REED & REED, QUEEN ST., FREDERICTON. L. BLACK'S CO'S Spheroidal Spectacles AND EYE GLASSES ARE the best for the preservation of the sight, and took the medal at the Centennial Exhibition.

The lenses are made of the best material, uniform in density, and of high refractive power, their perfect polish and spheroidal shape adapt them to ease and improve the sight of the wearer. The eye being the most delicate organ great care should be exercised in selecting spectacles; it is not enough that the glass be of the right focus, but the lenses must be perfectly centered and in many cases perfect relief is only given by having each eye fitted separately. To effect this the lenses are made interchangeable, and having an Optometer to measure the sight, a perfect fit is guaranteed. Call and examine before purchasing any other kind. IVANHOE. (BY SIR WALTER SCOTT, BART.) CHAPTER XX. [CONTINUED.]

In this humor of passive resistance, and with his garment collected beneath him, Isaac sat in a corner of his dungeon, where his folded hands, his dishevelled hair and beard, his furred cloak and high cap, seen by the wiry and broken light, would have afforded a study for Rembrandt, had that celebrated painter existed at the period. The Jew remained without altering his position for nearly three hours, at the expiry of which steps were heard on the dungeon stairs. The bolts screamed as they were withdrawn—the hinges creaked as the wicket opened, and Reginald Front-de-Boeuf, followed by the two Saracen slaves of the Templar, entered the prison.

Front-de-Boeuf, a tall and strong man, whose life had been spent in public war or in private feuds and broils, and who had hesitated at no means of extending his feudal power, had features corresponding so his character, and which strongly expressed the fiercer and more malignant passions of the mind. The scars with which his visage was seamed would, on features of a different cast, have excited the sympathy and veneration due to the marks of honorable valor; but in the peculiar case of Front-de-Boeuf they only added to the general ferocity of his countenance, and to the dread which his presence inspired. This formidable baron was clad in a leathern doublet, fitted close to his body, with stains from his armor. He had no weapon excepting a poniard at his belt, which served to counterbalance the weight of the bunch of rusty keys at his right side.

The black slaves who attended Front-de-Boeuf were stripped of their gorgeous apparel, and attired in jerkins and trousers of very coarse linen, their sleeves being tucked up above the elbow, like those of butchers when about to exercise their functions in the slaughter house. Each had in his hand a small pannier; and, when they entered the dungeon, they stopped at the door until Front-de-Boeuf himself had carefully locked and relocked it. Having taken this precaution, he advanced slowly up the apartment toward the Jew, upon whom he kept his eye fixed, as if he wished to paralyze him with his glance, as some animals are said to fascinate their prey. It seemed indeed as if the sullen and malignant eye of Front-de-Boeuf possessed some portion of that supposed power over his unfortunate prisoner. The Jew sat with his mouth a-gape, and his eyes fixed on the savage Baron, with such earnestness of terror, that his frame seemed literally to shrink together, and to diminish in size while encountering the fierce Norman's fixed and baleful gaze. The poor, unhappy Isaac was deprived not only of the power to rise and make the necessary obeysance which his terror dictated, but he could not utter a word of supplication; so strongly was he agitated by the conviction that torture and death were impending over him.

On the other hand, the stately form of the Norman appeared to dilate in magnitude, like that of the eagle, which ruffles up its plumage when about to pounce on its defenceless prey. He paused within three steps of the corner in which the unfortunate Jew had now, as it were, coiled himself up into the smallest possible space, and made a sign for one of the slaves to approach. The black scullion came forward accordingly, and producing from his basket a large pair of scales and several weights, he laid them at the foot of Front-de-Boeuf, and again retired to the respectful distance, at which his companion had already taken his station.

The motions of these men were slow and solemn, as if there impended over their souls some pre-conception of horror and of cruelty. Front-de-Boeuf himself opened the scene by thus addressing his ill-fated captive: "Most accursed dog of an accursed race," he said, "awaking with his deep and sullen voice the sullen echoes of its dungeon vault, 'seest thou these scales?'"

"The unhappy Jew returned a feeble affirmative. "In these very scales shalt thou weigh me out," said the relentless Baron, "a thousand silver pounds, after the just measure and weight of the Tower of London."

"Holy Abraham!" returned the Jew, "finding voice through the very extremity of his danger, 'heard man ever such a demand? Who ever heard, even in the minstrel's tale, of such a sum as a thousand pounds of silver? What human sight was ever blessed with the vision of such a mass of treasure? Not within the walls of York, ransack my house and that of all my tribe, wilt thou find the tithes of that huge sum of silver that thou speakest of?'"

"I am reasonable," answered Front-de-Boeuf, "and if silver be scant, I refuse not gold. At the rate of a mark of gold for each six pounds of silver, thou shalt free thy unbelieving carcass from such punishment as thy heart has never even conceived."

"Have mercy on me, noble knight!" exclaimed Isaac: "I am old, and poor, and helpless. It were unworthy to triumph over me—it is a poor deed to crush a worm."

"O'ld thou mayest be," replied the knight; "more shame to thy folly who have suffered thee to grow gray in usury and knavery. Feeble thou mayest be, for when had a Jew either heart or hand. But rich it is well known thou art."

