BEWARE OF DECEPTION

Statistics show that when egg albumen is used as a constituent of baking powder, the amount so used is too small (usually 15/100 of 1%) to affect the quality or effectiveness of the baking powder containing it, and when so used, is plainly for the purpose of fraud. Intelligent buyers will not permit themselves to be deceived by the water glass test.

MAGIC BAKING POWDER

contains no alum or egg albumen and is guaranteed to be composed of the ingredients printed on the label—and none other.

The Girl of the Cloisters

CHAPTER XXXII.
IN THE DOCTOR'S CARE.

Lela laughed, and shook her head. "I am not. I am quite content. I only wish that we could always live in those dear, little rooms at the Albany, and never be great people."

"You are a strange girl," said Edith. "You always were a strange girl at school. And do you not mind what people think or say?"

"People think or say?" said Lela, her brows knitting. "I don't understand!" and she did not.

Edith Drayton colored with a momentary shame. Lela's innocence was a shield against any arrows of that sort.

"I mean that—But it does not matter. And you are very happy?"

"Most perfectly," responded Lela. She laughed. "You remind me of Edith! It is what he asks me so often."

"Ah!" with a spasm of jealousy.

"Yes; to-day he asked me, as usual, the old, old question and wanted to know whether I should be happier if I were like you—a great and fashionable lady—"

"He mentioned me?" said Edith, almost inaudibly.

Lela nodded, and turned round the bracelet which clasped Edith Drayton's wrist.

"Yes, he often talks about you. He says that he should have gone out of his mind—that's nonsense, of course!—that time he was searching for me, but for you. I think he looks upon you as a sort of sister—"

Edith Drayton sat up and pushed the mass of hair from her white brow with a desperate air.

"A sister!" she echoed, with hidden bitterness.

"Yes," said Lela, all unconscious of the storm that was raging in her heart.

er's bosom. "Yes, and he says that when we go to Hemsforth—that is a place which belongs to him—he hopes that you will come and stay with us. You will, will you not?"

With a long-drawn sigh that was almost a sob, Edith Drayton rose and stretched out her white arms. She could not bear any more. All unconsciously and innocently, Lela had been stabbing her to the heart; every word of the sweet, gentle voice had been like dagger thrusts, and she could bear no more.

"Come and stay with you!" she said, with a low laugh. "Come—and—stay with you, and see for myself how happy you are! Thanks, thanks, very much!—It is very kind! It is too kind! But—with a laugh of bitter sarcasm, only thinly veiled—"should I not be in the way, don't you think?"

"No, no, no," said Lela. "He would be delighted, and so should I! But ought you to get up, Edith, dear? I am afraid I have disturbed and excited you!"

"Then do not fear!" she retorted, gathering up her hair. "You have done me good! Look, don't I look much better?" and she swung round.

Lela looked at the beautiful face flushed, full of energy, and smiled.

"Don't you think so? I am, then! Your visit has done me more good than all the doctor's medicines, which I didn't take, by the way. Come and stay with you! Oh, yes, I shall be delighted! When you go to Hemsforth!"

"Edgar will be so pleased!" said Lela, simply. "Of course, Mr. Clifford Revel must come, too!" and she smiled.

Edith swung round again with a passionate fire in her eyes.

"And why Mr. Clifford Revel?" she demanded, almost fiercely.

"Because—oh, Edith, I am so sorry if I have angered you—I thought, and so did Edgar, that—that—"

"Then think what you have thought no longer!" retorted Edith.

Lela rose, pale and grave and remorseful.

"Yes," said Lela, all unconscious of the storm that was raging in her heart.

"Edith, I am very sorry. I did not mean to annoy you. It is just as if we were at school together! I was always saying something that made you angry."

"We are at school no longer," said Edith Drayton, drawn to her full height, and gleaming at the pure, sweet face darkly. "We are in the world, woman against woman! You have won, or think you have won"—she stopped short, brought to a standstill by the sudden pallor of astonishment and pain on Lela's face.

"I—I beg your pardon," she said, with a strained laugh. "I am talking wildly! You must remember that I have had fever, and am at times rather wild and delirious. 'This'—with a harsh laugh—"must be one of my times! Forgive me! There!" and she held out her hand. "I—I beg your pardon."

Lela took the outstretched hand, and drawing nearer, kissed the now flushed face.

"I forgive, if I have anything to forgive," she said, in her sweet, grave voice. "But I didn't understand; I never did understand you at school, you know. I will go now. May I come again?"

"Yes," said Edith, shortly; then she looked down; "at least, I think I will take your advice, and go away for a time. You see, I am better," and she laughed constrainedly.

"Good-bye! Go and be happy—while you may," she added, as Lela closed the door after her.

A minute or two afterward Mrs. Drayton stole into the room, and started, for Edith was dressing with feverish haste.

"My dear child," she said, "what are you doing? Doctor Wilkes said that you were not to get up—"

"Doctor Wilkes and I disagree, mother, and when doctor and patient disagree, who shall decide?" retorted Edith, with a brusque laugh.

"But—" faltered the poor mother.

"But for me no buts, mother. I am better. Edith's herself again and eager for the fray! Look at me! Do I not look better? Mother, that was an excellent idea of yours, sending my old school-fellow to see me! She has acted like a tonic! No more lying on the sofa for me!"

"My dear Edith!"

"Don't expostulate. You are an excellent mother, but a poor logician. I am better! Can you not see that? There, I'll give you proof. You have been badgering me to go out of town; hitherto I have declined. I am ready to accede to your views now. We will go out of town. We will go to some place near Badmore."

"Near Badmore?" repeated Mrs. Drayton, with a bewildered air.

"Yes. I want to be at the Badmore races, mother. I feel that they will complete the cure which that 'sweet young thing' has commenced. Send to the agents at once and take a small house near Badmore. Don't look at me as if I were mad."

"Sometimes I think you are," whined the poor woman.

Edith laughed.

"Sometimes I, too, think I am; but I am clothed," touching the costly dress, "and in my right mind now. Yes, mother, you and I will go to the Badmore races, and see the end of the comedy."

And the Worst is Yet to Come—

CHAPTER XXXIII.
"WHAT FOOLS ARE MEN."

The marquis sat in his darkened room at Fane Abbey, his head drooping on his breast, his white hands lying on the Times spread open on his knee. A certain change had come over the great and powerful marquis since we last saw him. He looked thinner, and less stern and cold; at times, in the dimly lighted room, he would sigh heavily and, when the gout was not too rampant, would get up from his chair and pace the room with his head drooped on his chest and his white hands clasped behind. At such times he looked remarkably like Lord Edgar.

The reason of this change was not far to seek. The fact is, the marquis had been thinking. He had plenty of time to do it in, and a vast amount of opportunity, seeing that life went on at Fane Abbey pretty nearly with the monotony which distinguished existence in the Castle of the Sleeping Beauty! So he sat in his silent room and thought, and his thoughts, try as he would, would go in the direction of Lord Edgar.

The marquis had flattered himself for years past that he had got rid of that awkward and troublesome piece of human mechanism, the heart; but he began to fear that he had flattered himself without cause. If he had no heart, why should he be so perpetually thinking of those hours when Lord Edgar sat beside his bed and ministered to him? Why should his son's handsome face be continually rising before him? Why should that girl's, Lella Temple's, tear-stained face and anguished eyes continually haunt him and put him into a vague disquietude and unrest?

"I suppose I am getting old and weak, and driveling!" he would mutter to himself, with self-scorn and reproach. "I acted for the best. I saved both him and her. They'll both live to thank me for it! I'd do it again if it needed doing!"

But he could not quiet his conscience or harden his heart with this courageous assertion. He knew that he had acted cruelly; that he had tortured the pretty, trusting, innocent girl—that he had sent his son from him, never, perhaps, to see him again.

