Canadians In The Capture Of Neuve Chapelle

Side By Side With Soldiers Of The Motherland In Brilliant Work

Under Heavy Fire But Fortunate—Germans Make Desperate Attempt to Regain Lost Ground and Three Times Are Driven Back by British Forces

Toronto, March 12.—A Mail and Empire cable from London says: "Information has been received here to the effect that one battalion of Canadian infantry assisted in the capture of Neuve Chapelle, fighting with great bravery on one flank of the advancing troops."

"The 4th Battalion has been under exceptionally heavy shell fire, but has escaped lightly. Up to two days ago not a man had been killed, and only a few had been wounded. There is very little sickness among any of the Canadian troops."

"A Toronto officer, writing from trenches, says:—The Germans and Canadians cheer each other. The Canadians sing the Fatherland, and the Germans sing songs in English. The trenches are only forty yards apart." Speaking of the men, he says they are brave, but cautious, and their discipline is splendid.

"There have been some casualties in the Ontario brigade during the last two days. Another batch of wounded arrived at Southampton today. The French people are treating the Canadians with utmost kindness."

CANADIAN ARTILLERY EFFECTIVE

Toronto, Ont., March 12.—The Globe's special correspondent cables: "A British officer on the Canadian headquarters staff, writes: 'All the Canadian units are shaping exceptionally well, though the men are inclined to take great risks. The Canadians are rapidly learning the tricks of this war, besides introducing new ones.'"

"The Canadian artillery gave the Germans a frightful experience. The body of Major Higbottom, who died at the Queen's Canadian military hospital, Shorncliffe, is going to Toronto for burial."

BRITISH PRESSING ON

Paris, March 12.—In a desperate attempt to regain the ground they lost in the La Bassée region, the German troops made three attacks upon the British positions last night, according to advices received from the battleground by the war office today. All were repulsed with heavy losses.

The British forces are following up their success in capturing Neuve Chapelle and have advanced their positions beyond that village, and are nearing Aubers. Despite the German statement that the French campaign in the Champagne region has ended in failure, the War Office reports that the French troops are making "noteworthy progress in this section."

British warships are again shelling towns held by the Germans along the Belgian coast, their latest attack being on Westende.

OPERATIONS BY AIR CRAFT

Petrograd, March 12.—Bombardment of the fortifications at Osowets by German aviators without, however, causing damage, and other operations by aircraft attached to both armies, are recounted in a semi-official communication issued last night.

Rumors About Bulgaria

London, March 12.—Bulgaria is transporting heavy artillery to Janina, near the Greek frontier, according to a Saloniki despatch to the Daily Mail.

Geneva, March 12.—Doctor Ghemadji, former Bulgarian foreign minister, who is at Neuchatel, is quoted as saying that Bulgaria has only one desire—to remain neutral, like Switzerland, till the end of the war.

Wife of Oil King Passed Away This Morning

New York, March 12.—Mrs. John D. Rockefeller died this morning at the Rockefeller country home at Pocantico Hills just outside Tarrytown, where she had been ill for some time.

A Hague report says that secret advices to Berlin from Cuxhaven say that twelve submarines have failed to report at their base, eight of them being among Germany's latest boats.

The naval council, it is said, will soon consider the advisability of abandoning the submarine war.

COMMISSIONER CHANDLER GIVEN MATTERS TO PROBLE

E. S. Carter Lays Dalhousie Payment Before Him

P. J. Veniot Sends Word That He Will Be in Fredericton Not Later Than Tuesday to Lay Charges—No Notice of Sitings Had Been Received—Surely Not Secret Sessions at Departmental Inquiry

Fredricton, N.B., March 12.—A good deal of surprise was expressed by both the friends and opponents of the government of New Brunswick, I repeat, that you will inquire into the payment of $2,983.32 by the Dalhousie Lumber Company, Limited, in the year 1912 for "balance of stumpage account" as arranged with Willard H. Berry, at that time superintendent of sellars for the crown department, which sum of $2,983.32 does not appear among the receipts in the public accounts of this province.

It was of course known that Mr. Chandler had been appointed a commissioner, but until yesterday morning all that was known of his intention to hold a public investigation was an announcement in the Fredericton organ of the government. Even those who are friendly to the government and for whom this investigation was primarily intended as opponents of the minister of public works and his official staff are complaining that sufficient time has not been given.

The invitation of the premier, in addressing the house yesterday, to the gentlemen who made the charges in connection with the Dalhousie Lumber Company's payment of $2,983.32 as balance of stumpage account, which was not accounted for in the revenues of the province, to come forward and ask for an investigation before Royal Commissioner Chandler was promptly taken advantage of this morning by E. S. Carter, Liberal organizer, who had made the charges through the press. He addressed the following letter to Mr. Chandler.

To W. B. Chandler, Esq., K.C., Fredericton, N.B.

Dear Sir: As it comes within the scope of your powers as commissioner conducting a departmental investigation for the province of New Brunswick, I request that you will inquire into the payment of $2,983.32 by the Dalhousie Lumber Company, Limited, in the year 1912 for "balance of stumpage account" as arranged with Willard H. Berry, at that time superintendent of sellars for the crown department, which sum of $2,983.32 does not appear among the receipts in the public accounts of this province.

I will be glad to give you such facts as are in my possession and the names of those who have knowledge of this matter as they may require them. I am, Yours truly, (Signed) E. S. CARTER.

P. J. Veniot of Bathurst was also informed by telephone of the premier's open invitation and he replied that he would telegraph Commissioner Chandler at once that he was not aware he would begin work on one and would be here next day to lay before him certain matters, which in his opinion required investigation.

It is said that the investigation asked for by the Conservatives into the workings of Hon. Mr. Morrissey's department in particular is not to be open to the press and public. Even the friends of the government express the hope that this is not correct and Hon. Mr. Morrissey will no doubt demand that those supporters of the government of which he is a member should be courageous enough to come into the open and speak as plainly before his face as they have behind his back.

If Mr. Chandler conducts his investigation while the house is in session, it will be a distinct departure, and his hearings will no doubt have greater interest for the public than the house proceedings.

The following message was received by the Times today from P. J. Veniot, Bathurst:

"I have wired W. B. Chandler today that I have certain charges to make for investigation. As no public notice of the opening of inquiry was made, it was impossible for me to know when and how accusations were to be made. A friend phoned me this morning from Fredericton that the commissioner had opened his office. In view of that information I wired Mr. Chandler today that I would be in Fredericton to lay charges before him not later than Tuesday next."

"P. J. VENIOT."

A "WATCHFUL" POLICY, SAYS NEW PREMIER

Paris, March 12.—"The statement of neutrality issued by my ministry seems to me sufficiently clear to leave no room for anxiety in France as to the policy the cabinet will follow," declared Premier Ghomaris of Greece in a statement to the correspondent of the Hava agency at Athens, who informed him that the change in ministry had created a strong impression in France.

"In any case," continued M. Ghomaris, "I can add that the policy of neutrality spoken of in the ministerial declaration will be understood and carried out exactly in the same way as by the preceding cabinet, without a feeling of hostility for anybody. We Greeks love France from motives of gratitude and also, and above all, from the impulse of our hearts."

"France will have no occasion to complain of Greece who, on her side, hopes and counts always and under all circumstances on the kindly assurances of the former. Faithful to our alliance with Serbia, we shall continue in perfect understanding with Roumania to pursue a watchful policy, always mindful of the integrity of our territory and the maintenance of our national aspirations."

FORMER ARCHDUKE OF AUSTRIA DEAD

Munich, via London, March 12.—Ferdinand Charles of Austria, is dead, aged fifty-one years. He was a nephew of Emperor Francis Joseph and brother of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the Austro-Hungarian throne, whose assassination in Bosnia had much to do with the outbreak of the present war.

A cable from Rotterdam says the Germans are preparing for another supreme effort to cross the Yser and are concentrating for that purpose.

