LAST RESPECTS TO ARTHUR GRIFFITH

Body of Late Leader Buried at Glasnevin.

Impressive Ceremony in Dublin Cathedral — Military Escort Leads Funeral — Dublin Activities Suspended.

Dublin, Aug. 16.—Ireland buried another of her distinguished sons today. Arthur Griffith was laid to rest in historic Glasnevin cemetery, where so many famous patriots lie, with a service of impressive solemnity in the beautiful Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception.

Many attended the solemn requiem high mass for the repose of the soul of the departed leader, celebrated with all the rites and ceremonies of the Roman Catholic church, and the thousands unable to gain admittance to the edifice stood in the streets outside, following as nearly as possible the service they could not see.

The living Catholic church was presided over by Archbishop Byrne of Dublin, who, in the full robes of his office, sat on a red brocaded throne to the left of the altar. On either side of the celebrant was a canon, and he was assisted by a deacon, sub-deacon and master of ceremonies.

Cardinal Logue, primate of all Ireland, was prevented by the infirmities of age from attending the ceremony, but sent a fervent message of sympathy.

The procession to the cemetery was headed by a cavalry guard, followed by a detachment of infantry, with a band. Then came the clergy and the hearse, with a guard of honor. The widows and children rode behind in carriages.

Next came Michael Collins, Griffith's main support in the fight to set up an ordered government in Ireland, and commander of the army on which the Free State advocates rest their hopes. Next in line were the lord mayor of Dublin and representatives of various public bodies.

All activities in Dublin were suspended during the funeral.

City Council Rejects The Bodell Proposition

TO A MAN THE FOUR COMMISSIONERS TOLD THE MAYOR THEY COULD NOT SUPPORT HIM

Resent His Method of Negotiations, Declare He Has Shifted His Ground, Disregard His Expressed Fears Regarding Musquash, and Dismiss as Unworthy of Consideration the Valuation Put on the Power Company's Plant.

The city council today rejected the Bodell proposition and there will be no plebiscite. Each of the four commissioners rose in his place and declared that he could not support Mayor McLellan's recommendation. It was plain that they resented his method of action, carrying on negotiations without taking them into his confidence, but the real reason for rejecting the Bodell scheme was that the terms were wholly unacceptable. They were unable to agree with the mayor's assertion that he had not changed his ground, and Commissioners Frink and Wigmore were very emphatic in declaring that the mandate of the people in April was for a contract to take Musquash power, and to call for tenders for a distribution system. It was quite plain as one after another of the commissioners registered his protest that the mayor was keenly disappointed. A large number of citizens were in the council chamber and anteroom, giving eager attention to the discussion. The mayor before the vote was taken reiterated his former assertion that he was acting only in the interests of the city in the course he pursued. His long speech did not influence his colleagues and they voted to a man against his recommendation.

Commissioner Thornton said the council had started the discussion. He said he would not be stampeded by any threat of a recall. If citizens did not think he is capable they can get someone else. He said he would do the best he could according to his own judgment. Dealing with the mayor's report, he said that his workshop had pledged himself to have no truck of the power company and not taking the commissioners into his confidence. He said that Mr. Phillips had the right to participate in the conference. As to the ammunition the mayor said he still possessed, he said: "I do not know what it is. He emphasized that he was strongly opposed to any negotiations with the power company."

He said therefore he would register his vote against any such move. He said the mayor had expressed an opinion that the power was not available at Musquash. His worship interrupted and said he had never made any such statement, but had said that without a steam standard there could be no continuity of service. A rather heated discussion ensued when the commission referred to records made by the mayor in the board of trade rooms as to his investigations at Musquash. The commissioner maintained that the mayor had been given a good hearing yesterday afternoon and that he now had the right to express his views. He again expressed himself as strongly opposed to holding a plebiscite on the question, but that he is representing the people with the goods to sell and therefore he would not consider his view of the power represented is not available, he said, what benefit would the city derive from taking over the power company? He said therefore he would register his vote against any such move. He said the mayor had expressed an opinion that the power was not available at Musquash. As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram" said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornebaum, "I have acquired the title to the wood-pile." "You may be getting down on your knees to it afore spring," said Hiram—"you might as well state out to the Settlement to get warm—yes, sir." "Rather, if a city can't use hydro, we can't use hydro," said Hiram. "An' I s'pose you'll throw it back on other people, an' callin' 'em an' gittin' 'em an' we're old moss-backs, an' blicks, an' hayseeds. You s'pose you'll get on here in town, as I show some sprawl. I guess you're gonto, though. The way they're talkin' up to the market, I judge they're gettin' bet up some. One fella said he was all through with this here backin' an' fillin' and gittin' no-where—'an' they all lined in an' said he was—'an' I guess you'll hear somethin' drop poopy soon—yes, sir."

and any consideration of such a question had been thrown into the discard, in which view I concurred, but the opinion that the correct one still lurks within my head, and evidence grows day by day, judging from editorial utterances, and the interest that if the property of the New Brunswick Power Company could be obtained by the terms of the agreement that it would be good business to acquire it. The sale has moderated to a breeze.

Position of Investors. I am in full agreement with the mayor, who is a most vicious and damnable thing for the city to attempt to pry and destroy the capital of individuals who have invested their money for the establishment and development of a public utility for its service, capital which was invested in the purchase of the Dominion Coal Company, and which bears the imprimatur of the crown, and in my opinion, if we shed its honor and dignity into the arena of Bolshevism and worse. For those who invested their money prior to the act of 1920, or committed to make a judicial speculation, and those who took the act of 1920, the language of which is clear, must have accepted as a covenant of security for their money.

It may be asked, what is your view? It is this, that bearing in mind the value of the property under consideration, the Ontario public commission then, under the section of the deal to which the city had subscribed, received certain local and power transmission properties, paying for them the sum of approximately $10,500,000. By this phase of the transaction, the local public enters upon the ownership of electric power and radial service operating within the city's limits.

Dr. Frink's Stand. If this property can be acquired on a scale down on its bonds and stocks, first and second, with all its physical assets, on the Currier Commission report, ($2,800,000) we may be able to extricate ourselves from a position in which we are not prime movers.

Forecast, Maritime—Moderate to fresh westerly winds, partly cloudy with showers in a few localities, chiefly near the gulf today and Thursday.

Forecast, Gulf and North Shore—Fresh to strong southwest to northwest winds, partly cloudy with showers in a few localities today and on Thursday.

Forecast, England, fair tonight and Thursday; cooler, fresh west to northwest winds.

After reading his views on the matter, Commissioner Frink spoke about the Ross report. He told of bringing Ross here in 1910, and as a result he had saved the city $6,000, and his fee was $600. He said it was very depressing to him when papers and others advocated that his report on the hydro development be thrown into the waste basket. He said he had been characterized as a "blatant" and a "blatant."

Regarding the mayor's change in attitude, he said he did not see anything wrong in that. He said if a man considered that he was in the wrong he had a right to change his mind. He said he thought it would be very poor business to establish another distribution system, which would necessitate the erection of new wires, etc. He said he believed that negotiations might be entered into if they cannot be carried out by the city, and he would be glad to enter into competition and struggle along.

He said he never could agree with the date had been delivered by the people.

HOW THE COMMISSIONERS STAND

Commissioner J. H. Frink: "If this property can be acquired on a scale down on its bonds and stocks, first and second, with all its physical assets, on the Currier Commission report, ($2,800,000) we may be able to extricate ourselves from a position in which we are not prime movers."

Commissioner John Thornton—Had never been in favor of the method the mayor pursued in negotiating with the power company and not taking the commissioners into his confidence. He was strongly opposed to negotiations with the company at the prices they named. He was strongly opposed to entertaining the Bodell and Sanderson proposals. He opposed a plebiscite and the taking over of the power company's plant.

Commissioner T. H. Bullock—Was not averse to purchasing the entire plant of the power company at a reasonable figure. Was against the mayor's proposal and could not support his recommendation of the Bodell offer.

Commissioner Wigmore—Would not support the Bodell proposition. Was of the opinion that another plebiscite was unnecessary. Would stand by mandate of citizens and oppose Bodell offer.

Coal Officials Practically Besieged In Power House

HYDRO "CLEAN UP" DEAL IS SIGNED

Ontario Acquires MacKenzie Power Interests at Cost of $32,784,000—Toronto Now Owns All Power Service in City Limits.

Toronto, Aug. 16.—The "clean up" deal at last rests at the stage of actual achievement. It was signed yesterday by Sir Adam Beck, chairman of the Provincial Hydro-Electric Commission, and thus became consummated in all details save the purely formal one of its approval by the Ontario cabinet.

The result is that, after twenty-four hours' continuous duty, the officials and volunteers, unused to such hard labor, are unable to keep up the steam to pump the mines and the water is gradually gaining in No. 2 colliery.

This information was given out at noon by H. J. McCann, assistant general manager of the company. Mr. McCann denied there was any trouble at No. 2 last night.

Alex. McNeil, general superintendent and D. H. McLean, his assistant, are the only officials who have been allowed by the pickets to enter No. 2 freely. At New Waterford, the fans have been stopped for many hours for lack of power. Officials of the company who undertook to run the power house three last night were ejected by strike pickets, though without any casualties. As a result, the town was in darkness throughout the night.

Fifteen hundred pickets are patrolling the New Waterford area, and an equal number are out at New Aberdeen. Troops from Halifax.

