PRISON BALL TEAM LOSES 3RD. BAGGER

Seaman Freed, is Sentenced Again But This Time He Goes to Dannemora.

White Plains, N. Y., July 2.—The Sing Sing Ball club still has hope that some good third baseman will so far forget himself as to steal somebody's watch or burgle a house or shoot a friend slightly. The ball club has great need of a third baseman, and the Welfare League, which conducts the game in the prison on the Hudson, was much distressed to learn that John Seaman, oldest of the team, was not coming back.

Seaman was walled out of the prison league when his time expired a few months ago. The Welfare Club hated to see him go, and the feeling was almost mutual. It was expected, however, that Seaman would come back to help out the team.

TOP TO MAKE ARCTIC JOURNEY

Rev. I. O. Stringer and Wife Going to Herschel Island.

despatch on Monday that the island was to be connected with Ottawa. The Daily News of June 6 says: Rev. I. O. Stringer, Bishop of the Yukon, will sail tomorrow on the launch Hazel B. for Fort Yukon, where they will connect with Healy's launch and proceed up the Porcupine river to the head of navigation; then across the divide between the Mackenzie and Yukon rivers, to Fort McPherson, and then down the Mackenzie to Herschel Island. After visiting the various missions in the Arctic, Bishop and Mrs. Stringer may voyage up the Mackenzie river to the head of navigation and then on to Toronto, to be present at the synod which will meet in that city some time in September. If connections cannot be made on the Mackenzie, they will return to Yukon by way of the Porcupine and the bishop will continue his trip to the outside from this point.

This will be Bishop Stringer's first trip to the Eskimos in the Arctic in many years, and he is anxious to see how they are progressing, as he was stationed at Fort McPherson and Herschel Island many years ago and did much good work among the natives of the district. Mrs. Stringer was a co-worker with him in the distant Arctic regions, where she was cut off from the comforts of civilization for several years. The eldest son, Herschel, was born on Herschel Island, and their daughter, Rowena, was born at Fort McPherson. If possible, Mrs. Stringer will make the through trip with the bishop this summer and revisit the scenes of her early married life.

Bishop Stringer has volunteered to deliver any letters entrusted to him to Herschel and intermediate points. "The distance from Dawson to Herschel Island by the route Bishop Stringer will take is about 1,200 miles, the greater part of which will be made by boat, but there will be about four days' journey overland, on the divide between the Yukon and Mackenzie watersheds."

Legal Battle Begun on Allegation of False Accounting 28 Years Ago. New York, July 2.—The settlement 28 years ago of the estate of Herman Wellbrock in the Brooklyn Surrogate's Court is ordered reopened for an accounting by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court in Brooklyn, on the appeal of a grandson of the decedent, William Peyer Jr., 70 Prospect Park West, Brooklyn. Wellbrock left his property, consisting principally of a controlling interest in the O. K. Model Baking Company, to his two daughters, Mrs. Mary Van Campen, Bay Shore, L. I., and Mrs. Hermine Peyer, mother of the appellant.

Peyer contends that his mother received only $17,500 as her share, whereas by the will her legacy would be worth at least $1,000,000. He alleges that the accounting filed 28 years ago contained false statements. His mother, he says, made an affidavit, saying that in 1920 her sister had admitted that his mother had not received her legal share of the estate, and had given her $80,000 and promises of more payments by instalments to make up the difference.

Mrs. Van Campen submitted an affidavit denying all charges made by her sister and nephew, and declared that the $3,000 payment was for the purchase of a home by Mrs. Peyer. The higher court ordered a jury trial to determine whether a fraud had been committed and said the Surrogate's ruling in denying an accounting was reversed on the law and the facts.

"I Have Lost My Keys—
Who Shall I Do?"

Man is entirely stranded by key-holes. When keys are lost the average man is in a serious predicament. The house-key—the desk-key—the safety deposit box key—the locker key—the motor key—and all the rest of his keys are seldom valued until they are lost.

Without the "Found and Found" advertising in The Times-Star what chance would a man have of recovering a key-ring, or any other valuable property which he has lost?

On the other hand, recovery of such valuables is usually a very simple proposition when a Times-Star lost ad is utilized.

When a lost item is inserted in The Times-Star, the loss is then "bulletined" to most of the people of St. John.

Nearly all keys which are lost are found by someone. Mr. Smith finds your keys if he does not know you. You are searching high and low for your keys, but you have never been introduced to Mr. Smith and do not even know he is alive.

The matter of bringing the two of you together is as easy as unlocking a door—when you advertise.

Just remember: The Times-Star lost and found ads when you lose or find anything.

MILITARY BALL

Three hundred guests attended the annual dance at Sussex camp given by Lt.-Col. G. S. Kinross and officers of the Eight Princess Louise Hussars in their hangar on the camp grounds last evening. The guests were from receiving the Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Kinross, Lt.-Col. Reginald H. Arnold, Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Murray. There were bright decorations in the chery bungalow. The fashions of the ladies were very pretty and the uniforms of the officers handsome. A delicious supper was served and dancing continued until the city morning. There were several girls from the city who will return to St. John. Among them were Mrs. Daniel Muir, Mrs. J. Lee Day, Miss Margaret Ly, Miss Beryl Muir, Miss Gertrude King, Miss Florence Warwick, Miss Helen Allison, Miss Helen Cudlip and Miss Doreen McAvity.

ENGLISH FURNITURE FASHIONS

The furniture that is sought after now, that sold almost before it is made, is the big suites of the last generation, as an exchange.

The fashion of furnishing sitting rooms and bedrooms in suites has entirely changed. We should as soon think of selling ourselves with big pieces of furniture, bought without relation to the size of the rooms we occupy, as a should think of buying our kitchen utensils in a "suite" instead of choosing them separately for their use.

The piece so much sought after now are the narrow chests of drawers that will fit into any recess and whose drawers are shallow, so that we do not have to dig to get at their contents; wardrobes that contain short cupboards bow, in which we hang our clothes a hangers (frocks being doubled and not hung full-length); wardrobes which are topped either with drawers with a single drawer and then a top laid over the opening, the very best of desks.

Chairs hardly ever match in the modern room. Even formal dining-rooms do not have the suites of chairs, so many with arms and so many without, that was used to buy.

TIRED, NERVOUS MOTHERS

are the direct cause of much unhappiness in our homes; their condition irritates and wears upon the husband and often ruins a child's disposition. This condition of the mother is often due to some weakness which makes her unable to perform her household duties and bear the strain upon her nerves that evening children involve. Every woman who finds herself in this condition should remember that statistics prove that 98 out of every 100 women who suffer from female ills are helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and lose no time in giving it a fair trial.

Peyer contends that his mother received only $17,500 as her share, whereas by the will her legacy would be worth at least $1,000,000. He alleges that the accounting filed 28 years ago contained false statements. His mother, he says, made an affidavit, saying that in 1920 her sister had admitted that his mother had not received her legal share of the estate, and had given her $80,000 and promises of more payments by instalments to make up the difference.

Mrs. Van Campen submitted an affidavit denying all charges made by her sister and nephew, and declared that the $3,000 payment was for the purchase of a home by Mrs. Peyer. The higher court ordered a jury trial to determine whether a fraud had been committed and said the Surrogate's ruling in denying an accounting was reversed on the law and the facts.

CHINESE CLUBBED AND THEN ROBBED. New Glasgow, N. S., July 1.—Clubbed into insensibility and robbed of his savings, a Chinese laundry man named Wah Loh was held up last night by three bandits in Trenton and today lies in a serious condition in the hospital. According to the story of the assaulted man, late last night three men got out of an automobile in front of his shop and entered the building. Without any preliminaries they assaulted the defenceless Chinese and robbed his establishment. On recovering consciousness the Chinese attracted the attention of passersby, they quickly notified the police, who gave chase by automobile, but the hold-up men had a substantial lead, and as yet the police have been unsuccessful in their efforts to capture the offenders.

OUR FISH AND GAME.

One need not be a fisherman or a hunter in order to appreciate the value of the work to be undertaken by the Fish and Game Protective Association here and throughout the province.

As for the partridge, we have the matter largely in our own hands, as this is a native bird and it has been found that stopping shooting altogether for a year or two, and then limiting the open season according to conditions, will do a great deal to increase the number of birds.

The moose and deer would be quickly exterminated but for the protection given, and it is not great enough. In some counties respect for the game laws is slight, and the difficulty of securing convictions is great.

The association is undertaking, among other things, to create and foster public sentiment in favor of better protection of fish and game, and one of the greatest needs which it will give attention is that of promoting the spirit of true sportsmanship in connection with both fishing and hunting.

THE R. M. C. MEMORIAL.

New Brunswickers are interested in the Royal Military College at Kingston, for many of the sons of this province have been trained there for both military and civil life; but the war gave us a greater knowledge and appreciation of the institution, so many of whose students and graduates went overseas.

