THE FAIR IMPOSTOR.

CHAPTER I. BEFORE THE BEGINNING.

THE cousin shook his head and made a comprehensive gesture. 'My dear Talbot! Who knows? She has disappeared into the Twilight.'

He was absent from his native land for years; then, quite suddenly, he returned. Home sickness, let us say, had attacked him. And so our story, our proper story, opens.

CHAPTER II. IN THE PICTURE GALLERY.

ONE night, in the early part of an English July, the lights streamed from every window of Woodleigh Hall, as they had not shone forth for many a long year.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

A KINDNESS may be doubled by the manner of its doing. A bit of valuable information was sent me the other day, and the sender doubled his gratitude to him when he added: "Now, don't bother to acknowledge this. I know how very busy you are, and I know you are grateful, and that's enough."

Isn't there a good suggestion in that?

Oftentimes to a very busy person, the necessity of acknowledging a favor, however grateful he may be, is somewhat of a burden. Why not, along with the kindness to do a favor, also have the kindness to insist that your beneficiary shall not trouble himself to acknowledge it?

Although it is not absolutely necessary to acknowledge favors sent for a funeral, many people try to do it, and a more soul and brain racking exercise than the effort to write fifty or a hundred such notes, saying something individual and gracious in each, I do not know.

What could be kinder than to write on your card, along with a message of sympathy: "Please, Mr. or Mrs. So-and-So, do not think of troubling to acknowledge these."

Is a grace before meals asked at your table?

How I would like to know just how many—or, rather, I suppose how few—among my readers will say a mental "Yes" to that.

And also just how many out of the same number of readers would have answered "Yes," if the same question had been asked twenty-five years ago. Probably five or six times as many. It seems to me as if the good old custom of saying grace before meals had been relegated almost entirely to ministers' families, and I am heartily sorry.

I think it was good for men and women to pause three times a day and realize that there is a higher power in this universe than the power of man, and be thankful for life and the means of sustaining it.

I think it gave dignity to the meal, and made it less a mere matter of stoking, and more like a ceremony, as a family gathering about the table should be.

I think it made the family more united when all bowed while one of them spoke to God for them all.

Why don't you bring back the old grace, fathers and mothers? It was a fine old custom—too fine to be lost, in the rush and dust of this automobile age.

If you do not remember any set grace, say a few simple words of your own.

Or if you lack the courage to do this here is a simple little grace that will probably come easier than a more formally religious utterance:

"Some ha' meat and cannot eat,
And some would eat that want it;
But we ha' meat and we can eat,
So let the Lord be thankit."

—Burns.

ACUTE DYSPESIA

Restoration of Stomach Power Comes Quickly with the Right Medicine.

"My food seemed to decompose in my stomach," writes Mr. Ralph Clements of Newbridge, P. O. "I had a stomach that failed in some way to perform its work. Digestion seemed more or less arrested and I grew thin, yellow, nervous. The stomach became distended and impeded apparently the action of the heart, for often at night it would do great stunts. At times I would vomit a mucous mass, and at these times my head ached most terribly. A friend, who had been cured of a similar condition advised me to take Dr. Hamilton's Pills regularly, which I did. The result in my case was simply marvellous. Dr. Hamilton's Pills removed the cause, strengthened the stomach, excited the liver to normal action, the kidneys were released of excessive work. Health soon glewed within me. I can now eat, sleep and live like a man."

Be advised—Use Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

A Grievance.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—Would you kindly afford me a small space to state a grievance of mine which I would just now like to make public over my own name. Over twelve years ago I settled and subsequently married at Blackhead, Freshwater Bay. I worked hard and with a small property around me, amongst which was a platform or slip at the seashore for landing purposes. John Murphy, of Blackhead, as been annoying me of late and encroaching on my property, using my platform and other things pretty well as he likes. No one has any authority to use my slip without permission, as I always get $10 for its hire by ten who desire to land material brought to the Head. I remonstrated with Murphy on the manner of his cutting with me which involved me in lawsuit with Wm. Fitzgerald which cost me $14.