"I swear to you, noble knight," said the Jew, "by all which I believe, and by all which we believe in common—"

"Perjure not thyself," said the Norman, interrupting him, "and let not thine obstinacy seal thy doom, until thou hast seen and well considered the fate that awaits thee. Think not I speak to thee, only to excite thy terror, and practise on the base cowardice thou hast derived from thy tribe. I swear to thee by that which thou dost not believe, by the gospel which our church teaches, and by the keys which are given her to bind and to loose, that my purpose is deep and peremptory. This dungeon is no place for trifling. Prisoners ten thousand times more distinguished than thou have died within these walls, and their fate hath never been known! But for thee is reserved a long and lingering death, to which theirs were luxury."

He again made a signal for the slaves to approach, and spoke to them apart, in their own language; for he also had been in Palestine, where, perhaps, he had learnt his lesson of cruelty. The Saracens produced from their baskets a quantity of charcoal, a pair of bellows, and a flask of oil. While the one struck a light with a flint and steel, the other disposed the charcoal in the large rusty grate which we have already mentioned, and exercised the bellows until the fuel came to a red glow.

"Seest thou, Isaac," said Front-de-Boeuf, "the range of iron bars above that glowing charcoal?—on that warm couch thou shalt die, stripped of thy clothes as if thou wert to rest on a bed of down. One of these slaves shall maintain the fire beneath thee, while the other shall anon thy wretched limbs with oil, lest the roast should burn. Now, choose betwixt such a scorching bed and the payment of a thousand pounds of silver; for, by the hand of my father, thou hast no other option."

"It is impossible," exclaimed the miserable Jew—"it is impossible that your purpose can be real! The good God of nature never made a heart capable of exercising such cruelty!"

"Trust not to that, Isaac," said Front-de-Boeuf, "it were a fatal error. Dost thou think that I, who have seen a town sacked, in which thousands of my Christian countrymen perished by sword, by flood, and by fire, will blench from my purpose for the outcries or screams of one single wretched Jew?—or thinkest thou that these swarthy slaves, who have neither law, country, nor conscience, but their master's will—who use the poison, or the stake, or the poniard, or the cord, at his slightest wink—think est thou that they will have mercy, who do not even understand the language in which it is asked? Be wise, old man; discharge thyself of a portion of thy superfluous wealth: repay to the hands of a Christian a part of what thou hast acquired by the usury thou hast practised on those of his religion. Thy cunning may soon swell out once more thy shrivelled purse, but neither leech nor medicine can restore thy scorching hide and flesh wert thou once stretched on these bars. Tell down thy ransom, I say, and rejoice that at such rate thou canst redeem thee from a dungeon, the secrets of which few have returned to tell. I waste no more words with thee—choose between thy cross and thy flesh and blood, and as thou choosest, so shall it be."

 FREDERICTON MAY 15 1880.

WANTED a dozen or so of schoolboys to sell the STAR, after school hours. Apply at the STAR office.

The readers of this journal, are hereby informed, that Fredericton is the Capital of New Brunswick, and that York Point, and Marsh Bridge, and Reed's Castle, and MacEvoy's, and the old Bell Tower, and Partridge Island, all remain just as they were!

WHAT CAN BE DONE FOR OUR INDIANS.

It is only necessary to glance through the pages of the report just published by Sir John Macdonald to see that the present Government are not neglecting the poor Indian, once the inheritor of the land that we now so glory in as Canadians. Beyond this again, we have further assurances of the good management of the Indians in the peaceable attitude of all the tribes located within British territory, while the perpetual squabbles between the Indians and the Government across the line, is a disgrace to the Agencies, if not to the American Government. Sitting Bull whose name is a terror far and wide through American inland homes, became a quiet and interesting savage when heading his warriors in Canadian territory—became so bland that several of the enterprising correspondents interviewed him, and found that he "read Milton, admired Byron and Shakespeare, and high worshipped Napoleon."

What we desire to say however is, that we think the Government has not done all it might do to improve the habits of the Indian, and to put him at such employment as would better accord with his erratic and peculiar habits. We have often thought that while good reports of how the Indians are doing reach the departments every year, that in a large measure the race is degenerating into thriftlessness and vagabondism. We have before us now a paper written on this subject by a gentleman who has interested himself much in the welfare of the Indians, and has for many years observed the "gradual falling off" which he says must eventually lead to their utter demoralization. He does not approve of the principle of giving money as a donation—and the Government the past year has granted our Indians between $4,000 and $5,000—so long as for the same money, or a little more, the Indians could be induced to take up employment more congenial with their tastes. As we have used some of his ideas, we only take the following portion of his remarks, and we respectfully submit these to the consideration of Sir John Macdonald, who is the head of the Interior Department and who seems zealous in promoting the well being of the dispossessed savage.

It has occurred to me that the proper course by which to aid these people is to find out what business or trade would best suit their nomadic natures and lead them slowly into it by furnishing them with such aid as they might require in the prosecution of the same. Indians in general are but poor farmers; they are entirely ignorant of the business, and indeed it appears to be unsuited to their erratic natures.