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 16.—A troop train carrying two hundred and fifty all ranks, including fourteen officers, left Halifax at one-fifteen this morning bound for the Cape Breton coal area. The contingent included representatives from practically every branch of the service necessary to a field force, and is destined for duty in protecting the mining properties. Col. Elkins of the R. C. A. is in command.

Three Injured. Glace Bay, Aug. 15.—William Cameron suffered a broken leg, Joseph McNeil injuries to his head, and Daniel MacDonald was badly shaken when the cage in which they were about to descend into Number 2 mine at New Aberdeen today went up instead of down and struck violently against the head of the cage shaft. Safety catches prevented it from plunging to the bottom of the 800 foot shaft. The men are overmen in the mines.

A Slight Clash. Sydney, N. S., Aug. 16.—A man named Miselin was slightly injured in a clash this morning between U. M. W.

Giants Pitcher Had Taken Twelve Straight From Pittsburgh.

Chicago Climbing—The Features of Yesterday's play in The Big Leagues — The Grand Circuit.

New York, Aug. 16.—After a record of twelve straight victories in two years over Pittsburgh, Art Nehf, star Giant pitcher, found his thirteenth attempt unlucky and was driven from the box, while the Pirates took the first game of the "little world series" with the National League leaders. Wilbur Cooper pitched the Pirates to their fifth straight victory over the Giants.

The Chicago Cubs, in third place and sharing the limelight with Pittsburgh, as an added starter in the National League race, climbed within three and a half games of the top by trouncing the Boston Braves twice.

Bob Meusel's homer in the ninth enabled the New York Americans to tie the score, and Elmer Smith, filling Babe Ruth's post, walloped out another circuit drive in the tenth to down Cobb's scrappy Tigers, 2 to 1.

New York's victory, while St. Louis was dividing a double-header with Washington, put the team within a half game of the leaders.

Chicago collected twenty-five of the forty-three hits registered in a game with the Boston Red Sox and won 19 to 11.

The other three events were for trotters. The Hawthorn race, a purse of $1,000 for two-year-olds trotters carried with it a purse of $2,000 and the A. B. Cox cup. The Keim stake, open to 2 1/2 year olds, had been changed to a double-header for 205 trotters, and instead was a free-for-all trotting event, with a $1,500 purse.

EX-PREMIER BRIAND DETAINED AS CHICKEN-COOP THIEF SUSPECT

Rouen, France, Aug. 16.—Police headquarters here, following an epidemic of petty chicken coop thefts, recently sent out instructions for all the commissaries of this district to be on the lookout for suspicious characters and to demand their passports of identity. A young ambitious gendarme, recently appointed, hailed a pedestrian along the high road yesterday who was not so armed.

The gendarme escorted his prisoner to the nearest police station, two miles west of here, for further examination. "You made a wonderful capture," the prisoner told the youthful officer, "you are certain to receive a lot of credit for this arrest."

Upon arriving at the station the prisoner was allowed to telephone to the public prosecutor here, who ordered his immediate release.

He proved to be one Aristide Briand, seven times premier of France, who headed the French delegation to the Washington conference last November. He had forgotten his identity papers and was going fishing a few miles from his summer home in a nearby village.

TEN LIVES LOST WHEN JEWISH BOYS ORPHANAGE BURNS

Caretaker, Wife and Two Children Among Missing.

Remarkable Courage Shown By Some of the Bigger Lads—Make Rope Ladders and Lower Youngsters to Ground—Report Says No Fire Escapes.

Montreal, Aug. 16.—The number of Jewish boys which destroyed the Jewish Boys Orphanage at Shawbridge, late last night, is placed at ten. The fire at one time threatened the whole village of Shawbridge, but the wind changed in time and blew the flames in the opposite direction.

Stories of remarkable discipline and courage by the boys in the orphanage and by the lads in the Boys Farm and Training School nearby are told. When the fire was discovered the youngsters in the orphanage were marshalled in the upstairs rooms by the attendants and in the face of the rapidly spreading flames were taken to the windows and through them to a balcony. It was impossible to get the inmates down the stairs because the flames soon cut off this section.

The bigger boys made rope ladders of sheets and only lowered the younger ones to the ground with them. Those who reported on the scenes at the fire stated that there were no fire escapes on the building.

In the meantime the lads of the Boys Farm brought to the scene their chemical fire apparatus and ran several lines of hose up to the burning pile. Their action prevented the fire spreading to the village it is thought.

The work of ascertaining exactly how many victims were in the ruins was hampered by the heat of the smouldering building. It was stated that six or seven were missing when the roll call was made. The orphans were taken to the hospital of the Boys Farm, where they were provided with kits.—Add Ten Lives

Caretaker and Family Lost. Thos. Legault, the caretaker, 42 and his wife, 41, a son, Jean, 13 and a daughter, 14, were trapped in the lower rooms and burned to death. It was thought the fire originated in the basement.

The Jewish Boys Home was a summer annex of a Montreal institution. It accommodated fifty-five children.

The Boys Farm Training School at Shawbridge is an institution for juvenile delinquents.

Discovery of the fire was made by Paul Legault, another son of the caretaker, who was on his way home after visiting friends in the village. He attempted to open the door and awaken the inmates of the building but the flames had made too much headway and he was obliged to run to shelter.

Young Legault gave the alarm and a number of the citizens gave what aid they could. The older boys of the boys farm at Shawbridge together with the superintendent, J. N. Bars, also gave assistance. The building which is a three story brick structure was then a mass of flames and there was no chance of saving the victims.

DARTMOUTH HAS NEW POLICE FORCE

Halifax, N. S., Aug. 16.—Dartmouth is being policed today by a new and reduced force as the culmination of the recent police scandal, dating back to the Mary Smith run-running case last year. Because of dissatisfaction over the distribution of prize money, suits brought against Chief of Police Liddell by one of his men. Following an investigation, the town council demanded the resignation of the chief and three officers. These were accepted at last night's meeting, and the new chief appointed. He is J. L. Wain of Halifax, and will have as officers J. T. Clark and A. T. Johnston. The resignation of Councillor Lynch was also accepted last night. No reason was given.

BEAVERBROOK'S TRIBUTE TO LORD NORTHCLIFFE

London, Aug. 16.—World-wide regret at the death of Viscount Northcliffe continues to be evidenced by the flood of telegrams and cable messages received by the family and published in Northcliffe papers. The message sent to Lady Northcliffe by the king and queen and other members of the royal family and the tribute from President Harding are significant of the esteem in which the great publisher was held, says the Times.

London, Aug. 16.—(Canadian Press). Lord Beaverbrook in his paper, the Daily Express publishes an eulogy of the late Lord Northcliffe, and nevertheless refers with considerable candor to some aspects of the great publisher's character.

Speaking in general terms of Lord Northcliffe as a journalist and newspaper proprietor, Lord Beaverbrook remarks on his large immunity from that daily criticism which awaits the politician. He has power to strike without inviting a prompt return blow.

Lord Northcliffe succumbed partially to his journalistic sacrosanctity, so he would inflict agony on public men who were over sensitive to attack, yet himself felt bitterly hurt when some public man responded with a personal rejoinder.

Telegram From King. London, Aug. 15.—Lady Northcliffe today received a telegram from King George. It was dated Bolton Abbey, Monday, and said: "I have just heard with regret of the death of Lord Northcliffe after a painful illness, and offer you my heartfelt sympathy in your loss."

Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra, Princess Victoria and the Duke of Connaught also have sent the widow sympathetic messages.

Tells of Arrangements Re Coal Shortage—Ottawa Conference on Employment

Premier Foster returned home this morning from Fredericton where he was attending a meeting of the government. In conversation with a Times representative, he said, the government had the fuel situation under consideration and information had been received from Ottawa regarding the normal output of anthracite, and the shortage might even be greater.

Another matter dealt with was a conference in Ottawa between the various governments on September 2 to consider the question of unemployment as well as other questions the subject of action by the International Labor Congress.

From time to time the question comes up as to the scope of the power of the provincial legislature to deal with certain labor questions, contained in the treaty of Versailles. This, the premier said, will be gone into. Hon. J. P. Byrne, attorney general, was appointed to represent the provincial government.

CITY COUNCIL

REJECTS BODELL PROPOSITION

(Continued from page 1) ex-mayor regarding allowing the power company the use of the Musquash power for two years. He said he is not a bond or stock holder in the power company and he felt that the ratepayers of St. John should have a complete list and knowledge who the shareholders of the company are, who own the first and second preferred stock and the common stock. He pointed out that the citizens had declared themselves by a majority of 1,600 in favor of the proposition. He said he had heard it expressed that the vote was not representative of the business community, but he did not agree with this, and cited the vote in Kings, Queens and Dukes wards. He had been describing yesterday the mayor's report and the amount of work it entailed. He said he was opposed to the proposal of Mr. Bodell, Commissioner Bullock.

Commissioner Bullock said that he had pursued an independent course during the last campaign and had been returned at the polls. He said he had no advantage to the power company. In the first place he said he considers the price exorbitant. He said perhaps he also was dense, as another commissioner had been termed, or densely ignorant as he had been described yesterday, but there must have been some reason why the mayor had not confided in the other members of the council during his negotiations with Messrs. Bodell and Sanderson.

