OLD PASTOR WAS WELCOMED

Magnificent Musical Services Characterized the Park St. Anniversary.

Large Congregations Attended Despite the Inclement Weather.

Large and appreciative audiences attended the anniversary services at the Park St. Methodist Church yesterday. In the evening the church was packed to the doors and those who attended were fortunate in hearing one of the finest services ever held in the Maple City. Rev. H. Treleven, of Toronto, occupied the pulpit on both occasions and preached two excellent sermons. Mr. Treleven was a former pastor of the church and he was warmly welcomed by his old Maple City friends.

The musical part of the services was prepared and conducted by Miss Ethel Webster, the talented and popular leader of the choir, and she deserves great credit for providing the music lovers of the city with a program of music the equal of which has not been given in Chatham for some time. In the morning the choir sang "Unfold, Ye Portals" with extra accompaniments played by Earl Sheldrick, flute; Harry Philip, clarinet, and Guy Philip, cornet. Mr. Love, tenor, a comparatively new arrival in the Maple City, sang "Faultless Open Your Windows Towards Jerusalem."

At the request of the pastor, Miss Webster curtailed the musical part of the service in the evening so that she was not able to give the complete program as advertised. This unfortunate circumstance caused considerable disappointment to many in the congregation, but the program as rendered was well above the standard and passed off in exceedingly good style.

The services opened with a Hallelujah Chorus by the choir. This is a new chorus, especially prepared for this occasion and it was exceptionally well given. At this service also Miss Webster sang "The Last Chord," with a flute obligato by Earl Sheldrick. This solo was very pleasingly rendered and was the subject of much comment. During the service, during the offertory the choir again sang the "Inflammatus, from Rossini's Stabat Mater, with the soprano obligato ably taken by Miss Webster. The selection ever given exceeded any contribution ever given by the choir and it was deeply appreciated by the artistic element of the congregation, as a change from the ordinary choir music. Miss Webster is indeed to be highly complimented upon the manner in which she sang the obligato which runs through the whole selection, giving it a finished and pleasing effect. The soprano prayer was chanted at both services. Miss Pratt, the accomplished organist, was at her post as usual and should also come in for her share of the praise for contributing to the success of the services.

Yesterday was the anniversary of the church and the services were of a very special character throughout the day. In the morning Mr. Treleven preached a very impressive sermon and in his opening remarks of gladness at being again in Park St. church he said, "Yesterday evening about a half an hour before I left for Chatham I was asked by a gentleman if I would go to the Central prison that night and preach to the prisoners. I said I was sorry, but could not as I left in a half hour for Chatham. 'Oh, well,' he said, 'it's the same thing.' I told him he would not think so if he spent as happy a three years in Chatham, as I did."

After the morning service a large number of the older members of the church met and shook hands with their former and beloved pastor. In the afternoon Mr. Treleven addressed the Sunday school scholars and bible classes in the Sunday school hall.

In the morning, taking his text from the 29th verse of the 8th chapter of the Epistle of Paul to the Romans, repeating his text, "conformed to the image of His Son," Mr. Treleven said that was the great work and purpose of the church to the young men, to make them in every respect the image of Christ. "It is the privilege of every person to conform to the image of His Son. We talk of our bodies being vile," he continued, "what makes them so? When we get them from God at birth are they vile? No! It is sin that makes them so. When a man becomes a Christian and is born again do you ever stop to think that the body is as much redeemed as the soul? The body is the temple of the Holy Ghost. To be born again is the transformation of Christian life and character, it is of divine grace, it uplifts the beggar from the gutter and makes him to inherit eternal life and happiness. Except ye be born again ye cannot see the Kingdom of God, and I say with all respect, it were better that you were not born the first time if ye are not born again. The artist takes an unshapely marble stone and develops a thing of beauty. Some one has said that the stone submits to the action, it is not so however because if the stone could submit, it could also resist, and it cannot do the latter. The marble does nothing; the artist does the whole thing.

We are not to God as the marble is to the artist. We must help or hinder God's work. We must be co-workers with Him. A good illustration of co-work with Christ is that of Dr. Abbott talking to the acorn, which says—'I will grow, become a great tree with birds nesting on my branches; I will make shelter and shade; I will make glad some fire-side; I will be a rib in a great ocean steamer; with shade the tossings of the rougher sea, and will land passengers on the other side of the ocean.' 'Will you do all this,' asks the Abbott of the acorn. 'Yes, God and I,' replies the acorn. It takes God and the acorn to make the great tree. It takes God and the husbandman to make the harvest. It takes God and the child to make the man to make the Christian. All great works are done by the co-operation of God and man. God cannot make you the image of His Son without your co-operation which means a certain amount of self-denial. A boy who has made up his mind to be a great statesman, cannot indulge in all the play and pastimes his companions do, but must sacrifice the low for the high to achieve his aim. You can be a co-worker with God by prayer. 'As He prayed He was transfigured before them.' What is prayer but the outgoing of the heart after God, but prayer must be from the heart, not from the lips, thoughts are but seeds and the harvest corresponds with the seeds. In conclusion Mr. Treleven asked the congregation if they were cherishing the ideal to be conformed to the image of His Son. It should be the uttermost ambition of their lives, and if they failed in that life indeed was a failure, as by the grace of God it should be attained. In the evening Mr. Treleven took his text from Psalm 18, and part of the 19th verse, his text reading, 'He brought me forth also into a larger place.' Beginning, he said: "It is the mind's desire for growth, enlargement, expansion. Even if an eagle is born in a cage, it will beat its wings against the sides of the cage and want freer air, purer atmosphere and more space. There is no one who is content to live all one's life and die in one place. There is no student satisfied with his present sphere of knowledge. What Christian who has tasted of the sacred grace is satisfied with the present and is not searching for greater areas of knowledge? What drove the Puritans from the shores of England? They wanted more room to think, to believe, to worship unshackled by rulers. I was talking to an old saint of 84 years the other day and I asked him how it was he was so healthy and well preserved. He replied that it pays a man to take good care of himself. Christianity condemns those things which tend to shorten life." Continuing, the reverend gentleman gave the life of the great Matthew Simpson and the power. He also spoke of the life and conversion of Gipsy Seal and his work. Continuing, he spoke of the influence of Christianity in inventions; he asked if an invention of any account was ever made outside of Christian nations. The best music, the best art, the sciences, etc., are all due to the work of Christian nations. A man makes his own circumstances. Some say if you take a good man, put him in a good house, he will be better, but they begin at the wrong place. The first place to start to make a man better is at himself. As an illustration of this he gave the life of David Preston, of Detroit. The enlarged moral judgment in man is a great help. Illustrating this he gave the story of a German who had made his fortune in grain and one night his elevators were burned with a quarter of a million of grain in them. Speculators came along next day and offered him $15,000 for the grain, as a good part of it was not much damaged. He accepted the offer and was about to sign the contract, when he overheard them say what a lot of whiskey they would make out of it. He told them he would not sell his grain for that purpose, and replied, 'I am a poor man to-day compared with yesterday, but my principals were not cursed by the grain,' and he tore up the contract. In closing he said he had good news for the people, which will mean eternal happiness to all who accept it. Will you accept the good news?

