The copy filmed here has been reproduced thanks to the generosity of:

Library of the National Archives of Canada

The images appearing here are the best quality possible considering the condition and legibility of the original copy and in keeping with the filming contract specifications.

Original copies in printed paper covers are filmed beginning with the front cover and ending on the last page with a printed or illustrated imprension, or the back cover when appropriate. All other original copies are filmed beginning on the first page with a printed or illustrated impression, and anding on the last page with a printed or illustrated impression.

The lest recorded frame on each microfiche shall contain the symbol → (meaning "CONTINUED"), or the symbol ▼ (meaning "END"), whichever applies.

The Falls of Niagara

For centuries the Faiis of Niagara have commanded the attention and admiration of the world, but never to a greater degree than at the present time. When the spindies of industry crowded close up to their magnificent beauty, mankind worshipped their sublimity and saw in them grandeur that demanded protection from the inroads of enterprise and speculative capital. The Niagara Faiis of to-day is the Temple of Nature, and the very fact that the Governments of two countries, United States and Canada, have seen fit to assume the great responsibility of taking charge of the lands about Niagara Faiis to preserve its beauty and restore the locality to a primeval state, where mankind can roam free for all time, is designed to make this paradise still more beautiful and attractive.

Travellers from all countries and all climes visit them and bow in admiration, freely accepting them as one of the grandest works of nature and of God's handiwork.

Prospect Point is where the best view of the American Fails can be had and enjoyed; also on the rocks at the foot of the inclined railway in Prospect Park, looking at the down pour of water, you married at the greatness and beauty of the mighty flood. Still another impressive view can be had free a pretty look-out point on Goat Island, which takes in all the beauty and grace of Luna Island and the upper steel arch bridge and stretches far down the Gorge nearly to the Whiripool Rapids. The Horseshoe or Canadian Falis can be seen to advantage from the deck of the steamer Maid of the hast. It is said that fully ten times as much water passes over the Horseshoe fail as over the American fail, and this fact is recognized when the Horseshoe is viewed from below.

Terrapin Point on Gont Island is still another spot where the Horseshoe fail shows its majesty and power. "The thoughts are strange that crowd into my brain While I look upward to thee; it would seem As if God poured thee from His 'hollow hand' And hung His bow upon thine awful front, And spoke in that loud voice which seem'd to Him Who dweit in Patmos for his Saviour's sake The sound of many waters, and had bade Thy flood to chronicie the ages back And notch His centuries in the eternal rocks."

-J. C. G. Braina.d.

"I dreamt not I should wander here.
In musing awe; should tread the wondrous world.
See all its store of inland water hurled
In one vast volume down Ningara's steep.
Or calm behold them, in transparent sleep
Where the blue hills of old Toronto shed
Their evening shadow o'er Ontario's bed."

Moore.

AMERICAN FALL FROM TABLE BOCK.

Visitors to the Falls of Niagara should not miss seeing Rock of Ages at the Cave of the Winds; the Devil's Hole, 'Table Rock, and the Devil's Pulpit; the upper steel arch bridge, the greatest structure of the kind in the world; the Whiripool Rapids, where the current rushes onward at a speed of 40 miles an hour; the Grand ink steel arch and Michigan Central cantilever bridges; The Jorge; the Sentinel Rock in the Gorge; the Whiripool, the greatest known river pocket in the world; the suspension bridge at Lewiston, and Brock's Monument at Queenston, a noble shaft which was erected to commemorate the glorious deeds of the brave man who gave up his life in the battle of Queenston Heights on the 18th of October, 1812,

The conspicuous building above the Fails on the Canadian side is Loretto Academy, Niagara Fails, Ontario.

This Institution is beautifully rituated on a high and healthy location, overlooking the Faris, contains all modern improvements, and cannot be equalled for the sublime and extensive view which it affords of the Fails, Rapids and the Islands in the vicinity.

The indies of Loretto who conduct the establishment consider themselves bound to respond to the confidence which parents or guardians place in them, by giving their pupils a Christian education, strictly attending to their intellectual improvement, cuitivating the refinement of manners which will fit them for society, and giving them that physical care which they would receive under the parental roof.

NIAGARA POWER,

We cannot take leave of the great water-fall without a few words regarding the tremendous works that have been constructed to turn to good use the mighty power which has for countless ages been simply running to waste, as far as its economical use is concerned.

To "Harness Niagara," which had been long a dream, is now an actuality, electric power, developed by its fall, being at present furnished Toronto, Buffalo and Lockport. The possibilities of future invention and discovery in the field of electric science are limited only by the imagination. A single generation has seen the commercial development of electric light, electric railways, the telephone, the phonograph and where the graphy, any one of which, if even hinted at in what we are pleased to call the "good old days," would have been sufficient grounds for burning at the stake for witch-craft.

In face of such modern miracles can we conclude that we have reached the limit of advancement? We think not, and venture to prophesy that in the future will be celebrated even greater marvels than in the past.

The following companies are at present either in active operation or far advanced in the work of development.

