Meighen Warned To Stay His Hand In Appointments

Hon. Mr. King Writes Him About This and About Contracts and Other Commitments Not in Appropriations or Legislated For.

(Canadian Press.)
Newmarket, Ont., Dec. 5.—Hon. Mr. King on Saturday sent the following letter to Premier Meighen:
Right Hon. Arthur Meighen,
Prime Minister, Ottawa, Ont.
Dear Mr. Meighen.—From the Ottawa press dispatches it would appear that since the day of nominations, your government, by order in council, has been awarding contracts, making new appointments, and in one direction or another committing the country to vast expenditures in no way contemplated by any existing appropriations or other legislation of the parliament of Canada.
In justice to all parties concerned, I wish at once to say that commitments of the kind made by an administration which it is now perfectly evident in no way enjoys the confidence of the country, appears to be extremely at variance with what is right and proper under any system of responsible government, and that should, I, as the leader of one of the parties opposed to your government, be called upon to form a new administration, I shall not feel that the new administration is bound in any particular by the appointments or obligations for which there is not the fullest legislative sanction.
Yours Sincerely,
W. L. MacKENZIE KING.

ORANGE NEARLY HITS PRINCESS

Incident in Pretoria Theatre During Visit of Prince and Princess of Connaught.

London, Dec. 5.—(Canadian Press.)—According to a Reuters despatch from Pretoria, South Africa, soon after the Prince and Princess of Connaught had seated themselves in a theatre last evening, an orange was thrown from the gallery and struck the arm of the chair in which the princess was seated in the orchestra. The thrower was arrested after a violent struggle, and proved to be an ex-soldier named Dupuis, who had been wounded and gassed in Flanders and is at present a patient in a military hospital. He said he bought the orange to throw at the stage, as he had no intention of injuring anybody. The princess was most cool and laughed the incident off.

BOMB WRECKS A DETROIT BUILDING

Detroit, Dec. 5.—A bomb exploded last night and wrecked a building in East High street, occupied by three commission houses. Police said they suspected it was the result of a blackhand feud, although owners of the building declared they had received no threatening letters. No one was injured. Police are searching for a man described as a foreigner, who entered a restaurant a little while before the explosion, and upon leaving warned the proprietor not to go into the street.
The firms occupying the building are Curcio and Marcell, Frank Wise Co., and the American Seed Co. The explosion was the fifth of its kind in the last five months.

AFTER WANDERING SIX THOUSAND YEARS IN THE WILDERNESS

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hoar, a man "where did the lion get his taste for blood?"
"That's a queer question to ask," said Hiram. "What was you thinkin' about?"
"In an ideal world," said the reporter, "even if you lived in a jungle, you would not eat such portions of you as might appeal to his taste. I was wondering why there are lions and tigers, and sharks, and eagles, and other beasts and birds of prey. Did the deer and the rabbit and all the other weaklings of the animal kingdom fall as Adam did—and is it their punishment for some sin committed by their ancestors that those of you must go in constant terror of some other animal that kills—man included?"
"Say, mister," said Hiram, "askin' questions is so much easier than findin' an answer that I wouldn't bother it up 'sides, if I was you."
"But where did I get the faculty for askin' questions?" persisted the reporter in the most natural thing in the world. "What can there be wrong about it?"
"What's so wrong about it?" said Hiram. "You'd be lonesome. Most folks like their thinkin' done for 'em—it's easier. The market is so well supplied," said the reporter, "that there is no temptation in that direction. Yet, I would like to know where the lion got his taste for blood."
"Well," said Hiram, "if you could find out where man got his, an' how he could get clear o' it, you'd be doin' somethin' with white—yes, sir."

Hydro Cost And Distribution

Suggestion that Government Should Absorb Part of Cost—Distribution Through Power Company Matter—Decision to Hold Round Table Talk.

A report on the offer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission to hand over to the city 10,000,000 kilowatt hours of energy which will be produced at the Musquash development was made by Mayor St. John at this morning's committee meeting of the common council.
The report was drawn up at a conference between the mayor and three engineers—G. G. Hare, city engineer; C. C. Kirby, district engineer of the C. P. R.; and Mr. Chase, president of the Canadian Lock Joint Pipe Company.
Prefacing the joint report, the mayor said that the report did not show anything very attractive from the commission's present offer, but he felt it was possible to work the matter out. While conceding that it was the government's intention and ambition to give this part of the province cheap power, he said it was unfortunate that the construction had to be carried on during the high cost period, and he felt that, if it could be demonstrated that there was no great saving in the present offer, the government would be agreeable to a round table talk to consider the matter further.
"The question now is," he said, "could we not have the government to absorb a part of the cost, rather than the taxpayer? St. John proposed the city carry in charge to the full amount, unless it can be clearly proved that in so doing, a real saving would be effected."
He thought that it was evident that one of the most reasonable ways to hope to make a saving was by an equitable arrangement for distribution through the N. B. Power Company's transmission lines. He therefore recommended that a conference of the members of the hydro commission, the common council and an expert in electricity be called to consider the matter, as well as representatives of the New Brunswick Electric Power Company, and all the city organizations interested in the matter. This recommendation was carried.