Messrs. Bennett and Kennedy were out to Blackhead and promised me a and rail for my slip. John Murphy of the capstan and took sufficient ear and lumber to rig out two capstans. The second capstan and lumber he has in his store yet, lying there or the past two years. The lumber applied for was of no use to me. He also wanted to get $5 from the Government for hire of his boat with two men working at it. Possession may be nine points of the law but the gear is honestly mine on account of being the only one having enterprise enough to build a platform. It is very hard when a person cannot be peaceful in his own locality, and this now will involve another lawsuit to obtain my rightful goods.

Yours truly,
CHARLES CHRISTOPHER,
June 7th, 1910.

Vendetta Murders Rife in Italy.

LAYOR WAS SHOT DEAD AT A MASKED BALL.

London, May 30.—Vendetta murders in certain parts of Italy still occur with frequency, and the details of one crime of this nature are about to be revealed at Cagliari, the capital of Sardinia.

A few years ago Angelo Mosca, layor of Bitti, and from all accounts a man of great integrity, was shot dead from ambush at a fancy ball by a masked dancer. The murder caused great indignation in Sardinia, and after fifty-three sittings of the assize Court, Francesco Cavada was found guilty of it and sentenced to penal servitude for life. Three accomplices received sentences of from twenty to thirty years' imprisonment.

The Court of Cassation in Rome has just quashed these verdicts and ordered the case to be retried at Cagliari, with the object of proving to the bottom the motives underlying the crime. The revelations promise to eclipse those of the Tarnowka trial in Venice.

More than four hundred witnesses have been summoned. The affair is exceedingly complicated and will expose the extraordinary ramifications of the vendetta. The chief witness, the brother of the victim, a youth of barely 17, already has been threatened with death several times.

During these last ten years the small town of Bitti alone has been the scene of fifty vendetta murders, while 1,000 head of cattle and 8,000 sheep belonging to the various persons connected with the vendetta have been killed and an enormous amount of wilful damage has been done to crops and plantations.

Despair and Despondency

No one but a woman can tell the story of the suffering, the despair, and the despondency endured by women who carry a jolly burden of ill-health and pain because of disorders and derangements of the delicate and important organs that are distinctly feminine. The tortures so bravely endured completely upset the nerves if long continued.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a positive cure for weakness and disease of the feminine organism.

IT MAKES WEAK WOMEN STRONG, SICK WOMEN WELL.

It allays inflammation, heals ulceration and soothes pain. It tones and builds up the nerves. It fits for widowhood and motherhood. Honest medicine dealers sell it, and have nothing to urge upon you as "just as good." It is non-secret, non-alcoholic and has a record of forty years of cures. Ask Your Neighbors. They probably know of some of its many cures.

If you want a book that tells all about women's diseases, and how to cure them at home, send 31 one-cent stamps to Dr. Pierce to pay cost of mailing only, and he will send you a free copy of his great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser—revised, up-to-date edition, in paper covers. In handsome cloth-binding, 50 stamps. Address: Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

HOUSEHOLD NOTES.

The most convenient and cheapest of all disinfectants to use in the cellar is quicklime. It may be placed in dishes, in bins or cupboards, or scattered loose in dark, damp corners.

Save one or two turkey wings. They are the best brushes in the world to use around a stove, and splendid for sweeping closet shelves. Weight the wing tip with iron until it dries.

Novel sandwiches for afternoon tea are made by mixing cream cheese and shredded salmon steak. The mixture is spread on salt wafers, hot toast or thin buttered slices of rye bread.

Salmon, well minced and mixed with yolk of egg and sufficient lemon, pepper and salt to season well, makes a delicious filling for sandwiches. It is equally good with white or brown bread.

When kid gloves show signs of breaking, press the edges close together and apply court plaster on the wrong side. If this is properly done it will have a much better appearance than stitching.

When the skin burns and is harsh to the touch, it does not need water. It should be cleansed with cold cream, and wiped with a soft cloth, then sponged with a mild solution of benzine and alcohol.

