King's Abdication With Queen as Regent Suggested Only Remedy

DICTATOR'S THREAT

Arriving at the palace in Madrid, Alfonso received the Premier, General Primo De Rivera, to whom he related the conversation of the officers at Del Leon.

"If Your Majesty yields to the officers, I will proclaim a republic with myself as president," the premier-dictator is said to have replied.

The correspondent declares that Primo De Rivera's hold on power depends upon the army. He adds that unless military aid is forthcoming, the army and the people, who are not allowed to know what is happening. Their potential leaders, the intellectuals, are being rounded up and imprisoned for fear of their influence.

Primo De Rivera is pitiless toward the intellectuals whose lot is as bad as that of the intellectuals in Russia immediately after the revolution.

"If revolution comes," the correspondent continues, "it will through the army and not the people, who are not allowed to know what is happening. Their potential leaders, the intellectuals, are being rounded up and imprisoned for fear of their influence."

Dr. White Declares Signs of Prosperity Here Were Never So Evident

THE City Council, sitting this morning in special session, decided to bring here for a consultation with them on the matter of a survey of civic matters, Dr. Horace L. Brittain, director of the Research Institute of Canada, with a view to engaging him to undertake a survey of the situation here, dealing with the conduct of the various departments and possible changes in the present assessment act.

Signs of Prosperity

"Never," he said, "in the history of the city, have there been such evident signs of prosperity as at present. The people are well dressed and judging from their appearance, well fed. Their homes are well furnished and I am told this year 1,000 automobiles were sold in the city, calling for an expenditure of $1,000,000, an amount sufficient to pay 1-5 of the city's bonded indebtedness. I have no idea of the amount spent on gasoline alone, but it must be large.

and I, as one, felt that it would be well to take stock and see if there was any way in which the taxes could be reduced, and to see if more modern methods of administration might reduce civic overhead. I have approached this matter with an open mind and have been making enquiries in several directions.

QUOTES BOSTON REPORT

"Saint John is not the only city which has had such investigations and I have in my hand a report of a survey in the city of Boston in 1921. As a result of this survey the revenue of the city was increased by $5,000,000, mainly from license fees and an excise tax on the work of Dr. Horace L. Brittain had been adopted by the City Commission as a policy that the 'pending power of the people was a good test of their ability to pay.'

"For four months the council has been considering these matters and have been in correspondence with municipal experts and I have reached the stage where I think it would be wise to call in an expert to diagnose our case. So far as an audit is concerned, I believe that one and only expert should be engaged and if we want an audit of any department that would be up to him. We have a permanent auditor in whom the citizens have the greatest confidence. The expert would have the right to examine the books and accounts of all departments and any citizen would be given an opportunity of expressing his views to the expert."

SUGGESTS EXPERT

"There is wide dissatisfaction over the working of the assessment act and it would be the duty of such an expert to suggest remedies. The man I have in view for the work is Dr. Horace L. Brittain and from enquiries I have made I am sure he is the right man to have a letter from Dr. Brittain to me here about the middle of October and I have a number of letters endorsing the work of Dr. Brittain in other cities, including one from Winnipeg and one from Vancouver. He is also recommended by Sir James Woods, Sir Joseph Flavelle and A. O. Dawson, and I would recommend that he be brought here for a conference with the council."

COMMISSIONER FRINK

Commissioner Frink said that he felt in such an investigation two things were paramount, first that there be a readjustment of the burden so that real estate taxes be further increased in value by reason of excessive taxation and that some method of co-ordination be arrived at whereby the treasurer would pay out all the money collected from the citizens. He said that at present 1-3 of the money was paid over to the county and another 1-3 to the school board, and in the spending of which the council had no say.

BULLOCK APPROVES

Commissioner Bullock said he was in accord with the statement being made by Dr. Brittain to make a survey. He would recommend an increase in the ferry rates and decreases in the salaries and stock in some of the departments but the assessment act was the main thing they should ask him to consider and it was this that was causing the grievance and had feeling. He gave some of the figures dealing with the growth of the civic debt and interest charges in the last five years.

GROWTH OF DEBT

In 1920, he said, the interest charges of the city were $227,507 and in 1925 they were $408,226, an increase of $180,719. In the same period the interest charges of the county were $1,000,000.

Too Late For Classification

LOST—Bunch of keys, on Lancaster Ave. or Dixie street, near St. John's. Finder, Western House, Phone 512.

FOUND—Sum of money on Bridge Street, which may be had by owner at office of County Treasurer upon affirmation of amount and payment of advertisement.

WANTED—Girl for candy factory. Apply 212 B. Baker, 48 Prince street. 9-18 est charges of the school board had increased from $45,941 to $90,450, an increase of $44,509, or more than the city departments combined. The city debt in 1920 was $3,068,830 and in 1925 it had grown to $7,531,877. This $4,463,047 increase $400,000 had been for the Spruce Lake water main, more than $600,000 for hydro, $400,000 for streets, $300,000 for water and sewerage work and $125,000 for the harbor.

COMMISSIONER FRINK REMARKED THAT it would take a year for an audit covering a five year period.

MOTION CARRIED

Mayor White said that before he put the motion he would like to say that Halifax had an audit and the cost was $87,000. He would like to point out that after all, changes in the assessment act were merely shifting the burden from one to another and was not really lifting it any. The only way to make the load easier was to lighten the population and in his opinion the only way to get population was to develop the port. The motion carried.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., SEPTEMBER 17, 1926.

CITY AND COUNTY.

The breeze which developed at yesterday's meeting of the finance committee of the Municipal Council is not likely to lead to a divorce of the city and county at once, but it may preface several interesting developments. We in Saint John—if the taxpayers are to have their way—are soon to begin an investigation of our financial housekeeping, and among other questions to be explored will be that of the proportion of municipal taxation paid by the city. If it be true, as His Worship the Mayor appears to believe, that the municipality on the one side and the School Board on the other have been increasing their expenses much more rapidly than those of the city proper, it should not be difficult to devise an appropriate and effective remedy.

Speaking of the possibility of a divorce, the President of the Board of Trade pertinently remarks that should the city and county decide to go their separate ways, it would be necessary to consider the advisability, not to say the necessity, for extending the city limits so that they would include the Fairville and Beaconsfield districts and East Saint John, and thus to make greater Saint John include all the urban population which rightly belongs to it and which, doubtless, would come in readily on fair terms.

If we are to take reasonable advantage of our opportunities, there is a period of more rapid growth before us. Formerly many of the people resident immediately east and west of the city lines feared union because of the likelihood that their taxation would be increased through the influence of the people of Saint John proper for their own purposes. More recently taxes in Lancaster and in other districts have risen so rapidly as to suggest that in the not distant future they will not carry any weight, and that other considerations will prevail. East Saint John, Fairville and Beaconsfield would profit in many ways through union, and those who purport to see insuperable difficulties in the path of amalgamation probably do not recall the somewhat stormy history attending the absorption of Carleton and the old town of Portland.

