ENGLAND STIRRED BY CRISIS IN CANADA

OUTCOME OF NEW VOTE AWAITED WITH INTEREST

Hopes That Constitutional Issue, Raised During Last Few Days, Will Be Forgotten in Campaign

OTTAWA, July 3.—A lull in the political turmoil of the last few days was noticeable here today following yesterday's dissolution of parliament. While conjecture as to the date of the general election still runs rife, no change in the situation was noted today. A statement from the Progressive executive was expected some time today.

LONDON, July 3.—Britain is awaiting the outcome of the new elections in Canada with the most intense interest and the greatest importance is attached to the result in political circles and in official quarters here. There is a feeling here that the result will be decisive enough to give Canada an appearance of stability which she has long lacked politically, but there is grave anxiety regarding the raising of the constitutional issue and hopes are expressed that these will be forgotten and not exploited during the turmoil.

Agitation For Correction of Fair Vale Hazard Grows

THAT the Fair Vale roadway under-pass at the C. N. R. trackage has long since been a bone of contention between residents and the Government engineering department was pointed out today by prominent citizens having their homes in the village. As far back as 1923, when Fair Vale began its greater growth, definite agitation was carried on to have the masonry abutment either be changed so as to straighten the roadway or divert the roadway itself to escape the dangerous bridgeway abutments. The road is the King's highway," said a Fair Vale resident today. "It has been there for generations. Along come the Government railway staff and lay out trackage to span the present dangerous angle. Undoubtedly no serious thought could have been given the ugly conditions they created here by hiding the turning roadway with the bridge masonry as high as a house. The point is that the highway is an established right and all the trouble has been caused by those who built afterwards."

AT THE time of the first strong appeal for a safer turn at Fair Vale several years ago, government engineers, federal and local, were called into consultation. They acknowledged the difficulty, but could promise nothing. It was a matter of expense, they said.

In groping for a way out of the difficulty, local government engineers considered a plan for diverting the main roadway northward just after leaving Rotheay village, near the former Robert Thomson property. This would then bring the traffic about 50 to 75 feet from the present thoroughfare, and enter Fair Vale on the shore side of the railway bridge abutment, thus doing away with the dangerous blind turn altogether. This plan was also abandoned—too costly.

W. E. ANDERSON, Secretary of the N. B. Tourist Association, expresses his view of the Fair Vale roadway difficulty as appended:

"In my opinion, there is only one practical way of effectively eliminating the traffic danger, changing the angle of the roadway, and that is to reconstruct the under-pass, changing the angle of the roadway in such a way that the opening will conform to the general road directions, at the same time widening the opening to allow cars to pass each other under the under-pass in safety. This would not be a very difficult thing to do, as it would simply mean the tearing down of the lower abutment, setting it back some feet, reconstructing it at an angle to conform with the general direction of the road. This would give the traffic a clear view through the under-pass, when approaching it from either direction."

AN AGREEMENT has been entered into with the Minister of Public Works and the N. B. Electric Power Commission whereby the under-pass at Fair Vale is to be well lighted—another emergency safeguard until permanent safety changes are made.

Auto-Suggestion Advocate Dead

NANCY, France, July 2.—Dr. Emil Coue, the famous advocate of auto-suggestion in the treatment of illnesses, died yesterday.

Dr. Coue called himself a professor of applied psychology. His fame as an auto-suggestive healer came after the European war, when his modest dwelling in the Rue Jeanne d'Arc was thronged daily with sufferers demanding his services. Soon he was called upon to lecture in France, England, Spain, Portugal and the United States.

Dr. Coue was president of the Lorraine Society of Applied Psychology, and author of a brochure "Self-Mastery by Conscious Auto-Suggestion," and other papers and magazine articles. He was 69 years of age. After 30 years as a druggist in Troyes, Prof. Coue, upon his marriage to the daughter of a noted horticulturist, made his home here. He was a modest, cheery little man and a rapid speaker. Among his patients at one time was the late Marquis Curzon of Kedleston. The noted advocate of auto-suggestion in the treatment of illness died from general fatigue due to overwork in countless lectures and healing sessions. He had been ill for several weeks.

There were many banners in the throng and numerous bands of music. The National Women's Party of the United States was numerously represented, and several prominent women came from that country to take part in the demonstration. Two short resolutions demanding respectively that the government give the right of the vote to women of 21 years of age, on the same terms as men, instead of 30 years and 21 years in the House of Lords for possessors in their own right, were slogans of the demonstrators.

The parades were grouped according to the various organizations of which they were members. Each group wore distinctive colors. Those having special degrees, such as doctors and dentists, wore their academic robes, while veterans displayed their prison badges. At the head of the parade, which was scheduled to start from the Thames embankment at 2 o'clock in the afternoon were delegates of the International Women's Suffrage Alliance.

"That makes no difference," Clemenceau replied. "They have an ambassador here who is an old friend of mine." He told his need to Herrick and the medicine was obtained and Clemenceau has been pronounced practically cured and is leaving soon for a vacation in Vendee Province.

A NEW ANALYSIS

A bombshell was thrown into anti-ratification ranks in Parliament yesterday when figures were produced purporting to show that the total present value of the payments France is expected to make to the United States under the Berenger-Mellon Agreement is only two billion dollars. This is just about the total of the sums which France has borrowed from the United States since the Armistice. This is the first time this analysis of the agreement has been presented in Parliamentary circles.

TELEPHONE GIRL IS HEROINE IN HOSPITAL RAID

Calls Police as Bandits Hold Up Roosevelt Cashier

FORMER SOLDIER SAVES THOUSANDS

Robbers Get $11,000 in Stirring Time in New York

NEW YORK, July 3.—Miss Edith M. Ware of Bergenfield, N. J., telephone operator at the Roosevelt hospital, looked up about 9.30 a.m. at the small oblong mirror which hangs over the switchboard and commands a view of the entrance to the cashier's office in which the switchboard is situated. In the mirror she saw a stranger pointing a pistol at Robert E. Heider, the chief clerk.

CALLS FOR POLICE
"Call me a cop," murmured Miss Ware, putting her lips to the mouth-piece of the transmitter which was hanging about her neck. "I want the Roosevelt hospital," said an impatient voice at the other end of the telephone line. "The Roosevelt's being held up," whispered the operator. "Call Spring 4100."

"I want—" "Don't argue," snapped Miss Ware, speaking the last words loudly, in order to trick the robber, who had now entered the office, into thinking that she had been wrangling with someone, instead of trying to give the alarm. The robber, however, was not fooled. Directing a string of epithets at Miss Ware, he snatched out the plug, cutting off half of the switchboard from the outside world.

In the meantime, the man at the other end of the telephone had grasped the situation. He called Spring 3100 and reported that the Roosevelt hospital was being held up. Within five minutes detected policemen came swarming from the West 47th street station to the hospital, but they were just one minute too late.

MINUTE TOO LATE
When the police arrived the robbers—six in all—were in flight in a gray automobile with pay envelopes containing about $11,000. More than this amount was saved, however, partly by the audacity of Miss Ware and partly by the nerve of Joseph E. Hudson, the cashier, who served during the war in the Royal Welsh Fusiliers. Hudson had in front of him two steel boxes containing about $24,000 in cash in some hundreds of pay envelopes. A total of $38,000 had been delivered by armored car the day before, but about $9,000 had already been paid out.

UPSET TWO CASH BOXES.
The kitchen employees who were being paid off observed the cashier's view of the entry of the robbers until the man covered the chief clerk and forced the door. A second and third robber, also armed, rushed in with a gallant gesture. He struck the two cash boxes a sweeping blow with his left elbow. This knocked the smaller one out of sight into a heap of mail that lay on the desk, and the robbers overlooked it, although it contained more than $10,000. The blow knocked the other tin box, which was open, to the floor and scattered the 200 envelopes among boxes of flowers, sacks of mail and other packages on the floor. More than 90 of them were left behind.

ALCOHOL AND TRUCK SEIZED IN MONCTON

Vehicle With N. S. License Plates Captured After Being Ditched

Special to The Times-Star
MONCTON, July 3.—Seizure of 60 gallons of alcohol and a motor truck was the result of police activities about midnight last night. The seizure came after one of the officers was informed by a lady in a Michigan car that a number of men were drinking near the city parking grounds at the natural park. She asked for protection. At the officers were proceeding along the Salisbury road they noticed a truck on the side of the road, with two men working around it. Just as they were passing the stalled vehicle, one of the officers detected the odor of alcohol, and turned back to investigate, when they heard the truck coming towards them. The driver of the police patrol, fearing a collision, pulled out to the side of the road, just in time to escape the truck, which roared by and then took the ditch.

