GENERAL ASSEMBLY ENDED.

Committee on Church Union Appointed-- Several Reports Received--Members Leave For Their Homes.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The afternoon session was chiefly taken up with the discussion of Regina industrial school, the report of the committee appointed to consider the questions in regard to Queen's University, the report on Sabbath school publications, and the general assembly standing committees.

Mr. Sinclair, speaking on the industrial school, pointed out that the Regina school had presented all its reports, but the difficulty of securing the necessary funds and the reduction of revenue consequent has led to financial embarrassment, resulting in the accumulation of considerable deficit. The committee are doing good work. Referring to the assembly sending a delegation to Ottawa for the purpose of securing an increase in the capita grant, for the Roman Catholic grant is now much smaller. If the industrial school is abolished it will simply mean the beginning of the industrial work there. In the department of education, the industrial school inspectors have reported that the industrial method to be used in educating the Indians, but if the industrial school at Regina is abolished the last of that sort of training will be lost. The Roman Catholics will come in and in future, to the Indians, the school will seem to have been merely a model of Presbyterianism.

Mr. McQueen moved that the committee be instructed to press upon the government the necessity of keeping this school in good condition, and that a sufficient amount be granted for its purpose.

The motion was seconded by Rev. W. J. Clay of Victoria.

Rev. J. A. Martin said that after a long and anxious session, the committee were not very anxious to undertake any further responsibility.

Mr. Warden moved that Mr. McQueen's motion be referred to a small committee of three, to be appointed by the assembly, to report on the subject at the next meeting of the general assembly.

The motion carried.

MISSIONARIES' SALARIES.

Mr. McLaren presented the report of the committee on the salaries of missionaries. The committee recommended the adoption of a resolution to the effect that owing to the increased cost of living the salaries should be increased, and that the minimum salary be advanced fifty dollars. The report and sympathetic co-operation of every minister and congregation was solicited.

The committee also expressed the hope that in the matter of the Dawson hospital, the church would give at least $5,000. They could not, however, see their way clear to recommend a grant.

Mr. McLaren moved the adoption of the report.

Dr. Pringle said that it was impossible for the church to meet the needs of the territory in the Yukon to police what an important part of the missionary work the hospitals were. The committee would recommend a grant for at least one year. He was also disappointed because he believed that he had opened a door for the Presbyterian church in Canada to take possession of a field richly equipped. He was not personally interested in the Dawson hospital at Dawson. He had never received a dollar for it; but he hoped to see it prosper.

Dr. Smith seconded Dr. McLaren's motion and the report was adopted.

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY.

Prof. Murray of Dalhousie College, Halifax, submitted the report re the situation of Queen's University in the north. The report recommended that connection between the university and the church be maintained. The arguments were given a larger representation on the board of trustees. That the assembly recommend the trustees to continue their investigation and report to the assembly next year. Judge Forbes seconded the motion, which was carried.

SABBATH SCHOOL PUBLICATIONS.

Dr. Douglas Fraser, editor of the Sabbath school publications, presented his report, which was highly satisfactory. The circulation had advanced by 10 per cent. The receipts for the past year were $35,313; the expenditures, $43,238.82.

The adoption of the report was moved by Dr. Campbell of Montreal, and the report of the committee on the Sabbath school publications, to use the Sabbath school publications.

Dr. Pringle said that he had heard complaints made to the effect that the subscription price was too high. Prof. Fraser explained that it could not be published any cheaper, and it was

THE ASSEMBLY ADJOURNED.

The assembly adjourned to meet at 9 o'clock this morning.

NOTES.

It is fully expected that the assembly will conclude the transaction of all business in time for a final adjournment on today. It is imperative that many officials and leading members of the assembly shall leave the city on the evening train.

The committee appointed to strike the committee on church union, to consist of about sixty members, will report to the assembly this morning. Dr. Somerville is convener.

Yesterday's business was among the most interesting yet taken up by the assembly.

