BRIDGETOWN, MAY 15, 1878.

THE PREPARING.

More than a century ago a distinguished British statesman said that "a nation's best means for the preservation of peace is to be at all times in a state of preparedness for war."

Approaching war, like any other "coming event," usually "casts its shadow before." It seldom, like the shock of an earthquake, comes without warning.

Under these circumstances, Great Britain, for several months, has been putting forth her mighty energies in preparing for the possibility of a bloody encounter with Russia.

The past of Great Britain's warlike achievements, on both field and flood, is a guarantee of what she may do in the future.

"Britannia needs no bulwarks, No towers along the steep; Her march is o'er the mountain wave, Her home is on the deep."

It is to be regretted that there is a difference of opinion among the leading statesmen of Great Britain with respect to the expediency of making such ample preparations for war till diplomatic means of reconciliation have been utterly exhausted.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, May 10.—Parliament was prorogued this afternoon. His Excellency the Governor General delivered the following speech:—

Hon. Gentlemen of the Senate: I am glad to be able to relieve you from further attendance in Parliament, after a somewhat long and laborious session.

I shall take the necessary steps as an early day after the close of the financial year to give effect to the measure you have passed for the better auditing of the public accounts.

I shall call the attention of Her Majesty's Government to your address praying that all of British America, except Newfoundland, shall be, by Imperial act, declared to be within the Dominion of Canada.

I rejoice that during the term of my administration this final step to consolidate British interests on the continent of America, has been taken with so much unanimity, and that henceforth the Dominion Government will, under Her Majesty, exercise undisputed sway over the Northern half of this continent.

I am happy to be able to state that, pending the final settlement of the question of the boundary, a conventional line has been adopted by my Government and the Government of the United States, between Alaska and British Columbia, on the Stikine River.

The large sums you have appropriated for the great work of internal improvement will be expended with the most rigid regard to economy, and in the expectation that the principal canals under construction may be nearly completed within the next financial year.

REMARKABLE ESCAPE OF SIXTY-FOUR MEN ON BOARD A SEALING-VESSEL.

The brigantine Eric, one of our sealing fleet, owned by Mr. Boeke, of Carboneau, on the 5th of April, while returning from her voyage, during a heavy gale, made the southern Strait Island, and was only saved from going ashore by letting go both anchors. It was found necessary to cut away the masts to enable the hull to live out the furious gale and the heavy sea that was beating on the doomed vessel.

Mr. Eric was in the time of the oldest advertising agents in the city, having been in the business for a great many years. He was for a long time a partner with Mr. S. M. Pettengill, with whom he continued until 1873, at which time he formed a co-partnership with Mr. D. R. Locke, at that time largely interested in the Toledo Blade newspaper, both as editor and stockholder.

Miscellaneous.

Some distinguished masons at Washington, on the 4th inst., formed the Royal Order of Scotland, which never heretofore existed outside of Scotland.

The two rifled guns presented to the Dominion by Sir William Palliser, R. A., the inventor, have arrived, and been placed in position at Quebec.

None of the Russian heavy guns are of sufficient calibre to command the Bosphorus against the English ironclads, whatever may be done by means of torpedoes.

When you hear a country church choir singing, "There will be no sorrow there," you will not be there, or they will not be permitted to sing.—Oil City Derrick.

The excavations in the Forum at Rome have just been resumed in order to uncover the area between the Temple of Vesta and the Arch of Titus, and between the baths of Constantine and the Palace of the Caesars. Splendid finds are looked for.

Paul Rudolph, aged eight, living near Toledo, O., shot and killed Otto Benning, aged thirteen years. Young Rudolph states that the shooting was accidental, while the other account makes it the result of a quarrel between the children. Rudolph was arrested.

Jean Sprung, the notorious steamship thief, who committed so many robberies on the Atlantic and Pacific Lines, has been found guilty, in the criminal court of Quebec, of robbery on board the steamer Circassian. There are still four charges pending against him. His last exploit was to rob the Philip Wodehouse, Governor of Bombay, of $500, and some valuable diamonds.

At Wytheville, Va., Mrs. Hodgins, a young woman, killed her husband, a young man about twenty-eight years of age, by mixing arsenic in the bread which the man ate heartily. He was very ill, and died soon afterward. After committing the deed, the murderer endeavored to hide her guilt by dragging the body to a creek and throwing it in. She has made a full confession of the crime, and is in jail.—Ez.

