And Now We Come to

The Globe has made labored efforts to prove that the Ontario farmer will be benefited by reciprocity, but has not been able to "come back" and explain why American sheep, beans, hogs, bacon and eggs and other products are capable of being sold in Canada, even after payment of the duty.

This may be a poser to The Globe and its reciprocity friends, but they say they are certainly on safe ground when they point out the profits that will come to the Canadian farmer by the sale of his wheat in the States.

This is expected to appeal strongly to the Northwest farmer, who this year hopes to raise a crop of 200,000,000 bushels, and the Minneapolis market is pointed out as a vastly better one than that of the old country.

Let us consider this statement of The Globe and its political friends.

Alexander Butler, grain and flour dealer of the Traders' Bank, was asked by The World to express his opinion as to this contention, and here it is:

"Just now," said Mr. Butler, "there is about 5 cents a bushel difference between the Minneapolis price of wheat and Winnipeg, the Minneapolis being the higher. It takes about 2 cents a bushel to send wheat to Minneapolis, so there would apparently be a further profit of 3 cents to the Canadian farmer if reciprocity passed."

"But," continued Mr. Butler, "there are other questions that arise. The States has now reached a point where the surplus for export is very small. Last year it was only 87,000,000 bushels, either as wheat or as flour. With a small surplus, the American grain manipulator can run the price of wheat up when he wants to boost the price of flour, as he is protected by a duty of 25 cents a bushel. Suppose the Canadian crop of 200,000,000 bushels or more was thrown open to the American market, as it would be by reciprocity, the Minneapolis and Chicago grain trusts would not be able to juggle with prices as they do now, and you would find that wheat in Winnipeg would be just lower by the railway charges between there and Minneapolis."

"Besides, Liverpool, the world's open market, would continue to make the price for the Canadian wheat, as it does now, or what would be done with the surplus?"

The World thinks there is good logic in Mr. Butler's statement, but we wish to add a little to it to show the Canadian farmer what he would lose if he sent a large part of his wheat to Minneapolis to be ground, instead of having it made into flour by Canadian mills.

Every farmer has been clamoring for years for a larger supply of wheat offal, bran and shorts. Live stock fed on the farm are profitable in themselves and valuable to the farm's fertility. A shortage of feed in Canada has kept down the supply of cattle and hogs, but The Globe would further reduce this by sending Canadian wheat to feed the American farmers' live stock.

Then again, The Globe would prefer to see the American mills kept up to the high notch of production rather than have the domestic mills kept busy with Canadian labor. The Maple Leaf Milling Company have just completed one of the finest flour mills on this continent at Port Colborne, and the larger area of wheat production in the Canadian west will demand many more such mills.

Canada has established a wide reputation for its flour, which The World believes in maintaining. Reciprocity will destroy this name, will not raise the price of wheat to the Canadian farmer, but will give Americans work which should be kept for Canadians and enable the American farmer to raise live stock which should be raised in Canada.

D. B. Wood, Hamilton, Has Change of Heart.

D. B. Wood, manager of the Wood Milling Company of Hamilton, and a director of the Dominion Flour Mills Company, in an interview with a Globe reporter, published in The Globe on Saturday, Aug. 12, said:

"I certainly am in favor of reciprocity, and will do what I can to secure it. * * * I hope to see it adopted. All the produce of the farm will increase in value, and every business in every town and city in this country will reap a corresponding benefit because of the increased prosperity that will result from reciprocity in natural products."

In February of this year, Mr. Wood was a member of a deputation representing the Dominion Millers' Association, that waited upon Messrs. Fielding and Paterson at Ottawa.

Mr. Wood, in the course of his address to the ministers, said: "Our object in coming before you is to show you how harmful the proposed trade agreement with the United States will be to the milling business."

"Can it be possible that you will legislate to close the Canadian mills, to transfer Canadian wheat to American mills, there to be ground, and a foreign market supplied by them, while we sit idly looking on? The effect of such an agreement will undoubtedly be to ruin and close many of the Canadian flour mills, and build up the milling industry in the United States. Surely it is not necessary for the good of Canada that the milling business be sacrificed."