The thirtieth general assembly of the Presbyterian church in Canada is at an end. At 1.45 yesterday the assembly adjourned to meet again in Grant Hall, Kingston, next year.

The assembly was one of the most important and interesting in the history of the church and the business was conducted with the greatest wisdom and order. The debates being taken part in by some of the most prominent scholars and eloquent speakers in Canada. The business yesterday, although long, was of a very routine, was particularly important.

The first item of business was the report of the Home Mission committee (western section) give an annual grant of $700 for five years to the college, for the support of the excellent Presbyterian College, Dr. Herdman said, was largely due to the untiring efforts of Pringle in Canada. The report of the committee on church union, submitted by Dr. Herdman, was particularly important.

PROF. CAMPBELL.

Dr. Fletcher, convener of the committee appointed to confer with Prof. Campbell in reference to his resignation from the staff of the Montreal Presbyterian College, submitted their report, to the effect that Prof. Campbell emphatically refused to reconsider his resignation, and that the college board should accept of his resignation.

Dr. Fletcher moved the adoption of the report and also a resolution expressing the assembly's satisfaction at the work done by Dr. Campbell during his long period of association with the college and the deep regret of the assembly in losing him. It was also moved that the college board should recognize the pecuniary recognition of his services as the finances of the college will allow.

Prof. Springer seconded the motion and contended that there was no truth in the statements which had been made to the effect that members of the assembly had been influenced by his trial for heresy.

Dr. Sedgewick thought Prof. Campbell ought to have some time in which to reconsider his resignation, at least thirty days.

The motion was carried.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session it was decided not to appoint a Sabbath school general assembly this year, but to allow the committee to continue their work in that direction and report at the next meeting of the general assembly.

Several other reports were adopted, and although the assembly was not in a position to finally adjourn, as had for a time been anticipated, considerable necessary business was transacted. The assembly decided to petition parliament with a view to having betting on horse races stopped. The petition will be signed by the moderator and clerk of the assembly.

Just before the assembly adjourned in the afternoon a motion was made to the effect that Rev. J. C. Robertson of Montreal, N. B., be appointed general secretary of Sabbath schools. On remaining business in the evening Dr. Somerville, seconded by Rev. M. C. Gillivray, moved an amendment to the effect that Rev. J. C. Robertson be appointed instead of Mr. Robertson.

Principal Falconer referring to the Sabbath school work said that it needed a man of good outlook, broad ideas, earnest desires. A man's qualities should not be canvassed on the floor of the assembly. He felt that Mr. Robertson was such a man that the church should not lose him in this work. As far as he could judge Mr. Robertson was the best man before the assembly, and had all the qualities necessary.

Principal Patrick moved that the assembly define to make any appointment this year. He did not agree with Principal Falconer that the gentleman should be appointed by the head of the Sunday school work.

Rev. J. D. Boyd of Kingston seconded Principal Patrick's motion. He thought managers should be put all over the field, after which a secretary could be appointed to help generally.

Principal Patrick's motion was carried. Principal Grant then moved that the committee be instructed to continue their investigation and report to the assembly next year. Judge Forbes seconded the motion, which was carried.

J. W. Campbell, in connection with the report of the young people's societies presented at a previous session, moved that the committee on young people's societies be instructed to prepare one or more handbooks on missions suitable for mission study classes, suitable for general use, and that organized effort be made toward the establishment and development of young people's societies generally. The motion was passed.

