Committees To Draft Program For Campaign in Coming Election-Co-operative Buying and Selling of Fuel and Merchandise Also Discussed.

As a result of a meeting of representatives from the East Middlesex United Surrender of Factories Ac-Farmers and the Labor representation committee of this city, held in the Labor Temple here Saturday night, committees will be selected from the above organiextions with the idea of co-operating for political purposes in this district These committees will meet here in the near future, and will draft a program the campaign for coming elections.

The meeting, which was well attended, decided on this course of action after speakers from both organizations had been heard. Dr. H. A. Stevenson, M. L. A. for London, spoke at length on behalf of the L. R. C., urging co-operan between his party and the U. F. O. He characterized these two bodies as the foremost in the country, which ted could control the polls by legitimate vote, and thus could elect suitable throughout Northern Italy, during the udidates to office. In this manner both city and rural population could be ided by an intelligent and strong vote on a suitable slate. The consensus of opinion of those present was in accord with that of the agreement between employers and eaker, and with this object in view the representatives will report back to workmen, the vote showed 132,000 for er respective bodies, and committees will be formed to work together immed-

In addition to discussing the political situation, the meeting went on record in favor of co-operative buying and selling of fuel and merchandise throught the community, thus reducing the present high cost of living. The delegates also discussed other benefits to be obtained throughout the strict by co-operation of the Labor representation committee and the county

Ben Spoor Tells Rotarians That Nothing Seriously Wrong in England and That Country Will Come Through All Its Troubles Safely.

Tae fight which British miners are preparing to wage is not for an increase of 2s a day, but for an improved status. Ben Spoor, representative of the miners in the British House of Commons, told the Rotary Club today. He hoped no one would imagine for a moment that anything was seriously wrong in Great Britain. He had sufficient confidence to believe that they would come through these days stronger than ever. It was true that the British labor movement was out for a new order, but not true that its aims were entirely materialistic. The fight that miners were now carrying on was not for 2s a day, but for improved status. "Why do men work?" he asked. Some said to escape want, but early in the nineteenth century trade unions were formed to protect them and better their conditions. As they became more powerful, the old motive ceased to have the same power. As a maiter of fact, the development of trade unionism in England was nothing more or less than the growth of self-respect among the workers. Then came the war, which seemed to sweep away longestablished conditions. The men who came back from the conflict had a passion for equality surging in their hearts, a desire for an improved status.

among the workers. Then came the war, which seemed to sweep away long-stablished conditions. The men who came back from the conflict had a rassion for equality surging in their hearts, a desire for an improved status. That was at the bottom of the whole trouble today.

Greater Production.

The need of greater production was realized, but wiser men were looking for a new motive in work. A right teading of the situation must not ignore the intense spiritual passion moving the workers of Great Britain and of the workers of Great Britain and of the workers of Great Britain and of the world. There was a spiritual dynamic driving them along, the desire to be man among men. wing them along, the desire to be man among men. The work of the Rotary clubs is the arriving them along, the desire to be a man among men.

The work of the Rotary clubs is the same as that which labor leaders were trying to do. After all, we all belong to one family," he said. "Great Britain has made a great contribution to the world. She has through countless revolutions preserved a passion for more freesom and more liberty."

The work of the Rotary clubs is the said. "All barriers have finally of the world "family embraces the whole race and the world. The world will be unquestioned by the world. "Conditions today are only new birth throes and the world will be unquestioned." "British labor wants all parts of the

