WOMEN OF THREE GENERATIONS. The daughter, mother, and grand-mother have all proved from personal experience the benefits of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in overcoming the ills of women. It was first made from roots and herbs in 1875 by Lydia E. Pinkham, of Cobourg, Ont., for her neighbors and friends. Its fame has been spread from shore to shore until it is now looked upon by women everywhere as the standard remedy for women's ills. It has been proved that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, which is a marvelous record for any remedy to hold.

ROBBER FEIGNS ILLNESS

Lies in Road and With Assistants Holds Up Passing Doctor.

Corning, N. Y., July 25.—Daring highway robbers inaugurated a new system of "getting the money" on the State Road near here when they relieved Dr. W. F. Fogle of Corning of $146 in cash but overlooked $1,000 worth of diamond rings.

Dr. Fogle was driving along when he observed a man lying in the centre of the road, face downward. Thinking he was an accident victim, Dr. Fogle stopped, and as he bent over to turn the man on his back to examine him, a voice from the darkness shouted "hands up."

With Dr. Fogle covered with a gun, the man on the ground jumped up and went through his clothing, taking all of his money. The robbers then locked his car, took the keys and forced the doctor to walk down the road a half mile, while they escaped in the darkness.

YOUR CHILD IS AN ANIMAL.

Many mothers do not realize that children are little animals and require as great feeding care as other young animals. Everyone knows that young animals can be killed by improper food.

Children, pigeons, guinea pigs, rats, mice, dogs, monkeys, and men have been quickly brought to death's door or killed by an exclusive diet of white flour products, polished rice, white or creamy wheat, barley, and other cereals, from which the dark parts have been refined away. With all of the above foods an animal can eat, it soon dies, because such foods are deprived of their alkaline salts and growth and repair substances.

Such foods turn the blood acid and the body's vitalizing elements are thus destroyed. The very bones are absorbed in the process. Prof. Forbes fed swine upon modern corn cereals until their legs broke under them, because of poor bone quality.

We must revise our child feeding. More whole grains, milk, eggs, beans, nuts, vegetables, and fruits, foods which kept our forefathers rugged and long lived. Such foods keep the blood normally alkaline and rich in growth and repair substances, lessening sickness and increasing growth.

There is but one non-acid, whole grain cereal, Roman Meal, 400 parts in each 1,000 parts "Excess Alkali" (opposite of acid). Roman Meal, as porridge with milk, or as baked products with milk as drink, will keep your child normal, robust and well. Your child demands the best and Roman Meal is the best child's food.

18 MONTHS SUSPENSION GIVEN FOR ATTACK ON BASEBALL UMPIRE. Auburn, N. Y., July 25.—That minor league baseball is determined to maintain discipline was affirmed today. Secretary John H. Bad Breath Is Usually Due to Constipation

When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus secures regular bowel movements by Nature's own method—lubrication. Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—not a cathartic. Try it today.

SAVES ELEVEN CHINESE.

Patrolman Forces Group From Smoke-Filled Room.

New York, July 25.—Patrolman Binton of the East 104th Street Station had to draw his revolver to force eleven panic-stricken and partly overcome Chinese from a smoke-filled room on the second floor of a two-story wooden building. The smoke came from a three-story frame building in the front, which had damaged of about $10,000.

The blaze was confined for the most part to the establishment of Michael Store on the ground floor of the building. For a time the blaze threatened to extend to a five-story tenement occupied by twenty families and the J. and P. Garage at 312-18 East Ninety-eighth street.

CHILD HURT AT GASPEREAU.

Vera Brown of Chipman, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown, met with a serious accident on Saturday at GasperEAU while visiting at the home of her uncle, Stephen Fulton. While playing in a field she jumped out from some bushes in front of a mowing machine which was cutting hay, and one foot was almost severed. She was brought to the hospital at St. John's. She was brought to the General Public Hospital, accompanied by her father and mother and Dr. Nugent and an operation was performed on Sunday morning. It was very satisfactory, and strong hopes are entertained that the foot may be saved.

That "Kruschen" Feeling

Here's the dear old boy again—just brimming over with high spirits and sheer joy of living. He gets up every morning feeling that he could do the staircase in one. He greets the day with a smile, and his friends with the hearty hand-clasp of real good-fellowship.

He is welcome wherever he goes—no one can resist his cheery way of always looking on the bright side of things. Do you feel like this? If not, there's something wrong. You think it's your nature. It isn't. It's your health.

