

SAY THE JELICOE PLAN IS ACCEPTED

Rumor That Ballantyne Accepted It Privately — Minister is Reticent.

Halifax, N.S., May 4.—According to an Ottawa story, says the Daily Echo, Admiral Lord Jellicoe's overseas naval program will be carried out by the Canadian government. The decision is to have a modern navy, comprising battle cruisers, destroyers, etc., to be the gift of the British admiralty. The Echo states that Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, minister of marine, is reported to have made this announcement privately. The newspaper further says that the recent order closing the Canadian naval stations and employees attached to them was camouflage, so as to allow of the introduction of a new naval program with a clean slate.

Ballantyne Non-Commital.

Ottawa, May 4.—Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, minister of marine, refused to confirm or deny the statements from Halifax quoting The Daily Echo of that city on the adoption of the Jellicoe plan by the government. It was not until after he had taken his seat in the house that the despatch was handed to him. He refused to make any comment on it, remarking merely: "I have nothing to say."

EXPLAINS STATEMENT ON SOLDIERS' WIVES

General McLean Clears Up Report of His Speech Before Pensions Committee.

Ottawa, May 4.—(By The Canadian Press.)—The following statement on what took place at Monday's meeting of the special committee on pensions, was made at this morning's session of the committee:

Brig.-General McLean: "I did not say that most private soldiers married in the working class. The official stenographer's report of what I said is as follows:

"Most of the private soldiers who married servants girls were in that class who were earning their living before."

"I was trying to point out that as many of the young women who had married soldiers either before or after enlistment—and were childless—were used to thinking they should be encouraged to continue to do so, and that their pensions should be less than for the widow with children. My sympathy goes out first to disabled soldiers, orphan children, widows with families to support, and widowed mothers who have lost their only support."

On motion, the above statement was incorporated in the record of today's meeting.

WAR GRAVES' BOARD IS UPHELD ON VOTE

London, May 4.—(By Canadian Associated Press)—The vote for expenses of the war graves commission, the highest of the commons today, the decision of the committee, especially that against permitting private choice of the memorial design was vigorously discussed and as the government allowed a free vote, there was expectation of a close division. The opposition, however, supported by a considerable minority, the estimated cost by the commission for the current year is $2,737,000 pounds, of which $15,039 pounds falls on the Dominion, India and the colonies.

Nominate Prof. Jas. Ballantyne Moderator of General Assembly

REPORT ON WHEAT CERTIFICATE

Winnipeg, May 4.—It is understood that Carluccini's board will very shortly issue an interim report indicating the approximate value of the "participation certificate." It is further understood that the board has been led to do this by a desire to protect small farmers who, in spite of previous urging, did not get certificates until the end of the crop year, are being induced to sell them at lower figures than their actual value.

MINERS IN B.C. STRIKE.

Nelson, B.C., May 4.—A decision taken by the miners of Silverton at a mass meeting held last night to strike, following a similar decision by the miners at Sandon, completely ties up the Silverton and surrounding mines. The unofficial suggestion is that a 15-day postponement not being proceeded with. The mine owners made no counter-proposition to the miners' demand for $6 a day. Probably 800 men are affected.

INSURANCE MEN SEE DRAYTON.

Montreal, May 4.—It is not intended to bring down in the budget at Ottawa any legislation to put a tax on fire insurance premiums paid to non-registered companies, according to information gathered in regard to the proposal which has created a stir in business circles here. This is the information given a delegation from the city by Sir Henry Drayton. Something will, however, be done by means of an amendment to the insurance act.

THINKS FOOD HELD TO STIFFEN PRICES

Mayor Church Trying to Get Crown Attorney Corley to Take Action.

In a letter to Crown Attorney Corley, Mayor Church makes the suggestion that foodstuffs are being held in cars by commission houses to enhance prices. He writes as follows:

"A large number of cars containing perishable foodstuffs are being stored on the waterfront along the right-of-way of the steam railways, and are held for several days, the commission houses paying the demurrage.

"I think you would have no trouble in stabilizing the fact that they are being held to enhance prices, and that the action of these people is, in effect, a restraint of trade and commerce, and a breach of the sections of the code dealing with this matter."

"I have communicated with the general superintendents of the steam railways, and they are anxious to get back their cars as quickly as possible, and it is not their fault. The holding back of these commodities is an important factor in enhancing the prices of these articles."

"I have communicated with the board of commerce on many matters, but can get no relief. I am also sending a copy of this letter to the board of commerce, but it is difficult to get any action here."

The other authorities have no control. This situation is as the regulation of trade and commerce is, by law, a matter for the federal government."

Mr. Corley replies that the matter is outside of his jurisdiction.

LATEST CANDIDATE FOR COMMISSIONER

Mr. Bradshaw's Recommendation Said to Lack Support of Board.

Commissioner Bradshaw's recommendation of a successor to himself in the position of finance commissioner is said to lack the support of a majority of the board of control. Mr. Bradshaw, it is understood, will carry on until the board can find a man for the position. The mayor is reported to look with favor on the appointment of Thomas Wood of the financial firm of Wood, Fleming & Co. Mr. Wood has had considerable banking experience, and is also a returned soldier.

