TURKEY'S APPEAL IS IGNORED OTTOMAN TROOPS MUST FIGHT UTTER DEFEAT NOT CONCEDED

Turkish Forces May Possibly Be Able to Make Effective Stand Behind Lines of Tchahtajis, Despite Loss of More Than Half Their Artillery—Adrianople Seems Doomed.

LONDON, Nov. 4.—(Can. Press).—The prospect that a considerable portion of the defeated Turkish army will be able to re-form behind the lines of Tchahtajis, the last of the fortifications before Constantinople, is not altogether excluded, but whether the Turks will be able to maintain there any serious resistance to the Bulgarians is a question which permits of doubt.

In the struggle with the allies the Turks lost more than half their artillery. In fact the Servians alone claim to have captured no less than 80 guns. This will certainly militate against any prolonged stand at Tchahtajis.

In a circular note to the Turkish ambassadors abroad the Turkish Government maintains that, although embarrassing, the position of affairs is not desperate, and declares that when the allies had completed their mobilization Turkey had barely begun hers.

No Response to Appeal. Up to the present hour there is no sign that anything has come of the Porte's appeal to the powers for mediation.

Altho fighting is still proceeding on the Tchahtajis line and correspondents are sending reports of Bulgarian and Turkish successes in that neighborhood, according to which they draw inspiration from, the official announcement from Constantinople that the Turks are withdrawing to the Tchahtajis line of forts is not to be doubted, and it is evident that this fighting is merely an extensive rear-guard action to cover the movement of the Turks towards Constantinople.

The fall of Adrianople is expected daily. The occupation of Buk, on the railway between Saloniki and Kulieli Burgas, is the last link of the chain which have been fighting the great battles in the east from the scattered forces in the heart of the country and to the west.

Turkey Fears Lawlessness. Comparative order is still maintained in Constantinople and Saloniki. But apparently the nervousness felt in Europe over possible outbreaks and disorders is equally shared by the authorities in Turkey. In Constantinople already the government is seizing great supplies for the army, and the likelihood of further prices for food will add to the government's difficulties. The anxiety has been partly relieved.

GERMANY, AUSTRIA AND ITALY REJECT PROPOSALS OF PEACE

England and Russia Side With France in Refusing to Consider Terms Suggested by Turkey—Premier Poincare's "Territorial Disinterestedness" Basis Not Approved by Three Other Nations.

PARIS, Nov. 4.—(Can. Press).—The French attitude to the Turkish appeal for mediation shared by England and Russia. Turkey's proposals were as follows:

First—That the powers offer and, if need be, enforce an armistice to the belligerents. Second—That the powers profit by the armistice to invite the belligerents to make known their peace terms, and if necessary harmonize the conflicting terms of the belligerents.

In refusing to accept, Premier Poincare declared that France was unable to accept the suggestion about an armistice without furnishing to the Balkan allies guarantees relative to the conditions of peace. An armistice, he said, would check the advance of the allies at the height of their victories, and give the Turks time to reorganize and strengthen their armies.

Premier Poincare's proposals to the powers are: First—Recognition by the powers of political and administrative changes in the territory occupied by the troops of the allies.

Second—Retention of the sultan's sovereignty at Constantinople and the region round the capital.

Third—The summoning of a European conference in which the Balkan nations shall participate.

REJECTED BY THREE POWERS. BERLIN, Nov. 4.—(Can. Press).—The Turkish ambassador presented to the foreign office this afternoon a communication from his government asking the powers' good offices to bring about an armistice. Germany immediately put itself into communication with the other five powers with a view to carrying out the request.

The report is in circulation here that the Turkish application for intervention by the powers was premature, and that the Turkish military authorities intend, instead of appealing for intervention, to resist the Bulgarians at the lines of Tchahtajis.

The reply of Germany, Austria and Italy to Premier Poincare's proposals has just been despatched. It rejects the proposed declaration of "disinterestedness."

It is semi-officially declared that the German warships are being sent to Turkish waters because the German Government has no confidence in the ability of the Turkish Government to prevent massacres.

BULGARIANS NEAR EXHAUSTION. CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 4.—(Can. Press).—None of the powers has yet replied to the Porte's request for mediation. The belief is held here that King Ferdinand will not be sorry to accept European intervention, as it is considered that after the tremendous sacrifices the Bulgarian army must be near exhaustion.

ROOSEVELT CALLS FINAL RALLY OF FORCES

TORONTO CLERKS MAY STRIKE TOMORROW

Eight Hundred C.P.R. Employees Will Meet Tonight to Decide, and it is Expected That Many New Members Will Join the Union in Order to Present a Solid Front.

Today will be the last day that the Toronto clerks and freight handlers of the Canadian Pacific Railway will work for the company until the demands of the Brotherhood are met, according to the organization of the office of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees.

The reason the Toronto employees affected did not go out when the strike order was issued from the Brotherhood headquarters at Ottawa to take effect yesterday, was that they are not yet wholly organized here. More than fifty per cent. of the Toronto employees are members of the Brotherhood, but those in charge of the strike decided not to call the men out in Toronto until an organization meeting, at which an effort will be made to get the non-members to join, could be held. This is the meeting to be held tonight.

Those affected by the strike include all passenger and freight clerks—the only exception being those working in the general offices, car checkers, baggage men and all those engaged in the handling of freight.

"The strike will be complete from the eastern terminus of the C. P. R. to the Pacific coast before the end of this week," declared S. H. Chase of Port Arthur, to The World last night. Mr. Chase, who is a grand officer of the Brotherhood, has been sent by the executive of the union to Toronto to superintend the calling out of the men here.

"From Port Arthur west to the Pacific the men are out solid. This is also the case in the Province of New Brunswick. This leaves Ontario and Quebec. With the exception of Toronto, the men are out pretty well all thru the province. In Quebec City and throughout that province we are well organized, with the exception of Montreal. At Montreal a very large percentage of newly-arrived men from the old country are included among the employees, and as they are not familiar with conditions in Canada and the objects for which the Brotherhood stands, we may have difficulty in that city. However, all those who are members of the strike will be out before the close of the week."