It is possible that D. B. Wood, manager of the Wood Milling Company of Hamilton, quoted by The Globe on Saturday, and D. B. Wood, president of the Dominion Millers' Association, are one and the same man? We are credibly informed that these two Woods are only one Wood, and that Wood, D. B. Wood. If Mr. Wood believed what he said in February when he saw Messrs. Fielding and Paterson, how can Mr. Wood express opinions similar to those that are quoted by The Globe of Saturday?

He must have some strong reasons for his change of opinion. There are some who would suggest that the grain commission, which is created under the new act, has something to do with this change of opinion. We know nothing of this, but we should like to hear, not what Mr. Wood thinks now, nor what he thought six months ago, but why he has changed his mind.

HYDRO GETS CONTRACT.

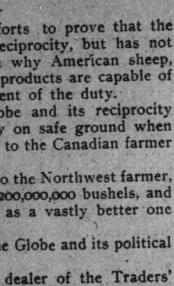

The hydro-electric won out against the two competitors, Toronto Electric Light Co. and the Interurban Electric Co. for the contract to supply North Toronto Town with power. Tenders were considered Saturday night, and the award will be made by the council on Tuesday next.

To have the franchise to the town it was necessary to get a tender for power in bulk, and this has now been arranged. The town has its own installation of poles and wires and will re-sell to the ratepayers.

BRANTFORD LIBS. FAIL TO SELECT A CANDIDATE

Delegates Are at Odds About Choice of Lloyd Harris, Who Reiterates His Opposition to Reciprocity and Declines to Receive Nomination.

CONSERVATIVES HOPE TO CAPTURE THE SEAT

BRANTFORD, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The hopes of the Liberal party to capture the riding of Brantford were shattered here on Saturday, when, after a fighting convention of several hours' duration, an adjournment for one week was taken without a candidate having been named.

The sitting member, who openly opposed the reciprocity pact, refused absolutely to again become a candidate, his refusal being based on the split existing in the party ranks over the reciprocity question.

Altho Mr. Harris was tendered the nomination finally after a warm debate, during which he was called upon to explain his attitude, there was such a note of dissatisfaction noticeable after this declaration that he was opposed on principle to the party taking over the reciprocity question.

RIOTERS FOUGHT POLICE WITH THEIR OWN BATONS

RIOTERS FOUGHT POLICE WITH THEIR OWN BATONS

Serious Turn to Liverpool Shipping Strike—One Policeman Killed and Many Injured—Rioters Barricaded Themselves in Houses and Rained Down Missiles.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—A serious rioting growing out of the strike which is in progress here occurred this afternoon. One policeman was killed, by being struck on the head with a baton, and many persons were injured.

An altercation between a policeman and strikers during a transport workers' demonstration at St. George's Hall (backing them with their own batons) in a general melee. Then, after this rioter had been put down and the strikers scattered, they gathered again in the Islington quarter and resumed their attacks upon the minions of the law and with serious results.

One hundred thousand men were gathered in groups about St. George's Hall listening to speeches by labor agitators, and the scenes of violence following the attack upon a policeman necessitated the calling out of the police reserves. When they arrived one party of fifteen policemen were surrounded and disarmed, the rioters attacking several policemen and wounding them in the fight. The commanding officer of the police was dangerously wounded.

So great was the disorder that the riot act was read and the troops were called out to assist the police. The mob fought desperately with sticks and stones among the houses, and the rioters gradually, however, by the combined efforts of the troops and police, were cleared away. Many policemen and rioters were injured in the hand-to-hand fighting. The rioters have threatened to attack the newspaper offices, which are closely guarded. After the fight St. George's Hall was taken to a hospital in a precarious condition. It is rumored that some houses were set on fire during the disturbances.

The outbreak, it is alleged, was largely due to the rioters' resentment of indirect conduct on the part of members of the police force brought here from Birmingham to assist in the crowd.

Driven from the centre of the city the crowd sullenly repaired to the Islington quarter, one of the lowest and roughest in Liverpool. Here the rioters were bottled in the narrow streets, for the desperate rioters barricaded themselves in the houses and rained down bricks, stones and chairs from the roofs upon their heads.

While the details as to casualties still are incomplete, Constable Cookson was killed by a blow on the head, and Superintendent of Police Bolton was taken to a hospital in a precarious condition. It is rumored that some houses were set on fire during the disturbances.