Japan, is quite fantastic. Yet that is the central idea in the American cables purporting to reveal signs of trouble in the Empire over the American-Japanese crisis.

It's funny—about the time the seven-seat automobile came in Americans stopped raising that kind of family.

CANADA'S WATERWAYS.

Where else will you find a country, washed by three oceans, and intersected by waterways, practical water routes, leading with an occasional portage from sea to sea? In these days of railways and motor roads we do not always remember what it is possible to do with water thoroughfares.

ANOTHER LABOR GOVERNMENT.

Denmark is the latest country to have a Labor government, and under circumstances which almost parallel those in Great Britain. At the recent Danish elections the former Conservative government was defeated, though no party obtained a clear majority.

THE OLYMPICS OF OLD.

The Olympic games which will soon be held in Paris are unlike and yet like the famous games of long ago. It was very long ago that the ancient Greeks began to develop the rudimentary sports that they enjoyed when they met for trade or for political discussion.

THE WISH AND THE THOUGHT.

Our American friends are considerably disposed to think events will be what they want them to be. It is not a bad tendency in some ways, but when applied to international relations and to future possible wars it is sometimes awkward.

CHURCH UNION BILL OVER TILL FRIDAY

Ottawa, July 1.—Amid applause and with galleries again crowded, the House tonight registered its first recorded vote on the Church Union Bill. The division came in a motion by William Duff, of Lunenburg—who has been active in opposition to the bill—so to amend the title that the United Church would be known as the United Church in Canada rather than the United Church of Canada as it appears in the bill.

Further Reduction In The Price of Gas

To Our Gas and Electric Patrons:— We are very pleased to announce that our Directors have decided to grant another reduction in the price of Gas, both for domestic and commercial purposes, effective from July 1st, 1924.

Why Not Use the Best? The Cuticura Shaving Stick

EXCELS, not only by reason of the rich, creamy, fragrant lather that in itself makes shaving a luxury, but the delicate medication and remarkable soothing properties are usually sufficient to leave the face free from that tense, dry feeling and to act as a preventive of irritation and inflammation of the hair glands, often the cause of obstinate and unsightly eruptions.

PRICE 25c. Sold by druggists, or mailed postpaid upon receipt of price. Address Canadian Depot: "Cuticura, P. O. Box 2616, Montreal."

The reduction will apply only to customers who are using our combined electric and gas services exclusively, on the same premises.

In explanation, we may say that it is a much more economical operation to have a customer using both of these services, as the expense of meter reading, billing, office work, and collecting, etc., is much less, as we can handle the DUAL SERVICE as reasonably as if we were only supplying one commodity, and we are, therefore, passing along to the customers who are supporting both departments, the saving that we are able to effect through the joint operation of the two departments.

This is a common practice in other cities where a public utility corporation is supplying DUAL SERVICE, and follows out our principle that one department assists another to the benefit of the customers patronizing both utilities.

Speakers at King Square. The glorious heritage which Canadian citizenship implies formed the theme of two eloquent addresses given at the flag raising in King square yesterday morning by Mayor F. L. Potts and Dr. W. P. Broderick.

Mayor Potts spoke of the greatness of Canada, the vastness of the resources of the country and the larger ideals for which Canada stood, impressing upon the hundreds of people present the great value of their heritage.

Dr. Broderick told of the events leading up to Confederation, and spoke of its final establishment by proclamation of the British Government on July 1, 1867, when Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia were included in the Confederation under the name of the Dominion of Canada.

SPARKS CIRCUS
EXCELLENT SHOW

Is Enjoyed by Great Crowds and Wins Approbation of All.

This much may be said at the outset, the Sparks circus lived up to all the advance notices and promises and there was a lot left over. It was a very satisfactory performance in the big tent and none who attended the circus in the afternoon or evening on Monday but had good words to say for the entertainers.

There is this to be added. The show was absolutely clean in every particular. Mr. Jackson, advertising manager of the outfit, had said that those who patronized the Sparks circus would find that conditions had changed and that the day of the overbearing roughneck circus man had passed; that the short-change man had had his day and that the other doubtful methods of the circus of other days had also departed.

The Sparks circus is a three-ring show with duplication of the acts in two of the rings making it possible for all to enjoy good acts without trying to see everything at once.

Under-Privileged Youngsters Will Get Special Attention.

That the under-privileged children of the city would receive special attention at his picnic on the Barrack Green this Saturday, was the statement made last evening by J. D. O'Connell who is busily occupied making preparations for the big day for the children.

By "under-privileged," Mr. O'Connell means children not under the care of the various orphan asylums in the city but who are living under straightened conditions.

Mr. O'Connell stated that he has heard from several car owners willing to lend their cars for Saturday and that he would be greatly pleased if several more would communicate with him at the Royal Hotel as soon as possible.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

A TRIP TO SPAIN.

"We're going to Spain," said the little garden fairy. "Tommy Titmouse is all ready and waiting. Soon both of them were dressed and ready to go. They were about to board one of the yachts at anchorage, having rowed out from the shore in a small boat. While Mrs. Belyea was about to catch hold of the side of the yacht she became overbalanced and when her husband attempted to catch hold of her the small boat capsized and both were thrown into the water. Persons on the yacht grasped them and assisted them to the vine they crept, and there they were in the garden. "I hope you will have a nice time," called the fairy from the red rose. "Don't you hope I'll have a nice time, too?" inquired Tommy Titmouse. "Are there any bugs and worms in Spain?" "The little Spanish lady laughed. "Yes, of course, there are, Tommy. As big as alligators." "Huh! What's that?" cried the little bird. "Then you can just go there without me. Mebbe the bugs in Spain eat the birds instead of the birds eating the bugs." "Oh, come on, Tommy," said Johnny Jump Up. "Now who is doing too much talking? Here, punch these tickets and we'll be going." "No, I was only fooling," laughed the little rose fairy merrily. "Go on! You'll have a good time." Like many other countries they had visited, it was daylight in Spain although it was night at home. Mister Sun wakes the Spanish children and French children and English children and Italian children long before he pokes his nose up over the hills in America. Tommy Titmouse settled down on top of a mountain. "These mountains are called the Pyre-nees," said Johnny Jump Up. "That's easy to remember because it sounds like pair of knees." "Will you take us to a bull fight?" asked Nick. "No, sir, I will not," said Johnny, "although the people in Spain would rather go to a bull fight than to a circus." "Why, what's wrong with a bull-fight?" asked Nick. "Everything," said Johnny Jump Up. "They tease a poor bull with a red cloth—and somebody usually gets hurt. I think it's more fun to look at castles and things. There is one not far from here called the Al-ham-bra that is very old and magnificent. Come, Tommy!" "You won't let a poor fellow rest at all," grumbled the little bird. After they had seen the Alhambra, Johnny Jump Up took them to see Madrid, a big city where the king's palace was.

The car was being driven by George Geary of 211 Watson street, West Side, and the other passengers were Mrs. George Geary, Phillip Geary, Mrs. Ellen Geary and Miss Nellie Geary. It was said the accident was caused when a car which Mr. Geary was trying to pass swerved forcing him into the ditch. The injuries were dressed by Dr. O. R. Peters of Rotheray.

MANY MAKE TRIP TO FREDERICTON

More Than 2,000 People Journey to Capital on C. N. R. Excursion.

Citizens of St. John to the number of 2,023 took advantage of the Canadian National Railway employees' excursion and visited Fredericton via the Valley Railway, yesterday. The excursion which went on two trains, was the largest ever run out of St. John, and from the pleased faces of the people as they alighted from the train on their return last night, it was successful.

One of the officials in charge of the great throng said last night that never had there been a more orderly and well behaved crowd of merry makers. There was no sign of intoxication either going or returning. Every one was happy, and to the vast majority the capital was a novel event. It was said that not more than 300 out of the entire number had ever been in the Queen City before, and few had ever made the trip by the Valley route. The Valley Railway follows the St. John river, the Rhine of America, all the way to the Capital, being for only ten minutes during the entire trip of 85 miles out of sight of the water.

St. Mary's Band accompanied them, and while in Fredericton gave band concerts. They led the procession to the ball park, and later played in front of the Boat club house, and then again just as the crowd was being marshaled into the trains for the return trip.

The annual picnic of St. Anthony's Catholic church in Devon was held yesterday, and many of the excursionists visited the picnic.

In the evening the Fredericton fire department and the York Regimental band staged a revival of entertainment of former years, by marching to the Trotting Park and holding a festival. Few of the excursionists had the opportunity of witnessing the event.

There was one accident in Fredericton, when a Fredericton child named Kitchen, was run over and his arm severely injured. James McManus was in charge of the committee of Brotherhood of Rail-

ARMY BAND GIVES CONCERT IN SQUARE

Visiting Salvationists Receive Hearty Approval of Large Throng.

