IS LONDON A PORT OF MISSING GIRLS?

Three Disappearances Reported Within Past Few Days—
Claim Made That Police Refused Assistance—Mothers
Should Look After Girls, Says Officer.

Is London a port of missing girls? Within the last few days reports of the disappearance of three young women have come to The Advertiser. This morning it was learned that while one of them had returned, two were still absent, and that relatives knew nothing of their whereabouts.

The reluctance of relatives to give the alarm when girls are missing, the difficulty of discovering where the girls went, make it next to impossible for police officers willing to give aid to secure the necessary information upon which to begin investigation.

In one of the cases two girls residing on one street disappeared. It was not known whether they went away of their own accord or were enticed from the city. Stories that they had been seen in the company of men lead to the belief that they had been lured from the city.

This morning when The Advertiser sought to secure information in the case, a natural reluctance on the part of those who might have given information made it difficult for reporters to secure any facts.

Say Police Refused Aid. Some people said that the police had been appealed to and refused to take up the matter. Others were not sure that the police could have done anything.

In another case it was reported that a girl from one of the neighboring township has disappeared after working in the city. She stopped writing to her parents and they are unaware of her residence at the present time.

Many mothers have become agitated over the frequent reports that forced them to the effect that girls have disappeared.

Let Daughters Run Loose. "The trouble with a great many people is that they let their daughters run loose on the streets before they are of an age to take care of themselves," said one police officer. "There may be something in the white slave talk, but how can the police act if there is no notice given of a disappearance until weeks after the parents have known of it. The officers are just as human as anyone else. They would not hesitate to act if they could get the necessary information, but usually there is not a fact upon which to work. Girls may have left the city of their own accord. Some of them may have been enticed away. If this happens, it would seem necessary for the police to provide an escort for every susceptible child that walks the streets. Let the mothers of these girls give them the proper attention and you will not hear much of disappearances. Why I see 'bums' on the streets with girls who come out of good homes. I want the girls, but they seek out the same companions again. It's time the loafers who oggle girls were made an example of."

Police Investigate Sensational Story

Girl Found Roaming Streets Says She Was Forced Into Life of Shame and Implicates Rooming-House Keepers.

As the result of a story told by a young girl at police headquarters today, summons will be issued for a number of citizens to appear before Police Magistrate J. C. Judd on a charge of being frequenters and running houses of ill-fame.

The girl, who was found by the police roaming around the streets during the early morning hours, was taken to police headquarters, where today she told a story of being forced to go on the streets and live a life of shame in order to earn her living, and that how the money she secured from night charms to divide with a number of rooming-house keepers, who allowed her to bring men acquaintances to their houses.

The police are investigating the girl's story and a number of arrests are expected to follow.

LONDON SYNDICATE BUYS 50 ACRES AT LAMBETH VILLAGE

Will Subdivide Suburban Property for City People Who Demand Homes There.

WONDERFUL DEVELOPMENT

Community Affords a Striking Example of What Radicals Will Do.

Fifty acres of land in the heart of the village of Lambeth have been purchased by a London syndicate to be laid out in building lots to meet the demand of London residents for homes in the popular suburb.

The land is situated back of the main street and is to be levelled and laid out in blocks. New streets will be put through and sidewalks constructed. Several hundred lots will be placed on the market. The consideration was not made public.

W. A. Finch will be manager of the property and a number of those interested in the syndicate will build homes at once.

Lambeth continues to reach toward London. It is predicted that within the next five years a great many homes will be erected in the village and along the Wharfedale road. Access to the city is afforded by traction cars, nominal rate being charged. Eventually, it is hoped, the thriving village will extend clear to the city limits. There are building movements both from the city south and from Lambeth toward the city.

A few years ago almost a deserted village, Lambeth is an example of the value of radial lines that pass through small villages along much travelled roads.

COST OF DYING JUMPS

Keeps Pace With H. C. of L. When Liversies Increase Rates.

The high cost of living has been increasing for a long time. Now it is the high cost of dying that is becoming cause for anxiety. The local Liversies' Association has just increased its fixed schedule of prices for hacks, caskets and other carriages used at funerals at the rate of 50 cents for each vehicle to local cemeteries. Hacks, which were $2.50, are now $4, and the cost of other carriages are similarly increased.

FIRST OF MEXICAN REFUGEES TO COME TO THIS CITY

MAX ROSENTHAL.

DISCLAIM LIABILITY FOR SEWER OVERFLOW

Controllers Claim City Is Not Responsible, and Criticize Engineer.

Mrs. Sarah Woodfine, through her solicitor, A. O. Jeffery, K.C., gave notice to the board of control this morning that she was seeking an unstated damage alleged to have been done to her property, on Emery street, South London, when sewer water backed up in the cellar. It will be remembered that Mrs. Woodfine's four-year-old son was swept from the stairs into four feet of water, and nearly drowned. The child's life was saved only through the use of the pulmotor.

City Engineer W. N. Ashplant advised the board that he had sent men from his department to clean up the cellar, and immediately there was a roar of disapproval from the controllers who took the engineer's action as an assumption of the city's liability, and told him so.

"We are not responsible for the flooding of the cellar," said the mayor, "and we will refuse to accept any liability."

The controllers also decided to take no action on the demand of Whit Lancaster for damages by reason of dirt and water washing down the Dundas street fill into his boathouse during the recent big rain-storm.

The city engineer presented a statement to show that corporation laborers were being paid from 20 to 25 cents per hour, and Controller G. E. Rose, who has been agitating for higher wages for the men, was satisfied.

Job Cook offered the city a piece of land at the corner of Wellington and Nelson streets for $800. It is proposed to use the property for opening up Nelson street from Wellington to the Incinerator. The engineer was instructed to secure a report on the feasibility of the scheme.

Controller W. G. Coles wished to know what action was being taken toward placing all wires underground and was told that the matter was now under consideration, i.e., the Government and the railway commission.

The east end market proposition was laid over for further consideration.

Several subdivision plans were approved.

AMERICANS STILL IN MEXICO CITY; UNABLE TO LEAVE

Carranza's Attitude Towards Proposals the Great Question.

IT ALL RESTS ON HIM

State of Treasury at Vera Cruz Is Now Definitely Established.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, D. C., May 1.—Consul Canada at Vera Cruz reported to the State Department today that there still are 1,500 Americans in Mexico City unable to get out because of interrupted railroad facilities. These are, for the most part, new arrivals in the Mexican capital from the surrounding country. Consul Canada has asked the Brazilian minister and Admiral Cadeo, the British commander, to exert their efforts to restore railroad communication with the capital.

CARRANZA THE KEYSTONE.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—With the declaration of a truce between Huerta and the United States Government, interest centered today in whether Carranza, the rebel chief, would resolve himself into the keystone of a diplomatic arch designed to bridge the whole problem of the pacification of Mexico and its international complications.

Huerta, it was announced, had accepted proposals of the South American envoys that hostilities between the forces and those of the United States cease. Secretary Bryan had informed the mediators that the American Government took it for granted there would be no hostilities during the mediation proceedings.

With that situation in hand, the mediators today looked for a reply to the armistice proposal sent to Carranza. Huerta's attitude on the question of the present necessarily would be confined to the adjustment of differences between Huerta and the United States to the exclusion of Mexico's pressing international difficulties.

FORCEFUL REPLY.

Constitutionalist officials in El Paso asserted that Carranza's reply was plainly forecast in orders for a concentrated rebel attack on Tampico. The envoys, nevertheless, have not abandoned the idea of settling the entire Mexican problem. Huerta's attitude on the question of an armistice between his government and the northern rebels also was a factor.

SIX SMALLPOX CASES

That Many at the Cove Hospital at the Present Time.

There were six smallpox cases at the Cove hospital yesterday, but one was sufficiently recovered to be released last night. However, two other cases have been located by the medical officers of health, Dr. T. V. Hutchinson, which brings the detention hospital population up to seven. All the patients are reported to be getting along satisfactorily.

"We are now reaping the fruits of the campaign against vaccination some five years ago," said Dr. Hutchinson today.

FURRY FELINE FIREBRAND SETS FIRE TO HOUSE AS IT ATTEMPTS ESCAPE

Catching Fire From Lamp Thrown at Woman Cat's Frantic Pin-Wheel-Like Efforts to Leave Room Ignited Curtains.

In a drunken brawl last night, at a friend's house on Wilson avenue, Olaf Frieden threw an oil lamp at a woman. It missed, broke on the floor, and a cat, said to look at least 100 years old, caught fire from the flaming oil. Frantic with terror and pain, the cat rushed around the room like a pinwheel, setting fire to the curtains, and making a terrifying spectacle for the occupants in the house, who thought a four-legged firebrand was loose.

The screams of the woman and scuffling brought Policeman James Oakley to the house. Just as he came through the door, the blazing cat started through it from the other side. They met, and the officer muffed out on the cat. After an exciting chase down the street, he caught it, terribly burned, and weak, but it managed to escape again, and nobody knows what became of it. The small fire in the house was extinguished by the policeman, who averted a dangerous blaze.

"Firemen have a soft job, when the fire stands in one place for you, but it is hard work chasing it around," he remarked.

In police court this morning, Frieden said he was drunk, and did not remember what happened last night. He was fined $5 and costs, or 10 days in jail.

MOTHER LOVE IS DOMINANT FACTOR OF SINGER'S LIFE

Mme. Clara Butt's Fondness for Her Children Revealed in Chat With Reporter.

BELIEVES IN PANKHURSTS

Says Their Militant Efforts Are Necessary to Convince England of Women's Rights.

[By the Nomad.]

"Good morning," said the deep contralto voice, and the reporter realized that the tall woman in purple advancing down the aisle of the car was none other than Mme. Clara Butt, the world-famous contralto singer. Mme. Butt and her equally distinguished husband, Mr. Kennerly-Rumford, arrived in London via Grand Trunk this morning, travelling in their luxurious private car, the Washington, and Mrs. Rumford, as she is called in family life, kindly granted an interview with an Advertiser reporter upon their arrival here.

"We have been on a long tour, eighteen months now," she said, "and I shall be glad to get back to England. We have not seen our children for three months. They have been on a California ranch with their tutor, and will join us in New York about May 16. We expect to sail then."

Relics of the Fire

Covers burned and scorched, pages blackened and brittle, and the volume swollen beyond all recognition, Bicknell and Seager's Division Court Act represented all that was left of the extensive law library of a left since the fire," explained J. W. McIntosh, clerk of the court, to Judge Talbot Macbeth at the post-mortem sittings of the court.

