Earl Grey to Dwell at Length on It in Speech from Throne

To Refer to Franco-Canadian Treaty and Progress on N.T.R.

Also to Taking Over of Branch Lines--Members Ready

R. L. Borden May Tender Resignation as Leader of Party

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 11.—Everything is in readiness for the opening of the second session of the eleventh parliament of Canada tomorrow afternoon with the usual pomp and ceremony.

His Excellency Earl Grey will be escorted from Rideau Hall by the usual military escort, and the gathering of the nation's notables in the senate chamber will include the lieutenant-governors of Ontario and Quebec.

The reading of the speech from the throne will be the chief item of the opening day. On Friday the first order of business will be the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

As usual there will also be a reference in the speech to the satisfactory progress of the year in the construction of the National Transcontinental Railway, which is now under contract from Moncton to Winnipeg.

Other bills. This will of course not exhaust the government programme of legislation for the session.

BIG INCREASE IN TRAVEL TO THE UNITED STATES

Emigration Said to be 30 Per Cent. Greater Than Last Year--Many From the Island

Something of an economic bearing toward the Maritime Provinces may be discoverable in the very marked increase in immigration to the United States which has been puzzling the railroad officials and the United States immigration officers for the past two months.

Until about ten days ago large numbers of the people had been turned back for want of money, and he had never encountered so many paupers in his life.

The Pacific Express on a recent night brought here 170 island passengers alone, for the Boston train, and the baggage on the Boston train included from 150 to 200 trunks each evening right along. This is wonderfully heavy fall travel.

MONTREAL, Nov. 11.—That there was neither light nor whistle on the Old Proprietor Ledge was the evidence of two witnesses at the investigation into the wreck of the Donatien line Hestia today. James McKenzie, seaman, was the first witness. He testified that the Old Proprietor Ledge light was not burning during the night of the accident.

admiralty for the beginning of the construction of a Canadian navy. In the Conservative camp all sorts of opinions are heard and the coming caucus on Friday is expected to develop a lively row.

TO OFFER RESIGNATION.

Mr. Borden is determined to adhere to the stand already taken and will offer his resignation at the caucus. What the outcome will be no one can predict. A considerable section of oppositionists are dissatisfied with Borden's leadership, yet no better man is in sight.

SIX SHIRTS SAVED SIGNORINO'S LIFE

An Argument in Favor of Plenty of Clothing Spinella Still at Large--Has Probably Gone North--The Police are After Him.

BERTH JOT, N. B., Nov. 11.—Antonio Spinella, the man wanted for attempting to murder and rob his fellow countryman, Signorino at O'Dell last Tuesday, is at large, although a body of men from around O'Dell and Plaster Rock in charge of Chief Foster and Constable Peterson are close on his track.

Signorino seems to have a remarkably strong constitution, and although his wound is serious, he will undoubtedly recover. The fact that he was wearing no less than six shirts at the time of the shooting probably aided materially in saving his life.

But No Very Serious Disturbance Has Been Recorded--May Be Only Local Storm.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—Weather reports from Kingston, Jamaica, which the weather bureau here usually receives daily have failed to come since Saturday and the officials of the service have been without information regarding what has occurred there since that time.

GRAVE SPLIT IN THE FEDERATION

Toronto Labor Convention Only Averts Crisis by Agreeing to Arbitrate.

TORONTO, Nov. 10.—There is scarcely a parallel in history to the international dissension which prevails in the ranks of the American Federation of Labor at present in connection with the United States growing out of the outpouring of state bodies and city central labor unions as a result of their having recognized the new Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

In the opinion of non-partisans in the convention it will take a year to wipe out any uprising that threatened a virility akin to permanent hostility. The vote was brought about by the determined opposition of President Tom Lewis of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, who controls more votes than any other delegate. Gompers' mastery alone has done much to cement the breach and a new atmosphere prevails.

A feature of the convention is the sentiment of opposition shown by the Canadian delegates to the Canadian Federation of Labor, a new organization not considered friendly to the A. F. of L.

if he could galvanize it into life with only a few Canadian dollars. Some of us prefer a Canadian contribution to the Imperial exchange which is what the gift of a Dreadnought would be. Some of us, the Journal for instance, would like both, and believe that Canadians who are the richest people in the world could stand both. But whatever the differences as to details, we nearly all want something all but Mr. Monk, Parliament last spring declared unanimously, even including Mr. Monk, that Canada should and would do something. Mr. Monk reports, he now says nothing. Ostensibly he opposes a Canadian navy, but every argument he uses against that applies also against a Dreadnought. He says a navy will cost too much, it will not cost as much for years as a contribution to England of a Dreadnought or two, and does any Canadian maintain that the duty of Canada towards Imperial defence will be done and finished for all time, or even for a few years, by the gift of a Dreadnought. We do not know whether the majority of the Dominion Parliament was unanimous in declaring that Canada owes a duty towards the naval defence of herself and the Empire, and that parliament in this respect voiced the heart and sentiment of self-respecting people. We do suspect that a gentleman who, like Mr. Monk, wakes up half a year later to preach to a nation which has got part him the rotten piece of the property of Canada remaining a blood-sucker on the British navy, not only blinds himself to what should constitute a self-respecting patriot but prays himself to be a mighty poor politician.

THE OCEAN "V. C." ORIENT'S FAMOUS OPEN DOOR IS A JAR, DECLARES C. A. TOWNE

A Little Medal for Meritorious Services, and Some Thrilling Tales of How it Has Been Earned.

Peace hath her victories no less renowned than war, and of the losses of brave deeds done by Britons in face of big odds far offer the same romantic reading as those done upon the seven seas. Just as there is a Victoria Cross "for valor" upon the field of battle so there is a medal—small thing in itself, but which marks out the possessor if it is as one of the real great sons of his race.

Who, for instance, could convey adequately the tense, thrilling struggle that brought this V. C. of the oceans to Captain Jarvis and Mr. A. F. Fyfe, chief engineer of the Den of Antilles. She was outward bound for Bombay.

IN DEADLY PERIL. These two men decided to risk their lives in what seemed to be a vain struggle to save the ship. They turned on the donkey pump, and as the minutes went by on heaving feet, with that dread thought of a violent death ever whispering through their minds, they flooded water into the depths of the vessel.

