Ames & Co.'s Statement as Regards Suspension

They Hope to Pay All Their Creditors in Full.

The Liabilities in Round Figures Are $7,500,000.

The Firm Holds No Shares in the Atlas Loan Company—No Panic in Financial Circles.

Toronto, June 4.—A. E. Ames & Co. last evening handed out the following for publication:

We have been carefully considering all the questions relating to the present position, and are desirous of furnishing those interested with a general idea of matters.

Some of our New York and Boston correspondents, finding the margins on our account insufficient, through our having been unable to respond to their last calls resulting from the final declines, and having received notice of the suspension of payment, proceeded to sell a considerable quantity of stock. These sales we had to put through for clients' accounts where their margins had been nearly or quite exhausted. These forced sales are now out of the way, and we believe that the disposition of all those who are carrying securities for us is not to force them upon the market, but to give us a reasonable time to deal with them. Notifications are now being sent to our clients, indicating the securities carried in their accounts, and stating that upon their paying us the amounts owing upon them, or such further amounts, if any, as may be found necessary to secure release of the stock from lenders, we shall be glad to use our best efforts to get their stock for them.

LIABILITIES $10,140,000 ON MAY 30TH

The firm's liabilities at the end of last month were $10,140,000, with a book surplus in the business of $1,090,000. To this surplus is to be added the surplus of individual members of the firm outside of money employed as capital in the business, comprising a somewhat substantial total. From this, however, must be deducted such losses as the firm have suffered since the end of their year, on Jan. 15 last, through shrinkage in value of securities owned by themselves, and through losses arising from clients who were unable to protect their stocks through some of the recent heavy declines. The firm hope to be able to pay all creditors in full, and feel that they will be able to do so if left free from attack, and if, as they feel satisfied will be the case, the banks and corporations carrying their securities will facilitate matters in their own and the general interests, as well as through such reasonable indulgence as they may be disposed to grant on account of the firm itself, with whom their relations have always heretofore been satisfactory.

The savings deposits amount to $240,000. The necessity for suspension having been impending before the opening of business Tuesday morning, the teller was instructed to put to one side any deposits made during the day. A few of these were made, and will at once be returned.

LIABILITIES NOW $7,500,000.

Some clients took up their stocks today, and with the forced sales made yesterday, as above referred to, the liabilities are already reduced to, in round figures, about $7,500,000.

RELATIONS WITH ATLAS LOAN.

Regarding the Atlas Loan Company, of whose suspension of payment we regret to have learned, the firm hold no shares in that company. The loan company own some securities which we have been carrying for them, and our suspension, coupled with the knowledge that our partner, Mr. Wallace, is president of the company, created apprehension as to their position, resulting in sudden demands, which they were unable to meet. The Atlas Loan Company is the only institution occupying a like position to the firm, so that we have no apprehension that any other will be embarrassed through their relations to us.

A. E. AMES & CO.

GENERAL CONFIDENCE.

The local financial conditions showed no further disturbance yesterday following the suspension of payment by A. E. Ames & Co., and the announcement from St. Thomas that the Atlas Loan Company, of which Mr. A. E. Wallace, of the Ames firm, is president, had closed their doors, was the only news from outside the city of any misfortune in connection with this event. In Toronto bankers and brokers were quite satisfied with the course of the day's markets, and the rise in the prices of the stocks in which the Ames firm had been especially interested, gave grounds for the hope that they may be able to straighten their affairs satisfactorily to all concerned. Brokers reported that there was no disposition among clients to show any extravagant fears for their investments, and the financial institutions with which Mr. Ames has been associated were in no way disturbed by their customers, but, on the contrary, evidence of public confidence was shown.

ADIRONDACKS FIRE-SWEPT

Great Damage to Crops and Forest Lands.

Saratoga, N. Y., June 4.—The drought in this section has extended over a period of 50 days except for a few slight showers of no appreciable value, and conditions are daily growing more alarming. Farmers assert there will be but half a crop of hay and rye, and the price of the former has now advanced to $20 a ton, with indications of a further advance to $25. Very little corn has been planted, potatoes are a failure, oats are seriously injured and will command high prices, and apple trees have been blasted.

Forest fires in the Adirondack region are beyond control. Cinders and ashes are being carried a great distance, and the atmosphere between here and Montreal, about 200 miles, is charged with a dense smoke that obscures the sky. Passengers on trains report fierce fires burning in all directions in the mountains.

Approves Policy.

London, June 4.—A telegram was received yesterday from Alfred Beakin, the Attorney-General of the Australian Commonwealth, saying the Australian Commonwealth Government and all the governments of the separate Australian states approve Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's preferential tariff proposals. Only an extreme section of free traders oppose them and an immense majority is assured for the new policy when it is submitted to the country.

BABY BURNED TO DEATH

A Tragic Incident Reported From Town of Guelph.

Guelph, June 4. — The fire bell rang about 6 o'clock last evening. It was for the residence of a widowed colored woman, Rebecca Harris, on Elizabeth street. The house was too far away for the city fire service. The firemen did their best to extinguish the flames, and brought out of the place the charred remains of a two-and-a-half-year-old girl. It seems that the mother had been working at Dorian's hotel and had left the little girl in charge of a boy about nine years of age. The origin of the fire is unknown. The police authorities are at work on the case. The remains of the infant were brought to the morgue.

BULGARS CRUCIFY THEIR VICTIMS

Distressing State of Affairs at Adrianople.

REFUGEES IN THE MOUNTAINS

Frequent Combats Take Place Between the Peasants and Bashi-Bazouks.

Burgas, June 4.—The situation in the vilayet of Adrianople demands the attention of the powers no less than the conditions in Macedonia. The presence of hundreds of refugees in the Bulgarian villages adjacant to the frontier indicates an unsatisfactory state of affairs. All have fled within the last six weeks, owing to the searches for arms, accompanied by punitive measures. Conflicts between outlaws and the fugitive peasants in the Istranga Mountains, on the one hand, and Turkish troops and Bashi-Bazouks on the other, are of frequent occurrence. No measures have been taken by the authorities for the maintenance of the refugees who have arrived in this district. They are supported by the villagers.

London, June 4.—According to dispatches published in this morning's Times, a serious situation exists in the vilayet of Adrianople, where the Turks are carrying out searches for arms and punitive measures among the refugees. Several fights have occurred between Bulgarian bands and Turks and Bashi-Bazouks, in which many were killed. A Greek notable, who was kidnapped by a Bulgarian band near Sarakina, failed to pay his ransom and was promptly crucified.

DILKE OPPOSED TO PROTECTION

Declares the United States Has Not Benefited.

A WEAKNESS IN TIME OF WAR

Britain Would Lose One of Her Imperial Securities by Preferential Tariff.

London, June 4.—In a speech at Gloucester yesterday, Sir Charles Dilke, M.P., pointed out that Mr. Chamberlain's tariff proposals have been defended by purely protectionist arguments. He said that even the secretary of the board of trade attributed the prosperity of the United States to the adoption of protection, and declared that the United States every year was leaving Great Britain completely behind in the race for foreign trade. The statements, Sir Charles said, would not bear investigation. The exports from the United States in 1902 were not greatly in excess of those of 1898, and were less than those of 1900 and 1901. Such were the natural advantages of the United States that nothing but protection could have kept her back.

The Government had shrunk from advocating a duty on cotton, the largest item of export from the United States, but was going to propose a duty on grain and meat. By interfering with the trade of the United States, Great Britain was weakening one of her greatest imperial securities in a general war. The people of Great Britain had welcomed the increase in the fleet of the United States, because in a general war she would be a protector of the rights of neutrals, who in the last resort would feed the British while they were fighting, and would at least contribute to the permanence of the British Empire.

A FRESH CLUE IN WHALEN CASE

Police on the Trail of a White Man and Negro.

TRACED TO EASTERN ONTARIO

Evidence Given as to Result of Post-Mortem Examination—William Perkins Wanted.

Collingwood, June 4. — A negro and a white man, traveling together, who were seen in Collingwood near the cedar-bush where Glory Whalen was murdered on Wednesday, May 27, are being vigorously searched for by the authorities. They are known to be traveling eastward along the main line of the Grand Trunk, and were located yesterday near Thousand Island Junction. Instructions have been sent out to detain them, and their arrest may be expected at any moment unless they escape across the St. Lawrence River into the State of New York. Another man who gave his name as William Perkins, of Huntsville, who was loafing around Collingwood prior to the murder, and who disappeared afterwards, is also wanted by the police, and efforts are being made to locate him, although it is possible that he is wanted merely as a witness. He, too, was seen around the cedar bush, but he disappeared either on the day of the murder or on the day following. These are the new facts that developed in the Glory Whalen murder mystery. The inquest, which was held yesterday, was productive of no result. The only witness called was Dr. A. M. McFaul, who made the post-mortem examination, and set at rest any doubts by stating definitely that Glory Whalen was not outraged.

THE INQUEST.

Before a large crowd of deeply interested listeners the inquest upon the death of Glory Whalen was continued in the courthouse yesterday. The father of the murdered child, Henry Whalen, sat in a front seat side by side with Russell Kendall, the young man who found the body. Mrs. Whalen was not present, and there was a notable absence of women in the courtroom. Dr. A. R. Stephen, the coroner, conducted the inquest, and Mr. C. R. Cotter, county crown attorney, of Barrie, represented the Attorney - General. Before hearing any evidence Mr. Cotter referred to the diabolical nature of the crime, but said the authorities as yet had worked on theories only, and when these theories came to be traced up there was nothing in them. They still hoped to find something out, although there was only a slight clue to work upon. What this clue is Mr. Cotter did not state. It was proposed, he said, after hearing some further evidence from Dr. McFaul, to ask for an adjournment, and then, if nothing had been found, the inquest would be adjourned from time to time.

Dr. McFaul was called, and was handed the bloodstained handkerchief which was tied around the head of Glory Whalen, and was requested to examine the marks on the handkerchief and the small hole through one corner. "I would say," said Dr. McFaul, "that these are powder marks on the handkerchief."

"Would that be a bullet hole?"

"It might be, but it does not look it," was the reply. From the powder marks it would appear that the pistol was held closely to the head. Dr. McFaul was of the opinion that the shot was fired after the handkerchief had been tied around the head.

One of the jurors, James O'Neil, who had made some experiments in shooting through a piece of cloth produced this. A bullet fired nearly two feet away had made a hole very similar to that in the handkerchief, while when a revolver was discharged only six inches away it had burned a hole through the cloth.

DEATH FROM THE BULLET.

The club with which it is thought the blow on the head was struck was shown to the jury. It is a heavy cedar stick, nearly three feet long and two and half inches through—a section of a tree—and with such a weapon the murderer might easily have beaten out the brains of the murdered girl and not have used a revolver at all. The blow Glory Whalen received on top of the head would have been sufficient, in the opinion of Dr. McFaul, to daze her, but he thought, could have hardly been powerful enough to prevent her from recognizing her assailant. The injury from the blow was not sufficient to have caused the death of Glory Whalen. Death was directly due to the bullet wound. That the motive for the crime might have been an attempt to criminally assault the girl was made evident from part of Dr. McFaul's evidence. He stated clearly enough that outrage had not been committed. He explained, however, that some of the girl's clothing had been torn. When Dr. McFaul had concluded Crown Attorney Cotter said that he would offer no further evidence, and the inquest was adjourned till 1:30 on Monday, June 15.

KILLED THE CONDUCTOR

Three Masked Men Hold Up a St. Louis Street Car.

St. Louis, June 3. — Three masked men boarded a suburban car yesterday, robbed J. Bowas, the motorman, and killed the conductor, John N. Keith, who went to the motorman's rescue. There were only a few passengers in the car. The robbers signaled the car to stop, and boarded the front platform. Keith, in going to the assistance of the motorman, was shot down and killed by the robbers, who then jumped from the car and escaped.

Chicago Bank Move.

Chicago, June 4. — The Tribune says: The bankers of Chicago will meet tomorrow to take action on a plan for the admission of the United States Government as a member of the Chicago clearing house. One of the results would be that hereafter the banks in the west, in settlement of constantly fluctuating accounts with the Government, would buy exchange on Chicago rather than on New York.

TWO MILLIONS LOST IN FIRE

The Italian State Pawn Shop Completely Gutted.

THE TROOPS WERE CALLED OUT

To Restrain the Poor Neapolitans From Rescuing Their Belongings—A Marquis Killed.

Naples, June 4.—A fire broke out at 9 o'clock Tuesday night in the Monte di Pieta, a public loan office, or pawnshop, that is conducted by the state. The building, which was an old one, burned furiously throughout the night, and next morning only the walls remained. During the night a strong body of troops had difficulty in restraining the crowd, composed of the poorest Neapolitans, who assembled in the hope of being able to save their pawned belongings. It is estimated that fully 20,000 persons had property pledged at the Monte di Pieta. An adjacent building, containing state archives, was at one time threatened. Two navy pumps were asked for, and went to aid the city firemen. While they were being rushed through a street that was half blocked by repair works, Marquis di Sarmiento, who was helping the marines, was caught between the engines and almost instantly crushed to death. A ladder on which were six firemen broke, and all the men were injured. One of them has since died.