Lifting up the little Testament that has served in so many sittings of the division court, Mr. McIntosh pointed to its swollen covers and blackened pages and declared that even it should now be superannuated.

Two small cases were dealt with, the defendants being ordered to pay minor amounts for which they were sued.

Rush for Trout on Opening Day

Tony Tillmann's first, a steel could easily forth intent upon hooking the speckled boys. At Denfield, Kilworth, Dorchester and other spots the streams of which the trout are supposed to inhabit, there were parties of London sports.

"Tony" Tillmann would not be denied the first day of the season and motored to his own favorite secret trout stream. Everyone still has a secret trout stream who fishes in the vicinity of London. The trout are usually secret, too. A local artist could do a good business by offering to paint colors on perch and other garden varieties. A machine for stamping the red and pink spots on trout would have a large sale.

FIRMLY SUPPORT PARTY LEADERS

London Liberals Are Behind Them on Their Stand in the Question of C. N. R. Loan.

London Liberals to a man stand behind the decision of the party leaders at Ottawa to fight the proposals to grant $45,000,000 to the Canadian Northern, practically as a gift.

It is felt in this city that Mackenzie & Mann have the Borden Government in a position to demand and receive anything they ask, no matter how much the interests of the country may suffer.

That the country receives everything in the event of failure and nothing in the event of success is the principal basis of criticism.

"The government is paying for the aid it received from the C. N. R. in the reciprocity campaign," said one prominent Liberal. "The farming community will not stand for this enormous gift, and everywhere Liberals will fight it tooth and nail. The Borden Government is doomed as soon as it passes this legislation, and the old chief will ascend to his rightful place once more."

Cases Stand Over.—The adjourned assize court sittings set down for today were declared lapsed, owing to the fact that Mr. Justice Kelly could not terminate his court in Berlin in time to come to the city. The case set down for trial, the non-jury action Nicholson vs. Grand Trunk Railway will stand over until the non-jury sittings in June.

---and the Worst Is Yet to Come

Pacific Mail Steamer Siberia Carried Over 500 Passengers.

SENT WIRELESS DISTRESS SIGNALS

These Grew Indistinct and No Details Were Learned.

PIRACY RUMORED

Japan Acts Quickly In Sending War Vessel To Scene of Accident.

[Canadian Press.]

Tokio, May 1.—Wireless calls for assistance from the Pacific Mail steamer Siberia, from San Francisco, April 7, for Manila, heard on the Japanese coast today, intimated that she was in grave peril off the coast of Formosa. The exact nature of the accident has not yet been determined, nor have any details been received here up to a late hour tonight.

An early report said the liner was sinking, while a later message conveyed the information that she was ashore six miles off the southeast mainland of Formosa Island.

Among the passengers on the Siberia are Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, wife of the Governor-General of the Philippines, and Mrs. John B. Rentiers, wife of the new British consul at Manila.

The Siberia left Yokohama April 27 and Nagasaki April 29, direct for Manila. This course would have taken her to the east of Formosa. She had a passenger list of 71 persons in the first cabin, about 50 in the second, and 400 in the steerage. She is in command of Captain Zeeder, and carries a crew of about 200 men.

Piracy Rumored. At a late hour tonight a report was current in Tokio that Chinese pirates may have been connected with the accident to the liner. This fear was held at Tai-Pu-Fu, the capital of Formosa, whence it was conveyed in a cablegram.

The gravest anxiety prevails owing to the fact that the wireless calls for help from the Siberia have ceased. The American consul at Tamsui, Formosa, telegraphs he fears this means that the vessel has gone down. When the first wireless calls for help were heard, the nearest ship was six hours away.

Report Discredited.

The Japanese navy department was inclined tonight to discredit the reports of piracy, and expressed the opinion that they may have been an outcome of the recent looting of a British steamer by pirates.

The first wireless message was received direct from the Siberia early this morning at the Japanese wireless station at Oosakai. It conveyed the information that the steamer had met with an accident and was in distress. This message was mutilated and no further definite information could be gleaned from it.

Other Boats Notified.

The plight of the Siberia was communicated by wireless also to the steamer Minnesota, of the Great Northern Steamship Company, which was making her way to Nagasaki, as well as the British cruiser Minotaur.

The position of the Siberia is given by wireless as longitude 121.10 east, latitude 22.40 north. This location is about six miles

BOARD OF TRADE IS IN FAVOR OF THE NEW ASSESSMENT

Members Show partiality to the Somers System at Informal Meeting.

NAME EXECUTIVE COUNCIL

Twelve Members Installed in Office—All But Three of Former Body Returned.

The London Board of Trade enjoyed one of the most interesting sessions in its history on Thursday evening, when Walter L. Pollock, of Cleveland, Ohio, explained the Somers assessment system and the members indulged in an informal discussion of the whole problem of assessment. There were speeches from Mr. Pollock, Mayor C. M. R. Graham, Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant, F. E. Leonard, A. B. Greer and others, and an unusual interest was awakened.

Mr. Pollock, with the aid of charts, explained the Somers theory, which, boiled down to a few words, works on the basis of so much per foot for all the land in a given block, and calls for the assessment on buildings to be computed on the strength of their reproduction cost per square foot of floor space, so much allowed for depreciation. For this plan equity and absolute fairness were claimed and many instances were cited to show how it had worked out successfully in other cities. Land values in the first place, under this system, are evolved in relation to street accessibility, thus making the streets the first consideration rather than any certain property. Tables are supplied for computation of value enhancement on corner lots.

Will Test Plan Here.

The board of trade members expressed themselves as being very favorable to Thought She Would Go Mad WITH HEADACHE.

In all cases of headache the treatment should be directed to remove the cause, for with the cause removed the headache vanishes for all time. Headache powders just relieve for the time being, but what is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose it is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of all descriptions than Burdock Blood Bitters, acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Althea Bowman, Hamilton, Ont., writes:—"I have suffered terribly with my head for weeks at a time till I thought I would go mad. A friend advised me to give Burdock Blood Bitters a trial, so I got a bottle and found relief. I have used four bottles in all and I am glad to say that I have had no more headaches since. I would advise all sufferers to give it a fair trial."

the idea, and a concrete test of the plan will be made on a sample city block.

The invitation of Mayor Graham to have a committee from the board of trade go over the local assessment problem with the assessment commissioner was accepted. The mayor will also address the board at its next meeting on the assessments and other civic questions.

Assessment Commissioner Grant gave a brief address following Mr. Pollock's remarks, in which he explained the methods used in working out assessments in London.

To Aid Manufacturers.

President E. C. Mitchell, in presenting his report of the year's work, suggested the bonding of a suitable tract of land in the annexed district, adjacent to the railways, which could be offered to approved prospective industries at a reasonable price, as had been done in other cities. The president advised that several big industrial propositions were on tap and urged that great interest be shown by local business men.

Mr. Mitchell noted the fact that the R. and O. freight boats would not call at Port Stanley during the coming summer. Merchants of the district, he said, had not patronized the service last season, in fact the company had derived only one-third of the business it had anticipated. Consequently it had refused to listen to the board's recent request for a continuance of the service.

The president thanked the members for the hearty interest taken in the membership campaign and promised a similar activity would be shown by the board when the time came for Western University to be assisted.

Executive Council Named.

The election of twelve members to comprise the executive council resulted as follows: Lieut.-Col. W. White, 27; Philip Pockock, 25; A. B. Greer, 23; C. J. Fitzgerald, 23; A. E. Silverwood, 23; F. E. Leonard, 22; George H. Belton, 21; Samuel Stevely, 19; Dr. H. T. Reason, 17; J. H. Chapman, 17; T. P. McCormick, 17. Messrs. McCormick, Fitzgerald and Chapman are the only new members of the executive.

Treasurer E. H. Nelles reported assets of $5,894.91, and no liabilities. Counted as an asset was $815 for dues in arrears. It was decided to collect this amount or strike the delinquent members from the roll.

Clean-Up—Paint-Up.

The board unanimously accepted a motion put forward by F. E. Leonard and Lieut.-Col. W. M. Gartshore, to ask the city and local companies to have all poles repainted, and citizens to "paint-up" in order to give the city a more imposing appearance for the Old Boys' Reunion in August. Reference was made to the action of certain citizens in planting objectionable shrubbery on the boulevards and the corner of Queen's avenue and Colborne was referred to as having been decorated with beautiful brush far from being beautiful or dignified.

Several communications of more or less importance were referred to the executive with power. The board will probably send delegates to the city planning congress in Toronto this month.

In acknowledging the receipt of a communication from the board, S. F. Glass, M.P., advised that he had received to believe that the Government would act favorably on the request of various boards of trade to protect shippers from alleged excessive ocean freight rates.

M'GUIGAN MAY BUY WEST SHORE RAILWAY

Former G. T. R. Man Admits
He Has Been Looking
It Over.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, April 30.—The investigation into the affairs of the Ontario West Shore Railway will be resumed by the Ontario Railway and Municipal Board at eleven thirty o'clock on Friday morning. J. Herbert Lennox, K.C., counsel for J. W. Moyer, promoter of the line, has intimated that his client will appear and give evidence.

Further interest is attached to this hearing by the rumor that F. H. McGuigan, formerly of the Grand Trunk Railway and controller for the Niagara transmission system of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, will purchase the line and complete it for operation. When seen today Mr. McGuigan said that he had been looking over the line, but was not in position to say whether he would embark on the undertaking.

"Who is interested with you?" Mr. McGuigan was asked.

"I am acting entirely on my own behalf," he replied. "There is no syndicate or interest associated with me at present."

MORE CADDISH TACTICS.

SOME Conservatives are ready to go to any length to sully the reputation of a Liberal. Sam Hughes, from his perch in the House of Commons, screamed "Gaffer!" at Hon. Sydney Fisher, well aware that he had no facts upon which to base his charge. Yet ready to strike a blow beneath the belt if he could catch the ear of the sensation-mongers with his foul chatter, Mr. Fisher, after giving the charge an unqualified denial, challenged Hughes to make the charge where he (Mr. Fisher) could defend himself in the courts. Yet the "Colonel the Honourable" supposed to be a soldier and a gentleman, neither retracted nor substantiated his charge. It was the vilest slander, and in such cases the charge always draws more attention than the denial. Hughes proved himself a coward and a cad, because he refused to give a man of unblemished reputation the British justice he himself makes such a catch-word of. And a coward and a cad he will remain in the eyes of fair-minded men of both parties.