The joint report.
The report presented by the mayor was as follows:
With respect to the offer of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, there are several alternative methods of acceptance open to the city, in charge of the city itself by the energy and build its own transformer station and erect distribution lines on all streets; it can successfully compete with the company in light and power business, but would probably destroy the company.
2. The city can take over a portion of the block of energy and distribute it to a few selected industries at the lowest possible rate.
3. The city can take part of the energy offered and build only a few distribution lines, can dispose of that part to large consumers of energy not now customers of the company. The price of this power to such electric industries, either now established or to be established, can be lower than the price at which the company would deliver from their steam station even if they possessed the generating capacity which they do not possess. The city would refuse to serve small users, but would allow the company to share in the receipt of hydro-electric energy at the commission's price for this purpose, and the company could then pass on to their customers the small saving thus open to them.
4. The city and the company may enter in a contract with the power commission, the energy being purchased for distribution by the company. The company must rearrange its circuits, separating the lighting load from the power load, and must extend both classes of circuits to serve available customers not now served. The prices of energy delivered as light and power to be regulated or modified so as to pass on to the customers the small saving to be had by

C. P. SHIPS TO USE SOUTHAMPTON

Trend of Traffic Cause of Change from Port of Liverpool.

London, Dec. 5.—(Canadian Press.)—Announcement that the Canadian Pacific Steamships are to be diverted from docking at Liverpool and are to dock at Southampton henceforth, has been received at Liverpool with regret, although it has been recognized for some time that this was inevitable. Most of the Canadian passenger traffic for the steamships is now from the continent and from the south and west of England and this means a long railway journey to Liverpool, besides costly fares and loss of time.
There was a time when the city of Liverpool made a good thing out of the C. P. R. passenger traffic, but that was many years ago, before the opening of the River Mersey railway station which enabled passengers from the steamships to take a train directly from the landing to London. Liverpool has lost this business almost entirely.

Negotiations Re Ireland Fail to Report Today

Dail Delegates Said to be Going Home Tomorrow or Wednesday—Truce Still Holds—Ulster May Announce Break-Off Tomorrow—Lloyd George Has Audience With King.

(Canadian Press Cable.)
London, Dec. 5.—The Irish peace negotiations have broken down according to statements in responsible quarters today, and the Dail Eireann delegates are expected to return finally to Ireland Tuesday or Wednesday.
The truce still remains in effect, and no immediate resumption of hostilities is looked for.
The Sinn Fein delegates visited Downing street at 3 o'clock this afternoon. It is understood they conferred with the government representatives concerning the question of continuing the truce.
London, Dec. 5.—The crisis in the Irish peace negotiations held the exclusive attention of official circles this morning. Lloyd George obtained an audience with King George and explained the situation to him, after which the British peace representatives held a conference. This was followed by a meeting of the government Unionists of Southern Ireland, headed by Lord Middleton, are still exerting their influence in behalf of a settlement. It was made known today that they have asked Lloyd George to meet them.
The correspondence in connection with the negotiations will be made public by the government, it was said, and Lloyd George is expected to make an explanatory statement.

ATTEMPT TO SWAY WOMAN JUROR IN ARBUCKLE CASE

Matter to be Placed Before Grand Jury.
She was for Conviction of the Movie Comedian—Liquor Charge Against Him Set for Today—Perjury Case Against Miss Neighbors.

San Francisco, Dec. 5.—Collateral issues were to be fore today in the affairs of Roscoe Arbuckle, the jury which tried him on a manslaughter charge having disagreed and been discharged yesterday.
Foremost of the three groups of circumstances attracting public interest to the motion picture comedian was a charge made by Mrs. Helen M. Hubbard, one of the jurors that attempts had been made at her intimidation. Mrs. Hubbard told Milton U'ren, an assistant attorney, and several other persons, that a man representing himself as Gus Ulster, a commission merchant with whom her husband had had business dealings, had telephoned her husband on Saturday night with the intent of having her change her vote as a juror. She let it be known that she stood consistently for conviction of Arbuckle.
Hubbard said it had been intimated by the man that he might save himself trouble by sending his wife a note asking that she vote for acquittal.
U'ren announced that the whole matter would be laid before the grand jury tonight.
The federal charge against Arbuckle, based on an allegation of illegal transportation of liquor drunk and the parody of the Hotel St. Francis was set for hearing today.

TRAINS COLLIDE, SEVERAL KILLED

Philadelphia, Dec. 5.—Two passenger trains collided on the Reading Railroad at Paper Mills station, near Bryn Athyn, today. Early reports were that about nine persons were killed and nearly a score injured. The report placed the dead at possibly fifteen. The accident occurred about sixteen miles from Philadelphia. It was a head-on collision between local trains.

REJECTS DEMAND FOR GENERAL WORK WEEK OF 44 HOURS
London, Dec. 5. (By Canadian Press).—The Australian commonwealth court of arbitration has rejected the demand of the combined textile unions for the reduction of the standard working week throughout Australia from forty-eight hours to forty-four hours, according to a cable from Reuter's correspondent at Melbourne.

The president of the court, in announcing the decision, said that such reduction of hours would greatly add to the ranks of the unemployed and would also seriously affect the Australian industries, which, if the demand for a forty-four hour week were granted, would be unable to successfully compete with the industries of other countries.

ALBERTA SEAT IS DECLARED VACANT
Judge Declares That Former Candidate Was Wrongly Rejected in Provincial Election.

Edmonton, Dec. 5.—That the election of Andrew S. Shandro, Liberal, by acclamation to represent the provincial constituency of Whitford, be declared null and void, is the judgment of Mr. Justice Walsh, just handed down in the supreme court. By this decision, Mr. Shandro is unseated and a new election will be in order.

