The Answer to the Problem of Why Wives are Discontented and Why Children Long to Break Home Ties Can be Found in the Request of a Child Who Wanted Above All to "Walk Around the Block Without Anybody Holding My Hand."

CHIEF among my well-beloved is a dainty little maiden 8 years old. Wishing to give her a present the other day, I said to her: "Elizabeth, if you could have the thing you most desired in the world, what would you ask for?"

DOROTHY DIX

"I would walk around the block by myself without anybody holding my hand," she instantly replied.

TRULY, thought I, out of the mouths of babes and sucklings proceedeth wisdom. Without knowing it, the child had solved one of the great problems of her age and sex.

Why do children show so little filial affection? Why are boys and girls so anxious to get away from home? Why are women, as a sex, so dissatisfied with their lot?

AS FAR as her own personal experience went, she was born with the traditional golden spoon in her mouth. She had the most devoted of parents; the most competent of nurses; every luxury that money and love could procure. But she lacked the one thing in the world that is the ultimate passion of the human heart—freedom—the sense of standing alone—the right to walk around the block without anybody holding her hand.

It is one of the idiosyncracies of love that the more we love the more tyrannical we are. The more devoted and conscientious a child's parents are, the more the unfortunate little creature is kept a close prisoner. Nothing arouses our sympathy so keenly as the sight of the little homeless street Arab jumping off and on cars and hawking papers far into the night, but he is often not so much pitted as the petted darling of a fond mother who never lets him out from under her eyes and who keeps him under as ceaseless surveillance as if he were a political suspect.

VIRTUALLY all of the conflicts between parents and children arise out of the child's longing for liberty and the parent's determination not to grant it. There is not one child in a thousand, among the well-to-do people able to give what they consider sufficient care to their children, who is ever permitted the slightest independence of action or thought.

This is what makes poverty a blessing to children, and the reason that so many of our most famous men and women and our most daring and original thinkers have sprung from the humblest ranks in life. The parents were so hard worked and so busy that they didn't have time to crush all originality out of their children. The little ones were allowed to walk around the block without anybody holding their hands. They were allowed to develop their own individuality and grow up into what God intended them to be, instead of what their mother and father tried to make them.

OF COURSE, it is necessary for a child's immature judgment to be guided in many ways by the older experience of its parents, but when it is not a question of actual principle, it is better to give the girl and boy liberty to do as they prefer.

Anyway, it hurts less to fall and bruise yourself when walking alone than it does to fret because somebody is holding your hand. And certainly it puts the parent in a more attractive attitude to be regarded as a counselor and friend than as the warden of a penitentiary that one has determined to escape from as soon as possible.

IF YOU will get deep enough into a child's confidence you'll find that its one burning desire—the one dream of what it intends to do when it gets grown—is to get away from mamma and papa, and do some perfectly simple thing that it is not allowed to do at home.

It is merely a break for liberty, and it does look as if parents ought to have enough common sense to make home so free that the girls and boys will want to stay in it.

EXACTLY the same thing may be said of women, for women belong to the class of demoralized who are never free. Women have been called the conquered sex. They are always more or less in a state of seething ferment. They are dissatisfied, disgruntled, wanting they know not what.

The majority of them are pretty well situated. Most husbands are good husbands and good providers. Most women, as life goes, have fairly soft lots. Why, then, should they be so much more discontented than men are?

It is because they have no liberty. They are never allowed to walk around the block without somebody holding their hand. In that one simple little fact you have the whole case in a nutshell.

THE girl is dissatisfied at home because she has no independence. She has no money of her own. Her mother does not even permit her to buy the kind of clothes she wants. And so she goes out to work or marries in order to get out of the home jail.

But when she marries she doesn't improve matters much. Her husband provides for her, but he doesn't give her the money in her own hand and let her spend it as she pleases.

She can't go off on a trip without asking his permission. She can't join a club or even save her own soul by uniting with a church without getting a dispensation from him to do it. She has always to be "let" do things instead of doing them on her own responsibility, and because she is a free, untrammelled human being. And that is what hurts and goes her into envying every woman who is unmarried and has a way of supporting herself.

IF MEN would only realize this and emancipate their wives, it would do more to promote domestic felicity than anything else on earth. Now and then there is a husband who grants to his wife the liberty to do as she thinks best, and the reward is that those husbands are simply worshipped by their wives.

Nor do they make license of liberty, for nothing cures us of our desire to walk around the block without anybody holding our hands so quickly as the knowledge that we are free to do it whenever we choose.

With solemn pledge and reverent prayer in an impressive inaugural service the Saint John Presbyterial of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church of Canada was formally instituted last night at a largely attended gathering in the Portland United Church, when the Presbyterian, Methodist and Congregational societies were well represented.

Rev. Mr. Tomkinson, of McAdam, gave an inspirational address and the full choir of the Portland United Church led in the singing. The delegates filed into the church as the hymn "The Church's One Foundation" was heartily sung.

Foundation" was heartily sung. After the opening prayer, offered by Mrs. Hugh Miller, the hymn "Jesus Shall Reign" was sung. Mrs. Matthews read the Scripture portion with its theme, "that they may be one," and a Psalm was read responsively. Then followed the solemn declaration of the ideals to which the society was consecrated.