Ask Same Rights. "We are only asking what has been granted all other employees of the C.P.R. All the other classes of employees on this railway are organized and have a signed contract with the company—even the forgers who work in the construction gangs. We are asking the same right. We want better working conditions, a fair system of promotions and a living wage."

UNION STATION MAY AGAIN BE DELAYED

Question Will Probably Not Come Before Dominion Railway Board Tomorrow on Account of Being Left Off the Agenda Paper, Which Means Another Wait.

It is understood that the Union Station question will not come before the railway board at its meeting here tomorrow, on account of the matter being left off the agenda paper. It is also understood that any attempt to bring the matter up will be frustrated by the railways' lawyers on a technicality.

During the recent session of the board here, it was decided to allow the railways three weeks to confer, with a view to reaching an amicable arrangement. At the expiration of that period, they were to report progress to the board, but a settlement was not entered on account of the alleged difficulties that the companies' representatives said stood in the way.

Corporation Counsel Geary at that time stated that the city had a right to a settlement right there, and that perhaps the commission's orders would not be complied with. Commissioner McLean hastened to assure him that the board had ways and means of enforcing its commissions, and he would attend to them in this instance. The period has long since expired, and nothing, so far, has been heard. Mr. Geary has corresponded with Ottawa, requesting information, but nothing has transpired until the present development, which may mean the indefinite postponement of the erection of the Union Station at Bay and Front streets.

NO STRINGS TO WORLD CONTEST

$5000 in Prizes, Coupled With Amusement and Intelligent Recreation, Open to All. Not Employees of World

It makes absolutely no difference who enters The Toronto World's Proverb Contest, so long as they reside in Canada, and are not an employee of The World or a member of an employee's family.

The contest is for everybody, and those dwelling in other towns or cities in Canada have every assurance that they will have the same chance at the magnificent list of rewards as those who live in Toronto or its nearby vicinity.

The prizes aggregating a grand total value of more than $5000 are, of course, the real thing. However, the competition has many points of interest besides the prizes. The proverb books, from which all of the correct

TEAMSTER WAS KILLED WHEN STRUCK BY ENGINE ON A LEVEL CROSSING

Wm. Andrews Failed to Notice the Approach of a Grand Trunk Engine, Running Backwards, Because of Darkness and Obstructions and Was Instantly Killed—Had Seven Children.

William Andrews, aged 45 living on Sammon street, East Toronto, was instantly killed on the G. T. R. crossing at Greenwood avenue, just east of the Don River, at 6 o'clock last night, when the wagon which he was driving was struck by a light engine running backwards. The man was crushed about 40 yards. He was quite dead when picked up.

There is hardly any light at all on the crossing, an ditch fact may have had a bearing on the accident.

Five Level Tracks. In all about five tracks have to be crossed to get out of the danger zone at this crossing. The horses had pulled the load across four of these tracks and were just clearing the last one when the wagon was struck. Stephen Watts of First avenue, was at the throttle, while the fireman was S. W. Youelles, Sixth street, New Toronto.

The light was traveling westward at a fair rate of speed, while the wagon was going north. Owing to the freight cars shunted along the sidings on both sides of the main line, it was too late to avert the collision when the engineer noticed the horses. The brakes were applied, but in vain.

The body was removed to the morgue in the police ambulance, and an inquest will be held.

Dangerous Crossing. The crossing is very dangerous. It is hemmed in by lumber yards and buildings, and the noise of approaching trains is deafening. Added to this the crossing is devoid of lights of any description, the nearest light being one on a hydro pole, 75 yards away.

Andrews had been employed by the Harris Glue Company for 23 years, and had used this crossing scores of times. He is survived by a widow and seven children.

FASHIONABLE IN PARIS. The fashionable furriers of Paris and London are authority for the statement that the demand in furs for street wear this season will be centred in Canadian mink, Hudson Bay sable, Russian sable and fox. That is for scarfs, ties and muffs. Jackets will mostly be in Alaska seal, Persian lamb and Canadian mink. The Dineen Company are showing some exclusive lines in these particular furs and are prepared to handle your order with despatch. Visit the showrooms, 140 Yonge-street.

SOLDIER'S BODY MAY HAVE TO BE EXHUMED

Foreman of Jury Investigating Streetsville Wreck Dangerously Ill, and Inquest Was Adjourned—Men Who Rode in Engine Say Speed Was Ten Miles an Hour.

That it may be necessary to exhume the body of Private John Bannatyne of the 48th Highlanders, which was laid to rest with so great pomp and ceremony, was the startling statement made at the continuation of the wreck inquest by Chief Coroner Arthur Jukes Johnson at the morgue last night. This arises from the serious illness of James J. Butler, foreman of the jury assembled to hear the evidence, who lies at his home in a dangerous condition. A certificate from Dr. Wigham, the attending physician, which was handed to the chief coroner as he ascended the bench, stated that Mr. Butler is suffering from rheumatism of the heart.

In communicating this information to the jury the chief coroner said: "Gentlemen, I regret to inform you that your foreman is seriously ill and

FOUL PLAY IS SUSPECTED IN DEATH OF J. GRINDALL

Bump as Large as Silver Dollar Found on His Head and When the Body Was Found in the Water the Coat Was Turned Inside Out Over the Head—Detectives Put on Case and Inquest Adjourned.

Evidence of foul play submitted last night at the inquest into the death of John Grindall, 27 Herrick street, the man whose body was found in the bay last Saturday, led Coroner Adam Lynd to adjourn the inquest for a week.

Dr. Wigham, who performed the post-mortem examination, gave asphyxiation from drowning as the cause of death, but at the same time he stated that he had found a bump as large as a silver dollar on the back of the man's head toward the right, and a skin-scrape across the forehead. On being questioned, he said that the scalp wound on the back of the head could easily have been caused by a blow from a club. In his opinion, the man was alive when he entered the water.