MET THEIR DEATH BEFORE LOCKED DOORS

New Light on Hamilton Asylum Fire Proves That the Probe Should Be Re-opened—Juror's Action Upheld by The World Man's Investigation.

HAMILTON, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—On Thursday night, August 10, at the final session of the inquest into the deaths of the eight victims of the terrible fire at the Hamilton Asylum for the insane in the early morning of August 2, one of the jurors, Adam Cook, was denounced by the provincial government's prosecutor and by the coroner for the course he, the juror, had adopted in his desire to secure the fullest information possible in regard to the deaths of the inmates, who lost their lives in the holocaust.

The juror's action consisted in the preparation of a list of questions, all of which The World has learned were perfectly relevant to the subject of the inquest and the presentation of the questions, thru the foreman of the jury, to Geo. Lynch Staunton, K.C., the prosecutor, with the request that they be put to the witnesses who had been summoned to testify at the inquest. The other jurors were also provided with typewritten copies of the questions. In addition to preparing the questions, the juror had the further temerity to have one Robt. Turner, a former employee of the asylum, removed for the purpose of testifying as to the observance of the rules in regard to fire drill and other matters, while Turner was employed at the institution.

For these actions Mr. Cook was told by Mr. Staunton in unmeasured terms that he had violated his oath as a juror, and that there was a law to reach a man under such circumstances. Coroner McNichol also saw fit to accuse Mr. Cook of being prejudiced, when he learned after peremptorily demanding to know who had prepared the questions, that the juror had done so. No further evidence was produced after this episode, and the jury shortly brought in a verdict that they were under the impression that the eight inmates met their deaths by suffocation, but that they, the jury, was unable to determine the cause of the fire.

The World is in possession of a copy of the questions which Mr. Staunton was requested to ask the witnesses. Each question was of these questions was perfectly proper, and Mr. Cook was not only justified in preparing them, but in his capacity as a juror would have been bound to inquire into the circumstances of the deaths of these eight men, if he had not taken steps to see that the information called for by these questions was supplied to the jury. MONDAY MORNING, AUG. 14, 1911

MUST NOT RILE UNCLE SAM.

On Friday last The World published a quotation from a letter to The Boston Transcript, written by Mr. E. W. Thomson, a former member of the staff of The Globe, and understood to be closely in touch with the Dominion Government. Naturally it was strongly in favor of reciprocity, which was represented to have been granted by the United States, "very much of good will, to fifty years of Canadian demand for the very thing now conceded." But the point of most serious import to Canadian was the assumption prominent throughout the quotation that Canada had no alternative but to ratify the "neighborly offer" so "generous to Canada." Mr. Thomson asked whether "any reasonable man can believe that if the Tories won the coming election they would venture to respond by such a step which they pretend to seek means to deliver, not merely to your magnanimous president, his cabinet, his party, but the great parties of the republic." Answering his own question, he said, "No. They are not precisely fools enough to risk the turmoil which a justly embittered United States press would speedily create."

Reciprocity organs are continually representing to the electors that the agreement leaves Canada absolutely free to restore her tariff as and when she pleases. Theoretically this is so, but practically the Dominion would not have the same absolute freedom, which it now possesses to deal with its tariff with regard solely to Canadian interests. As Mr. Thomson so plainly asserts the Canadian people dare not reject the reciprocity agreement because of the turmoil which would be raised by a justly embittered United States press how could they venture to abrogate it after it had come into operation and developed the community of interest, which must be its consequence? But apart from that what patriotic Canadian can accept without humiliation the position that whatever the United States proposes and considers a "generous offer" must be accepted, if not with gratitude, then from fear of the "powerful and face-slapping United States press?" And if this thing is done in the green tree that will not happen in the dry? Every elector with an atom of national pride should resent and repudiate the attribution of subservience which Mr. Thomson fastens on the Dominion and by his vote make it clear once and for all that Canadian independence is neither to be bought nor sacrificed.

CANADA AND THE U. S. SYSTEM.

According to the Dominion Government organs reciprocity will, in some miraculous manner, destroy the power of the United States trusts. The electors are invited to believe that the these huge trusts were erected and have attained their present dimensions under the absolute free trade that prevails among the states of the republic, the entrance of Canada into the sacred circle will at once accomplish what its government has vainly attempted to do. It was not without good reason that President Taft offered reciprocity in manufactured as well as natural products while seeking to maintain a high tariff against all other nations. He knew very well that absolute free trade between two countries with a protective system must inevitably lead to identification of their markets and to complete commercial union. Failing in that because the professedly free trade government of Canada dare not open the country to the dumping tactics of the United States manufacturers he took what that government thought they could manage to carry—reciprocity in natural products and to a very limited extent in manufactured goods.

