SAYS HANG HIM!

Mrs. Catharine Beatty Tells Why She Wanted Her Husband Executed.

Cumberland, Md., May 20.—Mrs. Catharine Beatty recently signed a petition to have her husband hanged and has made a public statement in justification of the act. Wesley Beatty, a wealthy farmer, murdered his brother-in-law, David Nine, at Terra Alta, W. Va., several months ago, because the latter had Beatty's son arrested. Beatty was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. A short time ago his friends, circulated a petition to have the sentence commuted to life imprisonment. Mrs. Beatty refused to sign the petition, but signed a counter petition to have the court's sentence carried out. Mrs. Beatty says that she coaxed her husband to kill her brother, she is compelled in self-justification to deny the statement. She avers that her husband, years ago, beat her and that when she told him she wouldn't live with him longer, he got a gun and was going to kill her. To save her life she had to consent to stay with him. She also alleges that her husband once tried to kill a neighbor named Cook. She says her brother was one of the best men that ever lived. She concludes a long statement by saying: "These are a few of the reasons why I can't aid my husband," whom she alludes to as "Old Wes."

Kruger Fanatically Confident That the Burghers Will Win in the End—Major Pans' Column Disperses the Enemy.

Cape Town, May 20.—Gen. Bindon Blood has just concluded a successful concerted movement against the Boers in the Northern Transvaal. The British columns engaged in the operations covered a wide area, routing all the commandos that opposed them and capturing 1,000 Boers and great quantities of supplies, stock and wagons in various districts. Gen. Blood conducted the operations in the center with Col. Plumer on his left flank and Gen. Kitchener on his right. The Boer commander, Gen. Ben Viljoen, abandoned everything, but succeeded in making his escape with a few mounted men. The Boers did not make a stand at any point.

NEW RAILWAY PROJECT.

If the scheme goes through the Rand will be only twelve hours' journey from the coast.

KRUGER'S FIRM FAITH.

London, May 20.—A man who recently succeeded in interviewing Mr. Kruger reports that he is fanatically confident that the Boers will win in the end. He is not bitter against England, as he considers that that country has misled him. He was anxious to know if in South Africa had hastened the death of Queen Victoria. He also declared that he did not believe that God would desert his chosen people—the Boers.

AWAITING ROYAL HEIR

Furious Betting as to the Sex of the Expected Child.

Industrial Troubles Spread in the Country—Milan the Storm Center—Strikers Drill Like Soldiers—The Dicker for the Danish West Indies.

LONDON, May 20.—While the industrial war in Spain appears to be subsiding, curiously enough similar troubles are in progress in Italy. The danger is growing steadily without attracting attention outside of Italy. The movement is undeniably in the hands of Socialists and is of a revolutionary character. Every industrial town is in a ferment already, and fights have taken place at a score of places where loss of life has been involved.

The storm center is in Milan. At that place last week 15,000 men left work. They have a military organization divided into 15 battalions, each 1,000 strong and subdivided into 150 companies. All this playing soldiers, so grossly illegal, yet the authorities hesitate to act, as they are afraid of precipitating a crisis. Meantime an epidemic of well-to-do people is in progress, and the whole city is in a state of painful excitement. The Central Government is quiescent in the face of this real serious danger.

CRAZY FOR A BOY.

The administration of the country seems to be at a standstill pending the imminent accession of Queen Helena. The whole nation, including even the militant Socialists, are curiously enough waiting with impatient interest this event, and there is furious betting as to the sex of the expected infant, with the odds in favor of a boy.

The newspapers discuss the matter with astonishing freedom, for the most part with entire disregard of the expected mother.

SUICIDE OF A CLERGYMAN.

Naples, May 20.—The Rev. Maltbie Davenport Babcock, the American minister who committed suicide in the international hospital here last Saturday, by severing an artery in his wrist and swallowing corrosive sublimate, died at 6 o'clock this morning.

At 5:40 o'clock Saturday morning, at which time the patient said he wanted nothing, he was found by a nurse who was passing the door of his room heard moans and tried to enter, but found the door barred. The nurse immediately went to summon the superintendent, and, returning, found the door open. Mr. Babcock lay on the bed, the clothes of which were blood-stained, and near by was an empty vial, while on the table lay a knife. The blood still flowed from the severed artery in the wrist. Mr. Babcock was just able to whisper, "I have swallowed corrosive sublimate," and then died. His wife, who was staying at a hotel near by, notified the judicial authorities.

STUDY OTHER METHODS.

Manchester, May 20.—Mr. Hodge, a member of the council, is about to start for the United States on behalf of the Steel Smelters' Amalgamated Association to inquire into the conditions of labor in the United States, the wages paid and the question of strikes.

MAJOR PARIS' COLUMN.

Cape Town, May 20.—A column under Major Paris has returned to Kimberley from Boshof, whither it escorted a convoy. It met with opposition as it neared its destination, but the Boers were dispersed. Their loss is unknown. On returning, the column was opposed by 50 Boers, but they scattered when a pom-pom opened fire on them. The British had a few casualties on the latter occasion.

