ENEMY AND ITALIANS MAKE FURTHER ADVANCE IN ALBANIA

City Strikers Return to Work—Britain to Curb Aliens—Australians in Extensive Raid

MASTIC STEPS ARE TAKEN TO CURB ALIENS IN BRITAIN

All Enemy Banks Will Be Wound Up, No Name-Changing Allowed, and Enemy Businesses Will Be Transferred to a Trustee.

London, July 11.—Parliament today debated the question of the treatment of alien enemies and persons of alien origin which has been the subject of much discussion recently in the press and on which a committee of the house of commons on July 8 issued a report.

The committee recommended the immediate internment of every male enemy alien over 18 years except those who, for medical or other reasons should be exempted, and the repatriation of all female enemy aliens, except those whose husbands had been granted exemption from internment.

The committee also recommended the immediate discharge of all such enemy aliens employed in any government department, and that all enemy businesses should be wound up within three months.

Mr. George Cave, secretary for home affairs, who opened the debate, referring to the public anxiety on the question, said he believed this anxiety was due to insufficient knowledge of the steps taken to protect the country from anything like alien danger.

The home secretary said it was true that there was anxiety even among thoughtful and reasonable men as to what might be the effect of so large a number of aliens in England, and that it was the duty of the government to take all reasonable steps for the safety of the country.

Such outrages as the sinking of hospital ships, Sir George said, must affect the point of view from which the question was approached. If the enemy permitted acts of that kind, the subjects must suffer in the estimate which all decent people formed of them.

"No Picking and Choosing"

London, July 11.—The menace of enemy aliens living freely in England has been the text of a newspaper agitation in the past two weeks more keen than any of numerous anti-German waves of feeling, which the country experiences at frequent intervals, since the war began.

There are only a few thousand aliens left uninterned in England. A considerable proportion of them are old people. Another fairly large contingent has some one serving in the British army, and there is a sharp difference of opinion on the question of internment.

"Intern them all" is the watchword of the extremists, led by the Northcliffe papers. Other papers, like The Westminster Gazette, The Daily Times, The Daily Chronicle and The Manchester Guardian, liken the present movement to "witch baiting," and the historic "no popery" agitations.

The recent Clapham election for the case of commons in which Noel Pemberton Billing's party candidate polled nearly two-thirds as many votes as the coalition candidate, was apparently an eye-opener for the government as to public opinion. Pemberton Billing's party had a single platform plank, demanding that aliens be interned.

The feature of the debate was the address by Premier Lloyd George, indicating that a severe policy had been adopted. Popular feeling, whether right or wrong, is that influential, wealthy people of German connection have been favored.

"If there is to be a surrender to this infamous clamor, let parliament see to it that there is no picking and choosing, no harrumphing of little people and screening of big people. Let it be clear that Lord Milner must be interned with the little grocer of enemy origin on a back street, whose son, perhaps, has been killed in the war."

Since Lord Milner, secretary of state for war, also with German family antecedents, is considered by many the strongest force in the cabinet, fulfillment of this demand is unlikely.

London, July 11.—Italian troops on their offensive in Albania, continue to advance, says a despatch from Rome to the Central News Agency. The Austro-Hungarians are falling back on the Skumbi River, 25 miles north of Berat.

An official despatch from Rome today reports unheeded advances of Italian troops in Albania with Berat as an objective. From the Vojussa, the Italians have carried all positions successively, including a large quantity of war material.

Austrian forces in Albania are occupying a new defensive line which has been organized, according to today's war office report. The statement announces the repulse of a Italian troop in Albania which was advancing in the Devoli valley.

Washington, July 11.—The Italian left wing, aided by cavalry units, says a despatch from Rome today, has reached Fiere, protected by British monitors. The Austrian aviation camp was occupied by our troops, which captured a large quantity of war material.

STRIKE IS OVER AND BOARD WILL CONSIDER WAGE CLAIM

THE LABOR SITUATION Civic Employes Insist That Board of Arbitration Be Given Power of a Crown Commission.