Mayor McMillan demanded to know what he meant, and in answer the commissioner said the mayor could take from the inference whatever he liked. He said he was not a party to anything, but during Mayor Schofield's treatment of the subject they had his own reasons for not doing so. He said there must have been some reason why the mayor had not done so in this instance, but he did not know the reason why. He said he was not averse to purchasing the entire plant at a reasonable figure. He said if the people are to get the benefit of the power they must own it. He said he was against the mayor's proposal and could not support his recommendation of the Bodell offer.

Commissioner Wigmore said that during the last campaign when he was a candidate he had stated his attitude towards the question when called upon by the United Organization. He said the mayor had championed the cause in that election and as a result of "no truck or trade with the power company" had been elected by a large majority. He said he had made a careful study of the whole situation and at this point would like to congratulate the mayor on his report, which undoubtedly called for many hours of hard work, thought and energy. He said that as far as the Bodell proposition was concerned he could not support it. He said he had many reasons for not doing so, but the ground had been fully covered by Commissioner Frink. With regard to the power not being sold at Musquash (at this point the mayor again said that he had not made any such statement but upon our presenting another great war" without a steam standby), the commissioner said he had taken Premier Bode's word at the beginning that the power would be sold at a price which would not be in the interest of the city and would not go to the polls. He considered that the people had voted on the question at the last election and another plebiscite is unnecessary. He said he would stand by the mandate of the citizens and would oppose the Bodell offer.

MAJOR McMILLAN

Major McMillan said that in view of what had transpired he would say a few words. He explained about the action taken since the election, how on May 11 an application had been made for the power and on May 15 for plans and specifications. With regard to the commissioners being named, Bodell and Sanderson he said he had not considered it necessary to call in the commissioners. Some members, he said, had been on the account the small cost necessary to give you full seeing power.

NATIONAL CONCORD

NEED OF DOMINATION

(Vancouver Sun.) "If we see to it that tolerance and concord prevail we Canadians can hope to build a really great nation," said Hon. Dr. Henri S. Beland, minister of Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment, before the Canadian Club today, in a speech in which he pleaded for a better understanding between all parts of the Dominion.

"Our destiny is a great destiny. We are in a wonderful position. It almost seems that Providence has appointed us to the task of maintaining the peace of the world. If Great Britain and the United States can be brought together there can never be another international conflict like the last great war, and we are in the best position to bring closer friendship about the world."

The all-absorbing concern of the war was not to prevent future wars he declared. There are those who say that they are fed up with stories of the war, but for his part he believed that the best way to prevent armed conflicts is to keep before the eyes of the world a picture of the horror and sufferings of war.

"The happiness, the prosperity and even the very life of civilization depend upon our preventing another great war," he said. "No country in history has ever profited from a war, no matter how great the conquests have been. As Canadians we should be constantly working to bring about better international relations."

To undertake the work of drawing the two branches of the English speaking race closer, one to the other, is a united and happy world, he said.

"If Canada wants to be the great jewel in the British Commonwealth of Nations we must develop in Canada a great united country in which generosity, tolerance and friendship flourish," he continued. "I find that a feeling exists in certain parts of the Dominion that the French-Canadians are estranged from the other Canadians. But let me assure you that Quebec is an asset to Canada, not a load upon her. We have been raised in a spirit of loyalty to the throne and to Britain, and no other sentiment has ever prevailed among the great body of the French-Canadian people. We breathe the same spirit, pay homage to the same King, and live under the same flag that you do."

PEARL GREY AND IVORY

A new and refreshing effect in a girl's Bed Room, though many older folks are found to be envious—the grace of ancient Greek art reflected in the modern Adams Design—now with a new total harmony, pearl grey and ivory.

You'll have to imagine the symmetry of line, the almost unapparent wealth of decoration—the bright coziness and color of a set that will urge you often to use the room for your guests' wraps.

The Bed, the generously mirrored and drawn-out Bureau, the French Dressing Table, with its nicknack drawers, its three winged mirrors and Bench—the whole four in this new design and ivory-tone are somebody's for $129.

It has been voted that never in three generations have Magee's excelled themselves so in the master furrier's art. And no wonder, for inspiration has been drawn from the great designers of Paris, of Fifth Avenue, of Montreal—and the models have been made up for less here, bought direct from the hunters. Excellent purchases were made ahead of a rising market—reductions result. Reductions doubled during this ten day sale to urge you to arrange for your fur while we can do our best. And so— A Novelty in Mole A silkier lightness and flexibility was obtained by specially treating Scotch Mole skin. The shawl collar is notched to button across when wanted—a 19 inch row of fur. The border is a seven fur width of 19 inches. Flare cuff in keeping, there's a sash belt and the lining of crepe is wide-bordered in gold and peacock satin. Reduced for sale from $625 to $574. TURNED DOWN.

The city council this morning gave the go-ahead to the Bodell proposition. Each of the four commissioners declared himself squarely against it. There will be no plebiscite. The way is now open to get on with the business of securing a new mayor. It must now be clear to Mayor McLellan that the opposition to the Bodell scheme is not confined to a few interested or deluded persons. The United Organizations have the citizens at their back. The boogies raised yesterday by the mayor did not frighten the council and will not frighten the people. That portion of the press which called for the rejection of the Bodell offer is vindicated by the council and will be vindicated by the people. While the commissioners are not averse to civic control of the power company's plant, they want it to be by ownership at a price to be fixed by the city and not by the power company.

WANTED—A MAYOR.

The citizens of St. John are facing a crisis which ought to arouse the intense indignation of every man and woman who have a real regard for the city's welfare. They are threatened with action at City Hall which would betray their interests. The challenge has been thrown down by Mayor McLellan. The people must take up the challenge and make whatever changes at City Hall the need of the hour demands. Mayor McLellan cannot be permitted to have his way—and Mr. Bodell's way. He made wild assertions yesterday that have no foundation in fact, and which could only be designed to frighten the people into accepting the outrageous proposal made by Mr. Bodell. The game is too transparent. It has gone quite far enough. Mr. McLellan was elected to do one thing and he is trying to do another. He cannot evade his responsibility. Neither can the other commissioners evade their responsibility. The recall proceedings will go on, and the people will assert their right to have their wishes respected by men elected to be their representatives. The newspapers which oppose the Bodell deal have no axe to grind. Neither have the United Organizations, nor the great mass of the citizens who are now ready to oppose the man they made mayor in April last. He is riding for a fall.

THE NEW RABBIT

The mayor has started a new rabbit. In solemn tones suggestive of profound emotion if not dread of impending disaster, he warned the council yesterday to beware. If the Bodell scheme were not adopted certain persons with ulterior motives, if not carabuncles, would unite with certain other interests, buy up the common stock of the New Brunswick Power Company, get control of that company, get from the government the Musquash current, and charge the people more than the present fifteen cents per kilowatt hour. He intimated that these fearsome folk would have no mercy on St. John, and were so eager to begin their career of plunder that they were ready to pay more for the property than Mr. Bodell, the city's friend, was asking from the city. When Commissioner Bullock mildly enquired why Mr. Bodell did not eagerly grasp the better offer, the mayor was somewhat obscure, but made up in words what he lacked in clarity of expression. The truth is that it was a gentleman very close to the mayor who stated some time ago that certain outside interests had been looking over the situation here, and had said that if they could get the Musquash current they would make the New Brunswick Power Company an offer for its property; but, when they found they could not get the Musquash current they went away, saying they would not consider the purchase for one moment.

This is the story the mayor has re-rumped for his own purposes. Nobody wants the property of the New Brunswick Power Company unless Musquash goes with it. The city has been offered the power and can sign the contract tomorrow. Then by competition it can put the New Brunswick Power Company where it would be very glad to discuss reasonable terms.

The new rabbit only looks large when seen through the mayor's magnifying glass, and will not distract public attention from the fox that is approaching the hen-coop.

The plant of the New Brunswick Power Company is just as much run-down today as it was yesterday. The mayor's magic has not mended a car, a gas pipe, a leaky distribution system or a battered rail. But the company says it is making a profit this year.

WILL ST. JOHN FOLLOW SUIT?

Read this from the Toronto Globe: "The proof of the pudding is in the eating. The Toronto householder who does not feel competent or willing to analyze a financial statement on a large scale has only to examine his own bill for electric service in order to realize the enormous advantage of public ownership and operation. One bill for $2.98 for two months covers lighting, power for washing machine, iron, vacuum cleaner, toaster and fan. This provides, as Sir Adam Beck's statement shows, not only for operation, but for a sinking fund for the retirement at maturity of the bonds sold for the construction of the plant. "The water bill for the same house is $7.46 for the summer months. As this includes $3.38 for hose, used only in the summer the charge for the year would be $11.84, or less than a dollar a month for water used in the lavish way in which Torontonians are accustomed. This is another instance of public ownership. No service or commodity supplied by any private concern can begin to compare with these in value for the money paid. The householder wants more of it. Cooking by electricity is becoming more and more common, and there is little doubt that heating by the same means will eventually become so cheap that the annual anxious scramble for coal will be at an end."

MR. PHILLIPS AND THE MAYOR.