FIGHTING IN THE PHILIPPINES.

Manila, May 20.—It is unofficially reported that a body of rebels and Angles attacked a detachment of American troops, near Pasaco, in South Camarines, killing two soldiers and one native scout and taking one soldier prisoner.

MONUMENT TO SIR ARTHUR SULLIVAN.

London, May 20.—The dean and chapter of St. Paul's Cathedral have given their approval to the suggestion of friends and admirers of the late Sir Arthur Sullivan to place a monument to his memory in the cathedral, and an influential committee has been formed to carry out the idea.

"IS PARLIAMENT DREAMING?"

London, May 20.—In a series of articles entitled "Is Parliament Dreaming?" the Irish nationalist, dilates upon the utter mental and physical apathy which prevails among members of the government who are jaded by long office holding and frequent attendance at this enervating "hot house of the Thames." Mr. Balfour, he says, is quite worn out and without a spark of freshness.

London, May 18.—The draft of Secretary Hay's proposals for a new Nicaraguan treaty, was received from Lord Pauncefote by the last mail. It is a voluminous document, and is being printed previous to examination and discussion. A special from Peking says Mr. Pichon, the French minister in China, will embark May 20 for France, traveling via Japan and the United States.

Green and yellow chartreuse may no longer be manufactured in France, as the bill against religious associations goes through, as the head of the organization of Carthusians, the monks of the Grande Chartreuse, is situated outside of France.

It is officially denied that the purchase of the Danish West Indies has been consummated. The negotiations, however, are proceeding

CHURCHILL'S DECLARATION!

Will Fight for Economy Though Maintaining His Conservative Connection.

Salisbury's Government Feels Perfectly Safe—British People Startled by Some of the King's Movements.

London, May 20.—"I have no intention of disassociating myself from the Conservative party, but I have every intention of upholding my attitude and continue my fight for economy." In this way the man of the week—for so Winston Churchill undoubtedly is—expressed his own opinion to a press representative concerning the fight which, by reason of its unexpected strength and its dramatic revelation of inherited oratorical power, has caused more sensation in the political world than any other recent circumstance. The fact that the army reorganization scheme of Mr. Brodrick, the secretary for war, passed the House of Commons by an abnormally large majority is not taken in any quarter to denote the fact of the strenuous opposition Winston Churchill displayed toward it. "Consider," writes that old parliamentary hand, Henry W. Massingham, in the Daily News, "what it means for a young man under 30, with a few weeks' parliamentary experience, to fight down the physical difficulties of speech, and all the obstacles of a highly strung and nervous temperament; then to step out at once into the first rank of the debaters, handle a great topic with masterly ease, and stand against the whole party. Who, in our times, has done so much? Who, indeed, has ever tried it?"

BITTERLY OPPOSED.

In the same breath Mr. Massingham and other writers draw attention to the bitterness of the personal and public attitude of the Conservative leaders towards Mr. Churchill. Mr. A. J. Balfour, the government leader in the House of Commons, who is usually so genial towards others, has entirely ignored this young member of the house, who, with one speech, has now gained a prominence which everybody says his party cannot afford to overlook. Current parliamentary gossip presages for Winston Churchill an even more brilliant career than that of his father. The chief doubt of his success appears to be his lack of money, which at present is quite insufficient to enable him to devote that large amount of time required by the duties of a cabinet minister. The sneers of Mr. Brodrick and other members of the government at Mr. Churchill's reference to his father's fight and his own right to raise the tattered banner of economy and to protest against the growing war expenditure has had but a slight effect among the broad-minded Conservatives and Radicals. An explanation of Mr. Churchill's difficulties in securing fair treatment in the House of Commons is perhaps supplied by T. P. O'Connor, an Irish Nationalist, who this week wrote a series of articles entitled "Is Parliament Decaying?" In these articles Mr. O'Connor dilates upon the utter mental and physical apathy which prevails among members of the government. Mr. Balfour, he says, is quite worn out and without a spark of freshness.

THE GOVERNMENT FEELS SAFE.

The real point made by Mr. Balfour, in summing up the case for the government, had nothing to do with army reform at all. It was that if the scheme were defeated and the government turned out there would be nobody to take the place of the government and nothing to substitute for the scheme. The result of it is that there are to be six army corps in the United Kingdom, with six general officers of high authority over them. At present there are eighteen military districts, each independent of every one except the commander-in-chief. There is also to be a considerable increase in the number of the army, but none in the pay of soldiers. It is upon this point that the criticism of the scheme has been most effective. How, it was asked, will more recruits be obtained unless greater inducements are offered? Mr. Brodrick relies upon the stimulus to recruiting given by war, but there is nothing to show that it will last, while there is every reason to suppose it will not. Then we must resort to conscription, or the whole scheme will break down.

BRITISH PEOPLE STARTLED.

