RESTRICTED FERRY SERVICE FELT

Farmers of Bonaventure County Complain of Lack of Service to Towns Here

The farmers of the sections of Bonaventure Co., who find it an advantage to sell their produce in Dalhousie and Campbellton, complain bitterly of the fact that there is no regular steam ferry service this year as was the custom for many years.

A proper ferry service cannot be successfully maintained between Dalhousie, Maguasha, Fleurent, St. Onge, Carleton, with two trips weekly to Campbellton, unless generous subsidies are forthcoming from the Federal, Quebec and New Brunswick governments. The Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa, at the request of Hon. Charles Marcell, M. P. and Pius Michaud, M. P. granted a subsidy of $500 during the last session, and the Department of Public Works, Ottawa, at Mr. Marcell's request, placed in the estimates the sum of $9000 for repairs to the Maguasha wharf, and the addition of a slip, to permit of the landing of automobiles at Maguasha, en route for any part of Gaspesia. Unfortunately no grant was made by the government of the Province of Quebec. The most that was ever given by the Quebec Government for the Dalhousie-Maguasha service, was $100. Why the Quebec government, with large surpluses, with the farmers and fishermen of Bonaventure Co. finding a good market in the Restigouche Co., towns, is reluctant about granting at least $500 of a subsidy, is a matter which cannot be explained. Will the people on the Quebec side, who are directly interested in the matter and interview the proper authorities? They have a strong case. In addition to the convenience a ferry service would be to the farmers and fishermen, there is the tourist movement that must be boosted, now that Campbellton is so well provided with Hotels and Carleton also, with the prospects of Dalhousie soon having a 400 room hotel. Only recently a Quebec Tourist Association asked the Quebec Government for $50,000 to advance the Tourist cause. One of the great attractions to develop the Tourist Trade for Campbellton, Dal-

HON. F. F. CARVELL DIED SUDDENLY

Was Inspecting His Farm at Woodstock Saturday When He Expired When Alone

Woodstock, Aug. 10.—Hon. Frank B. Carvell, chairman of the Board of Railway Commissioners of Canada, was found dead on his farm here Saturday evening shortly before 6 o'clock.

Death Due to Embolism
 Hon. Mr. Carvell frequently referred to a shortness of breath after strenuous physical exertion, but he always laughingly said he was growing corpulent and required exercise. There was not the slightest warning that would indicate a fatal termination. Mr. Carvell arrived at noon and went at once to his home, where he remained until 3 o'clock, when he left the house to look over some work his men were doing at the upper end of his farm. Leaving them where the work was being carried on he told them he would return at five o'clock.

As he did not arrive at the appointed time it was felt something unusual had happened, as he was always known to keep appointments punctually. About 6 o'clock one of the men found Mr. Carvell lying on the ground, as he thought, in an unconscious state. Dr. N. P. Grant was at once summoned and a brief examination disclosed the awful truth that he was cold in death. Dr. Grant gave as his opinion that his sudden demise was caused by embolism.

When here lately Mr. Carvell's time was spent on his farm, in which he was greatly interested. On this occasion he walked a considerable distance and it was excessively warm which no doubt contributed to the fatal termination of a busy life.

IMPROVED SERVICE TO MADGELIENES

Steamer Makes Three Trips per Week from Pictou to These Islands

A new service has just been inaugurated—The "Lovat" now makes three trips per week from Pictou—a yacht connects with the different Islands.

The inhabitants of that interesting section of the country the Magdalen Islands are at last free from isolation when one compares the present service with the past. A new service has just been inaugurated between Pictou and the Islands. A splendid service, three times a week, the boat, the "Lovat", carries on a regular service between Pictou, N. S., Souris, P. E. I. and the different service wharves of Amherst, Grandstone and Grand-Entrée. The boat, which is under the care of M. William Fraser of Pictou, is one of the finest and most comfortable of all boats sailing in Canadian waters. It is subsidized by the federal government.

Much credit is due Hon. Rodolphe LeMieux, M. P. for Gaspé Co., and Hon. J. Ed. Caron, Minister of Agriculture, for their persevering work in assuring the inauguration of the service.