SUGAR THIS SEASON Next Grinding To Commence Ottawa, Sept. 26 .- Canada will probably not receive any more sugar from Cuba this year, according to a dispatch to the department of trade and comnerce from J. A. Chisholm, Canadian trade commissioner at Havana. The new grinding, says Mr. Chisholm's dispatch, starts about the beginning of the new year. It. the meanwhile, on August 1, stocks of raw sugar in Cuba totaled only 383,888 tons, compared with 1,024,139 tons a year ago, so that even if the planters are forced to sell, the amount to be thrown on the market amount to be thrown on the market must be comparatively small. Mr. Chisholm says the sugar interests are not going to sell at the present prices of 8 or 9 cents a pound for the raw, having seen a slump from a record price of 23 cents, while they were holding for 25 to 30 cents. The Association of Sugar Mill Owners and Cane Growers have adopted the policy that at the present level no Cuban sugars shall be soid. They will keep out of the market fill prices stiffen. It was on this instinct is to be built. A spirit, he said, could be seen mass meeting of men and women in the subject of "Universal Brotherhood." Harry Whitehorn, special correspondent to the Westminster Gazette, also spoke, making a strong plea for public support of the brotherhood Sunday in this city, and it marked the close of a week of special activities on the part of the combined eighteen brootherhood organizations. Although the day was celebrated in practically all the local churches, with special speakers in the pulpits, the mass meeting was the feature of the day.

Mr. Spoor dealt with the question of universal brotherhood, the aim of the movement, from an entirely new angle, but with the same remarkable brilliancy which marked his previous addresses in this city. He preached brotherhood as she only solution of the social problems of the world, and as the llancy which marked his previous addresses in this city. He preached brotherhood as the only solution of the social problems of the world, and as the only thing which could bring about a new order of civilization.

He said that many were calling the movement a beautiful Utopian dream, and a mad impossibility. They based their beliefs on the prevailing race differences, the deep distinction in social positions and wealth, the differences in hearts and minds, and the wide gap between men who were intellectual and broad-minded and those who were narrow and ignorant.

If this were done, the commission could build and equip a power-generating station and generate a fairly large block of power for control of the Niagara peak load or to serve as a standby for essential public services in the event of the interruption of the H. E. P. C. system.

The engineers in reporting upon the scheme studied the characteristics of the Thames in the most exhaustive manner. They found that the normal water level maintained above the old dam was 751.12 feet above sea level, and that during the service of the order of the establishments today to get his other clean collar.

The type of dam proposed would relieve the hazard from ice jams, while two large sluiceways with steel gates would be provided to handle freshets and control water levels.

It is added that "In view of the heavy spring floods and the coincident occurrence of dangerous ice jams, the program to be followed during construction must be so arranged that the dam shall be completed during a single summer, in order that all temporary construction may be removed and the finished work left in a safe condition to withstand the strain resulting from the spring breakup."

Distinctive Models in Fine-Tailored, Fur-Trimmed Suits

This week we are featuring the season's smartest styles, in plain tailored and fur trimmed suits; showing plain tailored models with snug fitting shoulders and close fitting sleeves. Also some tailored types, with interesting collar and belt effects. Many of the new coats are slightly longer than last season's models. All the new season's colors are shown. With the fur trimmed models Quality is the password which admitted these models into this assembly, and the materials have qualified by their softness and pliancy to good tailoring, the styles by their distinction, and the tailoring by virtue of its perfection. Rich collars and cuffs of fur enhance the ensemble.

The court ordered a remand until Wednesday, owing to the fact that the proprietor of the factory is not in the city, and stated that the charges would be disposed of if he returned in the meantime. Smith protested at this action, declaring that he must start to work for his brother on Tuesday.

THOMAS

Despite the fact that the first announcement of Thomas' Pre-War Price Sale was published only on Saturday, the public in general received the good news with rapture and Thomas' was besieged with ready purchasers from 3 o'clock on. There is no doubt about it, folks, the prices are here. One feature of this sale is the fact that it is the splendid regular stock that is involved. No clear-up lines or inferior articles were picked up to give it color.

"Kick Me—(Here)"

About 8 o'clock Saturday evening a gentleman, well acquainted with one of the salesmen, came into the store and in a good-natured manner said "Kick me here."

Asking the reason for wanting such rough usage, the gentleman said, "Weil, ! just purchased a second-hand heater and paid $12 for it. Then I came along the street and see you have the brand new ones for only $19.60 in your window there. I wonder will the other fellow give me my money back."