The King is putting his house in order. The prince consort's rooms, which had been closed for many years by Queen Victoria's orders, and which were kept as they were the time of his death, have been opened and refurnished in modern style, and the state apartments have been transformed into rooms where the members of the royal family can live in comfort. The jubilee presents and many favorite pictures of Queen Victoria have been sent to London, and the Queen's personal belongings have been distributed among the members of her family. Even her dogs have not escaped the new order. The smooth-coated collies which were her special favorites, have been distributed among the people of Windsor, and the other dogs—about 70 in all—have been claimed by various princely households.

SOCIAL LIFE IN LONDON.

The London season, which during recent times has been beginning earlier and ending later year by year, can hardly be said to have started at all. House agents complain that families which have come up to London regularly year after year have stayed away, and that there has been an utter collapse of the business of letting houses at special rates.

Another year there will be a carnival of wealth and fashion under royal auspices. The King, instead of setting the style for country hours and week-end parties, and increasing the attendance of smart people at the race courses, is now engrossed in the details of the renovation of palaces and the minor details of investiture and decorations. He will receive Sir Alfred Milner at Marlborough House, and Lord Roberts at Osborne and will set the seal of royal approval upon the public appreciation of the high commissioner's services.

While Lord Salisbury and Mr. Chamberlain are singled out for the honor of escorting Sir Alfred Milner to Marlborough House their relations with the King are official and impersonal. The King is not likely to consider Lord Salisbury's wishes when he renounces in retiring from office and the selection of his successor is necessary. Nobody knows whether Mr. Chamberlain stands as well with King Edward as he did with Queen Victoria. The King is a true non-partisan, and has no favorites among statesmen and politicians.

RUSSIA AND THE JEWS.

In spite of the Prussian Government's prompt remonstrance Russia continues to maintain stringent anti-Jewish measures in the frontier districts, virtually preventing all Russian Jews from passing the German frontier and practically prohibiting all German Jews from crossing into Russia for any purpose. It is claimed Russia resolved upon such severe measures against Jewish smugglers were responsible for the recent Socialist and Nihilist fomentations along the frontier, and also for the introduction of dangerous pamphlets.

CHANGES IN SCOTCH ESTATES.

This will be a great season for European travel, but Scotland is not likely to be neglected. Many changes in Scotch estates are reported. The Marquis of Lansdowne has sold to Sir James Siveright Tulliallan Castle, with an finely wooded estate of 4,500 acres. The restoration of Rothesay Castle has been completed, and the Marquis of Bute will probably entertain the King to the new banqueting hall next August.

THE KING IS GRADUALLY PENSIONING OFF

and rewarding with souvenir presents the court ladies and attendants of the Victorian reign. Dr. Conan Doyle was one of the tallest cricketers in the three days' match at Lords, and was on the winning side. His fielding being effective against Leicestershire. The reports of scientific parties observing the eclipse of the sun are still incomplete, and are less satisfactory than had been hoped, although some successful photographs of the corona have been taken.

TO GET MARRIED

Young Woman Broke Smallpox Quarantine at Havelock, Ont.

Havelock, Ont., May 20.—A daughter of John Morrow, three of whose family have the smallpox, escaped from quarantine Saturday and left on the afternoon train for some point in the United States, where she is to be married today.

DARING ESCAPE

FROM A WARSHIP!

Ex-American Soldier Left German Vessel—Had Been Sentenced to Fifteen Years' Imprisonment.

On March 25 last, M. J. Dunn, of 454 Fourteenth avenue, Detroit, and late Cavalry, serving in the Philippines, left Manila for this country. On the way the transport in which he was embarked dropped anchor in Nagasaki Bay, Japan. In the same harbor was a German warship, about 500 yards of practically ice-cold water separating the two vessels.

IT WAS WHILE THE AMERICAN TRANSPORT

lay at anchor there that a sensational escape, which has since caused the German navy considerable annoyance, was made from the German vessel, and Mr. Dunn considered it one of the most daring deeds that ever came to his knowledge. During the Spanish-American war a young German named August Meathe joined the American army. He served with honor and was discharged at the close of hostilities. A short time afterward he went to Germany to look after some property which had been left him. In the United States he had been a member of the signal corps. Meathe, however, was too high-spirited for such service as is required in the German navy, and when a petty officer insulted him, he retaliated by promptly knocking him down and giving him a sound thrashing. For this offense he was sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment. Before the sentence could be put into execution, however, the American transport arrived in Nagasaki harbor, where the German boat already lay, and the young prisoner formed a desperate plan to escape.

One starlit night he dressed himself in two heavy suits of clothes, crawled stealthily from his bunk in the big warship, and slipped noiselessly down the anchor chains, that creaked and swayed with every heave of the long roll and rose dripping as it passed. He dropped cautiously into the icy water, but a single stroke revealed an unlooked-for danger. The water was full of phosphorus, and each ripple on its surface seemed to multiply into waves of fire. The fugitive, afraid to stir, floated motionless in his icy bath for fully half an hour, until the darkness deepened sufficiently to allow his striking out for the American vessel.

