RECEPTION FOR CARDINAL BEGIN

Head of Catholic Church in Canada on Visit to St. John—Magnificent Tribute Paid Him in Cathedral and at Reception Later in Bishop's Palace

The Catholic people of St. John paid a magnificent tribute to His Eminence Cardinal Begin of Quebec last evening when he was in St. John on his way to Church Point, N.S., for the consecration of Mr. P. Chabon, the bishop. His Eminence was met at the depot by His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc and priests and escorted to the Palace, while the Adepte and other aids were played on the Cathedral chime by A. S. Godwin, Cathedral organist. His Eminence was entertained at dinner, with visiting bishops and priests.

The presentation of an address had been fixed for eight o'clock in the Cathedral and at that hour the great building was crowded.

The cardinal arrived at the Cathedral soon after 8 o'clock and was present at benediction which was conducted by Rev. Father Duke, assisted by Father Cavalier, of St. Joseph's, and deacon, and Father Costello, C. S. R., of this city, as sub-deacon. His eminence was accompanied by Bishop Chabon, of Sherbrooke; Bishop O'Leary, of Chatham; Bishop O'Leary of Chateaufort; Bishop LeBlanc of this city; Very Revs. Mr. Doucet, of Grand Anse; Mr. Belliveau, of the diocese; Mr. Hebert, of Butcher; Mr. Dupuis, St. Basil; Canon Arseneau, of Quebec; Canon C. Richard, representing the archdiocese of Montreal; Rev. Fathers Bouffard, of St. Malo (Que.); Cavalier, superior of St. Joseph's College; Landry, of Sackville; Leger, of Cocagne; Landry, of Capreol; Carleton, of Peterborough; Henri Cormier, of Moncton; Gagnon, of Quebec, and the priests of the different Catholic churches of St. John.

The Cathedral was ablaze with light. On the altar hundreds of candles burned. The throne was decorated with the cardinal's colors and purple and altar the papal colors. The scene in the sacristy was inspiring.

After His Eminence had given his blessing to all, an address from clergy and laity was read by His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc in the following terms: To His Eminence Louis Nazaire Begin, Cardinal Priest of the Holy Roman Church under the title of St. Vital, Archbishop of Quebec.

May it please Your Eminence.

The clergy and laity of the diocese of St. John desire to extend to you their heartfelt greetings, and to bid you welcome on the occasion of your visit to our city and diocese. It is a privilege to have in our midst so distinguished a guest. Filled with esteem for your virtues and your learning, we are glad of this opportunity to assure you that we highly appreciate the honor of a visit from one so universally respected and beloved. Our pleasure at receiving you is endeavored to be expressed when we call to mind the ties that bind us to the Mother Church of Canada, which you represent. As your eminence is well aware, our diocese, historically formed part of the diocese of Quebec, and the spiritual wants of the Catholic people here were provided for by your noble predecessors in that ancient city.

It is just 900 years ago since the first Catholic church in New Brunswick was erected at Medouville in Carleton county, by Father Loyard, a Jesuit missionary, who received his jurisdiction from the Bishop of Quebec. Saint Malachi's, the first Catholic church in this city, St. John, was erected at the suggestion of your predecessor, Mgr. Plessis, in the year 1815. It is also a matter of history that the same medals in Quebec, a pastoral visitation of the Catholic missions in the maritime provinces. The Rev. Joseph M. Bourg, was ordained Quebec by Mgr. Briand in 1773, whilst the first Bishop of New Brunswick, the Right Rev. William Dollard, was consecrated there in 1848. Another pleasing coincidence worthy of mention is that the illustrious Champlain, the founder of your city, was the first European to land on the site of our city. Our beautiful river received its name.

It is scarcely necessary to remind your eminence that when, a few years ago, the holy father had called to mind, upon you so distinguished a mark of his personal esteem by elevating you to the dignity of the sacred purple, the news was received by us with heartfelt joy and gratification. The gracious act by which he marked his appreciation of your labors and crowned them with the highest honor he could possibly bestow, won the hearts of the Catholics of Canada, and established a fresh claim upon our love and gratitude. It is our earnest prayer that God will continue to bestow many years to grace the dignity of your high and exalted office.

As a member of the Sacred College of Cardinals and in such close relationship with the sovereign pontiff, your eminence will be pleased to know that the faithful of this diocese are second to none in their devotion and attachment to the holy see. In these troubled times, when the whole world is disturbed by the noise and rattle of arms and the very civilization of Europe threatened with ruin, we heartily sympathize with the holy father in his efforts to bring peace to the belligerent nations—a just peace, as he himself describes it, in which the moral force of right will replace the material force of arms, and the burden and menace of militarism will be forever removed. Such, we believe, is the final aim which the British Empire and its Allies are seeking as the outcome of this dreadful conflict.

Your eminence's visit on this occasion shall ever remain with us a pleasant memory, and we hope that, when opportunity permits, we will find it convenient to return to St. John, where we can assure you at all times of a cordial welcome.

EDOUARD ALFRED LEBLANC,
Bishop of St. John,
St. John, N. B., Oct. 16, 1917.

The cardinal replied, expressing his appreciation of the large attendance present and of the kindly sentiments contained in the address and the manifestation of fealty to the Holy Father. He dealt with the historical connecting links between this city and his own, and outlined the missionary work done in Canada by his predecessors, the bishops of Quebec, from the first Bishop, Monsignor Laval, who presided over the country extending from New Orleans to the North Pole. He also asked the people to unite in their prayers with those of the Pope in his efforts for peace and concord among all kings and people.

The cardinal said that when he next wrote to the Holy Father he would tell him of the great manifestation of fealty to the Holy See and would ask him to give his blessing to all the people and their families. Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament closed the ceremony.

After leaving the church the cardinal and his suite proceeded to the Bishop's Palace, where a reception was held. Cardinal Begin was assisted in receiving the hundreds who paid their respects to him by Bishop LeBlanc. Those calling were presented by John Keefe, A. M. Andrews, of the A. O. H.; President George Stifford, of the I. L. B., and President W. T. Ryan, of the Immaculate Conception.

The fourth degree Knights of Columbus, under command of George Cunningham, furnished a guard of honor to the cardinal, and the Hibernian Knights were on duty in the Palace during the reception.

The City Cornet Band played a program of music in front of the palace during the evening, and the choir of the church rendered special hymns.

LEMONS BEAUTIFY!

Strain Lemon Juice Well Before Mixing and Massage Face, Neck, Arms, Hands.

Here is told how to prepare an inexpensive lemon lotion which can be used to bring back to any skin the sweet freshness of which it has been robbed by trying atmospheric conditions. Wind-chafe, roughness, tan and redness are warded off or those tell-tale lines of care or of age are softened away.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart pint of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cold cream. Care should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan, and is the ideal skin softener, smoothener and beautifier.