That was the rub! In his heart of him and put him into a vague of dis- his son. He regarded it as a weakness, but he was compelled to recognize it! In the few days Lord Edgar had spent at the Abbey, he had gained a hold upon the marquis' affections. Whether it was his handsome face, or his frank open-mindedness, or the spirited way in which he had confronted the marquis and defied, he, the marquis, could not tell. But there was the fact that he actually missed Lord Edgar, that he ardently desired to see him, and that in the darkened room he fretted and fumed for him.

And yet his pride would not permit him to acknowledge it to himself, much less admit it to Lord Edgar.

Though he was dying, he assured himself, he would not send for him. But though he would not send for him, he took care that Lord Edgar should be supplied with plenty of money, and had written to him about Lella, as we know. He had hoped that his letter might have brought Lord Edgar down to the Abbey, but he had not come; only a cold, formal note had answered his.

LONDON, June 12. A Ukrainian diplomatic mission has arrived in London and another is going to Washington. The mission submitted its case to the Government and is satisfied with the sympathetic reception accorded to it at the Foreign Office. The head of the mission informed Reuter's that the great aim is in co-ordinate military action by the Allies and the Ukrainians against Bolshevism, for which reason they want formal recognition of the Ukrainian republic.

NOT READY FOR FIVE DAYS.

Five days have been definitely fixed as the limit within which the Germans must decide upon their course. The reply to the counter proposals agrees to the plebiscite in Upper Silesia subject to certain clearly defined conditions. The Turkish delegation reached Paris to-day.

DEFINING BOUNDARIES.
PARIS, June 11. The Four Council has decided that the boundaries between Hungary and Rumania and between Hungary and Czechoslovakia must be positively determined in order that General Bleakum may be told specifically to what points his troops must be withdrawn, if he desires to avoid a clash with the powers and win a hearing from the Peace Conference.

The Speaker read in the House of Commons this afternoon a letter from the Governor General stating that His Excellency has received the address of the House in regard to the conferring of honors. The address had been transmitted to the Secretary for the Colonies in order "that it may be humbly laid at the foot of the Throne."

ANTI-JAPANESE AGITATION.
TOKIO, June 11. Advice received here from China show that there has been serious agitation especially in Shanghai, Hankow, Nanking, and Canton with indications that it may develop into a general anti-foreign movement. Several warships of the Japanese-China squadron have been hurried to Shanghai. Shipping at Chinese ports has virtually ceased, owing to a boycott resulting in great monetary losses to steamship companies and exporters.

THE WORK OF THE ALLIES.
LONDON, June 12. (Reuter's).—A British naval officer just returned from the Black Sea and who has been in close touch with Gen. Denikine's administration, in an interview with Reuter's representative describes huge quantities of munitions, tanks, guns and aeroplanes valued at $85,000,000, accumulated at Ekaterinodar. He says there are hundreds of British officers there, mostly specialists. He states that General Denikine's troops are showing the greatest aptitude in aviation and in the working of tanks. Several ships with munitions arrive weekly. The greatest importance is attached locally to the efforts being made to effect a junction between General Denikine and Admiral Kolchak which it is generally believed will be accomplished. The officer in the course of the interview commented upon the good relations between the Turks and the Allies at Constantinople, where the committee of union and progress is now much in evidence. Restaurants in Constantinople exhibit signs bearing the inscription "welcome to our allies."

EDUCATING THE SAILOR AND SOLDIER.
LONDON, June 12. (Reuter's).—A conference of military, naval and educational experts to devise a scheme to giving serving soldiers and sailors an education to fit them for civilian life opened in London to-day, Gen. Sir Henry Rawlinson presiding. The Minister of Education said he hoped the scheme in war time which was a great piece of organization and a movement of incredible promise and fertility would not be allowed to die. He trusted that the men of the Empire would make it one of their objects to maintain interest in the educational unity of the Empire. He was anxious to see a system of equality of education established throughout the Empire so that the Englishmen emigrating to the Dominions or a man from one Dominion settling in another part of the Empire could feel that wherever he settled his children would derive the benefits which education would afford. They had in this movement the germ of an all-Empire educational system and they should see that the movement did not waste itself in the sands.

The S.S. Ethie, Capt. English, arrived at Humbermouth yesterday morning from the Straits ports. The steamer only reached as far north as Ferrolle, owing to ice conditions. Capt. English wired the following fishery report to the Reid Co.:—"A splendid sign of fish everywhere, but great difficulty in managing the trawne owing to the prevalence of ice."

Methodist Conference.
ST. JOHN'S DISTRICT MEETING. The annual meeting of St. John's District will be held at Brigus on June 18th. The Ministerial Session where Ministers, Probationers and Candidates for the Ministry are expected to be present, will open at 9.30 a.m., and the general session, when laymen are to be present, will commence at 2.30 p.m.

On Wednesday evening there will be a public meeting in the interest of young people, when addresses will be delivered by Rev. E. W. Forbes, M.A., B.D., and Rev. S. Bennett.

A Unique Work.
A unique volume is about to be issued by Mr. P. J. Kinsela of the city who has had much practice as a local writer.

The work to be published will be an Antiquarian Research into the strange and unaccountable stories that abound most of the fables in Newfoundland, and will include tales of Tradition, Superstition, Ghost stories, buried treasure, Pirate yarns and Folk lore. Ideas and articles have been collected from all over Newfoundland and certainly make a collection of "Queer" tales, and the book should be an interesting one.

Thousands of Seals.
James Moss, Master of the schr. Lady Williams, reports having passed thousands of old and young seals on ice and in the water when off Cape Bonavista, working south. The seals were all coming north. 50 to 100 schooners, some bound north, some south, were met off Cape Bonavista and neighborhood, and almost every schooner had a punt out with men trying to secure seals, but very few were captured. The young seals were just as difficult to get at as the old. The sight was unusual and picturesque.

Last night the Battalion with Bugle Band paraded at 8 o'clock and proceeded for a route march under Sergeant Majors Reid and Mottly, while the officers held a Mess meeting. Recruits were busy under Lieut. Phil Rendell, assisted by Lieut. Joe Lewis, who reported last night for duty after being on special leave for the past two months. The Ambulance squad also had drill under Lieut. Reeves, R.A.M.C., and Sergeant Dewling, M.M. There will be a Church Parade on Sunday morning next, the Battalion attending service at the Cathedral at 11 a.m. The Old Comrades will all be in line and head the Battalion, as well as Bursell's Bugle Band with the Regimental Colour. After the parade a full photograph will be taken of the whole Battalion in the Cathedral grounds, including the Chaplains in their church robes. Every lad must turn up in full kit and there is no leave granted. At the officers meeting last night it was decided to hold the Annual Camp meeting beginning Wednesday, 30th July, and returning to the city on Friday 8th August. The old company grounds at Topsall will be used. It is also being arranged to try and accommodate the members of the Old Comrades with a special tent, and the officers are hoping to have the help of the Old Comrades to take over and manage the "Canteen" at Topsall, as a help towards camp expenses.

Shipwrecked Crew Arrives.
Capt. Stewart and three of the crew of the schr. Annie M. Nadeau, which was lost a few weeks ago in mid-ocean, arrived by the Graciana yesterday from Liverpool. The others will come on later. After the vessel had been abandoned, the crew were picked up by a steamer and brought into an English port.

CONVALESCENCE!

Its high food value, ease of assimilation and attractive flavour make "Ovaltine" invaluable during convalescence. It is largely used in hospitals for that condition, and in cases of Sleeplessness, Nervous Breakdown and Shell-shock, throughout the war "Ovaltine" has been included in the official standard parcel sent to invalid prisoners.

