Hungarians at Mines Thirsting for Blood Club Man to Death While on Way to Work

Presence of Troops in Coal Districts Awe Strikers and Decreases Acts of Violence—President Mitchell Declares Reports of Disorders Are Greatly Exaggerated—Ship-ment of Coal in Small Quantities.

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—While there was considerable disorder and many acts of violence in portions of the hard coal regions to-day, the lawlessness was not so general as it was earlier in the week. The presence of additional troops and a drizzling rainstorm assisted greatly in the preservation of peace.

The most serious outbreak occurred near Olyphant, almost under the noses of the soldiers of the 13th Regiment. A non-commissioned miner named Winston was clubbed to death by a band of Hungarians, and his son-in-law was badly beaten. Near Wilkes-Barre, a coal and iron policeman was almost clubbed to death.

Reports from other parts of the region show that petty cases of violence continue to occur. The lower anthracite region is comparatively quiet, most of the lawlessness occurring in the vicinity of Scranton and Wilkes-Barre. Brigadier-General C. G. Coffey has ordered his soldiers on the move, either shifting their camps or sending out companies to scatter crowds. President Mitchell says the troops will help to keep the men from their determination to stand out against the operators. The coal companies claim they are daily placing more men at work, and the shipment of coal continues in small quantities.

where the civil authorities are unable to suppress them. They will not interfere with the civil authorities, but there is a surplus in the field for the strike time. I have no hesitation in expressing my disapproval of all acts of violence, and my determination to suppress them and preserve order regardless of consequences and regardless of cost.

ARMED WHILE WORKING.
Lebanon, Pa., Sept. 25.—There was some stray firing in the vicinity of the American Iron and Steel Company's plant to-night, but no one was injured. Pickets are stationed about the plant. The colored puddlers are still at work, but some are badly scared and declare they will leave town if the soldiers are withdrawn. They live in temporary buildings inside the company's property, and are near by all arms armed with revolvers and shot guns.

FARMERS, CARPENTER MAKE UP "DIGGER" JURY

Case of Louis Bailey, Street Railway Conductor, Taken Up Before Judge McDougall.

PINKERTON TACTICS EXPLAINED

Detective Caulfield's Evidence Was the Feature of Day's Proceedings.

Eleven farmers and a carpenter compose the jury which will dispose of the famous "digger" cases before Judge McDougall. When court convened Thursday morning every seat was occupied. There were some ladies present, and the greatest curiosity manifested in the details of the manner in which Pinkerton Detective Caulfield secured the evidence on which seventeen street railway employees were arrested June 5 for extracting fares from the company boxes.

During the entire day the jury was regaled with the technique of "diggers," big and little, ancient and modern, though the jury was not carried two most of the time, a new digger and an old one, of different patterns.

The street car people have evidently profited to some extent by the revelations of recent months, and have narrowed the slits in the fare boxes, so that it will be difficult for the "diggers" to be used in robbing boxes in the future.

Pinkerton Caulfield's Testimony.
The case against Louis Bailey was the feature of the day's proceedings. The accused is a boyish looking fellow, of good appearance. He is 20 years of age, and was employed as a street car conductor, with his digger in his pocket. He was then a conductor, with his digger in his pocket. He was then a conductor, with his digger in his pocket. He was then a conductor, with his digger in his pocket.

Mr. Tarte and Premier Ross Hand in Hand Both Urge a Tariff Wholly for Canadians

Strathroy Gives a Warm Welcome to the Little Minister and His Views.

Strathroy, Sept. 25.—(Special.)—Hon. J. Israel Tarte, "the little minister," with all the fire and fervor of his race, reached the gospel of Canada for the Canadians here this afternoon, and cheered to the echo. The occasion was the opening of the Strathroy Fair, and that formality was gracefully gone through by him. His speech was not so sensational as usual.

Premier Ross also was present. Hon. Tarte, he declared, was a free trader in no uncertain way, and declared himself to be a subscriber to a tariff that would be wholly in Canada's interests, irrespective of the United States.

President Grigg of the Fair Association introduced Mr. Tarte. He spoke of his achievements in the realm of politics, and had scarcely commenced when the rain came down in torrents. The crowd, however, wanted to hear Mr. Tarte, and there they remained, despite the downpour.

W. S. Calvert, M. P. for West Middlesex, read an address of welcome to Mr. Tarte, whom he credited with being a whole-souled Canadian and a man who had done a great deal to banish the racial and creed rift in Canada.

"I have been invited to make myself at home," said the Minister of Public Works, "and I believe I shall do so. I am a Canadian, no matter what the race he may have sprung from. I make myself at home, no matter what the country he chances to come from."

Continuing, Mr. Tarte, speaking of the agricultural industry, said that it was not only the backbone of the nation, but that it was the only industry that was not protected by a tariff. He urged that the government should do something to help the farmer, and that the tariff should be made to benefit the farmer.