The long swim was made successfully, and it happened to be Mr. Dunn who first came upon the young sailor drying his clothes before the donkey-engine of the transport. Mr. Dunn fixed him up with a bowl of hot soup, and with the aid of a friend, secreted him for five days, until the transport left the harbor and the pilot had been dismissed.

A few weeks later Mr. Meathe was safe on the shores of his adopted country. He is now in charge of a large pleasure yacht on the Pacific coast, while because of his escape the German Government has been forced to change its entire code of signals, so Mr. Dunn says.

REPORT AS TO CREED REVISION

Presented to the United States Presbyterian Assembly—Consideration of Question Put Over Until Thursday.

Philadelphia, May 20.—The report of the committee on revision was on Saturday presented to the Presbyterian assembly. A minority report was also laid before the assembly, and it is probable that the question will not come up for consideration until next Thursday.

The report reviews its work and enumerates the questions asked of the different presbyteries regarding their views on revision and the nature of the replies received. It then makes the following statement:

1. That the returns indicate that the church desires some change in its creedal statement.

2. That the returns indicate that no change is desired which would in any way impair the integrity of the system of doctrine contained in the confession of faith.

3. These returns indicate that it is the mind of the church that the confession shall be interpreted throughout in the light of the teaching of the Scriptures, and that God is not willing that anyone should perish, nor is it the decree of God, but the wickedness of their hearts which shuts some men out from the salvation freely and lovingly offered in Christ Jesus to all sinners.

4. These returns indicate that a plurality of the presbyteries desire that changes should be made by some new statement of present doctrines.

5. The returns also indicate a desire on the part of many presbyteries for some revision of the present confession, especially in chapter III, chapter X, section 3; chapter XVI, section XXV, section 6; with additional statements concerning the love of God for all men, missions and the Holy Spirit.

THE RECOMMENDATIONS

A. In view of these facts we recommend that a committee, as provided for by the form of government, chapter XXIII, section 3, be appointed by this assembly.

B. We recommend that this committee be instructed to prepare a brief summary of the reformed faith bearing the same relation to the confession of the church as the shorter catechism bears to the larger catechism, and formed on the general model of the consensus 1829, or the "Articles of Faith," of the Presbyterian Church of England, both of which documents are appended to the committee's report and submitted to the assembly, to be referred to the committee that may be appointed.

This summary is not to be a substitute for the confession, and is not to affect the terms of subscription, but to indicate and clear up the meaning of the church from all false aspersions and misconceptions, to give a better understanding of what is most surely believed among us, and to be a basis to inspire, but rather to manifest, and maintain the integrity of the Reformed Faith.

C. We further recommend that this committee be instructed to prepare amendments of chapter III, chapter X, section 3; chapter XVI, section XXV, section 6; with additional statements concerning the love of God for all men, missions and the Holy Spirit. It being understood that the revision shall in no way impair the integrity of the system of doctrine set forth in our confession and taught in the Holy Scriptures.

The minority report embodies the findings and recommendations of the majority, except the recommendation to instruct the proposed committee to prepare such a summary of the reformed faith.

AN INNOVATION.

A recommendation is made, adding to overtone No. 1, a new section, as follows: The component parts of a church are: the church members, the deacons, the communicant members with their baptized children, the Sabbath school with its scholars, the teachers and officers, the various societies or agencies organized for the carrying on of Christian work and development of Christian life.

Rev. Dr. George T. Purvis, of New York, made a motion referring the report to the committee on church polity. He said he feared such an addition to the overtone might introduce a new definition of the church, and that this definition might be used to the serious detriment of the church.

In the fact that Sunday school, Sabbath school, and church members were allowed a vote in church meetings.

John Willis Baer, of Boston, secretary of the Christian Endeavor society, spoke in favor of the report, on the grounds that if adopted it would for the first time in the history of the church give the Christian Endeavorers and Sabbath school children constitutional standing in the church.

The report was referred to the committee on church polity.

Portsmouth, Ohio, was rattled by an earthquake Thursday.

At Birtle, Man., Thursday night, the safe of the C. P. R. station was blown open and the contents stolen. Fortunately the robber was one day too late, and got only about $200, whereas one day sooner he could have had over $4,000.

Shropshire (England) farmers are at their wits' end for the lack of laborers. There were 250 advertisements in a recent Shropshire paper for men to work on farms.

ELOPED ACROSS THE BORDER!

Details of the Degre-Durocher Marriage.

Which Is Now Ruled To Be Void—Couple Separated.

Montreal, May 20.—A judgment of almost equal importance with that of the celebrated Deloit case was rendered on Friday by Justices Mathieu, Curran and L'Imieure in the court of review, who, as already briefly stated, they reversed the decision of Mr. Justice Lynch, given in the superior court of the district of Bedford, on the 7th of May, 1900, in the case of Durocher vs. Degre.

The facts of the case are briefly as follows:

On the 30th of June, 1900, Margaret Elizabeth Durocher, residing with her parents in the town of Granby, and then a minor, eloped with Joseph Degre, of the parish of St. Alphonse. They drove across the border line to East Franklin, Vermont, where they were married before a Protestant minister named Edwin Prouty.

