

PASSENGERS AND CREW RESCUED FROM COBEQUID, SAFE IN YARMOUTH AFTER TERRIBLE ORREAL

STEAMER WESTPORT FIRST TO REACH THE SCENE OF WRECK; TOOK OFF THE FIRST CROWD; TUG JOHN L. CANN LENDS AID

Sighted Disabled Ship About Half Past Four Yesterday Afternoon

RESCUED TELL STORIES OF TERRIBLE SUFFERING FOR FORTY-EIGHT HOURS

First Rescue Boat Takes Off Seventy, and Second Saves Twenty-four—Bravery of Captains of Westport and John L. Cann a Big Factor in Successful Rescue—The Cobequid a Total Wreck—Twelve on Board Still, Expected to Be Taken Off by Other Boats During Night.

Special to The Standard. Yarmouth, N. S., Jan. 14.—The 106 persons on board the steamer Cobequid are safe and 94 of them are now in Yarmouth. The two rescue ships, the steamers Westport and John L. Cann, commanded respectively by two brothers, Captain J. Edgar McKinnon and Adelbert McKinnon, arrived here tonight shortly after eight o'clock, the former with 72 and the latter with 22.

There are twelve men including the captain and the wireless operator still on board. The navigating officers of the ship refuse to talk and the company officials of whom there were three on board, Captain G. M. Hicks, the marine superintendent, and Messrs. J. Allsop and W. Charles Kenny, two of the directors, were too exhausted to give any statement tonight, but will talk tomorrow.

From the junior officers and the members of the crew it is learned that the ship struck during a dense storm at 8:15 yesterday morning and filled in a very few minutes.

The wireless operator was able to get but one call for help before his aerials iced up after which he was helpless. Her furnace fires were put out in a few minutes and the passengers and crew were forced by the rapidly rising waters to the boat deck where they took refuge in the captain's quarters.

For 24 hours in the midst of one of the worst storms we have ever had on this coast with the thermometer hovering around zero and with winter seas sweeping their vessel and breaking it up beneath them, these people had to huddle together. This morning one of the men succeeded in getting a metal bucket in which some holes were punched to make a draft and in which a small fire was started where some warm drinks were prepared for the women and children.

The party arrived here with nothing but what they stood in and ten of them, all men, had to be sent to the hospital with frost bites and minor injuries. Two of the worst were S. Hawkins, a seaman, who was below when the ship struck, and rushed on deck with practically no clothing. Another man, named Daniel Hurley, an oiler, had his right arm broken and his right leg cut badly by being jammed in a door.

The chief engineer, D. H. Douglas, in an interview said that the ship had encountered a series of heavy gales and snow squalls, and they were particularly bad on Monday night. The second engineer was on duty when the ship struck at 4:15 a. m., and a quarter of an hour after she struck, the engine room was flooded, and in less than an hour, the fires were out. After that there was no other fire or light on the ship except that provided by a few candles. In his opinion the ship's bottom is gone, but above water she is still intact, except that her hatches were washed off. The wreckage coming ashore, he says, must be the stuff floating out of the hold through the open hatches. Among the passengers were Sisters Baptista and Emanuela, who were bound from Bermuda for Halifax, neither one cared about giving a story of their experiences, but confined themselves to expressing their gratitude at their delivery. The sisters left the stranded ship in the first boat, and to Sister Baptista we are indebted for the list of passengers, which is as follows:

J. Allsop, W. Bain, Sisters Baptista and Emanuela, W. Gallant, Miss G. Herbert (of Nova), Captain G. M. Hicks, Miss M. James, Miss D. James, W. Charles Menney, Mrs. H. Lucas, Master C. Lucas and Miss M. Lucas.

Story of the Rescue. Capt. J. Edgar McKinnon of the steamer Westport, says he came out of Weymouth on his regular trip on Tuesday morning and reached Westport about 5:30 in the afternoon. It was blowing the worst gale of the winter in St. Mary's Bay. At Tiverton she heard of the steamer being ashore, but the message was so indefinite that they did not know where to look for the vessel. She left Westport this afternoon on her regular Wednesday trip to Yarmouth and with the intention of looking out for the wreck. She first ran to the southwest ledges, but seeing no signs of a wreck there made for Trinity Ledges where they saw the vessel. They arrived there at 4:15 and blew their whistle as a signal to draw the attention of those on the ship. In a few minutes those on the ship were getting ready to launch their first life boat in which 24, including the passengers, left the wreck. In the heavy sea it was a difficult task to transfer them, but it was done safely. The second boatload was then ready, followed by the third. It took about two hours to transfer these ash, and the steamer left the wreck for Yarmouth at 6:15, making a good run. When he left the wreck the steamers John L. Cann and Lansdowne were standing by.

Captain Adelbert McKinnon, of the John L. Cann gave an interesting story. Both the men are very modest, and did not want to talk, but were willing to answer questions. They think their noble acts as part of a day's work and do not look on it as anything extraordinary.

Did Not Know Where to Search. The captain of the Cann says he was bound to St. John and was lying in Westport on account of the storm, which he decided to be the worst of the season. He got wind of the disaster about ten o'clock. He did not know where to go, the message was so indefinite. He left Westport at three o'clock yesterday afternoon and searched the southwest shore of Brier Island but could see nothing.

The vapor was so thick they could not see a boat's length ahead. Arrived back at Westport about 5 o'clock. At 3:30 p. m. today got word that the steamer was on Trinity Ledges and left at 4 o'clock for the scene, arriving at 5:30. Found the vessel lying with her head to the westward, her bow down and her stern up. Her main deck is awash at high tide, and from what he had been told the steamer filled three minutes after she struck. When the Cann arrived the Westport had taken two boatloads on board, and that the third was on the way to her.

He took the Cann to windward to make a lee for the boat so that she could have smoother water. Then she went nearer the wreck and picked up the last boat which left the ship.

When this boat was transferring her passengers the fourth engineer was washed overboard but was rescued. All the lifeboats were more or less smashed in transferring and were allowed to go. He went as near the ship as possible, but nothing more could be done as those on board had no other

CREW OF THE SOUTH AFRICA TRADE UNION LEADERS DEFEY THE POLICE

With Band of Comrades Have Barricaded Themselves in Hall—Police Obligated to Charge Crowd With Bayonets—Bomb Explosion Injures Couple.

Johannesburg, South Africa, Jan. 14.—Secretary Bain, of the Federation of Trades and a band of irascible comrades, have entrenched themselves in the Trades Hall here, where they defy the police to arrest them. Barricades of furniture, boxes, and liquor cases block all the approaches and battle all the attempts of the police to reach the inmates without resorting to warlike measures which the authorities are anxious to avert.

A detachment of thirty policemen and detectives who tried to raid the hall this morning, in order to arrest the Secretary Bain, were driven back by a hail of missiles from behind the barricades.

The entire area surrounding the hall has been cleared with the view of preventing supplies from reaching the garrison. Tension is increasing here and an early collision between the strikers and the police appears to be inevitable.

The siege of Trades Hall, where Secretary Bain, of the Federation of Trades, and a band of his supporters are defying the police from behind barricades, constituted the main feature of the strike drama today. After the hall had been raided by police and detectives this morning without avail, great crowds gathered, and the police were compelled to make several bayonet charges owing to the aggressive attitude of the people, many of whom were slightly injured.

With the final bayonet charge, the police cleared the entire neighborhood and a cordon of police with fixed bayonets was thrown around the hall. The position of the besieged Bain and his friends is serious, as they are cut off from water supply.

Bain came out of the hall this evening and strolled nonchalantly about the cleared space in full view of the police and re-entered the hall without any attempt being made to arrest him. The police commander explained he had no intention of again attempting an assault on the hall, for he considered that the three hundred men in the hall were as good as in jail. The besieged have been able to get food supplies from nearby restaurants.

A bomb explosion occurred today at Beaufort, slightly injuring three mounted troopers, and several strikers arrested by the police near the same place were rescued by their comrades, but were subsequently re-arrested by the troops.

Halifax, N. S., Jan. 14.—Few of the great shipping disasters of Nova Scotia will remain as memorable as that which had its origin at eight o'clock tonight when the little steamer Westport, under command of Captain McKinnon entered Yarmouth Harbor with the first of the rescued passengers and crew, numbering 72, from the stranded Royal Mail Steam Packet liner Cobequid bound from Demerara via Bermuda to St. John and Halifax.

MacAdam Junction, Jan. 14.—Premier Flemming and George J. Clarke of St. Stephens, were here today, and in conference for some time. It is known that the premier offered Mr. Clarke the position of Attorney-General and that Mr. Clarke decided to accept the appointment.

Ithaca, N. Y., Jan. 14.—In a lecture on "The Citizen and the Press," at Cornell University today, Franklin Matthews, of the teaching staff of the Columbia University School of Journalism, characterized Captain Robert F. Scott, who lost his life in his Arctic polar expedition, as the "foremost reporter of modern times."

Scott, said the speaker, was born and lived and died a reporter, although Scott and the world never realized it. Scott's memory deserved from England as high a monument as Nelson's, he declared. Mr. Matthews quoted Scott's dying words: "Those rough notes and our dead bodies must tell the tale, as a true epitome of the spirit of modern journalism."

Seldom has the Marine Department of Canada been called upon to exert greater efforts for the saving of human life, and seldom have its agents been required to contend against greater odds. It almost seemed that the storm which swept the eastern coasts of Canada on Sunday night had concentrated its force along the southern coast, with one object that of destruction of a ship and its human company.

Two days and one night, the rescue worked in a blind search for the ship, for at the critical moment, the wireless failed, and the stranded ship from eight thirty on Monday morning until the storm abated enough to enable people upon the shore to see the ship impaled upon the rocks, gave no signal.

