LONDON MOURNS FOR MANSFIELD

Death of America's Foremost Actor Makes Big Gap Not Easily Filled.

LONDON, August 31.—The death of Richard Mansfield is almost the sole topic in the theatrical world in London. Prominent actors and managers unite in paying tribute to his generous spirit which they declare has not been equaled since Booth and Irving were in the heyday of their careers.

Willard Smith yesterday received a telegram announcing the death of Captain W. B. Milberry, of St. Martins. He died on the three-masted schooner Advance, of which he was the commander. The schooner has arrived at Havana in command of Captain Adams of this city, who was Captain Milberry's mate.

PREMIER BOND FURNISHES THE MAIN OBSTACLE

His Opposition is Delaying Adjustment of the Newfoundland Fisheries Question.

He Objects to Employment of Newfoundland Fishermen as Members of Crews of American Vessels.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31.—State department advisers from London, where Ambassador Reid is negotiating directly with the British foreign office, looking to the adjustment of the Newfoundland fisheries question, indicates that the main obstacle to a complete agreement lies in the opposition of Sir Robert Borden, the Newfoundland premier, to the renewal of that paragraph of the modus vivendi of last year which legalizes the enlistment of Newfoundland fishermen as members of the crews of American fishing vessels. It is assumed that the premier's objection is based not so much upon the actual employment of shore fishermen as lucrative wages on American fishing vessels, a matter of pecuniary loss to the colony, but rather on an unwillingness to admit even in a modus vivendi, that a colonial fisherman should be employed in a manner which would not invalidate the treaty provision to the contrary.

OBJECTS TO PAYING TAX

Masons at Work on New Royal Bank Must Pay the $7.50 License.

Foreman Bethell, who has charge of the masons at work on the new Royal Bank building is having troubles of his own. A number of his men have been reported for working in the city without licenses, and he is endeavoring to arrange for the payment of the necessary fees. Mr. Bethell called at the police court this morning and in the course of a consultation with the acting Magistrate stated that most of the men reported were skilled plasterers, whom he had imported owing to the scarcity of laborers, and that they were not allowed to proceed with their work because they were not licensed.

AN INTERESTING VISIT TO A MANUAL TRAINING SCHOOL

HOSPITAL FOR TUBERCULOSIS Building to be Erected on a New Plan—Cost to be $15,000.

TORONTO, Aug. 29.—A joint deputation, representing the city of London and the county of Middlesex, waited on Mr. Hanna, provincial secretary yesterday, to ask government aid in the building of a hospital near London for the treatment of tuberculosis. The building is expected to cost $15,000, and the claim of aid is based on the act of last session, pledging assistance to such institutions when approved by the government, whether built by one or a union of municipalities. It is possible that the counties of Elgin and Oxford may join in the scheme also, and in that event the proposition will be enlarged. The plan is to erect an administration building, surrounded by bungalows, each connected with the main building by a covered way. These bungalows are estimated to cost about $1,200 each. This scheme is different from the one most in vogue at present, namely of having only one large building, and is considered to be much the better plan.

WHERE TO GO

Saturday Half Holiday Ends Today—Plenty of Attractive Amusement.

Today marks the close of the Saturday half-day holiday period for this season in many of the mercantile houses. For those who elect to stay in the city there will be plenty of amusement. At Rockwood Park there will be a band concert in addition to the regular features. On the Victoria grounds the Marathons and St. Joseph baseball teams will play the first of a series of three games for the city championship. The Opera House, the Nickel, the Happy Half Hour and the Odor offer particularly attractive programmes of moving pictures and songs.

NEWS FROM FREDERICTON

FREDERICTON, Aug. 31 (Special)—There is an agitation on foot here to unite the congregations of the George and Brunswick street Baptist churches and have but one pastor and an assistant. It is proposed to enlarge Brunswick church and utilize it for the regular services and have the smaller church for prayer meetings and Sabbath school. The proposal seems to be looked upon with favor by leading Baptists, but it may take several years to carry it into effect. William P. Taylor, formerly of this city, but now practicing law at Calgary, is to be married at Toronto on Wednesday to Miss Helen Morrison of that place. The Fredericton firemen shipped their hose cart and horse to St. John by boat this morning in charge of Driver Doucett. The contingent of firemen and a band will follow by the early train on Monday. A large delegation from the Sons of England will also go to St. John Monday and be entertained there by Portland Lodge. The last of the corporation drive is now at Shogomoc and will reach the boom limits in a few days. Sixteen hundred joints of logs were rafted at Douglas boom this week and about the same quantity at the Mitchell boom. There is about seven million feet still in the boom at Douglas awaiting to keep a rafting crew busy another fortnight.

THE WORK IN KALAMAZOO

The city of Kalamazoo has a claim to being the leader in many things, but the most praiseworthy thing it ever did was to introduce manual training into Michigan. Kalamazoo was the first town of the state to adopt this method of teaching the young idea how to shoot, and after this city had taken the initial step the surrounding places quickly fell into line, until today every city that has a manual training department is in charge of Hedy V. Hayes, and even during the few days the school has been open, Mr. Hayes feels very much encouraged at the results. The visit showed a room that was truly a modern carpenter shop. There are twenty-two benches, each equipped with the following tools: spokeshave, square, plane, back saw, mallet and brush for cleaning off the top of the bench. In one end of the room is a row of various kinds of saws, braces, screw drivers, bits, awls, chisels and claw-hammers. There is also a fine large locker in which is kept the work of the class. There, on a shelf, are ranged many specimens of hard and soft wood in rough and finished states. There is the tree trunk sawn in short lengths, halved and planed, showing the grain to good advantage.

