

TO POST AND BORDERER
KIVILLE, N.B., AUG. 23, 1894

Lord Aberdeen is a baronet of Nova Scotia and as such is regarded by Nova Scotians with increased affection and loyalty. The baronetcy was conferred on Sir John Gordon of Hoods who distinguished himself in the war against the covenanter and was made a baronet of Nova Scotia by Charles I. in 1642.

The Canadian Gazette says: "Lord and Lady Aberdeen, are being given a hearty welcome in the maritime provinces and they will do Canada excellent service if they succeed in stirring up a livelier interest in Canadian development among the people down by the sea. A community which contributes to federal state-manship such men as Sir John Thompson, Mr. Foster, Sir Charles Tupper, and Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper should be in the very front of Canadian progress."

The king of Siam is dead and H. M. S. Rattler has been sent to Siam, to prevent trouble over the succession. The deceased monarch was forty-one years old and for an Eastern ruler, kind hearted, strong in character, and full of dignity. His widows however are without number and his children total up considerably over a hundred and as the Siamese do not regard the eldest son as necessarily heir to the throne it is anticipated that a number of pretenders may claim the crown and cause trouble. The late king named as his successor his eldest son.

While the Korean war is in progress and Russia anxiously watching for an opportunity to strike for territorial aggrandizement the strength of the British fleet in Eastern waters is a matter of importance and interest. The British ships of war now in Chinese waters number eighteen. They have an aggregate tonnage of 35,632 tons, carry in all 129 guns and vary in size from the Firebrand of 455 tons to the Imperieuse a first class iron clad cruiser of 8,400. The Imperieuse alone of this fleet can be regarded as a powerful battle ship but reinforcements could be speedily obtained from the Australian squadron the flagship of which is the iron-clad Orlando, a belted cruiser carrying 22 ton guns besides other ordnance and having a speed of nearly nineteen knots.

The friends in this section of St. Martin's Island Seminary will be pleased to learn that an attempt will be made not only to open and continue in operation that institution but to clear it of debt as well. It is proposed to raise $3,500 this fall $1000 for necessary repairs and the expense connected with opening $2,500 towards the amount $6,000 required to purchase the property back from its present owner. The remaining $3,500 will be raised by June. The scheme seems feasible for the institution has proved itself of great benefit and won multitudes of friends all over the province. And certainly the Baptists of New Brunswick have the power if they have the will to raise ten times the sum needed.

The Transcript attacks Warden Foster on the ground of his alleged canvassing for Edgell school at Windsor. When a man becomes a public officer, he does not cease to be a citizen. He has still some rights reserved to himself. He can eat and drink and sleep. He has liberty to walk abroad; he can even attend camp meetings or other religious services or a school meeting or a town meeting, and attending is not debarring from participating in the services or work, provided he does not neglect his public duties. We see nothing in the B. N. A. Act, in the common law of the province, or in the civil service code to prevent Mr. Foster supporting Edgell school or any other institution of learning; he pleases.

It was only a few days ago the Editor of the Transcript solemnly promised to conduct his paper on "higher plane," and now we find him making a personal and unwarranted attack on a public officer, for matters in which the public has no possible concern or interest. We cannot permit this sort of release from virtuous promises. Such attacks do harm, for if it becomes recognized that every public officer is to be subjected to spiteful and paltry assaults on the part of the press, men who respect themselves will be driven from public office, and the people will be served by time-servers and lobbyists, whose business is to plunder and fatten on public property.

News Condensed.

—Casario Santo Geremino, the slayer of President Carnot, was executed at Lyons, France, Thursday morning, 10 inst. At 4.40 the prisoner was led to the guillotine. He trembled as he emerged from the prison, and had to be assisted to the scaffold. His face was deadly pale. As he was being fastened down he cried "Vive L'Anarchie!" His death was instantaneous, and occurred at 4.55 a.m. There was no unusual demonstration.

