An Unsung Negro Hero

Recently there died in Cleveland, Ohio, "unhonored and unsung" a man named Joe Lucas. Many people, daily, saw Joe; but few knew his name or anything about him, and seemingly none cared to know.

He was a Negro and conducted a shoe shining stand in a large downtown store. He kept at his work, steadily, twenty-six years and never took a vacation. There is little romance in that fact. But Joe had a reason for not taking a rest. He had special use for the money he earned. Working with him were ten colored boys. All of them were attending high school, college or night school and Joe saw to it that their tuition was paid. He did not need the ten boys in his work, but the ten boys needed the money for their education, and so they were given work.

They represented only a small number of the colored boys who had received their education through Joe. For a quarter of a century he had been helping boys through school. Joe himself was educated and would have been fairly "well off" if his earnings had not been dispensed so prodigally. At one time Booker T. Washington tried to hire him as private secretary. But Joe felt that he would be more use to the colored people of Cleveland. So he spent his days shining shoes until he was carried to his grave a few weeks ago "unhonored and unsung."

A Matter Of Race Pride

Last Saturday morning a chartered train of fourteen cars, pullman, diners and a ballroom, passed through the city en route to Buffalo, carrying the Chicago Shriners and their wives to Buffalo for the great international meet.

Heretofore the Shriners have always travelled over the C.N.R. But this time they travelled by way of the C.P.R. in protest against the removal of colored waiters from the C.N.R. diners. Hurrah and three cheers for the Chicago Shriners!!!

COLORED WOMAN BECOMES WEALTHY SELLING FRUIT

(From Pacific Coast News Bureau)

Glendale, Calif., Aug.—The hundreds of wonderful roadside fruit markets that line the beautiful California paved highways, dispensing choice fruit to thousands of Eastern tourists daily, were originated in 1911 by a Colored maid employed at the Meeker ranch a familiar California land mark near Glendale that is now being torn down to make room for real estate expansion.

Becomes Wealthy.

This maid, Beatrice Jolly, a native of Kentucky, is now rated as wealthy, although in spite of her wealth and realty holdings she still remains in the service of the Meeker family with whom she has lived for 17 years.

Established First Market

One day in 1911 receiving permission from her mistress to sell the oranges left on the trees by the pickers, Miss Jolly filled several soap boxes with oranges and did a thriving afternoon's business on the lawn selling to whoever happened to pass by. With a cheerful disposition and a wonderful personality that attracted, Miss Jolly, with the aid of the son of the family and several small boys of the neighbourhood, built up a remarkable business. Encouraged at the success of his maid's efforts, Mr. Meeker was persuaded to finance the work on a larger scale with the result that additional orchards were bought up to assure an adequate supply for the increasing trade of this pioneer roadside market.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

As the Federal election approaches we feel it our duty to advise our people, as we have in the past, to use their franchise. It is not only our privilege, but it is our duty, our sacred duty to register our vote in the coming election. We have heard some of our good church folk say that Christians should stay out of politics and that they should stay away from the polls on election day. Such a view is both narrow and antiquate. It does not fit in with the modern scheme of things. We are all citizens, and as such we are responsible for the kind of government which prevails. We are the electors and we are therefore responsible for the type of men who are chosen to make our laws. It matters not, even if we be saints, so long as we must live in this material world, it is our duty to seek to live under the best possible conditions. We should see to it that the best men are elected to office and that just laws are made to govern our country. We can do this only by using both our brains and our franchise. To say that our laws and our government and our law makers are corrupt is not enough. We must see that they are made more perfect and we can do this in one way only—by registering our votes on election day.

But we have been asked: "How shall we, as colored people, how shall we cast our vote?" And therein comes the rub: We are just as patriotic as any other class of citizens. We are interested in the matter of free trade as well as in the question of high tariff and protection. Even the "custom scandal" is a matter which interests us greatly. Whatever effects the interest of Canada is a matter of deep concern to us as a group as well as individuals. But yet there is another matter—one which comes a little nearer our homes and firesides, a thing which concerns our very existence; a question not of our choosing but one which has been forced upon us by force of circumstances. That question is "What is our status as Canadian citizens and as British subjects?" Things have happened recently and are still happening, which lead us to suspect that this question has not been definitely stilled in the estimation of those who are in control of either the Liberal or Conservative party. Not so long ago the C.N.R. replaced several colored men serving as menials. The C.N.R. is a government owned road. Both parties disclaim responsibility for the action of the officials of the road, yet neither party has made an attempt to see that this great injustice was righted. Each goes merrily on accusing the other and promising us what shall be done "after the election," if we vote for its candidates. Hold just a second, gentlemen! We are not as soft and spineless as you may think. The Dawn, the only Negro paper in Canada, has appealed to candidates and parties in the regular way for advertising matter. One party and one candidate in particular has answered very courteously but has refused to carry an advertisement with us. Both he and his party think it is not worth their while. Very well!! Some people are going to wake up on election day, (if not before) and to their surprise, find that the colored people were awake just a few days ahead of them. There is a movement under way in all of the larger centers of colored population to consolidate the colored vote for self-protection. The contest may or may not be close. Our few thousand votes may or may not mean much. But we shall teach some people that we are a factor to be reckoned with and that this "after the election" stuff is now effete. As the months and years go by we shall gain in strength and efficiency. We have the greatest faith in the ultimate results because we know our cause is just. Before many moons we shall have every colored person in the Dominion a member of one grand political unit and while we may not be able to elect our own candidate we shall be in a position to make our power felt and to demand fair play for Colored Canadians.