Attempt to Wreck Steamer—Submarine Chases Red Star Liner But is Outdistanced—Very Active Despite Recent Losses

London, March 12.—The destruction of the third submarine lost by Germany within a week was reported by the trawler Alex Chastie upon her return to North Shields today. He said that the underwater craft was apparently trying to ram his vessel on Thursday night, when she sank.

The German submarines show no decrease in activity despite recent losses. The coasting vessel Helen reported on her arrival at Liverpool that she was fired upon by a submarine eight miles off the Mersey bar. The torpedo missed the Helen by only twenty yards.

A despatch from Liverpool states that the Red Star liner Lapland was pursued by a submarine soon after she sailed for New York yesterday with 106 passengers, but her captain crowded on full steam and distanced the submarine. This is the first reported instance of a submarine pursuing an Atlantic liner.

Zepplin airships or aeroplanes are now beginning a campaign against British shipping in co-operation with the German submarines, according to advices from Shields that a bomb was dropped fifty yards from the vessel on Wednesday night. The steamer's crew declared they heard an airship overhead, but they were unable to see her because of the darkness.

WILL BE CALLED UPON TO SERVE

Some Who Did Not Respond to Colonel Armstrong's Summons—Local War News

The mayor and city commissioners have each received from a citizen who did not give his name, copies of a lengthy communication, which contains some startling figures as a suggestion regarding the way in which the assessment should be fixed for some of his fellow citizens.

The writer declares that business men generally should not be called upon to pay any more taxes, as they cannot afford to pay more during war times. He suggests that the banks should bear the brunt of extra taxation, and that the next in order should be the picture theatres, the street railway company and the owners of automobiles. He adds that every owner of a car should pay on an income of at least $5,000 a year, as he had found that it took that income to support a motor car.

Attached to the communication is a long list of prominent citizens with their present assessment, and the amount on which the writer thinks they should be assessed. If his figures were correct, it would be an easy matter to secure the income the city requires, for St. John would be one of the richest cities of its size on the continent. There are several millionaires, many who are near that mark, a larger number at $100,000 and to be worth a quarter million.

Many other citizens would be flattered to find that they are credited with fortunes in six figures, and there are enough at $50,000 to make up a company in the home guard.

NO RIGHT TO SINK THE FRYE

Prinz Eitel's Commander Appears To Have Got Himself and Nation Into Trouble With States

Washington, March 12.—Three questions raised by the destruction of the American sailing ship William P. Frye by the German cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich and the entry of the latter vessel into an American port for repairs, still were to be determined today by the United States government. They are: What action will be taken on account of the sinking of the Frye, the length of time to be allowed the Prinz Eitel to make repairs at Newport News, and the disposition of her prisoners.

Pending the completion of an inquiry into the case, no decision on any of the questions was expected.

One thing has been settled, and that is that unless the German government offers to make reparation for the sinking of the American ship, and expresses regret for the occurrence, strong protest will be made by the United States government for damages. Officials here are unanimously of the opinion that the German captain had no right to sink the Frye.

It was thought likely that the German government after being made acquainted with the facts, would admit the mistake of the German commander and make reparation.

New York, March 12.—New York newspapers describing the sinking of the William P. Frye as an act of vandalism and wanton lawlessness, for which satisfaction must be given.

TENSION IN MEXICAN SITUATION RELIEVED

Washington, March 12.—Both General Carranza and Obregon have been informed that the prestige of the cause for which they are fighting will be seriously affected in the view of the United States government should they fail to take prompt measures to prevent famine in Mexico City and to permit the free exodus of foreigners to Vera Cruz.

This was the principal argument, it was learned today, in a note sent by the United States in reply to Carranza's communication denying that Obregon has interfered with the shipment of food supplies to Mexico City or had made the utterances which the American government believed might cause anti-foreign riots.

Officials seemed confident that the exchange of notes would produce a better understanding of what the United States deemed necessary steps for the protection of foreigners in Mexico. The tension over the situation has been greatly relieved by the friendly character of the Carranza reply.

American killed

Chicago, March 12.—John B. McMannus formerly of Chicago, was killed by Zapata forces in Mexico yesterday, though an American flag was flying over his house and the doors had been sealed by the Brazilian consul.

DEATH OF NOVELIST

London, March 12.—Rolf Boldrewood, novelist, who was born at London in 1826, and whose real name was Thomas Alexander Browne, is dead in Melbourne, Australia. He was one of the pioneer squatters in the gold fields of California. His first novel, "Hobbery Under Arms," was published in England in 1888, and one of his latest novels, "A Tale of the Golden West," was published in 1906.

With Suggestions in List of Citizens Some of Whom He Puts in Millionaire Class—Enough at $50,000 to Make Home Guard

A practical attestation of the Canadian military service regulations is being made in St. John, as members of the 3rd Regiment, Canadian Artillery, are to be forced to don the uniform of garrison duty in Halifax. When, a few days ago, Lieut-Col. B. R. Armstrong, officer commanding the regiment, issued a call for volunteers for this service there was a ready response on the part of a large number who were willing to serve in any way possible, even though in some instances, it was at a very considerable sacrifice. There were a few, however, who ignored the call to attend a meeting of those of the unit who still remain, its ranks being very much depleted by men gone overseas, and it is these members who are to be compelled to abide by the promise they made on joining—to serve in the home defence if needed.

In addition to the names of Captain Allen and Lieut. West mentioned in The Times yesterday as officers to accompany the artillery to Halifax, Lieut. J. Adams Bruce will also go with them as the third officer.

THE WAR NEWS

It is claimed that the British troops have made important gains in Northern France, pressing back the German lines for a considerable distance. If the statement is officially confirmed it is of great importance.

Hon. J. P. Bass of the Bangor Commercial said he believed the passage of the bill would result in uncovering from $30,000,000 to $100,000,000 worth of intangible personal property in the state.

The casualty list of Canadians grows longer, and this morning's list includes one Nova Scotian killed and two New Brunswickers and one Nova Scotia man wounded.

MR. STEWART'S CRITICISMS

The Clarke government had a rather bad quarter of an hour yesterday when Mr. J. L. Stewart was discussing the presence of Mr. Dugal, the absence of Mr. Fleming, and the matter of that $2,908 which Mr. Berry collected from the Dalhousie Lumber Company, and which was not turned in to the provincial treasury.

ELECTION TALK

The feeling appears to be growing in Ottawa that the Borden government may appeal to the country before the end of the present year. The Conservative literary bureau has been very busy sending out large quantities of partisan literature, misrepresenting the attitude of the Liberal party in regard to the war and Canada's relations generally with the Mother Country.

THE LEGISLATURE

The Clarke government has entered upon the legislative session with a speech from the throne which met the pretty close to the record for length and for lack of general interest. The portion of it which relates to proposed legislation is very short and conveys little definite information.

TAXATION IN MAINE

The question of the taxation of what is called intangible personal property is before the Maine legislature, in the form of a bill to establish a tax of three mills on such property, and requiring holders to make a list of their holdings for the benefit of the assessors, and swear to its correctness if so required.

Mrs. W. J. Davidson, Rothesay, $1. On March 2 the provincial branch forwarded through Lady Tilley a cheque for $288 to Col. Jas. Mason, honorary treasurer of the Red Cross Society at Toronto, and from him she received the following reply:

Dear Madam: I am in receipt of your favor of the 2nd inst., enclosing cheque for two hundred and thirty-three dollars ($233) to be applied to the fund for the Duchess of Connaught Canadian Red Cross Hospital, the amount being contributed by Burnt Church, Red Bank, and Sussex Red Cross Societies. The money will be applied as you desire. Would you kindly convey to the members of these societies, and accept for yourself the sincere thanks of the executive committee for this donation, which as you say may be supplemented later.

