrs. Kirkpatrick, will write her at once to see if we can get possession of her house in her absence, & if we can we will move without delay, & get the moving done before we go to Ottawa. That will enable us to get partially settled before our holidays, & will save us the trouble of paying a rent between.

The difference in the rent is a fair offset, because we would, when we leave Ottawa next year, have to bear the expense of moving ourselves. I really did not reckon as good an offer, because the owners of the property may have it empty on their hands after we leave. They will not rent; they will only sell, and a purchaser may not be easy to get, as it is thought that the owners hold the property too high. ($16.000). We may, therefore, not get down to you so soon, within a few days, as expected; but I am heartily glad about the house. It is a bargain, & we are able thoroughly to feel about it.

I am very anxious to know — because we have forgotten to reply to my former letter on

Mr Kenzie King with Kind remembrances from Rockcliffe

Welcome.

Is the rain welcome
That falls on the field,
Which threatens for lack of it
Nothing to yield?
Is the breeze welcome,
To fill listless sails,
All lying useless,
Without favoring gales?
So art thou welcome, as fair wind or rain,
To the heart that rejoiceth to see thee again.

Is the bud welcome
That fore-runneth spring,
Giving a promise
That summer will bring Flowers in their glory,
And fruit in its time,
In the bud, Faith sees
That these things combine.
So trifling actions can speak with a power
And say thou art welcome, as summer's first flower.

Shine, sunshine brightly,
Sing, birds with joy,
Rejoice, kindly nature,
Let no clouds alloy;
All should be brightness,
Most cheery and gay,
To speak to the heart,
In the Home-Coming Day,
Repeating in harmony, ever this strain,
Welcome! Oh, welcome, again and again!

Dear Father -

Perhaps you will not think it kind of me if I write you a letter - I think it is especially because I expect you will not write me - but I am writing to you because I want to tell you how much I enjoyed your visit to Toronto - I have been very busy since I came back - but I have enjoyed every moment of it. I am very glad that you were pleased with the speeches - I thought them very clever - I have been very busy writing articles for the Mail & Empire - & I expect to have a busy week before me - I have written Mr Flavelle & Mr Cox - & I expect to see them both this week - I am very glad that you were pleased with Mr Cox - I think he is a very fine man - & I am sure that he will be a great help to the party - I am very glad that you were pleased with Mr Flavelle - I think he is a very fine man - & I am sure that he will be a great help to the party - I am very glad that you were pleased with Mr Cox - I think he is a very fine man - & I am sure that he will be a great help to the party - I am very glad that you were pleased with Mr Flavelle - I think he is a very fine man - & I am sure that he will be a great help to the party -

Dear People, -

This is a beautiful Sunday afternoon, typical of the majority of Colorado days. Things are running smoothly & I am as happy & healthy as ever, continuing, in fact, to add flesh to my already corpulent corporosity.

I think Jennie's was the only letter I have received since writing home a couple of weeks ago. However it was most enjoyable & I must admit made up for several of the letters that were not written. Doubtless you are all busy with the prospect of going to Ottawa. Tell that Ottawa contingent, when you get there, that my birthday comes on November 11th & that I shall expect a letter then if not before.

I spent my 24th May on the 4th July this year, which was last Monday. The Cripple Creek Cricket Club came down & we had an

I shall try & remember to telephone on Sunday, & then write a letter which you will receive on Monday morning. I am very glad to hear that you are all well & enjoying yourselves so much. Tell Mother I will write to her soon. I have had several very kind letters about them & I do not wish to trouble her

CLOSE FINISH IN CRICKET GAME AT PARK

Yesterday's cricket game between the teams of Walton and Hosker resulted in a win for the former by the very narrow margin of one run. Both sides were represented by two full elevens and the finish was quite exciting. While no very heavy batting was in evidence, quite an interesting display was given by Dr. King, who batted freely and hard for a well played innings of 18, not out. His off drives were quite spectacular and his work was finished, the balance of the team being retired for Walton's side took seven out of the wickets at a very small cost. With the exception of Callis all of the club's best bats went down for ridiculous scores, quite in contrast with the work accomplished against Cripple Creek on Monday, July 4.

Following is the detailed score:

VOLLMER TEAM WINS CRICKET GAME AT PARK

Yesterday's Cricket game resulted in a win for Vollmer's side by 27 runs. Profiting by the adverse experience of the last six or seven matches, quite a number of the players let out their muscles and a number of good individual scores were made. The batting of Homewood, the two Brays, Clarkson, Hill, Dr. King, Bliss and Lashbrook calls for particular mention. This feature of the game has been sadly lacking in the weekly matches of the past six weeks, the bowlers having had too much of a monopoly. Should the same improvement be noticable next Saturday, it is confidently anticipated that the match will be won by the local club. Following is the full score of yesterday's game:

22 Wellington Place,
Toronto, Tuesday Evg.
12 July, 1904.

My Dear Willie:

I must thank you for the ticket & the Building Loan - Speech ($ 2.50) which I at - tended last night & which was a splendid success. I sat at the table of 6 with Ritchie, Mr. Keating (Mgr of the Steel Co.) who sat next me, Arthur Ruttan, a lawyer named Macdonald (brother of D.K. Mc.) & another gentleman whom I did not know. We table was near the door of the dining room - for which I was devoutly

I shared the hostility of those French Liberals, & I have an intense admiration for them - I got home at 1.45 a.m. as last as Hodgins.

We can't fix Laurier & the party lunch till September 15th or thereabouts, so we will go to Ottawa or stay here next week. But I want to go leaving to get a house furnished, if possible, & a definite bargain for conveyance for fear we mean a little more than the difference in the rent. We will have some things ready for moving before we leave for Kingsmere. All well here & send love.

Yours lovingly Father

thankful, as it was very warm - & as Sunderland came in a little later than the rest of the company, he came right up on our table & shook hands with us, but I had no word with him. His speech was fairly delivered & reads impressively better than it was spoken. The speeches of Poliquin & Emmerson were poor affairs also. Emmerson struck me as a perfect old fellow of an orator - a type one sees for the head of such departments from a man of the calibre of Blair. Laurier did splendidly. He was in fine form, was as fluent & clear as a limpid stream, never hesitating for a word, & nothing without a single note. He got a grand reception. He well deserved it. So did Laurier - a most magnetic speaker, who caught & held his audience as with a spell. If he speaks in French as he did in English, I don't wonder he is in Parliament, & I suspect for him a Cabinet position before long. He thrilled me, especially in his reference to the old fight for responsible government, & the alliance between Macdougall Papineau, & also his reference to the long struggle of the French liberals with the Bishops and ultramontane hierarchy & Quebec.

to a splendid audience of the Empire. He was so cool and collected as if he were talking to you at his own table. It was announced that the reception would be over by half-past, but I don't suppose that he would depart himself, for he did. There is no doubt he has considerably damaged the Government, & he could be returned by-acclamation for any Division in Toronto. The feeling is general that he has been badly treated, & the sympathy with him is universal & deep-seated.

But I must stop & say good night, wishing you good luck at Sydney, if you go there, & that we may see you here again whether you go or not.

Your loving Father.

My Dear Willie:

Thanks for the atlas and the reports which came followed by your letter to-day. They are each and all very interesting to me. In their, & other way, some grammatical errors in your reports, but it is very readable construction. I shall pursue all these things in due time.

Our arrangements for evening are complete. The owners of our house will pay me $100 on Sept. 15th, when I give up possession, & the Smiths will not charge me for half of the month of September, which will be $20.00. I think this is a liberal arrangement. Jean & the girls are working hard packing & putting things in shape for our autumn Regina. The carpets will be up on Monday & Tolton to the carpet cleaners who will clean and lay them as soon as the Prairie house is available. I walked hard yesterday filling up bags with our surplus coal, & I am to-day taking the opposite of it. What is being done will make us warmer in winter both the time, & will materially lighten the September work on our return from Kingsmere. If you go to Sydney others will of course be delay. That cannot be helped, but I hope you will go at once & so to return in good time. We should not go away on Wednesday because we will not be ready, & when we do go, it will be via Kingston when we shall stay a week, but no longer. If we leave at the end of next week for Kingston how will that suit?

Mrs. Travis Kendrick & I were at the Dundonald reception last night. It was the greatest ovation I ever witnessed — that & Laurier not excepted. Massey Hall was packed; the walls & following & platform were finely decorated; the music — the Scotch airs especially — were inspiring, & Dundonald was superb. Schurman himself, & so did every one. Never saw greater enthusiasm. It was a magnificent compliment to

My dear Billie

We have just come in from a very hot walk - Old St. Dennis having noticed us all the time with Innis today. Of course we took advantage of his kindness His house is very pretty and he is about settled Would to Goodness we were the same fare to and from Ottawa, Jean's dress for Innis's wedding all these things mount up very quickly but next months money would over come the difficulty if it is not asking you too much to lend him Money for the time being I feel you are doing a great deal for me and I hate to ask this favor but I really think after we have put in so much of the summer doing our own work, now back ing N.C. the change would be most grateful.

We are simply longing for the time to come for us to visit you but don't worry about us; we quite understand how you feel. Should we could not have crowded quite as much into that last week. While I still no which will be more convenient for you, for us to leave Friday night or Saturday morning. We thought we might be able to get off Thursday if we did not leave till the morning. Then another thing. Is it cheaper to get our tickets direct to Kingston or can you get cheap rates from Ottawa? Do not worry about a servant. I can easily do the cooking & if you could get someone to do the dishes etc that is all we need. You see we have had nine weeks experience! Father says he is going to sleep in the tent with you while he is there but for mon best.

Dear Billee:

We were indeed glad to get your letter yesterday & know you were safely home. Mother was beginning to wonder whether anything could have happened to you. We are looking forward to hearing all about your sidney trip & the call in Quebec. Sidney was a great victory & you must be cheque now that it is the first of the month.

We are not going to Kingston as it would cost more and besides it wd. make my visit in Kingsmere so short you see I have to be in Berlin by the end of the month and that leaves me only three weeks as it is. It wd scarcely be worth while spending so much for a shorter time.

We are all well and looking forward to our visit. I hope you will enjoy it as much as I know we shall. Father has been promised the Ottawa assizes. With much love lovingly yours

My Dear Mackenzie:

Allow me to congratulate you upon the splendid manner in which you have conducted the campaign in the South Perth election. It was a most difficult one to fight, and the result is highly satisfactory. The Government will be strengthened by your return to the House of Commons. I am glad to have had the opportunity of rendering you some assistance in the matter. Yours very truly, W. L. Mackenzie King in time. It would have been in time if you filed the papers to-morrow (Saturday), but I would not do that, as we go down to-morrow by train at 9.15 am. & not to-night as I told you formerly. This is finally final.

I am just a little afraid that there is an irregularity in Cowan's declaring you to your affidavit. His name as Notary is England with a ring, or if a seal, I left in the space for signing; but as I said to me changes in the remove as it stands. It can't be mended now. In all these things relating to legal documents one can't be too precise & accurate. The greatest possible care must be taken in everything connected with them.

We are nothing the day instead of the night train because it is cheaper — no other reason. We shall be very glad when you can & anticipate a very pleasant holiday with you.

With love Father.

night for a short time. Mrs Duncan has been very ill with a cold. She has kept up in bed for 3 nights for fear of choking — her throat was so bad.

I would like to go to Kingsmere on Sunday but fear to change my bed. I must not take any chances with work on hand. Could you not come in for that day? The bible case is ready for Monday next by contract; but I must get through with my Cromwell work first. I don't see my way clear to going home this Wednesday.

Show Mr Charlie Arthurs sketch the Dress case & go over it with him. This form is for Darcy Scott the other draft in the Power case.

Show Post election cards & reports with me but have not had time to show it any of them. Busy with the Grand Jury all to-day & will be off in to-morrow & then I must go on with the trials & afterwards work up the bible case. My brain is filled.

Hope you will excuse this hurried letter as I must turn in. Very couple has returned & Joseph I shall have another hard night of it. And I must also send a hasty home. I am confident all here, but the house is cold. Please do not answer this. With much love & many thanks

I said if the house had not been so upside down I would have asked her to stay the night with us - I think that pleased her very much. Enough about it. When we got home the Grays & young Dunns were all there and delighted to see us. It was not long before we retired to rest and from our habit of rising early at Kingsmere we found no difficulty in doing so at Kingsmere bond. Jen and I interviewed Mr Kirkpatrick. Her two gasoliers the D. room and dining room with the shades cost her $87.50 and she has offered us the hall gas fixtures in the house and there are a great many for $6 5- each I told her I would buy her within a month or tomorrow she is to get me know what the dark and light blinds will cost - and I am afraid the whole thing will come to about $7 dollars but I suppose we will have to go it. Old Mr Dennison told us he had just paid for putting up his own gas fixtures I find that it took your wife by mistake - I also left Bell's apron behind this pantry door will you be sure to put it away for me? for it is her thermometer apron and my dead would be in danger if anything happened to it. She paid 75 cents for it in Guelph. I have had so many interruptions that I hardly know what I am saying We all look back with so much pleasure dear Billie to our visit with you. This house seems cold and empty and everything is dusty I long for the lovely fire-Place. I hope Berkeley is getting along all right - You might mention I spoke of the delighted with what you have done on your book on Libel. It will be when completed a work worthy of you, and to us, your children, the most valuable of possessions. I doubt if a son finds anywhere the same inspiration as is to be derived from the pride he is entitled to feel in his parents, when this pride has a strong foundation, and this perhaps is peculiarly true where its source relates to work performed for society or the world as a whole, whether it be in letters, politics, or other fields.

Dear Father:

I cannot tell you how sincerely sorry I am that your birthday anniversary must be my without a letter from me having failed to keep track of the dates, it was not till I recalled yesterday being the 15th of the month, that I found I had let it come so suddenly upon me. I had had your birthday in mind, and have thought of it many times in the past fortnight, on the 14th it escaped my thoughts or I would certainly have written then. I wrote out a telegram which I gave Code last night to take into town this morning, and which you have, I hoped received ere this, it could not convey to you the wishes of my heart as you have them, nor the hopes for your happiness and wellbeing in the years to come which found some expression in my prayers. I trust this new year of your life may be a good and prosperous one, and with all my heart I pray that God may long spare You to us all, to enjoy years of increasing comfort, happiness, and peace. The year promises well in its beginning, may it crown even more auspicious ere its close!

I wish I could tell you and mother how truly I enjoyed the days spent with us this summer, and Jennie's visit as well. I feel much happier and better for our time together and can only wish that it might have been longer than it was. As you know, I was more than

I have received one of the replies which I am enclosing to the letter sent out to the Alumni Graduates. I am also enclosing a card which Mackellan is sending out - a most common place and vulgar affair. It seems to me, for a candidate to a University Senate. - The note in italics at the close may have no significance, but it is suggestive of a kind of cabal influence which is most objectionable. I wish you could send me the list of graduates, if not a revised list. Then one of these

I was glad to receive your letter telling me of your conversation with Percy Parker. I appreciated more than I can tell you, what was implied in the interview having been so promptly made. It is possible the outcome may mean an immediate successful arrangement of some kind; if it does not it should at least make you feel less hesitation in following it up by interviews with others, as I am quite sure you will have been led to feel that in making a good partnership you have every reason to know that with favourable circumstances you have as much to offer or more, than you are to receive. You may count on me, if necessary, for assistance financially in enabling you to make a satisfactory start. I would sacrifice much to see this effected, because I believe to you professionally, socially, and personally it would be most beneficial whilst matters remaining as they are cannot be other than prejudicial in all three respects. What is more, it is, I think, only a matter of diligence, rather than time, in search, that is required. I shall await with interest the results of your interview with Mr. Jones, if it comes to naught as to effecting a final arrangement; I hope you will not allow it to set you back in any way. To my own mind your seeing Parker immediately has brought much relief, and to my partners an added measure.

the securing a brief from Wood was a splendid climax to the trip, the case of the Mag is run down for a week from Monday. I am glad to see, too, that the criminal business promises well, I will send a line in to the Office telling them that I expect you down and have written you to the Ivy room while there, and that I hope they will supply you with breakfast which I am sure they will. The Gilmour is a hotel near at hand on Bank St. where you could go for dinner, & returning to the room for the evening; as you will have to be here over Sunday. I will not go in till the Monday and possibly not that day if your address is the Ivy does not come off them. I hope you can come out to Kingsmere for the Sunday, even if you cannot get out till evening on Sunday morning and prefer to return at the same hour in the evening. I have not seen the Ministers, and so far as I know he is of the opinion that I am still in the States; Should you meet and be speaking to him in

My dear Willie:

I hope you will not be disappointed if I do not turn up to-morrow, but I fear I can't so not much as I would like the case I am. Had intended starting the criminal business with the petit jury to-day, but there seem to be a lot to do. I coupled all night & I feel I must stay here 2 more days, otherwise I will be unfit for work on Monday. I start on Monday am. The Dail Press can't be used for Thursday next. I have just written Hughes that I can't lecture next week. I am very pleased that you will be going up with me, & I am sure they will all be very much pleased.

UNIVERSITY SENATE ELECTIONS, 1904.

To the Graduates in the Faculty of Arts of the University of Toronto:

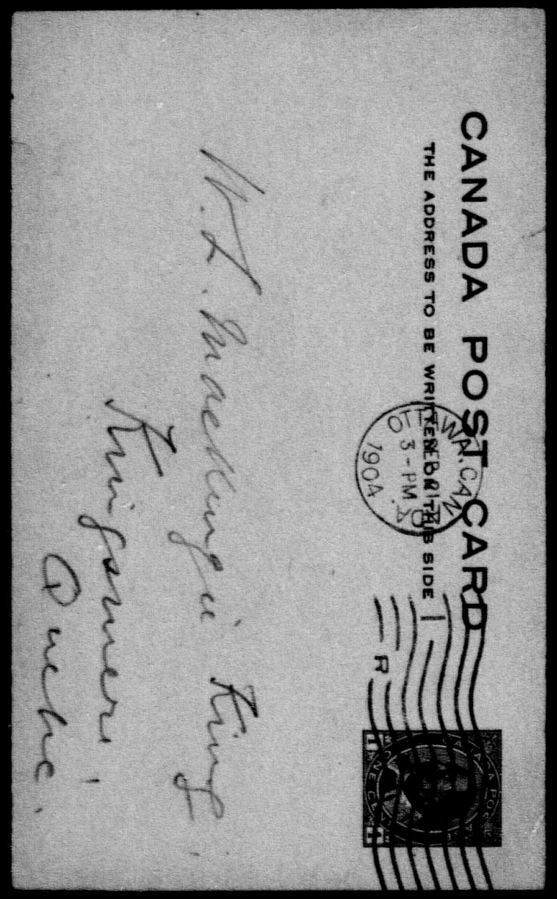

Having been nominated by members of your body, in different parts of the country, as a candidate to represent you on the Senate of the University, I respectfully solicit your support in the elections. In doing so I have no ends to serve save the welfare of the University, and the legitimate influence of the graduates in the administration of its affairs. I have for many years, as you know, taken an active interest in its well-being and prosperity. As one of your representatives in the governing body, both as a non-resident and resident of Toronto, I have sought to deserve the confidence reposed in me by regular attendance at meetings of the Senate, diligent attention to the duties of the office, and the promotion of the usefulness and influence of the institution in every way possible. I may also be excused for mentioning the fact, which is not generally known, that during the past senatorial term, I was instrumental in securing the donation of the two most valuable prizes in the gift of the University for the encouragement of original work in certain departments of study, and an equally valuable donation for the library. Although not connected with the University or the colleges in a professorial capacity, I have had experience otherwise which may be utilized with some advantage in your service should I be honored with a renewal of your confidence. It is desirable that all classes and interests and not merely those of an intra-mural and academic character, which are always very strong in the Senate, should be represented there, and I venture to believe that it is for this, among other reasons, that my candidature has been acceptable in past years, as I trust it may be on the present occasion.