Up To You.

All big undertakings require the services of a great many helpers. We realized this when we started the movement for lower prices and felt that when we got properly under way the public in general, appreciating the move, would lend the necessary aid.

The necessity today for lower living costs is manifestly clear to all, particularly to you. Will you help. Here is the proposition in a nutshell:

For the time being at least the manufacturer cannot or will not reduce

For the time being at least the manufacturer cannot, or will not reduce prices, but we are reasonably sure that in the course of a few months he will have to. That is why we came out on Saturday last with a straight reduction of 30 per cent on our entire stock, for the time not considering profits, being quite content to merely cover overhead expense. If we secure enough volume of business we can carry on—if not prices will have to go back.

You see now where you stand in forcing prices down to pre-war levels. Will you patronize the store that is making an honest endeavor to help reduce the

Any advertising man or retailer will tell you that in the ordinary course of events it requires three or four adver-tisements to awake the public to the fact that a sale is on—that is, that no results are expected for three or four days.

Despite the fact that the first advertisement announcing this sale appeared only on Saturday, do you know a great many of Saturday's sales came as a result of that one first ad, rugs and stoves seeming to catch on more than anything else with the purchasers.

From St. Thomas

Saturday evening saw a customer from St. Thomas as a result of the first day's advertising. This man and wife purchased a bed, springs and mattress, together with a bedroom rocker. With the war-time price prevailing his bill would have been exactly $70, but with the discount of 30 per cent he saved $21, bringing his purchase down to the pre-war level of $49. He's glad he came, It happened that our motor truck is going to St. Thomas on Tuesday with a dning suite, so his bedroom outfit will go along with it.

From Woodstock

So impressed was one young Wood-stock lady with the advertised prices that she made a trip up to London on saturday evening to see the bedroom suite in ivory enamel at $122.50. It happened that this suite was in the window. The train was a little late and she did not arrive in time to make all the purchases she desired, so in all probability she'll huy more today.

THE DAVIS INSURANCE AGENCY,

No Loss of Prestige Because of Church Union Stand

Giving evidence of a greatly changed attitude toward church union the recent Lambeth conference was one of the most important in the history of the Anglican Church, Rev. G. Q. Warner declared at Cronyn Memorial Church Sunday. He outlined the position which the conference had taken and pointed

Its conclusions were sent forth merely as advice and not as binding law. To become such they must be adopted by each part of the church. these resolutions have the church, and he believed the greatest of them was the one dealing with church union.

The Lambeth conference preceding the recent one drew up as the basis of union the famous "quadrilateral" as the minimum which must be conceded by churches desiring union with the Anglican communion. The four points embraced by this were recognition of the Bible as the rule of faith; recognition of the Nicene; recognition of the two sactaments; baptism and holy communion; and recognition of the historic creeds, the apostles' and the Nicene; recognition of the two sactaments; baptism and holy communion; and recognition of the historic ministry by episcopal ordination. The last one proved to be the stumbling block.

The recent conference took a different attitude. It realized that any union must be a union of diverse elements and not one of dull uniformity. As the offering it made to this so would all the others be proud of theirs and in time the others be proud of theirs and in time the distinctive glories of each church.

The points of agreement were not changed except in regard to the historic episcopate. Here, while recognition of this was still required, the church now was willing to recognize the other ministries. It would give its commission of ministry and ask in return the commission of ministry from the other was made in the case of Jolly vs. Sherry, giving the defendant leave to Beautiful and impressive was the funeral service for Thomas Brenton at the Askin Street Methodist Church on Thursday afternoon. The pastor, Rev. J. T. C. Morris, was in charge, both at the church and at the home, and was assisted by four of Mr. Brenton's lifelong ministerial friends, Rev. L. W. Wickett, Rev. William Quance of Lambeth, Rev. W. G. Howson, city, and Rev. W. M. Walker of Perth.

Many incidents of the sterling Christian character of the deceased were related. Seventy years of fatthful service, fifty of which were spent in the sity, he rendered in the church.