Ten thousand people in all walks of life assembled in King square last evening to enjoy the excellent music of the New England Staff Band of the Salvation Army of the city of Boston, numbering 30 pieces. His Worship Mayor Frank L. Potts welcomed the band, which played from a special stand erected purposely for the occasion on the northeast corner of the square. Major W. H. Burrows, district officer commanding here, was also on the platform, having gone to St. Stephen Monday evening. On all occasions there were very large crowds.

The personnel of the band is made up of clerks, accountants and men of the musical profession. They have been granted ten days' leave to carry through this trip, which has been a musical triumph and a success financially. The collection last evening was approximately $207. The money will be used for the defraying of expenses of the trip, the surplus going to the local work.

Staff Captain Robert Young, conductor of the band, was very skillful in his leadership. Colonel William McIntyre, who is with the band, is provincial commander of the Salvation Army New England forces. He has been in the service of the army and spent his fortieth anniversary in Jerusalem, Palestine. He had audience with Pope Pius XI in Rome, with the Caliph of Egypt and the Patriarch of Palestine. The Prince of Wales assisted Colonel McIntyre to raise $70,000 at a horse show in New York City. He spoke of these things before he had the large crowd "good-night," bringing cheer upon cheer.

The band played "The Maple Leaf Forever" and the National Anthem, besides the plantation melodies of their country. Envoys Erick Leiden, of Stockholm, Sweden, is a graduate of the Royal College of Music of his native city. He accompanies the difficult feat of playing two instruments, singing meanwhile. The concertist was particularly skilful and produced exquisite music. The drummer was an artist at his work and held the large crowd's close attention as he swung the drum sticks with deft turns of his wrists. The band goes to Fredericton today, then to Woodstock, accompanied by Major Burrows. He will return when they pass again across the border to Houlton on their way home.

GIRL DROWNS AT SYDNEY MINES

Sydney Mines, July 1.—The mining community of Florence was shocked to learn late yesterday afternoon of a drowning fatality which occurred in the Little pond, the victim being Miss Margaret Snow, aged 15 years, daughter of Samuel Snow. She and a companion, Miss Elizabeth McKinnon, were out on a raft which accidentally moved down the current when they ventured to jump off the raft and got beyond their depth. Miss McKinnon managed to swim ashore, but was unable to help Miss Snow, who could not swim, with the result that the latter was drowned. Soon a rescue party arrived on the scene and recovered the body. Dr. McRae was summoned but found life extinct. Miss Snow was the eldest daughter of the family and very popular in the community.

TOAST "QUEEN BESS"

New York, July 2.—Here's Theresa Quinn Minet, beaming at you with her best Al-Smith-for-president smile.

It's the official greeting to all arrivals to the Democratic Convention. She greeted dozens of time tables and boat schedules, and worked out a plan whereby she or one of her 54 assistants was on hand to meet every delegate and his wife as they stepped from the boat or train.

"Back in Main Street, you always meet the trains," she explains. "It gives one a comfortable feeling to be greeted after a long, tiresome journey and escorted to a hotel."

"Too many people have the idea that New York is cold and heartless and that all neighborliness and hospitality have been crushed out of it. If we don't do anything else at this convention we're going to show the rest of the country New Yorkers are not as hard-boiled as they are alleged to be."

"We're going to dispense Main Street hospitality on a Fifth Avenue scale. Garden parties, breakfasts, receptions and teas will be presided over by women who have been hostesses at the White House, cabinet functions and the leading centers of Europe."

"Visitors who have been coming to New York year after year and who have found their pleasures limited to the theatres, cabarets and supper clubs will have the opportunity this time to get into New York's most beautiful homes and in her exclusive clubs, and meet the sort of people they know back home."

When she isn't absorbed in being chairman of the delegation committee, Mrs. Minet holds a responsible position as manager of the women's department of a New York bank.

MICHIGAN HONORS COURT POET

Sir Robert Bridges, poet laureate of England, received the degree of Doctor of Letters at this year's commencement exercises at the University of Michigan. From left to right are Sir Robert; Benjamin Hanchett, Grand Rapids, Mich., a regent of the university; Miss Bina M. West, Port Huron, Mich., founder and supreme commander of the Woman's Bonnet Association of the Macabees, upon whom the honorary degree of Master of Arts was conferred, and Miss Jean Hamilton, dean of the university.

The Inn was filled and passed round. There were 150 present in the hall, where the Prince of Wales dined as the guest of the evening, and as the loving cup was passed to each in turn the toast took a long time in the drinking. Queen Elizabeth was a patron of the Inn and, according to tradition, she once dined with the benchers. When the Prince arrived he was led to the high table by Lord Birkenhead and the grace cup, another of the precious and almost sacred treasures of the Inn, was filled with sweet wines and spices and handed to him together with the customary bit of bread. In former days this bread would have been dipped in the cup, now it is eaten separately after the cup has been tasted. As in the case of the loving cup the grace cup has to go the round of the hall.

BEAT MASTER IN OPEN COMPETITION

An Architect's Tale in Connection With Great New Liverpool Cathedral.

London, July 2.—The consecration of Liverpool Cathedral will be attended by the King and Queen, and will be an event of unique interest and importance. Liverpool will be the first Anglican Cathedral dedicated in England for more than 700 years. Salisbury was the last. It is the site of a cathedral since the 13th century, Liverpool Cathedral being built on new ground instead of on the site of an old church.

Liverpool Cathedral will be the fourth largest cathedral in the world. It will be 100 feet longer than St. Paul's, 80 feet longer than Canterbury, 87 feet longer than York Minster, and 111 feet longer than Westminster Abbey.

Its architecture is unique and impressive. The architect, Gilbert Scott, was only 21 when his design was accepted in open competition. The whole connection of young Scott with the cathedral is romantic and interesting. The grandson of a famous architect, Sir Gilbert Scott, R. A., the present Gilbert Scott was a pupil in an architect's office in his early twenties when the competition for the Liverpool Cathedral was announced. His master, well known as a good church architect, decided to enter the competition. So did the pupil, but that was not known to Mr. Moore and Scott carried out the immense drawings required during the short hours he was free from office work.

No wonder he was occasionally rather late in the mornings and received the gently reprimands of his courteous employer, who supposed he was using his spare time as young men usually do. It is easy, therefore, to imagine the astonishment of the master, when it was found that the young pupil had won the open competition for the largest, the most imaginative, and what has proved in many ways the most important building of our time.

The windows of the cathedral and its decorations will be superb. It will cost some $10,000,000, which is being raised by public subscriptions. It will contain one of the most beautiful books in the world, in which will be recorded the names of the 35,000 men from the Liverpool district who gave their lives for their country in the war. Stained glass windows have been erected to commemorate the deeds of women notable for their good works.

It is proposed, after the consecration to begin the erection of the next portion of the cathedral, which will be the great central space under the central tower to a height of 170 feet. The completion of the central space and of the nave and second transept will be the last stage to be undertaken, and must depend on the generosity of the public. The cathedral was begun in 1904, when the foundation stone was laid by King Edward, on July 19. The Lady-chapel was consecrated in 1910.

BROOKS, GIRL AND CAR IN BANGOR

Bangor, July 1.—Norris Brooks, a local public car driver, who was arrested Thursday at Hartland, N. B., to which place he had driven with a Bucksport young woman and attempted to sell the car which belonged to E. F. Kane, of this city, was brought back to this city Friday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff John K. Farrar, together with the young woman from Bucksport and the stolen car. Brooks was arraigned in the Municipal Court Saturday forenoon on a charge of larceny of the car. Hearing in the case was waived and Brooks was held under $500 bonds for the action of the grand jury at the September term of the Superior Court. Ball was furnished. The Bucksport young woman, Miss Ethel Varnum, was taken back to her home Friday evening by her mother.

Some of the beach combers adopt baby seals as pets. They become as faithful as dogs and, if one decides to banish them, are as hard to get rid of as cats. An instance was cited where a baby seal was taken out to sea in the hope that it would reunite with its herd. About midnight there was a plaintive wail at the cabin door. Like the traditional cat, the seal had come back. He howled until he was admitted to the family circle and fed a piece of fish.

PAINTED DRESSES MADE BY SOLDIERS

Artistic Creations Made by Disabled Ex-Service Men in England.

London, July 2.—Twenty disabled ex-service men who have not 50 limbs among them, are engaged at the Painted Fabrics Colony at Sheffield, in producing painted dresses.

The colony is self-supporting. The idea originated in the minds of a local committee who, during the war, encouraged wounded soldiers to work with their hands. The war over, they wondered if the work could not be turned to some useful purpose in providing means of support for disabled men. Small workshops in the centre of the city were taken, and a few disabled men were collected.