New York, Jan. 14.—Six p. m.—Dr. Pyne says there is little change in Sir James Whitney's condition, though if anything he is a little weaker. Later. The following bulletin was issued late this evening: 10 p. m.—Sir James Whitney has taken little food and grows slightly weaker, but has considerable reserve strength. (Signed) R. A. PYNE, M. D.

Houghton, Mich., Jan. 14.—Mass meetings of miners addressed by William Davidson, the British Columbia member of the executive board of the Western Federation of Miners, formed the only outward and visible signs of strike activity in the copper country today.

So far as could be ascertained there were only a few additional desertions from the union in the north end of the strike zone. REFUSES THRONE UNTIL FINANCIAL AFFAIRS ADJUSTED. Berlin, Jan. 14.—Prince William of Wied, who was chosen for the throne of Albania by the great powers, refuses to accept the offer until satisfactory financial arrangements have been made, according to an authoritative statement issued here today. He says he will receive a deputation of Albanians who have come to tender him the crown only after an international loan has been completed.

Paris, Jan. 14.—Several deaths have occurred in Paris, and there is much suffering among the poor owing to the bitter weather. The temperature dropped to twenty degrees Fahrenheit tonight—the lowest of the year. A piercing wind prevails, with occasional furies of snow.

The Prefect of Paris is arranging to place large coke fires in the streets for the homeless, and is distributing food supplies and fuel to the needy. In the south conditions are even more dire than in the north. Snow has fallen for thirty-six hours, and is still falling at Marseilles, causing the suspension of all traffic, with the exception of a few street cars. Work along the waterfront is almost at a standstill. Many towns and villages in the country are cut off.

Berne, Switzerland, Jan. 14.—The assistance of the great powers in the prevention of another war between Greece and Turkey is being sought by Premier Venizelos, of Greece, who, with his government considers such a calamity most probable since the advent to power as Turkish minister of war of Enver Bey.

It was learned here today in authoritative circles that this was the chief object of the visit of the Greek statesman to the various European capitals. It was said that Greek fears the result of such a conflict as Turkey is indisputably stronger on the sea since her purchase of the Brazilian Dreadnought Rio de Janeiro. In the course of his conferences with European statesmen Premier Venizelos is also endeavoring to secure a postponement of the evacuation by the Greek troops of that portion of Epirus awarded to Albania, a rectification of the Albanian frontier and the permanent acquisition by Greece of most of the Aegean Islands.

In connection with the slight restriction of business accompanying the world-wide financial stringency, it is expressed that allusion will be made to the boundless resources of the Dominion and to their world-wide recognition. (Continued on page 2)

Naval Bill Not Likely At Present Session

MINISTER OF MILITIA BETS A SILK HAT

Makes Bet With Military Secretary to Gov. General on Relative Efficiency of Service and Bull's Eye Targets.

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—The attempt being made to revolutionize the conditions governing the king's prize and other leading competitions at Bliley has excited much discussion in official military circles here and today a bet was entered into between Col. the Honorable Sam Hughes and Lieut. Col. F. D. Farquhar, military secretary to H. R. H. the Governor General. To test the efficacy of the so-called active service targets and the bull's-eye target, three matches will be arranged early next season between thirty men picked from the Ottawa garrison and thirty men chosen from the first and second battalions of the Coldstream Guards. The Ottawa soldiers will shoot off their match at the Dominion Rifle Association range while the Coldstream will shoot off at Petribright. The first match will be at ordinary bull's-eye targets at 200, 500 and 600 yards, the second match will be at the same range as field service target, and third match will be shot off at a disappearing target. The winner in each case, either Col. Hughes or Col. Farquhar will receive a silk hat.

Ottawa, Jan. 14.—The speech from the throne at the opening of parliament will finally remove all doubts as to the government's decision not to introduce the naval aid bill this session. As already intimated the government does not propose to place it within the power of the opposition to re-enact the shameful performance of last session.

The defeat of the bill last year through the action of the Senate was undoubtedly most harmful and prejudicial to the interests of the Dominion and of the Empire. A second rejection of the bill in the Senate upon partisan considerations would, it is felt, strengthen and deepen the profoundly unfortunate impression created by their action last year.

Under the circumstances it is not considered desirable either in the interests of the Empire or of Canada that the bill should be sent to the Senate for a second rejection. Therefore it will not be introduced until in the course of events the majority in the Senate is in accord with the popular vote. The responsibility for this result rests upon those who brought about the defeat of the bill. The government, nevertheless, is firm in its resolve that these ships shall be provided, when in the course of events the Senate majority in considering this question will have regard to considerations other than those influenced it last year. Thus the intention and determination of the government that that effect is expressed in the words of the Prime Minister on the day of the past session still holds good.

The situation with regard to the Highway Bill is on all fours with that of the Naval Aid Bill. The government have made two unsuccessful attempts to enact a measure providing for assistance to the provinces in the construction and maintenance of highways. That bill absolutely safeguarded the autonomy of the provinces in every respect, yet a determined debate was made upon the measure and last session every member of the opposition, in consideration of the government's position against it on the third reading, and at their instigation it was defeated in the Senate by the incorporation of amendments which the government had rejected the year before and which the opposition knew the government could not accept. Under the circumstances the government will not re-introduce the bill until the Senate majority in the course of events is in accord with the popular will which was plainly expressed on this question.

The speech from the throne will, it is anticipated, contain an expression of gratitude from the government for the sympathy of the Canadian people during the illness of the Duchess of Connaught.

Congratulations upon the remarkable expansion in Canada's trade and reference to the bountiful crops of the past year and to the efficiency and expedition with which they were transported to the seaboard will be expressed.

In connection with the slight restriction of business accompanying the world-wide financial stringency, it is expressed that allusion will be made to the boundless resources of the Dominion and to their world-wide recognition. (Continued on page 2)

GREECE AND TURKEY TO WAR AGAIN?

Premier Venizelos Fears More Trouble With Enver Bey as War Minister—Help of the Powers Sought.

ST. JOHN CAPTAIN AND CREW OF SCHOONER GRETA ARE RESCUED

Taken Off Dismasted Vessel By Tug Nemasket and Landed at Vineyard Haven—Were on Their Way to This Port.

Vineyard Haven, Mass., Jan. 14.—Captain C. A. Berriman of St. John, N. B., and all the members of the crew of the British schooner Greta were brought to this port today on the tug Nemasket, which took them off their dismantled vessel. The Greta is supposed to have sunk.

Besides the captain, the rescued are Fred Churgood, of Cape Breton, and Seaman John Olson, Albert Johansen, Frank Soderstrom, and Charles Hensen. The Greta, bound from Perth Amboy for St. John, N. B., left this port Monday morning. When east of Cross Rips her fore-rigging was blown away in a heavy squall, the foremast breaking off twenty feet from the deck. About four p. m., that day, the tug Nemasket, towing two barges, came up and in response to the schooner's distress signals, took off the captain and crew. The Greta was unmanageable as her main rigging was heavily lashed and her steering gear out of commission. She was owned by Charles Powell of Dalhousie, N. B.

PASSENGERS AND CREW RESCUED FROM COBEQUID

sign of life. It was when rescuers and watchers had practically given up the last slender hope, that the good news flashed from Yarmouth of the rescue of the entire ship's company.

Sighted as Vapors Rise.
Despite the great odds against them, the boats sent to the aid of the stranded ship passed on in their search. Just before noon today the storm abated, the squalls ceased and through the vapor off the Yarmouth coast could be seen the hull of a ship, piled up on Trinity Ledges, about six miles off the shore in the vicinity of Fort McLeod. Word to this effect was immediately wired to the agent of the Marine and Fisheries at Halifax. At the same time, the ship was described as being in a very serious position with the waves breaking over her and that she was very much incased in ice. There was no sign of life on board of the liner, and the general belief was that the entire ship's company was lost, either having perished in lifeboats, been washed off the ship, or frozen to death.

From the marine and fisheries office at Halifax orders were sent for all the rescuing boats to proceed to the actual scene of the wreck. The boats, Lansdowne, then in Westport, Brier Island, left at four o'clock, and the tug John L. Cann had preceded her. From Yarmouth the steamer Westport sailed. At 4:20 p. m. Captain McKinnon, of the Westport, sighted the Cobequid. She was lying on the southwest part of Trinity Ledges. At that time there was a high wind and rough sea, but despite these conditions the plucky skipper determined that no efforts would be spared to make a rescue of at least some of the passengers and crew from their perilous position.

All Lifeboats Gone But Three
In three lifeboats, of which only four remained intact on the Cobequid, seventy-two of the ship's company put out toward the rescuing steamer. They were safely embarked on the Westport, which still remains by until the tug John L. Cann came up, and at 6:15 was taking off another load consisting of 24 men, at which time the former boat put under steam for Yarmouth, closely followed by the Cann.

Captain Remains at Post.
On board the Cobequid there still remained Captain Hawson and eleven men for whom there was no lifeboat, and as it was after dark when the John L. Cann reached the wreck, it was decided that the government ship Lansdowne should stand by until daylight. It was then expected that the Lady Laurier would reach the scene at that time, and either one of the two boats will take off the captain and his men.

Engineer's Story of Stranding.
Mr. Douglas, chief engineer, said that he had encountered heavy seas all Monday night, and it was at 6:15 on Tuesday morning that the Cobequid struck on the southwestern end of the Trinity Ledges, going on at about half tide. As she struck a sea must have carried her well up as she is lying well up out of the water at half low tide. Mr. Douglas said that an attempt was made this morning by kindling a fire in an iron bucket in which had been cut holes to give draft, to make heat for the crew. The ship's bottom gave in and she sat squarely on the rocks while the water surged out of the hatchways. It was a wreck with the aid of the accounts for the wreckage strewn along the western shore today.