It will be seen that the circumstances are entirely different from those of the Deloit case. In the case of Madame Deloit, she was of marriageable age, and was properly married before a recognized minister of an established church in the Dominion of Canada, and under the authority of a marriage license granted by the representatives of the provincial government.

In the case of Margaret E. Durocher, she was under age, there was no publication of banns, no license was secured, the consent of her parents was never asked, and she was married in a foreign country by a minister whose particular denomination is not known, whose competency to perform the ceremony is denied, and without any of the necessary formalities being complied with.

It was a clandestine marriage by a young girl with an almost equally young man, for it is not shown that she was of age at the time he eloped with her, and the parties drove across the line into Vermont because they well knew that no Canadian minister, of whatever creed, would marry so young a couple without the consent of their parents being publicly given, and without the necessary license or publication of the banns.

The marriage turned out unhappily. The couple soon quarreled and separated. The wife went back to her parents, and neither of them have since desired to continue marriage relations.

On the 12th of November, 1900, the wife obtained from the Bishop of St. Hyacinthe a decree declaring that under the ecclesiastical law the marriage was null and void on account of its clandestine character, and the father took an action in the superior court of the district of Bedford to have this confirmed by the civil authority. In his decision, Mr. Justice Lynch granted a full separation as to bed and board, but he declined to declare the marriage null.

This decision has been unanimously reversed by the three learned judges sitting in review, and their decision is on the ground that the requirements ordained by articles 57, 58 and 120 of the civil code were not complied with. The girl was a minor, she had not obtained the consent of her parents to the marriage.

The intending husband had neither asked a publication of the banns, nor had he secured a license, and the couple had proceeded to a foreign country with the deliberate intention of evading the requirements of the Canadian law; moreover, the marriage was not shown to have been performed by a competent official.

NEARLY EIGHT FEET TALL.

[Boston Daily Globe.]

Though a mere youth of 20, Edward Bost, a French-Canadian, who visited Boston yesterday, feels that he is big enough to make his own way in the world. Considering that he stands 7 feet 8 inches tall, and weighs 250 pounds, he would appear to be right in his opinion. Mr. Bost weighs 250 pounds, though he has no appetite, and had wandering pains all over his body. He has not yet got his growth.

WHAT MAKES BEAUTY?

Beauty is made or marred by the blood. When the blood is impure, the cheeks grow sallow, the eyes dull, the hair loses its luster. When the blood flows through the veins in a pure, rich current, the eyes sparkle, the skin is clear, the complexion beautiful. Women who use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, find that it is a genuine beautifier. By purifying and enriching the blood it puts a bloom on the cheek and a brightness in the eye, which tell the story of perfect health.

"Having been left weak from fever last October, I was under the doctor's care here," writes Mrs. Alice Casper, of New Brunswick, N. B. "I took medicine, but did not seem to grow very much. I was tired all the time, had no appetite, and had wandering pains all over me or less, and was very nervous, as I had more sick all the summer. I was all run-down and did not know what to do. I got a letter from Dr. Pierce, telling me my symptoms better than I could describe, and I at once began taking it. I would have to take care of myself, and how to take the medicine. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and gained strength right along. I took one bottle of the 'Pleasant Pellets,' and I know that these medicines will do all that they are recommended to do."

Use Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets for sluggish liver.

Center Methodist Church, under the direction of Mr. W. H. Hewlett, will liam Watson, contractor, died this

Monday at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

city must notify School Inspector F.
J. Thompson to that effect before May 24.

—Inspector Joseph Sanders is this afternoon placing a ten-year-old child boy on a farm in the county. The lad, parents are unable to control him.

—Robert Hill and Wm. Hill, of London township, have been summoned to appear before Squire Lacey on Monday next, at 2:30, on charges of main-appeared several times on similar charges.

—Mrs. Mary Grannan, who left London some few weeks ago for California, has written to a friend in this city that she arrived at San Diego, Cal., all right, but was compelled, through illness, to remain over in Chicago for a few days. She had an attack of grip, but from which she has recovered and states that the possibility is, that she may take a trip to Alaska some time during this year.

She writes a very interesting letter regarding the prospects of California, and desires to be remembered to her London friends, who, she states, were dear to her, and that ever be remembered for the kindnesses extended to her while she was a resident of this city.

—The dance given by a number of young bachelors at the Palace Academy last evening was attended by a very large crowd of young people. Notwithstanding the heavy downpour of rain, nearly a hundred guests accepted invitations. A choice programme of music was furnished by the Academy Orchestra, a large majority of the numbers being encircled, owing to the decision of the commissioners to keep the pavilion open for public use only, it became necessary to have the party ulterior, instead of at Springfield. Several electric fans have been placed in the academy, which will make it very pleasant for summer parties.

FINED FOR LIQUOR SELLING.

Wm. Farewell, hotelkeeper at Lambeth, appeared before Squire Lacey, charged by Inspector Bailey with breach of the liquor license act. He was found guilty and fined $20 and $35 costs.