Coat Over Man's Head. Constable Gordon Morris, who took the body from the bay after the boys who found it had informed the police, said that he noticed one peculiar thing when he reached the body. The man's coat was pulled over his head and shoulders with the lining and seams showing. In answer to a question, he said the man would be almost powerless if his coat were pulled over his head in the manner in which he found it. When he rowed out into the bay, towing the body behind his boat, he found that it would not float, but kept going down. This led him to believe that the body had been in the shallow water from the time the man disappeared, two weeks ago today. The body was found near the foot of Leslie street, about 15 feet from the shore.

"What sort of a neighborhood is this?" asked the coroner.

"Well, there's an hotel near by," said Morris, "and it is a common thing for people to go down to the shore to drink liquor. We've often been called down there to stop fights and sometimes we found that men brought women down to the place."

Lived in West End. Sidney Grindall, a brother of the dead man, said that it was a mystery to him how his brother came to be found in the east end of the city, as he lived in the west end and worked on Davenport road. On Tuesday morning the dead man left for work with a lunch in his pocket, and was never seen alive afterwards by any of the family. His brother never carried more than $8 on his person, he said, and very seldom visited the east end. Sylvester Grindall, another brother, said that his brother John drank, but very seldom became the worse for liquor. When under its influence he was merry, never quarrelsome.

When the body of the man was found the lunch was still in his pocket, so that it is almost certain that he never went to work on the morning the day he disappeared. His employer had not been summoned to the inquest. The detective department will take up the case anew.

SIR GEORGE ROSS ON PANAMA CANAL

Hay-Pauncefote Treaty is Being Violated by the United States, He Says—In Dealing With Americans, Canadians Never Seem to Get Far Ahead.

"It does seem to me that in dealing with the Americans we never get as far ahead as we think we ought to. It is strange, but in nearly every instance where Canada or Great Britain and the United States have gone to arbitration, we have got the short end.

"In the present breach of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, our action should be a united and definite one. We should place our strongest remonstrances before the colonial office, and then, failing a satisfactory settlement, we should have recourse to the Hague tribunal, where all treaty differences are taken for adjustment. Our remonstrances should be in the strongest terms that the language of diplomacy will permit."

Thus spoke Sir George Ross before a tremendous gathering at the Canadian Club yesterday afternoon.

The speaker read an article from the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, which defined that the canal shall be free and open to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations. Another article of the treaty he read declared against any discrimination between ships, citizens or subjects of any nation.

"How the United States, under my understanding of the English language, can take the words 'all nations' to be exclusive of the United States, is beyond me," he said.

Coast Trading Vessels. "They claim that coast-trading American vessels carry on a purely domestic trade, and therefore are not liable to tolls in passing thru the canal. A Canadian vessel carrying a cargo of steel rails from Halifax to Vancouver is to be liable to tolls, while an American vessel with the same cargo, flying between New York and San Francisco, they hold not to be liable. Well, if that isn't discrimination, what is it?"

"Every manufacturer in Canada stands to suffer by any such discrimination. Are we to suppose that the secretary of state for foreign affairs ever intended to place us at such a disadvantage?"

"It is expressly stated that the United States have no treaty rights of the canal, subject to treaty rights of all other nations," declared the speaker.

In Canadian Canals. Sir George related how Canada had given way to the States in regard to tolls on American vessels passing thru Canadian canals, twenty-five cents per ton was imposed on all vessels, with a refund of 15 cents per ton to Canadian vessels who discharged at Canadian ports.

The Americans, he stated, retaliated by placing a heavy tax on Canadian ships passing thru the Sault canal, and Canadians gave up leaving Canadian canals free to American and Canadian vessels alike.

"We might, however, have retaliated in kind, but we did not do so," declared Sir George.

Unfaithful Trustee. The speaker, in conclusion, laid stress upon the seriousness of a trustee proving unfaithful in the administration of an estate, which he declared was exactly the position in which the United States stood.

"This trustee," declared he, "under the high-handed self-assumed prerogative of sovereignty, uses its trusteeship to its own advantage."

He laid considerable stress upon the immense advantage which would accrue to Canadian trade by the use of the Panama Canal, by which many thousands of miles would be saved in the route from the Pacific to the Atlantic and to English ports. How wheat could be conveyed to the Pacific over only 500 or 600 miles of railway, and thence by boat to England, in that of the costly freighting across the continent.

Ten Years From Now. "The wheat crop this year is 100,000,000 bushels, and as yet we have only six per cent of our available wheat lands under cultivation. In ten years

5 Years' Rheumatism Really Cured! Your Case Isn't Likely to Be Worse, and Can Be Cured Quickly by Nerviline.

HERE IS THE PROOF "After being an enthusiastic user of Nerviline for years, I feel it my duty to tell you personally of my wonderful preparation has done for me.

"I suffered torture from rheumatism and heart trouble, tried scores of so-called remedies, consulted for weeks and months with Toronto's most eminent physicians, but derived only slight benefit.

"A friend insisted on my using Nerviline, and, to my surprise, a vigorous rubbing of this powerful liniment eased the pain and reduced the stiffness in my joints. I continued to use Nerviline and was permanently cured. I am now perfectly well, and for three years have had no rheumatism at all. I know many families where no other medicine but Nerviline is kept—it is so useful in minor ailments like earache, toothache, neuralgia, coughs, colds, lumbago and sciatica. I call Nerviline my 'Life Guard,' and urge all to try its merits."