The nuns in a neighboring convent were imperiled, but they made no attempt to flee. Firemen broke in the barred door and found them praying. They were led to a safe place overlooking the fire, and there they prayed throughout the night. Almost the whole population of the city spent the night in the streets watching the fire. The Bank of Naples announces that the holders of pawn tickets will be gradually reimbursed. The newspapers place the loss at $2,200,000.

THE G. T. P. BILL IS REPORTED

Calls for Road From Moncton to Port Simpson.

TO BE BUILT IN SEVEN YEARS

The Government Will Announce Its Policy as to a Subsidy in a Few Days.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Ont., June 4.

The greatest battle in the railway committee in the House of Commons since the C. P. R. bill over twenty years ago, ended at 12:45 o'clock today, when the Grand Trunk Pacific bill was reported. The bill came before the committee on May 7 and has occupied its attention for seven sittings. The chief alteration effected by the committee has been the extension of the route to Moncton, N. B., in order to insure the discharge of western traffic through Canadian ports. The bill requires the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway to be completed from Moncton, to Port Simpson, on the Pacific coast, within seven years, three million dollars to be spent within two years. An amendment was passed today providing for a connection with Montreal. The question of a subsidy is yet to be dealt with by the Government, which will probably announce its policy in a few days. Mr. Hyman has greatly raised his prestige by the tactful and expeditious manner in which he has handled the railway committee during the progress of the bill. At the conclusion of today's session members crowded round him and congratulated him upon his success.

FOR STRIKING OFFICER

German Seaman Given Eighteen Months Imprisonment.

Kiel, June 4. — A seaman of the German navy, named Andreas Messerschmidt, was condemned by a court-martial yesterday to eighteen months' imprisonment for striking Ensign Von Abel, during the night of May 2, at Kiel. The case has been widely commented upon, because of Von Abel's suicide after he found he was unable to identify the man who assaulted him and personally avenge himself.

Those Belgrade Suicides.

Belgrade, Servia, June 4.—The only foundation for the report that King Alexander's French cook has committed suicide at the palace after having been detected in an attempt to poison Queen Draga, is that a scullion employed in the palace committed suicide a week ago on account of a love affair.

MARTIN RESIGNS THE LEADERSHIP

Step Taken at Meeting of Liberal Executive.

THE ACTION WAS VOLUNTARY

A Committee Appointed to Manage Campaign—Conservatives Don't Like McBride.

Victoria, B. C., June 4.—The resignation of Mr. Joseph Martin yesterday of the Liberal leadership, and the sulkiness of the Conservatives over Mr. McBride's seizure of their leadership by force, has enormously increased the prospects for the Liberals winning the coming campaign.

The Liberal executive met at Vancouver yesterday, and, recognizing the wide dissatisfaction with his leadership, Mr. Martin voluntarily stepped aside in order that the issue might not be complicated in the forthcoming fight. The executive decided not to hold a convention, but instead to have a campaign, managed by a committee which they nominated, consisting of the following: Vancouver Island, R. Hall, Wm. Sloan and J. Jardine; Kootenay, Interior District Liberal Council, D. Ross, secretary; lower mainland, J. Martin, J. C. Brown, J. Oliver and W. J. McMillan; middle county, S. Henderson, H. G. Miller, M. P. Gordon, Robert Borland and D. Stoddart.

Mr. John Houston, chairman of the Conservative Association, yesterday declared the action of the Liberals the most rational any party had yet taken. "What is the sense," he said, "of a convention choosing a leader and pledging men to him who may not be in the next Legislature, as Charles Wilson, Conservative leader, has not been in this?"

Liberals generally believe this will solve the matter which for the past two years has been the cause of heart-burning among the Liberals of the Province, and that when the House again meets the caucus of members will select a chief acceptable to all.

Mr. McBride, on the other hand, is going to have a big contract in reconciling all the factions to his leadership. The Conservative organ in this city points out that he evidently thinks the party exists for McBride, not McBride for the party, and calls loudly on him to prove his loyalty. By the Liberals he is accused of treachery, so he seems to be between the upper and nether millstone.

The house, under the leadership of Mr. Tatlow, proceeded to pass the estimates which the joint committee have in the main approved, though recommending retrenchment in the matter of salaries.

Mr. McBride, so Mr. Tatlow states, will announce his Cabinet in the course of a couple of days. He says there will be six portfolios.

U. P. Strike is Settled.

Omaha, Neb., June 4. — The machinists' strike on the Union Pacific system, which has continued for more than eleven months, was settled yesterday at a conference, and the one thousand men who have been on strike will return to work Monday. The settlement is regarded as a concession by both sides to the controversy.

Street Railway Co. Must Supply Better Apparatus.

The Electric Railway Act of 1901 Was Amended.

Clause Permitting Use of Fenders, If Approved by Council, Is Removed.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Ont., June 4.—In the legal committee this morning, Mr. Beck's bill to amend the Street Railway Act was adopted and the consequence will be that the London Street Railway must provide new fenders for its cars before January.

The act of 1901 provides that electric railway companies shall from time to time adopt and use such a fender as has been approved of by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council upon a report by the engineer of the Department of Public Works. The act provides, however, that when a company is using a fender already approved of by the municipal council it shall not be required to adopt any new design of fender. Mr. Beck's amendment provides for the striking out of this provision.

ANTIQUATED FENBERS.

The amendment is designed to affect the London Street Railway, where the fender in use is of an antiquated and unsafe pattern. The company, however, claims that the city council had approved of the fender and that therefore the company was not required to change.

The City of London was represented by City Solicitor Meredith, Engineer Graydon and Mayor Beck, M.P.P.

Mr. Meredith contended that the fender in use in London had never been specifically approved of by the council.

Mr. Carscallen and Mr. Foy both supported the principle of the bill, arguing that a council should not be bound to retain an imperfect fender and that council should not be allowed to override the act of the Legislature.

Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., who appeared for the street railway company, contended that the fender in use in London was a more perfect one than that used in Toronto. For over two years no one had been killed by going under the fender, all persons struck being thrown to one side or picked up by the fender. The city council of London had never approved of the bill.

THE CITY AND THE COMPANY.

The city was singling out the company and whipping it through the Legislature, because it had the temerity to oppose the city's suit against it. Mr. Hellmuth said he would be willing to have the Government fenders placed on all new cars and the old fenders replaced as they wore out.

Mr. Carscallen observed that the life of the old fenders would be about 25 years unless they struck something.

The majority of the committee were in favor of the principle of the bill. On the suggestion of the chairman, cities of less than 20,000 population were exempted from the provisions of the amendment.

COL. MATHESON TALKS GRAFTING

An Exciting Sitting of Public Accounts Committee.

THE COLONEL IS CALLED DOWN

Mr. Conmee Accuses Him of Insulting Both Witnesses and Committee.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, June 4. — Col. Matheson's bumptiousness led to another lively episode in the public accounts committee this morning. Mr. P. McDermott was being re-examined. One of the Opposition members sided with the witness and said that a private transaction with another individual should not be exposed before the committee. Mr. Latchford said that "Cap" Sullivan had answered every question which he was obliged to. Col. Matheson sneeringly remarked that Mr. Latchford had throughout identified himself with the Sullivans and other grafters appearing before the committee. An uproar ensued. Mr. McDermott took the remark as a personal reflection and resented it. He was assured that Col. Matheson was talking for the press and through his hat.

Mr. Conmee forcibly remarked that Col. Matheson had insulted the witnesses and the members of the committee.

Col. Matheson hinted daily that he was going to show something before he got through. The evidence of the morning failed to show any of "the things" promised by the doughty colonel. R. A. Grant related the circumstances of the purchase of the Rutherford limit and said he did not know that Taylor was in the deal. Mr. McDermott produced letters written by Frank Sullivan in April and May offering him the limit. The Dominion Bank employes testified that the bulk of the $4,012 50 deposited by Mr. Taylor was still to his credit in the bank. The inquiry goes on tomorrow.

MANY BUILDINGS BURNED AT HULL

Fire Destroys 34 Residences in a Few Hours.

TWO HUNDRED ARE HOMELESS

For a Time the Flames Threatened the City of Ottawa, Causing Much Uneasiness.

Ottawa, June 4.—Thirty-four buildings destroyed and over 200 people homeless is the record of a fire which swept streets bordering on Lake Minnow, in the city of Hull, yesterday afternoon. Hull rests on a series of limestone rocks, with depressions here and there, in which are small bodies of water dignified with the name of lake. Bordering on Lake Minnow were Autumn, Chaudiere, Rock, Burke and Rarine streets. On these streets were the small and humble abodes of the French-Canadian laborers, and in two hours 34 of them were reduced to ashes.

The fire started in the confectionery shop of Mrs. Boucher, on Chaudiere street, and swept around the lake in quick order, the fire department in Hull not being any too good and the water pressure poor. The firemen, however, did good work. The people of Ottawa were very nervous, as the flames were trailing towards this city, and were only stopped about two blocks from the mammoth factories of the E. B. Eddy Company. When the fire assumed large proportions the Eddy Company and J. R. Booth got out their private fire engines and equipment, and deluged the lumber piles to prevent ignition by flying sparks.

At the scene of the fire was great confusion. Thousands of onlookers crowded the streets and hundreds of vans removing furniture caused a great congestion of traffic. People moved out streets away, fearing that the whole section of the city was doomed. Large piles of millwood added fuel to the flames, which already had moved for its voracious appetite in the wooden homes and crowded outbuildings which dot the back streets of Hull.

The unfortunate feature of the blaze was the fact that nearly all those burned out lost everything, and as the situation was such to repel insurance men, the loss was nearly a total one. Very few risks were carried in the district, and the few at a very high rate. The loss will not exceed $16,000, the houses destroyed being of small value.

The fire was burning all day in a bush in the Little Farm district, and gave cause for considerable worry.

CONFESSED TWO MURDERS

Mysteries of Many Years Standing Are Cleared Up.

Frederick, Md., June 4. — Samuel Betts died at Meyersville Tuesday from a pistol shot wound inflicted by himself, and just before dying confessed that he and his brother, Josiah Betts, murdered their father, Samuel Betts, seventeen years ago, presumably to inherit $6,000, which he had accumulated. Betts also confessed that he participated in the murder of Walter Long and secretly buried the body seven years ago. Long mysteriously disappeared at that time and his disappearance has been a neighborhood mystery ever since.

A SOUTHERN WRECK

Railway Collision Kills Five and Injures Thirty.

Columbus, S. C., June 4.—Six miles out from Sumter an excursion train on the Atlantic coast line, loaded with negroes coming into Columbia to spend the day, early yesterday morning ran into a washout caused by a cloudburst the night before. Conductor Clements was instantly killed, as were four of the negroes, one being a woman, and about 30 passengers were injured. Engineer Wilson was badly scalded, but not seriously injured. Surgeons were sent on extras from both Sumter and Columbia. A negro who saw the washout made a desperate attempt to warn the train with a piece of red paper in his hand, but the engineer either did not see his signal or saw it too late.

The Jett and White Cases.

Jackson, Ky., June 4.—The order changing the trial of the Jett and White murder cases to Morgan County has been withdrawn, and the cases will be tried here as soon as a jury can be summoned from an adjoining county.

UNITED MINERS WILL CONVENE

And Discuss the Proposed Suspension of Work,

OPERATORS MAKE STATEMENT

They Declare the Men's Representatives on the Board Were Not Properly Treated.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 4. — At the first session yesterday of the three anthracite boards of the United Mine Workers there was little done outside of outlining plans as to what course was best to pursue. In the afternoon they met again, when they decided to hold a joint convention of miners at Pottsville, June 15, for the purpose of determining whether or not a general suspension of work shall be declared. No statement was made by them outside of the announcement of the decision to hold a joint convention. When District President Fahey, district chairman of the miners' boards, was shown the statement of the operators' members on that board, he made the following statement to the press: "There was no meeting of the stockholders of the coal companies called for the purpose of appointing the operators' side of the conciliation board, but the representatives of the stockholders, the officials of the company, met and selected their representatives. The mine owners selected their members not by calling a meeting of all their members or stockholders by the rules and regulations of their organization, which does not exist, and as provided by the award of the coal strike commission. We raise no question as to the manner in which the operators selected their representatives, and we at least hoped for the same treatment at their hands. Our understanding is that the miners and operators shall stand on equal footing in every way on the board of conciliation."

The following signed statement was given to the press as the operators' side of the controversy eaused by the refusal of the operators' representatives on the conciliation board to accept the members of the United Miners: "Referring to the official announcement of the members of the United Mine Workers of America, as given in the press, the contention of the operators' representatives elected to the board of conciliation is that the recognition of the United Mine Workers of America was not one of the questions submitted to the commission for decision; that Mr. Mitchell admitted this by appearing before the commission simply as a representative of the anthracite workers; that the award of the commission specifically asserted that the recognition of the United Mine Workers of America, as at present constituted, was inadvisable; that award No. 4, providing for the board of conciliation lays down certain rules for the appointment of members of said board. The representatives of the operators have been appointed strictly within the terms of said award, and there is no objection on their part to cordially accepting Messrs. Nicholls, Dettrey and Fahey as the representatives of the miners providing they are elected by a majority of the mine workers, as specified in the award of the commission. The objection is solely against their appearing as the official representatives of the United Mine Workers of America, appointed by an executive committee without authority for such appointment. The operators' representatives feel that it is highly important that the formation of the board of conciliation be accepted by both interested parties as strictly in accordance with the award of the commission in order that its rulings may be received without question, and not be open to the criticism of progress made by a board not fully qualified to act.—(Signed) W. L. Connell, R. C. Luther, S. D. Warriner."