They are not accustomed to wait so long for a return for their work, as from the Spring to the Autumn, and their circumstances are usually such as to necessitate immediate compensation for the products of their toil.

The most ready way in which their industry and skill can be utilized is in the manufacture of the various articles made from wood, such (for the most part) as bread-trays, wooden spoons, butter prints, handles for axes, picks and other tools; to these might be added the manufacture of pipes from the same kind of stone their fathers used and which is found in many different parts of the Province—at Springhill near Fredericton, on the Miramichi, and on the Island of Grand Manan, and indeed through various parts of Ontario and the North-West. Some of the Indians are expert and tasty in carving both in stone and wood, and can imitate with great facility the works of others.

For the squaws there is beadwork, smoking caps and ornament necklaces, designs for both of which could be furnished them,—baskets, of which they make so many varieties, many of them extremely curious and graceful. There are also the clip hats ornamented with feathers and flowers, made from wood: these have been very much admired by strangers, and in some instances have been carried by visitors as presents to their friends in Europe. There are also the small canoes which we see in the shop windows. These are but a few of the articles on the manufacture of which these people might bestow their labor with profit. Enquiry at home as well as abroad would develop other objects and implements which they could learn in a little while to manufacture.

The plan therefore which presents itself is: That some suitable person be appointed to ascertain what articles the Indians can make, and where the same can be marketed at home or abroad, and at what price. That on such fact being ascertained, an order be given to the Indians for a specified quantity of such articles as he may deem to be most ready of sale, the same to be paid for on delivery during the winter or early spring (when the Indians and their families may be most in need.) This by some reliable and intelligent man residing in their vicinity, in whom they have confidence. The trader to keep a strict account of articles received and money paid, and to repay his advances (which should be limited to a certain sum) by the Dominion Government every three months or at such period as may be agreed upon. That when such person receiving the Indian goods should deem it advisable to sell that he might sell the same to the best advantage possible and pay the proceeds into the Dominion Treasury. A year or two would establish the fact as to whether this could be made to pay—the loss if any would be small and the Dominion Government would not be so much out of pocket as it is at present. Industry would be encouraged and idleness punished.

These are but crude and ill digested ideas, yet by following a course of action somewhat similar, I entertain not the least doubt, but, that the moral and material interests of the Indians in New Brunswick as well as in Nova Scotia, Ontario, Quebec and the North West could be greatly aided and advanced.

We think these ideas are well worthy the attention of the Head of the Department, and we submit them, with that belief.

JUDGE PALMER!

THAT unfortunate ship-scuttling case which has now lasted 44 days is drawing to a close. We do not suppose Judge Palmer is likely to take his place upon the Bench and help to give judgment in this particular case. We notice Mr. Palmer left the charging of the jury to Chief Justice Allen also. We wonder at this, because on all great moral questions like this and the Canada Temperance Act—and cases of Forgery, and Perjury—the Bench, according to J. McLeod, Esq., of the Intelligencer and other moralists of his pattern, had been sadly in need of a moral and enlightened Judge till Justice Palmer mounted his sacred steps. It will be remembered that the great argument in favor of the moral and legal-ity of the Canada Temperance Act was that an enlightened and moral Judge like Mr. Justice A. L. Palmer, cast his great opinion—even without hearing the arguments on both sides—even long after the time of "judgment" had passed away—in favor of that Act.

MR PICKARD, M. P., and all the Grits of the Province are opposed to that $150,000 for Eastern Extension, and says the Province has no right to ask for it. We can assure Mr Pickard, however, that Sir John Macdonald and Sir Leonard Tilley and Hon Hector L. Langevin and Mr John Costigan and several others are very strongly in favor of the New Brunswick view of it. That claim will be paid no matter how much the patriotic Mr John Pickard and other enemies to our Province may protest against it.

CABINET changes are rumored at Ottawa. It is said Hon. Mr. O'Connor will get a puisne judgeship. In this case it is the strong contention of many of the press that Mr. Costigan should take his place. The vacancy occurring, the place would belong to Mr. Costigan, and there is no one more likely to get it—as there is no other more worthy man.

MR ATTORNEY GENERAL FRASER has likely got through with the Glazier-Tibbitts Claim before this, and may be expected to be homeward bound in a day or two.

THE Provincial Secretary went home to-day, but will return within eight or ten days. Meanwhile Hon P. A. Landry guards the interests of the country.

WOODSTOCK BRIDGE.

THE Woodstock railway bridge is in a precarious condition. An immense pile of flogs is heaped across the draw from pier to pier, and the pile continues to accumulate. This offers a resistance to the high water, and the bridge is every moment in danger of going. The piers are twisted around, and crossing has ceased, while the town folk through the bank in hundreds, expecting every moment to see it go.

We may say it would serve the Woodstock people about right that this bridge should go, since they were either too careless or too penurious to tax their city to pay men for keeping the logs from piling up at the draw. This might have been done with pile poles; or better still, shears might have been so constructed as to send the logs safely through. The following is the latest despatch upon the subject:

Woodstock, Saturday 15th, 4 p m
 They have taken up the rails, but the bridge is in the same place. They were going to cut part of it away so as to save the rest, but as the water is now falling they have abandoned that idea.