Saint John in the very near future must ascertain precisely where it stands and just what it is going to do about harbor development and the increase of traffic through this port. Likewise, it must iron out its own assessment and taxation situation. When these things are done the door will be open for consideration of the question of including parts of Lancaster and Simonds to join the city, and it should not be difficult to do so on terms sufficiently favorable to command endorsement by plebeians in all the districts concerned, the city included. But first the city has much to do to set its own house properly in order. If it does that thoroughly the outlying districts will seek union. Unless it does that they will cling tenaciously to independence.

LONDON AND PARIS COMMENT.

It has been fairly generally agreed that neither the Constitutional issue nor the Customs issue roused any large section during the past election, although it must be conceded that when any such questions are raised they must have results—often not those intended. That is, however, by the way. The surprising thing is that a London paper should see in the outcome of the voting a sharp censure on His Excellency the Governor-General's personality. It was quite clearly defined by those who put forward the Constitutional issue—and it must not be forgotten that it was an issue—that no reflection was made on His Excellency's conduct, but on that of the Minister who advised him. Mr. Mackenzie King made it quite evident that his attacks were directed on Mr. Meighen and not on Lord Byng. That ought to satisfy the London papers. In actual fact, the constitutional issue was buried before the election. No one party has the monopoly of loyalty and Canada knows it. But the Evening Standard goes further. It says: "During the war we heard much indignation expressed with regard to politicians filling soldiers' jobs. The reverse process, of which we have an example here, is at least as dangerous." To start with, our Governor-General is not a politician. He is an administrator, and since the duties of a soldier who has reached the rank of general officer are ninety per cent. administrative, who more suitable?

Extracts from the Paris Press indicate more clearly than ever the need of educating foreign countries as to the meaning of the British Empire. Some months ago South Africa drew attention to foreign misconception as to the intervention of the Empire's component parts. More recently at Geneva Ireland stressed the lack of understanding exhibited by foreign countries as to the liberty of opinion and action enjoyed by the Dominions.

Now the Parisian Le Matin comments on the recent general election and shows an utter misunderstanding of Canadian sentiment and loyalty to the Empire. Le Matin says: "The slogan of the Liberals in Canada was 'Canada for Canadians,' that of the Conservatives, 'Let us remain citizens of the British Empire.'" The obvious implication is that the Liberals of Canada wish to secede from the British Empire, and the Conservatives are the restraining force. But Mr. Mackenzie King, repeatedly during his election campaign, made it abundantly clear that he is as staunch an Imperialist, in the true—not the old Downing Street—sense as anybody. Le Matin continues to point out that the Liberal party has a large majority in the Province of Quebec "which is peopled with descendants of the first French colonists." It is well known that these descendants of monarchical French have little sympathy with republican France, are among the loyalist subjects of the King of England and as such wedded to the Imperial connection.

The Journal Des Debats indicates similar misunderstanding. It finds significance in the Liberal success at a moment when Canada appeared ready to claim a seat on the Council of the League of Nations, and affects to see in this loosening of the bonds uniting the Dominions and Great Britain. Nothing could be farther from the truth. On the other hand, Le Figaro appears to have a more accurate conception of the situation. It sees the tariff and taxation as the leading issues and says: "The public was, above all, desirous of seeing one party triumph over the other in order that there should be a majority and stable government." That is just about the true state of affairs.

The Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King and the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen voted in Ottawa. "The way they marked their ballots shows cut-throat tactics similar to those displayed on the hustings," says the Toronto Globe.

Premier Ferguson of Ontario predicts the cutting off of the amusement tax in that province. Mr. Ferguson realizes more than ever, after the result of the federal contest, that reduction of taxation in any direction is popular.

"The situation in the Maritimes is a charge upon the conscience of Canada," says the Vancouver Province, which looks for highly important recommendations from the Duncan Commission. "Canada," says the Province, "is agreed that these grievances must be removed."

Has the local Government's Immigration and Colonization Department yet found out what the harvesters' excursions really mean to New Brunswick? Here is a paragraph from a newspaper in one of the smaller towns of Saskatchewan: "A feature of the harvest excursions to the West this year are the number of men who are taking their families along. These men, no doubt, intend to remain in the West, and become as quickly as possible settlers on prairie land. These annual migrations from Eastern Canada do a great deal to increase the population of the Western provinces."

Queer Quirks of Nature

By AUSTIN H. CLARK

ARE there any living sea-serpents in the seas today? There are just as many as there ever were. They why do we not see them any more? Do they keep themselves always out of sight? Not at all; we see no sea serpents today simply because we no longer think in terms of sea-serpents.

Did you ever stop to think that there are never any ghosts in apartments with electric lights? Ghosts live in old creaky wooden houses standing more or less alone and lighted by flickering candles or old-fashioned lamps.

Sea-serpents existed in the days when we used to go to sea in small wooden sailing ships low in the water. Now that we travel in large safe steamers we see the creatures of the ocean as they really are. They are no longer magnified and distorted by our insecurity and fear. The sea-serpents have disappeared.

What were the sea-serpents? They were various things. Sometimes they were whales, sometimes a troop of dolphins and sometimes a shark. They were a few bands of sea-weed floating on the surface. But most of the sea-serpents were giant squid floating dead or dying.

ON FISHING BANKS
The largest of these giant squid is occasionally found floating in the autumn on the fishing banks. The same or allied kinds are found in many other places in the ocean.

PICKING FLAWS
(Chicago Herald-Examiner.)
"To many people criticism is merely a matter of finding fault. Often a critic thinks his work is half done unless he picks some sort of flaw with which to denigrate the production. Fault finding at best is cheap. Any work can be approached in a hostile manner, and everything is open to objection. Sympathy is rare. It is the oil that makes the bearings of life work with a minimum of friction."

SOCIALIST PLANNING
(Central European Observer.)
The issuing of money and the development of credit is much in advance of economic developments. The currency policy in socialist Russia until this juncture was based on the anticipation of economic facts. It is not parallel to them. It does not reflect the actual requirements, but endeavors to foresee them or even to create them. That is a peculiarity of the soviet policy of "planning out" the national economies that leads to the greatest blunders.

VANISHING BABY BUGGY
(Seattle Post-Intelligencer.)
A sign of changing conditions is seen in the passing of the baby buggy. Manufacturers of this once popular vehicle report a steady falling-off of business during the last few years. The reason is not so much that fewer babies are being born as that now the whole family is taken out for an airing. The babies get their fresh air riding in automobiles along country roads instead of being wheeled on city sidewalks.