To remove an ink stain from a colored waist, put the stained part into sweet milk and let it remain until the milk sours. Hang the waist up and let it dry. Then brush off the dried milk and rinse with cold water.

When books become badly soiled, if not gilt-edged, close the book tightly then erase the marks with an ink eraser. This will cut off the rough edges, all soiled marks and leave the books very clean.

A box of skinned sardines, broken and mixed with a can of shrimps and served on a bed of shredded yeast leaves of lettuce, with French dressing to which has been added a tablespoonful of onion juice, makes a delicious salad.

To eradicate red ants from the kitchen cabinet, scald it thoroughly move the cabinet an inch from the wall, and wrap the legs with yarn saturated with turpentine. Fresh turpentine should be poured on the yarn two or three times a week.

If a white mayonnaise is wanted select white shelled eggs which have pale yellow yolks than the dark ones, and use lemon juice instead of vinegar for acidifying it. Whip cream folded in at the last moment improves mayonnaise for most purposes.

A floor covering of good linoleum should hold its own for at least five years. It needs no soap, ammonia or any strong cleansing agent. A simple wiping with a cloth, just moist with warm water, is all that is needed.

CHINA CUPS and Saucers, Plates, Dishes, etc., Glass Preserver Dishes, Tumblers, Wine Glasses, Decanters, Vases, etc. We are always fully stocked with the above lines. At LARACY'S, 345 and 347 Water Street, opposite Post Office.—Jan. 31st.

Death Rates.
We draw the attention of our readers to the vigorous letter of "Reform," which appears in this issue. He draws attention to the death-rate of the city and the responsibility of the Municipal Council for the sanitation of the city. It is a strange thing, but it is a fact, that there is not one city in England, of a population of 60,000 and upwards, which has as high a death rate as St. John's. We have before us a list of the death rates of the 70 largest towns in England, as published in Whittaker's Almanac, 1910. There is not one with a death rate of 20 per 1,000. London with a population of 4,795,757 has a death rate of 13.8. Manchester with its unhealthy carding and weaving mills has a death rate of 18.2. Leeds, in the midst of the West Riding wool factories, has a death rate of 15.8. Halifax with its busy fustian factories has a death rate of 14.1. Sheffield with its deadly knife grinding has a death rate of 15.3. How comes it then, that St. John's, with all its natural advantages, and no death-dealing trades in its midst, has a death rate in excess of every one of the seventy largest towns in England? What can be done under favorable conditions is seen by reference to Horney, which with a population of 92,713 has a death rate of 8.3 per thousand. It may be taken as a fact that 200 persons are put to death annually in St. John's by dirt, foul air, bad food and contagion and infection from diseased persons and things. If one person was done to death by the hand of an assassin there would be a trial and execution. Why do we take the slaughter of 200 by preventable diseases so calmly?

His Watch Stolen.
When Mr. Frank White ran to aid his sister, Florrie in getting the man out of the water, near the trestle bridge Saturday evening, he left his watch on the bank before he went into the water. On emerging he found that some person had appropriated it. The watch, a gold one, is worth about $50 and the police will be after the party who has it if it is not returned. Quite a number collected on the bank before the man was fished out and some one of these must have committed the theft.

POLICE COURT NEWS.
The docket before Judge Knight today was a large one.
Four drunks were discharged, and 5 others who had "been there before" were each fined $1 or 3 days each.
Two others were fined $2 or 7 days.
A resident of Petty Harbor, apparently insane, was ordered to be examined by the district doctor.
The lad who assaulted a little girl named Rodgers Thursday night last was fined $10 or 30 days.
Two parties were up for selling hop beer which, on being analysed, was found to contain over the legal 2 per cent. of alcohol. His Honor imposed the minimum fine of $50 each or one month, and remarked that in his estimation this beverage could not be brewed to contain less than two per cent. of alcohol. He therefore advised those selling it to desist so that they may not be prosecuted.

The Collier Case.
Mary Benoit and Catherine Benoit, two witnesses in the Collier murder case, came in from Port au Port by the express train to-day in charge of Constable Quinlan. Collier, who is now at the Penitentiary on a murder charge, will also be tried for criminal assault, and the witnesses who came in to-day will give evidence.

