Dublin.—No occurrence in Dublin for many years has produced a feeling of indignation so deep and wide spread as the burning of six human beings in Westmoreland street on Thursday evening.

Now, let us see what happened about nine o'clock on Thursday evening. The corner house of Westmoreland street, adjoining Aston quay, and just at Carlisle bridge, has been recently rebuilt, and is occupied by the Ballast Board.

Fervent prayers went up from all present as the flames put the machine to the wall, and the poor creatures above became calm, and seemed to think deliverance certain. But oh! how shall I describe the shriek of utter despair which came from that window when that frail and worthless play-toy which innocent citizens call a fire-escape like a willow, collapsed, and fell to the ground.

The remains of the sufferers by the late fire have been found, and an inquest will be held to-morrow. Public indignation is unprecedented.

Prison Notes.—The notorious Fenian informer, taking warning from the fate of his worthy colleague, Warner—another of those wretches whom conspiratorialists are obliged to employ in order to detect and put down honest men, or other crimes, has fled from Ireland, and secured security here from the vengeance of the accomplices whom he betrayed.

Nagle's exit he gave evidence at the trial by court martial of a non-commissioned officer of a line regiment for complicity in the Fenian conspiracy.

A good Providence appears to have heard the prayers of the people, and to have averted from us the rinderpest, only seven cases of which occurred, and since its first appearance some weeks since.

It is understood that the gifted and patriotic member for the city of Cork, Mr. John Francis Maguire, will proceed to the United States and Canada, at the close of the session, for a protracted term, up to next spring, with a view to publish a work on the condition of these countries, in which project the talented and patriotic author of 'Home and its Scenery' is generously seconded by an eminent publishing firm in London.

Every crop is flourishing, and no danger was apprehended from an injurious interference with the cattle traffic. A most satisfactory bill of health was shown every where, and there was promise of abundance in 1866, but the principal cause of contentment and rejoicing was that the rinderpest, if it had existed here at all, had been banished throughout the length and breadth of Ireland, and that the cattle of Ireland were free from the plague which had ravaged England and Scotland, and half of the countries of Europe.

The action of the American Government towards the Fenians in the United States gives general satisfaction. The London Times of the 16th of June eulogises the Washington Government, and says 'it would be impossible to exaggerate the good faith, the friendliness, the sincerity, and the regard for mutual obligations which have prompted these energetic and decisive measures.'

Eastern Europe, the prospect is gloomy enough. Not are the warring portions of the Turkish Empire yet so secure, that we can afford to dispense with the supervision and guarding that the great Powers have exercised.

The REAL ESTATE INTERESTS BILL.—Mr. Locke King's Real Estate Interests Bill, which proposed to introduce into the English law of real property a principle not only utterly unknown at present to it, but opposed to every principle upon which it is founded—represents but one of the many attempts which are from time to time made with a view to obtaining a footing for democratic, not to say socialist principles among the institutions of the country.

From the time when every acre in the kingdom was held by a direct grant from the Sovereign as possessed in the same sense that personal property is, it cannot be removed or carried abroad, but must for ever remain part of the kingdom, and there has ever been assumed a right to treat it from a point of view based on public policy, and not on abstract considerations of justice as between individuals.

Every crop is flourishing, and no danger was apprehended from an injurious interference with the cattle traffic. A most satisfactory bill of health was shown every where, and there was promise of abundance in 1866, but the principal cause of contentment and rejoicing was that the rinderpest, if it had existed here at all, had been banished throughout the length and breadth of Ireland, and that the cattle of Ireland were free from the plague which had ravaged England and Scotland, and half of the countries of Europe.

Mr. Whalley is a Jesuit in disguise. The Whalleyism of this anti-Fenian insinuation is very droll, the Protestantism of the honorable member for Peterborough being only a slight caricature of that of the honorable member for North Warwickshire; but really, from Mr. Newdegate's point of view—to wit, that his prejudices, pushed to their logical or illogical extreme, can only be the professions of an artful enemy—Mr. Whalley's Friday performance must appear to give grave corroboration to the charge.

Mr. Whalley's mind is diseased to an extent that will make any constituency that shall in future retain him, without strict orders to hold his tongue on all questions (since in the grass of every one he discovers the latent Roman snake), appear as mad as himself. To touch the 'air was full of poignards,' and to Mr. Whalley the world is full of Papias.

Mr. Roberts' ON FENIANISM AND CANADA.—Mr. Roberts has addressed another large Fenian meeting at New York, and spoke very lovingly of Canada. He declared himself as much a Canadian as a Fenian, and said that now it would be best to 'wash the Canadians' who were very fine fellows, from the throw off their own yoke, when his sympathies, it seems, will prompt him to lend us his able assistance. He is quite right now, and we recommend him to stick to that. When we want him we shall send for him, and in the meantime he can bear in mind the unavailability of professed service.—Herald.

THE CAPTURED FENIANS.—In Congress, on the 25th June, upon a motion being made for inquiry whether the American Government had intercepted in behalf of arrested Fenians, Mr. Banks of the Committee on Foreign Affairs said he believed that some steps had been taken in that direction, and that a bill was not pressed.