On the Canadlan side:—(1) Canadlan Niagara Power Company; this plant has all its permanent works constructed for a capacity of 100,000 H.P. net. (2) Ontario Power Company; the headworks for this Company are constructed for 180,000 H.P. (3) The Toronto & Niagara Power Company; its allied company, the Electrical Development Company of Ontario, Ltd., is constructing a power plant of 125,000 H.P. capacity.

On the United States side:—Niagara Falls Power Co., with a development of 110,000 horse power; Hydraulic Power Co. with 35,000 horse power and 100,000 horse power more under construction.

It is estimated that the complete cost of these three great works will be from 15 to 20 million dollars.

The Niagara Park Commissioners, in their wisdom, but at the expense of the power companies, have been rigidly insistent upon the various works of construction being so planned that, when completed, they will not only not detract from the physical beauty of their surroundings, but add thereto. It is cause for congratulation for Canadians that most of the possibilities of power development at Niagara are on the Canadian side, for, although two of the three companies are controlled by United States capital, each of the agreements contain a clause providing that not less than 50 per cent. of the power they may develop shall be held for use in Canada in the event of a demand arising therefor.

LEWISTON, N.Y.,

Is reached from Niagara Falls by the New York Central & Hudson River R. R. and the Niagara Gorge R. R. (Great Gorge Route). It is situated at the head of navigation on the lower Niagara River, steamers being unable to stem the current above that point, and therefore it is the terminal for the Niagara Navigation Company. Lewiston is one of the most charming spots upon the Niagara frontier, the beautifui view showing Queenston Heights, the Niagara Gorge and the winding river below is world-renowned. It is a delightful place to spend a restful holiday.

The Niagara River Line steel day steamers Cayuga, Chippewa, Chicora, and Corona, leave Lewiston and Queenston six times daily, except Sunday, for Niagara-on-the-Lake and Toronto. They are named: "Chicora" (The Pretty Flower), "Corona" (The Bright Sun Ray), "Chippewa" and "Cayuga," after the great Indian tribes bearing these names, and are replete with every comfort, and are famed for their punctual express service across the lake. The commodious promenade decks afford opportunity for fresh air, exercise and sight seeing, comfortable cabins provide shelter and rest, while the spiendid dining-room service supplies the wants of the inner man.

Passengers crossing on one may return on any of the other steamers. Baggage is examined for Customs by Customs' Officers on board.

In the just completed "Cayuga" many new features have been introduced in the interior arrangements. The dining room is located up-stairs on the main deck, and patrons while at table may enjoy the lake and river scenery through observation windows. The upper promenade deck, which ordinarily ends in front of the pilot house, is extended to the stem, affording unusual accommodation for passengers and also sheltering the promenade deck below. A light shade deck amidships serves as an awning over the upper promenade deck.

Canada

To the United States citizen there is a peculiar charm in "crossing the border" and entering a "foreign land." The words "British North America" have a fascinating sound, and a day cannot be more enjoyably spent than by taking the boat at Lewiston or Queenston for a seven-mile sail down the Niagara River and a thirty-mile run across Lake Ontario to one of the largest and most interesting cities in Canada. It is a ride of only 45 minutes by steam railroad or 1 hour and 15 minutes by trolley from Buffalo to Niagara Falls, and 20 minutes by steam railroad or 30 minutes by trolley from Niagara Falls to Lewiston or Queenston. The Niagara Gorgo scenery between Niagara Faiis and Lewiston or Queenston is unsurpassed, and there is not a dnii moment in the trip to Toronto and return.

QUEENSTON, ONT.,

Is a quaint viliage upon the Canadian shore directly opposite Lewiston. It is associated in history with the gnilant defence made by the British on the adjacent heights in the war of 1812. Brock's Monument stands on the Heights of Queenston, whence the viliage derived its name. It is the terminus of the International Electric Road from Niagara Fails, the cars running to the dock, connecting with the Niagara River Line steamers for Toronto.

After leaving Lewiston the steamers head northward and follow the current for seven miles, the shores of the United States on the right and Canada upon the left, providing an ever-changing panorama of beautiful scenery. At the mouth of the Niagara River a landing is made at the fascinating summer resort of

NIAGARA WHARF.

NIAGARA-ON-THE-LAKE, ONT.,

This is one of the oidest towns in Canada, and formerly the capital of the Province, when it was known as "Newark." Here the first Parliament of Upper Canada met, in: 1792. From oid Fort George, whose ruins can barely be seen from the river, went forth the galiant General Sir Isaac Brock to meet his nntimely end at Queenston Heights in 1812. The old barracks of Butler's Rangers on the great common, and

St. Mark's Church, whose tombstones still bear the marks made by the enemy's meat choppers, are worthy of a visit.

Evidence of the "fighting days" at Niagara-on-the-Lake is furnished by old Fort Missassauga, at the mouth of the river, which can be seen from the deck of the steamer. Its wails are carefully preserved among the many other historic relics of the past which add to the interest of the stranger.