The very favorable reports of the committees on aids for social worship, the distribution of probationers and on the board of trustees of the Presbyterian church in Canada were presented and adopted. The board of trustees of the Presbyterian church in Canada were presented and adopted. The board of trustees of the Presbyterian church in Canada were presented and adopted.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, June 10.—Lord Dundonald must go. His attack on Hon. Mr. Fisher at the military dinner last Saturday for displaying a preference in regard to the appointment of officers in the new cavalry regiment, the Scottish Light Dragoons, in the eastern townships of Quebec, might have been dismissed with a caution to keep his mouth shut in future, but when the incident came up in the house this afternoon and it developed during the course of the debate that the commandant had seen fit to place his views before parliament and the country through the medium of Col. Sam Hughes rather than through the minister of militia, the wrath of the government and its followers knew no bounds. Dundonald is a noble officer, with a solid military record, but he is a political tactician, and his official head must soon fall into the basket that contains the heads of most of his predecessors in office. Even the mild Fisher grew virtuously indignant and actually belittled as he denounced the audacity of a servant of the government in criticising the acts of a cabinet minister.

When the house met, Mr. Fisher read a typewritten speech, in which was a letter from Lord Dundonald, correcting some minor errors in the newspaper reports of his remarks, but reiterating in the main his statement that it was intolerable that his recommendations made in the best interests of the militia force should be grossly injured by any minister not connected with the militia department. Mr. Fisher at first denied that he had interfered in the list of officers appointed alone, but later in the debate admitted that as then acting minister of militia he felt there were too many conservatives in the list of officers and he was forced to make changes. Hence he overruled the general's recommendations. Mr. Borden supported Fisher's statement, stating that as the new regiment was in Fisher's own territory he had authorized him to take supervision of the creation of the staff of officers. Dr. Borden said he accepted the fullest responsibility for all that had been done and for Mr. Fisher's treatment of Dundonald.

Col. Sam Hughes, Dr. Borden admitted that he had this afternoon received from Lord Dundonald a copy of the letter he had sent to Col. Hughes, but declined to submit it to the house. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, however, took up the remark that it was a confidential document. When asked by the opposition leader, whether he would have been asked to make a defence, the premier replied that the commander-in-chief had chosen Col. Hughes as his military expert, and that he had no objection to Col. Hughes saying whatever he liked of the matter. Col. Hughes said he had received a letter from Lord Dundonald in answer to his enquiry, and that he had passed it to the minister of militia. Col. Hughes said he had received a letter from Lord Dundonald in answer to his enquiry, and that he had passed it to the minister of militia. Col. Hughes said he had received a letter from Lord Dundonald in answer to his enquiry, and that he had passed it to the minister of militia.

Lord Dundonald had not shown in his transaction any trace of the courtesy or common sense that he might have acquired by his two years' residence in Canada. Both Mr. Fisher and Mr. Borden made a weak and hasty defence of their conduct. Mr. Borden (Halifax) showed that the minister of militia had admitted that he had not read the letter which revealed the fact that he had killed Dr. Fisher's name from the list of officers of the new regiment because he was a conservative. Why, he asked, did not Mr. Fisher introduce party politics into a matter of which he knew absolutely nothing. Surely the minister of militia as a public official should be the best of available material, and the minister of agriculture had been appointed a military expert in this case with power to overrule the views of the militia and to make recommendations. Amid loud conservative cheers, Borden put it that it was the militia department and not Col. Hughes who was on trial today, before the house.

He showed that out of sixteen officers of this regiment only two were properly qualified, and the man named down was a conservative. The minister of militia disputed these figures, but was forced to admit that there were at least eight unqualified officers on the list. Mr. Borden said that he would not be without benefit if it led to a withdrawal of partial influence as regards the militia force which Canada cheerfully pays so much. He trusted there would be no further interference by Hon. Sydney Fisher.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he, too, regretted the incident, and suggested it would be well to move slowly and prudently in such grave matters. No one doubted Dundonald's good name and good motives. But this was not the first time a good soldier lacked discretion. Lord Dundonald was a "foreigner."