Not until it was pouring in torrents did they leave, and then it was only to stand by in the cutter. Heavy volumes of smoke arose from the vessel, but these two heroes of the deep could not stand mutely aside for long. Through escape was easy—and they had already by their conduct deserved the highest praise—they went back to the ship with its smouldering fire and faced the chance of being blown to fragments with the vessel, to make another endeavor to save it.

A TERRIBLE NIGHT IN THE SEA. There is the story, too, of Captain John Macmillan, Mr. Charles Bell and E. H. Comanash, who gallantly on the Titanic of the Howard line foundered from the Cape to Buenos Ayres. She was thirteen days out when she lost the tail end of her shaft and propeller and was left at the mercy of the heavy seas heaving like a log. She was drifting out of the line of vessels, tossing helplessly on a deserted ocean, and her only chance was to mend what had broken.

Now the propeller of such a boat weighs some six tons, and the task ahead of the Titanic's crew can be well imagined when it is known that she had to be lowered over the side of the vessel, fitted into exact position, and despite the sea which was in a high, fixed firmly on a new shaft. The stern was raised out of the water as much as possible by shifting weight portable articles from coal to cargo forward—a terrible undertaking, which kept the whole crew on their feet many days and nights ceaselessly.

NATIONAL HORSE SHOW IN MADISON SQUARE

Promises to be a More Popular Affair Than Ever—Brilliant Decorations.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—With the call of boots and saddles sounded by the bugler at Madison Square Gardens this morning opened the 28th annual exhibition of the National Horse Show. A special exhibition of the first class, the show this year, it is predicted will be more of a popular affair than usual. Under the new influences at work in the association in the past year changes have been made which have added to the show's attractions for the crowd.

The number of entries, 1000 or more than last year, indicates the measure of the exhibition's appeal to the horse owners. Society's part in the show will make it as usual a notable event in the world of fashion.

The Garden is decorated in unusually brilliant fashion for the show, judging from the reports of those who have seen it.

ORIENT'S FAMOUS OPEN DOOR IS A JAR, DECLARES C. A. TOWNE much time in China, Japan and Korea. Mr. Towne formerly was Representative in Congress and Senator from Minnesota and in 1900 declined the Vice Presidential nomination of the populists and silver republicans. He was a leading candidate for second place in the Democratic national ticket at the Kansas City Convention until a combination was reached the night before a nomination was made, when Mr. Adlai E. Stevenson was elected over him. In 1904 Mr. Towne moved to New York from Minnesota and in 1904 was elected to Congress on the Democratic ticket from the Fourteenth district.

Mr. Towne has paid several visits to the Orient and has prepared the following account of one of his visits when he met Prince Yi, who was Resident General of Korea. Mr. Towne declares that the famous "open door" is ajar and that in his estimation the surest guaranty of peace in the Orient depends upon the constant maintenance by the United States of an efficient fleet of war vessels, equal at all times to the fighting strength of any other of the great Powers.

On Friday night, August 2, 1907, we came to Seoul, the quaint old capital of Korea. We found ourselves in the midst of momentous events. The long drawn, pitiful tragedy of the Hiram Kinkaid had reached its catastrophe, and the steamship had been wrecked at length triumphed. Korea had become, to all intents and purposes, an integral part of the Empire of Nippon. At the very last a pathetic and consciously futile protest had registered the desperation of a proud and unwarlike people against the ruthless destruction of a nationality many centuries old and with numerous titles to the gratitude and admiration of the keepers of the world.

In spite of the peaceable character of the Koreans, the Japanese soldiers were well aware that their policies had bred a general feeling of resentment from which serious trouble might reasonably be expected upon occasion. Under these circumstances they felt no confidence that any dependence could be placed upon the fidelity of the Korean soldiers. They were accordingly taken to disband them. A proclamation was prepared by the Japanese resident general, but in the name of the Emperor of Japan, read before the troops. This proclamation, as sent out to the world through Reuters' news agency, and which accounted for the indignation and self-reliance of the Korean character have severely deteriorated during the last few centuries, likely at which the game has lowered to a trial of brute strength.

"Oh, the outrage that these young men should be lowered to the beast level is a sin against our civilization. I think it is a sin against one of the ten commandments, 'Thou shalt not kill.'"

"Murder, yes it was murder. It represents heathenism of the bloodiest type—that our boasted institutions are being violated in such a manner that their prestige may be maintained."

VIENNA, Nov. 7.—A false start, leading to the disqualification of two horses in a trotting race today in the Prater, a park on the outskirts of the city, and the victory of an outsider, caused a riot and an attack upon the judges. Cries of "Lynch them" were the signal for many thousands of the spectators to attack the judges' stands. They smashed all the windows and reduced many of the stands to matchwood. The judges made their escape, and a large body of police with drawn swords finally succeeded in restoring order. Many persons were injured and about fifty were arrested.

O BLUFF THIS TIME, TO LEAD THE REVOLT AGAINST MR. BORDEN

SAYS PEER TO STEAD "The House of Lords Will Surely Reject the Budget"

And the Radical Wanted to Know Who Would "Lead the Gadarene Swine Over the Precipice?"

LONDON, Nov. 8.—Mr. W. T. Stead prints, in the new "Review of Reviews," an interesting dialogue which he has had with "A. member of the House of Lords, exceptionally well posted on what is the prevailing mood in both political parties," the topic being "Will the Peers-commit suicide?"

The member of the House of Lords began the conversation, the following parts of which we reproduce: "We always seem to meet at times of 'crisis,'" I replied. "I see no crisis—dear Sir."

"Then I tell you," said my noble friend, "that for once you are wrong. We are in full political crisis, for the House of Lords has made up its mind to reject the Budget."

"I don't believe it," I replied. "How do you know it?" "I might agree with you, in the first place, Englishmen, and therefore, averse from forcing revolutionary issues, and in the second place, they being to the Chamber which has contrived to exist down to the present day by the extraordinary perfection with which it has developed the instinct of self-preservation."

After canvassing this view for some time the conversation proceeded: "Do they expect to win on an appeal to the country?"

"Oh, dear, no! Their agents tell them the Budget is an amazing 'popular' measure. They expect to win on an appeal to the country."

