Celebration at Donovan's.
 To celebrate the occasion of the Bowring-Winter wedding, an enjoyable outing was held on Saturday evening. At 6.30 a special train, in charge of Conductor Howlett, and containing two hundred and fifty persons, left the city for Donovan's. Those who went out were the employees of the firm of Bowring Bros., and Messrs. T. & M. Winter, and Mr. J. E. Grievie, Dr. H. Rendell, R. G. Reir, W. R. Warren, J. W. Withers, W. J. Cosgrove, of the New York firm of Bowring Brothers, Capt. Cox, Chief Officer Lace and Chief Engineer Simpson, of the ss. Othello, Liverpool branch of Bowring's, H. W. LeMessurier, H. LeMessurier, A. Donnelly, F. Donnelly, G. Harvey, W. S. Monroe, A. Hayward, E. Taylor, T. J. Foran, R. Dowden and W. Croftly. The O.L.B. band accompanied the party and discoursed splendid music en route. Arriving at Donovan's station ranks were formed, two deep, and headed by the band followed by Messrs. Crocker and Walsh, two of the oldest of Bowring's employees, the gathering marched to the hostelry. On entering the grounds there was erected a magnificent arch and containing the motto "Long life of prosperity and happiness to the bride and groom." The entire surroundings were beautifully decorated while there was an equally good display of bunting inside the hostelry, the houseflags of Bowring and Winter's firms being conspicuous. At 7.30 after Mr. James Vey had taken a photograph of the gathering in a group, the guests repaired to the dining room and sat down to a banquet at which Mr. J. S. Munn presided. After an appetizing menu had been discussed the following toast list was taken up:
 "The King."—Prop. The Chairman; "God Save the King."
 "The Bride and Groom."—Prop. Mr. W. R. Warren; Resp. Mr. J. E. Grievie, Groomsman.
 "Bowring Bros., Ltd."—Prop. Dr. H. Rendell; Resp. Mr. J. S. Munn.
 "Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Hayward."—Prop. Mr. J. S. Munn; Resp. Mr. Hayward.
 "The Press."—Prop. Mr. N. Snow; Resp. Press Representatives.
 "Our Guests."—Prop. Mr. James Foley; Resp. Mr. J. W. Withers.
 "The Chairman."—Prop. Mr. J. W. Withers; Resp. Mr. J. S. Munn.
 Songs were rendered by Messrs. Ross (2), LeMessurier, Taylor, McKinley and Edwards. The speeches though brief, were excellent, especially good was that of Mr. Grievie who responded to the toast of the bride and groom. A feature was the mention of Hon. E. R. Bowring's name by Mr. Withers, who expressed the wish that more celebrations would be given in the near future by the Bowring's, who are becoming universally known for their hospitality and generosity. After the singing of the National Anthem the company went to the grounds and witnessed a grand display of fireworks in charge of Mr. P. Hanley. At midnight return to town was made all having thoroughly enjoyed themselves and was delighted with the treatment accorded by the Bowring firm, which as Dr. Rendell very aptly paraphrased, have braved the storm and battled with the breeze for over a hundred years. The entire arrangements of the outing were such as those in charge of them, Messrs. James T. Foley and R. Simms, two worthy employees of Bowring Bros., may well feel proud.

Man Disappeared.
 Saturday week a man, a resident of Harbour Grace, who has been engaged as a contractor at Bell Island and worked there mostly at the building business, disappeared from the Island and has not been seen since. He had a number of men working with him and these would like to locate him as he yet owes them their wages. He had a considerable sum of money with him and he was seen in the city on Monday last. When he came to St. John's he wore the uniform of the Salvation Army but later discarded it and was noticed wearing his everyday apparel at the railway station before the express left that evening. Though he was not seen to board the express, the belief is that he did so and left for parts unknown. The workmen who believe he has "let them in" would be glad to have an interview with him even if it were only for a few minutes. We hear that the matter will be placed in the hands of the police.
 Friends and supporters of the C. C. C. interested in the formation of a Boat Club are requested to meet in the Armoury this Monday, June 30th, at 8.30 p.m. JOHN HARRIS, Convener.