MOUNT PLEASANT LINE

Might as Well Pass Secession Bill, if Turned Down, Says Mayor.

"The legislature might as well pass the secession bills if the city's bill to authorize construction of the Mount Pleasant car line is turned down," said Mayor Church yesterday.

Most people have voted in favor of the principle of separating this line and it is up to the government now to give us a free hand. The bill comes before the private bills committee at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

WILL FORCE SHOWDOWN ON RADIALS, SAYS MAYOR

"The municipalities are going to force a showdown with the provincial government on the radial issue," said Mayor Church yesterday. "If we had a radio service, such as the Hydro propose to have, the housing situation would be solved, he said. This will be the problem of under-production and the high cost of living. Construction costs will stay up for years, so there is nothing to be gained by waiting. It is a case of now or never with the radials."

Knights of Columbus Choir Plan Concert at Massey Hall

The Knights of Columbus Choral Society which received such an auspicious welcome on the occasion of its first appearance last year, will make their second appearance in Massey Hall on Wednesday, May 10.

This is the youngest choral society in Toronto in experience and while the program last year was in keeping with a premier appearance of a choral organization, the work undertaken this year is much more difficult. Donor's said, "We have made the principle part of their program with several lighter numbers and while this is a marked advance to make in one season," it is nevertheless expected that the success this year will be equal to, or even greater than that of their first concert."

In view of the difficult work they have undertaken for such a young organization, this concert is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

DAMAGE ACTION SETTLED

Parties appeared before Justice Middleton yesterday in the non-jury assize court in the action of damages, $5000, brought by May Caravans against the Toronto Railway Company in respect of injuries sustained when she was knocked down by a street car while out cycling. Plaintiff has accepted $500 and $100 costs in settlement.

Mayor Church accompanied Gen. Sir Charles Townshend on a motor trip to Hamilton yesterday.

A large number of cars containing perishable foodstuffs are being stored on the waterfront along the right-of-way of the steam railways, and are held for several days, the commission houses paying the demurrage.

"I think you would have no trouble in stabilizing the fact that they are being held to enhance prices, and that the action of these people is, in effect, a restraint of trade and commerce, and a breach of the sections of the code dealing with this matter."

"I have communicated with the general superintendents of the steam railways, and they are anxious to get back their cars as quickly as possible, and it is not their fault. The holding back of these commodities is an important factor in enhancing the prices of these articles."

"I have communicated with the board of commerce on many matters, but can get no relief. I am also sending a copy of this letter to the board of commerce, but it is difficult to get any action here."

The other authorities have no control. This situation is as the regulation of trade and commerce is, by law, a matter for the federal government."

Mr. Corley replies that the matter is outside of his jurisdiction.

Mr. Bradshaw's Recommendation Said to Lack Support of Board.

Commissioner Bradshaw's recommendation of a successor to himself in the position of finance commissioner is said to lack the support of a majority of the board of control. Mr. Bradshaw, it is understood, will carry on until the board can find a man for the position. The mayor is reported to look with favor on the appointment of Thomas Wood of the financial firm of Wood, Fleming & Co. Mr. Wood has had considerable banking experience, and is also a returned soldier.

MOUNT PLEASANT LINE

Might as Well Pass Secession Bill, if Turned Down, Says Mayor.

"The legislature might as well pass the secession bills if the city's bill to authorize construction of the Mount Pleasant car line is turned down," said Mayor Church yesterday.

Most people have voted in favor of the principle of separating this line and it is up to the government now to give us a free hand. The bill comes before the private bills committee at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

WILL FORCE SHOWDOWN ON RADIALS, SAYS MAYOR

"The municipalities are going to force a showdown with the provincial government on the radial issue," said Mayor Church yesterday. "If we had a radio service, such as the Hydro propose to have, the housing situation would be solved, he said. This will be the problem of under-production and the high cost of living. Construction costs will stay up for years, so there is nothing to be gained by waiting. It is a case of now or never with the radials."

In view of the difficult work they have undertaken for such a young organization, this concert is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest.

DAMAGE ACTION SETTLED

Parties appeared before Justice Middleton yesterday in the non-jury assize court in the action of damages, $5000, brought by May Caravans against the Toronto Railway Company in respect of injuries sustained when she was knocked down by a street car while out cycling. Plaintiff has accepted $500 and $100 costs in settlement.

EVIDENCE ENDS IN O'LEARY-SIMPSON SLANDER ACTION

Defendant Admits Not Fully Confirming Charges Published by Him.

HAD HIS DOUBTS

Evidence was concluded and counsel addressed the jury yesterday in the action for $10,000 damages claimed by A. E. O'Leary from James Simpson, both prominent labor men, for alleged slander. Mr. Justice Middleton will charge the jury this morning.

Witnesses—The first witness called was the first witness called, and testified that he was present at the meeting of the employers' association held at the Engineers' Club. He was an employer, and not a member of the association. They were discussing about a newspaper, and to some money from the association to promote the paper. His money was to be deposited in the Home Bank without any strings attached to it. It was said it would be like a gift from heaven. Witness said General Gunn remarked that Hevey and O'Leary required $5000 to start the paper. The meeting was opened to the public.