Laurier has no Tariff Policy

LAURIER HAS NO TARIFF POLICY

Tarte Has, and Has the Courage to Avow it—Hence They Couldn't Agree.

Hon. Mr. Borden Deals With the Quarrel in the Grit Party in a Speech at Montreal.

Montreal, Oct. 26.—Mr. R. L. Borden, the Conservative leader, was entertained to a complimentary luncheon on Saturday by the members of the Junior Conservative Club, on the occasion of his return from his tour in the west. The affair was attended by a large number of Conservatives, and was very enjoyable.

Mr. Borden received a very cordial reception, and in reply to the toast of his health, made a long speech, in which he told of his trip to the Northwest, which, he said, had been a great success. He also advocated a policy of protection for Canadian industries, and said the outlook for the Conservative party was bright. Mr. Borden also took occasion to refer briefly to the Tariff incident. Mr. Borden said he would not like to say much about the incident, as it was in the nature of a family quarrel. He had read the letter addressed to Mr. Tarte by Sir Wilfrid Laurier. He expressed pleasure that the Premier's health had much improved. He had opposed Sir Wilfrid in the house, but had never met with anything but courtesy from that gentleman, and wished him all good things. He drew attention to the fact that in Sir Wilfrid's letter there was no definition of the Liberal policy on the tariff. He had charged, the Liberal party with their want of policy ever since 1896, and he was glad to find the letter referred to corroborated his charges. It would seem that the criticism of Mr. Tarte is not that the minister of public works had avowed the policy of the government, but that while the government had no policy at all, Mr. Tarte had the courage to avow his own policy. The speaker recalled the manufacturers' banquet, at which Sir Wilfrid had spoken without saying anything definite on the tariff, and Mr. Fielding had also avoided the question, but Mr. Tarte had made the strongest protection speech that could be made. He doubted whether a word of the ex-minister had said during the last two months was stronger than the language used on that occasion. If it is good to dismiss him now, why was it not as well to dismiss him a year ago? If the reasons given are good now, they equally were good a year ago. Speeches were made by Mr. F. D. Monk, M. P., and others.

DROWNED HER BABY

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Mrs. Daniel Lynch, the wife of a prominent shoe merchant of this city, drowned her eight-year-old daughter in the bathroom at her home and then attempted suicide by cutting her throat to-day. Although badly wounded, it is believed the woman will recover. One of the Lynch children died a month ago, and Mrs. Lynch has been acting strangely since. There is no doubt Mrs. Lynch was insane when she took her daughter's life and attempted to take her own.

YOUNG MEN

City Ministerial Association is Prepared to Co-operate in the new Association.

At the meeting of the Ministerial Association held this morning, F. D. Laurie and W. H. Westman, representing the provisional committee of the Young Men's Association, were present and submitted the report of the proceedings of the committee.

After discussion the Ministerial Association passed the following resolutions:—

Moved by Rev. G. H. Cobbledeick, seconded by Rev. Mr. McCosh, that we recommend that a constitution be drafted by the present young men's committee, giving the nature and character of the proposed association, its lines of work, and amendments and the probable amount of money required, based on a proper estimate.

That these be submitted to this ministerial meeting for consideration, and if necessary for reference to the boards of the different churches for endorsement and appointment of permanent representatives upon the board of managers or trustees.

Also unanimously agreed—Regarding the persons to be on the board of management, while we approve of sufficient representation from the city churches we recommend the committee to be carefully considerate of the various interests involved. We mention this with the view that a just and adequate representation of the contributors and members may be secured.

ROBBERY AT THAMESVILLE.

Thamesville, Ont., Oct. 25.—The C. P. R. station at North Thamesville, was burglarized last night, and the tills broken into, but only small change, amounting to about $6, was secured.

MAN'S BAD FALL.

Niagara Falls, Ont., Oct. 25.—Wm. Teat, a G. T. R. yardman, and a son of Conductor Teat, of St. Thomas, fell from the top of a freight car in the east bound yards this morning, and striking on his head was badly injured. It is not expected that Teat's wounds will prove fatal.

DEFEATS MORLEY.

Glasgow, Oct. 25.—In the election to-day of a rector of Glasgow University, in succession to Lord Rosebery, Mr. Wyndham, the Irish secretary, defeated John Morley, the Liberal leader, by 674 to 645 votes. The result, which was rather unexpected, will doubtless be claimed as another endorsement of the Government's Education Bill and the measures adopted towards Ireland.

GUILTY OF MURDER.

Hull, N. S., Oct. 25.—The trial of George W. Cook for the killing of his wife in their home in Albertmarie, July last, by cutting her throat with a razor, was concluded Saturday afternoon and the jury, after being out an hour and a half, returned the verdict of guilty of murder.

THE CZARS TOUR.

London, Oct. 25.—According to the Copenhagen correspondent of the Daily Telegraph, the Czar of Russia, after visiting Italy, will proceed to Montenegro, Athens and probably to Constantinople. While in Italy the Czar will have an interview with the Pope.

KICKED TO DEATH.

Sharpsburg, Pa., Oct. 25.—As the result of a row at a dance held at the house of M. Sando, an Italian, Antonio Stein, lies dead at the Pittsburgh morgue, and the police are searching for Antonio Rich, an Italian from Pittsburgh, who is said to have committed the murder. Stein was killed almost instantly by a number of kicks in the stomach, and it is said by those present at the row that Rich was his assailant. At a late hour Rich had not been captured.

IMPORTANT ARREST.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 25.—The police have captured an accomplice in the plot recently unearthed at Copenhagen against Dowager Empress Marie Dagmar of Russia.

A despatch from Copenhagen, dated Oct. 4, said the Dowager Empress of Russia, who is a daughter of King Christian, of Denmark, was the object of strictest surveillance by the police, owing to what they considered to be an authentic report that several Italian anarchists were on their way to Denmark in order to assassinate her.

FELL BETWEEN CARS.

Cobourg, Ont., Oct. 25.—This morning a man giving his name as Wm. Stumps, and place of residence as Purpleville, Ont., tried to board a west-bound freight when passing Cobourg, but fell between the cars and was terribly cut. Previous to attempting to board the train, he took off nearly all his clothes. Stumps was a very large man, weighing over 250 lbs., and it was necessary to amputate both legs.