OUTLOOK TOWERS DO GOOD WORK

Fires Lighted and Located and Prompt Measures Taken to Extinguish Same

The value of the outlook system which has been extended during the past few years until it covers the greater part of the area of New Brunswick was well shown during the month of July according to the report on forest fires which has just been compiled. Any two towers locating the same fire can from the readings obtained locate it practically exactly.

A settler started a fire in a dangerous and prohibited period which was picked up at once by a lookout. A Forest Ranger being notified went to the scene and on the way secured a magistrate who accompanied him. The man was caught in the very act of setting a fire and a fine of fifty dollars was imposed. As the settler repented promptly and did excellent work in extinguishing the fire the fine was allowed to stand. The remarkable feature was that from the observation of the fire until the imposition of the fine only fifteen minutes elapsed.

Women and Children Acted
 The circumstances of one fire which was fought and extinguished with water after a hard fight, by women and children of a community in the absence of all men, have brought out highest praise from officials. The reverse was true when a settler's fire in a dry and windy period got away from him and had to be fought by a large crew. The man was fined by a magistrate and also had to bear the cost of fighting the fire.

Summary of Fires
 Up to the end of July the number of forest fires had been 130 which had covered twelve thousand acres of land about equally divided between private owners and the Crown. The estimate of damage to property and timber is $40,000,000. Eleven of the fires spread and caused damage to Crown Land. Twenty fires were on railway right of way. Railway crews extinguished these fires except those at Sunbury on the C. N. R. and at Colter on the Fredericton & Grand Lake Railway. Gloucester County had the more serious Crown Land fires, three of the largest on the Nepisiguit near Bathurst.

HON. F. B. CARVELL

The impression Hon. Frank B. Carvell made upon Canada by his strong personality and eminent service is revealed in the eulogies that a number of those who journeyed far to pay last tributes to his mortal remains. To Mrs. Carvell all hearts go out in sympathy in this hour, for she was a singularly happy relation ship through life, though they were called upon to mourn together the loss of those most dear to their hearts. To his country the loss now sustained is great, but to the sharer of his past joys and sorrows it is irreparable. From every part of Canada come messages of sympathy, and these will be the more highly prized because they are an added tribute to the worth of him who has gone to rest. Woodstock and the County of Carleton will especially mourn the passing of one whose thoughts ever turned from heavy tasks to the joy to be derived from old scenes and old companionships.

To them he was true to the last, and his memory will be cherished as that of a gifted son who made his own life count in the life and progress of this Dominion. Ex.

OUR MERCHANTS' INTERESTS

The Graphic understands that at the next meeting of the Town Council a large delegation of local merchants will wait upon the council with a request that the present license fee of five dollars per day for transients doing business in the town, such as representatives of clothing houses etc.

be increased to thirty dollars. This request also presented at a recent meeting was refused but the leaders of the movement, it is understood, have strengthened their cause through arguments and will again present their case.

It will not doubt be pointed out that this license fee as it is at present is far too small. In Chatham, we are informed, the fee exacted for the privilege is thirty-five dollars. Considering the relative size of the two towns and the better possibilities for business here, a fee of fifty dollars here would not be an excessive charge. Every month of the year a large number of outsiders come to Campbellton, pay the paltry fee demanded of them and after a few busy days, depart with hundreds of dollars worth of business which should go to local merchants if their prices are at all reasonable.

Local business houses are an important part of our community; they have incidentally played a leading role in the up-building of the town and their annual taxes aggregate to a very considerable sum which makes up no small part of our yearly revenue. In all fairness this must be given due consideration. Some purchasers may at times have cause to complain of high prices on some lines of goods

here but only by encouraging home buying can our local trade be stimulated and promoted and merchants here enabled, by means of a larger and quicker turnover to sell at more attractive prices.