MODERN FICTION.

Sir Phillip Gibbs has some interesting things to say concerning modern fiction by way of preface to his own work of fiction, "Little Novels of Nowadays" (Hutchinson, 7s. 6d. net). As one expects from the author of "The Middle of the Road," he does not shrink from the issues he raises. He first of all explains the scope of his book: "The stories in this book are connected by a thread of plot which I have followed from London to Moscow and beyond through other cities. It is the thread of fate woven by the three ugly sisters in the wake of war, and fastened round the necks of men and women so that they can hardly escape from the wreckage of hopes in the life of Europe. In most of these tales my characters are victims of war and casualties of peace trying to find a way out of misery or to avert the perils ahead, by violence or charity.

They are tales of yesterday, or at least of yesterday's not older than a year or two. My idea in writing them was to put in the form of little novels—rather different from 'short stories'—not only plots suggested to me by incidents with which I came in touch, or characters whom I saw in passing—those casual hints which build up in one's mind until they make a tale with a touch of drama—but the thoughts and moods and hopes of Europe as I have seen it lately, the spirit of conversations I have had with people who revealed themselves, and the clash of passionate convictions, old traditions with new hopes, old hatreds with new faith, which I have seen on my travels since the war, and here at home. I have tried also in these stories to get something of the spirit of peace into them and not merely the outward look of cities and scenery."

Later, as already stated, he tackles the problem of modern fiction. "The weakness of so much modern fiction," he states, "especially that of women in the lower ranks, is due to its limited range of interest and knowledge. If they draw direct from life it is so often only a little life of amorous emotion or neurotic psychology. That has its interest and its value, sometimes very great, if greatly written, but it is not the whole of life. And, if weakly done, without art, as in so many novels, it is unprofitable and very tiring. The novelist of today, if he looks beyond his own doors, has no lack of vital material if he is in search of romance, sensation, melodrama, or the realities of human nature.

"This Europe of ours is full of great history and great action. It is soaked in the tragedy of nations, in the passion of peoples, in the despair of individual men and women. It is seething with hatred, with hope, with flaming ideals. Youth is groping for a new philosophy of life, of reasserting old things. Civilization itself is threatened, or, at least in the minds of many men and women there is that sense of impending downfall which was in the Greek and Roman mind in the last phases of their power.

"There is hunger and pestilence and revolt in countries not enormously remote. In every capital of Europe there are refugees who were once the spoiled children of fortune and are now in horrible poverty, princes and paupers, both. The old world of leisure and luxury and traditions is passing and nearly gone. A new world is coming, with desperate problems and many dangers. The adventure of life is not dull, anyhow! Is all that to be passed by in contemporary fiction, which is nothing if it does not interpret contemporary life?"

"Are modern novelists and story writers to go on recording the futile love tales of highly-strung ladies and introspective men, and leave all that other world on one side because it frightens them, or they find it too big for their imagination, or too much in the newspapers? If so, then I, for one, would rather read the Daily Herald."

"I am asking for trouble in writing this preface. The journalist will be the first to shout 'Journalism!' But I think the public will agree with me, because it is significant that they are reading those books most which reveal even in a small measure the realities and moods and thoughts of this troubled world of today and yesterday."

PAINTING ON A SPIDER'S WEB

Berlin, July 2—What is regarded as one of the most singular works of art in existence is now in the possession of a Berlin dealer. It is a painting, 6 x 4 inches, executed on a spider web and preserved by being clamped between two plates of glass, so that one can examine it on both sides. The scene depicted is that of a happy family sitting together.

As an interesting side-piece to the painting the artist also preserved a spider web on which he had completed part of the picture when it tore. This second web shows traces of his having tried to patch up the tear.

There is nothing to tell when the spider webs were painted.

Choosing New Chief Justice Still is Government Problem

TAWA THINKS MULOCK LIKELY TO BE APPOINTED

Would Make Way for a Younger Man in a Year or Two.

OTHERS MENTIONED

L. Newcombe, of N. S., Prominent as Possibility For High Bench.

(Special to The Times-Star.)

Ottawa, July 2.—During the last year, covering the October term of 1923 and the February and May terms of 1924 there have been 105 cases tried before the Supreme Court of Canada here. Of these 26 have originated in the western provinces, including British Columbia, 40 in Quebec, 30 in Ontario and nine in the maritime provinces.

Of the western cases the largest number originated in Saskatchewan, although the western provinces are grouped together as the maritime provinces are for the purposes of the court records.

At this present time the personal of the Supreme Court bench, geographically considered is as follows: Justice Iddington, Acting Chief Justice, Ontario; Justice Anglin, Ontario; Duff, British Columbia; Mignault and Malouin, Quebec. The late Chief Justice, Sir Louis Davies, was from Prince Edward Island and was the only representative of the maritime provinces on the Supreme Court bench.

Judge Maclean, of the Eschquer Court is from Nova Scotia, and there seems to be a sort of unwritten rule that the maritime provinces shall have a representative in the Supreme Court. It has been suggested that he might be translated to the higher court. This, however, is unlikely, and would be strongly opposed by members from the maritime provinces if the Government were to suggest it.

Newcombe Mentioned.

The name of E. L. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice, a Nova Scotian, is most generally mentioned to fill the vacancy created by the death of Sir Louis Davies.

Filling the position of Chief Justice is somewhat of a problem to the Government. It has been suggested that Chief Justice Mulock of the Supreme Court of Ontario should be appointed, and again that Justice Iddington should be given the step up.

There has been a quiet conflict between Justices Duff and Anglin to secure the preference.

Premier King owes much to Sir William Mulock of whom he was a political protegee, and from whom he secured his first official preferment as editor of the Labor Gazette, from which he was promoted to be Deputy Minister of Labor. It is said that Sir William covets the appointment to the Chief Justiceship. He is 82 years of age, while Justice Iddington is 84, and is very likely to retire at an early date, which, in the event of Sir William Mulock's appointment, would remove the criticism of Ontario having three representatives on the court. If the latter covets the appointment of Chief Justice, as he is said to do, it would seem likely that he would resign in a year or two for a younger man. In that event, he would likely be succeeded by Mr. Newcombe.

SAYS DEPOSITORS HAVE MORAL CLAIM

Good News is Contained in Report of Home Bank Committee.

Ottawa, July 1.—Good news for the Home Bank depositors was contained in the report of the committee on Banking and Finance submitted to the House of Commons this afternoon and which recommended that the depositors, while having no legal claim, have a moral claim in equity for compensation by the country on account of any loss they may suffer by reason of the failure of the Home Bank.

This report was presented to the House by H. M. Marler, Montreal, and Thomas Vign, the chairman, and when asked by Mr. Meighen if the report was unanimous, Mr. Marler said it was a majority report. Although the press were excluded this morning from the sitting of the committee on Banking and Commerce when the report on the sub-committee was being discussed it is understood that the report was adopted by a large majority—about three to one. The opponents, it is understood, were confined to Liberals and Conservatives. According to the present outlook a bill for the reimbursement of the depositors would have no difficulty in passing the House. Whether the Senate would reject it, as it body did reject the bill in the former's Bank case, remains to be seen.

ENGLAND SEEKS TO GROW COTTON SUPPLY IN AFRICA AND ASIA

Fear a Falling Off in the Supply From United States Sources.

London, July 2.—(United Press).—A declaration of independence against United States cotton is in process of formation here, and the present acreage will be increased as much as soil adaptability and climatic conditions will permit.

The ultimate net result of these two plans, authorities here believe, will be to make the entire British Empire completely self-sustaining in the way of cotton.

Meanwhile Japan, which depends upon the United States for more than half her cotton, is attempting against adverse natural conditions, to get a supply nearer home. She hopes to establish or promote the establishment of very large cotton growing areas in China, or, failing in that, to be able to buy more and more of her cotton from India, if the British schemes for production increases there are realized.

The fulfillment of these ideas will, naturally, be a matter of some years, and until they are fulfilled the United States will continue to dominate the world cotton situation.

Whether China can ever produce really large quantities of cotton, as figures of world-supply go, is problematic. States will continue to dominate the world cotton situation. Whether the Indian acreage naturally adapted to cotton can be stretched very far beyond its present proportions is also yet to be proved.

But as for Africa, both in the Sudan and in the south, all experts are agreed. They say the cotton possibilities are almost limitless, although very large preliminary investments are required in drainage, establishing extensive irrigation projects and clearing great tracts of land.

The Ile d'Ouessant kept going for twenty minutes, and then the water invaded the engine room. The women and children on board were in great distress, but their fears were calmed when the crew launched the boats. Ten minutes later all the passengers were put into two of these boats. Another boat capsized on touching the water, and the crew took their places in the remaining boat and waited for Captain Nizou, who remained in the doomed ship.