"But," I remarked, "from the Tariff Reforms point of view it must be fatal for you to predicate their cause by their claim on the Peers to reject a Budget?"

"Oh, they imagine," answered my friend, "that they are doing nothing of the kind; they are only asking that what they do is to be accepted as a concession, and not a final one."

"Ordered to Jail Because We Dared Defend Our Rights" Recites History of Famous Contempt of Court Cases

Whole Country Aroused Continues Labor Leader Liberty Throttled Greatest Convention in History of American Federation of Labor

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 8.—The Telegram says a movement is afoot among Toronto conservatives to lead a revolt against the leadership of Mr. L. Borden. One of Borden's personal friends is quoted as saying the leadership of the question of a Canadian navy was the mistake of his life.

"He has made other mistakes, but one seems to me to be fatal. Borden has got it from the position he has taken or drop the leadership."

TORONTO, Nov. 8.—Four men believed to be concerned in the robbery of Cotes' store in St. Octave, Quebec, Tuesday last, of blowing open the safe in the Intercolonial Railway office at Campbellton, N. B., Wednesday night, and the robbery of shanties along the line of the Intercolonial have been arrested and sentenced to Rimouski jail for one month for vagrancy.

TRENTON, Nov. 7.—Governor Fort has refused to sign extradition papers for Frank W. Boyer, a Connecticut millionaire, whose work was being done in this city, and which is being done by a man to the wife of a woman other than his wife, and warrants were issued in that state for the arrest of Boyer on the charge that he lived there with Emily Arline Hammond, formerly an actress. When search was made for him he had disappeared. But information received afterward was that he was living in Jersey City, and it was decided that an attempt should be made to get him back to Connecticut.

ANOVER STORE. ANDOVER, N. B., Nov. 7.—There was considerable excitement in this village this morning when it was known that the store of Marston Brothers & Gilman had been broken into and the fun coats and hats stolen. The local authorities have following several clues today, but without success. There have been a great many drunks, feasted around the village this week, and it is thought that some of them are responsible for the theft. The barn of W. W. Boyer at the boundary line was burned last night and the flames quickly spread to the barn-room and both the buildings were burned to the ground. They were insured for about $4000.

ADDRESS OF WELCOME. Addresses of welcome were delivered by the delegates, and in acknowledging them, President Gompers touched upon his labor situation in labor's history. He also attempted to explain and declear the policy of the Federation was to carry out the emancipation of workers by revolution by evolution.

COMPELS MATHEMATICALLY REFERS TO SENTENCES

"Ordered to Jail Because We Dared Defend Our Rights" Recites History of Fam- ous Contempt of Court Cases

Whole Country Aroused, Continues Labor Leader --Liberty Throttled

Greatest Convention in History of American Federation of Labor

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 8.—With bands playing and banners waving, four hundred delegates to the Federation of Labor marched to Massey Hall this morning, where they opened the greatest convention of organized labor held on the American continent.

At the head of the procession two delegates carried the United States Stars and Stripes, and as representatives of labor filed into the hall to the strains of "Mars, Lead On," they passed through an arch formed by the conjunction of the flags of the two countries.

On the floor hall desks were provided for the delegates, and when the proceedings commenced the lower gallery was crowded by the public. President Compton occupied the center of the platform in addition to the speakers, among those on the platform in addition to the leaders of the Federation were Hon. Dr. J. B. McEwen, M. L. A., the Ontario Government, Mayor Oliver, Controllers Harrison, Geary and Hockenley, Alderman Church, A. Vershire, M. L. A., P. Wm. Gilling, President Canadian Trades and Labor Congress, Stouffville, M. F. P.

Addresses of welcome were delivered by the Mayor, Dr. Reaume, and Gier-ling, and in acknowledging them, President Compton declared that the situation in Canada, he deprecated every attempt at schism, and declared the policy of the Federation was to carry out the emancipation of workers from revolution by evolution.
The prospect of a row over inclusion of the conventions of men of labor to representative delegates did not materialize, the convention accepting the report and recommendations of the credentials committee unanimously.

An interesting incident at the close of the forenoon's session was the presentation by Mrs. McEwen, of a beautiful bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Compton, in the afternoon address. Some of his remarks were: Attention of friends and foes is equally attracted to this convention. Let us have more comfort and encouragement to one; disappointment and dismay to the other.
Heretofore efforts of men of labor to arouse the people of the country to a realization of the danger which threatens our constitutional liberties will go lost in the noise of the military of the great crusades for maintenance and advancement of human rights.
"Instead of the usual historical writing being a safeguard of human liberty, as it was originally intended it has been so skillfully presented that it has been made an instrument of oppression and tyranny, and is wielded for the sole purpose of those who not only possess wealth, but are not lawfully never legally granted or intended in order to hold and keep the men of labor from masses of people in law and justice."
"The most precious heritage of a nation is its children. One of the greatest dangers to the life of the country is the life of the country is the exploitation of the helplessness child, due to patient and persistent efforts of organized labor in the great army of organized labor. The dawn of emancipation of children from workshop, where their tender bodies are stunted and labor-repely, is now clearly discernible."
"Industrial education, raising of age limit, child workers and compulsory school attendance are necessarily part of the great beneficial scheme. Organized labor has always stood for, and has been the pioneer in the demand for free schools, free text books, compulsory education in elementary grades, and for fullest and freest opportunity in all lines of learning is now included."
In conclusion, let me reaffirm my conviction that the labor movement of our country will emerge triumphantly from persecutions of those who would hamper its beneficial activities.
Our work for the uplift of humanity goes steadily on through gloom and through sunshine. We are progressing toward the day of real freedom and brotherhood for all humanity. In our labor movement lies hope and promise of the future.
The present average membership of our affiliated organizations for the year is nearly up to the highest standard in the history of the Federation.
The officers and Delegates of the The officers of our one-third of international unions affiliated to our Federation have made report of an increase over last year, and in the reports they reported a net increase of over 80,000 for the past year, while there has been a substantial increase in the membership of the local unions formed or revived, attached to the international unions or directly affiliated to the American Federation of Labor.
The reports of the thirty of the indication of the general growth.

certificates of affiliation. Of this number three were to international unions; the Operative Plumbers International Association of the United States and Canada, the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, and the International Brotherhood of Pull, Salubrious, and Paper Mill Workers of the United States and Canada; two to departments as follows: Railway Employes' Department and United Labor Trades Department; 40 to central labor unions; two to state federations, Nebraska 'and Wyoming; 53 federal labor unions; and 77 local trade unions.
I strongly recommend that every effort be made to organize the yet unorganized workers of America. We must not cease our efforts to bring every wage-earner within the beneficial fold of unionism, to cultivate the spirit of fraternity and solidarity, that we may go forward and forward to a higher, better standard of life for all.