Dear People -

Doubtless you will be thinking it is about time you were getting a letter from me, but, as usual, I have been very busy & have not noticed the time going by.

The letters from home, & the one from Father in Ottawa, were all a very great pleasure. I was much amused at Nell's dream. She must be very careful to write often so that she will not have a dream like that again. I thought a great deal of the picture of Father in the Ottawa Gazette & the few pleasing lines under it. I showed it to all the boarders & to a number of my friends in town. They all liked it very much & Dr. Arnold explained it to send to a friend of his (a New Virginia Man) in Augusta.

By the way, before I forget, I want Jennie to let me have Mrs Gibson's address, because I have a book for her. It is a new publication of a dictionary of quotations, by Elliot, I think, in morocco binding, which I got roped in to buy. Would you write anything on the fly leaf

Dear Max:

For a long time past I have been intending to write you a long letter,and this good intention will be realised very shortly,because there is a lot that I would like to tell you about,and I also wish to let you know how delighted I am at your success. I think in every way that you have done exceedingly well.

My purpose in sending you this note is simply to advise you to write to the Provincial Secretary of the Ontario Government,the Hon.J.P.Stratton,at once about securing 160 acres of land to which you are entitled on account of your service in South Africa. Father has let this matter drag along for the past two years,and my idea is that possibly it has gone too far already,and that you may lose the whole amount. At any rate,the present Ontario Government is not likely to be in power very long,and I would advise you strongly to have the whole matter straightened out before the end of this month. Write father about his own land and yours,but write independently to the Government for yourself,telling father that you have done so,and that you would be obliged to

This letter is simply to remind you that it is extremely probable that the Ontario Government may not have a very long lease of life,and that it is advisable for you to go and secure at once the land which is coming to Max and yourself. I think that you should not put this off another day,as certainly you stand agood chance of losing it altogether.

My dear Willie -

Enclosed find a P.O. Note for $5 which kindly use as you think best. Mr. Chrystler is anxious to have Campbell Clapham - Sup. Comm. to Toronto P.M. This is Thursday & practically the matter must be settled & Sir Wm. Mulock knows how this can be done - in one way only - the appointment must be made. It is more than kind of Mr. Clapham & will be a fine thing for him to have the position - & all the Liberals would be glad - so that I am sure you will do all you can in the matter. Mr. Chrystler is a friend of mine & I am anxious to help him. Mr. Clapham is well qualified for the position & I think would make a good man. Mr. Chrystler is a staunch Liberal & a man of means & influence & can help us in many ways. Mr. Clapham is a Toronto man & has been in the Post Office for years & knows the work along the line & should be - the appointment should be made. Your letter of the 9th came this morning & I am very glad to get it. I returned from Quebec on Thursday evening & found your letter awaiting me. I had analysis & accordance with your wishes. Mackenzie & Mann are making a section of the road which will run to Prairie Creek & Fort St. John & I am very anxious to get over the ground myself. I have written to Mackenzie & Mann asking them to let me know when they will be ready to start & I will then arrange to go with them. I should like very much to go over the ground with you & Mackenzie & Mann & I think it would be very interesting for you to see the country.

work in order to be happy.

I would suggest, but dont tell her I did so, that she take music from Mary which would help her considerably in the work she is doing for Mrs Mackay Mary charges $1.50 a hour for lessons but Isabel would only pay her a dollar a hour which would make it only $1.50. I dont want Isabel to know I have written this so just say that Mrs Mackay thinks she ought to be all to glad to be taking a braid. Tell her she is getting on in that sound. From Wilson to Dou

Dict'd.

Dear Father:

I received this morning your letter of yesterday, enclosing catalogue of paintings. I wish to thank you for procuring for me the two pictures mentioned in your letter. I am quite anxious to have a description of them,and hope that you will give me full particulars,as it may be a few weeks before I will be going up to Toronto. I will be glad if you will describe for me the scene or figures represented and anything you may know as to the former history of the paintings. I would like very much to have been up for the sale,as the collection is evidently a very fine one,and the opportunity exceptional.

I am enclosing herewith my cheque No.211 for $50.50 as mentioned in my telegram to you to-day,and will be glad if you will pay the amount to Mr.Townsend.

I received this morning the letters from Bella and Jennie and will be glad to hear from them again in reference to their work. I should think it was desirable for them to take up some study at the University if the work is not already too far advanced. On the other hand Bella or Jennie may prefer to take lessons in music,and if so,I would be very glad to assist them. I think that they should certainly have some body of instructive work on which to occupy a portion of each day during the year.

I was pleased to hear of your success at Owen Sound,and also that you were taking up the land grant matter at once. I hope you will not drop it until you have the deeds in your possession. I wrote to Max some days ago about the matter,and no doubt he has already written in to the Government.

With best love.

Affectionately yours.

My Dear Willie:

Your telegram came at 2 p.m. to-day. When I wrote yesterday my intention was to have the paintings sent up to the house to await to your further instructions; but we have since thought it better to have them packed & sent by an Agent from the auction room, more especially as there is scarcely room for them here, and because they can be more easily packed and shifted

"Baptism of St John" was considered by a number of persons present the finest in the collection; both they are both worth many times what you are paying for them.

Mr. Spence, who knows all about these things, says that each painting should be wiped over with a soft cloth steeped in warm water, without soap, and should afterwards be wiped over gently with a soft woollen cloth and a little sweet oil on the cloth. The frames will need renovating also. I hope you will like the purchases.

Mr. Spence showed me one of the Canning paintings of the Evening. Mr. Hayes is a very entertaining man, this wife who was with him is quite a Liberal politician.

I am still making enquiries about a business arrangement, but I am not yet for what I want. I will continue my quest & do all I can to effect my object.

By the way did you see at Kingsmere about the Rules of Practice under the Judicature Act? I am not sure that I did not take it down with me & failed to bring it back. It was a borrowed book & I want to return it. Please keep this in mind. We are all well. With much love.

Father.

I got Forster to examine the pictures. He says Christ-the crown of thorns is a genuine Guercino (pronounced Gurchino) and is "an art treasure". Not knowing or discovering the artist's name on the other pictures he did not regard it so highly. I like it very much, and I am sure you will also. I wish we could shower that

Dear People, -

I am liable to be interrupted any minute but I should like to write a few lines home if possible. Received Father's letter this A.M. & wish to thank him very much for his kind interest in the Winnipeg affair & also for looking in to the land grant. I got a letter from Stratton about the land which I shall enclose. About the Winnipeg business I think my chances is about 1 in 20 & in fact will be surprised if I get it. However I think there is no harm done in sending in an application & I think that everything one puts into should be gone into with all one's might.

I read my paper before the Medical Society as I mentioned I was going to & I think it was quite a success as quite a discussion, favourable criticism was made by many of the best doctors after I finished.

At a meeting at the Y.M.C.A., in connection with juvenile training, several of the speakers referred to me in a very complimentary way, when the president saw that I did was not going to get up myself, he called on me to speak, saying that he was sure that the strangers present would like to see & hear from the member about whom so much had been said. I had not prepared anything but got up & spoke for about 15 minutes.

I must thank Jennie for sending me Snowshoe & Minnie Nelson's picture. The latter I think is very good & I wrote to him & thanked her for it.

weather has been grand. Last Sunday I took the cars with some friends staying at our house out to Golden & climbed to the top of a mountain there. It was a great climb & when I got to the top my pulse was going at 130 but the view was grand.

Just a few minutes ago I got a telegram about another position I have been waiting for some time & better I think than the Winnipeg one. Perhaps I shall be able to tell you all about it in my next letter but until I get it it is just as well to say nothing.

Well I must ring off here as the interruptions are increasing. Home to all & write soon such favorable circumstances. The clean sweep in N. Scotia was phenomenal, and means that Laurier's mantle will fall on Fielding who well deserves it. The chances are that the Government has a majority in Every Province. I find that Mr and Mrs Ward in the Labour Department are very much discussed in all the Toronto constituencies, and that it had a very decided influence in favour of the Government, especially in Centre and South Toronto. Dear Father:

It has occurred to me that possibly the University Senate would consent to appoint me as examiner or one of the judges in connection with the L.L.B.thesis. It is on the subject--"A comparative study of the law and proposed amendments to the same,affecting trade unions in Great Britain and Canada." which,I think,you proposed. I would be glad if you would bring up the matter at the proper time,and let me have a line in reference to it.

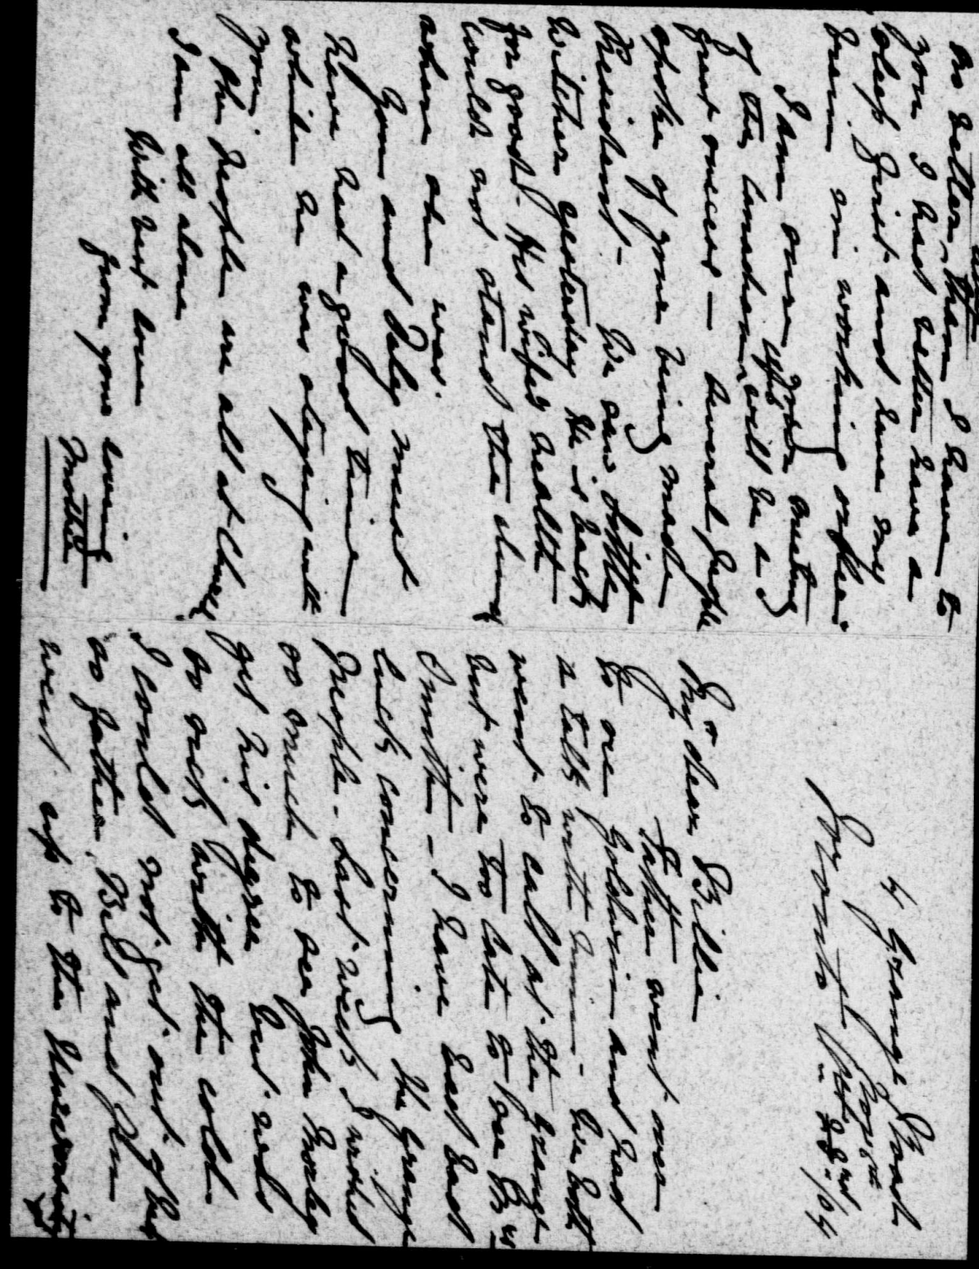

I have just received your letter of yesterday,and am extremely sorry to hear that mother has not been well,and hope that she will soon be entirely rid of the cold which she has.

He said he would go to Ottawa on Friday by the day train which leaves here at 9.10 a.m., & would speak at the luncheon on Saturday. He did not say when he was going to stay. Being an old man & rather subject to bronchitis, you should see, if the stays at the hotel, that he is well looked after. I saw in the Star that he might stay at Richard Hall, but that can hardly be, as Lord & Lady Minto are to be there first at that time.

There should be no difficulty in introducing him to the Club. What he said about John Kearley at the University is very applicable to himself, if put in different language. I enclose

My dear Bell.-

As this 15th is not very far away I think I had better take this chance of starting a letter to you to wish you all happiness on your birthday & let you know that I shall be thinking especially of you on Tuesday next & wishing you health, wealth & prosperity for the coming year. I should like so much to send you some little remembrance but as I have not been able to buy any clothes I feel that the pleasure & beauty of sentiment should in this case give way to the stern practicability of necessity.

It is just possible that by the morrow I may have to take a trip to Missouri with a very sick patient. The patient is an old man, 82 who has had pneumonia & pleurisy & is now very weak & I believe on his death bed. He arrived in Denver last Saturday from the mountains & Dr. Martin of Dillon who had been treating him handed him over to me. His son is most anxious to get him home before he dies. I have offered to go with him for 100.00 & railroad expenses & I shall hear in the morning what he decides to do.

Did I tell you that Dr. Wayson of Honolulu sent me a patient, a young Scotch lady. I have her at the Oaks Home, a beautiful place where many sufferers stay.

It is now Wednesday & as the man I mentioned has accepted my offer. I leave to. night for Pueblo, Missouri & will return here on Sunday next. I am very glad for I need the money & a hundred dollars at one crack will come in mighty handy.

Great excitement is prevailing here at present over the elections. The State election are of course of much interest to me as I believe much depends on who gets in as to good or bad times in Colorado. I am a good Republican & should like to have voted for Peabody the governor who has transported that homeless mob from Cripple Creek. A couple of those transported Western Union Confederation men came walking into Cripple Creek & the sheriff quietly up & shot & killed the two of them. There is something to be said on both sides I guess but I believe that the sooner they kill off a few of them & show them they mean business the sooner will we have peace & prosperity in Colorado. The results are by no means certain as yet although the polling took place yesterday. The Democrats are buying in every conceivable way, gullible votes & I expect there will be a few more murders before everything

I was delighted with the success of Laurier in Canada & think the country is now on the eve of a great boom.

The Ottawa paper with Father's picture in it arrived this A. M. I think the picture is very good & the stuff splendid. Jennie's letter arrived yesterday & very many thanks. Bills pictures & accounts of the Canadian Club were very good. I enjoyed them immensely.

Well dear Bell, I have an awful lot to do to get off to-night as I shall have to close: Again I wish you many, many happy returns of your birthday & hope the day will be one of the happiest.

My Dear Willie:

Your telegram came while we were at dinner. I did not reply because I assumed that you must by that time have read my letter of yesterday advising you fully on the point mentioned in your memo. viz: that women should be made publicly, in the press or otherwise,

Ottawa is really a great departure from his mode of life, but you better captured him.

Mrs. S. said that she intended having us all over to dinner very soon. Your mother said she could not have been nicer than she was, & G. S. also. If Harvey Jr. will have to call the old gentleman to dinner or something of the sort at the Club.

We are all well. David forgets Mac's birthday on Friday 11th inst. We are all wishing him.

I hope your G. S. address will be a great success, & I am sure it will be.

May you have a very happy birthday and many many happy returns. I would like to be at home to visit you this year and to give you a birthday kiss but I fear it is out of the question for me to hope to get away. I am enclosing a little remembrance which may go towards music or in whatever other way you like to buy on it is something for yourself. I hope your birthday will be a most enjoyable one.

You will have seen by the papers perhaps some mention of the Saturday luncheon. We had over 200 members present including the most representative men in Ottawa. Mr Goldwin Smith sat on my right. Sir Wilfrid Laurier on the left. Sir Frederick Borden by Mr Smith's left. The Mayor and other notables were present. Mr Smith address was a splendid one and touching in many ways as he is truly a grand old man

I took him for a drive on Saturday afternoon when he talked away like a great old and gave me many interesting reminiscences. I have not yet had time to enter them up in my diary tho' I am hoping to do so in bed later tonight. I had to lunch with Lady Aylesworth - Lady Mackay Elliot & Mrs Elliot to last night and drove them to church. I am really very very sorry they are leaving. At the State ball I had two dances with Lady Aylesworth - three or four with Lady Mackay. They both wore some roses I sent down to them

Bella & Jessie went very kindly for your letters & flowers, & Jessie sent you a wire last night to tell mother & you how successful the evening was.

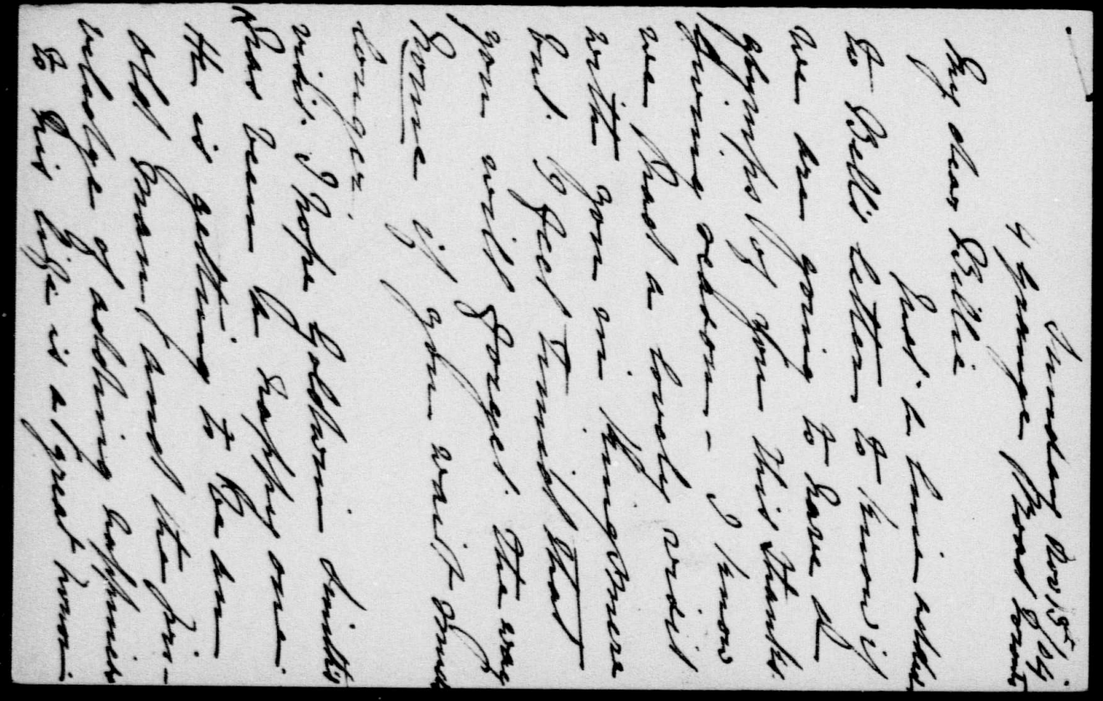

the night of the State dinner I had a talk with Adel Hardcastle - took her about a little, and spent the rest of the evening with Lady Aylesworth - Lady Mackay. On Tuesday night the Hodgins Club gave the Governor a send off. I will tell you more of these functions when I get home they are difficult to write about.