FRENCH ENTER FIGUIG

They Lost Sixty Killed and Wounded in the Fighting.

Paris, June 4.—The Governor-General of Algeria wires the foreign office that he has authorized the formation of three mobile columns from the South Oranian posts. One will march straight to Figuig, and the others will be directed against tribes who have rebelled against Maghzen and French authority. This, it is stated, will be a "police" operation, and not a punitive expedition against the tribesmen who recently ambushed Governor, Jonnart.

A dispatch from Djennan Roa Rezg to the Patrie says it is rumored the French entered Figuig this morning. In the fighting the French lost 60 killed and wounded. The situation at Djennan is said to be serious.

COTEAU FIRE-SWEPT

Flames Destroy Eleven Buildings, Leaving Many Destitute.

Coteau Landing, Que., June 4.—Fire swept this village yesterday, devouring eleven buildings, and rendering 40 people homeless. The damage is not definitely known, but estimated at less than $6,000. Fire broke out at 9 o'clock yesterday morning in the house of Mr. Nummeur, owing to a defective chimney. The high wind blowing at the time soon carried the flames to the adjoining house. Flames soon got beyond control of local fire fighters, and swept from house to house, which, being entirely of wooden construction, were as tinder to the flames. The Valleyfield brigade responded to the summons, and were of great assistance in subduing the flames. Shortly after 1:30 p.m. the firemen got the flames under complete control.

AN EXCURSION ACCIDENT

Three Children Drowned Through Steamboat Collision.

Hannibal, Mo., June 4.—Three children were drowned here yesterday by the collision of the steamer Flying Eagle, towing a barge filled with Sunday school excursionists, against a pier of the Hannibal bridge.

The dead: Lonnie Curtis, aged 15; Laura Coppage, aged 15; Harry Eichenberger, aged 17.

About 250 children from the Park Methodist Church Sunday school at Hannibal had boarded the barge, and a number were on the steamer. As the boat swung out into the river the swift current bore it straight against the stone pier of the bridge with a crash. In the sudden swinging of the barge the children were thrown into the water and drowned.

THEY FEAR EUROPE

South American Republics Form Defensive Alliance.

Buenos Ayres, Argentina, June 3.—El Nacional, a newspaper with special facilities for learning the news concerning diplomatic affairs, publishes an article, stating that it is said in high diplomatic circles that the Argentina, Chilian and Brazilian foreign offices are negotiating an alliance to combat European intervention.

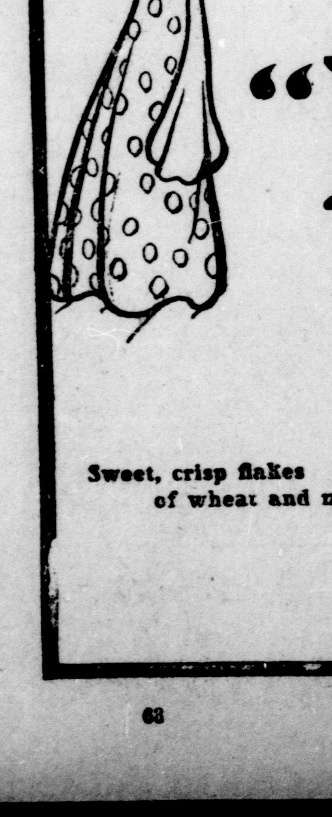

According to El Nacional's informant the proposed alliance includes first, an obligation signed by the three nations to help each other in case any European power should threaten either republic's sovereignty. Second, to advance diplomatic intervention in case of conflicts between European nations and any South American republics, not included in the alliance, and, third, to observe with other South American republics what European diplomacy calls the international policy of preventing conflicts.

New Cashier and Chief Clerk Also Come From Walkerville.

A general shake-up has occurred during the last few days in the local staff of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway. The resignation of the local agent, Mr. C. C. Young, has gone into effect, and his successor, Mr. Robert J. Tait, has been transferred from Walkerville, and has taken charge. Shaw, the former night clerk here, has been transferred to the day staff. Mr. Albert McDonald, formerly day clerk, has been appointed night clerk in place of Mr. Shaw.
Mr. Young expects to be leaving the city shortly to accept a position on another road, but he is unable to say yet where he is to go. Mr. Lacey has secured a position on the Breckenridge division of the Great Northern. Mr. Bert Yealland, who also resigned, at the beginning of the month, is in receipt of a number of offers from outside places.

PLACARDS FOR SHINGLES

How Charles Field Would Use Scarlet Fever Cards.

Doesn't Care How Many Are on His House.

There is one man in this city who wouldn't care if his house were shingled with scarlet fever placards. Not that he has a failing for red at all, but the fact that the cards would warn his neighbors not to come in would not worry him. The man, Charles Field; the house, 649 Marshall street. This morning he came up before Police Magistrate Love on a charge of removing a placard from his house. He knew nothing about it, he said. Dr. Hutchinson, medical health officer, was called and testified to a case of scarlet fever being in the family of Mr. Field and to putting up the placard. Only last week he had been informed that the placard was down. It was impossible to prove who took it off the house, but it was unlikely that the neighbors would do so; they would be inclined to want it up.
The defendant said the card had only been up three or four days when someone removed it. He did not consider it necessary to notify the officer, as the child had only been sick two days. He did not take the card down, nor did any of his family. Asked as to whether he objected to the pracard being put on the house, he informed the court he wouldn't care if the house were shingled with them.
The magistrate said he had no evidence that defendant had removed the placard, but censured him for not notifying the authorities. He made no disposition of the case, other than to order that a placard be put up for the balance of the six weeks required by law.
The above was not the only case of an unusual kind for the Carling street justice works. Alex Cattnach, the owner of a vicious dog, was summonsed, and he did not agree to destroy the dog, until after the evidence was in. His cousin, little Elizabeth Biggar, told of being bitten by defendant's dog. Defendant was her cousin, and she had been at his place when the dog attacked her, taking a piece out of her leg, a painful injury. The wound had to be cauterized and required six stitches.
The magistate's view was that when a dog bit a human being it was "vicious," and should be destroyed, no matter how nice it was. Mr. Cattnach finally agreed to destroy the dog, and as he had already promised to pay the doctor's bill nothing further was done with the case.
Not an intox made his or her bow to the judicial head today. The only case tried this morning other than the two mentioned was one in which Charles E. Howard was charged with obstructing the road with wagons. The circumstances were such that the case was dismissed, Mr. Howard being notified as to what the law was in this respect.

THE FIRE FIEND AT THE CAPITAL

Another Extensive Blaze Does $250,000 Damage.

SEVERAL BIG HOUSES GUTTED

The Fire Swept Portions of Sparks and Queen Streets—Origin Is Unknown.

Ottawa, June 4. — Fire which broke out at 6:45 o'clock this morning swept a part of the business center of Ottawa, laying in ashes, large portions of Sparks and Queen streets, between Bank and Kent. Broken and irregular columns of smouldering ruins are all that remain where stood the big mill, factory and lumber yards of Davidson & Thackeray, the printing and lithographing establishment of the Mortimer Company, the leading manufactory of R. J. Smith & Co., the paint works of Peter Stewart and other smaller concerns. Half a dozen private residences on the south side of Queen street were completely destroyed, and four or five houses on the north side of Albert street, were damaged. The loss is approximately estimated at a quarter of a million dollars. Nearly three hundred people are thrown out of employment. The fact that there was but the slightest wind, together with well-managed efforts of the firemen, alone proved the whole of Sparks street being wiped out. It was a quarter to seven when the fire was discovered, and it originated in the Queen street part of Davidson & Thackeray's mills. It was claimed that the blaze started in Gray's stables adjoining the mill, but firemen say they had water on the mill before the stables caught at all. Just what caused it, whether it was a spark from the smokestack or not, may never be known. Piled in and around the mill was good-sized quantities of dry lumber, a big stock of doors and sashes and boxes, in fact, it would not be uncharitable to call the whole place a sort of fire trap.

THE FLOOD OF IMMIGRATION

Minister Smart Estimates the Year's Arrivals in Canada at 120,000.

Ottawa, June 4. — Mr. James A. Smart, Deputy Minister of the Interior, in his evidence before the committee on agriculture and colonization yesterday, gave a statement showing the arrivals of immigrants for the month of May as follows: British, 10,138; Continent of Europe, 2,254; United States, 6,100; making a total of 24,492. This, he believed, was the largest immigration that ever came to Canada in one month. A further statement was given showing the total immigration for the eleven months of the fiscal year ending the 31st of May, 1903, as follows: British, 35,676; Continent of Europe, 31,429; United States, 37,617; being a total of 104,716. From this statement, Mr. Smart said, there was no doubt that the total arrivals in Canada for the present year will reach fully 120,000 souls. He also gave a statement showing the number of free homestead entries of Dominion lands in Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and the railway belt of British Columbia, in all 26,694, as against 11,885 for the same period in 1902, and 7,133 for the same period in 1901. The arrivals for the first five months of the present calendar year, that is from the 1st of January to the 31st of May, show a total of 65,164. Of these Britain contributed 26,595, the United States 19,870, and the Continent of Europe 16,699.

An industrial school has been started in Leclaire, Ill., on the basis that every student, boy or girl, will be able, by their own work, to pay their tuition fees as well as their living expenses. It will be modeled somewhat after the Tuskegee Institute.

THEY WAKE THE TORPID ENERGIES.—Machinery not properly supervised and left to run itself very soon shows fault in its working. It is the same with the digestive organs. Unregulated from time to time they are likely to become torpid and throw the whole system out of gear. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills were made to meet such cases. They restore to the full the flagging faculties, and bring into order all parts of the mechanism.

A Scare for Foreigners.

It is not surprising that Mr. Chamberlain's programme is "viewed with alarm" in foreign countries. His speeches caused Germany to drop the idea of retaliating on Canada for the surtax. She does not care to strike at this country over Great Britain's shoulder, knowing that reprisals would greatly strengthen Mr. Chamberlain's hand. The United States is even more dependent than Germany on British trade and American journals sound a note of warning. The New York Post, a great authority, strongly advises that a reciprocity treaty be negotiated with Canada as the best means of heading off Chamberlain's scheme. The exports of the United States to Great Britain in 1902 were $523,773,397; to Canada, $111,153,035; to British Australasia, $28,101,784, and to British South Africa, $31,685,859. The British Empire thus takes considerably over half the exports of the United States. Great Britain is also the best customer of Germany, of France, of Holland and of Belgium. The United States and the countries of Europe have been accustomed to arrange their tariffs without taking Great Britain into account. The latter voluntarily disarmed herself in adopting free trade and made herself, in Mr. Balfour's words, a passive target for her protectionist rivals. There can be no doubt that she has flourished wonderfully under this policy, but the fact remains that she has no weapon with which to compel other countries to treat her fairly. The free trader argues that Great Britain, by taxing imports, would injure herself as well as her competitors. But what if the import tax should be a lever to force other countries to widen their doors to British exports? The economic conditions of Great Britain do not justify a tariff for protective purposes, but a tariff of reprisals, which would extend the markets for British products, would be a different thing. A tariff war that would punish the protectionist countries and oblige them to modify their tariffs, could even be defended on free trade grounds. A mere threat of this kind by Mr. Chamberlain was sufficient to make Germany abandon the intention of further penalizing Canadian exports. The issue he has raised is being held in terrorem over every country outside the British Empire. Foreigners will make concessions rather than be placed at a disadvantage in the greatest free market in the world. Even if Imperial preferential trade cannot be achieved the prominence given the question may be of great advantage to the mother country in bringing her rivals to time.

Cumulative Voting.

The experiment in cumulative voting in Toronto next January will be the first of the kind in Canada, but it has been operative in school board elections in England for over thirty years. It was adopted at the passing of the elementary school board act, the clause reading: "Every voted shall be entitled to a number of votes equal to the members of the school board to be elected, and may give all such votes to one candidate or distribute them among the candidates as he sees fit." What is known as the Hare-Spence system of proportional representation has many advocates in this Province, who have frequently petitioned the Legislature, without success, to allow it to be tried by municipalities. Cumulative voting is an approach to this system, though it falls far short of it. Under proportional representation each candidate is required to poll a certain quota of votes, which is usually arrived at by taking the total number of voters and dividing it by the number of candidates to be elected. For instance, if there were 4,000 voters and five men to be elected, a candidate, to be successful, would require to have 800 votes. If a candidate polled more than this, his surplus of votes over the 800 would be distributed among those who failed to poll the required number, in the order in which they stood in the poll. The voter could indicate his second, third, fourth or fifth choice. The complicated nature of this system is a bar to its practical operation. Cumulative voting is much simpler, and provides, though less effectively, for minority representation, or rather a representation of interests. A minority group, or a number of persons who have a common interest, can insure the election of one candidate by giving him all their votes—"plumping" for him. The majority would not, as at present, be able to elect all its nominees, but each class would secure at least one representative. The principle has much to recommend it and the manner in which it works out in Toronto will be useful as a guide to other municipalities.