The judgment declares that the returning officer erred in rejecting the nomination papers of Mike Chrochowski, a former candidate, and characterized his efforts as a deliberate attempt to prevent the Whitford seat to Shandro.

Still alarm was rung in at 12.20 a. m. this morning from Humphrey Sheehan's house at 22 Richmond street, which proved to be nothing more serious than a chimney fire which was soon extinguished.

FEDERATION OF CENTRAL AMERICA

Great Opportunities for Economic Development Hoped for from Union of States

Great opportunities for the economic development of Central America may result from the newly formed federation of states in that region, the National Bank of Commerce in New York believes. The association provides a strong and stable political unit. In the December number of its magazine, Commerce Monthly, the bank urges that it is the part of the rest of the world to welcome and encourage the new republic.

The Federation of Central America, which began functioning on October 10, 1921, comprises Guatemala, Honduras and Salvador, and represents a total population of nearly four and one-half millions and an area of 101,075 square miles. Commerce Monthly says: "The entrance of Nicaragua and Costa Rica would increase the area by more than 72,000 miles and the population by more than a million and in the latter respect would give the complete federation the fifth place among Latin-American nations."

"At the present time Central America is of importance to the United States chiefly as the source of most of the banana supply and as a small market for cotton goods, but the possibilities of this region are far greater than anything yet accomplished. Although there is a considerable proportion of mountainous or waste land, the rest is exceedingly fertile and adapted to a great variety of crops, and there are important minerals as yet almost untouched and dense forests of mahogany, cedar and other valuable woods. Economic development, however, is dependent upon improved transportation and banking facilities, better social conditions and security from devastating wars, all of which depend primarily upon a condition of political stability the attainment of which is one of the important objects of the present federation."

"The transportation facilities of the isthmus, as greatly improved of late have been during the last two decades, are still entirely inadequate. There are many large and rich sections of Central America entirely without railroads or even passable roads. It is the almost complete lack of facilities for intercommunication that accounts in large part for the slight volume of trade between the states. The total mileage of railroad in operation in Central America in 1916 was more than 1,700. Later careful estimates are not available but it is prob-

NAVY WILL NOT GO OUT OF PICTURE

Earl Beatty's Speeches in Montreal.

Duty Remains the Same—Will Afford Security to Those Who Pass on Seas, Whether Navy is 43 or 22 Battleships.

(Montreal Gazette.) Applause and cheering by 1,700 persons which for a few minutes, prevented Earl Beatty from continuing, marked a statement by the Admiral of the Fleet, that "the navy of the world are going to be limited, but it is recognized that the British navy does not go over the pictures" at the first Sunday luncheon of the Canadian Club yesterday in the Windsor Hotel.

"I owe you two apologies," said Admiral Beatty, "One, and a very important one, is that I had the misfortune and very bad taste to arrive in this great city on a Sunday. (Laughter.) But I feel I shall have your sympathy in this matter when I tell you that the hours I have spent in the last six weeks have been mapped out to the minutest detail, and I have not had one single moment to spare.

"I owe you a second apology for my totally inadequate capacity of expressing so great and distinguished an audience all that I feel at the great warmth of the reception you have given me today.

"To you, Mr. Chairman, and you, Lord Shaftesbury, I am deeply indebted for your kind and eloquent remarks, and to you, gentlemen, for the very kind manner in which you have received those remarks.

"I have already said, as I shall go on saying to the end of the chapter, too much honor is being done to me. (Cries of "No!"), but I accept all that you give me as not only for myself, but as representative of that great fleet which I had the honor to command, and which I am the representative here today. (Applause.)

"It is unfortunate, indeed, that the British Army should not be capable of being distributed more impartially, and I feel sure that you ladies and gentlemen would never have got to the field of battle; they could never have been maintained there. Neither could their comrades of the British Army have read France, because there is a strip of water, which if it had been commanded by the enemy would have prohibited the British Army from reaching France on any other field of operations.

"That, in a word, is what the British Navy is for—to command the seas. The British Empire is an empire totally and entirely different from any other empire. It is an empire of great nations spread all over the world, whose lines of communications are the sea, whose protection is the duty of the navy of these nations. The British Navy is not only the navy of Great Britain, but the navy of the British Empire.

"Therefore every portion of those nations which go to make up the greatest empire the world has ever seen, depends for its security, for its communications, for its prosperity, for the means of transport of its mercantile marine, and is entirely dependent upon the power of the British Navy. No other power in the world is dependent upon a naval force to anything like the same extent.

"It has been said again and again, and recent a very eminent statesman of the United States, that the British Empire is the greatest institution the world has ever known. May I add that it is in no sense aggressive. It is a defensive character, purely and simply a weapon of defence, and if the Conscience were to be used in a manner which could be called derogatory to the dignity of any other power. (Applause.)

Washington Conference. "I have, as you know, just left the Washington Conference, the chief of which emanated from that great president of the United States, who called to the nations to this conference to relieve the burdens of armaments, which are today oppressing an already stricken world, and which are a burden to the nations of the world. "The nations of the world have assembled for that purpose, and in the way of turning it into work which will be of a productive character, which the industries and peaceful pursuits of the nations may accept, and the world become generally a more wholesome and prosperous place to live in.