There are others of his ilk at Toronto. C. Howard Ferguson, himself recently convicted of accepting Dominion Government perquisites while a member of the Legislature, tried to fasten a similar offense upon Leader Rowell. He stated that Mr. Rowell had accepted from, and performed, a commission for the Dominion Government while a member of the Legislature. The debate was closed immediately after Mr. Ferguson spoke to prevent Mr. Rowell from replying to and exploding the statement before the Government papers had a chance to use it as a counter-irritant to the Bowman charges, which Mr. Hanna sidestepped. The next day, Mr. Rowell gave the truth of the matter. He showed by correspondence that he had been retained by the Methodist Church long before he even thought of entering public life, to look after the interests of the Indians at Oka in the dispute between the Indians and the Seminary of St. Sulpice. The case was sent to the courts, the Dominion Government agreeing to pay the costs as a test case. Mr. Rowell's connection with the matter came through his representation of the Methodist Church, and in the last appeal of the case he received a small fee after having become a member of the Legislature. It was for the Methodist Church he acted, and not for the Dominion Government. If his fees came from the Dominion Government, they came to the Methodist Church or whoever the church had chosen as its representative.

Mr. Rowell's accuser sought to cry "You are as bad as I am." In order to prove Mr. Rowell guilty of wrongdoing, he had to admit that he was equally guilty. But while his own guilt is definitely established, he could not bring one tittle of evidence to prove that Mr. Rowell had acted unlawfully or inconsistently. And he must have been aware that his case would fall before he launched it.

His action is of a kind with the attack made by Hughes on Hon. Sydney Fisher. Anything to give the slander slingers of the Tory press a chance to strike Rowell. The lengths to which such men as Ferguson go to indicate their fear that Newton Rowell is shortening day by day their tenure of rule in this province.

THE CANADIAN NORTHERN.
 THE crisis presented in the affairs of the Canadian Northern, and which has resulted in an application for help, brings prominently forward the question, how far the Government is justified in taking part in the endeavor to steer the affairs of the railway into profitable channels and enable it to complete its construction as a national transcontinental railway.

Whether a railway is a great national railway, or one of local service only, the public is necessarily interested to a greater or less extent. On the wisdom of the Government in granting charters much depends. If bonding powers are given beyond the power of the railway to earn, those who invest in the bonds may be losers, and if the company possesses enterprise beyond its financial capacity it may result in serious complications. The Canadian Northern, in its various branches, involves hundreds of millions of dollars. It is, therefore, in proportion to its extent, a matter of consequence to the public what becomes of it. If we apply the principle sought to be applied in the case of the Farmers' Bank depositors, the result would be that the Government, having granted a charter, would be bound to see that no one lost in consequence of the business of the railway. It is not likely that any such theory would receive serious support. It will be recognized, however, that the public is vitally interested in the Canadian Northern, and that is the justification for taking a hand in the unfinished game. Then should the Government, supposedly acting solely in the public interest, not see that for whatever risk the Government takes on its behalf there is the same profit to the public a banker would demand for a similar service on behalf of his bank.

If bankers would furnish money on the security offered the Government would not need to be called on. It is no small task to ascertain the value of the Canadian Northern properties, and its liabilities, its earning power, the probable cost of completion, and its value when completed, and the capital then required to carry it on. What would be the fair investment now over liabilities of the company and what would be fair terms on which Canada should come to the rescue? All these, and many more, are necessary facts, and before anything is definitely agreed on should be placed before Parliament.

In reality the proposition is one in which the Canadian Northern, with an immense enterprise on its hands, says to the whole of Canada: "Our load is greater than we can carry; you are interested with us, help us because it will help you. Our interest in the enterprise is worth so much. Here are the proofs: It will take $45,000,000 to see the Canadian Northern completed and in successful operation. Help us to obtain that sum and we will agree to any reasonable terms you dictate." What those terms should be, Parliament should not decide until it obtains the particulars. The question is one of tremendous importance to the company and to Canada. What each should finally own in the partnership time only can reveal, and what is now decided should be with an eye, not only on the present, but to the future.

IS TORONTO ONTARIO?
 TORONTO is to have ten members in the next Legislature. The rest of the province will simply have to become a united Liberal stronghold, otherwise Toronto will be Ontario.

HONORABLE W. S. FIELDING.
 THE House of Commons at the present time should have the Hon. W. S. Fielding as one of its members. He belongs to the best type of member. He is a clear-headed, hard worker and student, a man of long experience in the front rank, and of the highest personal character. The constituency in which he was defeated at the last general election will likely reverse its verdict at the next. The country needs the advice of all the Fieldings it can get, no matter on which side of the House they may happen to sit.

Questions like the Canadian Northern call for the judgment of men such as he—call for true statesmanship. Sir Wilfrid Laurier has many good men surrounding him, and they would all be glad to have Mr. Fielding join their number.

THE FARMERS' BANK DEPOSITORS.
 WHY should money be voted to pay the Farmers' Bank depositors, and still leave the double liability clause in force with reference to stockholders? The stockholders lose all they put in, and are liable to pay that sum over again. Is there any reason why the loss sustained by a depositor should be paid by the Government that does not equally apply to a stockholder? Stockholders and depositors are equally innocent and equally entitled to sympathy when a failure occurs. If when a bank fails, the country is to reimburse all depositors, what will it lead to, and how can any distinction be fairly made between a depositor and a stockholder?

SLIPPING.
 THE Whitney Government must feel the province slipping from under its feet. Confronted with a record of routs at the hands of the fighting Liberal brigade, the machine of the provincial party has robbed its opponents of a seat. That single seat was precious to the Liberals; but their righteous indignation at the robbery will be more precious to them and to Ontario Liberals as a united body. The Liberals in Ontario are on the right side of every great question, and when an instrument of political torture, belonging as much to the dark ages as the thumbscrew, is hauled out again for operation, it is a sign of need for an antidote to favorable public sentiment.

The provincial session is over. It disturbed the Seven Sleepers hardly at all. How much of the $40,000,000 stock the C. N. R. offers the Government is paid up?

SLEUTHING.
 [Washington Star.]
 "I asked her if her husband smoked," said the woman with an inquiring mind, "and what do you think. She said she didn't know."
 "I don't see what difference it makes to you."
 "Oh, I don't care whether he smokes. I wanted to find out if he kisses her."

 [Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]
 Perhaps if President Wilson and Huerta would consult the book on etiquette authorized by the Ontario educational department they would find some way out of the question of saluting the flags. Isn't it a question of manners?

DAMN—GOOD.
 [Stratford Beacon.]
 William Damn and Lena Good were married at Stratford the other day. Should we say that is too good to be true?—Collingwood Bulletin.
 No you shouldn't, because it is true, though the wedding took place at Listowel not Stratford. We're surprised that so good a young man as the editor of the Bulletin should have in his mind an epithet that would fill the blank which could be used as play on the good German name of Damn.

TORONTO WORLD (Con.) FLAYS WHITNEY GOVERNMENT FOR THE BRUCE GERRYMANDER

The Advertiser wishes to express its appreciation of the manner in which the Toronto World (Conservative) comments on the gerrymandering of Bruce County by which Mr. William MacDonald, M.P.P., of Centre Bruce, one of the finest types of legislators on either side of the House, a man who has worked for the social and more development of his fellow-men, will be forced out of public life. The World sees in the slicing of this county and the double-barrelled seats in Toronto a sign of decadence in the Whitney Government.

In paying his respects to the men who had taken his seat from him, Mr. MacDonald spoke in ringing tones that brought shame to his hearers. He had been told that his seat would not be touched. It had never been touched so long as Hugh Clark, Conservative, was sitting for it. But when a Liberal was returned it was time to find excuses for cutting it off, and incidentally one of the few Liberal members.

"You are men of fair words and foul deeds," said Mr. MacDonald. Not given to excessive speech, nor exaggeration. Mr. MacDonald made the tricksters on the opposite side feel ashamed. It is the hope of The Advertiser that the fair minded voters of the riding will take to heart the advice of an independent Conservative paper when it says, "He should return to the House without difficulty." The World's editorial is as follows:

Regrettable Signs.
 If Mr. William MacDonald of Centre Bruce makes an excellent appeal to the constituency which he may be called upon by, at the next provincial election, as he did in the Legislature yesterday, he should return to the House without difficulty. He was discussing what has been called the redistribution or gerrymandering of Bruce County, and his readiness to retort to interruptions, his good humor, his sound sense and resourcefulness were all admirably characteristic of a man who has made himself respected and admired on the Asking to Call.

Dear Miss Grey—What is the proper way of wording a letter when asking a young lady for permission to call upon her some evening? Thanking you in advance.

A READER.

A.—The simplest and most direct form is usually the best. You may write: "Dear Miss Smith—If you have no previous engagement for Wednesday, may I have the pleasure of spending that evening with you at your home? If this evening is not convenient, have I your permission to call some other evening?"

Cornstarch and Rose Beads.

Dear Miss Grey—Will you please answer in your space in the paper how the salt and starch beads are made, and also the beads made of rose leaves and colored?

Please answer as soon as possible. Yours truly,

A.—I have never tried the bead-making, personally, but "here's how an expert says they are made:

Put in a basin on the stove to heat thoroughly, three teaspoons salt and one teaspoon cornstarch. In another small vessel put two teaspoons boiling water, add a pinch of any kind of dye to give it the desired shade. If you wish a blue you might add a drop of bluing or a grain or two of any of the Easter egg dyes. This must be boiling hot, and then poured over the mixed salt and cornstarch. Mix thoroughly and allow to stand all night. This then forms a dough from which to make the beads the size desired. Small pieces of a rubber between the hands, forming a small ball. Lay them on a board or card, and stick a pin through them to make the hole for threading when dry. In a few days they will be dry enough to string. The quantity given above will naturally make only a few beads and you will have to double or triple the ingredients used.

I am uncertain as to the quantity required for the making of a necklace, but it requires a great many rose leaves; easily three quarts. When they are still fresh put them through an ordinary meat chopper eight times a day for three successive days, putting the paste so formed in between times in a rusty, iron roasting pan or iron pot of some kind to give them the rusty black look necessary. Then measure a thumbful of the paste for your largest bead, or in proportion. Roll this to bead form on the hands and run a pin or needle through it, sticking it on a large sheet of cardboard to harden. Graduate the other beads proportionately for your necklace. If you wish to make a roughened surface, prod them lightly with soft with a wooden toothpick. As a finish, they may be just touched with a little sweet oil, but much care must be used that you do not spoil their perfume and coloring with the oil.

