EATON'S DAILY STORE NEWS

Beautiful Pattern Hats at Fractional Prices

We feel it is unnecessary to enter into a detailed description of these lovely queens of fashion, for the prominent place which they have had all season in the millinery showroom has already introduced them to most of you. But now—the almost trivial prices we are asking for them!

For those women who can wear a hat of the ultra-fashionable type, the chance to secure an imported model on Monday is a bit of rare good luck, while others will find economical buying in the trimmings alone, dismantling the foreign beauties and re-designing after their own individual tastes.

In any case, Monday sees these Paris, London and New York models leave at less than they cost—at these prices: 9 Model Hats at 8.50; 20 Model Hats at 15.00; 22 Model Hats at 25.00.

We're Enthusiastic About These Hand Bags

The cases as they are opened, one by one, are pouring out a wealth of beautiful American bags, elegantly finished, and designed to meet the taste of the refined woman and to give her splendid service. We have set two prices—2.50 and 3.29. The bags are worth much more, some almost half price.

At 2.50, a varied mass of Seal and Goat Seal Bags, well made and lined with leather, some Chantecler red, some black and some natural tone. They are all black outside and have either German silver or leather-covered frames, gilt trimmings and either strap or solid leather handles. The body of the bag is roomy in every case, with either round or broken bottom. Each contains a change purse. In fact, you can satisfy your likings easily among these bags, and get style and wear from your choice.

At 3.29, a Real Seal Bag, in all particulars like the one above described, except that there are minor differences in the quality of leather, shape of frame, size, etc.

Two unsurpassed Bag opportunities.

Young Women's Wash Dresses Now to the Fore

Now that May has arrived, with all its glorious breezes and sunshine, one immediately thinks of the summer being almost here. Plans are being laid for vacations, and the young woman finds it's high time to seriously consider her summer dress needs. It's these very needs that we've bought and planned for, and thoroughly, indeed, has it been done, as a visit will make very clear. As an initial demonstration, see the lot we offer Monday—a number of various styles and fabrics. Price, each, 3.50.

With such a stock as ours, we can't afford to let one season drag into another, hence the moment summer begins to make her appearance every garment belonging to spring must be hurried out to make place for summer stock.

Monday we mean to clear 500 Suits, and have priced them so low that you'll find it worth your while being here on the tick of eight. All are high-class Suits of pure wool fabrics, of almost every fashionable weave and coloring shown for spring wear; beautifully made and finished. Divided into three lots, at 10.00, 15.00 and 17.50.

A Special Lot of Imported Tub Dresses at $2.50

The materials include linen percale and foulard prints, in six styles of princess design, some smartly trimmed; colors of natural, sky blue, pale pink and white, also a large assortment in polka dots, stripes and all-over patterns; all fast colors; sizes 32 to 42. Price 2.50.

Ribbons

Satin Ribbons have seldom been more fashionable than at the present moment. These handsome, richly-finished ribbons are required for the new hat bows, roses and saashes, which are necessities for the summer gowns and millinery. On Monday we offer a new satin ribbon, in white, cream, sky, pink, tan, brown, marine, navy and moss, 6 inches wide, at a very much lower price than it could regularly be bought for. An opportunity that warrants large buying. Per yard, .19.

New Fancy Ribbons, of appealing value. They come to us with the endorsement of "higher critics" of the ribbon realm, in the matter of correctness of design, quality and coloring. Dainty shadow patterns in Dresden effects, suggesting wild and moss roses. Some have delicately-colored satin stripes on extreme edge; 3 to 6 1/2 inches wide. Specially displayed Monday, per yard, .25 and .39.

The Chantecler Collar is Here

Everyone no doubt knows about Chantecler and the rage it has been in New York. The most recent effect is the Chantecler collar, and, perhaps, the nearest and prettiest of all Chantecler Neckwear productions is the lot we display Monday. One style is a trim plain collar of very neat appearance, which will find many admirers, while for those who prefer the more fancy effects are many designs edged with narrow crocheted lace, trimmed with crocheted medallions or tiny buttons. Some have the Chantecler embroidered in scarlet: A most interesting display for those needing new neckwear for summer. Prices .25 to 1.25.

Corset Styles to Suit Every Woman and Every Figure

The corset question presents to every woman the matter of health and appearance.

There was a time when the wearing of Corsets was generally condemned by physicians as being positively injurious. Now the Corset has undergone such wonderful changes and improvements that we are now able to offer Corsets that foremost hygienists and physicians not only proclaim non-injurious but recommend as conducive to health.

This Store has carefully planned to meet the requirements of all women, with special makes for the stout figure and for the very slender figure. Choose now from new summer stocks in complete assortments. These are the prices of the various makes:

The HURON Red Hot Warm Air Furnace

As the season advances and the building trade progresses the installation of furnaces in new houses will be receiving consideration. The HURON RED HOT FURNACE has advantageous points to command your most serious attention. It is a high-grade furnace, in DESIGN, WORKMANSHIP and MATERIAL and ECONOMICAL AND SATISFACTORY RESULTS. Following are some of many very excellent features about it, which help to place it in the front rank of house-heating apparatus.

The Radiator—By a special design and construction there is an unusually large area of surface exposed to the direct influence of the fire. A cut-off plate and the smoke collar are so arranged at one side of the flue that all the smoke and gases are compelled to circulate around the furnace radiator, and not only do they pass around this chamber, but they all pass from top to bottom several times in passing once around. This arrangement prevents the possibility of one-half of the radiator becoming ineffective on account of the tendency of the draft to go around one side only, which is the case when the draft is divided at the front. With the "Huron" arrangement there are actually three radiating surfaces.

The Fire Pot, or furnace proper, is fitted with two pairs of rolling grates, a method now conceded to be the best in furnace practice. It has the advantage in being easy to operate, while in spring and fall, when but a small fire is needed, one side may be shaken in the morning and the other at night, thus keeping a moderate temperature in the house. Grate bars can be replaced without dismantling the furnace. There is a large feed door, a deep ash pit, and a correct working dust flue.

The Fire Pot proper is sectional, that is, in two rings, one sitting on the other. This plan lessens the possibilities of damage by cracking.

The Casing is good grade 28-gauge galvanized iron, and lined with tin around radiator section.

Equipment—Each furnace is supplied with poker, water pan, chain and pulleys, regulator plate, shaker and smoke pipe damper, brush, bellows and baseboard.

Capacity—Made in four sizes:
For an ordinary 6-roomed house 22.50
For an ordinary 7-roomed house 27.00
For an ordinary 8-roomed house 33.00

Estimates furnished for installation of furnaces into new houses.

Fuel—This furnace burns very economically either hard or soft coal.

UP AGAINST IT AT LAST.

The electric interests have spent a lot of money in politics and newspapers since they began their exploitation of Niagara Falls and the cities of Ontario, and they were certainly profiting something substantial besides the franchises. They fully expected, for one thing, the disallowance of the Hydro-Electric Commission of the White House.

