The Song of the Comet.

BY ENG. THE FARMERSVILLE BOY. I am an insouciant comet, and any yet, for I'm soaring very high.

On our arrival at the scene we found a large concourse of people gathered, who were excitedly discussing the murder, in all its horrible details, and forming conjectures as to the causes, and evident intentions of the perpetrators.

By Foreman: There were three persons and all had guns. By Coroner: The prisoners had no cause for ill feeling towards her husband that she knew of.

By Foreman: Saw a stone in her daughter's hand, but did not see her throw it. An certain that the man who fired the shot was Daniel Carroll.

By Foreman: While on the road between Carr's and Day's houses heard a whistle which sounded in the direction of Dick Mattie's house.

By Foreman: Did not say which brother was there. Richard H. Carroll said: "Before the rifle was fired my partner fell, and Alfreda Carr drew the rifle out of his hand, when it went off. I went to Mrs. Stevens last night about nine, Mrs. Stevens got up, came to the kitchen door and asked who was there. I answered 'Dick.' She said 'Come in, and me and my partner did so. We went to the dining room. Mr. Stevens asked his wife what we wanted, and then got up and walked half the length of the dining room where his wife handed him something. I walked towards him; he turned his hand up, I put my hand under his and he gave me a parcel. He said: 'Tear down the house; if I could see I would go with you.' Me and my partner went out and found it contained a dollar. Stevens said he could give us no whiskey, as there was no doctor around here."

By Foreman: Did not know there was anything wrong at Day's until the morning after the tragedy. Capt. M. Day testified that the armory of his company was in charge of Rich. H. Carroll. Had examined the guns, and found one had been used recently, but could not say how long since. He produced two rifles, one of which was badly bruised and the other showing it had been recently fired. There was blank and ball cartridge in the armory.

Dr. J. G. Giles gave formal evidence as to the cause of deceased's death. Louise Stevens, wife of Nathan Stevens, gave her evidence with great reluctance. She had been surprised to hear of Carr's death, and of the boys being there. Never promised the Carroll boys anything, in drink or money, to put Mrs. Day out. Learned from Wm. Huffman of what had happened. Herself and husband were in bed at the time.

FEARFUL TRAGEDY.

THE PLUM HOLLOW HORROR.

An Innocent, Unoffending Man Shot Down in Cold Blood by a Party of Young Men.

Full Particulars By our own Reporter.

Early on Thursday morning the startling news spread rapidly over the country that a murder had been committed, in the vicinity of Plum Hollow.

A Reporter representative was quickly on the ground, and found the report only too true. The scene of the murder is at a small log house situated about a mile west of the Lillie school house, on the road leading from Plum Hollow to Delta.

On our arrival at the scene we found a large concourse of people gathered, who were excitedly discussing the murder, in all its horrible details, and forming conjectures as to the causes, and evident intentions of the perpetrators.

By Foreman: There were three persons and all had guns. By Coroner: The prisoners had no cause for ill feeling towards her husband that she knew of.

VERDICT OF WILFUL MURDER. The room being cleared, the Coroner, in a very plain and clear manner, explained the difference between murder and manslaughter. After careful deliberation, the jury returned a verdict to the effect that Albertas L. Carr came to his death at the hands of Daniel Carroll, Richard Henry Carroll, and Herbert A. Carroll, and that they be committed for wilful murder.

Constable Brown at once removed the prisoners to the Farmersville lock-up, which place was reached at about 10:30 p. m. Meanwhile he had not been idle. He had telegrams sent to Westport, where the boys' father resides, and to the Chief of Police, Brockville. Messages were also sent to North Augusta, where the boys have a sister living. About 7 p. m., the same evening, he got a telegram from Brockville, saying that his man had been caught, and A. Niblock at once started to bring him. At 1 p. m. he returned, bringing Daniel Carroll, who had been secured at Morristown. Early Friday morning the three brothers were taken to the county jail.

Great credit is due to Constable Brown for the prompt and effective measures he adopted to bring the guilty parties to justice.

A photograph of the murdered man, as he lay on the long table, four hours after the tragedy, and the scene of the house and surroundings, taken by Switzer, Newboro, are on exhibition at the Reporter's Office.

In conversation with prominent residents of Plum Hollow since the murder, we learned that the three Carroll boys were steady, sober and industrious. Daniel, who is supposed to have fired the fatal shot, worked for Ithamar Knapp during the past season, and gave the best of satisfaction.

Carr, the murdered man, was buried on Friday afternoon, at Sheffield's burying ground, near Soperton.

There is a rumour in circulation that Richard Carroll, father of the deceased, has arrived from his home near Westport, and reports that he has found evidence to prove (by two witnesses who were sequestered near where the shooting occurred) that the gun was in the hands of Carr's wife when it was discharged.

J. C. Judd, barrister, Brockville, was retained for the defence, and was out to the scene of the murder on Monday, investigating the case.

As soon as it was known around town that the Reporter would issue an extra giving full particulars of the shooting, a report of the inquest, the office was besieged by an eager and excited crowd, and an edition of 500 copies was required to supply the demand.

ITEMS OF INTEREST. Engaging the Attention and Satisfying the Curiosity of Everybody—Neither Restrained nor Limited to a Particular Subject.

At the Murray Canal demonstration Sir John appealed to the young men to return him at the next election because he is nearly 72 years of age.

During August and September seventeen marriages were solemnized in Carleton Place, in each of which one or both of the contracting parties were non-residents.