STREET WALKING.

THERE is some kink of a Reading or Instruction Room badly needed for the troops of young people of both sexes, and every station of life that go gadding up and down the streets every evening,—some of the males carrying canes, others smoking pipes. It is a pretty sure sign that those who spend their energies on carrying canes, and smoking pipes, are little good for anything else. They live through the world, where they are little cared for; they die to be forgotten the moment the sod closes over their worthless remains.

MIND we don't object to carrying canes, because the distinguished Editor has often carried one, but what we do object to is to be always carrying them while the advancement of the mind, the leading topics of the day—the intellectual and social and moral improvement of the man, demands some of his time.

QUEBEC FINANCES.

 "We find a proof that our credit is good when the Province is governed by sound and progressive men, established by the fact that Messrs Cohen and Gombert, France, through the intervention of the able member for Yamaska, M. Wurtle, have loaned the Government of Quebec $4,000,000 at 5 per cent interest, with the privilege of taking two millions more in the course of a year on the same conditions."
 "The Provincial debentures accepted by the two lenders have been taken by them at 98 per cent, no commission having been charged the Government. As may be noticed, the loan has been contracted in a very advantageous manner for the Province. It is for thirty years, but the Government will have the right to create a sinking fund of one per cent, which at 5 per cent, compound interest will suffice to extinguish the debt in thirty-seven years."

THERE ought to be a Moral Branch of the Supreme Court established now; and Judge Palmer ought to be put at the head of it!

LACHINE CANAL

NOTICE TO MACHINIST-CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned (Secretary of Railways and Canals) and endorsed "Tenders for Lachine Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western Mails on THURSDAY, the 3rd day of JUNE next, for the construction of gates and the necessary machinery connected with them, for the new locks on the Lachine Canal.

Plans, Specifications and General Conditions can be seen at this office and at the office of the undersigned, in case of firms desiring to tender, and to have a practical knowledge of works of this class, and are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless made strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and in case of firms except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same; and further, an accepted bank cheque for a sum equal to $250, for the gates of each lock, must accompany each tender, which sum shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract, the party on whose tender it is proposed to accept will be notified that their tender is accepted subject to a deposit of 10 per cent of the bulk sum of the contract—of which the sum sent in with the tender will be considered a part—to be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General within eight days after the date of the notice.

Ninety per cent only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the work.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By Order,
 F. BRAUN,
 Secretary.

WHO IS MRS WINSLOW?

As this question is frequently asked, we will simply say that she is a lady who for upwards of thirty years has unflinchingly devoted her time and talents as a female physician and nurse, especially among children. She has very carefully studied the constitution and wants of this numerous class, and, as a result of this effort, and practical knowledge, obtained in a lifetime spent as nurse and physician, she has compounded a Soothing Syrup, for children teething. It operates like magic, gives rest and health, and is, moreover, sure to regulate the bowels. In consequence of this article, Mrs Winslow is becoming world-renowned as a benefactor of her race; children certainly do rise up and bless her; especially is this the case in this city. Vast quantities of the Soothing Syrup are daily sold and used here. We think Mrs Winslow has immortalized her name by this invaluable article, and we sincerely believe that thousands of children have been saved from an early grave by its timely use, and that millions yet unborn will share its benefits, and write in calling her blessed. No mother has a higher duty than to her suffering little one, in our opinion, until she has given it the benefit of Mrs Winslow's Soothing Syrup. Try it, mothers—try it now.—Ladies' Visitor, New York City. Sold by all druggists. 25 cents a bottle.

Brown's Household Panacea.

Is the most effective Pain Destroyer in the world. Will most surely quicken the blood, whether taken internally or applied externally, and thereby more certainly RELIEVE RHEUMATISM, whether chronic or acute, than any other pain alleviator, and it is warranted double the strength of any similar preparation. It cures pain in the Side, Back or Bowels, Sore Throat, Rheumatism, Toothache, and ALL ACHES.

THE GREAT RELIEVER OF PAIN.

"Brown's Household Panacea" should be in every family. A teaspoonful of the Panacea in a tumbler of hot water (sweetened, if preferred), taken at bedtime, will BREAK UP A COLD. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

MUCH SICKNESS.

Undoubtedly with children, attributed to other causes, is occasioned by Brown's Vermifuge Compound, or Worm Lozenges, although effectual in destroying worms, can do no possible injury to the most delicate child. This valuable combination has been successfully used by physicians, and is most absolutely sure in eradicating worms, so hurtful to children. Twenty-five cents a box.

DELICATE WOMEN, Palefaced, Sickly Children, the Aged and Infirm, alike are benefited by the Strengthening and Blood Making Power of Dr. Hamilton's Quinine Wine and Tonic. It stimulates the circulation, improves the Appetite; and removes all impurities from the Blood. It is the best medicine you can take to give you lasting Strength.