Cobourg, Ont., Oct. 25.—On Friday evening an unknown man was struck and instantly killed by a freight train two miles east of here. He was a man of about 35 years of age, and evidently did not hear the train approaching.

"ADAMZAD" AGAIN.

President Baer advances the price of coal 50c. per ton at the mines, and then, Peckniff that he is, warns the distributors to see, that the retailers are not given a chance to rob the public. This appears to be about as logical as the warming of water in which it is intended to drown kittens. Old Adamzad, "the Baer that walks like a man," puts his hand in to the people's pockets, and then poses as the people's friend. To carry out his role to a finish, Mr. Baer should issue a circular asking his superintendents not to fail to remind him to pray at bedtime for President Mitchell and the other mine leaders. He's a prince of hypocrites, alongside of whom even Peckniff fades and Adamzad is honorable and above board. — London News.

THE DECEPIT GLOBE.

It is only a few weeks ago that the Toronto Globe came out editorially in denunciation of the miscarriage of justice in the Montreal election case. At the time the Ottawa Citizen suggested that the Toronto organ might save its virtuous indignation for the Ross Government's disgraceful acts of corruption near home. When in the South Oxford election trial Judge Street indulged in some of the most scathing comments ever delivered from the bench, the Globe not only did not comment on the case, but suppressed what the judge said in the report of the trial published in its columns. The Hamilton Spectator thus twists the unfortunate old party back on its shameful sacrifice of moral principle to partisan policy: The Toronto Globe is sixty-three years old. And, although many newspapers equally as old show great vigor, and evidence a keenness of the senses which is quite youthful, the Globe is manifesting strong symptoms of growing deafness. At the South Oxford trial Judge Street felt compelled to denounce in the strongest terms the tactics of the Grit party in bringing a lot of penitentiary birds and general scoundrels to give false evidence against the respondent, that he might be unseated and disqualified. It was the culmination of a long series of the most shameful proceedings ever known in election contests. Judge Street has a good voice, and he spoke sharply; but the Globe couldn't hear what he said. The representatives of all other papers, present at the trial, heard distinctly, and were able to reproduce what Judge Street said, word for word. But the Globe's ears were unequal to the task, and those Grit gentlemen who read the Globe are without knowledge of one of the most remarkable speeches a judge ever made, brought out by the exposure of the plot of scoundrels to unseat a man by systematic perjury who had been elected by the people to represent them in the legislature. The Globe thus refers to its unfortunate hardness of hearing: "It is of the essence of our legal system that trials should be public. The decisions and comments of the judges, particularly on matters that affect the welfare of the state, should be given the widest publicity, and, as they become virtually a part of the law, accuracy in recording them is of vital importance. It is to be regretted that many of the ablest judges on the bench deliver their verbal judgments and make their comments during the progress of a case in such a low voice that they cannot be heard ten feet away. Under such circumstances it is a physical impossibility for either counsel, litigants or reporters to accurately catch words on which a great deal may depend. In such cases as election contests, where party feeling is often more bitter even than in the election contests, newspaper reporters, who are, in a sense, the agents of the public, may reasonably be relieved from the necessity

Salt Rheum

It may become chronic. It may cover the body with large, inflamed, burning, itching, scalling patches and cause intense suffering. It has been known to do so. Do not delay treatment. Thoroughly cleanse the system of the humors on which this ailment depends and prevent their return.

The medicine taken by Mrs. Ida E. Ward, Cove Point, Md., was Hood's Sarsaparilla. She writes: "I had a disagreeable itching on my arms which I concluded was salt rheum. I began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and in two days felt better. It was not long before I was cured and I have never had any skin disease since."

of inferring what is meant by an inarticulate sound."

It is most unfortunate that age has brought deafness to our esteemed contemporary, for there are many people in Ontario who would really like to see an article in the Globe, based on the judge's remarks, and the villainy which caused them.

MR. ROSS' HINT.

The Ottawa Free Press (Liberal) says: "The speech of Mr. Ross at the National Club banquet to Col. Denison—a banquet which it may be anticipated is the first step in the revival of the national party—deserves careful consideration. The moral underlying his statement that 'England has spent millions to keep an 'open door' abroad, and had lost millions in keeping an 'open door' at home is one full of force. And the fact, it is to be inferred from Mr. Ross' statement, is dawning on the Britisher. 'Anyone,' says the Premier, 'who listened to the conversations that were unofficial and unannounced in a public way, could not but feel that there was more or less uneasiness in England with regard to the trade position. . . . In some way she must find means of protecting herself from the competition which was injuring her industries.' That feeling is growing fast in free trade Britain, and as a sign of the times should be carefully heeded even in such portions of the Empire as have already taken measures having for their object the protection of local interests. To Canada the lesson has a deep meaning."

JOY WITH THE CHILDREN.

Men are so busy making money, and women are so busy making calls nowadays that the rising generation is left altogether too much to servants and school teachers, points out the St. Thomas Times. Servants are often ignorant and do more to spoil a child's temper than a school teacher, who is usually ly cultured, can correct in twice the time. Left in the care of strangers, the average child becomes pert and ill-mannered, and its parents wonder how it is that their children are so lacking in courtesy and good breeding.

By this arrangement children suffer tremendously. They lose the sweetest association that is possible for them in this life. They go out into the world with no deeply impressed picture of a home where father and mother gave daily manifestations of affection, and where the simple principles of right living were taught by precept and example. The loss of these things may not be appreciated, because unknown, but the blessings of such a home follow boy and man all the days of his life. Men labor unremittently to amass wealth, which they leave to children whom they have not taught how to use it. How much better it would be to teach them the science of right living, and their way in the world! They might not make money, but they would make homes in the true sense of the word, and from such centres would go an ever-increasing moral and spiritual force for the regeneration of the world socially, politically and industrially.

Nor is the loss to the child the only evil. What a parent loses who leaves the little ones to strangers can not be completed. There is no greater delight to a properly constituted parent than the unfolding of his child's mind. It affords a constant and pleasant pleasure to observe from day to day the expanding intelligence and growth of knowledge, which gives to the little ones a sense of power and importance. Properly

Conforming.

Foot soles are curved and soft. Shoe soles are flat and hard! Breaking in new shoes invariably means shaping the foot soles to the shoe soles, till wear moulds the insoles to the curves of the feet. The RESILIA is the only shoe which conforms to the shape of the foot sole immediately, from the first moment it is borne upon, and without any "breaking in." It does this through the compressible nature of the resilient, elastic, cushion centre-sole, which is placed between the leather insole and outsole, instead of the usual scrap filling. Observe foot sole in picture of lower shoe beneath.