Just consider: You are probably getting too little fresh air and exercise—perhaps you spend too much time sitting over your daily tasks, and, as a result, you get run down with worry, overwork or errors of diet. Consequently, you need a corrective. You need Kruschen Salts.

Kruschen Salts should be your safeguard, besides cleaning the body of impurities, gently, surely and painlessly, they possess a wonderful power of giving new life and vitality to the countless millions of cells of which every body is composed.

Good Health for Half a Cent a Day

The ingredients of Kruschen Salts are necessary for healthy life. Your body must, of necessity, obtain these ingredients from somewhere, or you would not live. Normally, your system should extract vital salts from your food—meat, bread, fruit, vegetables, milk, eggs, and so on, but when, owing to impaired digestion, errors of diet, overwork and worry, anxiety, nervous condition and other causes, your system does not extract from your food the correct proportions of these essential life-giving salts, then you suffer from depression, headaches, constipation or disordered liver.

Kruschen Salts should be your safeguard, besides cleaning the body of impurities, gently, surely and painlessly, they possess a wonderful power of giving new life and vitality to the countless millions of cells of which every body is composed.

BRITAIN FORGES AHEAD.

"The old British tortoise lays no claim to speed, but he has been laboriously inching his way along, and he has actually built up his exports to the rear level."

This is the estimate of an American scout who has been studying at close range the industrial progress of the American financial interests. He finds the English farmers still depressed and unhappy, but he does not notice many farms for sale and prices are high.

What struck the American scout hardest was a Board of Trade report showing the increase in exports for May—the best month since the beginning of the slump. The total value of exports was $360,000,000, an increase of $48,000,000 over April and an increase of $100,000,000 over May of 1922.

The noticeable increase in trade with the Dominion overseas appealed to the investigator as particularly significant, because gains in European trade are likely to be steady. Before the war the exports of the Old Country. Today they take forty. India, in spite of the unrest, is England's best customer.

The United States is buying more from England and selling less, says this scout. "The largest wool deal ever transacted has just been completed in London. The British Government has bought 1,156,616 bales of wool from Australia. The price is $880,000,000.

But in trade there has never really been any British tortoise. No nation has ever under modern conditions been so successful in the life war period and the term of reconstruction they showed fresh courage and adaptability.

THE FACE OF FIRPO.

It is quite all right, no doubt to photograph Luis Angel Firpo (pronounced "Fierpo") the Argentine fighter. Indeed it is hard to keep the modern man of the squared circle from being photographed. They just hate publicity, but the gate has strong claims, so they consent to pose and even to talk.

What the standards of manly beauty are in Buenos Ayres we do not know, but no doubt Luis Angel looks good to the populace there because the Argentine people are keen on sport and they can forgive a winner much. But let one defeat or even a draw creep into Luis' record and then, if the photograph does not do it, he will be manfully treated even in the "Paris of America."

any with a broad-axe. In Firpo's case that would be flattery if we accept the photograph; for it pictures eyes, and ears, and hair, and a nose and a mouth which might have belonged to one of the lower classes in the cave-man period—and very early in the period. But the picture will be good for the box office. Very likely Luis Angel's manager instructed him to put on his "fighting face" before the camera.

Today, less than five years after the close of the great war, the standing armies of Europe number in round figures 4,235,000 men. That is an increase of more than 600,000 men over the number in 1913, when the figures stood at 3,747,000 men. No wonder statesmen like Lloyd George and Sir Robert Cecil view the situation with much apprehension and plead for ever increasing support of the League of Nations!

The photograph reproduces the arms and shoulders of Hercules, but with more, luxuriantly more hair. The face is too awful to believe. Luis should keep out of the hands of the police. No matter what he might be charged with, a jury would just look at him once and yell "Guilty" without waiting for the ghostly particulars.

Something like the old sea serpent has turned up, this time in a lake in Nebraska. Four men saw it two weeks ago, and lived to tell the tale. It is "between seventy-five and a hundred feet long," "with a head as tall as a giraffe," and it "hisses like a steam engine." It is now to be pursued by a party of desperate men belonging to an angling club, and they "have sent a Boston fish harpoon and a whale-bone line to the Nebraska coast."