THE HORRIBLE, UNSIGHTLY, BLOTCH, AND PIMPLES, and the SALLOW, COLORLESS COMPLEXION can be QUICKLY and EFFECTUALLY replaced, by a CLEAR HEALTHY SKIN. The remedy is CERTAIN and EASILY PROCURED, and is simply "Hamilton's Quinine Wine and Tonic," taken according to directions. Try one bottle and be convinced. Price, 50 cents per bottle; 6 for $2.50. Billiard Hall.

By reference to our advertising columns it will be seen that Messrs Howard & Crangle intend business. They have placed in their rooms a first-class billiard table and also a pool table, and any person wishing to spend a few hours pleasantly might give them a call.

Insecticide of Study.

It cannot be a great incentive to aesthetic and poetical pursuits for the student teacher who is posted on the fence surrounding the Normal School as he enters every morning, such touching literary contributions from the city auctioneer as these:—

"Their will be sold to-morrow, 4 goldenrons, 2 second hand stoves, damaged furniture—sell low for cash."

Also a quantity of empty four barrels, etc. Nevertheless these incentives do exist on the said fence.

STAR BRIEFS.

The melodious hurdy-gurdies have arrived. —Owing to the sudden rise of the water, logs are coming down in great quantities. —There are some dangerous holes in the sidewalk on Queen street, especially that one at the corner of York Street. —Road Master Grieves is to be congratulated on the improvement he has made at the corner of King and Regent Streets,—it will be a special treat to the Watermen. —The City Treasurer has issued his notices calling on the ratepayers for their taxes. —As will be seen by our Advertising columns our Gibson Correspondent made a mistake in last issue: he meant W. R., instead of P. A. Logan.

Horse Notes.

Those in Fredericton interested in breeding trotting horses will be glad to learn that Mr. Daniel McEvoy of St. John is about having his trotting Stallion "Flying Dutchman" here for the present season. Mr. McEvoy intends standing his horse in Fredericton and vicinity and will have him fully advertised in a few days, and so those owning "milked" horses will be sure to see Mr. J. Morris's cross with "Dutchman" would no doubt prove very successful, as it is well known that there is trot in all the Morris stock and "Dutchman" is capable of good performance himself and impresses his characteristics on his progeny.

By reference to our pedigree it will be seen that "Dutchman" traces to some of the best trotting blood in existence and it is also plain that he is himself a trotter. —"Flying Dutchman" seal brown stallion, seal black points and white strip in the face, foaled 1871, height 16 hands, weight 975 lbs. —"Flying Dutchman" was by "Black Dutchman" he by "Double-Old Black Bashaw" he by "Young Bashaw" by "Imported Grand Bashaw" (Arabian). His dam was the thorough-bred mare "Phoebe". —"Black Dutchman's" dam was by "Dutchman" he by "Abdullah" he by "Mambino" by "Massenger". —"Flying Dutchman" has a record of 2.41 made in Amherst, N. S., half mile track in the Fall of 1871. In September 1871, he trotted in Fredericton against a number of fast horses and got their money. Although not then getting any record, "Dutchman" when timed him say he trotted from wire to wire in 2.32 and 2.34. —In the Fall of 1870, Mr. McEvoy took him to Boston where he showed a trial in 2.33 and repeated it in 2.30, being driven by C. W. Bell.

A "Star" Representative Up River.

The Shaw Brothers' New Establishment, &c.

A travelling STAR representative called yesterday upon Mr W. C. Watson who some time ago purchased the Pumpelle property. Mr Watson is a native of Spencer, Massachusetts, where he had been a dealer in manufactured lumber. Last summer he purchased the Pumpelle property at Shogomoc, which had cost Pumpelle $40,000. The representative asked Mr Watson: "What are your expectations here?"

"I believe that this property I have a fortune in my hands. The past winter I put in 1,000,000 feet of logs into the mill pond, hauling them rather than submit to the risks attending the 'drive.' Next winter I propose putting in at least 4,000,000 feet. I never need anticipate trouble here for sawing, because the water power is the best in the Province. Above the property the Shogomoc forms a chain of lakes, the water in which, in dry seasons, we can hold in reserve by damming, letting it down as we require it."

"I am making improvements here every day, and propose putting in a new gang saw and two shingle machines. I employed here the past winter 16 horses and 60 men; next winter I shall employ more than double that number."

"Will you do much here in the hemlock bark line?"

"Yes. We commence peeling next week, and propose getting 200 cords. The logs from which we get this bark we will haul to mill next year."

"After the bark season is ended what then?"

"The hemlock season ends here about August. After that we go raising pines. This pine which consists of numbers of fallen trees, grows on the granite region, and is the very best in the Province. This lumber takes a fine finish and will dispose of it chiefly for doors, sashes, &c."

"Where do you expect to find a market for your hemlock?"

"I have been down to Fredericton and have engaged schooners to take my manufactured lumber to Spencer. I have a large contract with Isaac Prout & Co. of that town, also a large contract with Chas. Herrington & Co. of the same place, all for hemlock plank. I may say that my firm represents over a million dollars cash. I expect to do a market for hemlock boards for finishing in Boston, the wood is of such a superior quality."

"It is somewhat inconvenient for you to do such a large business?"

