THE PRESS HAD TO PINCH ITSELF

Result of the Election Seemed a Bad Dream

The Woodstock Press, the personal organ of J. Kidd Fleming, the ex-Premier, whom the electors of the province failed to vindicate on February 24th, indulges in some very amusing comment on the recent elections. Although the people in every county in the province except Gloucester recorded their verdict on Saturday last, the Woodstock Press, which was not published until the following Tuesday, seemed then to think that the issue was in doubt. It informed its readers that until the declaration proceedings were known there will be doubt as to what party will control the destinies of New Brunswick for the next five years. The poor old Press also declared in the same article that Hon. B. F. Smith and his colleagues had the largest majority given to any of the candidates on either side in the whole province. As a matter of fact the average majority of the government ticket in Carleton was 700, which is 300 less than the majority in Madawaska for Mr. Dugal and his colleague. These facts were known to practically everybody in New Brunswick on Monday morning, yet the Fleming organ, published on Tuesday morning, tries to cram a glaring falsehood down the throats of its readers. If any considerable number of the people of Carleton county depend on the press for political inspiration, it is not to be wondered that fine county elects knavish politicians like B. F. Smith and J. K. Fleming to the Legislature.

The Fleming organ also took a fling at the Government for appointing the royal commission which put its patron saint out of the government and Legislature as follows:

"In its anxiety to meet with the wishes of the people and to show that the government was free from graft of any kind, three or four royal commissions were appointed—something that was never done by their opponents. These were unnecessary, were unappreciated and only wasted a lot of the people's money. If Harry Blair got a present of a diamond ring and some valueless stock; if A. J. H. Stewart knew that one or two foremen had padded a pay list; if Colonel Sheridan supplied rocks from his quarry and personally did work, and the account went into the department in another's name why not have these irregularities adjusted by the minister of the department, and, if guilty, punish the culprits, instead of appointing royal commissions. Another error of the present government is in the retaining in office and appointments to office of its political opponents. The departments in Fredericton are full of spies who carry out to the political opponents, information which, when magnified, furnishes good stuff for a scandal campaign. These men are always ready to appear as witnesses before a Royal Commission."

It is quite evident from the above that the Fleming-Smith bunch of grafters are not in a happy frame of mind as a result of the recent election. They have passed upon them the condemnation of the people and every reason to feel sore. It is true that the old government did not find it necessary to appoint Royal Commissions, but this fact will not be taken as a precedent by the incoming administration. Mr. Carvell, Mr. Carter and other men who were active on the Opposition side in the late election have frequently intimated that there are certain political rogues at large in this province who should be exposed to the political gaze in their true colors. It is quite possible that, notwithstanding J. K. Fleming's abhorrence of royal commissions the new government may find it necessary to appoint another one in order to give Messrs. Carvell and Carter an opportunity to finish their work.—F'ton Mail.

FALSEHOOD IS DENIED

Declaration day proceedings for the county of Victoria passed off quietly. Speeches were delivered by all four candidates in the contest, J. F. Tweeddale and James Burgess, the successful Opposition candidates by 469 of a majority, being received most enthusiastically. The latter speakers gave emphatic denial to gross falsehoods circulated by a saloon keeper at Grand Falls, and further reported by the blatant Titus J. Carter of Andover, as published in the Standard March 1.

F. B. Carvell, M. P., Pius Michaud and Messrs. Tweeddale and Burgess welcome any investigation regarding their utterances in the recent or any contest.

The Potato Exchange Matter

The next step in the proceedings against the New Brunswick Potato Exchange, Hon. B. F. Smith, its president, and other prominent potato producers and dealers who are members, is being awaited with interest. The attorney-general has given the formal permission requested by the acting commissioner re the cost of living, and there is now no further bar to action. As the proceedings are being taken through the dominion labor department, it is not likely the provincial authorities will be required to take a hand in the matter, which will be looked after through federal channels.

The charges include the formation of the exchange for the purpose of controlling and enhancing prices, acting in restraint of trade and competition and not giving proper returns to the department. Members of the exchange continue to deny that there has been anything illegal in the conduct of the business, or that they have had anything to do with raising the prices of potatoes.

HARTLAND HAS DISASTROUS FIRE

Three Story Tenement and A. F. Campbell's House Go in Flames

Fire that originated in the three story tenement on Richardson street at an early hour Friday morning entirely destroyed that building and also the comfortable residence of A. F. Campbell, manager of F. E. Sayre's Hartland business.

The building where the fire started was owned by C. H. Taylor and was known for years as "the beehive," evidently from its appearance. The upper stories were vacant, but the ground floor was occupied by J. E. Donkin with his wife and eight children. The fire caught from an unknown source in one of the upper rooms and the place was a mass of roaring flames when the family awakened from their slumbers. They got out only in their night clothes and all their household belongings but a sewing machine were destroyed.