JUDGE WRIGHT'S SENTENCE.
Referring to the sentences imposed upon the three labor leaders for contempt of court, Mr. Gompers said in part: "What are the offenses for which Mitchell, Morrison and I are sentenced to long months of imprisonment, and the ignominy of being classified as criminals? We have dared to defend our constitutional rights as men and as citizens, despite the injunction of a court which sought to invade the rights of free speech and the press secured to the Anglo-Saxon people centuries ago by Magna Charta and clinched by the adoption of the Constitution of the United States."
"And what, after all, are the grounds upon which Justice Wright held the defendants guilty of violation of the terms of the injunction? When the injunction was issued and went into effect, both temporary and permanent, we proposed to test the principles involved before the established legal tribunals. By instruction of the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor, authority from the Executive Council the name of the Buck's Store and Range Company was removed from the "We Don't Patronize" list in the American Federationist.
"Vice-President Mitchell, it was alleged, violated the injunction by allowing certain acts to be performed by the officers of the American Federation of Labor, and also that while presiding at a convention of the United Mine Workers of America, a resolution, regularly introduced by a delegate, calling upon the members of the organization not to patronize their passage upon the product of the Buck's Store and Range Company was submitted by Mr. Mitchell to the delegates for a vote.

"Secretary Morrison was charged substantially with having violated the terms of the injunction in so far as that he sent, or caused to be sent out copies of the printed official proceedings of the previous convention of the American Federation of Labor containing officers' and committee reports and resolutions of the convention relative to the Buck's Store and Range Company's injunction and copies of the American Federationist containing similar references, circulars, appeals for funds, and editorials written by me on the injunction abuse.
"The allegations charging me with violating the terms of the injunction were, that I did, or authorized, or directed to be done, these things; because, by authority of the convention and of the Executive Council I sent to our fellow-workers and friends an appeal for funds in order that we might be in a position to defend ourselves before the courts in the very injunction case involved, because in lectures and on the public platform, during the Presidential campaign I made addresses to the people giving the reasons for the vote as a citizen I was to cast at the then pending presidential election, and because I dared editorially to discuss the fundamental principles involved, not only in the injunction pending, but the entire abuse of the injunction writ.
"Age, because published in the American Federationist the order of the court to show cause why we should not be punished for contempt of court was made part of the injunction case involved, because in lectures and on the public platform, during the Presidential campaign I made ad-
sons for the vote as a citizen I was to cast at the then pending presidential
election, and because I dared editorially
to discuss the fundamental principles involved, not only in the injunc-
abuse of the injunction writ.

"I say advisedly that the whole of our country are aroused to the seriousness of the situation. They realize that this attack upon free speech and the rights of the workers is only the insidious beginning of the entire withdrawal of those rights from the whole people, and that unless we stand up to resist it, we will lose the plans of those who desire to profit by injustice and tyranny."
"The response of the masses of the people to the campaign of the American Federation of Labor for the preservation of constitutional rights shows how thoroughly our labor movement is in harmony with the spirit of liberty and the love of justice and right which makes a nation great.
"The struggle is far from ended.
Eternal vigilance ever was and always will be the price of the liberties of a people.
"Let no one doubt my great respect for the judiciary of our country; I have confidence in their integrity; I matter what their decision, still they are human beings and as such liable to error. I say this with respect not only to the three justices of the District Court of Appeals, but with reference to the judiciary generally."

SECRETARY'S REPORT.
Secretary Morrison, in presenting his annual report, said in part: To the Officers and Delegates of the the American Federation of Labor:

tion to disrupt labor unions, $270.75; junction suit, $13,339; in the fund created by the one-cent assessment levied bers of the American Federation of tempt case, $38,024.37.

MAY REVOLUTIONIZE THE PULP INDUSTRY Scheme to Make Sulphite Out of Birch Equal to That From Spruce

MR. BURTON WORKING

William E. Burton, manager of the American Dry Works, is at present actively engaged in the perfection of a scheme by which he hopes greatly to widen the ground of the pulp industry. He has been at work for some time, but until the present has not yet been able to make a complete scheme of his idea, which is that of making out of birch wood a sulphite equal to that which is obtained from spruce, the wood from which paper is now almost entirely manufactured.
So far Mr. Burton's product has been of fine quality, but has been rejected in the market. He has just sent a sample of his product to the Government, and he thinks that his efforts have now been crowned with success. He uses a machine of his own invention, which he uses at the Fleming foundry, where it was built.
The difficulty attached to the successful manufacture of birch pulp into paper pulp lies in its color, which is a dark yellow not suited to the demands of commerce. If Mr. Burton has succeeded in bleaching birch wood to the required extent he has done nothing before accomplished, and there is a fortune in it for him, as birch wood always goes up in the wake of a forest fire and large areas of the province are covered with this variety of growth.

"WINKING" Hazen Hears Com- plaints About I.R.C. IS IN MONTREAL

Declares Emmer- son Voices Sentiments of Many

MONTREAL, Que., Nov. 8.—At the Windsor Hotel this morning the spectacle might have been referred to an exchange of greetings between two provincial leaders who are usually separated by about three thousand miles, namely Premier Scott of New Brunswick, and Premier Hazen of Ontario. Both of these gentlemen are in Montreal today on provincial business. Neither of them will even as much as mention what is the subject of Premier Hazen's visit to Montreal.

"I did not hear the particulars of the affair by letter, or by word of mouth. I gathered them for my own satisfaction, and have no further information to give except to the government, representing the people of this province. I have something to give to the proper party, and that party is the government.

"If the country was fooled into spending money for months over a pure hoax, it ought to be enough interesting to bring to justice those who put it to the expense. My information will not be given out until the proper time, however. The facts as stated yesterday were correct. The children were taken on board a vessel at each of the ports taken direct to New York, and later to Boston, where they are alive and well."
"As Premier Hazen is now in Ottawa no intimation could be obtained last evening of any steps the government is likely to take in the way of following up Mr. McDonald's suggestions."