Inland Fishery.

Schooner Ashore.
The schr. Stilleto, from Trinity Bay, went ashore in the Narrows just inside Pancake about 1.30 p.m. to-day. The mishap was caused by the steering gear giving out and a sudden heavy squall taking her at the same time. The skipper and crew landed at Fort Amherst and 'phoned to Bennett's for a tug. It is probable that she will be got off all right.

Broke His Leg.
Mr. Tasker Cook yesterday had the following message from Capt. Jacobson of the s.s. Ellen from East Wabana: "My carpenter got hurt by falling into No. 4 hold. Sending him to Hospital by the s.s. Mary due at St. John's to-morrow" (to-day). Industries Exhibition.
The Manufacturers Association will meet next Friday night to arrange preliminaries for the Fall exhibition. In spite of the fact that the Government have hired the Prince's Rink for a whole month from the 10th of October to the 10th of November, thereby preventing the Manufacturers from getting the use of it, still they will go ahead and have their exhibition independent of the Government. They will do the whole work at their own expense and be completely independent of the Government's good word or their bad one.

Marine Notes.

Girl's Heroic Act.
Saturday evening about 7.30 a Petty Harbor man who was on his way home and who was stupefied from liquor, left his horse on the South Side Road and attempted to go to the north side by crossing on the trestle bridge. Reeling from side to side the man walked over the structure, when suddenly, after he had reached the centre, he lurched heavily and went over the bridge into the water. The man, who could not help himself, must have smothered but for the prompt action of Miss Florence White, daughter of Mr. William White. Seeing the accident while speaking to her brother Frank, she dashed over the embankment and out into the water to her armpits. The man was then under water and floating down the stream, but Miss White caught and held him until her brother Frank and Mr. E. Ellis of the Gas Works, both of whom witnessed the accident, came to her aid and dragged the hapless individual ashore and laid him on the bank. He was almost smothered from his immersion and chilled with the cold. Const. O'Neill, who was on his beat opposite the Gas Works, also saw the man fall and crossed the trestle bridge in a hurry with Const. Bennett. A cab was quickly procured and the victim of the accident driven to the station, where he was stripped of his apparel and rolled in blankets while his clothing was dried by the stove. Both Miss

White, her brother and Mr. Ellis had their clothing badly damaged from the muddy water. Had not Miss White acted so quickly the man in the condition which he was would have been drowned. His horse was placed in Mr. W. Parmiter's stable for the night. This is another illustration of the danger of people crossing the trestle bridge to come and go from the South Side. It is used too frequently by both men and women and there is always the danger of being caught on it by trains coming into the city. People who cross this bridge should be prosecuted.

Two seamen of the schr. Mildred who were adrift on Saturday were picked up by the police during the evening and put on board their ship. ### The Church Parades Yesterday.

C. C. C.
Yesterday forenoon the C. C. C. paraded to last Mass at St. Patrick's Church, which was celebrated by Rev. Fr. O'Flaherty. The full battalion mustered out in command of Lieut. Col. Greene and Capt. Kent, and the lads presented a smart appearance. After Mass, headed by their band discoursing lively music, the Corps proceeded up Water Street and down the South Side, crossing the Long Bridge, thence by way of New Gower Street proceeding to their armoury.

M. G. B.
One of the best church parades of the Methodist Guards we have seen for some time took place yesterday forenoon when they proceeded to Divine service at Gower St. Church. The battalion was commanded by Major Hutchings and headed by their fine band the lads in their natty uniform had a fine military like go about them. The service was conducted by Rev. W. T. D. Dunn, who preached a very eloquent and appropriate sermon. Many citizens viewed the Corps on the march to and from the church and their smart appearance was favourably commented upon.

Historical Society.