Dorsey, speaking from Rev. 22:17. The evening service was well attended, Mr. Harris, formerly of London, Ont. spoke from the 37 Psalm, which was very uplifting.

DR. C. C. ROSS, Liberal candidate for East Middlesex.

TO THE FREE AND INDEPENDENT ELECTORS OF EAST MIDDLESEX

On September 14 you will go to the polls to elect your representative to the House of Commons. It is a self-evident fact that the Government to be formed will be either Conservative or Liberal. The choice lies between these two. The Progressives cannot hope to govern. There is a marked difference in the political temperament of the leaders of these parties—Mr. Meighen, dictatorial, self-opinionated, a power lover (worshiper, in fact); Mr. King, the respecter of the constitution, who listens to the wishes and demands of the masses, who seeks to interpret their desires and implement them. How can the electors of East Middlesex have a voice in the Government if we continue to divide the forces of Liberalism? Look at the facts. On October 29th, 1925, 5,261 voters marked their ballots for the Meighen candidate and 5,700 voters were opposed. Yet Meighen had a supporter sitting in East Middlesex. I appeal to the Progressives of East Middlesex to join with the Liberals on the things we have in common, and they are many. Thus, we would give East Middlesex its proper voice in the affairs of this Dominion. How can this be done? My suggestion has been that the forces opposed to the present shadow Government, of constitutional violators, representatives of the big interests, should unite. I have been selected as the Liberal candidate. In the last Dominion election the Liberal candidate had 637 votes more than the Progressive. Under these circumstances I deem it my duty to stand for this election and I have determined to do so.

DR. C. C. ROSS.

The stork has been very busy in Hamilton leaving twins to Mr. and Mrs. Washington and also to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rhodes.

Deepest sympathy is extended Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rhodes in the loss of their infant son, one of the twins.

A number of Hamiltonians attended the Toronto picnic held at Pt. Dalhousie, August 5th. All reported a wonderful time.

The pulpit was occupied on Sunday by our pastor, Rev. Claude A. Stewart. In the morning Rev. Stewart's text was "The Stewardship of Life," and in the evening "The Mission of Christ." Both sermons were well preached and very impressive.

Sunday, August 15th will be our great rally day when all captains will report the success of the six weeks campaign. St. Paul's is looking for great things.

We are glad to welcome Mrs. Rhodes home again after an extended visit in Detroit and Pontiac, the guests of her daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Long, Mrs. Stevens, (nee Viola Rhodes) and Miss Dorothy Rhodes are all visitors of their mother, Mrs. Rhodes. We are glad to welcome these Hamilton girls back home, also Mr. Normann Granger of Detroit, a Hamilton boy.

Many visitors worshipped at St. Paul's on Sunday. We are always glad to see them with us.

Mr. Fred Duncan of Toledo Ohio, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Duncan.

Mr. Sam Adams of Oakville was in the city Tuesday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hammond.

TORONTO

To the Church and community in general Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard and family, 135 Lindsay Ave. acknowledge with grateful appreciation your kind expression of sympathy in their recent sad bereavement.

Mr. S. S. Scott and J. Richards were delegates to the Masonic Grand Lodge held in Windsor last week.

Mrs. A. Lindsay is indisposed at this writing.

Mrs. Rachel Williams of 81 D'Arcy St. is also indisposed, but convalescent at this writing.

Mrs. Chas. N. Sharp and Mrs. Harry Brown are visiting friends in Buffalo N.Y. for a few days.

Despite the warmth of the weather, and the transfer of the services to the school room, considerable interest is being shown by members and friends in their attendance at the B.M.E. Church each Sunday. Two very fine services were held on Sunday, August 15th and the evening service was especially very largely attended. The pastor spoke in the morning from Jude, 1: 21, Subject, "Keeping Ourselves in the Love of God." A great message was brought to those assembled at the 7.30 p.m. service, from Heb. 2: 3, Sub., "The Great Salvation."

We expect to hold the re-opening service on Sunday, August 29th, special service during the day. A special offering is asked for this day.

All ministers are requested to send the names of their delegates to Rev. F. O. Stewart, 219 Augusta Ave., Toronto 2, Ontario, as soon as possible.

Mrs. H. Banks of 86 Baldwin St. is very low at this writing. Little hope is held for her recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Parks and their three children of Chicago Illinois, were visitors in Toronto last week and were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Stewart. Mr. Parks is a postal employee in Chicago and is spending a portion of his vacation in Canada.

A quiet wedding was conducted in the B.M.E. parsonage on Monday, Aug. 16th when Mr. William J. Hall and Miss Birdell A. Green, both of Toronto were united in marriage, Rev. F. O. officiating.

A special sacred program of music will be given at the close of the evening service on Sunday, August 29th, under the direction of the Y.L.G.

Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Scott have returned after a delightful trip to the Grand Lodge Convention held in Windsor. While away they visited Detroit, Amherstburg, Dresden and London.

Mrs. F. Stewart and her sister Mrs. I. Buchanan of Windsor, are spending a few days in London Ont. visiting Mrs. J. Brown and friends. They will return to Toronto the first of the week.