Asked how the Cobequid came to be so far out of her course, he said he thought that as the ship was slowed down in making her way up the bay, and to make continual soundings, the strong current running against her out of her course, and in the dense vapor and snow prevailing, it was impossible to tell where they were.

The mate had just gone off to cast the lead when breakers were sighted ahead, and just as he threw the lead, she struck.

All that remains of the ship is but a broken bulk on one of the most dangerous ledges in the Bay of Fundy coast.

That her one hundred and six souls which she had aboard are safe tonight seems to one who hears the story, but a miracle, when some idea is gained of the terrific seas and winds that have been running off that coast during the past thirty-six hours.

"Women First." The Order
In a short time they had one boat in the water with twenty-four aboard. This boat being in charge of the second officer. The women were taken off in this boat in accordance with the traditions of the British steamship. These were all gotten aboard without an accident to any of them. The second boat came off with between twenty-two and twenty-five aboard, while the third boat to leave the ship brought the balance of the crew. This was all accomplished in a matter of two hours.

ST. JOHN INTERESTED IN THE WRECK

St. John evinced the keenest interest yesterday in the developments of the Cobequid story. The first reports to hand indicated that the steamer with probably all on board had been lost, as dire tales came filtering in from the effect that wreckage and articles of the steamer's equipment had been washed ashore near Yarmouth, and that search was being made for the bodies of the victims.

As fast as received these despatches were featured in The Standard's bulletin service and all afternoon knots of interested people grouped in front of the office telephones were kept busy by enquirers desiring to learn the latest details.

As is usual on such cases there were many alarmist rumors. One of the most persistent was to the effect that the Cobequid had been found in a bulk submerged and that there was no sign of life. From this the report grew that all had been lost. Fortunately later reports brought the word that all had been saved, although apparently there is still a question regarding 12 men believed to be on the steamer, though in a safe position.

One of the happiest men in the city last night was Percy W. Thomson, the local agent of the company. He had not for a moment lost hope that the people on the Cobequid would be rescued, and although disquieting reports to the effect that cargo, hatches, pieces of scuttling, bridge railing, life buoys and a sign stating "Keep Clear of Propellers" had washed ashore were received he still kept the anxious ones buoyed up with his belief that all those on board would be found all safe.

To substantiate his idea, Mr. Thomson said he believed that Mr. Thomson struck on Trinity Ledges when it was nearly low water, that her bows had run up on the rocks and that this left her stern low. There was not enough rise of tide to float the steamer off the rocks, and passengers and deck fittings ashore and the bridge railing found was from the after part of the ship. Mr. Thomson held out the strongest hope that if the ship was still on the rocks those on board were safe and his faith was justified when it was learned last night that the crew and passengers had been saved, although the ship would prove a total wreck.

No expense was spared by Mr. Thomson in sending steamships to the rescue and no less than eight steamers were sent out at his request to aid the doomed steamer.

It was only ten minutes after he had the word that the ship was on the rocks that he received a long cable from London giving him the same results.

Last night Mr. Thomson received a telegram from Mr. Allport, one of the managers of the line, who was on board the wrecked ship. The message stated that all on board were safe, but the ship would prove a total wreck.

GARVIN GETS LIE DIRECT IN RAILWAY CASE

Insinuations of Carleton County Blusterer Promptly Contradicted—Judge Did Not Hear Remark.

Special to The Standard.
Fredericton, Jan. 14.—The plaintiff's case in Stewart vs. Southamptown Railway Company was concluded during the afternoon with the completion of D. W. Brown's evidence. While Mr. Brown was on the stand Mr. Carvell succeeded in getting the engineer's estimate on the McDonald work in evidence. This document caused considerable storm a few days ago when Mr. Carvell had it admitted, its importance, however, is not great, as it only shows part of the cost of a portion of the road.

The cross-examination Mr. Brown placed the cost of the road at $22,000 per mile, a total of $286,000 for the thirteen miles of road. Under re-examination by Mr. Carvell, the witness showed that the cost of portions of the costs of the road. Mr. Carvell endeavored to get the witness to say that this partial statement, totaling only something like $8,000 per mile, was the full cost of the road. "Then where did the balance of the $286,000 go?" asked Mr. Carvell.

The witness was not one for the witness to answer but to give Mr. Carvell a chance to play politics. "It went into Mr. Pinder's pocket, declared the witness, yesterday afternoon, that he received a long cable from London giving him the same results.

MME. NORDICA IS CRITICALLY ILL

RECENT PHOTOGRAPH TAKEN IN HAWAII OF MME. LILLIAN NORDICA AND HER COUSIN, MISS ADA BALDWIN WHO IS TRAVELLING WITH HER.

That Mme. Lillian Nordica, American prima donna, is probably at the point of death in far away Thursday Island, off the northeastern coast of Australia, was news received in New York with alarm by her husband, George W. Young, banker, and her thousands of friends and admirers. There is a note of true pathos in the fact that the famous singer is so far away from the country that she, unique among great opera artists of the world, was able and proud to call her own. She was rounding out a long and brilliant career as a singer with a tour around the world when accident interrupted her arrangements and the Tasman struck a reef in Torres Strait, near the entrance to the Gulf of Papua.

That Mme. Lillian Nordica, American prima donna, is probably at the point of death in far away Thursday Island, off the northeastern coast of Australia, was news received in New York with alarm by her husband, George W. Young, banker, and her thousands of friends and admirers. There is a note of true pathos in the fact that the famous singer is so far away from the country that she, unique among great opera artists of the world, was able and proud to call her own.

PUBLIC PROSECUTOR IN RUSSIA KNIGHTED

Made Knight of Order of St. Stanislaus for Work in Connection with Kiev Case.

St. Petersburg, Jan. 14.—A great distinction was conferred today on M. Chaplinski, the public prosecutor of Kiev, who was so prominently associated with the prosecution in the sensational trial of the Hebrew Mendel Bellis on the charge of "ritual murder," for which he was acquitted on November 10, 1913. In the list of honors issued on the occasion of the Russian New Year M. Chaplinski was created a Knight of the Order of St. Stanislaus of the first class, and appointed a senator and privy councillor.

Mr. Pinder and Mr. Stewart met in Fredericton and they had some conversation on the matter, Stewart asserting that he would keep the contract anyway. This was the latter part of October or early in November and on November 28th the company held their meeting at which it was decided to take the contract away from Stewart. Evidence would be submitted to show that Stewart attended the meeting, that he was told by Dr. McNally, one of the directors, the object of the meeting before it opened, that Stewart was told the reason the contract was being revoked was because he had not put up his promised securities and he had been told by Mr. Pinder that she who told this was a fake.

Suffered Intense Agony With His Back. Kidneys Were The Cause.

Weak back is caused by weak kidneys, and on the first approach or evidence of kidney trouble Doan's Kidney Pills should be used, and serious trouble avoided.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right to the seat of the trouble, cure the weak aching back, and prevent any further complications arising.

Mr. John Briggs, Whitewood, Sask., writes: "I am sending you this testimonial out of pure gratitude, as I am not a believer in patent medicines, but I got so run down, that I became quite willing to give anything a trial. I paid a visit to our local druggist, and told him I was suffering intense agony with my back. He told me I had kidney trouble, and handed me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, saying it was the best thing he could possibly give me, tried them, and the effect was certain, marvelous. They are worth $10.00 a box of anybody's money, and I would not be without a box by me. I certainly owe my present condition to Doan's Kidney Pills."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents per box, or 3 boxes for $1.25, at all dealers; or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

The speech will contain a reference to immigration of the present fiscal year, describing its volume as greater than in any previous year.

Allusion will also naturally be made to the satisfactory character of arrangements with the province under the agricultural instruction act and to the good results expected therefrom.

Reference will be made in the speech to the progress of the work of the National Transcontinental Railway and the Hudson Bay Railway and to the arrangements made to provide terminal facilities at Canada's national ports; the system of government terminal elevators in the west being mentioned in this connection.

As already stated the introduction of a redistribution bill and bills relating to the civil service act and to increased representation of the western provinces in the senate will find due mention in the speech.

It is understood the opposition will move amendments to the speech, though it is not yet known which of their various policies will be advocated.

Fire Aboard Steamer.

Yesterday afternoon about 1:30 o'clock an alarm was sent in from box 7 for a fire which had started in the captain's apartments on board the Str. Eastington, discharging coal at the Dominion coal pockets. The fire had started in the partitions from a stove-pipe leading from an open fire place and had gained considerable headway before it was discovered. Considerable damage was done to the cabin fittings and a stove room in the after section of the ship before the flames were extinguished. Although the captain's apartments were left in disorder the ship sailed last evening for Parrboro.

NEW RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION FOR CHINA

The Contractors will Receive a Fixed Percentage as Payment.

New York, Jan. 13—A railway 800 miles long is to be constructed in China—the contractors to be provided on a fixed percentage basis—the first agreement of its kind, and which may be necessary in China. That the railway is to be an event of good understanding—is necessary, may be guessed from the facts that almost every day the cables tell the world of wholesale shootings, of thousands of bewildered creatures who are not sure whether there is a monarchy or a republic in China—a state of ignorance which the steel would dispel, with resultant beneficial effects through added knowledge—the solution of the difficulty.

BISHOP WALSH SCORES TANGO AND NEW STYLES

Slavery to New Dance and Fashion in Dress Disrupting Families and Depraving Young.

(Special to the Standard)
 Portland, Me., Jan. 14—Right Rev. Louis S. Walsh, Roman Catholic Bishop of Portland, who called from New York Wednesday on his official visit to Rome, took occasion before leaving here to denounce in strong terms the extreme styles in women's dress and the popular devotion to the tango on the morals of young people. He condemned the passion for amusement which he said now keeps sons and daughters out every night at some theatre or dance hall.
 "Even fathers and mothers join in the merry whirl," said he. "More than anything else except the demon drink, which terrible scourge is always abroad in the land—it disrupts families and destroys homes. The Christian home is the hope of the church and the nation and, whatever the civil authorities may allow, the church cannot countenance those evils which menace the peace of the home and rend asunder the sacred ties of the family tie."