Montreal Gazette.
The London hotels are now filled with English people, the Americans having nearly all returned home. London despatches to the New York papers say that the hotel keepers find a houseful of English guests much less profitable than an equal number of Americans. This is probably quite true. English people have not yet contracted the habit of spending ten times as much per day away from home as they do at home. At home an American is content to be what he is; away from home he is not unwilling to be thought a great deal bigger.

ROSS METHODS.

Toronto News.
The methods which are being resorted to on behalf of the Ross government in the trial of contested election petitions to strengthen its numerical majority in the legislature and thereby retain office, are, in an aggravated form, the same methods by which that government has retained the conduct of the affairs of the province through two elections. The chief issue in the campaign last May was upon the question of the honesty or dishonesty of the election methods of the administration. The verdict of the electors showed that the people were not fully convinced that the conduct of the government was as bad as it was painted. The ministry was returned to office with but a single desperate chance of retaining there. Coalition was suggested by the Globe as the only honorable solution of the difficult situation, and Mr. Ross was warned that he could only otherwise retain power by methods which would make the game not worth the candle. Coalition as found to be impossible, and then, and only then, the premier announced that he would fight to the end.

THE LIBERALS ARE DIVIDED

Hon. Mr. Tarte's Act has Badly Disintegrated the Party.

Laurier's Task to Save it From Shipwreck on Slight one-Tarte a Free Lance.

The Ottawa correspondent of the Detroit Tribune, independent, wires as follows:— Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 25.— Sir Wilfrid Laurier may be a sick man, and he looks it, but he is full of work and the busiest man in Ottawa these days.

Mr. Tarte's kick over the traces has stirred broadcast the seeds of party disintegration and the premier is having a hard time bringing discordant elements back into line. Tarte's organs in the province of Quebec charged Fitzpatrick, Bernier, Blair, Mulock and Fisher, to say nothing of Sifton, Cartwright and Sutherland, with personal animosity. Bernier is described as a "plug, full of gall and envy."

The effect of the revelations of strained relations in the cabinet is felt most of all in the province of Quebec, which did more than all the rest of Canada put together to turn the Conservatives out and put Laurier in power, but Ontario and the west are badly shaken up as well, and Tarte's speeches on tariff reconstruction have introduced divisions in the ranks which the premier will find it more difficult to patch up than anything he has had to tackle since he became liberal leader and prime minister of Canada.

Mr. Tarte is a powerful leader. No matter what the immediate outcome of the ministerial tangle may be, eventually Mr. Tarte must become a free lance in parliament, and freed of ministerial responsibility, a powerful leader of dissident units capable of being easily welded into an irregular political organization holding the balance of parliamentary power.

Mr. Fielding, Minister of Finance, seems to be regarded as the most promising compromise between conflicting claims for the leadership. Sir Richard Cartwright, out of the question, is a man of force, but pledged to sectional interests, which rule him out everywhere except in Manitoba and the Northwest, and he holds the favor of his constituents even in that part of the country by too uncertain a tenure to gain the confidence of the party outside these limits.

OSTRICH LOGIC.

"When I can't see danger there is no danger." That's the logic of the ostrich which hides its head and exposes its body to the hunter. There are not a few people who seem to have gone to the ostrich to learn logic.

If there are eruptions on the skin, boils, pimples, sores or other signs of impure blood, use Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery which will purify the blood and cure the eruptions which come from it.

Oct. 27.—Bert Passmore, of Chatham, spent Sunday in town. Mrs. William Bright, of Chatham, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Geo. Merritt.

TARTE A POWERFUL LEADER.

Mr. Tarte is a powerful leader. No matter what the immediate outcome of the ministerial tangle may be, eventually Mr. Tarte must become a free lance in parliament, and freed of ministerial responsibility, a powerful leader of dissident units capable of being easily welded into an irregular political organization holding the balance of parliamentary power.

BRAIN FOOD

Is of Little Benefit Unless it is Digestible.

Nearly everyone will admit that as a nation we eat too much meat and too little of vegetables and the grains. For business men, office men and clerks, and in fact, everyone engaged in sedentary or indoor occupations, grains, milk and vegetables are much more healthful.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can hardly be called a patent medicine, as they do not act on the bowels nor any particular organ, but only on the food eaten. They supply what weak stomachs lack, pepsin, diastase and by stimulating the gastric glands increase the natural secretion of hydrochloric acid.

Wm. Hickey, Raleigh, has decided to retire from active farming and his son John will take charge of the old homestead on the Middle Road next month. Mr. Hickey has purchased the handsome brick residence in Merlin, formerly owned by A. L. Wesson, and will remove to his new home in the course of a few days.

TARTE'S SYNDICATE

Ex-Minister Said to Have Secured Newspapers to Advocate His Views.

Montreal, Oct. 25.—In conversation last evening, a prominent manufacturer made the significant statement that Hon. J. I. Tarte, late minister of public works, has organized a syndicate backed by the Manufacturers' Association, for the purpose of securing control of newspapers in all parts of Canada and through them endeavor to educate the people to a high protection tariff.

HEIRESS TO $5,000,000.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Mrs. Alice Burch, 5911 Eggleston avenue has been notified that she is one of five heirs to half an estate valued at from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000.

STOWAWAY IN COFFIN.

New York, Oct. 25.—Three stowaways—Johnson, Jensen and Hensen, have landed in New York, despite the immigrant officials who were bent on shipping them back to Norway and Sweden.

Mrs. Finlayson, mother of Mrs. Daniel Ross, Victoria avenue, died very suddenly last evening. She was in good health up till Saturday night, when she complained of feeling ill. Sandy she was brighter, but at sunset she quietly passed away. Mr. Ross was away at the time attending at the bedside of his sister, Mrs. Campbell of Dover Township, who is seriously ill.

TRIAL RUN

The Maple City firemen held a trial run last Saturday evening, as an advertisement for their benefit concert which will be given in the Grand Opera House to-night. The run was made from the hall to the gas office and back to the fifth street bridge, where water was thrown. Exactly two minutes elapsed from the time the alarm was sounded until the water was thrown. This is record breaking time and the firemen are to be complimented upon it.

ARMY SCANDAL IN INDIA. London, Oct. 26.-The Army and Navy Gazette prints a sensational story, connected with a distinguished cavalry regiment that is now stationed in India. The paper says that all the officers of this regiment who were home on leave were ordered to return forthwith, and they started for India on Friday's steamer. The secret of the extraordinary affair was well kept, but it is understood that something very serious happened recently in the mess on a great guest night. The immediate result was that a number of officers were placed under arrest, so many, indeed, that the recall of all the others became necessary in order to work the regiment.