POEMS I LOVE

The Great Man by Eunice Tietjen

FORM and thought usually come simultaneously to the poet. There is no doubt, for instance, that Wordsworth knew at once when he wrote, "The world is too much with us," that the whole idea would be crystallized which require expression in blank verse; others where that mysterious language which lies just between prose and poetry—free verse—is absolutely essential to give life to an idea. I am certain that Miss Tietjen could not have said that she had to say here with greater effect through another medium. Her lines are exquisitely wrought, and one does not miss the rhyme scheme.

I cannot always feel his greatness. Sometimes he walks beside me, step by step. And pieces slowly in the ways—The simple, wingless ways That my thoughts tread. He gazes with me then, And finds it good; Not as an eagle might, his great wings folded, he content; To walk a little, knowing it his choice, But as a simple man, My friend. And I forget.

Then suddenly a call floats down From the clear sky above. The great keen, lonely heights of being, And he who was my comrade hears the call. And rises from my side, and soars, Deep-chanting to the heights. Then I remember, And my upward gaze goes with him, and I see Far off against the sky The gleam of golden sunlight on his wings.

DINNER STORIES

A NORTHERN guest at Pinehurst happened upon an old negro, who was beating down dried cotton stalks. "Uncle, what did the boll weevil do to you this past year?" he inquired.

"The old darky looked up, saw 'case o' dem nawthern folks," and answered him in this manner: "Lawd, boss, dey was de wust here dat dey has ever been. Why, one night I was awake from my res' by such a noise dat I ain't never heard de lak of befo'. I takes my lantern and goes out in dat patch over dere, and what do you 'pose I found?"

"I have no idea, Uncle. What was it?" the northerner replied. "Lawd, Cap, de old pappy boll weevil had a big stick beating all de little boll weevils 'cause dey wouldn't take two rows at a time."

WHEN Lincoln and Douglas were canvassing Illinois together as rivals for a vacancy in the United States Senate, Douglas, on a certain occasion, in the course of his speech, complacently remarked: "Twenty-five years ago, when we were young men, Mr. Lincoln and I resided in the same town. I taught school for a living. Mr. Lincoln sold whisky for a living." He referred to Lincoln's clerkship in a store where there was a sign of his very best customers!"

WHOS WHO

Mme. Alexandra Kollontai.

A WOMAN soon is to take charge of the Russian diplomatic headquarters at Mexico City. She is Mme. Alexandra Kollontai, and she will have the title of envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary.

Mme. Kollontai is one of the few women diplomats of the world and the first member of her sex accredited to Mexico. She was among the first leaders in the movement to overthrow the Czar and since then has held high and important positions in the Bolshevik Government.

Mme. Kollontai last March completed a three year's mission Minister to Norway in which capacity she distinguished herself by the negotiations of a commercial treaty giving Soviet Russia many advantages in return for unequal concessions to Norway.

It is not alone as a driver of hard diplomatic bargains that this exponent of Bolshevik feminism is known, for she is credited with high intellectual qualities and with her share of womanly charm. She is of slight build and has bobbed brown hair and a fine musical voice. She speaks five modern European languages with ease.

Mme. Kollontai visited America in 1916 and lectured against the war. When the Bolsheviks took over Russia she was chosen Minister of Public Welfare. She gave that up to take the Norwegian post.

She is 43 years old. Besides her public addresses and lectures she has published a book, "Ways of Love," in which her advanced views on social and moral questions are set forth.

STRANGE VISITOR IS CAUGHT IN WINDSOR CASTLE

Refuses to Identify Self; Arraigned in Court as Nameless One

LONDON, Sept. 17.—The premises of the King of England have been burglarized, under the nose of the King's brother-in-law, the Marquess of Cambridge, Governor and Constable of Windsor Castle.

There is great mystery about the affair, though a prisoner has been caught and arraigned in the Windsor police court. The prisoner refused to give his name, declared upon arraignment that his head was badly muddled and was baled to the bar as "the nameless one."

The premises of Windsor Castle, where the Henry Chamber was broken into and robbed are under the guardianship of the Marquess of Cambridge, Viscount Northampton, Earl of Eitham, whose full name is Lieutenant-Colonel Adolphus Charles Alexander Albert Edward George Philip Louis Ladislaus Cambridge. He is the brother of the former "Princess May" of Teck, who is now Queen Mary of England.

But "the nameless one," arraigned against the many-named Marquess, has set up a mystery which neither military experience nor diplomatic skill yet has solved.

SAYS IMPOSSIBLE TO SHOOT TO MOON

English Astronomer Produces Figures to Show Proposed Feat Useless

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Rumors that somebody in Moscow wants to shoot at the moon has aroused the academic criticism of Professor A. W. Bickerton, the astronomer, who says flatly in the Daily Mail, that it cannot be done.

In order to escape the gravitation of the earth," he points out, "your projectile needs a velocity of 7 miles a second.

The thermal energy necessary to carry a gramme of matter at this speed is 15,180 calories. The energy of a gramme of a Krupp shell is about 100 calories; that of Big Bertha—the gigantic gun which shelled Paris—is 400 calories. The energy of a gramme of our most violent explosive—nitro-glycerine—is less than 1,500 calories.

Consequently, if the explosive had nothing to carry except its own weight, it has less than ten percent of the energy necessary to enable it to escape the earth. To reach a distance of four miles in the air, the projectile would need a thermal energy unit mass equal to 7,600 calories.

So get such energy? Nobody knows."

$500,000 CARPET

Finest in Existence; is Displayed in London Shop Window

LONDON, Sept. 17.—James F. Ballard, an American who has made a hobby of Persian carpets, has found the finest carpet in existence, it is said. It was recently on display in a shop window on High Holborn.

The carpet is nearly four centuries old and is valued at more than half a million dollars. It is the work of one man, who labored at it for twenty years and completed his task in Isfahan in 1850. He made the carpet for the Shah Safi.

PRESENTED TO CZAR

Said presented to Czar Peter the Great of Russia, and later it was a present from the Russian ruler to Leopold I, the Emperor of Austria. For years it was hung on the staircase of the royal palace at Schonbrunn, near Vienna. It is said that it has never been walked on.

The carpet is of magnificent colors, in patterns of ruby red, gleaming opalescent green, deep blues and amber, woven into an intricate design. Like many of the masterpieces of craftsmanship in the early ages, the name of the maker is not known.

Burglar Found in Bed By Husband and Wife

LONDON, Sept. 17.—Mrs. Amelia Lyons, wife of a transport worker at Hull declares that three persons in one bed in one too many, especially when the third person was a burglar.

Mrs. Lyons awoke the other night to find a third person in the bed she and her husband were occupying. She gave one wild whoop and the stranger and her husband bounded out of bed simultaneously. The stranger reached the door first. Shortly afterwards the police arrested Frederick Foughter, 40, a pedlar, who was subsequently sentenced to three months hard labor for being "found on enclosed premises."

James E. Gorham, local vendor, charged with selling intoxicating liquor through his clerical agent, J. Dunham Steel, contrary to law, was given the option of paying a $200 fine or spending three months in jail, when he appeared before Magistrate Henderson, the police court yesterday afternoon.