No Trace of the Money.

The report of the royal commission on the Gamey-Stratton charges is daily expected, and is being awaited with keen interest. The commission cannot, on the evidence presented, find the charges proven, and it is possible that the Legislature may have to expel the member for Manitoulin. The opinions which the learned judges may express will be entitled to very great respect in the country, but the public is disappointed, because the mystery of the money remains unsolved. The Opposition's latest theory was that it came from the proceeds of the sale of "Cap" Sullivan's timber limit, but this has been exploded before the public accounts committee of the Legislature. It appears that "Cap" Sullivan in collusion with T. C. Taylor, an accountant of the Crown Lands Department, purchased a timber limit for $250 and afterwards sold it to the Charltons of Tonawanda for about $9,000. A thorough examination of Sullivan's accounts, which were produced by his banker, satisfied the committee that none of these funds could be connected with the alleged bribe-money which Gamey had in his possession in September. The checks cashed in September were on the Dominion Bank, whereas Gamey's money was in Ontario Bank notes of $100 denomination. Taylor, who had put up the $250 purchase money, and was given half the profits of the deal by Sullivan, has been dismissed by the Crown Lands Commissioner. Some political capital is being made out of the fact that the timber limit was sold by the Crown Lands Department at so low a figure. The Commissioner had to rely upon the report of his expert officials, and there is no suggestion of anything irregular in the transaction, so far as he is concerned. Mr. Thomas Charlton says it has cost his firm $25,000 to take out the timber, but he could not estimate what his profits, if any, were, as he did not sell the logs, but the lumber. It should be borne in mind that the Government collects dues on all the timber cut on crown lands, and on this particular limit received over $2,000 from the Charlton farm. The matter is still before the public accounts committee where the Government is facilitating a complete investigation.

Vice-Versa.

At a debate held at a certain mixed club, one of the feminine orators declared that the position of woman would never be satisfactory until she was accorded the right of making proposals of marriage.—The World.

Slighted my addresses,

The Man Who Grows On You.

[The Interior.]

Your most delightful acquaintance is the man who grows on you. You know people in plenty who do not gain in your appreciation; every time you meet them they seem more shallow and more petty than before. Indeed, there are times when your discoveries of inner character within the circle of your associations run so much to the revelation of paltriness that you feel in danger of being compelled to discount all human nature as a deceiving sham. But the man who grows on you saves you from cynicism. Every day you are finding in him some factor of manhood that you had not suspected; every day he proves in a new test to have resources of strength upon which you have not counted in your estimate of him.

We had some offish neighbors once that moved in, down the road,
We reckoned they was 'bout the proudest folks we'd ever knowed,

To make dead sure they couldn't snub us if they was to try.
It really made me nervous, so I jes' braced up one day,
An' thought I'd go ahead an' show my manners, anyway.
One Sunday, 'stid o' turnin' round an' gazin' at the view,
I looked at them an' says, "Hello!" An' they says, "Howdy do!"

It wa'n't the cold an' formal greetin' that you've sometimes heard;
They smiled an' said it hearty, like they meant it, every word,

There's lots o' folks who fling the simple joys of life aside,
Because they dread the shadow of their own unconscious pride.
And nine times out o' ten you'll find the rule works right an' true—
Jes' tell the world "Hello!" and it's answer "Howdy do!"

A Happy Combination.

[New York World.]

On the order books of the Women's Exchange in this city, it appears, is a worker known as "the cheering-up lady." She is kept busy all the time. It is her function to visit lonely homes, to play cards with venerable widows or spinsters, to read, talk and "look pleasant."

Here should be a laborer never failing to be worth more than her hire. Professional mourners we no longer know, nor wish to know; of professional cheerers-up it should not be possible to know too many. We bespeak serious rivalry for this old lady who looks pleasant. Hers is the happiest combination of business and philanthropy. She exhibits an idea worthy of indefinite extension through an infinite variety of clients.

PEASANTS STORM BARON'S CASTLE

Scenes in Croatia That Resemble the Incidents of the French Revolution.

Buda-Pesth, June 4. — Mail news from Croatia, where the peasants are in a state of revolt, is beginning to read like pages from the history of the French revolution in the rural districts. Here is a sample story, the storming of the baronial castle of Ogacedo.

On a recent Sunday the baron and his family were about to sit down to dinner, when his mounted messenger brought news that an armed mob of about a thousand peasants was approaching. The castle had no sooner been barricaded when a throng of several hundred excited men surrounded it on all sides and demanded entrance. "We want to get the banus (governor); he is hiding in the palace." The baron went out on the balcony to plead with the mob, offering to allow three of the leaders to enter and search the house, but a hailstorm of bricks and stones drove him away, and at the same time the rear door was broken into and the peasants streamed in. They went from room to room, from cellar to attic, battering down all doors found locked. The castle remained in the hands of the peasants for two hours, until every bit of food and drink was disposed of. Finally the mob demanded that the baron deliver up his Hungarian flag, and when he refused all the flags in the house were confiscated and burned.

Before departing the mob conducted the baron to the house chapel and made him swear on the crucifix that he would never again vote in favor of the Hungarian Government; likewise, that he would never give shelter to the obnoxious banus, and would not sue for damages. He had to make out papers to that effect, sign them before a notary and attach the legal stamp. Thereupon the baron was forced to march at the head of the crowd to the village of Kainik, carrying a Croatian flag aloft. At Kainik the mob sacked the house of the burgomaster and killed him, the baron looking on. Similar disturbances are going on all over Croatia, owing to the Government's attempt to denationalize the Croatians, take away their ancient liberties and supplant class government.

Eat and Run.

There isn't a man who would be seen running through the street munching a piece of pie. Why not? Because it would mean dyspepsia and stomach trouble? Not at all; but because it wouldn't look well. As a matter of fact many a business man snatches a lunch in such a hurry that he might as well take it on the run. That is one reason for the prevailing "stomach trouble" among men of business.

There is a certain remedy for diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It is Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The worst cases of dyspepsia and catarrh of the stomach have been cured by this medicine. It cures where all other means have failed to cure.

"I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for stomach trouble," writes Clarence Carnes, Esq., of Taylorstown, Loudoun Co., Va. "It did me so much good that I didn't take any more. I can eat most anything now. I am so well pleased with it I hardly know how to thank you for your kind information. I tried a whole lot of things before I wrote to you. There was a gentleman told me about your medicine, and how it had cured his wife. I thought I would try a bottle of it. Am now glad I did, for I don't know what I would have done if it had not been for Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Doctor Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure biliousness. They stimulate the sluggish liver, and cleanse the system of impurities. They should always be used with "Golden Medical Discovery" when there is need of a laxative.

"Gratitude compels me to acknowledge the great merit of your Vegetable Compound. I have suffered for four years with irregular and painful menstruation, also dizziness, pains in the back and lower limbs, and fitful sleep. I dreaded the time to come which would only mean suffering to me. Six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound brought me health and happiness in a few short months, and was worth more than months under the doctor's care, which really did not benefit me at all. I feel like another person now. My aches and pains have left me. I am satisfied there is no medicine so good for sick woman as your Vegetable Compound, and I advocate it to my lady friends in need of medical help."—Mrs. B. A. ## FAVOR BRITAIN'S PLAN

The Powers Like Her Scheme for China's Indemnity.

Melbourne, Victoria, June 4.—Speaking before the Federal House of Representatives today, C. C. Kingston, Minister for Trade and Customs, said he felt the Commonwealth might give preference to Great Britain without an inexpedient loss of revenue by maintaining the existing duties levied on British products and raising them against foreigners. It was the Commonwealth's duty to support the Imperial Government in every way. The minister did not doubt but Colonial Secretary Chamberlain's policy would appeal to the great heart of the British people.

FAVORS NEW POLICY

Australia Is Urged to Support Imperial Government.

London, June 4. — The Times' correspondent at Pekin notes a greater disposition on the part of the foreign ministers to view with favor Great Britain's proposal that China pay her indemnity on a silver basis for nine years and in gold thereafter, leaving the question open whether China shall ultimately pay the difference. He says that even if the United States accepts payment of her indemnity in silver, it should be remembered that the $25,000,000 that the United States claimed exceeded her actual losses and leaves a wide margin in her favor, though not so large as in the case of some European powers.

A SEVERE CASE OF LUMBAGO

Mr. James A. Searls, Norwich, Ont., Quickly and Permanently Cured by ### Dr. Pitcher's Backache-Kidney Tablets.

Know what lumbago is?

Pain catches you right in the small of the back—makes stooping over or rising up excruciating agony.

Wrong kidney action is the cause of the trouble, and if you let Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets set the kidneys working right, you'll be quickly and permanently cured.

Mr. James A. Searls, the well and favorably known boot and shoe merchant of Norwich, Ont., made this statement: "During a recent sharp attack of lumbago, in which the pain was extremely severe, I took a bottle of Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets. They took the pain out of my back so quickly, and so far as I can see made a cure so permanent, that I consider them unequaled for that most prevalent and painful affliction. I am only too pleased to recommend them to other people who may be suffering as I was."

Dr. Pitcher's Backache Kidney Tablets are 50 cents a box at all druggists or by mail. The Dr. Zina Pitcher Company, Toronto, Ont.

The vast bulk of the trade of the United Kingdom is certainly noteworthy. For 150 years down to the present time it has been practically a continued growth. In 1902 the total of the exports and imports touched $4,390,000,000, the highest figure ever reached.

IN NATURE'S STOREHOUSE THERE ARE CURES.—Medical experiments have shown conclusively that there are medicinal virtues in even ordinary plants growing up around us, which give them a value that cannot be estimated. It is held by some that Nature provides a cure for every disease which neglect and ignorance have visited upon man. However this may be, it is well known that Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, distilled from roots and herbs, are a sovereign remedy in curing all disorders of the digestion.

COLONIAL AID IS NECESSARY

Mr. Chamberlain Must Have Colonial Co-Operation.

GERMANY NOW BACKS DOWN

Is Undoubtedly Owing to the Colonial Secretary's New Policy Proposals.

London, June 4. — Mr. Chamberlain's pronouncement has already accomplished first, the withdrawal of the proposed German reprisal for the Canadian surtax, and second, American consideration of reciprocity with Canada. Mr. Chamberlain says to an inquirer that colonial co-operation is necessary to the success of this scheme and the two points are considered his justification.

The Times today publishes a special article upon the rush to the Northwest, foreshadowing Winnipeg's destiny as the greatest city in Canada, and urging the advantage of the west for young Englishmen, as well as the need for women.

The St. James' Gazette, commenting upon this article, asks: "Is this great Northwest market of the future to go to the United States? If not, Great Britain must show signs of willingness to reciprocate Canada's 33 per cent preference."

The St. James' Gazette adds: "Germany has decided on the policy of 'Brer Rabbit.' The belated attempt of the German eagle to coo is the surest sign that the policy of the Government is regarded abroad as likely to strengthen the empire to an undesired extent."

The Westminster Gazette calls upon the Duke of Devonshire, Mr. C. T. Ritchie and other influential members of the cabinet, hitherto labeled as free traders, to declare, definitely whether they are Chamberlainites.

The German Nord Deutsche Allegemeine Zeitung issues a semi-official statement, denying that the German Government ever proposed to interfere with the internal relations of Great Britain and her colonies. It merely gave effect to the existing tariff law. Germany treated Canada as a country with a separate tariff system, in accordance with the principle laid down by the British Government.

The Berlin correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says that prominent members of two German political parties tell him that Germany's semi-official statement foreshadows the abandonment of further retaliatory measures against Canada, whose trade with Germany will be effectively killed by the present tariff. The German Agrarian politicians hope that the United States will offer reciprocity to Canada, thus drawing the colony from England, whereupon Mr. Chamberlain's whole system will fall to pieces.

THE CO-OPERATOR'S PROTEST.

The Standard, the Ministerial organ, laughs at the resolution of the Co-Operative Congress at Doncaster, in opposition to Mr. Chamberlain's imperial zollverein proposals and says it is based upon the preposterous notion that Mr. Chamberlain's exclusive purpose was to bring the working classes of England to the most lamentable extremes of destitution. The Standard also finds amusement in the solemn air of unselfish concern with which French and German publicists warn Great Britain of the terrible evils awaiting her if she leaves paths which have hitherto been so convenient for French and German manufacturers.

CURED HIS BRIGHT'S DISEASE

Former President of Bricklayers' Union Used Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Andrew McCormick, of Toronto, Tells of a Cure for the Most Dreaded of All Diseases.

Toronto, June 3.—(Special).—In these days when the dreaded Bright's Disease seems to be selecting its victims at will, the report of an authenticated cure is received with relief by all classes of the community. And such a report comes from Andrew McCormick, of 243 Spadina avenue, this city.