The schr. Elezia, owned by M. C. Anderson and others, of Harvey, New Brunswick, recently picked up and towed into port 60 miles from Halifax a large United States schooner, valued at $15,000. The schooner, when being loaded with coal, had on board a crew of thirty men. When the sail dissolved the schooner floated and the Elezia's crew succeeded in getting her safe to port—quite a prize. It is supposed the owners and crew of the Elezia will make several thousand dollars.—Ez.

A St. John Scene.—Queer scenes occur in the police court sometimes. This morning Nancy Campbell, charged with being drunk on Brunswick street, and failing to pay her fine, was sent to jail. Soon after this her husband appeared with a babe, not yet weaned, in his arms, which he said, Nancy was the mother of, and he asked the Judge what he should do with it, as his mother was in prison. His Honor did not know how he could take care of the babe, and recommended him to the Chief of the Fire Department, Mr. Chipman Smith, or to Mr. Hawkes, who are Alms House Commissioners. Finally, the mother was released to her child, and peace was secured.—St. John Globe 7th Inst.

The egg traffic of this country has risen to an importance which few comprehend. The aggregate transactions in New York City alone amount to fully $3,000,000 per annum, and in the United States to $18,000,000. A single firm in that line of business in the East handled $1,000,000 worth of eggs during the year. In Cincinnati, too, the traffic runs by proportionately large. In truth, the great gallinaceous tribe of our country barnyards contributes in no small degree to human subsistence, eggs being rich in nutritive properties, equal to half their entire weight. Geese, duck, hen, pullet, and partridge eggs are the principal kinds in America. We have nothing, however, like what we are told used to be found in Madagascar, where a single egg measured half a yard long and held eight and a half quarts. One might supply a modern boarding-house with omelettes for a day.—Am. paper.

CRIME IN PARIS.

Crime in Paris continues to be rather painfully rife, and illustrates that more than any other city in the world, the tragedy of the cut-up woman Gilet, the coffee seller, is discovered; one of the murderers, Barre, an ex-attonney's clerk, has confessed. The woman had 20,000 francs in railway scrip; he pretended to invest it for her; inveigled her to breakfast with him; then to accompany him to a cellar, where she was despatched. The arms and things were left as luggage to pay the rent of a hired room in Paris; in the trunk, trunk, and feet, with boots and stockings on, were sent to the cloak room of the Mans railway station, and the box being flat, it was a favorite seat for waiting passengers. Barre's mistress, aged like himself 24, a medical student and his mistress, are said to be associates. In the Rue St. Lazare, in the house where Auber composed his pretty opera La Reuilla, a curiosity dealer in invited a passing bank-runner to give it to him; while counting the gold, the runner was stabbed dead with an old sword. The murderer had all arrangements made to effect the disappearance of the body. At Bordeaux Assizes, Barre's body has been acquitted of killing the widow Garriquel. She did not know where the latter being a miseress of her husband, but when the widow went so far as to steal boots at night from her maid, Mme. Boyle caught her, and ran her through with a sword, thus balancing all accounts.

Old Documents.—The workman employed in clearing away the site of the old Commercial Bank (late City) Building came across the corner stone. The stone was laid on the 18th July, 1838, and in the cavity was deposited a Latin charter of the Commercial Bank at that date a lithographic view of the St. John Courier of April 28th, 1838, and the Bank's charter of 25th Nov. 1838, a copy of Chubb's almanac for the year, a sovereign and several silver coins. The coins were nearly as bright as on that day 40 years ago, and the various documents and papers were wonderfully well preserved. The articles are in the possession of the Mayor, and will probably be enclosed in the corner stone of the new building about to be erected.—St. John Freeman.

A MICROSCOPIC WATCH.

Some of the monastics of Italy and France will send curious inventions to the Paris Exhibition. A Florentine has constructed a watch which only a quarter of an inch in diameter. It has not only a third hand to mark the seconds but a microscopic dial which indicates the days of the week and month, and the proper dates. It also contains an alarm, and on its front cover, an ingeniously cut figure of St. Francis of Assisi. On the back cover two verses of the Te Deum are distinctly cut. A Monastery in Brittany, France, has produced a plain-looking mahogany table, with an inlaid draught or chess board on the surface. The inventor places the men for a game of chess, and sits alone at one side of the board. He plays cautiously and the opponent chess moves automatically and sometimes check-mate him. There is no mechanism apparent beneath the tabletop, which seems to be a solid mahogany board.—Ez.