As a local preacher and superintendant of the Sunday school, as trustee and leader in its various organizations, his devotion was unfailing. He was ever ready to serve in any capacity, not the least of which was his service of song. His greatest qelight was to sing the Gospel.

Dr. Smith presided at the organ, and Miss Cullis, contraito soloist of the church, as any very beautifully "Face to Face."

"For a' that and a' that, it's coming yet for a' that! That man to man the world o'er shall brothers be for a' that!"

People of London:

You have been greately stirred during the past week by World Brotherhood representatives. Now is the time to give practical expression to your

that has been opened throughout the Dominion. London will endeavor to raise at least $10,000 for the fund, and every man and woman of goodwill should send along a donation to any one of the local banks, where subscriptions will be received and gratefully acknowledged. Many thousands of dollars have already been contributed by friends of the Brotherhood in the Dominion for the relief of the children of martyred Serbia, but the schemes of relief for which the movement has made itself responsible makes further financial aid immediately imperative. Help the Serbian children by giving to the World Brotherhood Federation the money that is urgently needed to develop and extend the usefulness of the movement at home and abroad.

We want the Brotherhood Gospel expressed across the world, and your personal service and financial support should be given without a moment's Contributions may be deposited at any of the London banks, and Mr. A. D. McLean, local manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce, has kindly consented to act as honorary treasurer to the fund in this city.

The general treasurer of the fund is ex-Controller J. O. McCarthy, Headquarters of the World Brotherhood Federation, 405 Kent Building, Toronto, where further information concerning the movement may be obtained.

This campaign is organized by the Brotherhood Federation. Further information will be given in the public press.

NORTH OF IRELAND RESIDENTS ANXIOUS TO COME TO CANADA

Hon. J. A. Calder Foresees Big Influx of Old Country Citizens Next Year.

People Who Will Go On the Land.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—(By Canadian Press).—Hundreds of residents of the north of Ireland are anxious to emigrate to Canada, according to Hon.

showed that there was unusual activity there.

"Our Belfast office has had many inquiries from prospective immigrants recently." he said, "and there are indications that Canada will get many new citizens from the north of Ireland. Our Dublin office, however, owing to conditions prevailing at present, is merely marking time."

Big Tide of Immigration.

Mr. Calder said that particular care was being taken by the old country representatives of the department in passing upon the immigrants and that every effort was being made to secure people who would go on the land. He declared that those who were being accepted at present were of a remarkably fine class, and said that, judging from the inquiries at the various offices in England and Scotland, there would be a big tide of immigration to the Dominion next year.

Mr. Calder left on Saturday for Ottawa. He will remain a few days at the capital before going West on husiness in connection with his department.

HARD FIGHTING IN PROGRESS.

WARSAW, Sept. 26.—(By the Associated Press.)—Hard fighting is in progress in the vicinity of Grodno, on the Niemen, a strongheld which is being hard pressed by the Poles in the campaign of their northerly army against the Russians, says the Polish communique issued shortly after midnight, dealing with Saturday's operation. To the southeast of Grodno, the Bolsheviki brought up reinforcements, but were repulsed in an attack in which the Poics made important captures of prisoners succession by bands of men who visited their homes.

Policeman Killed, Companion Injured.
Previously the shootings in this city had occurred in the heat of the rioting, but now, for the first time, deliberately planned killings have been carsicled out. The affair had its beginning around 11 o'clock last night as Constables Leonard and Carroll were patrolling the Falls road, when passing a public house they heard footsteps behind them. Swinging around they were confronted by two men armed with revolvers, who ordered "Hands up!"

Simultaneously with the hold-up order

Simultaneously with the hold-up order fire was opened upon the officers and Leonard fell dead, the first bullet taking effect in the breast. His companion had a miraculous escape. Four shots were directed at him. Three of them missed him, the fourth lodging in the thigh. Apparently thinking both men dead, the assailants made off.

Attacked Without Warhing.