The police investigated and discovered, under a number of bags of wood and rags, 60 gallons of pure alcohol, put in five-gallon cans in wooden kegs, but bearing no distinguishing marks other than "Top." The contraband liquor was taken to the police station. Early in the morning an officer arrested a man in the western portion of the city, unable to give a satisfactory account of himself, and locked him up. The truck, bearing a Nova Scotia number plate, C81, was towed to the police station and held there.

The man arrested has in his possession several letters of recommendation, having been employed by the Nova Scotia Highway Board, and had evidently been well thought of by his former employers. The police are continuing the investigation in the hope that a search would reveal a further supply, which may have been cached by the rum-runners. The truck will be traced by the Nova Scotia records and the owner ascertained.

SEES MARITIMES ATTRACTING MANY

Maximilian Foster, Writer, Here Yesterday, Enthused—Acadian Special Inaugurated

Maximilian Foster, the noted American writer, accompanied by his friend, Walter Hyatt, of the Middle States, passed through the city yesterday from Newfoundland, where they had been fishing. They will spend the greater part of the summer in their respective bangalows at Lake Umbagog, Maine. Mr. Foster, who is an annual visitor to these parts, thinks the Maritimes are the very verge of surprising development as a vacation centre for overcrowded New England cities and as far as the Maritimes are concerned, he thinks the new railway arrangements—the special trains as inaugurated today through New Brunswick—will be a great help in opening up this country to week-end strangers. Thus the great news will spread. The Maritimes are going to prove a big prize package to the uninitiated, Mr. Foster feels sure.

The "Pine Tree state Acadian special" train service, accommodating passengers traveling from Halifax to Saint John and Boston, or Boston to Saint John and Halifax during week-ends, was inaugurated today. Two sleeping cars from Boston were attached to the Montreal express when it arrived here at 7:15 daylight time. Connection was made with the regular morning train which left for Moncton at 8:05.

PILORY AND CAT FOR OFFENCES IN OLDEN DAYS

Small Thefts and Misdemeanors Were Punished Severely
CASES RECALLED IN ARCHIVES STORY
Branding Also Was Practised in Saint John in Early Years

A brief sketch of the modes of punishment for small thefts and misdemeanors in vogue in the early years of the 18th century in Saint John, written by the late Clarence Ward, is taken from records in the Saint John Archives as follows:
"In addition to imprisonment for theft, it was generally the rule to add to many lashes with the cat-o-nine tails, as the whip used in the punishment was usually termed. A common mode of dealing with minor offenders, and also often an accompaniment of more serious cases was 'standing in the pillory,' in some cases mutilation, such as branding and cutting of the ears was added. The whippings generally took place in the vicinity of the jail, and the law to inflict them must have continued down to quite modern times."
THE PILORY
"The pillory was composed of two upright posts, with a cross piece attached, about the height of a man's shoulders. This crosspiece was divided into two parts, upper and lower, in each of which were three semi-circular indentations—the centre one received the head of the culprit and the two side ones his hands. The top piece was then shut down on his neck and held him fast. In this position he was perfectly helpless. The miserable man set up in this fashion, in addition to the shame of his public exposure, was a target for all the garbage and other promiscuous missiles that the mob chose to throw at him, though a sense of humanity required that they be of some soft material, except he had been charged with some infamous crime, in which case turps and cabbage were often added to the usual ammunition of dead cats, rotten eggs and the mud of the streets."
'JOHN CORY CASE'
"A case before the Supreme Court in 1819 was that of John Cory charged with a serious misdemeanor. In addition to a term of imprisonment, he was sentenced to stand in the pillory, and this is how the editor, Mr. Chubb,

"KNOT HOLE CLUB" GREETES LANDIS

Seventeen hundred boy baseball fans of Des Moines, Ia., members of the "Knot Hole Club," greeted Judge Landis, arbiter of baseball, when he went to Des Moines to assist that city's team in the raising of its 1925 Western League pennant. Judge Landis was made an honorary member of the club.

records the event in the Courier of September 21, 1919: 'John Cory, convicted of misdemeanor at the last Supreme Court, stood in the pillory one hour in the Market Square, during which time he was heartily pelted with eggs, rotten apples, etc. He appeared to be callous to every sense of feeling and common decency. The spectators were numerous, and to a reflecting mind the scene was solemn and impressive.'
"They certainly had queer ideas of solemnity in those old times. John Lewis Pattum was corrected of uttering forged provincial notes at Halifax, N. S. July 26, 1822. He was sentenced to be committed to jail for one year, to stand one hour in the pillory and to have 'one of his ears cut off' in this case a barbarous mutilation was added to his degradation."
WOMAN ESCAPES IT
"There is no account of a woman being put in the pillory, although in one instance she came very near it. On Sept. 20, 1827, Mrs. Matilda Lilly was ordered to be imprisoned for six months, and to stand in the pillory for one hour, for maliciously setting fire to her husband's house, but on account of her sex, the pillory part of her sentence was not carried out."
"In cases of house breaking and stealing, the culprit, when he escaped hanging, was generally whipped, in addition to imprisonment. At the sessions of the peace for the City and County of Saint John for Sept. 9, 1829, Anthony Robert Johnston, for stealing three kegs of powder, was sentenced to be whipped at the end of North Market Street. It is not stated why this place was selected, but there must have been some particular reason for it as it almost all cases the whipping was done at the jail."
ACTED SWIFTLY
"There are many more instances of the severity of the punishment for minor offences against the law in old times, but it is evident from the foregoing that 'the way of the transgressor is hard.' Another noticeable thing about the trials or correction—no delay or appeal, but sentence and speedy execution. On March 28, 1826, Thomas Freeborn, a constable, had a warrant for a man named Dan Cunningham at Westfield. Cunningham resisted arrest and shot Freeborn dead. He was captured in bed at Carrick's tavern on the Fredericton road. On May 8 he was tried at Westfield before Judge Chipman, found guilty and sentenced to be hanged on the 8th, and on Monday, May 8 he was hanged at Westfield."
BRANDING ON THUMB
"Still another form generally used in cases of manslaughter, was branding the left thumb with the letter M. An interesting instance was that of Harry Green, a black drummer of the 104th regiment. A number of soldiers had been drinking at Mr. Merrit's tavern at Indiantown on October 15, 1812, and got into a row with the citizens. The drummer was singled out for the most violent attack and in defending himself stabbed Charles Henry Dalton in the arm. Dalton died of his wound and Green was tried for murder. It appeared on his trial that he acted mainly in self defence and was convicted of manslaughter only. He was sentenced to imprisonment for 12 months and to be branded on the left thumb with the letter M.
"I will conclude with an instance of the loyalty of our patriotic forefathers, showing that annexation ideas would have found little encouragement from them. On September 9, 1820, Berian Watt, master of an American vessel in the harbor, was corrected at the sessions of the peace of using sedition and contemptuous words in 'damning the King' and fined $25."

TWO BANKS IN FLORIDA CLOSE,
FOLLOWING RUN

Both Failures at W. Palm Beach—Fighting False Propaganda

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., July 3.—A heavy withdrawal of funds caused by failure of the Commercial Bank and Trust Company to open for business was declared responsible for the closing of the Palm Beach Bank and Trust Company here.
Despite the run on the Palm Beach Bank and Trust Company, other banks in the city reported withdrawals light and that it was unnecessary for them to touch their cash.
The two banks will be closed until reorganization plans are completed. It was announced, officers asserting that the bank would be opened as soon as all depositors have been visited.
Offers of aid from Miami, Jacksonville, Atlanta and New York banks to other banking institutions of the city were made but none was reported necessary.