Tell mother her letter brought me much pleasure. I will try & get up for some day soon as I long to see you all. Lenton an answer 1 p.m. today from Ralph Connor which please send on to Mary & ask him to return.

I have just come from dinner at the Chalets where I met Miss Peabody, who confound the fair "par" which is to be given tomorrow night to all the maid in town I think close. with deepest affection from Bella

Canadian Pacific Railway Company's Telegraph

ALL MESSAGES TAKEN BY THIS COMPANY ARE SUBJECT TO THE FOLLOWING TERMS:

It is agreed between the sender of the following message and this Company that the said Company shall not be liable for damages arising from failure to transmit or deliver, or for any error in the transmission or delivery of an unrepeated telegram, whether happening from negligence of its servants or otherwise, or for delays from interruption in the working of its lines, for errors in cypher or obscure messages, or for errors from illegible writing, beyond the amount received for sending same. To guard against errors, the Company will repeat back any telegram for an extra payment of one-half the regular rate, and in that case it shall not be liable for damages beyond fifty times the amount received for sending and repeating.

Correctness in the transmission of messages can be insured by contract in writing, stating agreed amount of risk, and payment of premium thereon, at the following rates, in addition to the usual charges for repeating messages, viz.:—One per cent. for any distance not exceeding 1,000 miles, and two per cent. for any greater distance.

This Company shall not be liable for the act or omission of any other Company, for any distance not exceeding 1,000 miles, and two per cent. for any greater distance. to reaching its destination, but only as the agent of the sender, and without liability therefor. This Company shall not be responsible for messages until the same are presented and accepted at one of its transmitting offices; if a message is sent to such office by one of the Company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the sender's agent; if by telephone, the person receiving the message acts therein as agent of the sender, being authorized to assent to these conditions for the sender. This Company shall not be liable in any case for damages unless the same be claimed in writing, within sixty days after receipt of the telegram for transmission. No employee of the Company shall vary the foregoing.

Dear Doctor, -

All your kind letters have been the greatest pleasure to me at this another milestone in my old age. Your loving & generous gifts I almost feel ashamed to take, as I know the almighty dollars resources are required quick as much at the Grange Pd. as they are at the Majestic Bldg. Again, I felt mean in not being able to reciprocate your generosity, but from the fact that the giving causes such deprivation the gift is made a hundred times more valuable.

You were double all surprised to get my card from St. Louis, so I shall tell you how it happened. On Wednesday night last, I left on the Burlington with the old man, of whom I told you, his son & his son's daughter. We travelled straight ahead until 2 o'clock, Friday morning, later

We had then got to Burlington & had to change cars to go south to Canton, where the old man lived. We had to wait in that miserable station from 2 A. M. until 7.30 A. M. & the noise & racket were fierce. Once aboard the train again & we arrived at Canton at 9.30 We then had a drive of about a mile & the old man was home at last. He was about ten times better then when we started & in fact improved every mile of the way. His people were delighted & fairly worshiped me. The old man's sons-in-law Guse, like a true Westerner paid me the cash shot down with all my expenses. He got a rig & drove me all over the town, then took me to his cousins for dinner, loaded me up with cigars, apples, pears, etc. & finally saw me off at the train at 2.15 P. M.

as St: Louis was only 20 miles away I thought I would be a fool to miss seeing the fair & as all extra expenses connected with seeing the fair did not exceed £10.00 I am jolly glad I took it in. As luck would have it on the train I met Mr & Mrs Hudson, very good friends of mine from Denver; Mr. Hudson is an Englishman & belongs to our Cricket Club. Mrs Hudson is an Australian & a very fine woman, quite exceptional to what one finds out West: We went to the Lansdown hotel in St: Louis together. Although the hotel is one of the swellest, palm garden, Italian orchestra etc: I worked the good fellow racket on the chief clerk & got a bed in a nice little room for $1.00 Early early Saturday morning I went out to the fair which was only about six blocks away. I am not going to attempt to describe it at all except to say that I enjoyed most of all the exhibits of microbes, the paintings & statuary. I happened across some Canadian soldiers who were with me in Africa & they took me into the shows in which they were taking part; the Boer War. I met there a lot of the fellows, Highlanders etc. who were with my battalion in Africa. At 6.30 I met the Badsons at the Riverside Dam & we had dinner & gathered there. Then after having a smoke we did the Park until about 12. Sunday morning we took the cars & went all over St. Louis & the Badsons came down to the station with me & after having lunch they saw me off by the 2.15 P. M. train. I returned by direct route through St. Joseph & Kansas City arriving in Denver the following afternoon at 3.40

I have told you fairly fully the events of the last few days. To tell you all would take too long & probably

Dear you.

I received Bell's letter this morning & thanks very much for it. In regard to companions I shall certainly keep my eye open & in fact have been doing so for some time. Denver is the place for hay fever & bronchitis but I am very sorry indeed to think Bell has been sneezing so badly

I received a very nice letter from Will on my birthday & shall write & thank him individually as soon as I get a chance.

May sent me a very pretty picture of Chopin & Liszt, my favorite musicians & I shall frame them very much.

Mabel sent me a picture entitled the Guardian Angel & is very pretty. I have got quite a room full of pictures.

Well I must close here to-day. Write soon again & tell me all the news. Love to all

Dear People, -

As I mentioned in a letter a few weeks ago that I might have a surprise, I write now to disclose it: On Monday, Nov. 28, I leave Denver for good to take up my residence in Douglas, Arizona. I have received there an appointment as surgeon on the hospital staff of the Copper Queen mine. The Copper Queen is the largest copper mine in the world & the fifth largest mine of any kind in the world. It has a hospital of 100 beds. I am to receive $15-00 a year with furnished room, besides outside practice. The revenue from the latter is said to be quite large enough to cover all expenses.

There are five or six doctors on the staff so that it will not be too lonely.

I have thought over the move a great deal & hinge it on the fact that I do not wish to make Denver my permanent home. Practice is terribly overdone here & the ways of the place are crude. There is no sense going on working up a practice here if I am not going to stay here always. I came to the West to make money in order to get the right kind of start. I believe in accepting the Bisbee offer I am carrying out that idea.

You will see Bisbee on the map, is just near the boarder line between Arizona & Old Mexico. It is further away from home, but I believe is the first step to bring me nearer home. I shall get an excellent training in practical surgery & will be paid well for doing the very work

Norman Maclaurin & those fellows are doing for experience.

Father had better tell the News that after Dec. 1st they had better address my proper Bisbee, Ariz.

Sewall was very nice when I told him of the move. He said he was mighty sorry to leave me & knew I would make a great success if I had stayed here. However he said he would not stand in my way for a minute. He invited me for dinner to his place on Sunday. Steven also was mighty nice & is lending me $100. to make the move on.

I shall probably write again before I leave & in the meantime look for letters from home.

Arnell was instrumental in getting me the place. Love to all Dear.

My dear Will, —

Very many thanks for your kind birthday letter. I assure you it afforded a great deal of pleasure to hear from you & to learn that you are all well. It will certainly be right to send the $20 to Mr. Cameron at once in the name of Mackenzie & King. Mr. Cameron pays 6% interest on the money & will be glad to do so for you. I will write you more fully in a few days.

Mr. Lyon is a bright fellow & I am very much pleased with him. I have secured for him a position in the Department of Labour. He is certainly a great favourite with everyone & will do well in every way.

Thanks a lot for your letter. Time flies, & I am very busy, & yet I have not much to write about. I am glad you are all well & happy. Remember me to everyone. Yours affectionately, W. L. Mackenzie King the world & is located at Disbee, Ariz.

It has in connection with it a hospital of 100 beds, with a staff of five doctors.
I receive $75.00 a year with lodging & outside practice. The outside practice, they say, will cover all expenses so that if I can clear $75.00 it will be a big rake off.

I leave Denver for Disbee on Nov.
28th. & start in work there on Dec 1st.
I think it is ahead of the Winnipeg affair, for the reason that in Disbee
I shall get lots of practical experience in surgery, etc. while in Winnipeg
I would have had to spend a lot of time in domestic management That, I imagine, is why Dryer was down on "hospital work."

Of course I shall only hang on to this position until I make some money

then quite possibly I shall come back to Canada.

I should like very much to hear what you think of it. I imagine you will think it all right as it would be an impossability to make any move to Canada at present as I have not the money & need time I start into practice I am going to have a little money to back me up so I can do things properly.

I cannot write more to night as it is getting so late & I give my last lecture at the college in the morning.

Again let me thank you for your kind letter with all its good wishes & also the X which will be a very present aid in time of need.

Dict.C.

Dear Max:

I am enclosing herewith American Express Co. money order 4- 5330123,for $10,which I promised to send you on the 15th inst. Having been home in Toronto Thanksgiving Day,I omitted it at the time,and your letter of the 18th inst., just received,reminds me that the days are slipping by more quickly than I had thought. I hope you will get with this small amount some little remembrances which may serve as a souvenir of your birthday.

I am much interested in your latest venture. Were Bisby,Arizona,not so far away,I would feel more delighted at the opening you are to have. However,I think you are to be greatly congratulated,and trust that you will find the work and life in that place pleasant,as well as profitable. You will,I am sure,get first-class practice in surgery,and after all experience is what you want,quite as much as money,at your age. I think you will find living much cheaper in Bisby, though I imagine the conditions will be somewhat rough. I would strongly advise you to do as much reading as you may have time to do while there. One can easily get out of the habit of reading,and in a small place where there are not so many other attractions,it may be easier to cultivate the desire. You will doubtless,too,take up work among the miners, which will bring you into touch withtheir lives on many sides. I would be pleased to hear of your having a club among them, where you could bring a strong Christian influence to bear on their daily conduct. There is no class of men who appreciate true manliness more than does a miner,and I can imagine you will find no happiness greater than sharing,wherever opportunity permits in their home life,and of receiving from them a welcome at their own hearths.

I thank you for your kind congratulations in regard to the Canadian Club. I trust that we may be able to do good work through this medium in Ottawa during the winter.

When I was home on Thursday and Friday of last week, I found mother and father,and the girls very well and happy. The new house is a most beautiful one,delightfully situated, and most comfortable in every way. Mother,father and I had dinner at Goldwin Smith's on Friday evening,and enjoyed ourselves exceedingly.

In regard to the land in Northern Ontario,I have suggested to father to have a surveyor select your property and his at once,and have volunteered to make for you the necessary advance to pay his expenses in selecting a site. It will probably be a matter of only $10,and I think it very desirable that you should secure $160 acres without any delay,as there is no possibility of loss,and a strong probability of considerable gain. I hope when you are writing home you will mention this fact to father,and ask if he has attended to the matter on your behalf.

I am glad that you are keeping in mind returning to Canada sometime in the near future. There are fine openings in this country,and for many reasons it is most desirable that your life and influenceshould be spent here. In the meantime,I hope you will enjoy very much the work which you are undertaking in Arizona,and that in every way it will meet your expectations.

With best love,believe me,ever,

Your affectionate brother,

right to be the gentleman if one can afford it, but it is much better to get money and reference than to live on enough one had both without being entitled so to do. He must be all the better man for making his own way, it will give him more confidence and self respect of nothing else. I do not think he has been too hard pressed either, otherwise he would hardly spend out-even so much a sum as $150.00 on a visit to the fair.

Then since he is going to Europe I think to [illegible] Douglas who is father in law of [illegible] Margaret Bell (now Mrs Douglas of Ottawa (daughter of Bell of the Geological Survey) & the sister in Boston with her husband who is reported as [illegible] making wealthy. I am sending him a letter of introduction & her. I think he will be able to clear $1500. If he does that, he will be under the same [illegible] in Boston for a year. The only good opening in the Western States at all is the money end.

I hope you will be able to get your Ottawa matters settled before the year is out. In every

This is my last chance to write you a little note before leaving for "the wild & woolly West," as Father calls it. All your letters, except Jen's, have reached me & have been a great pleasure. I am relieved to learn you fall in with my ideas. About being farther away from home — do not let that bother you. As I mentioned before this move is probably the first step to a position nearer home. I might as well be in Dakota as Denver as far as being near home counts except in a sentimental way & I hope we are all learning to be practical in

Dear People, -

Have had time to write a line this morning - it is doubtful just - when I shall get time to write at length. I arrived quite safely last night & have met all of the staff. They all seem mighty fine fellows & are all older than me. We do not live in the hospital, although I am here just for the present, but over the dispensary which is down town. We take office hours there in turn & spend most of the rest of the time in visiting, coming up to the hospital only for operations. I imagine the experience here for me will be splendid as I shall have any amount of practical work right from the beginning.

But what is bothering me at present is the fact that I have to go up to Phoenix & take off the State examination. Polk's Medical Directory states that a diploma from a good college will be accepted but on arriving here I find that statement is false. However it will do me good to have to review my work hurriedly & don't be afraid I shall get through all right.

I expect to stay here a week & study before going to Phoenix. Address me Bisbee, Ariz. I shall write fuller as soon as I get the chance. I am now going down town to see with Dr. Shine so shall have to ring off. Affectionately Mac

I will not have my returns of my Survey sent in to the Department before at least the end of next week so I think you will be safe in waiting up to that time. Which would give you a little more time to make enquiry as to Coulee location of R. R.

My dear Will —

As I am going to be very busy for the coming two weeks, I must take advantage of this opportunity & write you a line to wish you a very happy birthday & very many happy returns of the day.

As you all by this above I have landed in Bisbee, but as yet have not started work for the company. Very much to my disgust I found, on arriving here, that it would be necessary for me to take the State examinations of Arizona before starting practice here. Accordingly I am plugging very hard & expect towards the end of this week, to go up to Phoenix & try my luck. If I am not successful I shall certainly be up against it but I am pretty sure with another few days I shall be able to make it all right. You will probably think it foolish of me in coming to Arizona without making enquiries about the exams, but I did look the matter up in Polks Medical Directory & every thing is stated as being O. K. At present I am living at the hospital & receiving board & lodging free of charge. Dr. Shine is going to get me a pass part of the way to Phoenix & will loan me what money I require. This I shall have to pay him back out of my first months salary. Although disappointed about the exams I am agreeably surprised to find that the amount of money the Doctors make on outside practice is on an average almost as great as the salaries of $125. or a month. At that rate one year in Bisbee will probably set me up with enough to start up somewhere else in decent style.

The doctors here are all mighty nice fellows & all older than I am. The one named Louis Dysart is leaving at the end of the month & it is his place that I am to take.

This is the greatest settlement of Canadians you ever saw. Dr. Shenie Wolfe, one of the other doctors, the hospital matron, two of the hospital nurses, Mrs Douglas, the wife of the mining & I could go on & give you a list down to the end of the page are all Canadians. Mr. Douglas & his wife are from Ottawa.

Bisbee is a typical mining town of 12000 population lying in four gulches with as many mountains rising up on each side. Many of the houses can only be got to on foot & then one has to be careful to keep from falling from up town to down town.

The hospital in which I am living is a little beauty, being built only a year ago with all the latest improvements & modifications. The Copper Queen Co. is a very wealthy one & spends its money lavishly. It has a splendidly equipped gymnasium, library, bowling alley etc. etc. for the use of the men & pays the men larger wages than any mine in the states. Only whites are employed in the mines, no dagoes or Mexicans being admitted. All the men are non-union

I take an oath on coming in not to form a union. They have never had a strike since the mines were opened.

Well Will I must not take any more time writing. I have an awful lot of work to get over, as you may imagine, & I feel as though I ought to put in every available minute in it. I think the exam. is the best thing that could have happened if I get through all right, as it is certainly making me knuckle up my work.

I am sorry I cannot send you a gift at present, but I do not like to buy presents with borrowed money. I shall buy & let you have mas present include a birthday gift. I wish you all sorts of happiness & prosperity upon the coming year & hope very much to see you before another birthday comes around.

Let me thank you again Dear Will for the kind remittance you sent me in your last letter. It came in mighty useful on my moving.

If by any chance I do not get through my exams. what course would you pursue. Write & let me know.

My dear Father & Mother -

This is merely to wish you a very merry Christmas & many of them & to tell you how much we have enjoyed your visit to us. We have had a most delightful time & I am sure you must have enjoyed it too. Our little home has been very full of love & kindness & I am sure you will carry away with you many pleasant memories of your visit. Jessie has been very busy all day making candy & taffy & I am sure she has succeeded very well. She has made a great deal & I am sure we will all be very sick by tomorrow night. I am sending you a box of candy & I hope you will like it. Jessie has also made a cake which I am sending by express. I am sure you will enjoy it as much as we did. Dear Billie

I have had so hard to get a letter off to you today after receiving your telegram last night. Dickie has been very poorly with a bad cold and cough and I have been very anxious about him. He is much better this morning but I am afraid he will be confined to the house for a few days. I am sure you will be glad to hear that Dickie is much better. Mother is very well indeed and will be so glad to see you. She has gone to Cleveland for a few days visit to Aunt Jean Gunn - She will return on Thursday. Mr Lyon Gunn is also away in the West. Mr Lyon Gunn is at the Dentists and I was alone and thought it best to keep Dickie in bed. Mother is coming at the Holidays & then we will have a happy time together. I am very much excited - so you'd of an original one.

I have yours of the 2nd with the little [illegible] enclosed & am glad that you received the album that I sent you. I wanted to send you Aunt Lizzie's letter, I thought I would not have time when I was in Brantford last week, but I will do so when I write again. I will also bring or send the Roman exercise. We are having a most interesting time in the Classics. Mr. Mackay has a most interesting manuscript in his possession, which he is translating for the Classical Society. I think I told you about it. Tell Mary I will write her a letter very soon. With best love to you all from Uncle Rod.

Matthew Arnold
as an Educator.

by J.L. Hughes.

In 1832 the government donated money towards the education of poor children in Eng. There were two kinds of schools in Eng.
Secondary School for better class Primary " " poor "
2 classes of Primary schools controlled by the Church.
This Matthew Arnold did not believe in -
He pleaded for government control of schools & for a national school -
He was always pleading for cultured & enlightened people.
M.A. the first - Inspector of schools in Eng.
What - did he do for the schools?
He introduced better readers did away with the evil of examinations - did not believe in them.

Dear Willie:

Today is your birthday and I certainly intend to have a really proper holiday. It is quite the morning but of course I packed all the parcels and the food myself. Thompson's daughter is coming to help us, and then we shall be all there. I hope the day will be all that we can wish for, and that you will have many very happy returns of the day. Nothing in particular is to be in Toronto's "News". Rather odd, isn't it, that it should come on your birthday!

I have probably received all the letters I know of, and all we have been doing is looking forward to having you with us. Christmas holidays together. The time to must stop.

Bella's letter also brought me much pleasure as do all her letters. I read two with great interest the letter said some days ago with the account of J.B. Hughes talk on Matthew Arnold. To all at Rome:

I cannot tell you how much pleasure the kind and loving letters and the beautiful gifts which came from home delighted me yesterday how can I thank you as I would for them. It is impossible to make any discriminations, but I feel impelled to individualize a little. If that be a correct expression. Father was really out out for anniversary letters meeting he succeeds so well at it. His letter was a great-joy to me. I abbreviated all the expression of love and interest in all I am trying to do. I am inclined to agree as to the founding of the Canadian Club being in some ways the most important single happening of the year. The settlement of the Sydney strike was another event; but the year in other regards is more known & good work than I could wish it to be. — It was a pleasure to know that Father thought well of the Harvey article. It was while I was at Kingsmere, during the concluding days of the vacation and while I attempted to read over Father's letter, Father was suffering from a cold. I have come in for the cold this last week, being pretty well over it now but in bed a day or two, a week ago. Dr. Mc Gibbon took me some medicine & took a little vigorous treatment & I was up.