ALL EUROPE INTERESTED IN THE BRITISH BUDGET

The election which will then take place will be the most important and critical of modern times. Its importance will be no means confined to Great Britain. It is hardly too much to say that the future history of Europe is largely involved in the settlement of the question in whose hands shall rest the control of the British Empire during the critical years just ahead of us.

A Fortnight of Welcome Respite Has Been Granted—All Plans as Yet Undecided

LONDON, Nov. 8.—A fortnight of welcome respite has been granted to the British government in its struggle with the political crisis in recent British history. Both houses of Parliament will adjourn for a few days to breathe a little space before the stage of the budget controversy is reached. This is really little reason, because it is well known that the election which will then take place will be the most important and critical of modern times. Its importance will be no means confined to
to say that the future history of

GOVERNMENT PROGRAMME OF LEGISLATION NOW READY

Naval Construction Plan Means 3 Cruisers and 4 Destroyers Total Expenditure on 7 Vessels Will be Over $10,000,000 Gambling Law to be Made More Stringent --Other Bills

OTTAWA, Nov. 8.—The government programme of legislation for the coming season is now practically ready.
As has been already stated the naval defence bill will be the chief feature of this year's legislative business.
While any official announcement of details of the bill will of course be withheld until it is presented to parliament, it is understood that the government purpose a programme extending over the next three or four years, the building of three second class cruisers, probably in restricted type, and four destroyers, cruisers of the type suggested by admiralty experts. The building of the Canadian navy will cost in the neighborhood of two and a half millions each. For patrol work along the Canadian coast and for training purposes they are recommended as the best types of war vessels for Canada to start with. The destroyers are the most necessary part of any defence naval force, and the type contemplated will be in harmony with the most recent destroyers of the Imperial fleet.

The total expenditure on these first seven vessels will be between ten and twelve million dollars, and the annual maintenance is estimated at three million dollars per year. Whether or not arrangement can be made to have them all built in Canada depends on the outcome of the present negotiations for the establishment of Canadian shipbuilding plants by Britain, and called Canadian interests.
The programme is outlined as based upon the advice of experts of the British admiralty as being the best adapted to the needs of the Dominion and the situation is as viewed both from Canadian and Imperial standpoints. While it is not quite as expensive as at first suggested, it is believed that at first it will be well to go comparatively slowly in the matter of naval construction. Trained officers and men are a first necessity in a navy, and the building of warships must be, to a certain extent at least, commenced as an absolute necessity before the construction of the house early in the session.

Other chief government measures of session will include regular diagnosis of the bank act and insurance act, and amendments to the bill as left over from last session.
There will also probably be some legislation in furtherance of the government's promise in respect to the construction of Hudson Bay Railway and to amend the rules of house in order to expedite public business. A bill to amend the railway act in respect to powers of railway commission so as to define more clearly the authority of the board to regulate telegraph and telegraph companies and their connections with public as also contemplated. Some amendments to the criminal code will be introduced. It is understood that the law with respect to gambling will be more clearly defined and made stricter. In respect to this latter question, however, and in respect to any amendments to the rules of the house, it is not so much matters of a party policy as of general consensus of opinion among members.

AERIAL TORPEDO TO BAG AIRSHIPS

Austria Experimenting Now With a New Invention

VIENNA, Nov. 8.—The government is inspecting an invention of Engineer Borch which is regarded as important. It consists of a diminutive aerial torpedo, which can be discharged from an ordinary rifle. It is claimed that it is capable of bringing down the largest airship from any height up to three thousand feet. The inventor is also negotiating with Germany.

PRETTY GIRLS WIN FIGHT

SWEET-FACED WOMAN For About Fifty Years Women of England Have Been Trying to Vote

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—When you read the cable reports of Mrs. Pankhurst as leading a tremendous crowd of fifty thousand people in a wild attempt to rush the House of Commons and present a suffrage petition, or as being dragged out of a political meeting for trying to answer a speaker if he believed in woman's suffrage, or as being lugged off to jail by a squad of burly policemen, you probably think of a hard-featured Amazon—most likely with short hair and cowhide boots—don't you?

Imagine my surprise then when I found at the New York Women's University Club, where I met her, a slender little sweet-faced woman with beautiful grey hair that really crinkled the way it does in the picture, grey eyes with crinkly lights in them that were not possibly show, and a general air very much more motherly than militant.

SOME SUGGESTIONS MADE

One man wrote: "Give the $1,000,000 to poor and worthy cripples, shut-ins and blind people. There is the most pitiful life. Help to this unfortunate class will be of more real value than to endow a thousand libraries and universities."

Another suggested that the money be used to buy a few farms and markets, where the poor people could buy their supplies at first hand, while still another thought the million should be utilized to found a fund from which the worthy poor, too proud to beg, could borrow "a few hundreds" with which to go into business.

A little girl thinks that "this poor rich man" should establish some home where the unfortunate who now have to sleep in the parks could get a bed and something to eat, and a man would create a fund for the higher education of the "million's" children of working men.

WHO MR. BURKE IS

Mr. Burke, who is now 84 years of age, lives at No. 15 West Forty-seventh street. At the time he conceived the idea of giving his millions to charity, he was a man who would like to see the money used to build a summer resort for poor people in the Adirondacks and that he himself is willing to furnish the land free.

A fund for the aid of poor inventors and the erection of a building for the conduct of experiment; also the establishment of a bureau for the increase of the remuneration of women employees in the higher grades, wherein they assume responsibilities equal to those borne by men, are also suggested.

Mr. Burke at that time desired to devote his entire fortune to charity, relying only for subsistence for the remainder of his life on a clause in the deed of gift whereby the trustees were to give him enough money on which to live. Mr. Hewett dissuaded him from doing that, with the result that his benefaction was restricted to $1,000,000.

Wm. Downie, divisional superintendent of the C. P. R., who has just returned from a trip over the northern division, or which he accompanied General Manager Leonard, said yesterday that the traffic on the line would be considerably lessened this year.