John Guy Celebration.
The sub-committee of this Society appointed to arrange for the proposed memorial to be erected at Cupids in honor of John Guy, the founder of our great Overseas Empire, had another meeting on Thursday last and settled many details. Amongst such matters they selected one of designs submitted, and accepted the tender of the Colonial Granite Co., of New Glasgow, N.S., to execute and erect the memorial. This will be 13 feet 6 inches high and will be of native stone—the beautiful red granite found in the company's quarry at Old Bay, in Fortune Bay. One side will bear the bronze tablet given by the city of Bristol, whilst the opposite side will be inscribed with an inscription from the Historical Society. Parts of the memorial will be polished and the company has instructed the firm of Mr. C. Muir, of Water Street, to erect it when ready. The collecting committee hope to finish their work in town shortly.

Cricket Match.

The B. F. C. Cricket Team defeated St. Bon's at the inter-collegiate match on Saturday by an innings and seven runs, thereby carrying off the championship for 1910. Under the fine bowling of Tait and Edwards the St. Bon's boys were sent out for 10 runs in the first innings. The B. F. C. went to bat and notched up 37. Anderson who secured 13, and Winter 8, saved the situation.

In the second innings the St. Bon's team did not improve their position very much, and were all dismissed for 19, Edwards and Tait having mowed down the wickets in a very effective manner. The batting on the whole on both sides was very poor, and only one man secured double figures during the match.

McMurdo's Store News

MONDAY, June 13, 1910.
Why not make some Ginger Beer this summer? This wholesome, old-fashioned drink has somewhat fallen out of use, for no assignable reason, for it is one of the cheapest, most easily made, most satisfying and delicious drinks in its class. With our Ginger Beer Essence there is no necessity of boiling the ginger root—the Essence contains every bit of its strength and flavor, and the making of the Beer becomes simplicity itself. One twenty-five cent bottle will make over three gallons of a splendid quality of Ginger Beer. Have a bottle when next you are down town. Price 25c.—adv.

A Disgraceful Scene.

Saturday evening two men who were very much under the influence of liquor, had a disagreement on the head of Lime Street and fought several fierce rounds. One, in falling, had his head badly cut, and the other's face was filled with cuts and bruises. A crowd gathered and eventually men interfered and parted the contestants who were pretty well used up when the fight was stopped.

S.S. Susu Arrived.

Hilliard and J. W. Mitchell. The Susu will leave for the north again at 4 p.m. tomorrow.

"Men and Women."

The Chicago Stock Company on Saturday afternoon and evening were seen in the new Western play, "The Lost Trail." It was a good wholesome story and the cast was large and well represented. Mr. Dorente as Bud Larabee, a broncho buster in the employ of the U. S. government, was manly and proved a most acceptable hero without any of the usual heroics. Miss Mabel Spencer, who appeared in the opposing leading role, lent capable support while Mr. Florer and Clara Bell Prae, with the assistance of Richard Carhart and Miss Florer, furnished the comedy, which was plentiful and presented in a natural manner bringing forth much laughter. The play was well staged and as a whole was an excellent production. For good measure and to keep up with the times and popular movement, vaudeville novelties were introduced between the acts including about ten minutes of real comedy, with singing and dancing by Mr. Florer and an interesting act in magic by Delivette, who has several novelties which are really new and entertaining.

This evening the company will present David Belasco's celebrated drama of American social and financial life, "Men and Women." Competent critics have pronounced this play one of the most powerful ever constructed and Manager Rosskam regards it as a strong vehicle for the display of the talents of his entire company. There are many exciting scenes, among which is the sensational "third degree" episode in the director's room of the bank which is about to suspend. A delicious element of comedy permeates the production, and a performance calculated to please all classes of theatre-goers is guaranteed.

Specialists for St. Anthony Hospital.

Dear Mr. Editor.—From the end of July to September the surgical staff at St. Anthony Hospital will be augmented by a well known specialist from New York in diseases of the eye and ear. Those suffering from these diseases and intending to seek help at the hospital this summer are advised to try and time their arrival during that time.

We have also arranged for a dental specialist to help this summer, as a very large proportion of the digestive troubles and much avoided suffering are due to need of attention to teeth. The staff of each of the mission hospitals are expecting a visit from him. Neglect of teeth among our people is a cause of far more serious trouble than most of them are aware of.