E. H. GARY TO BE 80 YEARS OLD ON OCTOBER 8

Working Long Hours; Retirement Rumor Revived But It is Doubtful

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—E. H. Gary, chairman of the Board of Directors and chief executive officer of the United States Steel Corporation, will be 80 years old on Oct. 8. At that time he will have served more than 25 years as head of the country's greatest industrial enterprise.

The approach of his birthday served yesterday to revive the report that he was preparing to retire, but there has been no definite indication from him or his associates that he has any intention of it. Although Wall Street construed a statement made at the last annual meeting as a forecast of his retirement, recent developments have convinced the financial community that he is giving the matter no thought at this time.

IN ACTIVE CONTROL

Judge Gary is in active control of the Steel Corporation. His is not in any sense a nominal but an actual control. He is at the executive offices of the corporation every working day, usually as long as many of his subordinates. Every detail of the corporation passes through his hands that a chief executive officer customarily would look after. The Steel Corporation was organized on Feb. 25, 1901, under the laws of the State of New Jersey, and began business on April 1, 1901. The plan of grouping several of the large steel manufacturing companies in different parts of the country into one organization had its inception at a dinner given in New York on Dec. 12, 1900, by Edward Simmons and Charles Stuart Smith. Several of the most important steel manufacturers and financiers of the United States were present, among them the late J. Pierpont Morgan, who was induced to do what Judge Gary, then President of the Federal Steel Company and one of the banker's trusted associates, had long urged upon him—to undertake the financial arrangements necessary to the amalgamation.

PORTLAND, Me., Sept. 17.—Displaying remarkable fortitude during conscious moments until the end, Evelyn Louise Jordan, seven-year-old daughter of Walter C. Jordan of South Portland, died in hospital from injuries received last Saturday afternoon when both her legs were cut off by an electric car.

She regained consciousness while pinned beneath the car and asked for a drink of water. Although suffering intense pain, she made no complaint or outcry, other than when moved. At the hospital she maintained her bravery at all times and once asked her father: "Aren't you glad you're not me, daddy?"

LONDON, Sept. 17.—One of the innumerable things which you can not do in England is to fish coal out of the bottom of a canal.

Man Crushed by Elevator in New York as He Falls From Platform

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—In seeking to recover his straw hat, destined to go out of fashion yesterday, an unidentified man was crushed to death by a northbound Second Avenue "L" train at the Eighth street station. A gust of wind blew the hat from his head. Reaching for it he fell from the platform as the train drew into the station. He was jammed between the first car and the platform. WE now announce a sweeping reduction in the prices of Pines Automatic Winterfront. The tremendous volume of Winterfront sales, also new distributing arrangements, have resulted in economies that now put the Pines Winterfront within the reach of every Canadian motorist.

Come before the rush . . . don't make this mistake

Wrong You, doubtless, like thousands of others, believe that it is not necessary to protect a motor from cold except in freezing weather. This erroneous belief is costing motor-car owners millions annually. It is the cause—engineering authorities agree—of 50 to 75% of all premature motor wear. When the temperature reaches freezing—the motor damage caused by cold has been going on for months. Correct this belief—at freezing the damage is done.		Right At 60 degrees Fahrenheit, your motor needs Winterfront protection. That's when cold starts its work of destruction. Makers of many fine cars provide Winterfront radiator protection the year 'round, guarding the motor against the damage wrought by cold. That first "choke" morning is when damage starts. Go then to your dealer. Have a Winterfront installed. Don't give COLD a chance at your motor.

DEDICATE ORGAN AND PANELS AT VALLEY CHURCH

Bishop Richardson Officiated at Impressive Ceremony Last Night

The new organ in St. Paul's church and its handsomely carved memorial panels were solemnly dedicated last evening by His Lordship, Bishop Richardson, at a service that was deeply impressive. Prof. James F. Brown, organist and choir leader, evoked from the "king of instruments" a splendid harmonies, thrilling in their grandeur, and the thronging congregation was deeply stirred by the magnificent choral and instrumental music of the service.

The organ, which was built by the Woodstock Pipe Organ Builders, has three manuals and the pedals and is of full compass, R. C. O. scale, having 88 speaking stops. In the brief organ recital, following the service, Prof. Brown admirably demonstrated his own genius as an organist and the marvelous possibilities of the instrument he played. Archdeacon A. H. Crowfoot, D.D., rector of the church, made the announcements. The lessons were read by Rev. C. Gordon Lawrence and Rev. H. A. Gody and the service was sung by Rev. J. H. A. Holmes. All of the clergy of the Anglican churches were present in the sanctuary.

The choir entered the church in silence and proceeded to their places in the chancel and the Bishop standing before the organ console offered the dedicatory prayer and the organ's voice spoke for the first time in accompanying the singing of the hymn of jubilation "Praise the Lord, Ye Heavens, Adore Him." Psalms 148 and 149 were sung and the setting for the Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis was Stanford in B flat. The special lessons were II. Chronicles 5: 11 to 14 and Revelation 4: 6-14. The choir rendered with fine effect the anthem "Except the Lord Build the House" by Eaton Fanning.

The unveiling and dedication of the carved memorial panels followed the close of the evening prayer. The act of unveiling was performed by D. Moore Mans, grandson of the first choirmaster, Squire Mans, whose name was among those carved upon the panels. After the Bishop had solemnly dedicated the memorial panels the hymn "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones" was sung.

The carving of the work of V. J. Dunphy, of Saint John. Among the names inscribed upon the panels are those of many of the church's most ardent supporters in by-gone days, whose memory is revered and honored. Included in these names is that of Thomas Barclay Robinson, whose memorial has been contributed by his four sons. Names which are to be inscribed on other panels of the organ are Frederick H. Howell, choister and priest, by his widow; Isabella Cove, by her daughter; Frederick Droughton and Orlo Reeve Stephens, by their daughter.

THE SERMON.

Bishop Richardson in his sermon emphasized the importance of music in the church service, showing that music had been given a special place in the worship of God from the time of Moses right through the ages. He pointed out that it was as much the duty of the choir as of the preacher to seek to inspire and uplift the congregation.

A special offering was taken for the organ fund and a substantial sum was given. The total cost of the organ and its installation is about $14,000 and a large part of that amount has already been contributed. During the offering the hymn "Ye Holy Angels Bright" was sung. After the benediction the recessional hymn was "Praise My Soul, the King of Heaven."

The program of the organ recital that followed the service was as follows:

Toccata and Fugue in D Minor—J. S. Bach.
Eglogue—Salome.
Voice of Spring—Dr. Charles Vincent.
Adagio Espressivo—Ignace Pleyel.
Invocation in B flat—Alex. Gullman.
Toccata in G—Dubois.