In a lengthy article and also in an editorial the Graphic recently pointed out to the merchants of Campbellton

the possible benefits of having a strong organization representing the commercial interests of this town. The case now under discussion very clearly demonstrates the need of such an association. If local merchants get together on the present issue there is no doubt that, when the matter is conscientiously considered from all angles by the council board their request will meet with prompt and satisfactory response. If success crowns their efforts in the defence of their interests, it is to be hoped that they will realize the advantages of co-operation and lose no time in organizing some kind of a commercial club or association.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR THE FARMERS

Those on the North Shore who are familiar with the conditions which govern dairying and other branches of agriculture as it is carried on in this part of the country do not need to be told that there is room for improvement. All those who buy farm produce at the local markets are aware of this truth. In this statement however there is no reproach directed at farmers or those engaged in agricultural activities. It is rather intended to direct the attention of those people to the great opportunity which challenges the enterprise of those who are in a position to take advantage of it.

Campbellton is a growing commercial centre with a population which is well on towards the seven thousand mark. In this town each year, great quantities of butter, eggs and milk are consumed, both by residents and through transient trade at the several hotels. Obviously there should be a large and steady market for these farm products here. They are commodities which are regarded equally as necessary as bread. One of them at least is used as an ingredient in nearly every dish, fancy or plain, which are daily prepared for family consumption. Besides this, their use as food in a direct way accounts for a large part of the steady demand for these products of the farm. Yet what a small percentage of the milk, butter and eggs used each year in Campbellton, is produced by the farmers of this district.

Last year, as has been the case for some time past, enormous quantities of butter, eggs and canned milk were imported from distant places and sold here. Why? Simply because the country about Campbellton furnishes such a small percentage of what is needed.

There is no doubt but what the matter of price, if it figures at all, is something that could be arranged so as to facilitate greater production and more local trade in this respect. It appears to us that this is a matter which deserves serious consideration. Every opportunity does exist for the improvement of the present situation in regard to this matter. Discussion of a subject, no matter how intricate, always helps.

A BIT OF LUMBER HISTORY

The beginning of the lumber industry of the Miramichi river dates back to the middle of the eighteenth century, but no comprehensive records have been kept. In the year 1765 Mr. James Davidson obtained a grant of 100,000 acres on the south west branch of the Miramichi; there he erected a saw mill, and in 1790 under contract, shipped three cargoes of masts and spars for High Majesty's dockyards, to Messrs. Hunter, Robertson & Greenoch. In that year he died, and the contract was taken over by Messrs. Fraser and Thom of Beauvoir's Island, who in 1792 shipped two cargoes of square timber from Miramichi; this was the first square timber shipped. The following year, 1793, there were 7000 tons of square timber brought to market, of which for various reasons, only 300 tons were shipped, and the average price obtained was only 10 shillings per ton. The following is a table of prices obtained in 1793:

White pine per ton	0 10 0
Red pine per ton	0 12 0
Black birch per ton	0 15 6
White pine lathwood per ton	0 16 0
White pine masts, 16-23 in diameter, per inch	8 0
Spruce spars, 16-30 in diameter, per inch	0 6
Merch. white pine boards

per M.	1 0
Clear boards and planks	1 12 6
Merch. shingles	0 7 6

From 1793 until 1814 the timber exports were on a low scale, and never exceeded 6000 tons. About the year 1814-15 the timber trade in New Brunswick became a very profitable one, and upwards of one million sterling was invested in mills, wharves, booms, etc. For most of the timber sent to England in 1824, the shippers did not receive on an average, more than 9 shillings to 9 shillings 6 pence per ton.

From 1793 until 1814 the timber exports were on a low scale, and never exceeded 6000 tons. About the year 1814-15 the timber trade in New Brunswick became a very profitable one, and upwards of one million sterling was invested in mills, wharves, booms, etc. For most of the timber sent to England in 1824, the shippers did not receive on an average, more than 9 shillings to 9 shillings 6 pence per ton.

Magistrate Henderson of St. John has sentenced two automobile drivers to jail for seven days without the option of a fine for operating cars while under the influence of liquor. He said that drastic action must be taken to put a stop to that sort of thing. He is right.