"Well, I can manage that. Besides there is a railway projected from Harvey station to the Antimony mines, thence to Shaw Brothers, further north on the river bank. I may say, the road once built to it, I would finish it myself to my own property."

SHOGOMOC.

The Shogomoc at this season our representative is just emerging from its winter's sleep. There are about a dozen houses there, and the largest Mr. Watson is painting and papering for the reception of his family who will come on in a few months. Mr. Watson says that the scenery about the lakes is charming, and he intends putting on a number of sail boats; that a large number of his friends will visit him this summer for fishing and sailing.

The representative then bade Mr. Watson good bye and that gentleman cordially invited him up when the trees are leaved out, and the trout takes the bait.

SHAW BROTHERS.

Our Representative visited the site of the Shaw Bros. Establishment, situated a mile below Pokioik in Dumfrries. There are several hundred cords of bark piled along the river's bank, and men were on the spot busy preparing for putting up the buildings. Material is arriving on the ground every day. The point of the old farm is now called Shaw's Landing.

LIME STONE DISCOVERIES.

Lime stone in large quantities has been discovered at Pindar's Mill; and Mr. H. Stairs has built a kiln, and supplies the lime for all building purposes round about.

Christian Peterson's return from Old Denmark.

THE EMIGRANTS HE BRINGS AND THOSE TO FOLLOW.

On the 9th of last February, Mr. Christian Peterson, of New Denmark, left this Province for Denmark, his trip being partially in the interests of emigration to the Colony in Victoria County, N. B., and also a visit among his friends.

Mr. Peterson passed through Fredericton yesterday on his return to New Denmark. He brought with him two young men and a family consisting of a man and wife, and two children. These left for the settlement with Mr. Peterson.

But this has not been the full result of his mission. He says during the summer about two hundred immigrants will arrive here, and that several of them are on the way by this time. The class of immigrants whom he intends to advertise their houses and properties for sale, are farmers, millmen, and mechanics; and all live in Copenhagen. Several could not get the money or they would have come on with Mr. Peterson; and very many had their properties advertised for sale.

The emigrants came by steamer from Copenhagen out the Categat, the Skager-Back, thence by the North Sea to Hull, where they take another line of steamers to Liverpool, taking to various points in the New World. All those for the Lower Provinces disembark at Halifax, and those for the Upper at Quebec.

The emigrants took up yesterday by Mr. Peterson will be lodged in the Emigrant House which they are provided with here. There are two Emigrant Houses in the Settlement, and it would seem they are destined to be well occupied through the summer.

Ranaway.

On Thursday last Mr. R. A. Eady left his horses standing at the Victoria mill; but while his back was turned they took flight, ran away, and made a complete smash-up on the wagon.

Erratum.

In reporting the remarks of Dr. Rand at the opening of the Normal School, we inadvertently made a mistake that there were 7,300 third-class teachers in the Province. For 7,300 read "upwards of 300."

Indian Legends of the Saint John River.

A "STAR" REPORTER INTERVIEWS GABE, WHO HAS A FUND OF INDIAN LEGENDS ON HAND.

A VERY INTERESTING STORY.

Our Reporter has just returned from the Indian camps on the banks of the river just opposite the city. He had a lengthy talk with Gabriel, the distinguished Sachem of the remnant Milicite, and has much of interest to relate in this and future issues.

Gabriel's memory is excellent and he seems to live in the long ago, delighting to tell the exploits of his tribe when their wild war-whoop was dreaded wherever heard. The Indians are naturally taciturn, yet the stories of olden times arouse their curiosity and set them gabbling.

Gabe has many books and is a careful preserver of traditions; but, different from the rest, he delights to tell his legends to the "white faces," while the rest prefer to talk and tell them in their own weird melancholy language. The story we are now relating, is well accounted for in history, but Gabe says, "Books lie, and he tells truth," that this legend is "truer than any book story." The reporter does not give Gabriel's own name, although it is not a new name, but he has had others, as acquired a very fluent and correct use of English.

THE MOHAWKS ON THE WARPATH.

"Long before the White Men took our Country from us," said Gabe, "our worst enemies were the Mohawks. War parties of these Indians used to portage from the St. Lawrence to the head of the St. John, which they descended in the early morning, and then called on the villages in the night, when there was no moon—burnt our camps, and tomahawked our women and children."

Many, many moons ago one of our forefathers was out on a settlement, and he paddled up the river till he came to the mouth of the Amehbec, [this you white faces call Muniac]. He was going to spear some fish, and was paddling along, when he thought he could see in the early morning a canoe coming from the river's bank near where the stream empties into the main river. Pushing his canoe ashore he carried it into the woods where he hid it behind a fallen pine and then went through the forest till he came nearly opposite the mouth of the Muniac. On arriving there he saw through a thick clump of wild cherry trees behind which he lay concealed, a party of 500 or 600 Mohawks, they were then making their breakfast of the bodies of several dogs whose grinning skulls were lying on the shore, their white teeth glistening in the morning sun. He had seen enough so starting back hastily he changed the better they are and in this connection the trial of a man without allowing him to examine his prosecutors is a most reasonable in the eyes of God. It is a mode of holy inquisition that, according to pious Scotch Presbyterians, we had been ever practicing on the Indians. Gabe said that when he saw the Mohawks, he was so much terrified that he fled to the shore, and he was to uphold the purity of the church.