The bodies of F. L. Harris and a young man named Buckley were found hanging to a tree at Quince, Fla. They were men suspected of burning a mill.

Somebody's conscience has been accusing him. An anonymous communication was received by the Customs authorities at Ottawa last week, bearing the postmark of St. Catharines, Ont., which contained $100, stated to be customs dues of over twenty years ago, with interest. The authorities have no idea as to the sender of the communication.

Hilton county population seems to be remarkably well behaved. When the Assize Court sat this week Mr. Justice Cameron was presented with a pair of white gloves, there being no criminal cases for trial. Even the civil suits entered were settled out of court. In the Grand Jury presentment it was stated that the only inmates of the jail were a female lunatic, a person confined for breach of the salt Act, an old man vagrant from Trafalgar and a companion from Oakville. How is this for the Scott Act.

Maggie Bell, of Kingston, committed suicide in Belleville last week. She worked over a year at W. Linklater's, and was stopping there on Thursday, having returned to Belleville from her father's. All Wednesday night Maggie Bell complained of pains in her stomach and vomited a good deal, but was about the house Thursday morning. About noon her condition grew worse, and shortly after 2 p. m., Dr. Eakins was sent for. When he arrived the girl was sinking fast. Pulsation had stopped and in a few minutes she died. On making an examination of the room, Dr. Eakins found a bottle of Paris green in her dress pocket hanging close to the bed, and from the contents of the wash-bowl in which she had vomited, he had no doubt she had poisoned herself. The coroner was summoned, but did not think an inquest was necessary.

LOCAL NEWS.

All the Current Events of Farmersville and Vicinity Correctly Reported.

Building operations continue brisk. Every available mechanic is engaged.

Natural Curiosity. Wm. T. Tennant, of Caintown, picked nearly a quart of beautiful, ripe berries from his strawberry beds yesterday, and sent the Reporter a sample.

Crowded Out. Owing to the space we devote to the Plum Hollow tragedy, we are unable to publish all the local and county news which came to our reportorial table this week, and our notes of the Frankville fair are crowded out altogether.

Dedication. The new Methodist Church at Lombardy will be dedicated next Sunday. The Rev. Dr. Carman and other celebrities will be present at morning and evening services. The inaugural tea-meeting will be held on Friday, the 18th inst., in the Lombardy town hall.

Sidewalk Repairs. Crossings have been put down from in front of the post office to Phil. Wilse's store; another in front of the "Great Bargain House," and a much needed one opposite the Baptist church. A large amount of repairs have been made to the sidewalks in different places.

Business Education. Brockville Business College still excels all others in the thoroughness of the work done in the interests of its graduates and in the patronage of the business community. No examinations on entering. Students receive individual instruction. Rates cheaper than at any other first-class college in Canada. It is the best. Send for their circulars.

Off to the Woods. R. B. Alquire, Division Clerk, having obtained leave of absence for a time, will start tomorrow on a deer-hunting expedition in the backwoods. Howard Kelsey, Justus Smith and Adelbert Woods make up the rest of the party. Game will have to be very scarce if these veteran hunters do not return with big bags. The Division Clerk's business will meanwhile be attended to by L. C. McLean.

School Entertainment. The little brick school house down on the Addison-road was crowded to the doors, and even standing room was at a discount, on Friday evening last. The entertainment was under the management of Mr. Frank Cornell, the popular and efficient teacher of the school, and we feel satisfied, from the way he handled the entertainment and the perfect control he had over the scholars, that he is a teacher possessing particular aptness for his vocation. The programme was a varied and lengthy one, and gave unbounded satisfaction, one particular feature that took immensely with the audience, being the Kindergarten songs by about a dozen of the boys and girls. The pieces "Tinker Man," and "Farmer," were excellent, and the popular songs "Jana" and "Grandma" were much appreciated. We refrain from giving the names of any of the participants, as to individualize would require more space than we care spare. We must not forget to say, however, that the downy hit on Deputy Reeve Halladay making away with the plum pudding brought down the house. The proceeds amounted to over $17.00.

CURRENT PRICES.

With the view of benefiting our patrons, we make a new departure this week by publishing a report of the prices current in Farmersville for farm, dairy and garden products. This report will be made up every Tuesday afternoon, and may be relied upon as accurate.

GRAIN.—The only grain that finds a ready sale here is oats and peas. Peas are wanted at from 50 to 55c.; oats at 30c. Flour is in good demand, and retail at from $2.20 to $2.80 per 100lbs. All the leading brands are in stock at our grocery.

COUNTY NEWS.

Newboro.

There has been a regular epidemic of whiskey lately. No less than five persons are charged with selling it. A pedler named Kennedy, from Perth is wanted. He drives around with bottles in valises, and sells to people who have no better than. He will not show his nose around here long, for parties suspected are a carload.

Westport.

has improved in appearance and this year.

Everything betokens Westport will be a place of considerable importance yet. The Rev. S. D. Chown gave a lecture here on Monday the 4th inst. His subject was the enforcement of the Scott Act and Political Action, theoretics. His address was well appreciated. Short addresses were also given by Rev. David Y. Ross, M.A., Rev. Mr. Emerson and Rev. Mr. Tripp. The doctors got severely censured for violating the spirit of the law. An Electoral Union was formed; it is expected that forty or fifty votes will be sold in this township for a prohibitionist candidate.
