"CHRISTIANITY AND ITS BIBLE"

New Book Ably Defended
By Rev. P. J. Stackhouse

CRITICS CRITICISED.

Interesting Letter Written
To Halifax Herald on The Subject.

Two or three prominent clergymen have lately condemned Rev. H. F. Waring's book, "Christianity and its Bible," through the Halifax press. Rev. P. J. Stackhouse, pastor of the Campbellton Baptist Church, who is a personal friend and admirer of the distinguished author, has taken up the cudgels in his behalf. The following able defence of Mr. Waring's book, from the pen of Mr. Stackhouse, appeared in Monday's Halifax Herald:

Sir,—In your issue of September 30th, the Rev. J. W. Brown and E. J. Grant bring three criticisms against Rev. H. F. Waring's book, "Christianity and its Bible," which seem to me to be most unfair.

Rev. E. J. Grant gives as his judgment that it would be exceedingly difficult to learn from the book what Mr. Waring believes, or whether he believes anything that is worth while. It is very difficult to take such a criticism seriously. It is very difficult to understand the mental processes of a man who would make such a statement. Mr. Waring in his book teaches the reality, the awfulness of sin. He teaches regeneration and conversion. By regeneration meaning the coming of life from God. By conversion the corresponding flow of God. He teaches that man is saved not by morality nor by good works, but by faith. He teaches that Jesus is Saviour from sin, that through the saving power of His death upon the cross man is made at one with God. He teaches the Fatherhood of God and the fact that through the aid of God the Holy Spirit, and through Jesus as Son of God, man in his childhood of weakness is brought to God the loving Father. Though doubtless he recognizes with practically all the Biblical scholars to-day the difficulty of harmonizing the accounts of the resurrection, he recognizes the truth in these accounts. Surely a man who believes these fundamental truths which I have selected at random from the book believes something that is worth while.

Dr. Brown has the feeling that many will be led into infidelity by the reading of the book. It would be an interesting psychological and possibly physiological study to get at the source of that feeling. His feeling is so different from the feelings of so many others who have reviewed the book that I cannot understand the grounds for such an extreme statement. The Presbyterian Witness thinks "the ordinary reader will find much to strengthen his faith in God's word." The Yarmouth Herald thinks that "many a troubled soul will find peace in the perusal of the volume. Many a skeptical mind adrift upon a sea of doubt will find safe anchorage here." These are but samples of other reviews. I have met one man at least who occupies one of the most important places in our denominational work not a minister who confessed to me that the book had been of great value in bringing him back to the faith which through intellectual difficulties he was in danger of losing. My own confession is that on reading the book I have been much impressed with the deep religious spirit and triumphant faith of the writer, and I have a strong conviction that it will be especially helpful to men and women who in this age of doubt have

JAMES YOUNG OF GRAND CASCAPEDIA INSTANTLY KILLED AT ATHOL MILL

Was Run Over By the Shunter Which Was Backing Four Cars into the Mill Siding This Afternoon.

NO INQUEST WAS CONSIDERED NECESSARY.

James Young of Grand Cascadia was killed this afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Athol Mill yard. It appears that the shunter was backing four cars into the mill and Young who was perfectly aware that the cars were coming stepped immediately in front of the moving train. Three cars passed over him causing instant death. The accident was witnessed by quite a number of the mill men and brakeman Delaney.

Coroner Doherty was notified and after questioning a number of witnesses decided that no inquest was necessary.

BATHURST BUDGET

P. J. Veniot met with such a severe accident last week, and as a result has been confined to his bed since, is much improved. His friends, who are many, trust that he may soon be sufficiently recovered to go about as usual.

A quiet, but pretty wedding took place on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr and Mrs Girdwood on King street, when their youngest daughter Miss Kate Girdwood was united in marriage to R. Barclay Germond, of Campbellton. Rev James Wheeler of St Luke's Presbyterian church performed the ceremony. Only the immediate relatives and friends of the contracting parties were present. The bride was attired in a handsome gown of cream silk crepe de chene with trimmings of Irish lace. She wore a veil of white point d'esprit and carried a bouquet of asters. Miss Reta Shirley acted as flower girl, looking quite pretty in a dainty dress of cream veiling. The bride's going away costume was of grey cloth, with hat to match. Mr and Mrs Gerrard left on the express for Campbellton, where they will reside. Many good wishes are extended by their Bathurst friends.

Mrs Wm. Napier returned on Friday to Campbellton, after a short visit to relatives here.

W. J. O'Brien has obtained a leave of absence from the Trans-Continental office, St. John, and is at home on account of ill health.

Miss L. Robertson returned to Richibucto during the week.

Miss Ida Kerr, deaconess in the M. E. church, returned during the drifted from the faith of their childhood.

Rev. Dr. Brown states that the Baptist denomination in the maritime provinces deeply regrets the publication of such a book. Surely it is a case of mistaken identity—mistaking Dr. Brown for the Baptist denomination. I believe that I express the conviction of many of our ministers and laymen when I state that instead of regretting and condemning the publication of "Christianity and its Bible" we welcome it as a contribution to religious thought. We are proud of the fact that we have in our midst a man who has written a book of such value that it is being used in a series of constructive studies of which the only two other contributors as yet in that

READING ROOMS AND GYMNASIUM

To Be Opened in Baptist Church For Men of the Town

BY UNION BROTHERHOOD.

Boys over Fourteen Years
Of Age will also be Admitted.

The Union Brotherhood at their regular meeting on Sunday afternoon decided to open the rooms in the basement of the Baptist church to the men of the town on Thursday evening.

The reading room will be supplied with the St. John morning newspapers, the Montreal Daily Star, and magazines. No conversation will be permitted in this room. The room adjoining will be used for games of different kinds, including ping-pong, checkers and crockinole. The large room will be used for gymnasium purposes. A basket ball and punching bag have been secured. Parallel and horizontal bars have also been put up. It is hoped that in the near future other features will be added. Mr. M. C. Hitchin, who has had considerable experience in gymnasium work, has been appointed physical director, with Jacob Moores as assistant.

It was thought at first desirable to restrict the rooms to the Brotherhood and any friends whom they may invite. While this might have a tendency to build up the membership of the Brotherhood, it was afterwards felt that it would be apt to give it a sectarian basis which would not be desirable, and so after discussion, by a unanimous vote, the Brotherhood decided to make the rooms absolutely free to all men regardless of creed. The expenses of the work will be met by the regular Sunday contributions of the Brotherhood. If these are not sufficient a supper or entertainment will be given occasionally to help out. It was also decided after considerable discussion to allow boys over fourteen years of age to enjoy the privileges of the rooms. This will be tried as an experiment and if not successful the rooms will be opened to men only. The rooms for the present will be open every Monday and Thursday evenings from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. It is hoped that in this way the Brotherhood will be able to help a number of men in the town who have no place to spend the evenings. It aims to do somewhat the same kind of work that is being done by the Everyday Club of St. John, which is so free from the sectarian spirit that it is patronized equally by Catholics and Protestants alike. It may be said that Rev. P. J. Stackhouse, the teacher of the Union Brotherhood was one of the executive that founded the Everyday Club of St. John, and is still a member of that executive.