Suddenly the steamer gave a plunge and sank. Thrown into the sea the captain succeeded in reaching the third boat by swimming, and it was with tears in his eyes that he left the scene of the wreck. The Eugene Potron arrived, followed by several fishing boats, and the passengers and crew were taken on board and disembarked at Lamouille. A youth of 15 years of age, a member of the crew of the vessel, showed great bravery by throwing himself into the sea and rescuing a passenger who had fallen into the water between the vessel and one of the boats launched.

BREAK GLASS AND RUN.

In answer to a telephone call yesterday afternoon from Leo Gilbert, who conducts a fruit and refreshment store in Charlotte street, that some person was trying to break into the rear of his premises, police officers hastened to the place and learned that two young men had broken a pane of glass in the rear of the store occupied by Frank Armstrong adjoining the Gilbert premises. The breaking of the glass probably frightened the men away as there was no sign of the store being entered when the officers arrived on the scene.

HE WANTS MORE CABIN BOY NOW IS ISLAND RULER

London, July 2.—The life story of a former cabin boy, who became a king, after killing three men to escape being eaten, is told by his father, a shoemaker in the little fishing village of Standby, to the north of Fredericks-haven, in Denmark.

Freddie Harden, 6-year-old St. Louis youngster, left satisfied with the $75,000 his grandfather, Frederick Moll, St. Louis liquor dealer, left him. He is going to get another $75,000. It was called Siegfried Potluck, son of his grandfather's attorney.

Christen was the only white man in the island of Matty, one of the Solomon Islands, in the Southern Pacific.

Christen was born in 1875, and when he was 15 he sailed out into the world, and his father has not seen him since. He has, however, received many letters from him, and much money.

Christen went to the Solomon Islands as the head of a large German trading company that was doing trade with the natives. He had under his command 22 large and small sailing and steam vessels, which gathered copra in the islands. The copra was carried by the large German steamers twice a year.

4 KILLED IN N. S. FIFTY YEARS A TEACHER

Eleven Entombed in Allan Shaft at Stellarton—Seven Rescued.

Stellarton, July 1.—Four men are dead and several others are suffering from injuries and gas as the result of an explosion in the Allan shaft of the Acadia Coal Company, which occurred early Monday evening. Though the explosion took place about 4 o'clock, it was after midnight before the last of the men were either rescued or taken from the mine dead.

According to statements of officials, there were 74 men in the mine when the explosion came. Sixty-three of the men either succeeded in getting out to safety themselves, or were assisted out very shortly after the explosion, but something was wrong underground.

Eleven men were entombed, cut off by a fall of coal in No. 3 level, about 1,200 feet down.

With all the men now out of the mine, no one here can so far account for the disaster.

As said, 11 men were trapped by the fall of coal. Of these, four are dead. The victims of the explosion are: John Walsh, New Glasgow, married, aged about 80 years. He is survived by his wife and one son and one daughter, Mrs. James Mahoney, New Glasgow. John Walsh was a foreman in the shaft. He was born at West Port Hood, C. B., but has lived in New Glasgow for some years.

Hugh McInnis, Lourdes. He was married and leaves a family.

Dominick Van Larsen, of Stellarton. He was single, aged about 60 years. He was 52 years of age. He had been in Pletion county for 17 years, coming here from Liege, Belgium. He is survived by his wife and two sons, both of whom are grown up.

James Scully, formerly of Westville. He was single, aged about 60 years. He was 52 years of age. He had been in Pletion county for 17 years, coming here from Liege, Belgium. He is survived by his wife and two sons, both of whom are grown up.

These men, the last four taken up, were all past hope of recovery when they reached the surface. Loved ones here are hoping that there might be a possibility of life being revived by means of a pulmonary, but the spark of life had fled.

Seven men were rescued by the Draeger men.

At 8.30 o'clock it was reported that an Allan shaft that fears were entertained for the safety of the men. Tremendous crowds were then assembled about the mine and the scene was distressingly sad.

Meanwhile, a body of men were working valiantly to penetrate the barrier.

At nine o'clock Monday evening Manager Riley, for any of the management, could give any idea of what may have happened in the mine. All they knew was that there was a big fall of coal on the level at 1,200 feet. Four men went down to help remove this and took with them Draeger men who were standing by ready to attend first aid and explore the mine. The fall of coal once the barricade was penetrated. The volunteers were relieved by eight others, and these shifts have been relieved by others at hourly intervals.

When questioned about the possibility of fire in the mine, Manager Riley stated that there was no trace of fire during the day; there was no shooting, nor was any explosive used. The mine was perfectly normal and the management and those best acquainted with the workings could not even guess where the accident happened. The fall on the slope might be only the result of shock in some distant part of the mine.

Rev. Father McLeod, of New Glasgow, and Father MacIsaac, of Lourdes, stayed by the mouth of the shaft comforting the anxious ones and ready to give what consolation they could.

Charles McKinnon, of Stellarton, a member of the crew of John D. Walsh, concrete foreman, who had gone down with his men to construct a stopping to be used after the pillars had been withdrawn in that part of the mine. Charles McKinnon had suffered a broken leg and had been gassed somewhat.

The second man to be rescued was August Carron, also of Stellarton, a day-shift man, who was also gassed.

Charles Worth, of Stellarton, was the third man rescued. When he was brought to the surface it was found that he too had suffered a broken leg and was slightly gassed, but would recover alright. Worth was another member of the day-shift whose presence among the entrapped men was determined by the absence of his lamp from the lamp cabin.

Joseph Frost, William Lefere and Alexander Gaingie were the three others rescued before midnight. These three were night-shift men. They were also suffering from gas when brought to the surface, but under treatment were brought round and will, it is hoped, be none the worse for their harrowing experience.

A press and stretcher has been patented that will keep from one to five pairs of trousers in good condition.

ROMANCES OF GREINA GREEN ARE RECALLED

Marriage Certificates of Nearly 2,400 Runaways Sold in London.

THEY BRING $1,400

Weddings of Some High in Social Rank Included in Number.

London, July 2.—Something of the romance of Greina Green, the little Scottish village that for more than 100 years was the haven for couples who, for one reason or another, could not be married in England, was brought to light in a London auction room when the original marriage certificates of nearly 1,200 runaway couples, extending over the period of 1835-1864, were sold for $1,400.

Among the most romantic of the marriages, the certificate of which was among those sold, was that of Prince Carlo Bourbon, younger brother of King Ferdinand II of the Two Sicilies, to Penelope Carolyn Smith, of Waterford, Ireland, in 1836. The couple first lived in Naples and were expelled. They fled to Rome and were married there, but later, upon visiting the bridegroom's sister, the Queen Regent of Spain, found themselves ostracized, and were again married at Madrid. When they arrived in England they were advised to go through another ceremony at Greina Green and finally, to placate the hostility of English society, they were married for the fourth time at St. George's, Hanover Square, London.

Another romantic marriage was that of Lady Adela Corisande Maud Villiers, daughter of the Earl of Jersey, who eloped in 1845 with Captain Charles Parkes Ibbotson. It was a coincidence that the bride's grandmother, Miss Sarah Child, daughter of the founder of Child's bank, had also been married at Greina Green to Lord Westmoreland, and had been pursued by her father who was persuaded to give up the chase only when one of the horses drawing his coach had been shot by his prospective son-in-law.

Other runaway marriages brought to light at the sale included that of Ellen Turner, schoolmistress at Greina Green, who was sentenced in 1828 to three years imprisonment for abduction after parliament had by a special act, in 1827, granted her freedom. Lady Rose Somerset, daughter of the seventh Earl of Beaufort, to Captain Francis Lovell, in 1836; Miss Carolyn Clayton, schoolmistress at Greina Green, seventh Marquess of Queensbury, in 1840.

All the marriages during the period covered were celebrated by John Linton, keeper of the inn at Greina Green, and it was a descendant of the innkeeper that offered the certificates for sale.

Englishman Returns After Expedition—Locates Mysterious Desert Oasis.

London, July 2.—Captain R. E. Cheeseman, formerly private secretary to Sir Percy Cox in Baghdad, has just returned from an expedition into Arabia in the unknown territories of the Sultan of Nejd.

Accompanied by an Arab boy and guides supplied by the Sultan, he succeeded in penetrating the great South Desert from the north as far as the mysterious oasis of Jabrin, the position of which has long been a matter of speculation to geographers. He is the first European to reach this oasis.

Representative collections of geographical specimens and of the desert fauna and flora have been brought back, many of which have proved new to science.

The Bedouin who inhabit this inaccessible region are the Ahl Murra, one of the nomad tribes regarding which little reliable information has been obtainable up to the present. The official description dismisses them in a few lines.