"It must be a great comfort to Mr. Mitchell to know that his brethren are about his reputation, how they have left no locker unturned, no story how of the dogs which they were carrying to place him steadily in moral equilibrium; and how he must rejoice that after all this tempest in a teapot they pattingly pat him on the head and shake him by the hand, telling him they were entirely mistaken, that he is a jolly good fellow, and his only fault is in not being more of a Christian. He wears his heart upon his sleeve for days to peek at."

Miraculous Escape from Drowning.

Four miles from the mouth of the Clearwater a large tributary of the Southwest Miramichi is a fall called Burnt Falls, where the river pitches six feet at one leap and about twenty feet in the distance of twenty feet. The water is very turbulent, and below this the river is not more than twenty feet wide.

On Tuesday last Mr. Henry Turnbull's boat, which carried three falls, and his two baggage skiffs with two men each, loaded with cooking utensils, food, tents and baggage, were dropped down by the men to the head of the pitch, where they intended to take them out of the water and carry them around the falls. Owing to the current the boat was being much more powerful than the boatmen thought it was, both skiffs were in a moment sucked over the falls, and the men thrown into the flood, which was boiling white with foam. The boats were washed to pieces in a moment, provisions and baggage borne away, but strange to say the men were carried over the falls and through the gorge in safety.

Some of the five-diggers who were standing on the bar below and who had witnessed the mishap, waded out into the brook and caught hold of their comrades as the current bore them by and dragged them to the shore. One of these (Andrew McAllister) who had been under the water longer than any of the others, when his hair, ears and eyes being filled with sand. After a while he was brought to and now but he was worse of his adventure. The loss in the way of tents and baggage is very considerable.

"A meeting of the 'Silsby' Engine Co. is called for Monday evening."

"The 'Alexandra' Company on Thursday evening met and elected officers: J. B. Hawes, Captain; William Lowry, 2d do.; M. Lowry, Foreman of Hoop, and Wm. Sutherland, Secretary."

"We have been millions of 'diddle heads' eaten by Fredericton the past few days."

FOR Sale on reasonable terms several FARMS and LOTS of LAND in and near Fredericton. Also, a Valuable Farm near Fredericton Junction, Sanbury County, comprising a large quantity of Intervale land, apply to RAINSFORD & BLACK, Carleton St., Fredericton, Fredericton, Sept. 18, 1879.—

THE MIRAMICHI DRIVES.

LATEST NEWS FROM THE RIVER.

Owing to the high water, the river driving on the S.W. Miramichi, we have been some pains to ascertain from reliable sources the state of affairs as regards this matter.

The drive on Beedel Brook, a large branch of the North Branch of the S.W. Miramichi, 20 miles from Grand Falls, is now in breaking up and some fears are entertained that the event may not be so successful as the Messrs Fairly, may not come out.

Mokiel Brook, on which Mr. T. Lynch operated, has not been heard from.

The logs are all out of Burnt Hill Brook, Clearwater Stream, Rocky Brook, the Sisters and Le Sueur. The Selmon Brook Drive is not quite out but is considered safe.

The Taxis drive which is large will be out by the 15th of S. W. by Monday night at the furthest.

Little Dunganover drive owned by Justus Fairly, Esq., is in the boom, and the Big Dunganover drive is below the Lower Falls and sure to come out.

The logs are all out of the commencement of river driving the logs were thrown out of the streams and left on the banks which will necessitate a good deal of seeking them out; but on the whole the river driving on the South West Miramichi will be done at a cheaper rate this year than is usually the case.

Fred Moore's drive 5,000,000 on Aroostook, Presque Isle is "hung up" without hope.

The Aroostook logs are nearly all out, and have been running past Fredericton the last two days.

REV. MR MITCHELL BEFORE THE PRESBYTERIAN INQUIRERS.

We are quite ignorant of Presbyterian Church government, and therefore do not know how that august body tries its defecting members. No doubt the more churches are reformed and changed the better they are and in this connection the trial of a man without allowing him to examine his prosecutors is a most reasonable in the eyes of God. It is a mode of holy inquisition that, according to pious Scotch Presbyterians, we had been ever practicing on the Indians. Gabe said that when he saw the Mohawks, he was so much terrified that he fled to the shore, and he was to uphold the purity of the church.

"It must be a great comfort to Mr. Mitchell to know that his brethren are about his reputation, how they have left no locker unturned, no story how of the dogs which they were carrying to place him steadily in moral equilibrium; and how he must rejoice that after all this tempest in a teapot they pattingly pat him on the head and shake him by the hand, telling him they were entirely mistaken, that he is a jolly good fellow, and his only fault is in not being more of a Christian. He wears his heart upon his sleeve for days to peek at."

WELLAND CANAL.

NOTICE TO MACHINIST CONTRACTORS.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned (Secretary of Railways and Canals) and endorsed "Tender for Lock, Gages, Welland Canal," will be received at this office until the arrival of the Eastern and Western Mails on THURSDAY, the 5th day of JUNE next, for the construction of Gages, and the necessary machinery connected with them, for the new locks on the Welland Canal.