"Ovaltine" is a highly concentrated extract of the vitalizing and building up properties of Malt, Milk and Eggs, flavoured with Cocoa, and provides the most nourishing and sustaining food-drink possible.

During the whole process of manufacture "Ovaltine" is untouched by hand.

OVALTINE

BUILDS UP BRAIN, NERVE and BODY.

"Ovaltine" also makes a delightful beverage, which is taken with or between meals instead of tea, coffee or cocoa, having the added advantage that little or no sugar is required.

Don't judge Floor Covering by its price alone. Floor Covering at $1.50 per yard isn't always cheaper than Floor Covering at $2.50 per yard.

FOR INSTANCE

If the $1.50 covering wears out in 1 year and the $2.50 covering gives 3 years' wear, you can see that the $1.50 covering actually costs $4.50 per yard over a 3 year period, and is really costing you on this basis MORE than twice the cost of the Floor Covering which gives 3 years' wear and which cost you only $2.50 per yard.

CONGOLEUM, the guaranteed Floor Covering, costs less in the long run.

Decide for yourself,—do you want a cheap imitation which you will need to renew next year, or do you want Genuine Guaranteed Congoleum which costs a little more, looks better and lasts longer.

"If I Could Only Get Rid of These Headaches"

"GOODNESS knows, I have tried enough treatments for it. I think I have used nearly all the tablets and wafers and powders there are at the drug store.

"And what is the result? I am getting more run-down all the time, and the headaches are worse than ever.

"Of course, they help at the time, save me a little suffering, but I have the headaches now oftener than ever before, and my nervous system has all gone to pieces.

"The doctor says my blood is thin, and that I do not get the nourishment from my food that is required to feed the nerve cells and keep up the vitality of the system.

"I have been reading about Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and this letter from Mrs. F. G. Simmons, 42 Curtis street, Brantford, Ont., seems to about describe my case.

"I am tired of taking medicines for temporary relief, and am going to see if Dr. Chase's Nerve Food will not build me up and make a complete cure."

This is Mrs. Simmons' letter:

Mrs. F. G. Simmons, 42 Curtis street, Brantford, Ont., writes:

"For about eight years I suffered from anaemia. My circulation was poor, my gums and lips were pale, and my hands and feet were always cold. I was nervous and unable to sleep well. I had frequent headaches, seemed restless and easily worried or irritated. There was a buzzing sound in my ears. Indigestion was also one of my complaints, and I often was attacked by weak spells. As nothing seemed to improve my condition, I went to a doctor, who told me I was anaemic, and that the climate of this country did not agree with me. But as I did not get any better I decided to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which I had heard a great deal about. After the first box I felt brighter and my headaches completely disappeared. I continued using the Nerve Food for quite a while, and now I feel better than I have since I came from Scotland eight years ago. I am quite well now, and cheerfully and gratefully recommend Dr. Chase's Nerve Food to people suffering as I did before I used this splendid medicine."

Dr. Chase's Medicines are sold by all Druggists and Dealers in Newfoundland.

Our Baseball Column.

PLAGIARISED AND OTHERWISE.

A meeting of the Baseball League has been called for Saturday night to make arrangements for the opening game on Wednesday afternoon. We understand elaborate preparations are being made to make it a gala day.

Mgr. French of the B. I. S. has discovered a young wonder in the person of Sergt. Kelly. Those who have seen him in action say he's a regular bird.

The Wanderers have booked up Billy Brown to go on the mound for them. During his three years at Toronto Billy studied baseball as well as other things.

The Hiltz crew are lying low but rumour hath it they intend to spring a surprise lineup on the Cubs next Wednesday. Last year's champs are not worrying however, and President Orr and his Cubs are more confident than a batch of trans-Atlantic fishes lamping a passenger hanging over the rail on the first day out.

Despite his previous assertions Doc Power has fallen for the warm weather and will don the green and gold again this year. The doctor takes an unholy delight in endeavouring to dent the ivory of base-runners who attempt to steal the old third sack from him.

With such able linguists as Hiltz, Orr, Hartnett, and French managing the teams, the umpires in our outfit have a delightful summer to which to look forward.

As eager statisticians grope amid the records and the dope, each one will loudly brag and show you reasons by the team that prove conclusively his team is sure to win the flag.

It's no longer good form to permit the ball to become sunburned in your hands before throwing it to retire a runner.

Some would be good ball players, only that they are in a trance from the Adam's apple up.

We know a pitcher who announces that he is going to trim Claude Hall this summer. The only way to trim Hall is to match him with Jim Dempsey for ten rounds.

Do you remember when Wallace, playing first base for the Wanderers, saw a fly ball about to go over the fence, ran to the clubhouse, got a ladder, judged accurately where the ball would pass, set the ladder in the proper place, climbed the ladder, caught the ball as he reached the top, and started a triple play? NO!

Or, when the ground rules in the intertown series at Grand Falls were agreed upon so as to give the hitter "as far as he could get" on a blocked ball: St. Jenkins hit a drive that struck the "express" passing outside the park, went into the second class car, fell in the lap of a fat woman and was carried to Fort aux Basques; St. under the ground rule, kept on running, made seven home runs, and was only stopped when darkness settled down.

Or when Jack Angel, sitting on the bench at Stancombe's, saw a foul fly coming right down above him: he notified umpire Dench to announce: "Angel now catching in place of Duff," put on the mask, glove and pad, took three warm-up balls from the picture, and then caught the foul fly.

Or, When Doc Power, batting in the tenth inning of a desperate game, score 0 to 0, noticed a perfectly circular knothole in the left field fence, and knowing, with his wonderful accuracy of judgment that it would just admit the ball, drove a home run run through it, winning the game.

If you can't, it just shows how prone we are to forget great deeds. Spike wounds may be entirely prevented by not going near anybody's spike's.

If I liked walking mile on mile, this Golf would be about my style; if I disliked my eyes and nose, I'd box and take a lot of blows; if in the surf I'd like to soak, I'd learn the crawl and trudgeon stroke; if I were old and liked to dose, I might try chess or dominoes. But I can't see these sports at all - I'm watching for Fred to say "Play ball!" and I'll be there, Bo, if I crawl.

At the Majestic.

The week-end programme at the Majestic contains a great detective drama, produced in seven wonderful acts by the Selynick players entitled "The Argyle Case," with Robert Warwick in the leading role. This is one of the greatest detective stories ever attempted by a moving picture concern, and is classed as Robert Warwick's masterpiece. Its wonderful lead is Mr. John O'Reilly will be heard in his farewell song to-night, as he is directed by his medical adviser to take a complete rest, so come and hear him as it is your last chance. New and appropriate airs all the time by the full orchestra.

Fire Extinguished.

Minister of Mines and Agriculture Walsh received a message last evening that the forest fire which raged for two days along the Exploits River and threatened Badger, had been extinguished by rain during Wednesday night and yesterday afternoon.

Nurse Dickinson Memorial.

In those sections visited by the members of the Ways and Means Committee yesterday, the response was most liberal, and in the sections which will be called at on Monday, it is anticipated there will be a more generous giving. The erection of a memorial to Nurse Dickinson, whose work is recognized by all, is an object that should meet with the support it merits.

ARE YOU A GOOD

Are you a good purchasing agent for yourself? A man I know claims that titles and with justice I think.

This is what he bases the claim upon. When he is planning to buy anything of a major nature—a canoe, a watch, a trunk, an electric stove, he begins some-

He studied The Catalogues. Take the matter of a watch. Having made up his mind to buy a wrist watch he read the ads. of various firms, noted what features they offered—unbreakable crystals, luminous dials, adjustable straps, various jeweled movements, non-inflammatory crystals, etc.—and at what prices. He sent for several catalogues studied what they had to say and then made up his mind just about what features he wanted and how much he wanted to invest.