Movements of Prince Albert.
 On Saturday, H.R.H. Prince Albert was entertained to luncheon at Government House. Those present were His Excellency the Governor and Mrs. Davidson, Major Davenport, A.D.C., Capt. Beech, A.D.C., Captain Aubrey Smith, M.V.O., Rt. Hon. Sir E. P. Morris and Lady Morris, Capt. A. and Mrs. Goodridge, Lieut. Spencer Cooper, Dr. L. Greig, Cadets' H. C. Tennyson, E. K. Turnover, G. Phelps and Hon. C. Roper Curzon. In the afternoon the Prince, accompanied by Capt. Beech, visited the Nickel Theatre and was pleased with the pictures, particularly the one showing the opening of Parliament by his father, King George. Owing to the adverse weather certain arrangements for entertaining the Prince were cancelled. Yesterday forenoon His Excellency the Governor and suite attended Divine Service on board H.M.S. Cumberland; Rev. Mr. Kewney officiated. Yesterday afternoon the Prince, Capt. Smith, Capt. Beech and some cadets were driven in Mr. H. D. Reid's motor car to Murray's Pond, the Fox Farm and the Bowring Park, and shown the different features of interest. Most of the time of Prince Albert will be occupied on board ship to-day. At 3.40 p.m. to-morrow he will land at the King's Wharf and drive to Government House to attend a Garden Party.

Fishery Improved.
 By the Fogota we learn that the fishery north, especially in Fogo District, has greatly improved since last report. Caplin in myriads have struck in at all the creeks and coves, and at Musgrave Harbor, Cat Harbor, Fogo and other places cod is plentiful and good catches are recorded. Traps get ten to twelve quintals daily and small boats three to four barrels daily. At the other Wadhams and Inner the boats are also making a good record, and at Peckford's Island it is exceptionally good. If this continues a good fishery is assured this section of the Island. Fair work is also being done in Bonavista Bay.

Stefansson's Ship Reaches Wrangel.
 Wrangel, Alaska, June 24.—The Canadian Arctic exploration ship Karluk, which is taking twelve members of Vilhjalmur Stefansson's party north, together with supplies and equipment of the polar expedition, put in at Wrangel late last night and departed early to-day for Nome, where the explorers will be joined by Dr. Stefansson. The Karluk will not put in at any port between here and Nome. Capt. Bartlett reported all well on board.

Nine Days in the Woods Agou Cape Breton Man Was Exhausted When Found.
 Sydney, June 23.—After wandering about in the woods for nine days, and thinly clad, Anthony McDougall, of Big Pond, was found in the woods back of his home on Friday last, the 20th inst. McDougall, who is a bachelor, is an old man of about 70 years of age and disappeared or was lost on Thursday the 12th. Search parties were got out and the country side scoured but without success, and the hunt was given up when a week had passed. On Friday, a neighbour passing through the woods on the mountain back of Big Pond came upon him by chance. He was practically exhausted from cold and hunger and when found was crawling on his hands and knees. He was taken home and attended by friends and is now on a fair way to recovery after his arduous experience.

Civic Government.

To-day we publish another letter from "Advance" on the matter of Civic Reform. The two letters of Mr. Gosling and the two letters of "Advance" favor civic government by commission. So far as we can see there is neither gain or loss in the name. Whether civic government be called a Council or a Commission seems to matter little. The name does not go to the root of the matter. The proposition appears to be to divide up civic government into departments, to obtain men of ability who have knowledge, skill and experience of a particular department to take charge of the department, to devote their undivided attention to it, and to pay them well for it. This brings us to the crux of the whole situation, the money question. Money would have to be found for salaries for such services, and also to carry out the work they would undertake. Without an additional revenue to that available for our present Council, the Commission would be almost as helpless as the councilors are. If anything worth while is to be accomplished, the Council or Commission must have more money. When the people are prepared to pay more in the way of civic taxes, it seems to us that many of the crying evils which everybody recognizes and complains about can be remedied. If more money cannot be raised, then comparatively little in the way of reforms can be carried out. It is of course pointed out that civic commissions have done much in some cities in the United States. It is as well known that City Councils have done equally good work, while retaining the older fashioned form of Councils in Great Britain. In both cases, the municipal governments have command of revenues ample to carry out street paving, sewerage, sanitation, housing, etc. Without those ample resources, they would be handicapped, and their field of labours as circumscribed, as those of the St. John's Municipal Council.

Personal.