OH! IF THAT COMET SHOULD EVER HIT THIS OLD EARTH

LONDON, Aug. 31.—Mlle. G. Renaudet, a noted writer on scientific subjects and member of the Astronomical Society, who has been observing the comet of 1907 from the Juviv Observatory in France, has formed an opinion of what would happen in the event that this comet, which is described as a great puff of wind, of fantastic shape, about 20,000,000 miles in length, should collide with the earth. "In all probability," she says, "the first effect would be a diminution of oxygen in the air. A cold terror would fall on the earth, until the comet passed away. Then, with the diminution of nitrogen and the increase of oxygen in the air, a great reaction would be produced. The whole of humanity would palpitate to the beating of one heart and in the end the brain would be attacked by oxygen. The world would be transformed into wild madness and participate in the wildest extravagances, ending in final exhaustion. "But this will probably never happen."

THE CHAMPLAIN MONUMENT

The Champlain monument will not be erected this year. There is a dispute between the architect and the committee with regard to the bronze dolphins. Mr. MacCarthy appears to have been informed by somebody connected with the archives department at Ottawa that there is no record of any dolphins ever being caught by St. John fishermen, and a doubt is therefore expressed as to the appropriateness of the emblem. It is understood that he therefore suggests a dog-fish. The committee, however, are strong on dolphins, and not disposed to change the specifications. The mistake that Mr. MacCarthy appears to have made was in giving any kind of proposed changes into the contract had been signed and the work begun. Then he could have made the alterations, and it would be entirely contrary to St. John precedent to offer any objection, even if he substituted Marsh Road stands for Carrara marble. As the case stands it seems to be dolphins or no agreement.

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 30.—The community was greatly shocked this afternoon when it became known that Alderman J. D. He had been in failing health for months past, but his illness did not confine him to the house. This morning he was taken to the hospital and afterwards underwent an operation at the hands of Drs. Atherton and McGrath, but failed to rally from its effects.

THE BYE-ELECTIONS:

Opinion among St. John Conservatives is divided on the question of opposition to Hon. Dr. Pugsley in the bye-election. The more militant members echo the words of Mr. Fowler, and argue that it would be a tacit acceptance by the constituency of a bribe if the Conservatives failed to put up a candidate.

POLITICAL ESTIMATES

A forecast of the result of the next federal elections is made by the Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto News, who predicts a gain, but not a victory for the Conservatives.

POLITICAL NOTES

The new minister is a good speaker, an adroit parliamentarian, exceedingly suave and plausible. He will undoubtedly add strength to the Laurier government on the floor of the house.

Conservatives, 94 to 104—or a Liberal majority of 15 to 35. The notable thing about this estimate is that it admits Conservative gains in all the English speaking provinces.

AN ONTARIO EXAMPLE

The Times told the other day what is being done in British Columbia to overcome the ravages of tuberculosis. In Toronto this week a forward step was taken when, before a brilliant assembly, the government of Canada officially opened the new King Edward Sanatorium for Consumptives.

POLITICAL NOTES

Citizens generally should join in making the city appear in gala costume on Monday and Tuesday. Flags and bunting should be very generously displayed.

POLITICAL NOTES

The political situation throughout Canada grows more and more interesting. The new minister is a good speaker, an adroit parliamentarian, exceedingly suave and plausible.

Thursday last was an exceptionally interesting day at the local golf links as the attendance was undoubtedly the largest of the present season. The verandah presented a bright and picturesque appearance with pretty summer gowns and the members of the ladies' team leaving today for Windsor, N. S., were they will take part in the golf tournament and inter-provincial match, were the recipients of numerous expressions of good will. The team is composed of the following ladies: Mrs. E. A. Smith, Mrs. W. D. Greene, Mrs. Harold Cowan Schofield, Miss Thomson, Miss Stinson, Miss Barker, Miss Winifred Barker and Miss McGivern.

The golf tea which proved an unusually enjoyable affair was in charge of Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. W. Silvers Fisher, Miss Purvis and Miss Stead. Among those present were Mrs. G. Hazard, Miss Sydney Smith and Miss Barker.

Two teams composed of gentlemen from the local golf club will play at Woodstock and St. Stephen on Labor Day. Mrs. (Dr) J. V. Anglin was hostess at a delightful five-o'clock tea, at her home, Lancaster Heights on Tuesday last, in honor of her niece, Miss Anglin, of Kingston, Ontario.

Mrs. Murray McLaren and Mrs. A. I. Trueman presided in the tea room, assisted by a number of young ladies. Among those present were Mrs. Keator, Mrs. (Justice) F. E. This week's tennis tea, which was held at the tennis club on Wednesday last was a particularly enjoyable affair, the attendance being the largest of this season. Those in charge were: Miss Brown, Miss Dorothy Edgecombe and Miss Constance Sturdes.

Mrs. L. P. D. Tiley was hostess at a very delightful afternoon tea at her summer home, Robesay, on Tuesday last. A dancing party, chartered by Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McAvity, arrived this week from a very delightful trip to Grand Falls. They made the journey of over 125 miles, by easy stages, pitching their tents wherever nightfall overtook them. On Saturday last they spent the night at Hart's Island and got the benefit of a heavy rainstorm. Previous to that, however, the weather was simply ideal. The trip was made under the guidance of Aram Moore and his son Bruce, who supplied eight canoes and the complete camping outfit. Every member of the party enjoyed the trip, and talk of repeating it at some future time. Besides Mr. and Mrs. McAvity, the party included Miss Phyllis Stratton, Miss Katie Hazen, Miss Mabel McAvity, Miss Zillah Rankin, Mrs. S. L. Emerson, A. L. Fowler, T. HON. MR. FOSTER IN LUNENBURG

He Addressed a Large Meeting in the Nova Scotia Town on Wednesday Night.