A PAGE FOR BOYS AND GIRLS

It was a most perfect fall day. The woods in which Squirrelville was located were full of autumnal tints most pleasing to the eyes of man, child and squirrel. There were great trees, whose tops almost scraped the sky, filled with brown, yellow and red leaves. There were shrubs and sapplings that vied in color with brilliantly-tinted giants about them. On the ground were scattered thousands upon thousands of fallen leaves also of varied tints, giving the effect of a rich carpet on which the foot of animal and boykind loved to tread. And beneath these leaves were hidden thousands of nuts which had been tossed from the trees by the playfulness of the fall winds.

And so, as you children must know, it was time for school to begin in city, town, village and country. And also it was time for school to begin in the woods! "In the woods!" you ask. Then you will doubtless say: "But where is the schoolhouse? And where are the children? And where is the teacher?"

Well, come with me to Squirrelville, deep in the great woods, and you'll see the school-house, the pupils and the teacher.

There, sitting in the leaves, is old Master Greytail. He's just preparing to "call school." And from far and near, leaping from bough to bough, and then to earth, come dozens of pupils. And don't think that boys and girls are the only tardy pupils at school. There are lazy, indolent squirrels as well as lazy, indolent boys and girls. I say it—girls! They love to toss the leaves about, to hide in them and play "peek-a-boo" with each other. And when tired of play these same frolicsome squirrels love to sit with tails over eyes and sleep as lazy as you please. Indeed, were it not for their industrious parents they would doubtless become very undesirable citizens, and either starve during the winter months or steal from their more industrious neighbors.

But there were wise heads in Squirrelville among the parents of the young squirrels. And they said: "It is nut time. The children must be sent to school at once where they shall be instructed in the lessons of life." And one old Master Greytail, was selected from among his fellows to act in the capacity of teacher.

And so on the morning of September 23rd old Master Greytail, took up his place in a pretty little hollow between two ledges of boulders. Overhead was a network of tree-boughs, through which the sky looked beautifully fair and blue. Underneath was the carpet already described, a carpet so soft that one's foot made no noise when treading upon it. This spot, so nicely located, walled by boulders and roofed by branches, was the school-house.

At exactly seven o'clock by the sun, school was called to order by Master Greytail. ("Early!" I hear several juvenile voices exclaiming. But the owners of these voices forget that all the inhabitants of Squirrelville are up and out before the sun shows his face. He who would sleep after dawn in Squirrelville would be sadly shamed by his kind and would be held in bad repute in the village.)

The calling to order of the pupils was done in this manner. Master Greytail struck his claws against a nearby rock, giving a queer call which meant: "Come one and all among the small. Learn while ye may, afterwards play." (As the language of squirrels is not generally known I shall translate their conversations in English for the benefit of my young readers.)

Immediately the industrious young squirrels gathered into a circle about their teacher; but there were many lazy squirrels that hated to learn lessons, and these hid themselves behind the rocks, hoping to be overlooked by the stern old teacher. But they reckoned without wisdom. Old Master Greytail had a list of all the squirrels of a certain age who were to attend the school. This had been made the week before, and not one boy or girl squirrel was omitted. So, upon looking about him, and seeing that the school-house was not half filled—whereas it should be crowded to the boulder walls—the old fellow began calling the roll.

And then it was that the most reckless of the naughty squirrels crept away into the crevices of the rocks, determining to miss the lessons if they possibly could. The other naughty ones—less disobedient than the first—felt called upon to come forward, pleading some excuse for being tardy.

"I stopped to chase a bug!" said one. "And I stopped to look at myself in the water," said another. "I paused to nibble a nut," said a third.

Old Master Greytail looked sternly at the three "fibbers" and turning towards the first asked: "And did you catch the bug?"

"Oh, no, sir, he was a big green one with pinchers on his face. He might have bitten me, so I let him go."

"Ah, ha, and so you wasted your time by merely chasing a bug for mischief." Then turning to the next asked: "And did you see any thing in the water worth while when you wasted time to stare at your image there?" The questioned squirrel blushed at this hint at his vanity and replied shamefully: "No, sir, I saw but my own face."

"Then you had better have seen your way to school over a quicker path, sir, and learned the important lessons of life as well as you already know your own foolish face." Then to the third tardy one the master turned, inquiring: "Had you not enough breakfast before leaving home, sir?"

"Oh, yes, sir, my mother always feeds me all I want."

"Then you stopped on your way to school to nibble a nut just through gluttony," said the master severely. "You three may remain in after school. I'll have something to say to you then. Just now we must proceed with our lessons."

Then the morning passed in questions and answers, the master making many wise remarks during recitations and giving sage advice. "Never waste a minute in the autumn," he said. "Every minute may mean the laying by of several nuts. 'Never go past a small nut in search of a bigger one; the small kernel is often sweeter than the large one. Never mix your hours of play with your hours of work. There is a fitting season for each. Watch your neighbors during the harvest season. Those that work diligently will not need to come to you in the dead of winter to borrow from your stock of provisions. Those that idle away the time while you and your industrious neighbors labor will come to you with the first heavy snow, declaring that they cannot now get to the nuts on the ground. You may then tell them that while you worked they played, and now while you eat they starve. It seems a hard lesson to bid you to learn, but it is a just one and will make the indolent repent of their shiftlessness, and if they manage to live through the cold weather they will not be so foolish as to fail in providing food for the next winter. And while you are young do not forget that some day you will be old and less nimble than you now are. Thus it behooves you to save your physical strength, by abstaining from overeating and over-indulgence in play. And now we shall have a few recitations. Youth Redfur, what is a squirrel's first duty in autumn?"

"It is his duty to find a nice hollow in a big, strong tree where he may live during the long winter, sir," answered young Redfur promptly. He was a bright squirrel with a promising future before him.

"Youth Softpaw, what is a squirrel's next duty in the autumn?" asked the master, turning to another bright squirrel.

"To begin storing up nuts just as soon as they fall, sir, so that his family and himself may not become hungry during the winter," replied young Softpaw. He knew his lesson well.

And so followed questions and answers till all the pupils had been put through the mill, so to speak. As it was then noon and dinner-time the children were given an hour of recreation in which they might eat their lunches and play a bit.

The afternoon session passed pretty much as did the forenoon session. And all the while the naughty, truant squirrels that had hidden away in the crevices of the boulders remained in their self-inflicted prison, for they disliked school so heartily that they gladly suffered remaining cramped up in their little stuffy cells rather than to study and learn. They were hungry and thirsty, and they became stiff in their joints from sitting all bent double during the long day.

And even after the school was dismissed for the day these suffering truants could not come forth till the master was through with the three "scoundrels" who were kept in after hours. These last mentioned had to listen to a scathing reprimand from the master, after which they were

Heart Strength

Heart strength, or heart weakness, means nerve strength, or nerve weakness—nothing more. For a weak heart is a weak nerve, and a strong heart is a strong nerve. It is almost always a hidden little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the cardiac, or heart nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more ability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves.

This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart disease. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—the popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerves. It builds up the heart's strength; it offers real, genuine heart help.

If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed.

WOMAN'S WORLD

The daily question now is, Will stripes and checks be the smart outfit for winter? Apropos of this query, a man remarked recently to his tailor, who is something of a humorist, that he thought a fairly large check would come in soon only to receive the answer, accompanied by a sigh, "That's what they all say." Of course his patron was referring to another sort of check altogether, for one does not bring up the subject of the pecuniary kind at one's tailor's. To come back to the original proposition, checks will be very much in evidence among the fall materials particularly a new oblong effect, but stripes, except in the herring bone weaves, are not so popular.