The information afforded by the anti-tubercular Society along these lines can't be too seriously taken to heart. A report from Dr. E. L. Trudeau of the famous Sargnac Sanatorium, founded on an exhaustive series of experiments, shows that consumption can easily be conveyed by drinking from the unclean cup of a person who has that disease. Plenty of soap and hot water afforded, however, quite sufficient safeguard. But all utensils and clothing used by consumptives should be thoroughly washed with hot water and soap, and then exposed to the air and sunshine.
WILFRED T. GRENFELL, M.D.
S.S. Strathcona, June 8th, 1910.

A Dangerous Practice.

The weather signal at the North Battery should be given immediate attention if a fatality is to be averted there. The signal halliards are loose on the mast, and boys who go there daily catch them and swing themselves out over space. There is a cliff of 300 feet, and should the halliards break or the hands of one of those dare devil youngsters slip, a horrible accident will occur. Some means should be taken to keep boys from frequenting this dangerous place.

Bennett's Band and the Labor Parade.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir.—It is rumored that Professor Bennett's band will not take part in the forthcoming Labor Parade. He intends to charge $40 for the band's services. The different Unions have voted $40 for music, so that cannot be the reason why the Professor is not going to allow his band to play in the parade. We would all like to hear Bennett's music on Labor Day. Our parade without Bennett's band would be like the play of Hamlet with the character of Hamlet omitted. Come, Professor! your band is and was ever popular. Give us an explanation why you have decided thus. I am, dear sir,
Yours truly,
A UNION MAN.

Stop That Knocking at the Door.

Yes I agree most heartily With "Sufferer" indeed. And many a weary wife has said "Tis just the boon we need." When Councillors drop in this week 'Bout other things to fuss, "We'll ask them kindly, "Sufferer," To do this thing for us.

Men will come with trout and turnips, Splits and salmon, to the door; Women—eggs, whorts, yarn and hobbane, Mitts and sundries in galore, And your nerves are wrecked by jangling Of the knocker and the bell, Or their knuckles on the panels, Till you wish them — wish them well!

Yes, the postman makes a racket—"Willie" hits his level best— But we love to see the postman. He's an ever welcome guest; But to be kept in a worry Answering never ceasing knocks When your in a beastly hurry, Baking pies or washing frocks.

Its exasperating truly, And the sooner it shall cease The sooner shall begin with me The reign of perfect peace; For I'm worn from off my legs, sir, And I'm nearly broken down From perpetual door banging When Aunt Polly comes to town.

Now, I do not blame Aunt Polly, The matrons or the men Who bring us cream and strawberries Potatoes, new, but then There could be some improvement On the way in which 'tis done, So's not to keep us women kind Forever on the run.

Let them cry their wares in rythm, It shall add another charm To the glory of the morning, And the products of the farm; Then the fruits from marsh and thicket, When they reach the city street Shall not make us housewives wicked Or complain of tired feet.

At Cochrane St. Church

The Rev. J. K. Curtis, B.A., occupied the pulpit at Cochrane St. Methodist Church yesterday morning. His sermon on "The heavens declare the glory of God" was indeed a master piece. The pastor, Rev. F. R. Matthews, B.A., conducted the exercises of the evening service. The Rev. Mr. Bell, of the Minnesota Conference preached acceptably from the words "Our Father who art in Heaven." The offering at both services was in aid of the Deaconess work of the church.

to appropriate the enthusiastic greetings showered upon her. Even Queen Alexandra's daughters display this delicate sentiment.

The late King was much attached to his daughter-in-law. He admired her commonsense, the result of a perfect balance of head and heart. Her quiet manner and equable spirits also pleased His Majesty; and his affection for her children still further endeared to her a monarch who was so much beloved by all his children.

British Interests.

With the exception of Princess Charles of Denmark, there is no member of the royal family so patriotic as Queen Mary. She has always taken the deepest and most practical interest in the welfare of British industries and manufacturers—a course that was very near her mother's heart. All her gowns are, as far as possible, made of British materials, by her express desire. Sir Thomas Wardle once told her, on one occasion, her "pouchoir was piled high with English silks and a few rolls of foreign; Sir Thomas, as president of the British Silk Association, showing her how to distinguish between pure English silk and foreign stiffened with tin.