I am, Sincerely yours, JAS. MASON, Honorary Treasurer. Money since received is to be forwarded at once and the donors will be notified upon its arrival at Toronto. This Duchess of Connaught Hospital at Cliveden, is to be made the base hospital for the Canadian troops, and now that our men of the first contingent are at the front we must realize what a necessity it is. The society is anxious that it should be the best of its kind, and to enlarge it and make it so, the sum of $233 is necessary. Any contributions toward this fund may be sent to Lady Tilley, treasurer of the provincial branch, St. John (N. B.), and they will at once be forwarded to headquarters at Toronto.

- The provincial branch also acknowledges with thanks the receipt of the following boxes and parcels which have come to hand since Feb. 18: Richibucto Red Cross Society, 1 box. This did not of course include those sent by the local branch in St. John, which had excellent showing of its own. "We trust during this month to have as many if not more to send forward so that the New Brunswick supplies will be constantly and steadily going to do their part in this great work. CATARH LEADS TO CONSUMPTION

Catarh is as much a blood disease as scrofula or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment. It breaks down the general health, weakens the lung tissues and leads to consumption. Hood's Sarsaparilla is so successful in the treatment of catarh that it is known as the best remedy for this disease. It purifies the blood. Ask your druggist for it.

ince are to be congratulated upon the results of their efforts, and we who see the finished garments realize what care is being taken to make them all they should be."

When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

A credit of $100,000,000, for the construction of railroads, bridges and the like is the proposal put forward by Comptroller McDonald, to take care of the unemployed in Canada. One third of this amount would be voted by the Dominion government—one-third by the various provincial governments, and one-third by the different cities where the unemployed problem is acute. The figures that the various cities should subscribe are as follows: Montreal 25 p. c. $8,250,000. Toronto, 20 p. c. 6,000,000. Winnipeg, 10 p. c. 3,000,000. Vancouver, 8 p. c. 2,400,000. St. John, 8 p. c. 2,400,000. Halifax, 5 p. c. 1,650,000. Regina, 5 p. c. 1,650,000. Edmonton, 5 p. c. 1,650,000. Quebec, 5 p. c. 1,650,000. Miscellaneous, 7 p. c. 2,810,000. Total, $38,000,000.

The suggestion is made in an open letter which Comptroller McDonald has addressed to the premier, the provincial premiers and the mayors. It reads as follows: "I propose to suggest a remedy that would tide us over the present difficulties without grave prejudice to our national share burden."

"Notwithstanding all that may be said for or against it, I maintain that the present exceptional situation of distress involves the responsibilities of Federal, provincial and municipal authorities, and the remedy to be applied must be supplied by the co-operative credit of those three. "I may repeat what has often been said that our workmen require work not aims, and I believe that our federal, provincial and municipal credit can stand the draft to be made on them for the purpose of maintaining 'business as usual' until we have emerged from the universal commercial mist which is darkening the present time. "We have voted millions for war purposes and given millions for patriotic purposes, which no patriot begrudges, and we are prepared to give more. We have faced the war situation in a confident and heroic manner; let us face the question of unemployment and distress in a business way, and if our collective credit can stand it (which no one will doubt it is up to us all to promptly solve the difficulty. "To ensure a higher bid for the forty year loan to be made by the three powers, it should be agreed that all three shall be individually and severally responsible for the full amount. "This suggestion is inspired by the preoccupation that is now monopolizing the minds of all those who have the question of public welfare and victory at heart, and it is, I am sure, the greatest desire of every true Canadian to come to the rescue and apply some practical remedy in opportune time.

national, provincial and municipal credit and furnish work for the next twelve months to the unemployed, figured approximately at 100,000, comprising all twenty five to forty millions for wages and twenty five to forty millions for material necessary to do useful permanent work. This amount should be exclusive of what is used for the construction of permanent roads, subways, bridges, thoroughfares and all municipal, suburban and public work where it is most needed, without compelling workmen to displacement of their actual domicile. PARLIAMENT: Criticism of Some Nova Scotia Postmasters—Hard Blows by J. H. Sinclair—Mr. Copp's Maiden Speech. Ottawa, March 11.—Before the budget debate was resumed in the commons today, George Kite of Richmond moved the adjournment of the house to discuss certain unsatisfactory conditions of the mail service in Nova Scotia. He said that the present administration had dismissed many qualified post-masters and had substituted untrained men who, in many cases, regarded themselves as the agents of their party and the secretary of the mails was not always sure. Among other instances he told of a letter addressed by himself to W. F. Carroll, M.P., regarding organization work, being delayed for several days. D. D. MacKenzie of North Cape Breton supported the charges saying that some post offices were haunted by political heifers who had access to the mails. Mr. Carroll corroborated Mr. Kite's statement about the delay of a letter. Hon. T. Chase Casgrain thanked the member for Richmond for bringing the matter to his attention and asked that detailed charges be laid. Sir Robert Borden suggested that any irregularities had occurred through mistakes and not through deliberate intent to do wrong. J. H. Sinclair, of Guysboro, in resuming the debate on the budget, expressed surprise that the government had not yet asked the house to pass the $100,000,000 war vote, of which notice had been given at the beginning of the session. He assured the government that this resolution would receive the unanimous support of the Liberal members of the house. He stated the government for its extravagance, and said that there had never been a time in the history of Canada when there was such a lack of proper supervision of public expenditures as there was today. "It makes a man's blood boil," said Mr. Sinclair, "when so many Canadians are making sacrifices and risking their lives, when 30,000 of our countrymen today are somewhere in the blood-soaked swamps of Flanders, to see grafters, jobbers and patronage-hunters thinking only of what they can steal for themselves, or the reptile fund of their party. The auditor-general is in the career of the floor of the chamber." Mr. Sinclair declared that the late government had lived within its income. If the present government cannot, they should step aside and make way for a new administration. One cause of the increased expenditures, he said, was the great increase in the civil service. Ten thousand new officials had been appointed. There had been other recklessness in making places for party friends. A. B. Copp, the new member for Westmorland, who made his maiden speech in the house at a later hour, declared that he did not come into the house with his tongue bridled because of any party truce when it was a case of offering fair criticism in the interests of the country. He charged that the government had brought the dominion to a state of chaos, so far as the finances of the country were concerned. The opposition did not want to stop all public works, but they believed that if the workman had his choice between more taxation and retrenchment, he would certainly choose the latter. "The British government was embarrassed by criticism from the opposition, but the people of Canada would be embarrassed if the opposition failed to do its duty. They were perfectly justified in pointing out, for instance, the scandal and crime of sending soldiers to the trenches with inefficient equipment and bad boots. "The whole country, he declared, was seething with suspicion in regard to the war contract. It mattered little whether the opposition criticized the government or not, in so far as determining the date of the

Urges Taxing of Intangible Property

Hon. J. P. Bass of Maine Argues For Rate of Ten Mills on the Dollar With Penalties For Concealing Stocks and Bonds From the Assessors

(Bangor, Commercial) Augusta, March 10.—Urgent representations were made to the committee on taxation, Tuesday afternoon as to why it should recommend an act establishing a uniform tax rate on intangible personal property, such a law now being possible under the recently adopted amendment to the constitution permitting classification of property for purposes of taxation.

While arguments in favor of the same from widely different sections of the state, the opposition was confined to Portland entirely. Mayor William M. Ingraham, Fred S. Jordan, the city treasurer, and others, appearing against it.

They feared, they said, that the new law would cause a decrease in the $178,000 ready tax Portland now collects from property of this class.

Half of all the intangible personal property listed in the rate is in Portland and is now taxed under the regular municipal tax rate.

The Portland men argued that the assessors in other cities and towns in the state were negligent in their duty and that, if they displayed the same zeal shown by the Portland assessors, the amount of stocks and bonds upon which taxes were paid would be very largely increased.

In spite of this, the preponderance of the arguments brought out at the hearing was strongly in favor of the law.

Hon. J. P. Bass of Bangor, made an effective presentation of the case in which he favored raising the tax rate of three mills on the dollar. He believed, he said, that the passage of the law would result in an uncovering from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000 worth of intangible personal property on which taxes would be paid during the next five years.