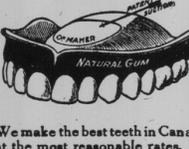

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any pharmacy and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart pint of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands, and see for yourself.

USE CONCRETE FOR NEW MAIN

Substitution For Cast Iron Pipe at Lake Fitzgerald Will Effect Saving of $10,000

The common council, yesterday afternoon, voted to proceed with the work of repairing the main and erecting a warehouse at Reed's Point for the convenience of the Eastern Steamship Corporation, if the corporation is willing to pay twelve per cent of the estimated cost, $20,000. There had been a willingness expressed to pay ten per cent, but the council decided it was too small. The execution of an agreement and the starting of the work hinges now on the acceptance of the offer by the steamship corporation.

At the council there was a heated discussion over the recommendation to forward to Kane and Hing $7,000 on their progress estimate. Commissioner McLellan taking the stand that a sufficient amount of work had not been done to warrant the estimate to date of $17,000 or thereabouts.

The contract for earth and rock excavation and concrete at the Lake Fitzgerald work was let to the lowest tenderer, Moses & Tobias. On the recommendation of Commissioner Wigmore the item for laying cast iron pipe was cut out and allowed to stand, as it was considered laying concrete 42-inch, instead of cast iron 28-inch, to make a saving of about $10,000.

On recommendation of Commissioner Russell a bill of $442 for laying was ordered paid to J. S. Eagles.

Commissioner Russell also submitted a bill of $1,200 submitted by H. E. Brown for plank No. 1 shed, West St. John, and he recommended that it be paid.

Commissioner McLellan took objection that the expenditure had not been authorized, but the mover replied that the work was absolutely necessary and could not be delayed.

Other commissioners desired to study the matter before expressing themselves and this, too, was left over.

The council accepted an invitation sent by Rev. R. A. Armstrong to attend a midday service at Trinity church on Thursday next, Trafalgar Day.

Commissioner Fisher reported having received an application from the Allies' Pool and Billiard Parlor, corner of Peter and Waterloo streets, for permission to erect an electric sign on the building. Council adjourned to meet at 11 o'clock this morning.

Natural History Society Holds Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Natural History Society held in the museum at 8 o'clock last night, the reports of the different committees were presented showing that the society was in an exceptionally good state in every way, and that the membership at present amounted to practically 400. The president, James A. Estey, presided at the meeting.

The report of the treasurer showed that the financial standing of the society was excellent, considering the present conditions, but it was only by the most rigid economy that the society was able to continue its work, and it was nearly impossible to increase the work in some directions owing to the lack of funds.

The curator's report showed that an immense amount of work had been done for the general public, and that the educational features of the museum have not only been maintained but are very rapidly growing. Over 10,000 persons visited the museum during the past year, and a vast number of very valuable specimens were presented.

Reports of the various branches of the society's work were read, and they showed that the society was an exceedingly live organization.

Mrs. John A. McAvity read a most interesting report of the activities of the ladies' association, showing that a vast amount of work had been done, not only in the departments of the society's work proper, but also in the various branches of patriotic endeavor.

Mrs. W. Edmond Raymond read a report of the Audubon Society, showing that this organization among the young people to be in an exceedingly flourishing condition. A report was also read from the junior branch stating that this branch of the society was in a splendid condition.

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, James A. Estey; first vice-president, Dr. J. Roy Campbell; second vice-president, R. B. Emerson; treasurer, A. Gordon Leavitt; corresponding secretary and curator, William A. McIntosh; librarian, Frank B. Ellis; members of the council, Dr. G. F. Mathew, G. H. Estabrooks, W. F. Burditt; auditors, C. H. Flewelling and W. E. Amland.

GIVE UP ICE CREAM

Fredericton, N. B., Oct. 16—The quarterly meeting of the Provincial Chapter, L. O. D. E., closed this afternoon. The exact position and on foundations that will ensure them keeping that position has called for considerable ex-avating work and the laying down of immense concrete bases which will serve as a durable support.

The company is also about completing the building of a new pumping chamber and when this has been put into operation the means for providing water for condensing purposes will have been increased fifteen times over the present capacity and, it is estimated, will meet all demands on the plant in this respect for the next twenty years. The total cost of the new work, when completed, will be $109,245.

next quarterly meeting will take place in St. John in January. Food conservation was the subject of a lengthy discussion. By resolution the majority of the members pledged themselves to abstain from ice cream, as a means towards aiding in the conservation of food.

On motion of Mrs. A. W. Adams, of St. John, it was recommended that all members of the order throughout the province should use their influence to show people the necessity of the conservation of food.

Mrs. John Harvey, of Fredericton, was elected to life membership in the provincial chapter, the fee being the gift of the Fredericton Women's Institute. Mrs. John A. Morrison, of Fredericton, was elected to life membership in the national chapter, the fee being the gift of her husband and son, Roy Morrison.

At the close of the session, the visiting delegates accompanied the educational secretary, Mrs. B. C. Foster, to the Provincial Normal school, where the historical pictures presented to the school by the national chapter were viewed. The St. John delegates were entertained by Mrs. A. J. Gregory this evening and returned to St. John tonight.

U. S. LOOKING TO CANADA.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 17—The Hon. Simon Fees, speaking on the Soldiers' Insurance Bill in the house urged the United States to follow the plans of the Canadians in the work for returned soldiers. The dominion, he said, had accomplished more than any other country in the war towards successfully re-educating and rehabilitating her soldiers.

Best He Could Say.

"What about the bride's culinary efforts?" asked Wombat.

"Well," said his friend judicially, "She can make ice cream that melts in your mouth."

Abandon Belgian Fight To Concentrate Against Russians?

London, Oct. 17.—(Montreal Gaze the cable.)—Hindenburg's new Russian drive has given rise to a suggestion that his idea may be to create a proper atmosphere in Germany for the abandonment of the present lines before Ypres to a straighter line based on Ostend or Zeebrugge. Of such a contingency the Manchester Guardian says: "Supposing Germany decides to create a new Belgium on the shores of the Gulf of Finland, threatening Petrograd, and is prepared to that end to sacrifice the other Belgium, or a great deal of it which is getting rather too hot to hold, what effect would this change of policy have on the strategy and politics of the war?"

Brutal Treatment of Men by Officers—Escaped Sailor Says Belief is That Famine Will Force German Surrender in Six Months

Chicago, Oct. 17.—(Montreal Gazette)—That the German navy is full of the spirit of revolt is the statement contained in a cable despatch to the Chicago Daily News from Edward Price Bell, its London correspondent. The assertion is made by Peder Pederson Dahlgaard, who was a sailor on the German battleship Kaiser at Kiel until last June, but who escaped and has just arrived in England.