Mrs. Cantwell, wife of Mr. Denis Cantwell, of Roxbury, Mass., arrived here by the Stephano, accompanied by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jas. Brien. Both will remain on a holiday and are guests of Mrs. D. A. Flynn, Water Street West. Mrs. Brien is a sister-in-law of Donald Brien, the well-known theatrical star, and her husband has a prominent position as engineer in the American Navy. Mr. Brien is a graduate of the Christian Brothers here, and will be remembered by those who went to St. Patrick's Hall in the 70's and 80's.
Miss Kitty Cooper left by last evening's express for Boston on a visit to friends.
Rt. Rev. Monsignor Roache who was abroad for the benefit of his health returned to Newfoundland by the Bruce Saturday. He came by the express to Bay St. George where he will remain some time as the guest of His Lordship Bishop Power. Not alone the people of his own communion but the many friends of the Monsignor of other denominations will be glad to hear that his health is much improved.

Following the ancient tradition in connection with St. Peter's, the Pope descended last evening to St. Peter's to pray on the tomb of the Apostle. For half an hour the Pontiff remained kneeling in prayer.

MONTREAL, To-day.
Two hundred persons were rendered homeless, thirteen horses burned to death, and a property loss $75,000 resulted from a fire late last night, in a block bounded by Genevieve, Stantoin, Latour Street and Busby Lane.

MONTREAL, To-day.
The Thomson liner, Devons, arrived here last night after a passage through Straits of Belle Isle, being the first steamer to accomplish the passage this season. The Captain reported he found ice about twenty miles from Belle Isle. He put into the jam at a very slow rate of speed. A field of ice, was lying close packed on South shore as far as Cape Norman, but the track was clear, West of Belle Isle except for bergs.

SOFIA, To-day.
The prospects of a peaceful settlement has considerably improved, said Premier Danoff, who will go to St. Petersburg. It is rumored the Bulgarian Government is prepared to make some concessions to Servia. The danger continues, however, in the military situation. It is reported the Servians are concentrating bodies of troops on their advanced lines, and heavy outpost firing persists between Selectova and Istiba. Another engagement occurred between Greeks and Bulgarians at North Letera.

COZENZA ITALY, To-day.
Villagers in Southern Italy are still fearful of further earthquakes and are camping in the fields. Tents have been erected for their shelter and supplies have been forwarded by the authorities for the care of the injured at Rogiano and Gravina, where more than a score of persons were injured. Teachers in the public school showed great heroism during the most severe shock. Regardless of their own safety, they rescued all the children at a time when the roof of the school was in imminent danger of collapse. It fell with a crash after the children were taken out. The Doctors' hospitals remained at their posts until their last patient was removed. In other villages nearby probably an additional score of persons were injured.

Montreal Toughs
"Egg" a Speaker.
Montreal, June 25.—A gang of toughs, numbering about twelve or fifteen, attacked John H. Roberts last night while he was speaking at an open air meeting in a vacant lot at the corner of Beaubien and Christophe Colombe Streets, and, while the Secretary of the Dominion Temperance Alliance finally reached home with no more serious injuries than a bruised hip, which had been struck by a flying stone, and a face badly smeared with eggs, Captain Harland, of the St. Hubert Street Police Station, who, with a couple of plain clothes men, came to his rescue, had a couple of teeth knocked out by a rock thrown by one of the rowdies, all of whom escaped in spite of a sharp pursuit by the police.

LOOKING UP POSTAL THEFTS.
Head Const. Dawe, who left here on the last Fogota, and went to Misgrave Harbor, is, we learn, looking after certain thefts of letters containing money, which occurred in April and May past. We hear that the amounts missing aggregated a considerable sum.

The Old Man's Dream.
Oh, for one hour of youthful joy!
Give back my twentieth spring!
I'd rather laugh a bright-hair'd boy Than reign a grey-beard king!
"Off with the wrinkled spools of age, Away with learning's crown!
Tear out life's wisdom-written page, And dash its trophies down!"
"One moment let my life-blood stream From boyhood's fount of flame!
Give me one giddy, reeling dream Of life all love and fame!"
My listening angel heard the prayer, And calmly smiling, said:
"If I but touch thy silver'd hair, Thy hasty wish hath sped."
"But there is nothing in thy track To bid thee fondly stay, While the swift seasons hurry back To find the wish'd-for day?"
"Ah, truest soul of womankind!
Without thee, what were life?
One bliss I cannot leave behind I'll take—my—precious—wife!"
The angel took a sapphire pen, And wrote in rainbow dew,
"The man would be a boy again,
And be a husband, too!"
"And is there nothing yet unsaid Before the change appears?
Remember, all their gifts have fled With these dissolving years!"
"Why, yes, for memory would recall I could not beg to leave them all; I'll take—my—girl—and—boys!"