THE NEWSPAPERS OF THE WESTERN UNITED STATES, generally give unfavorable reports with regard to crops. The season has been cold and wet and consequently backward; devastating floods and a scarcity of labor have also had their effect, and the winter wheat in the middle and western districts is seriously affected. Other cereals look more promising. We have nothing so far from the head of the agricultural bureau at Washington upon the subject.

CRIME IN THE STATE OF NEW YORK.—The annual report of the New York Prison Association just published, contains some extraordinary accounts of crime in that State. After showing that through the neglect of the officers of the law, criminals find it easy to escape punishment, and that forfeited bail is seldom collected, so that only 25 per cent. of those who were indicted were tried; 18 per cent. were convicted on trial; 25 per cent. confessed their guilt; 41 per cent. forfeited their recognizances, amounting in the aggregate to $98,800—not one penny of which was recovered—the report proceeds to give some startling facts.—A survey of the State this year shows that there is a strong and increasing tendency of crime to crystallize, if we may so say, into aggregates and masses. Men, more rarely now than formerly, commit robberies and burglaries alone. They operate extensively in groups. Some gangs are confined to single towns; others extend their operations over a whole county; others, still, embrace several counties; while the tendency is for individual gangs to affiliate with and reciprocally assist and receive assistance from all the others in the State. This tendency to aggregation is apparent in our larger cities as well as in the rural districts. Through the agency of those affiliated societies of thieves, property once stolen is passed rapidly from hand, until it becomes almost impossible to trace it or, if it is discovered, original perpetrators cannot be ascertained, and therefore go unwhipped of justice. If this tendency to aggregation and organization continues to increase for the future, as it has done for a few years past, we shall soon have organized bands of associated depredators in all the counties of the State, whose members will be known to each other by secret signs, passwords, and other signs, mutually assist each other in disposing of their plunder, in baffling arrest, in escaping from jail, or in procuring bail which will effect their release from custody.

THE TRIAL OF PRIESTS FOR FENIANISM.—The trial of the five priests of the Vincent College, Cape Girardeau, who were arrested for preaching without subscribing to the new constitution oath, has been further postponed to the December term. We learn that another reverend gentleman has been fined five hundred dollars for celebrating marriage while refusing to subscribe to the same oath, and that he has taken an appeal to the Supreme Court of the State.—St. Louis Guardian.

UNITED STATES

The Rev. Edward Fitzgerald, Pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Columbus, Ohio, has been appointed by the Holy Father Bishop of Little Rock Arkansas. We do not know whether we ought to congratulate our reverend friend, but we are certain that if the Catholic religion is ever to flourish in Arkansas, he is just the man to make it.—Catholic telegraph.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

FRANCE.

PARIS, JUNE 8.—The Constitutionnel of this morning says:—'The position of France is not changed by late events...'

PARIS, JUNE 12.—In the Corps Legislatif to-day M. Rouher read a letter from the Emperor Napoleon III. to M. Droyn de Lhays...

'Had the Conference assembled my Government would have declared, that France repudiated all ideas of territorial aggrandizement...'

'The Conference has failed. Will France be led to draw the sword?'

'France, therefore, will continue to observe an attentive neutrality, confident in her right and calm in her strength.'

M. Rouher said, 'I think that after this declaration the Corps Legislatif will understand the indivisibility of a debate upon the affairs of Germany and Italy.'

MM. Thiers, Faure, Alfred, and Leroux endeavoured to prevent the closing of the debate...

'The sitting then terminated.'

'The Constitutionnel once more declares that France is now, as before, unfettered by obligations to any one.'

'It is useless to remark that, far from intending to take part in the war the French Government has made none of these preparations which are indispensable to entering upon a campaign.'

The Paris Correspondent of the Daily News says: 'A fact of great significance as showing that France expects to take part in the coming war is that Abbe Laine, the Emperor's first chaplain, has been made chaplain in chief of the army.'

It is stated that Admiral Simon, commanding the French Levant squadron, which was cruising in the Aegean waters, has received orders to collect all his ships from Smyrna, the Archipelago, and the Piræus...

The Press publishes news from Paris, stating that the Emperor of Mexico had requested financial assistance from France, declaring his intention to abdicate unless such assistance were afforded.

ITALY.

PIEDMONT.—Italy has no qualms of Teutonic brotherhood to deter her from the shedding of blood on the Po and Mincio. She has staked her all—nay, more than all, on that one card Venice, and she may well be brought to such desperate straits as to look upon peace as even more ruinous than war.

Omelet, June 12.—Garibaldi has arrived here from Genoa and has been enthusiastically received by the authorities, as well as the people, the army and the Volunteers.

The plan of Garibaldi's campaign, it has been said, is twofold—a mountain warfare in Southern...

'In times of enthusiasm-like 1813—the calls for blood and iron may be answered without unwillingness, but a plebeian Minister or even a plebeian man must not make too great demands.'

The Germanic Bund, or Confederation of German States, decreed 'execution' against the King of Denmark as Duke of Holstein...