BROTHERS REUNITED
AFTER MANY YEARS

John and Solomon Cyr, Born on Saint John River, Meet in Old Town

OLD TOWN, Me., July 3.—Two brothers, Solomon and John Cyr, both natives of Van Buren, on the Saint John river, but living with half the continent between them, are enjoying the delights of a reunion since the arrival here of Solomon, who had not seen his brother but once in 58 years and that was 43 years ago. Solomon Cyr turned his back on his home on the New Brunswick border when he was a youth of 19 and when he learned that the health of his parents was failing. 14 years later, came across the intervening states to see them and his younger brother was then at home. Since that time, John T. Cyr has come to Old Town and become a factor in the life of his adopted city. He and his brother are making the most of the reunion as, while one is 77 and the other 67, they hardly anticipate coming together again over the long distance between Minneapolis and Old Town, before the end of life for at least one of them.

Motorists Hit House, And Given Breakfast

BOSTON, July 3.—At five o'clock in the morning, a sedan, operated by John J. Sullivan, Jamaica Plain, ripped into the veranda at the residence of J. William Howe on North street, Hingham, and wedged itself between the house and a telephone pole. Mr. Howe laughed off the accident and served breakfast to Sullivan and his companion, Edward Hines.
The sedan, according to Sullivan, was forced off the road by another car speeding in the direction of Weymouth, and ran for one hundred feet on the sidewalk between the trees and house before the collision occurred. Sullivan and Hines said that they were on their way home from the beach.

THE PORT OF HALIFAX.

The Canadian National Railways will recommend that two more grain berths be provided at the Halifax terminals. This announcement was made in Halifax last week by J. E. Dalrymple, who said:

Mr. Dalrymple expressed the view that the transfer of the White Star Line to the Furness and Cunard interests would result in increased business for Halifax. He also said that as far as he knew the immigration quarters would be removed this year to the new freight and passenger building now being erected on the sea-wall.

BUSINESS EDUCATION.

The late Dr. Russell H. Conwell, who was President of Temple University, Philadelphia, was a strong advocate of business education. His own education was very broad, for we are told that he was in the course of his life "a lawyer, a clergyman, a lieutenant-colonel in the Civil War, an insurance agent for Minnesota, a newspaper correspondent abroad for the New York Tribune and the Boston Traveler, the founder of two hospitals, a lyceum lecturer, and the author of some twenty books."

TARIFFS AND SUPERTARIFFS. (Springfield Republican.) The grain producers observe that a tariff duty virtually fixed by themselves is not enough. In order to make it "effective" they demand a super-tariff, which is an entirely novel development in this country, where protectionism has flourished for generations.

DINNER STORIES

IT WAS a negro ball game in Kansas City. The umpire was a slightly built, small voiced lad. Along toward the seventh inning, with things looking bad for the home team, the local Babe Ruth came to bat. He was a six-foot-three truck driver, and, beside the sun-visor, looked like Goliath. Over came the first ball, rather wide, and the umpire called: "One strike!"

The giant gave the dictator a look, but said nothing. Another wind up, and here came the second throw. The batter started but stopped. Mr. Ump called out: "Two"—when the batter turned, eyed him, saying: "Two what, nigger?"

Umps gave him the up and down and finished his call: "Too high."

A NORTHERN man, spending the summer in the south, went to see the last game of a series between two local teams. For a team he could not observe any umpire, but at last he spied him sitting up in the grandstand among the spectators.

"Great guns, man!" the northerner exclaimed to a native. "What's he doing up in the grandstand?"

"Well," the native explained, "the spectators need to accuse him of humbug so much that he allowed that if the folks up in the grandstand could see every play so darned good, he'd better go up there to do his umpiring."

POEMS I LOVE

"The Lover's Resolution" by George Withers.

Or a well-disposed nature joined with a lovely feature? Be she meeker, kinder, than Turtle-dove or pelican, If she be not so to me, What care I how good she be?

AN OLD, old poem, which always awakens something in me, is this song of Withers, who lived from 1888 to 1907. How could the thought be better expressed? If only some of our ultra-modern sensation-makers would try to get back to this simplicity and charm!

Shall I, wasting in despair, Die because a woman's fair? Or make pale my cheeks with care 'Cause another's rosy air? Shall I be fairer than the day, Or the flowery meads in May, If she thinks not well of me, What care I how fair she be?

Great, or good, or kind, or fair, I will ne'er be more despair; If she loves me, this believe, I will die ere she shall grieve; If she slight me when I woo, I can scorn and let her go; For if she be not for me, What care I for whom she be?

Shall my silly heart be pined 'Cause I see a woman kind?

Queer Quirks of Nature

A TREE THAT IS THOUSANDS OF YEARS OLD

Various measurements have been made of this tree. One of the latest (made under the supervision of a guard of soldiers and in the presence of most of Santa Maria's population) was taken by Dr. Hermann von Schrenk of the Missouri Botanical Garden.

This little village is some 22 kilometers east of Oaxaca, Mexico. It is not notable of itself but boasts a tree that probably took root in the soil long before history was a matter of civilized record.

It first caught the attention of Alexander von Humboldt in 1803. Cutting a shallow hole on the outer part of the tree, he inserted a square board on which was a Spanish inscription. The tree valiantly proceeded to heal the wound so that all that is now visible is "der v Hum" of this traveler's name.

Measured breast high, the tree was found to have a girth of 120 feet. Its health was found to be excellent; its massive, comparatively short and deeply fluted trunk, sound; and its full crown strong.

One or more lateral incisions could be made to determine the age without endangering the tree, but such an act would find all Santa Maria armed to the teeth to resist. It can be definitely estimated that the tree is between 4,000 and 6,000 years old.

Two what, nigger? respecting the import duties on cattle, there is one feature of the present tariff law that is more particularly objectionable and stupid than any other, it is the abortive effort that is made by that law to help American agriculture by restricting its market.

Farm conditions throughout the country attest the law's absurdity. Tried simultaneously in both countries, this unaccountable experiment has effectively impaired the agricultural development of each.

WHY NOT? (Toledo Rotary Spoke.) I hold no brief for them, as I pay full fare and glad to. But I note what a possible mistake it is in launching the railroads. Why? I've spent at least three days a week on the road since last November and had to make all kinds of connections. Never once have I been late in all that time. Through winter storm and spring freshets on time we always were. I ate as fine meals in diners as I could get in the best hotels at prices a good deal less.

I never received a sharp, cross word from a single individual. Instead I found cordiality everywhere. Where is there anything that contributes quite as much to our comfort and prosperity as our railroads? Where would we ever be without them? If they can do

The Very Idea!

GRADUATION

WELL, school days are over and book bids farewell to fun. The task of a life-time must soon be begun—the task that will find you your place in the sun.

The world sort of dures you to come forth and fight, to lay out your plans for a getaway, right. The lamps burned for study have flickered from sight. Your own common sense, now, must give you the light.

The task of the starting may strike you unkind. The first move to make is to make up your mind. Join in the parade and then don't fall behind. Success in that way, is the thing you will find.

The only good that ever has come from a man worrying over something that has gone wrong, is that it makes him do something to make the wrong right.

The kid that gets into some mighty good jam is likely to get into a mighty bad one as a result.

The only time some people turn over a new leaf is when they're reading a book.

Folks buy a budget in an attempt to cut the living cost, and then find they can't budget it.

TELLS OF LEAGUES WORK IN DRUG AND WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC

By DAME RACHEL CROWDY

Chief of the Department of Social Questions and Opium Traffic of the League of Nations in a recent speech SUPERVISION of the International Agreement for the Suppression of Traffic in Women and Children is one of the major activities of the Social Section. Our aim to complete suppression of the transporting of women and children from one nation to another for immoral purposes.

To accomplish this end we have drawn up an international agreement, now ratified by 40 countries in which unified police supervision has been achieved and extradition made comparatively easy. The nations signing the agreement have united in raising the age of consent to twenty-one years and have made the great moral advance of equal punishment for an offence against a boy as for an offence against a girl.

Other work of a general humanitarian nature that has come to our Social Section deals with child welfare. The aim here is to insure the right of health, happiness, and education to every child.

We have enlisted forty countries in the fight for the suppression of obscene literature. Our Social Section has taken the responsibility of caring for and rescuing deported women in the Near East.

The question of opium traffic makes one of the formidable tasks that the League has undertaken.

ATTENDED MEET OF 'AD.' CLUBS IN PHILADELPHIA

P. H. Butler Home From U. S. and Upper Canada

P. H. Butler, advertising manager of The Telegraph-Journal and The Evening Times-Star, has returned from a two weeks' trip spent in American and Canadian cities. While in the States, Mr. Butler attended the twenty-second annual convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, held in Philadelphia, June 20-25, and had the pleasure of hearing many able addresses delivered by advertising experts in all lines of business.