But to return to the birthday. I was greatly pleased with the blotter & holder, which I think is very pretty & which I prize very much for being Mother's own work. And Mother's letter too was a real joy to me. The enclosed letter from Mrs Martin was quite a sad one but had a ring of true affection and friendship to it.

The girls could have sent me nothing I would have valued for more than their photos. The frames are fine, and they fit my little library quite as well as if how I was getting on. I spoke to him of his speech to the aldermen here, which was a fine one, & he said he would be glad to cooperate with the Canadian Club in any work which made for better ideals in public life. He was as I expected to find him, a man whom one could pretty well trust and admire. His whole staff are men of fine calibre. Indeed type of well educated, cultured & sensible Englishmen.

While I was waiting Lady Lyttelton came into the room & spoke but she remembered me and we had a short talk together. She is a very fine girl.

him happiness and joy. They must by far too quickly, but the remembrance of them will be long and real. I enjoyed our talks by the fireside and around the table, and the few little walks we had together and it was a great delight to see all the many remembrances coming in for Xmas on every side. I found one on the table things on arriving here. a beautiful Browning calender on Japanese vellum. Edition-de-luxe booklet from him Brooke-Hunt: London. Eng. and a beautiful letter and card from his sermon. the Coming of the Christ. a card from Sir Sydney Fisher, a book from the Adams and several letters.

She called shortly. was from her mother. made by the old lady herself. There was a note with the gift which I will post. I am going to see Frederick Borden to-morrow to supper tonight.

BISBEE. ARIZONA, ~~Dec~~. Jan 8/05.

Dear Deeple,-

It seems quite an impossibility to even get started at a letter these days. With trying to get a little studying in, before going to Philadelphia, & with practice galore & a few little social engagements, I have really not a minute to myself. All your kind letters & presents have been ever a great pleasure to me & I almost feel ashamed to have not written before & thanked you for them. Mother's pictures I think, are beautiful, but not just what I should like to have them. I like the full face the better of the two, but there is a trace of worry there which makes a slight mar. Unfortunately the the pretty little frame was broken in four places & the glass smashed to pieces when I got it, but I am going to have it repaired & I think it will be all right. Father was most kind in his remembrance. I thoroughly appreciate the value of money at home & know fully what the sacrifice of each dollar means. The pictures of the girls came quite safely & were a most welcome gift. I am sorry Dell is so thin. I could not help thinking how even much prettier the picture would be if there were but a little more animation in the face. Jen's face has still just as much of the devil in it but looks as though she might have been sewing the night before. Nothing more delightful than the pictures could have been sent to this member of the life saving crew in the wild & wooly West:

BISBEE, ARIZONA,

Will's picture is splendid. The best, I think, of any he has had taken. What a noted gentleman he is becoming, with pictures in the papers by the dozen, & articles that would give many a fellow a head that could not be filled by the largest hat. The story of "Dr. Luke ale." is delightful. I have only read to the part where the doctor decides to stay at the Labrador, which I managed to get in on the train from Phoenix. The fact that I know the author adds greatly to the interest & I shall certainly write Duncan & congratulate him when I finish it. The V. was also most welcome, but really too much to send me, with the pictures & book. As soon as I get a breathing space I shall write & thank him.

I shall try & tell you what I have been doing since coming back from Phoenix the first time. I think it was at that time that I wrote my last letter although I have not heard you say anything about receiving that particular letter.

On Dec. 17th. I went down to Douglas & spent the day with Dr. Wright, the surgeon to the Calumet & Arizona smelters. He was the man who got me into the Copper Queen job, & he was exceedingly nice to me & took me all over his hospital. We also went through the C. & A. smelters which are quite immense affairs.

On Dec. 20th. I started work at the dispensary in my official capacity & on Jan 1st. received my first remittance of £3. 3s. for eleven days work. My salary will now go along at £12 per monthly. On Christmas eve we had a very pretty Xmas tree at the hospital. It was all lit up with colored electric lights & burdened with presents for all the patients & some of the staff. On the tree, I received a very pretty set of chess men in a leather case from Mrs Cowles, also a cloth oiled clothes bag, a very pretty calender, a little tin sword, & a buzz-z-z whistle from some of the others. May sent me a very pretty leather purse.

On X mas. day the whole of the life-saving crew met at the hospital for dinner at noon-day & we had a very jolly time to-gether. At 7 P. M. I went up to dinner at the Langley's. It was a very swell affair, all wearing dress-clothes. I had the seat of honor to the right of the hostess. After dinner we smoked, bathed & sang hymns, which made it very delightful. I have become quite a friend of the Langley's & in fact go up there every Sunday night. They have a piano & a phonograph so that we have very jolly times.

On Monday night, (following X mas.) Mrs. Shine gave a little dinner for the staff at which I again had the seat of honor. Nothing of great interest happened again until New Year's eve when there were great celebrations in this town. Of all the rackets I never heard the like. From 10 minutes to 12 until 10 minutes after from every house on the sides of the four mountains pistols blazed out in tremendous outroar. On the top of each mountain the Mexicans had built huge bon-fires which blazed & glared out magnificently against the dark sky. The following morning (New Years) I was to have left for Phoenix for my examn. but unfortunately I did not wake up until 9 o'clock & consequently missed my train. However I got away all right on ~~Tues~~ Monday & got special papers for the ones I missed. The papers were all very long & required a very fair idea of the subject. It took me three days hard writing to get over the nine papers, but felt very encouraged by hearing the other 15 fellows who were writing, say how hard the papers were. They finished each paper in about an hour but it took me about three hours for each of mine & some of them I could have spent a day on & then have not told all I knew. I hope the examiners can read my writing & will not get too tired to go through my answers. Sonny Hamilton, my patient of Denver, was in Phoenix & I spent most of my spare time with him. I could not find any trace of Jim McDonald.

Since I got back on Friday night things have been rolling along as busy as ever. I am getting a great experience here in general diagnosis, which, I think, will be a great help to me. I make from 6 to 10 calls a day & have from 20 to 30 patients consult me.

It is getting very late & I have a lot of work before me to-morrow so I think I had better get to bed. Best love & wishes for the New Year to all each & all. Write often & I shall try to do the same. Affectionately

Mac.

My dear Willie:

I was all ready to start to the station on Saturday night, had my pass from Mr. Ward, Pullman ticket, etc. when a telegram arrived from Mr. H. to say that the case was settled, but that he would send me a pass back again if I wished to go. I intended to telegraph you back, as it was late, Jess and questions as to how I got & should his father do this, and on reason which I gave for being drawn to Sir Wm. - amongst others - was my love of the mean and cowardly attempts which were made by the Borden set to influence him.

We are all well as I hope you are yourself. No letter from Mac since the one you saw.

With much love from us all,

My Dear Willie:

I am writing to ask you to lend me $17.00 till the beginning of next month. I need that amount to take out my annual certificate at Osgoodehall, & it must be paid before the 15th (Saturday). This is our hardest month - coal, gas, etc. I otherwise I would not trouble you. Please send it by return, if you can.

The tea for Enid Totten was a great success, & she was evidently very much pleased. There were some 42 present besides the family.

Kindly interest in your fortunes & career. Please return the letter.

B. Lodge sent me a copy of the Beacon with a sketch of its rise & progress on its 50th anniversary, & I sent a little letter of congratulation to the paper signed "J.K." My letter appeared in the Beacon of Tuesday last; but I have not yet seen it. I had a letter from the publishers thanking me warmly.

Mac finished his exams. on 5th Jany. He says, in a card received yesterday, "they were quite a cinch" & he "expected to pass easily."

I would like to have seen the opening of Parliament to-day under the new régime. It will be, I understand, a gorgeous ceremony. Have you got your new ministers yet?

Isabel Watt is with us to-day on a shopping visit for her wedding which we are all to be invited. But I must stop & get lunch

Dear Billie:

We are very much pleased to hear that you are to have Professor Duncan's Dr. Drummond address Canadian Club. We most anxious to hear Mr Duncan thinks of is Jackson from the he is to be in Ottawa and we hope for something with the at any rate if not to have a talk

We were all up for dinner at Mr Dump's last Sunday and the old man was here for a game of whist on Monday. He never has taken cold for he is in bed today and sadly grieving that he cannot vote.

Mrs Gait, Agnes Jenny, Annie & Mary Chalmers are coming to spend the evening Tonight. We were going down to the News office to see the ship

But I have to back a letter - Packer is most anxious to know what you intend to do with the Dominion Chair. It might be well to see Mr Duncan first. That's my idea. He may tell that he is not going to resign & have the subject-matter taken from the Commission. If he is willing to let Dr Clark have it, we are looking forward to having him with us once more & you are in sending him with Jennie

I really must make a break & write you a line to-night. I must apologise for my great delay in writing; but if you could just see all the work that comes in each day, & that I have to attend to, you would quite forgive me. To-night I wrote a line home, my second since X mas, & told them how in one day, last week, I had made 18 calls & had 30 office visits & one confinement; & the following day had 17 visits & 23 office calls. There are cases of every description & the experience is excellent. Several times a week we have operating cases at the hospital, at which we all attend, & in several of them, I have been assistant operator.

Back before I go further, I must thank you for your delightful X mas letter & the generous present accompanying it. It was really too much for you to send me, Will. The photos I thought were splendid, especially the one of you. I have taken much pleasure in showing them to the Bisbeeites.

BISBEE, ARIZONA,

The book by Duncan I think is splendid, & I shall certainly take the first opportunity I get to write & tell him how much I enjoyed it. I should like to have all the doctors here read it as I fear some of them are a little too much like the Irish doctor when it comes to getting out of a warm bed in the middle of the night. The £5.00, likewise, was very acceptable. It came at a time when I was dead broke & aided materially in helping me out of the hole. By the way, as to my financial condition, I borrowed £35.00 from Blewett to help me get away from Denver, & in order to get up to Phoenix, to take off my exams, I had to borrow £5.00 from Shine on the first trip, & £30.00 from Bridge on the second. I have paid off my debt to Blewett & when my cheque for £125.00 comes, in the beginning of Feby, I shall pay off the other two debts, & my board bill, & be then clear to pay you on my next months salary. I wish you would send me your account against me so that I shall know just what to figure on.

In regard to the letter of introduction to Mrs. Douglas, which you so kindly sent, — I have not presented it, firstly, because, I have not had a chance & secondly, Mr Douglas is a member sort of a cuss & I would not spek up the slightest appearance of trying to butt in. I met Mrs Douglas some time ago & agree with your opinion of her. If she wishes me to come to the house she will ask me, as, at the time I met her, I mentioned that you were sending me a letter of introd'n.

I talked the matter over with Mrs Coules, who knows them both very well, & she thoroughly agreed with me.

If, at any time, you have a chance to talk over an assistantship or partnership scheme with any of your doctor friends of Ottawa I should thank you very much if you would do so in my behalf. If I could get in with some good doctor there, until I get to know the people, win their confidence & at the same time make a little money, it would be a great chance to get a start there. Otherwise I do not think it would be wise to start up in a city again unless I am $1500 or $2000 to the good. To get a practice in a city a man has to have money enough to dress & live well, to say the least.

Well, Will, it is getting very late & I have heaps of work awaiting me in the morning to say nothing of what may turn up during the night, so with best love & good wishes for the new year I am Affectionately your brother Mac.

Dear People,_

There is absolutely no news to tell as I have been working like a Trogen and have had no time for outside gaities of any description.

I received word from Phoenix the other day that I have got through my exams all hunkidorie so that I have now got four diplomas to sport on the walls of my office.

This is my first attempt on the type-writer.Dont you think I might go into the business.

I was very pleased to get the letters from home the other day .You did not say anything about the $25.00 Isent for Mabel Watts wedding present. Did you get it all right?

Really I have been working very hard. So hard,in fact,that I have not had time to think of anything else.One day last week I made I8 outside visits and had 30 office calls and one confinement.The following day I made I7 visits and had 23 office calls.This explains why I have not written to anyone before.

Please write to me often as your letters are my chief pleasure.

Note this request

With lots of love to all.

Among the new announcements of The Fleming H. Revell Company is a book by Dr. Grenfell, who is supposed to have served in some ways for the original of Mr. Duncan a hero, "Dr. Luke of the Labrador." The title of Dr Grenfell's book is "The Harvest of the Sea," a tale of both sides of the Atlantic.

Dear

Ottawa, February 2 1905.

Dear Father:

I received this morning your kind letter with $17.00 enclosed for which I thank you. I have been waiting for an opportunity to write but have been so busy that there has been no chance. Duncan came on Friday and stayed with me till Monday night. We had many splendid talks together and I think he greatly enjoyed his visit. The meeting of the Canadian Club on Friday night was the best we have had yet about 400 present including ladies. Mr. Drummond of Montreal read some of his poems, and Duncan some parts of his book. Mr Thomson Edison played a violin solo and the Misses Hems of the Conservatory of Music a violin solo. All the numbers on the programme were excellent: Every one seems agreed that it was the best thing of the kind ever held in Ottawa.

keep it through part of your Estimates some days ago including the provision for a new Secretary. Duncan will best be able to accept. His heart is in writing and he is making three or four times what we could give him (1908)
I will have to be on the lookout for a man. We should do a good one at that figure. I think you named Hunter the Law school lists. — I have had no notification from the registrar of my appointments as an examiner. It rests is his business to attend to matters of that kind. The idea one of the candidates who told me of the appointment. I would rather have known otherwise. I am obliged to you for the efforts.

I think I told you I was at dinner at four o'clock hour, last day ago and took in Mrs Hamberg-Williams. I was also at dinner at his house again, with Sir Wilfrid — Lady Laurier, Sothern and at a luncheon at the Golf Club (men & gentlemen) next week to Lady Laurier. Mrs Willard (wife of Forces of Virginia) was another guest about 10 altogether. I was at dinner at the Hyman's a fortnight or two ago.

I will write more in a day or two. I am sorry to hear of sickness at home but hope it is only temporary — will be soon over.

With best love to all
I am Affectionately yours, P.S. Hope you are trying to close this arrangement
Willie.

Ottawa, February 5- 1905:

Dear Mother:

It is quite impossible for me to send all the love and good wishes I would like to send for your birthday but you have all that my heart can hold. I do hope the day will be a very happy one, and I hope with my whole heart that it will be but one of very many more to bring added happiness and joy to your life and to the lives of all those who love you so dearly. When I think over all the good fortune that has been mine through life, all that God has given me of health, of intellect, of friends, of opportunities and of possessions, I feel more and more that all these together could not begin to equal, nay, rather could not be compared with the one gift, the one possession of having so beautiful, so true, so good so perfect a mother. I have often in different parts of the world, among the many people I have met, or seen, asked myself the question whether

Quite apart from my relation by birth to you, there was one woman of all the number so lovely as you so pure in heart, so tender and strong in affection and love, so beautiful to see, and I have searched my mind in vain to recall a single one. And that my judgment has been right in this I know from what many others say, from what they tell all of us. It is always "I never saw any one so beautiful and lovely as your mother." Only Yesterday Mr Walker, the general manager of the Bank of Commerce said he knew of nothing quite where to compare you but the most beautiful flower, only a day or two before Professor Clark wrote about the dear lady, your mother" and so it is all the way along, and that is so fine about it is that it is all true. It is little wonder that I find it difficult to discover in the world one who I would be glad to take into my home with the ideal of woman which you have given us, only the best can permanently attract.

I write you Yesterday and it will probably reach you with this letter, a copy of "At Lake of the Labrador" in which Duncan was kind enough to write his autograph and when I told him it was to send to you, he said "Oh I must add something more for Mrs. King" he seemed delighted that the book was going to you. You will, I know, value all its associations, running back to the days when Norman and I roomed together, when he took a fancy to Carey, and had him at his rooms in college when he came to our house on Beverley St. and then our Klondyke readings about the Yukon and finally his visit to us here, and our reunion on a public platform 10 years after we had parted at college, I as the president of the Canadian Club of the Capital, he as a guest of the Club and my guest,—a distinguished and indeed famous author. All these associations will be very dear to you, they are the best things life has to give, where they come from a mutual love for what is highest and best, and are the blossoming into reality of the inner and hidden visions of the soul. As we sat talking together between the hours of three and five on Saturday morning Duncan recalled the fact that it was he who had nominated me for President of the Class of '95 nearly 13 years ago. He said he believed in those days I would come to be the Prime Minister of Canada, and that he was more sure of this today that ever before. I felt a little ashamed at even till now this remark of Duncan's which of course was only a generous compliment on his part; it is nevertheless gratifying for one to have the confidence of the men who know one best, and to feel that one can command their respect.

Duncan's visit was a great joy to me. He arrived at noon on Friday. On Friday evening we had a brilliant gathering of the Club, several hundred present, ladies and men. Hanny Hill and I did the glad hand act at the entrance to the Russell House parlor, and after a reception there we went in the dining room which had been arranged as a concert hall for the occasion, with stage, piano etc. Mr. Gibson played the

Mrs Heins of the Conservatory of Music gave a splendid violin selection & then Dr Drummond, the author of his "Habitant" and other French Canadian poems gave some of his own. It was quite the best thing of the kind I have ever been at. The audience were most attentive and delighted throughout. After the concert we had light refreshments. Then a reception which Harry Hill gave to Duncan, Harry Bank. We boarded myself. On Saturday we were at a dinner at the Laurentides and on Sunday at Wilfrid Campbells for dinner. & this evening to supper. Campbell & his wife were also there. Duncan read some more of his book and Campbell some of his poems. On Monday early Bank. lunch to Lucky Grey, after lunch I had a long talk with Earl Grey. He was telling me of his lectures to miners on political economy in the north of England, and of how Joseph Cowen whom he knew and admired very much. He is sending me a large review containing an account of said work in England. There is one of the H of L's whose name is Bury, he is a Viscount - will be a member of the House of Lords some day. He was at the meeting of the Club yesterday & was greatly interested. He has asked me to lend him grandfather's life, he is a fine style of man, and I think we shall become great friends. That reminds me. In speaking Mr Walker referred in the strongest way to grandfather and the part he played in making Canada a nation, he referred to him as "this young man's grandfather presiding" ~~presiding~~ to me in the chair. His address all through was quite excellent, really one of the finest addresses I have ever listened to. I am seldom influenced or impressed by speeches on patriotism but this one impressed me greatly. I took him down to South Hame in the afternoon and introduced him to their Excellencies, & both Mrs Hanbury Williams and several others. We went down the Wrappon slide together. It was the first time I had ever gone down. I think he enjoyed the day.

But I must tell you one

At the same time this letter leaves I expect Mrs. Douglas, with Miss Goodell, the hospitals head nurse, will leave in the Douglas' private car for Atlanta. Mrs. Douglas is to stay in Atlanta 10 days, but it is doubtful just how long Miss Goodell will be there. If Miss Goodell is there only a day, I expect she will call on you at your office. At any rate I wish very much you would call on her & show her some little kindness, if convenient. It might be well to bear in mind however that she & Miss Cowles, the matron, do not hit it altogether so do not mention about Miss C's Xmas letter to me.

Dic.E.S.

OTTAWA. February 16, 1905.

Dear Father:

I only received this morning your letter of the 14th inst , which appears to have been mailed at Toronto yesterday, in regard to statement re Clute Appointment.

The statment that it was as a result of his investigation into the death of two men on the Crows Nest Pass that the Act relating to condition of labour on public contracts was passed, does not appear to be entirely true. There are only two measures to which this statement could refer; one, the Act of the Dominion Parliament assented to on August 11, 1899, known as an Act for the Preservation of Health on Public Works, and the other, the Fair Wages Resolution of the House of Commons.