LUNENBURG, Aug. 29.—Hon. G. E. Foster addressed a crowded meeting in the drill shed last night, and it was a magnificent reception. The building, which can seat 600 comfortably, was packed to the doors, and there were fully 1,000 people present. Mr. Foster arrived at Lunenburg at eight o'clock, and was met at the railway station by the Lunenburg and a large concourse of people. A procession formed and marched to the hall, where he was given a great ovation on appearing on the platform. There was a large number of ladies. Allan Morash, mayor of Lunenburg, presided. Mr. Morash always a prominent Liberal, several times ran in the county in Liberal interest. There were many other prominent men on the platform. After the mayor's introductory remarks, Dr. Marshall, Conservative candidate at the local election, made a good speech, which was warmly received. He was followed by James A. MacLean, of Bridgewater, who accompanied Mr. Foster. He spoke ten minutes in a most effective speech. He said Mr. Foster never stood higher in the estimation of the Conservatives and right-thinking Liberals.

DIED IN THE STREET Sudden Death of an I. C. R. Watchman in Moncton.

Moncton, N. B., Aug. 30.—Focus LeBlanc, aged fifty years, night watchman in the I. C. R. shop, dropped dead in front of the city market about half past one this afternoon. Heart failure was the cause of death. Deceased was apparently in his usual health when he left his home on Pleasant street after dinner and when he was brought back a corpse, about an hour later, it was a great shock to his wife, who had no previous warning of her husband's sudden death.

He was engaged in conversation with Robert Johnson, horse dealer, and T. J. Gallagher, when he suddenly collapsed and fell to the sidewalk. He was carried into the city market and medical aid summoned but life's spark had fled.

LeBlanc had been at work as usual last night and had not complained of illness but was stricken down in full vigor of life. Deceased was a native of Kent county, and is survived by his wife and several children.

Senators Domville and Lt.-Col. Wedderburn returned the first of this week from a trip to the west.

Charles Cunningham, a graduate of Dalhousie University, who for the past year has been engaged in educational work in Trinidad in connection with the Presbyterian church, is spending a few days in St. John and St. Martins, before returning to his home in Westville, N. S.

Miss Lily May Sheehan, of Westmount, Quebec, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Sheehan, Summer street.

Dr. H. I. Taylor, of St. George, is visiting relatives in St. John week end. Mr. and Mrs. James S. Ford and daughter returned on Wednesday from a visit to Halifax.

Word has been received from Saskatoon that Rev. A. A. Graham, pastor of St. David's church, arrived there on his way to Prince Albert, on Tuesday last. He left this city July 27th and has visited Edmonton, Calgary and other cities. He is delighted with his trip and expects to be home on September 14th.

Mr. and Mrs. Grey Murdoch spent Sunday last at the Hanson Camp opposite Westville.

George McAvity and E. A. Smith are in Ottawa.

Friends of Ronald McAvity who has been ill for the past few days, hope for his speedy recovery.

WRITS MAY BE ISSUED TODAY

Bye Elections in St. John and Brockville Will be Held at Once.

Elections Probable in About Three Weeks - Dr. Pugsley Leaves Ottawa for St. John Today.

Ottawa, Aug. 30.—Dr. Pugsley, the new minister of public works, who was sworn in this afternoon, spent some hours in his office at the department and will leave for St. John tomorrow.

Hon. G. P. Graham, minister of railways and canals, left for Brockville this evening.

The writs for St. John and Brockville will be issued to-morrow, most likely to-morrow. The elections, if any, will be in about three weeks. The other bye-elections will take place later.

Dr. Pugsley being interviewed said he was certain that neither the people of the Maritime Provinces and Quebec were more particularly interested in the Intercolonial by reason of its traversing these provinces nor the people of the rest of Canada, who were interested in the prudent management of the road, would have any reason to regret the selection of Hon. G. P. Graham as minister. From what he knew and learned of Mr. Graham's ability and business capacity he was satisfied that the new minister's management would amply justify the choice of the first minister. Ontario was interested in the enlargement and extension and improvement of the canal system, and therefore it was not inappropriate that the minister should be selected from that province. The canal system has become an important feature in the problems of cheap transportation, and the successful management of the I. C. R. an important factor in the development of trade between the Maritime Provinces and the west. He was satisfied that the successful management which characterized the administration of Blair and Emmerson would be carried on under Graham.

In regard to the department of public works, he appreciated the honor which was conferred upon him and also upon the city and county of St. John as well as New Brunswick by placing him at its head. The department had to deal with the great question of providing adequate transportation facilities and the dredging of harbors, building of wharves and similar undertakings, which made it one of national importance.

While recognizing the arduous duties of the office he hoped by close application to work and a fair recognition of all sections of the country to reasonably satisfy public expectation.

St. Andrew's Beacon, Thursday, Aug. 29th.—A most enjoyable tennis tournament was given last week on Mrs. F. W. Thompson's splendid court. Prizes were awarded by Mr. Joseph. Spectators were numerous, and all smartly gowned in colored linens. Among those present were Mrs. Christie, Mrs. Clark, Miss Thompson, the Misses Smith, Miss Shaughnessy and many others. Tea was served in the shade of the old apple tree.

Prizes were won by Miss Edith Shaughnessy and Mr. Hodgson and second by Miss Marguerite Shaughnessy and Mr. Hodgson.

Although it was most successful and the weather was delightful.

NEWS FROM ABROAD.

A despatch from London says:—One of the chief weddings of the late autumn will be that of Lord Erington, eldest son of Lord Cromer, and Lady Ruby Elliot, second daughter of Lord Minto, Viceroy of India, and formerly governor-general of Canada.

Lord Erington is a clever man of thirty and his friends prophesy a big future for him in the diplomatic world. Lady Ruby is considered by many people to be the prettiest of Lord Minto's pretty daughters. She is a charming girl, with the dark eyes and the dark coloring of the Elliots. She went in for the higher education and is something of a linguist, while she can bring down a tiger with the most courageous man and was accounted one of the best skaters in Ottawa. Lady Ruby has been life in three continents, and once married with that respectable woman, the Empress of China.

THE SILLIKER CAR WORKS

Halifax Expects to Have First Factory in Operation in Two Weeks.