"The very fact that I am here today is indicative of the fact that insofar as my sphere is concerned everything has gone extremely well. (Applause.) "The broad propositions enunciated by Mr. Hughes, Secretary of State, have been accepted, and if the Conscience were to close its doors tomorrow it would have accomplished a great task. The navy of the world are going to be limited, but it is recognized that the British navy does not go over the pictures. (Prolonged applause.)

"There are many details in this project which yet require to be worked out, none of which, I believe, will present any difficulty whatsoever in enabling a result to be achieved which will be eminently satisfactory to every member of the British Empire.

ELDERLY people, whose stomach muscles are relaxed from advancing age, find themselves chronically constipated and tormented by headaches. Strong physical resistance makes matters worse. Miss Jenny McDonald of Parkhill, Ont., writes that her mother found Dr. Caldwell's Laxative Syrup Pepsin ideal for constipation. It proved effective, yet acted mildly and gently, and gave no gripes. Increased doses were not necessary.

MILKER! Open Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup". Hurry mother! Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of California Fig Syrup and it never fails to open the bowels. A teaspoonful today prevents a sick child tomorrow. If constipated, bilious, feverish, fretful, has cold, colic, or if stomach is sour, tongue coated, breath bad, remember a good cleansing of the little bowels is all that is necessary.

SO WEAK SO NERVOUS How Miserable This Woman Was Until She Took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Toombsboro, Ga.—"I suffered terribly with backache and headache such the time, was so weak and nervous I didn't know what to do, and could not do my work. My trouble was due to a weak and nervous system. I read in the paper what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and decided to give it a trial. I got good results from its use so that I am now able to do my work. I recommend your Vegetable Compound to my friends who have troubles similar to mine and you may use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. C.F. PHILLIPS, Toombsboro, Ga.

Clarke's Blood Mixture "Everybody's Blood Purifier." Sufferers from Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Eczema, Boils, Ringworms, Scabies, Pimples, Etc., should realize that lotions and ointments can do but little to relieve the sufferer. The true cause of such troubles is impure blood. Clarke's Blood Mixture quickly attacks the impurities, and the impurities, that is why so many are unable to recover until it is taken. Pleasant to take, and free from injurious ingredients.

DANDERINE Stops Hair Coming Out; Thickens, Beautifies. 25 cents buys a bottle of "Danderine" at any drug store. After one application you can not find a particle of dandruff or a falling hair. Besides, every day shows a new life, vigor, brightness, more color and abundance.

CORNS Lift Off with Fingers. Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little "Freezone" on an aching corn, instantly the corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it off with fingers. "Freezone" is a tiny bottle of "Freezone" for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the callus, without soreness or irritation.

LIVER TROUBLE BAD BILIOUS ATTACKS. When your liver becomes sluggish and inactive your whole health suffers. Your bowels become constipated, the tongue coated, the breath bad, the stomach full and sick, and you feel generally unwell. The only way to keep the liver active and working properly, and thus get rid of the bilious attacks, is to keep the bowels regular by using LAXA-LIVER PILLS.

MILBURN'S LAXA-LIVER PILLS. They are purely vegetable, small and easy to take, work smoothly and gently, and there is nothing of the nature of a cathartic about them. They are the only pills which have never been selected by any power, and moreover I believe it never will be challenged. There is no desire anywhere to reduce the power of the navy of the British Empire below the strength which is required to maintain the British Empire.

Our Portrait of Mr. E. F. WHEELER, of 22, Regent Street, Balby, Doncaster, England, who writes:—"About two years ago I had a nasty wound break out in my big toe. I had it attended to for about three months, but during that time it had sores on all the toes, with the result that I had to undergo an operation, but with no avail. Then, after another operation, it did not get any better. I thought I would give your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture' a trial. After taking the first three bottles I could walk better, and now after having nine bottles the wound has quite healed. I am pleased to say I have not seen any sign of it breaking out since."

Nervous Breakdown. The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion. This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition. Mr. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirits and suffered a great deal at times. The least noise would irritate me and at times I felt as though I was going to go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can only testify today to the great benefits received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was entirely relieved of those terrible feelings. I need it now. I am sure it is ready to testify to the benefits of this wonderful medicine, feeling sure that it will give to others the quick and permanent relief it has given me."

LINK WELLS AND CLUBS HURLED IN FASCIST-SOCIALIST ROW. Boston, Dec. 5.—Link wells, clubs and articles of furniture furnished weapons for a conflict between groups of Fascist and Socialist members of the Boston meeting, convened for the purpose of honoring seven Roman citizens who were killed in the recent disaster between the Fascist and railway workers. Biologistic speeches by the Socialist members provoked the ire of the Fascists, and general disorder ensued. Link wells were thrown with telling effect, wounding four men, who streamed a mixture of blood and tears. Order was restored when the royal guards entered the building and dispersed the combatants.

Maritime Province Claims From Ottawa

Contention that Large Sums Are Due N. B., N. S., and P. E. I.—Issue a Bone of Contention for Years.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 5.—Of the supplementary and sectional issues which are engaging the attention of maritime candidates for the federal parliament, none perhaps is more important than the question of securing a settlement of the long outstanding claims of the maritime provinces, Ontario and Quebec originally forming part of the dominion domain. However, they may differ on other questions, the maritime representatives in the next parliament will, if pre-election declarations are adhered to, act as a unit in pressing for a settlement of these claims. The question at issue has been a bone of contention for years between the maritime and prairie governments, with the federal government occupying a position between the disputants sufficiently difficult and delicate, as the maritime claim to an equity in the original dominion domain is repudiated by the prairie provinces.