4. Smith v. Ottawa Electric Ry. Co.

Master's Chambers.

Before Cartwright, K.C. Master. Shunk v. Gentles-Finberg (Hay & H.) for plaintiff. T. D. Delamere, K.C. for defendant. A motion by plaintiff to allow delivery of statement of claim notwithstanding more than three months have elapsed since entry of appearance. Judgment: The plaintiff must be allowed to proceed with the action. To require security for costs might vitiate the merits of the action. It will be a sufficient test of plaintiff's solvency and good faith to require him as a term of the order to pay the costs of this motion, fixed at $30, within six weeks and proceed to trial at an early date as possible. It is as if the venue should be laid at Warkenton, and it is accepted, the order may provide for this change.

Bradshaw v. Benoit-A. MacGregor for plaintiff. Motion by plaintiff for consent for order transferring action to district court of Nipissing.

Williams Smith estate (deceased)—Williams (Mercer & B.) for executors. Application by executors for leave to serve notice of motion under C. R. 933 on a legatee in Detroit. Order made.

Duryea v. Kaufman-Cassey Wood for plaintiff. D. L. McCarthy, K.C. for defendant. Motion by plaintiff for an order that the statement of defence of the Edwardburgh Starob Co. be amended in certain particulars. Judgment: The statement of defence seems open to attack. Could not the company safely abandon any claim in respect of the assertion that the patents have been found useless, other than the damages claimed in clause (e) of the prayer of relief? The plaintiff could abandon his claim for infringement by the execution of the claim for infringement, etc. In the defence would be amended as the company might be advised, but so as to avoid any denial of the validity of the plaintiff's patents. There does not seem any reason why that exact question should be raised now. The evidence on the issue of the usefulness of the patents will be of one trial. I do not, however, order this course to be taken. The plaintiff prefers to let the pleadings stand as at present. He can do so. If my suggestion is adopted by him, the plaintiff should amend forthwith, and the defendant should plead in a week thereafter. In either case the costs of this motion will be in the cause.

Miller v. Toronto Railway Co.—H. Dewar, K.C. for the defendant. T. N. Phelan, for plaintiff. Contract of March 3, 1910. Plaintiff's action was for damages for injuries caused, as is alleged, by defendant's motor-car entering a car from which plaintiff was alighting before her dress got free from the door, in which it was caught as it was shut after her. R. O. IS $200 OUT

Shouldn't Have Refunded Deposit to Candidate Ellis.

OTTAWA, April 29.—An echo of the Chabot-Ellis civil war which preceded the Allard-Chabot by-election came this morning in the form of an announcement from Auditor-General Frazer that Returning Officer Coffey was personally out of pocket to the extent of $200 as a result of his having taken it upon himself to refuse Mr. Ellis' election deposit.

There was considerable discussion, after Mr. Ellis' withdrawal from the field, as to whether or not his election deposit of $200 would be refunded. Mr. Ellis' name did not appear upon the ballot paper, and the returning officer, according to his interpretation of the Election Act, handed back the $200 to Candidate Ellis.

It now transpires, however, that Mr. Coffey acted in violation of the Election Act as interpreted by the auditor-general's department, and the latter has withheld the $200 from the returning officer's election allowance.

BURGLAR TO SUIT SWEETHEART

Plotted to Rob Bank to Satisfy Her Longings.

LANSING, Mich., April 29.—Robert Collister, a young automobile works mechanic, upon leaving to-day in the custody of an officer to serve a two-year sentence at the Jonia Reformatory for conspiracy to rob the bank at Lainsburg, Mich., blamed an unnamed sweetheart for his choosing a career of crime.

"She was not satisfied with my salary of $25 a week," he said, "and had vague ideas of getting a millionaire. She kept urging me to earn or get more money. I tried, I failed, I became frantic. I walked the streets of Detroit searching for a chance to make a lot of money by a hold-up or robbery, and finally decided to rob the Lainsburg Bank."

Collister's bank robbery scheme was revealed to the police by a fellow workman, whom he invited to be his accomplice. He pleaded guilty.

POST CAN'T SEE IT

London Journal's Comment on Cartwright's Ideas.

LONDON, April 29.—The Morning Post discusses Sir Richard Cartwright's speech at Ottawa, which it thinks interesting in view of the circumstances. Reciprocity between Canada and the United States is again to the fore, and it says that on Cartwright's hypothesis, that a policy of alliance with the United States only means safeguarding the heart of the empire. Canada's immediate imperial duty would then logically appear to be to meet the United States overtures.

Problems of commerce and defence are the most formidable difficulties Britain has to face, and The Post thinks it is difficult to see how an economic difficulty can be mitigated by the strengthening of American competition with British trade in the Dominion.

Lord Strathcona states that there is nothing new in the Dominion's emigration regulations, which are the same as in June, 1909.

MINERS GOING BACK.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 29.—The controversy between the 40,000 union miners and operators of the Pittsburgh soft coal district, which has resulted in a month's suspension of mining, was settled late to-night. The miners will return to work Monday.

ion the instrument was long and round. He exhibited the top of the skull showing the crushed portions. At the apex of the skull the bone had been pounded in. The wounds could not have been self-inflicted, and he did not think the stones on the ground could have possibly caused the injury.

The old hat that deceased wore was exhibited. It was saturated with blood. In his opinion deceased had been struck by some person.

Blood on the Clothing. A pair of overalls were produced. They were found in Tom's room after the murder. When found there were spots on them which the doctor said were fresh blood spots when he saw them first. He thought blood would stay on the clothes of a man who struck another in the way it had apparently been struck, and he thought said that blood looked fresh for from two to ten days.

When questioned by Mr. Lynch-Staunton, the doctor admitted that the blood of any animal would be likely to fly if it was injured.

Arthur Spers took the doctor to Tom's room on the day of the murder. They found the overalls hanging up. He had noticed little spots that looked like fresh blood.

Dr. Frank T. Green of Stony Creek, who assisted Dr. Edgar in the post-mortem, corroborated his evidence.

Story Told to Constable. Chief Twiss, high county constable, was on the scene at 9.20 Tuesday night. Tom told him that his father took out one of the horses when he left, and that was the last he saw of him. He said he had worn the clothes he had on, but later admitted having worn rubber shoes and overalls. He said he had not been killing anything recently to account for the blood stains. He thought they were blood stains. He said he could not explain the stains. Chief Twiss arrested the boy.

Accuses Others. Afterward Tom said he thought someone must have put blood on the trousers. Mrs. Kerr was a religious maniac, he said, and he thought maybe she had done it.

Mrs. St. John was an enemy of his. She had lied about himself, his wife and his sister. "No man could stand that, I stood it as long as I could," he had said.

The chief thought it was impossible for deceased to have fallen from the roof.

