

SENSATION AT THE INQUIRY INTO CHATHAM CHARGES

Hotel Proprietor Says $100 Was To Be Paid D. McCrae If He Got License—Latter Disappears.

Chatham, May 10. — Quite a sensation was sprung at the inquiry into the actions of the license commissioners for West Kent, which opened this morning before Endo Saunders, George Tyrell, proprietor of the Park House, stated that he had deposited $100 to be paid David McCrae, of Wallaceburg, if he secured the license. Mr. McCrae has disappeared and a bench warrant for his arrest has been asked for.

"PAPA" LINEVITCH NO DATE YET FOR INSPIRES TROOPS BYE-ELECTIONS

Kuropatkin's Successor Plain-Spoken and Practical.

SUBORDINATES CAN SUGGEST TRANSCONTINENTAL SURVEY

Condition and Moral of Russian Army Greatly Improved Under the New Regime.

Gunshu Pass, April 22.—Day after day, since his assumption to the command, General Linevitch goes steadily about the inspection of the troops, both those on the positions and the units arriving from European Russia. Mounted on a small sorrel horse, wearing an old overcoat devoid of embroidery and trappings, with a simple indication of rank, Linevitch, accompanied by his adjutant, two orderlies and the chiefs of the various troops, but almost without further suite, rides along company after company, battery after battery, finding something to say to each, sometimes a jest, sometimes a reproof, recognizing here and there veterans not only of the Chinese expedition, but also of the Turkish campaign. The suggestion in the fighting ability of "Papa" Linevitch makes a most inspiring impression on the troops. Regularly at the termination of the reviews, General Linevitch gathers about him the chiefs of the various sub-divisions, and in brief, incisive and often quaint words sets forth his opinion of the situation of affairs, the condition of the troops, his demands, orders and suggestions for improvement. He uses no preliminary phrases, promises and transparent hopes to which the officers were formerly accustomed, but the language of a soldier, breathing strength, determination, firm faith and full realization that his task is difficult and heavy, that the work for him and his subordinates is colossal.

Even the non-military observer cannot not a decided change for the better in comparison with the Kuropatkin regime. Jealousy and bickering have notably decreased. There is apparently less spirit of rivalry and more subordination and "team work." Suggestions are no longer frowned upon, and the subordinate with a plan or criticism is given a hearing.

The impression made by a ride along the positions now occupied is astounding. It is difficult to realize that the well-dressed, well-shod troops, hearty in spirit and even gay of face, are the same men who a month ago underwent such supernatural hardships, and the supreme test of a mortifying defeat.

In the corps of General Tserpisky, holding the extreme southwest angle of the positions around Mukden, withstood the brunt of the fierce Japanese attack, and the order prevailed. Though some complain that Tserpisky's hand is too heavy, his orders too stern, the soul of this warlike corps is his commander, and the results of his strictness are apparent.

The troops on the positions, officers included, are now living in tents, various considerations rendering the housing of the men in huts impractical, though the dampness of the ground and the climatic conditions are not especially favorable to life under canvas. A great deal of discomfort is the result. It is probable that the troops, which cannot be touched upon, add to the onerousness of life, but a decided improvement of conditions may be looked for. At that time, too, the present era of insignificant skirmishing and reconnaissance work may be expected to give way to really serious operations.

BELL PRESIDENT ON THE STAND

Mr. Sise Says No Agreement Made With Any Concerns.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, May 10.—At the telephone of the special commissioner on telephones to day, C. F. Sise, president of the Bell Telephone Company, was again on the stand. Mr. Chrysler, counsel for the committee, devoted considerable time in putting in documents supplied to the company, after Mr. Sise had testified to the correctness of the same. There was no agreement with any company anybody for manufacturing supplies. The long-distance switch board for the Montreal exchange cost $15,000. Mr. Sise said that it was absolutely impossible to separate the cost of long distance from local equipment. The company did not keep separate accounts. The earnings from the long distance messages were kept separate from the earnings from local calls, but this did not show the cost of carriage.

Reval, European Russia, May 10. — At a large meeting of workmen here today, which was attended by delegates from St. Petersburg, and a number of workmen, it was decided to proclaim three days' strike in connection with Labor Day, May 10. AGAINST STOCK WATERING

Govt. Will Consolidate Companies Act and Hoyle's Amendments.

Toronto, May 10.—It was announced this morning that the Government would consolidate the stock companies act and embody the amendments proposed by Mr. Hoyle, which came before a special committee this morning. Mr. Hoyle's amendments follow the Imperial pattern, and are directed against the watering of stock and over-capitalization, as exemplified by Mr. Hoyle's amendments. The directors will be required to sign the prospectus, which must embody all the facts, under a penalty of $20 each.