Just opposite Niagara-on-the-Lake upon the United States shore, stands one of the most historical spots in North America, bearing within its wails the reiics of aimost two and a half centuries. Here in 1669 LaSalie, pursuing his heroic explorations, erected the first building (other than an Indian wigwam) to appear on this frontier, and used it as a base of supplies to facilitate his discoveries. Again on this site in 1678 he built a structure which he named Fort Conti. On its ruins in 1687 DeNouville built the ili-fated fort that bore his name. which was besleged by the Senecas as soon as the army departed, and which was destroyed the following year on the demand of the Senecas acting under British instigation. Fort Niagara is garrisoned, and adjacent to it is one of the best reservations for target practice in the United States. During the period of the Canadian Military encampment at Niagaraon-the-Lake, the jaunty United States soldier crosses the river and fraternizes in friendly good fellowship with the Canadian Militiamen.

Upon leaving Niagara-on-the-Lake the steamer immediately enters Lake Ontario upon her swift passage of thirty miles across its beautiful waters. This sail affords one of the most refreshing features of the trip to Toronto, and as the opposite shore gradually rises upon the horizon the passenger's pleasure in a light a new country is tempered by regret that the voyage drawing to a close.

On the trip across Ontario the incoming steamers of the same Line will be passed and saluted, and often the white canvassed yachts of the Royal Canadian Yacht Club will be seen cruising to Niagara-on-the-Lake and other ports.

Soon the Scarboro' Heights on the north shore loom up and the towers and spires of Toronto, the Queen City, come into view. On the west end of the Island, on Gibraitar Point, stands a fine lighthouse with a revolving light, built in 1808. Entering the bay through the eastern gap, a nearer view of the city can be obtained and also of Hanlan's Point, which is on the western point of Toronto Island, directly opposite the city across the bay.

The steamers land their passengers at Yonge Street wharf, it being the central street of Toronto, called after Sir George Yonge, Imperial Secretary for War, 1791. One block north from the dock is Front Street, where the Toronto Street Railway cars can be taken to all parts of the city for one fare, five cents, or 25 tickets for one dollar. 6 for twenty-five cents. Transfers on all lines are given freely by the conductors when asked for.

A map of the city showing street car lines and an indexed street guide will be found in the back of this book.

YONGE STREET WHARF.

Toronto

Early History.—The site of Toronto was the termination of an Indian trali which supplied the shortest and most convenient road between Lake Huron and Lake Ontario. The name itself is of Huron origin and means a "piace of meeting," a term applied to the neighbourhood of Lake Simcoe, which was the northern end of the first stage on the great portage. In course of time the name was transferred from the neighbourhood of Lake Simcoe to the southern end of the trail.

During the latter part of the seventeenth and the beginning of the eighteenth century, the fight for the fur trade with the Indians was maintained with great vigor between the English from Albany and the French from Montreal. The control by the French of the trade passing by the Niagara River ied the English to establish a fort at Oswego for the purpose of gaining the traffic from the Northwest, and as a counterstroke, a French trading-post was established in 1749 on the site of Toronto, which was named Fort Rouillé, after the French colonial minister. It was situated on the lake shore in what is now the western part of the city, and its site is marked by an obelisk in the south-west corner of the Exhibition grounds.

In 1758 the threatened attacks on Quebec, Montreal and Niagara by the English forces under Wolfe and Amherst, compelled the Governor of Canada, M. de Vaudreuil, to withdraw his force from the smaller forts, and under his instruction Fort Rouille was burned in 1759.

The termination of the American Revolution and the declaration of Independence was followed by the expulsion of the United Empire Loyallsts, many of whom settied in Upper Canada. Some of these settlers found their way to the vicinity of Toronto and civilized settlement had then its beginning. At that time the eyes of the Imperial officials were cast on it as a suitable site for the future capital of Ontario, it possessing a capacious, safe, and well-sheltered harbor. Its situation certainly commended it as a convenient and safe place for the capital of the Province, and when Lieut.-Col. John Claves Simcoe, the first Governor of Upper Canada, came to the conclusion that Newark, as Ningara-on-the-Lake was then called, was unsuitable for the Seat of Government, on account of its proximity to the United States border and its not being central enough for provincial purposes, he had no difficulty in selecting Toronto as the place best suited for his capital.

At the beginning of this century the town had taken form and was spreading its buildings over the fairly large area laid out. Public buildings were erected and others were projected and residences sprung up of goodly proportion and architectural variety. At this period the town was twice captured by the Americans. It surrendered in 1813 to General Pike, when the Houses of Parliament and the records were burned and much damage inflicted on property; the mace, "the gilded bauble" of authority in use in the Parliament, was carried off to Detroit. A painting of it, however, may now be seen in the present Parliament buildings, and it isn't much to look at. Three months later the town was taken by the American fleet under Commodore Chauncey.

In 1834 it became a city, and the man upon whom was bestowed the distinction of being the first mayor was the agitator and reformer, William Lyon Mackenzie. At the date of its incorporation, the population of Toronto was under 10,000 and the ratable property within the city limits did not exceed three quarters of a million dollars. The western boundary was Peter Street and the city did not extend beyond the Don. There were few buildings to the north of Queen Street, then known as Lot Street, the primeval forest being still uncut and uncleared on the northern border.

Rise and Progress.—The story of the rise and progress of the city of Toronto probably has no parallel in the history of the continent. In place of the trackless forest, now stands the majestic commercial metropolis of Canada with 300,000 inhabitants, vast wealth and immense industries.