It is matter of common knowledge that United States trusts control the markets for the principal classes of natural products just as they do in necessary manufactures. The western farmers devote themselves heavily if they imagine that the grain manipulators will permit them to take advantage of the nominal prices caused by speculative movements. All that can happen is the inclusion of Canada within the sphere of their operations. With an independent, self-contained market Canada is protected in no inconsiderable measure from their predatory raids. That protection once removed the latter case of the Canadian farmer will be worse than his first. What the grain growers of the Canadian west need is a material reduction in the cost of inland transportation and the encouragement of those processes which will liberate them from speculative influence. This cannot be done if Canada becomes an integral part of the United States market, and subject to that great "system" which is every day increasing its hold over every branch of industry, transportation and finance. Never was it more imperatively required that the Dominion should maintain its complete commercial independence in every department of production.

TORONTO AND THE BLACK HAND.

We have previously drawn attention to the almost totally different character of the northern and southern Italians, and it is more than ever necessary, when prejudice is so apt to be roused, to distinguish between people who practically belong to different races, and give the peaceable, quiet, hard-working and thrifty northern Italian his due.

The distinction is a vital one. When people are industrious and disposed to earn their own living by the work of their hands, there is little tendency and small incentive to Camorristic crime. The inducements of a too genial climate to idleness and a parasitic life appear to have had a degenerate influence upon the southern Italian, so that the Neapolitan has become the type, from the Canadian point of view, of the undesirable citizen. "If any man will not work, neither let him eat," is the standard of our civilization. "As I must eat, upon whom shall I prey?" is the problem of the degenerate.

The Camorra arose out of the social conditions which existed when the Neapolitan prisons were filled, as it is said, with the victims of Bourbon misrule and oppression, and its first object was the protection of prisoners. It became known about 1820, and about 1830 was carried into the city by released prisoners, who worked the streets in gangs for purposes of robbery, smuggling and blackmail were added to the resources of these social bandits and the brothers were laid under contribution. Previous to 1848 the Camorra was non-political. In the early sixties it dominated the elections, and since then repressive measures have been carried on until the present attempt at extirpation has failed.

It goes without saying that Canada cannot tolerate for a moment anything of the nature of the Camorra or Black Hand League. Deadly weeds of this nature cannot be permitted to establish themselves in our newly-founded borders. Should they gain political strength the danger to the social structure would be incalculable. We have to protect not only our own citizens, not only those Italians who do not desire to have any association with such vicious developments, but also the members of such organizations from becoming the victims of their own criminal system. We have entire confidence that our authorities will be able to deal adequately with the evil, and stamp it out.

Those Italians who already have been under the dread of this terroristic gang should realize that they may depend upon our police for perfect safety if they give warning of threats used against them, or any criminal action attempted. It is in silence that their danger consists. It is silence alone that makes the Camorra powerful. There is only one authority in Canada to whom our Italian citizens, of any class, have to say "Maestri, volente niente" and that is the government, municipal, provincial, federal, which they have themselves assisted to install.

THE KING'S PRIZE MAN.

Private William Clifford has gained for himself, and for Toronto a unique honor. It is true that the blue ribbon of the rifle ranges has twice before come to Canada, once in 1893 by Sergt. Hayhurst of Hamilton, and once in 1904 by Private Perry of Vancouver, but Private Clifford is Canadian born, a Toronto boy, while his predecessors were only Canadians by adoption.

Canadians will think none the less of the two earlier champions if they cherish a few degrees more of warmth for their born countrymen on this felicitous occasion. So far as Toronto is concerned we are too poor as a city apparently to do all that Hamilton and Vancouver did for their representatives when the Queen's and the King's prizes were brought to Canada before. Our country neighbors will certainly make remarks upon the incident, and we cannot deny that they may be justified. However, the people feel differently from the city council and Private Clifford will find his heartiest welcome at the hands of the people to whom he has brought honor and distinction and who will be glad to acknowledge the prominence conferred upon Toronto and upon Canada generally by Private Clifford's victory. The King himself took pains to congratulate him, and set an example which may well be emulated in Private Clifford's native burgh.

the reception to be given Private Clifford, and to him and to Mrs. Clifford the World, on behalf of its readers, extends the heartiest congratulations.

