INTENSITY OF BATTLE CONTINUES

Undiminished Severity Still Marks Fighting Between Montdidier and Noyon

Direct Fire of French Artillery Covers the Field With Teuton Dead

AN EPIC STRUGGLE

By Courier Leased Wire With the French Army in France, Monday, June 10.—(By the Associated Press) Undiminished severity marks the fighting between Montdidier and Noyon. The situation tonight is rather satisfactory for the Allies, whose obstinate resistance and frequent counter attacks have caused great consternation to the Germans.

An epic struggle occurred in the vicinity of Plémost, where the small garrison of dismounted cavalrymen possibly may still hold out. French soldiers who managed to get through the German lines late yesterday declared that before the day the Germans had delivered terrific assaults all of which have been repulsed with heavy losses for the enemy.

Several small villages near Mery, Belloy and St. Maurice changed ownership a number of times, but this evening were in German hands. At no moment, it is possible to say positively that this or that place is occupied by the enemy or the Allies, such is the terrific nature of the conflict. Ebbs and flows occur everywhere. On the Belloy plateau fighting went on continuously for several hours, man tackling man in single combats. The artillery is engaged more actively than in any battle in a long while. The Germans have been able to bring forward field guns in considerable numbers. Also in the evening the American troops pushing forward towards Bussieres and Torcy and continuing to clear up Belleau wood from local opposition advanced their line for more than a mile.

"Finally towards six o'clock in the evening, some of our troops penetrated into Boursches. "The American Infantry showed itself very skillful in manoeuvring. The courage of the officers and men bordered on temerity. One lieutenant, hindered in his advance by a machine gun threw himself almost alone into the woods where it was and after having killed its crew, returned with the gun over his shoulder. "The courage of the combatant troops was equalled only by the magnificent coolness of certain of their ambulance men, who, amidst a hail of bullets gave first aid to the wounded before carrying them to field dressing stations.

FRENCH RE-ESTABLISH LINES TEMPORARILY BROKEN BY TEUTONS

By Brilliant Counter Attack Hurlled Back Enemy Forces Along Front About Aronde River -- Fresh Divisions of Troops Hurlled Into Fray By Germans

By Courier Leased Wire. PARIS, June 11.—The German drive between Montdidier and Noyon continued unremittingly last night says to-day's official report. On their left the French offered effective resistance. They recaptured the village of Mery.

The principal German effort was directed against the centre. Attacking with heavy forces the enemy drove back the French as far as the region of the Aronde River, but by a brilliant counter attack the French hurled back the enemy all along this front and reestablished their lines south of Belloy, at St. Haur, south of Marquignies and at Vandebour.

On their right the French engaged in violent combats with large forces concentrated by the enemy who was able to gain ground. The French withdrew their line to the west and south of Ribecourt.

SUPREME FOE EFFORT

PARIS, June 11.—All the advices from the battle front show that the enemy is putting forth every possible effort in his design to push toward Paris, throwing division after division into the melting pot. So far he has succeeded, in two days of fighting, in carrying forward his line at the maximum point of advance, at Vignemont, a distance of six miles. In this he has been materially aided by a considerable number of tanks which the French artillery was at first unable to demolish.

POINT OF WEDGE WIDENING

The enemy further succeeded in widening the point of his wedge by bringing up two divisions of the guards, and two Bavarian divisions, borrowed from the army group of Crown Prince Ruppracht. These troops captured the villages of Mery, St. Maur and Belloy, giving him a plateau behind which he can mass troops partially screened from observation by the French.

If the danger to the French is in losing ground that is valuable as room in which to manoeuvre, the German peril lies in the human wastage that is in progress. The German army as a whole has been engaged for the past three months with slight facilities for renewal. The balance seems to be in favor of the French.

RESISTANCE UNSURPASSED

The resistance that is being offered by the French forces in this battle has not been surpassed for determination during the whole war. Thus one little group of dismounted cuirassiers at Plémost, where almost surrounded, beat off fourteen German attacks, contributing largely to the checking of the German advance.

AMERICANS DOMINATE OPPONENTS

Detailed Operations Executed With Indomitable Activity About Chateau-Thierry

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, June 11.—The French Government last night issued the following statement respecting the American troops: "With strong will and irresistible activity the American troops continue absolutely to dominate the adversaries they oppose. Detailed operations which are frequent northwest of Chateau Thierry have an importance, which thanks to the liaison existing between the two armies, is of the highest degree and the results of which have already been felt. "With the American Army in France, Monday, June 10.—(By The Associated Press) On the American front northwest of Toul the artillery fire was fairly heavy last night and today. There has been normal aerial activity. Otherwise nothing of importance has taken place.

YESTERDAY COSTLY DAY FOR ENEMY

Gains Made Are Slight in Comparison With Terrible Price Exacted

PARIS IS CONFIDENT

By Courier Leased Wire. Paris, June 11.—In a summary of the Paris newspaper comment on the battle, the Havas Agency refers to the small progress made by the Germans yesterday in comparison with the price they had to pay. The Petit Journal observes that it was an extremely costly day for them in casualties on the German side were small. "The divisions engaged melted away as in a crucible," it says. L'Homme Libre thinks that the results of the second day's fighting seem as favorable as those achieved on the opening day of the attack, if the question as to the German gains is that one of the principal allied aims is to destroy the maximum number of the enemy troops engaged.

The Echo de Paris says that Generals Foch and Pétain know the enemy's limitations—how far he can go and beyond which positions he cannot advance further, while the Matin urges that an offensive conducted with such a price cannot be very long continued. Premier Clemenceau conferred with several of the generals at the front yesterday, and brought back with him, it is declared, very reassuring news on the situation. The information which he gathered confirmed the reports of the enormous losses being suffered by the Germans.

BRANTFORD BANK CLERK ARRESTED

Taken by Police in Michigan on a Charge of Absconding

Mount Clemens, Mich., June 10.—Hugh Farrell, aged 38, employed in a bank at Brantford, Ont., was arrested here late Sunday night charged with having absconded with $2,900 of the bank's funds. The young man at first denied his identity, but later broke down, and is said to have admitted everything. He had nearly $1,000 in Canadian currency in his pockets when arrested, the balance he had spent for a touring car he had. Brantford authorities have been communicated with, and Farrell will be taken back to-morrow. Queried at the local branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia failed to elicit any further information regarding the above. The Chief of Police when questioned said that the young man spent for a touring car he had. Rumor has it that the amount is larger than that named.