It is unquestionably true that Toronto's marvellous growth is due to a combination of powerful factors. Her outiets, whether by ship or raii, are excellent and perfectly maintained. To the north, east and west lies a beautiful and most fertile country, while on the south is the broad expanse of one of the five greatest lakes in the world.

In ail the Dominion there is no city blessed with a more salubrious climate than Toronto. The meteorological records show that few cities on the continent have fewer rainy days, and yet the oppressiveness of the summer heat of other cities in the same latitude is rarely felt in Toronto, the deep cool take in front of the city modifying as it does the south and south-west winds blowing over it. It is cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter than Chicago, Cleveland, Buffalo, Detroit or any other city on the chain of Great Lakes.

From whatever point approached, Toronto presents all the elements and aspects of metropolitan life. On every hand are to be seen evidences of material wealth and prosperity, of comfort and luxury, of taste, culture and refinement.

The city is admirably laid out and the streets are broad and pleasant. The principal shopping thoroughfares are lined with mammoth, and in many cases magnificent, mercantile establishments.

It is safe to say that no city of equal size in America contains so many substantial and artistic homes and so delightful a series of residential districts as Toronto. It is a city of homes, numbering among its citizens more actual houseboiders than any community of the same srea and population in the entire country.

Mercantile Advantages. -- It is the manufacturing and distributing city of a wealthy and enterprising community, whose country is exceedingly rich in timber, minerals, fisheries, and the products of the soil, and whose number and commercial strength are rapidly increasing. Three great systems of railway spread their main and branch lines over this vast area focusing in Toronto, where the lines of rail and water communication meet, and from which ail the markets of Ontario and the great Canadlan West cau be most conveniently reached. Central Ontario is the most highly cuitlvated portion of the Dominion of Canada, but in the wide expanse of lts northern portion and westward along the Great Lakes, and even to the boundaries of Manitoba, new settlements, towns and villages are constantly springing up, and new avenues of commerce being opened up as the resources of these districts become more fully known. construction of a new Canadian railway to the Pacific Coast will largely increase the sphere of Toronto's commercial influence, while the facilities for cheap lake navigation from Ontario ports give to the city an assurance of continued and increasing supremacy in the control of the wholesale trade of New Ontario, Manitoba and the North-West Territories.

Public Buildings.—Toronto probably contains as many fine public bulidings as any city of its size in the world. Among these may be mentioned the Union Depot, which cost over a million doilars; the City and County Hall, which, without exception, is the finest in the world; the Tempie Building, the home of the I. O. F.; the Confederation Life Building, Canada Life Building, the Parliament Buildings, University of Toronto, Osgoode Hail, Normai School, Upper Canada College, Trinity University, Knox College, General Hospitai, and many others of which lack of space forbids mention.

Government.—The government of the city is vested in a Council consisting of a Mayor, four Controllers and eighteen Aldermen. The Mayor and Controllers are elected annually from a vote of the entire city. The Aldermen are elected annually, three from each of the six wards into which the city is divided. The Board of Control is the executive Council.

Growth.—Since the stormy days of 4834, when with a population of 9,254 Toronto donned the garments of a city, itr growth has been steady, and within the past few years rapid. The first nascessment of city property in June, 1834, placed the value at $934,410, while the total amount of assessment for the year 1907, as returned by the massesors, is $184,632,463.

As illustrating the expansion of Toronto, the value of the huliding permits issued for 1906 reached a grand total of $13,160,398, as against $5,896,120 in 1004, an increase of $7,264,278. The number of permits issued for 1906 was 3,489, as against 1,725 for 1904. The number of separate buildings erected in 1906 was 4,710, against 1,930 in 1904.

UNION STATION.

The yearly expenditure of the city is over $4,000,000, but from the revenue-producing assets upwards of $1.300,000 is derived, exclusive of the amount raised by taxation.

Situation.—In the City Engineer's report the topography of Toronto is given as situated upon the northern shore of Lake Ontario, about forty miles easterly of its western terminus. It lies in latitude 43° 39′ 10″ north, longitude 79° 23′ west, on a plateau gently ascending north for a distance of three miles, where an altitude of about 220 feet above the lake level is reached. It extends about eight miles along the lake, and is generally level, with slight depressions at points where minor water courses previously existed, The harbor is formed in front of the city by a sandy island, which lies to the south, at a distance of about a mile and a haif.

Education.—In the realm of education, of art, of music, of the things that make for culture, refinement, and for mental and spiritual uplift, the Queen City is universally recognized as the hub of the Dominion. Toronto can show more schools and educational institutions per capita, can boast of more and finer musical organizations, can point to a higher average of general culture, can count a larger number of churches, than any other city of similar size on the continent,

UNIVERSITY OF TORONTO.

In the matter of schools and colleges her position has never been challenged by any Canadian or United States city of like population. At the top of the city's educational system stands the University of Toronto, comprising among its federated colleges and universities Faculties in Art, Medicine, Applied Science and Engineering, Dental Surgery, Music, Pharmacy, Agriculture and Pedagogy. The total enrolment of University and College students is over 4,000, and every year shows a large increase in each Fuculty. The following institutions are federated with the University, viz.: Victoria College, Trinity College, Knox College, Wycliffe College and St. Michael's College,

In secondary education there are three Collegiate Institutes, a Technical High School, and two new High Schools are now projected. The registration of pupils at these secondary schools is over 2,000. In addition there is Upper Canada College, a boys' residential school, which covers firstyear University work, and which is attended by over 200 pupils, and St. Andrew's College, also for boys.