Laurier and larger trusts. Laurier and Taft and larger markets for the United States farmer.

Reject reciprocity before the republic gets a strangle-hold on the Dominion.

Reciprocity by agreement becomes an obligation which Canada cannot repudiate without risk. To remain free is easier than to remain freedom.

Stand by the Union Jack—the flag of the clustered crosses and the only flag that flies over a union of free self-governing nations. Under its folds national patriotism and imperial loyalty are for ever reconciled.

"It is always well to get rid of unnecessary burdens." The Globe informs its readers, and then it asks them to carry Hugh Guthrie, Duncan McNish and other "hand-picked" specimens, in addition to the present load.

MET THEIR DEATH BEHIND LOCKED DOORS

The inquest that the lights were all on the one line or switch. The questions which produced this evidence were not asked by the crown representative on his own initiative, and he apparently had no intention of asking any such questions.

More light on the inquest. The World has undertaken a little investigation of its own, and the circumstances surrounding this and other cases have been discovered which might easily have been obtained by the crown prosecutor in this case, and which would amply indicate that he did not exercise zeal in the public interest that he professed in the conduct of this inquest.

Asylum attendants at the first session of the inquest swore that immediately after the alarm was sounded at 11:05 o'clock on the morning of the fire, all the doors to the patients' rooms were opened. In the face of this evidence E. J. Fitzgerald testified on last Thursday night that the door to the room he entered an hour or more after the fire was discovered was not open, and that four of the occupants of this room, one of whom was immediately south of this room was also closed, while the fire was burning, and this is the room in which five men were burned to death. How many other doors were closed it is apparently impossible to find, for no one besides asylum attendants and employees had any opportunity, so far as it is known, to observe any others on account of the fierce fire, which raged around the rooms on the floor.

Swore Doors Were Opened. The importance of the information that the doors to these two rooms were closed, thereby cutting off all means of escape for the occupants, lies in the fact that these rooms were the first and second immediately south of the room of the superintendent. Further testimony that he had opened all doors on this corridor. These two rooms were also the last of the ward, and the superintendent had no other rooms to open, and he had no time in which to make their escape, and yet, an hour after the fire was started, the superintendent testified that he had opened all doors on this corridor. This is a most curious circumstance, and it is difficult to see how it could have happened.

And why did this man try the window if he could have opened the door? The World does not know, but it is as to these doors being closed from two sources. Another bit of evidence which The World has obtained positively that he had opened all doors on this corridor. These two rooms were also the last of the ward, and the superintendent had no other rooms to open, and he had no time in which to make their escape, and yet, an hour after the fire was started, the superintendent testified that he had opened all doors on this corridor. This is a most curious circumstance, and it is difficult to see how it could have happened.

Some photographs in The World's possession of the scene after the fire also disclose evidence at variance with the testimony of the asylum attendants. One of these pictures plainly shows that a door to one of the rooms in hall D, where the eight men lost their lives was knocked from its hinges after the fire, which would seem to have been unnecessary if the door had been unlocked, as was sworn by one of the asylum employees. This particular photograph also clearly shows the woodwork surrounding the door on the interior of the room to be badly burnt, while the woodwork on the outside of the door, only two or three inches from the burnt portion, is apparently not burnt. This would seem to reasonably lead to the conclusion that the woodwork on the outside of the door was protected from the fire by the door being closed.

Another photograph shows in the greatest destruction by the fire was apparently in the middle portion of hall C, a considerable distance from the street. This photograph also clearly shows the woodwork surrounding the door on the interior of the room to be badly burnt, while the woodwork on the outside of the door, only two or three inches from the burnt portion, is apparently not burnt. This would seem to reasonably lead to the conclusion that the woodwork on the outside of the door was protected from the fire by the door being closed.

Pastor Russell's Sermon

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Aug. 13.—Pastor Russell of Brooklyn Tabernacle took for his text to-day the words of Jesus, "Let not your heart be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me" (John xiv. 1).