John Donkin, aged 15, clad only in his night clothes, and barefooted, ran through the snow and keen air to the hose house and gave the first alarm on the bell. He was at once relieved and cared for at the Windsor hotel.

At the hour—three o'clock—the village was slumbering soundly and it was some minutes before the firemen responded. Arrived at the fire they found "the beehive" entirely in flames and Mr. Campbell's residence was doomed. After the first streams of water were turned on, however, the further progress of the flames was checked, although the house owned by H. A. Sipprell and occupied by William McPherson was saved with difficulty. The residence of S. S. Miller and the office and warehouse of Hatfield & Scott were in imminent danger.

The Campbell house was in flames before the family was aroused. Only the effects on the ground floor were saved.

Mr. Donkin's loss included all his earthly possessions but his family, and his condition demanded such sympathy that the neighbors immediately began to "chip in" to relieve his destitution. By Saturday night nearly $200 and a considerable variety of furniture and clothing had been got together for him. Meantime his family was cared for by his wife and other friends. He will occupy a tenement on Main street north.

Three thousand dollars will scarcely cover Mr. Campbell's loss, although it is partly compensated by insurance. He will occupy one of the tenements in Franklin Clark's building, Main street.

The Taylor building carried $500 insurance. This building has long been considered a menace and has been on fire at different times. It was built 23 years ago as a factory building but was made into a tenement, the original project being never carried out. The Campbell building was built the same year.

A DESERVED TRIBUTE

In commenting upon the New Brunswick elections the Toronto Globe pays a deserved tribute to F. B. Carvell, M. P., recalling his courage and ability as chief counsel for Mr. Dugal before the Royal Commission whose report, in the end broke the back of the corrupt political ring which so grossly misgoverned New Brunswick.

The Globe says:

"The Liberal victory in New Brunswick is a personal triumph for F. B. Carvell, M. P., who has trailed political rascality in his native province with a doggedness and courage that entitled him to public gratitude. Early in 1914 he laid charges in the House of Commons which involved politicians in close touch with the New Brunswick government. It was proved that the Southampton Railway had received from Ottawa a double subsidy, to which it had no right, through misrepresentation of the cost of construction. The Royal Commissioner who conducted the inquiry reported that Mr. Carvell had been fully justified in bringing the case before Parliament."

"Mr. Carvell followed his clues to the end with the skill and pertinacity which have made him feared and hated by the whole grafting tribe. He was largely responsible for the Dugal charges proffered in the New Brunswick Legislature in the same years, which have culminated in the downfall of the administration. As the principal legal representative of Mr. Dugal, he uncovered a highly-organized system of corruption. Its apologists and beneficiaries were so enraged that they challenged him to resign his seat, and nominated against him the former Premier, Mr. Fleming, who had been smirched by a Royal Commission. The abuse with which he was pelted during the New Brunswick inquiry, and later when he prosecuted the Kite charges and exposed the Allison conspiracy, could not deflect him a hair-breadth from the performance of his duty. For his great service to the cause of public morality he has coveted no higher reward than the rout of the enemies of good government who shamed his province for years."

Today the government press howls against Mr. Carvell, fearing the exposures that are bound to follow the defeat of an administration under which so many evils flourished. The outcry does not come from men who "have nothing to fear or to conceal." No one whose course has been straight has any cause for anxiety. Those who had licenses to loot and who were still busy when defeat came upon them are today face to face with exposure and disgrace. And their party newspapers make daily confession that it is so by keeping up a sort of editorial ghost-dancing and beating the party tom-tom. But that will merely make bad matters worse. The wine is poured and it must be drunk.

Operation for Appendicitis

Mrs. J. A. Ballantyne, Surgeon Falls, Ont., writes:—"My husband was treated for appendicitis and the doctors ordered an operation. But he would not consent to an operation and began to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. Since then he has had no need of an operation or even a doctor as the trouble has completely left him. I cannot find words to speak our gratitude for his cure."

FRANK B. CARVELL

Only last September the reptile press of this province pictured Mr. Carvell as a dead one politically, but before they are many weeks older they are likely to make the discovery that he is about the liveliest thing in the way of a corpse to be found above ground. Mr. Carvell acted as counsel for Mr. Dugal and had a hand in the preparation of the graft charges which eventually drove J. K. Fleming from Government and Legislature. When the members of the government showed a disposition to balk against the proposal to grant an enquiry, Mr. Carvell went right to a higher authority, placed evidence before him, and demanded as a citizen of this province that an investigation be held. Mr. Carvell won out; the Government appointed a royal commission, not because they courted an investigation but because they had no alternative in the matter. The revelations of graft and political rascality made by the royal commission put the government on its beam ends, and before it could get itself properly righted again the electors rose in their might and, like a great wave, completely swamped it. Mr. Carvell worked hard to bring about the very satisfactory result of Saturday last, and he worked in complete harmony with Messrs. Carter and Veniot, the energetic Opposition organizers. No public man in this province ever rendered such valiant service to the cause of good government as F. B. Carvell and he deserves all the good things said about him.—Fredericton Mail.