FOUR INDICTED IN HALL-MILLS CASE

Henry Stevens, Firearms Expert Named as Defendant— "Surprise" Witnesses

SOMERVILLE, N. J., Sept. 17.—Henry Stevens, firearms expert, early today joined his brother, Willie, and cousin Henry De La B. Carpenter, in the Somerset County jail on charges of murdering the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, whose bodies were found under a crabapple tree four years ago this morning.

The slain rector's three relatives by marriage, and his widow, Mrs. Francis Hall, were indicted for the murder yesterday as one of the last acts of the April grand jury which will probably consider evidence against other persons in the case, before it is superseded Tuesday by the September grand jury. The four indicted yesterday will be arraigned tomorrow afternoon before Supreme Court Justice Charles W. Parker.

There were several "surprise" witnesses among the 20 that appeared before the grand jury yesterday, although the prosecutor claims to have placed only half his case before the body, which deliberated only ten minutes after hearing evidence yesterday.

One of the surprised witnesses was John Stillwell, employed by the undertaker who buried Dr. Hall. Stillwell is said to have told the grand jury that when Mrs. Hall raised her veil at the funeral, he saw scratches on her left cheek.

TURN ROBBERS TO GET WEDDING CASH

Brooklyn Clerk, Who Admits Six Burglaries, Faces Long Term

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Justice, which he tried to evade in order to pay off several small debts and be in a position to marry by the end of the month has closed in with sudden speed upon Thomas Lipton Bergner, 28 years old, a clerk, of Brooklyn.

Bergner was re-arrested and charged with six robberies in delicatessen stores of Brooklyn. He pleaded guilty and was remanded for sentence, which under the indictment to which he has pleaded cannot be less than 20 years.

Bergner, who says he comes from a good family and who was an outstanding track athlete when he was a student at Hefley School, kept his composure. He was arrested as he stepped from his automobile in front of a delicatessen store. He was carrying a pistol. He said that he never had any intention of using it, but knew that robbers were supposed to go about their business armed.

Bergner said the series of robberies had netted him only $110, and that this was far short of the sum he needed. He was to have been married on September 20.

Twenty solid cars loaded with overalls were transported direct from Commerce, Ga., to St. Louis, 828 miles, recently, the total freight charges on the shipment being $2,042.50 or 1.7 cents to carry a pair of overalls that distance.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain How To Treat

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not as some believe to a lack of digestive juices. The colic stomach lining is irritated, digestion is disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. They lay aside all digestive aids and instead get from our drug stores a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in a quarter glass of water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bismarck Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, is laxative to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

65,000 'Phones To Be Changed In Gotham

NEW YORK, N. Y., Sept. 17.—A preliminary survey conducted by the New York Telephone Company indicates that a record number of changes of residence and business telephone equipment will result from the fall moving period here. Executives said the company expected more than 65,000 orders to transfer telephones, which would exceed by 9,000 the number handled during the 1925 fall moving period.

In addition to re-location orders the company anticipates orders for the installation of approximately 21,000 telephones for new subscribers during October.

The moving day period affects all departments of the telephone organization, the executives said. Disconnection and connection of the wires at new and old addresses constitute only a small part of the work. There is a large amount of clerical work involved and hundreds of special operators must be employed.

electd convener of the temporary committee and arrangements were made for a subsequent meeting at which permanent officers are to be elected.

Yesterday's meeting was addressed by Miss Ethel Hazen Jarvis, provincial secretary, who told of the society's aims and objects and explained the details of organization. Miss Jarvis returned home last evening.

PLATEAU 3221

Diamond Taxicab Association Elite Limited

1224 BLEURY

August 25th 1926.

Superior Oil Limited, Montreal.

Gentlemen, We are operating 424 taxicabs in the City of Montreal. We pay particular attention to the lubrication of our motor equipment as we consider it an essential feature in keeping down our operating costs. We believe in using the best oil obtainable and after experiments have decided on your Marvelube.

We have been using Marvelube ever since it came on the market last spring and we have had the very best results from it. We find it entirely free from carbon and we seem to get smoother operation of our engines when using this oil.

Yours truly,
DIAMOND TAXICAB ASSOCIATION LIMITED,
per H. Bouchard President.

THE Diamond Taxicab Association's fleet represents a huge investment. Their choice of "the best oil obtainable" is, therefore, a matter of imperative importance.

The average daily mileage of each of their 424 taxicabs is 100 miles—or 42,400 miles per day. In the four months they have been using Marvelube the fleet has travelled approximately 5,000,000 miles—with "the very best results." They find Marvelube "entirely free from carbon" and that it gives "smoother operation."

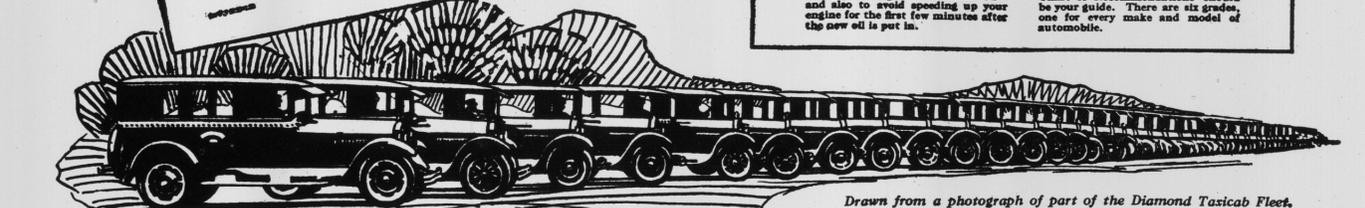

Taxicab service puts unusually severe demands on any lubricating oil. No individual motorist can put Marvelube to such a grueling test. But any motorist can get the same degree of satisfaction and economy from Marvelube as the Diamond Taxicab Association.

You can safely follow the motor oil selection of this organization, which is so fully qualified to judge lubricating oils and so vitally concerned in using the best as a matter of cold business practice.

Good Engineering Practice

All automotive engineers agree that it is important to always have the oil system flushed out with a light grade of oil (not coal oil) before refilling your engine with fresh oil—and also to avoid speeding up your engine for the first few minutes after the new oil is put in.

Another important point is to always secure the exact grade of Marvelube that is specially recommended for your particular car. Our Chart of Recommendations should be your guide. There are six grades, one for every make and model of automobile.

NEW MEMORIAL HALL NEARING COMPLETION

St. David's Church Will Dedicate New Building Week of October 3

The congregation of St. David's United church, of this city, is looking forward with considerable interest and expectation to the week of Oct. 3 when its new memorial hall will be dedicated and the winter season begun.

The new church was built in 1916, to replace the previous one destroyed by fire. The funds only permitted the erection of the basement of the Sunday school at the rear of the church.

This summer Contractor H. O. Clark extended this basement 28 feet to accommodate a beginners' class room and storeroom, and has erected a two-story brick structure over the whole of this enlarged area.