(Halifax Mail) Everything is booming at the Silliker car works. The outside work on several of the buildings is about completed, and it is expected that No. 1 factory will be in operation in less than two weeks. Yesterday several car loads of machinery were unloaded and placed in position. Power will be supplied by the Electric Tram company until the engines arrive. The whole plant is in a forward state, and reflects much credit on the men who have the work in charge, and is highly encouraging to the shareholders of the company. It is hoped that in a few days now the railway department will lay the rails of the siding, the grading for which has been completed by the company.

OBITUARY

Daniel F. Tapley, Jr. The death of Daniel F. Tapley, Jr., occurred at his father's residence last evening. The young man—he was in his 30th year—had been ill for many months and it was realized some time ago that recovery was impossible. His parents, his wife, five sisters and two brothers survive him, and to them the sympathy of a host of friends will be extended in their hour of mourning.

Seven-year-old Maud Mills, who has set eight fires in almost as many days in New York city, has been committed to the home for feeble minded children at Randall's Island.

The Hub and Center of Organized LABOR

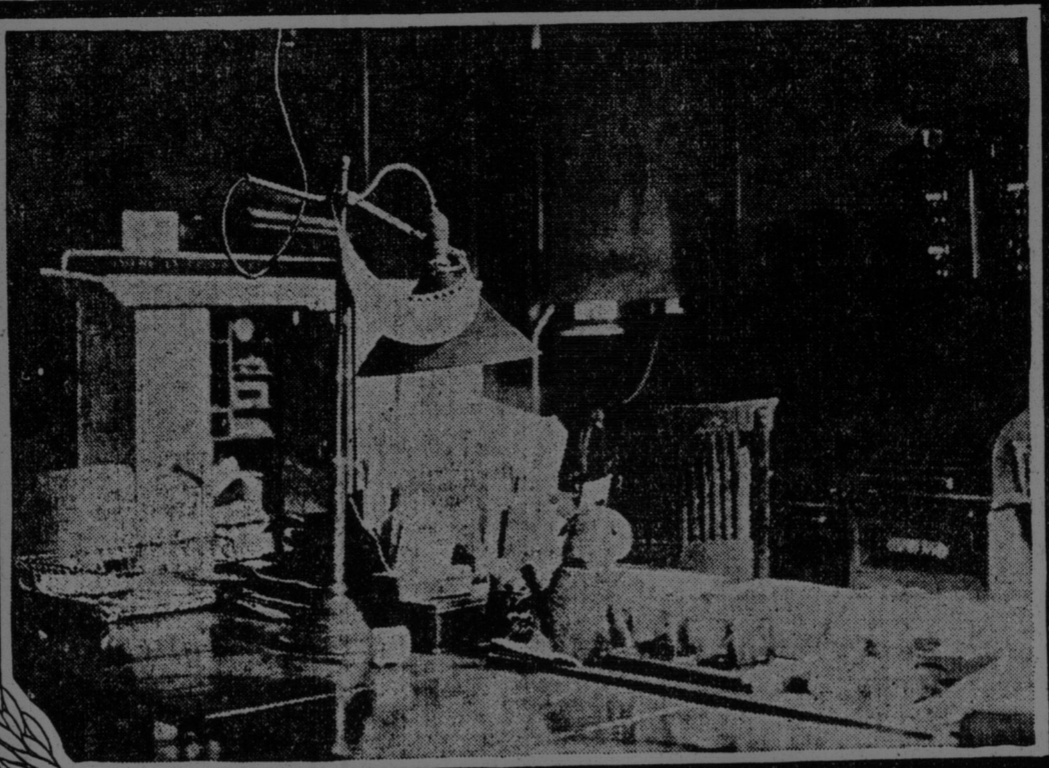

BY WALDON FAWCETT

SAMUEL GOMPERS, PRESIDENT AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR

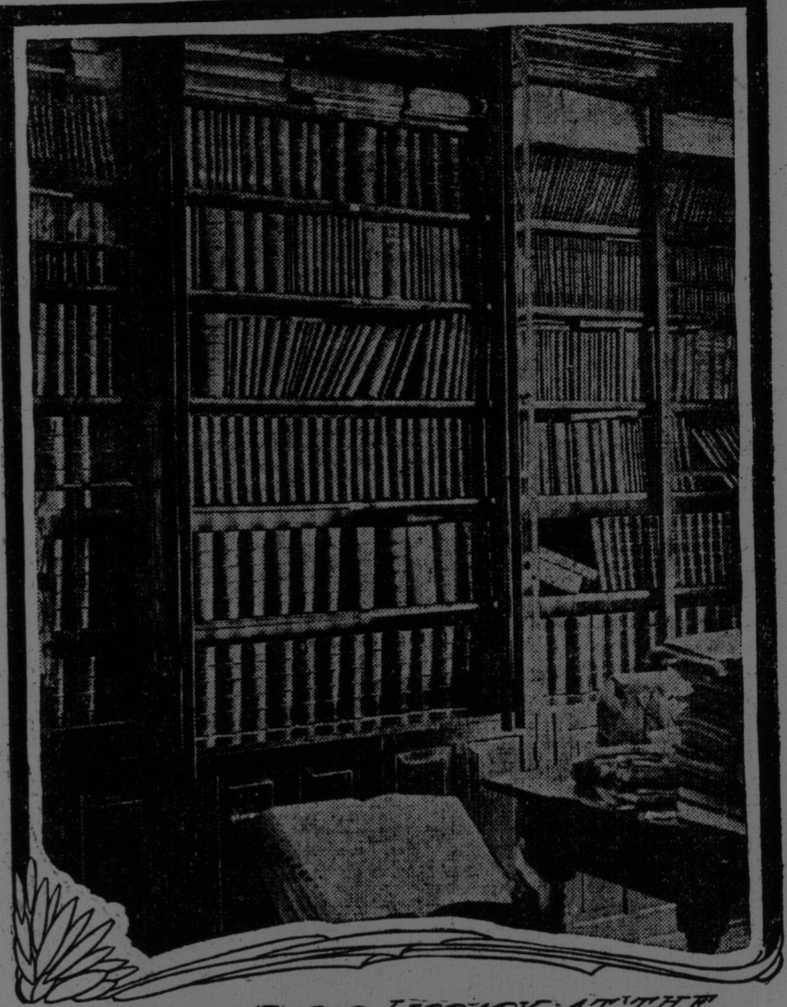

THE GREAT HALLING OF THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR KEPT AT NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS

THE MOUNTING OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR THE MOUNTAIN HEAD OF UNION LABOR MOVEMENT

NATIONAL HEADQUARTERS OF THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR

THE GREAT LABOR LIBRARY AT THE HEADQUARTERS OF THE FEDERATION

In a modest little brick structure under the shadow of the monster pension building at Washington is located the nerve centre of the organized labor movement in the United States and Uncle Sam's new possessions. In these quarters, which are none too commodious for the strenuous activities carried on therein, an executive staff of upward of three dozen men and women keeps in close touch with an army of two millions artisans in every State and Territory in the Union. This beehive is the national headquarters of the American Federation of Labor, that great central body that exercises jurisdiction over the local workmen's organizations from one end of the country to the other.

To appreciate the significance of the work carried on at this place it is necessary to know something of the remarkable growth. The first move towards the voluntary organization of labor in America was made early in the nineteenth century but it gained almost no headway until a score of years later. The earliest known trade union composed of journeymen the New York Society of Journeymen Shipwrights, which was legally incorporated in 1803. Unions of tailors and carpenters were organized in the metropolitan area in 1806 and a union of hatters came into existence in 1819.

The first crusade on the part of organized labor was for a 10-hour workday. In the spring of 1840 President Van Buren issued a proclamation establishing the ten-hour day on all government work but it was several years later ere anything approaching a complete victory was won in the private establishments of the country. The year 1851 saw another important advance in the labor movement, namely the formation of the first national union, by the banding together of various local organizations. The printers were the pioneers in this progressive step and were shortly followed by the iron moulders. For some years these two classes of artisans were alone in their advanced position but with the Civil War and its significant proclamation abolishing slavery a spur was given to the cause of organized labor and in 1844 the National Cigar-makers' Union was formed. The Bricklayers' and Masons International Union came into existence soon after and before many months had elapsed several other classes of toilers had taken the decisive step of formulating national bodies.

The great panic of 1873 gave something of a setback to organized labor for the reason that with the shutting down of manufacturing and the suspension of work generally many toilers were unable to pay their dues and in some instances local unions were compelled to disband for lack of funds. With the advent of some what better times organized labor gradually took a new lease of life and there was nurtured that spirit of expansion which led up to the organization of the American Federation of Labor in the year 1881.

In discussing the matter the other day President Samuel Gompers, head of the American Federation of Labor and the most powerful labor leader in the world, pointed out that the development of trade unions in this country may be classified, broadly speaking, in three successive periods. The first of these intervals saw the rise of the local unions of various kinds; the second period was characterized by the inception of the idea of the national union; and finally the third era in which we are now living has witnessed the amalgamation of these national unions into the all-powerful federated body. By this amalgamation and centralization of power the American working classes have put themselves in a position to hold their own with those immense aggregations of capital—the trusts of the industrial and commercial world.

The American Federation of Labor was not the first vast federated body to be projected. As early as 1866 there was in the field a delegate body known as the National Labor Union and this was followed by a long succession of other similar organizations both secret and open. Most of them, however, made the mistake of seeking a remedy for existing ills through political means, some even going so far as to nominate candidates for president and this is believed to have contributed in no small degree to the untimely fate which overtook most of them. The Federation which now enrolls through its affiliated unions more than three-fourths of all the organized workers under the Stars and Stripes came into existence literally the result of a "long felt want" for the more progressive labor bodies felt sorely the need of some more perfect system of organization. The meeting at which the long-sought project definitely took shape was held in Pittsburgh in November 1881 and was attended by delegates from ninety-five labor organizations with an aggregate membership of 282,000 workers. How this army has grown in little more than a quarter of a century to the enormous enrollment of 27,000 unions having more than 2,000,000 members is as much of a romance as can be conveyed by dry figures.

The great growth of this remarkable body has occurred during the present century. As late as the year 1899 there was a total membership of only 300,000 workers, but from that time the census figures of the organization went up by leaps and bounds. In 1900 the membership was more than half a million and by the close of 1903 fully one and one-half million toilers were enrolled under the banner of the organization. During the past few years as high as two hundred applications have been received in a single month for charters for new unions. These applications, it should be explained, came from unions which had no national or international affiliations and represented entirely new growth.

There are a number of different kinds of units in the mosaic of organized labor which has its headquarters at the capital of the nation. Primarily the American Federation is made up of constituent and representative bodies. In the former class are included federal labor unions, independent local unions, national unions and international unions. The representative bodies, on the other hand, consist of central labor unions and state branches. The federal labor unions are societies consisting of wage earners working at different trades and occupations of this kind are only established in localities where there are not enough workers engaged at one trade to form separate specialized unions. Independent local unions are also bodies directly affiliated with the Federation, but this state of things can continue only so long as there are too few unions of the given trade to permit the formation of a national union of that trade.

Most important of the wheels within wheels of this complex organization are the national or international unions, each of which is composed of a number of local unions, ranging from less than a score to many hundreds of such bodies, whose members all belong to the same trade. The central labor unions are representative bodies made up of delegates from the local unions and central labor unions in a given state of the union.

One of the main objects of the American Federation of Labor is the unification of labor and the encouragement of local, city, national and international unions but an essential purpose is the securing of legislation favorable to the industrial classes and it is chiefly to this end that the body maintains its headquarters at the seat of government. The manner in which the manifold activities of the national headquarters are systematized would probably surprise many a man of affairs who thinks that his own office methods represent the maximum of economy and perfection.