There are altogether over 35,000 pupils in the city Public Schools. School attendance up to the age of 12 years is compulsory, except by a special permit from the Public School Inspector. Consequently there are no ill:terates among the native-born citizens of Toronto. There are 582 teachers on the Public School staff. 126 Kindergartners, 35 Collegiate institute teachers, 24 Technical High School teachers, and 105 Separate School teachers. The average daily attendance at the Public Schools is 23,679; at the High Schools, 1,598; at the Separate Schools, 3,608. The value of school property is over $2,000,000, exclusive of the Separate Schools. A Provincial Normal School is also located in Toronto.

Art.—In the domain of art Toronto has long been recognized as the centre whence radiates the best Canada can show in painting, sculpture and architectural designing. The Ontario Society of Artists have a gallery of their own, and their annual exhibition gives an epitome of the progress and status of art in all Canada. A large Provincial Art Gallery is located in the Education Department bulldings. The Central Ontarlo School of Art, the Women's Art Association. the Toronto Art League, the Graphic Arts Club, the Society of Arts and Crafts, and other societies of similar aims and scope, also contribute to the influence of Toronto as an art centre. The Canadian Institute and the Women's Canadian Historical Society do much to preserve the fast vanishing tokens and records of our country's past, while the National Council of Women, the British Empire League, and other similar organizations, are keenly in touch with the sentiments of the present day.

Music.—Toronto has achieved a continental renown as a musical centre, and no city on the continent gives a more appreciative or more generous support to musical functions. It supports three excellent Conservatories, to which students come from all over Canada, and from many foreign countries. The Mendelssohn Choir of 220 singers under the leadership of Dr. A. S. Vogt, recently pald a triumphant visit to Buffalo and New York, whose musical critics say better choral singing was never heard in either city. The "Buffalo Commercial" said of the choir: "Perhaps London, Berlin or Paris may have, for a season now and then, a better equipped, mixed chorus than Dr. Vogt's, but the latter ranks, without doubt, to-day, among the world's best equipped and best trained choruses."

In addition to this premier organization, we have the National and Festival Choruses and the People's Choral Union, each of about 300 voices; the Schubert. Sherlock and Male Chorus Societies, and many others.

The establishment of the Toronto Conservatory Symphony Orchestra as a permanent organization marks a further step in advance in music. Summer Resort.—As a summer resort, from its accessibility and the advantages it affords in the matter of cleanliness and coolness, Toronto has long had much vogue with tourists during the summer months. Leading resorts are within easy distance of the city, and many find it convenient to make their headquarters here, using the city as a base from which to visit the other chief points of interest such as Muskoka; the Temagami Region, the famous Cobalt Silver Camp, only a night's ride in a Pullman away; the Parry Sound District; Kawartha Lakes and the Georgian Bay District. Passenger steamers ply from Toronto, touching at all the noted ports, including the beautiful stretches of the Bay of Quinte, the St. Lawrence River and the Thousand Islands.

There are many beautiful drives and health resorts in and around Toronto, the roads and driveways being well adapted to motoring and driving. Of the chief beauty spots mention may be made of the Queen's Park, containing the Parliament Buildings and the University of Toronto; the Rosedale Ravine; High Park in the west, and the Humber River: Munro and Victoria Parks in the east, and the Scarboro Bluffs, high clay peaks, skirting the shores of Lake Ontario.

The Island.—In front of the city is Toronto Island, where, within but a few minutes of the busiest streets, one may find quietness, fresh air, and all the delights of shady groves, sandy beaches and tumbling waves. The Island is the property of the city, and the lots are only leased to tenants. Many costly, beautiful homes may be found on its streets, as well as the shack of the summer visitor and the tent of the camper. Its park contains 389 acres, diversified with athletic grounds, flower beds and lagoons.

Sports.—Toronto holds a foremost place in sports, being represented in aquatics by the Argonaut Rowing Club, the Toronto Rowing Club, the Do Rowing Club, and the Toronto Canoe Club, which is the largest in the world. The Royal Canadian Yacht Club, the Queen City Yacht Club, and minor organizations provide accommodation for the devotees of sailing. In amateur branches of sport, lacrosse, baseball, golf (with five clubs having beautiful grounds and club houses), polo, cricket, bowling, tennis and football are popular.

CANADIAN NATIONAL EXHIBITION

The Canadian National Exhibition, which is held in Toronto annually, in August and September, is the most progressive institution in Canada.