DEFENCELESS WOMAN SLAIN BY A FIEND SKULL SPLIT, SHE LAY IN POOL OF BLOOD

Mrs. Jessie Frank, Who Lived Alone at Chippewa, Found Murdered in Her Apartments, Which Bore Traces of a Frightful Struggle for the Protection of Her Honor—Bloody Weapon Not Yet Found—No Definite Clue, But Murder for Lust Probable Theory.

Niagara Falls, Sept. 25.—The most brutal murder that has occurred on the Canadian Niagara frontier took place some time last evening in the heart of the quiet little village of Chippewa. The victim was a Mrs. Jessie Frank, a well-known resident of the village, who was slain in the village since girlhood. Her lifeless form was found lying in a pool of her own blood clogging the floor of her bedroom this morning.

Mrs. Frank, who was a widow about 50 years of age, moved into J. F. Macklin's old home last spring. It was in this house she met her death.

Scene of the Murder.
The place is located on the southeast corner of the public square in the heart of the village. The house faces west, and is a two-story old frame house, with a large veranda on the front and north side of it. Large shrubs and trees almost obscure the house in front.

On the south side is the public road running east and west, and on the north side are the streets leading to the dividing dilapidated board fence as a frame house owned also by two story building.

The interior of the house where the murder occurred is divided on the west end by a large hall, running from the front of the hall as one enters the Frank's, consisting of Mrs. Macklin's room, also used as a parlor and comfortable room is a door leading into another large room, used as a bedroom, and a kitchen with door leading from the kitchen to the north of the house. It led out at the rear end of the hall to the summer kitchen, which with the upstairs, made up Mrs. Frank's portion of the house.

Had Been Living Alone.
During the summer Mrs. Frank kept one or two rooms, but the past two or three weeks she has been living in her own apartments, her only income being some rent money from a brother, who is located in the States.

COAL BEING MINED.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 25.—From yesterday morning until this evening the Philadelphia & Reading Co's reports show that it has brought down 160 cars, or 4800 tons of coal. About half of this, it is claimed, was mined at the company's mines, and the remainder was shipped from other mines in the anthracite region. The company is accumulating the coal now being produced in the Western Schuylkill region, and about 10,000 tons of washed and culled coal is promised by the end of the week.

Only One Manufacturing Jeweler, A. E. Burgess, Holds Out Against Demands.

P. W. ELLIS EMPLOYEES WILL GO OUT

About Fifty Men in the Employ of Building Contractor Armstrong Quit Work.

It was reported at the meeting of the Jewelry Workers' Union, held on Thursday night in Richmond Hall, that on the following day the men were to go out on strike. The manufacturer who refused was A. E. Burgess of 94 Adelaide street, and ten of his men are now out on strike. Of the larger firms the P. W. Ellis Co. is the only one upon whom the union has made a demand, and the employees will in all probability be out on strike this morning, as the company has declined to put its name to the circular sent by the union.

P. W. Ellis, who was seen on Thursday afternoon, admitted that he had received a copy of the demand, and intimated that he had done nothing to prevent it. He expressed his sympathy with the men, but said that he was unable to do anything more. He had not seen all summer, and he had not seen any of his men since they went out on strike. He said that he had received a letter from Mr. Burgess, but that he had not seen him since. He said that he had received a letter from Mr. Burgess, but that he had not seen him since. He said that he had received a letter from Mr. Burgess, but that he had not seen him since.

E. Burgess, head of the firm of A. E. Burgess & Co., deploras the fact that this man went out on strike. He explains that he had always been willing to do anything reasonable. He had not seen all summer, and he had not seen any of his men since they went out on strike. He said that he had received a letter from Mr. Burgess, but that he had not seen him since.

Building Trades' Strike. A conference was held on Thursday afternoon between representatives of the various building trades, including the plumbers, bricklayers, and painters. THE STRENUOUS LIFE. A Great Strain. No one disputes the fact that we are living in a "straining" life. The rush, the hurry, the strain, the competition is so fierce that the struggle does not cease until the machine is worn out. Women, too, even when surrounded by every comfort, become fatigued by the common strain, and what with their clubs and many social duties, have no time to give thought to their physical well-being. They are suddenly brought to a sharp realization of the fact that nothing in their lives is so important as attention to correct or rational living. It may surprise the readers to learn that women are more prone to pneumonia than men, and in most cases because it is difficult to impress upon them the importance of regular movements of the bowels, irregularly means straining at stool, and straining at stool means straining at stool, and straining at stool means straining at stool.

One Reasonable Theory. The hour of the revolting and brutal murder is 11 o'clock. At 12 o'clock last evening, as the lamps in the house had never been yet lighted, a woman was seen to be coming down to her car evening about 6 p.m. The lady, it was supposed, had just been having been taken in.