Arthur Wilson, who took charge of Tom when he was arrested, took him up to say good-by to his wife.

"I am afraid the suspicion is too great, Tom," she had said. Next day Tom told him that he could not account for the blood stains.

When asked if he did not think that the man who wore them must have killed Mr. Finton, he said it looked that way.

MEASLES AND MORTAR BOARD

Mark Twain's Own Description of the Two Proudest Moments of His Life.

From Mark Twain's Autobiography, Which He Wrote for Posthumous Publication.

In 1845, when I was 10 years old, there was an epidemic of measles in the town, and an alarming slaughter among the little people. There was a funeral almost daily, and the mothers of the town were nearly demoralized with fright. My mother was greatly troubled. She worried over Pamela and Henry and me, and took constant and extraordinary pains to keep us from coming in contact with the contagion. But upon reflection I believed that her judgment was at fault. It seemed to me that I could improve upon it if left to my own devices. I cannot remember now whether I was frightened about the measles or not, but I clearly remember that I grew very tired of the suspense. I suffered on account of being continually under the fret of death. I remember that I got so weary of it and so anxious to have the matter settled one way or the other, and promptly, that this anxiety spoiled my days and my nights. I had no pleasure in them. I made up my mind to end this suspense and be done with it.

Will Bowen was dangerously ill with the measles, and I thought I would go down there and catch them. I entered the house by the front way and slipped along thru the rooms and halls, keeping sharp watch against discovery, and at last I reached Will's bedroom in the rear of the house on the second floor and got into it unobserved. But that was as far as my victory reached. His mother caught me there a moment later and smothered me out of the house and gave me a most competent scolding and drove me away.

She was so scared that she could hardly get her words out and her face was white. I saw that I must manage better next time, and I did.

I hung about the lane at the rear of the house and watched thru cracks in the fence until I was convinced that the conditions were favorable; then I slipped thru the back yard and up the back way and got into the room and into the bed with Will Bowen without being observed.

I don't know how long I was in bed. I only remember that Will Bowen, as society, had no value for me, for he was too sick to even notice that I was there. When I heard his mother coming I covered up my head, but that device was a failure. It was dead summer time—the cover was nothing more than a limp blanket or sheet, and anybody could see that there were two of us under it. It didn't remain out of the bed and conducted me home herself, with a grip on my collar which she never loosened until she had lived me into my mother's hands along with her opinion of that kind of a boy.

It was a good case of measles that resulted. It brought me within a shade of death's door. It brought me to where I no longer took an interest in anything, but on the contrary, felt a total absence of interest—was most placid and enchanting. I have never enjoyed anything in my life any more than I enjoyed dying that time. I was in effect dying. The word had been passed and the family notified to assemble around the bed and see me off. I knew them all. There was no doubtfulness in their vision. They were all crying, but that did not affect me. I took but the vaguest interest in it and that merely because I was the centre of an unlikely but not unimportant attention and was gratified by it and vain of it.

When Dr. Cunningham had made up his mind that nothing more could be done for me, he put bags of hot ashes all over me. He put them on my breast, on my wrists, on my ankles; and so, very much to his astonishment—and doubtless to my regret—he dragged me back into this world and set me going again.

I was in Oxford by 7 o'clock that evening (June 25, 1897) and trying on the scarves which the tailor had been constructing and found it right—right and surprisingly becoming. At 10.30 the next morning we assembled at All Saints' College and marched thence, gowned, mortar-boarded and in double file down a long street to the Sheldonian Theatre, between solid walls of the populace, very much hurrah'd and limitlessly hodak'd. We made a procession of considerable length and distinction and picturesque-ness, with the chancellor, Lord Curzon, late Viceroy of India, in his rich robe of black and gold, in the lead, followed by a pair of trim little boy train-bearers.

After a while I asked Sir William Ramsey if a person might smoke here and not get shot. He said "yes," but whoever did it and got caught would be fined a guinea and perhaps hanged later. He said he knew of a place where we could accomplish at least as much as half a smoke before any informer would be likely to charge upon us, and he was ready to show the way to any who might be willing to risk the guinea and the hanging.

By request he led the way, and Kipling, Sir Norman Lockyer and I followed. We crossed an unpopulated quadrangle and stood under one of its eaves—an archway of massive masonry—and there we lit up and began to take comfort. The photographers soon arrived, but they were courteous and friendly and gave us no trouble, and we gave them none. They grouped us in all sorts of ways and photographed us at their diligent leisure while we smoked and talked.

Presently Kipling and I wrote autographs until some good, kind soul interfered in our behalf and procured for us a rest.

I will now save what is left of my modesty by quoting a paragraph from Sydney Brooks' "Ovation."

Let those stars take the place of it for the present. Sydney Brooks has done it well. It makes me proud to read it, as proud as I was in that old day 62 years ago, when I lay dying in the centre of an attraction, with one eye piously closed upon the fleeting transients of life—an excellent effect—and the other open a crack to observe the tears, the sorrow, the admiration—all for me—all for me!

Al! that was the proudest moment of my long life—until Oxford.

LICENSE CHANGES

What To-day's Meeting of the Board Will Probably Bring Forth.

The license board will this morning distribute 110 licenses. The only changes expected are a transfer of the Devenay license at Bloor and Bathurst streets to the Brockton Club, Dundas-street and Sheridan-avenue, the cancellation of two licenses in the "midway" district annexed to the city during the past year, and permission to two others in that district to secure licenses from up town if they can. Philo Lamb will get a transfer to the contemplated hotel in the building now occupied by The News.

"BLUFFING THE PUBLIC"

The bold bluff of the Evening Newspaper Bogie man called!
 For years the advertising solicitors of the evening newspapers of Toronto have declared:

- That this is not a morning newspaper town.
- That the Toronto reading public do not read the morning papers.
- That only men read the morning papers.
- That women do not read the morning papers.
- That the morning papers are not home papers.

But don't be frightened by the Evening Newspaper Bogie Man.

Because:

- I. The morning papers of Toronto are the real home papers.
- II. The morning papers are read by the whole family.
- III. The morning papers, by reason of their early delivery, give ample time to the maid, the master and the mistress of the house to read them through.
- IV. The morning papers are the best advertising medium, because they reach the public before the worries of the day engross.
- V. The reader of the morning paper gets his first impression for the day while reading his morning paper. First impressions are most lasting.

Hence, see that your advertisements reach possible purchasers thru the morning papers. To this end, watch for The Toronto World's exposure of the evening newspaper Bogie Man.

EARL GREY'S PRESENCE ENLIVEN'S HORSE SHOW

In Spite of Wet Weather the Attendances Are Large and Ladies are Gaily Dressed as Ever.