What has Mr. Herbert Phillips to say to Mayor McLellan? The mayor yesterday, when asked if he knew anything about Mr. Kribs' credentials as an engineer, replied at first in the negative. He added that as far as he knew the last thing Mr. Kribs was doing in Ontario was making washing machines. When asked if Sir Adam Beck had not recommended Mr. Kribs, he said in such a tone as to suggest doubt: "We are told so." In other words, Premier Foster and the New Brunswick Electric Commission, which is headed by Mr. Phillips, who went to Toronto for the purpose, foisted upon the province as an electrical engineering expert a mere maker of washing machines. Of course almost anything might be suspected of Premier Foster and the New Brunswick Electric Commission, who are trying to force cheap light and power upon a people who want it expensive, but what of the mayor's friend and adviser, Mr. Phillips? Will the latter stand for it? When he returned from Toronto he informed the citizens that Mr. Kribs was one of the outstanding men in Ontario hydro, which means in America. And he told the truth. The credentials Mr. Kribs can submit are conclusive. Among his sponsors are Sir Adam Beck and the chief engineer of Ontario hydro, and some other gentlemen whose word would even impress the mayor's friend, Mr. Sanderson.

Of course the mayor's action is in line with his policy of trying to deceive and discredit all who oppose him, but in his attack on Mr. Kribs he has led his friend Mr. Phillips to the slaughter. Will Mr. Phillips stay dead or will he resent the manner of his taking off and revisit the mayor's glimpses of the moon?

Mayor McLellan announced yesterday that he had the authority of Hon. William Pugsley for saying that the title of ownership would pass to the city with the acceptance of the Bodell offer. Why did he not add that it would be subject to a mortgage for $3,000,000? Does the mayor think the people are as "densely ignorant" as he yesterday charged Commissioner Bullock with being?

The whole question of cheap light and power for St. John hinges on the contract for the Musquash current. When that contract is signed the way will be clear—and not before. If the city refuses to sign the New Brunswick Power Company will control the situation.

The mayor announced yesterday that if the United Organizations tried to recall him they would be properly trimmed. Well, they are getting ready for the trimming.

When a public official admits in the course of an afternoon that he was wrong in relation to a number of important matters in April, what guarantee is there that he is right in August?

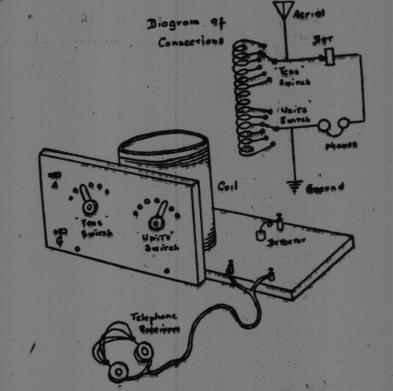

Commissioner Thornton asked a few awkward questions yesterday. Especially the one about "no truck or trade."

Lesson No. 79. HOW TO BUILD AND INSTALL A SIMPLE RECEIVING SET. II.

A cardboard tube about four inches in diameter and six inches long is used as a support on which the coil is wound. About one half pound of number 24 or 26 double cotton, covered wire will be required for the winding which consists of 80 turns of wire. In winding the wire on the tube, every ten turns, a loop of wire about six inches long is twisted so as to form a tap until six such taps have been made. During the last ten turns of the winding taps are taken off at every turn, making a total of eighteen taps including the ends of winding.

Two knob switches, one having eight switch points and one with ten are mounted on the wooden panel already described. The single turn taps are connected to the switch points on the ten point switch and the ten turn taps are connected to the eight point switch, the coil itself resting on the wooden base behind the panel. Two binding posts are mounted on the left of the panel, one being connected to each of the knob switches by wires on the back of the panel, one post is marked antenna, and one is marked ground. The detector crystal, which can be purchased mounted in a cup, is secured to the base by a screw through the board threaded into the cup at the right side of the base board. A wire is run from this cup under the base to the binding post marked antenna, which now has two wires connected to it. About two inches from the cup a set screw type of binding post is mounted with a wire from it running under the base to one of two binding posts mounted for the telephones. In the detector post a piece of bare number 24 wire is secured with the end just touching the crystal. The second telephone binding post is connected to the binding post marked ground, which thus has two wires connected with it. The antenna and ground may now be connected to the terminal post marked for that purpose, and the telephones, which should be about 2000 ohms resistors, are connected to the posts provided. The set is now ready for operation. In order to save time in adjusting the detector to sensitiveness an ordinary buzzer and dry cell may be placed near the receiving set with one terminal of the battery connected to the ground terminal of the set. A buzzer will be heard in the telephones when a sensitive spot is found on the crystal with the end of the bare wire, if the buzzer is placed in operation while the detector is being adjusted. The intensity of the buzz indicates in a rough way the degree of sensitiveness of the detector adjustment. With the detector adjustment the switches are varied until signals from the desired station are heard, assuming the station to be transmitting and within range. It will be noted that by the combination of the two switches, one with eight taps of ten turns and one with ten taps of one turn variations in the number of turns in circuit, from one to eighty may be secured in steps of one turn each. Reference to the diagram will aid in mounting the parts of the set and connecting them up. (All Rights Reserved by United Feature Syndicate. Reproduction Prohibited.)

MORRIS GRIEVED BY NEWS OF DEATH OF NORTHCLIFFE

(Canadian Press Despatch.) New York, Aug. 16.—Lord Morris, formerly premier of Newfoundland, who is in New York for a few days, today expressed himself as much shocked by Lord Northcliffe's death. Lord Morris, as attorney-general for Newfoundland several years ago drew the contract between his government and the Northcliffe enterprises for the erection of the pulp and paper mill in that country, which manufactured paper for the Northcliffe publications. Later, as premier for nine years, Lord Morris became a close friend of the publisher.

SAYS CLERGYMEN HAVE FEWER CHILDREN NOW

Clergymen no longer have large families, the members of the Neo-Humanist Birth Control Society were told by Prof. MacBride at a recent conference in England. Thirty years ago clergymen were reckoned among the most prolific members of the community and rightly regarded as breeders of talent, but today road sweepers, dock laborers and people of that class indulge in large families, while clerical families consist on the average of only one or two children. The professor declared also that every species of animal and plant, if allowed to exercise unchecked its natural powers of reproduction, would in comparatively few years completely overrun the earth and crush out other forms of life.

SKETCH OF ARTHUR GRIFFITH.

A sketch of Arthur Griffith by Ernest A. Boyd, which appeared in the Evening Post shortly after his arrest in 1920, discussed his character and his personality. "In personal appearance," said Mr. Boyd, "never was an Irish leader more unlike the popular conception of the type than Arthur Griffith. "There is nothing of the traditional Irishman about this unobtrusive, unassuming, rather insignificant looking man. Of low stature, with a dark monotone, trimmed, a la Trotsky, dressed in conventional, shabby clothes, he is in strange contrast with the Bohemian individualism in dress and manner of some of the Dublin intelligentsia. "Unlike the synthetic Gaelic transplanted from Oxford to Ireland, he is a genuine Irishman, and he would hesitate to appear, as the imported patriots do, attired in the saffron kilts of ancient Ireland. "His whole personality carries a suggestion of thoroughly British doggedness and determination, and when he speaks his head and shoulders move as if of one piece in a deliberate movement of the bust, like an Oriental idol. He is the finest political pamphleteer of his time, cold, incisive, and deadly in his humorless argumentativeness, rising at times to the invective power of S...

TURKISH HEBREW HAD TWO WIVES

Second Mrs. Herriman Has Marriage Annulled by U. S. Court.

Washington, Aug. 15.—One of the oddest matrimonial tangles with which the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia has dealt in a long time reached a conclusion today when Justice Jennings ruled that the English marriage of Mrs. Anna Augusta Steve Herriman, of this city, his second wife, Herriman, who expressed his dissatisfaction with the way the trial turned out and noted an appeal, is declared to be a wealthy importer of New York city. The other principals in the case were Mrs. Anna Augusta Steve Herriman, now engaged in business in this city under the name of "The Jewel Box," and Libbie Herriman, a young Turkish girl now residing in her ancestral home at Jerusalem, in Palestine. Mrs. Anna Herriman is also a Turkish subject, and all are Hebrews. Testimony in the case indicated that the romance began in Jerusalem and culminated in Herriman's marrying Libbie. The scene then shifted to Fulham, England, where Herriman married a second time, Mrs. Anna Herriman claimed, on the representation that he was a widower. This was on October 26, 1912.

After his release Herriman joined his new wife in this city. Afterward Libbie visited Washington and discovered that he had married. Herriman's testimony showed that he took the girl to a local rabbi and went through the Jewish religious divorce proceedings, technically known as "Get" and "divorce" Libbie. Mrs. Anna Herriman found out about this in the fall of 1920, after Libbie had returned to Jerusalem, satisfied that he had done what was right to annul her marriage was instituted by the second Mrs. Herriman, who insisted despite her husband's denial, that he had gone through some sort of a marriage ceremony with Libbie and that this marriage had never been annulled by any court of record. The woman reasoned, the testimony showed, that had there been no ceremony at all there would have been no need for the "Get" but it seems that Herriman tried to explain this by declaring that he believed she had the right to take her away. Following her divorce, the woman married Ralph Levinson, an attorney of 779 Broadway, Manhattan. When first arraigned in court, Mrs. Levinson stated that being mother of the baby she believed she had the right to take her away. Unable to furnish bail, Justice Thorp allowed Mrs. Levinson to be paroled in the custody of Jules Gladstone, her husband's partner, until next Tuesday, when it will be furnished.

mechanical interests. We had a houseboat on the Ohio River eight years ago, and she got into tatters to work around the engine. She liked them so well that she continued wearing them. We traveled about the country, and people always took her to be boy. When we came to Philadelphia from New York two years ago she got a job driving a five-ton ash truck under the name of Jack McConnell. She had J. YOUNG MOTHER HELD FOR STEALING BABY

Had Right to Take Her Own Child, Says Mrs. Anna Levinson to Kidnapping Charge.