On Sunday, the 4th inst., there arrived at New York, the American barque Benitez, from Padang, in Java, with a cargo of 700 tons of coffee. A few days after leaving on the home voyage one of the crew was taken with the Java fever. In a day or two more the ship had five men sick out of her crew of twelve, and the supply of quinine was exhausted. By last New Year's day one man had died and all the rest had the fever. Only one man was able to work all that was the first mate, and he could only command strength enough to sit in a chair and steer the vessel. By great good fortune the wind continued fair. Had it changed, or a squall come on, no uncommon occurrence in southern waters, the vessel would have been lost. For two days eleven men lay in their berths, several at the point of death and the first mate sat in his chair steering the barque. There was nobody to nurse, nobody to cook, and nobody would have been able to eat if there had been a cook. All hopes given up. They were far out of sight of land and must follow the wind for there was nobody to manage the sails. While in this condition they fell in with a British ship, which at first refused help but afterwards sent two men and a boy, and some medicine; with this help St. Helena was reached and there a supply of quinine was obtained. The men altogether died of the fever on the voyage, all on the east side of the Cape a great change for the better being apparent soon after rounding the Cape. A few weeks ago another vessel arrived at New York from Java with her crew more dead than alive from the same fever. The cry has been raised that there must be something in the matter with the coffee, but New York medical men say this is nonsense. Had the ship been properly fumigated before commencing to load and had there been besides sufficient berth room left for the men with an abundant supply of quinine on board, there would have been no trouble at all.—Ez.

THE MAN-EATER SHOT.

A STALLION THAT HAS KILLED THREE MEN AND DISFIGURED TWENTY OTHERS. Middlebury, N. Y., May 5.—The Hambleton stallion Ringham, one of the finest bred horses in Orange county, was killed by his owner, Dr. J. A. Schultz of this place. This horse was twenty-one years old. An offer of $7000 was once made for him. At two years of age he was considered the successor of old Hambleton, his sire. Nineteen years ago, however, he began to exhibit signs of viciousness that increased as he grew older. Finally he became almost entirely unmanageable, and since then he has been known as the "man-eater." He had killed three men, and wounded, crippled and disfigured twenty others. For fourteen years no one dared to put him to a wagon until a short time ago, Dr. Schultz, who had owned him but a short time, with the aid of several men, got him in harness and to a wagon, and tried to drive him. It was a dark experiment. The Stallion broke everything to pieces, and the doctor was saved by the merest chance. Many of the leading horse-trainers of the country had tried their skill at subduing him. He conquered them all and nearly killed one of them. One of his latest exploits was the seizing of a negro groom who had undertaken to keep him, tearing off the man's right cheek and destroying the eye, and stripping the flesh from his right arm. The groom became blind and paralyzed. The three men who preceded the negro as groom all narrowly escaped with their lives. One lost an ear, another had three fingers and a thumb taken off, the third lost his arm from the elbow in the jaws of the horse. It became impossible to get a groom for the stallion. No one knew at what moment the brute would attack him. Dr. Schultz had made up his mind that Ringham was chronically insane, and decided to kill him before he claimed another victim.

As Ringham stood in the stall, glancing over the manger at the spectators who had entered the stable to see the man-eater, five large pistol-balls were shot into his head, directly between the eyes. They failed to bring him down, and, uttering the fiercest of noises, he made frantic efforts to get over the manger among the bystanders. As a man drew the attention of the horse away, Dr. Schultz, by a skillful use of a long knife, severed the jugular vein, and the blood spouted out in a large stream. For a long time Ringham stood up under the great flow of blood, relating no effort to get at the men. At last he settled to the floor, but to the end maintained his fierce disposition. The last movement he made was to attempt to take hold of Dr. Schultz with his teeth, the doctor having gone into the stall. Horsemen say that but for the temper of this horse he would have been worth $30,000. His skeleton is to be set up in Dr. Schultz's study.

EUROPE.

PARIS, May 8.—The Estafete reports that for the past few days numerous detachments of Russian sailors have been passing through France and embarking at Havre, and even as far as to the Channel, to man vessels purchased there by the Russians. London, May 9.—Specials from Berlin state that the Russians have decided to refuse to liberate the Turkish prisoners held in consequence of the uncertainty that the Porte will maintain neutrality in the event of war between Russia and England.