Plans, Specifications and General Conditions can be seen at this office on and after THURSDAY, the 20th day of MAY, next, where forms of tender can also be obtained.

Parties tendering are expected to provide the special tools necessary for, and to have a practical knowledge of works of this class, and are requested to bear in mind that tenders will not be considered unless strictly in accordance with the printed forms, and—in case of firms—except there are attached the actual signatures, the nature of the occupation and residence of each member of the same; and, further, an accepted bank cheque for a sum equal to $250, for the gates of each lock, must accompany each tender, which sum shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines entering into contract for the work at the rates and on the terms stated in the offer submitted.

The cheque thus sent in will be returned to the respective parties whose tenders are not accepted.

For the due fulfilment of the contract the party or parties whose tender it is proposed to accept will be notified that their tender is accepted subject to a deposit of five per cent. of the bulk sum of the contract—of which the sum sent in with the tender will be considered a part—to be deposited to the credit of the Receiver General within eight days after the date of the notice.

Ninety per cent. only of the progress estimates will be paid until the completion of the work.

This Department does not, however, bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By Order, F. BRAUN, Secretary. Dept. of Rys. and Canals, Ottawa, March 29, 1880. Fredericton, 6th April, 1880.—law June 3.

CONSUMPTION
 IS A FACT ATTESTED BY THE HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITIES IN THE WORLD.

A careful observance of the laws of health, and the systematic and persistent use of Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda will accomplish this result. This preparation has all the virtues of the most valuable specific, in a form perfectly palatable, and acceptable to the most delicate stomach, and we make the unqualified statement that Scott's Emulsion is being used with the most successful and endorsed and prescribed by more physicians for Consumption—and the diseases leading to it, such as Chronic Coughs, Bronchitis, Scrophula, Anemia, General Debility and the Wasting Disorders of Children, than any other remedy known to medical science. The rapidity with which patients improve on this food medicine diet, is truly marvellous.

See What Physicians and the People Say About It.
 GENTS.—I have frequently prescribed Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, during the past year, and regard it as a valuable preparation in scrophulous and consumptive cases, palatable and efficacious.

MESSRS. SCOTT & BOWNE:—Gentlemen.—Within the last year I have used in my own family, and in my private practice prescribed very extensively Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites and send it a most valuable preparation, especially in diseases of children. It is agreeable to the most delicate stomach, which renders it a very reliable agent in a nutritive remedy in consumptive and scrophulous cases.
 Oct. 12, 1879. Yours respectfully, A. H. SEXTON, M. D., Baltimore.

MESSRS. SCOTT & BOWNE:—Gentlemen.—Within the last two months I have fairly tried Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, and I candidly declare that it is the finest preparation of the kind that has ever been brought to my notice in affections of the lungs and other wasting diseases, can consider it our most reliable agent, in a perfectly agreeable and elegant form.
 December 10th, 1878. Yours truly, J. SIMONAUD, M. D., New Orleans, La.

MESSRS. SCOTT & BOWNE:—Gentlemen.—In September, 1879, my health began to fail, and my physician pronounced it spinal trouble; under his care I got some relief from pain, but my general health did not improve, and early in the winter I began to raise blood and rapidly grew worse. In May last I was taken with a violent bleeding which brought me to bed and my life was despaired of for many weeks; violent symptoms appeared, night and morning coughs, night sweats and short breath, and a return of the spinal trouble. My physician stopped the bleeding and then ordered Cod Liver Oil and Lime; and I used various preparations, but they did me no good. I lost all hope of life and was an object of pity to all my friends. Last September I purchased a bottle of your Emulsion and before it was all taken I was better. I afterwards bought a dozen bottles, with the following results: Coughs stopped, night sweats stopped, appetite returned, pain in spine disappeared, strength returning, and my weight increased from 118 to 140 pounds in sixteen weeks. I have taken no other medicine since commencing with your Emulsion and shall continue its use until I am perfectly well. I frequently meet some friend on the street who asks, "What cured you?" and I answer, "Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, etc. I have a friend who has not spoken aloud for 15 months, and he is getting better. I gave him a bottle and he bought two more, then got a dose, and says it is good and medicine for him. He was given up to die a year ago; but he is improving now wonderfully. My recovery is exciting the surprise of many people, and shall do all I can to make known your valuable medicine.
 January 20th, 1879. Very truly yours, H. F. SLOCUM, Lowell, Mass.

MESSRS. SCOTT & BOWNE:—Gentlemen.—I have used your Emulsion and at that time I was so prostrated that no one who saw me thought I could live longer than a few weeks at most. I could retain nothing on my stomach and was literally starving. I commenced the use of the Emulsion in small doses; it was the first thing that would stay on my stomach; I continued its use, gradually increasing the dose; and from that hour I commenced feeding, and now am able to gain flesh and strength rapidly. I have advised other parties to try it, and some two or three have already tried it. I am sure I shall entirely recover.
 I am gratefully yours, R. W. HAMILTON, M. D.