One of the few avenues of learning in London proves to be that of canvassing for advertising. Twenty women follow this occupation.

It is not always the fanciful, dainty positions that women hold. In Germany there are feminine street cleaners.

The claim is made that 98 per cent of the women in Kansas belong to farmers' institutes.

Songs We Used to Whistle and Sing

MY OLD DOG TRAY.
The morn of life is past, and evening comes at last,
It brings me a dream of a once happy day;
Of youthful forms I've seen upon the village green,
A-sporting with my old dog Tray.

Chorus.
Old dog Tray's every faithful,
Grief cannot drive him away;
He's gentle, he is kind, I shall never, never find
A better friend than old dog Tray.

The forms I call'd my own have vanish'd one by one,
The lov'd one, the dear ones, have all pass'd away;
Their happy smiles have flown, their gentle voices gone,
I've nothing left but old dog Tray.

And once when nearly drown'd, the noble-hearted hound
From death's open jaws snatch'd his master away;
And bore me safe to shore, where I never, never more
Shall have better friend than old dog Tray.

When thoughts recall the past, his eyes are on me cast,
I know that he feels what my poor heart would say;
Although he cannot speak, I should vainly try to seek
A better friend than old dog Tray.

THE HOROSCOPE

Saturday, May 2, 1914.

Astrologers find the influences, on the whole, unfavorable today, for while Venus is in benefic aspect, both Mars and Saturn are strongly adverse. The evening is practically subject to evil conditions.

Women should be cautious 'even though the planet believed to benefit them is friendly, for Saturn's malefic power tends to doubt, jealousy and misjudgment.

The rule is unlucky for theatres and all places of amusement. The stars presage disappointment and difficulties. The evening will not be an auspicious time for asking favors or starting on journeys. Old persons should be especially careful to avoid mishaps.

As this aspect is believed to interfere with concentration and to limit mental activity, it is well to postpone study, conferences and all planning until a more favorable condition prevails. The aspect is held to be conducive to colds and other bodily ills.

The Moon is in a sign said to give a taste for pleasure and luxury.

Best family physic. Do not gripe or cause pain. Purely vegetable, easy to take. 25c.

It is not an auspicious aspect for weddings, engagements and love affairs. It is prophesied that an international scandal will disturb New York society next summer.

In the Middle West women are to attract attention by their radical reforms. Chicago will produce a woman who will make a unique place for herself in national politics. She may be sent to Congress or become a diplomat.

Again the stars give warning of increased immorality among women. Divorce cases will be extraordinarily numerous before the autumn.

A sign interpreted as forecasting activity among citizen-soldiers may mean trouble on the southern borders of the United States.

Persons whose birth date it is have the prognostication of many anxieties during the coming year. Business men should avoid new enterprises. Young girls should be especially circumspect.

Children born on this day will be industrious and persevering. They have many obstacles to meet. Girls should be guarded against unfortunate love affairs.

Though several women have passed the examinations for the bar in Georgia, none have been admitted to practice.
A divorcee drawing alimony which is more than $3,000 must pay income tax.
Men pledged to surrender their seats to women in Chicago street cars will wear "Seats for Women" buttons.
There is no such person as an old maid in Flam.

WOES OF MRS. NEWLYWED

"I had awful luck with my layer cake," remarked Mrs. Newlywed. "Perhaps your oven wasn't hot enough," suggested Mrs. Neighbor. "In testing the oven for cake baking, remember that greater heat is required for a cake baked in layers than for a single loaf."
Chicago equal suffragists want a city ordinance for a minimum scale for men and women in trade occupations.

U. S. A. PHYSICIAN TO BE EXECUTED AS A SPY, SAYS REPORT

Secretary Bryan Immediately Takes Steps to Secure the Freedom of Dr. Ryan at Mexico City.

[Canadian Press.]

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Unofficial reports reaching Washington late tonight that Dr. Edward Ryan, an American in the service of the United States Government looking after refugees, was to be executed as a spy at Mexico City tomorrow, caused Secretary Bryan to make urgent representations in behalf of Dr. Ryan to the Spanish ambassador.

Secretary Bryan said that no news of Dr. Ryan's reported plight had reached him through official circles, and that he was not inclined to credit the story. No chances were taken, however. Ambassador Riano was requested to inquire into the matter at once and if he found that Dr. Ryan actually was under arrest, to insist upon his immediate release. The matter also was brought to the attention of Senor Da Gama, Brazilian minister, who communicated with the Brazilian minister at Mexico City, in charge of American interests there.

Dr. Ryan is a physician and has been active in relief work in Mexico for some time. When the battle of Terreon was on he organized an automobile expedition which went from Mexico City and did general work among wounded federalists and constitutionalists.

Officials here said any accusation of spying or improper conduct against the doctor would be absurd that his activities had been confined solely to efforts to relieve suffering humanity.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp, and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick, and glossy. On Saturday, May 2, 1914, at 2 p.m., to be carefree. "Bills" he asked anxiously. "You ought to be careful." Molly flashed him a glance of scorn. "Be careful," she sneered, "and you will be in the poor farm." "Better than being in jail," returned Algernon mildly. "To a coward, yes," said she. "To a person with honor, I should think."

"Fear is so often mistaken for honor," she retorted coolly, flushing and not meeting his eyes. Algernon changed the subject. "What put the idea into your head?" he asked. "Weren't you afraid that there would be something in the papers about the real Mrs. Todd to give you away?"

"Mrs. Todd never says anything to be printed about her," returned Molly. "I know," agreed Algernon. "But I have sometimes seen little things about 'Todd.' They never read the papers up here," said the girl carelessly, "except the Brockton Daily Telegraph. That only comes out once a week and hasn't anything in it but advertisements."

Algernon remembered what old man Brown had remarked the day of his arrival, but decided to say nothing to the girl about it and alarm her unnecessarily, for there was not likely to be anything in the papers about young Todd for some time, at least. "That's true," he admitted.

"What do you want?" she asked sharply. She was worried and anxious, and the strain of keeping up before Hamilton had relaxed, she gave way to the moment to her frayed nerves.

"Hello," said Algernon lamely, not able to think of anything else on the spur of the moment. "I was just thinking—that you would be afraid of losing your position."

Molly was leaning against the table, but even in the dusk of the room Algernon could see her face change color, and her small hands tighten on the edge of the table as she struggled to keep her composure.

"My position?" she questioned. "What do you mean?" She came forward, cool and sweet with sudden composure, in a white frock, a string of turquoise around her slender throat, and on her small feet, peeping from under the hem of her gown, slippers of a blue to match, frankly regardless of the widow's weeds she had made no attempt to wear.

"I just wanted to say," he broke forth boyishly, "that you had better look out, or you will give the whole thing away." Molly's cheeks turned as white as her dress, and her composure toppled like a house of cards. She leaned forward and one hand clutched on her breast. "Who is he?" she demanded hoarsely, scarcely above a whisper. "That man in the village?"

"Patterson," stammered Algernon, miserably unhappy over her display of his one desire was to help her, not to add to her trouble and fright. He could no more have worried her than he could have cut that soft white throat which fluttered in her fear like the breast of a captured bird. "Patterson," he repeated. "A stranger on his way to Canada."

"Does he know the Todds?" she asked quickly. "No," said Algernon. "How do you know?" she demanded, still unconvinced.

"We were talking about them," lied Algernon. "When I was overhauling his machine this afternoon. He never saw them in his life, was never in New York."

The girl drew a long breath and leaned back against the table again, one hand raised to her hot cheek, into which the blood was rushing in a crimson tide, the other still clutched on her breast, her graceful head slightly turned as she bit her lips and struggled for composure.

"You see," said Algernon gently, as one would speak to a startled child, "he does not know anything about the Todds."

The girl nodded and motioned to a chair for him to be seated. "Sit down," said she simply. "We will talk things over. What did you mean by saying I would lose my position?" she laughed lightly, and why did you come? I have lost my position now that the girl was herself once more, and realizing as never before how pretty Molly was and how lonely he would be without her now that they were getting acquainted as fellow-conspirators.

"I came," he explained amiably, "to let you see that you really can't afford to set people talking about you, even in this backwoods town. It could get into the papers, and put an end to everything, my position and yours. Can't you see that?"

The girl nodded and Algernon went on. "These people up here don't look on things as we do in the city. If a man calls on a girl here he has as good as proposed."

Again the girl nodded. Algernon glanced curiously around the room to give her time to regain her composure more fully. The library was a large room, like all the others in the house. There were bookshelves reaching from the floor to the ceiling, heavy tables and massive leather-cushioned chairs, a writing desk with its accessories of Russian leather and cut glass, a huge fireplace, with quaint old-fashioned hood and high-backed carved settees, a weakness of the late Mr. Todd. The dark oak floor was highly polished and the fading light from the French windows Algernon could see the magnificent stretch of velvet lawn and beyond the tumbling, fog-gray sea.

All was quiet, well-kept comfort, such as money can give, and all was his. He looked at the girl facing him across the table's broad expanse, and told himself that she was nothing but a swindler, decided in theinery his money afforded.

His mother, he decided, would doubtless be blind to the rare humor in the situation, but his mother was a large room, more than three thousand miles away, and as yet blissfully ignorant of what was being done in her name in the great lonely house on the wind-swept coast of Maine.

Indeed, Algernon was as unconscious as his mother of the real essence of that which he was doing. Mature deliberation and Algernon were as far apart as the poles. He acted on the impulse of the moment, and if things went wrong he simply dropped them and turned to something else. Money is a great aid to a successful practice of a philosophical view of life.

He drew up a chair for Molly, and with a little bow motioned for her to be seated, remembering the cook's expression of dark suspicion when he had done the same for her. Then he sat down himself, and pushing aside the papers that cluttered the table, made room for his arms.

"Bills?" he asked anxiously. "You ought to be careful." Molly flashed him a glance of scorn. "Be careful," she sneered, "and you will be in the poor farm."

"Better than being in jail," returned Algernon mildly. "To a coward, yes," said she. "To a person with honor, I should think."

MYSTERY OF WOODEN LEG'S DISAPPEARANCE SOLVED

Belt Reveals Thief Who Took Auxiliary "Hopper" of One Samuel Brown—Who Couldn't Work Because Of Its Loss.

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Samuel Brown's wooden leg was solved in the county jail today when Governor Carter told John Allen and Brown to strip off their own clothes and to the prison stripes. Allen was arrested with Brown on Wednesday in the Grand Trunk yards by a special officer. Brown had been in a box car, hungry and helpless, for three days because, having only one leg, he could not walk. Somebody had stolen the wooden one.

