Organized Workers Parade in Capital

Leading Floats Made Fine Show
Brotherhood of Paper Makers Took First Prize, With Fire Fighters Second.

Through a three-mile route, lined by many hundreds of spectators, the Ottawa Labor Day parade, symbolic of the strength and unity of the trade union movement, passed on Monday morning. The parade was not so large as last year, either in the number of workers on foot or the decorated floats in the procession.

There were several reasons for this disappointing fact. One was that owing to industrial depression a great many of the workers were without work and these did not turn out in such numbers as more favorable circumstances would have allowed. Another was that others were engaged in making up for lost time through strikes and general disturbances earlier in the year.

Nevertheless, the parade was well carried out, and those responsible deserve every credit for obtaining the good showing made under prevailing conditions. Citizens of Ottawa and Hull crowded the streets along which the parade passed, in large numbers. Particularly numerous along the main street, while on the return to Ottawa crowds were dense along Wellington and Rideau streets.

At the large crowds gathered at Cartier Square, where the procession ended and the awards for the best floats were announced. Last year the workers assembled on By Ward market, but this year they gathered at Cartier Square, where the procession ended and the awards for the best floats were announced.

Striking Turnouts
While not so gay as previously, the parade contained many striking groups and decorated floats. For neatness and conspicuous appearance the International Brotherhood of Paper Makers, Ottawa, took first place. They wore khaki caps and trousers, and their floats were decorated with a city sprinkler, picturesquely decked in bunting and flowers, and two motor trucks.

J. A. P. HAYDON
ISSUES MESSAGE
TO LABOR
Says Organization Must Be The Watchword, and Higher Canadian Citizenship.

In a Labor Day message to the organized workers of the Capital and district, President J. A. P. Haydon of the Trades and Labor Association says that every worker should be organized for his protection, and to offset the attempts of those who would endeavor to lower the standard of Canadian citizenship.

"Labor Day, 1921, finds the great forces of democracy still on the march of progress. Although every industrial center has huge battalions of involuntary idle workers, organized labor—the vanguard of the great forces of democracy—is marching onward with colors flying, and its morale unshaken," says President Haydon.

NEWS ABOUT WEST VIRGINIA SITUATION

Samuel Gompers, President of the American Federation of Labor, has issued a statement setting forth the supplemental facts in relation to the West Virginia situation.

With the situation in West Virginia at a most critical juncture it is almost beyond belief that there has not been placed before the public complete and accurate information regarding the events leading up to the position taken by the President of the United States.

The great mass of news relating to West Virginia conveys the impression that lawless bands of miners are roving the state without reason except an unjust desire to loot the mountain areas.

There are four basic facts which are consistently ignored and which are the duty of government and press to present. These are: 1.—The mines of West Virginia constitute the best refuge of anti-trust in the mining industry.

2.—The present strike is a direct protest against the action of the mine owners of West Virginia in refusing to accept the award of the United States coal commission.

3.—The state government of West Virginia has broken down, not because the miners are lawless, but because it has failed to stop the mine owners from enforcing law as a private vendetta.

4.—The Federal Bituminous Commission (Lynch) report on March 10, 1920, it carried with it an award of twenty-four cents flat on pick and machine mining to the bituminous mines of the United States.

UNEMPLOYMENT AND IMMIGRATION
Policy of Congress as Adopted at Winnipeg Convention

A special committee was appointed which brought in a report which, with a few amendments, was adopted. The final report follows:

SCOTCH MEMBER A BELIEVER IN CANADA'S FUTURE

Neil MacLean, of Govan, Endorses Policy of Settlement on Lands Rather Than in Cities.

Neil MacLean, of Govan, Endorses Policy of Settlement on Lands Rather Than in Cities. He spoke of unemployment. In Great Britain, he said, there was a problem even as in Canada. He had been amazed in view of the size and potential wealth of the great Dominion, to find that more than one-third of the population was cooped up in cities and towns.