Mr. Bass spoke as follows:— I have carefully examined the proposed act relating to the taxation of intangible property, which includes stocks, bonds, etc., and which provides for a tax of three mills on each dollar of a fair valuation on the class of investment.

I should first advise that the entire bill be stricken out with the exception of the enactment clause. It is admitted that the burden of taxation imposed today rests largely upon equity and this situation would be relieved by making it possible to place equitable taxes upon all, as there are persons who have a tax-paying ability arising from their ownership largely of stocks and bonds which can be so easily hidden from the knowledge of the assessor who now escape adequate taxation.

What the committee should do is to prepare a fair and reasonable bill, providing for a high rate of taxation, might sue owners of stocks and bonds to be justified in making the title of their investments in such a way as to avoid the collection of what they might deem an unjust tax.

I take the position that persons owning this class of property owe a tax-paying duty to the community. In Maine, as in other states throughout the union where the property tax is full local rates has been imposed upon securities, the result has been almost unanimous evasion.

Upon investigation, going back for several years, I have become satisfied that if stocks and bonds should be taxed at a lower rate than real estate and at the same time a reasonable rate, with a drastic penalty for evasion, it would bring to light many million dollars of securities in the state that are now hidden away.

An amendment to the constitution now flows the legislature to pass such a law. That is to say, to make a tax on stocks and bonds at a less rate than is placed upon real estate. Among the other states that have reduced the tax rate on stocks and bonds are Wisconsin, Maryland, Minnesota and Pennsylvania.

In Pennsylvania a flat rate of four mills on each dollar of value of intangible property for the whole state is imposed. Three-fourths of this tax has of recent years been returned to the several counties, the remainder going into the state treasury, but beginning with 1914 all of the tax from this source is to go into the local treasuries. The amount of property assessed shows the same remarkable growth from year to year as in other states. The total of about $100,000,000 in 1885 had increased to $600,000,000 in 1904, about $900,000,000 in 1901 and about $1,500,000,000 in 1914.

New York state has a very low rate for the registration of intangible securities but it is now talking of enacting a law that shall increase this rate, claiming that the burden of taxation upon real estate in the municipalities is getting to be excessive.

It is not good business sense to provide for a tax rate of three mills on intangibles like stocks and bonds. First, it would be an injustice to the Savings Banks in this state which paid into the state treasury in 1913, $480,000; they being taxed five-eighths of one per cent, on investments outside of the state, and three-eighths of one per cent, on Maine investments. In 1914, they paid $466,491.19 into the state treasury.

The same would also apply to the trust companies which paid in to the state treasury in 1913, $38,887.21, and in 1914, $146,091.52.

The Savings Banks were organized for the purpose of giving to the people with small means an opportunity to deposit their savings, and certainly these banks are entitled to greater consideration than the private investor. Savings banks, in taking charge of these small savings, are at considerable expense in the way of rent, clerk hire and other office expenses, while the private investor simply pays for his box in a safety deposit vault, which only costs him a few dollars.

If you should make this tax rate six mills, instead of three mills, it would be a fraction less than is paid by Savings Banks for out of the state investment.

The assessment and collection of this tax should be wholly by the officials of the cities and towns, instead of by the state assessors, and 25 per cent of the amount received should be paid over to the state treasury, the balance being held by the cities and towns, out of which they would be obliged to pay their proportion of the county taxes.

There should be a penalty sufficient to cause every holder of intangible securities to submit a correct list of his securities to the assessors.

The trustees of savings banks, trust companies and loan and building associations, should they make an incorrect report and hold back securities for the purpose of defrauding the state out of their taxes, would be liable to a penalty to be sufficiently drastic to cause private owners of securities to bring in a correct list of their investments to the assessors if they receive the benefit of a reduction of tax on their securities.

It has been my experience that owners of real estate are obliged to pay.

I would go so far as to say that if it be found, upon opening a safe deposit box after the death of the owner, that a proper return of intangible securities has not been made, there should be a penalty so drastic as to prevent evasion in the future. I would go so far as to recommend confiscation of a certain percentage of the securities for the purpose of making an object lesson for future offenders.

State Assessor Bertram G. McIntire of East Waterford, who had much to do with framing the bill, told the committee that it was modeled on the Minnesota law which had been in successful operation since 1910. He said that since the passage of the law in that state, the number of holders of intangible personal property who paid taxes had been increased from 6,200 to 78,000.

He gave figures from Maine towns and cities showing how much of this sort of property was not returned at all under the present Maine law. Its increase during the past 19 years had been 100 per cent, and the total valuation had increased 88 per cent, real estate 68 per cent, wild land 176 per cent, and the total valuation had increased 88 per cent in Maine during that time. The bill, he said, was designed to bring about a more equal distribution of the burden of taxation.

George Pottle of Lewiston, a former state assessor, also favored the bill. He declared that a large part of the wealth of the state was paying no tax at all under present conditions and said he believed in the recently adopted constitutional amendment which permits a classification of property for taxation at other than the real estate rate. He thought the tax rate on the intangible personal property should be at approximately the same rate as on real estate.

into the local treasuries. The amount of property assessed shows the same remarkable growth from year to year as in other states. The total of about $100,000,000 in 1885 had increased to $600,000,000 in 1904, about $900,000,000 in 1901 and about $1,500,000,000 in 1914.

New York state has a very low rate for the registration of intangible securities but it is now talking of enacting a law that shall increase this rate, claiming that the burden of taxation upon real estate in the municipalities is getting to be excessive.

It is not good business sense to provide for a tax rate of three mills on intangibles like stocks and bonds. First, it would be an injustice to the Savings Banks in this state which paid into the state treasury in 1913, $480,000; they being taxed five-eighths of one per cent, on investments outside of the state, and three-eighths of one per cent, on Maine investments. In 1914, they paid $466,491.19 into the state treasury.

The same would also apply to the trust companies which paid in to the state treasury in 1913, $38,887.21, and in 1914, $146,091.52.

The Savings Banks were organized for the purpose of giving to the people with small means an opportunity to deposit their savings, and certainly these banks are entitled to greater consideration than the private investor. Savings banks, in taking charge of these small savings, are at considerable expense in the way of rent, clerk hire and other office expenses, while the private investor simply pays for his box in a safety deposit vault, which only costs him a few dollars.

If you should make this tax rate six mills, instead of three mills, it would be a fraction less than is paid by Savings Banks for out of the state investment.

The assessment and collection of this tax should be wholly by the officials of the cities and towns, instead of by the state assessors, and 25 per cent of the amount received should be paid over to the state treasury, the balance being held by the cities and towns, out of which they would be obliged to pay their proportion of the county taxes.

There should be a penalty sufficient to cause every holder of intangible securities to submit a correct list of his securities to the assessors.

The trustees of savings banks, trust companies and loan and building associations, should they make an incorrect report and hold back securities for the purpose of defrauding the state out of their taxes, would be liable to a penalty to be sufficiently drastic to cause private owners of securities to bring in a correct list of their investments to the assessors if they receive the benefit of a reduction of tax on their securities.

It has been my experience that owners of real estate are obliged to pay.

I would go so far as to say that if it be found, upon opening a safe deposit box after the death of the owner, that a proper return of intangible securities has not been made, there should be a penalty so drastic as to prevent evasion in the future. I would go so far as to recommend confiscation of a certain percentage of the securities for the purpose of making an object lesson for future offenders.

State Assessor Bertram G. McIntire of East Waterford, who had much to do with framing the bill, told the committee that it was modeled on the Minnesota law which had been in successful operation since 1910. He said that since the passage of the law in that state, the number of holders of intangible personal property who paid taxes had been increased from 6,200 to 78,000.

He gave figures from Maine towns and cities showing how much of this sort of property was not returned at all under the present Maine law. Its increase during the past 19 years had been 100 per cent, and the total valuation had increased 88 per cent, real estate 68 per cent, wild land 176 per cent, and the total valuation had increased 88 per cent in Maine during that time. The bill, he said, was designed to bring about a more equal distribution of the burden of taxation.