COUNTY COURT. The County Criminal Court held a session this afternoon. Wm. Thompson and Reynold Young, charged with cattle thieving, appeared for trial. Many farmers were present as witnesses.

AGREEMENT PROTECTING LATIN AMERICA FROM U.S.

President Wilson Proposes Declaration Supplementary to the Monroe Doctrine—Safeguard Mexico and Latin America From Aggression on Part of United States.

By Courier Leased Wire. Havana, June 11.—(By the Associated Press) President Wilson in his address to the Mexican newspaper editors in Washington last Friday expressed sincere friendship for Mexico. His address which is printed in the morning newspapers here to-day follows in part: "Some time ago I proposed a sort of agreement. I had perceived that one of the difficulties of our past relationships with Latin America was this: "The famous Monroe doctrine was adopted without your consent and without the consent of any of the central American or south American states. We said: 'We are going to be your big brother whether you want us to be or not.' "We did not ask whether it was agreeable to you that we should be your big brother. We said we are going to be. Now that is all very well as far as protecting you from aggression from the other side of the water was concerned, but there was nothing in it that protected you from aggression from the west. I have repeatedly seen, and I am sure you have seen, an uneasy feeling on the part of representatives of the states of central and south America that our self-appointed protection might be for our own benefit and our own interests and not for the interest of our neighbors. So I have said: "Let us have a common guarantee that all of us will sign a declaration of political independence and territorial integrity. Let us agree that if any of us, the United States included, violates the political independence or territorial integrity of any of the others, all the others will jump on her. "Now that is the kind of agreement that will have to be the foundation of the future life of the nations of the world, gentlemen. The whole family of nations will have to guarantee to each nation that no nation shall violate its political independence or its territorial integrity. That is the basis—the only conceivable basis—for the future peace of the world and I must admit that I was anxious to have the states of the two continents of America show the way to the peace of the world as to how to make a basis for peace.

Battle Now Raging is Most Furious Struggle of the Present Year

FOE SUFFERS HEAVILY

Enemy Progress Along Valley of Matz—Does Not Affect Wings

SITUATION IN REVIEW

Battling their way forward in the centre of the Montdidier-Noyon line the Germans are making slight gains. The French are resisting desperately and the fighting is the most furious of the present year. German advances have been made at heavy cost. Along the valley of the Matz the Germans are making their most rapid progress, but their advance there has not yet greatly affected the wings of the attacking front. The apex of the new salient now extends from Mery to Elincourt, about seven miles. Monday, in sanguinary hand to hand fighting the Germans captured Mery, Belloy, St. Maurice and reached Elincourt and Marquignies two miles south of Rezon-sur-Matz, a depth of about five miles. On the western wing, the French line holds steadfast and heavy and continuous attacks have made no impression upon it. On the east the Germans have advanced Marquignies several hundred yards—a mile, the greatest gain being on the right centre in Thiescourt wood, from which they are reported to have debouched. Adding to the fierceness of the fighting is that the artillery is being used in great numbers by both contending armies. The French guns, reports agree, have reaped a heavy harvest from the advancing enemy columns. Villages change hands repeatedly and the French war office says the French troops are fulfilled with tenacity their mission of resistance. In announcing the results of Sunday's fighting Berlin claims the capture of 8,000 prisoners and some 500 German tanks. The French resistance is reported to be stubborn. Monday night's brief statement says ground has been gained southwest of Noyon. Compared with the offensive of May 27 between Reims and Soissons, the present German effort is making progress more slowly. Apparently the German intention is to drive down the Matz valley toward Estrees St. Denis and then attempt to move westward and eastward and outflank the regions about Clermont and Compaigne. However, the Allied positions are reported as satisfactory despite the German gains in the center.

On the British front there have been only raids and normal artillery activity. On the American sector, northwest of Toul, the artillery fire has increased somewhat, but no infantry activity has yet developed. Austro-Hungarian troops on the mountains in northern Italy have carried out surprise attacks at several points only to be repulsed by the Allied troops. The artillery fire is most pronounced on the mountain front and along the lower Plave. Advance Only Slight. Paris, June 11.—Through the lavish use of men and material the Germans sought all day Monday to widen the gains of Sunday in the center of the Montdidier-Noyon sector. The total result was a slight advance on the left-center, which nowhere exceeded a mile in depth. The primary object of the German operations is to reduce the salient left standing between the gains made in the March and May offensives. Until that is effected he cannot proceed with his plan for a march on Paris. Both the strenuous and, on the whole, effective resistance of the French and the furious efforts of the Germans are explained by the fact that an enemy success would involve the retirement of the French forces defending the line between the Aisne and the Marne, threaten both flanks with envelopment and open to the Germans the main roads to Paris from Compaigne, Villers-Cotterets and Chateau-Thierry.

French Official Statement Follows

Paris, June 11.—The war office statement follows: "Last yesterday and in the night the Germans continued to exert pressure in the direction of Estrees-St. Denis and Ribecourt. "On our left our reserves were effective. The Germans were able to capture neither Leployron nor Courcy. Continued on Page Four

SAILORS AT SEA GET NEWS SERVICE
Radio Operators on Battleships Operate Fat Wireless Bulletins Daily

Each night the Navy Department sends out from Washington a wireless news service, "The Navy Press," to all ships and coast radio stations. The message ranges from eight hundred to one thousand six hundred words in length and contains items of general and particular interest to officers and seamen in every branch of the naval service. Each day the budget of news is carefully sorted and the more important events are put into concise English. During the night, the words are flashed to the government's radio operators and next morning there appears upon the ship's bulletin board a resume of all the previous day's happenings, both abroad and at home.

A very clever machine has been devised to make easier this distribution of the cream of the current news. It is somewhat like a typewriter and somewhat like a steno-ticker. Instead of printing words it punches holes in a long ribbon of white paper. The ribbon is inserted in the wireless sending machines in every branch of the government. Once released, it is caught by all of the radio stations along the coast and they relay it farther to other stations and the ships. Vessels plying along the coast and many at sea catch the initial message sent from Arlington. For those far out in the Atlantic the relay is necessary.

No cipher is used and the process is known as "broadcasting." It goes out to any and every vessel, battleship or merchantman, whose radio instrument is tuned to receive it.

On Many Bulletin Boards,
On small ships one bulletin board is usually enough to contain the news for those aboard. On a large man-of-war there may be ten or even more. Several bulletin boards for the crew are located in convenient gathering places about the ship. Besides the bulletin board, a copy of the news letter is given to the ship's commander and if there chances to be an admiral on board, a special copy is prepared for him also.