The Sunday school room will cover the area over the basement of the old foundations and will reach to the full height of the building.

PARLORS SEPARATED

The parlors are separated by folding doors and roller doors divide them from the Sunday school so that for large entertainments this whole floor may be turned into a single auditorium.

On the north end, over the new part of the basement, is the stage, equipped with disappearing footlights, switch panel for control of all the auditorium and the temporary stage lighting and with the necessary overhead gear supports for the handling of curtains, scenery and other properties that may be needed for amateur dramatic entertainments and pageants.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY

Sunday will see the Sunday school rally day exercises and the formal dedication of the hall to the service of God and in memory of the boys of the congregation who gave their all in the Great War.

On Wednesday there will be a congregational social and entertainment and on Thursday the Dramatic Club will try out the new stage.

On Friday night the boys and girls will demonstrate to their parents and friends how attractive were the "camp fire" entertainments that they participated in at the church camps this summer.

Jap Pickpocket Errs By Stealing Turtles

KOBE, Sept. 17.—Shinkichi Yoshida, a light fingered resident of this port, picked three snapping turtles off a butcher's slab, sliding them into his spacious kimono sleeve, safely out of sight.

He had not proceeded far with his loot, however, before he was stopped by a police officer. When help reached him it was found that one snapper had taken a grip on Shinkichi's forearm and that the other two were attached to two of the fingers of the hand they had hastily thrust into the sleeve.

The snappers were pried off and handcuffs snapped on.

R. L. GRANNAN NEW HEAD OF LOCAL K. C.'S

Chosen Grand Knight at Annual Meeting Held Last Night

R. L. Grannan was elected grand knight by the Saint John Council Knights of Columbus at its annual meeting last evening, when excellent reports of the year's activities and of the standing of the local society were presented.

The election of officers resulted as follows: Grand knight, R. L. Grannan; deputy grand knight, H. G. McInerney; chancellor, John U. Haggerty; advocate, James B. Devere; recording secretary, Daniel S. Connolly; financial secretary, Joseph K. Kennedy; treasurer, Joseph Corkery; warden, William P. Hurley; inside guard, Edward Duany; outside guard, J. P. Mooney; Alfred Murphy; trustees, Dr. E. W. Lunney, W. J. Fitzpatrick, Joseph P. Coughlan.

Officers of the Knights of Columbus Property Company were elected as follows: President, John Crowley; vice-president, James L. Sugas; secretary, treasurer, Henry Regan.

Inmates of Three Institutions Treated

The inmates of three of the local institutions were greatly delighted on Wednesday, when C. H. Pattison gave an excellent motion picture program and concert for their pleasure. In the afternoon he took his entertainment to the Municipal Home and in the evening he visited the New Brunswick Protestant Orphanage and the Provincial Hospital. The lantern was kindly loaned by the Y. M. C. A. and operated by George Murray. Rev. J. M. Murchison attended at each of the institutions and contributed vocal solos that were much appreciated. His accompanist was Mrs. Wilfred McCallum.

Queen of Italy Wins Fishing Test

GENOA, Sept. 17.—The Queen of Italy is the champion trout-catcher of the Italian royal family and Prince Humbert is the worst. This was proved to the satisfaction of all the royal household by a fishing competition in brooks and lakes surrounding the Alpine castle of St. Anne de Val-d'Iser, where the Italian royal family is summering.

The Queen finished the one-day competition with 298 trout to her credit. The King came far behind her, but next, with a catch of 179, Princess Yolanda scored 153, Princess Mafalda 91 fish onto her hook, Princess Giovanni caught 148, Princess Marie reeled in 98 and Prince Humbert had to be content with only 16 fish in his creel.

MILLS MOVE SOUTH

Connecticut Co. Stockholders in Fabric Enterprise Receive Notice From Directors

DANIELSON, Conn., Sept. 17.—Stockholders of the Connecticut Mills Company, employing 1,200 operatives in their three mills at Fall River, Mass., Taunton, Mass., and in Danielson, have received notice that the board of directors have decided to move one-half of the machinery of each mill to some point in the South. It was explained that the highly competitive market in New England, together with the wide separation of the three plants, made manufacturing costs too high to permit operation at a profit.

The statement of the directors read that it was believed a suitable location in the South could be found where local interests would co-operate in supplying manufacturing facilities on lease or similar basis. The Connecticut Mills Company are manufacturers of the fabric. Since 1920 the company has paid no dividends on the second preferred or common stock.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY MEETING

Three Deserted Children Taken Into Home During Month

The adjourned monthly meeting of the Children's Aid Society was held in their home last night with the first vice-president, J. E. Quinn, in the chair. The report of the agent showed that, while since last meeting two children had been taken out of the home, four had been admitted. There are now resident in the home 25 children. Three of the little ones admitted had been deserted by their mothers. They had been left in the care of other married women, the arrangement being the usual one as to board. None of those who complained had ever received any money. Efforts are being made to locate the parents and if these fall after a reasonable time, application will be made to a judge to have them committed to the Society.

A number of cases of alleged abuse had also been investigated during the month and were detailed in the report.

Douglas Angevine Heads Other Y's Men

The "Other Y's Club" of the Saint John Y. M. C. A., at its annual meeting last night, decided to make application to the Y's Men's district organization for a charter. The annual meeting was to have been held at Drury Cove and to have been preceded by a corn boil but the unfavorable weather caused a change of plans and the corn boil was held in the association building instead of at Drury Cove. Edgar Peters, the retiring president, was chairman.

The officers elected for the ensuing year were as follows: President, Doug-

TO-DAY'S TENDENCIES

Latest frites on Paris styles—the changing mode The secret of Parisian chic. By Lucille La Marre

I will remember, although I am loth to confess it, that when first I entered those sacred portals of Worth in Paris the mode centred around that then fascinating creature—the woman of thirty.

But to-day, ah, the difference. It is all for la jeune fille and we all bow to her reign. "Dainty, but practical," those are the marvelous Worth's very words this season.

How well he understands his clientele. How well he knows that if his own countrywomen follow his mode, the world will follow, too.

So let appeal to the Parisienne's idea of the vogue. For she is a cautious purchaser, wanting style, of course, but insisting equally on economy, not in low first price, necessarily, but in long wear.

Happy this tendency is becoming the habit more and more in Canada. One concern, I think, preeminently has done much to assure women that they can obtain both style and service. I refer to Julius Kayser & Co., specialists in those three intimate accessories which touch the skin—lingerie, hosiery and gloves.

It was Kayser who first brought to women the happy combination of Paris style with Canadian durability. Kayser has learned well the secret of transmitting the vogue quickly. But it has learned equally well how to make things which wear and wear, a unique achievement.

"Pure silk" can be claimed by anyone. But when an article bears the Kayser label, it is a guarantee that it is made of 100% pure silk. And so with workmanship. The Kayser label is a safe-guard.