The horse show of 1910 is now drawing to a close, and without undue enthusiasm may be dubbed the most successful of the long series held in Toronto. No other building approach- ing the armories in popularity for location, and no doubt its association with military men and matters is a large factor in that respect. The attendance each succeeding night of the week has drawn larger crowds than the preceding one. The secretary, W. J. Clark, has proved himself the right man in the right place, his unflinching tact and good temper straightened out tanglers and smoothed rough places in an effective manner, and he will naturally be forgotten by the women, at all events, who put in a very strenuous week of labor in aid of the funds of the Humane Society. The patronesses to-day of the tea room will be Lady Mulock, Mrs. John Caythara, Mrs. Duncan Coulson, Mrs. E. W. Cook, Mrs. J. B. Miller, Mrs. Arthur Pennington, Mrs. H. H. Snydam. The girls awaiting include Misses Jessie Thompson, Edwards, Caulfield, Chalcraft, Stanley, Millman, Cauchray, Reynolds, Brodigan, Crawford, Moulton and MacLaurin.

Yesterday afternoon his excellency occupied the lieutenant-governor's box with his Honor and Mrs. Gibson, all in black, and the A.D.C.'s in attendance. The horrible weather kept many people away who, like the hatterfies, had been sporting in gorgeous raiment in the brilliant sunshine of the earlier part of the week. A great many of the boxes were occupied by friends of the holders, but most of the well-known faces were moving about in the tea rooms, which were thronged at four o'clock.

Mrs. Macklean looked well in black, coral chain and black hat, with marine bows and coral colored flowers; she was Mrs. Willie Spratt (Hamilton) in dark grey coat and skirt, black toque with white spray in front. Mrs. Cavithra Mulock was in dull purple hat bent down at the sides and flowers arranged flatly on the crown. Mrs. Adam Beck had such a pretty faded grey satin toque with white spots the same tone as her frock. Mrs. Clifford Sifton was handsome in king's blue, with ostrich feathers falling on the hair at the back of her hat.

In the evening light and color prevailed, shutting out the gloom and mawk prevailing outside, and the scene surpassed, if possible, the preceding nights of the show. His excellency came on from the dinner at government house and occupied his honor's box. Miss Gibson wore a light shade of wrap with darker brown hands and hat to correspond; Miss Meta Gibson looked well in pink; Mrs. H. C. Cox wore white, with large white hat and blue cloak; Mrs. Northey wore black satin cloth, ermine and hat swathed in steel spotted tulle; Mrs. E. F. B. Johnston wore sapphire blue, osprey frock with crown of a black hat, and coat that matched in color, hanging in graceful folds from a pointed yoke; Mrs. Melvin Jones was in black with lovely white ostrich boa and white satin hat wreathed with black feathers; Miss Elizabeth was in this box, her cloak being of grey satin, with rather flat and broad black hat; Mrs. George Cassels wore black and cream, with ermine stole and black hat and feathers.

The air being decidedly chilly, cloaks were more in evidence than the handsome frocks they covered, of which one caught but occasional glimpses, so that when only my lady's wrap and hat are mentioned, the necessary gown is to be taken for granted. Mrs. Hume Blake's costume was of sand color with lace doek to match, black hat and feathers. A green satin coat was noted worn with a hat adorned with beautiful black and white feathers. Mrs. McCoy wore black with mauve hat and orchids in the front of her coat; Mrs. Walker Bell wore black with pink and white in a black hat and an embroidered wrap; Mrs. Agar Adamson had a very pretty light wrap with pink feathers in a black hat; Mrs. Wright wore black and white striped gauze, a brighter shade in a black lace hat. She brought Miss Phyllis Moffatt in white cloth and black hat with roses; Mrs. W. R. Riddell wore callot blue gown and beautiful hat and feathers of the same shade; Mrs. Crossen wore pink with dark cloak, exquisite feathers in a hat turned up with black velvet.

Lady Clark came in rather late, looking very handsome in a cream gown with beautiful lace black velvet and jet cloak, and pale blue velvet toque, with cream roses; Miss Clark was in white with blue cloak, and white ostrich boa. They were in Mr. Beardmore's box. Miss Beardmore was in cream with black hat and red roses tucked in the front of her dress; Mrs. Jas. Scott was all in black and brought her sister, Miss Guthrie, also in black; Miss Josephine Brouse wore a pale blue gown, rose-colored wrap, and leopards hat turned up with black velvet. Miss Marjorie Brouse, cream colored wrap, pink marabout stole, black mink, and pink roses in her hat. Mrs. Cecil Gibson was in rose color and black. Miss Phyllis Hendrie painted chiffon dress and cream embroidered wrap. Miss Wiles (Galt) wore a black hat and feathers, cream cloak and black Russian sable stole. Mrs.

R. A. Smith wore black and white roses in her hat an ermine stole. Mrs. H. C. Tomlin wore a black dress, dark grey embroidered cloak and small toque with grey and white wings. Mrs. Gooderham Mitchell was very picturesque in black velvet vermillion. Mrs. Van Straubenzon wore rose colored jaube and a very quiet leopards hat with roses round the crown and feathers of the same color at the back. Mrs. Cavithra Mulock looked very charming all in black with coars sage bouquet of orchids. Mrs. Douglas Young was in grey. Mrs. Frederick Hammond wore white lace with bouquet of pink sweet peas. Mrs. Hood wore cream colored, cream wrap, with rose facings and hat of silver spotted tulle. Mrs. Victor Williams had a very pretty hat with blue satin and pink roses, champagne satin wrap. Mrs. Scott Griffin black and white chip hat with black partridge plume, cream dress. Mrs. Willie Beardmore had a white hat veiled in fine black lace, grey frock, black wrap, with Chinese embroidery. Miss Arnold wore a lace dress, hat of filled white lace with blue satin and touch of black velvet. Mrs. Douglas Warren had a cream wrap, black lace hat, with wreath of small pink roses. Adelle Boulton looked well in sapphire blue. Mrs. Susie Cassels wore pale blue rajah silk coat and skirt, and hat with wreath of filled white lace. Mr. Lockhart Gordon was in blue, hat to match with black velvet.

GOT TO THE ROOT OF HIS TROUBLE

AND DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED W. WRIGHT'S BACKACHE.

He Had Suffered for Several Years, But the Old Reliable Kidney Remedy Gave Him Quick Relief.

KELVINGTON, Sask., April 29.—(Special.)—"Yes, Dodd's Kidney Pills cured me of Backache, and I have recommended them to others who have also been cured." These are the words of William Wright, a farmer well known here. "I believe I inherited my trouble," Mr. Wright continues. "At times for several years it was very severe, I also suffered from Lumbago, and in the morning I had a bitter taste in my mouth and was troubled with dizziness and my skin was dry and harsh and there was a sediment in my urine. "No treatment I could find gave me any permanent relief till, finally believing that my kidneys were the root of the trouble, I determined to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. Four boxes cured me."