BUSINESS IN ONTARIO.

While traveling through Ontario Mr. Butler was advised by Ontario manufacturers that they had experienced hard sledding during the past two years, but that conditions were improving in a most satisfactory manner. This also was the comment of A. C. Shelton, manager of the Bank of Montreal, Hamilton, who is well known in Saint John.

Royden Foley, of this city, who also operates an agency in Hamilton, stated that his Hamilton business was well up to expectations. Mr. Foley occupies a very large business block in the centre of the city.

WEAK AND NERVOUS

A Condition Due to Watery Blood—Easily Corrected Through the Use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills

Thin, pale girls lack the power of resistance to disease that rich, red blood gives. Nervous breakdown is the result of thin blood. So is indigestion, headache, backache, and many other troubles. Girls suffering from thin, impure blood should take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. For many years Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been a world-famous blood-builder and nerve restorer. They actually make new, rich, red blood which imparts new vigor and life to the organs of the body. Their first effect is usually shown by an improved appetite; then the thin, impure blood is restored to normal, and the girl's health is restored. For sufferers from anemia, nervousness, general weakness, muscular exhaustion, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a restorative of the utmost value. This is proved by the experience of Miss Sarah A. McQueen, R. R. No. 3, Brule, N. S., who writes: "About three years ago I became very weak and nervous. I had pains in my side and back. I also had frequent pains in the back of my head and neck. I was very pale and very weak. I had attacks of nervous irritability, and at times I was so nervous that life seemed hardly worth living. While in this condition a friend strongly advised me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I began taking these pills and used them for about two months with the result that there was such an improvement in my condition that friends would ask me what I was taking, and I was glad to tell them it was Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I am now enjoying good health and am glad to give this statement for the benefit it may be to some other sufferer."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockton, Ont.

HAS RESIGNED.

Owing to pressure of other duties, Mrs. M. H. Berris-Good has resigned from the secretary-treasurership of the Ladies' Morning Musical Club and has received from the club a letter expressing much regret at her resignation. Heartily thanks for the most efficient service she had rendered and the great and most helpful interest she had taken in furthering the club's efforts.

PRINCE ARTHUR SAILS.

The Eastern Steamship Line steamship Prince Arthur, which made her first trip of the tourist season to Saint John on Thursday, sailed last night for Boston with a fair sized passenger list. Several hundred passengers are expected to arrive on the Prince Arthur on her first trip of next week.

The omelet, or any cheese or egg dish may replace meat very advantageously for the summer luncheon.

CORIS Lift Off—No Pain!

How One Wife Proposes to Recapture the Interest of Her Bored Husband— Discussion of the Plump, Healthy Girls of Grandma's Day and 1926 Variety—Should She Who Got Slapped Become Re-engaged?

DEAR MISS DIX—I have been married six years to the man I love and I know that he loves me, though I can see that I have begun to bore him slightly and that he is tired of me for the time being. We have three little children and we are both devoted to them. My husband isn't in love with any other woman, he is just that I've gotten on his nerves because we have been too much together. Now I want to take a practical view of the situation and save my husband and my home, and I feel sure that if I could leave him for a month and go back to my old job (which I can always get) and buy some new clothes and come back all dolled up and looking like a young girl again, he would think I was the dearest thing in the world. HE IS LIKE THAT. What do you advise?

DOROTHY DIX

You seem to have done that, because when you say that your husband "like that" you know how he reacts to a certain situation, and that gives you your cue. For different husbands have to be treated differently.

There are men to whom nothing appeals so much as just knowing that their wives adore them, that their wives never think of any other man, and that they could not lose their wives if they tried to.

There are other men whose wives can only hold them by keeping them guessing, by making their husbands uncertain of them, by making them believe that other men admire them.

These are men whose wives' greatest hold on them is that they have just become habits with them. These men like their wives to stay put, never to leave them, always to go about with them. These men seldom manifest much affection for their wives while they are alive, but when their wives die they are completely broken up because all of their habits are broken up.

There are other men who get tired of their wives if they see too much of them. They get fed up on their wives as a steady diet. This type of husband is very common. He is the kind of married man who makes love to his stenographer, and imagines he has ceased to love his wife just because he has gotten bored with her.

So when the wife studies her husband and finds out what he is like, and plays up to it instead of wasting her time and energy trying to make him do what he ought to do instead of what he wants to do.

If your husband admires gay, well-dressed women, by all means understand the lapper. Doll yourself up and be as interesting and amusing as you can. It's pretty hard for a woman with three little children to take care of not to look and feel dragged out, and to let her conversation dwell mostly upon the nursery, but if she has a husband who is not of a domestic turn of mind she has to feed him on something besides sterilized baby food if she does not want him to eat out of some other woman's hand who offers him a line with more pep in it.

So perhaps, knowing your man, you will do well to go off and leave him for a month and get the pretty clothes and the new things to talk about.

And if you leave the three children for him to take care of, you can rest assured that when you return you will look like a rescuing angel to him. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—How is it that we never see now the beautiful, healthy-looking girls we used to see forty years ago? Is it because the young girls in their teens smoke cigarettes, drink cocktails, powder their faces and use a lipstick every few minutes, and jazz all night and sleep all day, so that when they are in their early 20s they already look like old hags?

ANSWER: The reason that girls look frail and delicate now is because they are all half starved. Forty years ago curves were fashionable in the female anatomy, and consequently girls were plump and healthy and well-fed looking. Now it is the style to be gaunt and the more a girl looks like a rack of bones the smarter she is. So girls live on pickles and olives and nonfattening foods, and as a result they look as if they are about to pass away from pernicious anemia.

But there is nothing else in the world so marvelous as the feminine constitution. No matter what women do to it or how they abuse it, it seems to come up smiling. And as a matter of fact these undernourished, fragile, little creatures that appear to be tottering on the verge of the grave, are really just as healthy and strong as their plump grandmothers were.

At any rate, they seem to be able to stand a lot more than the women of the past. In old-fashioned novels the heroine was always swooning away. She had to lean on a sturdy, masculine arm if she walked a block, and it was considered a poetic and romantic thing to be an invalid and lie on a couch most of the time.

The modern girl can take a perfectly appalling amount of exercise without turning a hair. She golfs and plays tennis and swims and hikes in a way that makes a man keep on the jump to keep up with her. And it is she who does the marathon dance stunt while men cut in.

Nor do many girls who jazz at night sleep all day. Most of them earn their own livings and have to punch the time clock at 9 a.m.

As for women's beauty, that is merely a matter of taste, but I think granddaughters is quite as good-looking as grandmothers was at her age.

And of this I am sure: granddaughters look much younger. In fact, all modern women have had at least one dip into the fountain of perpetual youth.

At 40, grandmother was fat and settled and middle-aged. At 60, she was an old woman who had retired to the chimney corner and began to pick out her pall-bearers.

At 40 nowadays a woman bobs her hair and rolls her stockings and looks like her debutante daughter's twin. At 60 she is buying a red hat and learning to dance the Charleston. DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX—I was engaged to a man for more than a year, but we had a quarrel and he got so angry that he slapped me good and hard. I broke the engagement, although I loved the man dearly. He is trying to get me to make up with him and thinks I am very unreasonable because I will not do it, but I do not want to risk my right cheek, would you?

ANSWER: I think that if you marry a man who has shown you that he is a brute and will be a wife-beater that you deserve just exactly what you will get. You have had your warning. Profit by it and steer clear of a man who has no respect for a woman, no kindness, no tenderness, no chivalry in his nature. DOROTHY DIX.