The Gourlay Piano has every recommendation. Every condition surrounding the making of a Gourlay Piano tends to artistic and material excellence. A piano is such an important consideration, and means so much in future satisfaction and pleasure, that its purchase properly deserves careful and searching investigation beforehand. Since the Gourlay Piano was first made, every device and process that improved piano manufacture has been adapted by us. Expense or inconvenience were not considered where quality was at stake. The materials themselves, the supervision and inspection of the minutest detail in construction and finish, have brought the Gourlay Piano to its present high pinnacle of prominence, not among Canadian Pianos only, but among the world's best efforts. For this reason we cannot claim "cheapness" as an attribute of the Gourlay Piano—but sometimes speak of it as comparatively high in price but worth the price.

RULES GOVERNING THE CONTEST

The Toronto World Proverb Contest is a test of skill and diligence, designed to encourage thought and research on the part of the young and provide a pleasant mental diversion for everyone.

Every day, for a period of seventy-five (75) days, there will appear in The Toronto Daily and Sunday World, an illustration, cartoon or other representation of a commonly used and well-known English proverb.

The Toronto Daily World will award PRIZES AGGREGATING OVER $5000 IN VALUE to reader of The Daily and Sunday World who sends the correct or nearest correct answers to the editor of the illustrations. The first proverb picture was published in The Daily World, Thursday, Oct. 3. The last will be published on Dec. 15.

The correct answers, to serve as a basis of awards, are being selected according to their common use by the Contest Manager and three representatives of The Daily and Sunday World, and will shortly be placed under seal in a Safety Deposit Vault.

This list of correct answers will remain under seal until called for by the judges, whose names will be announced in due course, and who will have full control of the examination of the answers and awarding of the prizes.

The correct answers are included in The Toronto World's Book of English Proverbs, which is published as a guide and reference for contestants' use in the contest.

To compete for the prizes, contestants need only to supply the proverbs represented by the illustrations that will appear daily, and send in their answers, at the close of the contest, according to the rules. The person sending in the correct or nearest correct list of answers to the entire series of seventy-five (75) illustrations will be awarded the first prize. The person sending in the second nearest correct list of answers will receive the second prize, etc. Entry may be made any time before the contest is entirely closed. Rules follow:

1. The Toronto World's Proverb Contest is open to all readers of The Daily and Sunday World in Canada, except those who are in the Daily and Sunday World and members of their families. Anyone not excepted as above mentioned must enter the contest by simply becoming a regular reader of The Toronto Daily and Sunday World.

2. Contestants must write the proverbs represented by the illustrations on a separate sheet of paper, and which will appear on the Toronto Daily and Sunday World every day during the contest. Answers may be written with pen, pencil, or in ink, and arranged in any manner to suit the contestant.

3. Each picture represents only one proverb. Where contestants are not certain as to the correct proverb represented, they will be permitted to send five (5) answers (not more) to each proverb illustration. If the correct answer is given, incorrect answers will not count against a contestant.

4. Only one answer may be written upon a single coupon. Extra coupons will be used for additional answers and all coupons of the same number must be kept together, making up the set.

5. Different members of a family may compete in the contest, but only one answer will be accepted from any one family or household, and only one answer will be accepted from any individual contestant.

6. Answers must not be sent in until the last proverb illustration has been printed. After the last picture has been printed, contestants must arrange their coupons in numerical order, fasten them securely together and deliver or mail them in a neat, flat package (not folded or crumpled) to the Contest Manager, The Toronto World, Toronto, Canada, within the time specified in the following rules.

7. The time of receiving answers will have no effect upon the awarding of prizes. Answers must be delivered at the Toronto World or by mail, not later than midnight, December 15, 1912, and they will be the last of 15th picture is published.

8. The prizes will be awarded to readers sending in the correct or nearest correct set of answers to the entire series of seventy-five (75) Toronto Daily and Sunday World Proverb illustrations.

9. In the event of a tie between two (2) or more persons, the contestant sending in the nearest correct set of answers with the least number of coupons will be the winner. Where two (2) or more contestants submit the same number of correct answers upon the value of the prize or prizes thus tied for will be equally divided among those tying.

10. In making the awards, the judging committee, whose names will be announced in due course, will take into account the similarity and exact wording of the proverb answers as selected by the Contest Manager and three representatives of The Daily and Sunday World, and set of the Toronto World's Book of English Proverbs; spelling, wording, punctuation, and the correct construction of the proverbs as the essentials that will be graded.

11. Where a set of answers is securely fastened together the contestant will be permitted to stamp (with rubber stamp) or abbreviate his or her name on the space provided for same, and omit the full address from the greater majority of the blanks. PROVIDED THAT SUCH FULL NAME AND FULL POST-OFFICE ADDRESS is plainly and distinctly written upon the FIRST SIX AND LAST SIX BLANKS of the set.

12. In sending in the answers at the close of the contest it is important that the contestants seal all packages containing answers, and if great care be taken that postage is fully prepaid at the rate, one cent per ounce, or fraction thereof, in Toronto, and two (2) cents per ounce, outside of Toronto. Answers sent by mail will be returned by post postage due on any set of answers.

All communications or letters of enquiry concerning the Contest must be addressed to the Contest Manager, Toronto World, Toronto, Canada.

The Kings of the Balkan League

In America they would be called the Big Four, these kings of the four tiny Powers which constitute the Balkan League says The Sketch. They are a curiously assorted quartet, not at all the sort of combination that we should expect to find associated in a crisis so grave. Nicholas of Montenegro, with his three score years and eleven, is a man from a book or picture, a man whose soul we should expect Queen Alexandra's brooding to be. The he has known the anguish of a stricken field, he is infinitely more of a scholar and diplomatist than a warrior.

Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria is not beloved. As a vassal of the sultan he schemed against his master, they say, with Greece, Russia, Austria, even Germany—and possibly was justified by regard for his metropolitan ambitions in Europe that the ex-dictator of the Austrian army is so distrustful. In King Peter of Servia, we have, some will say, a strange champion of Christianity—at any rate in the time of King George, about whose murder the Servian throne before the murdered Alexander and Draga were cold in the graves to which the hands of brutal murderers had consigned them.