George Pottle of Lewiston, a former state assessor, also favored the bill. He declared that a large part of the wealth of the state was paying no tax at all under present conditions and said he believed in the recently adopted constitutional amendment which permits a classification of property for taxation at other than the real estate rate. He thought the tax rate on the intangible personal property should be at approximately the same rate as on real estate.

Atherton Smith was able to state last night that she had received the full sum of $1,500 for the New Brunswick ward of the Canadian hospital near Boulogne, with a little over to pay for the expenses of caring, etc. The donations yesterday included $10 from Mrs. A. C. Brock, Robesay; $10 from George A. Chamberlain, and $8 from a lady interested. The donor of $100 already reported is Mrs. James Walker, of South Bay, as was announced. Mrs. Smith was delighted with the response of the province to the appeal of the Royal Standard Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, and added that she had requested Colonel Shillington, in charge of the New Brunswick ward arrangements, to let her know if anything more were needed for the ward as the province would be glad to see that it was supplied.

NO DIVISION; THE ADDRESS PASSED

DUGAL AND FLEMMING

Presence of Former and Absence of Latter a Reply to Premier—Bills and Reports Submitted—Moratorium Legislation

Fredricton, March 11.—The address in reply to the speech from the throne was adopted without division at the opening of the legislature. Unexpected interest was given to the proceedings in the legislature this afternoon by the independent member for Northumberland, J. L. Stewart, who followed the speaker in the debate upon the address and asked many pertinent and searching questions of the government. Premier Clarke was not happy in his reply to Mr. Stewart and gave but little information. "Why," asked Mr. Stewart, "is the member for Madawaska in his seat today and Hon. Mr. Fleming not present? We have had no explanation from that member for Carleton (Mr. Smith), who moved the address and who should be in the best position to know. All that he said was that he had gone to a higher sphere. And yet one of the members for Gloucester (Mr. Hachey) was nominated for the federal house and did not think it necessary to resign his seat in this house and is here today. "The explanation of Mr. Fleming having gone to a higher sphere is not sufficient to account for his absence. I remember the present premier last season, when leading this house, threatening Mr. Dugal with what would happen to him if he charged he made against Hon. Mr. Fleming were not proved. He told the member for Madawaska in the severe tones of a supreme court judge, a position to which he aspires to believe, that he would forfeit his seat in this house if he failed to make his charge good, and since the report of the commission the premier gives assurance to the people of this province that the charges were laid into and were not sustained, and yet, Mr. Speaker, Mr. Dugal is in his seat in this house as calm and self-contained as usual and Hon. Mr. Fleming is absent."

The speech was remarkable, Mr. Stewart said, for what it did not contain. The air was full of rumors and reports with regard to the intentions of the government with respect to stamptage and the cancellation of the leases. He thought it was a friendly act to the administration to mention these matters and then give the leader of the government a chance to make a statement. In his county the question of stamptage interested every one and the cancellation of the leases and the return of the bonus paid certainly interested the whole province.

WHAT CAUSES COLDS? This question and "How to Prevent Colds" is asked a thousand times every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but due to a disordered condition of the blood or lack of important food elements. In changing seasons fat foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the body better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the underlying reason why the medicinal fats in Scott's Emulsion quickly overcome colds and build strength to prevent more serious sickness. It contains nature's medicinal fats, so skillfully prepared that the blood profits from every drop, and it is totally free from harmful drugs.

SOAP IS BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very sparingly, if at all. If you want to keep your hair looking its best, most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it. The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and greasyless), its cleanser and better than soap or anything else you can use. One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The lather dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage. You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

And yet the bald facts are that the Dalhousie Lumber Company in 1912 received a bill for stamptage from the crown land department through W. H. Berry for $22,903.00. The money was collected from the Dalhousie Lumber Company but he had examined the crown land books but he had examined into the charge as made and was satisfied that there was nothing wrong. There had been an exchange of checks between two concerns and the province did not lose a dollar. ince, the cancellation of the leases had a particular interest for the men who wanted land and could not lease them, for the small lumber operator who had been promised fair treatment but was as yet unable to get one acre of timber. The survey of the lumber lands spoken of in the speech should have been made before the bonus was fixed. The public domain act gave that power but it was not taken advantage of. Stamptage Not Accounted For. The collection of $2,903 by W. H. S. Carter, was the next matter touched upon by Mr. Stewart, who said that if the statement made were true it was a very grave matter. The charge had been made in great detail, even the words upon the check, and the numbers of the receipts had been given and there should be some explanation. If this man Berry was guilty and is allowed to go unpunished then somebody higher up should explain the reason. During his speech Mr. Stewart hoped that the new agricultural school would find a home in Chatham, and he also pointed out what seemed to be a necessary change in the school law with respect to the auditing of accounts and the books of school trustees. "We must know whether our asset is before we can deal with it," was the terse reply of the premier to Mr. Stewart's questions about the increase in the stamptage, justice for the small operators and the cancellation of the leases. "That" will take time and money but until then no proper results can be obtained, but whatever is done will be done in the interests of the people. The government of the trust of the people and the first claim is the people's right."

Nothing "Criminal" in Berry's Act. In replying upon the Berry matter, the premier was forced to admit that the money collected from the Dalhousie Lumber Company did not appear in the crown land books but he had examined into the charge as made and was satisfied that there was nothing wrong. THE BOY

John L. Alexander in Searching Address Before Canadian Club—Also Speaks in St. John Presbyterian Church. "Men, there is no boy problem. The boy is as God made him ages ago, he is ruled by his impulses as old and as unchanged as the laws of the Medes and Persians. We have rather the problem of the men and women who influence boys' lives, be they parents, teachers or ministers." In these words, last evening John L. Alexander, M.A., of Chicago, summed up an intensely interesting address of an hour to the Canadian Club at Bond's. He began by putting forward the proposition that the great and free institutions were founded on the moral and religious convictions of their people. He applied this to the North American continent, and spoke of the Declaration of Independence as a "serp between brothers." He then went on to say that these institutions were to be continued through the lives of boys and girls that these same moral and religious convictions must be inculcated into the youth of today. His great proposition was that all great problems of life were settled between the twelfth and twentieth year in the life of a man or woman and illustrated this with the stories of several lives. The impulses in these impressionable years, became passions which ruled the whole life and grew into fruition into practical form. Mr. Alexander spoke of the age of fourteen and fifteen as the high water mark of conversion, of criminality and of choice of vocation. He then proceeded to speak of the three influences which should affect the lives of boys and girls at this period for good. These were the home, the school and the church, while he characterized the Y. M. C. A., Boys' Scouts, etc., as only first aid to the injured. Through an economic revolution, not the fault of the parents particularly, the home had lost its influence largely over the boy's life. He had no chores to offer him to build up character, and the old ideals of religious instruction were gone. No longer was the home the First Altar of God and the father his first high priest, but the boy was sent to Sunday school to get his first vague idea. As for the school, system, although the North American continent had the best schools of any country, there was no cause for congratulation where sixty to seventy per cent of the boys and girls of the country did not get past the eighth grade. The aim should be that the child should know that he might do and do better than he is doing. It should be the property so, there could not be religious instruction in schools and the reading of the Bible was often carried out in such a way that indignity was heaped upon it and the Book of Books lowered in the respect of children. Mr. Alexander then put forward the Sunday school as the one hope of securing religious instruction, and outlined

WAS TROUBLED WITH ECZEMA

Would Nearly Yield With Pain. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS CURED HIM. Mr. R. J. Swales, Harrison, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer with eczema. I tried all kinds of salves, but they did me no good. Sometimes I would nearly yield with the pain, and would pass little white worms. I was told to get at the blood, so I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it has made a complete cure." All skin diseases such as eczema or salt rheum, itching or burning rashes, boils, pimples, eruptions, ulcers, etc., are all caused by the blood becoming impoverished, and while not usually attended with any fatal results, may sooner or later develop into some serious blood trouble, and the entire system become affected. Burdock Blood Bitters will cleanse the blood of all its impurities and by this means cure all skin and blood troubles. This valuable preparation has been on the market for the last forty years, so you do not need any experiment when you give it a trial. B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headache properly to understand the causes which produce the affection," says Dr. W. Ray of Hockton, Ala. Continuing he says: "Frequent causes are: indigestion, constipation, and when the blood is impure. The most common cause of headache is to be treated according to the cause. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to cleanse the blood which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to attend to the cause of the trouble. This has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-Kamnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives course and relieves the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia and particularly the headache of women." When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for nothing is better than "Antacid," and when he has a headache, he should take two or three tablets. Anti-Kamnia Tablets are prepared to carry a few Anti-Kamnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets. Anti-Kamnia Tablets can be obtained at all drug stores.