In one direction, Kayser signifies the latest mode. In another it signifies old-time quality. I know of no other combination so important.

And that, after all, is the real secret of chic. It is never a matter of how much one spends. It is how one spends it. And this is more and more important this season. For it is indeed a period of the glorified ensemble. In other words, the edict of Paris is that the ensemble shall be more complete than ever, not merely as to gown and hat, but including lingerie, hosiery and gloves.

The correct shades. The correct weights. Sheer hosiery for evening wear, sturdier weights for daytime. Morning gloves, afternoon gloves, town gloves, sports gloves. Lingerie for the slender silhouette, lingerie for outdoor costumes.

Kayser has a wonderful offering this season. I had the good fortune to see a pre-showing of it at their display rooms. It is indeed the cream of the Paris season, yet think of it—these accessories, more properly necessities, can be had at domestic prices without that awful duty being tacked on.

You can go to your own favorite shop and see the Kayser display. That means it is just as if you were shopping in Paris.

You will see the latest Paris originals, the things in vogue there right this minute. Not the flashy, passing fads, but the accepted models. And best of all, behind their glamour of style, is their durability, their assured long wear.

Let me give you one typical example. Take a pair of hosiery made by Kayser. Note that it is full fashioned. This means a genuine seam, not an imitation. It means a knitted, fitted stocking, one that will keep its shape.

There are countless imitations of full fashioned hosiery, mere tubule stockings with a fake seam up the back. After one washing, they lose their shape. Note also the Kayser Slipper-Heel which gives slender grace to the ankle. Also the Marvel-Stripe which prevents costly and provoking runs.

All Kayser stockings, too, are fine gauge (42 gauge). Note their smooth, even elasticity compared with ordinary coarse gauge stockings.

Ready-Kayser Full Fashioned Hosiery - the Latest Shades ARAB - BOULEVARD - RIVIERA - CIRCASSIAN - OMBRA

LOVELY new tones, each created to complement to perfection a charming gown, or to contrast smartly with a deeper shade.

ARAB—like the breath of desert sands, wind tossed.

BOULEVARD—a deeper tone, with a hint of the rose glow of the sunset.

RIVIERA—delicately lovely, with a soft creamy lustre that is enchanting.

CIRCASSIAN—like the glint of ripened grain swaying in the breeze.

OMBRA—inspired by the beauty of a mist lying softly on distant hills.

And these are but a few of the new arrivals your favorite shop is showing. There are twenty-five colors in all from which to select—a most complete array of fashion-right Kayser Silk Hosiery.

The Slipper-Heel* to add that note of grace and smartness to the ankle (Exclusively Kayser).

The unobtrusive, yet wholly efficient run-preventing Marvel-Stripe* to assure economy for the most modest purse (Exclusively Kayser).

The name Kayser insures genuine full fashioned hosiery—100% pure silk—100% pure dyes, hence longest wear.

Hospital Aid to Interview Commissioners About Maternity Wing

PATIENTS' COMPLAINTS MATTER IS TALKED

First Meeting of Season Discusses Plans for Future

The Women's Hospital Aid held its season's re-opening meeting yesterday afternoon in the Church of England Institute and furthered plans for the concert to be given this month by William Heughan for the benefit of the Aid's fund that is being raised to assist in providing maternity care at the General Public Hospital.

Mrs. J. J. Stohart, president, was in the chair and encouraging reports were received from the conveners who had carried on the work of visiting the public hospital and county hospital during the winter months. A suggestion that the hospital commissioners be approached regarding the purchase of a building in West Saint John as a maternity wing and the adoption of a plan for providing comforts for the patients in the county hospital, who have come from outside points, were two matters of special interest at yesterday's meeting.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

Mrs. Lester W. Mowry, treasurer, reported a balance of $700.84 in the general fund, $787.17 in the emergency account and $1,097.88 in the hospital maternity ward furnishing account. Expenditures from the emergency fund had included $70 for a special case.

With reference to the maternity ward fund, in aid of which there is to be a recital by William Heughan later this month, it was agreed that this money would be devoted to assist the General Public Hospital in carrying on maternity work. It was decided to have the president notify the commissioners of the General Public Hospital that there was a building in West Saint John for sale which might be converted into a maternity wing and to advise them that if that building appeared suitable for the purpose and they would arrange for its purchase, the Aid was willing to assume responsibility for furnishing it.

FINELY KEPT.

Mrs. W. E. Morris reported on visiting at the General Public Hospital and said she had never seen a ward so beautifully kept as the babies' ward, while throughout the hospital everything was in splendid condition. Mrs. Morris also told of visiting at the county hospital for one month.

Mrs. J. Carleton Lee was appointed visitor for the general hospital for next month.

Mrs. J. Goldman, who had been the visitor at the county hospital for one month, said that she felt the giving of fruit had become mechanical and she had asked the patron to find out if there were little comforts that were desired by the patients from outside communities, who had no other visitors. A miscellaneous group of articles had been named. These included cold cream, tooth paste, tooth brushes, safety razor blades, cigarette tobacco, cards, candy and love stories.

The members of the Hebrew community had supplied all these articles, paying the total cost, $44.

Heavy thanks were tendered Mrs. Goldman for her new suggestion for the work at the county hospital and the new initiative it had brought to the society.

Mrs. J. J. Gillies was appointed as visitor to the county hospital for next month.

REPORTS ON GIFTS.

Mrs. C. E. Harrison had visited the county hospital one month and reported on the gift of books, some for children and some for the library, which were received from Mrs. George McCluskey.

Mrs. Stohart brought to the meeting the very grateful thanks of the convalescent girl whose care had been assumed by the Aid during the summer. Mrs. Stohart was empowered to arrange for future care.

Mrs. Mowry, as treasurer, drew attention to the fact that membership enrollment has fallen behind greatly this year. The fees of 20 members from Central Baptist church were presented at the meeting.

GRATIFYING REPORT.

Very gratifying reports were received from the sale of the tickets for the Heughan concert. It was stated that Mrs. J. Verrier McLellan, Commissioner of the General Public Hospital, had already sold 380 tickets. Mrs. Walter Hall is convener for sale of tickets and Mrs. Mowry was appointed to assist her.

First returns of ticket sales are to be made to Mrs. Hall at her home, 44 1/2 King Street, on Sept. 27, the Monday before the concert, at 2 p. m. Arrangements were made for invitations for seats in the boxes and a chairman at the concert.

Regret was expressed at the illness of Mrs. T. H. Carter, vice-president at large.

Plans Are Made For Lodge's Visit Here

Arrangements have been completed for the visit in Saint John of Shaftesbury Lodge, No. 208, Sons of England, from Moncton with the auxiliary women's organization, which will arrive in this city on Saturday.

