THOUSANDS HEARD D. L. MOODY.

The Great Evangelist Spoke in Massey Hall Yesterday Afternoon and Evening—Many Were Turned Away, but Those Who Got Inside Heard Burning Words.

The announcement that Rev. D. L. Moody would address a meeting in Massey Hall yesterday afternoon was sufficient to draw a record-breaking audience. Every seat was occupied, and many were standing; many went away, not being able to get inside. The eloquent divine has lost none of his force since he visited Toronto last, though a little shortness of breath was noticeable. He preached simply the promises of God; patristic theology finds no place in his discourses. There lies his popularity.

The platform was crowded with the choir, under the conductorship of Mr. Harry Blight, and city ministers, most of whom were present. Among others were Revs. Prof. Ballantyne, Knox College; Dr. Parsons, Dr. Thomas, S. Carleton, W. J. McCaughan, J. L. Johnston, Chancery Hurvash, Prof. Wallace, W. G. Wallace, Dr. Potts, J. McP. Scott, R. Harris, Mr. Dixon, George Bishop, Mr. Neil.

About half an hour was taken up with a song service in which Mr. Burke, who accompanied Mr. Moody, took a principal part. His solos were very much enjoyed. Dr. Potts, Revs. McCaughan and Harris led in prayer, and the meeting was opened with "Jesus, Lover of My Soul." The speaker had been asked to address the audience from the words: "You shall be filled with power." He would not speak from that subject, but asked them to read Rev. John McNeil's sermon: "The Spirit-filled Life."

Before beginning his sermon he announced that collection would be taken up for prisons. In the United States there were 750,000 men and women who had passed through prison walls. He cited examples of great reformations that had been made through Bibles and religious literature in the cells, and wanted Canadians to take up the work. He then read the 91st Psalm, and took as his text the last three verses, which contained seven promises, namely: "I will deliver him—God always kept His promise. I will answer him; I will be with him in trouble; I will honor him; I will satisfy him, and I will set him on high."

There was no doubt Moses wrote that Psalm. It was written after some great trouble—a scourge, a plague or a cyclone. It was written to comfort the people. How sweet must have been the words to them! They were just as sweet to-day. All could claim those promises, and all could be saved. But God did more than deliver them. He did not leave them to bear the task of the slave-driver the next day. He brought them out of the land of bondage. He had no sympathy with the idea that God saved a man and then left him to the curse of some sin that fettered him through life. God would deliver. When he told Pharaoh to deliver the children of Egypt, he wanted Pharaoh to know that he should obey Him. Pharaoh's son found out. He did not know or care how God was going to deliver his people from sin, but he would keep His promise.

God Within Casting Distance. "I will answer His call." God was within calling distance to every one. Holy writ was full of examples of how nations in distress had called on Him, and he had always answered their cry. So He would answer every man. Never mind the past life. Call on Him honestly, and He would answer. There were many sinners in this world who were full of sin, but they were not of the kind that He would not hear. He never knew of a case where He failed a man who called on Him meaning business. Let the vilest sinner call earnestly, "Lord, save me now," and he would be a free man. He would sooner be on calling terms with God than own all the gold mines in the Klondike. He didn't want to hear any more eloquent prayers, simple, childlike petitions were enough for Him. How did he know that God would answer an earnest call? By His word and by personal experience.

To Those in Trouble. "I will be with him in trouble." If all our troubles were written in volumes, they would not be enough horses in the city to draw them. He would sooner meet a cyclone in March than a man with troubles who wanted to tell them. Let him tell them to God. Tell them to the world and they are increased. Trouble should bring us nearer to the foot of the Throne. Paul had troubles, but he gloried in them through Grace. Test God in times of trouble. Lay hold of His promises. "I will honor him." What was the honor of the world? It did not last. Moses might have had all the honors in Egypt showered on him; might have been Pharaoh's successor. Pharaoh scarcely lived in memory, but Moses would be remembered and praised throughout all ages—because he was honored of God.

Eternal Life. "I will satisfy him with long life." Not 70 or 80 years. That was not a long life. Nothing could be called long that had an end. Eternal life was the promise, and it was the heritage of every man. Christ never preached a funeral sermon. He smashed up every funeral that was ever held during His stay on earth. He ruined the undertaking business. He told the dead man to arise, and the undertaker's business was over.

"I will set him on high—even up with Himself." Do not think whether you can dance or play cards. Get your eyes fixed on something higher.

IN THE EVENING. The crowd that gathered about the doors of Massey Hall last night to hear Mr. Moody was something tremendous. By 7 o'clock it reached dangerous proportions, and when the doors were thrown open there was a mad rush to get in. The force of the mad rush was completely filled. Every available standing space was occupied. Several hundred remained outside vainly trying, by every possible means, to get in.