That Mr. McCormick is well known and highly respected is evidenced by the fact that he has held high offices in several fraternal societies, and was for several years president of the Bricklayers' Union. Interviewed regarding the cure, Mr. McCormick says:

"I suffered with an attack of Bright's Disease and naturally was much troubled concerning it. I heard of the wonderful cures effected by Dodd's Kidney Pills and concluded to try them. The result was so satisfactory that it gives me pleasure to recommend them."

Make and keep the Kidneys sound by using Dodd's Kidney Pills, and there can be no Bright's Disease.

JEWS ARE PREPARING

They Arm Themselves and Organize for Fresh Riots.

Berlin, June 4. — Advices received here from Odessa say the Jews have imported several thousand revolvers since the Kishineff massacre, so that, at present almost every Jew, man or woman, is armed. Those who were unable to buy weapons received them as gifts from the defense committee. A system of communication has also been agreed upon, so as to spread a warning throughout the city if there is an outbreak in any quarter. Families residing near each other will concentrate for defense, and every second man will join what might be called an expeditionary corps to take part in aggressive defense where rioting is actually going on. The Jewish Safety Committee is also reported to have arranged with the workingmen's associations for aid in the event of outbreaks. Arms have been distributed from Odessa to the Jews in other cities of Russia.

POPLAR GROVE.

Poplar Grove, June 2.—One of those rare but exceedingly happy events, a golden wedding, was celebrated on Saturday evening, May 23, at Poplar Grove, the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Paton, Camlachie. From east and west came the sons and daughters, sons-in-law and daughters-in-law, with their filial greetings. These included Mrs. James McFarlane, Seagrave; Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Fair, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cockburn, of Drumbo; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harris, of Glencoe; Miss Flossie Paton, Toronto Junction; James Paton, Washington; Mr. and Mrs. M. McFarlane, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Paton, Miss J. Paton, Camlachie. In addition to these were Dr. and Mrs. Brown, Rev. J. and Miss Bailey, Camlachie, and Rev. J. C. Smith, Rathburn, Ont.

After partaking of an excellent repast a toast to the health of the bride and groom of fifty summers was drunk, and congratulations tendered. Many expressions of good-will in the form of presents were received by Mr. and Mrs. Paton, among them being two $20 gold pieces from the youngest son, accompanied by a most touching address.

Mr. and Mrs. Paton were among the earliest settlers of Plympton, coming here when the country reminded one of a one-time popular story, "Afar in the Forest." But pluck and perseverance have transformed the wilderness into a garden, and the Paton homestead today is one of the finest in the community. Mr. and Mrs. Paton have been blessed with a large family all of whom are doing well, and by their honorable lives crowning with joy their godly parents.

Although considerably past the seventies, Mr. and Mrs. Paton still enjoy a fair measure of health and possess in an unusual degree the esteem and confidence of the whole community.

Poor Girl, Pity Her.

All this simply the result of eating and digesting enough, making blood, and thereby strengthening the nerve and brain power. Ferrozone gives a woman's strength to weak girls. THE DEMON, DYSPEPSIA.—In olden time it was a popular belief that demons moved invisibly through the ambient air, seeking to enter into men and trouble them. At the present day the demon dyspepsia is at large in the same way, seeking habitation in those who by careless or unwise living invite him. And once he enters a man it is difficult to dislodge him. He that finds himself so possessed should know that a valiant friend to do battle for him with the unseen foe is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which are every ready for the trial.

"X"-RAYS FOR CANCER

Successful Experiments Conducted by French Doctors.

Paris, June 4.—The Matin says two doctors at Lille, who have been experimenting with X-rays in cancer cases, have arrived at a very satisfactory result. A woman of 65, who was suffering with cancer of the stomach, was treated seven times in three months. The application of the X-rays entirely restored her to health, and she even gained in weight. A cure was effected seven months ago, and there has been no relapse.

Pains in the Back for Twenty Years

Could Not Turn Over in Bed—Kidneys and Bladder Affected—Experienced Great Suffering.

Old people learn to trust in Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, for when all other treatments fail this great medicine seems to go directly to the diseased part, and promptly affords relief and cure.

Mr. David Misener, farmer, Port Robinson, Welland County, Ontario, writes: 'I wish to state to you that I had a pain in my back and left side for over 20 years. At times I could not turn over in bed, I was so badly used up. I had cramps in my feet and legs, and my hands were so entirely useless that I could scarcely lift anything.

"Kidney disease was, no doubt, the cause of all my suffering, and sometimes the urinary trouble would be so bad that I would have to get up five or six times during the night. Fortunately, I began using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and they cured me completely. I am 79 years old, and quite well now, but still occasionally use these pills to keep my system in good order. Several persons to whom I have recommended Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills have been equally benefited."

LISTER ESTATE DISPUTE

A Younger Sister Contests the Agreement Amongst the Heirs.

Toronto, June 4.—A suit over the estate of the late Judge Lister of the court of appeal, who died about two years ago, was begun at Osgoode Hall today by Mr. G. W. Holmes, of Holmes & Gregory, barristers, acting on behalf of Mrs. Mary E. Hastings of Parkhill, one of the late judge's children.

Judge Lister died intestate and an agreement was entered into a year ago by his widow and children for the distribution of his estate, which amounts to a little over $30,000. The agreement, which fixes the amount of the various shares and the time for payment, was to be carried out by the Toronto General Trusts Corporation, who are the administrators.

Mrs. Hastings now alleges that at the time she signed the trust deed she had barely reached her majority, and did not fully understand its provisions, and she desires to have it set aside. The present action is brought by Mrs. Hastings against the Toronto General Trusts Corporation and the other beneficiaries under the agreement, the widow, Mrs. Josephine Harrison, Mrs. Maud E. Waddell, Fred Lister, Edward Blake Lister and Frances Charlotte Lister, all brothers and sisters of the plaintiff.

HOUSE DIVIDES ON AMENDMENT

Playfair Assessment Arouses a Discussion.

SPEED OF MOTORS ESTABLISHED

The Legislature Sets It at Ten Miles an Hour—Exporting Natural Gas.

Toronto, June 3.—The Ontario Legislature today fixed the speed of automobiles in cities, town and incorporated villages at ten miles an hour. The municipal committee had amended Mr. Preston's bill so as to limit the speed to seven miles. Mr. Preston moved the House into committee of the whole, and asked that the original clause be inserted.

Dr. Willoughby favored seven miles; this would, to a great extent, prevent accidents to pedestrians.

The Attorney-General said he had ridden in automobiles and thought ten miles was not an excessive speed. The machines were easily handled, and could be stopped within a few yards.

Mr. Carscallen agreed that ten miles an hour was ordinarily not excessive, but in cities where traffic was congested it would be dangerous. He suggested that a provision be inserted that the speed be reduced at all street crossings.

The bill was then reported as amended, the speed being fixed at ten miles an hour.

A COMMITTEE REPORT.

An interesting discussion arose in committee of the whole on a proposal to amend a report of the private bills committee. The bill fixed the assessment at $10,000 for ten years of the mill property of James Playfair, at Midland. The committee changed the bill so as to exclude the residence of Mr. Playfair, and Mr. Tudhope wanted that amendment set aside.

Mr. Carscallen declared very strongly that while he did not question the right of the House to revise any report of any committee of the House, there should be no interference unless there was some very good and serious reason. If the House laid down that rule it would save the members from a lot of lobbying, which was such a nuisance and which the House should set its face against.

Mr. St. John was in entire accord was Mr. Carscallen. In this case the committee had definitely decided to exclude Mr. Playfair's residence, and Mr. Playfair agreed to its exclusion.

Mr. Pattullo favored the proposal to amend the committee's report.

Premier Ross said he would be sorry if the House committed itself to the position that it had no right to review reports of committees. He thought the committee of the whole was perfectly competent to reconsider the bill now before them.

On a straight party vote of 36 to 28 the bill was reported as amended, the Playfair residence being included in the fixed assessment.

Dr. Jessop, in moving for a return of copies of the regulations respecting the exportation of natural gas, complained that the wells of Ontario, particularly in Essex County, were being depleted, and the people of the United States were able to secure gas for both heating and illumination purposes at a much lower rate than those in Ontario. It was time the exportation of natural gas was entirely prohibited, and he wished to find out exactly what regulations there were in force.

Among the bills read a third time was that of Mr. Harcourt, respecting the educational department.

BILLS WITHDRAWN.

At Col. Matheson's request his bill to amend the act to make better provision for keeping and auditing municipal and school accounts was withdrawn.

Mr. Smith's bill to amend the public school act was also withdrawn.

MACEDONIA BESIEGED

The Revolutionists Are Determined to Keep Up the Fight.

Sofia, Bulgaria, June 4. — Despite the optimistic tone of official comments in many capitals concerning the Balkan situation, it is difficult to detect evidences of improvement. Macedonia continues to be a center of terror and outrage. The Turks are industriously pursuing the agitators, but seem unable to pacify a single locality. The leaders of the revolutionary movement seldom suffer capture, although a considerable number of their followers frequently meet that fate or are killed. The villages in the hills are resisting the oppressors.

Abdul Hamid's agents are straining every nerve to prevent information from reaching the world. They shoot down refugees without compunction, and lead correspondents only whither of Macedonia is in a state of practical siege. The ordinary functions of society are either partially or entirely suspended. The revolutionists are powerless bodily to throw off the Turkish yoke, but they still hope to be able to keep the peninsula in a ferment until Europe can no longer tolerate such conditions.

A Woodstock Wedding.

Woodstock, June 4.—At Knox Church yesterday morning at 8:30 o'clock, by Rev. Dr. McMullin, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Margaret, second daughter of Mr. David Shedden, Van Sittart avenue, to Mr. William Campbell Bowler, assistant general freight agent of the western division of the C. P. R., with headquarters at Calgary. Mr. and Mrs. Bowles left on a trip down the St. Lawrence before proceeding to their future home at Calgary.

Sully's Generous Tip.

Providence, R. I., June 4.—Daniel J. Sully, who has just closed a successful bull campaign on the New York Cotton Exchange, sailed for Europe on the Oceanic from New York for a two months' rest, combined with a little business. Before leaving for New York he distributed $20,000 among his associates and clerks in the office of the F. W. Reynolds Company on South Water street, of which he is the head.

PUBLIC WORKS ACT DEFECTIVE

Practice of 20 Years Standing Found To Be Illegal.

PROGRESS ON RAILROAD BILL

Out of 310 Clauses 120 Have Been Considered—Senate Discusses the Chinese Immigration Bill.

Ottawa, June 3. — Mr. Sutherland today introduced a bill to amend the public works act. He explained that for the past twenty years or thereabouts it had been the practice to let without tenders any public works of less value than $5,000. This practice is founded on order in council, and the supreme court has lately pronounced it illegal. The object of the bill is to secure the authority of Parliament for this method of doing business.

Mr. Ingram was informed that the Government had no power to institute actions for violation of the alien labor act. There has been eight applications to the Government to prosecute, but these were made under a misapprehension as to its power. The number of persons deported after investigation has been 52, while 19 others have left during investigation. The amount spent in the enforcement of the act was $3,701 14, in 1900-1901, and $277 60 in 1901-1902.

When the House went into committee on the bill to appoint a railway commission, it was decided that witnesses appearing before the commission shall be paid fees on the same scale as prevails in the exchequer court. Any person giving evidence before the commission will not be excused from answering on the ground that the answer may incriminate himself; but such answer cannot be used against him in any subsequent proceedings other than in prosecution for perjury. The suggestion of the Toronto Board of Trade that any documents employed by railway companies and by employes against the company should be received without further proof of the genuineness of the signatures, was accepted.

The bill to incorporate the Erie-Ontario Power Company, the bill respecting the Canadian Northwestern Irrigation Company, the United Empire Life Insurance bill, and the Atlantic, Quebec and Western Railway bill, were each read a third time and passed.

The evening was spent in committee on Mr. Blair's railway commission bill, and when the committee rose 120 out of the 310 clauses had been considered.

The Senate this afternoon discussed the Government's Chinese immigration bill, of which Senator Templeman moved the second reading. He made a lengthy speech in favor of the bill, quoting very largely from the report of the Oriental immigration commission of two years old. He pointed out that the measure was not of a party description, and urged that it should be passed in deference to public opinion in the west.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell moved the adjournment of the debate.

THE MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

H. C. Becher, broker, Bank of Commerce Building, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Frazier & Co., today:

New York, June 4.—Renewed selling of Pennsylvania, decided weakness in Amalgamated Copper, preferred, and a lack of buying power in the market generally were the features of this morning's market. The traders at times tried to rally the market, but met with little success. In fact, after the first hour there were indications that liquidation had started up again in considerable volume. The selling of Amalgamated Copper, preferred, was mainly by Boston and by a house which is identified with inside interests. A good many stop orders were uncovered, and the buying on the decline was not of a good character. The selling of Pennsylvania was through various houses, some of it no doubt being against purchases of rights. A discouraging feature of the market is its lack of support, brokers representing big interests, such as the Gould interests, seeming indifferent to the fluctuations of such stocks as Missouri Pacific and Manitoba, of which they were large buyers at higher prices. The continuation breaking out of liquidation and the development of weak spots have naturally dampened the enthusiasts of higher prices. Sales to noon, 246,000 shares.