The smiling angel dropped his pen—
"Why this will never do,
The man would be a boy again,
And be a father, too!"
And so I laugh'd—my laughter woke The household with its noise—And wrote my dream, when morning broke,
To please the grey-hair'd boys.

New Priest Ordained.
After last mass, yesterday, Rev. Thomas Nangle was ordained Priest by His Grace Archbishop Howley, in the imposing and solemn ceremony His Grace was assisted by Rev. Frs. McDermott, and Dr. Greene. In the Sanctuary were Rev. Dr. Kitchin and Rev. Frs. O'Callaghan, Sheehan and Pippy. After the preliminary functions His Grace addressed the Deacon in the impressive language of the Pontifical, and asked those present to join with him in imploring an increase of heavenly gifts on the newly ordained. After the Litany of the Saints was recited, His Grace blessed the ordained, then the imposition of hands took place and the singing of "Veni Creator Spiritus."

LLOYDSEN'S CREW RETURN.
Chief Engineer Hansford, second Clarke, third McCoubrey, steward Rodgers and two deck hands, who took the S. S. Lloydsen over to Sandefjord, Norway, returned yesterday on the Carthaginian. The Lloydsen is now on dock being renovated as a result of the mishap at the icefields last spring. Several alterations will also be made to the ship. The charter which the Lloydsen had with the MacMillan party has been cancelled.

Shannahan and Tucker on Baseball and Rounders.

THE CUTE MAN SPEAKS OF GAMES IN DAYS GONE BY.

Some of our American second cousins, who lately have hit our town, have introduced a game called "Baseball," and seem to be laboring under a false impression that they have astonished the natives by the novelty of the game. But the Cute Man, who witnessed the match on Stancombe's Field last Wednesday, says he played the game in Colford's Square forty years ago. At that time the boys called the game by the less aristocratic name of "Rounders," and instead of first, second and third base, the boys ran to a dilapidated tin bucket, then the skull of a deceased nag, and finally reached "Home" against some loose clapboards of a house inhabited by a cranky individual who was known to be "a good take." Coming slam-bang up against the said house, with both palms extended, was a sufficient inducement to arouse the ire of the cranky occupant, who immediately appeared on the scene with a face like a northeaster and an attitude of a prize fighter, ready and willing to wipe out every one in sight. At this point in the game all was dropped, and the balance of the evening taken up in dodging the "take" through lanes and byways, over fences, hill and dale. Instead of the fashionable ball used by baseballers, enthusiasts in the game of "Rounders" whacked at a piece of a shirt, discarded the previous whiff tied up by a piece of twine borrowed from a woman in the neighborhood who sold bullseyes, balls of yarn and frothy spruce beer for a living. The said ball was pitched by the bowler and batted by the brave hand of the player, but it frequently came in collision with the batter's left eye and banged up that organ for the balance of the evening. Nowadays sport of this kind is encouraged, but at the time which we speak of you were frequently chased by an angry father, wielding a boot-jack in the summer air. Tucker says times are changed, but still he clings to the idea that the old-time games were the best and afforded more real amusement, notwithstanding that they were often played under very unfavorable circumstances: "Scout out," "Hide and go seek," "Elbows, fingers and thumbs,"—oh what old timer can recall those games and the innocent amusement they gave, without wishing that he was a boy once more, enjoying an old-fashioned game in the neighborhood in which he lived.

TIM SHANNAHAN.

Carthaginian in Port.

The R.M.S. Carthaginian arrived at noon yesterday from Liverpool which port she left on Saturday the 21st inst. The passage, which occupied eight days, would have been made in less than seven days but for dense fog experienced off this port causing the ship to be practically stopped for twenty-four hours. The day after leaving Liverpool service was conducted on board, Dr. Thompson, the ship's surgeon, officiating. On Wednesday evening last concerts were held in the saloon and steerage quarters. A collection of three pounds for the Orphans' Society was taken up. The ship brought 590 tons of cargo, a large mail and six messengers in saloon: T. Bentley, A. P. Hartley, J. W. M. McCowen, A. H. Ridley, D. Simmons, C. Woodward, and nine intermediate. In transit for Halifax are 4 in saloon, 20 second class and 300 in steerage. The latter are emigrants bound to the Canadian Northwest.

CHANGE OF CAPTAINS.—Captain Maxwell, late chief officer of that ship is in command of the Carthaginian this trip, succeeding Capt. McKellop who is now master of the Numidian, plying between Glasgow and Boston.