A preliminary service of song was held. Mr. J. H. Burke sang a couple of solos. After Dr. Parsons had led in prayer Mr. Moody made the same request as in the afternoon. He urged the audience to do all their power to put the way of life before them. It was a saying such. He did not think he had ever had a more profitable meeting than one he held in Kingston Penitentiary. There was no better work than helping the ordinary. He referred to the success of Jerry McCauley's missions in New York.

The Holy Spirit. The speaker then read the 32nd Psalm, and said that every one should strive to be filled with the Holy Spirit.

He had no patience with half-hearted Christians. Many church members had secret sins. They, as well as the ungodly, must confess their sins. If a man stumbled he must make confession—the true, whole-hearted confession. If he had too much pride to do it, God would not forgive him. If a confession was never in vain. When a sin was confessed and forgiven it was put away forever. God would hurt the sins of the penitent as far as the east was from the west.

The Work of Conscience. No matter how a sinner strove he could not bury his conscience. He had known men to try it for years, but failed. Conscience was the only cure for a bad conscience. No sin was so black but that God would put it away if proper restitution followed sincere confession.

On the Platform. Parents must make confession to their children turned out. They led lives not in accord with their profession, and the children could not accept such Christians. If any felt guilty of this let them confess to their family, walk uprightly, and blessing would come to the home. His chief case where five sons were saved from infidelity in this way. He cited a Christian who had never been a member of a church, but who was a true Christian. He was out-and-out Christians. They could not be hot to day and cold to-morrow. A higher tone of spirituality was needed in the churches to-day.

Losing One's Temper. Referring to losing the temper, he said the man who had learned to control his own spirit had gained the greatest victory he could in this world. Many a man went down town in a huff after having a little row with his wife, and then during the afternoon felt bad about it, and sent her up a bouquet. Let him go like a man and control his temper. He wouldn't save to do it many times. The temper would be gone. All faults must be confessed. Mere church membership wouldn't do a man much good when he came to stand before the last judgment.

Want Plain Preaching. A hymn was sung and the first of the services was then over. Mr. Moody then gave a short talk on how to study the Bible. People were sick of higher criticism of the Bible, and the thousand and one theories that were constantly being put forth. They wanted the plain English Bible, with spiritual preaching. The coming man was the man who could preach in this way. In 1880 there were 3000 murders in the States; in 1890 there were 25,000. The increase was due to the severe attacks made on the Bible, which could do its work as well to-day as ever it could, if it only got a chance.

He believed everything in the Bible, because Christ recognized it. When he gave up the story of Jonah and the whale he gave up the resurrection, because they were connected. He didn't take any stock in not swallowing a man. It was a big fish and God could create a fish as large as he wished. He then said some things about reading the Bible. He read it consecutively. If reading Paul's epistles to Corinth, read it all at the same time. Another good way was to study it topically. Take up the atonement, the resurrection, justification by faith or any of the other many topics. In this way faith and spiritual life would be quickened. The message brought the meeting to a close.

THE MESSAGE FROM SPAIN. Has Been Delivered at Washington, But Contents Will Not Be Divulged at Present.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 27.—The event of the day was the reading of the message from the long-expected cablegram from United States Minister Woodford at Madrid, transmitting the answer of the Spanish Government to his representations in the interest of peace in Cuba. This message began to come in by instalments at 2 o'clock this morning, and it was nearly noon to-day before it was put in shape at the State Department. It was not the length of the message that occupied the wires all of that time, but the fact that it was all in groups of figures, and that it was probably being filed in small batches as it was turned into the complicated State Department cipher in Madrid. All of this work had to be undone at the State Department, and the message translated from the cipher back again into good English. This occupied nearly all of the day, so that it was 3:30 o'clock before the first fair copy of the message was turned out. The first copy was taken at the State Department, and the message was then sent to a messenger, but being delivered by Chief Clerk Michaels in person at the White House.

After due opportunity had been allowed the President to read the message, an application was made for a statement of its contents or nature. This was declined by Secretary Porter and it was said that under no circumstances would the correspondence be made public before consideration by the Cabinet. From unofficial information that has resulted, it was evident that in neither language nor subject matter is the communication likely to be taken as offensive by the United States Government.

MAGOWAN THROWN OUT.

Wouldn't Go Voluntarily From His Mansion and Had to Be Driven Out in the Barn. Trenton, N. J., Oct. 27.—Ex-Mayor Frank A. Magowan was put out of his mansion at 1 o'clock this afternoon by the sheriff's officers. The officers found Magowan in bed, and he refused to get up and dress. He was led out of the house in his night clothes and went to the barn, where he dressed himself. Mrs. Barnes-Magowan left the house voluntarily. Magowan offered resistance because of the loss of his 100,000 damage suit against the sheriff. The mansion is now in the hands of the purchasers.

EDISON'S LATEST

The Great Inventor Has Found How Forces Can Be Made in Low Grade Iron Ore.