As usual there was a good crowd and closest attention. He said in part: "The world does well to keep up a cheerful outward demeanor. Nevertheless, there is a great force and weight to St. Paul's words to the effect that the whole creation is groaning and travailing in pain together waiting for 'Messiah's kingdom and its long promised blessings, to lift the curse of sin and death and to restore to mankind the smile of the Father's favor. Reason sometimes its owner is blinded by God—that there is merely a blind god of nature, and evolutionary force, nevertheless, deep down in the heart, men believe that there is a God. Almost unconsciously the mind attributes to Him wisdom, justice and mercy—but little of love or sympathy with humanity and its frailties."

This very intuitive knowledge of God is closely associated with many human troubles. As the root of nearly every trouble, perhaps below the surface, is sin—disobedience to recognized principles of righteousness, and a fearful looking for of retribution, and an uncertainty as to what it will mean. This is true not only of many Christians, but frequently true of others who have made no profession.

This is a most curious circumstance, and it is difficult to see how it could have happened. Another photograph shows in the greatest destruction by the fire was apparently in the middle portion of hall C, a considerable distance from the street. This photograph also clearly shows the woodwork surrounding the door on the interior of the room to be badly burnt, while the woodwork on the outside of the door, only two or three inches from the burnt portion, is apparently not burnt. This would seem to reasonably lead to the conclusion that the woodwork on the outside of the door was protected from the fire by the door being closed.

ourselves, yet have sympathy, we are pained for others. In our troubles we, sooner or later, realize the lack of human sympathy on, at least, its impotency. Feeling our helplessness we instinctively look to our Creator. In the hour of trouble remarkably few doubt the existence of God. But as we look to the Almighty for protection and consider divine justice and shortcomings, the heart of man says, "Surely many have this belief, but how can we have sympathy with the Omnipotent One who would have interest in our care for such a worm of the earth? Surely many have this belief, but how can we have sympathy with the Omnipotent One who would have interest in our care for such a worm of the earth? Surely many have this belief, but how can we have sympathy with the Omnipotent One who would have interest in our care for such a worm of the earth?"

The Father knows your heart troubles. He wishes the burden to be there until you appreciate its weight—until you will be ready to cry to Him that you are sinless, weary, troubled, and above all, hungering and thirsting for righteousness and desiring reconciliation to Him—the smile of His face. He has not waited for all of this to take place before making provision for you. He has anticipated your needs, your longings, your necessities. He has already provided the Redeemer who is mighty to save. If divine justice is exacting to the last degree, believe that divine love, as represented in the Redeemer sent of God, is equally exacting, boundless, sufficient for all of your needs. If you will accept this, the divine arrangement, thru Christ, your heart troubles may be at an end. You will still have troubles in the flesh, weakness, aches and pains, but your heart will be joyful, happy, in fellowship divine.

Ab! says one, I have heard of God and of Jesus and of the invitation to reconciliation, but I know not how to proceed. How can I gain a hearing in my case to obtain the blessed assurance, "Thy sins are forgiven thee; go and sin no more." Which church shall I join? To what priest shall I confess?

You need not come to any earthly priest, but as the Master said, go to the Father in secret. Do not in your own name or merit, but in the merit of the Redeemer. Go scripturally, claiming Him as your Advocate and appealing His name for forgiveness provided by divine mercy—to cover all the sins of the past and provide for all the imperfectly unwillingly yours for the future, even to the end of the way.

Coming thus, Jesus becomes your Priest, your Advocate. "We have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous" (1. John ii. 1). Let us "come with courage to the throne of grace that we may obtain mercy and find grace to help in every time of need" (Hebrews iv. 16).

We cannot give this message to the world at present, even as Jesus could not do so. It is better for the world that their hearts should now be troubled to a considerable degree. Those to the most dangerous position, perhaps, are the ones who have no troubles and, therefore, no incentive to seek the great Burden-Bearer and fellowship with the Father thru Him. Jesus said of such, "Woe unto you that are rich for ye have received consideration. Woe unto you that are full for ye shall hunger. Woe unto you that laugh now for ye shall mourn and weep. Woe unto you when all men shall speak well of you for so did their fathers to the face prophets" (Luke vi. 24-26). These must await the inauguration of the glorious kingdom of the Messiah soon to be ushered in, when "every blind eye shall be opened and every deaf ear unstopped."