Montenegro's ruler is but two years old as a king, but he has to be as old as the years that he carries so gallantly once more to battle against his hereditary foe. From his tiny mountain kingdom he keeps a keen watch upon the doings of the rest of the world, and has been known to utter sentiments concerning the government of England which showed an intimate knowledge of our internal affairs. Some day we shall have to stage his best poetic drama, the Ban Caric's did, if we cannot otherwise settle our educational differences, we might take a leaf out of his country's planners for he is the author of the curriculum in use in the Montenegrin schools. One of the most pathetic and charming messages received at the bedside of the dying Gladstone came, by the way, from this warrior poet.

His eldest son, Prince Danilo, must assuredly have used unconsciously for Anthony Hope. He is a dashing, good-hearted fellow—who they say that he once fought a not bloodless duel with very near relative over words uttered concerning the crown princess. Money is generally pretty scarce for all but military purposes on the slopes of the Black Mountain, and it was but the other year that a somewhat awkward

CIVIC IMPROVERS ELECT OFFICERS

Citizens' Municipal Improvement Association Launched With John A. Macdonald as First President.

With the election of John A. Macdonald, wholesale drygoods merchant, as their president, the Citizens' Municipal Improvement Association was launched at a meeting in the Temple Building last evening.

That during the past year the city's business and affairs were anything but well managed was the general opinion of the meeting.

Speakers for the most part confined themselves to association business, with the exception of one or two who detailed items of mismanagement.

The association opens with a membership of 160 odd men present, which includes Capt. R. Cookerell, G. G. Miles, G. T. Blackstock, K.C., Capt. Midford, Dr. John Shays, W. Johnston, James Voke, C. J. Hearn, Senator Jaffray, Rev. Mr. Meek, Rhys D. Fairbairn, W. J. McWhinney, Thomas Hook, Dr. A. G. Thompson and John A. Macdonald.

Suggestions of co-operation with the board of trade and the Manufacturers' Association were made and reserved for further consideration.

A committee of seven returned the following officers, and in the interim before the next meeting will name a representative committee of 25: President, John A. Macdonald; vice-president, J. P. Hynd; secretary, W. Johnston; treasurer, A. J. H. Eckhardt.

"We are going to make this the biggest association for good municipal government in the City of Toronto," was the optimistic opinion of the newly elected president.

Saw Headlight.

"We saw the headlight of the other engine," said Williams, "and were just trying to get out when we struck. The engine did not tell us there was no time for anyone to say anything. MacKeehn was thrown over my head and hit his face on the boiler. My worst worry was that the young man who told at the first sitting of the inquest of having seen Bannatyne at the Milton station before he boarded the train. He has recovered from the shock and last night his face, which had been pale as death at the first sitting, had regained a ruddy color."

SOLDIER'S BODY MAY HAVE TO BE EXHUMED

therefore we cannot go on with this inquest tonight. Whether we will be able to go on with it later or whether the body of John Bannatyne will have to be exhumed and another jury empanelled, it is impossible to say at this point. An adjournment was taken until Friday night at 8 o'clock.

Among the witnesses summoned for last night's hearing of the inquest were Harold G. Williams of the Q.O.R., living at 221 Manning avenue, and Pte. Hugh MacKeehn of the main squad of the Q.O.R. These are the two men other than the crew who were riding in the engine of the ill-fated train when it crashed into the Detroit Flyer at Streetville on the morning night.

Both these men assured The World last night that despite the statements of the members of the train crew already examined, that the train had slowed down to between four and five miles an hour when the crash came, and that the speed was certainly more, and as they judged it about ten miles an hour. "A man can walk five miles that way," said Williams, "and this train was going a whole lot faster than that," his companion agreed.

"They said that they were riding in the engine from Milton where they got on the train, and that between there and Streetville, they reached a speed of 40 miles per hour just before they came to a curve around Streetville."

THE KINGS OF THE BALKAN LEAGUE

In the revolutionary whirl thru which Greece passed three years ago, the crown prince resided in the palace at Potsdam by a sonny, who, when he eventually saw the prince receiving a royal welcome at the palace, exclaimed: "Well, if a peasant next comes up to me and calls himself the Pope, I'll kneel at his feet and ask his blessing!"

The heirs of the former throne of Bulgaria and Servia have occupied considerable prominence at one time and another. Prince Boris of Bulgaria set all Europe talking, without his knowing a word about it. Two great churches were quarrelling for the right to call him son, and one day he was taken by his father into church a Roman Catholic and brought out a member of the Greek Orthodox faith. It seems but yesterday that this happened, yet the youngster is now nearing manhood, and is a soldier, and a sutor for the hand of Princess Elizabeth of Roumania. Prince Alexander of Servia is the second son of the king; the wild, untamable older son George was crown prince for six years, but his freaks made his renunciation inevitable, and Alexander's junior is now heir apparent. Should George excel him during the present conflict, Alexander's place of favor will not be worth six months' purchase.

ONTARIO FACTS AS PLACED BEFORE THE QUEBEC ENQUIRERS

Figures in Memorandum Presented to Provincial Commission Show That Consumption of Liquor in Ontario Has Increased While Number of Licenses Has Become Less.

Special Correspondence.
 MONTREAL, Nov. 4.—The memorandum, embodying a statement of facts, submitted to the License Commission appointed by the Government of Quebec to investigate the liquor situation, goes extensively into the workings of local option laws in Ontario.

In that province the prohibition movement has been of the most militant and aggressive character; therefore, the results must rank as instructive and conclusive. One rash prohibitionist, before he had even carefully read the memorandum, ventured to inform the commission that the facts regarding Ontario, as stated, were not the facts. Had he taken pains to read the statement, he would have seen that after each fact or series of facts, the citation from the official reports from which the facts were taken is given in the memorandum. In seeking to impugn the accuracy of the facts he was really adopting the unwise course of trying to impugn official reports.