The news needs of men aboard a battle ship are as various as their tastes and dispositions. All are interested in war developments, but each seaman also has his particular hobby. One is eager to know what is happening in the theatrical world, another is chiefly concerned with the fluctuations of the stock market. The United States Navy Press Service recognizes this divergence of interests and caters to the different wants.

Closely related to the interest in market reports is the desire of the sailors to know about the financial standing of the government bonds. A great many of them own Liberty bonds. Although they feel sure of the security of their investment, they like occasionally to be reassured. Among the paragraphs which were sent out recently the following appears:

New York—The market closed strong to-day. During late dealings many issues making new high records for the day. The Atlantic Gulf and W. I. sold up to 112 1/2, an advance of 3 1/2 points, and steel common to 91 3/4. Corn products moved up to 87 3/8 and Maritime preferred advanced over two points to 94. Government bonds steady. Railroad and other bonds strong.

Get Baseball News, Too.
Baseball, the national sport, is constantly on the minds of the boys at sea. Although they are unable to play it themselves for the deck of a ship is a poor place to knock flies and run one's bases, they follow eagerly to the bulletin board to read notices of the games of the favorites. With the big league news open reports of all the important games become regular features of the service. When a world's record is on, or a decisive game is being played near the end of the season, the closely matched teams, the most wireless messages are read, and the information to be sent out for the information

BRAYLESS MULES WANTED FOR ARMY
State Veterinarian Says the Bray Could be Removed by Minor Operation

Lansing, Mich., June 11.—Brayless mules are the latest thing in warfare, and the veterinarians all over the allied world are trying to fix the good old American army mule so that he will do just as much work as ever and less braying. No braying, at all is what the vets are seeking for. The animal surgeons disagree considerably as to how to go about the operation, but Dr. George W. Dunphy, state veterinarian, insists a mule can easily be made brayless by the removal of his vocal chords in the larynx.

In his opinion Dr. Dunphy is backed up by Dr. B. Frank Steneman, one of the big veterinary anatomists at the University of Pennsylvania. Others in the same profession, however, suggest different plans, one an Oregon vet insisting that the proper procedure is to cut certain nerves in the tail, claiming that the seat of the braying power is located there. To this suggestion Dr. Dunphy will not subscribe.

"Debraying a mule can be done," says Dr. Dunphy, "and it would not be much of an operation for a good animal surgeon. The cutting out would be easily done, would to my mind remove the power of the mule to bray. And I do not think it would interfere with his work, or with his disposition."

The last remark was occasioned by reports that the French vets who have been experimenting on debraying mules have reported that the loss of the bray has almost uniformly been accompanied by an increase in viciousness.

A brayless mule would prove a boon for General Pershing and his men. The average mule, on a quiet night, has a voice that will carry over a mile. Under many circumstances this unquestionably gives aid and comfort to the enemy. The braying mules on two occasions in the Toul sector in France seriously hampered plans laid by the American soldiers for night attacks and raids. The mules gave the enemy exact information and as the Germans were very much interested in the presence of the mules meant more ammunition being brought up. The Huns were ready for our boys when they went over.

But the American army mule is still an asset in the rear of the battlefront. There are many places where auto trucks and other new-fangled conveyances cannot go. It takes the mules to get the stuff in place and they do not seem to be afraid of the firing as are the horses.

POLICE COURT

Amos Black, Roy McCurtis and Jane McCoy appeared in the police court this morning charged with disorderly conduct. The witnesses claimed that on Thursday evening last they were playing football on Brock Lane. This was denied by the police, who claim the three had been found fighting on that night. They were allowed to go. Alex. Mollette, who was also engaged in the fracas, was charged with distributing the peace. He also was dismissed. Four motorists, Andrew Castrucci, E. F. Williams, Russell Miller and Wm. Rowe, were fined $5 and costs each for speeding on that night. Plaintiff Harry Taylor of speaking was adjourned till Friday. Joe Saggese, an Italian, was charged by Geo. Stinchcombe with using threatening language. It appears that Saggese, who is Stinchcombe's landlady, was a little previous in attempting to collect his rent bill. Stinchcombe refused to pay the bill, as they were not yet due, with the result that the apprehensive Italian threatened dire things, mainly to kill Stinchcombe. Saggese was fined $5 and costs. Edward Butler, charged by Mrs. Mary Donohue with assault, was fined $1 and costs. On a charge of insulting language, Butler was dismissed. The charge against George Hill of non-support, was adjourned till Friday. George Shay, on a charge of cruelty to animals, was remanded till Thursday.

HOOVER GOING TO VISIT ENGLAND

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, June 10.—The newspapers here are devoting considerable attention to the approaching visit of Herbert Hoover, American food administrator, which is expected to result in important progress toward unity of food command. The Manchester Guardian says: "A good deal has been done in this direction already and the establishment of an Inter-Allied Purchasing Commission has put an end to the wasteful competitive food buying by the Allies."

The British Government are making efforts to increase efficiency and economy in the use of labor on war work at home. As a step in this direction a survey of labor now engaged on essential work is to be made.

The government has just issued an appeal to all skilled workers eligible to become war munitions volunteers to enroll and place their services at the disposal of the government for transfer as the national interest dictates.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe, and Nobody Can Tell How Old You Are. Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, the eyes look older, streaked, and just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell it is darkened so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous and you look years younger.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

MONDAY, JUNE 3, 1918

THE SITUATION
The renewed German offensive is continuing with unabated violence, and the French are offering their usual heroic resistance. It is recorded that at many points they have died at their posts to a man, exacting a terrific toll from the enemy before becoming overwhelmed. The foe after paying full price for every step, has penetrated the centre at the greatest point to an extent of six miles, and the wings still hold. "This is the real battle," said a French staff officer, in speaking of the struggle, and it certainly presents even more fierce features than anything heretofore recorded. Berlin makes the claim of eight thousand prisoners and some guns, but with regard to losses is, as usual, silent. Confidence among the Allies is still undisturbed.
Another British advance has taken place in Palestine, and a Turk trench system of a mile in length has been captured in the coastal sector.
In the British House of Commons yesterday, it was announced that since May 15th, the Huns had bombed British hospitals in France seven times. In the total list of casualties, five nursing sisters perished, and of these it is worthy of note that two came from Brantford and Paris. They met the death of heroines in a great cause, and their spirit was typical of the self-sacrifice and earnest effort of the women of the two places.
A serious revolt is reported among the Austrian troops on the east front. The Italians are expecting an assault in force, and are awaiting the outcome with confidence. There cannot be much doubt that the Kaiser and his advisers are insisting upon some such demonstration on the part of their ally, but there is more than one evidence that the hearts of the men are not in the work as previously. They are becoming decidedly tired of German dictatorship, and the people of the "Austrian Empire" are in general, in a desperate state.