What Canada needed most, said Mr. MacLean, was men to develop the country, industrial and thrifty settlers for the land. He expressed amazement at the vastness of the country, the sparsity of the population. With half the country's population in the cities and towns, his view was the country was slightly out of balance.

President Tom Moore, of the Dominion Trades Council, said labor was coming through its present trials fairly well and he believed in the end they would be stronger in purpose and clearer in vision. Labor, he said, had no desire to pull down the "Red" leaders who were more fortunate than themselves, but they did desire to come a little nearer securing an equal share of the good things of the world.

Labor, he said, had no desire to pull down the "Red" leaders who were more fortunate than themselves, but they did desire to come a little nearer securing an equal share of the good things of the world.

The annual Labor Day parade in Toronto from Queen's Park to the Exhibition grounds had no exciting episode, other than a fruitless attempt by a handful of "Reds" to capture the demonstration.

The parade was headed by Mayor Church and members of the city council. In the fire-fighters' section was drawn a hose reel of 1850, pulled by men laboring in the uniforms of that time. The Printers' Union, the commercial branch of which is still on strike, was out in full force.

WORKERS UNITY MOST POWERFUL OF ALL FACTORS

Neil MacLean, M.P., Address Given Before Trades and Labor Congress

United effort on the part of British workers, prevented Britain from war on Russia in 1919; the elimination of suspicion and distrust, and the replacement of these attributes by solidarity and determination, would enable the workers in Canada, or any country, to bring about a better condition of affairs, and ultimately to wrest from the capitalists the tools of production. This was the theme of the wonderful address delivered by Neil MacLean, M.P., for Govan, Scotland, and fraternal delegate from the British Trade Union Congress, before the Trades and Labor Congress last week.

Neil MacLean, M.P., said that immigrants came to this country in the expectation of finding a new country and seeing something of the enterprise of Canadians, at the Exhibition and elsewhere, Mr. MacLean said he was convinced that for labor power and organizing ability, the Canadians were second to none in the world.

Refrerring to the Miners' Dispute, Mr. MacLean said this had led to a great deal of unemployment. Benefits of all the unions affected had to be paid out of union funds. As a result of the dispute, ended most of the unions found their treasuries depleted. They were unable to resist the wage drive which followed the miners' dispute.

Mr. MacLean expressed the opinion that union organizations should be organized and educated themselves to bring about emancipation for the producing class. Canada always will have an unemployment problem, even as every other country in the same fix will have one.

Watered Stock.
"Always," he declared, "the employing class calls upon the workers to pay. Always are they asked to accept reduced wages; a lower standard of living; a sacrifice of any little comfort they may have."

He spoke of 334 different industrial concerns in England, taken at random from a list including every variety of industry, whose actual profits in the year 1919 exceeded by 30, 000,000 pounds the aggregate profits during the "protesting wartime period."

Workers All-Powerful.
"This only went to show," he continued, "that the workers can accomplish anything by organization and proper direction. If we can only close our ranks; eliminate distrust and suspicion; how great a progress could we not achieve?"

Neil MacLean referred to the Anglo-Japanese treaty. This treaty when first made had included a clause protecting Korea from Japanese interference. When the treaty was renewed however, Korea was excluded because it suited British interests to allow Japan a free will in Korea.

STAND BY YOUR UNION

Stand by your union with all the force there is in you. There never was such need as there is now for your faithful adherence to the principles of trade unionism. Look at the unorganized, where they stand. They have no protection, no one to lead them, no one to advise them. As individuals they have no more strength than a spider. Organized and standing together, we may be able to resist the destructive actions of the Employers' Associations that are trying to strangle the unions that have done so much for humanity.

It is up to you to refuse to allow them to destroy the union. Stand by the organization now. You know what it has done for you. You know the conditions of slavery with which we were surrounded before we had a union. Do not go back to that slavery, but back you will surely go unless you fight faithfully for your organization and bring in every man on the outside.