A DANGER

It is hardly fair to expect that the property-owners of Campbellton will be indifferently "hushed" with a town fire-alarm apparatus which cannot be depended upon to function properly in an emergency. A man may be contented to put up with an automobile whose engine is not reliable in performance; a housewife may be obliged to endure the nuisance of a washing machine that goes out of kilter when it is all ready for the tub—these things were not made for emergencies. A fire alarm is essentially different. Its failure to properly perform the service required of it at a critical time may be directly responsible for serious loss of property. It is manifestly made for emergencies and if it cannot be depended upon it is useless.

Monday morning's fire again demonstrated this danger. An alarm was rung in from two different boxes but both these attempts to arouse the brigade proved futile. Such a condition is dangerous and, moreover, does not give the firemen who are always prompt in getting to the scene of a blaze, a fair chance to do effective work.

Evidently it would not be right to blame any one for the frequent misconduct of our fire-alarm system. Neither would we seek to saddle the blame upon the town council. The fire siren was secured in good faith, but that does not help to solve the difficulty. Its failure to give reliable service means lack of adequate protection in the event of fire and constitutes a very grave danger.

Where there is an apparent delay is hazardous and often disastrous. The cause should, if possible, be promptly removed.

THE GASPE ROADS

During the past week several complaints about the bad condition of some sections of the Gaspe Coast have been made to the Graphic. It is claimed by several motorists who have been down that side of the bay as far as Carleton Place certain portions of the road between there and Cross Point are extremely rough and full of holes. This, of course, makes motoring rather unpleasant in spite of the scenery and many other things that the visitor may admire.

As far as local motorists are concerned, those who are responsible for the up-keep of the highway through Bonaventure and Gaspé Counties may feel inclined to pay little attention to these protests. But this by no means concludes the case. Of late considerable advertising has been done in an endeavor to make known the varied attractions of this territory to prospective summer visitors. A large number of tourists have this year made the Gaspé tour a part of their holiday trip but if they who have gone over this route return home disgruntled with the condition of the roads, the benefits of this advertising will be enormously lessened. Holiday visitors even to the extent of being inclined to the spirit of adventure will not consent to be jostled over miles of rocky road to behold Percé Rock; they will forget the salmon and trout in York River if they are obliged to drive through rivers of mud; they will surely balk at bumping through an endless succession of holes and pitches and ruts in order to see the moon rise over a country landscape Carleton Place certain portions of the road between there and Cross Point are extremely rough and full of holes. This, of course, makes motoring rather unpleasant in spite of the scenery and many other things that the visitor may admire.

With a very large experience he is very optimistic about Dalhousie becoming a great summer resort, providing we can secure plenty of Hotel-accommodation.

There was a movement afoot among the homesteaders and farmers in the unimproved south which might result in a general migration north, he said. They had petitioned the Provincial Government to exchange their land in the south for similar pieces in the north of the Province. The Government was looking with a kindly eye on the proposition and it was likely that the migration would take place, Mr. McKay said.

As general business depended to a large extent on wheat, business in the south was poor while in the north it was normal.

Mr. McKay holds a lucrative position with the C. P. R. It is five years since he visited Dalhousie.

He informed the Graphic correspondent that no where in Canada had he seen scenery superior to Restigouche. He said that certainly Dalhousie was a pretty spot.

NO RELIEF FOR UNEMPLOYMENT

Federal Government Will Not Accept Responsibility for Situation in Canada Declares Minister of Labor Murdock.

Calgary, Aug. 9.—The Federal Government will not accept responsibility for the unemployment situation in Canada. It will not give relief because the government believes that this is a matter for the municipalities concerned and again because the government has not set aside money for the purpose.

This was the answer of Hon. James Murdock, Minister of Labor, to the Trades and Labor Council on Friday, who enquired what the Government was going to do to help alleviate the unemployment situation this winter.

A. J. Strudwick, D. C. Sp. C.
Chiropractic Specialist

Wishes to announce that he is opening up offices in Suite 8 of the Dimock Block, Water St., on or about Aug. 20th.