The last word from W. D. Kennedy, president of the Civic Employes' Union, last night was that the members of the union would return to work today, would hold a mass meeting this evening, and would resume the strike if the premier did not grant power of a crown commission to the board of arbitration which will deal with the grievances of the civic employes. Mayor Church has applied for this power, which will enable the board to gather evidence and information under oath.

The machinists who were on strike at the Russell Motor Co.'s plant on Dufferin street decided yesterday morning to return to work on Monday morning, all their demands having been granted. An unauthorized band of workers, the employes of the Dominion Transport Co., went out on strike yesterday afternoon when the company refused to grant them an increase from $70 to $80 a month in their wages. About 50 employes of this company are on strike. The telegraphers of the G.N.W. are still awaiting the arrival of S. J. Koenekamp, president of the International Union of Commercial Telegraphers, in Toronto before taking any further action against this company, which is alleged to have so far refused to reinstate two employes, Thomas Taylor and George Thompson, into its employ.

The textile workers at the York Knitting Mills, 293 West Queen street, are still on strike, but many employes from this firm are employed at the same class of work at other factories. The District Trades and Labor Council accomplished but little business last night. Had the city council refused to grant the demands of the civic strikers, the Labor Council might have taken action which would have involved the machinists and the Building Trades League, which had decided to take any action the Labor Council might advise. The labor organization comprises 18 affiliated unions. It was understood that the shipyard employes would have also acted upon any advice given by the Labor Council.

BRITISH MINEFIELDS BALK SUBMARINES

Sir Eric Geddes Declares U-Boats Become Fewer—Barrages Extend to Norway.

London, July 11.—Speaking in London today, Sir Eric Geddes, first lord of the admiralty, said that mines gradually were hemming in the submarines, which now had less freedom, and he was glad to say there were fewer of them.

In referring to the great minefields which Sir Eric said they stretched from Norway to the north coast of Scotland. There was a barrage across the Straits of Dover, he added, and mines in Heligoland Bight. Some of the fastest and best craft of the navy, which certainly should be ranked as the corps d'elite, had gone into the Bight at night to lay them. Occasionally an enemy submarine tries to break through the Dover barrage. Sir Eric Geddes was speaking at the opening of an exhibition of naval war pictures. He said it was impossible to photograph or to tell all that the British navy was doing. He told his audience, however, of some of the achievements of the submarine corps.

T. Bradshaw and George Wright for the City, and Fred Bancroft and T. A. Stevenson, for the Men, Will Act as Referees.

The city council yesterday afternoon agreed to the appointment of a board of arbitration to deal with the civic strike, and appointed Finance Commissioner Bradshaw and George Wright their representatives. The strikers have chosen Fred Bancroft and T. A. Stevenson, and the four will meet the fifth. The city's appointees have consented to act. Those favoring the reference of the trouble to arbitration were: Robbins, Maguire, Sykes, F. W. Johnston, Hon. eyford, Birdsall, Plewman, Cowan, Graham, Ramsden, Bail, Gibbons, McEwen and the mayor—14. Those against were: McBride, O'Neill, Rick, Beamish, Weir, E. M. Johnston, Blackburn and Nesbitt—4. The action of the council, in the main, means that the request of the strikers is granted.

A feature of the debate, which lasted three hours and was listened to by crowded galleries, was Controller McBride's bitter criticism of the vigorous policy pursued by The World in municipal matters. There were no preliminaries when the mayor mounted the dais and Ald. Graham was at once on his feet. The present trouble would have been averted, he said, had council dated back the increases in the first place. A board of arbitration was the way to settle matters. The general sentiment in the whole city, as well as outside points, was in favor of this method. He then moved, seconded by Ald. Ramsgren, the following resolution, which opened the floodgates of talk, and was subsequently passed by substituting the city council instead of the board of control as the body to make the appointments. Resolution is Put.