Briefly the maritime demands based on their claim to proprietary interest in the dominion lands are—

(1) That the dominion government grant them compensation as an equivalent for lands reserved for school purposes for the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

(2) That the dominion government grant them compensation as an equivalent for cash subsidies, purporting to be in lieu of lands which the dominion has paid to the three prairie provinces.

(3) That the dominion government grant them compensation as an equivalent for lands added to Ontario and Quebec since confederation.

When confederation was formed, the four original provinces retained ownership of lands within their borders, which, in the case of Ontario and Quebec, were then much contracted, compared with their present boundaries. When Prince Edward Island and British Columbia joined the confederation their provincial governments also reserved ownership of their undeveloped lands. The dominion included in these provinces covered about 900,000 acres, and outside of them was an area of two billion acres, over which the dominion eventually extended its authority. The federal government presently added 115,696,000 acres to Ontario and 328,099,000 acres to Quebec, but when the prairie provinces were created it followed an American precedent and retained control of the unoccupied lands, paying the dominion, by the Land Act of 1872, set aside one-eighth of the territory estimated at 100,000,000 acres. According to calculations made by maritime governments, the dominion government has expended in the purchase of western lands and their administration, and in subsidies to three prairie provinces, a sum amounting, after proceeds of land sales are deducted, to over $60,000,000, and the maritimes claim that while they have contributed their share of this expenditure they have received nothing in return.

In view of the adoption by the dominion of the old American land policy, the maritimes hold the American precedent should be followed in the adjustment of their claims. When the United States began to extend towards the west, some of the original thirteen states claimed that their territory extended to the Pacific coast. The federal government to settle the inter-state disputes asserted its authority over the western lands, much of which it had acquired by purchase, and undertook their administration. As the federal authority sold or distributed the lands, all the states shared on the basis of their representation in Congress, the money or lands being earmarked for educational purposes. In 1892, for instance, the Washington government granted to all the existing states thirty thousand acres of land for each representative they had in congress, and states in which there were no public lands were given land-script secured by lands in undeveloped territories.

The Canadian government by the Land Act of 1872 set aside 24,213,200 acres of land for school purposes in the prairie provinces, and on this land it has set a value of $181,855,400. Up to recently, sales of these lands had brought in $16,997,300, and this sum stands to the credit of the three western provinces, yielding at five per cent. an annual revenue of $848,865. Out of this revenue there had been paid to three provinces up to March 31, 1918, the sum of $7,062,987, and it is estimated that when the school lands are all sold, the three prairie provinces will have a revenue of nearly $10,000,000 annually.

The maritimes claim that to establish a balance between the east and west, the dominion government should place to their credit a sum equivalent on the basis of population, to the amount already credited to the three prairie provinces as principal from the sale of land and paid to them as interest and allow the interest on this sum to be used by the three eastern provinces for educational purposes. The maritimes estimate that under such an arrangement they would be entitled to the following credits and interest payments:—

	Amount at credit	Annual interest
Nova Scotia	$8,017,378.80	$445,849.80
New Brunswick	6,447,736.20	322,386.80
P. E. Island	1,710,623.80	85,931.90

The maritimes contend that their credits on this account should increase in proportion as further credits accrue to the western provinces from further sales of school lands.

In the event of the dominion government transferring the unsold lands to the prairie provinces and continuing to pay them the subsidies on account of lands already sold, the maritimes demand an

LOOTING WAS RIFE UNDER SOVIETISM

Portable Property Seized by Government Has Mostly Vanished.

Moscow, Nov. 4.—(By a staff correspondent of The Associated Press.)—Goods acquired by the government when it took over all property have been dissipated to a very great extent and probably constitute a considerable part of the material offered on the local street markets.

These stocks were drawn on very heavily by the army and for other government purposes, but they also proved a gold mine for dishonest officials, and the dearth of all sorts of small articles in these houses indicates that pilfering has been pretty general. Concert pianos, gigantic divans, immense bedroom suites and wardrobes abound, but flat silver, table linen, small rugs and other household articles which guards could carry are lacking.

When the American Relief Administration opened up the houses where its personnel lives, the government was to supply all furnishings under the food agreement. It was with greatest difficulty that enough dishes were found in the "loot houses" for the use of the Americans, and although assurances were given that the government stores would yield plenty of table silver, the relief workers were obliged to use tin and iron spoons. Repeated searches were made in warehouses where silver was listed, but it was always missing.

Many old-time Russians who are employed by the American Relief Administration have recognized pieces of their own furniture in the lot supplied to the American Relief Administration houses by the government.

Many of the better pictures from private houses have been put into galleries in Moscow and Petrograd. Old furniture and tapestries have also been saved for museums in many cases, but the great mass of confiscated furniture and carpets has gone into government offices or residences of government officials. The property of foreigners was treated the same as that of Russians.

POLICE PREFER THE OLD SCHEDULE

(Montreal Herald.)
Inquiries made this morning from the heads of the police department and the rank and file indicate that the return to the three-hour system, inaugurated today after a six months' try-out of the eight-hour shift was welcomed as an old friend. The officers are convinced that efficiency has returned and the men are jubilant at the prospect of being in fit condition all the time.