Then he went to the shop and looked at the various watches and told the clerk just what he wanted. "Suppose," he said, "I had not looked into the subject at all. I would have probably gone into a shop and bought whatever the clerk chose to sell me (perhaps the one he got the biggest commission on.) Then later I'd have seen some feature that my watch didn't have and wished I could get that one instead. And it would be too late, of course."

He Wished He Had Known About It. "Why, just yesterday," he went on, "I came into my office and saw my watch. That's a crackerjack!" he said and wanted to know where I got it and what I paid for it. I told him and he said, 'Gee, I paid within two dollars of that for mine and it is in it with yours. I wish I'd known about that one!'

ARE YOU A GOOD PURCHASING AGENT?

Are you a good purchasing agent for yourself? A man I know claims that title, and with justice, I think. This is what he bases the claim upon. When he is planning to buy anything of a major nature, — a canoe, a watch, a trunk, an electric stove, he begins some in advance to send for printed matter from the various firms which advertise the sort of article he is going to buy.

He Studied The Catalogues. Take the matter of a watch. Having made up his mind to buy a wrist watch he read the ads. of various firms, noted what features they offered, — unbreakable crystals, luminous dials, adjustable straps, various jeweled movements, non inflammable crystals, etc. — and at what prices. He sent for several catalogues studied what they had to say and then made up his mind just about what features he wanted and how much he wanted to invest. Then he went to a shop and looked at the various watches and told the clerk just what he wanted.

"Suppose," he said, "I had not looked into the subject at all. I would have probably gone into a shop and bought whatever the clerk chose to sell me (perhaps the one he got the biggest commission on.) Then later I'd have seen some feature that my watch didn't have and wished I could get that one instead. And it would be too late, of course."

He Wished He Had Known About It. "Why, just yesterday," he went on, "I came into my office and saw my watch. 'That's a crackerjack,' he said and wanted to know where I got it and what I paid for it. I told him and he said, 'Gee, I paid within two dollars of that for mine and it isn't in it with yours. I wish I'd known about that one!'"

Take the matter of a canoe. He wanted a small canoe but was hesitating to get it on account of the reputation for being more tricky which the shorter canoe has. But in the advertising which he sent for he found a certain small canoe made for the man who wants a light but stable canoe with certain definite stabilizing features.

Advertising Is An Education In Special Features.

We are apt to think of advertising as nothing but a competitive struggle on the part of the manufacturer to persuade us that his wares are the best. But advertising is more than that. It is also an education in values and special features. Different firms specialize in different lines. Advertising calls our attention to this specialization and helps us to get as nearly as possible what we want with our money.

The job of purchasing agent in a manufacturing plant is a very important one and is supposed to require considerable brains. So does being a successful purchasing agent for yourself. What sort of one are you?

Boil clothespins once a month and dry thoroughly. They will last longer. To mend broken glass use alum melted. The crack is not perceptible. A bit of sugar and vinegar added to stove polish makes brighter polish. Paraffined containers are handy things to carry salad in on a picnic.

Sultan Has Screen of Human Skin.

There are many priceless relics in the menage of the Sultan of Turkey, most of which symbolize brutality and vice. But the romance of the famous screen in the throne room of the Sultan's palace is worth repeating. It is made of human skin, perfectly tanned and elaborately tooled and embossed, and it has been in the Royal quarters for more than two centuries. This remarkable screen is not an evidence of cruelty or barbarity on the part of Turkey's ruler two hundred years ago, but is a memorial to twelve faithful servants of a former Sultan. At one time during the Sultan's reign, two hundred years ago, a wing of the palace caught fire, and during the conflagration a much-beloved member of the Sultan's family was rescued by twelve servants. The twelve servants perished, some of them dying later of their wounds and burns, so His Majesty had their skins removed by an expert and had them preserved in this touching, though remarkable, manner. The screen is now looked upon as a part of the ruler's inheritance, and it is said that every Sultan cherishes it as a mascot.

Just Folks

When the kids are busy swinging On the gate and gayly singing. When the mother's humming ditties As she works about the place, When I know by all the clatter That there's nothing much the matter I can whistle at my labor And can keep a smiling face.

Oh I'm on my toes and happy When the little brood is happy, And I leave them waving kisses Through the window as I go; When the mother isn't sighing, And no little one is crying It's a bright world and a good world And a merry world I know.

Oh, I'm just a glass, reflecting What my little brood's projecting Just a walking, living mirror Of the home I've left behind, If they're full of mirth and chatter And there's nothing much the matter Then I'm full of pep and ginger For the tasks I chance to find.

But if care I've left behind me Then my tasks must ever find me Lacking strength for fine endeavor And a dreamer sore distressed, For the strength for every battle Comes from little children's prattle And it's only when they're happy That their daddy's at his best.

Young Girls Slain by Bolshevists.

Many persons accused of being counter-revolutionists are being executed in Budapest by the Hungarian Communists. The victims usually are shot in front of the Hungarian Parliament House in the daytime or in the public schoolyard in the Marktostrasse at night. Among those who are said to have been executed are Herr Holan, Manager of the Kaschau-Oderberg Railway; Bishop Balthasar, a hostage from Debreczen, and Colonel Dormany, of the General Staff, who was taken from hospital. Several girls, who were accused of making tricolor rosettes for the counter-revolutionists, also were executed. The presiding Judge of the revolutionary tribunal which orders the executions, it is said, is a former locksmith, twenty-two years of age. Many bodies of men and women and girls of the better class have been found on the shores of islands in the Danube below the city. It is reported that they were arrested in the residential quarter of Duda and were thrown into the Danube by guards who were taking them to prison in Pest. French colonial troops, the reports add, are expected to move on the city from the south. White guards and counter-revolutionists are preparing to cross the River Theiss, where they have taken positions evacuated by the Roumanians, who were withdrawn to the Bessarabian front.

Household Notes.

Put salt or soda on insect stings. Vinegar will remove stains from zinc. Mousses are made of heavy cream. Fine sandpaper is a neat eraser for ink. Oxide of zinc will clean white leather.

Piano keys can be cleaned with alcohol. Crochet cotton is best for darning stockings. Glass baking dishes are a constant joy. Gelatine desserts are ideal for hot weather.

Old felt hats can be cut up for insoles of shoes. Canvas gloves are excellent to use when dusting. Try serving orange fritters to accompany fried ham.

Envelope drawers can be made out of old nightgowns. Sprinkle cinnamon on the stove after cooking cabbage. Add lemon or orange rind to rhubarb when cooking.

Whipping a jelly increases its bulk two or three times. Very young chicken and turkeys thrive well on sour milk. Dry flour, applied with a newspaper, will clean tinware.

Egg stains may be removed from silver by rubbing with salt. Use a fine grater to remove the surface of anything burned. A few bread crumbs added to scrambled eggs improve them. Wet the cut end of ham with vinegar to keep from moulding. One iron kettle for deep fat climbing is a necessity in every kitchen. Oil or pure glycerine rubbed on very fresh eggs will keep them so.

A Stirring Appeal.

We most heartily and sincerely endorse the stirring appeal, made in our columns yesterday, by "One Who Knows Our Soldiers," that more attention be given the men at present occupants of the various hospitals, who fought and bled and suffered for our salvation from the horrors of German autocracy. And the request made is not by any means incapable of being granted. It is within the power of every one of the four hundred and odd owners of motor cars and other vehicles propelled by petrol, in this city to help in the just and noble cause for which their co-operation and assistance have been asked. The war is over. Yes—and luckily for us that it ended as it did with victory crowning the right. Had it been otherwise, and the legions of Kaiserism triumphant, where would have been our inherited freedom and the pleasures of liberty? Where indeed. And but for the brave lads, who are with us to-day, and millions of others of their type, who so nobly and heroically responded to the call, the iron heel of Germany's military boot would have been brought down with crushing force upon our foreheads. And for preventing this, do we not owe some gratitude to the heroic invalids now slowly recuperating their broken health, and waiting the healing of hideous wounds and for strength to be restored to maimed and mangled limbs, ere they come out of hospital to take up their place in life.