When Allen examined the disarming act in the jail today and had thrown off his coat and vest, just as he was loosening a belt, Brown shouted:

"Hey, Governor, that guy's got the bel' off my wooden leg."

Upon questioning Allen, the governor learned that while Brown was sleeping in the car Allen had slipped off his wooden leg and appropriated the good belt for his own use. He disposed of the leg to some person in this city, and now the assignment for the county police is implied in the question, "Where is Brown's wooden leg?"

Both Brown and Allen are doing ten days in Castle Carter for trespassing on the Grand Trunk. Allen admitted that he had slept in cars and coaches for four weeks. In the meantime Governor Carter will supply Brown with wood to make himself another wooden leg.

PROROGATION SPEECH MERELY A RESUME

Lieut.-Gov. Gibson Referred to Various Government Activities.

(Canadian Press.) Toronto, May 1.—The third session of the thirteenth Legislature of Ontario came to an end today when the prorogation speech was read by His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Sir John Gibson. Colonel Gibson performed this office for probably the last time. The Lieutenant-Governor wore his colonial uniform and was escorted by a detachment from the Royal Canadian Dragoons. He was received at the entrance to the Parliament Buildings by a guard from the Governor-General's Body Guard, the Queen's Own Rifles Band and plumed soldiers of the King and a party of the Ninth Field Battery fired a salute of fifteen guns.

In his prorogation speech, Lieutenant-Governor Gibson referred to the various acts of the Government during the session, touching on agricultural demonstration, workmen's compensation, hydro-electric extensions, temperance changes and the bills dealing with political subscriptions by corporations, Government contractors, and holders of liquor licenses, and making certain changes with reference to the nomination of candidates for the Legislature.

No new policies were forecast, nor did Sir John make any notable comments, his address being decidedly platitudinal. He did express the hope that the province would soon have a greatly improved road system.

MOVING DAY

Less Important Than Usual Because of Scarcity of Houses.

Moving Day passed off in London with the same old bustle and turmoil, and hurry and scurry, that it always does. Maybe it wasn't the biggest moving day in years because you can't move if you can't get a house to move to. And so on account of the scarcity of houses to rent this spring, a lot of tenants are "putting up" with the increased rent that the landlord is exacting, "putting up" with the leaks in the verandah roof, the coat rack that was put on in 1898, and a few other little defects that tenants always find in the houses they rent.

Still it was a busy moving day. The very fact that rents throughout the city have been generally raised to keep up with the increased tax rates and assessments naturally resulted in tenants skurrying, wherever there were rumors of houses to let. But everybody could not get new houses and so quite a few postponed their moving to May 1, 1915.

In a great many city homes everybody ate flakes for breakfast this morning. The gas range was out of commission, and already packed up for the early visit of the moving van. Little Willie was allowed to stay away from school on the grounds that he would help with the moving, and father got a day off at the factory to help to load the piano. Mother was up at five o'clock packing china, dining sets, bric-a-brac and what-nots, and sister in the excitement actually forgot to take the curl papers out of her hair.

However, moving day only comes once a year to those who pay rent, and those who don't find it a simple matter of removing the bricks from their canvas-back telescope and telling their landlady they are going out to get their other suit pressed.

First of May Means Moving Day

BY CAROLINE COE.

The annual moving time is here and many housewives are wondering just where to begin to pack and how to move.

First point to decide is, of course, when to move. If the moving is to a distance, crating the larger pieces of furniture will be necessary. But if one moves into another part of the city much of this may be avoided.

The week before moving day should be given up to cleaning rugs, washing curtains, blankets and bedding. Have your new home well cleaned. Boil a ham, make a jar of salad dressing, bake a crock of cookies or sheet of ginger bread. Write menus for several days. Pack the necessary utensils to serve these, with dishes, silver and glass, paper lunch cloth and napkins together and place where they may easily be found.

Do not use too large boxes. Put staples and dishes from kitchen and pantry together. If all kitchen utensils once revealed when she talks about her little ones. The oldest, a girl, is only 12. Believes in Eugenics.

"Just the right age to begin asking trying questions," said the famous singer, who is, by the way, a believer in eugenics. "There is so much less danger of a girl giving away her secrets than a boy."

Mrs. Rumford is also a suffragette. Moreover, she has sympathy with the militants. There is nothing wrong with Mrs. Rumford's politics. In my own opinion, she is a very good citizen. She simply has to do something radical to get attention at all. The women in England tried quiet methods too long. People talk about hysterical women, but there are no hysterical men as well. In my own native city of Bristol at the time of the reform bill, the men burned down one hundred thousand dollars worth of buildings in a single night. Yet they consider that but fair methods. I believe that if women in England had the right to vote, thousands would exercise their privilege.

The cabinet ministers and other men at the head of affairs appear to be in a funk. They really fear the women's influence. That is so absurd, for the women only want to help, not to crowd the men out.

Asks About London. "What sort of place is London, anyhow?" asked the singer, glancing out across the railway tracks. The reporter did her best to impress Mrs. Rumford that it was one of the best spots on the map. "Do you stay in your car while here?" was asked. "Yes, indeed. They laugh at me. I have become so attached to it. I shall never leave it. I never stay at a hotel if I can help it. The men of our party, my husband, and our managers, Mr. Tait and Mr. Charlton, mind the confinement of the car."

On the front of her gown Mrs. Rumford wears two handsome diamond pins of unusual design. One is in the form of a bar of music, the other her initials, "B. B." Being a woman, the reporter was curious to know what they meant. "Do you stay in your car while here?" was asked. "Yes, indeed. They laugh at me. I have become so attached to it. I shall never leave it. I never stay at a hotel if I can help it. The men of our party, my husband, and our managers, Mr. Tait and Mr. Charlton, mind the confinement of the car."

May Day parades are not usually held in London. May Day being generally replaced by Labor Day, the first Monday in September, in all except socialist and anarchist circles.

MOVIES NOT PRESENT: INQUIRY IS CLOSED

Commission on West Shore Railway Will Bring in Report.

Parliament Buildings, Toronto, May 1.—John W. Moyes, the West Shore promoter, has failed to appear again. The railway board met this morning, expecting the promoter to put in an appearance and explain some things in connection with the affairs of the ill-fated railway. But sometime last night that gentleman, armed with a doctor's ultimatum, shed the dust of the city from his feet and departed for distant points. When the board learned of his absence this morning chairman McIntyre became emphatic.

"This enquiry is closed right now," he declared. "and has been pending now for nearly a year."

"If any information has not been placed at our disposal, it is simply and solely the fault of the person who possesses it. We will bring in the report which seems necessary."

J. S. Cameron, in giving the history of his relations with Moyes, was vigorous in his declarations that the promoters interested in the company at all, and continually struck his hands together, turning towards the reporters to ascertain if his replies had been understood.

The effect is a studied one, the intention being to convey the impression that Sir James will return to the premiership. General Maas Declares He Will Occupy Territory Until Vera Cruz Evacuated.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
MEXICO CITY, April 30.—Gen. Maas, the Federal commander who was driven from Vera Cruz by Admiral Fletcher, has started a campaign of revenge, according to a telegram received from him today by Government officials.

The message was sent from Saltillo and stated that Maas, with his forces increased by volunteers, was marching toward the American frontier to occupy a point on American territory, which he proposes to hold until the Americans have evacuated Vera Cruz.

It is stated that he is acting under orders of President Huerta.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
GALVESTON, Texas, April 30.—A sensation was created here today when J. W. Willbur, an American refugee on the battleship Connecticut, was placed under arrest by United States authorities. He is charged with falsely assuming to be an officer of the United States Government, but behind this lies the charge that he sold the Government code to Mexicans.

ISSUES LIST

to the east of the narrow cape which forms the southern extremity of Formosa Island.

Tokio, May 1.—A dispatch from Nagasaki reports that the steamer Siberia is sinking off the Island of Formosa. No details of the steamer's plight are given, but it is known here that she carries 80 saloon passengers, among them Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, wife of the Governor-General of the Philippines.

The steamship Siberia, Capt. Zeeder, belongs to the Pacific Mail Steamship Line, and plies between San Francisco, Honolulu, Yokohama and Hong Kong. The Siberia left San Francisco on April 7, and was last reported from Yokohama, from which port she sailed on April 27.

The Siberia is of 5,655 tons burden, and was built at Newport News, Virginia. She is supplied with wireless outfit, and it is probable that the news of her serious situation was sent by this means to Nagasaki.

JAPAN SENDS AID.

Tokio, May 1.—The Siberia left Nagasaki, bound for Manila, by way of Hong Kong, on April 29. A wireless station on the Japanese coast picked up distress signals sent from the Siberia by wireless to the liner Minnesota, which was making her way to Nagasaki. The Siberia was communicating her plight also to the British cruiser Minotaur.

United States Ambassador

Guthrie, as soon as he heard of the condition of the Siberia, requested the Japanese Foreign Office to send a warship to her aid. He was informed that the Government, having already learned of the accident, had sent the Kanto Maru to the rescue from Formosa. The Kanto Maru got under way shortly after eight o'clock this morning.

A dispatch received here from Tai-Pei-Fu, capital of Formosa, says the Siberia is ashore off the southeast coast of Formosa, six miles from the mainland.

SIGNALS BECAME INDISTINCT.

Tokio, May 1.—The Japanese Navy Department has received and made public the following dispatch:

"The Governor-General of Formosa cables that a Japanese cruiser, on her way to the Okinawa Islands, off the Island of Kiushiu, reports that the Pacific Mail steamer Siberia met disaster this morning in longitude 121.10 east, latitude 22.40 north. She sent repeated signals of distress, which finally became indistinct. No details of the disaster are known."

FEAR SHE FOUNDERED.

Washington, D. C., May 1.—The State Department here was informed today from Tansui, Formosa, of the Pacific Mail line steamer Siberia's distress. Consul Williamson sent this report: "Formosa Government informed Siberia signalled repeatedly for aid from latitude 22.40, longitude 121.10. Ceased this morning. Vessels sent from Carfako will take six hours to reach scene, six off Taito. Fear Siberia foundered."

CANADA CAN NOW STRIKE BALANCE SHEET

Steadier Conditions Good for Country, Says Financial
Secretary of S. A.

Brigadier Hammetts, of London, England, general financial secretary of the Salvation Army, who is on an official tour of inspection of the Army in Canada, is in London today. This is Brigadier Hammetts' fourth visit to Canada, and he commented on the quiet, and steadier aspect of conditions in Canada this time.