The visitors will be the guests at Marlborough and Portland Lodges of Saint John at a banquet and dance to be held in the Royal Hotel commencing at 8 o'clock and a great gathering of Englishmen and their wives and lady friends is expected. A special committee has been delegated to meet the guests at the depot on their arrival in the city and ply decorated motor cars will be at the station in readiness to drive the visitors to points of special interest about the city.

Declares Older Women Wear Thinnest Clothes

CAMBRIDGE, Eng., Sept. 17.—Women cannot possibly wear any fewer or thinner clothes. Take it on the authority of Lewis Hay, chairman of the executive committee of the Drapers Chamber of Trade of England, the absolute finality has been reached. The drapers confess themselves, unable to discover any way of clothing their clients with fewer or flimsier clothing.

Another feminine secret was let out at the convention of drapers here. The older the women become, the gaudier and more diaphanous their garments become. Sir Sidney Skinner, president of the Drapers Chamber of Trade, is authority for this discovery. Sir Sidney poo-pooed the idea that cold weather might make women wear heavier garments. "They would rather freeze to death than wear woollies," he said.

NO APPOINTMENT TO STAFF LIKELY

May Close One Grade XI Department in High School

It is now practically certain that no new teacher will be appointed to the High School staff to replace E. J. Alexander, who will join the Vocational school staff. Instead it is altogether likely that one department of Grade XI in the High School will be closed and the pupils of the department will be divided among the other four departments of that grade.

There have been five departments of Grade XI, and under the new arrangement there will be only four. Certain other arrangements in the school organization are being effected by Dr. W. S. Worrell, superintendent of city schools. Miss Barbara Dobson has been appointed teacher of the second Grade IX class in the new Albert school, and a new department of grades one and two has been opened in St. Patrick's school. One of the reserve teachers has charge of the new department. Miss Jean McCallum, who has returned after leave of absence, has been appointed teacher of the Sandy Point school. It is probable that a new grade one and two department will be opened in St. Peter's school, but no new staff appointment is contemplated.

Harold Williamson, Beaverbrook Scholarship Winner, Gets Fountain Pen

The Young People's Society of the West Side Kirk held its first gathering of the fall season last evening and enjoyed social intercourse. The members took the opportunity of saying farewell to one of their number, Harold Williamson, who is leaving on Saturday to enter the U. N. B.

Various games were indulged in, the crowning one being a guessing contest for which it was stated a choice prize would be awarded. It was pre-arranged that Mr. Williamson should win the contest, and Mrs. Helena McArthur, president, called on Rev. W. McN. Matthews, the minister, to present the prize. Mr. Matthews first congratulated Mr. Williamson on winning the coveted Beaverbrook scholarship, and having expressed the society's good wishes and farewell greetings, presented the prize, which was a very nice fountain pen. The pen, Mr. Matthews hoped, would help its owner in taking notes and in writing examinations, and also suggested in humorous vein various other epistles which the pen might be used in writing. In concluding Mr. Matthews said that every member of the society wished Mr. Williamson the best success in his college career. Mr. Williamson made a suitable reply. At the close of the evening the young ladies served delicious refreshments.

LADY MOUNTBATTEN BEST DRESSED WOMAN

Wife of Prince of Wales' Best Pal Wins in Deauville Vote

DEAUVILLE, Sept. 17.—Lady Louis Mountbatten has been voted the best dressed woman at Deauville, which means the best-dressed woman of the world. The competition in dressing-up or dressing-down is keener at Deauville in August than anywhere else. This seaside resort, with its beautiful harbor and famous Casino, is the fashion-centre of the world when the season is on.

Lady Louis Mountbatten, whose husband, Lord Mountbatten is the "best pal" of the Prince of Wales and who accompanied the Prince to the United States, has achieved her eminence in style at Deauville by dressing simply. Her gowns are magnificently fitted without being ornate and she decorates herself only with a string of simple pearls and a ring or two on her fingers. Her restraint in the use of jewelry is noticeable because other women at Deauville this season seem bent upon hanging on every gem and jewel they possess, all at the same time. The Mountbattens are staying aboard their yacht, giving many brilliant parties aboard and going ashore often for bathing, polo, or to the Casino. Lady Louis Mountbatten is heiress to the Cassel millions, probably the largest inheritance in England.

PLANS TO CELEBRATE CENTENARY OF VOLTA

MILAN, Sept. 17.—The first centenary of the death of Alexander Volta, the Italian physicist and inventor of the electric battery, occurs next year, and his native city of Como proposes to honor the event with an international exhibition of electrical means of communication, as well as a national exhibition of hydro-electric plants.

A historic villa on the shores of Lake Como will be used as the site of the exhibition, and the various nations of the world have been officially invited to send representative exhibits. During the exhibition, various conferences of a scientific nature will be held.

Various games were indulged in, the crowning one being a guessing contest for which it was stated a choice prize would be awarded. It was pre-arranged that Mr. Williamson should win the contest, and Mrs. Helena McArthur, president, called on Rev. W. McN. Matthews, the minister, to present the prize. Controversies Over Nearly

 Recalled

CAP GRIS NEZ, France, Sept. 17.—The critical comment on Gertrude Ederle's channel swim is nothing new in this peculiar sport. There have always been doubters and scoffers in channel swimming. Except possibly for the swims of Henry Sullivan and Charles Tott, the two Americans who crossed in 1923, criticism has been heard about all the successful crossings. The controversy over the swim of Captain Matthew Webb in 1875, the first man on record to conquer the channel, has been going on for over fifty years. The most reliable information on record is that Webb jumped off a Dover pier and swam to the French coast, where he was helped aboard a boat where he was able to touch bottom. Details of his swim are meagre, but every time channel swimming comes into the limelight arguments are heard that Webb never swam the channel, and that if he did he did not abide by rules. Since there were no rules at the time, and that there are no records disproving his claim, the arguments always fall to be convincing. Ever since 1911, when Bill Burgess swam the channel, there have been wisecracks that the swim was not on the square. These do not disturb "Old Bill," and those who know him personally could never think that he what she had, in modesty, to put on. Her costume consisted of two silk slips, so there could be no criticism as to that score. She had half a hundred witnesses, including three rival channel swimmers, and they all swore the swim fairly all the way.  ship and the final round of the Davis Cup eliminations between France and Japan that it is the player and not the game that attracts the ordinary citizen who has to support the game in these big stadium days. Miss Browne in the reasons she gave for giving up amateur tennis, will be respected more than she ever has before. She never has made anything out of tennis, directly or indirectly, and she has given much of her time to its promotion. That is more than can be said of some of the members of the official family. "I turned professional because I thought that there was too much hypocrisy in the amateur game and I tired of it," Miss Browne said. In that statement is one whole of a big thought for tennis. READING, Penn., Sept. 16.—The second world's record in two days was broken at the Reading Fair today when Peter Manning, 19-year-old boy, established a new mark for trotters over a half-mile track by completing the mile in 2:02.