On a banner stretching across Water Street on the day of the landing of the last battalion from the Corsican, was painted these words: "Our Women and Children Thank You." Fit motto truly for the welcome of men who had performed such deeds of valour on foreign battle fields, and fit sentiment to greet them on their return. Our women and children are thanking these men to-day, as they thanked them during the dark days, and as they will continue to thank them so long as memories of their gallant deeds stir the blood. And mothers will tell the stories of their heroism to their children and so the tale of the Royal Newfoundland Regiment will be carried down to posterity, and the lustre of its name and fame will not lose aught in the telling.

But—there is something more than thanks due: something more tangible than the expression of a mere sentiment. There are in our midst the wounded, the maimed, the halt, the broken, the blind. All these freely gave their young strength and their early manhood that we might live and be immune from Hun peril. They have come back to us out of the hell of battle, tortured in body and mind. They are not recipients of our charity—they are a first lien on all our resources. They are our everlasting creditors. We owe them more than we can ever hope to repay, and in small liquidation of our debt to them we are being asked to do but a very small thing; small in itself yet big with possibilities. Every person who is fortunate in the possession of a motor car has it within his or her power to give the men in hospital some of the enjoyment and pleasure which they long for. Take them out into the open country. Give them all the joys of a day or days spent in breathing the health-giving air of the woods and fields. Help them build up their broken constitutions, and inherit health and happiness once more. They have done all for us. Let us then do all that we can for them. In their wounds and maiming were our liberties conserved, and our account with them will best be settled by assisting them to regain that which is so necessary to their future—The Blessing of Health.

A 'Milking' Process.

The Star is desperately anxious to make it appear to the public that the Reids are running the present Government. Under the head of "Rule of the Reids," the Star said yesterday: "The Reids illegally increased 'their freight rates and passenger rates to an enormous extent, and 'a Minute of Council is passed, 'making their increase legal under 'the War Measures Act.'"

It is clear that the intention is to make the public believe that the Minute of Council referred to has recently been passed by the Cashin Government. That is a falsehood. The increase took place during the time that Coaker (the ally whom the Star is ashamed to admit), was the reigning influence in the Lloyd-Coaker Government; and, a Minute referring to the matter, if there were any such, was passed before the present Government came into power, and no retrospective Minute is likely to be passed.

As to the complaint of the Star that the President of the Reid Newfoundland Company spends about one month out of twelve in Newfoundland, we might remark that this is more than the late President of the Company spent here; though, during his short time in the Colony, he was "milked" to get the Star on its feet, and some of the Star's friends have recently been in very close association with the ex-President.

The Electors of Keels

The Advocate, yesterday, contained a characteristic telegram from Keels, B.E. It was evidently written at Port Union, and the names appended to it may have been signed or may not by the people to whom they belong. They are made to say, "We have our eyes wide open." That is a rather curious phrase to put in the mouths of people who have heard only one side of the story, and that from very unreliable sources. Some of the phrases in the telegram are Coakeresque. Mr. Morine is said to "have insulted the man that saved his political scalp from contumely and contempt." As Mr. Morine has no scalp, apparently it is Coaker's scalp which is talked about. Mr. Morine is also said to have "tried to pry into the affairs of the Union Trading Company," in the House of Assembly. This is Coaker's way, of course, of saying that it was time that the way in which Coaker had received and spent the money of the fishermen was enquired into, for the purpose of protecting the fishermen. Do the fishermen really object to an enquiry for their benefit, or does the objection come from Coaker? Why should he object? Why should he not rather court enquiry? It is rather sad, after all, to see the names of a large number of respectable and intelligent people appended to a number of statements about which they really know nothing, except upon the report of interested parties, who are striving in every way possible to misrepresent all that has been said and done. The day is coming, indeed it may not be far off, when the intelligent electors will be very glad to be placed in possession of all the facts by all the men who are capable of throwing any light on the situation.

Methodist Educational Campaign.

Perhaps the most enthusiastic meeting in the Methodist Educational Campaign was held last evening, when the workers brought in a total of $24,228.40, bringing the grand total up to $177,440. Work goes on unabated. The organization is determined that the amount secured will be far in excess of the $200,000 quota for St. John's.

The Campaign will close Monday evening, and between now and that time it is expected that every Methodist in St. John's who has not thus far had a part in this worthy enterprise, will make their contribution. The workers in the Campaign feel that the responsibility of educating Methodist children in St. John's rests no more upon one Methodist than upon another, it is the consensus of opinion that gifts differ in degree but not in kind, that every Methodist ought to subscribe such an amount as they are able.

NO HANDLEY-PAGE FLIGHT YESTERDAY.
Special to Evening Telegram.
HARBOR GRACE, To-day.
The weather yesterday was too hazy for a flight of the Handley-Page plane, and thick fog settling down in the afternoon rather spoiled the plans of aviators. Mechanics this morning are filling tanks with one thousand gallons of petrol, so as to have full fuel supply on board. There is no truth in the statement that the machine will fly over Sydney, Cape Breton, in the present or any other trial, but it will make a fire-hour flight over St. John's for the purpose of giving the official cinematographer an opportunity to film the city from the air. A young lady from Bell Island made application for a position on the flying staff, offering her services to do washing and scrubbing during the trans-Atlantic flight, and asking for the rate of pay per month for the position. Needless to say the offer was declined with thanks and regrets that the machine did not provide facilities for the accommodation of extra help. It is quite possible that another flight test will be made this afternoon. REPORTER.

Fishery Prospects.

A report to the Board of Trade, received yesterday, gives the catch of codfish between Gaultois and Pass Island as 10,000 qts., with 200 for last week. From 25 to 30 traps and 200 dories and skiffs are fishing. Prospects are good, and the fishermen are of opinion this will be a good year for twigs. At present there is a sign of caplin.

Bankers Did Well.

The South West Coast bankers have done remarkably well the present season, on their spring trips. The average catch is about 1,000 quintals, though some have from 1,200 to 1,600 quintals. Most of the schooners are now at their home ports refitting, and will not sail again until they get a caplin baiting. Caplin have already struck in about Lawn and St. Lawrence, but not in large quantities.

VICKERS-VIMY.
Yesterday afternoon the Vickers-Vimy plane went up for another trial test, principally of the wireless apparatus, which had been reset, not having worked well during the previous flight. The machine remained aloft for some three quarters of an hour confining flying to circling the city. Both the take-off and landing were perfect and the aviators were highly pleased with the short flight. A speed of 112 miles per hour with the wind, was attained yesterday. The Graciana brought a new stock of petrol, which will be tanked to-day, the total quantity being 1,000 gallons, sufficient to ensure enough for the trip as well as for other trial flights, should they be deemed necessary. Among the visitors to the drome on Wednesday, was His Grace Archbishop Roche, who was shown around by Capt. Alcock and the various parts of the machine and their workings explained. His Grace was very much interested.

RAYMOR.
The damaged Raymor machine has been completely rebuilt at the Blue Puttee garage, and a new engine was received by the Graciana yesterday, which will be immediately installed. When this work is finished the Raymor will be taken to its old berth at Pleasantville to undergo the necessary trials. Pilot Raynham, who suffered a number of injuries when his plane nose-dived on May 18th, is now O. K. again and is making active preparations for another start. A navigator to replace Major Morgan whose injuries obliged him to return to England, will shortly arrive. Everyone will wish Raynham better luck in his coming attempt.