In new things there is a palm purse that promises to be a boon to womankind, filling a gap that really should not have been left unfilled so long. As its name implies, this purse is part of the hand covering. The device is attached to the palm of the glove with stitches so strong that it is impossible for even a sneak thief to take it without tearing off the glove, which is of a heavy kid or dogskin. The palm purse, of course, is put on and taken off with the glove.

The hat illustrated is one of the smartest of the fall models and is of smoke gray-clipped beaver. The shape is a modified cavalier, and the band which lifts the hat at one side is filled in with malines. The ostrich feathers are black. Very fetching is the indoor frock of forest green lousine spotted with black. A touch of black is seen on the tiny kiltings that edge the tucks on skirt and bolero jacket. The vest and yoke are of ivory lace, also the motifs introduced on the sleeve puffs.

JUST LIKE THE COWBOY PANAMA.

It is not surprising that the cowboy shape is well represented in the new fall millinery, for the Panama hat of this shape proved to be one of the most successful models of the late summer. The felt hat is of exactly the same shape as the panama, turning up smartly at the left side and down over the hair in the back. The crown, rounding and rather high, is softly dented, and the best form of trimming is a scarf effect of chiffon or chiffon cloth draped carelessly around the base of the crown and knotted at the left side where the brim turns up, this kno: concealing the quill of the long oq feather which curls backward over the brim and crown. These hats come in gray and tan and white and are trimmed in self colors.

AGAIN THE ELABORATE BLOUSE.

Elaborate white blouses will be in style again this autumn, some with elbow sleeves, some with new mousquetaire sleeve, wrinkled to the knuckles.

The method of making includes, usually, a small round yoke of heavy lace, often Irish; also cluny and the German valenciennes are used. The all-over weave is preferred to the insertion whipped-together. The method of last winter in edging bands of insertion, which are inset between yoke and belt with small frills of lace, has been laid aside.

The new touch is to outline these bands with two flat pieces of white soutache braid. With these afternoon blouses the stocks are made to match; quite high, always boned and finished at top with a ruffling of crepe lise rather than a frill of lace. The latter never stays up, and a few neck effects are more generally unbecoming than a drooping top edge to a collar.

A NOVEL CLEANSER.

Among the new embroideries are those in raised silver and gold work. These are handsome and expensive, and one who knows says they should never be brushed in the ordinary way of cleaning trimmings but that a piece of crimson velvet should be taken and rubbed very slowly and gently over them. Of course we are all familiar with the use of black velvet as a dust cloth for hats and fine black materials, the fine nap penetrating and carrying away dust without injury where nothing else could, but what virtue there is in crimson velvet, aside from its texture, is hard to guess, but it is possible, of course, that there may be some effect in the dye used.

QUEEN SETS A FALL FASHION.

The dominant note in the autumn fashion has been introduced by the most beautiful princess in Europe, Marie, crown princess of Roumania.

It is the Byzantine effect in color, form and line that every noted dressmaker is experimenting or trying to catch and impress upon the coming styles, and this tremendous revival of the antique in dress, color, jewels, furniture and decoration has been instigated by the crown princess of Roumania.

Whether it was merely a caprice of this beautiful woman or whether she went about the work of reviving the interest of her people in the arts of earlier ages from more altruistic motives is immaterial, since the result has been so far reaching and so beneficial to her sex, for she has succeeded not only in making the autumn styles more beautiful, but in giving a tremendous impetus to the embroidery and lace manufacturers of her country.

GOWNS WORN AT NEWPORT.

A New York woman is entertaining Newport with her gowns, which are charming in design. The prevailing note of a dress which she wore this week was elephant gray, with trimmings of a paler shade of gray. The gown itself was a very thin cloth, in a medium tone of elephant, while the bands around the foot of the skirt and around the neck and sleeves were almost a slate in their hue. These bands were embroidered in blue. A hat in blue and slate gray topped this very neat bridal costume.

Pink and gray were the prevailing notes of a costume worn at Newport the other day, with a tendency toward more gray than pink. The gown, which might serve as a model for an autumn calling costume, was built of durable wool voile, and the pattern was quite simple, in that it had a skirt laid in side plaits all pointing away from the front, while the jacket was a tight fitting bolero with very wide Japanese armholes and very short sleeves. The note of pink came in the smaller thing of the costume.

Afflicted With Sore Eyes For 35 years.

I have been afflicted with sore eyes for thirty-three years. Thirteen years ago I became totally blind and was blind for six years. My eyes were badly inflamed. One of my neighbors insisted upon my trying Chamberlain's Salve and gave me half a box of it. To my surprise it healed my eyes and my sight came back to me.—P. C. EARLE, Cynthia, Ky. Chamberlain's Salve is for sale by all druggists.

HIGH PRICED TAILORS

Strange as it may seem, it is true, nevertheless, that the women of wealth, while they buy many useless things, nevertheless are as keen after low prices as their poorer sisters. Time was when a society woman would have scorned to have her clothing made by any one except a tailor recognizing as catering only to the fashionable set. Now women like Mrs. Stuyvesant Fish, Mrs. Astor, Mrs. Goelet of New York and many others have all their garments made in the side streets. They have found the prices less where the rents are lower, and as the warclothes of all are extensive they have saved hundreds of dollars each year. The customers of the highly expensive women's tailors now are mostly women on the fringe of the social set, actresses and those who have acquired their wealth recently.

GENERAL LINES THE SAME.

Tailored costumes, whether light or dark, are made up on much the same lines. Skirts are decidedly longer than they were a year ago, and while some of them are plain, depending for their smartness upon cut and finish, others are trimmed with stitched bands or with pipings. Plaits are deeper and used in many ways. Sometimes but one deep box plait down the front of the skirt is used, and the side and back gored breadths are trimmed with bias bands. Again, the entire skirt may be laid in deep side plaits, verging toward a central plait, or there may be clusters of plaits at front and back and plain sides.

Hip length coats and coats extending to within a short distance of the knees are seen in about equal numbers and they are loose, semi or tight fitting, trimmed or plain, according to the material employed and the figure of the wearer. While many of the nattest tailor made are absolutely plain, especially when made up in the checked and striped materials, in the smooth faced cloths bias bands piped or heavily stitched are frequently used. Stitched bands of striped materials may be made wonderfully effective by making the lines run diagonally or horizontally around the skirt bottom or over the shoulders of the coat and across the top of the hip pockets and around the sleeves. Buttons appear conspicuously on some of the newest serge and cloth costumes, notably on the half fitting coats of knee length, where they define the side seams and run from the cuff halfway to the elbow.

A FASHION FORECAST.

In sleeves the wrinkled mousquetaire will be much in evidence, for a time at least, on new gowns, and the coats for cold weather will have full length sleeves, and these will find favor, as they are sensible and the only comfortable mode when biting winds rage.

No matter what the size of one's muff, there is more or less exposure of the wrists and consequent chill with the three-quarter or half length sleeves. For warm weather they are ideal, cool and also pretty, so they will probably come in again for next spring and summer.