INFINGEMENT OF A TRADE-MARK

In an action in the High Court of Justice for Ontario recently tried before Chancellor Boyd, at Toronto, the Slater Shoe Co. and Chas. E. Slater, President, of Montreal, makers of the famous Slater Shoe, obtained a judgment forever restraining F. C. Wilkinson, a boot and shoe dealer from Owen Sound, from advertising, offering, exposing for sale or selling boots or shoes not made by the Slater Shoe Co. as "Slater Shoes," "Slater Goods" or "The Slater Shoe." The Chancellor also ordered Wilkinson to pay the heavy costs of the action.

It seems Wilkinson was offering for sale shoes made by a manufacturer in Montreal whose name was somewhat similar to The Slater Shoe Co. This maker came up from Montreal and gave evidence at the trial and appeared to be looking after the defence for Wilkinson, but the Chancellor after hearing the evidence decided that no one, except the Slater Shoe Co. had a right to use the name "Slater Shoes," "Slater Goods," "The Slater Shoe" or any similar names in connection with boots and shoes, and that Wilkinson had no right to use any name or name in connection with boots and shoes which might enable him to pass off a shoe not of the Company's make, as being of their make, nor in any way to reap the benefit of the reputation which the Slater Shoe has acquired throughout the Dominion of Canada.

DROWNED.

Peterboro, Ont., Oct. 25.—While duck shooting in Rice Lake this morning Samuel Courrier, a resident of Peterboro, lost his life by drowning. Courrier and Albert Talbot were shooting off Curtis' Point, Rice Lake. The premature discharge of a shot gun made a hole of about three by six inches in the canoe, which sank with the occupants. Talbot was rescued by two farmers, but Courrier sank before assistance arrived. He was a prominent local hunter and was married.

DRIVING OUT CANADA'S GAME BY DESTROYING THEIR FEEDING NESTS.

The German carp, against whom the hand of every fisherman is raised because of his displacing better fish, is accused of one more and still worse crime by O. B. Sheppard, Dominion inspector of fisheries for Ontario, to wit, that of driving out our best waterfowl by eating their eggs.

Mr. Sheppard, after his return from an inspection trip, states that the problem of getting rid of or keeping under the carp was now facing the fishery authorities on both sides of the line. From all he could learn, the carp was in Germany a fine-grained and delicate fish, but its transplanting to America with its new variety of food had caused it to slide down the scale until it was about the least desirable of our food fishes. Its chief fault was its driving away of other fish and gradually exterminating them by eating their eggs.

Latterly, however, it had been noticed that the carp were destroying the beds of wild rice, which forms the chief food of wild ducks, geese and other aquatic birds.

Upon the trip from which he was just returning, Mr. Sheppard had noticed that in Cook's Bay, Lake Simcoe, where there were formerly hundreds of acres of wild rice, there was not to be seen a spear of that plant to-day. The same was true of the Holland river, where there were at one time fifteen hundred acres of rice; now the carp have eaten it literally root, branch and seed. These places were once the very best duck grounds in the province, and now the ducks avoid them.

The carp were not introduced originally into Lake Simcoe, but were confined in the mill dam at Newmarket. The dam broke, and the carp got into Lake Simcoe through the Holland river. How to get them out or destroy them passed any man's knowledge, as they were the most tenacious of life under hard conditions, and defied the best laid traps. So far as he knew there was no carp in any of the Muskoka lakes.

As to the chances for black bass in the lakes where carp abound, he thought they were better than those of any other fish. The carp was not a fish-eater like the pike, his mouth not being so placed that he could enjoy this diversion. He was of the speck variety, and destroyed other fish tribes by eating their eggs. The black bass was well armed to fight the carp. Only eight days elapsed between the laying of bass eggs and the hatching out of the young fry, and during this critical period and while the fry were too small to get out of the way of the carp, the parent bass remained on guard and rushed bull-like at everything that threatened their progeny.

The Odor of Death. A London physician of large practice asserts that owing to his extremely sensitive sense of smell he can foretell the coming of death forty-eight hours. He says that when a patient comes within two days of death a peculiar earthy smell is emitted from the body. When the fatal disease is slow in its progress, the odor makes its appearance as much as three days beforehand, but when the disease is of the galloping kind the doctor says he receives much shorter warning. He attributes the smell to mortification, which begins within the body before life is extinct.

Dogs are thought to have this sense, for hunting hounds have been observed to begin a mournful baying a day or two before their masters died.

What becomes of all the smart children after they grow older? A husband in hand is worth two that are beyond control. When a woman has on her best clothes she wears admiration; all the rest of the time, love.

Single Beds For Real Rest. If single beds were more numerous than they are, a great many people would be better off. When one is tired, sick, cross, restless, out of sorts, he or she ought to sleep alone and not communicate by proximity the maladies that affect him. The brute creatures when sick go away by themselves till they die or get over their troubles, and this instinct a great many human beings have. Those that have it are best if indulged in it, not to the slightest degree of neglect, however. Where two children in a family must share the same room in a great many cases they would be better off to have two single beds rather than one wide double bed. We can share a great many things with those we love, but solitude clings to us from birth to death. We come into the world alone; we must go out of it alone, and we live in it alone, in a certain important sense, and to get and keep our "bearings" we must sometimes be left alone. It is good that we should be.

When YOUR COSTLY WATCH is out of order you have it regulated; you don't at once throw it aside. Why, then, when your bowels are out of order, do you treat them as useless? That is precisely what it means to take violent cathartics. They do not regulate the bowels, but take their work away from them, debilitate them, and make you more constipated than ever. You had far better throw away your good watch than treat your bowels roughly. You can get another watch, but you cannot renew your intestines. The only cure for Constipation is a gentle laxative with tonic action.

STRICTURES

CAN BE CURED WITHOUT THE KNIFE, PAIN OR LOSS OF TIME

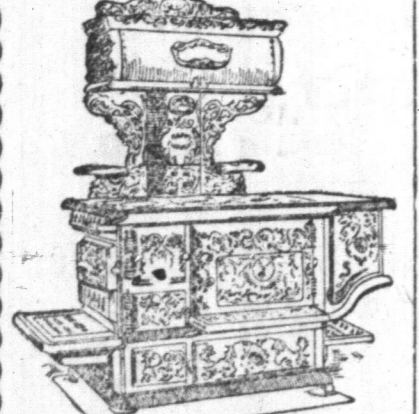

BY DR. GOLDBERG'S LATEST METHOD OF TREATMENT

According to claims made by Dr. Goldberg, Detroit's noted specialist, varicocele and strictures can be cured without pain, the use of the knife, or loss of time. Were these claims made by an irresponsible person, we should doubt their truthfulness, but as they come from a reliable source they are worthy of consideration. The treatment consists of a combination of drugs, which removes all traces of the stricture, while in varicocele, it equalizes circulation, thereby restoring the parts to their natural condition; it cures nervousness, backache, smarting sensations, and unnatural discharges, thereby strengthening the organs, thus being a guaranteed cure for weak men. If you are in need of treatment, we would advise you to write the doctor to-day, for if he accepts your case, you can pay when cured; this is certainly a fair proposition, as you need pay nothing until a complete cure has been made, and unless the doctor was certain that his latest Method Treatment was a positive cure, he could not make this offer. The doctor is a graduate of one of New York's leading medical colleges, and since his graduation has devoted his entire attention to the treatment of varicocele, stricture and skin diseases. He has taken four special courses in the New York Post Graduate Hospital for which he received special diplomas, certificates, etc., which testify to his standing and ability. Patients calling at his office are interviewed by him in person and all correspondence receives his personal attention. Address him in confidence Dr. Goldberg, 208 Woodward avenue, Detroit, Mich.