The Affidavit.

Following is the affidavit of Hon. A. B. Morine, K.C., Minister of Justice, sworn to yesterday in the notice of the action for criminal libel against the Daily Star Newspaper:—

John's to wit:
I, Alfred B. Morine, of St. John's Newfoundland, one of His Majesty's Counsellors, do hereby swear as follows:

1. That I am and was at the time of the commission of the acts hereinafter complained of His Majesty's Attorney General and a member of His Majesty's Executive Council for Newfoundland.

2. That the St. John's Daily Star Publishing Company, Limited, a corporation incorporated under the laws of Newfoundland is and was at the time of the commission of the acts hereinafter complained of, the proprietor, printer and publisher of a daily paper known as the St. John's Daily Star and printed and published in St. John's aforesaid.

3. That on the 9th day of June, A.D. 1919, the said St. John's

Daily Star Publishing Company, Limited, and the said Harris M. Mosdell falsely and maliciously printed and published or caused to be printed and published in the said St. John's Daily Star newspaper of that date of and concerning this deponent as Attorney-General and member of His Majesty's Executive Council the words following, that is to say:

"Mr. Morine announced that he would use his position as Attorney General, his official capacity as an Executive Councillor, his power as head of the entire police and detective department of the Colony, to destroy the fishermen's organization (meaning thereby the Fishermen's Protective Union) to ruin them (meaning thereby the said union and its members) financially, to bankrupt the Trading Company (meaning thereby the Union Trading Company) the Electric Light Co., and the other companies into which the fishermen had put their money."

5. That on the 10th day of June, A.D. 1919 the said St. John's Daily Star Publishing Company, Limited and the said Harris M. Mosdell falsely and maliciously printed and published or caused to be printed and published in the columns of the said St.

John's Daily Star of that date of and concerning this deponent as such Attorney General and member of His Majesty's Executive Council as aforesaid the words following that is to say:

"If there was ever an inflammatory speech calculated to arouse the entire Northern sections of this country to demand the resignation from office of a man holding important public position, that speech was the speech of brilliant incendiary of Mr. Alfred B. Morine, when he attacked the Union which existed amongst the northern fishermen and told the fishermen that he intended to use his official position in the Government, his position as head of the Department of Justice, the Constabulary and the Police, to put the Fishermen's Protective Union out of business and bankrupt the men who had their funds invested in it." I never told the fishermen nor uttered the words "intended to use my official position in the Government, my position as head of the Department of Justice, the Constabulary and the Police, to put the Fishermen's Protective Union out of business and bankrupt the men who had their funds invested in it."

6. The said words and statements are false. I never announced or stated that I would use my position as Attorney General to destroy the Fishermen's organization, or to ruin them financially, or to bankrupt the Trading Co., the Electric Light Co., and the other companies into which the fishermen had put their money.

I never announced or stated that I would use my official office as a Executive Councillor to destroy the fishermen's organization, to ruin them financially or to bankrupt the Trading Co., the Electric Light Co., and the other companies into which the fishermen had put their money. I never announced or stated that I would use my power as head of the entire Police and Detective Department of the Colony to destroy the Fishermen's organization, or to ruin them financially, or to bankrupt the Trading Co., or the Electric Light Co., and the other companies into which the fishermen had put their money. I never announced or stated that in any capacity or under any circumstances I would attempt or endeavor to destroy the fishermen's organization or to ruin them financially, or to bankrupt the Trading Co., or the Electric Light Co., and the other companies into which the fishermen had put their money. I have not now nor have I ever had any wish or desire or intention to destroy the fishermen's organization, or to ruin them financially, or to bankrupt the Trading Co., the Electric Light Co., and the other companies into which the fishermen had put their money. I never attacked the Union which existed amongst the northern fishermen. I never told the fishermen nor uttered the words "intended to use my official position in the Government, my position as head of the Department of Justice, the Constabulary and the Police, to put the Fishermen's Protective Union out of business and bankrupt the men who had their funds invested in it."

7. I am and have been at all times ready and willing and anxious to help and assist in any way in my power and in my public and private capacity the fishermen's organization known as "The Fishermen's Protective Union," "The Union Trading Co.," and any other companies into which the fishermen, both members of the Fishermen's Protective Union and otherwise, had put their money.

8. That annexed hereto and marked "A" is a copy of the said St. John's Daily Star newspaper of said 9th June, A.D. 1919 issued and circulated and sold within the City of St. John's and throughout the Island of Newfoundland by the said St. John's Daily Star Publishing Company, Limited, and the said Harris M. Mosdell.

9. That annexed hereto and marked "B" is a copy of the said St. John's Daily Star newspaper of the said 10th day of June, A.D. 1919, issued and circulated and sold throughout the Island of Newfoundland by the said St. John's Daily Star Publishing Company, Limited, and the said Harris M. Mosdell.

10. That the said Fishermen's Protective Union and the said Union Trading Co. and other companies in which the fishermen have invested their moneys, comprise amongst their members and investors a large number of fishermen and other persons resident in this country particularly in the electoral districts of Bonavista, Trinity and Twillingate.

11. That the said untrue statements will cause great unrest, mischief, and uneasiness amongst the said fishermen and other persons and are calculated to lead to grave disorder and to a breach or breaches of the peace.

POETS.

I do not like J. Milton, a n d Shakes p e a r e makes me sad; a n d Byron's frenzied hitting strikes me as pretty bad. Most all the grand old masters w h o tread the heights of song bore me I l i k e mustard plasters; with me t h e y get in wrong. They talk of kingly ermine, of gods and fairy queens; and I prefer a sermon on hay or pork and beans. The common things around me engage my dome of thought; the chiggers that confound me, the flies I have to swat. The housewife calm and stately who makes a happy home appeals to me more greatly than Venus in the foam. About that guy, Apollo, a hundred birds have splashed, but I would rather follow the farmer to his field. I'd rather watch the missus on kitchen labor bent, than read about Ulysses or any fabled gent. I do not care a hoot for the knights of olden days; and I would never root for King Arthur's armored jays. The knights who now are earning the bucks for skillful toil, who keep the forges burning, and make the kettle boll—to knights like these I'm partial, I sing their lives with glee; but steel clad knights and martial can make no hit with me. I would not scale, if able, the shining peaks of song; I haunt the byre and stable, and there I show up strong.

Bomb Explosions

In Various U. S. Cities in Homes of Public Officials—Attempt to Blow up a Catholic Church in Philadelphia.
WASHINGTON, June 8.—Widespread bomb explosions last night are believed by officials here to be another movement in the anarchist movement for the overthrow of organized government in the United States.
Evidence that the plot was carefully planned was contained in a pamphlet found at the home of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer, whose home in the fashionable section here was partly wrecked by a bomb, giving warning that "a time has come when the social question's solution can be delayed no longer; class war is on and cannot cease but with a complete victory for the international proletariat."
The pamphlet, one of the large number scattered about after the bomb which had been intended to destroy Mr. Palmer, prematurely exploded and blew to bits the author of the crime, was signed "The Anarchistic fighters," and undoubtedly was intended as a signal to show the reign of terrorism was on.

Or eat from a German plate;
I will not deal with a German man
All foul with German Hate."
ENGLAND'S FIGHTING MEN — Veterans of Mons, of the Somme, of Lemburg, are back in civilian clothes again—in British Workshops, Factories, in Lancaster Mills, with a great purpose—to Build Up Britain's Commerce.