Dr. Strudwick is a graduate of the Canadian Chiropractic College of Toronto, also studied Massage and Electrical Therapy at Hart House, Queens University under vocational training. He will specialize in Chiropractic Adjustments and Electrical Treatments such as Electrical Baths, Violet Ray, High Frequency Diathermy and Radiant Heat for Rheumatism, Neuritis, Neuralgia and other Nervous Disorders.

Chiropractic is a scientific study of the Spinal Column which is formed of segments of bone called vertebrae through which passes the spinal cord giving off trunk nerves which pass out through foramina or openings between these segments. These trunk nerves divide and sub-divide and innervate or supply nerve energy to all the tissues and organs of the body. The nervous system is the means of transmission of life force from its source in the brain by the way of the spinal cord to all parts of the body. Should we have any interference which in practically all instances are subluxations of the spinal segments caused in various ways such as falling, straining, over-work, introduction of poisons into the body or by violation of nature's laws then we have conditions of disease through the impingements of nerves causing lack of nerve force (vitality) to the organs from they become weak and susceptible to attacks of poisons (germs bacteria, etc.) which are with us all the time.

Chiropractic adjustments restores the vertebrae to normal alignment and relieves the pressure upon the spinal nerves and the result is that more energy or life force flows freely to the different organs and good health will manifest itself.

Aug. 20th I shall be at my office, Suite 8 in the Dimock Block, Water St., call on me, consultation free. Hours 10-12 a. m., 2-4 and 6 to 8 p. m.

LADY IN ATTENDANCE

FASHIONS & FOIBLES
by Shirley Sharon

The scarf is one of the things that counts tremendously in the success of the costume, and its Vogue is so great that one sees it at all hours and in many guises.

AT PRESENT the scarf is the climax of every type of costume. It enlivens the sports suit, it is the last flutter of color that waves the traveling suit out of sight, it completes the afternoon gown, and it wraps itself, flannel-lined fashion, about the décolletage of the evening frock. In a model recently sent over from Paris the scarf takes opposite sides with the line of the Russian closing and matches the hem. In this case it was of the new berry-green silk crepe, while the body of the frock was of gray-green crepe printed in lemon and orange.

Delicious Egg and Cheese Dishes

Egg and cheese dishes are so frequently used to replace meat dishes in warm weather that it is wise to keep on hand a number of recipes that are not often found among them.

Quick Pickles. Select fifty finger-sized cucumbers. Wash them, then arrange them in a crock and cover them with a brine made of a half cupful of salt and cold water to cover them. Let them stand over-night, rinse them thoroughly, cover them with cold water to which a teaspoonful of powdered alum has been added and let them stand one hour. Rinse them thoroughly and drain and pack them in a crock, placing a spice-bag in the center. Four ounces of vinegar, scalded older vinegar to serve them, press them down with a plate and let them stand in a cool place for two or three days. Then the pickles will be ready to use.

Sweet Pickled Cucumbers. Select large cucumbers and pare and quarter them, then halve the quarters across. Remove the seeds, cover them with boiling, salted water let them stand for five minutes. Break the cucumbers carefully. Put them into the kettle, a quart of vinegar and a pint of sugar. Add a spice-bag made as already described, then a teaspoonful of loose cloves, some broken cinnamon, a thinly-sliced lemon with the pipe removed and a piece of green ginger-root washed and thinly sliced. Let the mass boil gently for five minutes, removing all scum, then put in the cucumbers and cook them until they are tender skimming them carefully. Lift the cucumbers with a skimmer and drain them. Boil down the syrup until it is thick, then put in the cucumbers to reheat, then place in jars and seal the jars. The pickles would probably keep in a crock, but it is safer to jar them.

Pickling That Really Pays

Though there are a large number of pickles to be bought at the shops, there are some home-made varieties that are not often found among them.

Quick Pickles. Select fifty finger-sized cucumbers. Wash them, then arrange them in a crock and cover them with a brine made of a half cupful of salt and cold water to cover them. Let them stand over-night, rinse them thoroughly, cover them with cold water to which a teaspoonful of powdered alum has been added and let them stand one hour. Rinse them thoroughly and drain and pack them in a crock, placing a spice-bag in the center. Four ounces of vinegar, scalded older vinegar to serve them, press them down with a plate and let them stand in a cool place for two or three days. Then the pickles will be ready to use.