A St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times says that if Count Schouvaloff can convince his Government that the British Cabinet really desire a peaceful solution on the basis of securing the chief object of the war, namely, real improvement of the subject races in Turkey, a great impetus will be given to the negotiations. London, May 10.—A dispatch from Berlin to the Times, says: "The semi-official Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung, far from believing that the 60,000,000 of florins about to be raised by Austria will be employed in anti-Russian armaments, is of opinion that the money will be quietly put by to serve as a permanent mobilization fund after the fashion of the famous German chest. Similar funds are very general in Berlin, where anti-Russian articles, cropping up in the Austrian inspired press, are declared as so many attempts to ally the Hungarian feeling and make Europe believe its independence policy which has long ceased to exist. A special from Madrid to the Standard says the Government has two candidacies for the Government remain in Cuba and direct another campaign against the Cuban insurgents, Maceo and Vincente Garcia. The Government has granted him $5,000,000 for an army, and a reinforcement of 10,000 men and power to carry out reforms. London, May 12.—Steamer Sardinian was at anchor at the time of the accident. The explosion took place in the coal bunkers; she took fire immediately. The greatest confusion ensued. When order was restored the compartments were searched for dead and wounded. Some of the latter had arms and legs broken; a few were burned about the face. It is believed when the full extent of the disaster is ascertained, the figures given of the injured it is estimated to be no less than 100. The wounded were temporarily placed in war-rooms fronting on the Quay. Three of the injured in Derry infirmary are pronounced hopeless. Two bodies of the latter have not yet been recovered. Some passengers are reported missing. Among the Sardinian's passengers were 40 orphan children destined for domestic service in America. An uncommon occurrence on the vessel on McKinney's Bank but she was finally scuttled and filled and sunk in five fathoms of water. All British regiments in the Mediterranean are to be of great strength of 1,000 men. Re-inforcements are ready to leave England for this purpose. In Berlin, this p.m., Emperor William was returning from a several shots from the Duchess of Baden several shots from a revolver were fired at him. The person who fired was arrested. London, May 12.—A tenna correspondent of the "Standard" asserts that England has informed the Powers of her intention to acquiesce in immediately Russia's definite resolutions resulting from negotiations with England, and a few weeks ago another vessel arrived at New York from Java with her crew more dead than alive from the same fever. The cry has been raised that there must be something in the matter with the coffee, but New York medical men say this is nonsense. Had the ship been properly fumigated before commencing to load and had there been besides sufficient berth room left for the men with an abundant supply of quinine on board, there would have been no trouble at all.—Ez.

UNITED STATES.

Boston, May 9.—The leading Fenians in St. Louis yesterday knew nothing of any movement to be made in New York, and their military preparations are being made by them in that city. The steamers Harmonia, Thuringia, and Fenian, from and to Havana, have been chartered by Russia to transport soldiers and war munitions to this country, and if it is declared they will proceed beyond three leagues from the land they will be conveyed into Russian war vessels. The German flag has been lowered and the Russian flag hoisted. So says an alleged Russian agent. Portland, Me., May 9.—While John Anyl, the superintendent, was carrying an unprotected lamp in Glenwood colliery, near Mineville, this morning, the gas lighting, causing a terrible explosion. Anyl was thrown against a wall of coal and died soon after. Thomas Morgan also died from injuries received by the same explosion. Brazil, May 9.—Interviews with leading Fenians of this city give no sort of evidence to the sensational reports of 30,000 men being under arms, the securing of steamships, and the dispatch of Fenians to Canada, &c. The police and military authorities pronounce the reports canards.

UNITED STATES.

New York, May 11.—Secretary Ervatt is reported as saying that the neutrality laws are perfectly plain, and when violated the Government would issue public proclamation throughout. There has not been a vessel sold here yet to the Russians, nor any prospect, as steamship owners have advanced their prices so inordinately that both Russian and English agents can make better terms with German steamship companies, who are willing to sell or charter on reasonable terms. One or two Russian officers here are run down by reporters, but the information obtained is of infinitely small importance. A large quantity of muskets, sword-bayonets, shovels, spades, etc., found on board the schooner Lae Horre, sailing under an account of non-payment of purchase money. Her captain says the projected voyage was legitimate, and for the West Coast of Africa, but is now abandoned. It seems the Spanish authorities believed she was bound to Cuba. Augusta, Me., May 12.—A terrible tragedy was enacted yesterday evening in the suburbs. Jason Scribner living on a small farm, with a common spade struck three of his children over the head, falling them to the floor, and striking one after it down. One, a boy of eleven, escaped, and ran to a neighbor. Maud, a pretty little girl, 3 years old, died in less than two hours after receiving the blow. Earnest, five years old, sustained fracture of the skull and died before morning. The baby, a girl one year old, died to-day. The family were in the kitchen at the time of the tragedy. When the baby was struck and fell the mother, who was previously assaulted, seized her child and escaped from the house. Scribner then dropped the spade, rushed out in the field and attempted suicide by cutting his throat. He made an ugly wound, cutting his wind-pipe on both sides, but was arrested before making the fatal wound.