The new plum and purple shades are to be the leading colors for some weeks to come, but it will not be long before they will be common and something else will take their place in the wardrobes of the modish world. Many of the plum shades are well suited to the average complexion among both the younger and the old women. Browns will be worn in all shades, but it is to be hoped that better taste will be shown in the HABIT.

You've seen elephants tied in the circus or the menagerie. Around one hind leg there is a strap or chain, very powerful, fastened to a ring in the wall or to a stake in the ground. The elephant, thus fastened stands swinging his head, usually with the captive foot tilted backward. That is his life and he gets used to it. He gets so thoroughly used to it after a while that it is not necessary to bind him with real iron chains, at all. In India thousands of elephants are employed in the army, in agriculture, lumbering, etc. The mahouts, who care for the big beasts have great respect for them, but they also understand the elephant's weakness. Long ago one of these Indian elephant keepers who had mislaid the chain to tether his elephant, thought he would try an experiment. He took a handful of straw, fastened it into a rope, tied it around the elephant's leg, and waited to see what he would do. The slightest pull of the big foot would have broken the flimsy binding. But the elephant never tried to break it. He said to himself: "Here I am tied up as usual. There's no escape. I must stand here until the thing that controls me comes to untie me in the morning." All the elephant keepers know now that you can tie an elephant with a wisp of straw just as well as with a chain strong enough to hold a hundred elephants. If the average human being should see a big elephant tied with a straw, reaching his trunk forward eagerly, never realizing that he could break his bonds, he would smile at the poor elephant and pity his ignorance. What would the poor elephant think if he could see the average human being, also fastened tight by his hands of straw? What about the habits which hold us and which we imagine to be too strong to be broken? How many of us are tied up and made wretched by any one of a dozen foolish, harmful habits that spoil our lives? We have been tied up for a long time, and, like the foolish elephant with the straw around his leg, we think that we are tied forever. Any one of us could break away, tear himself free with one honest effort. At this particular time there are hundreds of thousands of men worried by their own extravagance and the extravagance of their families—only a habit, a band of straw. They could break it if they would, and by breaking it they might save themselves and their families' anxiety and humiliation in the future. But, they stand there like the elephant and think that they can't get away. It is so with all our vices except those which absolutely destroy the nerve tissue. The latter are in a separate class, for they tear down the power of the will. But even those stronger bands can be broken by the man who will break them. Even a remaining fragment of the will is stronger than a habit. A sick elephant could break a chain of straw. A nerve-weakened man can break the hold of habit if he will try. What petty, feeble bands of straw hold many of us! We smoke too much and we think we can't stop it. We spend money in gambling, and we allow that vicious band to hold us, year in and year out. We acquire habits of extravagant talk, of exaggerated statement that bring contempt upon us, and we haven't the energy to step over to the other side, the truthful side. Personal vanity, foolish living in all its details—those are the straw chains that hold us human beings. All that we need is one effort, one pull to be free. About ninety-nine out of one hundred of us stand still, tied fast, hopeless, resigned, through habit. Habit is a powerful master, powerful, chiefly because we don't fight against him. Our will are free, our minds are free to use them if we will. But the centuries of superstition and dull thinking behind tie us down. And the habit of standing still, mentally, acquired in our own life-time ties us down. We are free to explore the regions of new knowledge and of new thought. But the great majority of us, like the poor old elephant, stand still, gossiping, idling, waiting quietly for the end of a life that is without meaning because it is without progress. Do you know any men in a rut? Have you any boy or girl in your house whom you would influence toward original thinking, independent action? Do you know anybody always inclined to reject the new idea because it is new—you may tell the parable of the elephant and the band of straw, adding to it a few brief, strong words of your own, in place of this long drawn-out editorial comment.

There are some very clever space writers in the world. Just now they are engaged in writing up Ethel Roosevelt who makes her formal bow to society this winter. She is not a pretty girl, and the words they use to cover up their failure to call attention to her looks must make a dictionary look like a sieve. They had the same trouble when Alice Roosevelt was a girl and met it so cleverly that some readers still think she is good looking.

Notice

At a meeting of the Council of the Municipality of New Richmond, held on the seventeenth day of August, in the year 1907, there being present John Fallow, Esq., Mayor, Messrs. Alphonse Beaudin, Edmund Gilker, Angus Campbell, and Thomas Fair-service, Councillors, under the presidency of the Mayor, it was resolved as follows:
WHEREAS it is in the interest of this Municipality that a certain encouragement should be offered to the Caspédia Manufacturing and Trading Company, a body corporate and politic, having its principal office and place of business at New Richmond, in the County of Bonaventure, in the District of Gaspé, in order to have the said Caspédia Manufacturing and Trading Company build, erect, maintain and operate its mills within the limits of this Municipality, it was therefore resolved by a by-law No. 137 upon the motion of Mr. Angus Campbell, seconded by Mr. Alphonse Beaudin, that this Corporation by and in virtue of the powers conferred by Article 480 of the Municipal Code of the Province of Quebec, do give to the said Manufacturing and Trading Company, aforesaid, the sum of $5000.00 in order to purchase and buy in the Taylor and LeBlanc properties, the said premises to be used by the said Company for a mill site.

That this by-law will have force and effect only on its having been approved by the electors being proprietors of practical real estate within the limits of this Municipality as the whole is by provided;

That in order to provide for the said sum of $5000.00 that this Municipal Council by this by-law be authorized to issue, sell and negotiate in the name of this Municipality debentures for a sum not exceeding $5000.00.

That the said debentures will bear interest at the rate of five per cent per annum;

That the said debentures thus issued will be signed by the Mayor of this Municipality and countersigned by the Secretary Treasurer of the said Municipality and sealed with the seal of this Municipality, and the said debentures will be payable to the bearer thereof in ten, fifteen, twenty and twenty-five years from date of their issue at the office of the Bank of Nova Scotia at New Richmond;

That each debenture will be for the sum of one hundred dollars;

That there will be attached to each debenture coupons for the amount of the yearly interest, which said coupons will be signed by the Mayor and countersigned by the Secretary Treasurer of this Municipality, and the said coupons will be payable to the bearer thereof when the interest will become due each year, and on payment of the said interest the said coupons will be handed over to the said Secretary Treasurer;

That each year a sum of $450.00 will be raised by direct taxation on the holders of real estate in this Municipality, which said sum will be to pay the interest on the said debentures each year as they become due and the revenues of this Municipality are by these presents effected and made liable to the said sum;

That there will also be established by this by-law for the buying back of the said debentures, a sinking fund, said sinking fund to be for the sum of three hundred dollars, and shall be collected yearly from the holders of real estate in this Municipality by direct taxation, which said sum will be yearly paid to the Secretary Treasurer of this Municipality;

That the issue of the said debentures, principal and interest fixed upon or by these presents, be also guaranteed and secured on the general funds of this Municipality;

That the aforesaid sum will be handed over to the said Caspédia Manufacturing and Trading Company for the reasons aforesaid, and subject also to the following conditions:

That the said Company will build, establish, erect, maintain and operate yearly in this Municipality, their plant consisting of a pulp mill, shingle mill and long lumber mill with an annual capacity of twenty-five million feet, the whole to cost about one million dollars; said 25 million feet to be cut yearly.

That the said Company will build within a year, and operate every year;

That this by-law will only have force and effect after having been sanctioned as provided by Article 481 and others of the Municipal Code of the Province of Quebec;

Given under the seal of this Municipality on the 17th day of the month of August, in the year and on the day first above written.