The three-hour shift allows a constable to start to work at six in the morning and to leave the beat at nine in the morning. The beats are covered the same as during the day. The result, it is contended, tends to better protection at hours when protection is needed and fresh men are on duty. Such a constable goes out again at twelve and remains on duty until three. The constable who takes in reserve than at any other time and in reserve.

THE LAST WORD IS YOURS

Tonight the Candidates and their speakers will have finished their arguments to show which party or which candidate is worthy of your vote.

But theirs is not the last word. That privilege belongs to the electors, who will have the opportunity of using it tomorrow.

Tomorrow the people will have a chance to say to the Right Hon. Mr. Meighen,—

"St. John is Canada's Winter Port—not Portland, Maine;

"We want a Government that will be responsible to us—not one which caters to the Big Interests at the expense of the Common People;

"We are tired of your autocratic and extravagant policies regarding railways and the Merchant Marine;

"You have been too long in office now and have been holding on without a mandate from the people;

"Therefore—Farewell."

This on the basis of their present population would, according to the maritime calculations, be divided as follows:

New Brunswick	375,000 "
P. E. Island	150,000 "

The maritime claims are flatly opposed by the prairie governments, and Ontario and Quebec, having enormously increased their gifts, show little interest in the dispute.

DECIDE FRIDAY IN LIQUOR CASE

P. D. McKinnon Completes His Evidence in Case in Police Court.

In the case of Percy W. Hand, as assistant manager of the Canadian Distributing Company, charged with the selling of liquor illegally to Pope D. McKinnon, the evidence of Mr. McKinnon was completed, and the counsel made their arguments to the court today.

Mr. McKinnon said he took all the liquor he had sent to Benton and Debec over the border into the States and saw no customs officials on the border. He said he was permitted to come into Canada had not been given by him to Mr. Hamilton, and that Mr. Hamilton had made a mistake when he said it was. He had other shipments of liquor sent from St. John to Bangor. He received exchange on his money, which was in American funds. He did not remember any conversation with Mr. Ryan in the inspector's office when he said he had paid for the liquor in Canadian money. Asked whether he had gone to the office of the Canadian Distributing Company to demand back the money he paid, he answered that he had not as yet, but would if he didn't get the liquor. To Mr. Taylor, he said he had had more business with Mr. Aaron, the manager of the company, than with Mr. Hand.

This closed the case so far as evidence was concerned. Mr. Taylor said it was not necessary to call Mr. Hand.

Mr. Ryan, in his address, touched mainly on the credibility of Mr. McKinnon's evidence and the fact that Mr. Hand had not gone on the stand in his own behalf. Mr. Taylor said that there was no doubt that they had proven the transaction to be a bona fide one. Everything adduced in the evidence, he said, pointed to the fact that the liquor was intended for Bangor—where the price in New Brunswick on its way to the States and a verdict in favor of the defendant given.

His Honor said he would give his judgment on Friday at two o'clock.

F. R. Taylor, K. C., and J. B. Dever appeared for the defence, and W. M. Ryan for the prosecution.

Three men, charged with being drunk, pleaded guilty and were remanded.

LIBERAL MEETINGS HELD AT MUSQUASH AND GOLDEN GROVE

Speakers Give Convincing Reasons for Defeat of Government and Return of Liberal Party—Meetings Well Attended and Audiences Show Unmistakable Approval.

That Mackenzie King was a man peculiarly well fitted by ability, training and experience to preside as premier of Canada over the destinies of this country at this time in its history, was the declaration made by A. W. Carleton who, with Dr. L. M. Curran, M.P., addressed a well attended meeting of the electors of Musquash in the school house there on Saturday evening. Walter Spinney was chairman of the meeting.

Mr. Carleton explained the work of the Rockefeller Foundation which, Mr. Carleton declared, engaged only men of outstanding eminence in the several departments of investigation and research with which it concerned itself. Mr. King, he said, had presided with conspicuous success over one of the departments of the foundation that dealt with the problems of industry and industrial unrest, capital and labor allied subjects.

Pointing out that the problems confronting the country at the present time were just such problems as those to the study of which Mr. King had devoted himself, Mr. Carleton declared that it was doubtful if within the confines of the British Empire a man better qualified than Mackenzie King to fill the position of premier of Canada could be found.

In his address, Mr. Carleton traced the origin and growth of the four political parties in the field in Canada today and declared that there was ample room for all the forward looking men in the Progressive and Labor parties. He declared that a multiplicity of parties and the resultant group government was a calamity in the administration of a country.

WAS LEADER OF BAHAI MOVEMENT

Abdul Baha Abbas Head of a Cause Which Preached World Religious Unity—Said to Have Spread Over Civilized World.

Abdul Baha Abbas, who died in Haifa, Syria, on Monday, was the leader of the Bahai movement, which has as its aim world religious unity. A review of the Bahai religious movement follows:

The Bahai revelation, which had its birth in Persia in the year 1844, today has become known throughout the world. It is not so much a new religion as it is a new revelation of the old. This unique movement for social and spiritual reconstruction was first conceived in a radiant youth of the Bah, whose mission it was to proclaim the coming of a great world messenger.

Many European historians have described the wonderful charm of his pure-hearted hero of progressive religion, who was martyred in 1850 after six years of brilliant teaching.

"Bahai-ism (lit. Glory of God), a Persian noble, then appeared on the scene. He proclaimed the dawn of a new age, an age when brotherhood and peace should cover the earth even as the waters cover the sea. The principles he advocated, however, were too universal for the limited mind of his contemporaries, and a few of his followers were driven by the reactionary powers of Persia into exile and prison, and in 1850 he was executed in the desolate barracks of Akka in Syria.