Rockville Centre, L. I., Aug. 16.—Mrs. Anna J. Levinson, twenty-five years old, was held in $1,000 bail for the action of the Grand Jury by Justice of the Peace John T. Thorp on the charge of kidnapping her three-year-old daughter, Jean Caroline Kahn, on August 5 and taking the child to her home in Putnam County, N. Y. Her former husband, Herman Kahn, recovered the child next day and then secured a warrant for her arrest. Kahn secured a divorce from his wife from Justice Wagner in the Supreme Court, Manhattan, with the custody of the baby. The mother was permitted to visit the child occasionally. She went to the Kahn home at 116 Lincoln avenue on last Saturday, where it is charged she took the child while the grandmother was in another part of the house. Following her divorce, the woman married Ralph Levinson, an attorney of 779 Broadway, Manhattan. When first arraigned in court, Mrs. Levinson stated that being mother of the baby she believed she had the right to take her away. Unable to furnish bail, Justice Thorp allowed Mrs. Levinson to be paroled in the custody of Jules Gladstone, her husband's partner, until next Tuesday, when it will be furnished.

FATHER LECOURTOIS GOING TO BATHURST

Superior of Holy Heart Seminary, Halifax, Will Take Charge of Institution in New Brunswick.

(Halifax Echo). Rev. Father LeCourtois, for nineteen years Superior of the Holy Heart Seminary on Quinpool road, leaves Halifax tomorrow for Bathurst, N. B. to take up his appointment as Superior of the Holy Heart Seminary there. The kindly general priest with the courtly manners of the French school, the ideal spiritual father who did such great work in Halifax among Catholic young men for the priesthood, will leave behind him hosts and hosts of friends he has made here, not by any means confined to his own religious faith, and he will have the best wishes of them all for success in his new position. Father LeCourtois came to Halifax from France about twenty-seven years ago and has labored hard and steadily in the interests of the Seminary of the Holy Heart, which was founded in 1812, that he celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. To none has he been more beloved than the students and priest-graduates of the Seminary. It was in the Spring of 1894 that the construction of the Seminary building, Quinpool road, was laid by His Grace the late Archbishop O'Brien. The building was completed the following July and opened immediately. The first students included Rev. E. A. LeBlanc, now Bishop of St. John; Father McKinnon, now Parish Priest of Herring Cove; Father D. Comeau, now Parish Priest of Bel Brook, and Rev. J. Deveau, now Parish Priest of Tuxford, Wedge. The first Superior was Rev. Father Cochet, whose death occurred in 1886. The second Superior was Rev. Father Levallois, who later on was recalled to the head of the Eduist order in France for two years and was succeeded by Father LeCourtois. Gradually the number of students increased as the value of the institution as a theological seminary became known, and it became necessary to enlarge the original building and a permanent chapel large enough to accommodate the seminarians and the Catholic population of the district was built. Unfortunately, in the following year Father LeCourtois completed his first term of superintendency and was succeeded by Rev. Father LeBrun, whose superintendency was marked by the erection of a new wing to the building. Two years later Father LeBrun was called back to France and Father LeCourtois was appointed Superior for a second time, a somewhat unusual but well earned honor. It was at this time a special Eduist house was built at Bathurst. Further extension of the Seminary building was found necessary, but the 1917 explosion gave the project a setback. But two years ago the extension matter was taken up and last year the big extension was completed. During all this time Father LeCourtois was ever active in forwarding the work of the institution and his name will ever be associated with its upbuilding and success. Father LeCourtois was a delegate of the Eduist order to their general assembly in France, and as well as being so largely responsible for placing the Holy Heart Seminary in the forefront of Canadian and United States Seminaries, he was chaplain of a number of Catholic organizations of Halifax. Representative of the language of Mollere, he has been present at banquets and reunions held in Halifax, and he has acted as a bond of union to members of the French army and navy during their visits to Halifax. In addition to his seminary activities his priestly services have ever been at the disposal of Catholics resident in the vicinity.

GANG'S TOUGHEST RETURNS TO SKIRTS

Hard Boulded Truck Driver Turns Out a Girl.

Philadelphia, Aug. 16.—Bat McConnell, a twenty-one-year-old "tough guy," with a handy pair of mitts for fighting "for driving a truck, had suddenly become Miss Florence Gray, and the gang is just knocked daffy by the news. Bat's denouement occurred in Judge McDevitt's police court, where the tough guy appeared with a creased upper lip and a bruised eye, a reluctant prosecuting witness against Eddie Weaver. Eddie has jiggered up his courage to take a smack at Bat McConnell's mouth in revenge for having been whipped full many a time by the battler. The police broke up the row, arresting both, and the police station procedure is believed to have been responsible for the discovery that Bat McConnell, the tough guy, is really Florence Gray, a very nice girl, if she does say it herself, and the daughter of a southern family.

When the news got out among Bat's friends in the trucking profession you could have knocked them over with a feather. For two years the battler has been one of the crowd, driving an ash truck for a living, and taking the part of a capable young fellow in the somewhat vigorous social activities of street-corner habitués. James Gray, a seventy-five-year-old veteran of the New York and Virginia bars, grandfather of Florence, told how she became a boy. Her father, the son of the old lawyer, lives in Asheville, N. C., according to Gray, who claims to be a magistrate of Dare County, N. C. Florence's mother died nineteen years ago, and the little girl made her home with her grandfather. "A long time ago she showed a disinclination toward music and the arts," the old man said. "She preferred me-

RECENT WEDDINGS

Pincock-Whipple. A very pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Jude's church yesterday afternoon, when Rev. W. P. Dunham united in marriage Ida Bernice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Pincock, of Moncton, supported the groom. After a honeymoon spent in New Brunswick, Dr. and Mrs. Pincock will sail from Vancouver on the Empress of Asia for China. Dr. Pincock has recently been appointed by the Methodist mission board for medical service there. The out-of-town guests to the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Pincock, and Mr. and Mrs. F. W. PASTOR AND FARMER KILLED IN GUNFIGHT AFTER CHURCH

Somerset, Ky., Aug. 15.—Two men are dead and another is believed to be dying in a hospital here as the result of a gun fight Thursday night at the close of religious service at Mount Victory, about twenty-five miles east of here. The dead are Abe Nolen, lay pastor of the Mount Victory Church, and Ester Dykes, a farmer, Ellis Richardson, a farmer, was wounded. Officers were told today that Dykes and Richardson went to church service, which was being conducted by Nolen, with the lowered intention of breaking up the meeting. They were unsuccessful and departed. One member of the congregation fearing trouble, obtained a shotgun and gave it to the pastor. On his way home Nolen is reported, met the two men, who are alleged to have fired on Nolen. Nolen returned the fire. The pastor, who recently came here, has been active against moonshiners.

FINDS FIVE CITIES BURIED CENTURIES

Dr. S. G. Morley Reports Results of Search in Central America—Pyramids 90 Feet High and Ruins of Public Buildings. Washington, D. C., Aug. 16.—Five Mayan cities, abandoned, perhaps, 1,000 years ago, have been discovered in the forests of Yucatan and Guatemala by Dr. Sylvanus G. Morley of the Carnegie Institution of Washington, who has just returned from an archaeological expedition in Central America. The largest of these cities was found in northern Guatemala. Dr. Morley calls it "Naachtun or Distant Stones," because of its inaccessibility. It was once, he says, a large, fairly prosperous, provincial town, which might be compared with some of our present day middle western cities. Practically all that remains of the fragile private dwellings of the thousands of former inhabitants are the few stones which form their kitchen fireplaces. Imagine the city of Washington with everything levelled to the ground except government buildings and churches, and you get some idea of Naachtun as it now stands, says Dr. Morley. Only public buildings and pyramids mark its former importance. Among these ruins there are pyramids ninety feet high. These pyramids should not be confused, he emphasizes, with Egyptian pyramids, which were used as tombs. The American pyramids were merely solid platforms on top of which temples were erected. These served as astronomical observatories as well as for the barbaric religious rites performed in them. Naachtun and many other cities were probably abandoned during the sixth century after Christ. Naachtun, Dr. Morley says, was one of the second class city-states of this powerful people. He also recently found two other ancient city sites in northern Guatemala and two others in Yucatan—Science Service.