Of conditions in Ontario the memorandum sets forth:

"In 1874 there were 6185 licensed bars in Ontario. Under the Crooks Act of 1877 the number was reduced to 3468. Subsequent amendments reduced the number still further from time to time. In 1911, the total number was 1938, of which 1639 were tavern licenses, 226 shop licenses, 31 wholesale licenses and 51 club licenses.

"Of the 828 municipalities in Ontario, for the year 1911, 571 have opted for the liquor license system, and 153 also have no sale of liquor. The prohibitionists point out that of the 365 in which licenses were granted, 113 had by a majority vote for local option, but had not secured the necessary three-fifths required by law. Many of the municipalities voting for local option are small, inconsequential rural places, although some towns, such as Owen Sound, Midland, Orillia and Collingwood, have adopted it. As to conditions in these towns more will be said hereafter.

"Liquor Consumption Increases.
 "Notwithstanding the great decrease in the number of licenses the consumption of liquor has greatly increased, and so likewise have the commitments for drunkenness. For the year ending March 31, 1910, a total of 4,446,573.33 gallons of spirits were manufactured in the Province of Ontario, including the products of four distilleries in the Province of Quebec, and one at Vancouver, the total was 4,721,424 gallons. During the same period 18,368,387 gallons of malt liquor were made in the Province of Ontario, 10,390,828 gallons in the Province of Quebec, and a total of 38,558,201 gallons in the entire Dominion. (See 'Reports, Returns and Statistics of the Inland Revenues, etc., 1910,' pp. 64 and 65.)

"Referring to this great increase, 'The Canada Lancer,' one of the leading technical medical journals of Canada, and one opposed to alcoholism, states in its issue of September, 1911: 'In Canada, it is noticeable that while the "dry" territory has been gradually increasing, the consumption of liquor goes on apace. The annual report of the inland revenue department for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1911, shows that as compared with the previous year there has been a large increase in the per capita consumption of spirits, wines and malt liquors. The totals for the last three years are as follows:

1909	Total gallons per head of population	6.238
1910	"	6.188
1911	"	6.897

"According to the ardent temperance advocates there are several reasons for the increase, and they see nothing in it to discourage them.

"Figures Are Illuminating.
 "Considering the fact that at least 22 municipalities in Ontario went 'dry' between 1906 and 1910, the above statistics are extremely illuminating. They show that the consumption of liquor has generally increased in the last ten years—the rural population in Ontario has decreased about 50,000, but the industrial cities have greatly increased in population.

"During the fiscal year 1911-12 the quantity of spirits produced in Canada was 4,721,424 proof gallons. In Canada there were more than 20,000,000 gallons additional in the warehouse. That the large supply of whiskey distilled is to a greater extent than previously used for home consumption is shown by the diminution in exports of spirits. In 1907-1908 Canada exported distillery products to the quantity of 412,853 gallons. In 1910-11 the export had fallen to 273,363 gallons. In 1911-12 the export was 238,759 gallons.

"Commitments for Drunkenness.
 "Also, also, the number of licenses in Ontario is at present less than half the number in 1876, the commitments for drunkenness have increased. The annual report for 1911 of Hon. W. J. Hanna, Provincial Secretary of Ontario, states as to the number of prisoners committed for drunkenness: 'The number committed during the year 1911 as compared with 1910 shows an increase of 511.'

"The average yearly commitments for each period of five years from 1876 to 1910 are as follows:

From 1876 to 1880 inclusive	3,812
1881 to 1885	4,016
1886 to 1890	3,311
1891 to 1895	2,703
1896 to 1900	1,920
1901 to 1905	2,186
1906 to 1910	4,374

(See 'Report on the Operation of the Liquor License Acts, Ontario, 1911,' p. 6.)

"The Case of Owen Sound.
 "But the tabulated statement in schedule L in the same report, giving the commitments for drunkenness per year, shows an increase of 757 in 1911 over the number committed in 1910. This increase was noted in certain municipalities as well as in license places. Thus, for example, Owen Sound has under local option since 1901. In 1900 there were 140 commitments to the Owen Sound jail for drunkenness; in 1909 there were 245; in 1910 there were 251; in 1911 there were 10; in 1912 there were 10. In 1911, Owen Sound contained 10,000 population; in 1912 the population had increased from 1200 to 1212, and by no means doubled, or anywhere near it. In fact, the population had decreased since last year because of the removal of some 600 residents and their families to Fort Snelling, the new Canadian Pacific terminal, yet, from November, 1911, to April 30, 1912, there was a total of 96 arrests of drunks or disorderlies in that town. In one month since March 1, 1912, there were 11 convictions of drunks and disorderlies in the Owen Sound police court, comprising three in that month, and three in a whole year before local option came in force.

"Enforcement of the Law.
 "The only reply to the state of affairs known of the Inland Revenue is that the law is not sufficiently enforced. This is an old and well known fact. It is one that was not exposed before the Dominion Liquor Commission in 1907-1908, when the same charge was made. The majority of the court, however, pointed out that the law was not enforced; that between May, 1908, and May, 1909, the inspectors appointed by the Ontario government had 947 infractions and obtained 998 convictions. The commission appointed a visitor from Mr. Hanna, chosen to enforce the law were enjoined upon the express recommendation of the temperance people. ('Dominion Liquor Commission report on the liquor traffic,' p. 67.)

"Provincial Secretary W. J. Hanna of Ontario, in his report for 1911, states that of the total of 346,813 lines collected for violation of the liquor law, the sum of $11,780 was collected in local option municipalities. (p. 6.)

"Conditions in New Ontario.
 "It is notorious that large shipments of whiskey are continually going into local option communities. As to that there are hundreds of 'blind pigs' in operation. It is common report that the profits from the illicit sale of whiskey are so great that the beneficiaries vote for local option. But inasmuch as the subject has never as yet been officially investigated by any Ontario commission such statistics and facts as could be given here would be unorthodox. So far as Northern Ontario is concerned, however, there are sufficient official statistics to indicate clearly conditions there. In Northern Ontario there have been only a handful of licenses granted; in the mining districts licenses are prohibited by special act.