John Fallow, Mayor.
Jas. Campbell, Secretary Treasurer.

The subject of her lecture will be pronounced later.

Contractor Willard Kitchen finished laying the I. C. R. pipe line on Thursday last, and the engineer who inspected the job reported so favorably on the quality of the work that the management requested Mr. Kitchen to rebuild their dam before going away. But as no material was at hand this would occasion more delay than the contractor was willing to assume, consequently he shipped his entire plant to Fredericton Saturday morning.

The International Paper Company, which recently purchased the lumber and milling property of Ernest Hutchinson of Douglastown, are said to be negotiating for the Alex Gibson lumber and milling interests at Marysville. It is said that in fact the negotiations are about completed, and that the transfer to the new owners will soon be made. The deal is said to include all the lumber mills at Marysville and Blackville, together with all of the timber lands owned by the company and the licenses under their control; and also all of the company's residential and other property at Marysville west of the Nashua. The purchase figure named is something over $2,000,000.

Pumpkin wit and rural comedy has long held a fascination for the play-wright and the local season at the theatre is always assured one or more comedies founded on scenes taken from the country. Several of them have become established favorites and return regularly each season to splendid houses, but in all the lists it is quite safe to say that none holds a surer place in the hearts of the local theatregoers than the quaint Posey County Indiana lass, "Sis". Her philosophy and wit has found lodgement with many a loyal supporter among her theatre friends. This season "Sis" blossoms out in a new play called "Sis in New York" and it is said to be in keeping with her past offerings. The local date is for Monday, Oct. 14th at the Opera House.

In an interview with the Newcastle Advocate Thos. Malcolm, who is building the International Railway from Campbellton to St. Leonard's says that it is probable the railway will be completed next fall. It would have been nearly finished this year if the weather had been favorable, but since June practically nothing but a succession of rain storms had prevailed and had greatly interfered with operations. The labor question had also been a feature in the situation. While as many as 2,000 men had been on the payroll at wages ranging from $1.75 to $2. a day, they had been continually coming and going and no time had more than 800 or 900 been at work at once. He had not about 900 men engaged. Construction work, Mr. Malcolm said, now being carried on at both ends from Campbellton and St. Leonard's. Some of the sections on the line, he adds, are difficult from a construction standpoint, one brook as an example, which is very winding in its course, having to be crossed sixteen times. A good grade, however, has been secured.

The pretty two masted schooner "Caroline" Capt. Dyett, is here this week discharging a cargo of Barbados molasses and sugar for Baird and Peters. After discharging, she will take a cargo of laths at Dalhousie for New York.

The election to represent the different parishes at the Gloucester county Municipal Council took place Monday, and resulted as follows:—Bathurst: James P. Byrne, A. Furningham; New Bandon: Henry Scott, J. W. Dumas; Paquetville: Jos. A. Foirier, Angus Paquet; Caraquet: Fred L. Leger, Seraphine Legere; Shippegan: Adair Savoy, Elsie Chaisson; Inkerman: Wm. C. Robichaud, George McConnelly; St. Isidore: Louis G. Arsenault, James Thomas; Salmas: J. Raymond Young, F. Witzell.

The bill boards have been carrying an attractive line of paper announcing the coming of a comedy favorite, which it will not be extravagant to say, has no equal among our theatregoers in popularity. The awkward, pigtailed, Hoosier lassie "Sis" with a lovable creature and her Posey County friends, are announced in a new skit this season. "Sis in New York", the author has seen fit to call it, and it is said to be one of the Hoosier comedies in a part, well suited to her peculiar style of comedy. The local date is for Monday October 14th.

Another New Brunswick lumber property has passed into the hands of American capitalists. Mr. Ernest Hutchinson, of Chatham, who possesses large lumber interests in that vicinity, is the seller and the purchaser is the International Paper Co., of Bangor. Mr. Hutchinson's property consists of forty-five square miles of granted timber lands and 300 square miles of crown lands held under lease, also a general store and a large and well equipped mill. The price is said to be in the vicinity of half a million. This is the fifth big property on the north shore to be absorbed by Americans during the past couple of years. There are rumors that a pulp mill may be erected.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Girard, wood, Bathurst, was the scene of a pretty wedding on the evening of Wednesday, and October, when their youngest daughter, Miss Kate, was married to R. Barclay Gerrard, of Campbellton. The Rev. James A. Wheeler, pastor of St. Luke's Presbyterian church, Bathurst, was the officiating clergyman. Only immediate relatives of the bride and bridegroom were present. The bride's costume was of cream silk crepe de chene with a yoke of baby Irish lace over satin and a gridle of cream Dresden ribbon. Her veil was of white point d'esprit, and her bouquet of asters, sweet peas and maiden fern, arranged in shower festoons. Miss Kate Sherry attended her as flower girl and was attired in cream nun's veiling with yoke and trimmings of lace and pink sash. The bride's travelling costume was of grey tweed with hat to match. The gifts to the bride from her many friends were numerous and valuable.

A very interesting event took place at the church of St. Anne de Restigouche, on Monday morning, October 7th, at ten o'clock when Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Christopher Keane and Richard K. Murray, both of Cross Point were united in the holy bonds of matrimony. The nuptial ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Racine in the presence of a large crowd of invited guests. The bride was given away by her father and was becomingly attired in a travelling suit of gray with hat to match. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Lucy Geraghty of Oak Bay who wore a green suit with hat to match. The groom was ably supported by Richard P. Geraghty of San Francisco. After the ceremony they drove to the home of the bride's father where a sumptuous repast was served. The afternoon was spent in music, singing and games. Supper was served and later the happy couple were accompanied by their many friends to Campbellton where they took the express on Tuesday morning for a trip to Montreal and other points. On their return they will reside at Cross Point. The bride received many handsome presents. The groom's present to the bride was a gold crescent set with pearls and to the bridesmaid a handsome gold locket with monogram on it.

There is said to be more fun stored up in the new play, "Sis in New York" than in any that she has had. There is plenty of chance for good comedy and her playwrights have proven in the past that they know how to supply the Hoosier funmaker with plenty of opportunity. If you are there when she and Zeke show Pierpont Morgan how they dance in Posey County, Indiana, you will get your money's worth. Crippled With Rheumatism

CURED BY GIN PILLS

Mr. Derrangh certainly did have a hard time of it, winter before last. Caught cold, and it settled in his kidneys. First thing he knew, he was in bed with Rheumatism. He nearly went mad, the pain was so intense. The doctors gave him the usual treatment—and pretty nearly burnt his legs off with liniments and blisters—but the Rheumatism went right on aching.

Then a friend stepped in and said, "Why don't you try GIN PILLS?" After a great deal of persuasion, Mr. Derrangh did try GIN PILLS. You never saw such a happy man in your life, after he had taken two boxes. Pain all gone—stiffness and lameness completely left—that ache in back and hips disappeared—and he was well in no time. That was two years ago and he has been in perfect health ever since.

Contrasted a severe cold. Rheumatism followed and the aching took me so often and were so severe that I had to take to bed. For several months I could get no relief, until I started to take "Gin Pills." In five days I was up and around the house. My pains are gone and I have not had a return of the old trouble since. I wish also to say that "Gin Pills" gave me the first painless passage of urine I have had in two years.