CHEESE FINGERS

Cheese fingers to serve with a salad are always good. Work smooth a quarter-pound of grated cheese. Add a half teaspoonful each of cayenne pepper and salt. Work all these ingredients into a quarter-pound of flour, adding slowly enough water to roll on the mixing-board. Roll the paste a quarter of an inch thick and cut it into fingers an inch wide and three inches long. Lay the fingers on a buttered baking sheet and bake them until they are crisp and a delicate brown. Pile them log-cabin fashion on a dolly-covered plate and serve with the salad.

ALMOND CHEESE CAKES

Line eight or nine patty-pans with rich, short crust. Beat one whole egg and the yolk of another well, then add them to three-quarters of an ounce of cornstarch, working it smooth. Blend in four ounces of sugar, half an ounce of melted butter and four ounces of finely-ground almonds. Mix all the ingredients smooth and add a very little grated nutmeg. Put a half teaspoonful of strawberry or apricot jam into the bottom of the crust-lined pans and fill them with the cheese mixture. Bake the cakes in a moderate oven for from twenty to twenty-five minutes. These cakes are excellent with afternoon tea.

EGGS GENAVERSE

Put into as many pastry shells as are needed a little hot, well-seasoned, panned spinach. Place a poached egg on top of each and mask it with a rich cream sauce to which a tablespoonful of grated cheese has been added. Garnish each dish with parsley.

EGG FRITTERS ROYALE

Beat six eggs, adding to them two tablespoonfuls of cream and a little salt and pepper. Pour the mixture into a buttered mould and let it steam until it is well set. Cool and un-mould it and cut it into strips a half an inch thick, an inch wide and two and a half inches long. Have ready a good fritter batter. Dip strips into the batter and fry them in hot fat. Serve the fritters garnished with parsley on a hot dish. If desired, a cream sauce may be served in a sauceboat to eat over the fritters, or a little melted currant jelly may be used with them.

CHANGES SEAT IN BOAT:
GIRL DROWNS

She and Companion Throws Into Water—Lad Falls to Save Her.

Portland, Me., Aug. 11—An attempt to shift seats in a rowboat, a short distance off Evergreen Landing, Peak's Island, cost the life of Gladys Walsh, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Walsh of St. Fairfield street, East Deering, who was drowned when the craft tipped just enough to throw her and her companion, Harry Skiffeld, 16, son of Thomas Gubbins of this city, into the water.

Young Skiffeld was rescued by people in another boat after he had made several desperate efforts to save the girl. The body was recovered two hours later. Miss Walsh was rescued from drowning a year ago after she had gone down twice.

Bread Upon the Waters

An old lady in Australia was deeply impressed by a sermon on "Charity" she read in a church magazine. She took two pounds notes, went into the street and handed them to an "innocent but seedy looking young man who was leaning against a lamp-post."

"What are these for?" she asked.

"Charity," she replied.

"Righto, missus," he said, and disappeared without a word of thanks.

Next day he called at her house and handed her twenty one-pound notes.

"What are these for?" she gasped.

"Charity," missus," he replied.

"You were lucky. You are the only one who backed 'in."

Our European Trip

A Brief Account of our Pleasant Experiences with The Canadian Weekly Newspaper Party on our Trip abroad
By H. B. ANSLOW

Brussels June 22nd
In my last letter I promised my readers that I would write about our visit to Cardinal Mercier at Malines. Upon our arrival at Malines, although many of us were footsore and tired after a strenuous day at Antwerp, not one remained behind when we were told we would have to walk. The long procession filed along the narrow streets of this old and now famous town. As we progressed we saw signs of war on many of the streets, but of course in the six years which have elapsed much has been done to cover up the war scars. But here and there we saw piles of debris which represented buildings that were destroyed, and on the walls of many buildings we saw the scars of shrapnel, and machine gun bullets, for you will remember these were scenes which were before the brave Belgians were liberated.