Chief Justice Lemieux, who presided at the Delorme trial, is past eighty. He did what he could to get a verdict out of the jury. The Toronto Globe says he upheld the finest legal traditions in his whole conduct of the case. As to how long a jury may be locked up, the Criminal Code is quoted by the Montreal Gazette:

As a result of the conference held in Winnipeg on the seventeenth inst., by representatives of the Government and the railways in the matter of farm help to take care of the harvesting of the forthcoming crop, Western crop, it has already been announced in the press that the opinion of the conference regarding requirements was set at 41,000 men. When it is remembered that the railroads had only the year in securing even the 33,000 men they transported, it will be appreciated that to secure the number required this year calls for unusual efforts.

To this end the Canadian Pacific Railway, who this spring originated the Farm Help Bureau under the jurisdiction of its Department of Colonization and Development, to bring necessary and competent farm helpers from European countries to fill applications received from Western farmers, and which plan was later taken up by the Canadian National, has brought forward a plan which has received the endorsement of the White Star and Cunard lines, whereby as many farm helpers as possible are now being secured by Great Britain and will be transported to Canada at rates, approximately 50 per cent. reduction over the ordinary third class fare. As a matter of fact, the rate will be £12 from British ports to Winnipeg to point West in the Prairie Provinces will apply. The plan is effective only for sailings from British ports to Quebec and between the dates August 1st and 15th.

Although the scheme will not bring out all the men who are needed, any means, however, from the company's headquarters in London indicate large numbers may be secured.

CRIMINAL CURE BY THE "CAT"

Spain first adopted the "garrote" for the execution of criminals. This was a collar compressed by a screw, which caused death by piercing the spinal marrow. In London some years ago footpads pursued a somewhat similar method, one nearly reaching the victim while the other ransacked his pockets. The popularity of this form of criminality was obliterated by the invention of the "cat" upon all rogues proved to become garrotes.

Recently at the Old Bailey, which has been greatly reduced during the past year by the infliction of the "cat" in proper cases. Certain rogues, with no respect for age or sex, who committed these crimes, could be fittingly punished in this way. He had no doubt if the "cat" upon all rogues proved to become garrotes.

When the strike in Cape Breton commenced, the strikers or their sympathizers attacked persons and property. As the local authorities were unable to preserve peace with the means at their disposal, the police being helpless against the mob, it was necessary to call on the military, and it was right that troops should be sent in response to the call, and should be sent sufficient numbers to preserve order. Any decent Canadian who respects his country and its institutions should take this view. It would be refreshing if the responsible leaders of organized labor in this country regarding this view as patriotic Canadians; and still more refreshing if some of our political leaders, instead of trying to obstruct the real issue, would have the courage and public spirit to state plainly that where law and order are to be enforced, they are ready to take the consequences of enforcing it.

Sparta Excavations Alter Accepted Ideas

Military Period Began in Sixth Century B. C. Instead of Earlier Time.

New York, July 25.—The British School at Athens, which was obliged to suspend excavations in Sparta during the World War, is preparing to resume them under the direction of Professor R. C. Bosanquet and Professor H. M. Dawkins. The most important discoveries so far have been the temples of Artemis and Orthia and the Athenaeion, together with pieces of sculpture—marble, terracotta, ivory—and inscriptions, which have served to fix disputed dates and confirm various events in Spartan history.

Thus the earliest settlement, called Menelaion, because Menelaus was venerated there, was fixed on the left bank of the Eurotas. The date of the arrival of the Dorians at the beginning of the age of iron also was approximately determined. The Dorians founded the two temples mentioned, and the earliest Dorian stratum yielded a wealth of amber ornaments similar to that found at Hallstadt, proving that the Spartans came from the north. In the next stratum were unmistakable signs of foreign influence, such as the shell-fish used by the Phoenicians in their dyes and brought by Ionian sailors to Sparta. To a stratum nearer the surface belong the relics of distinctive Spartan art. An ivory relief representing a galley setting out to sea was uncovered, supposed to portray the abduction of Helen by Paris.

IDENTIFY DEAD PEDESTRIAN.

F. H. Rogers, 82, Walking Continent, Collapsed in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., July 25.—Identification of an aged pedestrian found dead near Fairbury, Neb., last week was F. H. Rogers, 82 years old, who is believed to have been trying to win $3,000 by lowering the walking record from New York to San Francisco for men more than 70 years old, is thought to have been established, according to a dispatch received here from Fairbury. Newspaper clippings in the dead man's clothes told of a news syndicate offering $3,000 to any man more than 70 who could lower a 100-day transcontinental walking record established by a man named Patrick Welch.