THE NOMINATION OF DR. CODY.
The nomination took place yesterday in the riding of North East Toronto of Rev. Dr. Cody, the prominent Anglican divine, who becomes the new Minister of Education in Ontario. It is believed that he will be allowed an acclamation, and if not, well there can be no doubt as to his emphatic endorsement as the result of any contest. During the course of a speech, Premier Hearst paid high and deserved tribute to the new Cabinet member. He stated that he had looked for a man of patriotic zeal, a lover of British ideals, possessed of strength, courage and personality and high ideals with regard to the educational system of the Province, and no where in all Ontario did any one so eminently combine all these qualities as the nominee of that day. In touching upon the government record, Sir William pointed out that, for all war purposes, including hospitals, etc., the sum of $6,754,000 had been paid out, and that in financial matters, a very sound condition existed. During thirteen years there had been a financial surplus of nearly four millions. A practical man had been put at the head of the Agricultural department, and in the matter of Hydro power, the best tribute he could pay was that during 1917, it had effected a saving in coal of from $28,000,000 to $40,000,000. Speaking of the Workmen's Compensation Board, he stated that more than $6,000,000 had been already awarded to workmen under the measure. With regard to the Ontario Temperance Act, he said that it was no longer necessary to defend it. Referring to the extension of the life of the Legislature, he pointed out that it meant there would be a re-election until a year after the last of the soldiers had returned.

MONTREAL'S TAX ON BACHELIORS.
In Montreal unmarried men over twenty-five years of age have to pay an annual tax of ten dollars a year into the municipal treasury. The thing looks to be quite equitable. Why should the man who has no family to keep, no clothing or boots and shoes and other things to buy except for his own use, escape comparatively scott free, while the benedict who has all these things to provide in addition forced to pay local taxes for if he doesn't own his own house the same may be sure are added in his rent.
As a matter of fact ten simons look to be altogether too small.

The unattached male is no good as a community builder and if all were like him the nations would be without their best and most needed asset—the family.
By all means make him disgorge in an adequate manner.

THE FARMERS' GATHERING IN TORONTO.
The farmers who recently gathered in Toronto, certainly did not mince things in the matter of their language. Some of them wanted to call upon the Governor General to dismiss the government but that plan was finally dropped.
Mr. W. Good of Brant County, among other speakers said:
"There is a spirit in the country that is as sinister and menacing as anything across the border. This sinister force is using the present crisis to enslave the democratic institutions of the country."
Peter Porter stated that the farmers had been unfairly treated.
"Whose fault is it?" he asked.
"Our Own," replied several delegates.
"How can we remedy that?" he continued.
"Ask Borden to resign," shouted a delegate.
"If you men do your duty before our next convention in December you will have one solid organization that will make the Government sit up and take notice," said Mr. Porter.
"Every man who is willing to sacrifice his life for the organization, stand up!" Mr. Porter exhorted.
Every man stood up.
"We may have to fight military autocracy yet here in Canada," exclaimed another representative.
There were simple incidents of the assemblage.
There was also insinuation against the newspapers (to whom as a matter of fact the war has meant increased cost beyond that of any other interest) and subscriptions were promised of $25,700 towards the establishment of a daily newspaper which would voice the views of the agriculturists. As a matter of fact that amount would be only a tithe of the actual sum necessary.
Generally speaking it may be affirmed that the views expressed were not representative of all of the agriculturists although much feeling undoubtedly does exist.
The truth of the matter is that in this unexampled war period all classes are becoming hit and the farmers cannot escape any more than the rest.
One thing is absolutely certain and this is that if the Hun should win the people of this continent and the rest of the world would be in absolute bondage to a set of military over lords, who would make that system paramount and obligate in times of peace as well as of hostility. Surely no thinking man wants to see British freedom exchanged for that sort of thing.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.
It turns out that a $5000 gold challenge cup presented by the Kaiser to the U.S. winner of a yacht race was only pewter. That is also what he will turn out to be when the veneer gets knocked off.
A girl in Quebec has been most mistakenly sent to prison for two years because she put on men's clothes in order to do patriotic work. As to that if all the women who wear the trousers were to be so treated there'd be a lot of vacant homes.
Even the warriors of Napoleon never equalled what the French heroes are accomplishing to-day.
A conscientious objector at the Niagara Camp must be quite a card. He carried a suit case plastered on both sides with scripture texts and when stripped it was found that on his underclothing were the words "Know that for all these things God will bring you into judgment." As a matter of fact if they were not in proper shape some feminine member of the household must have been to blame.

celles. The villages of Mery was recaptured by the French at 10 o'clock last night.
"The principal effort of the Germans was exerted along the front of Belloy and Marquellise. By a powerful attack delivered with a great number of effectives, the enemy succeeded in driving back the French to the vicinity of the Aronde river, but by a magnificent return, French troops, hurled back the enemy all along this front, re-establishing the positions on a line south of Belloy, at St. Maur, south of Marquellise and at Vandellcourt."
"On the right the French engaged in renewed struggles north of Dressincourt. The Germans, who had continued very heavy forces in this region, were able to reach Anvoval, compelling the French troops to withdraw their line of resistance to the west and south of Ribecourt."

REGISTRATION IS PROCEEDING SUCCESSFULLY

Over Three Hundred Persons Registered at Local Headquarters Yesterday ANTICIPATING 22ND.
J. S. Dowling, registrar for Brantford under the Man-and-Woman Power Act stated this morning that yesterday over 300 persons registered at the headquarters office though it was only opened for this purpose yesterday. By to-night Mr. Dowling expects that 700 will have registered. Those registering now are perhaps anxious to get the matter of their minds or to avoid the big rush on the 22nd. At the old post office an office was opened to-day with two deputies in charge. Few however are acquainted with this office and as yet only about 50 have registered. Many of those who have volunteered as clerks for work on the 22nd are now being given their first lesson at the work and getting in shape for Registration Day.