Mr. Wright went at his trouble sensibly. He examined his symptoms, and they showed him that Kidney Disease was his trouble. Do as much for yourself, and if your symptoms point to disordered or diseased kidneys the cure is easy. Dodd's Kidney Pills will do it. They never fail.

enormous aggregate of 145,000. But recently there has taken place one of the most notable sales in the history of stamp collecting. W. H. Peckitt, a Strand stamp dealer, having purchased outright from the executors of the late Sir William Avery of the Birmingham Weighing Machine Making Co. his famous collection for the record single payment of £24,500. This collection is considered to be the largest ever formed by a private individual, and in the eyes of the philatelists, it ranks next to that in the British museum. The number of stamps is computed to be close upon 100,000, which represents as nearly as possible every variety of stamp issued by the postal authorities throughout the world. The late Sir William Avery began collecting at the age of 9, and by the time he had reached 17 years he had acquired a collection of 1500 to 1000 specimens.

The Prince of Wales, than whom no one takes a greater interest in the hobby of philately, began to collect when he was quite a youth, and it is

STAMPS RARE AND DEAR
 Many of the Prized Specimens Are Worth Thousands of Dollars.

It is but 69 years since the adoption of the adhesive postage stamps, says The London Chronicle, and yet the hobby of stamp collecting has already assumed such proportions that in the words of Fred J. Melville, president of the Junior Philatelic Society its votaries are "more numerous than the heroes of Agamemnon's army and more scattered on the face of the earth than the 12 tribes of Judah." During this period over 17,500 different and distinctive postage stamps have been issued by the various governments of the world, and the discovery by philatelists of many different varieties of each issue, peculiarities of printing, depth of color, changes of perforation and of the distinguishing features, has resulted in the growth of a science. Almost as soon as stamps were first issued in Great Britain they began to be collected. Within two years it is said that a certain community of nuts were offered a large donation to their charity by a philanthropist if they would collect 1,000,000 postage stamps within a certain time. Be the story true or not, it is probable in this that the idea has its origin that by collecting 1,000,000 postage stamps one can insure for an orphan or a cripple admission into a home. Among collectors rare stamps have acquired values quite apart from the intrinsic sums they represent, and it is on record that His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales paid £1450 for a single stamp. Within the last 12 years an important collection has been gradually dispersed, yielding the said that His Royal Highness' collection, which is restricted to stamps of Great Britain and her colonies, is now worth £15,000. Of the two rarest existing stamps Sir William Avery had magnificent specimens, which he sent an agent specially to Bordeaux to purchase at the remarkable price of £3500. They are 1d and 2d "post-offices" Mauritius, unused. Only two copies of the 1d are known to exist in a perfect state. In the early 1800s examples of either could be had for about 24 pence, but now even a millionaire would have the greatest difficulty in securing one. Six years ago a Bordeaux schoolboy discovered an old envelope on which were two copies of the 1d, and it was afterward sold for £2400. The Prince of Wales paid £450 at auction for his first issue of Moldavia, which he promptly purchased for £2000. "I should be nothing so much a man's business as his amusements," says Stevenson, and Sir William Avery certainly obeyed this precept in the pursuit of his hobby. If he heard of the existence of some hitherto unsuspected rarity he would not be happy until he had secured a specimen. Thus his collection constitutes a record in its possession of rarities.

One day, while in Paris, this keen philatelist discovered in a dealer's shop three sets of the rare first issue of Moldavia, which he promptly purchased for £2000. He would go to any length himself, and he expected others to go to the same trouble where a prospective treasure was concerned. One day he received an offer of the very rare West Australia 4d stamp, with the swan center inverted, just as he was starting to go to the south of France, and Mr. Peckitt, who was Sir William Avery's philatelic adviser, relates how he was pounced upon and dragged along to Cannon-street station while the intrepid enthusiast sought his advice on so important a matter. The purchase was completed, and the stamp, which is worth £350, now finds an honored place in the collection. Among the cardinal gems of the collection are the Madison and Milbury stamps, issued locally by the postmasters of those towns, before the government of the United States had prepared a general issue—known as "postmaster stamps." They are almost unique, and are worth at least £250 apiece.

Another unique feature consists of a portion of a sheet of the famous "Double Geneva" 10-centime stamp. This stamp is so-called from the fact that it was made double so that one-half could be detached and used for the value of five centimes if required. Each double stamp is now worth £75, and this sheet of seven and a half is valued at £1000. It frequently happens that a unique combination of rare stamps will increase their individual values. Thus, the 12d black stamp of Canada is a great rarity and a single specimen commands as much as £100; but Sir William Avery's collection includes a beautiful unused pair together, which are worth £250. In the case of a block of four three-cornered 1d brick-red Cape of Good Hope stamps, the particular shade of color is excessively scarce, and, while ordinary copies can be bought for 10 a piece, this set is worth £50 to £100. Only three complete sheets of the British Guinea 4-cent black-on-blue stamp of 1822 are known; and it is putting a moderate estimate on Sir William Avery's example to say that it is worth £250. Of the other two, one is in a semi-public collection in France and the other is in the British Museum.

Lame Back

Just the Sort of Case That Proves to the World That the Best Liniment Ever Made is NERVILINE

When it comes to determining the real merit of a medicine, no weight of evidence is more convincing than the straightforward statement of some reliable and well-known person that has been cured. For this reason we print the verbatim statement of Jun E. Powell, written from his home in Cagleton, six feet tall, and weigh nearly two hundred. I have been accustomed all my life to live great weight, but one day I overdid it, and wrench'd my back badly. Every tendon and muscle was sore. To stoop or bend was agony. I had a whole bottle of NERVILINE rubbed on in one day, and by night I was well again. I know of no liniment possessing one-half the penetration and pain-subduing properties of NERVILINE. I urge its use strongly as an invaluable liniment and household cure for all minor ailments, such as strains, sprains, swellings, neuralgia, sciatica, lumbago, rheumatism and muscular pain.

No better medicine for curing pain was ever put in a bottle than NERVILINE—over one million bottles used every year—better try it yourself, large size bottle 50c, or sample size 25c. At all dealers or The Cataractone Company, Kingston, Ont.

PARALLEL ROADS IS ONE BIG QUESTION IN TOWN

Will Project Be Pushed to Speedy Conclusion?—General County News in Brief.

NORTH TORONTO, April 29.—(Special.)—The Town of North Toronto is today confronted with the question of a speedy and satisfactory settlement of two outstanding and important matters, vital alike to the present and future prosperity of the town, in the parallel roads and water propositions. The latter is in a fair way to a successful solution, but the question of parallel roads is one that bids fair to cause not a little anxiety and considerable expense before its final disposition.

The Town of North Toronto is fully and fairly committed to the project, and in view of the herculean efforts required to secure the support of the legislature to the opening up of the highway thru Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and the necessity of again appealing at the last session for a renewal of the right to expropriate, the question is not one to be lightly treated. That the present opportunity is allowed to pass will ever be again attained is improbable.