I am sending you a copy of the April number 1904 of the Labour Gazette which contains an account of how the Act of 1899 in regard to the preservation of health of employees on public works ~~went~~ came into effect. You will see from the ~~Act~~ article that a Commission of which Judge Douglas was chairman and John Appleton and Frank Pedley, the present Deputy Minister of Indian Affairs were members, was the body who reported in the first instance in regard to these conditions and that it was as a result of their report that the Prime Minister introduced the Act. It was only this morning in looking into this matter that I discovered that the date given in the Gazette at page 1006 of the first and second reading of the Bill was wrong. It should read 1899 instead of 1898.

Curiously enough in preparing this article for the Gazette we have omitted a reference to Clute's work altogether. This was a mistake but it was not intentional. I find on looking at his report that he was appointed a Commissioner on the first day of July, 1899, to inquire into the case of two men, Charles P. McDonald and E. M. Fraser, who were employed in the construction of the Crows Nest Pass Railway and suffered hardships from the hands of the Company, their death being attributed to criminal negligence on the part of persons connected with the Company. Clutes Report is dated the 17th of January, 1899, and it contains a recommendation for an Act containing provisions such as were inserted in the Act of 1899. Pedley informs me that he was under the impression that Clute was appointed to inquire into the criminality of the persons concerning which his (Pedley's) Commission reported about. Clute's Report is made to the Minister of Justice and the Report of the other Commission was made to the Department of the Interior. While, therefore, Clute's Report was in the hands of the Government at the time the Act was under discussion, it was really on Judge Douglas' Report that the Act itself was passed.

National Archives of Canada
Archives nationales du Canada

OTTAWA.

The Fair Wages Resolution of the House of Commons which relates to the payment of current rates of wages, etc., was, of course, introduced by Sir,William Mulock and was based on my report to the Government concerning the sweating which had taken place in the carrying out of Government clothing contracts. Clute had nothing to do whatever with the conditions now inserted in Government contracts for the protection of labour. His share in the other Act was, as the facts would indicate, quite secondary,

Sir William Mulock had introduced the Fair Wages Resolution in March 1900 after my report was presented to the House, While acting Minister of Public Works he adopted the clauses which have been inserted in the contracts since together with the Fair Wages schedule. After our Department was created in July 1900 we took in hand the carrying out of the Fair Wages Resolution and had the other Department of the Government, namely, Marine and Fisheries, Railways and Canals, etc., take the matter up.

If you are writing anything on the matter do not refer to the article in the Gazette as it is partly incorrect and the impression might be conveyed that the omission was intentional .

I am sending you a bound copy of Volume 4, as I do not think you have the volume. If you have not got Vol. 3, let me know and I will send it also. No. 1 of Vol. I gives an account of the

My Dear Willie:

Just a line or two to say that I saw Goldwin Smith about the books, & he said he had not yet written in them what he supposed there was no hurry. I said there was not. He told me he wanted to write a motto in each of them, & that he owned

Dict.G.

Dear Father:

I have had so many different things to attend to during the last few days that I have not had opportunity of writing home. Moreover, there has been very little to write about.

What I wished particularly to mention in this letter was an idea that came to my mind in regard to our class reunion of '95. As you know,some members of the class are trying to found a scholarship in memory of Harper and Tucker. I do not know whether they will succeed or not,but I felt that if we did succeed the scholarship should be given only on the condition of Tucker being declared a graduate of the University. The Senate I presume,could declare him a graduate by post obit graduation,and if the Senate has not this power,certainly the Government could do it,and we might be able to raise a sufficient agitation to get an act put through for the purpose. I think,however,if the matter is taken up in the right way the Senate might anticipate the meeting of our year and our class by letting it be known that such a degree would be conferred. I spoke to Chancellor Burwash about it when he was here on Monday,and he thought the idea was one quite fair and right,and said he would speak to the president about it.

It has occurred to me that possibly you could get Goldwin Smith also to speak to Loudon about it,and that you yourself might see the Chancellor or Vice-Chancellor. It would be a straightening out of old scores,and the proper thing,I think,to do. In the event of the gift of scholarship from our year in memory of Harper as well as Tucker,I think it would be only right that we feel chiefly responsible for Tucker not receiving his degree,that it should now be conferred.

Chancellor Burwash gave a fine address to our Canadian Club,and I had a very pleasant talk with him during the day.

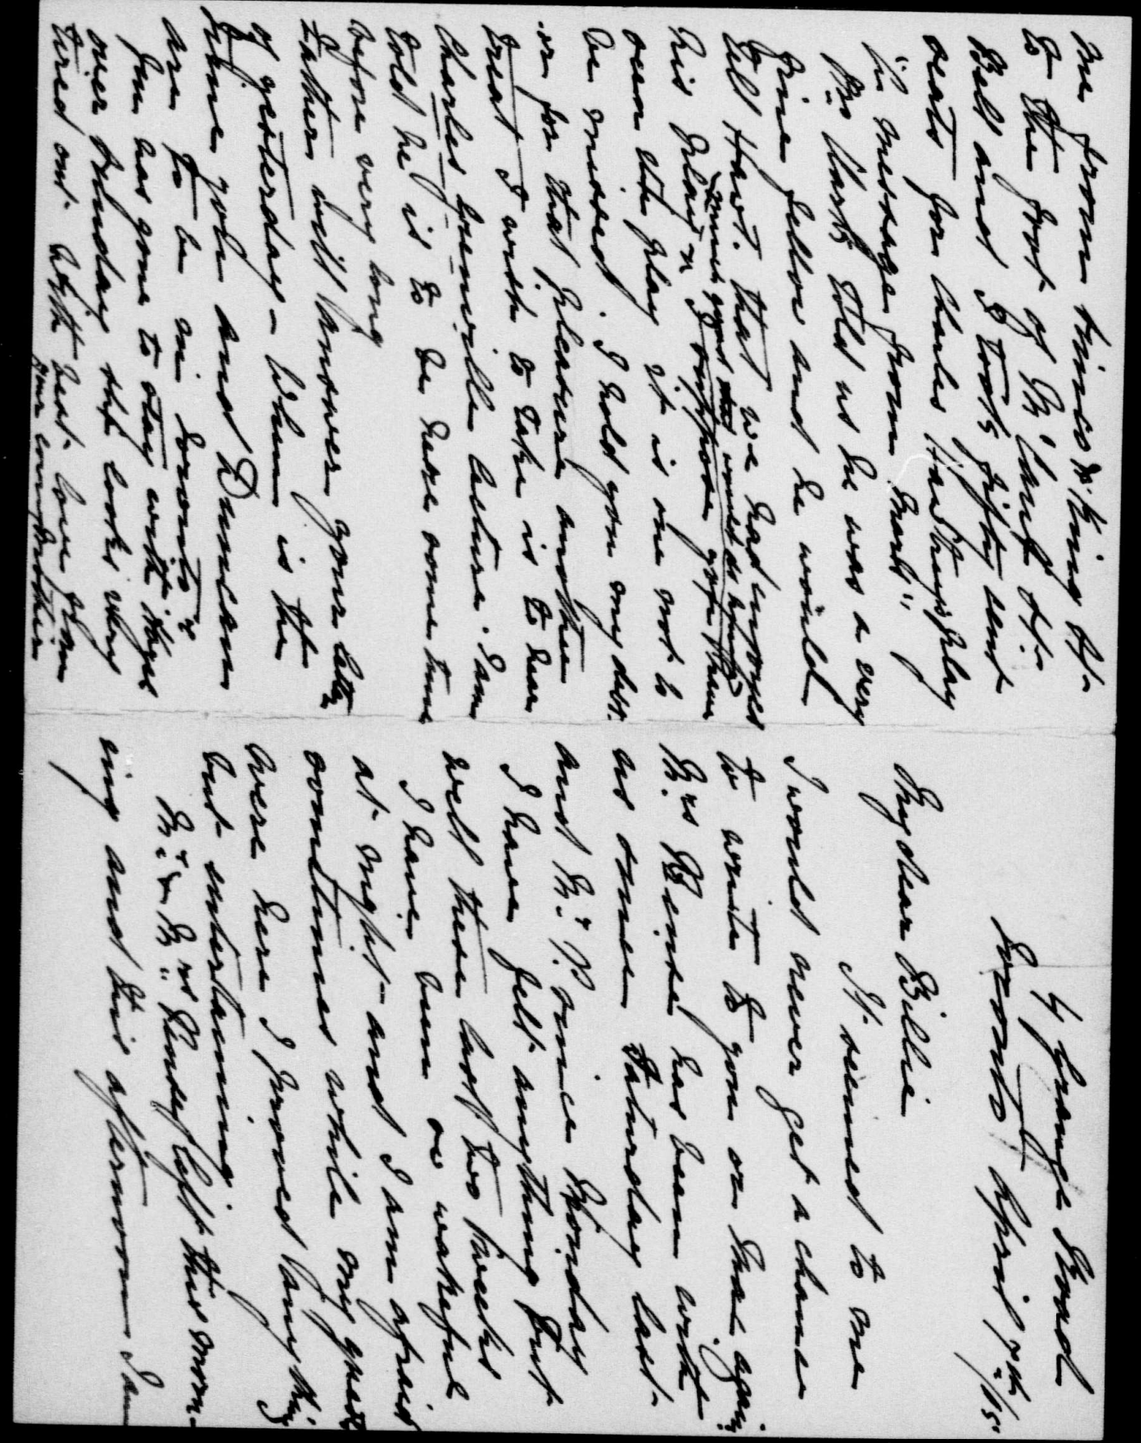

I have not time for more just now,only to add that I will send to mother some day this week another one of Duncan's books,to read. I sent "The Soul of the Street" last week,and hope it has been received all right. It is,I think, a very fine work.

I am seeing what I can do in the way of purchasing some additional land at Kingsmere,as I am a little afraid that someone may come and build immediately next to my place. If I can get another lot at a reasonable price I will be inclined to take it.

also. Now if you and Jessie get through both these books this week - which is what you must do, - you will I am sure feel you have had a good time, and the pleasure of meeting Grenfell and Duncan will be much enhanced. Part of the enclosure may go for his talk. You must write and tell me how you enjoy his books. I liked The Soul of the Street very very much especially the last story "For the Hand of Dolores." I have still another of Duncan's books to send you when you are through with the others, this

Dear Mother:

I was very glad to receive your kind and loving letter yesterday and thank you for the enclosure, half of which I am returning herewith for yourself. I am most anxious for you to see and meet Mr. Grenfell when he is in Toronto; I am enclosing a letter of introduction to him which Jean and the girls may see, whereas he is to speak (except at the Canadian Club) I would like you to D. He and I are friends and have corresponded a little, he invited me last year as I think I told you to spend a summer with him, he is to be in Ottawa soon, when we will see more of each other. I understand Mrs. Strathy is arranging for some reception in him at her home, could you not find it possible to be present? At any rate if you make the opportunity you will have a chance of meeting him. He will perhaps be too busy to call I think father too would enjoy hearing and meeting him. He is the manliest man I know and more of a true Christ. He sent me a copy of his book on the Harvest of the Sea, I am sending it off to you by current mail, and would like you to read it before he comes, take good care of it, and letter posted in. I am also sending you of Duncans latest book which is Dr Grenfell's Parish. It is also on Grenfell's work and I would like you to read it through father has been telling me with his libel. I hope it is now almost completed. If when I get home nothing remains to be added my book of joy will be full.

Don't hesitate or fail to let me know when you want me to make an advance. I appreciate your kindness in making the refund, but I want you not to worry at any time.

It is getting late now so I must close. Give my best love to father and the girls, and have much best love to yourself.

I forgot to mention in my letter of father that when Chancellor Burnham was here I invited one or two gentlemen to meet him at dinner at the Club. Sir Sandford Fleming, General Cole, Professor Robertson and Daly (who is an old friend) I thought he enjoyed meeting them very much. I phoned to invite Mr Sifton but he was in Toronto, and Lord Aberdeen was unable to come.

he had a good meeting this visit so large as some of the others. He sent me after returning his work on Systematic Theology in two volumes with a very kind letter. I read him some of my life of Harper which he was kind enough to say he thought very good and most desirable to be published.

I am looking forward to getting out to Kingsmere and to you with during the summer. It will be lovely to be at Kingsmere again, and the joy of having you with there is more than I can tell you.

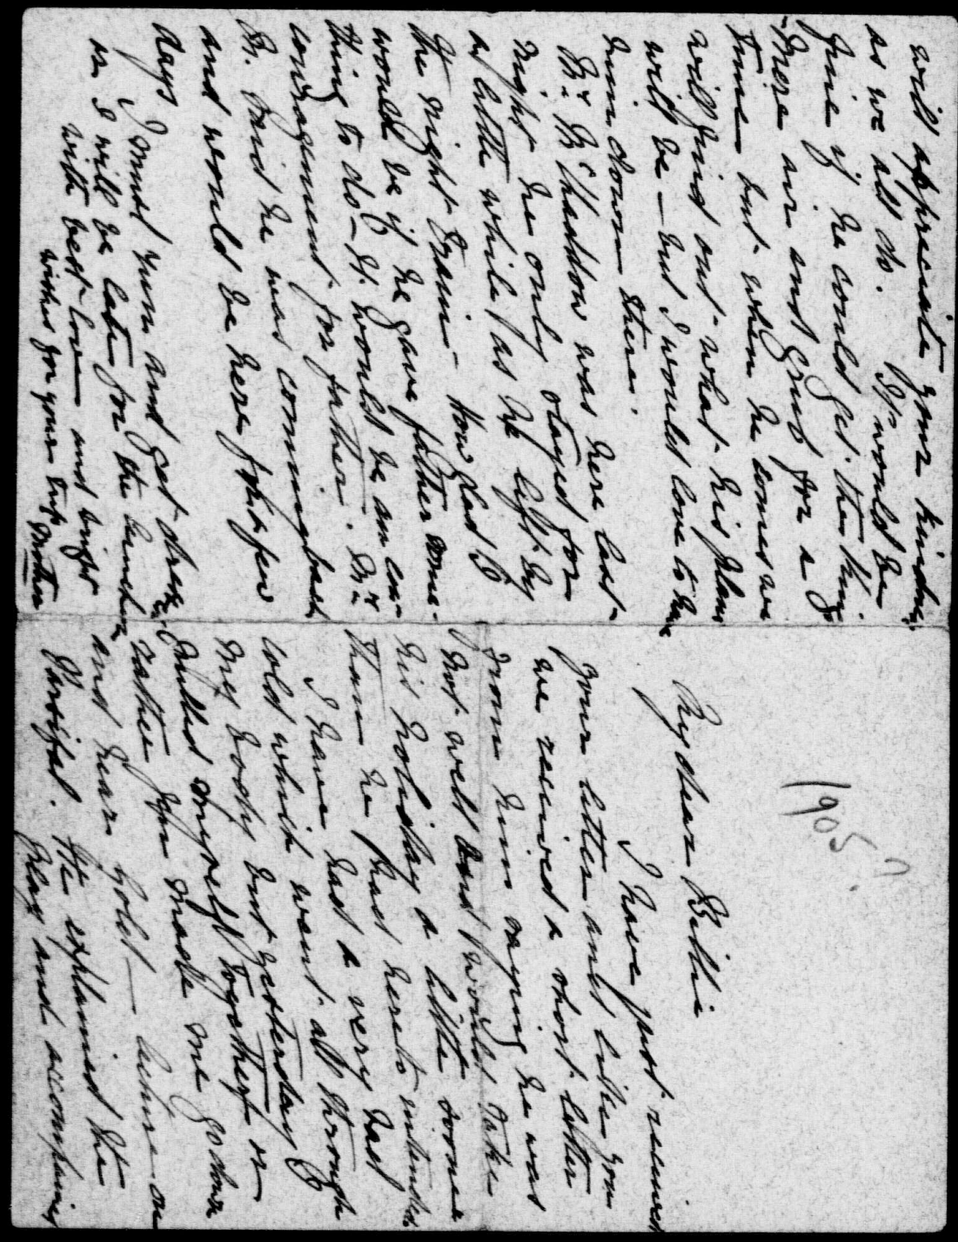

I expect to go out next Sunday to see how everything is. I have not yet decided about how I may go to New York. I would like particularly to see the monument to Burt before it is cast in bronze which I understand is about to be done, and I might stay a day or two with Bell Ferry. I will let you know from Toronto on the Tuesday after Easter Monday of next before, and before over the Wednesday.

I wrote Mary a few days letter yesterday to make good all my neglect.

I have been wondering how

My dear Max,-

I am very sorry to have been so long in writing to you. The truth is I did not notice that the time was passing as rapidly as it has been. It was my intention to acknowledge promptly your last letter which came just before Miss Godell arrived. After seeing her, I seemed to feel that you would have heard any news I had to send and, being pretty busy with a great many matters, I have waited for a good opportunity to write you but none seems to have come my way. I shall, however, if you will forgive me, promise to be a better correspondent in the future and hope you will write me as often as well.

I enjoyed meeting Miss Godell very much and had a very pleasant talk with her one Sunday afternoon at Mrs. Dr. Bell's. She told me of what you are doing and how you were, and I asked her to take a message from me for you which, I presume, she has given. Mrs. Douglas also spoke of having met you and of your having a letter of introduction from me. I have never cared for her, so did not attempt saying much to her and am just as glad you have met her without finding it necessary to present my letter.

It is a pleasure to know from your letters home that you are doing so well and kept so busy. My advise to you would be to plan to stay in Bisbee until you decide to get out all together, to save all the money you can in the interval, not spending anything on presents, even for those who are at home. You might at the end of your year be in a position to take a course with some specialist in a New York hospital, if necessary, or you could come and take up work either here or in some other part of Canada. In the meantime save all you possibly can. Never mind about the small advance which I have made to you for the present. There will be plenty of time to refund that. I will have a look over my books and see just what the amount is and let you know but never mind about the repayment at present. Put all you can make in the bank where it will draw interest in the interval.

Speaking of presents reminds me that I have never yet thanked you for the beautiful gift you sent for my birthday and at Christmas. I have had it in my room as a daily reminder of your kindness and it has brought me much pleasure. I will take it out to my summer cottage in a few weeks' time where I think it will be specially appropriate. It is quite descriptive of the country in which you are and is doubly valuable as having been obtained by you on the spot. I hope you will not think it too late to accept my best thanks for you kindness in sending it to me.

Norman Duncan spent two or three days with me when he was the guest of the Canadian Club at Ottawa. He spoke very often of you and said that he would like very much to hear from you. I wish you would write to him telling him of your work and what you thought of his book, "Doctor Luke of the Labrador". He says he always looked upon you as one of his greatest friends and one of the boys from whom he really expects great things. Duncan has developed a very earnest, strong and gentle character. He has a great love for the poor and may, I think, be expected in all that he writes to advocate their cause. He likely to be in Toronto about Easter time for a Reunion of our Class, when I expect to see him and have him, if possible, to stay with the family. He has written a book called, "Dr. Grenfell's Parish", which deals with the Deep Sea Mission work on the Atlantic. If I can get an extra copy of it, I will send one to you. I know Grenfell personally and agree with Duncan that there is no man living more worthy of admiration and praise. He is a doctor who has devoted his life to caring for the fishermen along the Labrador coast. He visits them with a hospital ship along a shore line of more than two thousand miles, has established hospitals, co-operative stores and the like for their benefit. He is also a preacher and the admiral of his own fleet. He sent me a few days ago a book which he has written called "The Harvest of the Sea", which describes his work without mentioning himself. He is likely to be in Ottawa in a month's time when I hope to see something more of him.