WENT TO BOSTON TO SEE THE SIGHTS

Three Bangor Misses' Sight-seeing Trip Interrupted by Police. (Bangor Commercial). Three Bangor girls of the ages twelve, thirteen and fourteen years respectively started forth on a trip of adventures, Friday, and caused their parents considerable worry before they were finally apprehended in Boston, Saturday morning. These would-be adventuresses were Rose Corey, daughter of Thomas Corey of Hancock street; Amelia Maroon, daughter of George Maroon of Hancock street; and Elizabeth Lee, daughter of John Lee of Hazel street. The Lee girl, the youngest of the trio, obtained $77 to finance the trip, and as the Corey girl was the oldest, she was appointed custodian of the funds. The city in which they decided to seek their fortunes was Boston, and, hiring a taxi, they rode to the Eastern Steamship wharf in this city Friday afternoon in first-class style and boarded the boat for Boston. Miss Corey purchased the tickets. When evening came, the parents of the three girls became alarmed at their absence, and it being discovered that a sum of money was missing from the Lee home, it was decided that the girls must have gone on a trip to parts unknown. The matter was reported to Chief of Police Knaide and he soon found out

FOURTEEN IN CONVENTION OPPOSE COURT DRESS

San Francisco, Aug. 16.—Fifty modern Fortias at the meeting of the American Bar Association, are spending their time outside the regular sessions and some of their time inside, discussing the question, "What shall we wear in court?" Most of the conversations on this topic have been held in the lobbies of downtown hotels, but they all result in the broad hint that any effort to standardize a woman's dress when she pleads a case before the bar will be vigorously opposed.

THOUSANDS FLOCK TO WOMAN HEALER

Porto Rican Highway Blocked by Crowds Eager to Try "Miracle" Water.

Invalids Come From Distant Lands for Two-Day Trance Sessions Held Weekly at Spring.

San Juan, P. R., Aug. 16.—Extra policemen have been detailed for duty at San Lorenzo to help handle the crowds drawn there from Wednesday to Friday night each week by stories of apparent cures by Julia, Vasquez, the "woman healer of San Lorenzo."

Hundreds of automobiles carrying the sick, lame, and curious have been visiting San Lorenzo, and so great have been the traffic jams that at times the San Lorenzo road was impassable. One day recently there was a line of motors two miles long on either side of the road-way waiting for people who are rapidly wearing into a broad trail the road-way that leads up the steep hills to the spring from which the supposedly healing waters come.

Thousands go by motor to the healer and more thousands on foot. From Caracas and other nearby towns there has sprung up a regular motor service to and from the place. People go by truck loads, in carriages, in cabs, and some are carried. Stories of "miracles" are spread through the crowd each day, and there are reports of people coming from Santo Domingo or the Virgin Islands to try the waters blessed by the healer. Some make a festa of it, other are almost reverential.

The alleged healing spring is about a mile from the town where the healer lives. Near the spring a palm-covered pavilion, sheltering 400 to 500 people, has been built. There Thursdays and Fridays the healer sits in a chair on a raised platform and receives the sick. Waters from the spring are said to lack healing qualities until she has "blessed" or "magicalized" them. After being blessed the water is carried away in bottles, buckets, oil cans, anything. And each person the healer sees is told to bathe, rub the afflicted portion of the body with the water, or to drink it at certain times.

Frequently the healer is aroused from a trance with great difficulty. Her father and a brother assist her. Her power is supposed to have been passed on to her, while the spring waters for many years have been reputed to have healing qualities. It was about two months ago that the healer first attracted attention. Since then her fame has spread throughout the island.

The fog made the attendance at the concerts rather less than would have been the case had the clear weather of the earlier part of the day continued. The band of the 62nd regiment gave an excellent concert in King square and there the members of the Pundy chapter of the I. O. D. At the Haymarket square, St. Mary's band gave a much enjoyed programme, and the nurses from the East St. John hospital under the convalescence of Miss Coleman, R.N., had charge of the ice cream. In the market square in West St. John, the nurses from the Lancaster hospital, under the convalescence of Miss Gaskin, R.N., were in charge of the ice cream, and the concert was given by the Carlton Cornet band which gave a pleasing programme. The total proceeds of the ice cream sales were not known last night, but it is believed the amount is a very satisfactory one.

ENTHUSIASM OVER THE COMING RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

Mrs. G. A. Kuhring Returns to City—Series of Meetings Are to be Held at Various Centres Throughout Province.

Mrs. G. A. Kuhring, who is organizing the membership campaign of the Red Cross Society in the province, returned yesterday from Fredericton, where she had been in conference with some of the representative Red Cross workers of the capital. She was greatly pleased with the enthusiasm of the Fredericton members in making preparations for the coming campaign. She had found them specially interested in carrying on the work for the soldiers in hospital, which is one of the society's chief endeavors and also in the active pursuit of the Red Cross peace policy along public health lines.

The programme for the provincial campaign was discussed at the Fredericton meeting, and full approval was given the plan to hold a series of meetings at local centres throughout the province. Arrangements have been made to hold meetings next week at Moncton, Fredericton and Newcastle, and these points will be made centres for the surrounding district. Representatives from the various communities within a certain radius of the centres will be called to the meetings and the general outline of the campaign will be drawn up. Similar conferences will be held in other centres as it is found convenient, in order that some representative from each locality may be given full information concerning the campaign plan.

The society has very many warm friends in New Brunswick, and it is expected that the present enrolment of more than 10,000 will be greatly increased this year. The preparations for the big drive are being carefully made and Mrs. Kuhring has planned to introduce many interesting features into the campaign.

NO STRIKE IN THE COAL MINES OF NEW BRUNSWICK

While the Grand Lake coal area of New Brunswick, of which Minto is the centre, is located in district No. 26 of the United Mine Workers, the coal mines of the province are owned by independent operators, and it is understood that if the miners had never heard of any strike at all.

The reason for this is that the Minto mines are not organized as a union, and the number of union miners employed there is small. This situation is the result of the recent extended strike which centered largely about the Minto Coal Company, which fought the Minto strike after a dispute after a conciliation board had failed to settle the differences.

A TEMPORARY REDUCTION IN THE STUMPAGE

Fredericton, Aug. 15.—It was announced tonight that the provincial government, at the meeting which began this morning, had considered the matter of stumpage rates on crown lands. A temporary reduction in the rate will go into effect for the current year ending August 1, 1923. Hon. C. W. Robinson, minister of lands and mines, announced the following rates:

Spice and pine, $4 per 1000 feet, reduced from $5.

Fir, $3 per 1000 feet, reduced from $4.

Railway ties, 12 cents each, reduced from 17 cents.

Spool wood and hardwood logs remain as before at $2 and $1.25 respectively.

Bud-worm killed timber and fire-killed timber are to have a half rate.

The premier said that the reduction was only temporary and by no means permanent, as it was expected that the lumber market would improve and the values increase.

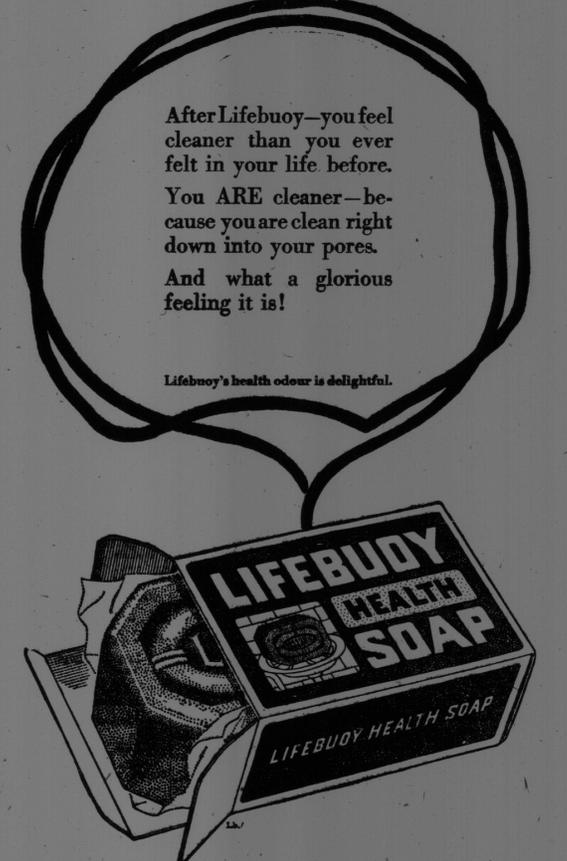

Premier Foster announced that there would be an open season for partridge during the month of October this year. He said that the province would undertake the rigid enforcement of the law forbidding the sale of partridge, a special effort will be made this year to prevent the sale of birds and violators of the law will be punished.

The premier also announced that Clemon C. Cormier, of Moncton, had been appointed to succeed Arthur T. LeBlanc of Campbellton, on the board of the Jordan Institute at River Glade. The appointment of Francis X. LeBlanc, Buctouche, to succeed Felix Michaud as a member of the public utilities board was also announced. His appointment is for the period of ten years.

THOUSANDS AT THE ST. PETER'S HOLY TRINITY PICNIC

Pleasure-seekers, numbering well up into the thousands, attended the annual Sunday school picnic of St. Peter's and Holy Trinity churches, which was held on St. Peter's ball park yesterday afternoon. The day was ideal for the occasion, the weather being exceptionally fine and the heat calling for repeated trips to refreshment booths. A large crew of workers were busily engaged in the early part of the morning getting the grounds in shape for the big event. Large booths were constructed, supper tables were set up, and the grounds were tastefully decorated. Electric lights were strung through the grounds so that the crowds could enjoy themselves well into the evening.

During the day the different booths and games were liberally patronized, and a very large number of suppers were served during the evening. The City Cornet band was present in the evening and the programme which they rendered was much enjoyed by the throng. Refreshments, fruits and soft drinks sold with marvelous rapidity, the crowds seeming to be in a mood for buying.