Variations of Sport Suits May Be Worn Anywhere

By MME. LISBETH. SPORTS clothes, so-called, may, in their many variations, be worn appropriately at almost any hour of the day and on almost any occasion. The term covers a multitude of frocks and suits. These three costumes prove what has been said. At the left is a costume that was designed primarily for the beach or country club. It consists of a broad-cloth skirt in French yellow or white, a jacket cut in circular style with tucks instead of tapering fashion, wider at the bottom, and standing boldly out instead of lying flat. The jacket is engray navy blue, double breasted and chic. A gay scarf—one of the new handpainted ones—is knotted about the throat, and a yellow blazer sports hat, swagger stick and patent leather sports pumps with blonde calf trim finish this trim outfit. Miss Jane Winton, photoplay actress, is the model. Equally clever for yachting, strolling on the beach or for tea on the porch of the country club. Another "sports" frock of parts is worn by the figure in the center above. This is a jumper of pink silk and wool jersey worn with a finely pleated skirt of white canton crepe. The pockets and tabs of the skirt and cuffs of the jumper are delicately embroidered in white to match the skirt. The scarf may be worn plain as shown or tied in any number of interesting ways at the neck. Dorothy Sebastian posed. This is the type of frock that may be donned in the morning and worn all day if one likes. The costume in black and white (right) is of a more formal nature than any of the others. It is exceedingly handsome and consists of a black satin cape lined with white satin. It is reversible and can be worn on either black or white side. It is cut on circular lines and ties at the throat in a graceful bow. The jumper dress that completes the ensemble has a black satin skirt-pleated, of course. The jumper is white with novel patch pockets and black collar and wide cuffs. Dorothy Sebastian is again the model.

BEHIND THE SCENE

MOST every day another present or ex-Police beauty quits the stage and casts her lot with the silent dramer. One of the best known of the Ziegfeld entertainers who recently have become enamored of the movies is Gilda Gray, who won the title of "Queen of Shimmy" several years back when that dance was popular. Paramount decided to put Gilda, and her grass skirt into one of their movies and "Aloma of the South Seas" is the result. In this picture Gilda does her famous dance and she also displays ability as a writer of comedy material on "The Woman Thou Art" at the Famous Players-Lasker studios and it looks as if the stage and night clubs won't see Gilda for many moons. Gilda's Polish and she used to live in Milwaukee. She is Mrs. Gil Boag.

OFFICERS SEARCH HEARSE FOR RUM

Find Body of Woman Who Had Been Ardent Life-Long Prohibitionist

CHICAGO, July 3.—Bootleggers are said to be transporting large consignments of liquor from Milwaukee to Chicago in hearses, accompanied by two or three cars of "mourners." It was the irony of fate that the first hearse to be stopped and searched by Illinois and Wisconsin deputies, should have contained the body of a woman 87 years old, who had been an ardent worker for prohibition all her life. The body was being taken from Lake Forest to Milwaukee. Between Racine and Kenosha three cars filled with deputies and prohibition agents stopped the cortege. One glance at the hearse and the officers were convinced the deputies they were on the wrong trail and the funeral procession was permitted to go on its way.

Is this your BIRTHDAY

JULY 2—You are independent, and rather chaste, although sympathetic and kindly. You are not liked as well by your own sex as by the opposite. You are a convincing talker, studious, fond of travel, and get much enjoyment out of life. Curd a desire to be jealous, and think the best of everyone. Your birth-stone is the ruby, which means contentment. Your flower is the waterlily. Your lucky color is green.

JULY 4—You have a strong personality, and generally rule by sheer force of will. You are cautious and careful, all ways mean what you say, and are worthy of all the confidence reposed in you. You make many friends and very few enemies. You love deeply, but are not demonstrative. Don't think too much of money; live for others, and love will always stay with you. Your birth-stone is the ruby, which means contentment. Your flower is the waterlily. Your lucky color is green.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS

THE MOON DISAPPEARS. "Come with me," said the Dream-Maker Man to the Twins. "We shall try to find your lost friends, the china elephant and his little clown driver. They must be on the moon somewhere." Just then Snore came back in his airplane with seventeen dimples off the dimple tree. "Put the dimples in the tea-box to keep them fresh until I need them for my dreams," said the Dream-Maker Man, "and then come and take us on a journey." "Yes, sir," said Snore obediently. And away he went. But pretty soon he came back and Nancy and Nick and the Dream-Maker Man all climbed into his airplane. Away they went—bzzzz!—like a great bee, for moon airplanes make even more noise than earth ones. While they were riding, the Twins told the Dream-Maker Man about their adventures and what they had been doing since they had climbed the golden ladder to the moon. "Well, I declare!" said the Dream-Maker Man. "I declare! One would almost, but not quite, say that you both had been dreaming. But of course, I know better. But we must watch and see where we are going. I want to ask my friend, the Man-in-the-Moon, something." And the Dream-Maker Man looked over the edge of Snore's airplane and looked down. "My goodness!" he cried. "There's nothing there! The moon's gone." "I can't see it," shouted Snore. "I can't stop unless I have some place to stop on. If the moon's gone, I'll have to keep on going." Nancy couldn't help wondering what had become of all the poor moon people, the Party Winks and the queer polka man with the neck that stretched around corners, and the rubber alligator and the giant duck and everybody. And where could Inco and Pops be?

Great Increase in Cigarette Smoking

ATLANTIC CITY, July 3.—Since the World War there has been a 200 per cent. increase in consumption of cigarettes, both in this country and abroad, it was said here by R. T. Corbell of Washington, secretary of the Tobacco Association of the United States. This increase has two reasons, Mr. Corbell said. During the war, when cigars and pipes were not easily available among the fighting forces, the cigarette habit was established. In addition, women are generally taking to use of cigarettes, particularly in this country. It was said that the annual production of cigarette tobacco in this country is about 250,000,000 pounds.

HOT WEATHER AND CHRONIC AILMENTS

Persons Unable to Bear Extremes of Temperature May be Unfit Physically

NEW YORK, July 3.—Scientific investigators are gradually coming to believe that persons who cannot endure extremes of temperature are in reality suffering from some chronic ailment. The medical correspondent of The London Times points out that again and again a doctor hears from the lips of unfit patients the statement, "I can't stand hot weather." The patients all ways suppose that this trait in their physical characters betokens a personal quality, a distinctive inability peculiar to themselves. It never seems to occur to them that it may betoken a power lost through disease. And yet, he says, there exists now strong reason to think that most victims of hot weather (when there is any) in the temperate zone and in the tropics are really unfit persons, persons actually suffering from chronic illness.

CANNOT BEAR EXTREMES The case of a person infected with amoebic dysentery is fairly typical, the physician asserts. Such a person has usually lived in a hot country for a considerable period before his infection takes place. During these early days the heat does not worry him very much (again, when there is any)—not more than it worries other folk. But after his dysentery attack has passed and he has been "cured" everything is changed. Extremes of heat and also extremes of cold become unbearable. "In the majority of cases," the physician continues, "a careful examination will reveal the fact that such patients are still infected by the protozoan—they are chronic cases of dysentery."

Hot weather and chronic ailments

Persons Unable to Bear Extremes of Temperature May be Unfit Physically

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 3.—"Medical Economics," a magazine devoted to the business side of the medical profession, asked 13,000 physicians in this country four questions concerning prohibition. About 2,800 of them answered. The questionnaire was sent to doctors in all the state capitals, to many intellix, steel and mining sections and to others according to geographical location. In reply to the question as to whether prohibition had had a good or bad effect on morals, 1,257 physicians said that the effect was good and 1,544 that it was bad. There were 1,476 who thought prohibition had improved financial conditions, and 1,333 who took the opposite view. One thousand and forty-eight expressed the view that prohibition had been a good thing from the public health standpoint, and 1,742 said that the effect on health had been bad. In response to a query asking if they were satisfied with present conditions, 475 said "yes" and 1,509 said "no."

BUTTE, Mont., July 3.—A legal battle over the merit of the claims of three women to a share in the $30,000,000 estate of Senator William Andrew Clark, copper king, has been begun in District Court here. A venire of 250 men has been drawn. The women—Mrs. Edie Clark McWilliams and Mrs. Alma E. Clark Hines of Missouri and Mrs. Addie L. Clark Miller of Denver—declare they are daughters of the late copper king and were "unintentionally" omitted from his will. Their claims are resisted by the five Clark legatees named in the will.

LIQUOR STILL BEING SMUGGLED IN N. S.

Run-running Schooners Take up Position Off St. Margaret's Bay

HALIFAX, July 3.—The landing of liquor from motor boats continues on the coast. The run running schooners take up position off the mouth of St. Margaret's Bay and enterprising bootleggers go out and buy lots of 25 or 30 cases. Having arranged for a motor truck to meet them at certain points they succeed in getting the liquor ashore safely.