It has occurred to me that it might be well for you to apply for a position as medical officer in connection with the construction work of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. I am sending you a copy of the April 1904 number of the Labour Gazette and you will see at page 1004 an article which deals with the legislation on the subject. If you decide to make application, do so at once and write both to the Grand Trunk Pacific Ry. Co. and the Government Commissioners for the Construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. By the Act passed for the building the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway the Government are to build one-half of the line, namely from Winnipeg to Moncton, N.S., and the Company the other half, from Winnipeg to the Pacific Coast. I would suggest that you write a letter in the following words:

"Dear Sirs:

I understand that the work of construction in connection with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway in Canada will be commenced this fall, and that in compliance with the provisions of an Act to protect the health of employees on Public Works passed by the Dominion Government some years ago, it would be necessary to appoint medical officers to superintend and look after the physical condition of employees in the several camps. I would respectfully ask that you would consider me an applicant for one of these medical positions.

I respectfully beg to say that I have qualifications which I think will recommend my application to your favourable consideration. I am a Canadian ny birth and have resided in Canada until within the last two years. I graduated in medicine at the University of Toronto in ..... and during my last year at the University and in the year immediately following was appointed by the Ontario Government a medical officer under the Public Health Department to take charge of small-pox patients in the lumber camps of Northern Ontario during the out-break of small pox at that time. (Give some short account of your experiences in these camps.) In connection with this work I had to deal with a class of men who, in many respects, will be not unlike those who are likely to be engaged in construction work. That my services were satisfactory and appreciated will, I think, be evidenced by the fact that when small-pox broke out in the County of Waterloo some time later, the Provincial Government put me at the time in charge of an isolation hospital where I had under me as many as seventy patients at one time. I was twenty-four years of age at the time but was able to carry on the work to the satisfaction of the Government and without losing more than one patient.

During the South African War, I went to South Africa as a member of the Army Medical Corps and had considerable medical experience in the field there. Not finding an opening to my liking on returning to Canada, I decided to go to Denver; Col. and commence practice there, having had an opening as instructor at the University. Some months ago, I learned of an opportunity to become a member of the hospital staff of the large hospital in connection with the Copper-Queen Mines at Arizona. I applied for the position and was appointed and am at the present time resident physician and surgeon here. My work is chiefly among the miners, although I have also a considerable private practice. I feel that my experience has been precisely the kind that would fit me to fill a responsible position in connection with the medical work that may be necessary in the course of the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. I am most desirable of returning to Canada and settling permanently in my own country, and would therefore specially welcome an appointment which would give me this opportunity.

I enclose herewith copies of testimonials which have been given to me by medical men who know of my ability. Any of these gentlemen may be referred to as to my professional standing and ability. If desired, I could also give you other references as to character and the like. I might add as a reference to my personal identity that my father is Mr. John King, K.C., one of the lecturers of the Law School at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, and that Mr. W.L.Mackenzie King, Deputy Minister of Labour, is my brother.

I know that in order to secure positions of this kind some influence is often helpful and at time perhaps necessary, and. did I desire to do so, I could, I know, secure the kind influence of a number of friends. I prefer, however, to seek the position solely on the ground of my ability, to discharge its duties to the satisfaction and interest of those retaining my services, and I am allowing therefore my past record and present position to speak for themselves and would only add that, if honoured with an appointment, I shall seek to discharge the duties of the position in a manner creditable to myself and your Company.

Yours respectfully, *

I think a letter of this kind would be the best to send. In writing to the Grand Trunk Pacific Company address your letter to William Wainwright, Esq., 1st Vice-President and Controller, Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Company, Montreal, Que. The letter which you send to the Government address to Mr. F.W.Wade, K.C., Chairman

Board of Commissioners for the Construction of the Transcontinental Railway, Ottawa, Canada. Instead of using the word "Company" in the end of the letter in writing to Mr. Wade, use the expression " to the satisfaction of the Board of Commissioners". My advise to you would eb to write to both these parties at once. It will be the fall before the work of construction commences and no appointments have been made yet. They may, however, be made at any time in the near future. When you get a reply let me know what is said. I know both Mr. Wade and Mr. Wainwright personally and they know of my work here. Of course the Department has had a stand up fight with the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway Co. for employing American engineers instead of Canadaan, and, as we have compelled the Grand Trunk Pacific Co. to return a good many Yankees, there is not much love lost between the Company and the Department. They are, however, purely a business concern and will doubtless be anxious to get good men. If they are, I think you would stand a good chance. It would be a mistake and would only prejudice your case if a course would be adopted other than the one suggested. It is possible that the Railway Commissioners may feel that, because of your connection with the Government, your appointment might be construed as having been brought about through a pull and might be considered as already settled. If, however, they are disposed to give you the position at all, a manly, straightforward letter, such as I have here suggested, would, I think, be the one most likely to secure it for you. In any event my advise to you would be to write at once, take the chance and regard it as a chance merely and put no hope in it. I do not know what the positions are worth, but I think you could refuse anything which does not bring you more than what are at present receiving or some such amount. If you can get an equivalent of what you already have, I think the postion would be a good one to take as it would bring you back to Canada and would also give you a chance of seeing the opening of the Canadian West.

I would suggest your writing to father again in reference to your land. I offered to make for you the small advance which was necessary to have it surveyed by an engineer in the district. You had better write to him on the subject and ask him to secure the 160 acres to which you are entitled.

They have sent you from home, I think, such papers and news as is of mutual interest to us. I think that I have written enough for the present letter. Once again, I would ask you to forgive my long delay and express the hope that you will write me

I was glad to get your long letter a day or two ago. You must not worry about Mary for he is willing on well I know, and besides we will have the pick fortune of seeing him soon. I have her Custon Lady might interest herself. Everything was just as it had been left at the cottage. Joe walked back to Ottawa yesterday afternoon.

Mr Machado is going up tonight I may call. He may open a branch office in Toronto. He intimated to me that if father had an office he might speak to Machado about doing their business "The American Bank Note Co". This is a large concern. I think Machado would be favourable, but father ought to have an office to do business from. I am sure he would not fail them in his many other ways. Father might speak to him anyway if he mentions the branch office.

I think I will go to New York the end of this week & come home right here can hear whether Mr, he may have to stay with relations in Toronto.

With best love to all

Form 2.

It is agreed between the sender of the following message and this Company, that said Company shall not be liable for damages arising from failure to transmit or deliver, or for any error in the transmission or delivery of an unrepeated telegram, whether happening from negligence of its servants or otherwise, or for delays from interruptions in the working of the lines, for errors in cypher or obscure messages, or for errors from illegible writing, beyond the amount received for sending the same.

To guard against errors, the Company will repeat back any telegram for an extra payment of one-half the regular rate, and in that case it shall not be liable for damages beyond fifty times the amount received for sending and repeating.

Correctness in the transmission of messages can be insured by contract in writing, stating agreed amount of risk, and payment of premium thereon at the following rates, in addition to the usual charge for repeated messages, viz.: one per cent. for any distance not exceeding 1000 miles, and two per cent. for any greater distance.

This Company shall not be liable for the act or omission of any other Company, but will endeavor to forward the telegram by any other Telegraph Company necessary to reaching its destination, but only as the agent of the sender and without liability therefor. The Company shall not be responsible for messages until the same are presented and accepted at one of its transmitting offices; if a message is sent to such office by one of the Company's messengers, he acts for that purpose as the sender's agent; if by telephone, the person receiving the message acts therein as agent of the sender, being authorized to assent to these conditions for the sender. This Company shall not be liable in any case for damages, unless the same be claimed, in writing, within sixty days after receipt of the telegram for transmission.

No employee of the Company shall vary the foregoing.

Dict.C

April 12,1905.

My dear Max:

I c annot tell you how distressed I have been and sorry to learn that you have been ill and that you have had to undergo an operation. Jennie telephoned to me from the Willisons about 8 o'clock last night,telling me of your letter to May,and since that time until the present moment,which is about three o'clock Wednesday afternoon, when Miss Cowles' kind telegram has come to hand,I have been extremely anxious and alarmed. I telegraphed Miss Cowles last night at eight o'clock immediately after talking with Jennie,and sent forward two or three enquiries to have a reply.hastened. About 9.30 this morning I wired also to yourself and at noon sent another wire to Dr.Shine. I suppose that there has been some difficulty making connections or I would have received a reply sooner. I will be anxious to hear from you as to [redacted] you were taken ill and particulars as to your sickness and operation,and hope,if unable to write when this letter reaches you,you will have someone write me on your behalf.

I immediately on receipt of Miss Cowles' telegram sent a wire to Jennie,telling her that there was no cause for arlarm,that the operation was over and that you were doing well. In writing her last night I told her to say nothing to any other members of the family,and between us we can safe mother and Bella the anxiety which they would otherwise bave sure. I hope,however,that you will not fail to write me fully and let me know if there is anything at all which I can do that will be of assistance to you.

I have been thinking over the advisability of your continuing with the Copper Queen Mining Co. hospital,and really think that in many ways it would be much better if you were nearer home. I am almost inclined to advise you to come home immediately without attempting to go on with your work at the Copper Queen mine. I would be very glad to pay your expenses from Bisbee to Toronto. Even should you decide to continue at Bisbee it would be well I think to come home for a short holiday first in which event I would be glad to refund the amount of a return ticket. Mother will certainly be anxious when she learns that you have been ill,and will not be satisfied as to your real condition until she sees you,in which feeling we will all share. I think,therefore,that as soon as you are able to take so long a journey you had better get your goods together and come back prepared to stay.

I wrote you at some length on Saturday,though the letter was not sent until Monday. You will have received it before this one reaches you and will see what it suggests in regard to making application for work in connection with the medical superintendence of construction camps on the G.T.P. I have frequently thought over the idea of your coming to practice in Ottawa,and and must say that the more I think of it the more strongly it appeals to me as a good one. There is room for good men everywhere,and I am inclined to think that your ability and knack you have of getting on with peoplewould stand you in good stead in this city. We could take a house together,which we could secure at a reasonable rental,and employ a housekeeper. I have enough furniture to pretty nearly furnish half the house,and would be prepared to get a little more. Under such an arrangement I think by sharing expenses we could make ends meet satisfactorily,and would be prepared to make what advance might be necessary until matters got under way. At all events I would like you to think this over,and to feel in doing so that should you fall in with the arrangement I will hail it with some delight. The summer would be a good time for us to secure a house,and a month out at my cottage at Kingsmere before starting work would give you a good rest and plenty of time to look over the ground. There are bound to be obstacles and chances wherever you locate. Everything taken into consideration I am inclined to think that you will do about as well here as anywhere.

I hope you will please thank Miss Cowles

Dear Mother:

May has just received a note from Miss Cowles written last Thursday, in which she says that the operation was performed last Thursday and was in every way successful. She said that on operating they found Mac's condition exactly as had been expected

What ever happened that you got so wise all of a sudden about Bee being sick. You might be sure if there were any danger they would let you know from the hospital.

I went into the hospital about 2 weeks ago with a bad attack of inflammation of the bladder (cystitis) like I had before leaving home. This time my urine was shut off altogether & Dr Blair, last Thursday had to open up into the bladder & drain. He has not taken the drain out yet, but will do so in a day or two. He says the wound will then heal very rapidly. Ass soon as I am able to travel I am coming home for a rest so I am hoping to see you all very soon.

I should not say anything about my being sick outside. Your affectionate brother

Mac.

Dear Billie:

I cannot tell you how good and thoughtful I think you. How delighted Mac will be to hear from you and he certainly will appreciate your kindness.

You may think I was wrong to tell Mother but I thought it all over very carefully and came to the conclusion that now we knew Mac was doing so well are now at Norman Duncan's and hope to finish it before I go home tomorrow. I do hope we can manage to meet Dr Grenfell when he comes.

I must not write any more now. Hazel sends her love and wants to know when that photo is coming.

Best love dear Billie and many thanks for your kind letter.

Dear People, —

Your kind & sympathetic letters, which I received yesterday, touched me deeply & made me long to be with the loved ones at home, once again.

I have been up & walking around since Sunday last, but am still pretty lofty. However, I feel increased strength every day, as I lie in a hammock on the broad verandah & drink in this summery air.

I asked Dr. Shine to-day when he thought I would be able to travel & he said probably not for 10 days or two weeks. Dr. Bridge & Mr. Hunter (the druggist) are going east to Chicago & from there to New York on May 1st. so that I expect I shall wait until that date & travel with them as far as Chicago. That will leave me just one night from Chicago to Toronto to travel alone so you have nothing to fear for my safe home coming.

This is the first time I have sat up to write & I now feel a little tired, so, for the present, shall ring off. Do not say anything about my illness outside. People will think I am always ill. With love Affectionately Mac.

I would ask the excuse for you and father if such were excellencies if any were necessary as admission to some function or another, for I know it would be a real pleasure to you.

Toronto. being home on Wednesday morning next. If in U.S. I will try to get this in time for Toronto on that day.

I had lunch again at Government House yesterday and a long talk with Earl Grey and both Lady Evelyn + Lady Grey. Earl Grey gave me a lot of papers relating to the Colonial work of the Salvation Army and talked over the Canada Club meeting and other things. I hope you and Father may meet both Lord + Lady Grey next week.

Mrs. Hanbury-Williams is going to be with them. She said she would like so much to meet you when in Toronto and asked me if I would not bring her to our house to see you, I told her I would and will try to arrange when we get up to have her come in for a cup of tea. Say nothing of it, but you might think over one or two friends you would like to have in not more, and I will bring worth him. I would have had to pay my way to Ottawa from Prescott, & from Ottawa here & I really felt – as I have written home – that this would be which, for the 10th of the dinner and my short stay. I got no telegram from home to-day, so I assume that he was successful in getting me a C.P.R. ticket. Thus ends my pleasant dream.

I have other more pleasant news to communicate. I reached home at 7.45 this am. We were all at the Station to meet him. He looks a good deal pulled down, and is thinner than I have seen him since his first sickness years ago, but is cheerful and in good spirits, and will, I think, convalesce steadily. He lost 25 lbs the 30 days he was in hospital. He can do much walking & his hand & arm are much rest as possible for a while. I saw him stripped this evening, & I noticed his arms were very thin. The operation was necessary on account of an abscess which had formed on the bladder, & which gave him intense pain. It was brought on by his horse back riding up and down the mountains on his professional visits. The day in the dining hall of the Residence in a thoroughly informal social way and talk & laugh over the old days in the Society. There will be no set speeches. We shall try to have a round table. There will be no chairman or vice-chairmen. It will be a thoroughly fraternal gathering. I was chairman of the meeting to-day. All to-morrow's warning hopers will know upstairs of our meeting this p.m. The idea was of the meeting originated with Principal Hamley of the James Collegiate Institute.

But I must close as I want to get this off to-night. My glad to hear about Lord Rosebery & all the other pleasant items in your letter. We enjoyed your visit very much; you cannot imagine how happy you made us on that occasion of your home-coming. Your mother & Lord Shaw dined at the Grange last Evening. G. With much love from us all.

May 12. 05.

Dear Father & Mother
& all at Home.

It has seemed impossible for me to get any time to myself for the past fortnight. To begin with the last dinner of the Canadian Club took every spare moment I had in getting ready for. There was so much to look after, and when Mrs. Ogilvie Gwynn came and

The Peterborough Light Infantry Officers, splendid ability etc were among the guests. I found the proceedings & composing the King's health, quite before the coffee was brought on. Mrs. Gates, read the letter which Lord Roberts sent me, and introduced the speakers. referring also to His Excellency's presence & President Harper's. Mrs. Crane & Mrs. Fisher were the chief speakers. Mrs Blair and Mrs. Borden moved the votes of before he had left her Parlis arrived. You will see therefore how hard it has been to get him to write.

I The dinner was in every way a great success, over 200 present good speaking, and lots of fun.
Mr Graham, Mrs Parlis + President
Harper arrived Friday morning and came to my office. I took them to the Club and we waited there for the Ford to come along.
Then I went to York Downs to lunch. In the evening Mrs.
Parlis Grey at his door, and he sat to my right. Mr Lount + a few Colls. Speaking of this Toronto visit he said he enjoyed as much as anything in his whole stay the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Mackenzie King Col. Sanbury Williams told me his wife was more than delighted with her call + mother and they were both looking forward to calling when they went up on the 24th. The Govr made a fine speech, he paid me some exceedingly fine and high compliments while speaking. I do not remember with him. We interviewed many all the ministers, together including Sir Wilfrid. They were most hearty in their appreciation of this work. A Minute was passed according £1000 a year Grant of $2000 in aid of it. His lecture at St Andrews was a great success. The Cross girls came every available place was taken & over 160 were taken in at the door. We got some donations in addition. We came up & had my room one night and we talked together till 1.30, each day he had dinners with me at the Club. & I had Hon Mr Fisher

Chamber, & Earl Grey followed with his speech in which amongst other things he quoted Aristotle's words "The highest happiness is to be found in the conscious pursuit of a noble purpose." We closed about midnight with God save the King. I wished very much Father could have been present and was quite disappointed he was not: However we may have a large function and certainly will of Lord Roberts coming, perhaps between now & then politics may be complicated to merit enough newspaper article & boy for a trip down should the horses fail. To the pleasure of coming down would be added that of having come in part as a reward for labour which gives the real happiness & most enjoyment.

On Saturday aft. Flora the Govt. House guests for a drive on the Cabin ridge and again had lunch at Govt House, Mrs Chas. H.C. Borden here among the other guests.
Later had a good talk with Earl Grey. I forgot to say that at the dinner he spoke again of the 2 paintings of Grandfather, and said that the Rebels of '37 had good cause for their action, that conditions were intolerable or something to that effect.

I was very tired after the dinner - day so much out

My dear Billie

I am so sorry to think you have a touch of rheumatism. My advice would be, without delay take a course of Turkish baths that will sweat it out of your system. Mac has told you what to do and possibly some other members will give advice but whatever you do get rid of it as quickly as you can. Did you sleep out at Kingsmere without having the house and bed clothes aired? You should be most careful for it is very dangerous. Mac is looking like himself again though his legs are a dress for callers but explained where I had been – After all my trouble Mary has not returned yet. The doctor only taking out one tonsil as he is to have the other removed tomorrow. It has been very hard for Mac ill and no servant!

It must have been quite a pretty sight the Ball at Rideau Hall.

I would just love to get a peep into a room full of people from some gallery and see all the people and pretty dresses.

The Grange grounds are looking lovely just now. The old lady is back but I have not seen her to speak to since her return. She has had quite a nice platform put up at the dining window and I expect she will be at one again to get the window shades that belong to Mrs Kirkpatrick.

