BRITISH CAPTURE IMPORTANT POINT ON ROAD TO ROULERS Allies Beat Off Turks in a Fierce Hand-to-Hand Conflict MANY CANADIANS HONORED BY THE KING: SIR JOHN C. EATON SIR HY. L. DRAYTON SIR JOHN S. HENDRIE

BRITISH TAKE CHATEAU HOOGE NEAR ZONNEBEKE, IN BELGIUM IN BRILLIANT BAYONET DASH

Important Point Seized on Road to Roulers, Four Miles North of Ypres, and Germans Thrown Out in Rush of British Infantry.

Special Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, June 2.—In the capture of Chateau Hooge, near Zonnebeke, announced from Paris tonight, the British troops won an important success on the Ypres-Roulers Railway, about three or four miles northwest of Ypres and about five miles from Roulers Junction, which controls an important network of railway lines between the Ostend and eastern Belgium. The capture was effected in a bayonet attack. The new vigor in offensive displayed by Sir John French north of the point where the Germans made such vigorous attempts to pierce the British lines is taken to prove that the German offensive in this part of Belgium has exhausted itself.

Withdrawing Troops.
The Germans are also believed to be on the point of weakening their forces in France and Belgium to reinforce their armies in Galicia and on the Austro-Italian frontier. The capture of the Hooge Chateau also marks a considerable advance from the late British positions on the Ypres salient.

German Losses Heavy.
Incidentally, the French war office announces that the fighting north of Arras, in which the Germans lost General Abain, the Navarre, the Maion mill and the Souchez sugar refinery, was conducted by one French division. The total losses are estimated at May 2 and June 1, and of these two-thirds were slightly wounded. This unit captured 3100 prisoners, including 64 officers, and buried 2000 German bodies. Observers here point out that the German losses in wounded must have been 10,000 to 13,000 men.

CAREFUL WORK DONE Against Germans in Fight North of Arras.

PARIS, June 2.—The part played by engineering corps in the fighting in the region of Arras is described in a narrative from the official office attached to the French army, given out here tonight.

BROKEN AUSTRIAN UNITS COMPLETELY ANNIHILATED

Attacked Five Times Over Their Dead, But Finally Broke, and Were Overwhelmed by Italians.

By MARTIN DONOHUE.
NORTHERN ITALY, June 2.—Details of the fighting in the Monte Groce Pass over the north Venetian Alps, show it to have been one of the most dramatic episodes in the newly-opened war. Five times the tried troops of Austria attacked, advancing fresh over their dead. Five times they were hurled back, broken and disordered, by the telling fire of the Italian infantry. They had had enough. Their energy and ardor was spent and they advanced no more. Then the Italians, who hitherto had been fighting a stubborn defensive fight, dashed forward, falling upon the bewildered and disorganized Austrians and put them to flight. Rain was falling heavily and there was a heavy mist, which blotted out man and mountain in a shottike gray. But the Alpine, one of the best fighting units of the whole Italian army, were not to be denied or held in leash by rain or fog. They swept thru the severely shaken Austrian ranks in vain. The Austrians sacrificed themselves in attempting to rally their broken units. The Austrian infantry made an effort to withstand the attack of the Italian shock; but were simply overwhelmed and annihilated.

Turks' Losses Are Heavy In Hand-to-Hand Combat

Allies Were Backed Up by Heavy Artillery Support, and Enemy Sacrificed Lives Freely—All Quiet Now on British Front.

CAIRO, June 2.—(Via London, 10.35 p.m.)—The following official communication concerning the operations against the Dardanelles was made public today:

"During June 1 close hand-to-hand fighting occurred on our northern front. On the northern section of our position, two saps of the enemy were pushed by our men with the intention of filling them in, but a heavy bombardment checked the work, and one party had to fall back. The other party still holds on to its position between our firing line and that of the enemy."

BRITAIN TO FINANCE ITALY

LONDON, June 2, 9.45 p.m.—"The chancellor of the exchequer, accompanied by the governor of the Bank of England and the financial secretary of the treasury, will meet the Italian financial question arising from Italy's entry into war," says an official statement made public tonight.

WILSON CANDID IN STATEMENT TO BERNSTORFF

Ambassador Told Germany Must Adhere to International Law.