Varicose Veins and Itching Piles

Usually Arise From Same Cause—Relief and Cure Effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment. Nearly everybody knows of Dr. Chase's Ointment as the most effective treatment for piles or hemorrhoids, but medical science has been able to compound. So much suffering and misery arises from this ailment that one is not long in telling his friends when he has found an actual cure. This accounts for the enormous sales of Dr. Chase's Ointment. This letter tells of relief from the suffering of varicose veins by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Many suffer from this trouble not knowing the comfort to be obtained by the use of this great soothing ointment. Mrs. R. J. Evans, 127 Murray street, Toronto, writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for years. I have been troubled with varicose veins, and it is the only thing that gives relief. For every purpose when a soothing, healing ointment is needed, there is nothing so good as Dr. Chase's Ointment." 50 cents a box all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

Nickel's Big Matinee.

The Prince Present—Sees His Father on Canvas.

The Nickel Theatre was crowded Saturday afternoon and the greatest excitement prevailed amongst the juvenile audience when it became known that Prince Albert, who is a cadet on H.M.S. Cumberland, was present. Capt. Beech, of Government House sent and asked that ten seats be reserved, so Manager Kieley placed extra chairs in the centre of the hall. The Prince was delighted with the programme. One of the pictures showed his father, King George, opening Parliament. When His Majesty appeared there was an outburst of applause which must have charmed the young Prince. When he returns to his home in England he will be able to tell the King how patriotic the Newfoundland boys and girls are. There will be a fine programme this evening. This is farewell week with Misses Guerin and Gardner. Mr. Myers, the celebrated singer, will appear next week.

Aero Beats the Fastest Train.

Frenchman Flies 933 Miles in 13 Hours—93.3 Miles an Hour.

Paris, June 16.—The young French aviator, Marcel G. Brindejone des Moulins, yesterday, beat all distance records by flying from Paris to Warsaw, by way of Berlin, approximately 933 miles, in 13 hours, and, excluding stops, attained an average speed of 93.3 miles an hour. He accomplished this in the competition for the Pomeroy Cup—for the longest flight across country from sunrise to sunset in one day, with stops, if necessary.

To give some idea of his achievement, it may be stated that the Nord express, one of the fastest trains in the world, takes 18 hours in the trip from Paris to Berlin, and 27 hours between Paris and Warsaw.

A Cordial Welcome.

When His Highness Prince Albert was being driven slowly along Queen's Road, Saturday afternoon, towards Government House, the joy bells in the towers of the R. C. Cathedral rang out a joyous peal of welcome which was heard over the city and when the Prince's carriage was opposite the Cathedral the peal stopped and then the chimes appropriately rendered "God Save the King." Crowds of citizens left their homes along the route and stood on the sidewalks to see the illustrious young visitor pass by.

The Servant Problem.

In view of the ever-increasing difficulty of obtaining and retaining satisfactory domestic servants, it is highly important to adopt every means which will reduce the work of the house. It has been proved by the experience of many that the use of gas for cooking, heating and hot water supply, makes it possible to do with fewer servants, easier to keep those you have, and a less serious matter to have none.—The Evening Telegram.

A Cave In.

A cut has been run along Monroe Street by the Council employees, and after the heavy rains of Saturday the earth on either side became loosened up and caved in along a considerable section of it. Had the men been at work some of them must have been caught under the falling clay, as John Doran was a few evenings ago.

Where's the Impounder

Saturday evening people passing that way were surprised to see a large flock of goats roaming about Springdale Street. In the absence of the conventional poster or other literature which usually tempts the palate of goats his destructive propensities were satisfied in tearing the bark off young trees and breaking into cabbage gardens. The impounder should bestir himself.

Bluejackets at Church.

Large contingents of bluejackets, petty officers, engineers and other officers of the Cumberland, attended the services at the C. E. Cathedral, Methodist Churches and R. C. Cathedral yesterday morning where they assisted at 10 o'clock mass which was celebrated by Rev. Fr. O'Callaghan. Citizens who saw the men march to the various churches admired their smart clean appearance and splendid physique.

ORDERLY CITY.—The streets of the city were very orderly Saturday evening and night, and only three prisoners were taken to the police station. These were ordinary drunks.

The Value of Order.

By RUTH CAMERON.