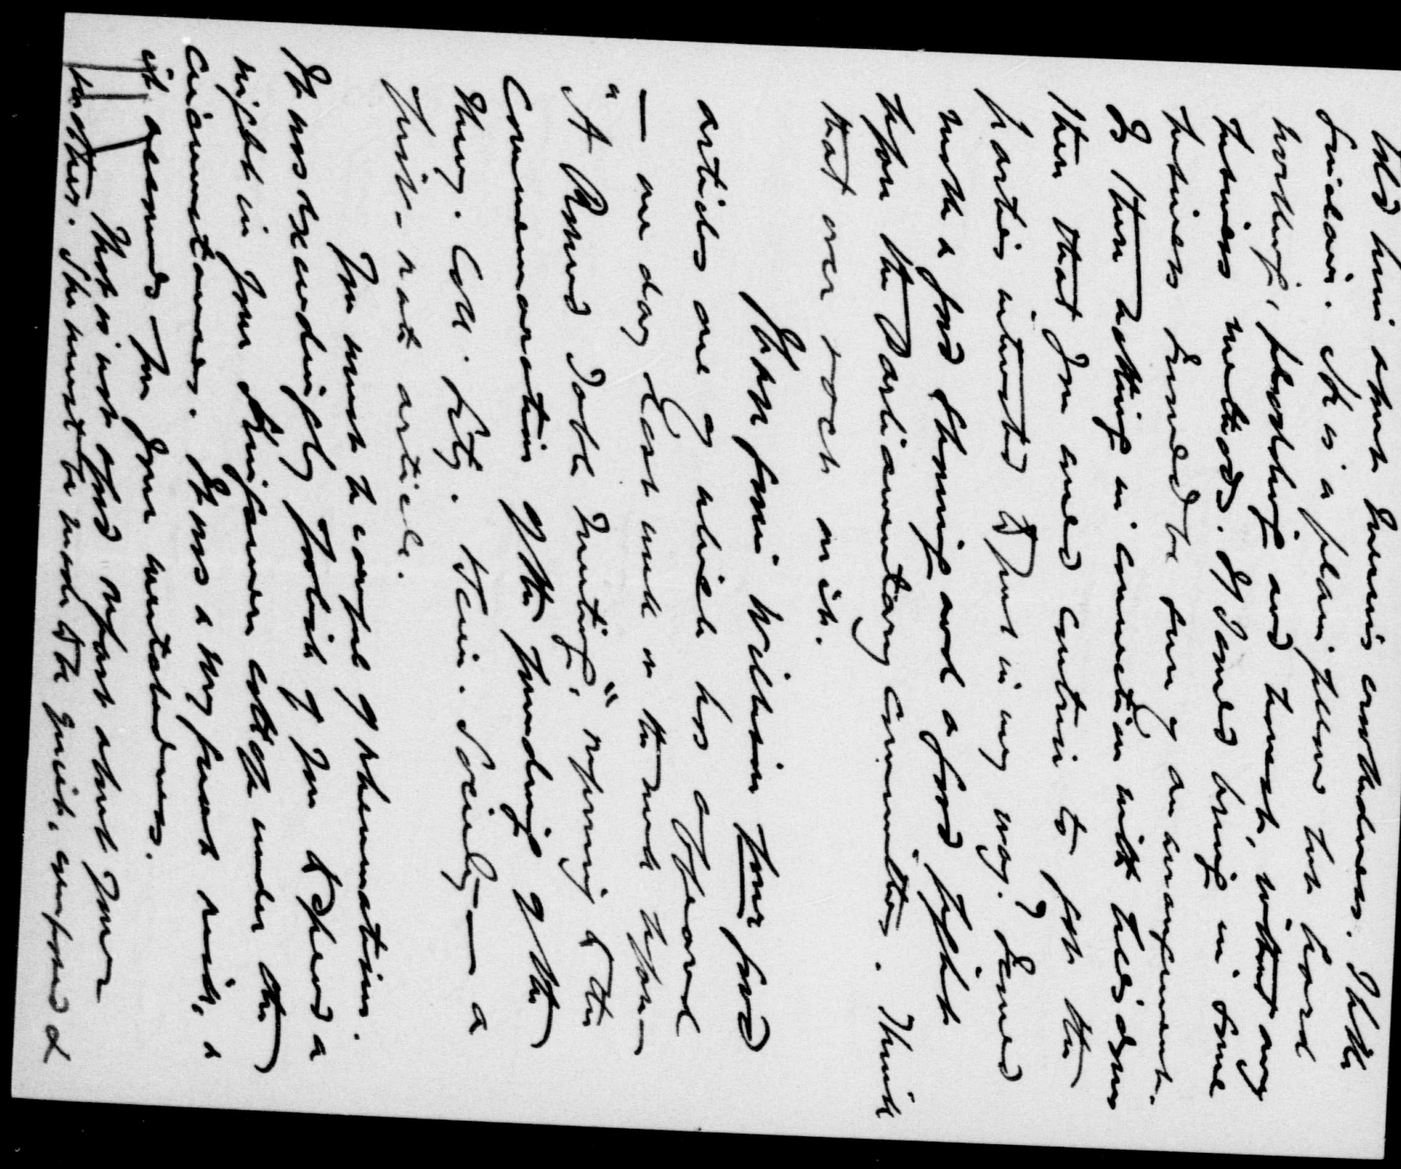

With best love and hoping to see you at the end of the week or the

My dear Willie:

Just a word just to open this about myself to go with your mother's letter. I have not concluded any partnership arrange-ment with Sinclair yet, but hope to get a while. He has two other parties, one a lawyer, a-cquainted parts of this file, & one at least of them will have to go before I can get over here. In the meantime he is giving me some things to do for himself & will put other things in my way. I think he is sort of pleased this way with me. He told me that I often had written in high terms of me. I often also careful. Dr. the arteries may right in his diagnosis & that my eyes indeed to heart confirmed. She must not be told of her condition at that point.

But I must close. Remember you can this well. I really think more must get home - -thing nearer home. This heart is also affected that, too, must be careful. He told me this confidentially, please to regard it.

With much love
Father.

The mother of the family is to be confined very shortly. Hodgetts has given my name & I half expect a call there to-morrow. Hodgetts also says he may have a number of special diagnosis for me to make in different parts of the province. I would it is delightful to be home once more. I examined Mother's heart, the other day, & was surprised to find a decided valvular lesion, over the mitral area. It is a condition that requires only rest of body & mind, for the present; & later, stimulation, as the heart begins to loose competency.

My dear Max:

I was glad to receive this morning your letter of yesterday with its enclosures,which I am now returning.

You speak of a visit of one or two days,or possibly a week to Kingsmere. I am fully expecting you to stay at least a month and in fact,if you would like to come down for a longer time I would be very glad to have you here. I thought that possibly mother might arrange her visit at the same time,so that both of you could be at Kingsmere at the same time. I do not know that you will find a more pleasant place to take a rest,or a locality that would be better for you when the weather gets warmer. Should you wish to come down a while before the others,I will be glad,and the two of us can 'bach.' together for a while.

I think the application which you have sent to the G.T.P. is all right,only I notice in the copy you sent me that it ends up "Board of Commissioners". I presume you have written both the Board and the Railway Company as I suggested,though you enclose replies only from the company Mackenzie and Mann have not,as you say,anything to dowith the G.T.P.,but they have their own railway,the Canada Northern, and are doing extensive construction work at the head of Lake Superior.

King, Rt. Hon. William Lyon Mackenzie (MG 26 J 7 vol.4) Family Letters May 1905

I would suggest that you try to see Mr.Dan Mann himself. He is a better man to see than Mackenzie. Also see W.Moore if you can. He is a solicitor for the Company. You can say to each of them that I had suggested to you to speak to them personally. Moore was at college with me,and though we were never very great friends,still he has been very friendly since he has been with the company. It would be well,too,I think,to have a formalapplication written out,similar to the letter which you sent to the C.P.R. people,which you could leave with Mr.Mann,or send in to whoever he would advise you to write to.

I know that Dr.Vaux was going to the North West,and in fact, had thought of finding out about his house. I will do so at once.

I am much obliged to you for the prescription you advise for rheumatism,and will take advantage of it. I have been so bothered with rhoumatism in my legs during the past week,that I have not got more than one or two nights' sleep a night for six days past. I think it was probably brought on by changing underclothes too soon.

You,of course,know better than I do about the wisdom of taking up small-pox work at this time. If you are yourself in a run-down condition.I am inclined to think you ought to be pretty careful. No doubt however,you will exercise a wise discretion. Should you care to let the small-pox go and come to Kingsmere at once,say in the course of a week or ten days,I will be very glad,but whatever time is most convenient to you will be equally so to me.

Dear Max:

I am returning herewith replies to your letters to the C.T.P. Company and Commission,received this morning. You will see from the replies that your application has gone in in plenty of time.

I would suggest that you have father write to Ned Farrar to use his influence to have you appointed by the Grand Trunk Pacific. Farrar is in close touch with all the leading men of the Grand Trunk Pacific,and would,I am sure,be very glad to put in a word on your behalf. If Farrar were to speak to Mr.Morse I think he could secure you the appointment,and I feel pretty sure that he would bewilling to do so.

I find that Dr.Vaux has made no definite arrangement yet about going away. He is seeking an appointment as army hospital surgeon, but as the appointments have not been made,his plans are as yet,indefinite.

My dear Will,-

Many thanks for your communications of yesterday & to-day.

she would have to do so quite suddenly.

I have spoken to Father of the land grants and find that what has been done is not very business like, so I shall look after them myself.

I hope you will make a big effort to get up a week from Sunday. I have much to talk to you about of importance that I cannot write.

I am getting back my strength quite rapidly and feel splendid, is only a commencement. I was delighted too with the mention you made in a previous letter of the fact that you had written 4 articles for the News. If you could only supplement your income by writing in the Office during office hours an occasional article when there was nothing more important to do, which would bring in say $10 a month, it would mean $120 per year. Dear Father:

I received this morning your letter of the 30th, and am delighted at the knowledge that you have made a partnership arrangement and that you are once more a practising barrister. What the amount you receive is I shall to my mind it is infinitely greater than it seems, and much better than what might have been, had you been obliged to keep on your own account, you have to add to the amount office expenses, to get at its real financial value, and there you have repeatedly said could not be kept under $300 a year. In money saved and money gained the remuneration you receive in cash should properly be put at $600. which with the 1500 law school salary means a certainty of 2100 a year. But there are other considerations of less importance I admit than security is one. I must frankly say it was always a blow to my pride as I am sure it was to your own, that you should be a professional man without an office. Explanations may do some things but they are usually hampered simply because they have to be made. Your standing in the profession is to my mind - and I think I may be said to fairly view the matter as an unprejudiced outsider would, - better a thousand fold. The particular building you are going into - or are in, has also much to commend it as out of the way rents and comparatively good plan would have been a great mistake. Then you are freed from the worry of financial loss in the venture, which in your present position would have been serious. - Altogether I think you are to be very greatly congratulated, and as I say the

Sir William has written me that he will be down tomorrow morning (Saturday) & there are some things he wants to talk up before leaving for England. He goes back to Toronto tomorrow night or I would come up there. Perhaps I will be able to talk up for a day during the coming week. If not, then a week from Sunday for sure. I would rather not have any uncertainty in Sir William's mind just as to it being he sails. I think, on Wednesday next.

her spirits in the same pleasure as when two things. I hope the partnership may prove in every way successful and lead to much better results. I am quite sure it will if you make it a point of being regular in the time spent at the office and prompt in the despatch of business. — It is a great pleasure to see your name at the head of a firm. When you get out your cards send me a couple which I may be able to use in the course of business also send one to Mackenzie.

and I think it might be well to send one also to the Canadian Law Review of this two persons here. Wood of the Free Press, & Jones Libel friends generally. I think too it might be well to send them to some Law school graduates of recent years in outlying parts, eg. Charles Cross, Earnest Burns, & others, with a mention on them that you would be glad to do any work in Toronto. - Could not some cards of them kind be printed on the cards. & embellished by you in sending out. (Send cards also to Lunch. Oppenheimer &)

I will be glad to do anything I can at this end, first how to do about the particular work you spoke of. I am not sure but we can talk this over and if there is a chance at any time I will gladly take advantage of it. Once you get your office, I think by writing here & there when a chance does, & watching & speaking you may be able to take in quite a little. Meantime you have also strengthened your position at the Law School and among members of the profession.

I will see Judge Dingman about. I must say what I have read of the Chinese does not impress me very favourably with it. Unless it improves I will certainly not recommend the writer for a Prize.

I am much disappointed in not being able to get up this week only typographical corrections later.

I was glad to get Mr Watkins' letters, they were a great pleasure to me. — Again I must say how disappointed I am at not being able to get off, but it is only a postponement of a few days. Under the circumstances you will see that it is wiser to get information to get away.

Mrs Hankey-Williams telephoned to invite me to dinner — to say she was very sorry not to have seen me this visit. She said that when they told her who was at the phone she did not get the name right & was not sure who I was speaking. To explain this I could not quite make out what she said.

be sat up in bed this morning and made out the list of accounts. It seems a good deal is owing & will not take long to pay back. Mother asked me if for her dress & when I told her for the dress was going to cost $25.00 she said "I wonder if it will be more than he will want to be paid" for the dress that much!" I laughed right out. She did not want to pay as she says "but she is dying to have it & has set her heart upon having it" so I suppose she will have to get a collar: I told her for the dress was going to cost $25.00 she said "I wonder if it will be more than he will want to be paid" for the dress that much!" Your telegram has just come and Father is going to answer it at once.

We had a nice long letter from Isabel this morning but as it is written on foreign note paper I will not send it as you would not have time to read it. She & Nora are evidently having a grand time of it and are very happy.

Last night after you went I came up with Mother till Father came back, then Lennie and I went up with Hazel and on our way up I took the candlesticks to the Lash's. Mrs Lash came to the door and I gave him your message & he said to thank you very much, as

Then Mrs. Plaunt in the Department wants "the Globe" which is out Bank St, and a growing new part of the city would be good. I have already spoken to several persons about Max coming down with us and they all think he will do well here. I had a talk with Gordon Edwards, the head of the large lumber mills, a nephew of Senator Edwards who admires grandfather so much, he thinks Max Edinburgh (which is the best Max Government Farm and where he himself lives) would be a splendid place for Max to begin in. He has just bought a large stone house on a corner, next to his own home, and says he will consider about renting it. He says there is only one doctor in the whole locality and he is getting useless a good man should have the field to himself. He thinks with myself Max would work into a practice about, and I believe he himself would call him in. He seemed much pleased at the thought of our going down that way. He employs about 400 men. You will meet him

I am going out to Kingsmere tonight and hope to find my man still there There was a great rain storm last night, and he may have been washed away, but I guess not.

Tell Jennie it's whalebones

If I made arrangements to go to Gallfish I could, in all probability, come down with Mother for a week beforehand.

I have sent in my resignation to Blair, as I have made up my mind on that one point that I shall not go back to Bisley.

I thank you for the kind enquiries you have been making in my behalf. Your letter pleased Mother immensely.

I should like to hear from you in regard to the matter, at your earliest convenience, as I have written O'Reilly, that, provided he thinks fit, I could run up to Guelph at the end of this week or beginning of next & talk over the matter of the largest practices in Guelph & has also a most delightful house to live in. If Mother were strong enough, to be perfectly happy without my aid, I should consider it a good chance to get my hand in on city work & incidentally make $5,000.00 Of course if Mother continues unwell, it is out of the question. June I4,I905.

Dear Max:

I have been making a number of enquiries about houses,etc. and there is one house in particular,of which I would like you to make some enquiries in Toronto.

At Christmas time,in talking with Mr.Denney,he mentioned to me that the house on the corner of Sussex street and Askwith Place,which is the corner lot as one turns to drive in at Government House gate,was for sale. The house is occupied at present by the Powells,Mrs.Powell and her daughter and a brother,I think,living there. I understand they pay a rental of only $25 for it. The house is a stone house,and though old,is in one of the very best localities in the city,and is a property that might be made quite valuable.

I wish you would find out from Mr.Denney whether the property is for sale,and if so,at what price it could be bought. If not for sale whether there could be any chance of our renting it. You can,of course, explain to Mr.Denney that I have very little money,but that I might be able to pay something in cash,and give a mortgage on the property as security for the remainder. The people who own the house are,I think,relatives

My dear Father:

I am enclosing a cheque for $100.00. $50 of which I wish you would please apply towards buying coal for the winter, the balance to pay off present coal in-debtedness, and something to Harcourt on account

I might make the mention if you should be talking to Mrs. Denny emphasize the point that I do not want to buy, in the way you would do so only as an investment, & at a very moderate rate. The house I want is a very old one. (but the situation is a fine one & Collins says as they)

I hope Mother continues to do well. Give her my best love. I will send up 4 chapters of the Life tomorrow

This is a loan I am making on the condition you have agreed to; namely to repay at least $25 each month, commencing repayment with the receipt of your present month's check. With the $25 already advanced it makes a total advance of $125. to be accounted for.

I paid with other expenses incurred and to be incurred this month I cannot spare more out of my salary check. The next month I will be able to make a further advance. I would be pleased if you would send me receipts showing that the amount had been applied as here requested.

I have written the enemy concerned about the property. The agent here is asking $5000. with cash payment of part & 5% interest on bills for balance. If I could get 1000, or 1500 off this amount

I have written to Mr.Denny of Cornwall in regard to the Powell House. I got Wilfrid Campbell to enquire from the agent here,without letting the agent know on whose behalf he was making enquiry. The figure quoted him by the agent was $5,000 or $6,000. Campbell thought that the house and lot could be procured for less than the former sum if cash were paid. I will let you know what Mr.Denny says when I hear from him.

I do hope that mother is getting much stronger. I have been not a little anxious all week,but the home letters have given me every assurance that she is doing well. I would be glad to have her down just as soon as she feels all right to travel.

If Max is going to Guelph on the 26th inst.,he will probably not be able to come down with mother. I hope,however,that he will not go to Guelph unless mother is quite well enough to be left without his care. Please do not fail to let me hear from someone at home each day, as I shall become very anxious unless some word is sent.

Dear Father:

I am sending you under separate registered cover, typewritten copy of the first five chapters of the manuscript of your book, which I brought with me on Monday night. It has taken the stenographer whom I got to do the work, four days to cover this much. She had, I think, a good deal of difficulty with your writing at the start, so I suggested that where she could not make out a word, to leave a blank. There are probably several blanks, particularly in the latter part of the work, but these you will be able to fill in. I wish you would let me know, after you have looked over the copy, how it [redacted] you it has been done, and also how the time taken by this stenographer compares with the young lady you have at work in Toronto.

I am also sending you, under separate cover, a copy of the argument of Mr. Shepley before Judge Anglin. Perhaps you will kindly see Perry at once as to the argument of Mr. Robinson and Mr. Mackenzie. I would like to have for the Labour Gazette, whatever you may prepare on the subject not later than the end of next week. Please note that what is given should cover only about three printed pages of the Labour

Dear Willie:

Mother & I shall leave D. V. tomorrow morning. Mother is much better than she was a week ago so the sooner we get her to Kingsmere the better. There is no use waiting a whole week

Mr Shine from Bisbee is in town and Mac is spending the day with him.

Best love dear Willie

My dear Mils:

How do you like this? Pretty cheeky don't you think? Our cards, which will be ready in a day or two, are something the same. I will send you one.

Perry has not sent me report of argument of Mackenzie & Robinson; but I will try to get along without it, & will endeavour that you have article by Monday a.m. Every one here is talking of Anglin's judgment afterwards & I was laughing about it yesterday. Mackenzie tells me that they wanted the argument before the Divisional Court, but that Shepley did not. I think Mr. M. did not expect Osler before Anglin alone, however anticipates the full court. Shortly & Gray had articles on the subject which struck me as nothing from all the judge. But he deserves it, tho' it was a very absurd judgment.

Jean's mother is getting along very well. She was up and dressed yesterday, has G-day written Jean such a letter. She talks of going down next Tuesday at night, which I think is a mistake. She thinks to go day train, & Jennie planned to go with her the 10th but a time. Belle can go afterwards. She returns from Joliet on Tuesday. Isaac says he has written Jean about us flying Jean to Mrs. Mackenzie's method of Belle. I think Jean planned with Jennie to that effect. What do you say? But I must close. I think I told you I received cheque for $100 & was very thankful for it. If I pay part of monies come now & balance in a month, Rogers etc. by that will do. I will pay part when coal delivered. Please return enclosed when you have read them. With much love to know that you are getting on nicely. I hope you are much better now, and that you may be able to come to Kingsmere very much. It has occurred to me that time may be more which will help him long, during the summer months to prevent his getting down to Ottawa this September that it might be well if Jennie were to take his place for a time at work. Dear Mother,

You will be surprised to receive a note from me from here. I was to remain before leaving Ottawa to send a line and since arriving yesterday I have hardly been a moment alone. I left yesterday morning at 11.30 and arrived in Kingston at 3.30. Sir Richard & Lady Easterbrook are both here, & Sir Richard's two sons & daughters. Mrs. Cheney is also here, and is as pleasant as ever. Last night we had a large bon fire on the shore, & a row out in the moonlight. This morning we went to see the closing exercises at the Royal Military College which I found most interesting. It made me recall the time you and father visited the college and thought of sending me there. Sir Frederick Borden came up & special permission was given to present to prizes. He invited me to go back with him, & will join him at midnight to-night arriving in Ottawa in the morning. In this way I lose only a day and a half from the office & have been enabled to accept and enjoy the pleasure of a very kind invitation. Mrs Cheney has invited me to visit Peterboro again this Summer and I have told her I may go towards fall. I must be busy & get away for Saturday or Sunday.