—Mr. William Smith, deputy minister of marine and fisheries, who has been holding an investigation at Halifax into the alleged negligence of the humane staff on Sable Island in the case of the bark Nicos, wrecked there on the 30th ult., has wired to the minister of marine and fisheries at Ottawa, that most conclusive evidence had been given that the island staff did not neglect their duty.

—Chatham World: When Moses sought to astonish the Egyptians by wonderful feats, "the magicians did likewise with their enchantments." So how were the people to know that he had any greater power than the showmen of the time? A Moncton commercial traveller, in the Cyprus Club the other night, duplicated the old reading and lifting feats of Prof. Fontana and Grace Eden, and made no claim to the possession of an unknown power or second sight. He could not be lifted in the way the committee tried to lift Grace Eden, and he duplicated the card trick and went several better.

Yacht Primrose Sinks.

Struck by a squall—Eight Lives Lost.
Five yachts started from Red Point, St. John, Tuesday afternoon in the second race in the series for the corporation cup. Four boats returned to the starting point, but two of them were almost dismantled. The fifth yacht, the Primrose, sank off Mahogony island and eight out of her crew of twelve were drowned. The names of the lost are: Samuel Hutton, aged 50, owner and captain of the Primrose; Henry Bartlett, aged 27; Geo. Heathfield, aged 23; Fred Priest aged 21; A. Akerly, aged 24; Wm. Russell, aged about 18; James Hurley, aged about 45, and Henry Hoyt, about 18 years old.

When the yachts left the harbor there was a northwest wind and the tide was running out. The Primrose, after passing the first turning, pointed into the wind shifted and came in from the south. But this breeze did not last and when the Primrose and Sunol were half way on the stretch to Mahogony island it died out. The Maple Leaf, Grace M. and Olytie which kept away off shore, got quite a fresh breeze and they overtook and passed the other two boats. All the contestants then became becalmed. But away to the westward there were indications of a squall and a shower. The tug Little, which had on board the referee, Judge King; the timer, E. H. Fairweather; and a number of ladies and gentlemen, was close in to Mahogony island. The yachts had to go outside of her in order to round the island, which the boats did not prefer to do. A number of sail boats and a steam launch were close at hand watching the maneuvers of the yachts in the absence of wind. But the storm could be seen approaching and the woe of everyone on the Little was that the boats did not prepare for it. First there was a heavy squall, then came rain and later on a heavy hail storm. It was a gale, and no boat carrying the sail that the yachts had set was safe in it. They were about a mile off Mahogony island at the time. The squall struck the Maple Leaf (Elijah Ross' boat) first, carrying away her topmast.

When the squall struck the Primrose she was close hauled. She was knocked down on her beam ends and nothing could be done with her. She filled with water and sank bow first. The accident happened at 1.30 p.m. that the men were in the water before they could scarcely think. Probably it was five minutes later when the tug reached the scene and within half an hour rescued four of the twelve. The four saved were Howard Holder, Thomas H. Miller, Fred S. Heana, and James McKeever. The other boats had very narrow escapes and the Sunol was towed into harbor by the tug.

Four Men Drowned.

AT MARTIN'S HEAD IN ST. JOHN COUNTY, LOSS OF THE MAJORIE M.
Martin's Head is about half way between Quaco and Cape Enrage—about twenty miles from each point. There is a sandy bar more than half a mile long, with a large rocky head, and reefs running off in every direction. The tide runs around it with terrific force. To the very large number of vessels going up or down the bay Majorie M. has always been a source of danger.

The tug Maggie M. left St. John early Sunday morning for Alma to tow the bark Alton down to her loading berth. She had 200 packages of merchandise. On board were Capt. Justus and John L. Mowry; Herbert Mowry, engineer; Wellington and Arnold Mowry, sons of Herbert Mowry; Capt. Samuel Pittman, of the bark Alton; Fred Leahy, and Dr. Russ of St. John. The four were drowned.