STARS AND STRIPES ON THE MERSEY
Liverpool Lauds Landing of Large Body of American Troops
Simcoe, June 10.—(From Our Own Correspondent).—Through the courtesy of Senator McCall, we are able to give the public a close estimate of the heart that the United States troops are putting into the British effort.
The following extract from a letter dated May 16th, and written by a citizen of Liverpool, speaks for itself:
"Fortunately, though the Germans had considerable success at the commencement of their great offensive, our united armies have been holding them well recently and any small gains have been in our favor. It would have gladdened your heart if you could have seen the Mersey this morning. I counted 25 large steamers (there must have been more as they extended far out to sea and it was hazy), all swarming with troops just arrived from your side. The town is gay with the 'stars and stripes' flying from every masthead on public and private buildings and the populace are heartily acclaiming the new arrivals as they march through the town to their temporary quarters.
Several large convoys must have arrived yesterday and it presents a stirring scene. Of a truth brother Jonathan has got a move on and the troops arriving are the lusty lot of fellows who will give a good account of themselves.
"Generals French and Haig appear pretty confident and if the German attack is a failure, it may be the beginning of the end."

COMBAT SINN FEINERS.
By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, June 11.—Seventy-five thousand New York Irishmen have taken to a nation-wide movement to combat the tactics of the Sinn Feiners, who led by such men as Jeremiah A. O'Leary and John Devery have attempted to identify the agitation for the freedom of Ireland with anti-British propaganda in this country. The movement is being carried on by the United Irish League of New York, which has 106 branches in New York and is affiliated with leagues located in America, Ireland, Canada and Australia.

Operating in liaison with the Americans our troops the next day widened the gains of the day before, while the division on the right progressed northward. Both thus effected a very skillful manoeuvre. During the morning our troops captured Yeully-le-Poterie cemetery and, finally, by a single dash they carried the heights southwest of Hantovesmes. Our troops met with stubborn resistance, which they broke down completely.
"The Germans suffered irreparable losses. One of the companies opposed to us, which counted 100 bayonets at the beginning, yesterday only mustered 37, five of whom belonged to another company and five to the regimental reserves."

Margaret Garrett's Husband

By JANE PHELPS
CHAPTER LXXVII
Bob is sympathetic.
Bob looked incredulously at me. "The mirror broke, how did it happen?"
"My hairbrush slipped out of my hand and broke it," I replied, conscious that I had blushed over the telling.
"That's queer! but it is fortunate that you weren't badly hurt. Did you have a doctor?" that would have been too silly. Della did what was necessary for me. I shall be all right in a day or two, although it does ache pretty badly."
I waited until we were at dinner before I said anything about the night before. Then I asked:
"Did you have a good time last night?"
"Yes, a very good time. In fact the time passed so fast I did not realize that I would miss my train until too late."
"Where did you go?"
"To the Casino."
"Was it a stag party?"
"No."
"Oh, do tell me all about it, why was there?" pretending an interest I in no wise felt.
"Oh, Elmer and his wife, Kendall and Gredmore and two or three ladies to make an even number," his tone was studiously careless, but I imagined I caught a note of anxiety.
"Who were the women? Anyone I know?"
"Marion Riggs and Maud Warren," I had not yet become accustomed to being alone at night; had not ceased to feel chagrined that Bob should desire to be away from me. I had done the same. Was it strange he didn't care for me because I wanted his own room? I knew that many people, married people, occupied separate rooms, or single beds in the same room but I always had supposed they weren't happy together.
My hand ached. I felt feverish;
"I had met her, yes."
"What was her name? You haven't told me."
"What difference does a name make? Hers was Devereux, I believe. If you weren't such a foolish woman you would have been invited. As long as you care nothing about joining us, I don't quite see the reason."

Margaret Garrett's Husband

By JANE PHELPS
"You were there. Isn't that reason, enough?"
Bob made some careless reply, and we talked of other things. Well he hadn't lied to me, I thought, he had made no secret of that woman's presence, and had even intimated that had I gone she would not have been there. Surely I had not having to worry about. I was taking the right course, and before long Bob would see things in their true light, would realize that he, his time belonged to me.
"You look as if you hadn't slept at all," he said after dinner.
"I was really worn out, and gladly followed his suggestion. I was still awake when he came up."
"Don't you want to come and talk with me a little while?" I asked, hoping to delay him.
"I'm too sleepy," he answered with a prodigious yawn. "I should fall asleep," and without another word he closed his door, and after a few moments all movement in his room ceased, and I knew he was in bed. It seemed in a way unnatural, Father and mother were old-fashioned and had always occupied the same room. I knew Bob's father and mother had done the same. Was it strange he didn't care for me because I wanted his own room? I knew that many people, married people, occupied separate rooms, or single beds in the same room but I always had supposed they weren't happy together.

A Business Car
RECOGNIZED in its true light by the Government, the business world, and the individual buyer, the automobile has cast aside the title "Pleasure Car" and is now properly classified as a vehicle of real service—a present-day necessity.
The owner not only lengthens his own business day, but he also lengthens his family's living days, thanks to the afternoons and Sundays spent in the Utility Car.
That which increases the busy man's accomplishments in the day, is no luxury.
That which widens your field of business endeavor is a necessity.
That which lengthens the life of every member of your family can well be afforded.
Owning that which saves health, time and money is true economy.
All these things are embodied in the possession of an automobile.
Don't wonder how your neighbor can "afford" a car, but use your sound judgment and ask yourself today "Can I afford to be without one?"
When you have purchased a car you have multiplied your efficiency. You have acquired a personal and business asset. Your selection should be a Ford.

REV. E.H. EMMETT AT PARK CHURCH

Rev. Dr. Hanley Also Spoke to Men on Subject "God's Man of the Hour."

Strenuous sermons were delivered at Park Baptist church on Sunday by Rev. E. H. Emmett. The morning subject was "The Race that is set before Us." In the first place, the speaker considered the care that the Christian should take in the world of himself and his life and conduct. Then we should lay aside every weight, every hindrance, in the race so that we could run the race perfectly, and also lay aside the sin which so easily besets us. Then we should run with patience the race that was set before us. There were all kinds of races, long, short, hard and difficult and easy ones, but it was not the length of the race that counted in the world, but what a man did and how he ran it. We could not set the race that we had to run. The text beset us. Then we should run the race that is set before us. God sets all races, and He sets the boundaries of our life and assigns us our duties. Every man and woman is responsible to God. Christian people should take great care how they run their lives, the lives they live and the examples they set, in their families, the communities and everywhere. Then we have to look to the author and the finisher of our faith, who is the Lord Jesus Christ who endured the cross for us, despite the shame and now sits at the right hand of the throne of God. We are looking forward to entering into the eternal joys with him.