It has given me great comfort

I hope you will not think that I have forgotten all about Jessie & I have written the last day or two I was so rushed & the letter went from Kingston that I had hardly time to attend to brought office work. I was delighted to get Jessie's letter and Jessie's also and am very glad that Jessie has decided to come down with you. I appreciate that's kindness in saying her expenses.

I would much prefer that you should come down by the day train. It is for many reasons. It would be difficult for me to meet you in the morning and the morning train does not always go out; one loses connexions. The evening train is pretty sure to connect, so long as I know you are coming I can hold the Chelsea train. Please do not come by the night train on any account.

As to the day, any day will suit provided you give me notice ahead by letter or wire. I think you should be quite strong before starting, as the journey will be quite a tax. Above all avoid a rush towards the end, better delay 3 days after the intended time than hasten too much for a certain day. Jessie should take plenty time to get ready. I am enclosing a check for $16.00 to cover ticket etc. The return ticket is $13.10, better get a return, as I can have it extended, then there is parlor car, dinner on train, baggage etc.

I am sorry that Bella will not be coming also, but I can think it would be better for her to wait in the mail following the day of the appearance of the article. Did you see the correction which I enclose? Please return also the enclosed receipt.

I like what your typewriter has done very much, but there must be odd times to revise it so yet, there. There has been with time enough on his or her hands to complete the matter. Your typewriter is better than mine, & the matter itself is in smaller, and, I think, better type. However I want to give mine little girl all she can do. She is a faithful little creature in the office, & I think, needs all the comforts. But, since the chapters have been typewritten, I like the matter far better than before. It reads like a book, & I am not at all ashamed of it. When you finished the book showed to me a great deal of food.

Your mother has been keeping up well this very changeful, especially since the times Jeanie was so with her. Jeanie understands her thoroughly. Those visitors will keep away from her when she feels to busy me until she regains her strength.

To-morrow is Lucy Goldman's garden party. The girls will go with me. I am sorry for your mother came & day - Thanks very many for it.

With much love from us all,

Father.

My dear Willie:

I am very pleased to tell you that I was reelected to-day by the Benchers Lecturer in the Law School for another term of three years. In fact we were all reelected. There were no other candidates — which means that the concensus of professional opinion in the Province is, that we are the right men for the places.

We have been very busy in the office not getting home after ten each day. I am enclosing my salary cheque which I should have had for you last Evening, but had to go to a Senate meeting. I will send it down to-morrow night. Hope that will not be too late. We have a fine deal with Jones and Mitchell during the Court week, have Evening sessions every night, & Jennie May often also; so that I could not settle down to write

Another matter came up Last Evening. The petition of '95 was thoroughly opposed by Judge Street & A.B. Macallum, also by a minor deputy W.T. White and Prof Mackenzie. Chas. Burnside, who made a spirited speech in reply, Bastedo, Warnock (a Quaker) & myself spoke on the other side. The voting was on our report as a committee that recommending the Council remove the ban of suspension & the Senate to restore Tucker as an Bachelor of Arts, being a graduate of Leland Stanford. Burwash moved & I seconded the adoption of the report. Macallum moved seconded by Gordon that the matter, involving a question of policy, be adjourned till the October meeting in November. This Last motion carried. The Opposition then tried to get us to drop the report & the whole matter altogether, but we would not consent. Burwash was so incensed at the opposition that he asked to be relieved from the chairmanship of the Committee. I told Gilbert all about it to-day. We must try & get in November, & meanwhile get at every possible member of the Senate. The meeting Last night was a thin one. It will be large in November.

There are two letters in to-day's mail on my Waterloo article, my temperature with the degree added have just been corrected

Dear Max:

I was pleased to learn when last at home that you had made a business arrangement which would give you a practice for the summer months. As I heard it was optional with you whether you held it until September or a month or two later,I am writing now to say that I think it desirable for you to hold the work just as long as you can. It would in every way suit my convenience better,as well as greatly reduce expenses if we should take up house together during the month of October or November,rather than earlier,and as far as practice is concerned in Ottawa,either of those months would be as good as the month previous. In the meantime you will be making additional funds,and perhaps place yourself in such a position as will make any immediate loans unnecessary. as I figure it out the initial outlay in connection with necessary supplies for house would be considerable. Whatever these may be I cannot afford to allow them to encroach upon savings already made,but must seek to meet them out of current income.

I think I will be able to make some satisfactory arrangement for New Edinburgh,and from what I have learned indirectly,it is possible that Dr.Gibson,whom I know very well,and who has a large practice in the city may do something in your way in that part of Ottawa. He has many business than he can attend to,and has a very large share of the professional work in New Edinburgh.

I received a letter a week or ten days ago,asking me to go up to Toronto to dine at Cawthra Mulock's. While there I met the Board of Trustees of the Toronto General Hospital,of which Mr.Flavelle is chairman,and they offered me the position of Superintendent of the Toronto General Hospital at a salary of $4,000,with house,heat,light,etc. I have not yet given the Board my decision in the matter,and will probably not do so until Sir William returns. In the meantime,I would be pleased to hear from you what you think of the offer,and of the wisdom or unwisdom of my accepting it. Please regard this matter as strictly confidential. In the event of my not accepting,it is doubtful (for reasons that I know) if quite the same offer will be made to another man, and it would be very unfair if a subsequent appointee should know that I had been approached in the interval and refused. My present opinion is that I cannot see my way to an acceptance of the offer. However,I would like you to write me frankly what you think about it. While in Toronto I went through the hospital from cellar to garret and got a pretty good idea of what a superintendent's duties would be. Having had some experience with hospitals,you will,perhaps,know more of what I might congenial.

You will be pleased to know that mother is so much better that you could hardly realise her to be the same person. She is improving daily, and is now quite her old self again. Jennie and I are very careful not to let her attempt too much, and to keep her quiet, but she sleeps and eats well, and enjoys going out in the boat and walking about the grounds little. She also reads a great deal and has been very happy.

Dear Will, -

I was very pleased to get your letter of the 11th. & to hear of the latest mark of appreciation that has been bestowed on you. I can hardly venture much of an opinion on the advisability of an acceptance of such an offer without asking a number of questions. What is your present salary & what are your future prospects in your present situation? What is your object or goal in life & would the new position help or retard you in the gaining of the goal? What would your new work consist of? From what I know of the work, I must say I cannot see the advantage, other than financial, for a layman to hold such a position. For a medical man the position would be different because he could, by work, gain a great knowledge of disease, but merely dealing with the business management of a hospital, the work, to me, would seem comparable to the management of a departmental store. Personally, however, I should be pleased to see you accept the position, as you would be near the home & Mother. By holding such a position you would probably be better able to help me financially with my start in Ottawa & I should not feel the burden of dependance on you to such an extent. I should feel much relieved if you will not allow my coming to Ottawa to influence you one iota in your decision. As far as myself goes I think I should rather you accepted, as it would show people that I was not coming to Ottawa with the idea of climbing into a fraction on your shoulders.

With regard to my position here, I must tell you in confidence that it is a very uncertain quantity, for this reason. Dr. Aldright, from what I have found out in this town, is a drunken cad & is being held in some "gold-cure" institution in Toronto. He is going to get out at his first opportunity & so it is impossible to say when he will be back. Of course you know I am most anxious to get started as soon as possible in Ottawa; this work, at best, is wasting time, as I only get £6. 0s a month & it costs me nearly £10. 0s a month on laundry, clothes, & incidentals. I shall certainly wait your convenience but I hope you will make it as early as possible. What date are you in the habit of moving from Kingsmere to the city?

I am very pleased to hear that Mother is coming along so nicely, but sorry indeed that she has had the unnecessary nervous strain of receiving visitors. Whatever her appearance, her nerves cannot possibly have recovered sufficiently to permit of such excitement. You know what I think so there is no use repeating.

I hope you & Jennie are well & all very happy together. My best love to you all.

Affectionately

folio for copy. There were in all about 27 extra parallel pages which he marks as 120 folios making the transcribing 18.00 & this will in all 21.00 for that work. You can see that he charges three times as much for a folio as Geddes does for a page or more than 12 times as much for a folio, and this for one copy only. Geddes will be away for three months but the girl who did some of the other work may be able to do something more after hours, & if you will send it along I will give it to her to do.

I am enclosing herewith a renewal of the chattel mortgage. The paper appears to be the renewal of 1903. As I do not appear to have the 1904 renewal it must be in your possession will you please have the renewal for 1905 made out at once so that it can be filed early in August. You will have to add interest for 1903-04, & 1904-05;

I am also returning you the receipts sent down by you, & a receipt of the sub. for Mrs Shearman for copy history & must send Geddes' receipt

My Dear Willie:

Just a few lines about the coal money, etc. The whole bill for coal is $104.00 — viz 16 tons at $6.50. Out of the money you sent I paid the following:

1. Carpenter for both stables bills $11 00
2. Harcourt on 4/9 my account (835) 20.00
3. Coal 25.00

$56.00

There were some other things paid out of that amount of which Jennie will tell you, as I think she kept the record. They comprised some things that I think your mother mentioned. Will Jennie about them. I must pay the balance of the coal before the end of the month, otherwise I lose the reduction. That will be $79.00. I will have Black Harcourt stand this later, as he promised it this month. We will need every available cent from other sources for the house, as I think Jennie can tell you.

Jane arrived our last night after we were all in bed. He came on the late boat via Port Woolley. He was on business of which he told me, & returned at noon to-day. He was looking very well, and is comparatively busy over there. His visit was a very flying one, but we were very glad to see him.

Jean Proctor & Marion Dexter are coming to tea to-night. The weather is considerably cooler, but yesterday & the day before the heat was very great. I wrote your mother on Sunday night. You should have got it Tuesday a.m. Jessie & Jennie my sister love & say we shall expect a letter by soon. I have no news worth writing about.

My dear Willie:

Your letter came this a.m., but it contained no enclosures except the receipts which I sent you. I wrote in case you may have mistaid the cheque, article, etc. I sent you too for the renewal of the chattel mtge for 1904. You must have it. Ohara has another book, send me the 1904 renewal, if you can find it. I will get the mtge renewed in the beginning of the month send it to you for execution. You can then return it & I will file it here. That is the way it is done.

I will be glad to look over your article for the News & get it published promptly, if he asks. He has an article of mine on the Law School, which has not yet been published.

I wrote you yesterday about the coal money. The sum of $43 50/100, due on last years coal a/c, was paid out of the $100 you sent me. This was omitted in the items sent yesterday. So that the payments stand thus:

Balance of previous coal a/c	$ 43. 50
Carpenter's a/c (Balance)	11. 05
Harcourt on a/c [overcoat]	20. 00
On this years coal a/c	25. 45
	$100. 00

This shows how the $100 was expended. If you can send more than $50. we shall have to manage some how; but I must pay the balance of the coal, whatever else is paid. I can send you money for the typewriter at any time. The want of typewritten matter of various kinds final arrangements here. I will send matter for circular work, as this forms the really important part of the work. Although it is not forward to a week with you, out there, before starting into work. However, if you think of going out of town for a little holliday, as seems to me would be the only wise way to take a rest, I doubtless will have many opportunities at a later date for seeing your summer home.

I shall try & arrange to stay here until the end of Sept., but I have learned, in confidence, that the doctor is going to sell this practice & not return to St. Pitts, so that, doubtless, soon as a sale is made, I shall have to get out. Norman Mackenzie, out of the kindness of his heart, turned down this job to let me have it,

P.S. - Enclosed is draught - straight for funds coming from Sidney. Dad.

St. Pitts, July 4th, 1905.

My dear Will,-

Your long letter, which I have not had a chance before of answering, was very welcome, but I regret most sincerely that my letter to you has caused you any disquietude. I assure you, whatever it was I wrote has conveyed to you ideas that were intirely erroneous, ideas which, if I had been talking to you, you would never have got. My whole idea on the hospital subject was intended as unselfishness on my part; a desire that you should make find that, beneath an apparently hard exterior, there is just as much genuine brotherly love & devotion as there is at present lack of demonstration. Ever since going to Africa I have longed to be with you, but I always feared you did not want me & so I have said nothing, but now, no doubt in answer to my prayer, you have come yourself & asked me to join you & with God's help I shall never let you regret that you have done so.

Although I did not deem it advisable to spend the whole summer in Kingsmere, for reasons which you doubtless now understand, still I was rather looking a choice of your future career, utterly unhampered by any feeling of obligation or duty toward me. My obligation to you is already great enough without allowing you to take my welfare into consideration when deciding on a question of your whole life work. Truly I have exhibited a lack of sentiment & attitude because I have found in my bereavings almost the words that it is the only attitude to assume when doing business. Ever planning & arranging, at present, must have, as has business the world over, its sharp points & rough edges, but, when once this unpleasant business side is over, you will

I should tell you I had to pay a $30.00 call on "Saginaw" & another of the same amount (the last one) comes in September. Shine advised me strongly to hang on, as the chances were that, if the mine makes good, I could clear $7,000.00. Saginaw, I should explain, will give five shares of mining stock for each share of development.

I am delighted to hear Mother is progressing as well, & if I am her only care, she need have no cause for worry. I am well & am going to be better than I ever have been, in every way.

I trust that in future Will, my letters will be more carefully framed & that you will be able to read between the lines the desire to be ever your affectionate brother in every sense of the word. Yours

& he is, at present, without anything himself to do.

In regard to the hospital appointment you speak of, I should be pleased to consider it if it did not retard or hinder me in my ultimate aim, but I feel that the money earned in such a position would not warrant the expenditure of the time necessary to earn it. I am getting too old, too far into life to enter upon any more side tracks & I am feeling what may be an inconsistant impatience to get started at the real thing. This time it will be do, or die in the attempt.

It would give me a great deal of pleasure

more helpful in working up a practice, but I must say I felt, before you wrote, it was going to be a little too much of a luxury to start with. I have no doubt, however, but what it will come in time, just like the horse, carriage, etc.

Of course I should like to see Mrs Cox's house, etc. before making any decision, but what about your idea of a working-man's locality? Do you not think we might both do more good in such a section? One day in Ottawa & I imagine we can do more than two months of letter writing, so for the present we shall have to deal in ideas & assumes & leave decisions for a later date.

however, provided I had your sanction, to tell Norman merely that it was possible a young man might be appointed, as you stated, & let him hand an appointment if he is able to. I know it would suit him down to the ground & he would be a first-rate man, but I shall, of course, say not a word unless you give me your permission. Norman I know would respect any confidence placed in him & go only as far as you might suggest.

Now about the house — I fully understand & appreciate everything you say on that score & think you very wise in your decision. The house-keeping plan would undoubtedly be the pleasantest & doubtless thinks they have had enough, but the decision rests with Wilson, whom I will see at once on his return. I will do the best I can with him. I think the article is a good one, but it is very lengthy, although not too lengthy considering the importance of the subject. Colquhoun thinks the scheme excellent. Wilkins told him to write the article. If I am not mistaken the Globe also had an article on the same subject; but I am not sure.

I don't know what your object is in asking for a table with the different details up to the type writing, but I will find for something that will perhaps do. I want to have two vols., if it is at all possible, and I don't want to be at Cromarty's mercy in my business arrangements. With that object in view I have written my colleague E.B. Armour, K.C. who is now in London, England, giving him full particulars as to the work, and asking him to make inquiries of the English law book publishers whether any of them will undertake 2 vols. I shall also write the American Law Book Co, with whom I have had some correspondence already, & who are sending their Cyclopaedia into Canada everywhere & who know the Canadian market. Of course all this will be confidential; but I don't want to be wholly dependent upon one publisher. I can make a better bargain if I am not.

Dict.E.S.

Dear Max;

I was very greatly pleased with the letter which I received from you on Wednesday. I evidently misunderstood some parts of your previous letter and now feel quite assurred that you will be able to make arrangements which will be satisfactory in every way.

I had a talk with the Copes and think that you will be able to make a satisfactory arrangement with them. Mrs. Cope is unwilling to give up the front parlour for a surgery, but is agreeable to allow it to be used as a waiting room. There is immediately behind it a back parlour which is a room about 17 or 18 by 13 or 14 feet square. It has a large window, is bright and airy and would make, I think, an excellent surgery. During the winter it is sometimes difficult to keep up the heat in the front part of the House, and this is Mrs. Copes chief objection to giving up the front room for other than waiting room purposes. The back parlour has a large book case similiar to the glass writing desk and case which you wanted to secure from the home people. There is also an oak writing desk with drawers and roll top. These with the chairs and the sofa, carpet, etc., she will leave in the room if they are wanted. Excepting therefore the necessary medical equipment, I do not think until practice comes your way you would find any need for purchasing furniture or furnishings,either for waiting room or surgery. There is, as I think I have mentioned in my previous letter, also a large bedroom on the top floor. It is in the front part of the house and is a comfortable and nicely furnished room. This arrangement would give you and me between us practically the whole of the front part of the house. She seemed to feel that a good deal of attendence would be required in answering the door, phone, etc. I explained to her that this for a time would not be excessive and that so far as the phone was concerned she would probably, except when we were absent for our meals or out, have little to do with it. Mr. Foster, the American Consul General, who has my room at the present time, thinks that it would be impossible to find in the city an arrangement quite as satisfactory, and I am inclined to agree strongly with him. It was exactly this arrangement Dr. Minnes made before he got his own house, only, as I remember, there were other persons boarding in the house as well as himself. He made use of the general parlour as a waiting room and had his surgery in the back parlour adjoining. At Mrs. Cope's there would probably not be three persons come to see the members of the family during the course of a week. In fact I do not remember seeing one stranger in the house. The back parlour of which I speak is connected with the front parlour by folding doors which will be exactly the kind of thing which I presume you would want.

I received the receipt which you enclosed for goods from Bisbee, but up to the present time have not had any notification of their arrival. As soon as they come, I will take them in and notify you.

I see no reason why you should not tell Norman of what I wrote to you, though it would be well not to disclose the source of his knowledge. I see they have appointed Dr. Brown medical superintendent. This may be somewhat different than the suggested arrangement, but I know with my talk with Mr. Flavell that the original plan was to do what I suggested. Norman could see that he had learned that this was what had to be done. If you see Dr. Jimmy Ross you might speak to him about it, as it was Dr. Ross and Mr. Flavell who were disdussing the matter at the time I got my information.

I am glad you think you will be able to stay at St. Catharines to the end of September as it will give me a chance to take during that time the holiday which I hope to have. You will have time after you come down to see a little of Kingsmere by going up for a Saturday and Sunday or a longer time, for t the month of October is in reality the pleasantest month at Kingsmere. I will probably not close the house out there for the year until the middle of November.

Mother seems to be doing so emingly well. She caught a slight cold on Sunday which up set her somewhat for the day but yesterday she was quite over the effects of it. There has been a steady improvement in her condition since she came up.

With best love,

Affectionately yours,

P.S. I think you ought to try and get your land from the Ontario Government at once. I am informed that the Grand Trunk Pacific is likely to run north of Lake Abittibi and the other railway run north through New Ontario and will probably cross it at that place so that if you still have any choice of land it might be well to have it surveyed in that way. Speak to father about it and see if you can secure there at once. I believe if you do not act at once you will lose the land altogether.