As follows: Herbert Mowry, who leaves a wife and three sons; Justus Mowry, who leaves a wife and four young children; John L. Mowry, who leaves a wife and seven children, and Capt. Pittman who leaves a wife and two children. The Mowrys were well-known rough men of St. John. Capt. Pittman was a native of Yarmouth, but he commanded vessels owned in Albert county for a number of years. His family resided in St. John.

The loss of so many lives seems to have been due to a want of coolness or forethought. There was a dense fog at the time of the tug struck and the conclusion reached was that she would capsize. If all had remained by the tug no lives would have been lost. One of the first reports of the accident in substance as follows:—The tug went on the reef about eight thirty Sunday morning the fog being so dense as to hide the shore. She struck and listed heavily and the waves broke over her. The men on board pushed off in the large boat but capsized before they had got forty feet from the tug. The four hands struggling in the water. The four who were drowned held on to the boat while Arnold Mowry and Dr. Russ had got to a dory that had floated from the tug and Leahy swam to a barrel and held on to it. Wellington Mowry was the last to get out of the tug in replying the tug. After holding on about an hour the four who had hold of the large boat one after another let go and floated down the river. The last was an exhausted condition by a boat from the shore.

The French Account.

Of the Kow Shing Affair.

A letter received at Victoria, B. C., from M. Guste Lafan, one of the officers of the French cruiser Lyon, so long in some time at the Chinese station, contains an interesting account of the story and incidents of the Japanese war which had fairly opened when it was despatched. The Lyon was the only neutral witness of the sinking of the British steamer Kow Shing. The latter incident at the campaign, M. Defan referred to at some length in his letter. He says: "I do not think much of the Japanese or Chinese as seafighters. They are a shame to give good ships and modern arms to such a set of cowardly butchers. Take the Kow Shing affair, it was nothing but a slaughter of the innocent. The Kow Shing was a fine ship and two smaller crafts, the Nao and Toomau, just outside of the Shona Island, early on the morning of the 25th of August, the Kow Shing was flying her British colors, and so was the Toomau. The Japanese gunboat dropped her anchors when she reached signalling station, and we, the same. Two boats were lowered from the Nao and her officers opened several hours on the Kow Shing sending the boats back and forth in the meantime. 'We were anxiously awaiting developments, but did not expect to see powder burned as much on the account of the defenceless condition of the Kow Shing, as owing to her flying the British colors. Of course we knew as well as the Nao that she had Chinese troops on board. Finally the boats returned to the Nao, and the Kow Shing went to the ice of the island and anchored there by order of the Japanese, as we afterwards learned. The next we knew, two hours later, the trading steamer was under steam and the Nao was standing off the island. The open sea, cleared for action. There was not even half or a quarter of a mile between the two, nevertheless the big cruiser tried some of her heaviest metal on the captive. Then she got her torpedoes working and in a few minutes the floating wreckage was all that was left of the well-known steamer. We lowered our boats—picking up 23 men who were swimming. The Japanese were shooting the swimmers in the water with rifle bullets and getting very close to the shore. We came up, but suspended firing and lowered boats, too, though we did not then pick anyone up. They said that the Japanese were trying to capture the Englishmen we picked up told us the Japanese were shifting anchorage, so as to be safe from the torpedoes. The Japanese were not so foolish as to try to get away.

"The saddest part of the affair is that in the excitement the four disappeared from the Kow Shing, although the bar had been badly crippled. This drew on her the firing from the Nao, and a torpedo quickly settled her. The shipper of the Toomau, I think, was an Englishman or an American, as I have been told. Whatever country he belonged to should be proud of him. He faced the music with not a chance in a hundred, stood by the Chinese as long as that floated, and died game. It was nothing but wholesale murder, and if Japan does not suffer in the long run, it will not be because she does not deserve to.

Tormentine Notes.

—Delightful weather continues.
—Some seasonable and much needed showers have been had recently.