Many Countries "Think Out" DUNLOP TIRES

NO other tire in Canada is born under such promising conditions as the "Dunlop." When Dunlop England evolves some process for getting more out of cotton we have the benefit of that immediately for Dunlop Canadian-Made Tires. When Dunlop Japan tests out a tread and finds it gives more mileage we immediately have that likewise for you, the Canadian tire buyer.

When you buy Dunlop Tires you get not only the results of our own technical experts but the results of the great tire experts of Dunlop in England, Dunlop in the United States, Dunlop in France, Dunlop in Japan, Dunlop (British) in Germany. In other words, wherever there is a Dunlop factory the specialized knowledge on tire-making of their chemists, research men and technical engineers is available to us as our knowledge is available to them. Do not accept anything less than the tire created by world minds—the "DUNLOP."

Now - for Canada a revolutionary European-type high-speed Light Car

This New Car Offers:

- 35 miles on a gallon of gasoline
- 55 miles an hour . . . 5 to 30 miles in 13 seconds
- 4-wheel brakes . . . stops in 2 car lengths from 25 miles an hour
- Turns in 34-foot circle . . . easiest car in Canada to park
- 5 feet 8 inches high . . . lower gravity centre . . . greater safety
- European-type body . . . more inside room than any other light car

A three minute study of these remarkable facts may save you from buying an obsolete automobile

THIS is the announcement of a revolutionary new-type car, different from anything you have ever known before. A car that combines the advanced engineering practice of Europe with new and improved standards of performance on this continent. A car that will travel 55 miles an hour in perfect comfort. That will pick up in 13 seconds from 5 to 30 miles an hour. A car that will go 35 miles on a gallon of gasoline . . . over 1,000 miles on a gallon of oil. This new-type car is a challenge to all former engineering practice. It casts aside every old tradition. And marks the most important light car engineering improvement on this continent during the last 16 years.

Because of easy handling in traffic, the Whippet will strongly appeal to Canadian women. It will park in a 14-foot curb space

This new car has a low, European-type body. With height and length in true symmetrical proportion. It is 5 feet 8 inches high . . . not as tall as the average man. Yet it provides more room and comfort than you've ever found in any automobile of this class before. It has a high-torque, 31 horsepower motor of small bore and long stroke—the same engineering principle used in the fastest racing cars of America and Europe. It turns in a 34-foot circle . . . that's less than the width of an average city street. You can park in 14 feet . . . which is much less than the space required for the ordinary car. 4-wheel brakes are an integral part of this new car's chassis design . . . a luxury which light car owners have not heretofore enjoyed. Measured tests show that it will stop in two car lengths from a speed of 25 miles an hour. Its center of gravity is extremely low, with ample road clearance . . . thus giving a sense of security you have never found in any light car. Something you actually feel when you drive this car.

Two Engineering Ideals Combined

The Overland Whippet represents a combination of the most advanced European and American engineering thought. It is a complete new car . . . designed and built as a unit . . . not an old-fashioned reconstructed chassis. For over three years, Willys-Overland engineers in Europe and America have been developing it. Over a half million miles of road tests have proved its practical advantages beyond all doubt. Here's a car that will do 55 miles an hour in the hands of the average owner . . . with all the reserve power that this implies. You can drive this car as fast as you like with the utmost ease of control . . . for no light car ever hugged the road like this before. In traffic it gets away with lightning pickup . . . stop-watch tests show that it accelerates up to 40 miles an hour 18% faster than other light 4-cylinder cars. It runs like a "six" and pulls like a tractor. The Overland Whippet will climb the gruelling grades of steep mountain trails in high. In all your life you've never driven any car like this before. Its wonderful activity . . . its flashing bursts of speed . . . and quick acceleration . . . have never been available in any car of this type.

Smart European-type body design

The distinctive body lines of the Overland Whippet frankly resemble the smartest automobiles of America and Continental Europe. When you see this car on the street you can easily imagine yourself on the Bois or the Strand.

The radiator is typically foreign . . . every line, curve and contour of the body is the result of painstaking craftsmanship and study. Low-slung . . . rakish . . . graceful as a Whippet . . . that's the only way to describe it.

5 MILES In 13 seconds 30 MILES In 13 seconds. Stop-watch tests show that the Whippet accelerates 18% faster than other light 4-cylinder cars

Complete symmetry of design has been achieved with compact external dimensions. Compared with contemporary big, bulky cars the Overland Whippet appears smarter and much more graceful. That's because height and length are in true artistic proportion. In the Overland Whippet you have the feeling of riding closer to the ground . . . with the resultant sense of solidity and absence of that sideways so noticeable in the conventional type of car. That high-up-in-the-air feeling is gone . . . here is a new kind of riding comfort. Step into this car and you will be surprised to find so much spacious room. Due to its unique body and dash construction there is actually more head room and leg room than in any other car of this price class. 48 inches from the dash to the front of the fore-seat cushion. Several inches more than you have been accustomed to. 44 1/4 inches from the toe-board to the front of the rear seat cushions. Again several inches more than in other cars of this type. All seats are placed in a naturally restful position so that you have complete relaxation as you ride. No more sitting bolt-upright . . . you ride in this car, not on it.

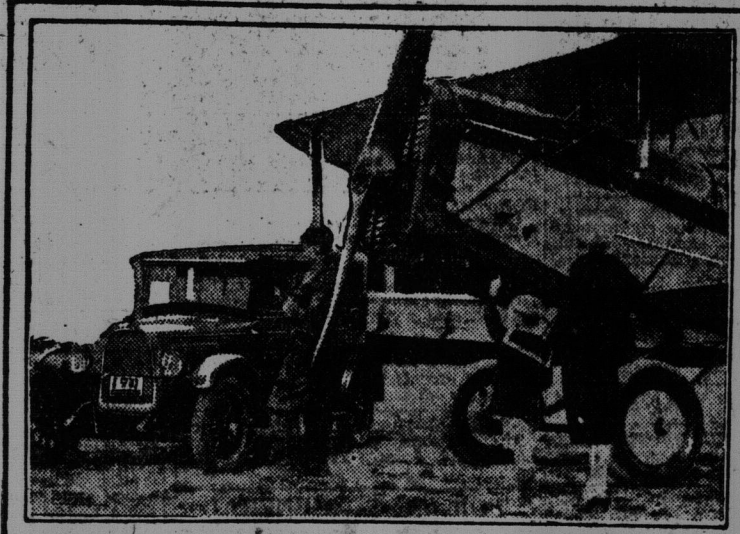

Here at last is an automobile that will run 35 miles on a gallon of gasoline . . . well over 1,000 miles on a gallon of oil . . . with extraordinary mileage on tires. Exhaustive tests so far indicate that the average year's operating cost of the Overland Whippet should save you from $75 to $150 in gas, oil, tires and mechanical upkeep. Money that goes back into your pocket. Money you must add to the list price of any less economical car you consider.

Based on these figures, it is easy to see how standards of automobile value must change in the next 80 days. With this new factor of economical operation, list prices don't mean the same today. Resale values of less modern and less efficient cars are bound to suffer. The new principles . . . the new ideas . . . the new standards of design in the Overland Whippet are bound to change your whole conception of light car mechanical features. Its high-torque motor of 3 1/4-inch bore by 4 3/4-inch stroke, is by far the most efficient light car engine made on this continent . . . hence the most costly to build. The torque development of this engine is probably the most outstanding engineering achievement of the past decade.

It has an 80-lb. torque . . . this means greater pulling power . . . the ability to master hills without shifting gears. The engine of the Overland Whippet actually develops more horsepower per cubic inch of piston displacement than any other light 4-cylinder car engine made today. The Overland Whippet is one of the two light 4-cylinder cars that have the modern force-feed oiling system throughout the engine, instead of the old-fashioned splash. It is the only 4-cylinder light car that combines genuine Chrome silicon steel valves with silent chain front-end drive and pump water circulation. It has long connecting rods, long valve guides. Its valve stems are unusually long, with more space above for cooling. This extra space makes for quietness of operation and longer life. For the life of the engine is measured by the life of the valves. Greater accessibility for inspection and repairs is another outstanding engineering feature. The Overland Whippet has all of the engine refinements characteristic of the most expensive cars.