PARLIAMENT OF N.F.'D CONVENES

St. John's, Nfld., Jan. 14.—The Colonial Assembly was convened today by Governor Davidson and members of the election of Goddison, a member from Carbonar, as Speaker. Although Mr. Goddison is an adherent of the premier, Sir Edward Morris, his election was made unanimous by the opposition members.
 The followers of the former premier, Sir Robert Bond, and members of the Fishermen's Protective Union, which united to form the opposition in the campaign, today decided to sit as separate parties at the present session. They agreed, however, to have Mr. Kent, formerly general in the Bond ministry, recognized as the official spokesman for the opposition, Sir Robert having recently resigned his seat.

Whitehall For His
 Mr. Raymond Priestley, speaking recently of the work of the northern party engaged in the south pole expedition, told a story of two bluejackets who had a dispute as to the exact position of a public house in Portsmouth. In the end the argument resolved itself into a bet, and the loser was to stand a supper at a well known fish restaurant.
 "And what about drinks?" asked one.
 "Well," said the other, "if I lose, you shall have a glass of beer with each fish."
 "Right-O!" was the reply. "Then we'll have whites!"

 "What are you doing with that miserable-looking cur, son?"

NO PROOF TO SHOW SUICIDE

Inquest into Death of Frederickson Lawyer Fails to Show that Shooting was Intentional.

Special to the Standard.
 Frederickson, Jan. 14.—That J. Stewart Campbell came to his death from a bullet from a .38 calibre revolver, discharged by himself, while in his own room, but that the evidence did not show whether the shooting was with intent or by accident, was the substance of the finding of the jury in the inquest conducted by Dr. S. F. A. Walwright, as coroner, into the death of the clerk of the York Circuit Court, who was found dead in his rooms here today.
 The inquest was carried on this afternoon in the Board of Trade rooms in the building in which Mr. Campbell had his apartment and witnesses included occupants of other rooms in the building. It was shown that they were in the building between 8.20 and 9.20 a. m., and it is believed that it was about that time that the fatal shot was fired.
 No motive was shown for the deceased to want to do away with himself and that doubtless accounted for the jury reaching their indefinite decision. Friends of Mr. Campbell are of the opinion that the financial difficulties will probably be shown eventually to have been the cause of his untimely end. It was shown that at midnight last night he was in good spirits and had at that time walked to the post office where he mailed a letter regarding matters before the courts to P. A. Guthrie, who appeared on behalf of the estate at the inquest.

MARVELOUS BALSAMIC ESSENCES CURE CATARRH

NO DRUGS TO TAKE—A DIRECT BREATHING CURE

Statistics Prove Ninety-seven Per Cent. of Canada's Population is Infested with the Germs of Catarrh.
 This disease is most dangerous owing to its tendency to extend to the Bronchial tubes and lungs, where it causes Consumption. Unfortunately the people have had faith in sprays, ointments and snuffs, which can't possibly cure, and in consequence catarrh disease has become a national curse. Science is advancing every day, and fortunately a remedy has been discovered that not only cures but prevents Catarrh. This new treatment "Catarrhose" has sufficient power to kill the germs of Bronchitis, Catarrh and Asthma. It contains pure pine essences and healing balsams that go to the remotest part of the nose, throat and lungs, carrying health-giving medication to every spot that is tainted or weak. You don't take Catarrhose like cough mixture—you inhale its healing vapor at the mouth and it spreads all through the breathing organs, soothing and curing wherever Catarrh exists. This is nature's way of supplying the richest balsams, the purest antiseptics known to science.
 A sneezing cold is cured in ten minutes. A harsh cough is eased in an hour, the most offensive catarrh is thoroughly drawn from the system.
 For Asthma and Bronchial Irritation nothing can equal Catarrhose—every physician and druggist says so, and we advise our readers to try this treatment if suffering with any winter ill. The complete outfit costs $1.00, medium size 50c., at all dealers.

MEXICAN PAYMENT OF INTEREST ON DEBT CAUSES DISCONTENT

German Banks are Hard Hit—Mutterings Heard in Washington among the European Bondholders.

Washington, Jan. 14.—Formal notice from the City of Mexico, through the American charge today, that the suspension of the payment of interest on the Mexican national debt covers a period of six months only, was not regarded here as conveying much encouragement to the holders of Mexican bonds. The department officials do not think that if the revolution still is in progress at the end of six months there will be another default for the same reason that brought about the present suspension of payments.
 Mutterings of discontent among European bondholders, it was suggested yesterday by a renewal of pressure from the European governments upon the United States to take some decided action to safeguard the interests of their subjects in Mexico, that it was assumed that the United States would take notice of the patent distress of these European interests.
 Some administrative officials are disposed to believe that General Huerta has deliberately held up these interest payments with the purpose of forcing intervention if possible. In the eyes of the Mexican people, rather than surrender the reins of power to the men who have sworn to feed the carcasses to the sharks of Vera Cruz bay.
 Berlin, Jan. 14.—The suspension of interest payments on the national debt of Mexico, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, has caused heavy falls in Mexican bonds on the Bourse here today. Four per cent led with a drop of six and a half. Several bankers called to the Mexican government asking for an explanation, but received no reply.
 The newspapers express the opinion that the situation government intervention by the European powers.
 Nearly all the Mexican bonds are listed in Germany, where the holdings are very large, especially in the south. There has been much unloading since the beginning of the revolution. Mexico tried to place a new loan in the building in June, but the Prussian minister of finance prohibited it from being listed on the Bourse and the banks concerned dropped the negotiations.

COMPLICATION OF WOMAN'S ILLS

Yields to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Athena, Texas.—"I had a complication of diseases, some of them of long standing. I wrote to you for advice and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and some other things that you suggested. I must confess that I am much better in every way and have been relieved of some of the worst troubles. My neighbors say I look younger now than I did fifteen years ago."—Mrs. SARAH E. WHITLEY, Athena, Texas, R. F. D. No. 2, Box 92.
 We know of no other medicine which has been so successful in relieving the suffering of women, or received so many glowing testimonials, as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.
 In nearly every community you will find women who have been restored to health by this famous medicine. Almost every woman you meet knows of the great good it has been doing among suffering women for the past 30 years.
 In the Pinkham Laboratory at Lynn, Mass., are files containing hundreds of thousands of letters from women seeking health, in which many openly state over their own signatures that they have regained their health by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and many of them state that it has saved them from surgical operations.
 If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (consultant) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THE UNKIND TELEGRAPH

The Telegraph is pleased to grow mildly sarcastic over the forecasted changes in the provincial cabinet. It rails at Hon. James A. Murray's qualifications for the portfolio of Commissioner of Agriculture, to which it is reported he will be appointed, and endeavors to make capital out of the fact that in the rearrangement of the cabinet none of the portfolios are likely to be awarded to St. John members. It is a fair and reasonable assumption that Premier Fleming, in filling the vacancies in his cabinet has the best interests of New Brunswick at heart. At least his record since taking the reins of office leads to the opinion that in matters affecting the province he allows himself to be guided by consideration of what will be best for the people. Consequently, if he selects Hon. Mr. Murray for the portfolio of Commissioner of Agriculture it is altogether probable that he will be at least as well informed as the Telegraph as to Mr. Murray's qualifications for the office.

Even if the premier should appoint to the agricultural department a gentleman who has had no previous experience qualifying for that position there is ample precedent for the action. The archives of the great Liberal party contain records of how one William Pugsley was appointed Minister of Public Works without having had previous experience in the line of his duties, yet there are none familiar with his record who will say that in certain lines he did not display an aptitude that astonished even his greatest friends. Because a man has never accomplished a certain thing, it does not follow that he cannot accomplish it if he puts his mind to it. Mr. Pugsley, for instance, did not serve an apprenticeship in building or buying wharves, but it must be admitted that, despite his lack of knowledge, he did a very neat job when opportunity offered.

That the wharf in question was largely constructed of sawdust was surely not Mr. Pugsley's fault. If he had had years of experience in the composition of wharves he could not have changed this one or replaced one peck of sawdust with one piece of solid timber. The Telegraph did not condemn Mr. Pugsley for his lack of experience when he took the portfolio of public works. It will not attack him today for the sawdust wharf matter. Why then assail Mr. Murray who, in spite of his alleged inexperience in many agricultural matters, may be reasonably expected to make a better showing in any department to which he may be called than did Mr. Pugsley in the Dominion Department of Public Works?

As to the Telegraph's insinuation that among the supporters of the government there may be some difference of opinion as to the rearrangement of the cabinet positions it really appears that the opposition newspaper is more than usually unkind. The provincial opposition party is singularly fortunate at this time in having a representation at Fredericton that is absolutely united. There is not the slightest possibility of the followers of Opposition Leader Dugal differing from him in their policy. Numerically they may be weak, but in singleness of purpose and complete harmony they are a host. When Mr. Dugal makes a motion on the floors of the legislature it is certain to have his entire support. And as long as Mr. Dugal himself supports it, who among his followers can dispute his word? Because the party of the Telegraph is so solidly a unit it is hardly kind for that great journal to point out any lack of harmony it may fancy it has discovered among the supporters of the government.

The Telegraph's achievement in the way of returning a united opposition to Fredericton at the last election was such a signal triumph and reflected that newspaper's vast influence to such a marked degree, that it can well afford to be generous and rest upon its laurels. Why attempt to worry the government, with stories of alleged schemes? The dolms and sayings of Mr. Dugal, the provincial opposition, should afford ample material for Telegraph fulminations.