Much credit is due to the efficient committee who did so much to make the day a success. The supper tables were in charge of Mrs. Savage and Mrs. Busk and they were assisted by a large number of young ladies from St. Peter's and Holy Trinity churches. The refreshment booth was in charge of Miss Nellie Harrington and Miss Marie M. Sullivan, and the ice cream parlor was under the convener'ship of Miss Sarah Lynch.

A committee of young men from the two parishes were in charge of the different games, and through their efforts the funds of the picnic were greatly swelled. The picnic was held under the supervision of Rev. Dennis Coll, C.S.S.R. Although no knowledge as to the amount made at the picnic could be obtained last night, it is understood that it will amount to quite a tidy sum.

GYRO CLUB HAS A SUCCESSFUL PICNIC

The Gyro Club held a very successful outing to Belyea's Point yesterday afternoon, when forty members of this young organization entered enthusiastically into all of the events on the programme.

Previous to leaving in their cars for Belyea's Point the members of the club held a luncheon, after which J. A. Gregory, president of the St. John Amateur Rowing Club, gave a talk on the history of rowing in St. John for the last fifty years. Mr. Gregory, who is a keen baseball patron and a strong supporter of athletics in general, incorporated in his remarks a sketch of the career of Hillon Belyea, Canadian single scull champion and winner of the association singles title of the United States, and pointed out the international interest which has been created in this remarkable sculler. He concluded his short address with a poem on the victory of the Paris crew at Renforth.

Following the luncheon, the members left by car for Belyea's Point. The first number on the programme was a baseball game, in which Ryan's team defeated a 15 to 9 defeat to Sinclair's cohorts. The teams lined up as follows: Winners—L. C. Ryan, p.; G. Hillcoat, c.; Sandy Christie, ss.; Dr. P. I. Bell, lf.; H. Wetmore, 1b.; G. K. Sheila.

SUMMER CAMP AT HELMSDALE

Between ten and twelve of the C. G. I. T. leaders in the city will start tomorrow for their summer camp at Helmsdale on the Belleisle. Mrs. Frank Compton, Miss Mildred Ross and Miss Billie Appleby are the convener's for the camp, and Mrs. J. D. Hunter will be the camp leader. It will be entirely a pleasure and recreational camp, and the party will aim at having a good time. The leaders have always succeeded in having a good time in camp. Mrs. Hunter has just returned from the girls' camp at Chipman, which was one of the most successful held under the auspices of the New Brunswick girls' work board.

The C. G. I. T. leaders felt that the success of their camp on the Belleisle depended greatly on their being able to persuade Mrs. Hunter to take charge, and when she was making a short train journey to one of the suburban stations, the leaders assembled at the train and presented to her a remarkably beautiful bouquet.

MAYOR PLEADS FOR THE BODELL OFFER

Continues Tirade of Abuse of Worthy Citizens Who Are Fighting for City's Rights, and Makes Insulting Remark About Engineer Kribs

His Unwarranted Attempt to Create a False Impression Regarding "Veiled Pledge" and Danger That St. John Will Never Get Musquash Power—Commissioners Thornton and Bullock Ask Him Some Pointed and Embarrassing Questions—Discussion to Be Continued Today.

The common council considered Mayor McLellan's recommendations in regard to the Bodell proposals yesterday afternoon but took no definite action in the direction of a plebiscite, after the proposed discussion which was finally adjourned until 11 o'clock this morning, when a special meeting of the council will be held. None of the commissioners declared their stand on the question, as they had been asked to do by the United Organizations. Commissioner Frink declared he was not moved by any threats of a recall, while the other commissioners made no statement. The matter of the plebiscite, however, will come up for decision at this morning's meeting.

The mayor—"I cannot say. I will say frankly that the last I heard of him was that he was making washing machines." Commissioner Wigmore—"He is employed by the Power Commission." The mayor here remarked that during the campaign he had accepted a deal at par but he had found out that he was "gullible."

Commissioner Bullock—"Did not Sir Adam Beck recommend Mr. Kribs?" The mayor—"We were told so."

Mayor McLellan went on to read his report of the negotiations with Messrs. Bodell and Sanderson. At the mention of the mayor's slogan, "no truck or trade with the Power Company" in the report, the mayor looked up and declared that that was his slogan today.

Commissioner Thornton expressed deep surprise. "If this is your slogan, why did you negotiate with the Power Company?"

The mayor—"What I meant during the campaign was that there would be 'no truck or trade' with the Power Company in regard to the company distributing the Musquash current."

Commissioner Thornton—"Well, you made no qualification of that slogan during the campaign and that is what you are doing now?"

The mayor said that Mr. Kribs was present at one of the discussions and Commissioner Bullock wanted to know if Mr. Sanderson recognized Mr. Kribs as an electrical engineer. The mayor could not say.

Commissioner Thornton wanted to know how they arrived at the figures presented in the Bodell scheme.

The mayor—"They were figured on a capitalization basis."

When speaking about the valuation on the Eastern Electric, Commissioner Thornton declared that the assets of the concern did not amount to $10,000.

Commissioner Bullock—"That is what Ross said."

The mayor admitted he was wrong during the campaign on this point. He declared that the government had declared that Mr. Bodell would develop and not yield energy current, it would go ahead and develop on the Leppre and Maggadavie.

Commissioner Thornton—"If more money is being offered, why do they not accept?"

The mayor—"Bodell has not got the refusal of that offer, that is all." He explained the situation.

Commissioner Wigmore—"We were asked, we should have been taken into your confidence and by this time a civic distribution system might be under way."

Commissioner Thornton expressed the opinion that this motion of the council of May 11 last in regard to the appointment of this board should be rescinded, and the mayor agreed with him.

Commissioner Bullock—"As soon as you knew there was this difficulty, your word, we should have been taken into your confidence and by this time a civic distribution system might be under way."

Commissioner Thornton—"Who is this Mr. Kribs and what are his qualifications?"

Commissioner Frink—"Trying to put you in the piker class, eh?"

myth." He then made a contemptuous remark about the editor of the Globe. $3,000 Too Low.

The mayor declared that it was being spread around that he had been bought in the matter. "I have never seen a man as $3,000, but I feel that that is an insult."

Commissioner Frink—"Trying to put you in the piker class, eh?"

The mayor said that Mr. Bodell had told them that he could not guarantee delivery of the preferred stock at 85, but he would do his best to see that the first came at 85 and the second at 70.

Commissioner Thornton—"So far as I am concerned I am willing to stay." He went on to say he usually did not say much but when it came to a vote he knew what he was going to do.

Commissioner Wigmore said he was willing to stay.

The mayor said he would rather not meet in the evening.

Commissioner Frink got to his feet and declared he had his views on this matter but had never been given a chance to express them.

He was getting started when Commissioner Bullock interrupted: "Save it till tomorrow."

Adjournment of the discussion was then made at 11 o'clock this morning.

Included in routine business yesterday was the decision to postpone hearing of certain assessment appeals from Aug. 21 until such time as the city solicitor and chairman of the board of assessors return to the city.

The mayor presided and all the commissioners were present, in addition to several interested citizens.

The report of the committee of the whole was adopted as read. A communication from the secretary of the Union of N. B. Municipalities regarding payment of dues amounting to $60 was read and the amount ordered paid.

The mayor of Chatham (Ont.) wrote announcing the holding of the Dominion fire chiefs' convention at Chatham on Aug. 28, 29 and 31. The letter was referred to Commissioner Thornton.

Wellington Ring wrote in regard to when riding a bicycle at the foot of Harrison street. The matter was referred to the commissioner of public works and the city solicitor for report.

Notification from the law department of the C. P. R. in regard to the reconstruction of the bridge over Chesley street was received. Speaking on the matter, Commissioner Frink declared that the company had been asked to widen this bridge and thus do away with a dangerous turn in the road under the bridge. It was finally decided, after discussion, that Commissioner Frink get in touch with the C. P. R. and find out their intentions in the matter and report back.

Commissioner Bullock's motion that a duly executed agreement, releasing the Dominion public works department from any liability for damages while doing dredging work for the city, free of charge, carried. The council then resolved itself into a committee of the whole and took up the discussion of the mayor's hydro report.

The board of the provincial hospital decided yesterday to connect the institution with the St. John water system. It also was decided to install electric lighting in the hospital annex.

During the course of his references to the United Organizations and the recall campaign being conducted by them against him, the mayor declared that, while, during the campaign, the United Organizations might have a lead on him at the three-quarter mark, he would romp home a winner by several lengths on the final quarter stretch.

The mayor here finished reading his report and then summed up his conclusions.

Commissioners Heard.

When the mayor had finished, Commissioner Frink arose and said that the council had been there all afternoon and "had been edited." Information had been given that would likely provoke discussion and consideration.

Commissioner Thornton—"So far as I am concerned I am willing to stay." He went on to say he usually did not say much but when it came to a vote he knew what he was going to do.

Commissioner Wigmore said he was willing to stay.

The mayor said he would rather not meet in the evening.

Corns Go Blue-jay to your druggist

The simplest way to end a corn is Blue-jay. A touch stops the pain instantly. Then the corn loosens and comes out. Made in a colorless clear liquid (one drop does it!) and in extra thin plasters. The action is the same.