WHO MR. BURKE IS

Mr. Burke, who is now 84 years of age, lives at No. 15 West Forty-seventh street. At the time he conceived the idea of giving his millions to charity, he was a man who would like to see the money used to build a summer resort for poor people in the Adirondacks and that he himself is willing to furnish the land free.

A fund for the aid of poor inventors and the erection of a building for the conduct of experiment; also the establishment of a bureau for the increase of the remuneration of women employees in the higher grades, wherein they assume responsibilities equal to those borne by men, are also suggested.

Mr. Burke at that time desired to devote his entire fortune to charity, relying only for subsistence for the remainder of his life on a clause in the deed of gift whereby the trustees were to give him enough money on which to live. Mr. Hewett dissuaded him from doing that, with the result that his benefaction was restricted to $1,000,000.

LOCAL MATTERS OF INTEREST.

SATURDAY

Despite the disagreeable weather last evening there was a large attendance at the meeting of the young people of Charlotte street United Baptist church. A Christian Endeavor Society was formed. The following officers were elected: Miss S. Fullerton, president; Miss Jennings, vice-president; G. R. Carleton, secretary; G. A. Sant, treasurer; Mrs. Michael, pianist.

Last evening the St. Stephen's Church Guild opened for the season with a musical evening. The president, Mr. George Robertson, was in the chair. The following excellent programme was carried out: Piano solo selections from Mendelssohn, by Mrs. W. O. Jones; vocal duet, "Because I Love You," by Mrs. McNeill and Jack McQuarrie; tenor solo, "I Dream of Thee," Prof. Titus; vocal quartette, the Misses Beatrice and Helen Irving and Messrs. Douglas McArthur and John Irving; vocal solo by Edward Bonnell; piano duet, Mrs. Dickie and Miss Elliott; vocal solo, violin obligato, by Miss Beatrice Irving; baritone solo by Mr. Ernest March with male chorus; violin solo, Miss Myler; vocal solo, Mr. George Benn. All the numbers were well rendered and the concert was thoroughly enjoyed.

An election ballot which is a curiosity to most St. John voters, has been received by Mr. Clarence Ward from a relative in New York City. The ballot is a sample of those used in the recent New York city election. It is printed on a sheet of paper sixteen inches long and four and one-half inches wide and presents a rather formidable appearance.

Eighteen different parties are represented on the ballot and a large number of names are listed. The ballot is not a simple matter of voting for a candidate, but is a complicated affair in which the voter may vote for any one of the candidates, or for a combination of candidates, or for a group of candidates, or for a single individual. The ballot is a masterpiece of printing and is a fine example of the art of the printer.

Mr. J. W. Montgomery, speaking to the Star today, mentioned that, contrary to the published statements, he has not sold his King street building to W. H. Thompson and Co. Mr. Montgomery says negotiations have been in progress for some little time but a hitch has occurred in the matter. He states that in the building there are furnishings and equipment which will be sold for a total of $5,000 and which he is prepared to dispose of with the building for $800, but that the prospective purchasers are not desirous of buying a building and equipment together. Mr. Montgomery says it is possible that Mr. Thompson may make another offer, but if any event there will be no transfer of the property until the first of May.

The freight business of the intercolonial will this winter be much in advance of its highest figure of former seasons, said Mr. Storey, general passenger agent of the railway, in leaving last night for Boston. Mr. Storey says that the winter season is highly satisfactory. Grain traffic will be heavy, and so will that of lumber. He is now sending cars west for the winter season. Mr. Storey demands upon them, taxing our rolling stock facilities almost to the breaking point. The first train load of grain is now on its way to St. John.

Mr. Storey goes to Boston to make freight arrangements with the Boston and Maine and Maine Central roads. He will return on Thursday evening. Mr. Storey accompanied him to a meeting of the Sussex and St. John Agricultural Society last night. It was decided to hold their exhibition in 1920 from Sept. 15 to 23. The exhibition will follow the Dominion fair at St. John.

Yesterday afternoon seventy-five ladies of German street Baptist church congregation met in the parlour of the church and presented Mrs. McArthur, wife of Rev. W. McArthur, with a costly traveling bag. In which was a purse containing $100. A costly luncheon was served, after which Mrs. D. McArthur made the presentation. Mrs. McArthur and Mrs. G. McArthur made appropriate speeches praising her appreciation of the kindness shown to her. Short speeches were also made by Mrs. D. Hutchinson, Mrs. E. C. Cook, Mrs. W. E. McIntyre, Mrs. S. D. Scott and Mrs. A. Graham. Mrs. McArthur leaves with her husband for Toronto on Thursday.

This morning at seven o'clock in Holy Trinity church, Miss Hannah Sullivan was united in marriage to Joseph Devine. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. J. Walsh. The bride was becomingly attired in a wisteria broadcloth suit and black hat. Miss Anastasia Quinn, the bridesmaid, wore a pretty gray broadcloth suit and an old rose hat. The groom wore a tuxedo and carried a sword. The bride's sister, Mrs. W. Daley, 100 City Road, gave the bride away. The couple will reside at 229 Sydney street.

Three cars on an accommodation train left the rails near Perth on Friday morning and went down an embankment. The train was going at a high rate of speed and the passengers had a narrow escape from injury. A wharves rudder shifted with great force, bringing the wheel sharply around. Captain Campbell, who was at the helm, was thrown overboard. The wrecked train returned to the city Saturday evening.

Mary Craig was yesterday afternoon taken from the jail to the Provincial Hospital for Nervous Diseases by Officer J. H. Gosselin. The Craig woman was arrested about two weeks ago, having been found by the police wandering about the streets without being able to give a satisfactory account of herself. She was charged with being a common vagrant. Magistrate Ritchie a few days ago sentenced the woman to two months in the Municipal Home. She was slightly insane when first arrested, and while in jail it was noticed that her condition was growing worse. She kept taking continually in her cell, and it was deemed advisable to send her to the asylum instead of to the Alms House.

Visitors to Rockwood Park yesterday afternoon beheld the unusual sight of a large flock of wild ducks dispersing in the middle of Lily Lake. Many sportsmen regretted that the same laws forbid the killing of game on Sunday.

Some days ago Mary Craig, a demented old woman, was arrested on the charge of vagrancy. She was committed to jail and this morning arrangements were made for her removal to the Hospital for Nervous Diseases. The old woman has been in the Municipal Home but refuses to remain there.