DUTCH GIVE UP PLAN FOR TRANSPORT OF COAL FROM ENGLAND

Amsterdam, Oct. 17.—In announcing the abandonment of a plan to requisition ships for coal transport from England, owing partly to the reluctance of the ship owners, the Dutch minister of agriculture says: "The German government has given notice that it is unable to guarantee the safety of the vessels even if they bore distinguishing marks. The German stand is declared to be based mainly on the ground that the vessels might be mistaken for submarine traps. The minister, therefore, has abandoned the idea of recommending that ship owners provide distinguishing marks for their vessels."

Reported Suggestion That $100 Would Buy Transfer from Class A to B—Move for Exemption of Police in Montreal and Toronto

Montreal, Oct. 17.—"Returns under the military service act so far are disappointing," said Major-General W. J. G. O. C. in Montreal. "This is the case with the medical boards and the examinations, so far as troops indicate. The worst of it is that the great majority of the men are looking for means to avoid being called to service, especially with the medical boards. A still worse feature is that some employers, who should know better, are trying to aid their employees in their efforts to avoid military service under the act."

There was general accord at the convention that Alsace-Lorraine should be constituted an autonomous federal state in the empire.

AUSTRIAN OPINION ON RECENT STATEMENTS BY ALLIES' LEADERS

NOVA SCOTIA MEN TELLS OF SUBMARINE ATTACK AND RESCUE

Archibald H. Lewis, of Weymouth, N. S., Sole Survivor of Schooner Minas Queen, Tells of Thrilling Experience at Hands of Huns

Parrsboro, N. S. Oct. 16.—In the form of an affidavit, Archibald H. Lewis, of Weymouth (N. S.), sole survivor of the schooner Minas Queen, sunk by the shell-fire of a German submarine, August 26, 1917, tells a thrilling tale of escape, almost unrivalled for descriptive power and simplicity of language. Exposed to the dangers of an open sea on the destruction of their schooner, the members of the crew died one by one until only Lewis was left, and he tells simply the story of his rescue.

The affidavit, sworn to in New York, and supported by the affidavit of Joseph Harris, shipping master, who signed Lewis as a member of the Minas Queen crew follows in part:

"At about the hour of 7 o'clock Captain Loomer came on deck from below, and called attention to the fact that a submarine or U-boat was following the schooner abaft and a little on the port quarter at a distance of about two miles. At that time the submarine was awash and showed most of her decks including the conning tower and two guns, one forward and the other abaft. She was headed directly towards the schooner and was overhauling the schooner. At this time one of the crew of the U-boat was visible.

"Captain Loomer at once gave orders to keep the ship off before the wind so as to increase the speed in an effort to escape the submarine. The submarine changed her course so as to follow the schooner and gradually overtook her. The submarine came up on the port quarter within about a half mile of the schooner and fired one shot across her bow from the forward gun. Captain Loomer immediately gave orders to leave the ship to, which was at once done. All sails were then lowered. While the sails were being lowered, the U-boat fired two more shots from the forward gun. These shots were fired toward the forward end of the ship but neither one took effect. None of the shells fired exploded.

Nobody Left on Board.

"Captain Loomer at once ordered the boat lowered and aft immediately got in, hauled the boat alongside the schooner and the rest of the crew got in, leaving nobody on board the schooner. We got in the small boat on the starboard side of the schooner, the U-boat at this time being on the port side. We then rowed up to the U-boat and she altered her course and proceeded towards us to meet us. We rowed up to the port side of the U-boat. As we were approaching the U-boat aft immediately looked for a number of other designations, but could find none, and there was no flag or other insignia flying. At the time we left the schooner there were a number of the crew of the U-boat on its deck and there were probably a dozen on deck when we reached her.

"One of the crew of the U-boat came to the rail and asked us who the captain of the schooner was, and upon being informed, told him to come on board. Captain Loomer at once did this, being helped on board by the officer on the U-boat who had commanded him to come on board. Captain Loomer and the officer in charge of the U-boat went into the conning tower, while the rest of us remained in the boat alongside. After a short time they came out of the conning tower and Captain Loomer got into the small boat and told us to row away.

"While we were waiting for the captain to return from the conning tower about a dozen of the crew of the U-boat were seated around on the deck. They, and also the person in authority who took Captain Loomer into the conning tower, were dressed in civilian clothes and to the best of my belief were Germans. I have seen and talked with a great many Germans during my life and recognize the general German type of feature when I see it, and I can state definitely that all of the men on board said U-boat, including the person in command, who took the captain on board, were Germans.

"After Captain Loomer had returned to our boat and as we were rowing away from the U-boat and also away from the schooner at Captain Loomer's command, he told us that when he and the officer in command on the U-boat went into the conning tower, said officer asked him what cargo he had brought over and what day he left Rochford. He also asked for the ship's papers but the captain had left them on the schooner and could not give them to him. He also told Captain Loomer to go into the boat and row away, as he was going to sink the schooner at once. Just as soon as we started to row away from the U-boat it went alongside the starboard side of the schooner. She then fired three shots into the schooner's hull. Nobody on the U-boat went on board the schooner. The third shot took fire and I immediately saw smoke and blaze arising from the long and had one conning tower. In my best judgment the forward gun was a four-inch one and the aft one a twelve-pounder. It was the forward gun which was used at this time. There was a wireless running from the conning tower to the stern railing of the boat. When we left the schooner we put enough provisions in the small boat to last all of us at least a week. When the boat turned over the first time, the bung came out of the water cask and all of the water was lost. The rest of the provisions were in a watertight tank. We had a watertight tank of biscuit. While the crew were eating biscuit from time to time, water washed over the boat and destroyed the biscuits so that they could not be used. The rest of the provisions, consisting of canned goods, were in a galvanized iron tank, fastened to the boat, and were in the boat when I was picked up.

"All of the crew except Captain Loomer, Mate Kaye and myself, were negroes.

SAGE TEA TURNS
GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred fold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for 30 cents a large bottle, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. In the morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. This ready-to-use preparation is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire dark hair and a youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

Make Your Own Cough Syrup and Save Money

Better than the ready-made kind. Easily prepared at home.

The finest cough syrup that money can buy—costing only about one-fifth as much as ready-made preparations—can easily be made up at home. The way it takes hold and conquers distressing coughs, throat and chest colds will really make you enthusiastic about it.

Any drugstore can supply you with 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (50 cents worth). Pour this into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Shake thoroughly and it is ready for use. The total cost is about 25 cents and gives you a sure and family supply—a most effective, pleasant tasting remedy. It keeps perfectly.