"It is a good thing in one respect," he said, "it will give you time to strike your balance sheet. When conditions are booming in a new country like this, you never take time or trouble to consider just where you are at."

"Conditions in England are greatly improving and this together with the reports sent home of tightness in the business spheres of Canada and slackness of work, is resulting in the great falling off in British emigration to Canada. Trade is good in the old country. The Lloyd George social reform measures will ultimately prove a great benefit, but of course, the Englishman always opposes anything which temporarily or immediately takes money out of his pocket. England is facing her social problems seriously and squarely as they have never been faced before. She is making an earnest attempt at their solution."

"England is the open door to all foreigners. They flock in from all countries. In my opinion it would be well if the door were not quite so wide open. It would be better for her own people."

"Canada is a young people's country," said Brigadier Hammetts. "It is full of opportunities for the young man."

Brigadier Hammetts after returning to Toronto for several days will go to Winnipeg and other western cities.

TORIES, UNDER THE WHIP, TAKE BACK THEIR OBJECTIONS

Weekly Rise in House and Deny
Opposition to the C. N. R.
Bill.

ROCHE NOT TO RETIRE

Government Supporters Will Not, However, Say They Favor Aid.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
OTTAWA, Ontario, April 30.—The whip is out in parliament and government followers are being rounded up with a snap. For a month conservative members have been breathing fire and brimstone, against aid for the Canadian Northern. Some of them were praised by name in Liberal papers for their opposition. The whip fell on them, and one after another they arose in parliament today and spoke their official denials of previous private sentiments.

J. H. Fisher of Brant, though the first, was possibly the most reluctant. Speaking of his reported opposition to giving MacKenzie and Mann forty-five millions aid, he said "So far as I am concerned there is not the slightest foundation for the statement and it is absolutely untrue."

J. A. M. Armstrong of North York, declared that the report that he was opposed to the MacKenzie and Mann deal was absolutely false. William Smith of South Ontario declared that not only was the report incorrect but that "the Canadian Northern has no warmer friend either in this house or out of it than I have been!"

H. J. Walker of Northumberland declared "I am entirely in accord with the stand the government has taken with regard to this matter."

Donald Sutherland of South Oxford declared the report that he was opposed to the bargain "is untrue so far as I am concerned."

J. A. Best of Dufferin, speaking of the bargain said he thought the Government has made the very best deal they possibly could."

E. N. Rhodes of Cumberland, said he believed "these proposals are as good as the Government could possibly have made, and they have my heartiest approval."

Liberal Comment.
From the liberal side the parade of confession was encouraged and commented on thoroughly. It was evidently arranged, for the members were dancing with eagerness to secure the attention of the speaker and have the ordeal concluded.

It is understood that the announcement of the pending retirement of Hon. Dr. Roche from the interior department to the chairmanship of the civil service commission was not made without purpose. The Government thinks that R. B. Bennett wants a portfolio. The Government does not want to hear his speech in opposition to the MacKenzie and Mann bargain.

As Hon. Mr. White says, the announcement synchronizes.

Today it is reported that Mr. Roche has no real intention of creating a vacancy in the Government by retiring. The fact is he wanted to get into the Government very much when it was formed, and he would very greatly regret leaving it. There is little likelihood of his going without compulsion, and there is less likelihood of his going that way.

"Next" called Mr. Pardee after Mr. Best had made his confession.

"Come right along," said Mr. Bovin as Mr. Armstrong rose and Mr. Rhodes tried to get the floor at the same time.

An Awkward Question.
William German got the floor from the penitents for a moment. "Let me ask them this question: Are they in favor of aid for MacKenzie and Mann?" he said and there was no answer.

The remainder of the sitting was devoted to discussion of Hon. Dr. White's tariff changes.

Mr. Pardee pointed out that the increased duty on building stone would "lead to the creation of a combine which would have the people at its mercy and compel them to pay for stone whatever price it willed."

Mr. White denied that there would be increases, and quoted the stone men in support. His denial was laughed at rudely from the opposition side.

It is reported that the redistribution bill will not be further pressed this session. The two sides have not been able to come to an agreement as to the boundaries. The bill is not likely to be voted on until the fall of 1915 and Hon. Robert Rogers thinks that he can let the measure lie with advantage until next session.

PLUMBERS CEASE WORK
[Canadian Press.]
Halifax, May 1.—The union journeymen plumbers ceased work this morning, pending an understanding with the master plumbers. The journeymen some time ago notified their employers of application for an increase from 35 cents to 45 cents per hour, and the master plumbers, deeming the advance too much, made a counter offer of ten per cent. increase, but that was not accepted by the journeymen's representatives.

RETIREES AFTER 28 YEARS

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Guelph, May 1.—After 28 years in the hotel business here, James Johnson retired to private life at midnight, and when the King Edward Hotel was opened this morning it was under the proprietorship of J. B. Reynolds, who has for years conducted the British Exchange Hotel in Goderich.

The passage of the Canada Temperance Act in Huron County is responsible for Mr. Reynolds' move to Guelph.

VESSELS HELD FAST BY ICE IN ST. LAWRENCE

[Canadian Press.]
Montreal, May 1.—Though two boats have succeeded in making their way down the river to Montreal, seven others of the early freighters have found themselves checked and isolated like the ships of an Arctic expedition, in thick pack ice. The Jones and Dunelm, from Erie and Buffalo, respectively, after grounding in the St. Lawrence, passed on to Lake St. Francis, but the Hebron, Clinton, Robert Warwick and four other vessels stuck tight.

SIX YEAR LIMIT IS BONE OF CONTENTION

Angry Partisans Still Working Against Settlement With Ulster.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, May 1.—A cable to the Tribune from London says: Though omens for a peaceful solution of the Ulster problem are on the whole favorable, angry partisans are still working against any settlement. The Unionist party is willing to accept the total exclusion of Ulster as an alternative to civil war, but the Nationalists still refuse to go beyond the six-year limit. It is within that period a federal system is established, well and good, but they will insist on the inclusion of Ulster after that period, with or without federalism.

Winston Churchill's tentative offer of the olive branch does not seem to have pleased anyone in Ireland. The Unionists regard the offer with suspicion, while the Nationalists are furious and denounce it.

Gun-Runners Go Free.
New York, May 1.—A London cable this morning to the New York American says: The Ulster gun-runners will not be prosecuted, the London Daily Chronicle states, "presumably because such a step might mar the prospect of settlement."

The Government had intended to proceed against an member of parliament and twenty others on the charge of smuggling in arms for the Ulster volunteers.

LABOR CONDITIONS WERE NEVER BETTER

So Say Labor Leaders—Many Parades Held in New York.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, May 1.—As May Day is the date that most of the contracts between employers and union employees in the East expire, much significance is attached to opinions expressed by labor leaders that never before have labor conditions been better than today.

In New York city, today was signaled by an unusual large number of parades and demonstrations by Socialists and their allied trade unions as international day. These parades in Manhattan, Brooklyn and the Bronx found thousands of garment workers in line, and each ended with park mass meetings, at which the speakers discussed the eight-hour law and demanded better working conditions for factory employees.

Holiday in Italy.

Rome, May 1.—The 1st of May was observed throughout Italy by an almost complete cessation of work. In a number of cities workmen's processions were held and speeches were made.

Quiet in Paris.
Paris, May 1.—"May Day," the observance of which in the past has been characterized by violence and disorders, passed without disorder today. Only a small percentage of the laboring classes quit work.

CONDITIONS BAD.

Montreal, May 1.—No strikes and a big demonstration by Socialists will characterize May Day today. All is quiet in labor circles, due undoubtedly in a large part to the bad conditions of employment in Montreal.

The Socialists are planning that today's celebration will be the largest and strongest that Montreal has yet seen.

For organized labor this year May 1 is an important date, the alliance of all trades affiliated with the Builders Exchange goes into effect today.

Berlin, May 1.—Hans Berliner, the German aeronaut, who was made a prisoner at Kirikinsk, Russia, last February, when he came to earth at the end of a balloon trip from Bitterfeld, Germany, and the two passengers who accompanied him, have been sentenced by the Russian authorities to six months' solitary confinement.

THIRTEEN BODIES FOUND

Rescue Crews Assemble Them in Mine When Explosion Occurred.

[Canadian Press.]

Eccles, W. Va., May 1.—Rescue crews last night assembled thirteen bodies at the foot of the shaft in mine No 5 of the New River Coal Company, and today continued their work of exploration in the hope of locating all of the 173 men, who, it now seems certain, lost their lives in the explosion last Tuesday afternoon.

Pumps were kept going during the night, and by dawn the mine was comparatively free of water. But the force of the explosion was so great that masses of rock were dislodged and the galleries choked. It may be days before the dead have been recovered.

Hundreds of persons continue to surround the village, and there is little work in the district, miners and their families congregating here to comfort those of their friends who have suffered through the tragedy.

TO PLACE TAMPICO IN NEUTRAL ZONE

Washington Anxious to Save Valuable Oil Properties There.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Further conferences were held today at the state department on the suggested establishment of a neutral zone about Tampico so that neither Federal nor Constitutional operations would destroy the valuable foreign-owned oil properties there. It was said that this proposal already had been submitted to the two factions.

These oil wells, it was pointed out, if once set on fire, are under such strong pressure that they could not be extinguished, and hundreds of millions of barrels of oil would be lost to the world.

NO DECISION YET

Tailors Have Made No Plans To Meet Union Demands.

Local tailoring firms have not yet decided what action to take as a result of the demand of the local tailors' union for increased prices on piecework. The union has given the employers until Monday to meet the new prices, or a strike will be declared.

The tailors have asked for increases on all piecework. Now the remuneration for making a coat is $6.30, and $7.55 is asked for. Increases on trousers and vests of 25 cents each are also asked for.

Local union men today would not say whether or not a strike is likely, and the employers stated that they had not yet decided whether to meet the demands of the tailors or not.

A CRITICISM OF THE P. O. ESTIMATES

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, May 1.—A feature of the ensuing debate on the postoffice estimates in the British House of Commons yesterday, says a London cable to the Daily Mail, was an attack by Sir Gilbert Parker upon the report of the committee which investigated the conditions and wages of the postal employees, he taking the ground that it did not affect the workers in the lower grades, who were given no relief.

The net profit arising from the operating of the postal services during the year was $27,500,000, according to the statement of the Postmaster-General.