While at Fairbury the aged man claimed to have worked as a printer in the office of Warren G. Harding.

ACCUSED OF INFANTICIDE.

Woman Is Held, Following Discovery of Baby Buried in Yard.

Hackensack, N. J., July 25.—Following a conference of Assistant Prosecutor C. J. McCarthy, County Detective Charles Seibel, Chief of Police Coombs and Recorder Paul Towney of Bergenfield, a charge of infanticide has been made against Mrs. Essie Bauer, and she is held in the Hackensack Jail without bail, to await the action of the Grand Jury.

On Friday a baby was found buried in the back yard of the woman's home. An autopsy by County Physician Ogden is said to have shown that the child had been strangled.

Mrs. Bauer denies the charge. Mrs. Martha Gerschell Dumont, a close friend of Mrs. Bauer, is held without bail as a material witness.

A JANITOR BY DAY, BURGLAR BY NIGHT

Apartment House Superintendent Shot After Attempted Theft.

New York, July 25.—A burglar shot by a pursuing policeman in Third Avenue early recently after an attempt to rob the cash register of a store was identified several hours later as William Erickson, superintendent of an apartment house at 2411 University Avenue. Erickson admitted to the police that he had pled his respectable trade by day, but tempted by "easy money" and mindful of the needs of five children he had become a burglar by night.

The quick wit of Miss Sarah Fulton, manager of the store, was demonstrated by Samuel Sachs, proved Erickson's undoing. Miss Fulton occupies a small room in the back of the store and heard the burglar's attempts to enter. A moment later a masked man stood beside her bed and commanded her to show him where Sachs kept the store's funds. Miss Fulton pointed to the cash register. While the burglar was at the cash register Miss Fulton wrapped a blanket about her night clothing, took a bag containing the store's money from under her pillow, and fled to the street by a rear entrance.

There she found Policemen Vespoli and Walsh. They ran toward the store as the burglar ran out into Third Avenue. The policeman ordered the man to stop, but the latter paid no heed. He returned the fire of the policemen, but at Sixtieth Street and Lexington Avenue he ran into a hallway. He offered no resistance. It was found that he had been seriously though not fatally wounded. He was taken to Presbyterian Hospital under arrest, charged with attempting burglary and violation of the University Avenue apartment house expressed surprise when they learned of Erickson's arrest. It is said that he had borne an excellent reputation.

DEPOSED LEADERS ADMITTED TO BAIL

(Canadian Press)
 HAITAX, July 24.—In the Supreme Court on buncy this morning Dan Livingston and J. B. McLachlan, president and secretary of the deposed executive of District No. 28, U.M.W. of America, were released in bail of $3,000 each. On the bench were Justices Russell, Taschereau, and Macdonald, and the announcement was made that the decision was unanimous. Attorney-General O'Hearn and Crown Prosecutor A. J. Clancy appeared for the Crown and Gordon S. Harrington and J. A. Walker, for the defence.

The hearing was to decide whether the accused labor leaders would be admitted to bail, which was refused them in the Strydomagistrate's court. They are awaiting trial on charges of publishing false tales.

WHAT'S DOING IN THE MONEY AND STOCK MARKETS TODAY

CANADIAN WHEAT MAY BREAK RECORD

Bumper Crop in Prospect in the Dominion—Some Rust Reported.

Chicago, Ill., July 25.—Harvesting on winter wheat is about completed and a promising return is expected. In some of the best parts of Kansas yields are disappointing, running ten to fifteen bushels. In Oklahoma harvesting is nearly completed with fair yields. In the Middle West yields are irregular. Spring wheat conditions are spotted. Harvesting has commenced in parts of South Dakota and Southern Minnesota. Black rust is found in many places, but injury has not been extensive so far, the crop being well advanced to maturity. Weather conditions have been favorable for hastening the crop along. Black rust is also found in parts of the Saskatchewan, but no extensive injury so far has resulted. Canadian crop prospects are the best in years, with indications of the record of 800,000,000 bushels of last year being exceeded. Should there be a yield of twenty bushels per acre on the average, Canada would have 40,000,000 bushels this year. In 1915 the average was twenty-six bushels per acre. Harvesting of small grains is on under favorable conditions. Corn has made wonderful strides in growth within the last few weeks and is generally laid by, although being cultivated only two to three times, owing to rapid growth. It is tasseling and silking in many of the leading States with a more regular stand of good color. Owing to the extremely unusual situation prevailing at the present time prices are expected to fluctuate rapidly. There seems to be an overproduction of wheat and unless the unexpected happens the ultimate trend should be lower despite all the efforts being made to sustain values. As compared with the previous week, wheat gained 1-8 and 1-2 cents, corn 1-8 and 2-8 cents, oats 1-8 and 1-8 cents, and rye 1-8 and 1-8 cents. Grain traffic on western railroads is picking up, as is usual at this season, but is the lightest at this time in years. Cars are plentiful and will be for some time. As farmers are dissatisfied with wheat and small grain generally, while corn is bringing the best prices of the year. Primary arrivals of grain last week were the best since a month ago, aggregating 4,921,000 bushels, an increase of 23 per cent over the previous week, but mark the poorest showing in more than five years, being almost 30 per cent under last year's and 31 per cent under the five-year average. Corn receipts were 3,221,000 bushels under last year, but a fair average for the season.