Millions of words have been written regarding the exploits of a gentleman named Horatio Cooles, a noble Roman, who, with two companions, held a bridge against all-comers. The modern Horatius from Madawaska county has no assistance. He must do it all alone, except for what inspiration he may receive from the Telegraph and the Fredericton Mail. And so he has considerably more territory to cover than did his prototype of old. His achievements should be worth even more publicity. Surely the Telegraph can find enough to do in working up an enthusiasm for Mr. H. Cooles Dugal, without attacking the government, which is really trying its level, best to give the people of the province of New Brunswick what they never had prior to 1908—an honest and capable administration.

THE SESSION

The session of the Parliament of Canada which opens today should be productive of much useful legislation. Advice from Ottawa last evening were to the effect that the speech from the throne will contain no reference to naval legislation, and that while the attitude of the Senate remains as it is, the government will not give the Liberal partisans an opportunity to further humiliate and misrepresent the people of Canada by refusing aid to the Empire's navy.

It is to be regretted that the course adopted by the Liberals, both in the House of Commons and the Senate, takes this position on a matter that intimately concerns not only Canada but the Empire. That Mr. Borden has acted wisely, however, in declining not to subject the Canadian people to additional humiliation cannot be admitted. It is a burning reproach on the citizenship of this Dominion that the partisans in the Liberal party have succeeded in holding up the government in its desire to render effective aid to the Empire. Loyal Canadians may be depended upon to see to it that the stain is removed at the earliest possible opportunity.

THE COBEQUID

It was the best sort of news that came up the Bay of Fundy last night that the passengers and crew of the Royal Mail Steam Packet Company's steamer Cobequid had been safely landed at Yarmouth after being near to death as they will probably never be until the last summons comes. From the time the first S. O. S. call came from the big West Indian boat until the wires brought the tidings that all were safe, there was the keenest interest in the steamer's fate. Disasters such as the present one are all too frequent and they do not always have so fortunate an ending. When the survivors tell the tale of their experiences there will likely be added to the chronicles of the wintry seas an accounting of quiet heroism, fortitude and bravery that will compare with the tales of other occasions where men and women have endured hardship and trial, beset with the probability of a speedy transition to the yond. It is indeed a pleasure for The Standard that, although the good ship Cobequid lies a shapeless and a battered hulk on the rocks of the Nova Scotia coast, "all's well" with her human freight.

A NATIONAL WORK.

(Ottawa Free Press.)

Far too little known to the general public is the work of the Dominion Archives. This department was called into existence just in time to rescue from destruction documents, books, sketches, and other records concerned with the transformation of Canada from a wilderness to a modern nation. Many people imagine that Canadian history is dull, because it is not full of dates of the births and deaths of kings and records of battles. This is a tremendous mistake and one that ought to be corrected in the schools. History in the modern sense is concerned with the story of the people and it is just this that makes early Canadian history so fascinating. There is quite enough excitement in our early records to please everyone. Great changes were not brought about without bloodshed. The Indians did not submit peacefully to the white invasion and many a European quarrel was fought out again on Canadian soil. The deepest interests of all are concentrated on the stories of explorations and the courage of the pioneers, who ventured into the unknown with what we today would consider the poorest of equipment. All the facts showed that they were men of no common order. To lose the records of those explorations would have been a national calamity and to collect, classify and safeguard these treasures is a truly national work deserving of national recognition.

The fact that the Canadian people have undertaken this work is one of the proofs that after all we are not entirely given over to money making. We do value higher things and we have been found equal to the task of gathering together the records of the work that transformed our country. These records will become increasingly valuable with the passing of time and the printing of selections should ensure them against total loss whatever calamities may come upon us. The pioneers were not good at writing records with the exception of the Jesuit fathers, but the latter have enriched literature with their relations. These, with their quaint simplicity and fitness, enable us to picture what manner of men these pioneers were and the manner of work they did. In saving and making accessible these records the Dominion Archives, Dr. Doushey and his staff are doing a work only less important than that accomplished by the pioneers themselves. It is a great undertaking, nationally conceived and carried out in the broad spirit of nationality.

Diary of Events

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

Frederick Arthur, Baron Stanley of Preston, returned the sixteenth Earl of Derby, who was Governor-General of Canada from 1888 to 1893, was born seventy-three years ago today. He came of a distinguished family, the first Earl of Derby having won his title in the battle of Bosworth in 1485, while a subsequent Earl of Derby was the founder of England's great turf classic, Lord Stanley, as Canadians best remember him, was educated at Eton, and entered the army at the age of seventeen. At twenty-four he was elected to Parliament as a Conservative, and in 1868 he became Lord of the Admiralty. He was subsequently Financial Secretary for War, and Secretary for War and the Colonies, and was President of the Board of Trade when appointed Canadian Governor-General. The principal political question in Canada during his administration had to do with the Jesuit estates matter. Lord Stanley left Canada in 1893, in which year he succeeded his brother as Earl of Derby. His only important post after that was mayor of Liverpool. He died in 1903.

Haitian witnessed a novel exodus 122 years ago today, when over a thousand negroes, who had been the slaves of Nova Scotia Loyalists, sailed away on a fleet of over a dozen transports, bound for the Africa of their forefathers. On the same day that the fleet sailed for Sierra Leone, where the colored people had been promised freedom, however, and Nova Scotia lost a valuable body of agricultural laborers. The decision came too late, however, and Nova Scotia lost a valuable body of agricultural laborers.

THE PASSING DAY

BRITISH MUSEUM ANNIVERSARY. The British Museum, England's grand national repository of literature and archaeology, will celebrate today the 150th anniversary of its opening. It ranks in importance before any other great library of the world, only the Bibliotheque Nationale, in Paris, approaching it. The institution contains about 2,000,000 volumes in the department of printed books, as compared with the 1,891,729 books and pamphlets in the Library of Congress at Washington, and the 1,126,000 volumes and pamphlets in the New York Public Library.

The British Museum owes its foundation to Sir Hans Sloane, who bequeathed his various collections, including 50,000 books and manuscripts, to the nation, on condition of $100,000 being paid to his heirs. This offer was accepted by Parliament, and on Jan. 15, 1759, the British Museum was founded. Since then every passing year has witnessed a great increase in the collections, until now nobody would attempt to estimate the value of the British Museum's treasures. Many of them are priceless, and all the wealth of all the Carnegies and Rothschilds and Rockefeller's of the world could not buy them.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

GREATEST WOMAN EDUCATOR SIXTY-NINE TODAY.

Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, who was recently restored to the superintendency of the Chicago public school system, in which position she has worked since becoming well known to the nation, on condition of $100,000 being paid to his heirs. This offer was accepted by Parliament, and on Jan. 15, 1759, the British Museum was founded. Since then every passing year has witnessed a great increase in the collections, until now nobody would attempt to estimate the value of the British Museum's treasures. Many of them are priceless, and all the wealth of all the Carnegies and Rothschilds and Rockefeller's of the world could not buy them.

Last September Mrs. Young resigned her position because of the opposition of a few male members of the board of education, but a public demonstration in her behalf led her to reconsider the matter. Last month the board failed to re-elect her, but the power of Chicago's united womanhood caused the board to change its mind.

FIRST THINGS

MARRIAGE REFORM.

The first English organization having for its purpose the legalization of marriage with a deceased wife's sister was the Marriage Reform Law Association, founded thirty-three years ago today. This question, petty as it may seem to some, was for more than a half century a prominent issue in English politics, and it was not until a few years ago, and after many parliamentary defeats, that Englishmen at last gained the boon of being able to marry a sister of a dead wife. Lyndhurst's act, passed in 1835, rendered valid such marriages, but prohibited them in the future. Then began the propaganda against the law, which found expression in a great organization in 1861. Governmental legislation such as matrimonial unions were passed by the Commons, but rejected by the Lords. Such marriages were made legal by the legislatures of Australia, New Zealand, and Canada between 1872 and 1880. During the agitation in England the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Edinburgh, on one occasion, voted for a bill designed to do away with the prohibition of marriages with a deceased wife's sister.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

AND HE DID.

Sound Advice.

The Middleton footballers were returning home after having defeated their opponents, and consequently several of them had a surfeit of spirits.

As the train drew up at a small station one of the party who appeared to be more foolish even than the others, and who was carrying a two-for-six penny cigar, popped his head out of the carriage window and addressed an elderly man who was leading a donkey.

"Ow much'll yer take for the moke, sov'nor?"

The answer staggered the youth and convulsed those within hearing distance.

"You've enough to do to keep yourself, lad, without buying another, so draw in your head, and mind your ears against the side of the window."

Regarding Dancing.

A stern old preacher had issued to a young man a command against dancing, believing it to be a device of the devil.

A few of the young people disobeyed and attended a dance given at a neighboring town. Finally it reached the ears of the preacher, and the next morning, said in a stern voice:

"Good morning, child of the devil!" "Good morning, father!" smilingly answered the pretty miss.

Quite Right.

"Patience and perseverance will accomplish all things," was a favorable saying of an old miller.

He had just made this remark in a train one day on the way to market, when a pompous individual in the corner turned to him crossly and said:

"Nonsense, sir, I can tell you a great many things which neither pa-thence nor perseverance can accomplish."

"Perhaps you can," said the miller, "but I have never yet come across one thing."

"Well, then, I'll tell you one. Will patience and perseverance ever enable you to carry water in a sieve?" "Certainly!"

"I would like to know how." "Simply by waiting patiently for the water to freeze."

Intelligent Dog.

Said Flossie to May—"Just listen while I talk to Fido. He's so intelligent!"

"Does doggie want to turn out for a walk?" "Bow-wow!"

"Of course 'oo does! But 'oo just had a bath, and 'oo might catch cold." "Bow-wow!"

"If 'oo stays home, I'll div' 'oo a piece of cake." "Bow-wow!"