At about the same time Constables Farrell and Kearin were fired upon in a locality about a mile from the scene of the other attack. The assailants sprang upon the policemen unexpectedly. Farrell was shot in the arm. Kearin was knocked down and several shots were fired at him while he was on the ground. Some of the bullets passed through his cap without touching his body, and he came out of the affair unscathed. Farrell was taken to a hospital.

Vengeance Was Swift. The reprisals came swiftly. Shortly after 3 o'clock this morning (Sunday), three civilians, Edward Trodzen, John MacFadden and John Gaynor, who lived near the scene of the attacks upon the policemen, were slain in their homes. Different parties visited each house.

Four men took part in the shooting Four men took part in the shooting of Trodzen, who was a barber. After knocking at the door they fired a shot through the barber shop window. Trodzen's son opened the door and the men, wearing masks, rushed upstairs. They dragged Trodzen to the yard, where several shots were fired at his head, shattering it. The men immediately left without molecular the other of

A quiet house wedding took place at high noon on Wednescay, Sept. 22, at the residence of Capt. and Mrs. Dan McKay, Britannia road, Goderich, when their daughter, Elizabeth, became the bride of Mr. David Brown McDonald, son of the late John S. McDonald, M. P. P. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. R. C. McDermid, pastor of Knox Church, the happy couple standing between two standards twined with white and surmounted with huge bowls of white asters. A very pretty home wedding took place at the residence of Major and Mrs. R. G. The bride was charming in a gown of French net over white satin.

Thomas. The bride was charming in a gown of French net over white satin. She wore the bride white roses. Mrs. Edwin White, sister of the bride, played the wedding music, while the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Schofield of Corunna, under an arch of evergreens, maple leaves and white ribbons. The bride and groom left by motor for St. Thomas, where they will reside, accompanied by the best wishes of relatives and friends. The groom's twined with white and surmounted with huge bowls of white asters. The bride looked very smart in a tailored suit of French blue velour gold tone, with hat to match, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses. The wedding music was played by Mr. Buckley of St. George's Church, Goderich. The bride was unattended, and only the immediate relatives and friends were present. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald are taking a motor trip to London, Hamilton, Nazara Falls and points east, after which they will reside on the groom's farm near Rule.

MOON-STEWART.

Upon that point I count not sets by myself.

Julie was a false friend, of course. She had discovered my rendezvous with Fred and planned to break it up.

She must have deliberately come up to town by the train following the one of id taken. She probably had rung Fred up at his club and inveigled him into meeting her. Not that he needed much "inveigling" where any pretty woman was concerned. That fact I admitted ruefully to myself.

A man like Fred seems born perpetually to humiliate some woman.

Well, I—Anne Travis—wasn't going to play the role of the humiliated one moment longer.

I would enjoy my lunch in spite of all the Freds and Julies in the world!

So I began to sparkle. Scintillating little phrases, odds and ends of naws and wit, breezy comments on the place and sit in which there entertained the fine and secondly that your dealings in the world secondly that your dealings in the world little phrases, odds and ends of news and wit, breezy comments on the place and its inhabitants—these entertained young Saunders vastly.

I know that I became a reveiation to him. Hitherto he'd-seen me paavish, or petty, or even rude. He had revereven glimpsed this other side.

We were the merriest couple in the room. Little gusts of laughter drifted from our table, making some of the ledder folks twen towards us amiling.

I echoed blankly.

He nodded.

"And secondly, that your dealings are always honest and straight. There's no deception in you. You could be true as steel, to a cause, or a person, or a belief—"

This was embarrassing. I broke in hurriedly:

"And what do I see in your eyes, I wonder?" older folks turn towards us, smiling sympathetically.

And I distinctly heard an elderly genial-faced old gentleman remark:

"What a charmingly attractive couple

"What a charmingly actuators these two make."

Neil Saunders also heard the comment. For a moment he looked straight into my eyes with his own vivid blue orbs. And then he tilted up his glass Executive my companion did not notice my embarrassment. He was too hungry of suppose.