Answered Mr. Ferguson, for O'Leary, witness said he had advanced very radical ideas and that five years ago he was a member of the Toronto District Labor Council. His views were more radical than Simpson's. "If Gen. Gunn did not want to attend the meeting, then there is no reason to be attracted to O'Leary and Hevey?" "No, but to the best of my memory Hevey and O'Leary did the approaching." No other labor names were mentioned at the meeting in connection with the paper except O'Leary's and Hevey's. He was invited to make an affidavit as to what he said at the meeting; this, he thought, was after the election.

SIMPSON GIVES EVIDENCE

James Simpson, the defendant, answering Mr. Roebuck, said he had been the editor of The Industrial Banner for several months. The paper was started by the unions in Ontario. He considered himself a labor leader. He saw Davis of the Imperial Foundry Co. after the meeting of the employers' association, and that gentleman signed an affidavit to the effect that the paper was started by the unions.

Bruce Gen. Gunn said that at the time of the meeting in the Engineers' Club he was G.O.C. and was responsible for the safety of the city. He considered the position in Toronto in June or July of 1919 was very safe. There was a strong feeling that the conditions prevailing in Winnipeg would spread to Toronto. The department had some information on the point. As to how he came to be at the meeting of the employers' association Gen. Gunn said that one morning Hevey called at his office and stated that he had seen O'Leary several times since July 17 and 23, but did not mention the matter to him. That the galleries were full when the charges were made was only an incident. He would not have made the charges unless he thought he was in the right.

NO PERSONAL KNOWLEDGE.

Refused to say if he knew anything about the affair, he said he had no personal knowledge of the charges. He admitted he might have gone to more trouble to get further confirmation. He told others that the charge would be made, and had seen O'Leary several times since July 17 and 23, but did not mention the matter to him. That the galleries were full when the charges were made was only an incident. He would not have made the charges unless he thought he was in the right.

Mr. Justice Middleton.

He knew that a serious charge against a brother officer was going to be made. Why did you do it do you think?

Witness replied that he used his best judgment at the time. Witness said that while the affidavit stated that O'Leary and Hevey had made a canvas, the definite statement was that Hevey alone had made a canvas. He further stated that he had information that Hevey had visited a number of industrial establishments with a number of them. He still believed in O'Leary and Hevey.

Admits Doubt.

Witness replied that he had good grounds to doubt O'Leary's connection with the incident after hearing his evidence. "Which was at your service before you made the charges?" pointed out Justice Middleton.

"Did you have any knowledge as distinct from belief of the truth of the charges?" asked Justice Middleton. A—"No."

"Then why did you state 'This information I give to the council, knowing it to be true?'" A—"I must have used the word 'knowing' instead of 'believing'."

Replied to Mr. Roebuck, witness said that he had heard from Davis that Hevey had called on several houses and had bad cheques—one of $500 from the Dominion Shipbuilding Company in his possession.

"Did you tell Davis yesterday that he had asked for the statement regarding O'Leary and Hevey to be left out?" A—"No."

Evidence for Plaintiff.

Thomas Roden was the first witness called by Mr. Ferguson, who stated that he was responsible for Gen. Gunn being brought to the employers' meeting. O'Leary's name was not mentioned in any way, referred to getting money from the association.

Cross-examined by Mr. Roebuck, witness said that he went to the Law Temple in his capacity of G.O.C. It was in regard to the meat packers. At the meeting at the National Club there were several men present, including O'Leary and other labor men, and he endeavored to bring about a settlement of the metal workers' strike. He formed a very high opinion of O'Leary.

Gunn's had subscribed $200 to this paper. Witness denied emphatically that O'Leary had been speaking to him in regard to the labor paper. Regarding the statement witness handed out to the press, he had no hesitation in saying to the jury that it was a candid one.

"Did you tell Davis yesterday that he had asked for the statement regarding O'Leary and Hevey to be left out?" A—"No."

Evidence for Plaintiff.

Thomas Roden was the first witness called by Mr. Ferguson, who stated that he was responsible for Gen. Gunn being brought to the employers' meeting. O'Leary's name was not mentioned in any way, referred to getting money from the association.

Cross-examined by Mr. Roebuck, witness thought it was a proper thing for the Employers' Association to provide funds to start a labor paper. He believed from Gen. Gunn that the added publicity given to the association would be beneficial. He considered the interests of employers and those of labor identical. He thought the paper was to be run honestly and that it would have been all right, as the paper was to combat Bolshevism. After the meeting he made no statement to the press and he did not think it was his duty to clear up matters between O'Leary and Simpson. He had named the sum of $5,000 to be contributed. Gunn had advised that the proposal be kept in confidence, unless it was never known of employers' money being used for purposes similar to the proposal for the new labor paper.

Secretary Merrick's Testimony.

James Merrick, secretary of the Employers' Association, said that Gen. Gunn had told him that the new labor paper was to counteract labor conditions which were serious. A general outbreak was imminent, and the paper was to prevent that. O'Leary's name was not mentioned at the meeting.