It's truly astonishing how quickly Pinex acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and moistens the inflamed throat membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough will disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic cough, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway pine extract and is known the world over for its prompt healing effect on the throat membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with the directions and a guarantee of absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. Write for a free literature. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have Catarrhal Deafness or head noises go to a druggist and get 1 ounce of Parment (double strength), and add to it 1-4 pint of hot water and 4 ounces of granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day.

This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Any one who has Catarrhal Deafness or head noises should give this prescription a trial.

For Sprains, Lame Muscles

Absorbine, Jr., brings quick relief. Keep it always at hand for instant use. Athletes use Absorbine, Jr., for the muscle that has been strained, for the cut or laceration that runs a chance of infection; for the abrasion that pains and the limbs that are stiff and lame from over-exertion.

Walter Johnson, the famous pitcher of the Washington Americans says: "Absorbine, Jr., is a first-class liniment and rub-down for tired muscles, have used it myself to advantage and can heartily recommend it to ball players everywhere."

Absorbine, Jr., is a concentrated antiseptic liniment—only a few drops required at an application. It is safe and pleasant to use—leaves no greasy residue. Sold by most druggists, $1.00 and $2.00 a bottle or postpaid. Liberal trial bottle for 10c in stamps.

URGES INDIAN HOME RULE

Bishop Wedgwood Also for Acceptance of Offer of Huge Army

That England ought to accept India's offer to provide 10,000,000 men for the Allies, and that the trip of Edwin Montagu to India probably has for its most important object the consideration of home rule there, is the opinion expressed by Bishop James Inghall Wedgwood, who has arrived in New York after a tour of the United States, en route to his home in London.

"I believe immediate steps should be taken to arm and munition these splendid fighters," said Bishop Wedgwood. "Indian regiments at the Marne, and they have done heroic work in France and Mesopotamia. Ten million Indian troops, because of their low pay and simple diet, could be maintained in the field for one-half the cost of a similar number of English and Americans."

"It will mean a tremendous sacrifice for us to give India home rule, for we shall lose some of the enormous revenue which English merchants and officials have derived from India, but no sacrifice is too great at a critical time like this, and India, by reason of her already generous contribution of men and money for this war, has won the right to have realization of her loyal aspirations to be an autonomous partner of the British empire on the same basis as Canada and Australia.

"My cousin, Commander Wedgwood, who is a member of parliament, has already introduced this matter, and the government will soon discuss it more seriously."

FORECASTS WINTER CAMPAIGN BY HAIG

British Army, Says High Official, Will Give Germans No Rest

France Wants Munitions—It is Asserted She Would Prefer to Have America Send These Rather Than Troops Just Now

(New York Times.) An official of the British government occupying an important position, who arrived in New York yesterday, said that Field Marshal Haig was delivering the smashing blows he had promised to do, and would continue to deliver them no matter what the weather might be. The Germans would not enjoy any rest during the coming winter.

"Petain and Haig are fighting the submarine, with Italy standing guard at the gate, the official continued, and America must realize that shipping is the chief factor in the war now. "When Marshal Joffre came here last summer France needed men, and he told the government at Washington that troops should be sent over immediately to go through their training over there, but the conditions have changed. France now has plenty of men to hold the lines, and wants America to send over the 1,200,000 tons of munitions which she needs so badly, and let the troops be trained at home. Every pound of food for the soldiers from this country has to be sent over 8,000 miles across the Atlantic and that is so much food and munitions taken away from the Allies. There is not enough shipping available now to send over the munitions necessary to support the American forces abroad in the winter.

"The sinking of British vessels has decreased recently, but the danger of the submarine has not passed. Steamships with a speed of fifteen knots stand a fair chance with their guns of escaping, but the ten-knot cargo boat is always in danger. Much has been written about the various methods adopted to disguise these slow-going ships, but the fact remains that there is the object standing out on the horizon above the surface of the sea which can be seen by the vigilant submarine commanders.

"Referring to the recent air raids over England, he said it would be remembered that during the week when the Germans dropped 420 tons of bombs on English soil, the British airmen dropped 615 tons of bombs at strategic points within the enemy's lines in Belgium, which did far more damage than if they had fallen into cities and killed a number of people, although less spectacular.

"It is better from a military standpoint in war time," the official went on, "that forty or fifty civilians should be killed or wounded, and a few houses destroyed, rather than a regiment of soldiers be wiped out by the enemy's bombs.

"The young Englishmen have taken to flying now like ducks to water. I know one lieutenant in the Royal Flying Corps twenty-one years old, formerly a clerk in an insurance office in London, who is one of the crack flyers of his corps. He is frequently sent from headquarters in France to London with dispatches, and after delivering them at the War Office he drops in at home to take luncheon with his people, and then flies back to France comfortably in the afternoon."

The official said that there was no foundation whatever for the report that Lord Kitchener was alive and would return to England after the war. The whole idea was started, he added, by Mrs. Parker, a sister of the late field marshal, who was obsessed with the belief that he was alive, and this had caused several persons to take out insurances at Lloyd's to back up their opinion.

"The reports that a German U-boat torpedoed the cruiser Hampshire on the night of June 5, 1916, off the Orkney Islands," the official continued, "for that the warship was sunk by a mine are both incorrect. The Hampshire was steaming at a speed of eighteen knots when she struck on a jagged rock."

GUTHRIE ANSWERED

In reply to Hon. Hugh Guthrie, who asked which leader the Kaiser would support, Laurier or Borden, the London Advertiser refers him to a statement made by Rev. (Major) C. W. Gordon (Ralph Connor) in a recent speech before the Kwanis Club at Winnipeg. He said:

"When war broke out, the first scenes were full of promise that Quebec would be full of fire. What cursed thing came across our sky and so changed that promise? We all can see some of the mistakes that have been made. We cannot solve this problem and do our duty in Canada in this war unless we secure the French-Canadian heart and soul. Take that into your hearts and listen to no man who will tell you we can do without Quebec. Let there be anything like civil discord in this crisis, and you give aid and comfort to the Germans to the extent of fifteen or twenty divisions of men, for nothing would rejoice the heart of the foe like a division in the ranks of those whom the Germans had come to regard as their fiercest and most ingenious opponents."

At a meeting of the Municipal Chapter, I. O. D. E., in Toronto, with the regent, Mrs. R. S. Wilson, in the chair, a very important resolution was moved by Mrs. Angus MacMurchy. The resolution read:

"Whereas, we are of the opinion that owing to the extensive use of fancy-colored wool being knitted into garments for personal use, the demand for and manufacture of such wool very seriously decreases the manufacture of the amount required for the making of socks and other articles so necessary for the comfort of our soldiers at the front.