Above all, let peace and harmony prevail in your organization. Support and encourage the officers who are now working for you. They have a hard task to perform to offset the arguments of the employers. Do not make it harder by trying to find fault with their work. Help them, advise them, and encourage them. Let us all stand together in defense of the house we all helped to build.—Halifax Citizen.

THE UNION SHOP AND FREEDOM

The synonyms for "union" shop and "non-union" shop respectively are "democracy" and "autocracy." In the union shop the workers are free men. They have the right of organizing in trade unions and to bargain collectively with their employers through representatives of their own choosing. Employees in the non-union shop are like cogs in a machine. They have nothing to say as to the conditions under which they will work, but must accept any wages, hours and working conditions that may be fixed arbitrarily by the employer.

The union shop represents true democracy in industry. There are no class distinctions or autocratic rulings to disturb the best relations between the workers and their employers. The right of organizing into trade union is conceded. Employers and employees meet as a man to man. Each respects the other. The employee is a willing worker and the employer keeps the part of the bargain he has made with the workers through their chosen representatives.

It is because Labor is continually seeking improvements in working conditions and the standard of living that the objections are aroused of those who desire to keep the workers servile. Upon what other grounds would employers oppose the organization of the workers? What other reason could be given? They are the men who clothe themselves in the cloak of piety and raise their eyes upward in horror when they hear anyone speak of the union shop. They stand in the way of progress as others have done since the beginning of time. They are the reactionaries who believe in involuntary servitude. They are the men who seek legislation to the men to their jobs. The union shop is an obstacle to their dreams of autocracy in industry. Therefore they seek to make the union shop detestable in the eyes of the people while the non-union shop is lauded as the greatest harbor for "free" men that could possibly be conceived.

Let those within our ranks who have ability and a surplus of energy put them to the important task of building up—for tearing down is no long a popular pastime. Let us demand of those outside that they keep hands off.

This is a democracy, a country where minorities have a right to organize, a right to work ceaselessly in an effort to transform themselves into a majority. A man has a right to his opinions; he has a perfect right to expound his theories in an endeavor to convince others that his contentions are right. Others have the same privilege of investigating his theories and the motive behind his words or actions. This democratic condition exists in our country and in our organization.

In trade unions the same right of minorities exist and have existed. If the minority can convert itself into a majority then it can lead. In summing up the contentions of the minority that is striving to transform itself into a majority by having its opinions and contentions accepted, however, the members of an organization should first look for the motive behind the agitation and then to the tactics employed. The motive determines the merits of the appeal for consideration.

There can be no worthy motive behind any movement that tends to destroy our organization, and the tactics employed by our enemies cannot, by any stretch of imagination, be commended.

It may be perfectly all right but it just naturally sounds funny to hear organized capital advise labor not to organize but to act independently for its own good.

LETTER CARRIERS CONVENE AT MONTREAL

Motion in Convention for Straight Salary of $1,860 Without Bonus Was Voted Down.

A thirty per cent increase on present salaries was demanded by the Federated Association of Letter Carriers in convention. An alternative motion of a straight salary of $1,860 without bonus was defeated, though some opposition to the bonus system was registered, the system being characterized inasmuch as it was subject to fluctuation. The executive committee was instructed to again take up the matter of free transportation for letter carriers with the department, in all cities having a street car service. Various resolutions relating to working conditions were passed. It was recommended that in all post offices where there was a group of 250 letter carriers or related employees the superintendent be given the same standing and salary as that of head clerk. The convention further declared in favor of the staff of senior letter carriers being increased in proportion of one for eight letter carriers—duties to exercise general supervision over the group and take charge in the absence of any of the unit. Motions dealing with postal matters included a recommendation that every class of mail should pay for its own carriage with the exception of first class mail, and that zones

A motion that it be made compulsory for the public to have mail receptacles placed in the most convenient position for the carrier delivery also carried.