Miss Geraldine O'Neill, daughter of William O'Neill, 132 Paradise Row, was yesterday afternoon fatally injured after she crossed the street near the cross where she was knocked down by an express team owned by R. B. Patchell. The shaft of the wagon struck Miss O'Neill in the side, throwing her to the street. She was carried into her home but soon recovered from the shock.

The death occurred last evening at seven o'clock Mrs. Douglas Brown, Mrs. Brown was residing at her residence, 77 Portland street, in the 65th year of her age, after a lingering illness. The deceased was born on the Shelburne street in this city when about sixteen years of age. She is survived by six sons—William, of Virginia; John, of San Francisco, and Leonard, Douglas and Chester, of this city; and two daughters—Nellie and Grace. Mrs. Brown was well known here and her death will be mourned by those who knew her.

The Furness liner Shenandoah, which sails from this port today, takes as part of her cargo thirty-eight boxes of apples from this province. This consignment is addressed to A. Bowler, New Brunswick's immigration agent, who is exhibiting them at the great fruit exhibition which will open shortly in London. The apples are packed according to modern requirements although the packing had to be done hastily, as but a short notice was given the Department of Agriculture and the Shenandoah will depart for London within a fortnight. The fruit consisted of some very fine samples of New Brunswick apples of seven different varieties grown mainly in the St. John Valley, although some were raised in Charlotte County. Mr. H. Hubbard, secretary of the Department of Agriculture, is most enthusiastic with regard to the prospect of developing a market in England for New Brunswick apples.

Some thief who defies detection has been at work all during the summer season in the warehouses of the river steamer companies at Indiantown, and will continue to victimize men until caught. Just how smooth the thieving is may be gathered from the fact that they always take better, and are taken many nights in succession without being nabbed. Captain Mabey of the Sinensian said yesterday that he had taken a week at different periods of the season, and each night the thief had taken the same thing—a tub of butter. But he probably found that it would be most easily disposed of, and is the most valuable of the ordinary cargo.

So far the Washademoak route is the only one taken by the river steamer on which ice has been reported. Several recent nights have brought ice to the shores of the Sinensian, as yet considered no trouble. None of the steamers have as yet set the date for their last trip. Steamer Victoria, under the command of Captain Hargreaves of Fredericton, Capt. Howland and Capt. Winchester. Solos were run by Ensign Cavender of Amherst, Ensign Ast of Farnmouth, Ensign Urquart, Mrs. (Col.) Turner all participated in the programme, and a number of farewell speeches were made by other officers. Most of the delegates will leave for their homes today.

Capt. Noah Urquhart, of the tug G. D. Hunter, had the peculiar experience yesterday of being beaten by his own wheel. As the Hunter's engines were reversed in leaving one of the wharves the rudder shifted with great force, bringing the wheel sharply around. Captain Campbell, who was at the helm, was thrown overboard. The wrecked train returned to the city Saturday evening.

DEATHS

THURSDAY
MRS. G. W. H. MASSEY.
FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 10.—The city was shocked this morning when the sad news went forth that Mrs. Massey, wife of G. W. H. Massey, the popular manager of the Bank of Montreal here, had passed away at Victoria Hospital. Mrs. Massey had been ill but a short time and for the past week had been attended regularly by her physician. Yesterday afternoon she drove to the hospital in a coter and there underwent an operation at the hands of Dr. Atherton, assisted by Dr. Bridges, the family doctor. The operation took four hours and the cause of the trouble was removed. It was a bone that had lodged in the intestines and effected a stoppage. It was thought that Mrs. Massey was a strong healthy person recovery was but a matter of time. The cause, however, never rallied and ceased peacefully away at eight o'clock this morning. Her death comes as a great blow in this city where she had cutting her short residence here made many dear friends. Mrs. Massey was the widow of a true mother, wife and friend and a devoted friend to all in need of sympathy. Her husband leaves three daughters and a son, Mrs. Massey was a sister, Miss Birrell, who resided with Mrs. Massey.

severe gash. Dr. W. F. Roberts, who attended him, found it necessary to take six stitches in the forehead wound.

At the annual reunion of St. John's (Stone) Church congregation last evening a musical programme was carried out and there was an address by the rector, Rev. G. A. Kahring. The following is the musical programme: Piano duet, Messrs. A. Gray Burnham and D. Arnold Fox; solo, Mr. A. G. Burnham, Jr.; solo, Mrs. J. C. Arland; solo, Mr. Hugh Cannell; solo, Mr. Fred McKean. Refreshments were served. Mrs. George Kimball and Mr. J. H. Frink, who presided at the table, were assisted by the younger members of the congregation.

Considerable damage resulted from a fire in a barn on Main street last evening. Two alarms were rung in the department responded quickly, but it was nearly an hour before the blaze was subdued. The property is owned by Michael Murphy and the loss is $400. The origin of the blaze is a mystery as Mr. Murphy's sons were in a barn a brief time before the fire was discovered.

It is hoped that the train shed of the Union station will soon be lighted throughout with the new style of arc lights which received a test in the station a short time ago. The new light is very powerful and is expected to be installed throughout the shed until the old style lamps are exhausted and during this time gave excellent satisfaction. The terminal agent has recommended that the system be installed throughout the shed and figures that four of this style would give better light than fifteen of the kind now in use.

BUDGET PASSES ITS FIRST READING WITHOUT COMMENT

LONDON, Nov. 10.—There was a dramatic moment in the House of Lords this evening when the budget bill, which carries such important provisions, was passed to its first reading without comment of any kind. When the Government leader arose to make the necessary motion there was a hush of expectation. His motion was made in the most perfunctory manner, and when he resumed his seat no one claimed the privilege of speaking. After a slight pause the Lord Chancellor formally put the motion to the House and there was an expectant hush of the spectators as the word was uttered. The entire attitude of the Lords was that of external indifference to the much discussed measure. Quietly the bill was read and the House proceeded with its ordinary routine. Those who witnessed tonight's proceedings realized that a far different scene will take place on a fortnight hence when the measure comes up for the second time.