"Be it resolved, that we, the members of the Municipal Chapter of the Empire, representing about 3,500 women in this city, desire to place ourselves on record as being opposed to the manufacture of fancy-colored wool, sledge ourselves to refrain from the purchase of any such wool, and to devote all the time at our disposal to the knitting of socks and soldier comforts only, until the end of the war."

GERMANY TO EXTEND WAR ZONE TO COASTS OF CANADA AND U. S.

LONDON, Oct. 16.—ACCORDING TO NEWS FROM BERLIN IN AN UNDATED DESPATCH RECEIVED BY THE ADMIRALTY BY WIRELESS PRESS, GERMANY IS EXPECTED SHORTLY TO DECLARE THE COASTS OF THE UNITED STATES, CANADA AND CUBA WAR ZONES.

Apparently there has been no cessation in the hurried programme of the Germans to seize in its entirety the Russian island of Oesel, at the head of the Gulf of Finland. But although their troops have now taken the greater portion of the island, the aid they expected from their fleet in putting down Russian opposition in adjacent waters is meeting with considerable resistance from the Russian warships.

The Russians are disinclined to throw their naval vessels into a general engagement with the invaders, fearing that the superiority of the Germans would result in losses to them, which would leave open the pathway through the Gulf of Finland up to Petrograd.

But in a small battle with torpedo craft and possibly light cruisers, the Russians have sunk two German torpedo boats and damaged two others to the north of Oesel Island, while the Russians themselves lost a torpedo boat destroyer. The German ships, which were accompanied by a battleship, put to sea after the engagement.

"Intolerance" Opens Three Days' Engagement At St. Andrew's Rink Tomorrow

D. W. Griffith's world-embracing spectacle opens its three day engagement at St. Andrew's Rink tomorrow evening, on Friday and Saturday a matinee will be given starting at 2:30 o'clock, the evening performances will start at 8:15 sharp. The stage has seen productions of great magnificence, but they seem paltry and tawdry when compared with the far-reaching, all-embracing story of the fruits of intolerance throughout the ages. Mighty Babylon seems but a few years away. On speed the story and Jerusalem the Golden is restored to its ancient grandeur. Old Paris is reborn and weak-minded Charles is on the throne and his malevolent mother, Catherine de Medici, begins to weave the web of evil. The luxurious feast of Belshazzar spreads before your eyes in sumptuous halls over a mile in length. Again you are in Judaea at the marriage in Cana and in the twinkling of an eye medieval Paris is again before you. Not for one brief moment does the story lag. Each story helps and supplements the other. Greater and greater grows the wonder of it all, a wonder that words cannot describe. An unceasing delight is the splendid musical score accompanying the scenes, played by a large symphony orchestra. Seats are on sale at the Kodak Store, J. M. Roache & Co., Limited, 94-96 King street.

May Be Changes In New Cabinet

(Special to The Telegraph.) Ottawa, Oct. 16.—Despite the fact that Sir Edward Kemp has already been sworn in as overseas minister of militia in succession to Sir George Perley, there is still some uncertainty as to whether Sir Edward will actually take over the position and go across the water. He was never entirely enamored of the position, and it is stated, is not in very good health in any case. It is more than probable that Sir James Loughheed will go after all and that Sir Edward will take over the work of the military hospitals commission of which Sir James Loughheed is now the chairman.

In connection with the latter commission the question of dual authority over the medical end has, it is understood, been settled at last. It is believed that the army medical service will have full charge of that end of the work. The position of adjutant general, which was recently held by Major General Melburn will, it is believed, be filled by an overseas man with the rank of brigadier.

The government is still awaiting the reply of Premier Murray of Nova Scotia to requests that he enter the union cabinet. It is expected that he will give his answer tomorrow. In case he comes in the name of Hon. W. S. Fielding has been mentioned here as his probable successor to the premiership.

COAL AND IRON IN ENEMY HANDS

Disadvantages Under Which France Entered War

Her Achievement a Miracle—Germany Controlled Almost All French Mines and Blast Furnaces

London, Oct. 16.—In the course of an article on the future of Alsace-Lorraine, printed in the Times the writer says: "In 1871 Germany was permitted to annex yet another slice of France and add another million and a half to the already huge population from which she draws her armies. This time there was no question of adjusting the European balance. The other powers stood with folded hands while the nouveau riche of Europe moved her neighbor's landmark one stage farther back, besides helping herself to her neighbor's son and daughters, and appropriated some of the most valuable of her iron mines. Two-thirds of the blast furnaces, an invaluable addition, conveniently situated to the coal fields in the Sarre basin, had already been transferred from France to Germany as part of the one-sided bargain of 1871.

"Up to the beginning of the present war few people realized the extent of the mischief then done. In 1871 France had been shorn of some of her possessions as a matter of precaution. In 1871 she was fairly and squarely beaten and had to pay the penalty. That was the generally accepted opinion until 1914, and when it was too late it began to be realized that Germany had been allowed to take a far stronger position than which France, in the supposed interests of the common safety, had been deprived a century before. As a result the Breilongwy iron was of infinitely greater importance, because the German iron fields on the other side of the Rhine were of so limited an extent that of 28,000,000 tons of iron ore extracted in 1913 from German soil 21,000,000 tons came from Lorraine, and, too, without the Breilongwy iron, and many more millions of which they were successor, the war which probably never had been begun. And without the further millions brought to the surface during the war—if only the French could have made an advance of three miles on a front of ten miles, so as to have occupied the German part of the mining area, instead of being compelled by the suddenness of the attack to retire and leave their own at the mercy of the enemy—it could never have been continued, and the worth of the Breilongwy iron mines to the German marauders.

But even this was only part of the incalculable advantage gained by the 1871 frontier. It presented them with a jumping off ground so conveniently placed that once they had violated the neutral soil of Belgium and Luxembourg it placed them at one bound in the centre of the chief coal and iron districts of France. By the time the battle of the Marne was fought 90, 86, 78 and 76 per cent. of her normal production of iron ore, cast iron, coal and steel respectively were in German hands, besides 95 out of a total of 1,277 blast furnaces.

Germany for the purposes of the war had had at its disposal the coal and iron manufactures to count upon, plus 83 per cent. of those belonging to France, yet France not only has been able to carry on but has increased with incredible and wholly unprecedented figure her output of guns and warlike munitions. That is one of the miracles of the war.

A. B. BENTLEY ONLY NEW MAN IN COUNTY COUNCIL

Much interest was taken in the municipal elections yesterday and it is stated that a good vote was polled. There was no contest in Musquash, W. J. Shanklin was the only one of the old board who will not return.