Mr. Kennedy Expects Full Complement When Operations Are Resumed.

Toronto, May 10. — Mr. W. Kennedy, mechanical superintendent of the G. T. R. for Western Ontario, stated this morning that there was nothing new in the strike situation. Respecting a dispatch from Stratford stating that 350 men were out on strike there, Mr. Kennedy said he had not been advised that there was any change in the conditions in that city, and believed that when all the departments resumed operation the full complement of men would be at work.

NOBLE SACRIFICE OF SIX GIRLS

Give Pieces of Cuticle to Save Friend's Life.

LITTLE ONE'S SCALP TORN OFF

An Opportunity for Carnegie's Hero Fund To Be Put in Operation in Hamilton.

Hamilton, June 10. — In an attempt to save the life of little Olive Cleeg, six girl friends, members of the Girls' Friendly Society of St. George's Church, went to St. Joseph's Hospital a few days ago and one after another submitted to being placed on operating tables to have pieces of cuticle removed from their bodies to be placed on the head of the little sufferer. For two months the child has occupied a cot at the institution, fighting bravely for her life. Her friends are not the only ones who ask the question, Will she recover? People who have read of the accident have become greatly interested, and are hoping that Olive will pull through.

ROOSEVELT MAY SETTLE STRIKE

Teamsters Will Ask Him To Be Arbitrator.

VOTE AGAINST GENERAL STRIKE

No Further Sympathetic Movements—Peace and Order Promised for President's Day.

Chicago, May 10. — Promises of peace and order for today, the President's day, were made by both sides in the teamsters' strike. The Employers' Teaming Company decided to reduce its teaming and delivery operations for today. The teamsters' joint council has voted against a general strike, and determined that no further sympathetic movements be made, except in cases of teamsters ordered to make deliveries to buy their houses, in which the individuals should walk out. A statement of the situation prepared to be presented to President Roosevelt by the strikers, was stopped at his request from meeting him on the way to Chicago. The labor representatives plan to inform the President of the proceedings, which have been taken by the employers, and make a proposition that the President act as an arbitrator of the differences between the two sides. The employers say they will not officially approach the President.

Large Delegation Calls On Government and Requests 160 Acres Apiece—The Premier's Reply.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Ottawa, May 10.—The railway committee in the House of Commons was crowded this morning with the veterans of 1860 and 1870. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Sir Frederick Borden, Hon. W. S. Fielding and Solicitor-General LeMieux received the delegation. Mr. Bickerdike introduced the veterans.

RUSS SHIPS AT SAIGON AGAIN

In Good Shape, But Lacked Tobacco and Cigars.

ORDERED TO LEAVE

Saigon, May 10.—The Russian cruiser Jemchug and the Russian auxiliary cruiser Adon, belonging to Admiral Rojestvensky's squadron, arrived off Cape St. James, near here, during the night of May 8, and yesterday morning left at the request of the governor of French Indo-China.

THE GOVERNMENT OBJECTS

Mr. Beck then proceeded to give the Government's objection to granting the franchise to the Electrical Development Company. They were, in part, as follows:

The company was under no obligation to develop power. The agreement clearly shows that. It is to the effect that if they were given permission to develop the extra 125,000 horsepower now they could do so cheaply, but if the work were undertaken in the future it would be very costly. To this Mr. Beck states that qualified engineers say that that is not correct. He also declares no hardship is imposed on the company by refusing their application.

THE POWER COMPANIES

Hon. Mr. Beck explained, in opening, that three Canadian power companies had been incorporated. Under agreements entered into with them, rights have been given to develop, as follows: The Canadian Niagara Power Company, 100,000 horse-power; the Ontario Power Company, 250,000 horse-power; the Electrical Development Company, 125,000 horse-power; total, 475,000 horse-power.

THE REVENUE

"The maximum annual revenue that could possibly accrue to the Government under the agreements was $300,000, and this revenue would accrue until the full development of 475,000 horse-power is effected and sold. The present revenue was merely $90,000 per annum. There were only two provisions in the agreements, he said, that purport to protect the public, as distinct from the Government, and they were not worth the paper they were printed on. It was no safeguard to Ontario that it could not be compelled to pay more than American consumers."

Separate Schools—Canadian and American.