Officers Elected. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, E. V. Browning, of Toronto, by a majority of three votes. Vice-president, D. Reihder, of London. Others nominated were: A. Campbell, Edmonton; F. Mowat, Hamilton; J. North, Toronto; J. Tobin, Sarnia; Secretary, A. McMerle, of Toronto; assistant secretary, J. Archer, of Hamilton, delegates to the Canadian Civil Service Federation, J. Archer of Hamilton, and W. A. Tobin of Sarnia; auditors, A. C. Clark, C. J. Ouly, A. E. Jennings, of Toronto; trustees, F. Mowat of Hamilton, and C. J. Stuart of Stratford.

The convention decided to accept the resolution concerning the amalgamation of all postal employees of the Dominion, which was formulated in Ottawa last March. It was considered by the delegates that Dominion-wide amalgamation would be for the betterment of all and that the public would also greatly benefit by a report of the concessions that were obtained by the pressure which the Hamilton branch of the Federation had obtained from the postmaster-general was read and the meeting loudly applauded some of the injustices that had been remedied by the work of this energetic body.

Congress Executive that the conference would be called to with this question, and that they immediately call a conference of representatives of the Provincial Governments, Municipal Councils of Organized Labor, as represented in the Trades Labor Congress of Canada and employers in the larger industries, to prepare a plan of unemployment insurance.

Be it further resolved that in the interim period between now and the time that permanent machinery is set up by the Federal and Provincial Governments to cope with the unemployment situation this congress request that the Federal Government:

1. Restrict and guard against unwarranted immigration.
2. Enact an eight hour day at least for their own employees.
3. Construct necessary public works such as Custom houses, Offices and other public buildings which are badly needed in cities and towns throughout the Dominion.
4. Renew and repair all public buildings.
5. Continue money grants for immediate needs.
6. Make housing loans to the extent of $50,000,000 to aid various cities and towns to construct working class houses.
7. Overhaul all rolling stock, etc., on the Government railroads also all other equipment belonging to the various spending departments of the Federal Government.

Be it further resolved that this Trades and Labor Congress Canada through its Provincial Executives request the several Provincial Governments to:

1. Engage in road building on a large scale.
  2. Repair and renew old public buildings and construct necessary new ones.
  3. Afforestation.
  4. Develop agricultural lands.
  5. Make a money grant for immediate needs.
- Be it further resolved that this Trades and Labor Congress Canada request the Central Labor Council, throughout Canada help in relieving the present unemployment situation by getting Municipal Councils to undertake at the earliest moment, the construction of sewers, water mains, roads, schools, fire halls and other necessary public buildings and also to make a money grant for immediate relief.

Your Committee further recommend that all of these resolutions should emphasize the fact that all of these works and undertakings should recognize the prevailing rates of wages and should not be classed as a charity.

Your Committee further recommend that in the event of any of the Provincial Governments or Municipalities refusing to cooperate in the measures set forth in the resolution or refusing to assume their fair share of the responsibility in relieving these conditions then the Federal Government shall itself use all its constitutional powers to obtain their co-operation and failing in that should itself institute measures of relief adequate to meet the local situation.

Your Committee further suggest that in view of the fact that some instances large industries have been closed down, thereby terminating unemployment, we are of the opinion that the Congress Executive should use every effort to secure legislation exercising control over these conditions.

We further recommend that the Trades and Labor Congress place itself on record as in favor of the abolition of all Employment Bureaus other than those under the jurisdiction of the Dominion and Provincial Governments and strongly urge organized workers of Canada to use to the fullest extent the provincial Employment Bureaus.

We further suggest that the various Government reserve all construction and public works, as far as practicable, for periods of unemployment and for districts most affected by it.

We further recommend that the Congress Executive do all in their power to obtain legislation which will debar private employers from recruiting workers outside of Canada.

In conclusion your Special Committee on Unemployment desires to commend the various Provincial Governments who have set up Advisory Councils on Unemployment in their respective Provinces and sincerely hope that all other Provincial Governments will do likewise to meet this serious crisis.

Your Committee further recommends that the Executive of the Congress, Provincial Executives and Federations of Labor, should continue to fully co-operate with the Employment Service Council of Canada.