"We are going into this thing wholeheartedly, sir! We've got our brains active from years of military training. We've finished with the War, but Germany is still an enemy. We must beat her in trade as we have done on the fighting field—AND WELL DO IT! We are going to make British trade-marks famous— FAMOUS FOR QUALITY."

That's what Ward Brothers, who make our Caps, say; that's what the Jaeger Woollen Company, part of whose output commandeered for the Army kept our fighting men warm and healthy, tell us; that's what Christy's are striving for.

And there are our friends the Sammies—back from the hell at Chateau-Thierry—and they say the same. Thus we have two great Nations striving to beat a pre-war standard—to oust Germany from the ports of the world—and from these markets have come our stock.

When you buy these trade-marks you help the cause: Ward Caps, Christy Hats, Jaeger Woollen Goods, Eagle Shirts, Cheever Neckwear, Cluett-Peabody Collars—all these are in it!

You have done your part in the War—NOW, CARRY ON!

which occurred two doors from the residence of United States District Judge Thompson damaged the residence of the jurist and other houses in the vicinity.
At Patterson, N. J., an explosion which the police believe to have been caused by a bomb wrecked the house of Max Gold, silk manufacturer.
At Philadelphia attempts were made to blow up a Catholic Church and a private residence in different sections of West Philadelphia with bombs.
At Newtonville, Mass., the house of Representative Leland W. Powers, a son of ex-Congressman Samuel L. Powers, was partly wrecked by a bomb. As in the May Day attempts the majority of cases against public officials in various cities, men who have been active in suppression of organized lawlessness. No persons living in the houses were seriously injured.

THE ECONOMY CAR

Looks Good, Doesn't It?
And the Picture Doesn't Begin to Do It Justice—But Most of All, ECONOMICAL

It is graceful in design and beautiful in finish—smart and stylish in every detail. Nothing lacking for beauty, comfort, performance or endurance. Drive all day and you won't be cramped or tired. In fuel economy this car is almost without an equal—18 to 22 miles to the gallon of gasoline are the rule rather than the exception. The steering is the easiest; the control the simplest. Easy riding whether fully or partially loaded; remarkable in this respect. Abundant power for hard pulls—fine driving qualities at all speeds—and all the speed you want.
Reliable quality is a certainty in the Elcar. Its builders learned to put in quality years ago when building cars selling up to and above $3000. It is a quality car at a popular price—good and large enough to fulfill any motor car requirement. Don't think of choosing until you have seen the Elcar.

Wellington
THE UNIVERSAL PIPE

It's the "well" in the Wellington that makes it a universal favorite. Pipe smokers always appreciate the way the well keeps the moisture and stray tobacco from the mouth. A Wellington draws clean and dry and the top opening-bit sends the smoke up—away from the tongue. Be sure and look for the W D C triangle trademark. That's proof you are getting a genuine French Briar, guaranteed against cracking or burning through. All good dealers sell W D C-Wellingtons in all shapes and sizes at $1.00 and up.

Guild Sale.

The young people of the Sanctuary Guild of St. Mary's Parish conducted an highly successful sale and entertainment in the Parish Hall yesterday. Those in charge of the tables were kept busy, so that the goods were soon disposed of. For an entertainment at 8 o'clock, the hall was filled with an interested audience. The various items on the programme were received with much applause, and the performers are to be congratulated on their efforts.

A fine new piano, recently purchased by the young people of the Parish, was used for the first time. At the conclusion of the programme, the Rector expressed the thanks of the Guild to all who had in any way contributed toward the success of the affair. The National Anthem brought a very pleasant evening to a close. St. Mary's Sanctuary Guild has held several very successful sales and entertainments, but that of yesterday is said to have been voted "the best yet."

The Intelligent Way To End Corns

Not by paring. That's a risky makeshift, and results are brief. Not by harsh, haphazard methods made by non-scientific men.

Not by padding. Pads are unsightly, and they, simply, coddle corns.

Expert Methods

Blue-jay was invented by a scientific expert. It is made by a house famed for its surgical dressings.

It embodies the up-to-date method, the right method of corn treatment. Apply it and the pain stops instantly. Forget it for two days. Remove it, and the corn is gone for good. One corn in ten may need a second application, but that's all.

Millions of corns have been ended in this way. Aching corns are unknown to its users.

These are facts known to your own friends and neighbors. It is time that you knew them. Try Blue-jay tonight.

Municipal Council.

The Municipal Council held its regular weekly session last evening. The Mayor presided and Councillors Morris, Tait, Browarig, Ayre and Vinnicombe were present.

After reading the minutes, etc., the following matters were disposed of:

The Colonial Secretary intimated by letter that he had forwarded the Government's guarantee to the Royal Bank of Canada for a loan of $50,000 for the purpose of building workmen's houses.

The Minister of Militia wrote that after the next draft of soldiers had arrived he would take up the matter of the removal of the wooden addition to the Empire Barracks.

Conroy, Higgins and Hunt, on behalf of W. T. Penny, sent a communication protesting against the action of the Council in permitting, and then refusing, their client to build on the line of Barnes Road. This was referred to the Solicitor for report.

A report on the old steam roller was received from Boiler Inspector McLaughlin.

Mr. Justice Johnson sent a communication in connection with the Dickenson Memorial. He asked if the Council would receive a committee to discuss this matter. A committee of the Council, composed of the Mayor and Councillors Morris and Tait, was appointed to confer with the Memorial Committee.

Reid-Nfld. Co. wrote they would give attention to the bad spots on Water Street for which they were responsible.

The Council expressed their disappointment over the case against the Reid-Nfld. Co. having been postponed until the Fall. This case has been in hands about three years, and the delaying of it leaves all streets where the street railway rails are in a state of disrepair. The liability of the Reid Company must be settled before anything can be done.

W. G. Pope wrote complaining of the bad condition of Mundy Pond Rd. This was referred to the Road Inspector.

Nfld. Produce Co. made application to repair sidewalk in front of their steps. Granted.

E. A. Strang's application to repair roof on premises 327 Water Street could not be granted as material to be used was not fireproof.

W. J. Kent, Theatre Hill, drew the attention of the Council to an addition being erected rear of Theatre Hill, which would cause an annoyance. This was referred to the City Engineer for report.

James Harding's plan of shed, Coronation Street, passed, provided it is used for storage purposes only.

Plan of house for H. A. Blundon, Brazil's Street, was approved.

S. P. Cullen's plan of excavation, Allandale Road, passed.

S. Hallett asked permission to erect garage on Signal Hill. Request cannot be granted unless he keeps back at least fifty feet from proposed site.

The City Engineer reported on the water and sewerage work Topsall Rd., work at roads east and west, sewer work and the regular routine duties of the various departments in the city for the past week.

It was decided that the east end crusher be remodelled and run electrically. This will cost about $720.00.

The Health Officer's weekly report was read.

Michael Healey's plan of extension Plank Road could not be passed unless it be constructed of unflammable material.

Joseph Judge was appointed to the position of City Impounder.

After disposing of some other routine business and passing the pay rolls and bills, the meeting adjourned.

Personal Mention.

Mr. R. Dwyer of Holyrood, arrived in the city yesterday and is a guest at the Crosbie.

His Lordship Bishop White leaves by express today for Lennoxville, Montreal, where he has been invited to preach the Convocation Sermon.

"Albert Moulton" Lost.

CREW RESCUED.
Lloyds Agency advises that a report has been received from Cardiff, Wales, that the Norwegian steamer Loveland, from Palermo, Sicily, picked up six seamen, comprising the crew of the schooner Albert Moulton, registered in this port, which vessel foundered when about sixty miles off Oporto, Portugal.
The Albert Moulton, George Penney, master, left here some weeks ago with a cargo of codfish, clearing for Gibraltar at which port she was to receive orders. The message does not state whether or not the vessel had reached that port, so until further advice are received it must be presumed that she foundered before making her destination.