BANK MANAGER URGES ECONOMY

A meeting of the directors of the Bank of Nova Scotia will be held in the board rooms in the Prince William street office building at 10 o'clock tomorrow. The president of the bank; Charles Archibald, vice-president; George Campbell, James Manchester and Dr. W. H. White are also in the city. The general manager of the bank, and H. A. Fleming, secretary to the board, are also in the city.

In an interview, Mr. Richardson said: "Owing to the immense financial burdens Great Britain has already undertaken and is further faced by she has intimated that she can continue to purchase in Canada only such supplies as can be financed by Canada herself."

"Mr. Thomas White assisted by the banks is doing everything possible to meet the situation. But the continuous co-operation of all our people is essential to what has to be accomplished. Our prosperity results largely from the war. Therefore if any special incentive be needed to induce people to contribute generously of their means it may be found in that fact.

It is expected that Mr. Morash will accept and arrangements were made for his induction early in November. A student graduate of Pine Hill College, Halifax, applied for ordination, which was granted. Mr. Prince was appointed to Fort Kent congregation and will be ordained there in the near future.

Shanklin was the only one of the old board who will not return.

The keenest contest was in St. Martins, where five men were in the field. In addition to the old councillors, C. F. Black and W. B. Bentley ran. The results follow: W. B. Bentley, 290; Robert Bowland, 184; John A. Howard, 182; C. F. Black, 177; S. J. Shanklin, 159.

In Lancaster the three old councillors had only one new candidate to oppose them—Glendon H. Allen, and he, running alone, was defeated. The results follow: James E. Bryant, 381; J. T. O'Brien, 370; William Golding, 367; Glendon H. Allen, 290.

In Simonds there were six candidates for three seats, but the old men were returned. Following are the totals: Thomas B. Carson, 302; Henry Shillington, 295; G. Fred Stephenson, 288; Jeremiah M. Donovan, 239; H. B. Harrington, 228; Martin Dolan, 229.

In Fairville there was considerable complaint about the fact that polling booths were open until 6 o'clock, while they should close at 4. Several people were asking an explanation for this, whether it was a misunderstanding on the part of the returning officer, or due to some other reason.

PRESIDENT ELIOT GRIEVES FRIENDS

Suggestion For Peace Conference Not Welcomed

Only Pro-Germans Approve

Court of Arbitration of Disinterested Persons Could Not Arrange Acceptable Terms While War Still Progresses

(Toronto Mail and Empire) Dr. Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, has been one of the staunchest of the Allies' champions in the United States from the beginning of the war. Long before the United States had any definite cause of complaint against Germany, Dr. Eliot asserted that his people ought to be in the fight for humanity's sake. He now is suggesting that formal steps toward peace should now be taken; that delegates from all the belligerent nations, in proportion to their population, should meet to discover whether the questions which remain at issue could not be determined by some other means except by the continuation of the war. The delegates would have no power to commit their respective governments; they would merely report back, and if it appeared that the war could be arbitrated, the governments could then proclaim an armistice.

Dr. Eliot admits that his suggestion was received with no favor either by the newspapers or by those who answered him personally. He was understood, he says, to do not say that the war ought to stop while the conference is proceeding; on the contrary, it should be vigorously continued. This does not appear logical, for while the conference was in session there might be a naval engagement or a battle that would change the whole position of affairs. A court of arbitration composed of absolutely disinterested neutrals might make awards without any reference to such a fact, for instance, as that the Germans had been forced to relinquish Belgium since the court rose on the previous afternoon, but no British delegates could escape being influenced by the event. The German delegates would be inclined to abate or increase their claims, according as their armies seemed retreating or advancing. It is plain while the war goes on, and especially as the moment approaches when a military decision may be expected, that it would be idle for unofficial delegates to meet.

A Pro-German Proposition In his efforts to show that his original proposals were not as objectionable and fantastic as they appeared, Dr. Eliot goes further than he would wish, or at least than he would not wish, his friends could wish. He says that although Germany began barbarities, both sides are now committing them. He remarks: "From the point of view of humanity, there is not much difference between sinking a submarine at sight and sinking a British freighter in the same brutal way, or between starving the people of Germany, if possible, by blockade and embargo, and starving the British people, if possible, by means of submarine. Every humane person must long to be relieved of the necessity of taking part in warfare of that kind." Undoubtedly, if the Kaiser could induce the Allies to sit down with him in conference on this basis he would think that he had achieved the greatest triumph of his career. If, instead of saying there is no "much" difference, Dr. Eliot had said there is not "any" difference he would have precisely stated the whole German position. It is against this position that the United States and the other Allies are at war.

Money But Not Men Dr. Eliot says the objects for which the United States has entered the war are somewhat different from that of any other nation. At bottom they are exactly the same. As Lord Northcliffe said the other day, the United States is in the war to make the world safe for the United States. We are sure that Dr. Eliot was among those who said that the United States had a choice of fighting Germany now with most of the world's arms and fighting Germany single-handed later on. If he did not say it, he must know it. He continues: "The American people will gladly sacrifice money instead of sons, if they can discover the way to accomplish in that manner the objects for which they declared war on Germany." This might easily be understood to mean that instead of sending an army to France the United States should supply the Allies with food and munitions, which was the alternative that the Hearst papers suggested after the United States had definitely entered the war.

The War Comes Close No doubt his sound judgment has been brought to bear on the matter. Instead of gallant young Americans marching to the ships that were to convey them to France, the war has suddenly been brought home to them. Instead of being 3,000 miles away it rubs shoulders with him, its fierce, hot breath scorches his face. He shrinks in horror at the thought of further bloodshed. This is natural. It is natural, perhaps, for a soldier to tremble and hesitate when the order comes for the first time to go to the front. The soldier must conquer this feeling unless he is willing to be shot by one of his own officers. So must Dr. Eliot conquer his humanitarian feelings if he is not to pass from public view amid the lamentable ruins of a once fine reputation. What the feeling is regarding him in the United States he could not gather from a remark in the Boston Transcript, published almost at the gates of Harvard: "We are glad at least that the author of this suggestion took his proclamation out of New England to proclaim it."

Strange Recovery From Shell Shock The following incident comes from the Jewish Street Hospital in Dublin: Six months ago Private Stephen Conroy, of the Leinster Regiment, was knocked down and stunned by the concussion of a shell which burst near him. He was unconscious for five days, and when he recovered consciousness he could neither speak nor hear. Conroy had prayed without ceasing for the return of his senses. The doctor saw him at eleven o'clock last Saturday morning, and his condition then showed no improvement. Twenty-four hours later the doctor found him sitting up, talking, and able to hear as well as ever; and Conroy then told the story of a strange visitation. He said that at two o'clock that morning he was awakened and saw the dim figure of a woman standing by his bedside. The woman turned to him and told him to continue to pray. He became so alarmed that he shouted, and then found that he had recovered not only his speech, but his hearing.