Fred Badwen, manager of the Boston Millinery Co., who was chairman of the meeting of employers held in the Engineers' Club, said the the metal workers' strike at that time was beginning to look more serious. Some papers had a lot of Bolshevik articles, and employers got excited at the outlook. There had been talk of cutting out paper in opposition to the Bolshevik propaganda and they could get no one to take it up. Gunn and Roden came to the meeting, and witness was certain the former did not use O'Leary's name. Q.—"You have heard the statement that has been read to the jury and in which it is stated that Gen. Gunn made certain statements at the meeting in regard to O'Leary. Are these true?" A.—"Where it is said that Gunn said anything, it is not true. I was in the chair during the whole time the meeting lasted."

Cross-examined. Q.—"Did Gunn say anything to the employers that he was to go?" A.—"No, but gave us to understand he could have it placed so that it could not be traced back to the association." Q.—"Did Gunn make any suggestion?" A.—"No, but witness could not remember what bank. Gen. Gunn had said that he knew some person who would take control of the paper. He had not seen Gunn previous to this meeting. Witness sent out a written report to the press.

Other Names Used.

Doggett, Simpson, O'Leary, Hevey, Stevenson, Lewis and other labor men's names were spoken about after Gen. Gunn left. Witness said that he had a contemplative lie to suggest he had been a member of the Knights of Labor. His address was 400 Yonge St., Toronto.

W. M. Stroble, a prominent officer of the State Railroad Union, was arrested to night.

The Union of Metal Workers of the Paris region had called a general strike for Thursday, in support of the General Strike of Labor, and as a protest against the action of the police in making arrests on May Day.

EXEMPT FROM TAXES ALL IMPROVEMENTS

favoured the bill and voted forward to the day when single tax would be the universal tax of the land. The present system of taxation was wrong—it benefited the rich man at the expense of the poor.

Hon. G. S. Henry thought the bill was radical and a step toward socialism.

A. Pinard (Ottawa) said there should be a general system of taxation for the province and the question did not belong to the federal government.

The premier's bill meant as far as cities and towns were concerned the shifting of the burden of taxation from the rich man to the poor man.

LIBERAL LEADER AGAINST.

Hartley Dewart, Liberal leader, did not approve the measure. In cities it would wipe out tons of millions of assessment on buildings. The change was so radical the house should pause and consider the effect. Might the bill not be limited to townships? However, in any event the bill should stand.

W. A. Crockett (Wentworth South) supported the measure, while W. E. Sinclair (South Ontario) counseled delay. The measure might not materialize in townships.

Hon. Thos. Crawford and J. W. McAdam supported the bill.

The bill was given a second reading and forwarded to the municipal committee.

"My idea in moving a second reading," said the premier, "was to gain an expression of opinion."

EXTEND T. N. O.

In moving the second reading of the bill to extend the Trans-Canada and Northern Ontario Railway, James Bay, the premier said the government felt more than justified in projecting the line. It would open a great country, induce paper industries to locate in it and provide a railway which would turn the Ontario railway from a losing to a paying proposition. The bill was introduced at about 5 a.m. and knocked on Jim Allcock's door in order to awaken him. Allcock replied to him and so he proceeded to his work. Witness said he had just come to the bill after midnight to help him with the details of the bill. Then he went to see his lawyer, Mr. Henderson, and, acting on his advice, they went to see the detective department.

BEATRICE LIKED BOTH.

As regards the presence of the young woman, Beatrice Wilson, in the room, Tom Bell at the time that he went to see Bell, at his request, the witness stated that he had heard her say: "I have known both Tom and Hassan for two years and like them both. Beatrice also stated that she did not know that her body had been recovered until he overheard two of the customers in the shop discussing the matter.

The second witness, called was Mrs. Beniah Bowman and Hon. G. S. Henry approved the bill. It would help make the T. & N. O. line pay, and open up a valuable country.

Hartley Dewart favored the idea of the bill, and made the suggestion that an enabling clause be added that if later found unavoidable the line could be continued southward from Parry Sound.

M. MacBride (Brantford) was in favor of the bill.

It was given a second reading.

SUCCESSION DUTY BILL.

The house went into committee on the bill to regulate the succession of members.

Members had not been supplied with copies of the draft, so that the treasurer had to provide the chairman with a typewritten copy. The bill passed the committee.

When the house, in committee, considered Hon. W. R. Rolfe's bill, requested him to withdraw the bill.

Mr. Hartley Dewart, in regard to the bill, said he had no objection to the bill, and made the suggestion that an enabling clause be added that if later found unavoidable the line could be continued southward from Parry Sound.

M. MacBride (Brantford) was in favor of the bill.

It was given a second reading.

COAST STRIKE BY BAKERS.

The witness said a great deal had been said about the Home Bank, and he admitted he might have gone to more trouble to get further confirmation. He told others that the charge would be made, and had seen O'Leary several times since July 17 and 23, but did not mention the matter to him. That the galleries were full when the charges were made was only an incident. He would not have made the charges unless he thought he was in the right.

Mr. Justice Middleton.

He knew that a serious charge against a brother officer was going to be made. Why did you do it do you think?