Cries of "Withdraw, withdraw." Sir Wilfrid Laurier—Well, it is a strange case, and in organizing regiments, take counsel of ministers who know the country. Canadians are not to be dragged, and a minister of militia under responsible government had the right to reverse Dundonald's acts and recommendations. Other defended Dundonald, while Borden seized the occasion to make one of his characteristic speeches, of course against the British officer. After recess the debate on the Dundonald case was continued by Laurier of West Simcoe, Monk of Jacques Cartier, Northrup of East Hastings, Hon. John Haggart of South Lanark, Clarke of West, Rogers, Pope of Compton, Fowler of Kings, N. B., and Galt

Hughes. Hon. Mr. Fielding said the government had purposely refrained from discussing Lord Dundonald's conduct, as that matter would come up again in due time. The house adjourned at 11 o'clock.

RALPH FORD WAS DRUGGED AND ROBBED.

The Girl, Who Was Not His Sister, Disappeared From Boston and is Reported in Providence.

BOSTON, June 10.—Left without a cent and absolutely at a loss to account for the absence of her brother, Miss Estelle Ford of St. John, N. B., is at the South station awaiting the return of her missing relative. Yesterday afternoon he left her "for a minute" while he bought tickets for New Britain, Ct., and he has not returned. The fact that he had some money with him makes her the more anxious about her brother. This morning she notified the police and asked them to search for him.

The missing man is Ralph Ford, 27 years old. He is described as 6 feet 1 inch in height, weighs 140 pounds, has a smooth face and dark hair, and wears a black suit and a black derby hat. Ford and his sister rivied in Boston yesterday by rail, coming in at the North station. They went to the American House for dinner, and there, Miss Ford says, her brother was called out by some friends and talked with them awhile. He said nothing about seeing them again, she says, but the police are not sure but that these friends met Ford at the South station yesterday afternoon and induced him to go out with them.

In an interview with the Associated Press, Dowie said: "Towards 9 o'clock tonight Dove ventured to leave the building with his wife and son, and the long waiting mob with frantic shouts dashed after their cab, while reporters in hansom cabs joined in the chase of a circuitous route to the Hotel Cecil. It is said that Dowie obtained rooms at the hotel by withholding his name, but that he has been requested to leave in the morning."

TO DEPOSE THE SULTAN.

Widespread Plot Discovers in Tangier.

LONDON, June 12.—The Tangier correspondent of the Times says: "A well organized and widely spread plot to depose the Sultan exists throughout Morocco. It has no connection with the late rebellion, but originated with the religious and educated classes and is supported by many shrewd and other influential persons, including members of the Moorish government."

"The Sultan is cognizant of the proposed revolution and may be obliged to leave Fez because he has not the forces to withstand such a universal rising. "The revolution was arranged before the Anglo-French agreement was known, but that adds fuel to the fire as the Sultan is now accused of selling the country to France. The conspirators have no fixed plans beyond deposing the Sultan and the government, which they believe postpone the dangers now threatening Morocco."

Pale, Anaemic Girls

Go Into a Decline—Usually Contract Consumption or Some Fatal Constitutional Disease if They Neglect to Restore Normal Vigor—The Blood Must be Enriched by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Because of its wonderful blood-forming qualities, Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has established a remarkable reputation as a cure for the ills, weaknesses and irregularities peculiar to women. 50 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto. The portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous receipt book author, are on every box of his remedies. MAKE THIS TEST:—Note your increase in weight as now, firm flesh and tissue are being added to the body by this great food cure.

There is no trouble so frequent among young women as anaemia or thin, watery blood. During the physiological changes which take place an enormous amount of blood is consumed by the feminine system and many never seem to fully recover from the effects unless some blood builder is used. Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is admirably suited to such cases owing to the fact that it forms new red corpuscles in the blood and so increases the richness of the blood very promptly. It is appreciated by young women because it improves the color, gives a healthful glow to the complexion, increases weight and rounds out the human form. This food cure is a system builder and nerve restorer of remarkable effectiveness.