It is regrettable that at the joint meeting of the North Toronto and York Township councils held on Wednesday evening of this week no progress was made. The absence of Mayor Henry thru illness was not enough to render abortive some move to hurry along the scheme. It is a question if the York Township council outside of the reeve are as fully in sympathy with the plan as the scheme merits. The opening up a road to the east and west of Yonge-street will be of enormous advantage to all the farmers to the north, and York Township ought to appreciate this fact.

That the Metropolitan Railway will for all time to come be immune from competition in the running of a rival electric line on the parallel roads is beyond belief. Yonge-street-to-day is congested, what will it be in the years to come?

It must not be forgotten also that North Toronto is to-day maintaining about three miles of highway from which it derives little pecuniary benefit. All these questions ought to weigh with the big and wealthy municipality of York Township and induce them once for all to join with the town in the assumption of a fair share of the initial and final effect of the project.

Another joint meeting of the two municipalities will, it is said, be held on Monday afternoon to still further discuss the matter.

The heavy downpour of this week has rendered many of the side streets almost impassable, and greatly retarded the work of building, and especially the laying out of the many new avenues and streets being undertaken by the several land companies.

The sale of 100 feet of land at the corner of McDougall-avenue and Yonge-street by Robert Cook at $17 a foot is a new record in that district. This spring, as we have before, bicycling on the sidewalk is under the ban, and Chief Collins is lying in wait to make a good healthy example of some offenders.

In Davisville Methodist Church on Sunday morning the sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered, and a reception service held.

The Progress again revives its attack on Alex. McCowan, M.L.A., re his failure to support the Artesian Wells Company, which is already pointed out, the town council by thought, word or deed never suggested to Mr. McCowan the advisability of supporting the measure. The great bulk of his constituents, as shown by their presence, were strongly opposed to a franchise for the company, and the exercise of a little patronage by the company has evidently dwarfed what judgment The Progress did possess.

WEST TORONTO. April 29.—Mr. E. S. Williamson will give his celebrated lecture entitled "An Evening With Dickens," in the High Park Avenue Methodist Church on Tuesday night. The post-office at the corner Keele

Pain in Heart
"For two years I had pain in my heart, back and left side. Could not draw a deep breath or lie on left side, and any little exertion would cause palpitation. Under advice I took Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy and Nervine. I took about thirteen bottles, am in better health than I ever was, and have gained 14 pounds."
MRS. LILLIE THOMAS,
Upper Sandusky, Ohio.
For many years Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy has been very successful in the treatment of heart troubles, because of its tonic effect upon the heart nerves and muscles. Even in severe cases of long standing it has frequently prolonged life for many years after doctors had given up all hope, as proven by thousands of letters we have received from grateful people.

WOODBRIDGE.
WOODBRIDGE, April 29.—(Special.)—The monthly meeting of the Women's Institute will be held on Tuesday afternoon, May 3, at the home of Mrs. J. Watson, 1500 Woodbine-st.

The annual business meeting and election of officers for the coming year of the members are requested to kindly remember the date.

RICHMOND HILL.
RICHMOND HILL, April 29.—(Special.)—The prize lists are out for the approaching annual fair on the 24th May.

A quiet wedding took place at the parsonage on Wednesday, when Rev. A. P. Brace, B.D., united Wm. Jas. Hopper, Newmarket, in marriage to Miss Mary E. Jones of Vaughan, Tp. General sympathy is felt with Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Currie in the death of their baby, Evelyn Isabel. A quiet funeral was conducted by Rev. A. P. Brace.

EAST TORONTO.
EAST TORONTO, April 29.—(Special.)—Nothing could exceed the delight with which the "Old Maids' Convention," given by local artists in the Y.M.C.A. Hall last night, was well received. The hall was filled and the financial receipts were very satisfactory.

RHODES AVENUE BAPTIST.
At a congregational meeting of the members of Rhodes-avenue Baptist Church, held last night, A. A. Kelley, of Kelley and McKendry, the well-known evangelists, was the choice of the congregation. Mr. Kelley, who was appointed some time ago temporarily to succeed Rev. W. H. Porter, M.A., resigned thru ill-health, in young and endowed with a great deal of pulpit ability.

OTAWA, April 29.—(Special.)—The commons did a heavy day's work today and put thru a number of bills.

Hon. A. B. Aylesworth's bill respecting excheats was passed. In regard to this the minister of justice once more referred to the inferior statutes of the prairie provinces as a result of the retention of their lands by the Dominion.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux's two bills to bring cable companies and their rates under the control of the railway commissioner were passed.

Hon. Frank Oliver's amendment to the Volunteer Bounty Act before it was finally disposed of, involved some discussion. This bill had stood over until Mr. Oliver had time to consider several amendments proposed. He rejected all except one of small importance.

The amendments rejected were: By J. G. Doherty—To provide for the change of lands which prove worthless; by C. J. Doherty—To limit extension to the veterans and exclude purchasers of scrip; by Samuel Barker—To allow veterans to hire persons to perform their settlement duties; by Major Shantz—To increase prizes for the Col. S. Hughes—To include Canadians who served in the war without being formerly enlisted; by John Herron—To include men who enlisted but were prevented by illness, etc., from landing in South Africa.

Mr. Oliver's immigration and land bill were passed, as well as Mr. Graham's bill regarding the taking over of branch lines for the Intercolonial, with the amendments rejected.

Mr. Graham had a bill to amend the Railway Act put thru which included bills by Messrs. Lancaster, Geran and Pagnieau. The terms are to extend the authority of railway board, to include works already begun, to simplify procedure regarding stringing wires across a railway, to shorten time limit of appeal from decisions of railway board, to widen liability of railway regarding the fencing of their property, and to limit liability of railways for loss by fire from locomotives to $5000 over the insurance.

A Living Card System is better than a Dead Memory

YOUR work is made up altogether of numerous details. The final success of what you do largely depends upon the expediency and accuracy with which these details are completed. This little Card Ticker on your Desk will relieve the memory of many details. Simply make memos of matters to receive further attention and drop them in behind the daily or monthly guide when the matter should come up, and by examining the File every day these memos will receive attention in proper sequence.

SHALL PROVINCE AID WESTERN UNIVERSITY?
London Deputation Again Storms at Provincial Exchequer—Premier Stands For One Institution.

Apparently it is the intention of the provincial government to stand pat on the premier's refusal to grant aid to the Western University at London. If the attitude of Sir James Whitney towards a deputation which met the government yesterday is any indication.

The deputation was composed of Justice Meredith, Bishop Williams of Huron, Major Beattie and George C. Gibbons, K. C., London.

Sir James pointed out that the question rested upon the policy adopted some years ago, that there should be one provincial university.

Finally, in lieu of a $50,000 gift, Judge Meredith asked for $15,000 needed to maintain the medical branch of the Western.

Shriner's Held Big Meeting.
Rameses Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, held their semi-annual meeting in the Excelsior rink last night, when about 400 were present.