"A place for everything and everything in its place" is such a familiar proverb that any suggestion along that line ought to be superfluous. And yet, although we all know and approve that sentiment, is the average household. Moreover, it is frequently the case that in homes where such systematic arrangements do exist they are observed by the grown-ups but continually set at naught by the children; and this is accepted as a matter of course by their parents, who rebuke their children when they, themselves, are seriously inconvenienced, but do not definitely and absolutely insist on habits of order.

This is unfair, both to those who have to suffer from the carelessness, and to the children themselves, for there will surely come a day when they will wish they had been made to acquire habits of order at the time when habits are most easily acquired. For the household business of the life in which to have a place for everything and everything in its place has become a fixed and facile habit, will always be more efficient and valuable — other things being equal — than that in which system has no part.

Ruth Cameron

Household Notes. The Spy Mystery.

Before starting to can fruit, see that the tops of your fruit jars fit, and that you have a good supply of rubbers on hand.

Where it is impossible to get ice, food can be kept cool by placing it in a large crock and setting the crock in a basin of water.

A bit of fine mosquito netting placed under the hole in a stocking, and used as a foundation for the darn, is a great help.

Housekeepers should plan to have simple meals, especially dinners, in hot weather, using fruit always, instead of made desserts.

In washing cotton crepes and crepons, have grease stains removed with naphtha or gasoline before putting the crepe into water.

Pineapple is made with shredded pineapple. Sweeten and pour a quart of fresh boiled water over the pine, cool, then chill; strain and serve.

A baby's bottle ought never be washed with soap, but the moment it is empty, it should be washed in cold water, then filled with a weak solution of boric acid.

When iced tea is desired for luncheon or dinner it should be prepared in the morning. When ready to serve, pour it on the sugar, ice and lemon already in the glasses.

Graham gems are made with two cups of graham flour, one tablespoonful of lard, two tablespoonful of sugar, two teaspoonful of baking powder and salt. Mix stiff with milk.

Nasturtium sandwiches are made by buttering thin slices of white bread and putting nasturtium leaves and a putting nasturtium leaves between them, washed and lightly salted. A few of the flower petals may also be used.

All the left-over vegetables, such as string beans, peas, beets, carrots, etc., will make a delicious luncheon salad. They should be chilled and laid on salad leaves with French dressing.

The remnants of a chicken can be converted into delicious shortcake. Make the biscuit crust the same as for old-fashioned shortcake. Spread the chicken between and pour gravy on the whole.

Snake Invaded Cradle.

Sucked Milk From Baby's Feeding Bottle.

York, Pa., June 16.—Invading the cradle of the one-year-old son of John E. Copenhaver, of Codorus township, a two-foot garter snake bit the child upon the neck, and then closed its jaw upon the nipple of the nursing bottle, the milk in which is supposed to have attracted it. Peering into the cradle to see what was making the baby cry, a six-year-old brother discovered the snake, which at once ended its greedy meal, and darted under a cupboard. The father was called and killed the reptile.

In the meantime the baby's neck had swollen alarmingly, but a physician pronounced the wound not dangerous, as the snake was of a non-poisonous variety.

tion respecting the Navy and land fortifications for use by an enemy." On a second charge — of making or obtaining a note with reference to naval guns under construction at Messrs. Beardmore and Company's Steel Works, Glasgow, also for use by an enemy — a verdict of not guilty was returned by a majority of the jury.

"Exit Armgaard Karl Graves," was the prisoner's remark when sentence was passed.

The Solicitor-General for Scotland described his character as quite ideal for a spy. He was a man of high intelligence and of an affable and genial disposition. His Continental correspondent was known as Lewis V. Noens, and wrote from Brussels and Amsterdam. Deciphered letters and telegrams were read at the trial, in some of which Graves asked for money, and one reply referred to a promised map and photographs. Another letter said: "The highest sum which I can give for the whole affair is £20. I expect a detailed written report to determine whether discovery would be of any use to my firm." The "discovery," the Solicitor-General said, must have referred to our war-like preparations. — Daily Mail.

Invest Wisely.