LOCAL MARKET.

London, Thursday, June 4.

While there was quite a number of farmers and others in attendance at the market here this forenoon, the volume of business transacted was not large. Sales were quite brisk, and prices were as a rule unchanged.

Grain—Nearly 20 loads of oats offered; sales were made mostly at 92c and 93c per cental.

Hay—Eighteen loads of hay were on the stand; the demand continues to be slow, at $9 for choice loads and from $7 to $8 50 for inferior and medium quality.

Butter and Eggs—Butter is unchanged in price; most of the crocks sold at 16c, and the pound rolls at 17c to 18c by the basket lot. Eggs are firm, at 12c to 13c per dozen by the crate and smaller lots.

Vegetables and Roots—The few loads of potatoes sold at $1 20 and $1 25 per bag; onions are scarce, at 30c per dozen; asparagus scarce, at 50c per dozen; rhubarb plentiful, at 20c per dozen; cucumbers lower in price, at 50c per dozen; cabbage, celery and tomato plants at 10c to 15c per box.

Strawberries were quite plentiful; a good rain is badly needed, however; sales were made today at 8c per box wholesale and 10c per box retail.

Poultry—The supply is fair, at 70c to 90c per pair for spring chickens, dressed, and 60c to 75c per pair alive; old hens sold at 75 to $1 per pair.

A few dressed hogs were offered, and $7 85 to $8 per 100 pounds paid for them.

Wool sold higher, nearly all of the offerings going at 16c per pound.

Butchers' Meats—The supply was moderate for this day of the week; there was no change in prices.

CHICAGO.

[By Special Wire to H. C. Becher.]

Chicago, June 3.—The market opened easier on improved weather and disappointing cables. A partial recovery followed and the market held steady, with a strong undertone, but a light trade. The weather map showed less precipitation than usual, the only serious fall being 1 32-100 inches at Springfield, Mo. The Ohio June report shows a loss of 5 points, due largely to the May drought. Our southwestern correspondents continue sending discouraging advices. Cars tomorrow, 15.

Corn—Prices broke 1c at the opening on the promise of clearing weather and the comprehensively small advance in Liverpool cables. Early offerings were quickly absorbed, and the market became very strong. Country acceptances were only moderate, even at the advance. Our cable offerings were accompanied with bids for more at full prices. Estimated for tomorrow, 320 cars.

Oats—There was some disposition to sell at the opening on improved weather and in sympathy with the other pits; the market was quiet the bulk of the session, but firm, with a little trade and no special features. The Government bulletin reports the crop suffered in the lowlands of Kansas and Ohio, but on the whole maintained condition very well. We believe in higher prices. Estimated receipts tomorrow, 105 cars.

Provisions—Market opened lower on unfavorable showing of published stocks in store, and there was free liquidation by holders all day, closing with all of yesterday's advance lost. Stocks of pork were unchanged for May. Lard, increase, 4,250; ribs, increase, 5,750,000; cut meats, 1,500,000. Estimated hogs for tomorrow, 32,000.

BASS FISHING BEGINS

Sport of the Year Commences on June 15.

The Thames is Becoming More and More Popular.

In ten more days the bass fishing will be inaugurated for the year 1903. Then will the hearts of the bait-casters be full of joy, for if there is one kind of fishermen who believe themselves above all other kinds, it is the men who delight in the capture of bass.

Owing a great deal to the energies of Col. Leys, the former member for London, in the Legislative Assembly, the River Thames is a favorite resort for the fishers of bass. The news received a few days ago that through the efforts of the member for East Middlesex, Dr. Routledge, a consignment of bass had been sent for the waters of the Thames was received with much satisfaction by the many lovers of the sport in this part of the province.

Bass fishing is not like all kinds of fishing. It is not only in streams like the Thames that the fish can be captured, but in all kinds of waters. The fishers are many and fortunately the harvest is not small. They simply tolerate the trout men, the wielders of the whipstock-rod and the fly, while others are not on earth compared with them. The bass fishermen look upon the fly-caster as a sort of idiot, who is confined to a narrow and tortuous stream, up or down which he wanders with water in his boots. The sport the trout man depends on is not so much the size or the strength of the fish as the fragility and ineffectiveness of his rod. If his rod is weak then is the fun greater, a notion that the bass fisherman cannot see through at all. ed from Italy, accompanied by

GETTING READY.

The bass man has waited longer than the rest of the fishermen and now he is going about getting ready to steal away, himself, to the waters and there lie in wait for the unwary fish. Just now one can tell him as he goes along the street. Today he says "just eleven more days," and so it is, for on the 15th of June he can go and fish to his heart's content. There is no doubt in his mind as to whether he will have luck. He happens to know exactly where he can go the first day and land a beauty. All winter he has been dreaming of the time when he could get out and cast the bait; he has been planning just where he shall first throw in his line and what his outfit this year shall consist of. These next few days the bass fisher will be getting together his outfit and as each day brings him nearer the 15th his smile increases to the never-come-off variety.

TO LAND THREE POUNDERS.

Of course there are hundreds of men who are not worried by the opening of the season because they cannot get away until the merry month of June is all over. But again there are many more men who are habitues of the bass catching who will sacrifice a day or two now and then to get away, perhaps a few miles only, some possibly several hundred miles, to where they can land a few three-pounders. If they can do this much they will come home well satisfied that they have neglected their business to steal their pleasures rather than have waited for the dull season when they might be at liberty to fish for several weeks.

One thing is certain that there are more men who enjoy bass fishing more than any other angling sport, and the fact that the close season will be over by the 15th of this month will be welcome to a great many. To those who will cast a bait for the first time this year, it may be worth while knowing that any bass under 10 inches long must be returned to the water.

MIGHT HAVE BEEN WORSE

Westminster Farmer Kicked Over the Left Eye by a Horse.

A farmer named Wm. Johnston, living at White Oak, Westminster township, had a narrow escape from being fatally kicked by a horse yesterday. Mr. Johnston had been in the city attending the funeral of a relative, and was about to start from the Western Hotel, where he had left his horse, for home, when the animal kicked him over the left eye. The blow, fortunately for Mr. Johnston, was a glancing one, otherwise the results might have been fatal. As it was, Mr. Johnston received a wound requiring five stitches. He was attended by Dr. James Wilson, and afterwards was able to drive to his home.

EVERETT-MOORE HERE

Big Cleveland Combination Visits London.

The Trip Was Not Made on Account of Local Disputes.

Messrs. H. A. Everett and E. W. Moore, of Cleveland, were in the city today attending a meeting of the street railway company directors. They arrived on the Grand Trunk at 10:30 and during the morning they took a ride to Springbank in the private car Victoria, and also visited the car barns, where they inspected one of the new cars which are to do service in the Springbank line. They leave tonight for their homes.

The visit of Messrs. Moore and Everett had no bearing whatever on the troubles existing between the railway and the city. There were other domestic matters requiring attention, or they would not have come to London today. Such was the information imparted by Manager Carr.

Ald. Judd, acting mayor, was at the city hall at the usual hour today, and he had heard nothing of a proposed meeting of the civic committee, and the street railway representatives regarding a settlement of the differences. Had any meeting been likely he would have known of it, as he is the chairman of the finance committee, which has in hand matters of that kind. Had it been the desire of the Clevelanders to arrange a meeting they would have been compelled to remain in the city for another day, as the mayor, the city solicitor and the local solicitor for the railway were in Toronto attending the meeting of a committee of the Legislature.

MAYOR BECK'S NEGLIGENCE

Not in the House When London Bills Come Up.

Result Was That It Was Put Off, Then Thrown Out.

Mayor Beck has made a stupendous record in the matter of appearing in his seat at the House in Toronto. According to carefully-collected statistics he has sat in the handsome chair the country provides its members three times during the session—perhaps four. Unfortunately, of the number of soirees, lawn parties and pink teas he has attended, which might have been interesting to those who are interested in that sort of thing, no record has been kept. Two horse shows, the races and society have proved too alluring for the honorable member for London. The other day a Londoner who happened to be at the Government buildings upon private business, met two members as they were leaving a committee room.

"Where is the member for your city?" one asked him.

"And where's your city solicitor?" inquired the other. "Don't you people in London want your affairs looked after?"

"Why, I don't know," he replied. "What's the matter?"

"Well, they're not here, and this morning a bill affecting London came up and there was no one to explain it to the committee. It had to be laid over."

The same thing happened again yesterday. This state of affairs got into the dispatches sent out from Toronto, and then the mayor woke up.

Today he managed to get away from la-de-da influences and got down to business. Hence, it happens that the committee, having gotten the information the mayor could give them, or the city engineer or the city solicitor, passer the bill they had once put off considering and had once thrown out.

This has reference to the fender amendment. The street railway people feel sore on account of the mayor's shiftlessness in this matter, as it put them to unnecessary expense. Both times they had their representatives at the House to present their side of the case. They can't do this for nothing. Apart from this, the city stood a big risk of not getting the amendment desired and thereby getting the kind of fender it thinks proper for use on the street cars in this city.

WILL BE HELD EARLIER

Annual Tournament of Quoit Club May Take Place in August.

At a recent meeting of the Forest City Quoiting Club some time was devoted to a consideration of matters relating to the annual tournament, and also to the contest for the Irish Benevolent Society's Cup. The club decided to have the tournament for the Hyman trophy at an earlier date this year—possibly in August—but the exact date will be fixed later.

It was the intention of the club to have the competition for the Irish Benevolent Cup in this city on Dominion Day, but the contest will not take place until the annual picnic of the society, owing to the decision of St. Andrew's Society to have the Caledonian games on the 1st of July.

The club extends a general invitation to the public to visit the grounds on York street, in rear of the Grand Trunk depot, any evening of the week, and particularly on Tuesday and Friday, when the regular practices are held.

INDORSE ROOSEVELT

Ohio Republicans Declare for His Reelection Next Year.

Columbus, Ohio, June 4.—The Ohio State Republican Convention in session here, today adopted a platform commending President Roosevelt's fidelity to duty, his adherence to President McKinley's policies and favoring his nomination for president in 1904.

It declares Senators Foraker and Hanna have splendidly maintained Ohio's leadership and promises Hanna support of the entire Republican party of Ohio. Governor Nash's administration is indorsed, and the extension of labor laws in every way equitable in all, particularly those designed to promote harmonious conditions and to secure for labor just recognition in the settlement of differences, is favored.

The platform says that under President McKinley and President Roosevelt, the United States foreign policy of equity to all has made the United States the peacemaker of the world, guarding weaker nations from aggression and giving the Monroe doctrine a vital force greater than ever before.

It opposes all attacks upon the policy of protective tariff.

CLEVELAND ON THE MOVE

Old Boys Secure a Good Rate for the Reunion.

A Crowd of Five Hundred Expected From That City—Will Bring Band.

Correspondence relating to the reunion of the London Old Boys in August is now beginning to reach the secretary of the home guard, Mr. J. S. Bell, by every mail. It comes from many places, and points to a big gathering of the former residents. One of the latest letters is from the secretary of the Cleveland Association, in which he says:

"All appearances point to a good showing this year. We have secured a rate from the Detroit and Cleveland Navigation Co. for $4 50 for the round trip. This includes a special boat to Detroit and a special train via the C. P. R. from Detroit to London. The tickets are good for eight days. We expect to bring the best band in the city, and a crowd of at least 500 people."

Another letter is from the manager of the Northwestern Transportation Company, Charles T. Long, asking the secretary of the local association, Mr. Bell, to notify the Old Boys residing in Northwestern Canada who contemplate coming home for the reunion, that the company intends to make a rate of single fare from Port Arthur or Fort William to Sarnia, and a charge of $8.50 for the return portion, making a round trip rate of $26, which includes all meals and berths both ways.

The recording secretary presented the report of the different circles, stating that very helpful Bible readings have been given at all circle meetings for the development of the spiritual life. The work accomplished by the various circles has been chiefly in assisting in church work, in rendering assistance to the needy, in showing a sympathetic spirit to the bereaved and sorrowing, in caring for and alleviating in some measure the pains and sufferings of the sick and afflicted; missions and missionaries have also been assisted. RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

The True Relief.

RADWAY'S READY RELIEF

For Internal and External Use.

In using medicines to stop pain we should avoid such as inflict injury on the system. Opium, Morphine, Chloroform, Ether, Cocaine and Chloral stop pain by destroying the sense of perception, the patient losing the power of feeling. This is a most destructive practice; it masks the symptoms, shut up, and, instead of removing trouble, breaks down the stomach, liver and bowels, and, if continued for a length of time, kills the nerves and produces local or general paralysis.

There is no necessity for using these uncertain agents when a positive remedy like RADWAY'S READY RELIEF will stop the most excruciating pain quicker, without entailing the least danger in either infant or adult.

It instantly stops the most excruciating pains, allays inflammation and cures congestions, whether of the Lungs, Stomach, Bowels or other glands or mucous membranes.

IT IS TRULY THE GREAT

CONQUEROR OF PAIN

and has done more good than any other remedy.