It has been said that if one knows what dresses a woman wears, one may know what she is. There is truth in this. The Queen's dresses are characterised by the perfect neatness that is apparent in all she does; but there is no sacrifice of the beautiful to this quality. The materials are always appropriate to the occasion. Her carriage is admirable; erect without stiffness, with a poise of the head that is dignified without being haughty.

Badly Hurt In Thresher

Blood poison set in—Great suffering—Cure effected by DR. A.W. CHASE'S OINTMENT.
Mrs. C. Hopkins, St. George, Ont., writes:—"I feel like shouting the praises of Dr. Chase's Ointment. While threshing grain, my son got badly hurt. One of the men who was pitching sheaves, missed the sheaf and ran the prongs of the fork into my son's leg. He did not take much notice of it and in a day or two it got sore and very itchy and blood poison set in. We did everything for it but it would heal one place and break out at another and kept on this way for three months. "Finally I thought of Dr. Chase's Ointment and in a week's time we noticed a wonderful change. By the use of three boxes he was completely cured and the wounds healed up. There has not been a sign of a spot on him since." "Wherever there is itching or irritation of the skin or a sore that refuses to heal you can apply Dr. Chase's Ointment with every assurance that the results will be prompt and satisfactory. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Ed. Mason, Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy Dr. Chase's Recipes.

Why Are Cramps Like Burglars?

They come unexpectedly. Indigestion, bad water, errors of diet—these excite very unpleasant consequences. When the trouble comes you want relief and want it quickly. No remedy on earth in attacks of this sort, acts with the rapidity that Nerviline at ways affords. You will say, as thousands have said, when you test it—it is a wonder. Yet, when you consider the strength of Nerviline, its remarkable power over pain, its control of spasm and cramp, an show prompt effective, and permanently it cures, no praise can be too great. Not a pair or ache in any part of the body you cannot relieve by Nerviline—colds tightness of the chest, neuralgia, and sciatic pains all yield quickly to Nerviline. A thousand dollars could not buy you greater assurance of safety or more positive immunity from pain than you can get from a 50-cent bottle of Nerviline. It will cure the pains and aches of the whole family and keep the doctor bill small—try Nerviline.

M. G. B. Racer.

Mr. Bob Sexton began work to-day on the new race boat for the Methodist Guards. She will be a splendid and almost a fac simile of the R. N. Co's. Red Lion. She will be 50 feet long, made of the best material, and Mr. Sexton will have her in the water about the latter part of July. With the advent of fine weather most of the crews for this season's Regatta will be shaping themselves for our derby day, and next week will see pretty nearly all the practice boats on the lake or harbor being used by the oarsmen.

At the R. C. Cathedral.

Rev. Fr. Kelly occupied the pulpit at the R. C. Cathedral at Vespers last night and preached a sermon from St. Matthew—"The eye hath not seen, the ear hath not heard, nor hath it entered into the heart of man to conceive the happiness which God has in store for those who love Him."

TEN ARRESTED.—Saturday evening ten were arrested for drunkenness and taken to the lockup. Three were released yesterday morning on paying a deposit.

The King's Consort.

HER MAJESTY QUEEN MARY.

(Written for London 'Leader' by One Who Knows Her.)

Her Majesty Queen Mary is already a popular personality, and, because of it she starts her new life as Queen under the happiest auspices. Her large heart is as full of generous, kindly feeling as her mother's was—the mother whose memory has always been a potent force in the daughter's life. No trouble is too great for Queen Mary to take in order to relieve suffering or show practical sympathy with those who need it.

Her happy girlhood, when she was an additional element of brightness in the home irradiated by the sunny temperament of Princess Mary Adelaide, Duchess of Teck, and by the genial bonhomie of the late Duke, might have been regarded as a poor preparation for her present position; but the Duchess was a woman of sympathies too keen to allow her daughter to grow up without some glimpses of the sad side of life. From childhood to womanhood the Queen was always associated with those expeditions of charity and loving kindness in which her mother softened the ache of compassion in her own heart while she relieved the suffering that had excited it.