There was a splendid anthem by the choir, "Like as the Hart," by Hewlett. There was a good attendance at the classes from 12 to 1, and Dr. Hanley gave a strong address to the men at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the subject being "God's Man of the Hour." The men of to-day had much to think about and to live for. The sacrifices were very great, as were also the temptations. If at any time in the history of the world they should be true, it was in this age.

In the evening service, Mr. Emmett took as his subject "The Three Great Events in the World's History." The first was the advent of Christ, and the promises were fulfilled as to that event. The second was the Crucifixion and Resurrection, and the third was the coming of the Holy Spirit and the grand reunion of the Lord and his people. During the evening an anthem was sung by the choir, "Round Thy Throne of Light," and a solo was given in good form by Miss Pearl Morris.

The congregations were very good and great attention to the able discourses of Mr. Emmett which were very earnest and powerful.

Convention of Baptists Open

The Association of Baptist churches of Oxford and Brant opened a three day session in Calvary church this afternoon, with representatives from nearly fifty churches present. Some of the most important questions, religious, social and educational will be taken up during the convention, and the speakers will include such prominent men as Rev. Andrew Burke, Dr. G. Matthews, Dr. S. S. Bates and others. To-night's session will be under the auspices of the women's missionary enterprise, and will include prominent speakers from Toronto. The evening meetings are open to the public. To-morrow a denominational day will be held, at which a very large representation of Baptist people will be in attendance.

FAREWELL TO TWO PASTORS

Dr. and Mrs. Martin, Adjutant and Mrs. Osborne, Were Honored

The concluding session of the Brantford Ministerial Alliance took the form of a social gathering with the pastors and their wives dined together at Oromption's Tea Rooms. Dr. Henderson the guest pastor of the First Methodist Church, presided over the gathering with his usual grace and dignity. This farewell luncheon was in honor of Dr. and Mrs. Martin and Adjutant and Mrs. Osborne, all of whom are about to leave the city for new fields of labor. Rev. Mr. Thompson delighted all with a thoroughly humorous paper on "The Saving Grace of Humor." J. W. Gordon introduced a resolution of appreciation of Dr. and Mrs. Martin and of Adjutant and Mrs. Osborne, which was ably seconded by Rev. D. Alexander. After singing "God Save the King," Dr. Henderson dismissed the gathering with the benediction.

WINNIPEG TELEGRAM HALTS PUBLICATION

Damage by Fire Compels Cessation of Issues for Some Time

Winnipeg, June 10.—The Winnipeg Telegram Publishing Company issues the following statement to-day: "A complete survey of the damage by Saturday's fire to the plant of The Telegram shows that the loss is far greater than was believed. The plant is almost completely wrecked, the machinery almost a total loss and the building itself is in such a shape that it will require complete remodeling to make it once more serviceable. The circumstances there is but one thing to be done. Much as The Telegram regrets having to take such a course, it is compelled regretfully to await such time as its plant can be rehabilitated and its premises once more put into shape to carry on the task of publishing a daily paper."

The announcement goes on to apologize for the cessation of the publication of The Telegram, which it is hoped, says the statement, will resume in three or four weeks. Thanks are tendered to the various printing houses in Winnipeg which came to the assistance of The Telegram to enable the staff to publish on Saturday and to-day.

The cause of the fire has not been determined and investigation will be commenced to-morrow morning.

DANCED AS SHELLS BURST OVERHEAD
Elsie Janes, American Actress, Does Her Bit to Encourage Army
With the American Army in France, June 11.—Seldom has a theatrical entertainment been staged in a more unusual setting than one given Thursday afternoon in a location which enabled several hundred hot and dirty American troopers just out of the trenches to get back for an hour or so to the atmosphere of Broadway.

An open-air prize ring was the stage. Airplanes purred overhead and the booming of the gun on the front was plainly heard. The ring, located at a crossroad on a hill from which the German borderland opposite the Post sector can easily be seen is constructed of rough lumber and roped in as all prize rings are. On it of an evening some of the energetic youngsters of the American army while away the hours of rest between trench hours by putting on the gloves and knocking each other around. Elsie Janes appears.

Elsie Janes, now on a visit to the front to entertain the fighters, told stories, sang new songs and danced and appeared unconcerned over the unusual conditions surrounding the performance, until a German airplane came over and so very far away. When the American anti-aircraft guns began bursting around the Boche plane, the performance stopped for a moment. Miss Janes looked up and asked if there was any chance of her being killed, because she didn't want to be as she had work to do next day. The doughboys, thick as the performers on the stage, on the house-tops, everywhere within hearing and seeing distance, yelled in chorus, "No, keep on." Cheers and applause and shouting could be heard a mile away. At the conclusion, Miss Janes offered to show the men the new dance steps and several accepted, including one "milk-skinner," who was a show all by himself. The music for the performance was furnished by a Y.M.C.A. secretary on the remnant of an old piano.

APPOINTMENT APPROVED.
By Courier Leased Wire
Ottawa, June 10.—The appointment of Archdeacon Cody, of Toronto, as Minister of Education in Ontario, was referred to in terms of the highest praise by Rev. G. A. McIntosh during the course of his sermon in McLeod Street Methodist Church last night.
Mr. McIntosh was speaking of the changes which must necessarily come out of the war and he declared one of these changes was radical reform in education. He spoke of the Ontario Government as having taken the lead in making a new departure by appointing a university man and a clergyman to the position of minister of education. "We are looking to Dr. Cody to take the lead in bringing something in the way of education into our schools," said Mr. McIntosh. He said not only in Ontario, but throughout the Empire there would have to come reforms in education.

BLAZE IN CARIBOU.
By Courier Leased Wire
Caribou, Maine, June 10.—Damage caused by fire which destroyed ten business buildings and two residences here early to-day, was estimated by insurance agents at $400,000 after a survey of the ruins. The fire started in the kitchen of a restaurant, spread rapidly and was beyond control before help arrived from nearby towns.

FALSE ALARMS.
By Courier Leased Wire
Washington, June 10.—A methodical survey of the entire Atlantic coast from the Mexican line to Halifax has failed to bring to light any evidence that German submarines have employed a shore base or have had touch with the shores at any point, Secretary of the Navy Daniels said today. This was taken as an official denial of reports that strange signals had been seen at night from remote sections of the coast.