ROOSEVELT'S GUIDE ARRIVES IN NEW YORK

[Canadian Press.]

New York, May 1.—Anthony Fiala, the explorer, who was in charge of one of Roosevelt's expeditions in Brazil, arrived in New York today on the steamship Denis from Rio Janeiro. He vividly described the experiences of the expedition, both before and after he separated from Col. Roosevelt and Kermit on March 24. Fiala did not know until today that the colonel had emerged safely from the jungle.

FEEL HEADACHY, DIZZY, BILIOUS? CLEAN YOUR LIVER! A DIME A BOX

Sick headaches! Always trace them to lazy liver; delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or a sick stomach. Poisonous, constipated matter, gases and bile generated in the bowels, instead of being carried out of the system, is reabsorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, sickening headache. Cascarets will remove the cause by stimulating the liver, making the bile and constipation poison move on and out of the bowels. One taken tonight straightens you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your head clear, stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular, and make you feel bright and cheerful for months. Children need Cascarets, too.

QUIT MEAT WHEN KIDNEYS BOTHER

Take a Glass of Salts if Your Back Hurts or Bladder Troubles You.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which excites the kidneys, they become overworked, from the strain, get sluggish and fail to filter the waste and poisons from the blood, then we get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, dizziness, sleeplessness and urinary disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, stop eating meat and get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast and in a few days your kidneys will act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate the kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active and the blood pure thereby avoiding serious kidney complications. CIGARETTE LICENSES DEARER IN INGERSOLL

Commencing Today, Tax Upon
All Dealers Is Fifty Dollars
—Many to Stop Selling.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
INGERSOLL, April 30.—Beginning tomorrow a fifty dollar license is necessary to sell cigarettes in Ingersoll. The bylaw fixing the license was passed by the council in March but the dealers have been given an opportunity to dispose of their stock in case they did not desire to take out a license. Up to the present cigarettes have been sold by probably fifteen dealers. Today Chief Fish has been collecting. In accordance with the provisions of the by-law, tonight three dealers had taken out licenses, and two more at least it is expected will do so in the morning. The town will therefore derive considerable revenue under the bylaw.

Many Improvements.
It is expected the tender for the improvements to the postoffice, which have been on the slate for some time, will be awarded shortly. Work of an extensive nature will be undertaken and there will be a large expenditure. The time for tendering for the work has expired and the blue prints have been sent back to Ottawa. During the time that the work is in progress the postoffice will be in the old Imperial bank building, which is centrally located and very suitable.

Repairing Streets.
Street work is now engaging the attention of the board of works. In different places holes are being filled in, especially near crossings, and other work done that will do much to improve their appearance. The changeable weather has done much to upset plans of anglers. Some of them had planned expeditions for speckled trout tomorrow, but the heavy rains and cold weather has caused them to postpone their trips.

FOUR ONTARIO MEN ON LOST STEAMER

Mate, Cook and Wheelman of the Noble Were From Niagara District.

ST. CATHARINES, April 30.—Several homes in St. Catharines and vicinity are mourning the loss of the steamer "Noble" on Lake Superior. George R. Longley, the mate, a short time ago, was a resident of St. Catharines, having been born here. He leaves a wife and five children.

William Shaver, aged 22 years, Chestnut street, St. Catharines, was wheelman on the Noble. From Detroit he wrote home stating that the boat was a hard one to handle, but he thought he could "hold her down."

Earl Crawford, aged 21 years, of Port Dalhousie, was cook. A letter was received from him at Detroit since he joined the steamer. It was his second season on the lakes.

John Murray, of St. Catharines, is also believed to have shipped on this boat.

AMERICAN SHOT IN LONDON

LONDON, April 30.—A man about 60 years old, who described himself as Major Henry C. Fitzgerald, an American, and believed to have been formerly paymaster on the staff of Gen. Merritt in the Philippines, was shot in the "Claring Cross Hotel today. He died from his wound after he had been conveyed to a hospital.

The police authorities are of the opinion that the man committed suicide.

Backache Banished.

Thousands of men and women are suffering from weak, lame and aching backs, and many of them unable to do any work for the pain.

The stitches, twinges and twinges are bad enough and give enough misery, but, back of the backache, and the cause of it all are the disordered kidneys crying out in warning through the back.

Backache is kidney ache, and there's serious trouble ahead for you if you neglect it.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure every form of backache by curing the sick kidneys that cause it.

Mrs. Jack Mason, Springhill, N.B., writes:—"I have been suffering from backache for a very long time. I tried everything and did everything, but still I would suffer. One day I was looking over your Almanac, and saw your advertisement for Doan's Kidney Pills, so I got 3 boxes, and I am glad to say that they brought me back to life again, and from now on I will never be without them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

TO HONOR COOK AS DISCOVERER OF POLE

Resolution Introduced in United States Congress.

[Canadian Press.]

WASHINGTON, D.C., April 30.—The North Pole discovery incident was revived in the Senate today by Senator Poindexter who introduced a joint resolution expressing the thanks of Congress to Frederick A. Cook for the discovery of the North Pole on April 21, 1908, and authorizing the Secretary of the Navy to present him with a $300 medal.

Senator Poindexter declared it was generally accepted Dr. Cook had reached a point of high latitude and contended that it was unreasonable to suppose he had spent the winter in the frigid north without attempting to reach the goal of his search, the north pole. He contended Rear-Admiral Peary's report on his trip to the pole corroborated all Dr. Cook's data.

No action was taken on the resolution.

WIDE POWERS FOR CHINA'S PRESIDENT

Amended Constitution for the Republic To Be Promulgated Today.

PEKING, China, April 30.—The amended constitution for the Republic of China, which is to be formally promulgated tomorrow, is notable for the great powers it gives the president. The document as it now stands is the work of a constitutional convention, which has been laboring here since the middle of March.

The president is empowered to convolve, open, suspend, close, and dissolve the legislature; submit to it the budget, as well as other bills, and refer back to the legislature for consideration bills already passed by it. If such measures are rejected by a three-fourths majority, the president may, with the consent of the administration, still withhold their promulgation.

The president is given sole power to appoint and dismiss civil and military officials to declare war and conclude peace, and he will be in control of the army and navy, as well as of all expenditures for these branches of the Government.

SEEKS DISSOLUTION OF FAIRHOPE COLONY

Member Charges Monies Were Not Properly Expended.

[Canadian Press.]

MOBILE, Ala., April 30.—A bill was filed today in chancery court, seeking the dissolution of the Fairhope colony in Baldwin county, the principal experiment of the single tax theory in the United States.

Alexander J. Melville, a member and lessee of the corporation, has filed the bill. He alleges that the corporation has failed "because the single tax theory never can be carried out in any jurisdiction where laws deny the essentials of that theory."

It is also charged that the monies of the company are being expended for the benefit of only a portion of the tenants and members. The single tax colony was established eighteen years ago and then was populated largely by single tax pioneers from Iowa. A large tract of land on the eastern shore of Mobile Bay was purchased, the corporation paying all taxes to the state and levying on its members and lessee, only a single tax for land.

One of the leading single taxers interested in the colony was the late Joseph Fels, Philadelphia millionaire.

LORD MURRAY MADE ONLY "ERRORS OF JUDGMENT"

Nothing in This Conduct in Investing in Marconi Shares Reflecting Upon His Personal Honor.

LONDON, April 30.—The committee of the House of Lords appointed to investigate Lord Murray's dealings in American Marconi shares, today issued its report, which finds that he committed "errors of judgment." There was, however, nothing in his conduct "which reflects upon his personal honor."

The committee recommends "there should henceforth be an inflexible rule to preclude those who had any public office from entering upon an speculative transaction in stocks or shares under any circumstances whatever."

Lord Murray, when he was chief Liberal whip in the House of Commons, was said to have invested some of the funds of the Liberal party in Marconi shares.

ABOLITION OF HAIR-CROPPING AT KINGSTON PENITENTIARY PLEASING TO TEXAS BURDELL

*London Prisoner Claimed It Caused His Ill-Health
--Officials Fear That the Pal of "Shorty Billy" Is Going Insane.*

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Kingston, April 30.—There is one convict in the big prison at Portsmouth who is "ticked" as it were over a recommendation in the report of the prison report commission.

He is "Texas" Burdell, the London, Ont., convict, and the recommendation which has brought joy to him (and make no mistake on it he has heard the news) is that the cropping of the convict's head be abolished.

"Texas" made this one of his strong objections when he gave evidence before the commission. He claimed that he was in ill health, and he said that his illness was due to the cutting of his hair in the cold weather. He did not mind having a close haircut in the warm weather but with zero weather especially, he thought the "pen" officials should be more considerate. The members of the prison commission, who listened to his story, agreed that the practice of cutting the hair should be done away with. There is but one exception mentioned and that is in the case of extreme cases where it is necessary that the head should be cropped in order to assure cleanliness.

"Texas" has been in the penitentiary now for nearly nine years, and he has all the prison regulations down from A to Z. He has been acting rather strangely at times, and it is feared that he will go insane, and that he will have to be placed in the insane ward. He has failed a great deal since he entered the penitentiary. At the time he gave his evidence before the commission, Dr. D. Phalen, the surgeon, stated that Burdell's mind had become slightly unbalanced.

The London convict, who has now been behind the bars for about nine years, is serving a fifteen-year term for robbery. He was the pal of "Shorty Billy," shot and killed by London detectives. Burdell's friends have been working for some time in an endeavor to secure his release on parole, but so far their efforts have been futile. The prisoner claims that his letters have not been forwarded to the Minister of Justice.

SCHOONER RAMMED

But Keewatin Succeeds in Reaching Port Safely.

[Canadian Press.]
KINGSTON, April 30.—While lying at anchor at Collins Bay during last night, taking shelter from the gale, the schooner Keewatin was rammed by the schooner Julia B. Merrill. Her bowsprit and jib-boom were carried away and she sprung a leak. The pumps were set to work and the vessel succeeded in reaching port in safety.

Coming over from Cape Vincent during the night, the tug Umbria, owned by Fallon Bros., Kingston, ran ashore at Carleton Island. The members of the crew are safe.

STRIKE AT BRANTFORD

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Brantford, Ont., April 30.—The painters and paperhangers of the city, numbering about 25, went out this morning, wanting an increase from 25 cents to 30 cents for the painters and from 30 cents to 35 cents for the paperhangers. The bosses are confident that they will win out. The strike of hands at the Shinghy mill has been settled and the employees will go back tomorrow.