In every way it justifies the title of "National," for among the exhibits will be found specimens of every article made in Canada, every animal, every agricultural product, and every product of the mine, forest, farm, factory, lake and In addition, the world is annually scoured for extra at-Considerable attention is also paid to Music and Fine Arts. For the last few years the most famous bands of the British Empire, such as the Coldstream Guards, the Black Watch, the Irish Guards, and the Second Life Guards, have been brought across the Atlantic, and have given two concerts daily on the grounds. In the Art Gallery are to be seen not only the works of all the leading Canadian artists, but also many valuable pictures loaned by His Majesty the King, the City of London, the Government of France, the City of Liverpool, South Kensington Museum, Victoria and Museum, Lord Strathcone, and other eminent people and famous corporations. One of the most attractive buildings is the Process Building, which has been erected this year, at a cost of nearly $100,000, and in which will be shown some thirty industries in active operation. This building is unique to the Canadian National Exhibition, not having its like in any other exhibition of the world. A new Main Building and one of the largest grand stands on the continent have been erected to replace buildings destroyed by fire.

BANKS.

Toronto possesses many beautiful banking houses. Amongst these may be mentioned the Bank of Montreal,

THE TRADERS BANK.

Yonge and Front Streets: the Traders Bank on Yonge, near King; the Dominion Bank, Yonge and King; the Bank of Commerce and the Bank of Nova Scotia, King Street west. Dozens of beautiful branch banks occupy prominent corners in the city.

Attention may be called to a contrast in the building policy of two prominent banks. The Bank of Montreal has a modern building of one storey on the valuable corner of Yonge and Front, while a little farther up the former street is the highest building in Canada, the new Afteen-

PARLIAMENT BUILDINGS.

Situate at the southern end of the Queen's Park are the new Pariiament buildings for the Province of Ontario. The view from the front of the building takes in the handsome University Avenue. Looking northward, Avenue Road, a continuation of University Avenue, is seen beyond the group of oaks that adorn the park, stretching as far as the new Upper Canada Coilege.

The principal frontage is 435 feet, with a depth of 260 feet, the main entrance forming a double letter E, and enclosing within its walls over 76,000 square feet. The centre facade measures 120 x 125 feet. The main entrance is composed of three noble arches 18 feet wide by 26 feet high. This entrance is flanked by the great towers with their domes of copper and wealth of stone design.

Magnificent views are obtained from these towers. The structure took six years to complete, at a cost of $1,250,000,

The Legislative Chamber is a lofty, well proportioned hall. The building contains many paintings of Patriots, Generals, and Statesmen, including W. Lyon Mackenzie, the first Mayor of the city in 1834, and afterwards the leader of the rebellion against the Family Compact, who designed the city arms and motto: "Industry, Intelligence and Integrity:" and Laura Secord, who, in the perilous time of the invasion of Canada by the forces of the United States, travelled all night through the forest and the enemy's lines to warn the British of an impending attack at Beaver Dam. Her warning resulted in a victory for the British and the capitulation of the foe.

UNIVERSITY BUILDINGS.

These buildings are at the left of Queen's Park. Here many men eminent throughout the continent received their education. The general outline of the main building approaches the form of a square, having an internal quadrangle of about 200 feet square, the north side of which is left open to the park. This building is one of the purest types of architecture in America. Convocation Hail, the Biological, Chemical, Medical and Science buildings in a beautiful setting of park land.

OBSERVATORY.

South of the University main building may be seen a small stone building with a dome. This is the temporary home of the Observatory and Meterological staff pending the erection of new buildings on the corner of Bioor and Davenport streets.

OSGOODE HALL,

Osgoode IIsii is located on Queen Street West. It was named after the late Hou. William Osgoode, Chief Justice of Upper Canada. This huliding contains the court rooms and offices for the Superior Courts of the Province. The building is of classic style and is of great beauty, the centre half being adorned with many portraits of judges. The grounds encircling the magnificent structure comprise about six acres.

NEW CITY HALL.

The new City Haii is situated at the head of Bay Street, which site was purchased at the cost of $250,000. Contracts for the erection of this building were let in 1887, and work commenced in 1889, i The building was completed at a cost of one and a half million dollars. It is about 300 feet square, and built of stone, and is of Romanesque architecture; it has a tower 300 feet high, with an illuminated clock 21 feet in diameter, and one of the largest in the world. The trimming of the exterior is richly carved; the interior is finished in marble. A stained glass window, opposite the Queen Street entrance, is 330 feet in area, and illustrates commerce and industry. A beginning has been made in the decoration of the building by mural paintings. It also contains the portraits of former Mayors.

NORMAL AND MODEL SCHOOLS.

On Church, Gerrard and Gould Streets, upon one of the most attractive spots in Toronto, are the buildings and grounds of the Normal and Model Schools. The huildings are situated upon the centre of an open square of about seven and one-half acres of ground. The Educational Museum, in connection with the schools, contains specimens of Canadlan Natural History, and a variety of maps, charts, dlagrams, philosophical apparatus and school furniture. It also contains an extensive collection of copies. Celebrated Dutch and Flemish oil paintings and engravings, and casts of some of the most noted groups of statuary, together with a collection of English, Canadian and classical busts. It is well worth a visit. Open daily, 9 to 5. Admission free,

MCMASTER HALL.

The Toronto Baptist Coilege on Bloor Street is five storeys in height, and is constructed of brown stone, faced with brick. It is considered one of the most complete buildings of its kind in America. It was presented to the Baptist denomination by the late Hon. Wm. McMaster, hence its name, McMaster Hall.

UPPER CANADA COLLEGE.