IMMIGRATION

Your Special Committee on Unemployment and Immigration having considered very fully the various resolutions and data submitted to them, hereby present the following for your consideration and action:

For the past twelve months throughout the Dominion of Canada, there has existed a serious unemployment situation a solution for which is not in sight in the immediate future. Efforts are now being made in various quarters, to induce immigrants to come to Canada, from European and other countries, whose advent will mean additional hardship to citizens of Canada, by reason of proportionate extension of unemployment. Some of the immediate results of the present immigration policy can readily be seen by the large numbers of newly arrived immigrants who are continually applying for charity, through no fault of their own and in many cases due to direct misrepresentations in reference to the employment situation and the rates of pay prevailing in Canada, evidence submitted to your Committee fully sustains the foregoing.

Therefore be it resolved by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada in Convention assembled, that realizing the serious unemployment prevalent in Canada at this time, hereby recommends to this 37th Annual Convention that we call upon the Federal Government to institute a new policy of immigration including the following provisions:

- (a) Absolute prohibition of all immigration from European countries for a period of two years at least, with the exception only of exempted classes.
- (b) Total permanent exclusion of all Orientals and that the incoming executive use its influence to have treaty with Japan abolished.
- (c) Federal Statutory legislation making it beyond the right of private individuals or corporations to distribute literature or information of any kind by way of lecturers, agents, etc., calculated to induce non agricultural workers to immigrate to Canada.
- (d) Federal Statutory legislation making it legal for the Government of Canada to deport any individual who has entered Canada under the exempt classes regulations, and who within a period of twelve months from the date of entry into Canada, is found working at some other occupation than that designated as their avocation when applying for entry into Canada.
- (e) Federal Statutory legislation which will legalize the appointment of a Commission to thoroughly investigate the question of Oriental immigration into Canada.

Your Committee desires to bring to the attention of the Congress the action of the Canadian Senate with reference to the deportation of British subjects without trial, in spite of the fact that the said legislation received the unanimous approval of the House of Commons. We recommend that the incoming Executive of the Congress, press for the removal of this most pernicious legislation.

Your Committee notes with satisfaction the efforts of the Executive Council in obtaining legislation, which now places accredited representatives of the International Trade Unions in the non-immigrant class, and they are now allowed free entry into the Dominion. To appreciate the value of this legislation it is only necessary to draw your attention to the case of Organizer Hickman, in connection with the strike at the Beaver Board Plant, Thorold, Ontario.

Your Special Committee further recommend that the Congress continue its representation on all Boards dealing with immigration and urge that they not relax their vigilance.

Your Committee is pleased to note that the officers of the Congress, have communicated with C. W. Bowerman, Secretary of the Parliamentary Committee of the British Trades Union Congress, relative to the misrepresentation indulged in by Canadian Employers of Labor when inducing workers to leave the British Isles, this was further supplemented by the work of Fraternal Delegate O'Dell who took up the subject matter with the officials of the British Trades Union Congress and the Government Immigration Officials.

HAD FINE WEATHER

Large Number Of Floats In Procession, Which Was a Large One.

Montreal—Bright, warm weather favored the annual parade and celebration of organized labor in Montreal, 37,000 thousand union members wearing the insignia of their various crafts, turned out for the procession through the city streets. Members of two organizations now on strike, theatre employees and the job printers carried banners and signs denouncing capitalistic oppression; the former giving the names of a number of theatres here claimed to be acting unfairly to labor. A large number of floats were conspicuous in the procession, among the most elaborate being that of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Linemen, who had arranged several telegraph poles in the centre of a truck with a number of linemen plying their trade on the cross-arms. A feature of the procession was a hand-pump used by the Montreal fire brigade in 1898, drawn by eleven members of the Montreal Fire-Fighters Union, who were wearing the old uniform. This was followed by the up-to-date apparatus now in use. Similarly a hose wagon used in 1850 drawn by one horse followed the pump, together with a ladder truck that dates back to 1891. Four hundred firemen were in the parade.