"The report of the superintendent of the Ontario Provincial Police, states the Hon. W. J. Hanna, provincial secretary, for the year ending October 31, 1911, shows that the members of the force have initiated or assisted officers of the liquor license department, in 306 prosecutions under the Liquor License Act. In 286 cases convictions were obtained, 28 persons were discharged, one case was withdrawn, and 20 remained to be dealt with.

"The fines imposed, in addition to sentences of imprisonment, in a number of cases amounted to $15,215.50.

"Great Shipments of Whiskey.
 "During the year the following seizures were made: 888 bottles of whiskey; five barrels of whiskey; 164 gallons of whiskey; 48 bottles of gin; two gallons of gin; 240 bottles of wine; 18 barrels of wine; 237 gallons of high wine; 110 cases of beer; 22 kegs of beer; 10 cases of ale. (Report on the operation of the Liquor License Acts, Ontario, 1911, p. 6.)

"It can be reasonably assumed that, large as these yearly seizures of whiskey are, they comprise only a part of the total of shipments; for, no matter how vigilant the provincial police are, so many ingenious expedients are resorted to that it may be safely stated that a large portion reaches its destination. This destination is the 'blind pig,' of which resorts there are hundreds in Cobalt, Porcupine and other districts. The greater part of the above seizures were made in the Cobalt and Porcupine territory where licenses are prohibited.

"Hemp Made 'Dope.'
 "It will be noted that 2374 gallons of high wine were seized. High wine is almost pure alcohol—usually spirit alcohol made from the refuse of sugar factories. One gallon of high wine selling at $4.25 will make approximately five gallons of 'dope,' which is a viciously intoxicating drink of delectable alcohol mixed with water and flavored with sugar, molasses and often tobacco juice or bluestone. This often tobacco juice or bluestone. The recent tour of Mr. N. W. Rowell and the Liberal members of the Ontario parliament to Northern Ontario, revealed that despite Mr. Rowell's stand on the liquor question many in favor of beer licenses in order to do away with the enormous and surmountable consumption of beer and stout and bring about the abolition of the 'blind pig.'

"Modify Their Position.
 "The Act which constitutes but the merest outline of the total array of facts as regards the practical workings of prohibition and local option is of prohibition. These facts demands that it be made by extreme prohibitionists that licenses be granted, although the prohibitionists have been a growing recognition of the fact that beer licenses may, and undoubtedly will, if granted, have a beneficial effect in diminishing the consumption of intoxicating liquors. The movement for the abolition of the ban in Canada, and particularly in the United States. But in the United States one of the chief objections to the saloon has been its active participation in politics. This charge has been true in a minor sense only; the saloons there have no such power over politics as have the trusts and financiers. It is also true that in Maine and other prohibition regions the very laws providing for prohibition have been made the basis for a corrupt and powerful political machine. This fact was long ago established as to politics in Maine, for example. Thus the Right Rev. Dr. Healy, Roman Catholic Bishop of Maine, testifying before the Dominion Royal Commission, when at Portland, stated: 'The execution or enforcement of the law is made a political engine, and every time there is an election there is a letup of this enforcement; that is beyond doubt. . . . It has made quite a corrupt war for the electors. . . . (Report of the Royal Commission on the Liquor Traffic, 1906, pp. 220-221.) This fact is as true today as it was then.

"The participation of the saloonkeeper in politics in Canada is insignificant.

The memorandum then proceeds to analyze the stock arguments that the prohibitionists use for the abolition of licenses and bars.

Called for "Jobs" in New York and Boston

Allegation Made That McManis's Services Were Negotiated For Thru McNamara.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 4.—(Can. Press.)—Letters which the government charged, showed that Frank C. Webb of New York wrote to J. J. McNamara about lending Orton E. McManis to New York and Boston to blow up work that were read at the "Oymannite conspiracy" trial today.

A letter from Webb was quoted as showing that M. J. Young of Boston was anxious to have "jobs" done in Boston in the spring of 1909, and in reply McNamara wrote, "I don't know whether my friend will be able to get down your way. I'll attend to the rest of it, so no one will know anything about it as to time." The government asserted these letters were referred to Frank M. Ryan, president of the ironworkers' union, and that Herbert S. Hookin was sent to Chicago to prepare McManis for the eastern trips. McNamara reported that an opera house under construction in Boston, and a viaduct in Hoboken, N.J., were blown up in March, 1909.

Had Stomach Rumbings Distress Before Meals

Was Seldom Free From That Weary, Droopy, Half-Dead Feeling.

Now Cured, and Gives Good Advice to Others With Dyspeptic Tendencies.

If you have any stomach distress at all you will certainly be interested in the following experience which is told by Mr. Edward Watkins:

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of indigestion," writes Mr. E. P. Watkins of Port Richmond. "I was weak for a long time, but well enough to work until spring. But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to eat salt or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour, and after eating there was pain and fullness, and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Instead of feeling like other pills, they acted very nicely, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and I feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. Today I am well, and I can eat Dr. Hamilton's pills with a good appetite, and I am able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's pills are the best pills and my letter, I am sure, proves it."

Refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Canada. Each bottle contains 250 per box, or five for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or post paid from the Cataract House Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Is Woman Insane?

WOODSTOCK, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—There is in jail at present a woman between fifty and sixty years of age, who has been declared insane by two local doctors, after two Inveroll doctors had refused to sign a certificate of insanity, claiming that she was not insane.

HERE'S THE UNKINDEST CUT OF ALL

GALT, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—The Galt Reporter hands this bouquet to the Toronto City Council. "A Toronto daily newspaper has the cheek to say that Ald. McBride of the city council is only fit to serve on a township council. He would be very much out of place even there. No Toronto frank for your country cousins, thank you."

