

LATEST OLD WORLD NEWS

DELAY IN THE PROGRESS OF THE NILE EXPEDITION.

Cottrell Refuse to Pay Rent—Germany Takes What Britain Refuses—Lord Rosebery on the Upper House.

LONDON, Dec. 23.—Wolsey reports that the delay in the concentration of the troops at Korti will retard the advance across the desert until the second week in February.

Preparations for the demonstration from Suakin have been postponed. The military authorities fear the relief of Khartoum cannot be accomplished before the middle of March.

The Kababish tribe has offered to provide 300 men to protect the English expedition through the desert to Ardabi, half-way between Khartoum and Shendi, and also to protect the English telegraph lines from Dongola, and to forward by mail, the sheikhs to remain at Dongola as hostages.

REFUSE TO PAY RENT. The Duke of Argyll's Troubles with His Credit Tenants.

LONDON, Dec. 23.—The credit tenants of the duke of Argyll on the island of Tiree refuse to pay their rent and are extending their credits.

The duke has asked for an armed force to protect his rights, and a company of marines has been sent to suppress the rebellious tenants.

A meeting of highland land reformers was held in London today. The speakers denounced the landlords, and declared that Irish land legislation had been adopted in Scotland.

Germany Takes What Britain Refuses. LONDON, Dec. 23.—The Times says an annexation of a portion of New Guinea and other islands in that vicinity by Germany will expose the government to popular excoriation in Australia, and to censure in England.

The refusal of the Earl of Derby, colonial secretary, to recognize Australia's annexation of the same territory has opened the door to Germany. The colonists wanted to annex the whole of New Guinea, for in the event of war the island would form a post of operations against Australia.

Ministers in London. LONDON, Dec. 23.—The London correspondent of Noyes Vyemys alleges a complete organization of Russian nihilists exists under the guise of an export firm within the precincts of the city of London and is exporting to Russia criminal documents and explosives.

Grave Desecration in Ireland. DUBLIN, Dec. 23.—At Ballinacree last night the vault of Col. Walker, formerly inspector general of police, was broken open and Mrs. Walker's coffin taken out and thrown into the gully.

House of Lords Reform. LONDON, Dec. 23.—Lord Rosebery has written to a number of peers with a view of taking concerted action in favor of a reform of the house of lords.

Anarchism in the French Army. PARIS, Dec. 23.—It is reported the government has searched the barracks here and found evidence of anarchism spreading among the soldiers.

Rejected. PARIS, Dec. 23.—The National says France has rejected England's proposals with reference to the financial difficulties of Egypt.

Fast Trip across the Atlantic. QUEENSTOWN, Dec. 23.—Arrived Oregon in 6 days, 6 hours, 52 minutes; quickest passage on record.

CABLE NOTES. The American neutrality scheme has been shelved by the Congo conference on account of the opposition of the French representative.

UNITED STATES NEWS. The railways in Colorado are blocked with snow.

There are three thousand idle carpet operators at Amsterdam, N. Y.

The passenger rates on lines running south from Chicago will be restored immediately.

Seven cadets at the Annapolis naval academy have been put in irons for insubordination.

Miss Emma Britton, aged 40 and wealthy, has married her coachman at Staten Island.

The petrified bodies of a man and woman were found in a gypsum quarry at Potosi, Cal.

The commercial associations of New Orleans protest against the ratification of the Spanish treaty.

Cooley's carriage factory at Pittsfield, Mass., was burned, together with a large number of carriages.

A school building at Salem, Mass., was burned yesterday during school hours. All the children got out safely.

The Commercial cable company opened at New York last night for business to Great Britain, Ireland and France, its rate being 40 cents a word.

A syndicate at Metropolis, Ill., has been systematically defrauding the Bloomington mutual life insurance company by insuring old and diseased persons.

The Explosives mill explosion. MILLERSVILLE, Pa., Dec. 23.—Wm. Heckler, Michael Malroy and Harry Heine were fatally injured at Kew's stone quarry this morning by the premature explosion of a blast.

Fatally injured White Drunk. MOUNT CARMEL, Pa., Dec. 23.—Last night Henry Snodgrass and Wm. Evans, while driving in a sleigh, went over an embankment. Both were intoxicated and fatally injured.

The Weather in the West. ST. PAUL, Dec. 23.—The weather here moderated today. It is now six below.

Reports from the Northwest indicate that a very cold wave struck the Rocky mountains.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 23.—It is stated on good authority that Gen. Butler has signed a contract with a New York publishing firm to write his political reminiscences. Butler is to receive $50,000 and a small royalty.

THE WAY THEATERS GO.

Harrigan & Hart's at New York Starred—A Hit Hotel in Danger.

New York, Dec. 23.—Harrigan & Hart's theatre on Broadway was entirely destroyed by fire this morning.

The Colorado hotel, which adjoins the theatre on the south, as well as the building on the north caught fire several times, but the flames were put out.

The regular company of the theatre was rehearsing Harrigan's new play, McAllister's Legacy, up to 3 o'clock this morning.

Nothing was saved from the wreck. The books and money belonging to the Actors' Fund association are supposed to have been totally destroyed. The safe in the treasurer's office of the theatre contains besides the books of the establishment $2000 in money and the manuscript of several of Harrigan's plays. Harrigan and Hart witnessed the destruction of their establishment and the destruction of the windows of the New York Hotel, which adjoins the theatre on the north, was destroyed, and their loss could not be far from $25,000. They had no insurance, the policy having run out some time ago.

Faith Cure Fanatics. PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 23.—Emma Kitmiller died here Saturday. Both she and her family were believers in faith cure and were members of a band known as the "Heavenly recruits." Emma refused all medicine, saying Jesus would heal her. Her husband, after reading a portion of scriptures, laid his hands upon her and soothed her. In the morning she was dead. At the inquest to-day a physician testified a simple remedy of oil taken at the proper time would have saved her.