We passed Malines Cathedral, which was so badly shattered by the Germans who seemed determined to destroy everything which represented civilization and culture. Much has been done to restore this sacred edifice, and the famous chimes, which were removed, have been restored to their former places, and we had the pleasure of hearing them ring forth, as Cardinal Mercier had graciously instructed that the ringers should give a concert for our benefit. These chimes are said to be the largest and finest in the world.

As we looked upon the tall steeple and listened to the bells peal forth in a sacred tune, we thought of the years of German occupation, when the bells were silent, and even these devout people feared to worship in their temple. But all this is past, and workmen are busy covering up the rents made by a relentless foe, and the past will soon be history only.

Our time was very limited so we were taken at once to The Palace, where His Grace, Cardinal Mercier had signified his willingness to receive us. And here let me remind the readers of the Graphic that we were no ordinary party, that in regard to size, as we totaled one hundred and seventy-six, and it was something of an ordeal to receive us. Of course we fully realized that it was not for ourselves, but in honor of the land we represented that we were received upon this occasion.

Cardinal Mercier addressed us very feelingly, and made special mention of the bravery of the Canadian boys. We were then invited to the Palace gardens, where His Grace chatted with us in a most friendly manner, and possibly we might talk back to Canada remembrances of our very pleasant visit.

All too soon word was passed along that it was time to resume our journey to Brussels, and a very tired though happy procession formed to proceed through the streets of Malines to the station where we were to be met.

In my previous letter I mentioned something of the train which conveyed us on our way, but I did not state that this fine train was provided for us by the Belgian government, and that practically all our entertainment in Belgium was looked after by this government, except in certain localities where large manufacturers were our hosts.

As in Antwerp we were entertained by the beautiful buildings, both exterior and interior, and the wonderful pictures, statuary, and tapestries which we saw in every public building we visited. We indeed began, in some small way, to realize that here was represented centuries of culture which we in a younger country do not enjoy, the culture of the Flemish people, who for centuries have been noted for their pictures, their tapestries and many of the finer arts.

What surprised us was that during the German occupation more of these priceless treasures had not been destroyed or carried away, but we were led to understand that many of them were sent to places of safety before the Germans finally overcame the Belgians. At all events they today grace the walls of their cathedrals, their palaces, their city halls and public buildings of every kind, and are the admiration and inspiration of thousands who are permitted to look upon them.

We arrived at Brussels at 7 o'clock and went to The Palace hotel where we were quartered, had a beautiful room and every attention shown us. With a party as large as ours it is impossible for all to be quartered at the same hotel, so that we are broken up into small groups and quartered at different hotels. In this way little groups which are formed, and stick together for a few days, are broken and we gradually become better acquainted with many members of our party.

As we were very tired after a very strenuous day, the first after ten days of ease and leisure on shipboard, we were glad to take a bath and retire between the covers and to enjoy a real refreshing night's rest.

TWO HOUSES BURNED MONDAY

Buildings Owned by F. G. Kerr and John Gallant on Victoria Street

Fire which broke out in the residence of John Gallant on Victoria street about 6.30 on Tuesday morning completely destroyed that dwelling and the one adjoining it, owned by F. G. Kerr and occupied by John LeJourné. Mr. Gallant's loss may not be a severe one as he carried $3500 insurance. The Kerr house which was also a total loss was insured for $1800.

Mr. Fred Irvine was the first to notice the blaze and immediately hurried to box 31 to ring in an alarm. When his efforts here brought no response he went to Box 34 and there met with the same result. No alarm sounded. He finally succeeded in getting into telephone communication with the blaze had made considerable headway with the fire station but by this time the brigade, once aroused got to the scene of the fire in a few minutes but were unable to save the buildings as they were then enveloped in flames.

Mr. Letourneau's loss may not be very heavy as he was preparing to move and had taken much of his household effects from the building.

The cause of the fire is not definitely known. Some believe it to have originated from the electric wiring but others think that it caught from the kitchen stove as the fire when first seen was in the rear of the building.