FOR SPRAINS, BRUISES, BACKACHE, PAIN IN THE CHEST OR SIDES, HEADACHE, TOOTHACHE OR ANY OTHER EXTERNAL PAIN, a few applications rubbed on by the hand act like magic, causing the pain to instantly stop.

A PAIN REMEDY.

HER EARNEST TROTH

CHAPTER XX.

"Pressed Against the Window Pane."

"What a clear, cold day it is, doctor; don't you enjoy it?"

"Well, yes, madame, it is nice walking; and these are such picturesque grounds."

"They are, indeed. That convict fellow is in luck to have them kept waiting for him by such a splendid creature as Lady Lufton."

"You don't mean to tell me, madame, that she is mad enough to contemplate giving this grand old place to such a master?"

"Indeed, I do! You see, we women do so enjoy being a little mad; I am indulging in a trifle that way myself."

"You, madame! Why, you are the most truly sensible woman I know."

The doctor smiled down upon the daintly little figure in its costly draperies of rich-tinted velvet. Madame was looking her best today, and her face was alight with an unusual excitement.

"Come, madame, tell me your madness."

They were standing on the margin of a steel-like lake, which reflected the drifting mountains of snow-white clouds, which crept stealthily before the red face of the winter sun.

"I am going to be married, doctor!"

Madame's breath came fast, and with an appealing look up into the dark, stern face above her, said, with a nervous laugh:

A blank filled Dr. Pyne's heart. What should he do without his little sympathizing friend in his lonely life? He looked at her inquiringly, and she rushed on at a white heat:

"And, what is more, you are to be my husband. Don't say you won't have me, because I know you will, when you have given the matter thought. And, what is more, you great, ill-used, lonely, fellow, you'll learn to love me, too. I mean to make you. Don't worry about it now, please; talk of something else, I am in no hurry. I have waited for you these ten years, so have served an apprenticeship to patience."

The doctor looked amused. He thought it was some of her nonsense, put on, like her prettiest bonnet, for his benefit.

"Silly little goose," he said, half sadly, "why you'd weary of your fetters in a fortnight."

"Should I?"

"Yes, and quarrel with me ever after."

"Well, you have no one to quarrel with now, and you can't think what a relief a row is sometimes."

"A doubtful blessing. Well, suppose I took you at your word, fair lady, what would you do?"

"Be grateful," said she seriously, so seriously that he lost some of his first persuasion that she was joking, and, taking her hand, continued:

"Can you tell me in all sincerity and sense of its seriousness, that you would be glad to have me for a husband?"

"Yes."

"You mean it?"

"I do."

"Do you know that I have no love to give my wife?"

"I do, but I can wait: that will come with time. I can be patient."

"Silly little soul! Why do you wish to renounce your freedom for such a doubtful bondage?"

His dark eyes watched every change in the perturbed face before him. A strange confusion disturbed the saucy, defiant little lady; she tried to hum a tune, looked across the lake, up at the sky, everywhere but into the quiet, questioning eyes above her; then she covered her flushed face with a shaking hand and tears welled through the dainty gloved fingers; her little figure shook with suppressed sobs.

A great compassion came to Dr. Pyne, a new light lit up their long years of friendship; and, stooping over her, he took the trembling hand from the shamed face, saying in a softened voice:

"Is it possible that you realy care for this soured, crabbed old bachelor?"

Madame drooped her head over his hand, saying:

"God only knows how much."

Dr. Pyne was so surprised that he could think of nothing to do but kiss the pretty face. This roused madame from her dejection; tossing back her head she said:

"Don't rub my eyes so hard, they will look so red, and I feel as if my nose resembled a cherry."

"Little vanity," said the doctor. "I must cure you of that when you are my wife."

Madame looked up swiftly, saying:

"Has the forlorn hope, which I led so gallantly, resulted in a complete surrender?"

With a courtly bow the doctor replied lightly:

"Indeed, it has, so we must decide to jog on together on life's footpath, making light of the rucks and furrows."

A new light seemed to leap into his eyes, a new dignity to have filled his carriage. It was good to feel that someone appreciated him, someone who did not disgrace him. It gave him back the self-respect he had lost in his pursuit of Bethel, and altogether he decided that madame deserved his gratitude. He held the little hand upon his arm and felt brighter for having the dainty little figure beside him.

"What would you say, doctor, if I were to tell you I have only been joking?"

He stopped in his walk and confronted the little woman with stern set face, saying in a chill tone:

"I should say, madame, that it was unworthy of your kind heart to trifle with a man already sick unto death of a mental misery. Come, there must be no more nonsense, madame; will you be my wife?"

Already repenting her foolish speech, madame gave him a coquettish look, saying:

"Well, now you put it in that light, I don't mind if I do. You see, I wanted you to ask me to complete the piece."

Madame pressed her lips to his coat-sleeve lovingly, and he said in a lighter tone:

"Then, now it's all settled, you must not tease your poor foolish old man again."

Here Brinley's approach broke up their confidential talk, and as he joined them, Dr. Pyne said:

"Is it true that we are to have quite a dinner party tonight?"

"Yes, I am glad to say we are; it is quite time Lady Lufton lightened her retirement a little; time goes apace."

"It does, indeed, said madame. "The dear girl's year of mourning is up today, and I am sure that she must be grateful, for moping is not her line of business."

"No, I believe not," said Brinley. "Lady Lufton, like the rest of her sex, loves excitement and gayety."

"Quite right, too," remarked Dr. Pyne, always loyal to his lost love. "There is nothing like a judicious amount of enjoyment to keep one young and pretty. Here comes our hostess; I fancy she needs change, she has lost much of her old high spirit."

"Ah, and with her is that sweet sonsie lassie. Miss Margery. Where are you off to?" called out madame's clear, quiet tones.

"To the village," replied Bethel. "Will you come? I want to introduce you to my poor old mother; and you, too, Dr. Pyne, for I want your opinion of her. I fear she is not so well as usual; Brinley and Margery here know her, and I am sure will join us."

"Indeed we will," said Brinley, and Margery smiled gratefully at him for his ready assent. The party set off for the pleasant walk, through budding hedgerows, to the village. They came to a pretty little cottage, and Bethel led her guests into the sleeping-room where, before a cheerful wood fire, sat the old invalid, a patient smile illumining her aged face, and giving it a placid look of quiet content and gratitude which made the old woman's face beautiful. She received her guests with simple dignity, and with honest und'sguised pride and delight in their presence. When her daughter kissed her, she whispered:

"I hope you came up street, Beth, and let the neighbors see you are not ashamed of your mother?"

Bethel smiled, and assured her that all was as she wished.

Bethel seated at her mother's feet, in a simple morning gown, was a fair picture. She seemed to cast off all worldly taint in the humble house, and to become once more pure, gentle and lovable. Brinley thought he had never seen her to such advantage, and he sighed as he wished she was always so worthy of respect and love.

A few days later the old manor house was filled with guests, and Bethel was busy providing them with amusements. Madame proposed that they should have some private theatricals, and Bethel's tastes and talents lying that way, she readily consented. The old place was the scene of merry confusion. The rehearsals were held in the library under Bethel's tuition, and very enjoyable they were. Bethel seemed to revive under the excitement and Dr. Pyne looked on approvingly, admiring little madame's sense and taste, and the never-failing merriment which made everyone her friend raised his self-esteem, which had been abashed by Bethel's refusal, so much that he felt a great pride in the love of this bright, clever, little woman. So madame, under the new aspect of affairs, bade fair to catch his heart in the rebound, for already he sought her out and derived great comfort in her society.

THE TURF.

WOODBINE RESULTS.

Toronto, June 3.—One favorite and a split favorite landed at the Woodbine today. The weather was fine and track fast. The fourth race was the event of the day, and the success of the new Kirkfield stable, belonging to the Mackenzies, sons of the street railway president, pleased the crowd. Wire In's time, 2:10½, was within three-quarters of a second of the track record, made by Bannockburn. Wire In made his own running all the way, and it seemed a long drive at the finish. In the fifth race, the Thornfield steeplechase, Buffer, ridden by Graham, fell at the pigpen and badly injured his rider, who was unconscious for some minutes, and had to be carried from the field to the clubhouse. Results:

First race, Darbar purse, $400, for 4-year-olds and upward, selling, 6 furlongs—Andrattus, 102 (M. Johnson), 8 to 5, won by a length; Caithness, 102 (J. Daly), 4 to 1, 2; Malden, 108 (J. Walsh), 3 to 1, 3. Time, 1:16½.

Second race, Lansdowne purse, $500, for 2-year-old foals in Canada, 4½ furlongs—The Globe, 115 (J. Daly), 7 to 2, won by a length; Chappell Boy, 118 (H. Wilson), 7 to 1, 2; Gold Stick, 118 (Simpson), 7 to 1, 3. Time, :58½.

Third race, Fashion purse, $500, for 3-year-old fillies, 1 mile—Birch Broom, 122 (Battiste), 6 to 5, won by 1½ lengths; Shrine, 122 (T. Walsh), 6 to 5, 2; Healing Salve, 110 (Simpson), 20 to 1, 3. Time, 1:44½.

New York, June 3. — Hermis, who was recently sold to E. R. Thomas for the reported price of $60,000, made his first appearance of the year at Gravesend today, and although beaten, ran a good race. Dublin equaled the track record by running the distance in 1:46 flat. Out of the eight starters in the Greater New York steeplechase, only three finished, the others either falling or refusing. CORRIGAN TO BE AT DETROIT.

Ed Corrigan's familiar colors, green and wide sash, which have been carried so prominently on both sides the Atlantic, will be much in evidence at Detroit, as the former master of Hawthorne has determined to send ten horses to the Grosse Point track, in charge of the veteran trainer, James Davis. Two of these, McGowan and Rave, by Riley-Miss May, by Ravelstone-Sacharissa, will, so says Mr. Corrigan, start in the International, and with the former he has strong hopes of winning this important stake. Ed Corrigan, though of Irish descent, is Canadian born, so has determined to give former associates a chance to see some of the high-class horses he lately brought from England. In consequence he will send to Detroit the flying L'Etrenne, the trusty Rose Tree, Fancy Man, winner of the $10,000 Prince Edward handicap at Manchester, England; Western Duke, Cemper Vigilans, and Artena, the last two, like Rose Tree, engaged in the Campau handicap. Andy Blakely, the well-known steeplechase rider, is also preparing to ship three horses to Detroit. George B. Havill has four destined for the same bourne, and George Robertson will start with the 3-year-olds, Annola and Dropp, and the 2-year-olds Bonnie Chance and Humming Bird, all good-looking and well-bred youngsters, which have never so far faced the flag.

PROUD OFFICIALS WERE DEFEATED

Went Down Ignominiously Before the Newspaper Team—Score 14 to 9.

However proficient city officials may be in other walks of life, it was shown plainly yesterday that baseball was not their forte. At least they allowed a team representing the newspapers of this city to defeat them, and surely that is proof positive that they're low-grade ball players. Seven innings of the warmest kind of ball were played, at the end of which the score stood 14 to 9 in favor of the typos. The last of these seven was the inning in which the printers won their game. The officials went clean to the bad then, and nine runs were scored. This is not likely to be the end of a long-standing and deep-rooted rivalry. The city team had often said that the printers would be "easy money." The latter proved themselves to be elegant ball players, individually and collectively, and that is the cause of all the heavy hearts at the city hall now. On the other hand, the winners are congratulating themselves and feeling much relieved. The officials made so many proud boasts that for some time before the match there was shakiness in the knees of the typos. Now they scorn to look upon these city hall fellows, don't cher know. The seventh inning was so convincing of superiority. And yet the justly proud printers may condescend to give the officials satisfaction if the gauntlet is thrown down again.

Three league players were among the printers' force, but any individual superiority was more than counterbalanced by the presence of Police Magistrate Love, who played the game of the day for the officials on the second point, and tried hard to help his team to win. It must be confessed that the city hall men had the game up till that time. But the point is that the pace was too strong for them, and that they could not keep it up. They had a team of old ball players all the way through, while several of the printers were practically new at the game, Messrs. Gorman and Ed Stein, for example. The game was a magnificent exhibition of ball. Some fine fielding was done and good hits made. The scoring was done chiefly on errors. The printers modestly decline to make special mention of any of their team. Mr. Thomas Gillean refereed satisfactorily. Score is as follows:

The treasures that lie at the bottom of the sea are now more easily obtainable by the invention of an instrument known as the hydroscope. This contrivance is shortly to be put into operation in order to find the lost fleet of Xerxes, which has reclined on the sea's bed undisturbed for about 2,300 years. Search is also to be made for the ship chartered by Pompey to carry Roman art treasures to Athens and wrecked in the archipelago 1,950 years ago.

CHELSEA GREEN WILL BE KEPT AS A MODEL VILLAGE

County Councilors Visit Site of Proposed New Suburb Near McClary Works.

Chelsea Green is an ideal spot for a suburb of the city of London, and one day it will be a prosperous and model village of workingmen's families. This was the general opinion of the warden and the county council, who visited the place yesterday prior to taking into consideration the erection of a bridge at the foot of Adelaide street. The council was fully attended, it having sat at 1:30 o'clock, and after a brief business session having gone in a body to Victoria Hospital.