Witness replied that he used his best judgment at the time. Witness said that while the affidavit stated that O'Leary and Hevey had made a canvas, the definite statement was that Hevey alone had made a canvas. He further stated that he had information that Hevey had visited a number of industrial establishments with a number of them. He still believed in O'Leary and Hevey.

Admits Doubt.

Witness replied that he had good grounds to doubt O'Leary's connection with the incident after hearing his evidence. "Which was at your service before you made the charges?" pointed out Justice Middleton.

"Did you have any knowledge as distinct from belief of the truth of the charges?" asked Justice Middleton. A—"No."

WEDNESDAY MORNING MAY 5

Fear Not About Nickel.

Nothing more important has been spoken in the legislature during the present session than Mr. J. W. Curry's speech recalling the iniquities that belong to the wholesale shipment of Ontario nickel to the Germans during the war and the inadequate taxation that has been collected from the owners of the greatest nickel deposits in the world. Mr. Curry, presenting the story, the truth of which has been absent from nearly all the daily newspapers in the province except The World, said that on proof that those to whom the mines belonged had not dealt justly with the country—they deliberately sold their products to those who were slaying Canadian boys with Canadian nickel—the mines ought to be confiscated, and used by the public for only public purposes.

It would have been thought that a drastic demand like this, made by a Liberal who, with others, succeeded in doing what had not been done in Toronto for many years—wresting the representation of half the city from the Conservative party—would have given some attention in the leading Liberal papers. But The Globe merely said Mr. Curry was severe on the late government. Mr. Swayze, the Labor member for Niagara Falls, also spoke strongly on the nickel question, but that part of his speech fits just two lines in The Globe.

The Nickel Trust has too much been the strong man in Ontario. Its influence was felt in a hundred ways. It always regarded itself as an American concern, if not spoiling the Egyptians, at least compounding its own according to its American notions, and, of course, governing those over whom it could cast its might from the same point of view. During the war it was represented that the British government was satisfied with the way the nickel mined in Canada, and greatly desired, for armor and ammunition, was being kept from the enemy. But it wasn't being kept from the enemy. It left New York in cargoes of several hundred tons each. There is no dispute about these facts. There can be no dispute about the capability of Canadian watchdogs, the first line of which was entrenched in Queen's Park.

Mr. Curry and Mr. Swayze are entitled to public thanks for the outspoken way in which they dealt with this disgraceful episode of the war. The attitude of papers that ignore their speeches deserve the closest public scrutiny. The government that fails to do all that the late government should have done will require either a new mind or a new arm with which to make safe whatever possibility there may be of Canadians again having to go into the hills of war.

A Benevolent Revolution.

Very sincere congratulations are due to Col. Grant Morden, past Torontonian and present member of the British house of commons, for the way in which he is putting over the steel merger. He has had a meeting of parliamentarians in Ottawa; another in Montreal, and the Toronto board of trade, at his feet, has listened to the story of his scheme. Company promoting like this is one of the outstanding developments of the commercial world, and our administration of the colony's skill is not lessened by the knowledge that anything less imperially impressive would get very short shrift if an effort were made similarly to orient the prospectus.

Col. Morden is taking new, effective and dazzling ground. For an old associate of the father of the cement merger, and other combinations which have made money for the operators, without diminishing costs to the consumers, he has done nobly in admitting that an evil in Canada has been over-capitalization. The new steel merger is to be a Canadian company, with British capital in it. It is going to be under-capitalized, deliberately, and of self-sacrifice aforesight. We know the British Empire as philanthropy and five per cent; but this merger is to be apparently capitalized regardless of five per cent.

The steel merger capitalization is not to have watered stock. The fervor with which Lord Beaverbrook's friend repudiates the principle of watered stock almost makes one hope that the water will be squeezed out of the cement blocks which soak in it. Cement cannot set without water. Perhaps steel can.

It is not iniquitiveness but a sincere desire to understand the new modernization of capital flotation that prompts a few reflections on the plans disclosed to the Torontonians. For this flotation the businesses concerned—like the Dominion Steel and the Canada Steamships—are to be put in at $200,000,000 less than the valuation put upon them. How much watered stock is included in that valuation Col. Morden does not say.

In another place it has been stated, with every appearance of authority, that provision is to be made for two hundred millions of watered stock, of which a third will be issued, the remainder being reserved for such contingencies as stock exchanges almost spite of themselves, have a knack of running up against. But leaving aside the suggestion that the old Adam is neither scathed nor killed, what will be the position of the merger whose properties are valued at $450,000,000 but will only go into the prospectus at say $250,000,000?

The Toronto Stock Exchange list gives quotations ranging up to $270 for $100 shares par value. Call your share what value you like originally, but make ten per cent profits on it, and it becomes worth twice as much as its par and can be sold for that. To keep the steel merger capital down to, say $250,000,000, is not under-capitalization, for no business is under-capitalized if it can bring forth all its required products. This kind of "under-capitalization" means nothing to empire development unless it is assured that prices charged for output are fixed so that they make profits only on the actual capitalization of the company. If you can make the profits, it doesn't matter how much you are "under-capitalized." Col. Morden must not be surprised if he is asked by farmers and labor men if he thinks there will always be the freedom of price control there now is in Canada in comparison with what has obtained in England.