3 Questions You Want Answered

Is it---
a Good Baker?
a Labor Saver?
--Economical?

BECAUSE it "glitters" is no reason why a range possesses these three important essentials. Appearance is something—but it is often deceiving—and forms but a small part of the necessary requisites of an efficient range.

A "Garland" Is the Answer

Insures Good Baking—The "Garland" Patented Ventilated Oven Bottom guarantees an even temperature in every part of the oven. Everything will bake evenly on top, sides and bottom in a "Garland" Ventilated Oven. An outlet carries all odors to the chimney.

A Labor-Saving Wonder—You don't stoop with a "Garland." It's the original elevated oven and broiler range. You do all your cooking, standing in an upright, natural, easy position. Think of the relief from the old back-breaking, low-oven stove. Then, the Glass Oven Door will tell you the exact condition of your pastry at a glance.

The Aluminized Interior Parts, Smooth Nickel, and Removable Burners, Racks, Linings, etc., make cleaning easy. You just can't imagine how a "Garland" will reduce kitchen drudgery.

And as for Economy—The entire construction has been designed with this in view. One set of burners operates both oven and broiler. A whole meal can be cooked in this way at a minimum expense. The "Garland" Top Burner has no hole in the middle like most burners. It is all burner, giving the most efficient heat possible and producing quickest results. The Simmerer will cook for hours at almost no expense. And the Ventilating Holes in the oven bottom will save gas at every turn. These are savings worth while.

NEW BUILDING WILL BE FIREPROOF ONE
Safety To Be First Consideration in Remodeled Dominion Savings Building.

Plans have been practically completed for the reconstruction of the burned Dominion Savings Building.
The first consideration will be the making of the new building as fireproof as possible. Cement and steel construction will be installed, the floors, roof, elevator shaft and staircases being planned to be of cement, with steel supporting beams and columns.
The top floor will be entirely given to offices in the new building, the lodge rooms and dining hall in the old building being eliminated. In this manner a large number of offices will be provided, and the accommodation of the building considerably enlarged.
The elevator shaft will be inclosed in fireproof walls with fireproof doors, and the elevators will be the most modern that can be purchased. The stairways will be much narrower than the old, and will follow the elevator shaft.
The Northern Life Assurance Company will have the entire north half of the first floor. Formerly this company was in the southeast corner of the second floor. New vaults will be built, and a large suite of rooms provided.
The Dominion Savings and Investment Society will have additional safety deposit vaults on the ground floor, and it is probable that the vaults throughout will be remodelled.
Provision is to be made for the addition of another story to the building in case there is a demand for more office space. At the present time with the new offices that are to be provided, the owners say there would not be a demand for additional floor.
According to the plans, the building will be modern in every respect, and as completely fireproof.

SAYS S. J. RADCLIFFE
Normal School Principal Gives Travel Talk to Mothers' Club.

Perhaps a more enthusiastic and receptive audience could not have been found in London last evening than that gathered in Chesley Avenue School, when principal Radcliffe, of the Normal School, spoke under the auspices of the Mothers' Club, on "Travel As a Means of Education." Mr. W. T. Strong, of the board of education, presided, and in introducing the speaker, paid a warm tribute to Mr. Radcliffe's worth as a teacher, and also complimented the members of Chesley Avenue Mothers' Club upon their enterprise. He did not know of a more energetic body of women in London.

Value in Travel.
Mr. Radcliffe stated that the value of travel had been discussed some 300 years ago when Montaigne claimed that the training of the English schools was inadequate. The students learned mathematics, but lacked diplomacy, and were narrow-minded. He advocated sending the young to see other people and other lands. Yet Mr. Radcliffe believed that without a knowledge of literature, history and geography, travel in itself would be superficial. To appreciate the beauties of foreign lands, and the treasures which they contained, it was necessary to know something of them beforehand.
He believed travel was especially beneficial to the Anglo-Saxon races, who were inclined to think themselves the "saith" of the world. Canadians and Englishmen and Americans needed to study the people of other lands in their own native environment, and thus to become more tolerant of their customs and beliefs. Travel also made the countries one read about much more real.

Tells of Trip.
In a most delightful way Mr. Radcliffe discussed several of the places which he had visited last year. Italy appealed to him as being a most ideal country in which to live. Besides its natural beauties, it contained some of the finest art relics in the world, and a most fascinating history. Germany and Russia, he compared as being two of the greatest powers of Europe. There were vast differences between them. In Germany the majority of the people were intellectual and read the classics. In Russia 88 per cent of the populace could not read, while the other 12 per cent lived in luxury. Some very interesting experiences were told by the speaker during his address, with delightful word-pictures of Warsaw, St. Petersburg, Berlin and other world-famous cities.
A very hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Radcliffe for his instructive address, and also to the Normal School Girls' Club, which had presented, and under the direction of Mr. C. E. Percy, favored with several excellent choruses. A solo by Miss Campbell, and a violin selection, Schumann's, by Mr. Schumann, also added to the pleasure of the program. Mr. Jones was most enthusiastically applauded and was forced to respond with an encore.

JUDGMENT IS RESERVED

Hodgins-Hudson Assault Charge Laid Over Until May 7.

Judgment on the assault charge preferred by James H. Hodgins, J. P. reeve of London Township, against Henry Hudson and the other defendants, made by Hudson against Mr. Hodgins was reserved until Thursday, May 7. The cases were tried yesterday in the county police court before Squibb, J. C. Hodgins, and J. P. E. Robinson, J. P. The alleged assault occurred last Saturday at Ilderton.
When Henry Hudson was called to the box he asserted that the reeve had struck him and kicked him. He admitted that he had struck Mr. Hodgins after he had been hit and suffered several alleged injuries. Mr. Hodgins, he stated, had declared that he had perjured himself in two previous suits in which he had been a principal.
Several witnesses were called to testify that the reeve had not hit or kicked Hudson, and several others as strongly asserting that both of them were striking at each other.

TELLS "LIFE'S ESSENTIALS"

Rev. W. C. Riddford Addresses Police Association on That Subject.

Rev. W. C. Riddford, of Esorton Street Baptist Church, addressed a large gathering of the London Police Association in the Y. M. C. A. yesterday afternoon. The subject of his address was "Life's Essentials."
Taking as the basis of his remarks, "In Him was life, and the life was the light of man," the speaker declared that in order to make good policemen it was necessary to have a knowledge of Christ, commit Christ's teaching, and transmit his teachings.
Continuing, the preacher asserted that the life of Christ brought to earth was the only life that gave any light on social conditions and all the problems which had to do with man in general. Rev. Mr. Riddford illustrated his remarks with actual experiences.

MERCURY PROVES SKITTISH

"Quick Stuff" Records High Point of 81 and Low Mark of 16 for April—2.92 Inches of Rain.

London has been treated to a wide variety of temperature during the past 30 days that constituted the month of April. Miss Mercury has been extremely skittish at times, as proven by a glance at the weather report for the month. The highest spot attained was on the 28th when the "quick stuff" in the tube climbed to 81 degrees. The low point was 16 degrees on the 5th. During the month, the weather man dished up an assortment of weather that contained a week at least of the favorite kind of everyone. There was hot, cold and mizzling weather with rain, and sunshine alternating, although there was a feeling that the wet periods exceeded the dry by a considerable margin.
Old Jup. Pluv. showered 2.92 inches of rain during the month, while the snow-fall aggregated 6½ inches.

MAY ELECT A LONDONER

London Methodist Conference May Install City Divine as Head.

The thirty-first session of London Methodist Conference will convene in the Central Methodist Church, Sarnia, on Wednesday afternoon, June 3, and continuing until Tuesday, June 9.
It is not improbable that a Londoner will be elected to succeed Rev. W. C. H. McMillan, as president of the conference. The name of Rev. G. N. Hazen has been mentioned. Ministers attending the conference will occupy leading pulpits of Sarnia and Port Huron on Sunday, June 7. Rev. G. W. Dewey, formerly of "The Times of Hoffman," "Night of Stars," their voices blending with beautiful effect. Miss Myrtle Hicks revealed a mezzo-soprano voice, pure and sweet in tone, in two short numbers.
Woodman's song cycle, "A Song Legend," found excellent expression by Miss Pauline Fitzgerald, whose full contralto, strong and pure, made the composition one of the features of an enjoyable program. Miss Luta Laymon's rendition of Mary Turner Sailer's "Cry of Rachel," was well conceived and excellently executed.
While rather light in timbre, Cecil Carling's baritone solo, with double ladies quartette, proved a most acceptable offering. The couple quartette also offered Cowen's "Bridal Chorus," and in response to continued demands for an encore, offered another number with fine effect. The ensemble tone secured was exceptionally good. E. A. Webster rendered Saint-Saens' bass solo, "The Journey of King John," and Miss Gladys Andrus revealed herself as an accomplished pianist in her rendition of Liszt's Hungarian Rhapsodie, No. 12. Miss Dorothy Mitchell and Mr. Jordan offered the "Rakoczy March" (Liszt) in piano duet.
Miss McCormick is a dramatic reader of considerable skill, as she demonstrated in her two numbers, a tensely dramatic scene from Klein's "The Lion and the Mouse," and a light humorous offering, "The Abandoned Elopement," by Joseph Lincoln.

Frequent Spells of Melancholia and Hysteria

Resulted From Overstrained Nerves and Continued Sleeplessness
—Good Health and Happiness Restored by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Persistent sleeplessness is one of the most unmistakable signs of exhausted nerves. Without sleep there is not much chance of restoring the wasted nerves, and so the nervous energy of the body is depleted until physical bankruptcy results.
Melancholia, hysteria, prostration, locomotor ataxia, and paralysis are some of the natural results of exhausted nerves which are to be dreaded and avoided. The only way to prevent these troubles is to keep the nervous energy at high-water mark by the use of such restorative as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
As an example of what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food actually does for a person whose nervous system is almost completely exhausted we refer you to this letter from Mrs. Stoner. This is on record, with thousands of cures similar to this, to prove the extraordinary restorative powers of this great food cure.
Mrs. Emily Stoner, 31 Essex street, Toronto, states:—"I was all run down, and could not sleep at nights. I would frequently have spells of melancholia and hysteria, and my household duties seemed a great burden to me. One day a neighbor came in when I had a bad spell, and she sent at once to a drug store for a box of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.
"I obtained so much benefit from the first box that I kept up this treatment until I am feeling fine. I can now sleep well at nights, and have perfect control of the nerves. Good health and happiness have replaced the weakness and discouragement."
Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c a box 6 for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmondson Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.