A Defaulter Takes Prison on the Eve of His Wedding. BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 23.—Radolph Scholke, the discharged bookkeeper of J. W. McFadden & Co., was called to the store to-day and charged with a default of $1000. A constable present arrested him. Scholke obtained permission to go into an adjoining room. He returned in a moment and dropped dead, having taken a dose of cyanide potassium. His wife was having married to-morrow.

What a Wax Figure Did. BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Dec. 23.—Tibbals Clark, aged 20, visited an anatomical museum Saturday. At the sight of one of the wax figures he fainted and fell against a case, breaking the glass, by which he was severely hurt about the throat and face. He will probably die.

The Tremble in Dakota. TRAVERS, Dec. 23.—Last evening Deputy Marshal Johnson of Fargo arrived with warrants for the arrest of the persons who overhauled the mails. This morning, accompanied by Sgt. Combs and deputy, he started for Winton, and has just returned with four prisoners.

Two Angry Canoes. BALTIMORE, Dec. 23.—Capt. Wesley and Elmer Boers left Fitchett's wharf on the Pianktank river, Va., Thursday, in separate canoes for their homes on Gwynn's Island. Both canoes were empty; it is supposed the occupants were angry at the storm.

Hanna Bones turned to Chalk. HEMDEN, Conn., Dec. 23.—Richard Coyle, fresco painter, died yesterday. He had been sick two years with a peculiar disease. His bones had apparently turned to chalk. One of his arms had been broken several times recently by merely raising it from the bed.

A Ponderous Gun. BOSTON, Dec. 23.—The fifth and last of the big guns for the United States government was successfully cast this morning at the South Boston iron works, in presence of a large number of army officers and 54 tons.

Returning to Work. PITTSBURGH, Dec. 23.—Reports from the river indicate that the miners' strike is a failure. In the second pool many have refused to strike, and in the third and fourth it is reported that a majority have signified their intention of returning to work.

Lashed to the Rigging for a Week. CAPE HARTLAND, Dec. 23.—Ten crew of the bark Eglantine, Williams, from Savannah for Providence, which was wrecked near here, were taken off this morning by life savers. They had been lashed in a rigging without food or water since Dec. 18.

The Fatal Work of Friends. CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 23.—A north-bound train on the Queen and Crescent route was derailed by wreckers near Purvis last night. The engine and three cars were wrecked. The engineer and fireman were killed, several were injured.

West Down With a Tonal Boat. BROOKLYN, Dec. 23.—The canal boat Charles Wilson sprang a leak to-day and sank so quickly that the occupants were unable to get ashore. Captain Flannery, his wife and two children were rescued. A son and daughter were drowned.

Treats at Orphan Asylum Meeting. BROOKLYN, Dec. 23.—The debris of the orphan asylum is being rapidly cleared away. A number of orphans have been located by the police, but there are yet about 25 unaccounted for.

Two Thousand Idle Men. MCKEESPORT, Pa., Dec. 23.—The Pittsburg national tube works company closed to-morrow indefinitely, owing to a scarcity of orders. Two thousand men are thrown out.

Confagration at Cambridge, N. Y. TROY, Dec. 23.—Cambridge, Washington county, was visited by a confagration this morning. Four business blocks were completely destroyed, with a probable loss of $200,000.

A Spike Factory Spiked. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 23.—Dillworth, Porter & Co.'s spike works will close to-morrow, indefinitely, owing to lack of orders.

Some Ashore Before the Storm. SOUTH PASSY, N. J., Dec. 23.—An unknown bark came ashore bottom up on the Great Egg harbor last night. Wreckage was strewn along the beach.

MEN WHO WON'T EXEMPT

THE PUBLIC MEETING IN ST. ANDREW'S HALL.

A Resolution Passed Asking the Government to Pass a Permissive Bill to Allow the Municipalities to Deal With It.

When Mayor Bawell entered St. Andrew's hall at 8 o'clock last night to preside at a public meeting there were but sixty three persons by actual count in the room.

Among them were John Hallam, James French and James Rogers, all apostles of anti-exemption.

The mayor then took a trip downstairs to the western branch of the public library, in the same building, and inspected the room, which is comfortable and very well patronized by the west enders.

When his worship returned in fifteen minutes there were probably 100 people present. J. J. Wilson entered, and was immediately surrounded by dozens of persons. His worship took the chair on the platform and read the proclamation calling the meeting.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

The interchanges of tokens of affection among the members of the assembly were of a friendly and cordial nature.

CHRISTMAS GIVING.

The Interchange of Tokens of Affection in Accordance With the Golden Rule.

From the Chicago Current.

Happily the lot of that man who, in this Christmas time, has no gift to give or no gift to receive. Melancholy must claim him for her own and life to him must be a condition of utter and unrelieved cheerlessness.

Now when the Christmas cheer is blotted on countless hearts, when all mankind is given over to merry-making and well-wishing, when Kris Kringle usurps all other rights, and when he is in a search for those who neglect their tree is an exception. It sometimes goes hard with those who cling to the notion that Christmas day should be an occasion of quiet, devout, contemplative religious observance, that the popular observance in market-day, merry-making, good humor, and the giving of gifts. Such persons are not your true philosphers, Chris. Him will declare that His followers would be known by the fruits of their devotion, and generosity is most assuredly a christian grace. Because there may appear a very serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption of the rule of the Mgt. and Mr. Pukwick's frolic under the mistletoe, they are so generous, nevertheless; for, while the solemn ceremony of the tree was a recognition by direction, the other was a recognition by intuition—the one was there was a serious and constant in the adoption