I know that he caught no gluppes of Fred and Julie. He pilotad me straight through the loungs into a cost little blas meant for two, and seized the menu caid.

"I know women hate having to choose things, so I'll do all the ordering," he said in a masterful way. His eye roamed over the card marked." As for me, I was filled with a variety of queer motions. The principal one, of queer motions as an animal ment at my own lack of pain over the sight I had just witnessed. Anger and annoyance and contempt were there.

But in the meantime there was at any violent grief over Fred's duplicity. "A cad." That's what I styled him inwardly. Well, one wasn't going to mope about a cad." That's a challenge. I accept it." His shipperd comment just barely reached more as Saunders and I walked through the lounge?

Upon that point I could not satisfy myself.

Ans.—I'm sure you are not serious, Strawberry, in thinking there could possibly be ill-luck in connection with your gift. Don't be in the least superstitous in the matter, but if a fear still beautically and the straightful straightfu haunts you, why not ask the exchange of a coin for the gift. This is guaran-teed to banish ill-luck and retain the joy of friendship.

Should Wait for Right Man.

Dear Miss Grey,—I hope this hot day doesn't melt you. It is surely hot, but such lovely weather for corn and potatoes. Do enjoy the Mail-Box letters so much, but when I hear girls asking about a fellow, if it is the right one, they don't need to ask anyone, But, oh, girls, be careful, for what is sadder than to turn from the right one and not know how very dear he was to you till it is too late. No matter how kind a husband and home you have that one remembrance is always present. I know from experience. I have everything to make me happy, but that one face is absent in everything. Sometimes I think my heart will break; if I could but see him once more. Don't think this silly, it is just a warning to someone else, as I am speaking from a broken heart.

Ans.—There is much in the fact that "the past will always win a glory from its being far." Perhaps if you would discover you were cherishing something in your heart that has lost the old interest. Don't look at the past, but make the most of your present blessings, and be happy in your home and a pal to your husband.

Dear Miss Grey,—It is some time since I have written to you, and this time I wish some of your valuable advice. What will remove mildew from a white cotton skirt? What will rea white cotton skirt? What will remove the shine from a serge suit? Yours sincerely.

Ans.—For mildew, soften some laundry soap and mix with equal quantity of common chalk, powdered. Rub on stain and expose to the sun. If this fails, here is another method: Mix one tablespoon soft soap or softened laundry soap, one tablespoon powdered table probable tablespoon salt and dry soap, one tablespoon powdered starch, one-half tablespoon salt and juice of one lemon. For shine on serge try sponging with soap bark, or if this is not effective take sandpaper and rub the surface carefully.

Medical science knows how serious is the sign of bleeding gums. For it knows that tender and bleeding gums are the fore-runners of Pyorrhea, that dread disease which afflicts four out of five people over forty.

If the disease is unchecked, the gum-line recedes, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of the Pyorrhea poisons generated at their base—poisons which seep into the system and wreck the health. They cause rheumatism, nervous disorders, anaemia, and many other ills.

To avoid Pyorrhea, visit your dentist often for tooth and gum inspection, and use Forhan's For the Gums. Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums firm and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult your dentist immediately for special treatment.

all they have to play would be to make it a tie race. The two clubs will resume their series at the Polo Grounds Thursday, and will also play Friday and Saturday. Brooklyn's victory today was due to the masterly pitching of Marquard and timely hitting of his teammates. Toney started for the Giants, but was touched for four hits and one run in the first two innings. Douglas who succeeded him, kept the Brooklyn players off the paths until the seventh inning, when he was directly responfor two runs.

Sallee pitched the last inning for the Glants and the Brooklyn team added another run. Score:

WINDSOR, Sept. 25. - "Vote to Spracklin for Mayor" is the slogan adopted by a number of border women and the movement to elect the clerical license inspector to the highest office in the gift of the town of Sandwich is spreading. The idea was launcned by a prominent Border woman, head of one of the local patriotic women's organizations. She declared roads and par-ticularly the Riverside Drive, were ab-solutely unsafe for pedestrians because olutely unsafe for pedestrians or ehicles because of the unchecked peeding and furious, reckless driving hat is being allowed. that is being allowed.