All present then repeated the prayer for blessing on the W. M. S. of the United Church of Canada and all Christendom. GREETINGS EXTENDED. The greetings of the Saint John Presbyterial were read by Rev. A. D. McLeod, who pointed out how great were the changes throughout the world since the Women's Missionary Societies were established. To day he said there were missionaries in practically every land.

THE PROGRAM. In the program there will be selections by a four-piece orchestra. M. E. Agar, president of the Board of Commissioners, will preside and give the opening address, which will be followed by a violin solo by Mrs. T. J. Gunn, lately returned from Paris.

COMMITTEE NAMED. The following were appointed as a nominating committee: Mrs. J. W. Flewelling, Mrs. David R. Willis, Mrs. John McKay, Mrs. Fred Bizard and Mrs. H. A. Goodwin. After the singing of the closing hymn "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," the benediction was pronounced by Rev. A. D. McLeod.

CLUB ENDS SEASON

Happy Hour Organization Has Pleasant Time at Social Event—Plans Made

The Happy Hour Club was entertained on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Brentnall, 94 St. James street. Seven tables of bridge were played. The prize winners were Mrs. T. Lamb, Mrs. William Grant, F. Haley, Jr., and James Canty.

Club singing was indulged in between the courses led by Dr. Percy L. Bonnell, with Len Wilson at the piano. Selections by a "harmony" quartette composed of Len Wilson, William Donovan, Harry Cromwell and Earl Spicer met with more or less success.

Reminiscences of the club were given by Messrs. Smith, Gale and Rankine, and President Armstrong sketched the past and present activities of the current year, after which he presented gold gyro pins suitably engraved to the past presidents. Dr. Spangler took as his subject "Backbone." His address contained much good advice, both as to the physical and mental life of his hearers, and was also rich in humor. He was accorded a long ovation by the members at the conclusion of his remarks.

100 DEAD, 200 HURT JAP Eruption TOLL

BODIES TAKEN FROM MUD, LAVA AND ROCK

How Many of 1,000 Missing Farmers Are Buried Can't Be Told

TOKYO, May 25—One hundred dead and more than 200 injured have been removed from the mass of mud, lava and rock of yesterday's eruption in Tokachi province, Hokkaido Island, the Governor of the island announced in a telegram today.

How many of the 1,000 farmers missing were buried alive in the lake of mud, which covered the district, could not be told. Two hundred doctors and nurses are attending the unfortunate peasants, aided by 800 relief workers of the Young Men's Association.

The lake in the crater of Mount Tokachi, released by the eruption, poured through the sides of the mountain, inundating several villages. Many were killed as the waters mingling with lava and earth loosened by the eruption, covered rice fields and houses with mud. Landslides occurred on the steep slopes.

The volcano, supposed to be extinct, began rumbling May 4. Many inhabitants, warned of the impending catastrophe, fled from the district.

MANY SLAVES GAIN FREEDOM IN BURMA

Sir Harcourt Butler British Governor Wins Notable Bloodless Victory

(By Dominion News Service) ALLAHABAD, India, May 25—There is unbounded joy in the Kachin Valley today among the 8,000 slaves who have been released from their Kachin masters through the mediation of an expedition sent out by Sir Harcourt Butler, the Governor of Burma.

The expedition's leaders, J. T. O. Bernard, District Commissioner of Myitkyina, and Captain C. J. S. Fraser, have arrived in Calcutta. They are travel-wary, but happy over the triumphant completion of their tremendous task which has resulted in the release of a total number of 8,444 slaves in return for the payment of the savage Kachins of compensation amounting to $60,000.

Mr. Bernard in an interview in Calcutta, told a remarkable story of the experiences of the party in the wilds of Burma. They left on December 9, and after ceaseless journeys to scattered villages they carried the word of the great "White Chief," as Sir Harcourt Butler is known there, that all slaves must be freed.

The tribesmen were told that no compensation would be forthcoming unless the full list of the slaves was supplied. The Kachins generally were glad to accept compensation, but those who looked ahead complained bitterly that hereafter they would probably have to work hard for a living—and they loathe work.

The happiness of the slaves, on the other hand, knew no bounds. A striking feature of the mission's work is that it was carried out without bloodshed.

WHITE STAR LINE BOOSTS N. B. LANDS Official, at Moncton, Says Better Advertising of Province is Needed

Special to The Times-Star MONCTON, May 26—The White Star line is making special efforts to encourage settlements in New Brunswick, according to J. Gardner of the passenger traffic and conference departments of the company at Liverpool, who passed through the city this week on his way to Montreal. Mr. Gardner said that the eastern provinces of Canada needed more advertising in Great Britain. It was necessary he added to do something to overcome the idea prevalent in many parts of England that the weather of New Brunswick is unfavorable to agriculture. What is required was reliable judicious propaganda regarding Canada, especially as to climate and waterways.

SUNNY BRAE HOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Building and Contents Total Loss—No One at Home at Time

Special to The Times-Star MONCTON, May 26—A bungalow, owned by Theophilus Van Idersline and occupied by Hubert Grant, was completely destroyed by fire at Sunnybrae last night between 10 and 11 o'clock.

The house was situated at the corner of Main street and third avenue and when the fire was first discovered it had made such headway that it was impossible to save the building or remove any of the contents.

There was no one in the house at the time and how the fire originated is a matter of conjecture. The value of the house is estimated at between $1,500 and $2,000, but it could not be ascertained last night what amount of insurance, if any, was carried on the building or the furniture, both of which will be a total loss.