Greater accessibility for inspection and repairs is another outstanding engineering feature. The Overland Whippet has all of the engine refinements characteristic of the most expensive cars. New chassis features. Horn, spark and throttle control are the highest price cars. The position of the steering wheel is adjustable to fit the requirements of the individual driver. The worm and gear irreversible steering mechanism is typical of this car's quality and is especially designed for full balloon tires and 4-wheel brakes. Timken bearings are used throughout the front and rear axles. The rear axle housing is banjo-type pressed steel. All 4-wheel brakes are 11 inches in diameter, of the mechanical internal type. They provide the amazing total of 192 square inches of braking surface. Each is completely encased, thus not susceptible to weather conditions.

Brake and clutch pedal pressure has been developed so that a child could drive this car with ease and safety. Gear shift and emergency brake are right at your finger tips. Remarkable ease of gear shifting has been perfected in this new-type car. Under-slung, semi-elliptic Vanadium steel springs add immeasurably to its riding and driving ease.

Designed and built without restrictions

The engineers who designed this car . . . and the men who built it . . . have worked without restrictions. Nothing has been spared that would improve its engineering or its quality.

The Overland Whippet is not a 1 or 2 year car. Instead, it has been honestly built to give years and years of satisfactory service . . . to deliver thrilling and trouble-free performance for thousands and thousands of miles.

This new-type car has such costly equipment as a one-piece windshield, cowl ventilator, quick-acting crank-type regulators on doors and windows. Windows are unusually broad and high . . . the exposed glass area is approximately 16 1/2 square feet.

The doors of this new car are 33 inches wide . . . thus providing easy entrance and exit.

A beautiful velour trim is used for seats and cushion backs . . . with sides and head-lining to match. A dome light and a handsome walnut finished instrument board add to its unusually attractive and complete interior equipment.

To millions of Canadian women this car will bring an entirely new pride of ownership—a new delight in its comfort and refinements. The car is beautifully finished with durable triple-coated lacquer that will retain its lustrous beauty for years and years.

The Overland Whippet is a quality car through and through. Your first inspection will tell you that. In every respect it is entirely different from all other light cars being built today.

In Europe, people are accustomed to paying $1,500 to $1,800 for a car of this size and quality. Yet today, because of the tremendous manufacturing facilities of Willys-Overland, it sells in Canada for practically half this price.

You can compare the Overland Whippet with all other Canadian light cars on the basis of price alone. But from the standpoint of engineering, performance, comfort and quality, it has established an entirely new criterion by which all other light cars must be judged.

See this new-type car. Come see this car. Take this advertisement with you and check the things we say here against what you find. We have purposely understated every fact. We have told you the story of the Overland Whippet without exaggeration. You have never seen a car like this before. With the introduction of the Overland Whippet, it is dangerous today to consider the purchase of a less modern car.

A new trend of automobile design is dawning in Canada. Other manufacturers will surely follow in Overland's footsteps.

But today Overland . . . and Overland alone . . . offers you these unique engineering attainments. In fairness to yourself, see this wonderful new-type car.

The first formal showing of the Overland Whippet is now being held by the dealers listed below.

No more sitting bolt-upright—seats are placed in a naturally restful position

WEYMOUTH AFFAIR IS STILL UNSOLVED

DIGBY, July 2—The disappearance of William Comeau, of Weymouth Mills, still remains a mystery despite the efforts of the citizens of Weymouth to solve it. Many inquiries have been made during the past week, and every possible clue followed up, but to date there have been no results.

This afternoon E. Hart Nichols, of Halifax, who was sent here by the Attorney-General's Department to make an investigation into the disappearance of Comeau on June 2, paid a visit to the home of Mrs. Walter Sprague, but the wife of the unfortunate man, who is said to have left his clothing wounds which finally resulted in his death at the Yarmouth hospital, was not at home. Later on a visit was made to the home of Mrs. Goodwin and Mrs. Copelan, who were the last to see his disappearance, but the aged lady could not throw any light on the situation. She had heard nothing whatever from Comeau, who left his clothing and a Chevrolet car on her premises the morning he disappeared.

CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER
BADDECK, N. S., July 2—As a result of inquiries carried out by Dan A. Nicholson, special investigator for the Attorney-General's Department, Adam Nicholson, 50, a resident of Middle River, Victoria county, was arrested this afternoon and lodged in the Baddeck jail pending a preliminary hearing on a charge of manslaughter.

Friday afternoon before the county authorities at the shiretown. The investigation followed the finding of the body of Malcolm MacPherson early Saturday morning, June 19, near the Buckle school house, where a school social had been held the evening before. The men were in a scrap during the evening. It is said.

DR. A. C. HARDING INJURED WHEN THROWN THROUGH THE WINDSHIELD

MONCTON, July 2—Seven cuts about the neck were sustained by Dr. A. C. Harding of Yarmouth, N. S., and the other occupants of the car, which was bound from Stomach, Mass., to Yarmouth, were badly shaken up when they ditched themselves early this evening while proceeding through the Annapolis woods near W. O. Harding, of Stomach, was driving the car. Dr. A. C. Harding and Mrs. Harding were the other occupants.

Just as the party arrived at the part of the road through Annapolis woods, which is being widened, they were met by a large car bound for Saint John. In allowing the Saint John car room, Mr. Harding accidentally ditched himself and party. When the car struck the soft ground of the ditch, Dr. Harding was thrown through the windshield. The car was slightly damaged but was able to proceed to Petticoat under its own power. Mr. Harding remained there until the automobile and the rest of the party were brought here for medical treatment. None of the injuries sustained by the party proved serious.

Mr. and Mrs. Copelan are on their wedding tour and have come from Albany, N. Y., by automobile. Their marriage took place in Albany on June 27 and was a notable social event, attended by large numbers of friends and relatives. After an automobile trip through Canada and United States they will take up their residence in Schenectady. Found Great Relief

Doctor Tells How To Strengthen Eyes Strained By Glaring Headlights
An hour's driving at night strains the eyes more than a hard day's work. The endless rows of lights shining straight into your eyes, your effort to keep to your side of the road and in the dim shadow, your mental strain, join to tax your eyes and strain them.

After such an hour your eyes feel tired and dry or they ache and smart in them. After such an ordeal, says Dr. Lee, you should strengthen your eyes with the following prescription: Drop a Bon-Opto tablet into a tumbler of water. With the solution bath the eyes, with eye cup held in the eye, using the cooling, heating, soothing effect given by immediate contact and relief.

Bon-Opto is used daily by hundreds of thousands to strengthen and refresh the eyes. It should be part of the equipment of every tourist to be used after driving into the glaring sun or over hot, dusty roads or at night. Bon-Opto is sold under guarantee by druggists everywhere or it will be sent for $1.00, guaranteed to satisfy, by the Valmar Drug Co., King Bldg., Toronto.

EHMKE WORKS GOOD FOR MACK

Holds Former Team-Mates for 12 Innings—Yanks Lose With Ruth Out

NEW YORK, July 3.—Howard Ehmke, veteran moundman, has shown some of his former art for his new employer, Connie Mack, after two false starts. Ehmke pitched 12 innings yesterday against his former team mates, the Red Sox, but was taken out for a pinch hitter, and Joe Pate finished the contest, receiving credit for the victory when Bishop singled in the 13th to score Cochrane with the run that gave the Mackmen a four to three verdict. Bill Jacobson, obtained in Boston in the trade that took Ehmke to Philadelphia, hit two doubles and two singles.

ST. DAVID BOYS
Eleven tents deck the beautiful beach at Holders Point, where the boys of St. David's church are under canvas in their annual Camp Galahad. A heavy shower of rain was falling as the boys landed but it passed quickly and the preliminary work proceeded with dispatch and enthusiasm.

PIRATES WIN ANOTHER
Risey was in good form for the Reds, and topped the Cubs 6 to 1. Alexander held the world champions to two runs while he was on the mound. Hatoy going to bat for him in the eighth. St. Louis scored its two runs in the final inning.

AT BELMONT
The Lady Byng camp opened for the season at Belmont yesterday, and the 15 boys, who are now under care at the camp, were declared to be the happiest crowd that the Byng camp has yet entertained in the several seasons during which it has been conducted under the auspices of the Saint John Health Centre for the benefit of delicate children.