True Type of "Unspeakable Turk."

Enver Pasha, former Minister of War of the Ottoman Empire, one of the principal officials in the Sultan's Cabinet as well as of the Young Turk Commission of Union and Progress, has been discovered among the Tartars of Transcaucasia. Enver Pasha is still plotting against the Armenians, and is said to have organized raids resulting in massacres and other depredations against those scattered people. Enver Pasha is wanted by the Allied authorities, now in command in Constantinople, and by the Turkish Government as it now exists, on various charges, ranging from the wholesale murder. When he fled from Constantinople he carried with him a large part of the available cash funds of the Turkish Empire. It is not known officially just how much cash he succeeded in getting before his hurried departure following the collapse of the Turkish forces in the war, but it has been estimated that it approximated $25,000,000. This is one account he has to settle with the present Turkish Government, for the Sultan's Empire, constructed as it now is, and with the prospect of still great limitation, is in desperate need of funds. Enver Pasha is also credited with having directed the wholesale massacre of Arabians, Syrians and Greeks during the war, and it is for this that the Allied authorities are anxious to secure possession of his person.

Press Briefs.

Universal.—The most striking phenomenon of the time is the universality of the human grief.—Springfield Republican.

Worries of an Editor.—Next to the problem of trying to save his soul, the chief worry, perhaps, with which the average editor has to contend is the anonymous correspondent.—Lindsay Post.

Just Austria Left.—In the peace terms imposed by the Allied and Associated Powers it is noticeable that nothing is left to the Austrians but Austria. This ends a ramshackle empire of evil memory, whose last days as the vassal of Junkerism were its worst.—New York World.

Calgary Strike Not a Success.—Up to the present time the strike in Calgary cannot be regarded as very much of a success. The labor unions are much divided upon the issue, which is not surprising. A sympathetic strike is not popular among labor people and without unanimity it cannot get very far.—Calgary Albertan.

The Right Attitude.—Out of Winnipeg's badly muddled situation, one thing stands out clearly. It is that the returned soldiers are sympathetic with labor, sympathetic with democracy, strong for liberty but firmly and vigorously opposed to Bolshevism. They have taken precisely the attitude which every sound, thinking citizen would have them take.—Regina Post.

Britain to Appoint

Parliamentary committee to report on Subordinate Legislatures For England, Ireland and Scotland. London, June 4.—The House of Commons, after a two days' debate to-night adopted a resolution in favor of appointing a parliamentary committee to examine and report upon a Federal resolution applicable to England, Scotland and Ireland. The vote was 187 to 24.

The resolution declared that "with a view to enabling the Imperial Parliament to devote more attention to the interests of the Kingdom and the empire the time has arrived for the creation of subordinate legislatures."

Germany's Finish.

Prince Lichnowsky says the peace terms mean "finis Germanie." It will be good news to all pious and peaceable men. If any great nation since time began deserved to have "finis" written against it, that nation is the Germany of the Kaiser. Then again, Germany's finish as an autocratic Kaiser-ridden nation must be the beginning of a new Germany understanding democracy. The re-birth will be painful, but in the end the Germans will be thankful. If the enforced cessation of their crimes does not bring about their regeneration, at least they will be unable to repeat their cruelties of the past four years.—Ex.

Destructive Fire. C. L. MARCH'S PREMISES BADLY DAMAGED. At 7 o'clock this morning an alarm of fire was rung in to the Western and Central Stations, and a little later an emergency call was registered. The fire companies' response was prompt and on arrival at the scene it was found that the blaze was in the C. L. March building, top flat, and that the fire was raging furiously. Immediately the hoses were coupled up to the hydrants and streams of water sent into the burning buildings. Ladders were erected against the walls and the firemen ascending thereon knocked in the windows in order to allow free play to the water, which was thrown into the flames in copious streams. At nine o'clock the blaze had been controlled, the damage done being very considerable, as fire, smoke and water had contributed toward the injuries to building and contents. The fire was said to have been caused by the friction of one of the mangle rollers against the top of the flat by which some fillers were ignited and the blaze spread so rapidly among the materials in stock that it had gone beyond the control of the workmen in a few minutes. The top storey was totally gutted out and the store occupied by D. P. Pelley on the ground flat was also considerably damaged, the stock having been injured by water and smoke. Mr. March's estimate of the damage is in the vicinity of $20,000, part of which is covered by insurance.

A Pleasant Surprise. Last evening a very pleasant surprise happened at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tucker, Quidi Vidi Road, when a number of employees from Ayre & Sons, called and presented them with a beautiful clock on the occasion of their marriage. Mr. S. R. Penney made the presentation on behalf of the employees and wished Mr. and Mrs. Tucker much happiness. Mr. J. E. Jeana seconded the presentation, who was completely taken by surprise, thanked them sincerely on behalf of himself and his wife. Refreshments were then served and a jolly evening spent.

Vessel May be Refloated. Deputy Minister of Customs Le Mesurier received word yesterday from King's Cove that with the removal of her deck cargo, the chances of refloating the steam Fern, which went ashore at Knight's Cove Point, while on the way from Mobile, Alabama, to Rotterdam, are good. The water in the vicinity of the wreck was smooth yesterday and the ice off, and should these conditions prevail for a few days an attempt will likely be made to get the ship off the rocks.

New Relief For Constipation, "LES FRUITS"

Physicians agree that with the modern habits of living, constipation is likely to be always with us. They also agree that the constant use of any drug for the relief of constipation is exceedingly unwise—unwise for two reasons. First, a drug constantly used loses its effect and requires a constantly increased dose. Second, because the constant use of any drug is bad anyway.

So the cry is constantly going up from the constipated, "What can we do?" It will be interesting to a great many to know that an answer has been found in the re-discovery of a method which was used with great success by our Forefathers, and in Arabia far back in the twelfth century. The food is called "Les Fruits" because it is composed entirely of figs, dates, prunes, raisins and the leaves of each with the substitution of the Alexandria leaf for the raisin leaf. The taste is pleasant, if not to say delicious, and the effect is exceedingly satisfactory. Try it and be convinced.

Mystery Stories and Detective Novels.

THE AFTER HOUSE—A Mystery
 Story by Mary Roberts Rinehart. It is a capital story of murder, mystery and love: its pages are full of the spirit of adventure, the buffeting of the gale and the atmosphere of the sea. Price $1.35.

AT 1300—A Mystery Detective Story by Isabel Ostrander. A man is found murdered in his study at 1.30 o'clock.
 Who did it? His brother, his wife and even his mother come within range of suspicion, but owing to the wonderful gift possessed by a blind detective the real murderer is at length detected. Price $1.35.

THE BLUE LIGHTS—A thrilling
 Detective Novel by Arnold Fredericks. A mystery story of compelling interest. The story is filled with action and moves towards its climax with that cumulative interest that stamps its author as a master of construction. Price $1.35.

CLEEK'S GREATEST RIDDLES—
 A book of most enjoyable detective stories by T. W. Hanshaw. Price $1.35.

THE IVORY SNUFF BOX—By Arnold Fredericks. A book that goes with a rush from the first chapter to the last. Price $1.35.

THE LITTLE FORTUNE—By Arnold Fredericks. "The Little Fortune" may be only a little silver franc piece of the great Napoleon, yet its potency was sufficiently great to cause the death of at least one man, to bring about an international plot and in the end to engage the attention not only of Richard Duval, the famous American detective, but the secret police of Paris as well. Price $1.35.

THE RED STAIN—By Achmed Abdullah. A story in which murder, mystery and crime prevail. One of the best detective stories ever written. Price $1.35.

 security.