Miss Lizzie B. Carey, 15 Foster Street, Chatham, Ont., states:—"I was all run down in health, my blood seemed thin and watery, and at times I scarcely had strength enough to get around. Since using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food my condition is altogether changed and my health very much improved. Though I was formerly quite pale, I find the color is returning to my face. I am strong and healthy, and in fact feel better than I have for years."

Mrs. R. Wareham, 267 Sherbrooke Street, Peterboro', Ont., states:—"One of my children has suffered a great deal with nervous headaches, dizziness and sleeplessness. These troubles were attributed to overstudy and confinement at school. She began using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I can say that we have found this treatment exceedingly helpful. It has relieved her of headache, steadied her nerves and built up her system wonderfully. We can say a great change in her, as the color is returning to her face and she is gaining in flesh and weight."

FIREBUGS AGAIN AT WORK.

Disastrous and Dangerous Fire on Mill Street—Men Seen Setting Fire to Barn.

The police and firemen are well satisfied that there is a gang of fire bugs at work, and their successful operations in the vicinity of York Point lately culminated Saturday night in the greatest triumph of all, when they destroyed five large buildings on the east side of Mill street, entailing a loss in real estate and personal property of fully $25,000.

The places burned are: Miss McCarty, milliner, insurance, Duncan Brown, shoemaker, partially covered. Edward Corbett, flat rented, none. George Friars, flat rented, none. Edward J. Heatt, Hygienic bakery, $2,500. Fook Wah, Oriental store, none. Robt. J. Jenkins, confectionery, none. Charles Brager & Son, ladies' clothing, none. Wong Sam, laundry, none. Peter Ward, residence, $1,000. Arthur Martin, flat rented, none. J. P. Martin, flat rented, none. James Quinn, tavern and flat, none. Robert Moore, flat, none.

THE FIRE'S ORIGIN. It was nearly nine o'clock when the alarm was sent in by Policeman William White. Some say the fire was discovered in the partition or wall of James Quinn's barn, to the rear of Quinn's house, situated in the centre of the burned district, while others say it started in the Chinaman's place. Access to these diversities is gained by a large alley, running from Paradise row, next to the Mission Church school house, to the I. C. R. tracks in front of the elevator. Several people were present when the flames were first seen. When they gave the alarm the Quinn barn was completely filled with smoke, making it impossible to see anything exactly how the fire commenced, and when the large door was burst in the draught thus created so increased the fury of the flames that investigation entirely out of the question.

Taking the buildings on the fire-swept side of the street in line, the result of the conflagration is as follows: The Central Store was not damaged by the fire and not materially by the water, although about all the stock was collected and piled up, ready to be moved out at a minute's notice. The next building, at No. 124, which is owned by David Corkery, got a bad scorching, although it was not burned. The lower flat rented, owned by Michael T. Cochran, as a tailor shop, also succeeded in getting out its stuff, which was only slightly damaged. Mr. Cochran carried out his furniture, and J. Komensky with his family lived in the two upper flats, and also kept lodgers. He met with considerable loss, but the ground floor was saved, and the furniture and effects, which were thrown about in every direction, in the frantic attempts to save them from the flames. He has no insurance.

The building adjoining this one, which is also owned by David Corkery, was badly gutted both by fire and water. On the ground floor was the store of Miss Hannah A. McCarthy, milliner, which was completely flooded with water, and the shoes and millinery were ruined. Brown's store, however, was taken out and up the street to the barber shop of Charles O'Hara, her brother-in-law. Miss McCarthy said yesterday morning that she carried insurance, but was not then in a position to say just how much, or to what extent she had suffered.

Brown's store was also flooded, but little damage was done by fire. The partition at the back was burned and several windows were broken, the rest of the damage to the stock and store resulting from water. Brown's stock, which was not a very large one, was mostly saved. Over these stores lived three families, George A. Friars, milliner, Mrs. Sarah Friars, widow of the late Daniel Friars, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Corbett. They all succeeded in getting out and the damage to their stocks resulted chiefly from the smoke and water.