The blending of religious instruction with the education of the young is regarded as a sacred duty by the Roman Catholic clergy, and it is natural to suppose, by many, if not all, of the Catholic laity, who may fairly be presumed to agree with the policy of the church. In the United States separate schools are not recognized by the constitution, and have no public support, but it is a mistake to suppose that they do not exist. An official report just issued by the Federal Government shows that over a million children of Roman Catholic parents are being educated outside the public schools. The principle of religious instruction is so strongly held that these parents pay public school taxes, as required by law, and then pay in addition for the education of their children in separate, or as they are called in the United States, parochial schools. This official report estimates that the state saves from $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 each year because the public schools are relieved of the cost of educating Roman Catholics who pay for what they do not avail themselves of. The Boston Transcript says of these parochial schools:

"They now have their own local school committees and inspectors, and what might be called critics teachers, and their normal schools for the training of instructors, with certificates of proficiency, as recognized in state normal schools. They are also establishing model or practice schools. Organized in 1885 in New York city under the auspices of the Paulist Fathers, these 'Sisters' Institutes' have spread widely."

The national school system of the United States has been regarded by many in this country as an ideal which ought to be realized wherever possible. We are told it is the great solvent of the differences of race, language, and creed in the republic, the crucible in which the children of all nationalities are fused and molded into a common citizenship. Those who have had this conception of the American school system will be somewhat startled to discover that the American people are by no means of one mind. It must be remembered that these one million Roman Catholic children in the United States are being educated in schools which are entirely under ecclesiastical control. The parochial schools are virtually private schools, with which the state has no right of interference.

The so-called separate schools in the Northwest Territories are not church schools, but are regulated, inspected, and controlled by the state. If separation in education is inimical to nation-making, as some of its opponents contend, which system is the more national—the parochial schools of the United States, which are outside the purview of the state, or the separate schools of the Northwest, which are under state inspection, and in which the state prescribes the text-books, the qualifications of the teachers and the examinations?

Dr. Osler and Canadian Girls.
Some of the United States newspapers say they cannot understand what Dr. Osler means by his repeated injunctions to Canadian girls not to go to the United States. In two of his several farewell addresses he said it would pay Canada to give a thousand dollar to every Canadian girl, who thought of expatriating herself, to induce her to remain at home. His critics ask whether he intended to convey the suggestion that the influences in the United States were not favorable to the development of the best qualities of Canadian women. If not, they want to know why Canadian girls should not embrace as freely as Canadian men, the opportunities afforded by the republic.

It is likely that Dr. Osler tendered his advice in a purely patriotic spirit. As a physician, associated with a great hospital, he has had peculiar opportunities to observe the Canadian girls in the United States, and appreciate their worth, because the majority of them enter the nursing profession. The New York Sun recently stated that over 50 per cent of the nurses in the hospitals of that city were Canadians. They will be found in greater or less ratio in all the leading hospitals of the United States, especially of the Eastern States. One explanation of their extraordinary success in this calling is that their home influences and domestic habits prepare them to be good nurses. Another explanation is that, a more refined and educated class of girls enter the profession in this country than across the line. His heart's being in his native country, Dr. Osler is probably pained to see it lose such treasures as he has found Canadian girls to be in his professional experience. Perhaps at the back of his mind there was the idea that too many Canadian girls go to the States to enter hospitals who are under no financial or other necessity of doing so, and that they are sometimes attracted by the desire of leading more active and eventful lives than by an irresistible desire to pursue nursing as a calling. The girls might reply that it is unfair that the young men should leave the country, and the girls be compelled to remain and form a surplus of the population. Happily, Canada is getting big enough and prosperous enough to keep all her sons at home. Under these circumstances they should be relied upon to keep the girls at home, too.

Mischief-Making Rebutted.

The Toronto News, in its opposition to the school clauses of the autonomy bill, has not been content to appeal to the sober sense of its readers, but has tried to drag the question into the cockpit of race and religious prejudice. The other day, in its work of fomenting ill-feeling and sectarian strife, it published an article, the purport of which was that the civil service in the Yukon was packed with French-Canadians, in pursuance of a deliberate policy of excluding English-speaking Canadians. This was so gross and barefaced a misrepresentation that even the Toronto Mail and Empire, the rabid organ of the Conservative party, was moved to protest. The Mail administers this rebuke:

"An examination of the records show that the 'evening paper' which states this story is trying to encourage racial ill-feeling on grounds that are without warrant. The Yukon certainly has officials of French-Canadian birth. Why not? Are French-Canadians to be ruled from the public service? But while there are French-Canadians there, there are also English-Canadians, and the latter are in the majority."