Madame Lydia Kyrash, a famous Russian dancer, who has returned to London from Petrograd, had some exciting experiences during the revolution, and she relates incidents that are of no small interest. With the idea of improving the relations between the soldiers and their officers, she says, some soldiers were promoted from the ranks. Of course (she remarks), many of the new officers were illiterate. Now I do not want to take your hard. The czar was very much over-acted at the officer's rejoinder, and stretched his hands to the boy, he took hold forcibly of his hands and shook them, saying: "You are wrong, I did not do so."

HEAT TALES OF BOER WAR Under a perfect sky and warm sunshine, many of the men were lolling about the camp on the greensward reading books provided by the American Y. M. C. A. when not drilling or exploring the surrounding country, to permit which the bounds of the camp had been fixed on a liberal scale. In an adjoining camp occupied by South African troops, the Americans enjoyed long conversations with veterans of the South African war and were particularly interested while getting their stories of that stubborn fight put up by the Boers to find that about as many of the men had fought against England as fought under the Union Jack. HE WAS HIS SON The late Dr. Marks, a man of the David Livingstone type, who did good work in Burma, gives in his volume "Fifty Years in Burma," some delightful stories. He tells one which illustrates the difficulties of schoolmastering in a country of early marriages. A master once called up a boy whom he had caught bullying a small boy in the play ground and thrashed him. When he explained, "It is time for you to know that I do not allow big boys to bully small boys in my school," the big boy explained, "Please, sir, he's my son."

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FEVERISH CHILD

If Little Stomach is Sour, Liver Torpid or Bowels Clogged

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, sour bile and fermenting food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered. When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No difference what all your little one has, whether a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomach-ache, bad breath, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle. Beware of counterfeit fig-syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

SWEDEN'S LOSS CANADA'S GAIN IN PULP EXPORT

Political Trouble With Britain And States Extends Market For Canada

Scarcity of Sulphur As Allies Control Supply—Close Race for United States Orders—Exchange Hits Sweden—Canadian Mills Work for Efficiency

(Special to The Financial Post) Montreal.—The proclamation by Great Britain against trading with Sweden and with Norway except under close restrictions is likely to work out advantageously for the newsprint and pulp mills, including Albitia, Laurentide and Riorden, have ceased their capacity to a considerable extent during the present year. Sweden has been, even in Canada, the great rival of the Canadian mills in the sale of pulp. For many years that country practically monopolized the British market, and far outside the Canadian mills in the United States field. The art of manufacturing sulphite pulp, bleached pulp and kraft sulphite has been perfected in Sweden beyond that of any other country. Besides the advantage of machinery the Swedish mills were able to borrow money far below the Canadian rates, and the labor market offered even greater aids to supremacy.

Embargo a Culmination The embargo established by Great Britain is merely the culmination of a series of favoring conditions that have gradually been established. The direct result is expected to be the shutting off by Sweden of exports of pulp to English customers, as was done early this year when the shipment of coal was interfered with and restrictions placed on the import of pulp by English newsprint mills. Canadian shipments of pulp since then have gone forward more or less regularly until July, when it became much more difficult to secure space, with the addition of this year's crop of wheat as a competitor for space with other food and munitions, the outlook for fall shipments would not be bright were it not that the demands of the newspapers are likely to prove successful where the claims of the ordinary commodity might fall on deaf ears.

But it is to the United States market that the Canadian mills look for a more immediate development of their trade. The new political exchanges between that country and Sweden are likely to work out as follows, according to a statement to The Financial Post by T. J. Stevenson, sales manager of the Riorden Pulp and Paper Company, who has made a close study of the essence of the Riorden business, the export of pulp.

"With her exports of pulp to Great Britain cut off, Sweden might be expected to prevent very few charges and meet all the other difficulties in getting the goods across. This, with the present price of Canadian pulp, would almost prohibit the import of Swedish pulp into the United States.

"There is another feature of the exchange question that works in our interest; the United States buyer of pulp might say that to overcome the difference he would take $100,000 and go over to Sweden."

THE CZAR'S JAILER. Madame Lydia Kyrash, a famous Russian dancer, who has returned to London from Petrograd, had some exciting experiences during the revolution, and she relates incidents that are of no small interest. With the idea of improving the relations between the soldiers and their officers, she says, some soldiers were promoted from the ranks. Of course (she remarks), many of the new officers were illiterate. Now I do not want to take your hard. The czar was very much over-acted at the officer's rejoinder, and stretched his hands to the boy, he took hold forcibly of his hands and shook them, saying: "You are wrong, I did not do so."

HEAT TALES OF BOER WAR Under a perfect sky and warm sunshine, many of the men were lolling about the camp on the greensward reading books provided by the American Y. M. C. A. when not drilling or exploring the surrounding country, to permit which the bounds of the camp had been fixed on a liberal scale. In an adjoining camp occupied by South African troops, the Americans enjoyed long conversations with veterans of the South African war and were particularly interested while getting their stories of that stubborn fight put up by the Boers to find that about as many of the men had fought against England as fought under the Union Jack. And

HE WAS HIS SON The late Dr. Marks, a man of the David Livingstone type, who did good work in Burma, gives in his volume "Fifty Years in Burma," some delightful stories. He tells one which illustrates the difficulties of schoolmastering in a country of early marriages. A master once called up a boy whom he had caught bullying a small boy in the play ground and thrashed him. When he explained, "It is time for you to know that I do not allow big boys to bully small boys in my school," the big boy explained, "Please, sir, he's my son."

A COMPLAINT
A citizen complained to the Times this morning that when his son began to tell the military medical examining board about himself and his physical condition in recent years, which had been serious, he was told they did not want to hear anything about that at all, and the citizen said further that the treatment of the young men up for examination was far from courteous.

CARDINAL LEFT THIS MORNING
His Eminence Cardinal Beign, accompanied by His Lordship Bishop LeBlanc and visiting clergy, left this morning on the Digby boat enroute to Church Point, N. S., to attend the consecration of Monsignor P. Chissano as bishop. During the reception tendered Cardinal Beign last evening he was attended by Monsignor Herbert of Butouche and Very Rev. J. J. Walsh, V. G. of Holy Trinity church. The party drove to the steamer this morning in automobiles.