COLLISION WITH A COMET.

What Such a Catastrophe Would Mean For the Earth. Although it is exceedingly improbable that the earth may be destroyed by collision with a comet or some huge meteor, still the fact that such a contingency is possible is sufficient ground for discussion on the subject and for imagining what the result might be, says the Woman's Home Companion. The earth is moving around the sun at a velocity of eighteen miles a second, while the sun, with all its attendant planets, is being hurled on toward the great fiery constellation of Hercules at a far greater velocity. The very fact that small meteors exist proves the possibility of the existence in space of meteors of inconceivable magnitude. Even great black dead worlds may lie in our path, like breakers in the path of a ship. Fifty miles a second is not an unusual velocity for heavenly bodies, and some are known to move at a speed even in excess of a hundred miles a second, five hundred times the speed of a rifle ball. Small meteorites, which reach the earth at a velocity of from twenty to thirty miles a second, are instantly consumed by the friction generated with the atmosphere. Large meteors, however, occasionally reach the earth, escaping destruction from their size, but are found to have their surfaces fused from heat generated by the passage through the atmosphere. Although it is not probable, still it is possible, that the earth may some time encounter such a shower of small meteors, perhaps in the form of a comet, that the heat of combustion from friction with our atmosphere and the poisonous gases thereby generated might destroy all terrestrial life.

Ancient Lightning Rods.

The ancients did not have lightning rods constructed as ours are, but they had lightning conductors, which shows that they knew how to protect themselves from the danger that lies in a thunderstorm. Even so long ago as the tenth century lightning was diverted from fields by planting in them long sticks or poles, on top of which were lance heads. It is said that the Celtic soldiers used to try to make themselves safe from the stroke during a storm by lying on the ground with their naked swords planted point upward beside them. There was long ago on the shore of the Adriatic sea a stronghold known as Dunle castle, on the highest tower of which there was an iron rod that was used as a means of telling when a storm was approaching in summer. A soldier was always stationed near the rod when the sea had a threatening look, and it was his duty to frequently put the iron point of his javelin close to the rod, watching for the spark that would tell him it was time to warn the fishermen by ringing a big bell.

Their Teeth Betray Them.

There is only one feature of an actor which will give him away when disguised in a perfect makeup," remarked a young actor, "and that feature is the teeth. Let a man do what he will to his face, let him cover it with all kinds of paint, beard, whiskers and what not, but the teeth will disclose his indubitable identity directly he opens his mouth to speak a line or to emit a laugh. 'I myself, when sitting in the front of a house watching other people's performances, have frequently been puzzling myself as to the identity of a cleverly made up player, but no sooner has the said player disclosed his features than I have at once spotted him, provided, of course, he has chanced to be a man whose face I know moderately well. Strangely enough, hardly any one is aware of this curious truth, but it remains an undeniable fact all the same.'

Raising the Wind.

It seems incredible, but is nevertheless a fact, that as late as the year 1814 an old woman named Bessie Millie of Pomona, in the Orkney islands, sold favorable winds to seamen at the small price of sixpence a vessel. For many years witches were supposed to sell the wind. The Fishlanders and Laplanders made quite a trade by selling winds. The old woman, after being well paid by the credulous sailors, used to knit three magical knots. The buyer was told he would have a good gale when he untied the first knot, the second knot would bring a strong wind and the third a severe tempest.—Irish Times.

A Sand Tree of Prussia.

We are accustomed to regard sand as utterly barren, but the plants native to the coast sands of Prussia have been enumerated by naturalists, whose estimates vary from 171 to 234 varieties. Of these one of the most available is the Arundo arenaria (marram), which thrives only in sand and in the salt air of the beach. This in time serves to prepare the soil for larger plants.

Her Neighbor.

"I can't understand your dislike for Mrs. Nextdoor," said Mr. Goodart. "She seems a nice, quiet, home loving woman." "Think so?" replied his wife. "Yes. She certainly appears to be a busy little body." "You've got the 'little' in the wrong place."

Scheme That Failed. Tom (teasingly)—Would you be sorry to hear that I am going to marry Edyth? Mayne—Indeed I should. Tom—Why? Mayne—Because I really like Edyth. There are two sides to every question, and it's surprising how much there is to the other side when you hear it fairly presented.—Atholton Globe.

SHE WAS GIVEN UP.

Doctors Held Out no Hope to Mrs. Huffman of Napanee.

A Wonderful Case And One Which Goes to Show The Wonderful Advancement Recently Made in the Science of Medicine. Napanee, Ont., Oct. 26.—(Special).—This town has furnished a case which has caused considerable talk in the county. Mrs. John C. Huffman had been troubled for over six years with female weakness and kidney trouble. The pain was so great that she could not bear it, and her kidneys gave her so much bother that she could not entertain any company in her home or take any social pleasure whatever. Her urine was very much discolored and gave her great trouble in passing. In addition to these symptoms she had all the pains, headaches, and weakness of Female Trouble. Mrs. Huffman had tried her physician's treatment and many other medicines, but instead of getting better she was gradually growing worse and was very much discouraged.

Many of her friends thought she would never get better, but one day she picked up a newspaper and read an advertisement which said that Dodd's Kidney Pills would cure Female Trouble. As she had tried so many other things without being able to get any help, she was very doubtful, but concluded to try this remedy. She used six boxes and was completely cured. She is to-day sound and well, without a single symptom of her old trouble left.

She was cured nearly five years ago and is to-day as well and well a woman as there is in Napanee. She says: "I can confidently recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills to every woman in Canada for they cured me completely and mine was a very bad case. They are certainly a great medicine and I would recommend them to women who may be suffering as I was with Female Weakness and Kidney Trouble."

Women Who Wear Well.