Here Supt. Heard had the visitors divided into three companies and a thorough inspection was made. The various departments were visited, and the work explained. The utmost satisfaction with the general management of the institution was expressed by the councilors.

Conveyances took the party first to the new McClary works at the foot of William and Adelaide streets. After an inspection of this place, Mr. White, of the London Rolling Mills Company, Col. Gartshore and Mr. Alex. Stuart conducted them across the river to the site of the proposed suburbs. Contractor Dudley was found here busy with gangs of men working on the construction of sewers. The councilors were shown the plan of Chelsea, with a continuation of Adelaide street. Work was being done on this at the time. It will be opened to the Vauxhall road. There is one street to the west and two to the east, parallel with Adelaide street, and crossing these the plan provides for half a dozen streets, some of them now being laid out.

The situation is admirable. To the north and east will be the river, while the country to the back in Westminster Township is unsurpassed. The lots are nicely divided off.

COUNCILORS INTERESTED.

The county's representatives at once became interested in the project, and Mr. White and Col. Gartshore were plied with many questions. The latter explained that the whole property was in the hands of the land company, the principals of which were the men interested in the rolling mills and the McClary works. These two places would soon employ several hundred men, and accommodation would be afforded for them here. The company did not intend building houses and renting them, nor would any of the land be rented. Their object was to supply homes for the workingmen on easy terms. A man could buy one of the lots and the company would build a house for him, which he could pay in installments. Drains and sidewalks would be constructed by the company, so that the cost of these would be included in the cost of the houses. While they would dispose of the land to anyone, they would require assurance that the purchaser was going to build. Furthermore, they would provide that certain things should not be built. For instance, one thing the company had decided upon was that no liquor shall be sold in Chelsea. The council was pleased with the outlook, and the manager of the McClary Company expressed his hopes that in the near future they would see a model and prettily-kept village there.

To get to this desirable location it was readily seen a bridge is necessary in place of the footbridge now spanning the river. The proper thing, of course, would be to make this bridge a public one by having it at Adelaide street. If the county should build one here it would cost about $12,000 or $14,000, in which the companies would assist. However, it would take the place of the Vauxhall bridge, less than a mile up the river, for the latter is in a condemned state. If the Adelaide street bridge were not built a new one would soon have to be put up in place of the present Vauxhall.

After an interesting inspection of the London Rolling Mills, the party was driven around to this Vauxhall bridge, and no one disputed that it was in bad shape. To close it, it was seen, would only require for the few residents near there the opening up of three lots, so that the road to Adelaide street bridge could be reached. This is what the Westminster Township Council have already agreed to do. The trip was an instructive one, and was much enjoyed by the council, who will now be able to deal with the matter in a more intelligent manner.

CORNER-STONE PROUDFOOT MEMORIAL CHAPEL WAS LAID

Of Interest to Presbyterianism in West London.

The Ceremony Was Performed by Mrs. J. A. Carrick.

The corner-stone of the Proudfoot Memorial Chapel, at the corner of the Wharncliffe road and Alexander street, West London, was laid yesterday by Mrs. J. A. Carrick, wife of Mr. J. A. Carrick, the superintendent of the school. The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock in the presence of a company composed of residents of the neighborhood, who are interested in the work of the school, officials of St. Andrew's Church, which have the oversight of the work in West London, and the Presbyterian clergy of the city, among the latter being Rev. Dr. Johnston, Rev. W. J. Clark, Rev. J. G. Stuart, and Rev. Hector Mackay, of London Junction.

A BIT OF HISTORY.

There is an interesting bit of history in connection with the efforts which are now culminating so satisfactorily. Over forty years ago, St. Andrew's Church had a mission in West London, with Mr. Duncan Campbell, now of South London, as superintendent, and the classes were large, and there was promise of a successful future for it. A difficulty arose over the failure of the church to erect a schoolhouse, which was badly needed, and the result was that the school finally passed out of existence. For many years nothing further was done, until Rev. Dr. Proudfoot, the predecessor of Rev. W. J. Clark as pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, started a school. He conducted it for a few years, but finally turned it over to the managers of St. Andrew's Church, together with subscriptions amounting to $175 or $200, which he had received for a new building. Since that time St. Andrew's has had charge of the movement, with the success indicated by the erection of a new structure. Up to the present the school has been held in the old Hammond Hall, on the Wharncliffe road, and adjoining the St. George's Church property, but the building has been anything but satisfactory, the interior being dingy, ill-lighted and poorly-ventilated. Mr. Carrick was induced to become the superintendent, but he only consented to occupy the position on one condition—that a new school should be erected.

WILL BE OPENED FREE OF DEBT.

The school is situated on the northwest corner of the Wharncliffe road and Alexander street, and it will have a seating capacity of 400. The seats are reversible, differing from the seat in the steam railway coach in that they slide forward and backward instead of turning completely over. There are numerous other improvements over the cars now in use. The push buttons are on the side, between the windows, and every seat has an electric heater. A device to prevent the trolley pole from jumping from the wire and breaking the overhead construction work is also provided on the rear vestibule. The rope attached to the trolley pole is fastened in a circular iron case, and when worked steadily it can be drawn out of the arrangement or wound up in it by means of a spring. A sudden jerk, such as would be given the rope by the jumping of the pole, causes the rope to become fastened in the case, preventing the pole from springing up.

The school is to be of white brick, with an auditorium 27x26 feet, and two classrooms 12x13 feet each. The class-rooms are divided from the main room by sliding doors, so arranged that they can be thrown back, giving every person in the building an unobstructed view of the platform. The seating capacity will be about 200. There are now only 65 pupils on the roll. The architect in charge of the work is Mr. H. C. McBride, of McBride & Farncombe, and the contractors for the brickwork are John Hayman & Sons, and for the carpenter work L. H. Martyn.

CORNER-STONE LAID.

The devotional exercises yesterday afternoon were conducted by Rev. Hector Mackay, of London Junction, and Rev. J. G. Stuart, and they were followed by the laying of the corner-stone by Mrs. Carrick. As the stone was placed in position, Mrs. Carrick declared it well and truly laid. The ceremony was short and simple. In the stone are to be placed copies of the year books of St. Andrew's and First Presbyterian Churches, a list of the officers and teachers of the school, the names of the building committee, copies of the Presbyterian Church papers, copies of the daily papers, and a number of coins. At the conclusion of the corner-stone laying, Mrs. Carrick was presented with bouquets of roses and carnations.

SYMPATHY WITH THE MOVE.

Being the oldest resident Presbyterian minister in the city, Rev. W. J. Clark was asked to represent the denomination at the stone-laying, and in the course of a pleasant address he said all would be glad to know that the name of Rev. Dr. Proudfoot and his father were to be commemorated in this fashion. He was sorry to know that of the funds subscribed for, the school, very little had come from the members of the First Presbyterian Church, but he assured the promoters of the school that it was not from any lack of sympathy, but purely because of the heavy responsibilities which were now about to be undertaken by the erection of a large Sunday school. Presbyterians in the city were in sympathy with every step made to establish the work on a more stable footing in West London. The corner-stone laying was but a beginning with a retrospective glance. While he was not an old citizen of London, he knew that Presbyterianism had grown here, and was now strongly established, with seven congregations of various strength, and all doing a good, solid work. "None of us can promise what the future holds," said Mr. Clark. "We are posted day by day and week by week of the outlook for Canada. We are hoping that God will give it a place among the nations of the world that it never before occupied, but we pray that whatever advance it may make it will be hand-in-hand with spiritual prosperity. The strength of every Christian church in every Christian community is the strength that is found in fact and in promise among the children."

TRAINING SHOULD BE IN HOME.

Mr. Walter Bell, the chairman of the missionary committee of St. Andrew's Church, dwelt strongly on the need of teaching the children in the homes. "That is where the foundation of the future life is to be laid," he said. "If you train the children well at home, you need never fear their status in the world afterwards.' Parental reverence—talk about it as you may, but that has to be cultivated in the home. The Sabbath school is only natural. The idea of the Sabbath school in the first place was to impart instruction for the people in the slums, but it has developed into a children's church. It is a great mistake that it is so, for I think the regular church should be the church for the children as well as the men and women. It is the fashion now to send the children to Sabbath school and not to church. Many children go to Sunday school, and we are astonished afterwards that they do not turn out as well as they should, but I can assure you that the fault is not with the school, but with the head of the family. While I heartily indorse the Sabbath school I would insist on all Christian people exercising the training of the children in the home and using the school as an adjunct."

TOO MANY LEAVE IT TO CHURCH.

Ex-Mayor Rumball was also called upon, and he congratulated the committee on the steps taken. He expressed his approval of what Mr. Bell said. He was afraid that the people today pay less attention in the homes to the education of their children than they should, and if that was the case then it was all the more important that the church put forth its efforts to educate the little ones in the truth. Too many persons left the work entirely to the church.

Mr. Carrick made no secret of the fact that it was one of the happiest moments of his life, and he also made the same statement for the teachers of the school, all of whom had the work at heart. He trusted that the work would go on in such a way that God would have all the glory. If they worked along that line he said he was satisfied that in a few years they would have not only a good school in West London, but a church also. "The children of Israel traveled forty years before they came in sight of the Promised Land," he said. "The work has been going on here for that length of time, and I now feel that the promised land is in sight."

Dr. Johnston spoke briefly about the naming of the chapel, and said he had the faith that in a few years there would be a large and flourishing church to fittingly commemorate the name of the pioneers of Presbyterianism in London.

CHURCH IS TO REMAIN IN CONTROL OF CONGREGATION

St. James, Montreal, Will Not Have to Be Sold for Debt.

The London Conference Gave Nearly $7,000 to Save It.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Wingham, June 4.—The London Methodist Conference opened yesterday morning with a religious service conducted by Evangelist McD. Kerr, of Toronto. Rev. J. W. Graham, of St. James Church, Montreal, addressed the conference relative to the effort to meet the great debt on that property, which, he said, has been successful, and the church is now assured to be within the control of the congregation. The London Conference has contributed nearly $7,000 to the relief of that property.

Rev. Dr. Briggs presented the report of the book and printing establishment, Toronto. The report showed continued prosperity and the grant of $12,000 from the profits to the superannuation fund.

Dr. Briggs was followed by the editor of the Guardian, Rev. G. J. Bond, M. A. This is Mr. Bond's first appearance before the London Conference, and he made an earnest appeal for the extension of the patronage of the church paper. Owing to the increase in cost of material and wages, Mr. Bond expressed the conviction that the constituency of the Guardian must be greatly extended, or, failing that, the subscription price of the paper must be advanced. At the suggestion of Rev. Dr. Gundy, a plan for increasing the circulation of the Guardian will be submitted to the people through the district meetings and church boards.

The following named young men were recommended to conference to be received as probationers for the ministry: J. W. Baker, Fullarton; N. McDonald, Elimville; W. Roy Osborne, Windsor; Lewis Thomas, Windsor; A. B. Kellam, R. J. McCormick, B. A., J. W. Kilpatrick, Charles W. McKenzie, C. W. Coulter and H. Fowler, B. A.

William H. Coulter, formerly a minister with the Disciples, made application to be received as a probationer, and was granted standing as having traveled three years and recommended to college.

Revs. Thomas Mason, Alfred Andrews, W. Quance and Edward Kershaw were recommended to be placed on the superannuation list, at their own request.

The case of Rev. J. B. Freeman, at one time a Presbyterian minister, and now seeking admission into the Methodist ministry, was referred to a special committee for consideration.

Rev. Dr. Young read the pastoral address, which is to be read in all the churches as soon after conference as possible.

A most enthusiastic temperance meeting was held on Wednesday evening. The president was in the chair, and addresses of exceptional interest and power were given by Rev. Jasper Wilson, of Ridgetown, and Rev. J. H. Oliver, of Listowel. Besides the fine music of the choir, Revs. Millson and Moir sang two duets.

NEW CARS ARRIVE

Latest Additions to Street Railway Service Are Well Equipped.

The five new cars ordered for the street railway company for use on the Springbank line are up-to-date in every respect, and are said to compare favorably with the best cars used on the other side of the line. They are painted on the outside like the special car Victoria, with the interior finished in natural wood. The seats are covered with rattan, and the aisle, instead of running along the side, is down the center, making two rows of ten seats each, which, allowing two occupants for each, makes a seating capacity of 40.

Beautiful Young Society Woman's Letter.

St. Paul, Minn.

Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio:
Dear Sir,—

"I took Peruna last summer when I was all run down, and had a headache and backache, and no ambition for anything. I now feel as well as I ever did in all my life, and all thanks is due to your excellent Peruna."—Esss F. Healy.

The symptoms of summer catarrh are quite unlike in different cases, but the most common ones are general lassitude, played-out, tired-out, used-up, run-down feelings, combined with more or less heavy, stupid, listless, mental condition. Relish for food and the ability to digest food seems to be lost.

Skin eruptions, sallow complexion, biliousness, coated tongue, fitful, irregular sleep, help to complete the picture which is so common at this season.

Peruna so exactly meets all these conditions that the demand is so great for this remedy at this season of the year, that it is nearly impossible to supply it.

If you do not receive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.