It appears still to be thought in some quarters that it is possible to carry on the old stock market game with a little camouflage. With even the after-the-war conditions obtaining, there is still a school of financiers who seem to think that there will be no end to the liberty with which great corporations will fix prices if only there can be plenty of combination. Professed limitation of capital obligation, the dividends on which the consumer must pay, that takes no cognizance of the need for the limitation of prices to the consumer will not land us very far on the road to economic salvation.

Col. Morden is not telling us all he sees—no old friend of Lord Beaverbrook's could possibly have time for that. He is after a merger, and is putting it over. He is doing it in public meetings—and what more can be asked of a patriotic man?

Intelligent Worker Says.

Every day something happens to give fresh point to the penetrating saying recently of Sir Edmund Walker, that we are living in a fool's paradise, because we persist in thinking in terms of dollars instead of in terms of commodities. Sir George Foster has placed on Hansard a declaration on the economic conditions of the world by the supreme council of the allies.

The council says there has always been economic stringency after great wars—for instance, in Europe, when Napoleon had been overthrown, and in America, when slavery had been put down. The council does not say, that whereas in those days a very small minority knew anything about the range of economics—they saw only the condition confronting their own tables—in these days millions of soldiers have given more study than their commanders to the fundamentals of national and international economics. In comparison with conditions when our fathers were young, the rank and file of mankind know too much nowadays. They insist on putting over everlasting "Why?" It is very disturbing, but communities that stood up against Germany can afford to listen patiently to what their own kind say.

The council says the root cause of the trouble all over the world is the destruction of wealth by the war. Right there the intelligent workers—the sort of man who is sitting on the industrial royal commission at Ottawa this morning—asks: If the world is suffering fundamentally from the destruction of wealth, how is it there, by reckoning of banks and such, more wealth in the world than there has ever been before?

Either people have got what they shouldn't have, or what they say they've got isn't there. He turns to the statistician of the National City Bank of New York, who tells him that, outside of Russia, the paper-money of the world has been increased from seven billion dollars before the war to forty billions at the time of the armistice, and to fifty-six billions today.

The intelligent worker tells you he knows perfectly well that to consider this "money" as wealth, is one form of the fool's paradise of thinking in terms of dollars instead of terms of commodities. He places the facts before you in this way: In order to "pay" for shells, guns and goods needed for the war, paper-money—dollars—was issued, in exchange for commodities. The destruction of wealth happened when the shells were blown away and the food was eaten that helped to blow them away, and not to produce something else. But the paper that remains, representing mere terms of dollars, is not wealth. It represents obligations to pay. In other words, it represents somebody's pledge that somebody else will go on working after the war, to pay off this

FIERCE BATTLE FOR KIEV'S POSSESSION

Bolsheviki Entrenched in Hills on West Bank of Dnieper.

Warsaw, May 3.—The Bolsheviks are entrenched in the hills on the west bank of the Dnieper in a great semi-circle with their backs against Kiev, the Ukrainian capital, according to reports received today from the front. Those who fire the ammunition get killed and hurt, because others are in the game of destroying wealth. Those who get the pieces of paper which is all that's left when the firing is done, have got the right to make the rest of the population work for them to the equivalent of what is written on the paper. They can collect that from those who fired shells at peril of their own life, and from the widows and sons and daughters of men who were slain as they fired the shells. The intelligent worker, when he sees he is upsetting your calm by shots like these, just smiles at you and wonders why you never thought of these things before.

The intelligent worker, reasoning from fact to fact like this, remarks a little cynically that the wealth has been destroyed, it has performed a wondrous resurrection as the destruction went on. Like the phoenix, it rose from its own ashes. The wealth has gone, but for every dollar that went out of the guns or into the graves there is a dollar of obligation to those who form of suffering by the war was to make money out of it.

So he says again, we are merely talking about dollars, and standing appalled in presence of paper obligations that ought to have been wiped out as the lives of our friends were. Instead of that, we should discuss commodities—the need of the world and how to supply it. Let us produce! Let us produce! says the intelligent worker. But he adds a rider—rider for which he finds Scriptural authority. He says: "Let only those consume who produce, for it is written: 'If a man will not work, neither shall he eat!'" That, says the intelligent worker, is good doctrine, and he coolly waits for what you have got to say about it.

TIPS THAT EXTREMISTS ARE PLANNING VIOLENCE

Two correspondents have come forward with information concerning 134 pieces. One has in his possession one of these coins (silver) bearing the date 1818 or 1813—the coin is badly worn. The other writes that a silver coin, value 1½d, and bearing the head of King William III, was minted in England in the year 1837 as an experiment. A few were put into circulation and later withdrawn.

I.O.D.E. HEARS DR. COSSLEY BATT

Lady Doctor Addresses Municipal Chapter on Problems of Living.