It is astonishing how great a change a few years of married life will make in the appearance and disposition of many women. The freshness, the clarity of the complexion, the bloom from a peach which is rudely handled. The matron is only a dim shadow, a faint echo of the charming maiden. There are two reasons for this change in the general health of women. Few young women appreciate the shock to the system through the change which comes with marriage. Many neglect to deal with the unpleasant drains which are often consequent on marriage and motherhood, not understanding that this secret drain is robbing the cheek of its freshness and the form of its fairness. As surely as the general health suffers when there is derangement of the health of the delicate womanly organs, so surely when these organs are established in health the face and form at once witness the result in renewed comeliness. Half a million women and more have found health and happiness in the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

Many friends may reveal your kindness, but numerous enemies will prove your courage. There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. A great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has shown Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Pleuritic Pains Danger Signal.

Prompt treatment is essential. Bathe the region of pain immediately with Polson's Nerviline and quickly bind on a hot bandage sprinkled with Nerviline. Never known to fail. Cures almost instantly. Neuralgia, toothache, rheumatism and lumbago cured by Nerviline. Used as a restorative. Polson's Nerviline cures all pain, and is the best household liniment known. Large bottle 25c.

Rare Consideration.

Nagsby—If you don't like your job, why on earth do you cling to it with such tenacity? Wargoby—Well, you see, I have friends in the same line of work, and if I let go some of them might stumble into my place and regret it ever afterward.

A Fastidious Freak.

Manager—What is the matter with the glass waiter? Assistant—He is getting too tony. Manager—How so? Assistant—He refuses to eat anything but cut glass.

"The Morning After." Alice (flinging a roll of bills under her plate)—You were out awfully late, Arthur. Is this conscience money? Arthur (timidly from behind his newspaper)—No, my dear; hush money.—Puck.

SHE HAD HER WAY.

The Story of a Tennis Racket and a Sarcasmic Maiden. She was a demure looking girl, young and slight, and her hair hung to her forehead in babyish little rings. In her hand she held a tennis racket. Three of the strings were "sprung." She explained to the salesman in the big sporting goods house that the racket was an expensive one; large it had broken at the first trial; that the fact of its having done so had caused her much annoyance, as she had bought it for a birthday present. In conclusion she was here to return it.

The salesman noted the babyish curls, and, adopting the manner of a bored but rather good natured cat to an irresponsible kitten, he promised to have the racket restrung. "But I don't want it restrung," said the girl. "I want a new one." "Oh, but I can't give you a new one," said the clerk reprovingly. "This one has been used."

"Yes," said the girl meekly; "it has been used, and therein was my mistake. You see, I fancied I had bought a tennis racket and so described it to the recipient. He foolishly believed me and used it. Had we both known that your firm was charging $7 for paper mache souvenirs fashioned after the form of a racket, why, he would have put it upon his wall as a decoration. Yes," she continued politely; "I admit we erred in using it." And she smiled prettily.

The Rainbow.

When a ray of sunlight falls on a raindrop, it is refracted; then part of the light is reflected from the internal surface and again refracted on leaving the drop. The white sunlight is not only refracted when it enters and leaves the drop, but dispersion also takes place. The eye sees bright circles of light for each kind of light, and since sunlight is made up of different kinds of homogeneous light we get a series of circular arcs, showing the spectrum colors, the red being outside and the other colors following in the order of descending wave length. The whole constitutes a primary rainbow. A secondary bow is sometimes seen outside the first. This is formed by the light being twice reflected inside the raindrops. The less refrangible rays are on the inner side. Rainbows due to still more internal reflections are too feeble to be observed. It is possible to get a white rainbow if the sun is clouded or if there is a mixture of raindrops of very different sizes.

Lightning Precaution.

An electrical engineer declares that the center of the room is the safest place from lightning. "There is a constant tendency on the part of the electricity in the sky to reach the ground," he says. "To do this it must have a conductor. Atmospheric electricity always follows the outside of the conductor or agency that leads it to the ground. That's why the middle of the room is safest during an electrical storm. 'I know of a number of instances where a bolt of lightning followed the walls of a room, burning it on all four sides, while the people in it, being away from the walls, were only slightly shocked. That is the only safe precaution known to science.'

A State Dinner in Venice.

In 1552 the patriarch of Aquileia fed Ranuccio Farnese, the pope's nephew, in the palace on the Giudecca. The rooms were decked with extraordinary sumptuousness, cloth of gold, paintings and illuminations adding to the effect produced by the patriarch's cooks. Among the guests were twelve gentlemen in fancy marine costumes of green satin with red lining, wearing caps of the same colors and each accompanied by a lady dressed in white. This repast lasted four hours, varied by music and the professional entertainers of the day. It ended with the cutting up of certain large pies from which live birds flew out into the room. The guests strove with each other to catch these birds.

Discourteous Courtier.

Once upon a time the prime minister went to the king and complained that a certain courtier, who was very hard of hearing, had been making very uncomplimentary remarks about his sovereignty. "Your majesty should speak to him about it," said the minister, "that it may cease; but you must needs speak loud." "I will speak so loud," answered the king. "That I guarantee the offense will never be repeated."

WEANNESS.

Could we read the hearts of every man we would see what a load of sorrow and despair would be disclosed. Indiscretions and Blood Diseases have caused more physical and mental wrecks than all other causes combined. They strike at the foundation of manhood; they sap the vital forces; they undermine the system, and not only do they often disrupt the family circle, but they may even extend their poisonous taints to the next generation. If you have been a victim of early mental habits, if your mind is foggy, and if you feel that you are not getting on, if your blood has been diseased from any cause, do not risk a return later on. Our New Method Treatment will positively cure you and you need never fear any return of the disease. We will give you a guarantee bond to that effect. We would warn you severely against the promiscuous use of mercury, which does not cure blood poison but simply suppresses the symptoms.

Perfect Cure for Bronchitis. This disease can be treated only by a remedy carried to the affected parts along with the air breathed, for nature intended these organs for the passage of air alone, and sprays, atomizers and internal medicines utterly fail. But Catarrhoxone doesn't fail, for it goes wherever the air breathed goes, and its healing antiseptic vapor is sure to reach every affected part. Catarrhoxone is inhaled at the mouth and after passing through every air cell of the breathing organs is slowly exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrhoxone protects and heals the inflamed surfaces, relieves congestion, allays inflammation, and perfectly cures all bronchial affections. Price $1. Small size 25c. ### WORLD OF SPORT

FOOTBALL

DOWNED BY DARRELL.

Chatham's chances as cup winners in the Peninsular Football League dwindled decidedly on Saturday last by the defeat of the local club at the hands of the Darrell football team.

The game was a very interesting one and the interest being taken in this sport was evidenced by the large crowds of both sexes from Darrell and Chatham who witnessed the game.