MRS. AUGERMAN'S FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary Augerman took place this afternoon from the residence of her son-in-law, Mr. George Patfield, 138 Hamilton road, to the G. T. R. station. The interment was made at Mount Brydges.

PLEADED GUILTY TO STEALING.

Samuel Betts was brought before Judge Edward Elliott this morning on a charge of stealing $15 from his employer, Chas. Avery, of London township. The boy pleaded guilty to the charge of $5, and was remanded till Friday, May 27, for sentence. Another charge of stealing a ring is being laid against him. Mr. E. W.
Aldred appeared for the defense.

PERMITS ISSUED.

The two following building permits have been issued by the city engineer:
Wm. Chapman, for a two-story brick residence on Waterloo street, north of Queen's avenue; Wm. Lillie, 106 Cartwright street, for brick veneering of residence.

DANGEROUS SIDEWALK.

Three members of the Westminster township council called on Engineer Graydon this morning, and called his attention to the dangerous condition of the plank sidewalk on the Wharnclyffe road, leading to the Two-Mile House.

They offered to replace the township portion of the sidewalk, and to replace the city portion. The work will probably be done by using old plank from torn-up sidewalks.

AN INCIDENT OF THE FISHING SEASON.

Brockville Times: The fish story season has opened auspiciously with the tale of an angler who, while out fishing, rescued a snake from death. The grateful snake, which turned out to be a rattlesnake, followed the angler home, and became a family pet, beloved by all. One night a burglar broke into the house; the faithful snake awoke and, in a sweet sleep, sank its fangs into the burglar's leg, and then hung its tail out of the window and sounded its rattle for the police. This is not too bad for the twentieth century to start off with.

SORROWFUL TALE.

Eight offenders faced the police magistrate this morning, and each one owed his appearance to over-indulgence in strong waters. Robert Eljox told a sorrowful tale of coming to the city yesterday from Manitowaning, Manitowlin Island, with a fat roll containing $280. A pleasant stranger asked him to have a drink, and Robert drank.
There must have been knockout drops in the cup, for he remembered nothing more of the subsequent proceedings until met by a policeman last night, hateful in the rain. He had $4 of his $280 left. He was discharged.

James Foley was fined $3 or ten days, a week ago, and given time to pay. He didn't pay, but was gathered in yesterday with another jag on. This time he will stay in jail till he pays.

Hugh Cameron was fined $3 or ten days. "Dr." George Gordon, who says he comes from Newbury, was remanded for a week. Two other drunks were discharged.

OLD BOYS' EXECUTIVE.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Old Boys' Association was held at the city hall last night, with President Frank Love in the chair.

The total receipts of the entertainment in the London Opera House were reported to be $11 85, but heavy expenses pulled the surplus down to about $30. The committee will have to entertain at the Tecumseh House, the delegates to the annual meeting on Monday.

The International Old Boys' Association, this committee will shortly issue membership cards and buttons, to cost $1. And it is expected that many citizens will take the opportunity to become members of the association, and at the same time assist in the raising of funds for the annual celebration.

ROBBINS-McNAUGHTON.

A pretty but quiet wedding took place at the home of the bride's mother, con. 19, London township, on Wednesday evening last, when Jessie, daughter of the late William Mc-Naughton, was united in marriage to Mr. Charles Robbins, a promising young farmer of the 5th concession.

The ceremony was performed by Rev.
Mr. Cousins, of Birt. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr.
Malcolm McNaughton, was attired in white organdie with veil and orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of white roses. Miss Nettie McLeod, of white roses, white organdie, and white roses, while the groom was assisted by his brother, Mr. Alfred Robbins. The wedding march was played by the bride's sister, Mrs. J. T.
Chester, of Port Sydney, Muskoka.

McDONALD TESTIMONIAL CON-CERT.

The testimonial concert to Mr. H.
Ruthven McDonald, which takes place in the Auditorium Monday evening, will be, unless all signs fail, one of the most successful musical affairs of the season. The names of the many well-known musicians and entertainers who are to take part are in themselves a guarantee of success. We heard of the programme. In the list are the names of Miss Inez Ethelwyn Smith, Miss Stella Regan, Miss Bessie Moore, Miss Maud McDonald, Miss Ellen Marian, Miss Kathleen, Miss Coates, Lockhart, Mr. Roselle Pococke, Mr.
Elliott and the McDonald Male Quartet. The accompanists are Miss Katherine, Mr. W. B. Beuthner, Mr. George C. Phelps. The plan, which is now open, is rapidly filling up, and the indications are that Monday night will be a packed house.

A PRISONER'S RELEASE

A Bright Youth of Eighteen Suffered So Badly From Asthma and Bronchitis That He Was Forced to Remain in the House for Months at a Time.

DR. CLARK'S KOLA COMPOUND CURED.