In a few years Crescent Point will be the fashionable residential district in the western part of the city. Several new houses are under construction and a number of improvements are being made on the property. The prices are so reasonable and terms so easy that many can own one of these lots. RIOTERS FOUGHT POLICE WITH THEIR OWN BATONS maintaining order. Tom Mann, who was one of the leaders of the demonstration, had lodged a formal protest with the chief constable against what he describes as a brutal attack by Birmingham constables on one of the strikers.

Fierce fighting continued in the Islington quarter until nearly midnight. In Chatham-street the rioters erected barricades and started fires to impede the mounted police.

The Riot Act was read for a second time and troops were called out with the situation. A military officer was wounded and much property wrecked.

During the course of the day 20 policemen and 60 civilians were injured, many of them seriously. The temper of the rioters is shown by the fact that they even attacked the ambulance surgeons and the firemen who were called out to extinguish incendiary fires.

Later accounts say the rioting continued long after midnight, that some revolver shots were fired and that a number of taverns and shops were looted. It is also reported as being nearly 200, including two soldiers. Most of the cases treated were of scalp wounds. Ninety arrests were made.

LIVERPOOL, Aug. 14.—At 2 o'clock this morning a mob set fire to two houses at Gerrard-street, and stood about and cheered while they were burning.

Together 40 policemen were treated for injuries received.
Disorders at Glasgow.
LONDON, Aug. 13.—While the strike troubles in London are ended, the situation in the provinces is rapidly growing worse. In addition to rioting taking place at Liverpool, there were serious disorders at Glasgow, where the street-car service had to be completely closed down. Thirty thousand workmen met on Glasgow Green and the strike leaders threatened drastic measures if the non-union men continued to take the place of strikers.

At Glasgow, the police were wild scenes of disorder, in which there was stone-throwing on the part of the workmen and baton charges by the police. Much damage was done to street-cars by the strikers before the service was suspended. Cars were pulled off the tracks and their trolleys removed, windows were smashed and timbers were laid on the rails or strikers sat on the tracks in a body in order to impede the progress of the cars. Many persons were injured. The transport and railway workers of Manchester and Bedford have resolved to strike to-morrow evening if the Liverpool and Manchester disputes are not settled in the meantime.

A labor demonstration was held in Trafalgar Square here this afternoon to welcome a party of laborite members of the French Chamber of Deputies. The speakers included Ramsay MacDonald, Ben Tillett and James K. Hardie, all of whom emphasized the importance of the triumph of the workmen in the London strike and the uniting of international workers who would have a good deal to say in international politics. Mr. Tillett said that before long the railway workers would join the transport federation and then if soldiers were summoned to the scene of a strike they would have to walk in order to get there.

FELL FROM THE CAR.
MONTREAL, Aug. 13.—The third fatal switchback accident to occur at local pleasure park this summer, took place last night on the scenic railway at Dominion Park, when E. J. Long, 32 years of age, a blind salesman in the Royal Saskatchewan Company, was thrown from his seat at the back of the car on a steep incline and was instantly killed.

NIPISSING WILL VOTE AGAINST RECIPROCITY

George Gordon, M. P., Again the Conservative Standard-Bearer—Enthusiastic Convention.

NORTH BAY, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—The Conservative convention here yesterday marked an epoch in the history of the party in the district of Nipissing. A full representation of delegates was present from every part of this immense riding, which stretches from Algonquin Park to Hudson Bay, and is one hundred and twenty-five miles wide. The remarkable feature of the convention was the great enthusiasm and confidence manifested, and unanimity of all delegates on the choice as a candidate of George Gordon, who represented the riding in parliament just dissolved. Court house was packed to the doors by four hundred delegates, who cheered the candidates until the building rocked, not forgetting Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Hon. Frank Cochrane, Harry Morel, M.L.A.; R. T. Shillington, M.L.A., and A. A. Aubin, M.L.A.

Mr. Gordon, who made a stirring speech on the issues of the day, cited Sir William Van Horne as saying that James J. Hill, the great American railway magnate, had sixteen railways with noses resting on the forty-ninth parallel, waiting reciprocity, ready to go down grain south instead of east and west as at present. North Bay's prosperity rests largely with the C.P.R. and every car diverted to another railway affects the town adversely. The government sent men who did not know their business to construct jams on the French River, with the result that lands were flooded and damage done to property owners which should have been paid for. The Laurier government, said Mr. Gordon, was going down to defeat, and Nipissing was going to help.