Presentation on Seventieth Birthday

The seventieth birthday of Rev. Dr. George Steele is being celebrated on Saturday evening, when the members of the W. M. S., the official board of Portland street church, and all the Methodist ministers in the city and their wives gathered at the home of Rev. Harry B. Clarke, Paradise Row. After a social time, the gathering was called to order and Rev. H. E. Thomas presented to Dr. Steele a gold fountain pen. In his remarks, Rev. Mr. Thomas referred to the sterling qualities of Dr. Steele and the high estimation in which he was held by all who knew him. Dr. Steele was received as a probationer in 1875 and in 1879 was ordained into the ministry. The following churches have been ministered to by him: Tantram, Charlottetown, Newmarket, Portland street, St. John; Chatham, Portland street, St. John; Sackville, Banquet, and St. John's. He was superintendent of home missions since 1913 and in 1900 was president of the N. B. and P. E. I. conference.

LARGE CAPITAL ORGANIZATION

Tendency Towards This Seen in Industrial and Financial Life of Great Britain.

A strong tendency toward large capital organization is evident in the industrial and financial life of Great Britain, according to the National Bank of Commerce in New York in its December issue of the Commerce Monthly. World expansion and post-war foreign competition, it declares, have led to consolidation and larger resources at the expense of the smaller individual enterprises.

The impulse toward consolidation of interests and resources which produce the need for liquid capital to maintain expanded enterprise in the face of litigious conditions were alike conducive to enlarging the capital of commercial and industrial companies. Fear of foreign competition emphasized the desirability of eliminating by amalgamation or aggressive expansion the smaller enterprises in production.

Recent tendencies appear, however, under the pressure of external competition, to be definitely away from this type of more or less temporary co-operative organization and in the direction of permanent control through amalgamation or through share ownership in subsidiary companies. Many of the largest capital issues in 1920 were for this purpose. Corporations or holding companies of this kind do not require for their success the inclusion of practically an entire industry as they make possible economies of production as well as regulation of output and selling prices.

Their effect upon price has a very definite relationship to the extent of their dominance in the field of industry concerned, but through the advantages of large scale organization they can exist on a competitive basis while a monopolistic position is being attained.

HON. MR. CARVELL DENIES FALSE STATEMENT

Last Minute Effort of Some of York-Sunbury Conservatives to Create False Impression.

Fredericton, Dec. 4.—The Conservative forces in York-Sunbury evidently realizing the marked change from previous political contests in this constituency have resorted to mis-statements in the dying hours of the campaign evidently in the hope that the correction will not be able to overtake the mis-statement before election day. The mis-statement appeared Saturday in the Fredericton Conservative organ, not in an article, however, but in an advertisement presumed to have emanated from the campaign organization of R. B. Hanson, N. B. The advertisement in question placed in the mouth of F. B. Carvell, at present chairman of the railway commission, words which he today, by telegram from Ottawa, positively denies having used at Fredericton or any other place. The words attributed to him are stated in the advertisement to have been uttered by him in the Fredericton, Fredericton, December 1, 1917. He was minister of public works at that time.

The advertisement is particularly directed to the attention of women. As soon as it appeared, J. J. McCaffrey, minister of agriculture, telegraphed the contents to Mr. Carvell at Ottawa and today received a reply. A personal reference to the speech of Mr. Carvell, to which reference is made, reveals no words such as those attributed to him. The reply of Mr. Carvell is as follows:

Ottawa, Ont. Dec. 4, 1921. J. J. McCaffrey, Fredericton, N. B.: Your wire received last evening stating that political advertisement in Gloucester in Opera House, Fredericton, December 1, 1917, speaking in the following words: "I severed myself from my party when I learned that the Liberal policy was to withdraw support from England in the hour of need."

ROBBED OF GOODS UNDER HYPNOSIS

Plaint of Man Who Wanted Government Personage Arrested.

He hypnotized me and my family and stole $12,000 worth of goods from my store—is a thief and I want a warrant for his arrest," shouted a man in the office of the police court yesterday afternoon, to the amusement of a large number of officials and court house habitués, who had gathered about him. When the man was requested to wait his turn at the counter, he grew very wrathful and proceeded loudly that he was a British subject and that he was going to take out a warrant for the arrest of a high personage in the government.

Martin Gordon and O. Demers, of the police court office, took the man before one of the magistrates, who listened to his story and advised that he be taken to detective headquarters.

Thereupon the man repeated his sorrowful tale to Sergeant Detective Pigeon. Although he had never seen the man whose name he mentioned, he was sure that he was guilty of a monstrous conspiracy, not only against himself, but against all the court house officials, the police and even His Majesty the King himself.

MANY WAR MEDALS OFFERED FOR SALE IN MONTREAL SHOPS

Owners and Assistants Look Upon It as a Legal Trade—Some Occasionally Return and Buy Them Back—General Service Most Valuable—Prices Given.

Today, in the City of Montreal, as in other cities, medals earned in the recent war are offered for sale in abundance. The owner has been obliged to part with them for money. A visit to the small stores which abound in the vicinity of Windsor Station, reveals the presence of many war medals exchanged for money, but by their owners as a last expedient, without consent in order that drink may be obtained.