"In the cattle quarantine office there are three officers—all English. There are forty-two officials in the customs, and all but one are English."

"In the postoffice there are twelve officers, not one of them French."

"In the judicial department there is one French judge who speaks English, but there are two English judges co-operating with them."

"Of the fourteen court officials, three are French."

"There are twelve officers of the Mounted Police, ten English and two French."

"In the various branches of the interior department service there are seventy-eight English officers and nineteen whose names indicate that they are of French origin."

"The cry against the French, based upon the fact that they hold a few offices in the far west, is unfair, and narrow. Seeing that it takes the form of an attack upon the Government, the danger is that the Conservative party may be saddled with the smallness which prompts it. Conservatives must be careful not to allow themselves to be made responsible for reasoning, or want of reasoning, which comes from sources that are adverse to them."

The conduct of the News has been incomprehensible to those who know something of the record of its editor and controller. His voice and pen were employed at one time in forceful deprecation of such tactics.

Rojevsky is making progress, like the man whom the police kept "moving on."

The Spaniards are celebrating the tercentenary of the publication of Don Quixote. It is a reminder that Spain hasn't had much to be proud of since.

The Grand Trunk Pacific surveyors have found a level route between Montreal and Winnipeg. The experts of the Conservative party were certain the rails would have to climb up and down a granite ridge or cross a muskeg every mile of the journey.

Lord Cromer, the administrator of Egypt, gives a good account of the Sudan in his annual report for 1904. The revenue was estimated at 469,000 Egyptian pounds, but it reached 576,000 pounds compared with 8,000 pounds in the year of Kitchener's victory. The land of Fuzzy-Wuzzys, under the enlightened rule of Great Britain, bids fair to become as productive and flourishing as modern Egypt.

The local license commissioners deny that they are being dictated to by the party executive and their word will be accepted. But they cannot complain if they are suspected of party bias when they take licenses from hotel-keepers to give them to Conservative workers, when the men who have been deprived of their licenses have not refused to comply with official requisitions. They should at least have the opportunity to dispose of their premises or belongings to the best advantage, if the licenses are to be continued in other hands. This will be impossible if the commissioners have already promised the licenses to certain men. The latter will be able to name their own price.

The steamer Arizona, a modern steel twin-screw steamer, some 470 feet in length, recently made the passage from Honolulu to Philadelphia without stopping at any port for supplies, and burning only fuel oil. This is a voyage of some 13,200 miles via Magellan Strait, while around the Horn it would be almost 15,000 miles. The average consumption of fuel oil on the trip was about 8,000 gallons a day, a total consumption for the voyage of 10,000 barrels. It is figured that to have made the trip with coal something like 3,000 tons would have been needed, which would have occupied more space in the ship, space that would have been taken from parts of the vessel where cargo could be carried. There was an actual saving in weight of almost one-half. Fuel oil may yet revolutionize the coal business.

The Liberal Whip.
[Ottawa Free Press.]

Mr. Calvert is in many ways Mr. Taylor's opposite. He has a much larger family to look after and consequently has not so much time for talking. He is the most faithful worker in the House and leaves his deputies to do the talking. He is beloved by every member of his party and has no enemies on the Opposition side. He is intimately acquainted with all the members, and his friendly handshake and greeting smile are genuine. His voice is seldom heard in debate, and when he speaks his words are free from recrimination. He takes his duties seriously and never stoops to take advantage of a political opponent by giving him a sarcastic stab at holding him up to ridicule. Mr. Calvert makes an ideal Whip; and as he moves about the House directing his forces he has a quiet power that inspires confidence. With such a leader as Sir Wilfrid Laurier and such a whip as Mr. Calvert, it is little wonder that the Liberal party is presenting such an unbroken front to the enemy. His duties require executive ability of a high order, and he possesses.

Jiu-Jitsu vs. Hockey.

[Cy Warman, in New York Sun.]
If you want to rear a nation To be fit for future scraps, Cut away this imitation That you're taking from the Japs. You can never win your battles With these monkey springs and squats— To the Highlands and play hockey with the Scots!

"Hoot, man! Hoot!" says big Macdonald, And MacWilliams answers, "Hoot!" As he smashes Angus Campbell On the apex of his snoot. While the polished springs are freckled By a score of crimson snots— Ah, you're busy when you hockey with the Scots!

Hear Macpherson's smothered curses As his bosom swells with pride, And the horses on the hearsees Paw the atmosphere outside. With the corner and under-bar Waiting business on the spot— Ah, you're strenuous when you hockey with a Scot!