Darrell came into Chatham confident of success and their confidence was not misplaced, as they won by a score of one to nil.

Chatham had the choice of goals and took the south one, by which they could kick with the wind. Darrell had the kick off and the ball was carried down in the vicinity of the Chatham goal, but it was soon returned by the efficient work of backs Courtney and Wilson.

Although the wind was against them the Darrell boys kept the ball pretty well away from their goal. Backward and forward went the ball seldom passing the strong defence line of either team, and if it did happen to it would only come to grief at the hands of either goal tender, both Sowerby and French being at themselves.

Both teams worked hard but were unable to score and when the whistle was blown for half time Chatham seemed to have a little advantage.

Ends were now changed and the advantage of the wind went to Darrell. Chatham now had the kick off and the ball was carried down the field in the direction of the Darrell goal, but soon returned and Darrell made several unsuccessful rushes on the Chatham rampart to no avail.

Then the "wicket" changed hands and it was Chatham's turn to rush their opponents goal with the result that French in goal was kept busy for some time, but assisted by his able staff of backs and half backs stood intact. "Dick" Asher, an old C. C. I. player, was much in evidence on the half back line. By the attack on the Darrell goal the Chatham defence was drawn out and when the ball was secured by centre Fisher, he was enabled to carry the ball down the field and by some swift manoeuvring the leather was secured by Jinks, the Darrell fast forward. He kicked the ball which struck the goal cross piece, rebounding to Jinks again and when Sowerby went to defend one end of the goal Jinks made a clean shot through the other corner.

Then did the Darrell rooters show up in earnest and it looked as if there were nothing but Darrell supporters on the field. Jinks was hugged and congratulated.

This seemed to bring Chatham to their senses, and the ball on the kick-off was by some speedy combination worked to the enemy's goal where it hovered for some time. Several corners occurred, but the Darrell boys seemed just as fresh as ever and beat back all onslaughts successfully. After their goal the visitors played a purely defensive game.

A foul occurred near the Darrell goal in last half, Sisson was brought up to kick it, and he made a beautiful shot, right through the goal, but as no one had touched it, it did not count. Claim was made by Capt Fetterly that it was within the twelve yard limit and was a penalty kick, but Referee McDonald, consistent of the game, and it was fifteen yards out from the goal. Two of the Darrell forwards, Abram and Jenks, suffered from cramps near the last and somewhat delayed the game. Chatham was unable to score. The local boys all played well, and especial mention should be made of the half-back line, Sissons playing a particularly brilliant and hard game. The line up of the teams was as follows:—

Darrell. Goal—Harry French. Backs—A. Pugh, Dick. Half-backs—M. Abram, Asher, M. French. Right Wing—F. Pugh, R. Abram, Centre, J. Fisher. Left Wing—Gregory, Jinks, Chatham.

THE DARRELL VIEW.

Special to The Planet. Darrell, Oct. 27.—On Saturday afternoon a very interesting football game on Tecumseh Park was witnessed by a great number of spectators. It was a league game between Chatham and Darrell. Both teams displayed great skill throughout the game, but Darrell once more proved one too many for Chatham boys. Chatham won the toss and got the wind but did not profit by their good luck. Harry French, the Darrell goal tender, deserves great praise for the skillful way in which he stopped any balls which happened to come his way. The backs, Alvin Pugh and W. Dick, made a perfect defence. The half backs, M. French, R. Asher and M. Abraham also did excellent work. Asher proved a stone wall and French and Abraham were always in the right place to take the ball and pass it on. Last but not least came the forwards. They always played a scientific game, fooling the Chatham's many traps. When Darrell scored on the last half R. Abraham kicked the ball from the corner, it hit the bar and came back. Jinks, however, always ready, shot it through the Chatham stakes. This was the only scoring done. Darrell now changed their tactics, L. Gregory, who was playing on the forward line, changed his position to half back to make the defence stronger. In this place he can't be beaten in Ontario. F. Pugh and J. Fisher were much in evidence during the last half, playing a splendid game. McDonald, secretary of the League, made an excellent referee.

FOULS.

What do we care for one? Sissons, without a doubt, played the star game of the day.

It was as hard a fight as has been seen on Tecumseh Park.

Here's hoping this is the last loss the losers of Saturday will lose.

The game started at the usual hour after the time scheduled for.

Any whom Dick Asher came in contact with were considerably jarred.

Darrell has, without a doubt, the fastest country football team in Canada.

Wallaceburg here next Saturday, and the cup is not out of our grasp, so we won't lose hope.

Some say it's the forward line that's not up to the mark, others say they were up against the real thing.

If Jinks hadn't kicked that ball at the proper time and in the proper place—but what's the use of ifs.

If that had only been a penalty kick—but there, never mind crying over spilled milk. McDonald said it wasn't.

Wm. McDonald, secretary of the league, made a first class and impartial referee. No rowdiness was evident and no disputes. Everything went along smoothly.

The Business College and Collegiate Institute football teams play this evening at 4.30. The College boys say the result will be a different one from the game a few weeks ago, when they lost.

Practises of the club have been called for Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The team for Saturday will be picked Wednesday evening for Saturday's game, and the team will practise in their places on Thursday.

The losing of Saturday's game will probably be the best thing that could possibly happen the Chatham team, as it has clearly brought them to their senses. Had the Chatham team worked in the first half as they did immediately after Darrell scored the result would have been different. The management of the club, too, has awakened, on Saturday the game was called for 3.30 and at 3 o'clock no one—not even the managers—knew who the team would be.

Several of our Merchants have arranged to have Red Rose Tea served at their stores in the cup. This is a very convenient way to test its quality, and the fact of it having been used by our future King and Queen will induce a good many to give it a trial.

Theatrical

The famous colored comedians, Pope and Brown, will be the attraction at the Grand Opera House on Wednesday evening, October 29th, in their play "A Trip to Coontown." There are few more deservedly popular comedians than these co-stars of mirth and clever specialties; their humor is that spontaneous kind and never fails to provoke hearty laughter. One of the secrets of their success is originality. Their work is surrounded by an atmosphere of newness and creativeness, that in these days of song, situation and play piracy is positively refreshing.

The man who originated the "A Trip to Coontown" company knew what he was about. From New York to San Francisco theatrical managers and the amusement public have nothing but words of praise for him. He has concentrated in one performance all the cream of concert and vaudeville talent. The piece itself is a continuous two and one-half hours' delight. There is rag time music, the soul charm of the southern plantation melodies, the utter ludicrousness of the innate negro humor, beautiful costumes, beautiful faces, beautiful voices, beautiful forms, magnetic electrical effects, a company of thirty artists, special scenery and a presentation without pretention equal to many of the most elaborate comic opera productions now given at the $1.50 theatres.