Was Troubled With Eczema

Would Nearly Yield With Pain. BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS CURED HIM. Mr. R. J. Swales, Harrison, Ont., writes: "I have been a great sufferer with eczema. I tried all kinds of salves, but they did me no good. Sometimes I would nearly yield with the pain, and would pass little white worms. I was told to get at the blood, so I used four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters, and it has made a complete cure." All skin diseases such as eczema or salt rheum, itching or burning rashes, boils, pimples, eruptions, ulcers, etc., are all caused by the blood becoming impoverished, and while not usually attended with any fatal results, may sooner or later develop into some serious blood trouble, and the entire system become affected. Burdock Blood Bitters will cleanse the blood of all its impurities and by this means cure all skin and blood troubles. This valuable preparation has been on the market for the last forty years, so you do not need any experiment when you give it a trial. B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. Various Forms Of Headache

"It is necessary in order to treat headache properly to understand the causes which produce the affection," says Dr. W. Ray of Hockton, Ala. Continuing he says: "Frequent causes are: indigestion, constipation, and when the blood is impure. The most common cause of headache is to be treated according to the cause. We must not only be particular to give a remedy intended to cleanse the blood which produces the headache, but we must also give a remedy to attend to the cause of the trouble. This has been removed. To answer this purpose Anti-Kamnia Tablets will be found a most convenient and satisfactory remedy. One tablet every one to three hours gives course and relieves the most severe cases of headache, neuralgia and particularly the headache of women." When we have a patient subject to regular attacks of sick headache, we should caution him to keep his bowels regular, for nothing is better than "Antacid," and when he has a headache, he should take two or three tablets. Anti-Kamnia Tablets are prepared to carry a few Anti-Kamnia Tablets, so as to have them ready for instant use. These tablets are prompt in action, and can be depended on to produce relief in a very few minutes. Ask for A-K Tablets. Anti-Kamnia Tablets can be obtained at all drug stores.

THE BOY

John L. Alexander in Searching Address Before Canadian Club—Also Speaks in St. John Presbyterian Church. "Men, there is no boy problem. The boy is as God made him ages ago, he is ruled by his impulses as old and as unchanged as the laws of the Medes and Persians. We have rather the problem of the men and women who influence boys' lives, be they parents, teachers or ministers." In these words, last evening John L. Alexander, M.A., of Chicago, summed up an intensely interesting address of an hour to the Canadian Club at Bond's. He began by putting forward the proposition that the great and free institutions were founded on the moral and religious convictions of their people. He applied this to the North American continent, and spoke of the Declaration of Independence as a "serp between brothers." He then went on to say that these institutions were to be continued through the lives of boys and girls that these same moral and religious convictions must be inculcated into the youth of today. His great proposition was that all great problems of life were settled between the twelfth and twentieth year in the life of a man or woman and illustrated this with the stories of several lives. The impulses in these impressionable years, became passions which ruled the whole life and grew into fruition into practical form. Mr. Alexander spoke of the age of fourteen and fifteen as the high water mark of conversion, of criminality and of choice of vocation. He then proceeded to speak of the three influences which should affect the lives of boys and girls at this period for good. These were the home, the school and the church, while he characterized the Y. M. C. A., Boys' Scouts, etc., as only first aid to the injured. Through an economic revolution, not the fault of the parents particularly, the home had lost its influence largely over the boy's life. He had no chores to offer him to build up character, and the old ideals of religious instruction were gone. No longer was the home the First Altar of God and the father his first high priest, but the boy was sent

GRAY HAIR BECOMES DARK, THICK, GLOSSY

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 20 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.

WAR TAX BILL IN NOVA SCOTIA LEGISLATURE

Special Rate of One Mill on The Dollar to Be Levied

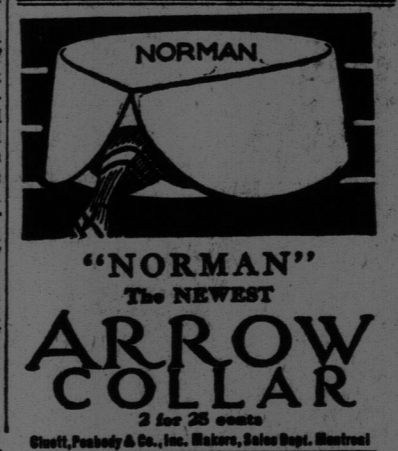

A bill providing for a provincial war tax was introduced in the Nova Scotia legislature this week by Premier Murray. In answer to a question by Mr. Tanner, the premier explained that the bill followed largely legislation that had been adopted in other provinces. It dealt with one phase of taxation of this sort and there were of course other sources for the use of which subsequent legislation could provide.

The bill is entitled an act to levy a war tax to supplement the revenue of the province. In brief, it provides that in every incorporated town and municipality there shall be levied a special rate of one mill on the dollar on all property and income rateable therein under the assessment act, and also there shall be a similar levy in every city on all property and income rateable for city purposes. This tax is to be levied and collected in the same manner as if it were a rate for local purposes and it is to be paid over to the provincial treasury. Where the rate for the fiscal year has been determined, the mill of the provincial war tax shall be added thereto.

To Aid Britain
The bill, gives the various reasons for its introduction. It says that Nova Scotia has granted and may grant assistance in aid of Great Britain and her allies in the present war, and that the war has already been the cause of considerable reduction in the ordinary revenue of the province and will probably hereafter result in a further reduction of such revenue. There has been heretofore no provision for the levying and collection of a provincial tax, and it is necessary and expedient, at this time, that such provision be made and that a rate should be imposed on all the rateable property in the province in order that the burden may be evenly and equitably distributed.

BOLDEST AVIATOR MYSTERIOUS "X"

Keeps His Identity a Strict Secret

ADORED BY COMRADES

Letter Tells of Successful Night Attack on Supply Train - A Leader in Brilliant Feats

Past the curtain of the censorship which hides the battlefields of Europe there occasionally comes some fragment of romance, some broken recital of heroic deeds, which lights up for the moment the sombre records of terrifying casualties in this war of mechanics.

Such a tale was brought, says the New York Herald, in a letter from a French aviator to his sister, in which he tells of an attack on monoplane on a German supply train. The attack, made at twilight, was led by "X" - France's man-of-the-air, whose identity is a mystery, but whose exploits are trench and campfire talk. Day after day in his great, swift monoplane, which he carries for as well care for their dearest things, he cruises through the air, defying German marksmen, automobile guns and the elements.

Through his daring he has become the most famous scout of the French aviation corps, to whom is entrusted the most difficult and dangerous of reconnaissance missions. This is the story of one of his exploits told by a brother aviator:

"One by one the aviators are coming back to their resting place. From a point on the horizon marked by billows of clouds that seem to weigh downward until they touch the earth after they come in a long shivering line. The arrival of 'X'.

Could Hardly Straighten Up For The Pain In Her Back.

Many women suffer from an excruciating pain in the back. They are not even able to look after the common duties of their household, and cannot even walk at times.