"That as a means of settling the present dispute between the Civic Employes' Union and the city council, a board of arbitration of five be appointed on the following conditions: (1) That the Civic Employes' Union choose two representatives for the men. (2) That the board of control choose two representatives for the city. (3) And the four so appointed to choose a chairman. (4) That the arbitration board apply for power to take evidence on oath and to summon and compel the attendance of witnesses under the statutes in that behalf. (5) The board, when so constituted, to investigate all matters in dispute and make such recommendations as they may deem advisable to insure harmony between the Civic Employes' Union and their employes. (6) That the board shall be established within three days after the city council has agreed to this proposal, meeting in session as soon as possible, and should render a decision, if possible, within 30 days after its appointment. (7) The finding of the board of arbitration to be final and binding on both parties."

Letter From Strikers. The mayor read a letter from the strikers which said: "By a unanimous vote we beg to inform you that the proposition submitted to you yesterday is satisfactory to our members." Controller O'Neill objected to any union interfering with the business of the city. In the present case there was absolutely no reason why any such a body should attempt to tell council how to run the city. If the city were a private institution their interference might be justified. The heads of the various civic departments could very well deal with the present trouble. It should be recalled that the strikers enjoyed unusual privileges, and if they were well advised they themselves should prevent the action of their union. The whole trouble was a pure and simple political proposition. He had no objections to politics, but he resented interference in the city's affairs by any political organization. Controller O'Neill, seconded by Ald. F. M. Johnston, then moved the following amendment: "That the commissioner of works, street commissioner, property commissioner, and parks commissioner, along with the commissioner of finance, be authorized to confer with the four duly appointed representatives of the employes of the corporation relative to any matter of administration in dispute and make such recommendations as they consider advisable." Ald. Ramsden thought that the

Where Did the Nickel Come From?

Editor World: Appropos of your still unanswered question of "Where did the nickel come from?" but especially in connection with the list in today's World of the present directors of the International Nickel Company, may I, as one much interested in that company's doings, say that, having compared the holdings of the present directorate with a comparatively recent list of shareholders, I find that you raise the question, "Why are there no Canadians on the board?" Surely there should be, for we had W. J. Hanna, the late provincial secretary and food controller, with 255 common; E. W. Nesbitt, M.P., with 253 of the same class of shares; William McMaster, of Montreal, with 50 common shares, and Hon. Wallace Nesbitt with 1000 preference and 891 common shares.

But so far as the newly-elected directors of the company are concerned their recent holdings of common and preferred stock appear to be as follows: Common, Preferred, E. C. Converse 307,486 54,409 J. R. DeLamar Jointly, W. H. Brownson 226 A. Javitzki 525 W. W. Cromwell 25 W. E. Graham 1 W. A. Botwick 1 W. E. Corey 96 Charles Hayden 96 The Messieres 1 R. C. Stanley 8 A. D. Miles 8

But so far as the not the large Canadian shareholders of this company tell you where the nickel came from? Your paper has deserved much credit for the fearless presentation of the nickel question in all its phases. We have had many excuses in the past. Who are to be the apologists for our governments today? [Probably the first three names in this list constituted the "voting trust" that practically ran International Nickel. strikers had not been getting enough money in these abnormal times, and was sure the citizens generally would prefer to date back the increases rather than have trouble.

Controller McBride read an opinion from the city solicitor stating there was not a doubt as to the council's right to appoint two representatives to sit on a board, but there was as to the finding being binding on the city.

Ald. Graham demanded, and secured a left-handed retraction of the statement. "I withdraw my statement," said Controller McBride, "but I personally do not believe Ald. Graham."

Much to the surprise of council, Ald. Graham did not reply, and Controller McBride once more had his own way.

Proceeding, Controller McBride said it was coming to a nice state of affairs when outsiders could dictate to the city and interfere with competent civic heads. The statement that an agreement had been broken with the men was referred to as "lying, slanderous and libelous," and "written by a man who knew it was untrue," and "whose object was to drive from public life a man who had nothing else in view other than to serve the public."