Hon. Geo. E. Foster said that in all his public life since 1880, he had never witnessed preliminaries of a Dominion contest entered into with so much vim, hope and vigor, and that the Nipissing of the last ten days in the Conservative ranks. Reciprocity was the most important question ever submitted to the people of Canada and the British Empire, and that only. Saturday evening a public meeting was held in the Royal Theatre with a large attendance, and the speaker, Mr. Gordon, M.P., and Hon. Frank Cochrane, Mr. Foster warned the electors not to get the idea that reciprocity was the only issue of the day, and Liberals are inclined to inculcate that idea, and for very good reasons. The present government has been in power fifteen years and had broken every pledge to reduce taxation, expenditure and national debt. Over a million dollars wasted on New York, a considerable ditch with no prospect of use except for political patronage, was only one of the hundreds of similar instances of abuse of power.

Candidate George Gordon pointed out the danger of reciprocity to the prosperity of Nipissing, showing the resources of pulp wood and timber to be plundered by Americans to feed their mills while Canada would be left idle. Protect our own material he said and Americans will be forced to erect mills in Canada. Hon. Mr. Rochon spoke in French and the meeting was closed by a characteristic fighting speech from Hon. Frank Cochrane.

Country Life City Life

There is no denying that the city has many attractions and many conveniences, especially in the winter, but for six to eight months in the year—the country has far greater charms, and the conveniences in a suburban residential district close to the city, such as

LAWRENCE PARK

(North Toronto) are as good as the city's, inasmuch as the city can be reached in 20 minutes by trolley. Stores, theatres, the trains and boats are practically as near Lawrence Park as they are to any of the fashionable residential districts in Toronto.

The best way to judge of the desirability of a home in the suburbs is to go and visit Lawrence Park.

The Sale of Wilton Rugs

(Fourth Floor)

If you want a rug, and that rug be a Wilton, Tuesday is the day of all days to buy it. We are devoting Tuesday, to these rugs especially.

Wilton Carpets have been beaten on all sides. Yes, the same carpet has stood for many a beating, twice yearly, for half a century. Fifty years is a long time for a carpet to wear and still retain some of its good looks, but such was the original Wilton Carpet. The modern edition is good, too, and it is just as hard to beat Simpson's price and quality as it was to beat our old friend, the Wilton.

The variety in patterns, colorings and sizes is so big that you cannot fail to find the answer to your requirements. Prices mean a saving in some lines of from 20 to 35 per cent.

Men's Summer Suits Dismissed!

The great business our Men's Store has done this season in Summer Suits has reduced our two-piece stock almost to the vanishing point. In order to remove the word "almost" from the foregoing sentence, we've put a price of EIGHT-NINETY-FIVE on what are left of these suits for Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock.

If you're a judge of values in Men's Clothing, you'll see the wisdom of buying just as soon as you see the suits. They'll be worth a great deal more than this to you during the next month, and especially through Exhibition time.

This month sees a general exodus of summer clothes. Fall Suits and Coats are crying out to be noticed, and managers are making way for the new arrivals without consideration for the prices of summer goods. Here is an example of the ruthless way in which figures are cut down to accomplish this clearance. One result is that if you want it you may possess yourself of an excellent two-piece suit at less than half price.

These are Two-piece Outing Suits of finest make; materials are English worsteds and home-spuns, English and Donegal tweeds; there are light and medium grey and fawn shades in a great variety; sizes 35 to 44; the coats are three-button; trousers a neat fitting summer cut, built for a belt, with cuff bottoms.

The whole effect is decidedly smart, and at the regular selling price, $18.50, good value for the money. Tuesday, 8.95, but come early.

Men's White Flannel Coats, thoroughly shrunk; single and double-breasted styles; splendidly tailored; sizes 36 to 44. Tuesday 4.50

Men's Neglige and Outing Shirts, in several styles; some with plain and pleated fronts; collars attached, separate collar and double cuffs, etc., but most of them are ordinary negligé style, with small laundered cuffs; sizes 14 to 18. Regular $1.25. Tuesday, each .44

See window. No mail or phone orders.