Upon entering the national labor headquarters the visitor finds upon his left the offices of the president and Frank Morrison, the secretary of this far-reaching organization, together with the workrooms of their private secretaries and personal stenographers. President Gompers has as his private office a big roomy apartment—a large indeed that it can be used also for the periodical meetings of the advisory council or board of directors of the Federation.

Across the hall from the private offices of the Federation officials is the library which contains what is probably the greatest collection of books extant relative to labor and kindred subjects. Adjoining this is the file room where in closest tiers of vertical file cabinets are kept the voluminous records of the thousands upon thousands of labor organizations connected with this central body. The archives are so indexed that any desired information can be secured almost at a moment's notice and this is frequently of great importance when the officials of the Federation are deliberating upon some important labor move that requires quick action but full knowledge of the facts.

At the rear of the building is the correspondence division of the labor headquarters where a corps of thirty stenographers are constantly kept busy sending out letters bearing upon routine matters and the "missionary" work which the general in command of the labor army keeps up from one end of the year to the other. In the basement of the building is the mailing room where half a dozen young men are engaged in getting out the innumerable pamphlets, circulars, labels and other forms of printed matter dispatched from this fountain head of labor literature. Hundreds of tons of literature are sent out from this office each year and undoubtedly this campaign of education has helped organized labor to many of its victories.

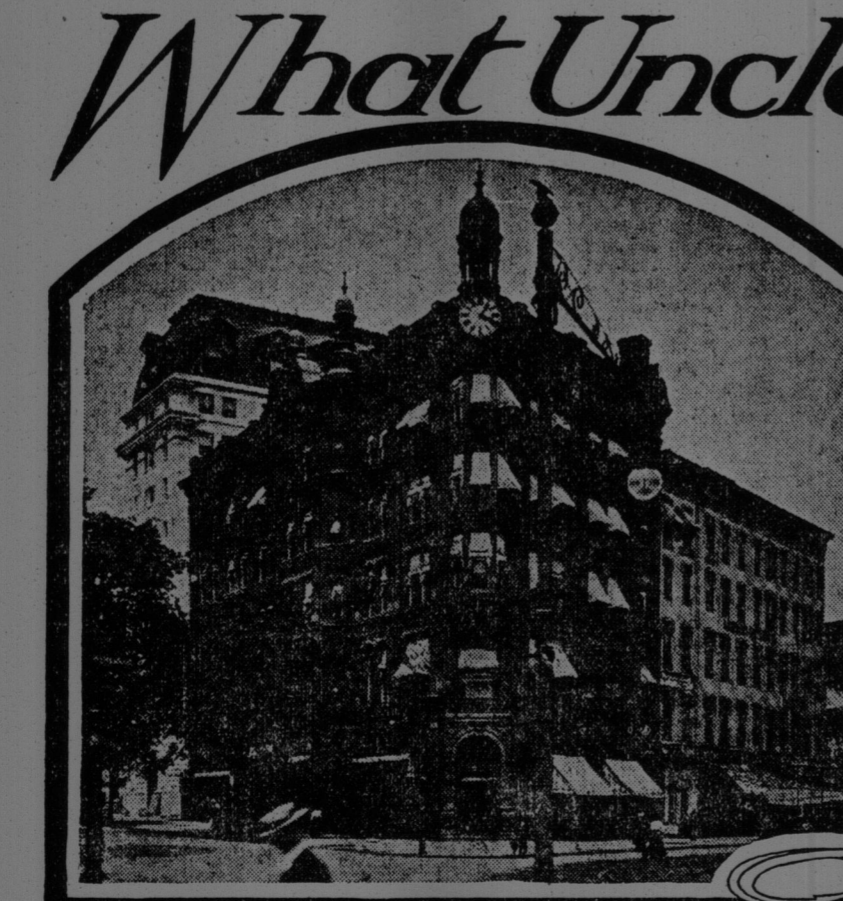

Another important line of work carried on at labor headquarters is the editing, proof-reading and mailing of the Federationist, the monthly bulletin of the organization. President Gompers prepares most of the articles which appear in this periodical. It costs something like a quarter of a million dollars per year to maintain this great labor headquarters in the city on the Potomac and this sum is raised by a system of dues levied on labor organizations throughout the country or indirectly upon the workers themselves. Each individual pays only a few cents per year and this has proven that for the average toiler it is a splendid investment.

One line of accomplishment in which the United States Government has gone ahead mightily in recent years is in the help that has been rendered to the cause of labor. Moreover the aid that has been given to the working classes of the country has not by any means been confined to those conspicuous services with which the public is familiar such as the settlement of the anthracite coal strike, the enforcement of the eight-hour day on government work and the establishment of labor's own branch of the public service, —the Department of Commerce and Labor.

Uncle Sam stands ready, of course, to step into the breach whenever occasion demands in an effort to secure a "square deal" and living wages for the toiling masses but even when there are no clouds on the horizon of the relations between capital and labor this paternal government is busily engaged with the problem of promoting the welfare of those who labor with hands or brain. A number of different branches of the government are contributing to this policy but in the main the work devolves upon the Bureau of Labor at Washington which is, in effect, the labor division of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

Newspaper readers hear of the Bureau of Labor when its head, the Commissioner of Labor steps in and attempts to arbitrate some strike or threatened strike, as for instance the recent difficulties of the telegraphers of the country, but there is not one citizen in a thousand who has any idea of the scope of the every day work of the Bureau in acquiring and diffusing useful information on subjects connected with labor in the most general and most comprehensive sense of that word.

By means of an energetic "field force" and a capable corps of experts in the home office at Washington this branch of the government is continually investigating in all parts of the country such subjects as the relations of capital and labor, the hours of labor, the earnings of laboring men and women and other similarly fruitful topics. What is more, this public institution is continually striving to promote the material, social, intellectual and moral prosperity of the workers. Of course, these government scouts in the labor field cannot work in a rut. Indeed the force is so mobile and the individual workers so versatile that when a serious dispute arises between employers and employees or there is a controversy such as that some time ago regarding conditions in the meat packing industry all other work at the Bureau can be dropped and all hands concentrate their attention upon the causes and work of the crisis of the moment.