THEY STUCK TO THEIR POSTS THOUGH URGED TO LEAVE.
Dr. Kellway, parliamentary secretary to the Ministry of Munitions said, "There was a serious fire in a munition factory in London, last night. Within four minutes of the call being given the women were at their posts, and with the help of four men had their hose at work on the fire. The women stuck to their posts, though some of the men warned them of their danger and urged them to leave." Photo shows some of the women at drill.

THE BRANT.
Jack Lemley and Company head a powerful program at the Brant the first of this week, presenting the spectacular French musical fantasy, "A Night in June," a beautiful and original musical offering, replete with novelty, charm and "pep," and enhanced by clever scenic and lighting effects. The offering is one of rare aesthetic beauty such as is not often seen upon the vaudeville stage. Dainty Marguerite Clark is seen in her latest Paramount production, "Rich Man, Poor Man," in which she forsakes for once her fascinating "child roles," and appears to equally good effect as a maiden of more mature years. The story is at once comedy and powerful, a high-class comedy drama, in which the star is seen at her best. The ninth chapter of "The Eagle's Eye," featuring King Baggott and Marguerite Snow, continues the exposure of German plots in America. Another character sketch is offered in James Montgomery Flagg's popular series, "Girls You Know."

WOMAN WINS WAR CROSS.
By Courier Leased Wire.
Paris, June 10.—A woman automobile driver attached to the army medical service has just received the War Cross. She is Madame De Subigny, who brought in wounded from the battlefield on several occasions under fire. Her father was head of the postal service in the Department of Aube, and, although he was over 60 years of age, he enlisted when his son was killed at the front and won promotion to a lieutenantancy and was awarded the Legion of Honor and the War Cross.

SEEKS TO SETTLE TROUBLE.
By Courier Leased Wire.
Ottawa, Ont., June 10.—At the urgent request of the Minister of Labor, Senator Robertson, labor representative in the cabinet and head of the Canada Registration Board, has stopped off at Fort William and Port Arthur on his journey from the Pacific coast to the capital to use his good offices in the shipping trouble there. The employees of the Port Arthur Shipbuilding Company have already taken a strike vote, the intention of the men being to go out to-day, but it is understood that they have now deferred.

DOCTORS IN CONVENTION.

The convention, which will be presided over by Charles H. Mayo, of Rochester, Minn., president of the association, will, according to the program, be concerned principally in the discussion of war affairs and scientific discussions which are expected to be valuable in future army and naval surgical, medical and sanitary work.

BRITISH LINE ON SOMME IMPROVED

Considerable Gain Was Effected Through Slight Night Advance

By Courier Leased Wire
With the British Army in France, June 10.—(By the Associated Press)—A considerable local improvement of the British line just to the south of the Somme was effected last night through a slight advance carried out in the neighborhood of Bouzencourt. Otherwise the night was generally quiet and the situation unchanged. Raids and outpost actions comprised the remainder of the infantry activity.

The enemy shelling which was so heavy on the British right wing Saturday night and Sunday morning preceding the attack against the French has again dropped to normal.

No Element of Surprise

London, June 11.—There is no element of surprise in the renewal of the German offensive. The sector chosen between Novon and Montdidier was anticipated in the reviews of expert opinion recently cabled. The principal objective is the famous town of Compiègne and the country is densely wooded; but the ultimate objective is obviously Paris. The French line covering the capital forms a salient from Montdidier to Trossereux, on the Ourcq, with an extension thence to the Marne at Essomé. Inside this salient the main military center is Compiègne, while Villers-Cotterets is the subsidiary center. All this fortified territory is the last remaining bulwark of Paris. It consists of detached masses of rising ground across the head of the Oise valley and containing the great road and railway towards Paris. The line is vital, and in defending it the Allies are defending the very heart of France. There is little space for retreat and the French and British armies have to bear the weight of battle, but both are still unbroken, and every confidence is felt that Foch's counter-blow will, perhaps, as a French writer says, be a gigantic Verdun and the tomb of the German army. In any case it is expected that the fighting will be protracted, for the battle may be extended north or south by other desperate German attacks.

LADY'S DRESS.

A very dignified style which is sure to please the matron is shown in No. 8762. It is what we call a composed dress, because it is made up of a combination of materials. The vest effect and the front panel, as well as the sleeves and collar, are made of taffeta silk, and the rest of the dress is made of either French serge or gabardine. The waist has two plaits over each shoulder, and the one next to the vest is carried down into the skirt. A very new idea is the standing, ruffled collar which is attached to the vest. The skirt is a four-piece model and it is gathered to the slightly raised waistline.

The lady's dress pattern No. 8762 is cut in five sizes—34 to 42 inches bust measure. Width at lower edge of skirt is 2 yards. As on the figure, the 38 inch size requires 3 3/4 yards 36 inch, 2 3/4 yards 44 inch or 2 1/2 yards 54 inch material, with 1 1/2 yards 36 inch silk and a leather belt.

To obtain this pattern, send 15 cents to the Courier, Brantford. Any two patterns for 25 cents.

GREAT POTATO WASTE

Can Be Prevented by Thorough Spraying.

Women's Meetings in Full Swing—The Summer Institute Meetings Are of Benefit to Every Woman Who Attends—Topics to Be Discussed and Work Planned.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)
POTATOES are sprayed to prevent such fungus disease as Early Blight and Late Blight and Rot. These diseases are caused by plants known as fungi. These fungi which derive their nourishment from living plants injure them in so doing in various ways and thus give rise to what are known as fungus diseases.

In combating the great majority of fungus diseases methods of prevention only are practicable. Spraying potatoes is not done to cure but to prevent disease. In other words the object of spraying is to cover the surface of the leaves and stems with a substance, poisonous to the spores of fungi, in which they cannot grow, and penetrate the plant. Spraying, therefore, in order to be effective, must be timely and thorough. The spray mixture must be on the plants before the spores reach them and the surface of the leaves and stems must be covered so completely that there is no safe germinating space on which a spore can germinate.

Efficient spraying of potatoes depends: 1. Upon the use of the proper fungicide. Bordeaux mixture has so far proved to be the only satisfactory spray mixture for potato diseases. 2. Upon timely and repeated spraying. Spraying should be commenced when the plants are from six to eight inches high and repeated at intervals of from a week to ten days throughout the growing season. From three to seven applications will be required, depending upon the weather, the wetter the weather the more frequent the spraying.