The World next received some bouquets from Controller McBride. A recent editorial on the city's situation was described as "libelous, lying and slanderous," when it said he and nine other aldermen were charged with breaking an agreement with the strikers. There had been no agreement made of any kind.

There had been strikes in The World office, and it would be interesting to know what had caused them and whether the men got what they struck for. A few more remarks about The World being untrue and misleading, and the controller took his seat, only to jump up a moment later to say to Ald. McBrien, who had referred to him as a bulldozer, that he would do what he did to the latter before take him by the throat and put him up against the wall.

Called it illegal.

Continuing Controller McBride said council, not the board of control, should name the city's representatives on the board of arbitration. The men did not ask that the finding be binding on both parties, and that was why he wanted that provision in Ald. Graham's resolution eliminated, and furthermore, it was illegal. He asked for the mayor's ruling.

The mayor ruled otherwise. It was a matter of policy, not of law, which drew from Controller McBride the remark: "If that's your ruling, the sooner we get a new chief magistrate the better."

Ald. Gibbons deplored the attitude of defiance adopted by the strikers, and the men guilty of that should have their heads read; they were not fit to be at large. If the men, when they first made their demands, had been treated politely, there would have been no trouble. Instead of that they were challenged to strike.

Ald. Ball, who was constantly interrupted by Controller McBride, said he had not intended to speak had not the Dr. Kuehmann, Controller McBride, the council thrown out unfair and uncalled for insinuations. The present trouble was brought about largely thru the insatiable appetite for notoriety on the part of Controller McBride.

"Now I'll tell you, if you are not careful," interrupted the controller, "you received a wad of money I know about."

Names of Members. The mayor here suggested that President C. A. Bogert of the board of trade, and Geo. Wright, of the Walker House, be the city's representatives on the arbitration board.

Ald. F. M. Johnston secured an amendment that council and not the board of control should appoint the city's representatives.

Ald. Ramsden moved for the appointment of C. A. Bogert and Geo. Wright, while Controller McBride nominated Commissioners Harris and Bradshaw. The vote was as follows: Bradshaw 15
Harris 8
Wright 11
No vote was taken on Mr. Bogert's name.

Let me wish you well on the holiday of the morning," said Mayor Church later in the afternoon to the great gathering of the civic employes at the Labor Temple, who had attended to receive the report of the decision of the city council. "Tomorrow is a great national patriotic holiday, and you men will enjoy the occasion and will, I trust, turn out to attend the parade."

T. A. Stevenson, secretary of the Trades and Labor Council; John Bruce, general organizer for the International Union of Plumbers in Canada; Fred Bancroft and other prominent labor men addressed the meeting.

The arbitrators elected by the civic employes upon the board of arbitration, which will comprise five members, were T. A. Stevenson and Fred Bancroft.

The general opinion among labor men was that the decision of the city council had been reached in time to avert the most serious labor situation Toronto had ever faced. "The only occasion which approached the present one," said Fred Bancroft, "was when the street railway men considered their grievances a year ago. I believe we may safely say that we have escaped a convulsion in the industrial field."

It is exceptionally fortunate that the city council decided to ignore the advice of Controller McBride to break the civic strike," said Walter Brown. "Had the city council voted down Ald. Graham's motion to appoint a board of arbitration, the city would have been in a state of chaos. I can confidently say that his attitude towards the cause of the trade unionists has done more to build up that cause than perhaps anything the best friends of labor could have done."

TO PREVENT STRIKES DURING WAR TIME

Labor Minister Recommends Regulations to Governor-in-Council.

RIGHT TO AMPLE WAGE

Equal Pay for Women on Men's Work is Enjoined.

Ottawa, July 11.—The following is a report of the committee of the privy council dealing with the prevalence of strikes during war time, and measures for their prevention, the adoption of which the government will urge upon both employers and workmen.