Mr. L. O. Lemieux, C. P. R. engineer, 35 Alexander street, Winnipeg, Man., writes: "My son, who is just 18 years of age, has been a terrible sufferer from asthma and bronchitis during eighteen years. He has had to remain in his house during the winter months, and for hours at a time treated with poultices and mustard plasters to keep him from choking. Time after time we thought each attack would be his last. About the first of September, 1898, we heard of Clark's Kola Compound, and purchased in all seven bottles. While taking the first four bottles the change was gradually for the better, soon after taking the fifth bottle he could go out any day without any sign of his trouble, and since completing the treatment has been completely cured. This grand medicine certainly has been a blessing to him.
During the last year, since being cured, he has developed wonderfully physically, and is altogether a changed boy. I give you this letter that it may bring the light of this wonderful medicine to some other sufferer, as I have every reason to thank the gentleman in Vancouver, whose testimonial I read."

—Take any substitute for Clark's Kola Compound. All druggists, or from The Griffiths & Macpherson Co., Limited, Toronto, Canada. Sold by Anderson & Nelles.

OF INTEREST TO TEACHERS

Educational Topics Discussed by Council of Women.

Uniform Standard of Qualification for Public School Teachers.

Paper by Inspector Colles, of Kent—Interesting Discussion on a Live Subject.

At this morning's session of the National Council of Women the time was given over almost exclusively to the consideration of educational matters.

In the absence of Miss Harrington, of Toronto, Miss Johnston, of Toronto, read her report of the national standing committee on education, in which was drafted the idea of united interests and united action on the part of all public school teachers, the Dominion of Canada, and favoring a uniform standard of qualification for all Canadian public school teachers, with a view to having every such certificate valid in all parts of the Dominion instead of being limited to the respective provinces in which they are issued.

A paper prepared by Public School Inspector Colles, of Kent County, in which was embodied the same idea, was also read.

In seconding the motion that teachers' provincial and national feeling and interests be united, Mrs. Johnston stated that she believed this would broaden the teachers' minds, establish a strongly united feeling and among them, such as had come into existence among the women of the National Council. She advocated that teachers be paid higher salaries, and be sure that the money would be repaid to the pupils' benefit by the experiences of travels that the teachers could then afford.

An amendment proposed by the Vancouver local council that a Dominion standard certificate be obtained, was moved by Mrs. Torrington, of Toronto.

Mrs. Mackenzie Cleland, M.D., seconded the motion.

An amendment to the amendment was introduced by Mrs. Cummings, of Toronto, that in the opinion of the National Council of Women, a Dominion standard certificate for teachers be obtained.

The amendment to the amendment carried.

MISCELLANEOUS MATTERS.

Mrs. English read a letter from Mr.
R. A. Little, president of the Teachers' Association of London, who had been invited to address the council, but had been unable to do so. He suggested that endeavors should be made to have the Provincial Government agree on a standard certificate.

A letter from Rev. Dr. Bethune, expressing regret at his inability to be present, was read by Mrs. Boomer.

The committee appointed to draft a cable to Lady Aberdeen reported having sent the following: "Mizpah, reciprocate loving greetings; badges much appreciated. Canada."

The following was received in return: "Warmest thanks. Semper con voils. Ishbel."

"Best congratulations to London Council and you—Isabel."

At 9:30 every one present has been a quarter of an hour devoted to reading and prayer. The first morning it was led by Mrs. McMechan, of London; the second, by Mrs. Brown, president of the King's Daughters, and on Saturday by Mrs. Frank Gibbs, president of the West Algoma Local Council.

In Japan, Germany, Holland, and other countries today peace congresses are being held, but as the council could not agree with certain of their opinions, no message of co-operation was sent to them.

MONDAY'S PROGRAMME.

At the session of the National Council of Women on Monday next, Madam Dandridge, of Montreal, will give an address on the women's suffrage held during the exposition at Paris, which, it is expected, will be of exceptional interest. A paper on "Simpler Methods of Living" will also be a feature of the same session.

SHOWED ESTEEM
FOR MISS WADE.

Kensington Methodist Sabbath School Teachers Honor One of Their Number.

A most agreeable time was spent at the home of Mrs. Wade, West London, on Thursday evening, when the officers and teachers of the Kensington Methodist Sunday school assembled and surprised one of their number, Miss Berta Wade, by presenting her with a sum of money as a token of their regard for her and of their appreciation of her services in the Sunday school, the church and the Epworth League.

The address, to which Miss Wade, made a suitable reply, was as follows:
Miss Berta Wade:

Dear fellow-worker in the vineyard of the Lord, we are met together tonight to enjoy with you a social hour, and to evidence our appreciation of your faithful and painstaking labors as organist in the church, Sunday school and Epworth League.

Through alternating cloud and sunshine, you have been true and faithful; no discouraging circumstances have been too great for you to overcome, and no disappointments have hindered you discharging willingly and zealously your work. Not alone as organist, but in every department of our church you have ever proved yourself ready to do your part.

We ask your acceptance of this slight token of our appreciation of your services, and in the order of God's providence, that long years of this life may be yours, in which to work for the Master whom you love, and whose love manifests itself so richly in your constant and earnest Christian life.

NOTHING TO SAY TO OUM PAUL

Botha Talks of Opening Peace Negotiations.