3. Upon the liberal use of Bordeaux mixture. From 50 to 150 gallons of Bordeaux mixture should be used per acre at each application. 4. Upon thorough spraying, which means the covering of every portion of the plant with the Bordeaux mixture in the form of a fine mist. This can be done only when the solution is applied with good pressure so as to insure covering every portion of the plant. The best results from spraying are obtained when potato sprayers are used which are fitted with T-joint attachments, so as to insure covering both surfaces of the leaves at each spraying.

5. Upon spraying before rather than after prolonged rainy periods. Infection of the plants takes place during or soon after the rains. Therefore it is of the utmost importance to have the spray mixture on the plants when the rain comes.—Prof. J. E. Hewitt, Ontario Agricultural College.

THE IMPORTANCE OF WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETINGS.
A series of meetings which, to the women of rural Ontario, have always proved worth while, and increasingly so the last year or two, is the Women's Institute meetings. These are important because they are so far-reaching in their nature. They afford the town and country woman, no matter what her denomination may be, a channel through which she can be of all-round service to humanity.

Since the war began Red Cross and other patriotic work has, of course, received first consideration. The allocation of attention seems peculiarly woman's work. The need is greater to-day than ever. The great demand by the Allies for certain foods such as beef, pork, wheat and sugar has caused the housewife to change her methods of pre-war days. She must now learn to substitute and to eliminate various forms of waste. Certain foods must be more widely used, not only in summer, but also in winter. These must be conserved through proper storage, canning or drying. Such subjects as these may be discussed at the meetings. An expert demonstrator may be secured from the Department to give information or a practical demonstration to assist the housewife. The members may club together and do their canning at one centre with one fire if they so choose, and in addition to the work accomplished may have a sociable time together.

The children in the rural districts must not be forgotten. They must be prepared for the great responsibilities which are soon to fall upon them. Their education must not be neglected. They must not be handicapped by physical imperfections. Subjects of importance to the child must be discussed and means adopted to improve conditions. The Medical Inspection of rural schools and the clinics held through the Women's Institutes are doing much to improve conditions.

The girls also need attention. We are apt to forget the girls in our anxiety for the boys. Their lives and their prospects for the future are being affected by the war. Hence opportunities for study, for amusement, for developing their talents to the full, must be afforded them. Many of these opportunities may be secured through the Institute.

Surely with subjects of such vital importance as the above-mentioned, all meetings should be worth while. We would call the attention of all to the importance of the summer meeting, held throughout June, when the delegate from the Department is in attendance. She has the latest information on all subjects of importance to the Institutes, and is a specialist on her own particular subjects.—G. A. Putnam, Superintendent Women's Institutes.

AUSTRIANS RUSH TROOPS TO FRONT

Railroads Run Night and Day in Preparation for Renewed Drive

Italian Army Headquarters, Sunday, June 9.—(By the Associated Press)—Railroads behind the Austrian lines in northern Italy are band day, in bringing troops to the front, distributing them to different sectors, and moving heavy guns and large quantities of munitions to positions near the battle line. Special system of drills to improve the physical condition of the Austrian soldiers and give them training for assaulting positions has also been put into effect.

The Austrians in the mountain district are under the direct command of Field Marshal Conrad von Hotzendorf, Field Marshal Boeo's commander-in-chief of the Austrian forces on the Italian front, is located in the Piave River district. It is he who last year tried to deliver Venice to his emperor and initiated raids upon churches and monuments in that city, until the Italian aerial pilots destroyed the effectiveness of the Austrian raiders.

It is known that the enemy is making strenuous efforts to prevent deserters from reaching the Italian lines, carrying information of troop dispositions. Heavy rewards have been offered for the shooting of deserters. The enemy, however, is being watched carefully by the Italians who seek to checkmate a threatened offensive, whether it is on a large scale or intended merely to blunt the Italians from sending troops to France, or to satisfy German demands for an offensive.

Behind the Italian lines, the aspect of the country is peaceful. Children are seen fishing in the canals and streams or playing upon the great highways leading up to the front.

TO PARADISE BY TALLYHO

WHEN that colossal thrust from the Pacific of which geologists tell us, heaved the Rockies into the pre-historic sky to compete with the already time-worn Selkirk, it was evident that the Thruster—whatever he might be—wasn't planning a place for picnic parties. He dropped the scintillant jewel of Lake Louise into one unreachably cup. He dug out a second scour to the east where Paradise Valley now twists its enormous length between the evergreen feet of con-temptuous mountains. He threw up the peaks which men term the Wank-chema Range after the Indian numerical signifying ten—and from their aloof summits decreed that an unknown glacier should grow and crawl and die, leaving the vast scrap heap that has blocked the valley and made possible this still solemn panorama which you get away from it for an hour and discover fittingly named a Moraine Lake.

After he had done all this and a million other wonderful and planned bits of engineering, this mountain builder insulated his achievement by a couple of thousand miles of prairie to the east and twice the length of blue water towards the sunset.

None but the brave deserve the fair, but a great many others get laid out for it. It hadn't been for the restless spirit of the thruster, the adventurous, the busy hand, the speculating railway builder, his really the industrious picture artists of both the Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway, most of us would never have heard of Moraine Lake, and pose of us who aren't attempting the superstitious to jump down from the tallyho and dig for the pot of gold. Beggars of cloud shadows can drift at once over the faces of the placid mountain across the fertile heaven of Indian paintbrush. There is the deep scarlet cypress brush, the rose red brush, the palest pink, the bleached blonde. Gather in the forest of them if you want to take a hike. A palette splash of color for you. It's hard to excursionize at Lake Louise, for the reason that you can't imagine anything lovelier than the scene that nature posed and painted here. This solemn panorama will be better appreciated if you get away from it for an hour and discover fittingly named a Moraine Lake.

Climb up the tallyho, hidden for the nine-mile drive down the valley of the plunging Bow. You needn't worry about bearings, boys, again. Follow the compass and you'll find the Moraine Lake. It's a little bit of a climb, but you can't miss it. It's a little bit of a climb, but you can't miss it. It's a little bit of a climb, but you can't miss it.

The Bow Valley is 5,500 feet above sea level and so wide and deep that after one of the infrequent Rocky Mountains rainfalls, a whole double rainbow can be seen. It is a little bit of a climb, but you can't miss it. It's a little bit of a climb, but you can't miss it. It's a little bit of a climb, but you can't miss it.