ROY, DERRANGH, Winnipeg.

How about you? Haven't you suffered enough without going all over it again this winter? Get Gin Pills now—and cure yourself at home. Mention this paper and we will send you a free sample to try. The Bole Drug Co., Winnipeg. Only 50c. a box—6 boxes for $2.50. 57

Kidney Disease And Its Danger.

Kidney disease comes on quietly—may have been in the system for years, before you suspected the real cause of your trouble. There may have been backaches, neuralgia, sciatica, rheumatism, etc. Perhaps you did not know these were symptoms of kidney disease, so the trouble kept on growing worse, until disturbances of the water appeared, or there was gravel or retention of urine, or some such sign of kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken at the first sign of anything wrong. They strengthen the kidneys and help them to filter the blood properly—help them to flush out and carry away the surplus water, all those impurities which the blood gathers up in its circuit of the body.

Mrs. Alfred LeBlanc, Black Cape, Que., writes: "I feel it my duty to say a word about Doan's Kidney Pills. I suffered dreadful pains across my back—so bad I could not stoop or bend. After having used two boxes I now feel most completely cured. I highly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills."

CORN BREEDING

(The Farming World)

The work of corn breeding in Canada, though limited chiefly to Southern Ontario, has made material advance during the past year. Not only has the number of growers largely increased, but the general public is beginning to realize more than ever before something of the nature and importance of this particular branch of work, and as a result the demand for specially grown seed corn has increased. Keeping in touch with the individual growers, we have been able to notice a substantial growth of intelligent interest on their part, until we now feel assured of the success of the work and what it will mean to the Province. Moreover, the actual information that has come back to us from the work carried on by the different growers, has added very materially to our present knowledge of the problems of corn breeding, and we are thus enabled to work to much better purpose.

The system of corn breeding which has been adopted by the Association and which may be found in the second Annual report, page 59, under the section entitled "The Row System," has for its basis the ear-row test. Each row of fifty or more hills in the plot is planted with corn from a separate ear, which arrangement gives ear an opportunity to show the breeding which is behind it and to which it owes its excellence. The amazing variation in the productive capacity and vigor of each ear, as revealed by this system when carefully carried out, has gone far to promote a greater interest in the work. In all the plots operated with according to this system, a decided variation was found to exist between the different rows in respect to vigor of growth, yield, etc. By this arrangement, the best rows may be located, and the best plants within these best rows chosen as mother plants from which to select the seed ears for the plot of the following year.

Since the Dent varieties cannot be matured to good advantage in the more northern dairy districts, it is necessary to send south for the seed, and during the past year there has been an increased demand for seed which is of known origin and which has received special care according to the regulations of our Association. Where corn is grown for grain in the cooler regions of the north, the early maturing Flint varieties are grown. Of this class of corn we now have several varieties represented, although the King Philip, Long-fellow, Compton's Early, and Salzer's North Dakota, are most popular. While earlier strains of the Dent varieties might be developed for the shorter seasons yet this practice has not been recommended, since early corn is believed to be antagonistic to large yields. This in the single-earred Dent varieties is particularly noticeable. Flint corn, on the other hand, may easily produce two and three ears per stalk; and, as a result, a hill of three stalks of Flint corn may be made to closely approach in actual yield of grain a hill of three stalks of the single-ear bearing Dent types, according to the Connecticut Agricultural Experiment Station, furthermore, the feeding value of Flint corn was found to be higher than that of the Dents. While we have not advised that the Flint varieties, support the Dent varieties, yet we have endeavored to point out that each had its own particular place and that each is capable of being proved very materially. Our Flint corn may be classified into three types. These are the long eight-rowed type, the short eight-rowed type, and the twelve-rowed type. There are many variations within each of these types as regards shape and color of ear and number of rows of kernels.

A careful study of the corn crop in Canada seems to demonstrate that wherever corn is to be it is always advisable to adopt a type which can be relied upon to mature thoroughly in the district. Otherwise the seed will have to be often changed as a result of non-maturity of the crop, which fact leaves no chance to improve the variety by means of selection.

Quinsy, sprains and Swellings Cured.

"In November, 1901, I caught cold and had the quinsy. My throat was swollen so I could hardly breathe. I applied Chamberlain's Pain Balm and it gave me relief in a short time. In two days I was all right," says Mrs. L. Cousins, Otterburn, Mich. Chamberlain's Pain Balm is a liniment and is especially valuable for sprains and swellings. For sale by all druggists.

future than in the past in adopting the various shades, for no color is more trying when it is not carefully selected to harmonize with one's coloring. The dominant shade of the hair should be matched; it may be in a lighter hue, but reddish brown should not be worn with golden or wood brown hair. The yellowish browns for golden brown hair, clear, dull wood browns for lifeless brown hair, and so on through the list, should be the rule. A LONG COAT FOR RAINY DAYS.

You must make a new long coat for rainy days of the early fall if you have not already one. It need not be absolutely waterproof, for you are not likely to have to breast many tempests, but it must at any rate look protective.

Nothing looks quite so seedy as the season's left over clothes, drabbed and clinging with a fall morning's dampness. On the other hand, there is no time when crispness, newness and brightness of attire count more in one's favor than on a rainy day, when every one else looks limp.

Let your coat be of silk or mohair, made in generous box pattern without much cutting into the silk. I saw one recently whose price was $29; the material in it would cost about $7. A careful woman exact in her work, with an ordinarily good pattern, could have made it just as well.

Have the coat of pretty color, or of black and white. Get, in short, the material that will look inconspicuous yet cheerful on a dreary, wet September morning. When September and October are over and the winter weather is on cut up this same garment into ruffles for a handsome silk petticoat and so wear it all winter and possibly much longer.

Meantime you look prosperous and well dressed at a time when few others do, a most desirable attainment.

Poisoned by a Razor.

Don't trim your corn with a razor, use a purely vegetable remedy like Putnam's Corn Extractor. No pain, certain cure, and all for a quarter. Every dealer sells "Putnam's."

It will not be until a year from now—the fall of 1908—if not later, when the Intercolonial authorities put on better motive power on the Canada Eastern branch of the road. Before the heavier locomotives can run over the line there must first of all be heavier steel to carry them. The bridges at Doaktown, and Boiestown are being replaced with heavy steel ones which will carry any train which will come over the branch and by the time cold weather comes there will be about 60 miles of 67 pound rails laid.

The present rails on the branch are 56 pounds to the yard, and next summer the rest of the branch will be covered with the 67 pound rails, so that it can reasonably be supposed that by next fall the line will be ready for heavier locomotives which are needed to handle the traffic.

This season new water tanks have been erected at Loggieville, Chatham, Junction, Blackville, Boiestown, Cross Creek and Gibson.

Each of these tanks have a capacity of 50,000 gallons, which is sufficient for twenty locomotives of the size now in use on the branch. The tanks have been placed on concrete foundations, while the tubs are of white pine.

Ready on the Shelf.

That's where you'll find "Nerviline" in every well regulated household. So pleasant to take that even little children will cry for it. So certain to cure coughs, surfeit colds and tight chest that thousands of bottles are used every day. Polson's Nerviline does prevent illness, it does ease pain and inflammation, and by being handy will save worry and keep down the doctor bill. Large bottles sold for a quarter at all dealers.