MUTT AND JEFF—WELL, BASEBALL IS AN UNCERTAIN GAME. A cartoon by Bud Fisher showing a man in a suit and a man in a baseball uniform talking about a bet on a game. The man in the suit says, 'I'll bet you $30,000 that you'll lose.' The man in the uniform says, 'I'll bet you $30,000 that I'll win.' The man in the suit says, 'You say your terms are all right? Fine! That suits me, sir, and—' The man in the uniform says, 'In that case I'll start to train at once, too.' The man in the suit says, 'Listen! If the loser doesn't get at least ten dollars there ain't gonna be any fight! See?'

ROYALS DEFEAT BOSTON TWILIGHTS
About 1,000 fans witnessed the game between the Boston Twilights and the Royals, which was played on the East End diamond last evening. The Royals were the victors by the score of 7 to 2. The game was a poor exhibition of ball, due chiefly to the fact that four of the members of the Twilights missed the boat and their places had to be filled by St. John men. Diggs, who was on the mound for the local team, did good execution, holding the Boston boys to one hit and striking out eight men. Gordon, who pitched for the visitors, had ten strikeouts to his credit but allowed six hits, and his team mates played poorly behind him. Score:

MEETING TO FORM BASEBALL LEAGUE PROVES FAILURE

The baseball situation remains unchanged in so far as the matter of local teams entering a series with Moncton, Fredericton and St. Stephen for the professional championship of the province is concerned. Several of those closely connected with the two baseball teams said last night that it was hard for St. John teams to enter such a league owing to the fact that their players were unable to get away from their work to play outside games and that they did not wish to take weak teams away to represent the city. They declared that that was the reason there was no local representative at the meeting at the capital.
One official said last night that he was talking yesterday afternoon with Frank Brown, who represented Moncton at Fredericton on Monday, and he was informed that the matter had only been talked over at the capital. He added that Mr. Brown told him that there was really no regular meeting at Fredericton on Monday but only a short discussion. This bears out a special despatch which was received last night from the Telegraph's special correspondent in the capital, although the press despatch deals entirely with a different phase of the affair and does not touch the matter of the meeting at all. The despatch reads as follows:
"The conference which was to have been held here on Monday night on the matter of organizing New Brunswick baseball league, with St. John, Fredericton, Moncton and St. Stephen represented, did not materialize, as Frank Brown of Moncton was the only outside delegate who attended. Mr. Brown left this morning for St. John and will get in touch with baseball people there on the matter."

SHORT RETAINS CHAMPIONSHIP

The challenge rounds in the men's singles and doubles events in the New Brunswick Tennis Association tournament at Rothesay were played yesterday morning and afternoon.
The singles match between George Harley, of Moncton, and Hazen L. Short, of Rothesay, the title-holder, was not finished because of an accident resulting in a sprained ankle for Harley, which occurred in the fourth set. It is considered likely that this will eliminate Harley from play in the mixed doubles of the Maritime championship event on Thursday.
George Hudson, of Rothesay, will probably be called upon to take Harley's place in this event, but the matter has not been settled.
The score in the singles was decidedly in Short's favor when the match was called off.
Will Meet Back.
On account of Harley's injury, he withdrew from competition and the championship title was awarded to H. L. Short, who held it last year. He will play against Captain E. B. Black, this year's Nova Scotia champion for the maritime title. An X-ray will be taken of Harley's ankle this morning and it is hoped that he will be able to play with Mrs. H. R. Babbitt, for mixed doubles championship of the maritime provinces on Thursday.
The singles match in the afternoon between George Harley and Hazen Short was not as spectacular as the doubles and the style of play was considerably different. A high wind necessitated careful play, and a back-court game was the rule of the day with both. Short took advantage of what set playing there was and made some good volleys. There was quite a little lobbing done.
The first set went to Harley by a score of 6-3, but Short pulled up and took the next two, 6-1 and 6-2. In the fourth set the score stood 4-1 in his favor when Harley, in running after a ball, twisted his ankle badly. It is thought that the ankle is sprained and will keep Harley from competing on Thursday in the maritime championships.

FOR ORPHANS

The Clives and W. E. L. L. teams will clash on the Queen square diamond this evening in aid of the funds for the West Side Orphans' Home and the game should be a good one as both teams will be at their best strength. The west side team has been strengthened for the game. On Thursday night the St. George's and Commercial will meet in the fourth game of the championship series for the mayor's cup.

PLANS FOR COAL SUPPLY IN N. B.

Meeting of Dealers, Operators and Others Soon, Says Premier Foster After Government Meeting.

Fredericton, N. B., Aug. 16.—New Brunswick will probably soon have a provincial fuel administrator as a result of the critical situation in respect to coal supplies. Premier Foster said last night that a meeting of coal dealers, mine operators and others interested in the province would be called at an early date to act in the matter.

The premier pointed out that under the arrangement made between Canada and the United States by the recently appointed federal fuel administration committee emergency orders for coal from any state in the U. S. or any province in Canada will only be honored when they have the O. K. of the official fuel administrator, which will be regarded as the endorsement of the government.

KNIGHTHOOD IS STILL IN FLOWER

"The days of chivalry are over," they say, but rather the chivalry is still with us and is backed up by greater ingenuity than when Sir Walter Raleigh threw down his ultra-fashionable coat to protect the ankles of Queen Elizabeth from the mud of an English street.

To prove this we might take the example afforded at a certain summer resort last night by a young college man who saved a lady from the necessity of a long cold walk along the hard Macadam road—correct, you have guessed it, it was somewhere along the C. N. R.—and, by the use of considerable inventiveness, provided a chariot for her. The chariot was borrowed from a certain store and, while it had formerly carried valuable loads, perhaps never had it carried one quite so precious as last night's. It was not a twin-six nor yet a luxuriously upholstered sedan; it was not even a "one-horse shay," but it carried its unusual cargo safely, albeit slowly, to its destination. It was built more or less in the shape of a box with two long handles and but one wheel. A wheelbarrow, in fact, is what it was.

Let him who says that chivalry is dead try this. Let him who refers to the deeds of valor done in yesteryear for a woman's whim attempt the feat of pushing a full-grown woman for more than 200 yards along a Macadam road and up a twenty per cent grade. Let him do this, we say, and we will listen to his croaking.

TO-MORROW'S RECEPTION.
The committee in charge of the public reception to Hilton Bely, which will take place at St. Peter's ball park tomorrow night, announced this afternoon that St. Mary's band had kindly offered their services. The New Brunswick Power Company is supplying a car to take the handsmen to the grounds. It has also been decided that the presentation will take place between the fourth and fifth innings of the game between St. John and St. Peter's.

MINSTRELS AT GLEN FALLS.
The Community Club of Glen Falls will erect a community hall. The minstrels will give a performance in the big room in the factory tomorrow evening in aid of the fund. They are all Glen Falls people, and have been rehearsing for two months. W. V. Brophy is the director, A. Thorne, musical director, and J. A. Corr, intendant. The soloists are Roy Dixon. The second part will be a rattling musical sketch by Messrs. Hopkins and Bond. The band includes Miss May Conroy and A. E. Boyles.

PAWN SHOP CASE.
Detectives Biddiscombe and Donahue yesterday went looking for stolen goods in the pawn shops of the city. About noon in the establishment of Hyman Taxer, Pond street, they asked him to open for their inspection his record of purchases. Hyman said he had none. Detective Biddiscombe told him his license called for it. Hyman said he didn't have a license. There were two wagons before the door loaded with junk which Hyman said he had got from the Maritime Nall Company. Detective Biddiscombe laid information against Hyman, and he had a very difficult time this morning trying to persuade Magistrate Ritchie of his innocence. He was warned that he was liable to a fine of $40.

CASE DISMISSED.
A case against H. C. Lemon, postponed from yesterday, was taken up this morning. The charge was one of speeding in Millidge avenue, presided over by Magistrate McBrien. Lemon had as witnesses Robert Carson and Albert Lemon. Carson said he had not seen Lemon, but had been asked by him to come to court and say how fast he had driven his car in the avenue on the evening in question. He swore that at no time on the trip from Millidgeville into the city had he exceeded ten miles an hour. Albert Lemon swore that he was in defendant's car and that they kept behind the Carson car. He would swear that the car had not gone more than ten miles an hour. Lemon himself took the stand and swore to the same thing. The magistrate dismissed the case.

MORE EVIDENCE IN NEVINS WILL CASE

The continuation of the case of the contented will of Charles Nevins, which was re-opened and postponed from Friday, was taken up again this morning before Judge H. O. McInerney in the probate court. J. P. H. Toed appeared for Miss Susie Smith, beneficiary under the will; C. F. Sanford, for the trustees of the will and Daniel Mullin, K. C., for the next-of-kin.

Mr. Mullin called Francis Kerr to the stand. He gave evidence about the borrowing of money from Miss Smith. The amount came to a total of about $220, he said, in three instalments. On cross-examination he said that the money borrowed had no connection with the case as it had been loaned through an agreement between Miss Susie Smith and Mrs. Kerr. It was used to pay for a car which Mrs. Kerr had bought.

Ira C. Rockwell testified that the will was written on Westminster Bond, a kind of paper sold by J. and A. McMillan, where he was employed.

Mr. Mullin said that he had attempted to find Harry W. Bolton and his wife and had intended to call them as witnesses but found that they left the city recently. There was another witness who he would like to call however, Harry W. King. Mr. King was out of the city but would return on Monday. He asked for an adjournment.

The case will come up again on Monday morning at eleven o'clock.