LESSONS FOR CANADA

Under the auspices of the Municipal Chapter, I.O.D.E., Miss Cossley Batt, O.B.E., B.A., D.S., spoke at Convocation Hall last night. On the platform were representatives of various primary chapters, the standard bearers supporting their flags, which were unfurled at the singing of the national anthem and afterwards allowed to remain in their rests during the evening. Mrs. W. R. Jackson, regent of the Municipal Chapter, presided, and the speaker was introduced by Mrs. John Bruce, national president.

Mrs. Bruce told of the work of Dr. Cossley Batt as analytical chemist in the munition factories of England during the war. She also related to the war record of the visitor by the statement that the father of the speaker had been torpedoed and her brother killed on his second time to France. This is not the first occasion on which she has travelled extensively, said Mrs. Bruce, as she has been roaming the world with her father before the war.

Munition Girls' Work.

Dr. Cossley Batt divided her address into three parts: the ex-inmate girl, the high cost of living and the relationship amongst the different parts of the British Empire. As the speaker had given several addresses previously during her visit to Toronto much of what she said last night had been previously published. She told of the heroism and sufferings of the thousands of girls who worked in the factories. Many hundreds were killed and thousands had their health so impaired that they are now under government care and will be for their lifetime. Many too, will come to Canada, and for these the speaker asked a kindly welcome.

Coming to the problems of living under present high prices, the speaker

MRS. SOLOMON SAYS—

Being the Confessions of the Seven-Hundredth Wife.

BY HELEN ROWLAND.
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

An ideal husband—who hath found one? For his price is far above Victory Bonds! The heart of his wife delights in him, and she shall have no lack of envy amongst women. He ariseth at the first sweet note of the alarm-clock, and putteth the coffee on the fire. He bringeth his wife's breakfast to her bedside and serveth it with his own hands. He taketh in the cream and the ice, and the mail, and the newspaper—and feedeth the cat and the pekiness. He findeth his own things, and dresseth without swearing. He doth not open his wife's letters! There is no curiosity in him. He departeth for his office with soft footsteps, lest he disturb his wife's beauty slumber. He laboreth all day in the office, and doeth his wife's errands in the noon hour. He seeth not the blonde stenographer, and the office flirt hath no charms for him. He keepeth his wife's picture on his desk. Six days of the week doth he labor for his living, and upon the seventh he moweth the lawn and weeding the garden for diversion. He arriveth home always promptly upon the dinner hour, bringing kisses and compliments and confectionery. His mouth is filled with praises for his wife, and he admireth her hats, Upon the cook's day out, he feedeth cheerfully upon cold tongue and delicatessen salad, and when he hath eaten, helpeth his wife with the dishes. Upon Saturday night, he taketh his wife forth to the cabaret, or to the show; he dolleth up in his dress clothes without murmuring. He putteth the studs in his own shirt, and powdereth his wife's back without grumbling. He doth not spend the evening in staring at other women. When he goeth forth by her side, the heart of his wife rejoiceth in him. He shineth amongst the unkempt married men as a flower in a field of alfalfa. Many husbands have been called "good"—but he excelleth them all.

Then, give him the reward of his labors, which is the bottom drawer of the chiffonier and one hook in the clothes closet. Go to, go to! Say not unto me, that no such husband liveth!

For, lo, I have known an hundred such! But, alas, they do not get into the newspapers! Their names are not in the mouths of the multitude.

And their wives are their only press agents!

told that inquiry had informed her, and in Australia for 50 cents, the audience was told. Generally food during war years, as compared with here is more expensive than in any food with $10,000,000 worth. Women paid country visitors except the United States.

Preferential Traffic.

That preferential traffic between Africa, Austria, New Zealand and Canada would help the situation was emphasized. The Pacific Islands, rich in fruit which had been of such value to Germany that she had paid her national debt from the profits, was also related. That Canada should establish intercourse with these countries in order to get their fruit, cocoa, cocoanuts and other products was the advice given. Also, as in previous addresses, the speaker urged that, without development of the key industries, production in Canada could never be on the large scale that would make for national prosperity and success.

JOURNEYMAN BAKERS SAY STRIKE MERELY DELAYED

Journeymen bakers are asking all along the line what it was induced them to reconsider their decision to strike on Monday last. Last night's executive meeting of the Canadian Federation of Labor took the matter up at some length, and another session may be called in the near future. It is understood that the strike is merely delayed and will take place within the next few days, unless certain conditions now prevailing at the bakeries are changed.

In this connection a general feeling prevails that the bill to amend the present government regulations respecting hours and conditions of work in the bakeries will pass with few dissenting voices. The bill calls for work only within the hours of six a.m. and six p.m. each day. It is understood that this new bill may be so amended as to permit a few hours work on Sundays, tho not outside the limits prescribed.

Says Disputes Act Amendment Gives Autocratic Powers

Hon. Walter Rollo, minister of labor for Ontario; Karl Honnuth, M.L.A., and Charles Swasey, M.L.A., yesterday afternoon all expressed the opinion that the proposed amendments to the industrial disputes act, permitting the minister of labor to investigate disturbances, whether either party desired it or not, savored of arbitrary procedure. "If it does mean compulsory arbitration I know that the rank and file of the labor movement will resent it," said Walter Rollo. "The fact that Hon. Arthur Meighen favored the amendment will not constitute that the measure will please labor," was Mr. Honnuth's comment.