Another protest with a wave of his hands that he had done no wrong, but that he was a victim of the trade, and more than the sale and exchange of any goods which form their stock-in-trade. Another of the men who collect medals for a cabinet collection, and so on.

ARGONAUTS WIN

Toronto, Dec. 4.—The Argonauts of Toronto won the Canadian senior rugby championship here yesterday afternoon by defeating the Edmonton Eskimos in the final game by the score 22 to 0.

The score is hardly a correct indication of the play as the visitors gave the inter-provincial champions a harder battle than the score signifies. The new champions have gone through the season without a defeat. Yesterday's victory was their ninth straight since the season opened on Oct. 1, and they have scored 226 points to their opponents' 55.

PENN. STATE WINS

Seattle, Wash., Dec. 4.—Penn State's unbeaten football team fought its way to a 21 to 7 victory over the University of Washington yesterday in a game that was hard fought in all four periods.

The eastern eleven scored a touch-down in each of the first three periods. Washington crossed the enemy line in the third, when Captain Ray Ecklan got away for a forty yard run.

OXFORD CIRCUS WAS IN DANGER

Shopping Centre of London's West End Saved from Disaster by Underground Workers.

London, Nov. 16.—(Associated Press, by Mail)—This city has just narrowly escaped a great peril, the possible caving in of Oxford Circus, the shopping centre of the West End, says a story circulated by a news agency. The danger of the disaster was known only to contractors and workers underground. They were altering an exit from the Oxford Circus tube station so as to make an entrance into a business building when the contractors discovered a bed of a little unknown tributary of the Thames River, which was quite over when Regent Street was made.

They also found, to their amazement and consternation that they were meeting the direct "lines of vibration" of the two underground tubes, the Central London and the Bakerloo.

The news agency says that they realized that if the excavations continued the whole of Oxford Circus might be literally precipitated underground.

There were serious days and laborious nights occupied in underpinning the buildings above ground and overcoming the side pressure which was being put on.

In place of the shifting sands of the old river bed there was constructed a retaining wall of cement which it is declared, has made the great shopping centre more secure than at any time since the river flowed down the slopes of the present Regent street.

REFORM OF CALENDAR

London, Dec. 5.—Reform of the calendar and the fixing of a date upon which Easter should fall will be discussed by an International Committee in Rome next April, according to the "Times" correspondent of the London Times.

A feature of the suggested new calendar would be the setting apart of one day by itself, New Year's Day, which would be presided over by Cardinal Mercier, one of the thirty-two committees forming the International Astronomical Union.

Professor Pio Emanuelli, astronomer of the Speciosa Vaticana is quoted as follows with regard to the proposed reform of the calendar.

"The object of the reform is to make a new calendar, which shall be 'invariable' for every year, so that the same day recurs every year on the same date. This would be quite easy to do could the number of days composing the calendar year be exactly divided by seven. To bring about the reform it would be essential to put one day by itself at the beginning of the year, without including it in the calendar week at all. This day would stand apart as New Year's Day."

"This would be followed by the 364 days, which are to be divided into fifty-two weeks, making the first day of the week a Sunday. The additional day in leap years could be placed after June 30, and, like New Year's Day, be considered as quite apart from the calendar."

"Having thus fixed the calendar, it would be necessary to decide on what date Easter should fall. At present Easter falls between March 2 and April 4. It is suggested that in the new calendar the second Sunday in April should be selected as Easter Sunday."

ARBuckle JURY FAILS TO AGREE AFTER 41 HOURS

San Francisco, Dec. 4.—After forty-one hours of deliberation the seven men and five women on the jury which tried Roscoe Arbuckle on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, were discharged today when they were unable to agree upon a verdict.

August Fritze, foreman of the Arbuckle jury, issued a signed statement tonight saying that one of the women jurors, who was in the minority, refused to consider the evidence from the beginning and declared that she would cast her ballot and would not change it until hell froze over.

The jury was brought into court at its own request at noon, reported a disagreement and asked that it be discharged. The foreman announced that the final ballot stood ten to two.

Govt officers said that the balloting favored acquittal throughout. The case was set for re-trial Jan. 9.

NOTED ARTISTS JOIN IN CARUSO SERVICES

Galli-Curci, Martinelli, Farrar and Others Sing at Presentation of Bust of Tenor—Widow's Gift to Opera Co.

With solemn impressiveness, seldom in evidence outside cathedral walls, the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York, paid a memorial tribute to Enrico Caruso the other afternoon. The audience, mindful of the purpose for which it was gathered—a sprinkling of the dead singer's admirers packed the opera house at regular opera prices—remained silent throughout the ceremony.

The proceeds of the concert, swelled by individual contribution from the artists, reached $12,000, which, when converted into Italian money, amount to some 300,000 lire, and the entire sum will be given to the Verdi Home for Aged Musicians at Milan, Italy.

The ceremony attended the presentation of a bronze bust of Caruso to the Metropolitan Company by the singer's widow, who occupied Box 1. The presentation address, delivered in the middle of the programme, was made in Mrs. Caruso's name by Fiorello H. LaGuardia, president of the Board of Aldermen.

At the same time, however, the other qualities received just as much consideration as size. A frequent objection raised against the Argus horse has been that it is too small, but the steady improvement in scale and weight is making the modern Morgan a handy and desirable horse for use on farms, as pleasure saddle horses, for police mounts and for cavalry purposes, points out the report. It has good speed and exceptional endurance.