THOUGHT HE HAD SLAIN BROTHER

ST. CATHARINES, Nov. 4.—(Special.)—As the result of a defusion on the part of Wm. Young that he had murdered his brother, a squad of police went to his home on Nelson street and found at work on a night shift at a paper mill. ## SUIT OVER C. N. D. LEASED LANDS

Option on J. H. Lea Property, Defendant Claims, Expired at 4 p.m.—Plaintiff Thought 12 Midnight

Suit for fulfillment of contract was begun in the civil assizes yesterday morning by G. Frank Beer against Joseph H. Lea of Leaside, and Elmer Ogilvie, real estate broker, of Toronto. The plaintiff claims that on Feb. 13 last, Lea gave Dr. Percy E. Doolittle of Toronto a lease option on land at Leaside Junction, amounting to 107 3/4 acres, and part of the Canadian Northern Leaside subdivision.

Dr. Doolittle testified that he had phoned Lea on March 13 early in the afternoon to close the deal, and later had gone out to see him personally and was told that the option had expired at 4 p.m. Thinking that he had until midnight he had already mailed a cheque for $10,000 and offered Lea a $5000 cheque, but the latter refused to take it.

Laying a Pavement, Water Not In

There are seventeen fine houses of the $15,000 and $20,000 class on Spadina road in the two city blocks north of St. Clair street, and the water is being laid out on the street without first getting a water main in. The main pipe could be put in on one side of the road after the pavement is down, but it would mean that to make connections with the houses on the other side the pavement would have to be ripped up across its whole width. Maher's Horse Exchange. The horse trade still remains on the dull side, the demand not being at all that of the previous month, and the horses still maintain high prices and are fairly plentiful. The out of town trade is picking up a little, and this temporary depression will probably be relieved in the near future.

BUSIEST SPOT ON EARTH.

The most crowded spot in the world for five and a half days of the week is that small tract of territory, covering one acre, bounded by the Royal Exchange, the bank and the Mansion House, in the City of London. It is a stretch an invisible thread north and south across this space you would find that in the course of each day no fewer than 500,000 persons passed and repassed, together with 50,000 vehicles.

And the busiest spot in the world is the Mansion House, for rather more than half the traffic crossing the imaginary boundaries passes that way. The result of a traffic census taken by the London police shows that on an average day some 30,000 vehicles pass this particular corner, while the pedestrian traffic is well over 50,000, and these figures are constantly increasing.

Fewer Lives Lost at Sea. The toll of the sea is gradually falling. In 1894, 1874 masters and seamen and 1197 passengers, making a grand total of 2071, were lost, as compared with 997 masters and seamen and 2112 passengers (a total of 1911) in 1911—68.78 per cent. The total of 1911 figures which appear in a British mercantile marine return just issued. The proportion of mariners lost in 1894 was one in 116; last year it had fallen to one in 248. Nearly 300,000 seamen were returned as surviving in British seagoing merchant ships last year, as against less than 220,000 fifteen years ago.

It is not surprising that of last year's 207,000 were engaged on steamships, as against only 15,000 on sailing vessels. In 1894, 58,327 seamen worked under sail, against 129,227 under steam.

Cost of Electrifying Crops in Germany. Figures worked out in Germany indicate that the electrification of crops on the farm will not be an expensive change, and it should soon become common if the practical increase in yield proves as great as the experiments have foretold.

An area of about 15 acres was covered with a network of wires 1-22 of an inch in diameter, stretched about 12 feet above the ground at a distance apart of 33 feet. The current was supplied at 65,000 volts, the positive pole being connected to the network and the negative to the earth; and in dry weather of moderate temperate the power consumption was only 17 watts.

Allowing twice as much for losses, it was calculated that the electrification of 100 acres for three months, at an average price for current, would cost about $50.

The chief expense would be for wires and their maintenance and this would greatly vary under different conditions.

A New Earthquake Theory. A great diversity of opinion exists as to the actual causes of earthquakes, and the scientific men of the day are divided in their opinions on this subject. A new theory has, however, just come to hand, which is being taken up by scientists generally as being a likely solution of this long debated question.

The earth's crust at the bottom of the sea, of course, nearest the superheated furnace of which the world's interior is composed, and is thus particularly subject to these destructive influences. This subterranean fire is continually eating into the earth's crust, and from time to time large portions of the ocean's bed are thus swallowed up, leaving large crevices thru which the sea rushes, to be instantly converted into steam. Huge columns of water-ras, in this formed, and immediately expand and explode, and it is these explosions which shake the earth in their immediate vicinity.

Gigantic Water Tank. The water supply system of Calcutta, India, includes the largest water tank in the world. It covers an area 2-1-2 acres, and the total weight when it is full of water is 72,000 tons. There are 42 miles of steel joints in the vertical columns and bracing, and in the foundations 30 miles of steel. It is 9,900,000 gallons of water. The tank acts as a balancer and to assist the pumps when they cannot send stuff into the mains to meet the demands. During the night hours, when the pumps provide more than is required, the excess quantity goes into the tank; when the demand is greater for water from the tank flows automatically into the mains.

NO FEATURES IN TORONTO STOCK MARKET—UNEASINESS OF EUROPEAN POLITICAL SITUATION.

The Canadian cities, Montreal, Toronto and Winnipeg, each dropped back one place in the record of bank clearings in the United States and Canada last week. Montreal ranked ninth, Toronto seventh and Winnipeg thirteenth. Thus in two weeks Montreal has dropped back from the proud distinction of sixth to its present status of ninth. The decided stringency in the money market is the only explanation required for the poorer showing.

For the greater part of the season trading was almost at a standstill. Some stocks, notably St. Paul and the Hill issues, were moderately strong at the outset, while most other leaders, railways and industrials, were heavy when not absolutely weak. Certain of the specialties, such as American Beet Sugar, American Sugar and American Woolen, whose affairs are largely dependent upon the tariff, recorded severe losses, which were partly regained before the close. American Oil and the Tobacco group, as well as some of the minor stocks, reflected varying degrees of pressure.