UNABLE TO ISSUE BONDS FOR LINES

(Canadian Press Despatch). Winnipeg, July 25.—After a very searching conference with the vice-presidents of the Canadian National Railways, I have reluctantly come to the conclusion that the company cannot effectively issue bonds in respect of the branch line programme which has been rejected by the Senate. This statement was issued tonight by Sir Henry Thornton, president and chairman of the Board of Directors of the Canadian National Railways, in the conclusion of a series of conferences which were held here today to consider the suggestion of the company to issue bonds for branch line construction. The statement proceeds: "The difficulty is not so much with the power to issue bonds, as with respect to the power to expend the proceeds. I wish to make it clear to the public that bonds can only be issued for the construction of such railway facilities as are authorized by Parliament and the parliamentary authority which may be given to the company is clearly restricted under section 23 of the Canadian National Railway Company Act."

COLOR "ADS" FOR DAILIES

Will Appear in Newspapers in Year or Two, Says Engraver.

Chicago, July 25.—Color display advertising in daily papers will be in vogue in a year or two, according to forecasts made at the twenty-seventh annual convention of the American Photo Engravers' Association here today. W. Clayburn of Milwaukee said that the method of coloring now generally used in illustrated newspaper supplements would be in daily operation within a short time and would afford the most feasible plan to merchants for illustrating their wares. San Francisco was chosen as the next convention city.

Coal Mine As Health Resort.

Seventy-five years a coal miner is the record of Peter Stark of Thankerton Colliery, Holytown, near Glasgow, Scotland. He is now 84 years old, and has spent three-quarters of a century in working for the Holytown coal field. He entered the pits when a boy of 10, he went with bare feet to lend his father aid in the mine.

Memorials on the Stock Market

(McDougall & Cowan's Private Wire). New York, July 25.—Barde & Co.'s aggressive buying of Can. Stu. A. and Baldwin appears to confirm belief that even professional interests heretofore operating for the decline are trying for higher prices during the next four to six weeks. No change in line of least resistance. It is still up. Clark Childs—"While the market is dull and promises to continue so for some time, its undertone is very good. Josephthal—"The market has acted in a manner that certainly justifies buying with confidence on any natural reactions."

The Common Council yesterday afternoon fixed Thursday, August 23, as the date on which the discount period of 1923 would end, and to allow a discount of five per cent on all taxes paid on or before that date. Also to charge one-half of one per cent interest a month on all due after that date.

Twenty Trillions in German Paper

(Bradstreet). Historians of the future will note as among the most remarkable phenomena of the present time the continued production of paper money by Germany. Every weekly statement of the Bank of Germany tells of a vast increase in the volume of notes in circulation. For the week ending July 7 the increase amounted to 2,880,721,616,000 marks, which brought the total paper circulation up to 20,244,522,866,000 marks—over twenty trillions of paper money. People who are capable of adequately appreciating such enormous figures as those of Germany's paper circulation will naturally be interested in having the process of producing it disclosed.

Legend of Beatrice Cenci Disproved By New Facts

Old Documents Said to Show Woman Who Inspired Poets Was Not a Heroine—Conspired With Lover to End Father's Life and Lost Her Own.

New York, July 25.—Corrado Ricci, who, from 1896 to 1919, was Director General of the Fine Arts of Italy and is now President of the National Institute of Archaeology and Fine Arts, has dispelled the legend of Beatrice Cenci, which already had been punctured by the Jesuit Fathers Paria and Riniari and Bertolotti in his "Francesca Cenci e la sua famiglia."