The late Senator Hoar of Massachusetts is perhaps entitled to be considered the father of the movement to have Uncle Sam systematically aid the cause of labor. It was in 1871 that Mr. Hoar, then a member of the U. S. House of Representatives, introduced a bill providing for the appointment of a commission to study the subject of wages and hours of labor and the division of profits between labor and capital in the United States. The bill did not pass but the ball had been started rolling and finally after much agitation Congress in 1884 made provision for

What Uncle Sam is Doing for LABOR

BY WALDON FAWCETT

DR. CHAR. P. NEILL, U.S. COMMISSIONER OF LABOR

to Congress once a year on his investigations but of late years special reports have been issued monthly or even oftener and on a number of occasions the President has called upon the Commissioner of Labor to make special inquiry in some field and communicate his findings as quickly as possible.

The Bureau of Labor is in reality a great "intelligence office" that pours out information through four different channels. The first of these is made up of the results of original investigations conducted by the Bureau or its agents and experts. Secondly the Bureau gives the whole country a digest of State labor reports thus bringing to the attention of the general public many matters relating to conditions in the different States of the Union that might not otherwise become matters of common knowledge.

Thirdly this bureau of labor information reviews exhaustively for the benefit of its millions of American clients the labor and statistical documents of all foreign countries and when anything is discovered that has a bearing on labor interests in Yankeeedom it is promptly brought to the attention of the people concerned. Fourthly, the Bureau fulfills its function as public servant by publishing and sending broadcast all new laws that are passed affecting the interests of the working people. No matter whether a law be passed by the national Congress or by the legislature in some one of our two score States is no sooner on the statute books than the Labor Bureau sends the tidings to the toilers who will be affected. Finally there is a similar system for the distribution of news relative to court decisions interpreting labor laws or other happenings affecting the relations of employer and employee.

Most interesting and most important of the undertakings of the Bureau of Labor are the special investigations conducted by its own experts. These have covered a very wide range of subjects. It is of course impossible to enumerate them at length but just to convey an idea of the fields that have been explored there may be cited such subjects as industrial communities at home and abroad; co-operative distribution; railway railroads; the padrone system; conditions of negro workers; building and lease associations; the inspection of factories and workshops; the trade-union label; protection of workmen in their employment; child labor in the United States; wages and cost of living; etc. etc.

In the earlier years of the work people did not in many instances take kindly to the idea of having their private affairs probed for the benefit of the public but latterly this spirit has largely disappeared. Nowadays if the special agents of the Bureau of Labor are refused information by one manufacturer they usually have no difficulty in discovering some other establishment where the needed data may be obtained. The government labor experts have won confidence by never allowing the names of parties furnishing facts to be given in its reports, although, to be sure, they take every possible means to verify all the information gathered. The Bureau will have nothing to do with estimates or hearsay statements about labor conditions. It never makes any statements unless it has positive facts to back them up.

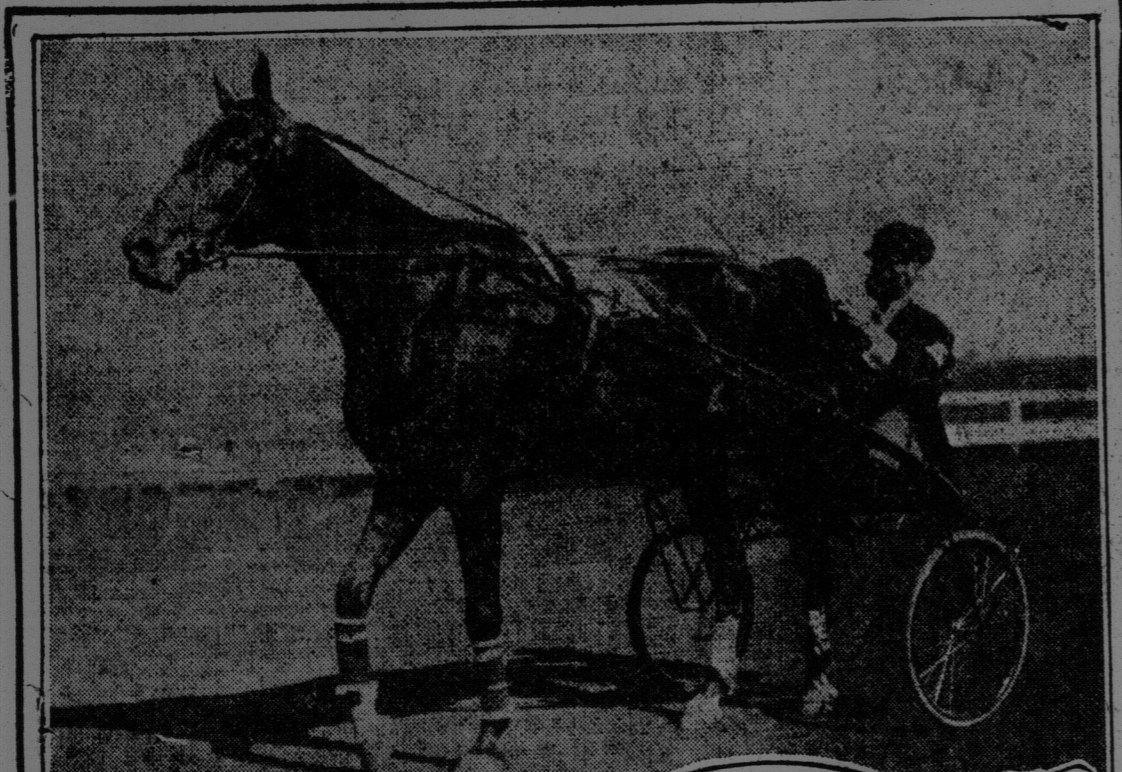

At the outset the government labor experts thought they could carry on their investigations largely by mail, but it was soon found that the people would respond satisfactorily to queries thus transmitted and the Bureau of Labor had to organize a corps of special agents who are continually "on the wing" securing information at first hand and recording it on carefully prepared schedules.