"I knew 'oo would. What kind of cake?" "Bow-wow!"

"Sponge cake! All right, 'oo shall have sponge cake! Did you ever see such an intelligent dog, May? He understands every word I say to him."

WOMENS DRESS OUTCAST IN THE BOWERY LEFT IN IMMENSE FORTUNE

IS CRITICISED BY PASTOR

New Styles, Dances and other Modern Evils Strongly Condemned—Getting Ready for Poultry Show.

Hartland, N. B., Jan. 13.—On Saturday afternoon in the office of Dr. Macintosh, the executive of the Peoples' Union Agricultural Society, with some others of the more enthusiastic members, met and discussed the plans for securing fertilizer, timothy and clover seed at special prices. B. N. Shaw, the president of the society, speaking for a fertilizer company doing a good, legitimate business, outlined plans whereby members of the society could get this article, so useful in farming, at prices very much more reasonable than those obtaining in the general way of business.

After the matter had been thoroughly discussed it was decided to place a large order for the product of the firm mentioned to be parcelled out among bona fide members of the society at the special prices mentioned. In regard to timothy and clover seed, Amasa Plummer, of the firm of Keith and Plummer, explained a plan by which the members could get the best of pure, clean seed at low prices, and as a result of his talk it was decided to place a large order for the same. The appraisal shows that Mr. Jardine was speculating in stocks all the time he lived on the Bowery, and many of the gift edged securities owned were held by the Stock Exchange firm of Thomas Denny & Co., of 30 Pine street for an indebtedness of $78,222.

The appraisal discloses also that during the time Mr. Jardine was telling his Bowery acquaintances that his income was only $3 to $4 a week he had $2,517 in cash deposited with the United States Mortgage and Trust Company. The total value of his securities was $201,411, and all were of the highest class.

On Monday, well engaged at work with a hay press, Joseph Melvin, of Carleton with a painful accident, as a result of which he lost two fingers from one of his hands.

Last year there was a very successful seed fair held at Florenceville, and preparations are now well under way for another this year on a larger scale. Secretary C. M. Shaw is keeping the snow well packed down in his perigrinations in connection with the poultry show, which will be held on the 28th, 29th and 30th of this month. In addition to the birds that will be on exhibition there will be a good show on upstairs in Lyric Hall each night, so that it will be worth while for people to go to Hartland to brave the elements in order to be present.

The regular services of the Church of England were held morning and evening in Bowers Hall on Sunday, Rev. Mr. Frachette, delivering two well-timed and capable addresses.

On Monday Fred Boyer, wife and daughter, of Victoria Corner, left on the five o'clock express for New York, where they will make their headquarters during the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Baker returned to their home at Victoria last week after a few weeks' visit to Mrs. Baker's old home at Jacksonville, Me. After an absence of twenty years, Mr. Baker thoroughly enjoyed this visit to her childhood's home, although many changes had taken place since she last saw the place.

On Monday evening the members of the Epworth League of the Methodist church here boarded sleighs and drove to Jacksonville, where they were the guests of Rev. George Ayres. A pleasant social evening was spent and the party returned home at a late hour thoroughly pleased with the outing and the hospitality of Mr. Ayres and those who had gathered to bid them welcome.

Sunday evening in the Methodist church Rev. Mr. Gispicord delivered a most telling address on "Infidelity." The speaker went after such pastimes as dancing, cards, the theatre, etc. He pointed out that these things had no place in the true Christian's life. He was particularly pronounced on the matter of women's dress at some of the so-called high social functions, and thought that women who would wear such flimsy attire as is seen on such occasions must surely have lost all sense of the modesty so much to be desired in the mothers and young women of the present day, when the tendencies are so strong towards the breaking down of the gentle modesty of the women of the earlier period.

The organization meeting of the Hartland Brass Band was held in Boyer's barber shop on Friday night when instruments were allotted to players and several recruits enrolled. Nearly two or three have ordered instruments for themselves. The first "blow" was held on Tuesday evening in Lyric Hall, when the players went through the preliminary skirmishes in getting up a "blow." New music will be ordered at once and in a short time the band will spring a concert that will open the eyes of the residents.

Nothing definite has been given out as to who will be the new postmaster, but the wise ones have the matter all out and dried. In the meantime Miss Currie and Miss Davis are attending to the public needs.

A Successful Dance. The Knights of Columbus hall, Co-burg street, was the scene of a pleasant gathering last evening, when the council held a dance which was largely attended. The handsome new wing of the building was devoted to the dancing and a nicely arranged programme was carried out. All present enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Quit the Family Circle Years Ago and Hid Himself.

ABOUT TO BE BURIED IN POTTER'S FIELD

Strange Life Story Revealed in Will—Romance in Youth may have made him Voluntary Recluse.

New York, Jan. 14.—Dudley Jardine, son and business associate of George Jardine, founder of the organ building firm of George Jardine & Sons, who dropped out of sight of his relatives thirty years ago and lived afterwards under the name of 'William Smith' in Bowery lodging houses, paying about $1.25 a week, left an estate of $203,962 when he died at Gouverneur Hospital on February 9 last. His will was about to be buried in Potter's field when his identity was discovered.

This fact became known yesterday when the appraisal of Jardine's estate was filed, and with it was an affidavit by the men who saved the man's body from Potter's field and saw it interred in the family vault in Trinity Cemetery, at 155th street and Amsterdam avenue.

The appraisal shows that Mr. Jardine was speculating in stocks all the time he lived on the Bowery, and many of the gift edged securities owned were held by the Stock Exchange firm of Thomas Denny & Co., of 30 Pine street for an indebtedness of $78,222.

The appraisal discloses also that during the time Mr. Jardine was telling his Bowery acquaintances that his income was only $3 to $4 a week he had $2,517 in cash deposited with the United States Mortgage and Trust Company. Wind Blows His Coattails into Driving Mechanism when he Tries to Make Repairs.

New York, Jan. 13.—While policemen and others tried in vain to release him, the chauffeur of an eight ton automobile truck was drawn about the shaft of the vehicle, in Stanton street near Pitt, last night, his cries attracting so many persons that the reserves from two stations were called to hold the crowd in check.

The truck, carrying fourteen barrels of paint, each weighing 50 pounds, was going through Stanton street when Moe Yeager, of No. 236 East Fourth street, the driver discovered that something was wrong with the transmission gear. Running the truck to the curb, he stopped it without checking the motor.

Yeager crawled under the truck to make an adjustment, when the high wind blew the tail of his coat into the rapidly revolving flywheel. As he was jerked upward, the driver discovered that something was wrong with the transmission gear. Running the truck to the curb, he stopped it without checking the motor.

Yeager held to the garment and drew him higher. He threw out his right arm to keep from being hurled about the wheel when the sleeve was caught by the driving shaft.

Excepting a dozen children and a few women on the sidewalk the first person to reach Yeager was Policeman Strojahan. He crawled under the truck and when his strength failed to pull Yeager out of his predicament he ran into a tailor shop and obtained a large pair of shears. With these he tried to cut away the garments that were being wrenched by the machinery.

They failed and the policeman ran into a butcher shop next to the tailor's and obtained a meat cleaver. Then he tried to chop away the garments, but he found he would have to cut flesh also.

In the meantime Yeager continued his screams of pain as he was drawn on top of the shaft, so that his body was wedged tightly between it and the bottom of the body of the truck. Excited persons had telephoned to the Police Department and the Fire Department. The reserves responded from the Union Market and Clinton street stations.

Then some one found a chauffeur who knew how to stop the engine. The crowd then threw the barrels off into the street, and when the trap door was opened Yeager was lifted out, unconscious, save except for his trousers, he was hurried to Gouverneur Hospital, and there it was said he was internally injured and had broken bones.

DUCHESSE DE TALLEYRAND LOSES FIGHT AGAINST MARRIAGE ANNULMENT

The Duchesse de Talleyrand, formerly Miss Anna Gould, lost a long fight in the Papal Courts at Rome when the Segnatura Tribunal, the high court of the Roman Rite, rejected her appeal from the verdict of the Sacra Rota, annulling her marriage to her first husband, Count Boni de Castellane. The chief effect of this decision is that it permits the Count to marry again, if he wishes, with a religious ceremony. There is no impediment to him marrying again, as far as civil law is concerned, for a divorce was granted to the Countess from him in November, 1906.

JEWISH ART EXHIBIT OPENS, FIRST IN U. S.

Rugs, Carving and Metal Work of Bezabel School Shown in New York and Hebrew Ideals Revived.

New York, Jan. 14.—An exhibition of Jewish art, the first of its kind ever held in America, was opened yesterday afternoon in the concert hall of Madison Square Garden and will be continued until next Sunday. There are Oriental rugs, silverware work in silver and gold, hand hammered copper and brass, wood carving and inlaid work—all produced by the Bezabel School produced in the school has carried on for $150,000 capital. Now many of its rugs and silver pieces sell for a third of that sum and its annual output in silverware is valued at $100,000.

Prof. Boris Schatz, a Bulgarian sculptor and formerly a professor in the National Art Academy at Sofia, established the school, which has carried on for $150,000 capital. Now many of its rugs and silver pieces sell for a third of that sum and its annual output in silverware is valued at $100,000.

Students in the school are paid a living wage when they start, even when they are unable to produce anything of value. The articles are sold at very low prices in comparison with similar articles produced in the West. In Jerusalem $1.50 a day is considered a fair wage for a craftsman. This is the first time that products of the Bezabel school have been seen on exhibition in America.

Prof. Schatz made a brief speech in Hebrew, which was translated by Dr. J. L. Marcus, president of the Jewish community.

"The question as to what a Jewish art is difficult," Dr. Marcus said. "But the school has been established to create a Jewish style at least. It has established a museum which has gathered together many relics of the country in order that students may see what was once produced and if possible effect a renaissance.