HAYWOOD HERE TALKS LABOR AND SOCIALISM

His Murder Trial a Conspiracy—Capital and Labor in Opposition—Socialism the Solution

W. D. Haywood, whose name became famous throughout the continent a couple of years ago as the time of his trial for participation in the murder of the Governor of Colorado, arrived in the city yesterday. He is touring Canada in the interest of unionism and socialism, and will deliver an address on these subjects in the evening at the Westers' Hall. He is convinced that a majority of the members of the trade-unions are Socialists. As a reason for this he says "I believe the interests of capital and labor are diametrically opposed and the only solution of the present problems will be found in the ownership and control of the means of wealth production by the producing classes alone."

Speaking of the labor situation in the Maritime Provinces, Mr. Haywood said that he believed that the miners in these provinces should be affiliated with the "I. M. W."—The interests of the laboring men on both sides of the border," he said, "are identical. Capitalists do not recognize political divisions and the laboring men do not gain strength but only for industrial but for political purposes."

Mr. Haywood is an advocate of peaceful measures both in politics and in labor movements and said that one of the most striking features of the report was the decrease in the death rate in the city. This decrease, although not very marked, is taken as indicative that during the past year the health of the people of St. John has been better than it was during the year previous. That section of the report which dealt with infectious diseases stated that the number of cases had fallen considerably. This section dealt with both city and country.

Other sections of the report dealt chiefly with statistics concerning inspectors' reports and other matters of routine. The most important suggestion made in the report was that, referring to the inspection of dairy herds, it was suggested that the provision for the inspection of herds from which the city's milk supply is drawn beput into force. At present there is a law giving the provincial government power to have its inspectors investigate and report upon the condition of the cattle used to supply milk, but not much has been done toward having such inspections made. The local Board of Health being of the opinion that the milk supply of the city could be improved by the consideration of herds from which it is drawn were improved, are now urging that the law be enforced.

Among the other business before the board were complaints concerning a well on Mount Pleasant near Reed's Castle. Some residents of the locality are complaining that water from the well is not fit for use, and that others are the opposite opinion. Members of the Board of Health will make a personal inspection of the well today for the purpose of arriving at some conclusion concerning the matter.

Several persons who were warned to have modern sanitary appliances installed their dwellings, appeared before the board and asked for a postponement of the time given them to make the required alterations. The extension was granted.

SHOOTING COMPATRIOT WHEN MONEY ISN'T PAID OVER

Victim of the Shooting Affray in Victoria County Not Seriously Wounded—Woods Scoured for His Assailant PEARTH JUNCTION, N. B., Nov. 10.

Up until nine o'clock tonight there have been few news developments in Victoria County's feud shooting, and Spinnella, the would-be murderer, is still at large.

Signorino, the wounded man, has had his wounds dressed, and returned to Plaster Rock tonight with Chief of Police Foster in order to identify the assailant who he is captured.

Chief Foster passed through here this evening, and he will make a systematic search of the woods surrounding Plaster Rock tonight. His baggage arrived here today and should be attempted to take it to the C. P. R. authorities have orders to turn him over to justice.

Signorino says that when Spinnella fired the first shot, he fell and it was his right side. He does not seem to be suffering any pain and made a hearty meal of bread and pickles in the evening. Spinnella, he claims, endeavored to take his money, but when he fell he thinks he became frightened and fled. Mr. Wright, who was assisting in the search by Dan Wright, Mr. Boyd, and a number of others.

Yesterday morning as Daniel Wright and Mr. Boyd, who were passing, were walking the right of way, they noticed two Italians walking along not far ahead of them. They came to a spur and the two Italians turned off to the spur road. Mr. Wright and Mr. Boyd were road toward the spur to what is known as the Two Mile Brook. Here they had occasion to stop. While standing there they heard four shots and then very loud talk in Italian language. Suspecting the two had killed some one, they paid no further attention but returned to Mr. Wright's house.

About ten o'clock one of the Italians whom Wright had seen earlier in the morning, came to his house and inquired what time the train left. He was however, loquacious and said he would go over to a nearby store and sat down. But before the train came, however, the wounded Italian was seen coming up the road toward the village. As soon as Spinnella caught sight of him he jumped up and ran with all his speed for the woods, where he disappeared.

When Signorino came up it was found that he could sneak out to a English, but he said that Spinnella had told him to give up his money and when he refused he was shot. A crowd of men gathered around and examined the wounded man, and then made a search of the woods.

Board of Health Holds Annual Session—Board Recommends Enforcement of Law Pertaining to Inspection of Milk

There was a full attendance at the annual meeting of the Board of Health which was held yesterday afternoon at the board rooms, Ritchie Building. The hearing of the annual report, which is to be forwarded to the Provincial Board of Health, occupied the greater part of the session. Some routine business was dealt with, however. DURANT GETS THE CHARLOTTE ST. SITE

Vote Stood 7 to 6 In Favor Took Two Sessions of General Committee and Six Hours Discussion to Come to Decision.
After a lengthy debate lasting several hours, the general committee of the Common Council adopted the draft agreement with F. C. Durant in slightly amended form. The final vote recommending the granting of a Lower Cove site, stood seven to six in favor of the site. Mr. Ald. Kelley and Ald. Prink were especially prominent in opposing the site, not in the least desiring to pass with the suggested site. Two sessions were held on the matter, and the vote went before the council on Friday.

The meeting proceeded with the discussion of the agreement. Ald. Prink strongly condemned the action of the council in giving entire possession of such valuable site to a corporation. He favored purchasing a site in other part of the city for the location of the refinery.

Mr. Taylor stated that Mr. Durant desired an emphatic answer from the council whether they would grant him the site or not.

Ald. Kelley thought that Mr. Durant could secure a sufficient water supply from the harbor. He also thought the refinery should be taxed $30,000 if the school tax stand.

Ald. Kelley in amendment moved that the school tax be $30,000. The amendment was lost and Ald. Baxter's motion was carried.

The committee likewise took up a variety of other business.

At the night session the meeting again proceeded to discuss the draft agreement, and the result was a tie between Ald. Kelley and Lewis.

The vote which adopted the draft stood—

Ald. Lewis, Likely, Codner, Hay Vanwart, Belyea, Baxter.
Ald. Prink, Christie, Wilson, Scull Ald. Potts, Eldin, McGoldrick and Ald. Holder were not present when the final vote was taken.