At the head of Avenue Road rise the stately buildings of Upper Canada College, a select school for boys, which institution, founded in 1829, for many years occupied a commodious row or brick buildings on King Street West, opposite the Government House, where now stand busy factories with hundreds of employees. The grounds surrounding the College are extensive and well laid out, and the interior equipment of the structures all that modern art and appliances can make it.

ST. MICHAEL'S CATHEDRAL,

On Bond Street, corner of Shuter, is a fine example of gothic architecture. The interior is beautifully decorated, and it contains many handsome windows, notably one imported from France many years ago, representing the Crucifixion, which is back of the main altar, and was made by a celebrated artist named Thevenot. It also contains a magnificent organ with a peculiarly rich tone, due to the age of the pedal pipes, which were a portion of the old organ now replaced. This church, like Catholic churches throughout the world, is open all day for prayer and meditation. It is the building on the left in picture.

METROPOLITAN CHURCH.

This fine church, of white brick, with cut stone dressings, stands in handsome grounds on Queen Street east, corner of Church. At the main front looking southward is a massive and stately tower. The organ, a recent gift of a wealthy lady, is one of the largest on the continent. The building on the right of the picture is the Metropolitan.

ST. JAMES' CATHEDRAL.

Is situated on an historic spot at the corner of King and Church Streets. It has a seating capacity of over 2,000, and its tower and spire, which reach to a height of 806 feet, may be seen for miles away on the lake. The tower contains a fine clock, with very inadequate dials, and a chime of eight bells.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

The residence of the Lieutenant-Governor is on king Street West, opposite the Church of St. Andrew, and is designed in the modern French style of architecure. Red brick is the material used in the walls, relieved with Ohio cut-stone dressings. It stands in beautiful grounds with well kept flower beds, but the growing business portion of the city is rapidly closing it in, and a few years only will clapse before its removal will be necessary.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

ALLAN GARDENS.

These Gardens are located at the corner of Carlton and Sherbourne Streets and occupy a space of ten acres, all of which are highly cuitivated. They were donated to the city by the Hon. G. W. Allan, and were opened to the public on the occasion of the visit of His Royai Highness the Prince of Wales in 1860. A handsome fountain 25 feet high is another attraction at this place of public resort, the cost of which was $2,000.

EXHIBITION GROUNDS.

The Exhibition Grounds occupy a model site on the Garrison reserve, overlooking Lake Ontario. The grounds are very extensive and the buildings are commodious, of pleasing designs and perfectly equipped for the purposes for which they were erected. Here is held each year Canada's greatest Exposition, and thousands of people from all parts of the Dominion and the United States pay a visit annually to this, Canada's biggest agricultural and industrial show.

COLBORNE LODGE.

Fronting the lake's edge about four miles westward from Yonge Street's stream of trade, stands Colborne Lodge, an unpretentious stuccoed dwelling with a winding path leading up from the shore.

J. G. HOWARD

Not the oldest of Toronto's buildings-nor in large historic affairs the most noted-is Colborne Lodge. But the essential human interest of its story cannot fail in an appeal well nigh universal; and from Torontonians no one of their city's landmarks evokes more of affectionate regard than the home of the late John George Howard, whose long life of service to his fellows had its climax in the giving to the city of the magnificent parklands surrounding his home. His gift forms a large part of the 375 or so acres of Howard Park-still commonly known as High Park--Toronto's most beautiful pleasure ground.

Mr. Howard was a descendent from warlike Lord William Howard —the "belted Will" of Sir Walter Scott—and this no less sturdy hero was born twenty-one miles north of London somewhat more than one hundred years ago. At fifteen he went to sea as a boy before the mast, but after two years' experience abandoned nautical life—chiefly because he was chronically troubled by that non-heroic affliction, mal de mer. From that time on he devoted his attention to civil engineering and architecture. In 1832 he and his young wife resolved to emigrate to Canada. Mr. Howard was soon appointed drawing-master at Upper Canada College, at a salary of £100 per nnnnm. Gradually his professional ability gained him recognition, and he became City Engineer. It was in 1875 that Mr. Howard erected, at the summit of a picturesque ravine near his house, a monument protected by an iron railing of curious and massive design. Upon a brass plate are to be read these rugged lines:

"St. Paul's Cathedral for 160 years I did enclose-Oh! stranger look with reverence; Man! Man! unstable man! It was thou who caused the severance."

COLBORNE LODGE.

and shipped for Toronto in 1834. But the good ship "Delta," to which it was entrusted, became a wreck-and, not unnnturally, the fence remained under water. However, a part of it was rescued and later brought to Toronto by Mr. Howard. Here it was finally set on the stone curb where it has remained since November 18th, 1875. Walking from the house along willow-fringed path, the sight-seer comes upon a unique and imposing memorial. A cairn of unhewn granite boulders supports a double marble pedestal, terminating with a Maltese Cross. A marble tablet bears this simple inscription, between the lines of which one may read the sadness of separation, after a half century of heart union, and the pathos of fifteen years' lonely waiting before he was laid to rest by the side of her whom he loved.

Sacred to the Memory of John George Howard and Jemima Frances his wife.

Jemima Frances, born 18th Aug., 1802, died 1st Sept., 1877.

Aged 75 years and 14 days.