A Great Thirst.

[Chicago Record.]
Great Britain spent $50,000,000 for beer last year, and is still pretty thirsty.

Education in Scotland.

[Hamilton Times.]
A recent parliamentary return shows that the Scottish grants to public education in 1903 were as follows:
To public schools..... £22,540 $11
To Church of England schools..... £2,250 $11
To United Free Church schools..... £2,250 $11
To denominational schools..... £2,489 $11
Episcopal schools..... £4,486 $21
To Roman Catholic schools..... £7,758 $37
Evidently the Scottish people would like to understand why their country should be made about the educational clauses of the autonomy bills.

When I Go Home.

[Eugene Field.]
It comes to me often in silence, When the freight sputters low— When the black, uncertain shadows Seen writhing at the foot of the stair— Always with a throb of heartache That thrills each pulsing vein, Comes the old, unquiet longing For the peace of home again.

I'm sick of the roar of cities, And of faces old and strange; I know where the world will welcome, And my yearning fancies range Back to the dear old homestead, Where an aching heart is true, But there'll be joy in the coming, When I go home again.

When I go home again; There's music That may never die away— And it seems the band of angels On a mystic harp to play, Have touched with a yearning sadness On a beautiful, broken strain, To which is my fond heart wording— When I go home again.

Outside of my darkening window Is the great world, cold and dim, And slowly the autumn shadows Come drifting, drifting in, Sobering the night with murmur To the plash of the autumn rain; But I dream of the glorious greeting When I go home again.

Old Enough to Notice.

[Chicago Record.]
"Are you papa and mamma at home?" asked the caller.
"No," replied little Marguerite; "one of them may be here, but they never are both at home at the same time."

London Wants It.

CHURCHMEN MEET

The Deanery of Oxford in Session at Thamesford.

The Deanery of Oxford met at 1 o'clock yesterday at Thamesford. Holy communion was administered by Rev. Dean Davis, and Rural Dean Ward preached the sermon. Then followed a conference for study, the subject being "St. Luke's Gospel." The subject was introduced by Rev. G. M. Cox, and the discussion was led by Rev. G. B. Sage,

B.D., of London. The ladies then prepared a luncheon in the parish rooms for the clergy and their friends. In the afternoon at 2 o'clock, the chapter of the deanery met, with Rural Dean Ward in the chair. At 3:30 a conference for study, with the "Acts of the Apostles," as the subject, was held. Rev. Canon Dunn following on "The Ministry of Man." Mr. T. H. Luscombe spoke on behalf of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew. In the evening Bishop Williams came over from Burlington, where another meeting had been held, and confirmed sixteen candidates.

Lake Champlain Safe.

Montreal, May 10. — The C. P. R. steamer Lake Champlain, about which some anxiety was reported today in English cables, is on her way up the river, having been reported at Martin River yesterday. It is presumed that some detention by gulf ice led to the alleged anxiety.

The population of the United Kingdom was estimated at 41,583,871 in 1901, and the national income derived from taxes on the sale of intoxicants was £32,114,265.

An ingenious lock, which has just been patented, has the keyhole in the knob or handle of the door. The mechanism of the lock is so constructed that a person on the inside of the door, by turning the knob in one direction, lock the door so that it cannot be opened, even by a key, on the outside. By turning the knob in the opposite direction the door is unlocked, but can be opened on the outside by the use of a key designed to fit the lock.

Few Are Protected From Tuberculosis

Thousands Are Dying—If Tired, Languid or Run Down, Get Protection Before Too Late.

No child, man, or woman is safe from consumption unless their blood is pure, rich and nourishing.

Blood rules the whole body. Upon its nourishing qualities depends the very life of all bodily organs. Allow the blood to become thin, and immediately the whole system grows weak. The lungs are deprived of resisting power and the ever-present tubercular bacilli develop.

The most positive protection against consumption is Ferrozene, which restores the blood to full strength. Weak organs are instantly strengthened. Worn-out tissues are rebuilt. New life is given to the lungs and all danger of consumption is destroyed.

Mrs. E. J. Richardson, Manitowick, Ont., tells us of her enormous gain in health from Ferrozene. "For two years I was not well. I was thin and anemic. Towards spring I fell into a condition of nervous exhaustion. A dead tiredness hung over me like a load of lead. Household work of any kind I simply couldn't do. A bad cough developed that worried me greatly. For I thought it might be tubercular. When I first read of Ferrozene I was convinced it was good. I took it regularly for eight weeks and the change in my health was wonderful. My cheeks filled out and became clear and rosy. I gained eight pounds and now am strong and vigorous as possible."