BALL PLAYER FALLS DEAD TRYING TO BEAT OUT A BUNT
New York, July 25.—Edward Lindgren, 25 years old, of 18 Barnes avenue, Port Richmond, Staten Island, dropped dead during a baseball game between the Mugs and the Cardinals, two local teams, while attempting to beat out an infield hit. He fell dead just back of first base.
The game was played in a vacant lot and had aroused much interest among local fans, as the Mugs, headed by Alderman Edward M. Atwood, were outplayed by business men, who had challenged the younger men on the Cardinals. The game was called off after Dr. Callaghan of St. Vincent's Hospital said Lindgren had died from a heart attack.

A GREAT SCARCITY OF GAME BIRDS
Curator of New York Zoo Tells of Effect of War on Pheasants.
New York, July 25.—Lee S. Cranford, Curator of Birds, New York Zoological Park, in a recent bulletin of the American Game Protective Association, says that the World War may seem to many of us a thing of the dim past, but we are nevertheless still feeling its effects. No industry has been slower to recover than that of collecting and distributing wild birds and animals. Organizations which had taken many years to reach perfection were disrupted. Connections with the actual trappers and handlers are so difficult to establish and maintain that they are yet in a demoralized condition. This affects so adversely the importation of species usually brought direct from their wild homes that in many cases they practically have disappeared from the market. Continuing, Mr. Cranford says:
Perhaps even more important to the game breeder is the fact that the seed stock of many kinds of game birds and water fowl has become dangerously reduced, and it is my belief that we are in great danger of losing some of them. For years, a few kinds of pheasants have been bred in this country, but with a few exceptions, the numbers are small and the breeding is not really adequate. We have depended upon European breeders to furnish new stock but this Europe is no longer able to do it. I have no firsthand information regarding ring-necked pheasants for stocking purposes, but I am told that there is a great demand and no means of satisfying it. Our few commercial breeders are unable to furnish more than a small part of the birds required. We must, however, still have many thousands of breeding birds, and there seems to be no likelihood that they will be dangerously reduced.
"Sus" species of pheasants as the silver, the golden, and, to a lesser extent, the Lady Amber, are bred abundantly in considerable numbers and seem abundant enough, though high in price. Most other species have practically disappeared from the market. The rare kalles, such as the white-breasted and black-breasted, are not obtainable. There are a few insular hybrids about, usually sold as "melanotos," but showing the characters of several species. Real melanotos are scarce, as they always have been. Reeves seem to be on the ragged edge, though there are still a few to be had, some of very good quality.
"Swinhos" are very scarce, and the few that change hands do so at very high prices. A few 1922 birds were offered at $75 a pair, a previously unheard-of price. Ellibots are a thing of the past. If there are any breeding pairs in this country, I do not know of them. We have an odd cock at the Zoological Park that came to us by way of Australia. The Mikados, a pleasant only recently established in captivity, seems to have been lost again. There are none of the forms of the Summering make to be had. Many kinds of the ring-neck group, such as the Prince of Wales and the Formosan, have disappeared from the market. The Japanese or versicolor, once plentiful, has been reduced to a very few birds, though these, fortunately, are of very good quality.
The plain fact is that unless American breeders make a really serious effort to build up the remnant of our stocks of aviary pheasants, we shall lose them entirely. Importations from Europe have been practically negligible for some years, and I am told on good authority, and am aware from my own observations, that we can no longer depend on that source of supply. The scarcity of many species of pheasants and the difficulties that stand in the way of capturing and transporting them are great; we may therefore expect few birds from this source. Moreover, newly-imported, wild-caught pheasants are so difficult to rear and years must pass before a prolific breeding strain can be developed from them. A large number of wild, pure golden pheasants, mostly bucks, were imported during the year. These birds should prove a great boon to breeders."

VETS SLAM THE BALL; TIPPETS FANS DEFEAT
The G. W. V. A. nine by defeating Moncton in the Two I League fixture on St. Peter's Park last evening finished in second position in the first series. The score was 7 to 2, but the result was never in doubt as Tippetts finished in second position in the first series. The Vets clustered ten hits off Greene, one a home run by Kirkpatrick, and three were two base drives by Eddie Ramsay. They also played well with an exception of the ninth game when they were outplayed by the Customs House. A large number of wild, pure golden pheasants, mostly bucks, were imported during the year. These birds should prove a great boon to breeders."