The committee of the privy council have had before them a report, dated 9th July, 1918, from the minister of labor, representing the industrial interest during the past few months has become more general than formerly, this causing serious interruption in some lines of war work. In indications are that it will become more widespread still unless successful efforts be made to check it. This unrest has many causes, among which are the shortage of labor, rapid advance in the cost of many of the necessities of life, employers denying their workmen the right to organize or to meet them in joint conference to discuss requests for improved conditions or to negotiate adjustments of differences; and in others from too hasty action on the part of working men in ignoring the provisions of the Industrial Disputes Investigations Act, and in adopting drastic measures before exhausting every reasonable effort to reach a satisfactory settlement. Wages, alleged to be inadequate, together with length of the work day said to be long, are among other frequent causes of such unrest.

Means to End Strikes. The minister, realizing the necessity of steady work and close and sympathetic co-operation between employers and employes to secure the best results from war efforts, is of the opinion that the government should forthwith adopt such measures as may seem practicable for the prevention of such interruption during the continuance of the war, whether caused by lock-outs or strikes, and the establishment of such co-operation, while at the same time striving to ensure to the workmen adequate compensation for their labor and reasonable safety, and to employers fair and reasonable treatment.

The minister is further of the opinion that a declaration by the government of a war labor policy, fair and equitable to all concerned, governing relations between employers and workmen in all industries engaged in war work, and including all those mentioned in the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act (No. 118) and amendments thereto by parliament, or extensions thereof by order-in-council, for the duration of the war, would materially contribute to the attainment of these objects.

Recommendations. The minister, therefore, recommends that the government in council declare the following principles and policies and urge their adoption upon both employers and workmen for the period of the war.

- (1) That there should be no strike or lockout during the war.
- (2) That all employes have the right to organize in trade unions, and this right shall not be denied or interfered with in any manner whatsoever, and that they should be encouraged to negotiate with employers concerning working conditions, rates of pay or other grievances.
- (3) That employers shall have the right to organize in associations or groups, and this right shall not be denied or interfered with by workers in any manner whatsoever.
- (4) That employers should not discharge or refuse to employ workers merely by reason of membership in trade unions or for legitimate trade union activities outside working hours.

No Coercion. That workers in the exercise of their right to organize shall use neither coercion nor intimidation of any kind to influence any person to join their organizations or employers to bargain or deal therewith.

(6) That in establishments where the union shop exists by agreement the same shall continue and the labor and other conditions of employment shall be maintained.

(7) That in establishments where union and non-union men ad women now work together, and the employes meet only with employers or representatives engaged in such establishments, the continuance of such conditions shall not be deemed a grievance.

This declaration, however, is not intended in any manner to deny the right of, or discourage, forming labor unions or the joining of the same by workers in said establishments as aforesaid, nor to prevent a board of conciliation or other body or adjudicator from recommending improvements in the matter of wages, hours of labor, or other conditions, as shall from time to time be found desirable.

To Protect Health. (8) That established safeguards and regulations for the protection of health and safety of workers shall not be relaxed.

(9) That all workers, including common laborers, shall be entitled to a wage ample to enable them with thrift to maintain themselves and families in decency and comfort, and to make reasonable provision for old age.

(10) That in fixing wages minimum rates of pay should be established.

(11) That women on work ordinarily performed by men should be allowed equal pay for equal work, and should not be allotted tasks disproportionate to their strength.

Limit production or which tends to artificially increase the cost thereof should be discouraged.

Labor Mobilization. (14) That for the purpose of mobilizing the available labor supply, with a view to its rapid and effective distribution as well as constant employment, the managers and operators of industrial establishments and the trade unions concerned should keep provincial or municipal employment agencies and the Canada Registration Board fully informed as to labor required or available. Those agencies should be given opportunity to aid in the distribution of labor.

(15) That in the wages, hours and conditions of labor regard should be had to the labor standards, wage scales, and other conditions prevailing in the locality affected, always mindful, however, of the necessity of payment of living wages.