Ferrozene feeds, nourishes and tones up the body—it sends the thrill and vigour of robust health to the head to foot—makes you feel better at once. Won't you use Ferrozene? Price, 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or N. C. Ellison & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

THE PUPPET SHOW.

BY HAROLD MACGRATH.
[Copyrighted by the Bobbs-Merrill Company, Indianapolis.]

"Deuvalis has promised to push me off the board, to use his own words. I am wondering how he will do it."

"Don't let that disturb you; he will do nothing now. Well, well; it is all a sorry game, and I find that making history has its disadvantages. But have dandled Madame as a child on my knee, and her wish is law; wherever her fortunes lead, I must follow. She will win; she cannot help winning. But I pity that poor devil of a king, who, they say, is now bereft of speech. Ah, had he been a man, I could have gone into this heart and soul."

"He is on his deathbed. And his daughter, God knows what is in store for her. Prince Frederick is dallying with his peasant girl. The day for the wedding has come and gone, unless he turned up today, which is not likely."

"Which is not likely indeed," repeated the colonel sadly. He pulled out his pipe and smoked for a time. "But let us not judge harshly. Youth is always quick and generous; it never stops to weigh causes or to reason why. And strange, its judgment is almost always unerring. I am going to share my dinner with you tonight. I'll try to brighten you up a bit."

"Then after dinner we'll play poker until they come to take you to Brunswick."

"What sort of a city is it?"

"You will not see much of it; so I will not take the trouble to tell you that it is slightly inferior to Brunswick. Sure enough, when the dark of evening fell two servants entered with trays and baskets, and proceeded to lay the table. They put new candles in the bayonets."

"Ha!" said the colonel; "you have forgotten the wine, rascals!"

"Bringing a dozen bottles," Maurice suggested, having an idea in mind.

"Eh?"

"Remember, colonel, I've been a soldier and a journalist in a country where they only wash with water. In the summer we have whisky ice, in the winter we have hot water, for both heat and cold. Ah, colonel, if you only might sniff a mint julep!"

"A dozen bottles, then," said the colonel to the servants, who retired to execute the order.

"How old will it be?" asked Maurice.

"Twice your age, my son. But do not make any misapprehension about my capacity for tokyer." Maurice echoed.

"Yes; if you plan to get me drunk. There are no troops around, and it would be easy enough for you to slip out if I should lose my head."

Maurice's laugh had a false ring to it. The colonel had made a very shrewd guess.

"Well!" said the colonel, with a gesture toward the table.

They sat down, and both made an excellent dinner. Maurice demolished a roasted pheasant, stuffed with chestnuts, while the colonel disintegrated a duck. The wine came, and the servants ranged six bottles on the side of each plate. It was done so gravely that Maurice laughed heartily. The wine was the oldest in Madame's cellar, and Maurice wondered at the colonel's temerity in selecting it. The bottles were of thick glass, flat-bottomed, and ungainly. Maurice figured that there was more than a pint in each. It possessed a delicious bouquet. The colonel emptied three bottles, with no more effect than if the wine had been water. Maurice did not appreciate this feat until he had himself emptied a bottle. It was then he saw that the boot was likely to be on the other foot.

He looked at the colonel anxiously; the old soldier was a guf. He had miscalculated, indeed. But he was fertile in plans, and a more reasonable one occurred to him. He drank another bottle and began to talk volubly. Later he grew confidential. He told the colonel a great many things which had never happened, things Maurice found incredible. The colonel listened soberly, and nodded now and again. Dinner past, they pushed the remains aside and began to play poker, a game at which the colonel proved to be no novice, much to Maurice's wonder.

London Played Good Game, But Met Defeat In First of Home Matches With Stratford

Football Aggregation Played Well, But Was Defeated by a Very Close Score.

A crowd of none too generous proportions went to the St. John's Athletic Club grounds last night to witness the first W. F. A. intermediate match between Stratford and London. The game at times was fast and characterized by good combination, but at other times it was somewhat slow. The London team appeared patched up—Brown and Canfield, two juniors, being the left wing. The checks played tag with them all through the game, and to their credit it must be said that they were out of their proper positions, and much better work. Garrett, another junior, played left wing, and did very well. In fact, Garrett, Alkenhead and Gilbert put up some very beautiful combination work. The Stratford team are a husky bunch of fellows, who have the weight and do not miss an opportunity to use it. The first half started out with Stratford on the aggressive, carrying the ball down to London's goal on several occasions, but Bunsch bungled a couple of easy chances. He did get one or two beauties on the goal, and Spicknell saved cleverly. London woke up then and started some fine combinations down the right wing, and after thirteen minutes' play Gilbert scored by a splendid shot from an equally good pass. Stratford missed several chances to score in the next few minutes, and did score from a scrimmage in front of goal some three minutes later.