"This school is helping to decrease the poverty and misery that have long existed in Jerusalem. The school is bringing to our civilization a new message from Palestine."

Among those in charge of the booths yesterday were Mrs. N. Taylor Phillips, Mrs. H. Perera Mendes, Mrs. L. Napoleon Levy, Mrs. Israel Unterberg and Mrs. Jacob Hlowar.

Philadelphia, Jan. 14.—Jack Blackburn, the negro pugilist, was paroled from the Eastern Penitentiary today after having served four and a half years of a fifteen year sentence for killing Alonzo Polk, another negro. Blackburn is in good physical condition and is considering going to Paris in an effort to secure a match with Jack Johnson.

Polk was shot by Blackburn during a quarrel at the latter's home in this city.

A Wonderful Discovery

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children and such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this. Again, as soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Menard, 107 DeGaulle Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Co. and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. Today—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema.

All druggists sell Zam-Buk at 50c. box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c. stamp to pay return postage. Address Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

REAL ESTATE MAN CHARGED WITH ARSON

New York, Jan. 14.—After a fire in the two story frame home of Frank Mittello at 1334 Sixty-sixth street, near Thirteenth avenue, in the Homewood section of Brooklyn, had been extinguished early yesterday the firemen found six bladders that had been filled with turpentine distributed through the house and all connected by a fuse wire to a time clock.

There was no one in the house, so Detectives Callahan and Ryan of the Bath Beach police station waited until 4 o'clock when Mittello, his wife and two children came home together. Mittello said he couldn't imagine how the bladders got into the house and told the detectives that he had spent the night visiting two ministers.

Last evening Mittello was arrested and locked up in the Bath Beach station after it was learned that two houses in which he formerly lived on Staten Island had been damaged by fire and $7,500 insurance collected. The contents of the Homewood house were insured for $3,500.

Mittello is president of the Square Deal Operating Company, a real estate concern dealing in Staten Island. He has an office in the Germania Bank building, at Spring street and the Bowery.

Mittello's home, which is owned by Stefano Russo of 7612 Fourteenth avenue, Brooklyn, is in the middle of a block filled with frame dwellings fifteen feet apart. Fire Marshal Thomas Brophy said that with the high wind of Sunday night a terrible conflagration might have resulted had not the fire been discovered in time. As it was, about $1,500 damage was done.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL NEWS AND COMMENT

LAIDLAW & CO'S CLOSING STOCK LETTER

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.) New York, Jan. 14.—The absence of further stimulating news and the weakness which developed in the petroleum issues during the morning inspired a renewal of bear selling of the stock market during the early session, but this pressure again failed to force liquidation. As a matter of fact the general list held well throughout, and in the last hour a smart buying movement developed in many standard stocks which brought the closing prices well above yesterday's final. There was a disposition to await the president's message before taking a definite stand, but well informed people are almost unanimous in the prediction that this document would contain nothing to disturb either financial or business confidence. Meantime the money movement which has already set in strongly toward this centre promises to continue. Weekly reports from the iron and steel trade reflected improving conditions but contained also a warning against exaggerated reports and over-confidence. The current action of the securities market is certainly reassuring and there seems good reason to believe that the broad trend of prices will continue upward.

MORNING LETTER ON STOCK MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.) New York, Jan. 14.—Wilson submits his message to the cabinet, showing a friendly policy. The Interstate Commerce Commission allows express rates in Massachusetts to be increased. The rural credit system to be proposed by Glynn will cut out the cost of living. Holders of New York railway adjustment bonds will demand today at the directors' meeting full interest for last year. Huerta announces that no interest on the Mexican National Debt will be paid for six months. National Banks fall to and interlocking directorate. Average steel plant operations are now over 50 per cent. of capacity. Wire product orders exceed mill capacity. It is reported that the market remains small enough to render it sensitive to more or less irregularity.

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.) New York, Jan. 14.—Shortly after the call there was considerable realigning and while there was more bullish talk around the ring, buyers seemed willing to take profits quickly. A large part of the present spot demand, according to an exporter, is from merchants who sold white cotton to spinners and are now trying to secure it. He says it does not represent new mill buying. The early afternoon advance, however, was not accompanied by such a broadening of demand as would suggest a revival of general interest and the fact that the market remains small enough to render it sensitive to more or less irregularity.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER FROM RANDOLPH

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.) New York, Jan. 14.—The market was quiet and irregular at the opening and while it remained quiet and strong all day, during the greater part of the session there was but little life in the trading and dealings were very largely professional. The Petroleum stocks were easily the weakest feature in the early dealings, but until after two o'clock the standard issues fluctuated within narrow limits. About that hour a sudden wave of buying started over the market, which forced prices up rapidly all along the line, leading issues gaining from one to two points from their early low level. For this buying no explanation was given, except the fact that it was generally believed that the president's message which is scheduled to go to congress early next week, would be a conservative and statesmanlike document. From being a market of speculations, as it has been largely for the past day or two, it changed suddenly into a market led and dominated by the important railroad and industrial issues, moving forward with great equanimity and considerable confidence. The highest prices were reached in the last few minutes of trading, and the tone at the close was active and strong.

"No savvy," retorted the Chinaman, for the tenth time. "Let me get at him," cried the corpulent constable, fresh from Erin, who had made the arrest. "I'll teach the haythina to miscomprehend yer honor."

A Chinaman was once brought before the magistrate of an English city and fined a sovereign for an infraction of the by-laws. The magistrate found it a bit difficult to explain the punishment to the "Chinkie," who, apparently ignorant of English, stubbornly refused to understand.

"Now, look here, John," the magistrate explained, impatiently, "it's a sovereign, see. You pay money no go to prison, savvy?"

"No savvy," retorted the Chinaman, for the tenth time. "Let me get at him," cried the corpulent constable, fresh from Erin, who had made the arrest. "I'll teach the haythina to miscomprehend yer honor."

NEWS SUMMARY AFFECTING MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.) New York, Jan. 14.—Pools are receiving a great deal of encouragement to lift specialties on account of the easier money tendencies, and it is understood that new ones are forming. Equipment stocks are well taken. The prospect is good for orders during the latter part of the year, from the railroads. Attention is being given to collateral bonds, more so than convertibles, on account of the better standing in the "unscrambling" of big combinations. American ice is being raised on very persistent dividend gossip. People close to insiders say this is premature. U. S. Steel is reflecting short covering. The buying of the stock is traced by some houses to important quarters. Reading has been running into profit taking on a considerable scale on advances in the last few days. This has checked the rise.

Paris, Jan. 14.—Mexican National Bank shares, which closed yesterday at 470 francs, fell on the bourse today to 470 francs on the news of the suspension of interest payments by the Mexican government. The shares then recovered, closing at 483 francs. There were no transactions in Mexican four per cents.

NOON LETTER ON NEW YORK STOCKS

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.) New York, Jan. 14.—The market opened quiet but in the main but little changed from last night's close. There was continued pressure on Canadian Pacific, but it later rallied. The Rock Island issues were notably strong from the start, being favorably affected by the fact that the earnings for the first week of January showed an increase for the first time in several months. It was reported that liquidation of a line of this stock was about completed. Apart from the weakness in the Petroleum issues, the market has moved but little during the morning, and, although transactions have been on a fairly large scale, they seem to have been made principally by traders on the floor. An instance of this may be gathered from the fact that shortly after the opening, 5,000 shares of Steel changed hands at 59 7/8, the buyer of which was J. J. Manning and the seller Jacob Field, Wall Street is disposed to await President Wilson's trust message which is expected early next week, and looks forward to it in a hopeful manner, as it is hoped to be a conservative document. Noon sales, 147,000; Bonds, $1,624,000. E. C. RANDOLPH.

Forty champions, every one of them the unquestioned leader in his or her particular branch in America this year, are illustrated here. Many of them have been seen in other years, but there are newcomers of note who have arisen in the last year to swell the illustrious ranks of the topnotchers in both amateur and professional sporting activities. Those who upheld the prestige of this country are side by side with the invaders who dethroned the home-breds. Possibly the most noteworthy addition to the ranks of the American champions is Francis Quimet, the young American golfer, who accomplished the seemingly impossible when he defeated the greatest professionals developed in England in a generation. Then there is the Meadow Brook polo team, which scored such a signal victory over England. Maurice McLoughlin, the California comet, who was the sensation of the courts abroad, where his efforts were largely responsible for the retrieving of the Davis tennis cup against the best players of the world, is again seen among the leaders. "Jock" Soutar, another American representative to win International honors, is in the select circle. It was he who took away the racquets championship of the world from England.

Among those who seemed destined to appear from year to year are Frank Kramer, the bicycling champion, who is at the top of the heap for the fourth time, and Jay Gould, who is celebrating his eighth season as the court tennis champion. Some of the others whose faces are familiar in championship circles are William Hoppe, the dean of the billiardists; "Ty" Cobb, who is still battling them out better than any one else; Jerome Travers, the amateur golf champion; Miss Mary Browne, the leading woman tennis player; Uhlman, the greatest trotter in years, and several others.

ROBERT CHARGE MADE IN P. E. ISLAND LIQUOR CASES

Detectives Say that Druggist Tried to Buy Their Silence.

INTIMIDATION ALSO, IS CHARGED

J. A. G. Ellis, who Detectives say threatened them when they Refused to keep "Mum", has left the Island.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Jan. 14.—The grand jury held an inquiry today into charges made in a letter published by D. Schurman, secretary of the Provincial Temperance Alliance, that girls were kept for immoral purposes in a certain place where liquors were illegally sold. They also inquired into other circumstances in connection with the enforcement of the prohibition law and sought to ascertain whether the summonses against violators were all issued on the day information was laid.

Three men against whom summonses are out, left the island to escape service, and the jury made an investigation to determine whether any information had leaked out.