The whole trouble is that the kidneys have become affected, and when the kidneys get "out of kilter" the whole system becomes deranged.

What you want is a kidney medicine, for kidneys only. This you will find in Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's Kidney Pills know nothing but kidney disorders, because they're made for kidneys only.

Mrs. George Craigie, Rose Valley, P.E.I., writes: "I am writing to tell you what a wonderful cure Doan's Kidney Pills did for me. I was suffering with a lame back, and for several days I could hardly straighten up for the pain. I had used quite a lot of other kind of pills, but received no relief. Just then my sister told me about what 'Doan's' had done for her, so I decided to try them. I used three boxes and I am completely cured. I do not hesitate to recommend them to all."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c a box, 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

feel they will never recover. To move, it seems, is to die. A numbness that is cold and that is utter weariness encompasses them.

"But now we rest—it is delicious this very numbness." "Hark—a faint buzzing reaches our ears. All raise their heads. Is it a German in his 'taube'?" There he is! There he is! The cries come from all. Darting from the confused mass of gray clouds which brood beyond us, there comes a trim, sleek monoplane in a moment of clear light we recognize it. So neat it is and so clean even at that distance that we know it. Little by little this monoplane, which flies so daintily, so surely, comes down. It is ours.

Off on Night Attack

"Quickly he tells us that he has come down for a purpose. An important German convoy of munitions and supplies is to pass along a railroad fifty kilometers to the northeast. The language which appressed us flies like magic. With a word we are up testing our motors, calling for petrol. The commander telephones the general. One by one the aviators rise the air. One by one they fall into line behind the chief of the squadron. Ahead of us all is 'X' flying high, gayly leading us on our way.

"Suddenly our leader dips straight down; our commander follows him. A great blotch drips away from 'X's' monoplane; another falls from our chief's. Then from all our monoplanes fall these black, sodden things. Where they fall we know not. Our leader has seen something which inclines him to make a fuss and to order us to do likewise. A flame—another—many of them, shoot up with screaming explosions as those things of dynamite which we dropped land on the earth.

"One by one we cut off our motors and slide toward the earth. Always we had bombs toward the smoke which shows in the dashed light. Then we see that at which we were hurling bombs. Along the side of a hill a locomotive and long string of cars are twisting, slowly and painfully. Behind it, and alongside it there are flames and fire. Behind this train is another. Volplaning with still motor, 'X' glides over the first convoy as he passes he drops a bomb. There is a puff and series of explosions. In a moment the smoke drifts away. The convoy, a burning mass, is huddled against the hill.

Bombs Wreck Munition Train "Whirling madly we attack the convoy in the rear, and still another one that we find has preceded the one destroyed by 'X.' Bombs are still falling when we are first wing our way toward a row of houses where, 'X' has elected his home. Bombs are still falling when we see spewing from their doors scrambling figures like black fleas. Bombs fall, smoke and flames rise from the house. Our work is done. The chief of our squadron gives the signal that we are to scatter to make the return. Reluctantly we turn as automobile cannon coming up too late to aid the black fleas in the houses salute our departure with vain volleys of shrapnel.

"Below us as we mount higher and higher the ammunition trains burn. Tongues of livid flame reach us now and then; they are purple, yellow, red, as a new car is attacked by the flames.

"On the black horizon a moving pin of white light greets us; we make for it, for that light shows us all is well and that we are nearing home. One by one we glide downward to the hard, frozen earth, where sappers trundle away our monoplanes after tossing blankets about us. Once more we fall to rest."

Children Burned to Death A tragedy occurred early yesterday morning at Mapleton, Me., when two sons, aged three and five years, of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Archer were burned to death in a fire which completely destroyed their home. Mr. Archer, his wife and his aged mother barely escaped with their lives clad only in their night clothes. Despite repeated and desperate efforts Mr. Archer was unable to reach the children, who slept on the second floor.

Jack Coombs In Form

Daytona, Fla., March 11—Today the best Manager Robinson could get for his superb was a 10-hour work in the morning for the pitchers and catchers. The battery men in the morning were drilled by both Manager Robinson and Jack Coombs. Of all the pitchers in camp Coombs looks the best. He works as hard as any of the youngsters and told the newspapermen today that if he felt so good on April 14 as he does today he would not hesitate to face the Giants in the opening game at the Polo Grounds.

Johnson Joins Washington

Charlottesville, Va., March 11—Walter Johnson, Washington American pitcher, dispelled all doubts as to where he would play this season by reporting to Manager Clark Griffith here on Monday.

Connolly Hits Home Run

At the Braves' training camp in Macon, Ga., the men are all working hard to get in form for the coming season. On Wednesday they defeated the Mercer College team 16 to 8. Lagan, a Cuban, and Strand pitched for Joe Connolly but the first inning Joe Connolly batted three runs for his side, poling the ball into a small pond in deep right for a home run, being two on at the period. Louque emulated Joe's example in the second inning by whacking warmly to deep left, while H. Growdy was already a base. Hank is strictly in form. He made a single and a triple and had a home run, being two on at the period. Two doubles and a single in four times up, was another top notcher.

Red Sox Hard at Work

Hot Springs, Ark., March 10—Temperature 50, clear, red sun, favorable for the boxing match at the arena this afternoon and as a result the daily workout took on something like the semblance of a real baseball practice. Carriagan's pitching staff has started slowly to come into its own and has commenced to show something of what may be expected later on. The pitching squad opened fire this morning in a way that has put a world of confidence and enthusiasm into the optimistic President Lamm.

All along it has been conceded that if Gregg and Joe Wood regained their proper form, the seven other teams in the American League will find it a most formidable task to hold the Boston team in check. Gregg and Wood have yet to get on the slab and burn them across the other spring candidates. Every one of the nine broke loose today in a manner that augurs ill for the battling averages of Cobb, Jackson and Company.

For half an hour the three big left-handers, Collins, Ruth and Leonard warmed up with something of the smoke that characterized sensational performances in 1914, and the warm sunshine added a further incentive to their work. Collins sent the ball streaking across an improvised home plate, while Dutch Leonard batted the sphere into Forest Cady with lots of his usual curve and speed.

Seldom even in mid-season, have these studly southpaws shown more and the only explanation is that the trio is in the very best form it has ever shown at the beginning of a training trip.

DUCHESS CONVERTS CASTLE INTO WAR HOSPITAL

Duchess of Devonshire

Many of the ancient castles that served as fortresses in England's earlier days are now used as hospitals for the victims of modern warfare. One of the historic castles owned by the Duchess of Devonshire is now a war hospital.

The duchess, who is very wealthy, is giving both wealth and personal service to her country in an effort to lighten the horrors of war.

Though Jack Jones has only some some half-dozen years behind him, he already shows signs of being a person of importance and wealth.

"For instance, only the other day he went into the baker's shop at the corner of the road."

"I want a penny loaf, please," said Jack.

"Bread has gone up in price."

"When did it go up?" asked the baker.

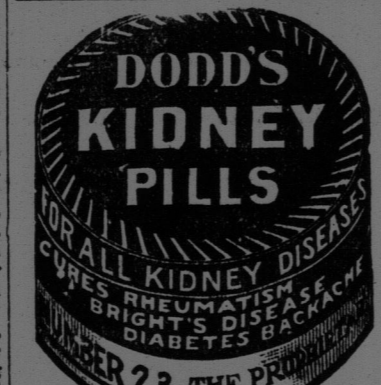

"This morning!"

"Then," said the future financier, "give me one of yesterday's."

Near Relatives "Who is that lady dressed in black mother?" asked Bobby, as he sat with his mother on a ferryboat.

"That is a Sister of Charity, my boy," replied his mother.

Bobby pondered deeply for a moment, and then he said: "Which is she, mother, Faith or Hope?"

S. J. MCGOWAN DEAD

Passed Away at Five O'Clock This Morning at Home in Hampton

The death of Samuel James McGowan occurred at five o'clock this morning at his residence in Hampton, following an illness extending over more than two years, and which had confined him to bed for the last few weeks.