HYGIENIC BAKERY. The real damage began at the Hygienic bakery, No. 134 to 138, where all that is left of that thriving industry is a mass of charcoal and blackened ruins. The whole plant, buildings, machinery, ovens and fixtures were swept by the flames, and in a very few minutes from the time it caught the building was a total wreck. E. J. Heatt, the proprietor, who lives upstairs over the bakery, is an Englishman and has been here for some years. Mr. Heatt's wife and three children were saved with difficulty, being taken out in their night clothes. He had $2,500 insurance, but his loss is a bad blow. Mr. Heatt had rented the Bryden place on Union street and will begin operations today.

FOOK WAH. Fook Wah, a Chinaman who ran an oriental store, next to the Hygienic Bakery, was probably the worst sufferer of the fire. His loss is something like $5,000 without one cent of insurance. Only Saturday he had received a new lot of goods, consisting of oriental trinkets direct from China, on which he paid freight and duty to the amount of $300. Fook Wah, who lived in a room over his store, feels his loss very keenly, and Sunday morning could be seen digging in the ruins for any remains of his cash box which contained $200 in gold and bills. He succeeded in finding a roll of charred bills, which will probably be redeemable. The rest of his wealth was in stock. The next place visited by the flames was the clothing store of C. Brager & Son, in the building owned by Peter Ward. The firm had no insurance whatever and did not succeed in saving anything. They estimate their loss at $2,500. On the same flat was a Chinese laundry which is the Sam Wah stand, where the first Chinese laundry ever in St. John was situated. The present laundry had only been opened up on Saturday and there was no insurance. Considerable laundry belonging to private parties was destroyed. Above these stores were flats occupied by two brothers, Joe and Arthur Martin, with their families and also Mr. Ward. The Martin families barely escaped with their lives. Joe Martin, who was out when the alarm rang in rushed to the house, where he found the smoke so dense that he could not save a thing. Mr. Martin's wife and a family of nine, had a difficult time. His wife is very sick and had to be carried down the ladder, through the smoke and water to a place of safety. The store of Homer Pitch at No. 132, the next in succession, was totally destroyed. It was a small confectionery and soda fountain shop and most of the contents were saved.

J. M. Jenkins, who conducted a fruit and confectionery store next to the oriental store lost everything. Everything in the office of the next building and conducted a liquor store, lost everything. David Moore, who works in Grannam's tin shop, Main street, occupied the first flat, but, like Mr. Quinn, saved little. Whatever was got out was stored in the basement. The office of the next building, which was a furniture store, was next door, was totally gutted, and although he managed to get out nearly all his stuff, it was in a damaged condition and the loss was heavy. A good deal was stolen before the goods could be conveyed to a place of safety. Mr. Wetmore valued his stock at $3,000 and his loss at $1,000 over and above his insurance, which is $1,000. Upstairs Mrs. Elizabeth Quinslar resides with her four daughters, who were home at the time of the fire. Mrs. Quinslar was visiting friends at Public Landing. This building was owned by Mrs. Quinslar. She carried insurance on her furniture, which was badly broken in the attempt to save it. The house was gutted by water, but with the exception of one room, which was slightly scorched, was uninjured by the fire. This was the building which at last the firemen concentrated their efforts to save and thus stopped the progress of the flames. Chamberlain's undertaking chambers, next door, were not touched, although windows and furniture were broken. Everything was taken out and carried to the dry goods store of Jordan & Co. Hawker's drug store on the corner was not injured.

IN THE REAR. It was in the rear that the fire got to its best work. Chamberlain's stable was the first in the alley. It was not damaged. The Quinslar barn, occupied by W. A. Steiper, was gutted. The horse was saved. Mr. Steiper's loss was about $100. J. Quinn owned the third stable, which was occupied by E. D. Starkey. This was two houses and all the things were saved, but the building was gutted.