In an article on "Spring" in piano music, printed in The Musician, Harriette Brower says: "It is noteworthy that Edward MacDowell, who was such a student of nature in her various moods, who seemed to be the intimate companion of nymphs and dryads—as one has said—has given us no specific composition embodying the springtime, though the feeling for it is constantly obvious in his work. Two short pieces from Op. 28—'In the Woods' and 'The Bluebell' have as their motto little verses about spring."

Realty and Building

The real estate department of the National Trust Company, Limited, liquidators of the York County Loan and Savings Company, report that they sold in March more land in the York Loan district than in any month since the date of liquidation, at prices varying from $10 to $60 per foot. In March and April the company sold about ten thousand feet of frontage, and all of this land, including the cheaper property west of the city limits, was sold with building restrictions varying from $500 on the lots west of the city to $6000 on High Park Boulevard.

Oakmount-road, a new street opened up west of Keele-street, running from Bloor-street north to the waterfront, proved to be very popular, and although only offered to the public this spring, is already over half sold.

In spite of the large sales made, the company still has several thousand feet for sale in the best sections of the York Loan district, but they expect that the balance of this land will be sold this year, and anyone who visits the district will see by the amount of building going on that their expectations are likely to be realized.

Although the prices in this western part of the city are considerably higher than they were a year ago, a comparison with prices in other parts of the city shows these properties to advantage.

It has become known during the last few days that some big interests are seeking to purchase the property owned by Alex. Patterson and situated at the southeast corner of Yonge and Gloucester-streets. There is a frontage of 100 feet on Yonge and about 140 feet on Gloucester-street. An offer of $1600 a foot is reported to have been made for their property, but it is stated that this was refused.

J. J. Walsh and Company report the sale of a block of four houses at the corner of Wilton-avenue and Dalhousie-street on the south side. The price paid was $20,000.

The last piece of land in Rosedale is now to be offered to the public. John Stark & Co. are putting on the market the Drummond estate, the beautiful property of M. B. Jackson, situated on Castle-Frank-avenue, and comprising about 30 lots, some of which are ravine lots. The property is restricted to costly residences. J. J. Ivey of Montreal and J. Ross Robertson have already acquired sites on this property, and intend building large residences in the near future.

An important sale in vacant land has also just been closed by Stark & Co. from the agents for the Rosedale Land Syndicate, about 18 acres of valuable land in Moore Park for recreation purposes. It is intended to lay the property out in park-like grounds, whereon the company's interests, baseball and soccer teams will play their league matches.

Saturday next will see the placing on the market of the only remaining lots at Birch Cliff that can be secured at reasonable prices. There are 25 lots to be sold at low prices and easy terms, thus giving visitors a chance to purchase and build near the lake. This property adjoins the polo grounds of the Toronto Hunt Club. John Stark & Co. are handling it.

It has become known during the last few days that some big interests are seeking to purchase the property owned by Alex. Patterson and situated at the southeast corner of Yonge and Gloucester-streets. There is a frontage of 100 feet on Yonge and about 140 feet on Gloucester-street. An

La Grippe Coming Again

Useful Information as to its Cause and Certain Cure.

Grippy infection is now very common. Colds are certainly the order of the day. Scarcely anyone you meet that is not affected. If grip only made you uncomfortable you might bear it. Strange how it weakens the system, destroys the nerves and makes easy pneumonia or chronic bronchitis. It is clearly a duty to keep away from the disease, to escape it if you can. Our citizens who are using Catarrhose are fortunate. It is certainly the best preventive yet discovered. Catarrhose is not a medicine you take—you breathe the lungs full of rich, balsamic essences and germ-destroying antiseptics. It acts in two ways: In the first instance it destroys the germs—that checks the progress of the disease. Its second action is to heal the sore places the germs caused. Nice to think of breathing little drops of healing so fine that the air carries it to every part of the lungs, bronchial tubes and nasal passages. It is the absolute touchstone of the application to every part that makes Catarrhose so effective in grip, catarrh and colds. Then by its sedative influence upon the mucous surface it clears cough and throat tenderness very quickly. We owe something to science that has given us Catarrhose—that so surely enables us to make direct application to diseases of the breathing apparatus. We all know that stomach dosing is useless and the departure in the mode of treatment is an advance in medical science that everybody can appreciate and value. Complete outfit of Catarrhose lasts three months, price $1.00; smaller size 50c.; all dealers, or The Catarrhose Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Ont.

CORNER STONE LAID

Bonar Presbyterian Church Ceremony Performed by a Woman.

With simple ceremonies the cornerstone of the new Bonar Presbyterian Church, at 816 Clarendon-avenue and College-street, was last evening laid by the aged and respected Mrs. E. W. Barton, the oldest member of the congregation in point of service. Rev. M. McGillicuddy officiated and Revs. J. McP. Scott and T. Wallace and Messrs. George Sterrett, George Good and T. J. Hughes assisted.

The new church is to cost $40,000 and will be completed May, 1911. The Sabbath school, which during the pastor's 19 years of ministry has increased in membership from 32 to 229, had pledged $2000 toward the building fund. The congregation has increased from 48 to 70 in the same time.

Addresses were given by Dr. Thos. Wallace, Rev. W. G. Wallace, Rev. J. W. Barton, son of Mrs. E. W. Barton, and others. Finely embroidered addresses were presented to Mrs. E. W. Barton and to her sister, Mrs. L. Loughran, who performed signal service to the pastorate some years ago.

The First "Little Eva."

Louisville Times: The original little Eva of "Tom's Cabin" resides in Cambridge, Mass., hale and hearty at the age of 62. Mrs. Cordelia McDonald, who claims the honor of having created the winsome little heroine of Mrs. Stowe's book, is an unusually attractive woman for her age. Mrs. McDonald began her stage career at the age of 4 and retired when she was 12.

"My father first produced 'Uncle Tom's Cabin,' said she. "He was the manager of the Troy Museum, Troy, N. Y., and staged the production himself, playing the part of St. Clair. The rest of the cast consisted of our family and some friends. My mother played Topey and I was cast as Eva. We ran 99 nights at the Troy Theatre, which was a rare thing in those days.

"Rather than decided to take the production on the road in his repertoire. We went to New York and there made a record for consecutive appearances, playing 325 performances and not wearing out my welcome at any of them. We played in Boston and encountered an opposition production at the old Boston Museum.

"I was the first to appear at Baltimore and Washington, and then went to St. Louis. In neither of the three cities, which were strongly pro-slavery, did we meet with any discourtesies. Our audiences passed over our reflections on slavery with a shrug of their shoulders, and came to see our performance with a laugh and cry, and they did both, even in the hot-blooded south. With the starting of war talk, however, my father finally dropped 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' from the list of plays."

CHOUQUETTE - OPPOSES NAVY

Liberal Senator Declares it is Contrary to Liberal Principles.