THREAT OF BIG CARTERS' STRIKE

Montreal, May 4.—Seven thousand carters and teamsters threaten to strike within the next few days if the master carters do not grant the men's demands of $23.50 per week for double-team drivers and $24 per week for single-team drivers.

DOLLAR AN HOUR.

Plumbers and steamfitters in Toronto are considering an agreement for a dollar an hour, which is to go into effect in July, as they are receiving 75 cents an hour at present.

ONLY YEARLY AGREEMENTS.

International Bookbinders and Printers at a very largely attended meeting held last night at the Labor Temple, decided by a unanimous resolution to discontinue yearly agreements with the masters, binders and bookbinders in the future. They also decided to ask the employers to grant increases adequate to meet the increasing high cost of living.

MACHINISTS DEMAND 90 CENTS.

Sixty machinists from the Baden and Banfield shops in the city took a strike vote last night at the Labor Temple. These two firms are offering the men from 77 1/2 to 80 cents an hour, while the Baden workers are demanding 90 cents. A hundred brass workers also took a strike vote, and are asking for a minimum wage of 80 cents an hour. They are receiving from 60 to 65 cents an hour. No strike will be declared until the Toronto locals have received word from the union headquarters.

EIGHTY MEN ON STRIKE.

About twenty-five more sheet metal workers return to work yesterday. There are more than a dozen firms with no more than 100 men, and about 80 men still on strike. The union is still waiting for the remaining firms to come to time and sign for 90¢ an hour.

SETTLE GALT STRIKE.

Galt, Ont., May 4.—Negotiations between the iron moulderers and the manufacturers have ended in a settlement satisfactory to both parties. The employers granted the men an increase of seven cents an hour, making the minimum wage 72 cents and 48 hours a week.

OVERALLS AT WESTMINSTER.

London, May 4.—Overallers are about to invade parliament, but will be combined with spats to relieve the historic place of some of the shock. Major John Robert Freyman Bowman, member of the house of commons for the Finchley division of Middlesex, will be the man who will introduce denim to Westminster.

TELEPHONE GIRLS AS SHAREHOLDERS

Bell Telephone Company Will Sell Stock to All Employees.

While no employee of the Bell Telephone Company in Canada will be compelled to purchase stock in the company, shares are being offered to all those who have a year's employment to their credit. Such employees may purchase one or more shares up to twenty. If an employee is receiving $800 a year, she may purchase three shares at say $100 a share, payable one-half in cash and the balance completed in three years.

If an employee is earning $2,000 a year she may purchase twenty shares on the same basis. With dividends at the present rate and instalments fully paid up the management sees no reason why a number of shares should not be bought up in the future.

Dividends may be set at the rate of eight per cent. Employees will pay three dollars a share a month, and interest on unpaid balances will be debited at the rate of 4 1/2 per cent.

We have inaugurated this system for two reasons," said the general manager to The World last night. "Firstly, because buying shares on the instalment plan will ensure thrift among those who buy, and secondly, it will give the employees a sense of ownership and therefore a sense of new and deep interest in their work. The employee will have perfect free will in the matter of buying stock, and is under no obligation to do so."

COST OF SERVICE FRANCHISE. SPRING WHEAT ACREAGE DECREASES IN ALBERTA

Rochester, N. Y., May 4.—The commissioners council at a special meeting last night, directed the mayor and corporation counsel to negotiate with the New York state railways an agreement for city control of service on its Rochester lines and the determination of facts to meet the actual cost of operation, one item of which shall be a fair return on property used in giving service. The agreement is to be submitted to the council for approval when negotiated.

No need for Scarred Furniture or Nail Marked Floors

In most every home the furniture shows scars and scratches of hard leather shoe soles, and on the floors are myriads of nail marks from shoe heels.

These scars, scratches, and nail marks should not, and need not, be in your home.

Cat's Paw Heels and Rinex Soles

remove the cause, for resilient rubber does not scar or scratch, and every heel nail is out of sight.

Cat's Paw and Rinex take the noise and fatigue out of walking, cushion each step and remove the "jar" on your nervous system.

They are economical because they out-wear two ordinary leather soles, and are water-proof.

As a test, have Cat's Paw and Rinex put on a pair of old shoes. The benefit will be so evident that you will soon have this combination on all your shoes.

For the new shoes on your car make sure you get Dominion Tires—the Good tires.

For Sake of Health and Pocket

In these days, you should buy food not only by price, but by value. On either basis Farmers' Dairy Milk is the best food in the world.

Study the facts in the panel alongside. The word "unabsorbed" means not used, doesn't it?

And the word "protein" represents the most valuable element of a food. It is the body and blood and brain building portion.

In milk every particle of the protein is absorbed ---utilized by the bodily functions.

Milk is 100% assimilable. There is no waste!

So Farmers' Dairy milk is more than a complete food. It is a perfect food. It does not overtax the system. It aids digestion.

Doctors, food experts, and health authorities all agree that child and adult alike should have at least a quart of milk a day.

Buy it from the wonder dairy of the continent where the finest equipment science has devised guarantees its safety, purity and quality.