MAY BE CONCESSIONS Count Told Friends Afterward Interview Was Quite Satisfactory.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—President Wilson emphasized in an informal talk with Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, today, the intense feeling of the American people over the sinking of the Lusitania and other violations of American rights on the high seas, and impressed upon him that the United States must insist on an adherence by Germany to the accepted principles of international law as they affect neutrals. No announcements were made after the conference, which had been arranged at the ambassador's request, but it was stated authoritatively that there would be no change in the plan of the president and his cabinet to send in response to the German reply to the last American note of inquiry to ascertain definitely whether the imperial government will abide by international law or follow its own rules of maritime warfare. The note, which is being written by President Wilson, will be despatched before the end of the week.

Wilson Was Candid. In twenty minutes' conversation the president of the U. S. A. and the personal representative of Emperor William exchanged views on the delicate situation which has arisen in the relations between the two countries. Their meeting was cordial, their conversation friendly, and both discussed fundamentals and not details. Count Bernstorff later told friends that the interview had been satisfactory and that the president had spoken clearly and frankly. The ambassador felt very hopeful when he returned to his embassy. He believed the report which he prepared for transmission to Berlin would enlighten the German foreign office on the true state of the American Government's opinion and pave the way to a better understanding.

Now for Your Straw Hat.

The straw hat season is here. Most everyone is discarding his soft felt or stiff derby for this cooler and lighter headgear. At Dineen's, 140 Yonge street, there is now showing a complete line of high-grade imported English and American straw hats—in fact it is the best display ever shown at this old established house. You can have a choice of various styles in sunsets and splits, high or medium crowns, and the prices are most reasonable at $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00. Don't fail to see the Temperance street windows, there is a most representative display and surely a hat to please you.

THURSDAY MORNING, JUNE 3.

One in Purpose and At Heart

In his address delivered at the great imperial patriotic meeting held at the London Guildhall, on May 19, the imperial prime minister paid a notable tribute of gratitude to the magnificent comradeship and co-operation displayed by the overseas dominions and by the great Indian dependency.

Canadians know already what has been done in the Dominion. But the war will be to that extent unprofitable if it does not result in further development of the spirit of comradeship and co-operation to which the prime minister alluded, and in a more intimate knowledge by each dominion of its sister states.

League deserves the support of the public.

The league has been in existence for about eighteen months and accomplished a large amount of good. The campaign was originally commenced for the purpose of reducing avoidable traffic accidents and there is no doubt that such a work was necessary.

This year the league has extended its activities to cover fire prevention as well as the prevention of accidents in the home, in factories, workshops, etc. The office has recently sent out the first of a series of industrial bulletins, designed to attract and retain the attention of employees of large and small plants and thereby cut industrial accidents to a minimum by education.

The bulletin idea is also being carried out in the schools and should produce a large reduction in accidents.

Germany's Lost Shipping Trade

According to figures supplied by the United States Department of Commerce the war has resulted in an appreciable increase in the quantities of exports and imports carried in American vessels. During the eight months ending March 31 last the total value of American imports and domestic exports was $2,797,000,000, of which $353,000,000, or 12.64 per cent, represented cargoes shipped under the Stars and Stripes.

A comparison between these periods shows little change in the value of United States exports carried in British ships—the figures standing at $893,900,000, as against $899,100,000. On the other hand, imports into the United States from the British flag dropped from $557,000,000 to $430,900,000. During these eight months ending March 31 last the total value of American exports to the United States was $2,797,000,000, of which $353,000,000, or 12.64 per cent, represented cargoes shipped under the Stars and Stripes.

Good Roads From Toronto

Civilization is carrying on its fundamental work in Ontario at any rate in the building of good roads. Many people are much interested in the permanent highway between Toronto and Hamilton, and enquiries are constantly being made as to the amount of progress. Now the eastern municipalities are getting into line to contribute a big section of the provincial highway as far as Oshawa.

The suggestion of the provincial engineer of the good roads commission, Mr. McLean, was adopted, that the road be constructed of macadam and gravel from West Hill eastwards, and the heavy traffic in York county requiring a substantial base, while in Ontario County the natural deposits of gravel afford ample material for the purpose.

The government will pay forty per cent of the cost and twenty per cent of the maintenance charges, with one-quarter of the salary of any superintendent of good roads appointed by a municipality. Hon. Mr. Macdaniel made it clear that he was intensely interested in the success of the good roads movement when it is remembered that ten years of the life of the proposed road would pay for itself in profit to the communities served.