The financial results of the past ten years show the rapid increase in the receipts for big game hunting in the province.

Do Your Ears Ring?

When they buzz and seem slightly deaf, beware of catarrhal inflammation. This grows steadily worse but can be cured by Catarrhazone. J. A. Hammet of Greenmount, P. E. I., proved the merit of Catarrhazone and writes: "No one could have had worse catarrh than I had for years. It caused partial deafness, bad taste, upset my stomach, cleared my nostrils, stopped the cough and gave me a clear feeling in my breathing organs. I am absolutely cured." Doctors say nothing is better than Catarrhazone. Try it and you'll say so. Two sizes, 25c and $1.00 at all dealers.

Partridge are reported to be very scarce in the woods this year. The wet summer, no doubt, killed the young chicks.

Who Gets the Most Out of Life?

Not the wealthiest, not the most learned, nor the idler—but the man who has good health and works for his living. This truth is true, but not trivial.

Every man should guard his health as his most valuable possession. The more so because health is easier to retain than regain. Keep your grip on health by regular exercise, reasonable care in eating and requisite sleep. Take Beecham's Pills occasionally, to tone the stomach and keep the liver and bowels in good working order. And don't worry.

Observe these simple rules and you will agree that the one who gets the most from life is

Was Weak and Run Down
WOULD VERY OFTEN
FAINT AWAY
Mrs. J. H. Armstrong, Port Elmsley, Ont., tells of her experience with MILBURN'S HEART AND NERVE
PILLS.

She writes: "It is with gratitude I tell how your Heart and Nerve Pills benefitted me.
"I was very weak and run down, had headaches nearly every day and very often would faint away, in fact, my doctor said that sometime I would never come out of the faint. It was through one of your travelling agents that I was induced to try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and after taking three boxes
I am glad to relate it has been a number of years since I had a fainting spell and scarcely ever have a headache. Too much cannot be said in praise of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, for in me
they have effected a perfect cure."

A Grand Cure
FOR SUMMER COMPLAINT
AND CRAMPS IS
DR. FOWLER'S
EXTRACT OF
WILD STRAWBERRY

It is nature's specific for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cramps, Colic, Pain in the Stomach, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Sea Sickness, Summer Complaint, etc.
Rapid and reliable in its action.
Its effects are marvellous, and it is pleasant and harmless to take.
It has been a household remedy for sixty-two years.
Refuse substitutes. They are dangerous.
Mrs. Wm. Flewelling, Arthur, Ont., writes: "I find it much pleasure to recommend Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry as a grand cure for Summer Complaint. My little boy, one year old, was very bad with it, and a few boxes cured him. I also used it on my other six children for cramps and still have half the bottle left. I cannot praise
it too much."

CLIFTON
The death of Winfield Scott after a lingering illness of consumption, occurred at his home at 7 a. m. Oct. 1.
Mr. Scott was born in this country,
but spent most of his life in South Carolina as a boss of a lumbering concern. He returned home a few months ago to be cared for by his loving mother who survives him. He leaves also, one brother in South Carolina, Washington; Edward in Mauvette, U. S. five sisters, all married in Boston and Mrs. Edward Good at home. The bereaved have many to sympathize with them in their loss.

On Thursday, 26th, a sailor aged nineteen years, while storing stone on board the vessel as yet anchored at the breakwater, was instantly killed as the rigging for hoisting the stone gave way, the deceased being crushed under the stone. His funeral was held on Sunday from the sea shore. Mr.
McKee read the burial service. His remains were interred in the Presbyterian churchyard.

Mr and Mrs Geo Robinson are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby girl at their home in Salmon Beach.

Several of our young gentlemen have left to spend the winter in Stillwater.
Albert and Loine Ellis intend spending the winter in Washington.

Mrs John Smith has gone to Chatham to spend a week with her sister, Mrs. Brice.

Moose seem to be very plentiful this season. Telen had the good fortune of capturing a large one.

That bird as mentioned by the Clifton correspondent resembling the condor, found that its prey was too many for him. He had to yield it up and go to another country, taking shelter in the woods.

A certain cure for Croup—Used for ten years without a failure.

Mr. W. C. Bott, a Star City, Ind., hardware merchant is enthusiastic in his praise of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. His children have all been subject to croup and he has used this remedy for the past ten years, and though they much feared the croup, his wife and he always felt safe upon retiring when a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy was in the house. His oldest child was subject to severe attacks of croup but this remedy never failed to effect a speedy cure. He has recommended it to friends and neighbors, and all who have used it say that it is unequalled for croup and whooping cough. For sale by all druggists.

FEARFUL PAINS

SUGGESTIONS HOW WOMEN MAY FIND RELIEF.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely. This is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. When pain exists something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to a serious dan-germent of the whole female organism.

Thousands of women have testified in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes women's special pains and irregularities.

It provides a safe and sure way of escape from distressing and dangerous weaknesses and diseases.

The two following letters tell so convincingly what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for women, they cannot fail to bring hope to thousands of sufferers.

Miss Matilda Richardson of 177 Wellington Street, Kingston, Ont., writes:
"Some four years ago my usually good health began to fail. I had severe pains in my back, my head ached, I would have disregarded them, and during my monthly periods
I would suffer intense pain. I was advised to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am so glad that I did, for it brought new life and health to me. My monthly periods were natural and painless, and my general health improved. I have had no ache or pain since, and I feel it a duty as well as a pleasure to tell you what your medicine has done for me."

Mrs. Louise McKenzie, of Mount Carle, Montreal, Canada, writes:
"I had heard so much about Lydia E.
Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before
ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands Woman's Ills.

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

When women are troubled with irregularities, displacements or ulceration of the organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating, (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham
if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.

THE BOY AND THE HORNETS

A band of gay hornets
Built a nest
High up in a tree,
High up in a tree.
They said to themselves,
"By dwelling so high
We've got safety,
We've got safety."

But a boy passing by,
"With a long fishing rod,
Looked up in the tree,
And seeing the nest,
A-hanging so high,
Said: "Ah, hully gee!
Ah, hully gee!"

"I'll give you a tap
With my long fishing rod,
Just for fun,
Just for fun.
Then after I've busted
You to smithereens
I'll just break and run,
I'll just break and run."

And the boy did the job
That he said he would do:
But alas, and alack!
Alas and alack!
He was a strange sight
When at last he reached home,
He'd been stung by the pack!
He'd been stung by the pack!

Loss of Appetite and Energy.

Singly they are a worry—combined they become a burden, telling that waste has been immensely greater than the body's power to rebuild. The first need is to reconstruct the blood,
make good the deficiency of red cells.
Ferrozine improves digestion, makes blood, the kind that nourishes and rebuilds. Quickly the nervous system responds to the new power supplied by Nerviline. Strength returns, ambition revives, endurance and energy give the system just what it needs to maintain the balance of health. No tonic better than Ferrozine, 50c per box at all obliged to review their day's lessons. Just as the master was dismissing the three "kept-ins" a cloud suddenly gathered overhead and blinding flashes of lightning were followed by rolling thunder which almost rent the heavens.

Old aster Greytail had but a short distance to go to reach his house, a deep and spacious hole in a huge tree. He reached shelter and safety just as the first great drops of rain came with a furious gust of wind. Then the storm broke with all its fury, swaying trees to and fro, filling the air with terrific thunder and blinding the eyes with lightning.