(16) That to better preserve industrial peace during the war, employers and employes should, after once establishing an agreement as to wages and working conditions agree to its continuance during the war, subject only to such changes in rates of pay as fluctuation in cost of living may justify.

(17) That when employers and employes are unable to arrive at a mutual agreement concerning any dispute, unless some other means of settlement is agreed upon by the parties, they should use the machinery provided for in the Industrial Disputes Investigation Act in an endeavor to reach an adjustment.

Right of Appeal. Should the recommendation of the board of conciliation not be accepted either party may appeal to the board of appeal who shall review the findings of the board of conciliation and hear such further evidence as either party to the dispute may desire to submit at their own expense, the decision of the board of appeal to be final.

Any settlement of a dispute referred to the board of conciliation, or carried in appeal to the board of appeal, shall be effective not later than the date on which the application for a board of conciliation was filed.

The board of appeal shall be composed of two representatives of labor nominated by the executive council of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, two representatives of the employers, nominated by the executive of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association and a chairman nominated by the said members of the board, or in case of failure to agree upon a chairman, then the minister of labor shall appoint such chairman.

The minister further recommends that the minister of labor be authorized to make regulations governing the procedure on appeal provided for by paragraph 17 of the above recommendations.

The committee has approved in the foregoing recommendations and has submitted them for approval to the governor-general.

To Be Found in the Well Stocked Auto Accessory Department, Fifth Floor

Perhaps in no other place are proper tools more necessary than in a motor car. The service of an auto depends upon its going. A car that is in everyday use or a new one, nine times out of ten will not be bothered with this "lack-of-going" disease. But one day the tenth time comes, or, through neglect, the new car "rebels" and you get out and crank and crank, scratch your head and look in consternation at the "bally" thing. But, if you've been wise, after the first spasm of vexation you will yank out your Mossberg Socket Wrench Set, and, if it's the spark plugs, stick in new ones; or, if it's valve trouble, go to work with your valve-lifter and grinder. "But what if I haven't got such tools?" you say. Well—don't wait until such an accident happens to you—that's all. Come in and talk it over. We will be pleased to advise you as to what is necessary. If you can't come in immediately, tack this sheet up in your garage or other convenient spot for future reference.

CHAMPION SPARK PLUG.

The make of plugs with which Ford engines are equipped when they leave the factory is best adapted to the requirements of the Ford motor. The Champion is advocated by the Ford Motor Co. These are 1/2-inch. Price, 75c.

LANE'S HANDLE CONTROL JACK, PRICE, $6.00.

With the Lane "H-C" Jack, the operator not only avoids getting under car or in contact with dirt or grease at any time, but the extremely long handle extends out to a convenient, comfortable and easy position for manipulation, which process is in detail as follows: The handle is unfolded, its hinge joint locked, and then inserted into the jack lever socket (notched edge downward) and pushed in as far as it will go, which sets jack for raising. Handle being thus held into the socket by a spring catch, jack may now be pushed under car and placed for lifting from the outer end of the long handle, while the operator remains in an easy position back of the car. The ordinary pumping motion raises the load in the usual way. To reverse the jack movement the handle is twirled backward, after which a continued pumping motion lowers the load; and as it is still fast in the socket, jack may be pulled out from under the car by handle. Handle is then removed from the jack by releasing the spring catch under socket, and folded for storing. Price, $6.00.

CUT-OUT FOR FORDS. Complete, 85c.

PROTECTED SPOKE BRUSH.

Made of softer bristles than ordinary brushes. It will clean without scratching. Price, 75c.

A MACBETH LENS FOR YOUR CAR.

Macbeth Lenses are not only scientifically built to give long range and ample side lighting, but because of their uncommon design, add to the appearance of the car.

The green visor, designed primarily to re-direct all upward rays downward, gives the Macbeth Lens almost double power, and yet they conform with the law. All sizes. Per pair, $6.00.

SINGLE SPOKE BRUSH.