On the Hamilton highway good progress is being made, and the grading and straightening of the road is calculated to make traffic much safer and easier than before, independently of the improved road to the other side of the water. The fill would be eight hundred feet long, and would eliminate a dip of thirty-five feet. A short bridge to allow boats to pass into the upper end of the bay would take the place of the huge structure formerly contemplated, and the saving would be over $100,000.

FOUND NOT GUILTY.

W. H. Hinton was found not guilty in the criminal sessions yesterday by Judge Coutsworth on a charge of false pretence and fraud laid by J. McCoy, manufacturing agent, C.P.R. Building. The amount involved was $106, supposed to have been obtained by bogus orders.

A Needed Work

BY FEREDERICK RENNETT. PETROGRAD, June 1.—The Germans, when they suddenly started their rush from the Donajec River, hoped to gather the opposing Russians into a scirmish formation, and with terrific artillery fire to sweep them back into the fortress of Peremyel, where, lacking supplies, they would shortly have been compelled to surrender.

GERMANY THE SOFTER STONE

Coming Campaigns to Be Like the Slow Rubbing of Two Stones, the Softer to Be Worn Away.—No Dashes Anticipated.

In view of the tremendous strain, as well as the enormous task of organizing and maintaining lines of communication to adequate bases of supplies to keep pace with a swiftly moving column, the interpretation of the coming program by student warfare rather indicates the slower process will make for the greatest progress and the least cost in men and munitions in forcing the German lines back.

This plan succeeded at Neuve Chapelle, when Commander-in-Chief Sir John French felt out the weak spot in the enemy's line, concentrated upon it an intensely hot artillery fire, exploded several judiciously placed mines, then lunged with such success that the Germans retreated three times since with success by the English and the French.

WINNIPEG, Man., June 2.—"The government pays big prices; campaign funds have to come from somewhere." According to W. A. Elliott, the foregoing remark was made to him one evening during the last session of the legislature. It was two or three days before Elliott was leaving for Chicago.

JUNKERS WANT WAR WITH UNITED STATES

German Civilians, Especially of Financial World, Seek Peace With America.

SPECIAL CABLE TO THE TORONTO WORLD. COPENHAGEN, June 1.—I learn from a high authority that civilians, especially in the financial world in Germany are against war with America, while the military junker party favors war, fearing the popular feeling if Germany should now be seriously beaten, for instance, if she were compelled to evacuate French and Belgian territory. This party hopes that the best excuse will be that they can state that Germany is fighting the whole world, including America.

The Work of Twenty-Eight Special Writers

The London Times History of the War is the work of twenty-eight writers—each a specialist in some department of political, military, naval, diplomatic or economic affairs.

This is the book to hand down to your children as the thrilling, accurate record of the world's greatest war.

It takes you away from the confused blur of newspaper reports, and tells you what has actually happened.

Perhaps You Know This Book

If you are one of our hundreds of readers who bought the first volume of The London Times History of the War, you need not be told that The Times History is far superior to any other record of the great war that has yet been written.

The second volume is, in form and treatment, a continuation of Volume One. If you do not own the first volume, we can supply both Volume One and Volume Two at 98 cents each—or $1.96 with one coupon.

The Second Volume of the LONDON TIMES GREAT ILLUSTRATED HISTORY of the WAR IS NOW READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

The World announces the publication of the second volume of this carefully written and splendidly illustrated history of the world-wide conflict. It takes up the story of the war where the first volume ended, making a continuous and connected narrative.

Canadian volunteers are performing heroic and brilliant deeds on the hard-fought fields of Flanders. It is a battle for civilization in which Canada and the Empire are engaged heart and soul. Every Canadian should know the history of the struggle—what has happened and is happening—divested of wild rumors and exaggerations.

The London Times History of the War is real history, drawn from inside sources of information, with every statement verified and proved before it is printed.

In Toronto and Hamilton You Can Obtain This Famous Book Only Through The Daily World. We cannot hold this offer open indefinitely, as our supply is limited. If you purchased the first volume—you absolutely need this second book.

Only 98c--If You Act Now. To those who failed to secure the first volume when we offered it, we will say that we have a few copies of the first volume left. These may also be procured by our readers at 98 cents each—or $1.96 for both volumes.