Take your bundle from the chest and with wisdom invest; you will find that scheme the best ever found; no one plies or condescends with the chaps who lose their rolls buying mines which are but holes in the ground. Better far is five per cent. it will bring you more content than some hot air from gents selling stocks; and the man who's truly wise bricks from strangers never buys; and he (when not swatting flies) guards his rocks. Too much hurry to get rich often lands men in the ditch, where they raise, in doleful pitch, their lament, muttering, "That deal was raw! 'Twas the worst we ever saw! It were better far to draw five per cent!" When your roll's dropped out of sight and you are a saddened wight, people say, "It served you right — you're a chump!" Scornful words and ribald jeers keep on sounding in your ears till your eyes are shedding tears like a pump. If at home you use your cash (while the dupes buy green goods trash) you're not apt to go to smash out and down; and your neighbors will arise, saying, as they await the file: "He's a treasure and a prize to this town!"

Civic Reform

Another Letter From 'Advance.'

Evening Telegram.
Sir—In my letter of Monday last I attempted to give an account of what is being done elsewhere under Government by Commission. I do not wish to convey the idea that such a system is a panacea for all the evils that affect our city. We will have to go deeper than the Municipal Council right down into our industrial system before we will be able to right the many evils that grow out of its inevitable uses. With its unregulated competition, uncontrolled combinations and monopolies, low wages and scarcity of constant employment for many workers thus producing the great evil of poverty it will not be possible to eradicate that evil which is largely responsible for much of the present conditions of the city. By society I do not mean lack of bread, the molasses and salt-pork and a hut to live in and a nail to use, but that poverty which means lack of means to provide good nourishing and wholesome food for the body and all the sanitary conveniences necessary to a home for the maintenance of cleanliness and health. If we cannot agree to make the change necessary in our industrial system, we can agree to stop out of it by a change in our form of city government.
I am well aware that in giving a review of what has been done so successfully elsewhere by cities adopting government by Commission, there will be those who will contend that what may be good for cities in the United States may be of no advantage to a city like ours. That to adopt the initiative Referendum, Right of Recall and place the city officers directly under control of the electorate would be a dangerous experiment, especially to a people whose education is so low that any demagogue may lead them into excesses unthinkable.
Anticipating this argument, I have shown the city of Haverhill, Mass., which has the distinction of being the first city in New England to adopt Commission Government. Here is a city of 40,000 inhabitants whose predominant industry is the manufacture of boots and shoes. The majority of present to listen to a straightforward, business-like presentation of the Commission idea, furnishing for that audience a definite plan for the remedy of the Municipal situation.

The immediate result of this meeting was the formation of the Haverhill Civic Association, which adopted for its primary object the drafting and passage of a charter amendment which should give to the city a Commission form of Government. The Association attained an enrolled membership of over 500, an Executive Committee of a dozen, and constant workers to the number of six or seven.
Back of it all was the constant help of many non-members of the Association and the moral support of a very large body of citizens. Early in 1908 a draft of the charter amendment was submitted to the Massachusetts Legislature and after some revision was passed by that body with a referendum clause attached providing that the charter amendment be presented to the voters of Haverhill at a special election to be held in autumn, provided that this election should be requested by a petition containing not less than 1,500 of the registered voters of the city. This was obtained long before the expiration of the time limit for such work. The Civic Association then took up the work of campaigning for the adoption of the charter amendment. It was a campaign of education along broad lines.
Circulars were prepared dealing with special features of the charter amendment and presenting arguments in favor thereof, and once a week for some six weeks preceding the election one of these circulars was mailed to every voter, copies of the entire charter amendment were deposited at various centres and convenient points about the city and a list of such depositions published in the newspapers.
Much space in all the newspapers of the city was bought and filled with exposition, explanation and argument.
Meetings were held in churches, lodges and labor halls and rallies were often held throughout the city.
To be sure, those who profited by the old system were up in arms to fight the proposed changes and there were some honest and serious minded citizens with them who looked askance at any innovations. The charter amendment was adopted by a substantial majority and went into effect on January 1909.