IRVING BERLIN CHARGED WITH PLAGIARIZING

Coal Salesman Seeks Accounting and Dam- ages for "All Alone"

SUIT IN COURT

Song Writer Said to Have Made Half-Million Dollars

NEW YORK, July 3.—Irving Berlin, song writer, is charged with having plagiarized the words of his most popular song, "All Alone." The charge was made in the federal court, in a complaint filed on behalf of Abraham Brown, who asked an injunction, an accounting, the cancellation of the copyright that Berlin holds and such damages as the court may decree.

Berlin is either in England or France. His general manager, Saul H. Bernstein, is also abroad.

Brown, it was found, is not a song writer by profession, but a coal salesman who has made the writing of lyrics an avocation. He does not claim infringement of copyright, for he acknowledges in his complaint that the words he wrote were not copyrighted. But he does claim that he wrote the lyric that Berlin used and called his own.

WRITTEN IN 1924
The papers set forth that Brown, having in the year 1924 written the lyric, submitted it, with the title "All Alone" to Stan Paurell, together with other lyrics. Paurell, Brown says, was and had been for years a "scout" for Berlin, and promised to submit the song. Thereafter Brown found it impossible to get in touch with Paurell. He asserts his demands for a return of his manuscripts met with no response, and that the first thing he knew Berlin had published his song, claiming authorship.

Berlin is popularly credited with having written "All Alone" with Elin Mackay, whom he afterwards married, in mind, following an enforced separation. This story was given wide circulation soon after the song was published.

At the offices of Goldstein and Goldstein, Brown's lawyers, Esther H. Goldstein, who with Jonah Goldstein is handling the case, said that Brown actually wrote this particular lyric after he and his wife separated. Mrs. Brown obtained a divorce last year, Brown told her, Miss Goldstein said, "Berlin stole my melody."

"I met Paurell through a mutual friend," said Brown. "I turned over my lyrics to him in his home. After 'All Alone' was published I wrote Berlin, telling him I felt flattered that he had taken my song and put his name to it. I think he and the public may be surprised when the case is tried." Brown is apparently in deadly earnest. His case, however, will not come to trial for some time. Paurell, as well as the music publishing house, is a codefendant in the action. The firm of Gilbert and Gilbert, which usually represents the Berlin concern, when informed of the action, immediately cabled to Berlin and gave orders that such members of the publishing house as are here must make every effort to ascertain just when and how the lyric as published was obtained.

The suggestion was advanced that Berlin might possibly have bought the lyric from a third party who claimed authorship, with the understanding that, when published it would have to bear Berlin's name. At the offices of Goldstein and Goldstein it was said the proceeds from the pub-

Chats with your GAS man

Non-regulated gas ovens should be pre-heated only for pies, quick breads and meats.

2—Cakes, unless baked in a regulated oven, should be put in a COLD oven. For a loaf or sheet cake, requiring approximately a one-hour baking period, the rack should be placed in the CENTRE of the oven. Turn ONE burner on slightly less than half-way for the first quarter of the baking period. Then turn gas down until burner is on about one-quarter way. Leave at that height for the remaining three-quarters of the baking period.

Layer cakes, requiring approximately a thirty-minute baking period, should be placed in a cold oven and the burner turned on half-way for the first half of the baking period, at which time it should be lowered to one-quarter way.

This gives the gases in the leavening property (the eggs, soda or baking power) an opportunity to work gradually as the heat increases gradually. The heat reaches the maximum desired at the end of the first quarter of the baking period and the gases have, for the most part expended themselves before the batter actually starts to cook.

The oven door SHOULD NOT BE OPENED during the SECOND and THIRD QUARTERS of the baking period, for the cells at that time are not firm and a slight draft may cause them to settle. The warm expanded air which makes the cake light has already been evolved, and there is nothing present to lighten it again.

3—Angel-food cakes may be put into a cold oven and the heat allowed to come on very gradually, or should be put into a very slow oven that has not been pre-heated more than three or four minutes.

4—Quick breads should go to the top-most part of the oven, and a hot oven should be ready for them. Muffins, which require from twenty to thirty minutes for baking, should be placed in the top of the oven. Biscuits should not be in the oven more than twelve to fifteen minutes at the most, and should be baked with a very hot oven, at the top-most part.

5—Broiled meats must be handled very carefully. The oven should be pre-heated at least ten minutes before the meat is put in, but the broiling pan should be removed from the oven before the heat is turned on.

A hot porcelain broiling pan draws the juices from the under side of the meat, and prevents it from browning nicely when turned.

WEST BATHURST, July 2.—An accident occurred Tuesday evening in East Bathurst which might easily have resulted fatally. A car from East Bathurst, owned and driven by Xavier Doucette, was going toward town when a car from town made the turn on the wrong side of the road and crashed into Mr. Doucette's car. One of the cars was badly damaged. Mr. Doucette's car was able to continue the journey but the other car was badly wrecked.

Mrs. Theodore Petrie, of Saint John; Mrs. Doran Petrie, of Bathurst, and Miss Corinne Imhoff, the teacher at East Bathurst, were in the damaged car. Mrs. Theodore Petrie had her neck slightly injured but otherwise everyone escaped unhurt.

AUTO PARKING PLACES IN CITY NOW NUMBER 5

King Street East Plan Suggests Other Phases of Situation

The increasing use of the automobile has forced the city authorities to provide more parking space for cars, as designated by Commissioner Frink in the Common Council yesterday's meeting. With the addition of King Street East as an authorized parking place the city centre would be pretty well provided with such accommodation. The chief places now are: King Square, north side; King Square, south side; King Street East, near Sydney; Canterbury, between Duke and Prince; Market Square, south side; Prince William Street, in Charlotte, between North Market and Union, down the Union Street block between Charlotte and Prince Edward and at times in the two Market streets. At times a solid line of cars mark these thoroughfares.

As pointed out by the press and authorities last year, a hanged exists at the Breeze's Corner section, between King Square and Union Street in Charlotte, when cars are parked at the curb, especially cars belonging to places of business there or the cars of people using the banks that line the street. Street cars make this spot a halting place to carry out their schedules and there are times when auto traffic and street car draw teams are stalled for minutes waiting for the electric to move or some of the curbed cars to be shifted. The chief cause of this risk is declared to be the stalled cars at the curb, which choke the passages on both sides.

In case of a fire alarm that calls for the use of Charlotte street by the motorized equipment of the fire department, the corner of King Square would be a most serious and dangerous condition, the fire officials say. Some think the fire department should keep this spot clear at all times and make routine parking at the curb an offence. Chief John has other narrowed streets where long-time parking should be taboo, they assert.

The regulation about parking an automobile within 35 feet of a fire hydrant is another matter that demands right treatment, fire officials say. In case of such an offence was demonstrated in a King Street case last fall when an automobile had to be removed from in front of a hydrant by a fireman so that the hose company could make attachments.

THE SETTLEMENT—A little girl staying at our place went down to the pond and got some tadpoles in a glass jar and brought 'em up to the house. Their mother 's up here lookin' fer 'em. You orto 'ave seen Sairey's eyes stick out—'an' she says 'lose no time, 'cause I aint sure she was gittin' a true lesson on natural hist'ry—but I callate it won't do her no harm to believe fog mothers hes feelin' the same at humans. When I was a boy I killed a bird with a stone one day—I never throwed a stone at another man. The bird's habit is all right when it's a musketeer—but when it's a song-bird or a poor little frog it's another story—yes, sir."

PENNY POSTAGE NOT AFFECTED SO FAR HERE

Two Cent Stamp Will Carry Letters, Says Postmaster Thompson

Postmaster Alex Thompson, when asked this morning as to the status of two cent postage said that it was still in effect so far as he was officially aware.

He was shown the following despatch sent out from Ottawa by the correspondent of the Montreal Gazette:—

"Although the legislation of the former King government has been enacted and become effective the measure for the restoration of two cent postage is destroyed by dissolution. The reduction in postage was provided for in a special bill for the amendment of the war revenues act which has not been finally passed by parliament."

"I know nothing about this," said Mr. Thompson. "All that I know in the matter is that some time ago I was officially notified by the Postmaster-General that after July 1 the rate on letter postage to certain sections of the postal union would be two cents an ounce. I have not been notified officially to the contrary and until I receive such notice all letters with a two cent stamp will be accepted and forwarded."

Next week's tourists and the automobile traffic is expected to be heavier than that of this week.