This savage and little-known tribe, with physical and linguistic peculiarities which have long been a puzzle to survivors of the pre-Arab population. They are ill-provided with domestic utensils or clothing in advance of the stone age, and are unadvanced predatory.

Captain Cheeseman, who went with introductions from the Sultan, was well received by them, and stayed six days in their midst.

Another important discovery made was that of a ruined site which there is every reason to suppose is Jerah, an ancient Phoenician port on the Persian Gulf. The position was that given by Ptolemy in his geographical list, since when all trace of it has been lost.

English scientists are experimenting with an electric machine designed to eliminate the dense fogs which visit London.

JAN SMUTS IS ELECTED AGAIN

Cape Town, South Africa, July 1.—Jan Christian Smuts, former Premier of the Union of South Africa, whose South African party was defeated in the recent election, was returned unopposed from Standerton, Transvaal, today. He had accepted the offer of Col. G. M. Steadon, member of the Assembly for Standerton, to contest for his seat.

NOTES $85,000 TO PARALYZED GIRL

Jury Awards Elvira Orgera Big Verdict in New York.

New York, July 2.—Miss Elvira Orgera, who was paralyzed from the waist down on Dec. 21 last when she was shot by her prospective mother-in-law, Mrs. Concetta Branca, has received a verdict of $85,000 damages from a jury in Justice DeLoach's part of the Supreme Court. Her mother, Mrs. Angelina Orgera, received $40,000 in a suit for $50,000 for the loss of her daughter's services. Mrs. Branca, who was sentenced to two to five years in the state prison at Auburn, N. Y., after she had pleaded guilty to second-degree assault, did not appear to defend the suit.

Miss Orgera, encased in a plaster cast, was taken to the County Court-house in an ambulance to testify. She was carried from the basement to the second floor on a stretcher and put before the jury box, where she told the story of the shooting in a few words.

She had been engaged to John Branca, a laborer, for several months and had prepared most of her wedding trousseau. On the date of the shooting they were to go to the Municipal building to get the marriage license, and the wedding was to take place three days later. The girl was alone with Mrs. Branca in a room at Mrs. Branca's home at 247 East 114th street. Mrs. Branca, enraged at the sight of the happy girl and jealous of the division of her son's love, shot her, and paralysis followed. The woman said afterward that she had warned Miss Orgera that she would kill her if the marriage took place.

Miss Orgera was taken from one hospital to another, each rejecting her as a hopeless case. She finally was put in a plaster cast in which she will remain for from eight months to a year, but surgeons express little hope for her recovery.

When Justice DeLoach heard of the girl's need, he granted her counsel, Hartman, Sheridan & Tekuly, a preference and fixed May 21 as the trial date. Under ordinary circumstances the case probably would not have come to trial for two or three years. Mrs. Branca obtained an order to show cause in Part 1 of the Supreme Court, which delayed the proceedings until yesterday.

By midnight the rescue parties in their splendid efforts had succeeded in releasing six of the entrapped men, who had been brought to the surface by that hour.

The first man to be taken out was Charles McKinnon, of Stellarton, a member of the crew of John D. Walsh, concrete foreman, who had gone down with his men to construct a stopping to be used after the pillars had been withdrawn in that part of the mine. Charles McKinnon had suffered a broken leg and had been gassed somewhat.

FRENCH CONSUL AT HALIFAX ROBBED

Halifax, July 1.—A daring robbery was performed here on Saturday evening in the home of Emil Gaboury, French consul, was burglarized in broad daylight, and articles valued at $1,000 stolen. The house was deserted at the time of the robbery, and no one was in the vicinity of the grounds save the family dog, which was clubbed into insensibility. Apart from a valuable radio set, all the articles stolen were personal belongings of Mrs. Gaboury, and included dresses and jewelry. The invaders left no clue behind, and the police have given out no information as yet as to the identity of the burglars.

SUSSEX YOUNGSTER FALLS 3 STORIES

Boston, July 1.—Within half an hour after arriving with her parents at the home of a family friend in Dorchester, to attend a reunion, two-year-old Catherine LeClair, daughter of John and Mary LeClair of Sussex, N. B., was taken to the City Hospital, Monday afternoon, with a fractured skull and many bodily injuries, having fallen three stories when a piazza railing against which she was leaning gave way. The child is not expected to live.

CONVENTION CHEERS.

(N. Y. Times.)

A feature of American political conventions that is almost unintelligible to visitors to the United States is the demonstration of cheering that greets the nomination of a popular candidate. It would be considered a ghastly breach of etiquette for a speaker to utter the name of the man he is about to put in nomination until the necessary investment and all the time that it takes. And then he told the following incident to show how in one case a golf game had cost a Toronto business man an important order.

"A prominent business man told me that an American acquaintance coming to Toronto with the intention of placing an order for some plant which he required, which he thought he could best secure in Canada, was invited to luncheon by the gentleman upon whom he had called, at one of the clubs. He invited three or four gentlemen to meet with him. They talked of golf, he said, all through the luncheon.

"They made up a golf foursome and the gentleman whom he had come to see and with whom he thought to remain over night, said: 'If you come in the morning I will see you.'

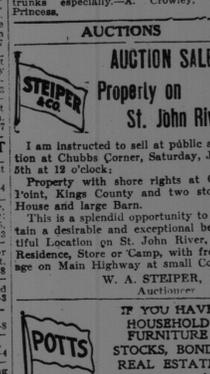

"And after they went away for their game of golf, he thought, 'Well, I think I will go out on the five o'clock train. I don't believe I will give an order in Canada for that plant.'

HE OUGHT TO GET IT BOBBED

"Captain Swift," long-haired poodle, is all dressed up for the show. He even submitted to the curling iron. But all his trouble wasn't for nothing. He won first prize at the Ladies' Kennel Club exposition in Olympia, England.

This is all that was left of an army balloon after lightning struck it while flying over Belmont, Ill. The man at the left, William Knott, farmer, found the bodies of Lieutenant James Neely, pilot, and Dr. C. L. Meisinger, weather observer, both from Scott Field, Belleville, Ill., who were killed when the big bag fell to the earth.

MUTT AND JEFF— ONLY EDUCATED GUYS CAN BE LION TAMERS FROM NOW ON

A cartoon strip featuring two characters, Mut and Jeff, in a conversation about becoming lion tammers. The dialogue is as follows:
Mutt: "WHAT'S THE IDEA OF WAITING AN HOUR, INSECT?"
Jeff: "I HAD VERY IMPORTANT WORK TO DO FOR THE LION TAMERS' CLUB!"
Mutt: "HELPING THE PORTER CLEAN UP?"
Jeff: "DON'T GET FRESH! I WAS GETTING UP A NEW SET OF QUESTIONS FOR CANDIDATES FOR MEMBERSHIP TO ANSWER: WE GOTTA BE MORE EXCLUSIVE!"

Stock Market Feature
at the Opening.

New York, July 2.—Strength and activity of the oil shares featured the irregularly higher opening of today's stock market. General Electric and United States Cast Iron Pipe each moved up a point. A good demand was noted for the low priced rails, a number of which improved fractionally. Cable Transfers. Montreal, July 2.—Cable transfers, 4.37%.

Montreal Market. Only two issues appeared in board for quoting during the first half hour's trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange. The former included a Brazilian and Canadian Industrial Alcohol. The former sold at 10 1/2, while the latter sold unchanged at 2 1/2. The balance of the business was transacted in small lots and the price tendency was steady.

Brokers' Opinions.

New York July 2.—Josephthal: "Would not jeopardize losing our long position in sound stocks." Lighten up long accounts during the forepart of this week in anticipation of a good stock reaction later.

Current Events

New York, July 2.—Brown Shoe declared regular quarterly $1.75 preferred dividend, payable Aug. 1. American Light and Traction declared dividend 1 per cent common stock on common and regular quarterly cash dividend 1 per cent common and 1 1/2 per cent on preferred, pay Aug. 1.

Morning Stock Letter

New York, July 2.—Although there was some profit-taking near the close yesterday, we see no change in the character of the market, and we expect the advance to continue. There are coming now more and more slight indications of improvement in certain leading oil news is encouraging and car loadings figures show an increase over last week. In addition McAdoo's strength in the convention is growing less steadily. The rails are somewhat backward for the moment, but they should move ahead again in a short time. We believe the dividend payers and some of the low priced issues such as Mop. Pfd., Katy Pfd. and Texas Pacific are going higher. Colorado Fuel is having another move and should sell about 40 in the near future. Later it will sell higher. Can. Steel and Baldwin are the leaders and are a purchase on any small recession. We believe the oils are a good purchase here. Houston acts well and we believe T.C.N. is still a purchase. The motor stocks will still pull M. O. and M.M.O. A. and of the coppers C. D. P.

U. S. FEDERAL AID
TOTALS $75,000,000

Will be Available for States During 1925 Road Building Season.