New York, Oct. 27.—The Electrical Engineer will publish to-morrow the first authoritative account of Thomas A. Edison's success in recovering by electrical means the iron contained in low-grade ore. The inventor's experiments have been carried on during the past six years at the old Ogden Iron mines, a few miles from Dover, N. J., where he has built up a plant covering several acres of ground, and which, after many experiments, is now capable of producing daily from 1000 to 1500 tons of almost chemically pure iron.

The ore worked contains on the average about 25 per cent. of iron, and resembles in appearance a very poor quality of grey rock. Mr. Edison states that there are 200,000,000 tons of this ore on the land immediately surrounding his plant, from which can be produced 50,000,000 tons of iron.

His process, in brief, consists of blasting the ore from the mountain sides and then, by means of steam shovels and miniature cars, conveying it to massive crushers, where it is broken up and passed on to other mills, where it is pulverized. The pulverized ore is allowed to fall in close proximity to electro-magnets, which deflect the iron to one side and the non-metallic matter falls to the other side by gravity. From the time the ore is blasted until it is resolved into this metallic form, and compressed to briquettes for shipment, the process is entirely automatic.

THE TROUBLE WITH INDIANS.

Three Men and a Woman Killed on the

Leroy Lake Reservation in Northern Minnesota.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 27.—A despatch from the Leroy Lake Reservation, in Northern Minnesota, says:

"Information by special messenger has just reached the reservation that a fight occurred yesterday between two Indians and a game warden, in which all three were killed; also one Indian woman. A deputy game warden, whose name cannot be ascertained, arrived at an Indian camp on an island between

Bemidji and the Cass Lake Reservation and seized two guns and a trapping outfit, which belonged to Kak Kah Quash and Mahommedwah, two Indians on the Cass Lake Reservation. He made an attempt to seize some furs which they had, but they resisted, whereupon the warden clubbed the older Indian with a gun until he became unconscious and then shot him. He next shot the other Indian and his wife, mortally wounding both. In the meantime, the older Indian, having recovered consciousness, shot and killed the warden.

The bodies of the three Indians and the woman were found lying on the ground near the Indian camp. The

PERCY LAWLESS ARRESTED

Charged With Forgery a Title Deed in a Real Estate Deal.

Explanation.

Detective McGrath yesterday arrested

Barrister John Percy Lawless on a charge of forgery, and the prisoner was straightaway taken before the Police Magistrate.

The charge is that he "did forge a false document, forming the title deed to certain lands, by making a material addition thereto, and being known as a discharge of mortgage No. 1867 T in the case of division of the Toronto Registry Office."

Some time ago two real estate agents,

Lewis Hawkesworth and Thomas Griffin, were each sentenced to five years in Kingston Penitentiary for defrauding Hawkesworth and his wife, 347 Yonge-street, out of $30,000 in a crooked real estate deal.

Lawless was connected with the case, and it is alleged that he completed the discharge of the mortgage by forging Lawless' name after Hawkesworth and Griffin and been sent to jail.

The prisoner refused to elect a plea, and was remanded till to-day on bail.

BACK FROM B.C.

Mr. Murray of the B. C. Gold Fields Co.

Pleased With What He Saw.

The World called yesterday on Mr.

C. B. Murray, who has recently returned from a six months' trip to the British Columbia and Western Ontario gold fields, in the interests of the British Canadian Gold Fields Company, of which the Hon. George B. Foster is president. Mr. Murray speaks very strongly of his great confidence in the future of British Columbia and Ontario as mining countries, and is much pleased with the holdings of his company.

Reference being made to the recent high "smelter" returns received from the now well-known Athabasca group, he said these were of course highly satisfying, but the great point in his opinion was that, notwithstanding that little systematic work had been done prior to the time when this company took over in May last, the sale of the ore sent to the smelter, which was only a small portion of that mined, was more than sufficient to meet all cost of work done, not only mining and developing, but many permanent improvements of the company as a road building, quarters for the men, etc., and that all the time valuable ore was being added to the dump, which will be realized of as soon as a mill is put in place.

This he holds to be a record equalled by very few mines in the country, and taken with its advantageous position close to the town of Nelson and the Kelson smelter, proves its exceedingly high value.

He also mentioned the Howard Fraction group as showing up remarkably well. Its shipping ore is now being sacked and piled up until the snow puts the trails in shape for hauling, when it can be brought down at a great saving from the cost of packing. The two carloads shipped when Mr. Murray was here ran $100 per ton, of which $20 was gold and the balance silver. As in the case of the Athabasca, valuable ore is all the time being added to the dump, which will be realized of as soon as a mill is put in place. This he holds to be a record equalled by very few mines in the country, and taken with its advantageous position close to the town of Nelson and the Kelson smelter, proves its exceedingly high value.