MAYOR HAYES DELIGHTED
Mayor Hayes is a busy man, but today he is as happy as if he had found a dozen eggs or some gold nuggets on his doorstep. The citizens have made him happy. He told the Times that the response of the people to the appeal of the British Red Cross was simply wonderful. Everyone whom he had asked to do anything in connection with the campaign has responded so promptly and so heartily that it is evident everybody wants to help. Not only so, but a number of very handsome subscriptions have already been pledged.

MRS. MARGARET McDONALD
The death of Mrs. Margaret McDonald, wife of Edward J. McDonald, occurred this morning after an illness really of only two days, though she had not been gone here for some time. In their bereavement the family will have the sincere sympathy of a large circle of friends. Besides her husband, Mrs. McDonald is survived by one son, Edward, her mother, Mrs. Daniel McCann, four brothers, Daniel, Michael and Edward McCann of this city and John of the 48th battalion C.P.R., and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Church of Roxbury, Mass., and Mrs. William McGuire of New Bedford, Mass. The funeral will take place on Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock from her late residence, 27 Richmond street, to the Cathedral.

AFTER THE ELECTION
The aftermath of the parish elections has always included speeches by the candidates and last evening in Fairville the usual custom was followed with much enthusiasm. Councillors-elect James E. Bryant, John T. O'Brien and Wm. Golding spoke briefly, thanking electors for the support they had received. Messrs. O'Brien and Golding also discussed the sidewalk question which, they said, would continue to be their policy and made the interesting announcement that they would try again next year to get a bond issue for permanent concrete sidewalks. Glendon H. Allan, the defeated candidate, who ran independently, made a fighting speech which his friends were glad to hear. He had a detailed statement of the finances so that each voter could understand where his money went had never been submitted. He attacked the sidewalk question, and the present councillors and intimated, if ever the question arose again, he would be on hand to oppose it. Mr. Allan received almost 200 plumpers in the voting yesterday and this, he affirmed, was quite sufficient proof that the people were not unanimously in favor of the old men, even though they had won. Mr. Allan polled a handsome vote in Lorneville, leading his next opponent by 26 votes, making one of the surprises of the day. The speeches were all well delivered and a very large crowd applauded the speakers.

FOOD PLEDGE CAMPAIGN
The women of St. John who have enlisted for the food pledge campaign, are all ready for their attack on the city tomorrow morning. They expect to get "over the parapet" at 9:30 a.m., and to reach their "objective" before sunset the same day. It will be a big undertaking but the women are confident of their ability to complete it on schedule time. T. B. MacAulay, dominion chairman for the conservation movement, wired R. E. Armstrong, provincial food control representative, as follows last night: "With every possible success to the campaign now being inaugurated by the ladies of St. John for food conservation. If I can do anything to help let me know."
"T. B. MACAULAY."
Mr. Armstrong has replied as follows: "Women of St. John enlisted for food conservation. Thank you for your kind wishes and offer of assistance. The hour of attack is fixed for 9:30 tomorrow morning and women hope to reach their objective before night."
"R. E. ARMSTRONG."

THROUGH CARS FOR FAIRVILLE PEOPLE
Interesting History of Transportation From The Days of The Buses
Today Fairville passed another milestone in its transportation history, when the first through car was put on making a continuous service without transferring, from Barnhill's Corner, Fairville, to the foot of King street, St. John, and the trip was made in about twenty-two minutes.
Hitherto Fairville cars have been running only to Douglas avenue where passengers were transferred to the main line which involved a wait of several minutes, not very enjoyable in inclement weather. And these cars frequently taxed to their capacity from the North End, Fairville passengers had a very poor show of getting a seat.
From the introduction of street cars along Douglas avenue, most of the buses went out of business and Fairville people for the most part walked across the bridge to take a car. Later the West End service was inaugurated and in course of time of Fairville car was put on the route, going only as far as the Suspension bridge where transfer was made with the Douglas avenue line.
Next came the new steel bridge across the falls with its promise of through car service. From the day the first piece of steel was laid on July 28, 1914, until the job was finished on Oct. 20, 1915 Fairville people tramped across the old suspension bridge with their transfers in hand, watched every bolt and rivet being placed, as one more connecting link with a service that would be continuous, so when no effort was made to track the approaches that winter an indignation meeting was held to urge the necessity of immediate action.
As a result the western approach was tracked and the cars run across the bridge almost to the C.P.R. crossing where again the inevitable transfer was handed to the Fairville passenger who walked the twenty-five or thirty yards and then boarded the Douglas avenue car.
But that was a great deal accomplished. No more freezing walks across the bridge were necessary and the traveling public, particularly the every day passengers, were grateful.
In due course permission was granted to cross the C.P.R. tracks and then the Fairville car was run as far as Douglas avenue, which has provided a very good service.
To those who remember well the original buses and look back over the various stages in the transportation progress of Fairville's history, today's announcement of a through car service means quite an important event.

Manitoba Food Control Advisory Committee Urges Elimination of Duties for Farmers
Winnipeg, Oct. 17.—A resolution asking for the immediate removal of customs duty from all agricultural implements and machinery and automobiles is being advanced by the Manitoba food control advisory committee held here last evening.
A boy aged sixteen years appeared in the police court this morning to answer a charge of stealing milk from the residence of John H. Hanna in Douglas avenue. The plaintiff swore that for the last few weeks he had been missing his milk supply every morning. This morning he arose early and awaited developments. His milk arrived O. K. and later the defendant, who is in the employ of the Pacific Dairies, came into the porch to deliver milk to the people in the upper flat and then took up his quart bottle of milk and started away with it. He said he accented him as he was going out the walk and brought him back into the house and summoned Policeman Covey.
The defendant acknowledged that he had picked up the bottle and taken it outside, but said he had done so only to find out if the bottle belonged to his employers. He said he had received instructions to pick up all bottles belonging to the Pacific Dairies, which had the stamp Princecrest Farm on them. He said it was dark in the porch and he took the bottle outside to look it over. The plaintiff maintained that he did not stop to look at the bottle, but was carrying it away under his arm.
Policeman Covey told of making the arrest.
Kenneth J. MacRae, who appeared on behalf of the defendant, put his client on the stand. He stuck to his original explanation. When cross questioned by the plaintiff he acknowledged taking two bottles of milk from the porch, saying that the bottles belonged to his employer.
Magistrate Ritchie explained to him that he had made a serious mistake by taking the milk and should have notified the police and given them the milk as it was their property. He said he had to consider whether or not there was any criminal intent to steal, and under the evidence he could not find the defendant guilty.
The managers of the Lancaster and Pacific Dairies spoke regarding the case and it came out that frequently there was a mix up in bottles. Mr. MacRae suggested that the managers of the companies get together and try to come to some agreement. The manager of the Pacific Dairies said he had always found the defendant honest.