Within the past few months Uncle Sam has inaugurated another aid to labor in the form of the largest employment bureau in the world. This is an adjunct of the Bureau of Immigration, and is in charge of Terence V. Powderly, at one time a recognized leader of union labor throughout the country. It is the function of this new bureau to inquire as to the facts about the reported demand for labor in all parts of the country. Mr. Powderly has opened correspondence with responsible offices in every State in the Union concerning the need for labor and the opportunities for employment in each State and when any workman desires to make a change of location all he has to do is to inquire of Uncle Sam as to the prospects in any section in which he would like to find employment.

DEATH LIST REACHES 75 Eighteen Bodies Have Been Recovered in Quebec Bridge Disaster

Quebec, Aug. 30.—The Phoenix Bridge Company today gave out a full list of the dead, injured and missing since the collapse of the Quebec bridge yesterday evening. They figure out that there are sixteen missing, fourteen found dead, and eleven injured.

It is practically conceded that all the missing must be dead, but it is not thought that any of the injured will die, many having only quite light hurts.

Mr. Waitais, who is in charge of matters for the company, stated today that he felt confident this list included all the victims of the catastrophe.

Although the search for the bodies has been up incessantly by the remaining employees of the company all last night and today, the work proved useless.

It is thought by the officials of the company that there will be great difficulty in securing the rest of the bodies as the probability is that most of them are tangled in the broken girders and cables, and as most of the men were working at the extreme end of the bridge they are thus pinned down in the heavy wreckage.

It was proposed this afternoon to use dynamite in an effort to bring the bodies to the surface, but this was abandoned until the arrival of a number of officials of the Phoenix Bridge Company from Montreal.

The longest single span MONTREAL, Aug. 30.—The Quebec bridge was remarkable in that it was the longest single span cantilever bridge in the world, the length of the span in the centre being 1,800 feet, or 200 feet longer than that of the Forth bridge.

OPPOSITION FOR PUGSLEY

North End Men Have a Candidate—Conservatives to Meet

The Times was informed this morning that a number of former Kings County Liberals and Conservatives, now residing in Lorne and Lansdowne wards, who are opposed to Hon. William Pugsley because they did not like his methods in Kings County, will meet on Monday and Tuesday evenings at 88 Adelaide street, to consider the nomination of a candidate to oppose him. The Times was informed that a largely signed requisition was presented to a desirable candidate, and that he agreed to run if no one was nominated by the Conservatives. Some citizens express the belief that W. Frank Hatheway is the candidate these electors favor.

The announcement of the swearing in of Dr. Pugsley as a member of the Laurier cabinet is followed by a call for a meeting of the St. John City and County Conservative Association for the purpose of considering the local situation and the placing a man in the field in opposition to him.

The meeting will be held Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the assembly rooms of Keith's Theatre.

Ottawa advices are that the bye-election in St. John and Brockville will be called on at once and the writs will likely be issued today.

MONUMENT TO DR. HOLDEN

Handsome Obelisk Will Be Erected in Fernhill Cemetery

A very fine monument is to be erected in Fernhill in memory of the late Dr. Charles Holden. The monument will be erected by the St. George's Granite Works. The monument is in the form of an obelisk and stands sixteen feet from the sub-base to the apex of the pyramid. The obelisk and base are highly polished. The sub-base is hammered and has the name Holden in bold relief. Above, on the base, a wreath has been beautifully carved in stone and on another side appears the following inscription:

IN MEMORY OF
CHARLES HOLDEN, M. D., L. R. C. S.
"The Beloved Physician"
Born in This City January 2nd, 1845.
Died May 2nd, 1906.

This monument has been erected by his friends as a lasting memorial of his life and work; and as an evidence of the love and esteem of all who recall his many virtues.

The monument will be erected near the rear entrance to Fernhill.

Mr. Farmer visited Rockwood Park and speaks highly of its beauties. He says that in all his travels he has seen nothing to surpass it.

THE TROUBLES OF THE MAYOR

Just Read This Letter and Then Have Pity on Him--This is But One of Many Such.

Attention has been called several times to the curious epistles that find their way to the city's chief magistrate. Here is one that the mayor received in his mail yesterday:

St. John, N. B., August 29th 1907.

To His Worship, Edward Sears, Mayor of Saint John, New Brunswick, Canada: Dear Sir: I inform you that you will have to take into your own hands an important matter concerning the "Railway Company" of the "Intercolonial Railway"; for they cause their "Bosses" such "inconvenience" that they cannot get men for "Employees" for they have "pay cars" that come into St. John here where you preside as a "Ruler," and you give no "Mayor's License" and pay their "Employees" from their own "Office" of St. John station; and they won't accept a "time sheet" presented by an "Employee" and if a man does from one day's to one week's work, more or less, he has to wait one month for his pay, till the pay car comes in.

Now this will never do, and in future you will have to get those "time sheets" from their "Bosses" and then pay the Mayor of St. John, and then you will have to send all "time sheets" containing less than one month's work to the "General Offices" in Moncton, N. B., and have their pay sent from there to the Mayor's Office; St. John, and then pay the "Laborers" with your hands. For I warn your worship, Edward Sears, that this Intercolonial Railway are enforcing the Railway Laws and don't go by you or the Laws of the City of St. John concerning paying their "Employees," when they cannot hire "Bosses" and the same men want to go home to some other country. So put this company under the Mayor's License to hire "Bosses" and give the Laborers a Mayor's License to present to a Boss.

A TRAVELLER.