New York, July 2.—The sum of $75,000,000, of which $18,000,000 is immediately available, is to be proportioned among the various States during 1925 as a subscription from the Federal Government to the building of good roads, as authorized by the Agricultural bill, recently signed by President Coolidge.

The appropriation is to be made to the states on the same basis as Federal aid of preceding years, except that Hawaii, for the first time, is to share on the same basis as the States.

Since 1916 a total of $540,000,000 has been made available by acts of Congress. The Bureau of Public Roads of the United States Department of Agriculture, which administers these funds, reports the status on May 31 as follows: Completed, $2,099 miles; under construction, 17,000 miles, and $38,106,128 available for new projects.

Practically all of the old funds and the entire amount of the new funds have been or will be expended on the Federal Highway system of the United States. This system provided for by the Federal Highway act of 1921 consists of approximately 170,000 miles of roads and has been designated by the States and approved by the Federal Government. At the beginning of the present year it was estimated that 60,000 miles of the system had been surfaced and 8,700 miles graded, leaving 110,000 to be surfaced. Some of this work has been done by the States independent of the Federal aid.

To surface the remaining 110,000 miles by 1924 will require an annual program of 11,000 miles. New legislation carries an appropriation of $6,000,000 for National Forest roads and trails, $3,500,000 of this amount being the remainder of the $8,500,000 authorized for the current fiscal year and $2,500,000 being the initial appropriation of the $6,000,000 previously authorized for the fiscal year 1925. The Secretary of Agriculture is also authorized to appropriation and enter into contracts against the $4,000,000 remainder of the authorization for 1925 not yet appropriated.

Table with columns: State, Amount. Includes Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, etc.

Can Tunney Trim Carp. As Good As Gibbons?

New York.—The names and perplexing case of Mr. James Joseph Tunney, known professionally as Gene, is to be wheeled back into the operating room for further clinical experiments.

Mr. Gibbons is, of course, not unlike the common run of fight managers, and one should not take his enthusiasm too seriously.

A VERSATILE PLAYER

The all-round athlete is the one who wins numerous letters. Ask Rickey what he thinks about Dyer-to-day and he says: "The greatest all-round ball player in the National League."

OLYMPIC GAMES WILL BE OPENED NEXT SATURDAY

The Prince of Wales Will Attend With President of France.

MARCH OF NATIONS

Four Bands and 700 Voices Will Participate in the Programme.

Paris, July 2.—A huge corte of 700 voices will chant the "Triumph of Lathlet" as Olympic games of 1924 are formally opened here Saturday in the presence of President Doumergue of France, Premier Herriot, the Prince of Wales, Ras Tafari of Abyssinia and all the diplomatic corps.

Four bands will strike up the "Marseillaise" a few moments later, and the corte of athletes of 45 nations, in alphabetical order, according to the French spelling, will pass around the Colombes Stadium.

South Africa comes first, Argentine second. At the head of each contingent standard bearers will carry the name of the country and its flag. After the several thousand marchers have swung around the Stadium, they will group themselves in columns in the center, with the standard bearers in front.

Our Dual Responsibility

In all transactions with customers, we recognize a dual responsibility; first, by all recognized safeguards to protect the investor against loss; second, to remember that when a customer invests in a security of our underwriting, he has placed his faith and confidence in our integrity.

In this spirit we offer as a sound investment the 6 1/2% First Mortgage Bonds of an established, well managed Light and Power Company at a price to yield 6.60%.

We conscientiously believe that there is available no better security offering an equivalent rate of interest. For this, most convincing of all reasons, we invite you, as a possible investor, to write for our circular "N.L." giving full particulars.

DOUBLE SERVICE BEGINS. The Eastern Steamship Line Governor Dingley sailed this morning for Montreal and is expected to bring approximately 150 passengers and a fair sized general cargo. She is due to return to the city next Saturday morning and is expected to bring a large number of passengers. The S. S. Prince Arthur, which has been placed on the St. John-Boston route by the company is due to arrive here tomorrow morning on her first trip of the season. She is expected to have a large passenger list.

British Journalist Assassinated. London, July 2.—Dr. De Haan, Jerusalem correspondent of the London Daily Express has been assassinated, according to advices received here from Jerusalem. Lord Beaverbrook, proprietor of the Daily Express, has been attacked many times by the Zionists for his criticism of the British mandate over Palestine.

Ask Rickey what he thinks about Dyer-to-day and he says: "The greatest all-round ball player in the National League." Dyer does not ask to have his own opinion decide the question, but points to Dyer's ability on the hill as a south-paw, his terrific hitting and his work as an outfielder. Dyer at present lacks but one essential, according to Rickey, to become a brilliant pitcher. The Texas rookie has a fadeaway that is similar to the shot that made Hubert Pruet famous in the American League in 1922. But the fast ball with the same motion as the fadeaway so far isn't quite fast enough to fool the batters. "That's what Dyer is prepping now—to put more smoke on his fast ball, using the same delivery as his fadeaway."

As manager of the St. Louis Cardinals, naturally Rickey did not care much about Dyer as a sprinter, a grid-iron star or a basketball hero. He saw Dyer strike out 17 batters in one game and win it with a home-run wallop over the right field fence. That was enough for Rickey, and Dyer became a member of the St. Louis Cardinals.

HAS CHEERY WORD FOR PARTS OF N. B.

Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith, chairman of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, was in the city today attending to routine matters in connection with the office. He said that a meeting of the Commission would be held in Moncton, next week, probably on Tuesday, to prepare the monthly report for the Government. Dr. Smith said that everything pointed to a bumper crop in the county of Westmorland this year and vegetation was well advanced. Speaking of the North Shore, he said that crops were late this year but were looking well. The fishermen of the northern part of the province had a great season he said, large number of salmon and lobsters being caught and a good price realized for the catch.

Thaw to Be Farmer; Buys Virginia Estate

Washington, July 2.—Harry K. Thaw has made partial payment on the Kenilworth Farm, which was the home of Henry Stephenson, five miles north of Winchester, Va., and intends to become a farmer and fruit-grower, according to word reaching Washington from Winchester. A New York architect is expected in the Virginia town in a day or two to decide to what extent improvements should be made to Kenilworth. While Thaw was an inmate of a Philadelphia hospital, his mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, was an occasional visitor in the Winchester section. Kenilworth once was one of the largest estates in Frederick County, but in recent years it has been subdivided and tracts of considerable size have been sold. J. W. and J. L. Joffie several years ago bought the residence and 106 acres of limestone land from the heirs of Henry Stephenson. They sold the property to Thaw. The estate had been in the Stephenson family for more than 130 years. Thaw and his agent, it was learned, toured the whole Shenandoah valley, from Lexington to Winchester, and inspected many attractive old estates before he decided on Kenilworth. All details of the deal will be completed in a few days.

LANGUAGE BRINGS FINE

INDIANS GET TO FIRST DIVISION

Washington Now Has Three Game Lead Over New York.

New York, July 2—Cleveland's mighty effort which plunged the American League into turmoil and sent Washington into the lead ahead of New York, Detroit and Boston, has finally lifted the Indians from last place to the first division.

Speaker's tribe vaulted from seventh to fourth yesterday by winning two games from St. Louis by scores of 6 to 4 and 8 to 2, as Boston lost twice to the Senators, 2 to 1 and 5 to 0, and Chicago was beaten by Detroit 13 to 3.

The new alignment gives Washington a three-game lead over New York, which shut out Philadelphia 7 to 0 behind Hoyt's pitching, aided by Ruth's 20th homer which came with two men on.

The Giants continued their merciless punning of Brooklyn, with a 6 to 0 pitcher hurled by a single Giant pitcher this season. Chicago retained its position, five and one-half games behind the leaders by beating the Reds, 4 to 3.

Rogers Hornsby made his ninth homer of the season and his second within two days in his Cardinals' 5 to 2 win over Pittsburgh. The Phillies scored five runs in the first inning and defeated Boston 9 to 6.

MONKTON AND VETS TONIGHT

Monkton and the Vets will meet on the East End grounds this evening in a regular N. B. Pro League fixture. Charlie Paul, Springfield twirler, formerly on the pitching staff of the St. Stephen pros, is now signed up with the Monkton aggregation and may be seen in action here tonight.

VAIL'S WORK IS COMMENTED ON

Says He Did Wonders This Year With Wisconsin Crew.

By FRANK GETTY (United Press Staff Correspondent) The splendid showing of Wisconsin's varsity crew in the 27th annual intercollegiate regatta, when the Cardinal sweep-swimmers took second place, leads to hope that "Dad" Vail will be back next year with three boats, senior and junior varsity and freshman. Vail is now summering at Gagetown, N. B.