OTTAWA, April 29.—The naval debate was continued in the senate this morning, when Senator Chouquette opposed the bill. He is the third Liberal in the senate to do so.

Senator David, who spoke first, strongly favored the bill and a Canadian navy.

Senator Chouquette opposed the whole naval project and argued for a referendum on the question at the next general elections. He said that the policy was contrary to Liberal principles and had Sir Wilfrid Laurier made it an issue at the elections of 1906, not five Liberals would have been elected in the district of Quebec. In 1895, he said, Mr. Brodeur was an anti-militarist and in 1902 the premier was against the idea of a navy. Mr. Lemieux had written to Mr. Bourassa in that year against participation by Canada in the wars of the empire, saying it was a dangerous principle.

Small Fluctuations Rule on The Mining Stock Markets

Cobalt Securities Influenced by Instability of the Larger Exchanges—Conditions Unfavorable to Market.

World Office, Friday Evening, April 29. The Cobalt market is suffering both on account of its own instability and sympathetically with the weakness which is showing itself on the larger exchanges.

The prices at the local mining exchanges to-day were lower in several instances. La Rose continued to decline from the recent rally and some of the more steady issues, such as Trethewey, were affected by the general apathy of traders and the weakness which at present pervades the market.

MOLYBDENITE FINDS REPORTED IN NORTH

One Man Said to Have Made a Find That Will Run Upwards of $400 to the Ton

The deposits of molybdenite, the mineral which has been found in the eastern Abitibi district, close to the G. T. P., should prove rather valuable, provided they are of the right character. The mineral occurs in foliated masses or in scales, it is of a lead grey color, with a metallic lustre and close resemblance to graphite. It might easily be mistaken for graphite, as it also will leave a trace on paper.

Molybdenum, the product of molybdenite is a metal harder than silver and fuses with difficulty; it is of some economic importance. It is used in the process of hardening the finest grades of steel and also as a mordant in the fixing of dyes on silk.

At present quotations, molybdenite is worth about $400 a ton. There is a ready demand for it, as workable deposits of it are rarely met with, and difficult to find.

WORDS FITLY CHOSEN

A Few Kind Words Extended to an Esteemed Business Man.

The annual report of the Trusts and Guarantee Co., Limited, for 1909, has been issued in booklet form, and is a credit to the management. Among other things it is pleasing to notice that President J. R. Stratton with his habitual good sense and common sense, has chosen the following words for J. J. Warren, the man who is chiefly responsible for the position this company has taken in the managing director's report.

$3.50 Recipe Cures Weak Men—Free

Send Name and Address To-day—You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

I have in my possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, weakened manhood, falling memory and lame back, brought on by excess, unnatural drains, or the follies of youth, that has cured so many worn and nervous men right in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—think every man who wishes to regain his manly power and vitality, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So I have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, to any man who will write me for this prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of the subject, and is a great many times more effective than any other remedy.

WINNIPEG, April 28.—(Special.)—The way in which the A. & G. W. Railway was financed at incorporation was divulged to-day by G. D. Minty, under examination by W. A. Walsh. It was in effect that W. R. There was a meeting of directors of the A. & G. W. R. held in New York, Ontario, April 28, 1910, at 11.30 a.m. Clarke in a chair and Minty acting as secretary; the sum of $50,000 was voted for the overdraft, and the overdraft was made.

COMMON SENSE

Cobalt Common Sense—That's not the name of any mine in Cobalt. Seems to have been overlooked. You can't buy Common Sense on the market.

Observe the connection between and remember. Some brokers are taking a drive at both, with a view to depressing both, and then buying the drive named. All of which shows their good eyes—3 1/2 at present.

Silverware at Simpson's

REMEMBER our Silverware Department and the principle we go on in the selling of Silverware. Don't buy wedding presents this year like so many people do—with eyes blind to the intrinsic value. Sentiment is all right in its place but it belongs to the giving not in the buying. We want you to consider us as chief factors in the wedding present calculation. We sell silverware as merchandise, not as moonshine.

Silks of High Society

THERE is something about a rich dress silk which puts it on a different plane from common fabrics. There is a quality to good silk which cannot be gainsaid. We may talk about the democratic principles of art, and the decorative worth of homespun and such coarser fabrics, but after all the silken distinctions of quality and of richness are recognized at a glance.

This store is Toronto's great authority on silks. There has never been any serious question of that. In silks and dress goods we stand supreme since the old days when this was a store for dress goods and silks and practically little else.

The Silk Department of the Robert Simpson Company never presented such a picture of color and beauty as it does today. We never had a finer stock. We don't believe there is a much finer in all America. There need be no hesitancy or doubt about accepting our invitation to choose your spring silks here. You should see our shades of duchess mousseline!

Rich Duchess Mousseline for the afternoon tea gowns and reception dresses. Colorings from rich soft ivory for the bride to the new soft shades of hyacinth, orchid tints, Adriatic blues, and the darker hues of the magpie combinations, China and Venetian blues, harricot rouge, besides most of the staple colors and black. Single width, $1.00 per yard; double width, $2.00 per yard.

Colored Shantung Silks are being used for the most dressy purposes this year, and worn for smartest occasions, as well as for walking suits. We have a particularly fine assortment of colorings, including natural and black; all Lyons dyed, 27 inches wide, fine range of colors, 75c yard; 34 inches wide, excellent colorings, $1.00 yard.

The Spring Dress Goods Showing

THE stock stands now at its climax. Everything ordered for the spring trade is here. People are choosing and buying, we are cutting and selling, and the stock from now on will grow less and less. We advise our customers to come for the very best possible choice right now. Certain combinations of weave and weight will give out ere long—it is impossible for it to be otherwise. Come and make sure of your cloth now.

We offer on Monday some particularly good values in black goods. We have always been strong on black. Just compare these goods if you like and we will ask for no better advertisement.

2,000 yards, a lovely range of Silk Stripes Fabrics, in voiles and taffeta cloths; every novelty in stripe effects is shown here for outdoor dresses, reception dresses and evening dresses; guaranteed unfading dyes; make up dressy garments, and most serviceable fabrics for present wear. 42 and 44 inches wide. Special 85c yard.

2,500 yards "Black Suitings," comprising worsteds, Venetian cloths, broadcloths, Panama cloths, San Toys, (twill suitings, stripe suitings; all guaranteed high grade fabrics, and fast dyes; thoroughly sponged and permanent finish; these goods are positively the best value ever offered. This special display will interest you. 44 and 48 inches wide, 75c.

1,500 yards "Popular Diagonal Suitings," in the favorite twills, in nice full shades of "blacks," for tailored suits, thoroughly shrunken, spun wool; nice, rich, permanent finish. 54 inches; $1.00, $1.25 yard.

EACH of these lines has been chosen for its good design. There is no "gingerbread" about these sets. They look what they are, clear-cut and solid. The prices are such as will appeal to most folks as "right-down reasonable."