Titus of Andover

In the recent election we missed the familiar strut and bellow of the Hon. T. J. Carter of Andover, The Telegraph says. A former member of the Legislature, and one much given to vain words, this gentleman did not care in the last contest to test his political fortunes to the test of popularity, but now that the fighting is over he addresses to the St. John Standard such a letter as only he would write and but only a newspaper like the Standard would print.

It is easy to understand that the great victory of the opposition ticket in Victoria county would plunge Titus of Andover into the depths of grief and anger, and it is quite characteristic that he should make known his state of mind by proclaiming his devotion to the Empire and charging his opponents with sedition, theft, highway robbery, and murder. All of which merely serves to show how deeply the iron has entered the soul of Titus. Whenever he brays lustily it is a sure sign that things are going well for his political opponents.

Home Minus A Leg

Private Louis Dugal, son of L. A. Dugal, M. L. A., of Edmundston, a member of the 26th Battalion, arrived in the city this morning en route to his home on his way back from the front. He was met at the station by Charles Robinson, secretary of the Returned Soldiers' Association and by members of the soldiers reception committee.

Private Dugal is minus his right leg, having lost it as a result of a wound received while fighting on the Somme front. With all this those who had the pleasure of meeting him describe him as being one of the jolliest young soldiers that have as yet passed through the city.—St. John Times.

Florenceville Women's Institute

The Florenceville Women's Institute held their play "The Old Maid's Convention" on Tuesday Feb. 27. There was a large crowd. Home-made candy was for sale at a pretty booth and the nice sum of $108 was realized. The proceeds of this entertainment, less about six or seven dollars expenses, are to be sent direct to the Canadian Red Cross Society. The merchants of Bristol and Florenceville East and West were asked to donate materials for making candy, and the under-mentioned gave most willingly and generously: A. W. Phillips and M. W. Caldwell of Bristol, and A. A. Grant, S. W. Smith, A. B. Lovely of East Florenceville, Joe Pinsky and Gray & Co. of Florenceville.

The Women's Institute wishes to thank the following ladies, who, although not members of the Institute, so kindly helped with the entertainment: Mrs. R. S. Semple, Misses Stella Hunter, Crystal Davis, Amy Tompkins, and Willa Semple. They also wish to thank F. T. Atkinson who so ably took the part of Professor Pinkerton and A. D. Jonah and Bob Gray who attended to the selling and taking of the tickets at the door.

On Tuesday, March 13, the Women's Institute will hold a public meeting in the Assembly Hall of the Consolidated School, Florenceville. Dr. Barry Hagerman will give a lecture on "Dentistry" and a short musical program will be given. Meeting will open at eight o'clock. Admission free. A silver collection will be taken in aid of the patriotic work of the Institute. Members of the Institute are requested to come at seven, or not later than 7.15, so that a short business meeting may be held before eight o'clock.

At the February meeting of the Institute the roll call was answered by a presentation of bandages or old linen, and a good large roll of the same was taken in, and handed over to Mrs. W. L. McCain, president of the local Red Cross Society, and also vice president of the Institute.

Mrs. Thomas Belyea

On Sunday morning Mrs. Rachel Belyea, wife of Thomas Belyea of Lower Windsor died after four week's illness following pneumonia. She was 82 years and 5 months of age. Her husband and eight sons and daughters survive.—J. H. Belyea of Hartland and Amos of Mainstream; Mrs. Lizzie Colwell of Boston, Mrs. Ida Davis, of Queenstown, Queens county, Mrs. Helen Adair in Pennsylvania, Mrs. Wint Shaw, and Mrs. A. J. Orser of Mainstream and Mrs. Harry Belyea of Lower Windsor. The deceased was a daughter of James Belyea and was born at Rockland and was the last of a family of 12 children.

The funeral was held at the home on Monday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. J. D. Wetmore.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IF BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

Knoxford Notes

On Feb. 23, Roxie, the 10-year-old daughter of Theodore H. Jamieson, was operated on for appendicitis by Dr. Peppers, assisted by Dr. Griffin of Woodstock. The child is doing as well as can be expected since it was an acute and a bad case. She had been at school on Monday seemingly in her usual good health.