—There are many strangers in the vicinity enjoying the hospitality of their friends and the salubrious breezes of our shores.

—There are heard rumblings of commotions that have lately been disturbing the quiet that ordinarily prevails among the professional gentlemen who centre at Bayfield. And now those immediately concerned together with all their interested friends are wondering whereabouts these things will grow.

—Those who had received an intimation that Rev. B. C. Borden D. D. might possibly have occupied the Methodist pulpit last Sabbath were disappointed at his non-appearance. But they will be glad to know hereby that he will (D. V.) preach at the Upper Cape next Sunday morning and at Bayfield in the evening.

PERSONAL.

—Miss Avard has taken charge of the Bayfield school, and already gives promise of great popularity.

—Mrs. A. W. Dobson is slightly improved in health.

—Prof Tweedie of Mt. Allison University and Mr. Scott of the "Sun" returned via the Capes on Monday from P. E. I.

—Bradstreet's estimate of the losses occasioned by the recent railway strike in the United States is about $80,000, of which the workmen, who instituted the strike, have to bear $55,000,000.

—Jacob A. Roberts, aged 67, of Kempsville, Yarmouth, while passing through the grass on the Palmer and Ogden marshes, was struck by a cow and killed. His son found the remains with the bull lying beside them, and the bull attacked the son, but he escaped.

WANT DAMAGES.—The Salisbury and Harvey Railway Co. are being sued for damages by those injured in the recent accident when Harvey bridge fell. Miss Aletha Couston, daughter of Capt. Couston of Harvey claims $2000. Brakenham, Troop McKay of Hillsboro claims $2000, and it is said there will be a number of other claims. McKay states that the Company were repeatedly warned about the dangerous condition of the bridge.

COUNTRY MATCH.—The annual shooting of the Westmorland County Rifle Association was held at McDougall Settlement last Friday. The attendance was not very large and the weather not favorable. The Sackville contingent did not show up so the events were between the Moncton and McDougall Settlement members of the Association. The match next year will be held in Sackville.

WANTS THE REWARD.—Amos Dugay has brought an action against the city of Moncton for the reward ($500) offered by the city last spring to the person giving information that would lead to the conviction of those who broke into the B & M. railway station or the goods store of James Flanagan. Dugay claims to have supplied the necessary information, but the city by David Welch contends that the plaintiff did not supply the alleged information.

THE ST. JOHN SUN appeared on Monday so changed in appearance as to be scarcely recognized by its friends. This altered look was due to the presence in the Sun's composing room for four new Menzies type line machines which have just been put in by the Sun's management. They are the first of their kind to be used in the Maritime Provinces, and as the cost is about $3,000 each, the Sun has shown considerable enterprise and confidence in the future by introducing them.

NEW BUSINESS COLLEGE.—Mr. A. W. Young who was in charge of Mt. Allison Commercial College the last two years was in town Saturday on his way to Fredericton N. B., where on invitation of the mayor he has decided to establish a new commercial college. Fredericton, the centre of a rich and populous section of country where no such institution existed, is peculiarly fitted for the purpose, and Mr. Young is well qualified to make the enterprise a success. He is accompanied by Mrs. Young who will take the shorthand and typewriting departments in the new institution.

MT. ALLISON.—Prof. Lillibridge the new director of the Conservatory will arrive in Sackville next week. Mr. Lillibridge has a very high reputation as an organist. He was selected from among a great number of applicants for the position of organist in St. Barnabas church New York and when he left that position it was to that general regard of the Music Committee. Mr. S. M. Grevold Pres. of the N. Y. Conservatory of Music says: Mr. Lillibridge has had the highest success in his career and has proved to be the best teacher we have had in years. We may state that no one will be disappointed in him.

