TORONTO, FRIDAY, JUNE 6, 1879.

AGRICULTURAL DEPRESSION IN ENGLAND.

MR. JAMES HOWARD, of Bedfordshire, the well-known agriculturist, has a very interesting letter in the Times on the present prostrate condition of agriculture in England.

Mr. Howard speaks with the weight which attaches to a thorough acquaintance not only with farming in most parts of the United Kingdom, but with that of the continents of Europe and America.

He notes that the spirit of improvement in English agriculture seems ago in wholly departed, and that farming is much depressed, and proceeds to the enquiry whether there is any remedy within reach which will enable the present or future generation of English cultivators to pursue their calling at a profit, and withstand the foreign competition which has set in.

Mr. Howard reminds us of the sometimes overlooked fact that in other businesses are there such facilities for gaining information on any and every subject as in agriculture. There are no trade secrets. One farmer knows no more than another farmer as a rival.

Mr. Howard describes two opposite systems of farm management, which, in his experience, he has known to be successful: "One of these is a penurious, routine, spend-nothing system, under which there is little risk, little enterprise, and all enterprises, and the smallest of the returns balanced only by the smallest of the outlay."

It is plain, however, that the tenant may do his own part well, and yet be disadvantaged by the improvidence of his landlord. The farmer has long had freedom in cultivation allowed by his landlord.

WHAT SIR JOHN MACDONALD CAN SAY.

WHAT SIR JOHN MACDONALD will say when he goes to England, and the Pacific railway or any other public question of Canada, is more than we know.

First, here is a great national work which has been adopted by three Parliaments and three Governments. It is suggested by all travellers and tourists and explorers for many years. It is approved of and declared feasible by the best engineers in Canada, without exception.

Secondly, the first Government of Sir JOHN MACDONALD offered to build this line in 1873-3 by means of private companies for a sum of $60,000,000 of land, in alternate blocks (the Government retaining alternate blocks also) and $30,000,000.

Thirdly, the Reform Government then took up the scheme. They did not regulate the plan, but they carried it out. They adopted it with enthusiasm, and passed laws giving them power to build it as a Government work, in the belief that it was to be profitable a speculation, and that the people, not private companies, should reap the profits.

Fourthly, Sir JOHN MACDONALD can say that he has again taken up the scheme which he originally proposed, and he was prevented from carrying out. He can say that in the rapid development of the Western lands he finds an encouragement to carry out the scheme.

MR. BRIGHT AND PROTECTION. MR. BRIGHT has taken to letter-writing. He could not have written worse habit. Public men have invariably received a great deal of trouble from their letters.

MR. BRIGHT'S latest declaration is to the effect that "England will never go back to protection." Now, when a public man founds, and fixed, and it has already been done, and it is already done, and it is already done.

THE AFGHAN WAR.

THE AFGHAN war appears to have closed in triumph for English arms. The strife has been very keen, and the bloodshed, though not great, lamentable; yet it is the misfortune of these wars that they do not add much to the national record of glory.

In 1878 a supplemental charter was granted to the University of London, giving it power to confer degrees on women. Recently the first special examination was held under the charter, when eleven ladies presented themselves, and only two were placed.

Once more the steers accommodation of the ocean steamships is crowded with passengers seeking homes in the new world. It is six years since the tide of emigration flowed so strongly as it has done this spring.

By the exposure of two revolting cases of cruelty which have happened within its walls, the Philadelphia House of Refuge has gained an undesired notoriety. One boy, Henry Acker, twelve years of age, was driven insane, and committed suicide owing to the ill-treatment to which he was subjected.

A very interesting lawsuit is likely to arise out of the Stratford explosion. The Grand Trunk Company have notified the Hamilton Powder Company, who shipped the "vigors," that they will be held responsible for the damage done.

Germany and Egypt. A despatch from Berlin says there is much speculation caused by the statement that the German Government has demanded of the Khedive an immediate reply to its demand against the Khedive's recent decree.

FAVOURITE DISHES OF ROYALTY. George III, was fond of boiled mutton and turnips, and apple dumplings. His chief favourite was a cup composed of a quart of lemonade to one glass of wine.

CITY RECORD.

Sixteen good serviceable horses were shipped to England on Monday by Messrs. Beatty and Henderson of this city.

There are over 300 regularly qualified Justices of the Peace in the county of York, and 10 for the city of Toronto. One of the results of the national policy is the Toronto Iron Bridge Company, who are executing extensive works on King street west.

The Ontario delegates of the Y.M.C.A. at the Baltimore convention, urged Mr. D. L. Moody, the Evangelist, to visit Canada this year, but he said that since he had been to Toronto, and to afford them the opportunity, he would not return to Canada.

The house of Mr. Samuel Topp, on Carlton street, was struck by lightning on Monday. The fluid entered at the east end of the house, going out at the west end, and it extinguished all the lights in the place, tore up the carpets, destroyed the window frames, and demolished a portion of the wall.

PATRONS OF HUSBANDRY. - The Patrons of Husbandry of the county of York, Peel and Simcoe, a band of progressive agriculturists, met on Tuesday last for their annual picnic, but not being fitted for the prophetic instinct, they turned out to be. However, they made the best of it, and well provided with umbrellas and blankets, they kept the outdoor man dry, as well as edibles of all kinds to keep the inner man refreshed.

Further Evidence in regard to the Merits of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. CHIEF CLERK, Warren Co., N.Y. March 25, 1879. DEAR SIRS, - I am happy to be able to write to you. I was troubled with Asthma for four years before using your Electric Oil; and for many nights after retiring, I had to sit up in bed, my sufferings being intense, while the cough was so severe that the bedclothes would fly off, and I was saturated with perspiration.

THE NATIONAL POLICE.

The Finance Minister's Speech in Ontario. The Amphitheatre was crowded on Monday evening to hear speech of Sir John Macdonald and Sir Samuel Tupper.