It is said that Dr. Nelson, the physician who extracted the ball from Garibaldi's foot, has declared that he has great doubts of Garibaldi's fitness for going through a campaign or indeed undergoing any great fatigue.

KINGDOM OF NAPLES.—The first cannon fired on the Mincio may be a signal for an insurrection in the Southern Provinces.

The marine of Italy may render a disembarkation of troops in Naples difficult, but should the Austrian arms triumph in Tuscany, a forced march of three or four days through the passes of Anudoro and Oshiet...

'The Times' military correspondent gives an account of the present state of the Prussian army. The number of combatants and non-combatants is estimated at 703,000 men, 146,000 horses, and 1,100 guns.

A communication from Gleiwitz (Prussia) relates the following incident:—The men of the landwehr were on the point of starting, the train was ready, but the wives of the soldiers opposed its departure...

A curious press trial has just taken place at Berlin. On the occasion of the baptism of Prince Charles's son, then five weeks old, the Kreuz Zeitung published an article relating to the part which each personage took in the solemnity.

AUSTRIA.

VIENNA, JUNE 8.—The following is an accurate summary of the official text of the Austrian despatch of the 1st of June, in reply to the invitation of the Neutral Powers to take part in the Conference.

The Federal Diet having on the 14th, by vote of 9 to 6, agreed to the Austrian proposal for the mobilization of the Federal army, Prussia agreeable to previous notice, carried out her threat to consider it as an act of hostility on the part of those States which supported it, and on the following day, commenced war by sending troops into Saxony and Hanover.

POLAND.

The Dziennik Posen of Posen, and the Czas of Cracow, publish a declaration of Prince Wladislaw Ozartorski, on the attitude to be assumed by the Poles in case of war.

RUSSIA.

The Debats says:—A propos of the attempt against his person, the Emperor of Russia has just addressed a rescript to Prince Gagarine, the president of the Committee of Ministers, in which much attention is given to the false and perverse doctrines which, if not opposed in their development, will seriously imperil social order.

strengthened by the rights of those conversions for a holy duty obtained, now by sedition, now by violence, among the Catholics of the old Polish provinces? On a power which teaches children to denounce and give up their parents or their brothers, decently and usefully preach up the doctrines of domestic order.

We hear from St. Petersburg that General Mouraviev has at length come upon the traces of the conspiracy of which Korokozoff was the instrument in attempting the Emperor's life.

'Ah, Jemmy,' said a sympathising friend to a man who was just too late for the train, 'you did not run fast enough.'

In the Parliamentary committee on the Factory Bill, a witness from Dundee was asked, 'When do your girls marry?'

A celebrated wit was asked why he did not marry a young lady to whom he was so attached.

A dispute arising relative to the best mode of dressing a beefsteak, the controversy was settled by one of the disputants giving Shakespeare as an authority.

A worthy householder called upon a seedsman in a neighbouring town and complained that the onion seed which he had purchased was worthless.

An Irishman, describing the United States, said: 'You might roll England thru' it, and it wouldn't make a dint in the ground.'

DISEASES OF THE KIDNEYS.—It is said that two-thirds of the civilized inhabitants of the world are afflicted, more or less, with disorders of the kidneys and the liver.

An honest farmer in the State of Pennsylvania married a miss from a fashionable boarding school for his second wife.

An American editor remembers hearing of an old lady near East, who, after keeping a hired man on her near a month, one day said to him 'Mr. Smith, I don't know as you likes liver.'

CHANCED CHRONISM.—A Western editor says: 'A female correspondent sends us an uninteresting piece of poetry, and requests us to publish it.'

A merchant knowing little of geography, on hearing that one of his vessels was in jeopardy, exclaimed, 'Jeopardy, jeopardy, where's that?'

'Johnny, how many seasons are there?—Six: spring, summer, autumn, winter, opera, and Thompson's!'

WHY is a young lady like a condemned drunkard? Because neither of these are satisfied with the moderate use of the glass.

Girls who are not handsome hate those who are; while those who are handsome hate each other. Which class has the best time of it?

Beautiful was the reply of a venerable man to the question, whether he was still in the land of the living?—No, but I am almost!

Don't be in too great a hurry, girl's, to fall in love with the young men. It often happens that your hearts are no sooner theirs than theirs is no longer yours.

What is the worst seat a man can sit on?—Self-conceit.

Why is a seamstress like a pick-pocket? Because she cuts and runs.

Sweet is the music of the lute to him who has never heard the prattle of his own children.

A little boy being asked, 'What is the chief end of man?' replied, 'The end what's got the head on.'

COUGHS AND COLDS.

Sudden changes of climate are sources of Pulmonary, Bronchial, and Asthmatic affections. Experience having proved that simple remedies often act speedily and certainly when taken in the early stages of the disease, recourse should be at once had to Brown's Bronchial Troches, or Lozenges.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS! MOTHERS!!!

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with the excruciating pain of cutting teeth? If so, go at once and get a bottle of Mrs. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it: there is no mistake about it.