Alden Hayden, whose health has been so broken for some years, has had another run of illness and been under Dr. Field's care.

Mrs. Hazen Beckwith is also on the sick list.

Byron Lord of Amherst Detention Camp is home for a short stay.

At high noon on Saturday, Feb. 24, at the home of her mother, Mrs. Emma Trafford, her second daughter, Eva, was married to Douglas M. McBride of Lindsay. Only immediate relatives were present at the ceremony which was performed by Rev. W. J. Hurlow of Tracey Mills. The bride was a successful teacher for some years and she and her husband have the good wishes of a generous circle of friends as they go to begin their new life in Lindsay.

National Service Literature

One of the most valuable of recent literary contributions to the great cause is a booklet by Professor Stephen Leacock, entitled

"National Organization for War." In this booklet, Dr. Leacock makes an urgent call for national thrift and national saving. He attacks in vigorous style the evils of extravagance at this crisis in Canada's history, and by trenchant phrase and apt illustration disposes of various common errors in regard to individual spending of money during war time.

This pamphlet was originally published by Dr. Leacock himself, but the National Service Board were so convinced of its value in connection with their Thrift Campaign that they have had it republished and have undertaken its distribution. Copies may be obtained by writing to the Secretary of the National Service Board at Ottawa, or by applying to the National Service Director in any Province.

Used for Shaving

Many men are troubled more particularly in the cold weather, with a sort of roughness of the skin or eczema caused by shaving. The application of Dr. Chae's Ointment after the shave soon cures the trouble and by using it after each shave you keep the skin soft and prevent irritation and soreness. Because of its antiseptic qualities this ointment prevents and cures Barber's Itch.

Lela B. McCain

On Friday evening, March 2, a gloom was cast over the community of Florenceville when the news spread that Miss Lela B. McCain had passed away. Deceased was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William E. McCain and was 27 years of age.

In autumn 1910 Miss McCain went to Montreal to take a course in McDonald College but after only a few weeks she was obliged to return home, being ill with tuberculosis. Everything was done for her that could be done, and for a time strong hopes were entertained for her recovery; but despite all that human hands could do the disease remained unconquered. She bore her illness with Christian fortitude expressing hope that health should be restored, yet willing to abide by whatever might be God's will. Her kind and cheerful disposition won for her the love of all who knew her. She was a faithful member of the Presbyterian church and took an active part in all its work, being organist for a number of years and also a teacher in the Sabbath School.

Besides her sorrowing parents she is survived by one brother, Roy, who resides at home. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon when a large gathering paid their tributes of respect to the departed one and expressed their sympathy for the grief stricken family. The service was conducted at the home by Rev. M. H. Manuel, who preached from John 11:25, 26, "Jesus said unto her I am the resurrection and the life; he that believeth in me though he were dead yet shall live; he that liveth and believeth in me shall never die." Four cousins of the deceased acted as pallbearers, and the body was laid to rest in the family lot near the home.

With the Fingers! Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Sore corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply directly upon the corn a few drops of Freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of Freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

This announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heel footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's foot.

A very cordial welcome awaits all who come to hear the Gospel message in sermon and song.

There have been some great surprises, and some bitter disappointments, over the uncertain condition of the potato market. Three weeks ago the price soared to $7, indeed one man placed himself on record as the champion for greed when he refused $7.10 per barrel for 1300 barrels. Since then the price has declined and no one is anxious to buy. Today one dealer offers $2. For eating purposes potatoes are only worth so much, and it is absurd that in a panic the price goes to $7 or more producers should think they are actually worth that sum.

the work a success and a benefit to the members and they feel justly proud of the development of home mixing in connection with their society. Orders are still being accepted for later shipment and two more cars at least will be brought in later. This work is being done in the nature of co-operation and has given the patrons such a convincing example as to what can be accomplished in a more general co-operative work that a general store to be conducted on such a plan is not an unlikely possibility for Hartland.

A Point for All Local Merchants

The advertising manager of one of the largest mail-order houses in Canada in a talk before the members of an advertising club recently gave some information on how they secured much of their business. He said:

We have a bureau whose duty it is to read each week the country newspapers from all over the country. There is not a paper of any consequence in our territory that our bureau does not get. This bureau looks over these papers and when we find a town where the merchants are not advertising in the local papers we immediately flood that territory with our literature.

It always brings results far in excess of the same effort put forth in territory where the local merchants use the papers.

This is the mail-order situation. The local merchant who does not use his local paper for advertising has only himself to blame when worth-while business goes by mail order route to Toronto.

Let us help you with your advertising. Just give us a hint and we'll show you how our service will make money for you.