Mr. McGowan, who was forty-three years of age, was the son of the late Thomas McGowan, for many years in the government service on Partridge Island. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Belle Malcolm, daughter of the late Andrew Malcolm of this city, and seven children, two girls, Phyllis and Helen, and five boys, Malcolm, Allan, Douglas, James and Harry. He also leaves two brothers, Harry L. McGowan of this city and Major John T. McGowan, of the first Canadian overseas contingent, and three sisters, Mrs. Samuel Hepburn, of California; Mrs. Frederick Hargrove, of Partridge Island, and Mrs. James Hargrove, of Chance Harbor.

At one time Mr. McGowan was accountant, and later managed of the Telegraph Publishing Company, and afterwards entered business for himself, carrying on a large business as printer, binder and publisher of loose-leaf accounting systems until ill-health forced him to retire.

Mr. McGowan was prominent in musical circles, and for many years was choir leader in St. David's Presbyterian church, besides lending his aid generously in public entertainments, and concerts. He was a member of St. Andrew's Society, the Sons of Scotland, and the Order of Moose. By his strict integrity in business, the uprightness of his private life, and his many other admirable qualities, Mr. McGowan won the respect and esteem of his many friends, and his loss will be sincerely regretted. The funeral arrangements will be announced later.

A HAPPY EVENING

On Tuesday evening of this week Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Thomson of 288 Guilford street, entertained a few of the young people of West St. John including some of the members of the Army Service Corps. The gathering dispersed near midnight, after a hearty vote of thanks moved by William Mason.

DISTINGUISHED HONOR COMES TO RELATIVE OF ST. JOHN FAMILY

Interesting News in Letter From Front From Colonel Jeurwine to W. B. Meynell

W. B. Meynell of Manawagonish road, has received a letter from his brother-in-law, Colonel Jeurwine, who is a member of the British force now fighting in France. The colonel wrote that he had received from His Majesty, King George the distinction of being made a member of the order of the "Companion of the Bath." He did not mention any statement regarding the movement of the British troops, but said that he was well.

Colonel Jeurwine was mentioned in several dispatches for bravery and his relatives here are naturally proud of his achievements. He was formerly a member of the Royal Staff College in England. Since the outbreak of the war he has been chief staff officer of the First division of the Royal Horse Artillery. Colonel Jeurwine was formerly of the garrison staff at Halifax.

His wife, formerly Miss Maria W. Durant, survives, with one daughter, Miss May, who has resided here several times, and who is employed on the staff of the Boston School committee. Burial was in New Calvary cemetery following a high mass of requiem in St. Vincent's church. The funeral was an active member of St. Patrick's Church, M. C. of P.

LASH THE P. E. ISLAND GOVERNMENT IN REPORT OF TEMPERANCE BODY

Series of Serious Charges Included and Report is Adopted by Large Majority

(Special to Times)

Charlottetown, P. E., March 12.—At the annual meeting of the provincial Temperance Alliance yesterday afternoon, the Maritime administration came in for a scathing arraignment by the executive in the latter's report. The government was charged with broken promises, laxity in enforcing the law, protecting notorious violators, interfering with the cause of justice to save political favorites and continually blocking the efforts of the alliance.

It was declared that in Summerside there were only four convictions in eleven months notwithstanding a marked increase in the number of cases of drunkenness, and that at Charlottetown the number of convictions for drunkenness had increased from ninety-four in 1905 to one hundred and thirty in 1914. The chief spokesman was Hon. Murdoch McKinnon, commissioner of agriculture. The friends of the administration were greatly outnumbered and the report of the executive was adopted by an overwhelming majority, many Conservatives voting for it.

Under the new arrangement it is probable that the board will consist of ten men and fifteen ladies. The work will all be carried on by the one board instead of dividing the authority between the directors and the ladies' committee.

COLLISION OF C.P.R. TRAINS IN MAINE

Ran Together, Head on, About 2 O'Clock This Morning

Accident at Bodfish: One Fireman Slightly Hurt But Much Damage Done to Roadbed and Rolling Stock—Montreal Train For St. John Delayed

Two Canadian Pacific freight trains crashed head first into one another early this morning at Bodfish, a point on the line in Maine, some twenty-one miles from Brownville Junction. It is remarkable that no one was hurt except the fireman, M. P. Maxwell, and he is said to have been only slightly injured. The direct cause of the accident has not been officially ascertained as yet, but it is said to have been due to the failure of an operator at Greenville Junction to deliver an order.

Conductor MacNeil of Brownville, had charge of a freight bound eastward, with goods for St. John and other points, and Conductor Mansel, also of Brownville, had charge of the other train, going westward. Receiving no counter order the crews in the case of the engine about Bodfish, rapidly drawing nearer each other until suddenly, before they could be stopped, the two locomotives crashed together.

The crews in the case of the engine were saved either from death or very serious injuries only by the haste with which the wheels of the locomotives began to grind in stoppage with the brakes applied full force as the danger was realized. The collision, however, was serious and much damage was done. Driver Tombs and Driver Robinson, the respective engineers, were thrown from the cabs or managed to jump clear and thus escaped being badly hurt, though each was somewhat shaken up as a result. Fireman Maxwell is thought to have injured himself in getting clear by falling. His back is slightly hurt, but he is expected to be medically aided as soon as possible. From the nature of the accident it is little short of miraculous that no more personal injuries were sustained.

The wreckage for some distance was torn up and considerable damage was done to the locomotives as well as several of the cars.

Wrecking trains were hastened to the scene from Brownville and Megantic, and began the work of clearing the rails and providing for the resumption of traffic. The Montreal train was this morning reported running about four and a half or five hours late because of the accident, being brought around by way of the Bangor and Aroostook line. H. C. Groat, superintendent of the Atlantic division, said this morning that the accident, which had occurred about 1:45 a.m., had resulted in heavy damage.

An investigation is to be begun at once.

WILL DO NO WORK ON VESSELS FROM OR TO VANCOUVER

Longshoremen on Strike and Men in Other Ports Will Aid Them

Seattle, March 12.—All vessels calling at Vancouver, B.C., where longshoremen are on strike, have been declared unfit by the executive of the Pacific coast division of the International Longshoremen's Association.

Under this declaration, it was said today, longshoremen in all Pacific ports from San Diego, Cal., to Prince Rupert, B.C., will refuse to load or discharge any vessel going to Vancouver. This action was taken as a measure of assistance to the Vancouver longshoremen, who went on strike two weeks ago, demanding restoration of their old wage scale, which recently was reduced from 23 to 19 percent by the employers.

TWENTY FIVE THOUSAND ACRES IN WEST ARE SET ASIDE FOR EMPIRE CROP

Moose Jaw, Sask., March 12.—During the month which has elapsed, since the Saskatchewan Grain Growers' convention, 500 farmers have agreed to give twenty-five acres of crop in the empire. It is confidently expected that at least eighty-five per cent. of the farmers of the province will so contribute and that together with the unorganized farmers who have fallen in with the idea, at least 25,000 acres will be set apart for this patriotic move.

JAPAN GETS IMPATIENT

Tokio, March 12.—The public interpret the naval and military activities of Japan as evidence of the governments impatience at the procrastination of China on the Japanese demands.

The semi-official press characterizes as dangerous delusions "the idea of the Chinese that Japan is not determined to insist on its demands and that they lack the support of the people."

HAD DONE DUTY

With regard to the wife of a naval reservist who is now in the provincial hospital and her children in the Municipal Home, C. B. Allan, treasurer of the Patriotic Fund, wishes it pointed out that there can be no reflections upon that organization in connection with this case. The women at the time she became arranged was receiving regular assistance from the fund, and both money and uncashed checks were found by the friends who interested themselves in her when she became mentally unable to care for her home. While her children are in the Municipal Home, their interests are being looked after by the officers of the Patriotic Fund. At no time was she in extreme want or without money.