That is the veteran Wisconsin coach's ambition, and there was a time, shortly before the touchy-skipper race, when he thought he saw the prospects go glimmering. Talking to a United Press correspondent a day or so before the race, "Dad" Vail was pessimistic. He didn't believe his boys were going to finish much better than last, it seemed. Then something happened over in the boat house which Washington, winner of the big race, shared with the Wisconsin crew, "Rusty" Callow, coach of the Washington eight, was of the opinion that the Cardinal oarsmen were raising themselves too modestly. "You can row; you can beat these easterners," he told the Wisconsin outfit. "Get out there and do it; I'm ashamed of you."

These words from the Washington mentor aroused the Cardinal crew to great deeds, and they were at the top of their form on regatta day, and showed the way to Cornell, Pennsylvania, Syracuse and Columbia in the big race at twilight. "Dad" Vail wonders this year with what little material he had at hand, and said afterwards he was pleased with the great showing of his crew and hoped it would do two things: stimulate more men to come out for rowing at Wisconsin, and make it advisable for three crews to come east for the regatta in 1925. The day was certainly a triumphant one for western rowing men, methods and mentors. Washington's superiority over the highly-rated Pennsylvania crew was strikingly demonstrated. Both Cornell and Wisconsin beat the firing Red and Blue boat to the finish, but none of them were within striking distance of the Washington shell.

Young Grant, cox and captain of the far western aggregation got his eight into the lead shortly after they broke from the mark, two miles above the spider-web railroad trestle. Then Washington had nothing to do but hold the lead. For a time, Grant devoted his attention to the crews of Penn and Cornell, which were pressing him. After they came under the bridge, however, he could see out of the corner of his left eye the nose of the Wisconsin shell creeping up. Turning, the little Washington cox studied the oncoming Cardinal sweepers and then suddenly beat more rapidly on his sounding board and sent his crew into a spurt. The Washington boat drew rapidly away, crossing the finish length and a half to the good with plenty of power to spare. The first thing Wisconsin did after crossing the line was to turn and wave to their victorious rivals in the Washington boat, as much as to say: "Well, boys, we did it. We couldn't beat you, but we trimmed the rest of them."

"Rusty" Callow was besieged with offers to come east and coach crews here, even before his oarsmen had won the varsity race. The Washington coach was loyal to his university, however, and at that time insisted he would have to fulfill his contract. Harvard offered to pay the amount of his contract and give him a salary of $15,000 a year besides, if he would take charge of the Crimson crews.

Keep the matter quiet, but the Washington undergrads and old boys alike were dead game and were ready to take off their shirts and bet them on the varsity shell. Of course, betting in college sports is immoral, but several years ago, when Washington was either less affluent or less generous, a crew came east with barely enough to get by on. The boys bet their return trip money on the purple and gold. That time they lost. Report was that the bulk of the guests from the coast didn't walk home, but took a side-door Pullman and worked in the Washington harvest fields until they got money to send east for their shell. Well, they didn't walk home after the 1924 race; they were, as the poet says, "lousy with coin." In the car on the observation train, there was a bunch wearing the purple and gold. They bet until their faces matched their colors. Finally, Wisconsin backers appeared with $20 more. The Washington harvest fields until they in small coins they raked up $2. Finally, the Washington leader appealed to an outsider for a loan, tending his watch as security. The security was rejected, but $18 was advanced, the Wisconsin money covered, and at particular Washington bunch was absolutely stony—but only until after the race. If it is true that faith will move mountains, who could wonder that Washington was a triumph for the Seattle system of instruction which, it seems, can hardly be improved upon. Yale had a better crew than Washington this year, but Yale, it will be remembered, is rowing under an ex-Washington mentor, Ed Leader. It is too bad that the westerners did not meet this year. Mrs. Rowlands's handsome parlor clock. Rev. Mr. Rowlands was also presented a gold-mounted fountain pen, and Mrs. Rowlands a gold pencil. The children received money gifts. Rev. Mr. Rowlands will be the resident Methodist minister at Baie Verte.

Cosmopolitan Story, "The Eagle's Feather," Has Lots of Action.

A thrilling Metro picture full of delightful incident and fine action came to the Unique Theatre last night. It is called "The Eagle's Feather" and is a picturization of Katharine Newlin Burt's famous story of the same name which appeared in Cosmopolitan's magazine some time ago. The story was read by millions of people and its picturization will undoubtedly be enjoyed by as many more.

"The Eagle's Feather" tells the story of a hard, unromantic woman who scorns men and love and is known as "the biggest man in Bear Valley." But there comes a time when a newcomer on the ranch, just returned from the war, strikes her fancy and Della, the scowner of men, finds that Fate has played her a cruel trick. When she craves for love it is to her niece, a frail, beautiful girl, wholly feminine, that the man turns to with love, and Della must acknowledge her only defeat and that at the hands of the sex she has despised all her life.

"The Eagle's Feather" contains the many scenes of tremendous action and excitement. James Kirkwood, fresh from his great acting in "The Fool," the sensational Broadway success, and the direction of "Doc" Kearns, in which more than four thousand cattle rush across the screen in vivid realistic flight.

At the end of the round, as evidenced by the fact that even after the terrific beating he took on the ropes at the bell, and after the bell itself, he clipped Firpo on the jaw, the champion was in a bad way physically. Under the direction of "Doc" Kearns, the work in Dempsey's corner went to the camp, putting their million-dollar machine in shape again. Dempsey's brain cleared under the skilled manipulation of his seconds; he was ministered to without their interfering with his deep breathing; it was like a group of skilled mechanics in a pit at an automobile race changing a tire for a winning machine. When the bell called for the second round, Dempsey was out of his corner like a shot, having received the benefit of all it was physically possible for three men to do for him during that all-too-brief interval. It wouldn't be detracting a whit from the credit which Jack is entitled for winning that fight to say that the boys in his corner did their part.

Much the same thing happened—perhaps the need for good seconds—when the Chilean champion, Romero Rojas, was beaten by Floyd Johnson at the Garden in May. This Chilean was game as they make them, but slow, awkward, inexperienced. He gave Johnson a hard fight, harder than it appeared, as Johnson himself knows, and several times came close to slowing up his high-strung opponent and once nearly stopped him. But what punishment poor Romero received when he got to his corner! Two or three Latins fell upon him and mauled him about for half a minute, at the end of which time the bruised, bleeding Chilean would be pushed back into the ring, reaching feebly for Johnson in an effort to fall into a clinch, and get a little rest!

There's Psychological Reason For Stage Names, Say Stars

Hollywood, June 17.—A rose does not smell as sweet by a different name—despite distinguished authority to the contrary. There is a great deal in a name, by virtue of certain psychological factors. Motion picture people long since discovered that.

And for some at least the change of name, a common practice on screen and stage, has undoubtedly spelled the difference between obscurity and fame. Mary Pickford was once Gladys Smith. Rudy Valentino was born Guglielmo. The name Gish was brevitated upon the fair Lillian by Griffith.

Others have renamed themselves. Many have renamed themselves. Others have had new designations forced upon them. In the former case, it is usually a wish fulfillment—the wish to seem what the name implies to themselves and presumably to others. In the latter case, a long one, or one difficult to pronounce, has usually been replaced with a simpler and more euphonious, or to distinguish one player from another of like name.

David Wark Griffith altered the name of nearly every one of his protégés. He did that for three reasons: The psychological effect upon players, the psychological effect upon audiences, and the practical need of a short, preferably one syllable name, for convenient billing and electric lighting.

For associational appeal to audiences he preferred names that would convey the many scenes of tremendous action and excitement. James Kirkwood, fresh from his great acting in "The Fool," the sensational Broadway success, and the direction of "Doc" Kearns, in which more than four thousand cattle rush across the screen in vivid realistic flight.

Colleen Moore was christened Kathleen Morrison. Bessie Love was born Juanita Horton. Marjorie Dajw was Marjorie House. Madge Bellamy's family name is Philpott. Viola Dana and Shirley Mason discarded Flagrath. Mary Miles Minter is really Julia.

MAPLE LEAF PAINT

It Makes Good Because It's Made Good.

—the millionaire can't buy better paint anywhere. —and the man who owns the humble cottage can't save money any surer way than with MAPLE LEAF.

MAPLE LEAF PAINT is the sum total motor driven adding machine of paint progress when it comes to comparison with the old pot and paddle days I had to go through.

For the "old man" with his shirt sleeves up and nothing to do on a Saturday afternoon—but a little job of painting—there's nothing to it but MAPLE LEAF and follow the directions on the can. Perhaps he won't need my services, but here's my advice to him—go to it strong with MAPLE LEAF and the eternal smile will become a permanent fixture on his face—for every time he'll look at the job he'll say MAPLE LEAF for mine every time.

The man with the MAPLE LEAF around his store is the man to buy paint from, look him up in your town.