MEMORANDUM GOLD MINING CO.—The annual (adjourned) meeting on Tuesday was further adjourned for two weeks, without doing any business. The by laws did not permit business without a majority of stock being represented. Mr. J. B. Neill the President requested enough stock for the purpose, but he was conspicuously absent. A meeting of all the shareholders present was afterwards organized at which preliminary steps were taken to obtain a legal meeting hereafter. A good deal of indignation at Mr. Neill's absence and his management was expressed, but as the meeting was an informal one, no decided action was taken. The shareholders propose to make an independent test of the property.

TO THE EDITOR CHIGNETO POST.

SIR:—In answer to the challenge in last week's Post, I wish to make an explanation about the matter. Mr. Frank Rayworth having challenged me a few weeks ago to meet on Amherst Park for $50 or $100, having given me a week to accept the challenge, I accepted the challenge, which Mr. Rayworth not being his own master could not back up. In regard to Mr. Magee Allen's case in the Parish of Botsford I can say that the statement is false. As aforesaid I would have treated Mr. Frank Rayworth, if he had backed up his own horse instead of handing her over to another man.

BAND Concert at Lower Sackville Saturday evening, weather permitting. THE MARITIME CONVENTION of the Baptist church meets at Bear River, Digby County, N. S. on Saturday.

THE MEMORIAL SUNDAY SCHOOL picnic was held yesterday at Cape Tormentine and the day was cool proved most enjoyable. A good crowd attended and the school is the richer by about forty dollars.

THE CHURCH of ENGLAND picnic was held on Tuesday at Fort Cumberland. The drive over and the pleasure of viewing the historic spot were features outside the ordinary pastimes and delights of a Sunday School Picnic.

Amherst Races.

SMALL ATTENDANCE BUT INTERESTING TROTTING.

The trotting on Amherst Park yesterday was interesting especially in the 3 minute class where nine trotted and the time for the first heat was 2:34. On account of the number it was found difficult to get a good start; much time was consumed and in consequence the 3 minute event not decided. The foot race had also to be postponed.

The trotting was in good condition. The tendency however was very small, many holding back for to-day's and to-morrow's races which are looked forward to with great interest. The summary for yesterday is as follows:

TWO YEAR OLD CLASS.

Four Year Old Class.

Three Minute Class.

Canadian Home Circle.

A BRANCH OF THIS ORDER WAS ORGANIZED AUG. 17TH AT POWELL'S HALL, SACKVILLE.

The Canadian Home Circle is a Fraternal Insurance order of the same class as Knights of Pythias, I. O. Foresters, Ancient Order United Workmen, Royal Arcanum and like all these has been instituted for no selfish gain but for the good of its members. These orders are all founded upon the broad principle of the brotherhood of man and side by side with these kindred institutions without jealousy or envy but with generous rivalry the Canadian Home Circle takes its place.

We shall state modestly and with great care to avoid any unpleasantness of the features, that distinguish this order.

First.—This is the first Fraternal insurance order to be opened in Sackville. It is said that there is a limit of 60 years.

Third.—At age of expectancy one half the policy is paid in cash to the insured if living, the other half at death. Thus a member joining at 25 years would receive one half at age of 65 years and a surplus fund is provided to meet these claims as they mature.

Fourth.—This Canadian Home Circle is the only pure Canadian fraternal society being confined to the people of Canada the healthiest race of men in the world and long lived men. Therefore it should enjoy a much lower death rate than those societies which extend into the more insalubrious climate of the lower latitudes.

In regard to the permanency of the fraternal order I quote from the Foresters. "The body of men is the foundation of nearly everything in the world makes one tremble at times lest there should be nothing permanent in our social and business life."

But there is a refreshing exception to all of this when we turn to the legitimate fraternal orders and look through their whole history to see that there is a single record of failure, dishonesty or bankruptcy. In the legitimate fraternal societies we have an assurance of permanency as new as we can approach to anything in this world."

The Institutions of our own Dominion are just as reliable and as carefully guarded as those of any country. For terms of admission apply to Chas. E. Lund, Leader, Fletcher E. George, Secy., Frederick A. Dixon, Financial Secy., or any of the other officers or members.