John George, Born 27th July, 1803, died February 3rd, 1890, Aged 86 years 6 months and 7 days. How to reach Colborne Lodge! By taking a King Street car going West, the traveller may transfer to the Queen Street Line, and proceed about half a mile farther along the Lake margin to the gate—either by foot or by the Suburban Car Line that starts from Sunnyside.

These notes are from "The story of Colborne Lodge," published by Messrs. Ryrie Bros., Diamond Hall, Toronto.

MONUMENTS.

Ridgeway Monument at west end of Parliament Buildings, erected in memory of the soldiers who fell repelling the Fenian invaders in 1866 at Ridgeway.

Riel Rebellion Monument at south-east end of Purliament Buildings, in memory of those who fell in subduing the North-West Rebellion.

The following five monuments are in front of the Parliament Buildings:

Lieut.-Col. John Graves Simcoe, the first Governor of Upper Canada, who selected Toronto as the place best suited for his capital.

Sir John A. Macdonald, Premier of Canada for many years, and one of the framers of the Act of Confederation of the Provinces of the Dominion.

Sir Oliver Mowat, for many years Premier and Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.

George Brown, Editor, Statesman, and one of the Fathers of Confederation.

Queen Victoria, handsome bronze, representing Her late Majesty seated, with sceptre and orb.

Near this monument may be seen two old guns taken from the Russians at Sebastopol in 1854, and presented to the City of Toronto by Her Majesty.

Dr. Ryerson, the founder of Onturio's Educational System. In front of Normal School, Gould Street.

Fort Rouille, at Exhibition Park, fully described elsewhere,

Burns. A fine monument of the Scottish poet. In Allan Gardens, corner Sherbourne and Carlton Streets.

Bust of a Veteran. Memorial Park, Portland Street.

Howard's Tomb, at High Park. Fully described under heading Colborne Lodge.

THE OLD FORT.

On the water's edge at the foot of what is now Bathurst Street may be found the Old Fort, built in 1793 by Governor Simcoe, a spot of tragic interest to all Canadians. The site was chosen because of its command of the entrance to the bay, and its natura! advantages to ald in its fortification. It was bounded by the waters of the bay on the south, while the Garrison Creek raylne skirted it on the north and east. This creek, now entirely gone, at one time measured eighteen feet across, and within the writer's memory was a famous swimming place for the boys.

In 1813 the American army under Dearborn set sail from Sackett's Harbor for Little York, with twenty-three vessels mounting eighty guns and three thousand five hundred men. The attacking party was led by General Pike and landed at Humber Bay. As General Sheaffe, in command at York, had hut six or seven hundred men, he decided to withdraw towards Kingston, and sent a small force to check the enemy's advance and give time to evacuate the fort. force disputed every foot of the way to the fort, where as the Americans entered, a terrific explosion occurred, the magazine having heen fired by the defeated troops. General Pike was killed by a heavy stone, and dreadful havoc wrought among his troops, no less than 220 heing killed. The Invaders stayed only long enough to plunder and destroy much property, and to hurn the library and other public buildings, including the Parliament Building, from whence they stole the flag, the speaker's wig, and the mace. These relics are now in the Annapolis Military Museum.

A second descent was made on the fort on 31st July of the same year. But little remained of the fort after this hut it was re-huilt in 1816 according to Simcoe's original plan. The two block houses with their projecting upper stories and loop-holed sides are the most interesting buildings of the fort. The magazine near the western entrance bears on the keystone of the door the inscription "34 G. R. III." This would be 1794, as George the Third began his reign in 1760. While the whole fort is sadly in need of protection and careit is to-day unique as an example of a stockaded fort of the period of Indian warfare.

CURES SEASICKNESS IN EVERY CASE

There is no treatment for seasickness which has ever been guaranteed absolutely to take effect in every single case except Mothersill's Seasick Remedy. No matter how weak your stomach or system may be, this remedy will produce absolutely

No Bad After Effects

The usual fear people hav of taking any seasick treatment arises from the suspicion that it contains something injurious to the system. You can feel absolutely certain that Mothersill's Seasick Remedy contains no harmful drugs of any kind, and what is still better, contains absolutely no chloral, opium, morphine or cocaine. The weakest stomach can easily assimilate and retain it.

Mothersili's Seasick Remedy

has never been known to fail in a single case. That is one reason why we guarantee it so strongly. Of course the directions for taking it must be strictly followed. The effect of the remedy lasts for several days, thus making your trip a continued pleasure. Mothersill's Seasick Remedy will cure not only seasickness, but also carsiokness, and any names caused by motion, climbing, etc. Three doses are generally enough for a $,000 mile journey.

TRY IT ON YOUR NEXT TRIP

It will cost you but 50c or $1.00 and you will get back many times more than that in happiness and comfort. No matter whether you go by boat, or hy train, or what causes your names, take one or two capsules according to the directions before starting. You will have no symptoms of seasickness whatever, no matter how had the pitching of the boat, or the swaying of the train, or other motion

Your trip will be a pleasure instead of a burden.

Mothersil's Seasick Remedy is for sale in 50c and $1.00 packages at all first-class drug stores, and by the Canada Railway News Company, Toronto. Manufactured only for the