The three "tardies" lived a long way from the school-house and when at last they succeeded in reaching home they were all but drenched to death. And when their parents (who had heard of their children's ugly conduct, and that they were being kept after school hours saw their sorry plight they had no words of sympathy for them.

"If you loiter on the way to school," said one stern father to one of the "tardies," "you must suffer the consequences. And let this experience be a warning to you. Your industrious and earnest comrades have been home for nearly an hour having frolic and fun after their hard day's study. But, you, through your own disobedience and laziness, have not only missed the evening's play, but have suffered a drenching besides."

And the three "tardies" crept into their homes, ashamed and miserable, and the next day they formed a compact with each other to never,
no never, play truant again.

But what became of those very naughty squirrels that had hidden themselves in the crevices of the boulders? Why, a stroke of lightning split the wall of boulders to splinters, and when, after the storm, the parents came forth to search for their unruly sons they found their lifeless bodies lying strewn about the wrecked school-house floor.
Their disobedience and truancy had cost them their lives.

How to Cure a Cold.

The question of how to cure a cold without necessary loss of time is one in which we are all more or less interested, for the quicker a cold is gotten rid of the less the danger of pneumonia and other serious diseases. Mr. B. W. L. Hall, of Waverly Road, for years and says:—"I firmly believe Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be absolutely the best preparation on the market for colds. I have recommended it to my friends and they all agree with me." For sale by all druggists.

Youth's Vitality Sapped Away.

Your child looks poorly, is tired and fretful. You would like this boy to be more robust, more energetic and vicious. The something that is wrong is simply this. Stomach and bowels need attention. Constipation and indigestion must be relieved, new life and vigor are required in the blood, slight assistance is needed for the kidneys and liver. Nothing is so effective as Dr. Hamilton's Pills. They put new life into young folks as well as the old ones. Every child should use this medicine regularly because its benefits are not to be had in any other way.

Safest Medicine for Women's Complaints.

Women certainly do neglect themselves. They work too hard—over-tax their strength
—and then wonder why they suffer with diseases peculiar to their sex.
Most cases of female trouble start when the bowels become inactive—the kidneys strained
—and the skin not cared for.
Poisons, which should leave the system by these organs are taken up by the blood and inflame the delicate female organs.

TOWN TOPICS

The Band of Hope will meet on the second and fourth Friday of each month. All children will be welcome.

It is rumored here today that R. N. LeBlanc of Bonaventure has sold out all his lumber interests to the Senator Edwards Co. The purchase is said to have been $70,000.

The post office lobby, those cool evenings, is becoming a favorite rendezvous for boys and girls, where they cause so much disturbance by their hilarity that the police are asked to keep an eye on them. Parents might assist in this matter, very materially, if they only would.

Rev. W. A. Thomson's Sunday evening discourses in the Methodist church have been particularly interesting and helpful of late. Last Sunday evening his theme was "Cheap Human Life" with special reference to the Quebec Bridge disaster and many lessons drawn therefrom. Next Sunday evening "A London Incident" is his subject.

The following officers were elected and installed for the ensuing year at a meeting of Campbellton Division No. 200 S. of T., Monday evening: W. A. Trueman, W. P. Lizzie Dewar, W. A. John E. MacLean, R. S. Janie Dewar, A. R. S. Jessie Andrew, F. S. Wm. P. Gray, Treas.; Mrs. John Ferguson, Chap.; R. B. Gerrard, C. J. Thompson, A. C. Ina Downs, I. S. Wesley Devereaux, O. S.

The case of Alexander Glidden of Summers, Gloucester County, convicted of shooting a moose in close season was before Judge McLatchy on review, Wednesday. The defendant sought to quash the conviction on the following grounds:—That there was no evidence of the alleged offence having been committed within the time limited by the law and that there was no evidence that the alleged offence was committed by the defendant. Judge McLatchy reserved his decision. R. A. Lawlor K. C. appeared for the crown and W. A. Trueman for the defendant.

Manager Dimock of the new opera house has been very fortunate in securing the LaBarre Bros., minstrels for an early date. The St. John's N. B. Evening Times has the following to say of their recent performance at the Opera House:—The very large audience which greeted LaBarre Bros., minstrels in the Opera House last evening afforded conclusive evidence that despite the popular preference for other lines of amusement a really good minstrel troupe can still get the money. LaBarre Bros., troupe is not a very large one and does not rely on elaborate staging for its effects, but it does put up a first class article of clean, refined minstrelsy and as such is deserving of good patronage. The performance was opened with the usual circle which was unusual in its quality. The songs, some of which were new were well rendered and the four endmen kept the audience in hearty laughter. The jokes were well told and were refreshingly free from suggestiveness or vulgarity.

Don't forget the opening of the Moving Picture show in the Opera House tomorrow night.

Dr. McCully, who limits his practice to diseases of the eye, ear, nose and throat will be at the Waverly hotel, Campbellton, Tuesday, Oct. 22nd, where he may be consulted professionally.

E. H. Purcell, manager of the Schubert Symphony Club and Lady Quartette of Chicago was here yesterday making arrangements for the appearance of this high class attraction in the Opera House in November. Mr. Purcell had to have a guarantee of two hundred tickets before a date would be set and succeeded in getting the sufficient number. Anyone who has not secured a ticket can do so by applying to S. W. Dimock.

S. W. Dimock will open a moving picture show, with all the latest and most attractive films, and illustrated songs tomorrow night in the Opera House. Mr. Dimock has purchased a Powers machine, which is one of the most expensive and up-to-date machines on the market. The manager's full intention is to do his utmost in "getting the best show along this line that has ever been presented here. There will be three changes of films per week and the show will be on from 7.30 to 10.30.

On Monday night Oct. 7th, a large shed at Bonaventure, the property of Mr. LeBlanc, was destroyed by fire. The building was used for storage purposes and contained amongst other things, sixteen sets of double sleds all of which were lost. The total damage is estimated at $1300; mostly covered by insurance. The flames were first noticed at 7.45 by people staying at Mr. LeBlanc's Hotel and after the alarm there was a general stampede for buckets, in fact anything that would hold water, but every effort to drown the flames was unavailing and in half an hour after the outbreak the whole building was burned to the ground. The fire is supposed to have been caused by the heat generated from some unslaked lime which was stored in the shed.

Premier Robinson has notified those interested in the questions in dispute between the riparian owners and the Restigouche Boom Company that he will be in Campbellton on Monday, Oct. 21st. The first meeting for organization purposes will be held at the office of W. A. Trueman at 8.30 o'clock and the following meetings will probably be held in the council chamber. Premier Robinson constitutes a commission appointed by the government to investigate the complaints laid by the riparian owners that the Restigouche Boom Company has destroyed their salmon fishing by their booming operations. The riparian owners are urging such action on the part of the government as will lead to redress and compensation for their damages by the boom company. It is understood that they estimate their damages at about $30,000. These proceedings are held under a provision contained in the public domain act passed by the legislature of New Brunswick in 1906. W. A. Mott represents the Boom Co., and W. A. Trueman, the riparian owners.

Will be at Jas. Gillis, Matapedia with an up-to-date line of trimmed hats, on Thursday and Friday, 17th and 18th.
A. B. Mowat Morton.