She describes conditions as "impossible" and "intolerable" and said today that many occupants of summer homes on the river front, both above and below the border municipalities had been forced to vacate them because of the rum-running and fast driving prevalent in these sections.

now to be seen passing through the streets of South London is the gypsy caravans on their way to the hopping districts. . Many are familiar with these traveling vendors of baskets and brushes of their own making during the winter months and dark skinned hawkers of flowers and fruit, but few have further knowledge of them or how and where they live. There is a gypsy colony in Southwest London which consists of a single street, known as Wardley street, Earlsfield, S. W., down which the police seldom from their Cockney neighbors. A gypsy queen still holds sway and can command their instant obedience.

In a case of illness she is consulted. and she decides whether the patient shall go to bed. Whatever the period she deems sufficient, he must never arise for the first time until the following Friday has passed. Disobedience to this rule is believed to entail certain death. Should death prove imminent the bedroom is crowded with loquacious sympathizers, who recount past death scenes to the prospective widow with evident relish. From the moment of death to the last visit of the undertaker an almost conand she decides whether the patient shall risit of the undertaker an almost continuous stream of neighbors flows in and out of the darkened room. To refuse an invitation to view the dead is an unforgivable insult. Even at night the forgivable insult. Even at night the body is never left, the watcher gener-ally being the widow, who from time to

CREAM

It is the cheapest as well as the best, when time, labor, wear and quality of product are considered.

Look well to service when you buy a cream separator. That means more than anything else. That should include not only a good working and reliable machine, but the right sort of attention and interest on the part of the seller, not only at the time the machine is set up, but as long as you continue to use it. De Laval service is well known. You can depend upon it.

Value depends upon the amount and quality of service the separator gives you-what you get out of it. You get more value for your money when you buy a De Laval, because it will give you more and better service than any other separator.

Winter Gardens Association Announcement

TO LOVERS OF THE DANCE:

As soon as alterations and a complete renovation has been effected, the Winter Gardens on Queen's avenue will be opened as a High-Class Dancing Pavilion under entirely new management.

It is the intention of the association to maintain a high standard of efficiency, which, together with the finest orchestra procurable, a pleasing decorative scheme and special electrical effects, should place the Winter Gardens as a dance hall second to none.

The Opening Date Will Appear in All Papers

The Gardens will be available to clubs, fraternal orders and other associations or private parties by special arrangement with the management.

HARRY CAREY TO BE SEEN IN VANLOAN FILM, "BLUE STREAK MCCOY," AT THE PATRICIA

THEATRE TODAY.

THEATRE TODAY.

An appealing story of thrilling action, self-sacrifice and love, written by H. H. VanLoan, a prominent screen author, will be shown at the Patricia Theatre today, Tuesday and Wednesday, when Harry Carey is presented in his latest Universal feature, "Blue Streak McCoy,"

Job McCoy, drifts into the border country of the southwest. The Ranger service appeals to his adventuresome spirit, so he joins and becomes active in protecting the mining interests. Marlowe, a prominent operator, has a son who recalls to Job his own youth, and the two become great friends. son who recalls to Job his own youth, and the two become great friends. Marlowe's niece, Diana, also strikes his fanck and stirs him to better deeds. Unfortunately, Marlowe's wife is attracted by her husband's manager, Otis, who plans to steal his employer's gold and elope with her. Job interrupts their plans, wins the admiration of Diana, and the sincere gratitude of Marlowe, who offers Job any favor it is within his power to grant. How Job within his power to grant. How Job stifles his great desire and masks his feelings in order to bring happiness to his "buddie" and the girl he loves are told in the concluding scenes of what has been called the year's best western "Blue Streak McCoy.