London seemed to fade away after this, and Stratford pressed very hard. McDougall, by a beautiful sprint finally shooting a goal after ten minutes' play. No more scores were made in this half.

The second half was considerably slower. London pressed at the beginning, but her forwards were not working together, and thus they missed many chances. Stratford was busy for some minutes, making an occasional rush, but London did all the work. It looked as if the home team might win, or at least tie the score, but they missed a chance on cover kicks. The score ended 2 to 1 in favor of Stratford.

Spicknell, for London, played a good goal, and Bryant and Wallace were strong at back. Gregory was good in center, though lacking the weight to be the right man for the position. He will well in spots, while Hague was outclassed. As before said, the London right wing was strong. The Stratford team is well balanced, strong in goal, a good back line, strong, fast halves, and a good, shifty forward line. Diller is very fast and his duel with Gilbert was worth the money. A. McNichol was strong "hit back" McDougall; center half, was a host in himself, strong and aggressive. He does not need to learn Jiu-Jitsu for tricks. The changing-vine sort of way in which he attached himself to a London forward's sweater, when the Londoner got by him, was quite effective. Mr. W. M. Govenlock was referee, and was impartial, though he missed some very smooth work. The line up:

London—Goal, Spicknell; backs, Bryant and Wallace; halves, Daley, Gregory and Hague; forwards, Canfield Brown, Gilbert, Alkenhead and Garrett.

Stratford—Goal, Strowbridge; backs, Clark and A. McNichol; halves, Keating, McDougall and Steele; forwards, Diller, Forrest, Cameron, Bunsch and R. McNichol.

Goal judges—A. W. Keith, Stratford; J. W. Couse, London; referees, Stratford, and Beal, London.

London has material for a crack team, and a few weeks' practice will put them to the top of the heap.

BUSIEST DAY YET AT WOODBINE

Caper Sauce, Seagram Entry Went Five Furlongs in 1:04.

Toronto News: This was a busy day at the Woodbine, and although the track was dead from the rain of yesterday, the trials made were the fastest of the year. Most of the plates that have any chance to be in the money were given workouts today. The only ones to go the full distance were those from the Hendrie and Dymont stables. All did good work, particularly the Dymont horse. There were a lot of fast trials made by the Seagram horses.

Inferno, the favorite for the plate, was the only one sent five furlongs today, he working with Half Seas Over. The work was well done, Inferno going the five-eighths in 1:18. One of the best miles and a quarter that has been done this spring was timed out this morning on Davies' Altes d'Or. He worked with Fulton, the plate. The first mile was covered in 1:48. The plate then dropped out and Altes d'Or won the other two miles in 2:16. The fractions were: 27, 40, 53, 1:06 4-5, 1:20 3/4, 1:48, 2:16.

The next to work was the Hendrie bunch of plates—Heather Jock, Jeanie Dick and Lorne Reel. Heather Jock beat the other two several lengths in the five furlongs, going it in 2:21 1/2. The fractions were: 26 1/2, 41 1/2, 55, 1:09, 1:23, 1:38, 1:52, 2:06, 2:21 1/2.

The work of the Dymont horse, Will King, was most impressive. He carried about 130 pounds, and went the plate distance in 2:19 1/2. Will King started off with Fulton, and Stay Away. The latter is owned by J. Dymont, sen. Stay Away set the pace, but it did not take Will King long to overhaul her, and by the time he had gone the first quarter he was in front. Stay Away, another smart one from the string, broke in when the last three-quarters were set, and Will King, who was fighting for his head, took after him and was soon in front again. He finished in front, his stable companion by half a length, and had some left at the end. The fractions were: 12 1/2, 26, 40, 53 1/2, 1:07, 1:21, 1:36, 1:50 1/2, 2:04, 2:19 1/2.

The fastest work done this spring was reeled off this morning, when Caper Sauce, from the Seagram string, went five furlongs in 1:04. The fractions were: 12 1/2, 26, 40, 53 1/2, 1:04.

BASEBALL.
GAME WAS FORFEITED.
The Providence-Newark game at Providence was given the home team owing to the failure of the Newark captain to leave the grounds when or before the umpire. The score was 6 to 3 in favor of Providence.