As an instance of the practical thoroughness with which the Queen always carries out her deeds of kindness, take her care on the occasion of the luncheon given to poor school-children by herself and the then Prince of Wales in celebration of the late King Edward's coronation. Her comprehension of what children enjoy was shown when, instead of walking over from York House, the Prince and herself, with two of their children, drove over and appeared in the garden in a magnificent carriage. She knew how its splendor and that of the gorgeously-liveried servants would enhance the occasion by appealing directly to the imagination of the children.

To see Queen Mary, with a large white apron, tied over her dress, sitting for hours, day after day, sorting and arranging, folding and ticketing the thousands of garments sent in to her as president of the London Needlework Guild, was to realize to perfection one side of her character; her conscientious industry and her dainty methodical neatness. Like the daughters of Queen Victoria, our new Queen was brought up in all thoughtful house-wifely ways.

Queenly Courtesies.

The Queen won golden opinions from all sorts of people on her tour round the world. If, as has been said, consideration for others sums up the whole law of good manners, then Queen Mary possesses them in a very high degree. Her thoughtful kindness made itself apparent in a hundred ways during the tour. It was then possible for her to take the initiative in such minor matters as frequently affect the comfort of many. It was noticed, too, that the stiffness and apparent ungeniality of her bows and smiles had completely disappeared, giving place to a bright look and much cordiality of manner.

To anyone who thinks the reason for her restraint at home is apparent enough. The Queen has generally been seen in public with Queen Alexandra. Even in the procession through London after the tour this was the arrangement; and so great is the popularity of Queen Alexandra that anyone sharing her carriage experiences a disinclination to appear

Agricultural Matters.

Editor Evening Telegram:
Dear Editor,—I wish to make a few remarks anent the improvement of cattle portion of the Government's agricultural, &c., scheme at present in operation—and not in an uncharitable or petty party spirit, but simply as a utilitarian necessity.

It is in regard to the bulls distributed in the various localities, and as follows: These animals should not be allowed to run at large in the various settlements, but should be kept or whoever applies for them in an enclosed space sufficiently large to afford grazing and the exercise necessary for keeping up its condition, and to minimize the risk of injury to men, women and children, who may otherwise meet with injury from one of those animals, and also to prevent damage and consequent quarrels and possible litigation over broken fences and damaged crops.

This rule should be proclaimed as a hard and fast one, applicable in every case and penalized for infraction—not left to be decided by some selfish, unscrupulous individual, who himself being served is regardless of the welfare of his fellowmen. It also ensures a better service, enables statistical information to be collected, and thus prove the value and benefit of this portion of the policy adopted—which ought to prove of inestimable benefit in the improvement of stocks. Strict rules should be enforced as to the feeding of said bulls to ensure their being kept in A1 condition for the purposes of which they are designed, and the results will soon be noted. A bull roaming at large can easily be injured, bogged or crippled, and this in addition to the loss of a valuable animal, the cows of the whole settlement be left in a poor state. These are not imaginary dangers but very real, and attention of the Agricultural Society should at once be directed to the matter of prevention.

Yours very truly,
SELBY.

P.S.—More than one applicant for a bull was under the impression that he might employ its leisure moments as a draught animal, etc.

DON'T TUG and STRAIN

When adjusting your tie; it is not necessary, because there are better collars made than those that bind. Hundreds of collars are made wrongly, and that is why you tug and strain, but the are fitted with a scientific slip-easy band flanged to allow any style of string tie to be adjusted instantly without tugging, tearing or straining.

Men who know the advantages of the slip-easy band are giving up wearing the ordinary makes of collars. Yes, there is economy in wearing them, because one collar will keep clean and wholesome for a week or more. CHALLENGE COLLARS are just like linen, but better. The keenest expert can scarcely tell the difference. A child can clean one with soap, cloth and water, and give to it the original rich, dull, linen appearance. Our new shape are winners.