Under the new charter all administrative functions in the city of Haverhill are vested in a single board called the Municipal Council composed of the Mayor and four Aldermen. All members of the Council are elected for a term of two years, two members one year and three members the following year. The Mayor receives $2,500 a year and each Alderman $1,800 per year. All members of the Council are elected at large without reference to Ward lines and it is expressly prohibited that any party name or designation be printed on the official ballots. Official orders are passed by the affirmative vote of three members of the Council, the Mayor having the right to veto but no power of veto. The publicity features of the charter require all meetings of the Council to be open to the public, all votes to be recorded by year and day, detailed itemized statement of receipts and expenditures to be published at the end of each week month and submission of the entire books and accounts of the city to outside expert accountants for their examination and report at end of year. Provision is made for the initiative, referendum and recall. The administration of city affairs is classified under four main heads: Department of Accounts and Finance; Department of Streets and Highways; Department of Public Safety and Charity; Department of Public Property. The Mayor holds a position analogous to that of Superintendent or Supervisor. At the head of each of the four main departments is one Alderman who is directly responsible for the administration of his departmental affairs.
The results accomplished under the new form of Government in Haverhill have been:—(1) the application of business methods to city affairs; (2) fixing of responsibility for Municipal administration; (3) a broad and comprehensive system of permanent street construction and improvement work; (4) the securing of personal supervision over departments by men making themselves familiar with departmental details and as a consequence of these a large per cent of saving in Municipal purchasing; (5) a substantial surplus at end of the year. If one were to ask a citizen of Haverhill the difference between the old and the new system he would tell you that now they do business instead of playing for votes.
This condition of affairs is due to the fact that the men elected are hard-headed business men. The Mayor is a large property owner. The head of public property is a retired contractor. The head of finance department was formerly connected with Haverhill's leading bank; the head of department of streets and highways is a civil engineer of wide reputation; the head of the department of public safety and charity was a labor leader of great organizing capacity and was a factory worker at the time of his election. Never before in the history of the city was it possible to find available such material for municipal officers. And why? It gives to the members of the Council positions of power and responsibility and pays them at least sufficient to enable them to devote their time to the work without loss of self-respect.

Men of the sort mentioned were now for the first time willing to present themselves as candidates for municipal offices. Given the responsible control of his own department, paid a decent wage for devoting his time to municipal work the Alderman under the new form of Government instead of meeting at the City Hall once a week and devoting his time, best thought and attention to private affairs as under the old systems of Government, now gives the best work in the city system, becomes familiar through personal contact with the details and needs of his department with the idea in mind that the failure or success of his department responds to the credit or discredit of himself. The result has been that instead of the city having a deficit or just squaring accounts it has a surplus every year; the first year's surplus being $37,000; the streets of the city are well kept and the sanitation so carefully attended to that the least infraction of the Board of Health rules brings with it the immediate punishment called for by the ordinances of the city, seldom has it been called into force.

Such beneficial results were made possible because the people had learned to their great satisfaction that at least there was one particular man to whom they might go with their complaints, criticisms and suggestions and that man was so placid that he must assume without reference or appeal to anyone else the responsibility of his own particular department. How different with us. On a sunny day with a high wind we are blinded with dust. The windows of our houses being open the dust containing the germs of smallpox, scarlatina, consumption and other diseases that are blown from the street where drains are ill-led daily with the suds thrown from the houses with no sanitary convenience. We complain to the Council that the watering cars are not being used as they should be. But of what avail is it; little or no attention is given to the complaint and as it goes on from bad to worse. There are several lessons we learn from Haverhill's experience but having transgressed more than I intended upon your space, I will only refer to one and that the more important one, i.e., the manner in which the change was brought about. We have in our city as general a dissatisfaction with civic conditions as that which prevailed in Haverhill previous to the introduction of Commission Government.
Scores of our citizens have been writing to the press with the hope of arousing the public. Writing to the press is very good but it should not rest there. There must be organized action on the part of those desirous for a change. Mr. Gosling, Reform, the clergymen of the city, and the other citizens who have been trying to arouse the public by individual effort, will accomplish little unless they go further, and like the Haverhill reformers unite their efforts and determine that a change for the better must come. Will they act or will it go off in talk? Now then, gentlemen, pride yourselves as doers of the word.

Special Notice.
 We take pleasure in announcing the appointment of Mr. Richard C. Power as our Newfoundland Representative for the sale of one of the most attractive securities that we have marketed during the long period of forty years in which we have served the investing public.
 We refer to the 7 per cent. Cumulative Preferred Stock of the Maritime Mail Company, Limited, a prosperous corporation operating at St. John, N.B., with the largest output of any single mill of its kind in Canada.
 This issue is unusually well secured by assets appraised at $150 for every $100 share of Preferred Stock, exclusive of the amount covering the Bonds outstanding. The earnings record of the issuing Company is alike exceptionally strong and rapidly expanding under the present efficient management. Two other desirable features are the 50 per cent. Common Stock Bonus and the alternative plans of payment, cash or instalment.
 A fully descriptive circular has already been mailed to our many Newfoundland patrons. We advise these friends of ours and all other interested persons to immediately get in touch with Mr. Power, from whom additional copies of the circular and further particulars may be had.