It is understood that evidence was given to show that all summonses were issued on the day information was laid.

The jury in their report to the court made no reference to these matters. Detective Elrod and Valade gave evidence regarding attempts of J. A. G. Ellis, druggist, of Montague, to bribe and threaten them against appearing as witnesses in the prohibition trials in three counties.

The jury brought in a true bill against Ellis and a bench warrant will be issued for his arrest. He is now off the island. There are four summonses against him for selling liquor.

The jury also reported that they found hospital for lunatics, infirmary, and jail well conducted. There were five prisoners in jail, all of whom were doing nothing in a warm comfortable building. They suggested that they be put at work breaking stones, sawing wood or employed at something.

JAMES WALKER, M. D.

By the death of James Walker, M.D., of South Bay, which occurred at nine o'clock yesterday morning, St. John loses one of her oldest and best known citizens and a man who has played a prominent part in the life of the community. Formerly a physician in active practice with a reputation as one of the most clever and best informed men of his profession, he for some years ago had, since then, been living quietly at his country home at South Bay and devoting himself chiefly to the management of his large interests in real estate and other investments in St. John and Halifax. He is survived by his wife, one son, John D. A. Walker, and one daughter, Mrs. Parker Baker, of Alexandria street.

He was born in St. John on December 21, 1829, the youngest son of the late Thomas Walker, M.D., and Jean (Macree) Walker, his birthplace being the old home which was situated where the Canada Life building now stands on Prince William street. After completing his school education at the local Grammar School he went to Edinburgh, Scotland, to study medicine, graduating in 1854. He spent some time travelling through Europe and pursued advanced studies in the hospital clinics at Paris, Berlin, and Vienna. On his return he entered upon the practice of his profession in this city and soon achieved an enviable reputation.

He was for many years connected with St. Andrew's church and was a generous contributor at all times, but especially after the church was destroyed by the great fire in 1877 and again later when he gave $7,000 to rebuild the floating debt. He became an elder of the church in 1885 but resigned when he removed to the country, and has since been connected with the Presbyterian church in Fairville.

Dr. Walker joined St. Andrew's Society in 1885 and was the oldest living member. He was also one of the oldest members of the Natural History Society.

His marriage occurred in 1852 when he was wedded to Miss Mary Gertrude Phillips, daughter of the late David Nice, of West St. John.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon, the service commencing at his residence at 3 o'clock. Interment will be in Fernhill.

WEDDINGS.

Phillips-Lynch.

A pretty nuptial event was performed at 5:30 o'clock yesterday morning in St. Peter's church, when the rector, Rev. Charles McCormick, C. S. R., united in marriage Miss Mary Gertrude Phillips, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Lynch, to Charles M. Phillips, of Fairville. The bride, who was attended by Miss Alice McManus, as bridesmaid, was nicely attired in fawn whipcord and wore a hat to correspond. The bridesmaid was dressed in a pretty costume of brown broadcloth and wore a hat to match. William B. Fisher acted as groomsmen. A tempting breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, 187 Bridge street, at which only immediate relatives and intimate friends were present. The groom's present to his bride was a substantial cash gift; to the bridesmaid a set ring, and to the best man a mappin stick. Mr. and Mrs. Phillips will reside at 183 Bridge street and will have the best wishes for future happiness from many friends who remembered them with numerous useful and valuable wedding gifts.

WELL KNOWN YARMOUTH SKIPPER IS DEAD

Capt. John Saunders, who Retired Several Years ago, Died this Year—Dignity Vessel Shows Speed.

Board of Trade Report is very Optimistic—New Marine Depot, Knitting Factory and other Things

Charlottetown, Jan. 14.—R. H. Jenkins, president of the Charlottetown Board of Trade, presented a very optimistic report at the annual meeting held tonight. After pointing out that money has been plentiful and the people contented, happy and prosperous, he reviewed the work of the board during the year.

He succeeded in getting a better class of cars put on the I. C. R. by the two Paninac and Potbury Lines. They are now pressing for improvement in cars between St. John and Pictou. A committee from the board took up the matter of improved telegraphic and telephonic communication between the island and mainland.

A satisfactory agreement has been entered into between the companies and the Dominion government. Two cables will be working in the spring between Cape Traverse and Cape Tormentine, and one between Wood Islands and the mainland, the latter as an emergency cable. Messages henceforth may be sent from any part of the province to Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Ontario or Quebec at the same cost as from the central office in Charlottetown. This means a saving of eighty per cent.

They also secured a reduction in telegraphic rates outside of the four provinces named and large reduction in cable rates. In future the island will receive the same service and rates as if we formed part of the mainland.

President Jenkins mentioned a number of good things coming to the province this year, illustrating the growing importance of Charlottetown. These included the establishing of the C. P. R. Express Company, the new boat put on by the Plant Line, arrangements for the building of a marine station in Charlottetown, by the Dominion government, steps to erect a new knitting factory this year and the opening this spring of a new steamship line between Halifax, Charlottetown, Sydney and Newfoundland.

TEENAGED GIRL PROVES HERSELF HEROINE

Hazel Wilson Dragged Schoolmate Out of Ice Water.

APPLICATION MADE FOR CARNEGIE MEDAL

Presence of Mind Remarkable—She Stayed with Companion and Rescued Her after Five Attempts.

(Special to the Standard) Presque Isle, Me., Jan. 14.—Application has been made to the Carnegie Hero Commission for a medal for ten-year-old Hazel Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Wilson of this town, for her courage and coolness in saving the life of Agnes Martin, the ten-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Martin, when she fell through the ice into Presque Isle stream as the two little girls were on their way home from school the other afternoon. The children were crossing the stream near Gouldville bridge, when Agnes stepped on what looked like a clump of snow. It gave way beneath her and she disappeared in the icy water with a cry, one little hand clinging to the edge of the ice. Instead of screaming and running for help, which could not have arrived until after the Martin girl had gone down, Hazel clutched at her playmate's hand. Four times she tried to haul the struggling child to the firm ice but each time the little Martin girl slipped back. On the fifth attempt, however, Hazel was successful and succeeded in dragging the child to the shore. Her own hands were wrapped about her body.

The details were only learned after the most persistent cross questioning on the part of Miss Dorcas Hoyt, the children's teacher. Hazel said modestly that she didn't see that she had "done anything out of the ordinary."

Dedication Services.
 An interesting feature in connection with the formal dedication of the new addition to the Germain Street Baptist Church last evening was the reading of a historical paper prepared by William C. Cross. The paper was a review of the development of the project since the plan of erecting the wing was first decided upon. It told of the different steps which were necessary to bring about the completion of the building. The dedicatory service led by the pastor was then held after which a short musical programme was rendered. A reception and inspection of the building was one of the many pleasing features of the evening.

PREPARING FOR THE PURSE TO REV. MR. ROBINSON

At Annual Sunday School Treat in Ludlow Street Baptist Church—Children Happy.

The annual Sunday school treat in connection with the Ludlow street Baptist church was held last evening. R. H. Parsons, superintendent of the school, presided and there was a large attendance. A feature of the gathering was the presentation of $50 in gold to Rev. W. R. Robinson, a gift which was raised by the officers and children of the school. In making the presentation Mr. Parsons spoke of the high esteem in which the pastor was held and the value of his work for the church and the cause of temperance. Mr. Robinson, though taken by surprise, made a fitting response.

An interesting programme of musical and vocal selections was presented, consisting of choruses and exercises by the primary department, recitations by Miss Frederica Dunham Albert, Parker, Thomas Robinson and Nora Cameron and solos by Sadie Carvill, Wilfred Hatfield and Clara Robinson.

Gifts were presented to the secretary, Earnest Willis, and the treasurer, Miss M. E. Mullin, as a token of appreciation of their services. Attendance prizes were presented to Elizabeth Lasker, Lillian Cameron, Margaret Anderson, Wm. A very entertaining evening was passed last night in the rooms of the St. Peter's Y.M.C.A., Douglas Avenue, when they were at home to the members of Branch 482, C. M. B. A. The meeting took the form of a smoker and a well arranged programme of addresses and vocal and instrumental music was carried out. The St. Peter's orchestra was in attendance and furnished an excellent programme of popular and classic music.

John McDonnell, president of the society, occupied the chair and opened the evening with a brief address of welcome.

Rev. Father McCormick, rector of St. Peter's church, who was among those present, addressed the gathering and during his remarks made particular mention of the value of the night school which the societies will open to educate the young men of the parish.

TO ESTABLISH NIGHT SCHOOL

Announcement Made at Union Meeting of North End Catholic Societies, Last Evening.

An interesting feature of the union meeting of the North End branch C. M. B. A. and St. Peter's Y.M.C.A., in St. Peter's rooms, Douglas Avenue, last evening, was the announcement that beginning next Wednesday evening a night school will be conducted two evenings each week in the North End to educate the Catholic boys and young men who have not received a thorough grounding in the public schools.

This important step towards educational advancement which has been promoted by the Young Men's Catholic societies of this particular section of the city, it is understood, only a start on the educational work which is being outlined, and it is said that following along the same line night schools will be opened in the city proper where the young men may receive valuable instruction.

The basement of St. Peter's church will be used and it is planned to have classes for instruction each Wednesday and Friday evening. William Shea, Miss Kelgan and Miss McMillan of the St. Peter's school teaching staff have very kindly consented to devote their time to instructing the night classes, and should the classes become too large for their proper attention to the work the teaching staff will be increased.

These are values will be found in the costume section, where the sale will be continued this morning.

A few lines of interest at F. A. Dykeman & Co.'s store that you might need for this cold weather. Bear skin cloaks for children and coats. Very special price, $1.69, $2.19 and $2.49 a yard. These prices represent a big saving for the little tot's winter coats, too large for their proper attention to the work the teaching staff will be increased.