The Montreal-Buffalo game was postponed owing to wet grounds.

SCANDRETT TEAM WON.
A fast game of ball was played last evening at the barracks' diamond between Scandrett's team and the North End Stars. It lasted but three innings and was won by the grocerymen by a score of 9 to 6. The batteries were: Scandrett's, Joseph Clark and H. Langford; North End Stars, Dan Fuller and J. Brook. A return game will be played Thursday.

CHAMPION MEETS FIRST DEFEAT

Jeffries Downed by Malaria—Thinks His Fighting Days Are Over.

A dispatch from Chicago says that James J. Jeffries, champion heavyweight pugilist of the world, arrived in Chicago yesterday, and confirmed the report of his retirement from the prize ring. Jim is as big and husky as ever, but is far from being in good health. He has been knocked out by malaria, and is suffering from a severe case of muscular rheumatism in his hands.

Despite these troubles, Jeffries went through his "Davy" Crockett stunt last night, and boxed three lively rounds with Joe Kennedy at a west side theater. His fight with Kennedy in this boxing bout than in any championship fight he ever took part in, as his hands, badly swollen, were painful to the touch.

"You see," he said, "I have never known a day's sickness, and this malaria makes me miserable. I am tired of the theatrical game, and have informed the management that I would duck out of the limelight at the end of the fight."

"How about the fighting game?" was asked.

"That's a dead one as far as I am concerned," he replied. "I have gone through the crop of heavyweights, and I am sure the public will not stand for my going through them again. I thought Martin Hart would show up well enough to warrant his giving me an argument, but reports tell me he is not doing championship battle can be pulled off, and the sporting public will not patronize what appears to be a one-sided affair. My fight with Martin convinced me that nothing but the real goods will pay. The receipts of that fight footed up $21,000, of which I received nearly half, but it did not pay me, as after I paid my training expenses I was left $1,000 left."

There is nothing in fighting for me, simply because there is no one there to fight. If I was financially down and out I might talk along different lines, but I have enough laid aside to keep me comfortably the rest of my days, so I am not worried."

Jeff will consult a local physician who here, and if improved in his condition after his week's engagement, will go to Los Angeles, his home, and from there to his former training quarter at Hartlin Springs.

THE RING.
GANS AND WHITE MAY FIGHT.

White will leave for New York either today or tomorrow. Mitchell's son, Charles, jun., will accompany White.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT TO CAPTAIN LAVE CROSS

Washington, May 9. — Lave Cross, captain and third baseman of the Philadelphia baseball team, was seriously injured yesterday by a ball batted by Frank Huelspan during the game here. Cross broke the force of the terrific blow with his feet, and the ball bounded up into his face and crushed the bridge of his nose, fracturing the bone. For ten minutes he lay bleeding on the field, and for an hour and a half it was impossible to entirely stop the flow. It is thought that a small blood-vessel was ruptured. Cross' eyes are almost swollen shut and it will necessitate his retirement from the game for a time.

TORONTO LOSES MCGEEHAN.
Toronto, May 9. — Pitcher McGeehan left Toronto today for Harrisburg, Pa., where he will play in the Tri-State League.

McGeehan took French leave of the Toronto club, probably realizing that his chances to be one of the regular pitching staff were very poor.

The Toronto club will still hold McGeehan under contract, so that he cannot play in organized baseball without their consent.

Young Girls

Avoid The Dangers and Sufferings of Womanhood

Many a girl who graduates from high school or female college with a brilliant record and high standing is broken down before she is twenty. Nowadays girls are pushed to the limit of their endurance both in school and society. They must make a success—even if they are forever unfitted for the larger school of life and debarred from wedded happiness and the bliss of motherhood.

At this time of life, when just entering upon womanhood, nature makes heavy drains upon the vitality, especially at each monthly period, the most wonderful of all tonic restorative medicines for women, will tide a young girl over this trying time and bring her safely into strong, noble, beautiful womanhood.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Experience of a Beautiful High School Girl
Her First Letter.
MY DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to see if you can suggest some means to cure me. A little more than a year ago I was sick with menstruation for the first time, and since then I have been sick all the time in some way or other and suffered with painful and irregular menstruation. I went to a summer resort for my health and was doctored all summer, but to no effect. I have not menstruated for two months and thought I would see if you could do me any good. I attend High School and would not like to miss any time if it is possible. MARION BARBER, North Adams, Mass.

Miss Barber writes again after two years