Right opposite this stable was one owned by E. J. Heatt, in which were five horses. All were saved. The McCone's boys, in his stable next door was saved, but he lost carriages and harness to the extent of $150. He was about to repair his stable in a few days. The next barn, owned by Peter Ward and occupied by S. Wisted, a Jewish fish dealer, who had three horses in it, was totally destroyed, along with some vehicles and harness. There was no insurance. M. A. Harding's barn opposite was not injured, although it was threatened and the contents were saved. C. M. Bessen lost quite a lot of stuff which was in another stable owned by J. Quinn. The stable was damaged, but the goods were saved. The Oriental Store was completely destroyed. It contained a lot of hay and junk. He asserted that the fire originated in the stable in the rear of the Hygienic Bakery was also totally destroyed, along with several sleighs and a quantity of flour, sugar and lard. It was now being built in the alley, and was along with its contents valued at $2,000.

The next barn was owned by George Chamberlain and was covered by insurance. The upper story had been fitted up as a dwelling flat and was at the time of the fire occupied by John Perkins, who lost all of his furniture. A sheet in the rear of Miss McCarthy's store in the Corkery building had been torn down a short time ago and preparations were being made for building a new one in its place.

ON THE OPPOSITE SIDE. On the opposite side of Mill street from the fire, the fire had a great deal of trouble in getting their household effects ready for removal should the fire cross over, as it gave evidence of doing several times. Among them were James Bond, the barber, W. A. Stelper, tinsmith, and E. Friars, tobaccoist, one of whose large plate glass windows was broken, after which the boys helped themselves to the cigarettes which lay near the opening.

Another fire. A night blaze took place in a bedroom in the house above John O'Brien's liquor store, 1 and 3 Mill street, which is occupied by Mr. O'Brien and his family at 8:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The furniture was badly burned, but the damage did not amount to a great deal. An old man who was asleep in the room at the time had to be awakened and made hurried exit. The evidence presented Saturday night and early Sunday morning as to the operations of fire bugs is undisputed. While the fire was raging, two young ladies, who reside on the same street and with E. S. Dibble, who resides in the house, started to investigate. Going through the yard a man hurried past them. In the basement, wedged between the parable and studing, he found an old bag and a brown on fire also a spool of paraffine. The fire was quickly extinguished and word sent to the central station. About two o'clock a fire was discovered in Mr. Robertson's barn, adjoining Thos. Dean's barn on Pond street. Here a window had been removed and a quantity of paraffine was thrown into the barn. Fortunately there was no loose hay about and the fire burned itself out on the floor.

About two-thirty Mrs. W. C. Day, of No. 188 Paradise row, saw three men attempt to ignite the old Jardin barn, standing near a vacant lot on Paradise row. Mrs. Day at once ran to her door and told passers-by what she had seen and a Salvage Corps man coming along at once investigated. He found the woodwork badly charred and hot. Acting Chief Jenkins says he is fully awake to the enormity of the fire bug business, and is doing all he can to ferret out the criminals. Absolute surety and proof is the first essential, but no time is being lost or effort spared to place the authorities upon the right track. A vigorous campaign for incendiaries is now on.

CRIMINAL CHARGE Preferred Against Charles W. H. Sanborn. Man Who Was Married in Shediac Arrested for Polygamy.

BOSTON, June 12.—Charles W. H. Sanborn of this city has sworn out a warrant against his son-in-law, the young man upon whom a libel for divorce was served recently by Sanborn's daughter. The offence charged in the warrant is polygamy, it being alleged that after the marriage with the Boston girl the respondent was married to a woman named Mrs. Shadac in Shediac, N. B. The particulars of the complicated case were published in the Sun last Tuesday. Both marriages alleged to have been entered into by the respondent were secret weddings, the friends of those concerned not learning the facts until some time since. Mr. Sanborn is a wealthy business man of Merchant's Row and his office is at one time the Boston agency of the late O. B. mineral spring water.