Kitchener Informs the General That He Will Not Deal With the Ex-President.

London, May 18.—1 a.m.—(Special to Toronto Globe).—I am told that General Botha, as soon as he learned that Sir Alfred Milner was about to leave South Africa, sent a mounted messenger to Lord Kitchener with a view to the reopening of peace negotiations. Botha wanted to communicate with Mr. Kruger, but Lord Kitchener said he could have no dealings with the ex-president.

MINING WILL BOOM.

New York, May 18.—Evidence is not lacking, says the Tribune's correspondent, that there will be South African mining boom before many weeks. Johannesburg is gradually filling, and the mines are reopening, and arrangements are making for the reorganization of the government of the town.

The reopening of the "Kaffir circus" would have at least one good result—it would engross the attention of the capitalist class and allow it less leisure to regard the government of the new British colonies.

Some of Sir Alfred Milner's recent appointments in the Transvaal have suggested a more powerful group of powerful groups of capitalists have been represented too conspicuously in those appointments, and a feeling of distrust has been created, which tends to retard the pacification of South Africa.

NORMAL SCHOOL
LITERARY SOCIETY.

Final Entertainment for the Season Held Last Evening.

Last evening the Western Normal Literary Society held its final entertainment for the present Normal School session. Next fall the society will reorganize under its old name, but with a different personnel. A programme consisting of solos, instrumentals, recitations and addresses, was presented, as follows: Recitation, Miss Sharpe; instrumental, Miss Ruthven; song, Miss Witte; reading, Miss Robb; song, Mr.
Gibbons; recitation, Miss Isabel Love-violet selections, Mr. John Currie; reading, Miss Finlay; instrumental,
Miss Walsh; speech, by Mr. Dearness; port's contribution, by Miss Taylor, the college poetess; history, by Miss Seed; critic's remarks, by Miss Culbert; president's address, by Mr. Bailey. The programme was most thoroughly enjoyed by all, as indicated by the frequency with which the different pieces were encored. It would be a pity if the society were to disband, any one of the members on the programme. From the point of view of originality, however, several names were mentioned, Miss Taylor, in her contribution, showed ability in the small order both as regards composition and matter, as well as the way in which, as a bard, she immortalized the mascot matter of the students.

Miss Seed's contribution was a resume of events connected with the class from the time they entered in January last.
The two criticism, however, were most for their timely remarks. In conclusion, a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Bailey for the able way in which he held the honor of the position of president during the session. On attending the entertainments and receptions given at the Normal School, persons given to the society feature is the standing of freedom that exists. Not standing the short term the Normal School is in session, there seems such a feeling of rapprochement that could hardly be expected were such a body of students not working with a common object in view. The high esteem in which the Principal Merchant and Vice-Principal Dearness are held was manifest in the remarks of the president, and the ready acquiescence with which his words of praise were received by his hearers.

BOTH SIDES CLAIM THE VICTORY

Albany, N. Y., May 18.—The settlement of the great railway strike affecting five cities was accomplished today, after a conference which lasted until midnight, and after ratification by the full body of strikers at meetings of their individual organizations which did not terminate in some instances until 10 o'clock this morning.

Both sides to the controversy made concessions, and when the papers were signed both sides claimed a victory.

The Troy branches of the employees' union were the first to ratify the agreement at 4 o'clock this morning, and the Albany men signed it at 10:20.

tion signed it a moment later, and the Traction Company officers appointed their signatures at twenty minutes of

CHURCH'S AFFAIRS
IN GOOD CONDITION.

Meeting of Quarterly Board of the First Methodist Church.

At a meeting of the quarterly official board of the First Methodist Church, held last night, the reports for the year were received, showing a very satisfactory condition of the church affairs, and the pastorate of Rev. Dr.
T. V. Smith, and of the missions under Rev. J. Morrison. The membership of the church has been increased by over one hundred, and a considerable reduction made in the church debt.

The following resolution was moved by Dr. F. R. Eccles, seconded by S.
McRide, and carried unanimously by a standing vote.

"Resolved that this quarterly board of the First Methodist Church in session assembled, expresses its warmest appreciation of the services of Dr.
T. V. Smith, during his sojourn in this city, and desires to testify to his untiring zeal in all the various departments of our church work. In the missions, in the class meetings, in the Sunday school, in the prayer and praise service, as well as in the pulpit, this board recognizes his great worth, and were it to particularize, it would testify in highest terms, to his min-istrations which are marvels of excellence; for beauty of diction, force of expression, and power of illustration he stands in the very front rank of preachers; and as a board we would be recreant to our duty did we not place on record our testimony to his worth. By virtue of the itinerary he takes his personal presence from us, but he cannot take from us the aroma of his work, his life, his character."

Dr. Smith replied, thanking the board for their kind expression of appreciation. He spoke feelingly of the cordial relations which existed between pastor and people.

A complimentary resolution, touching the work of Rev. J. Morrison, in the Kensington and Richmond street missions, was moved by W. J. Saunby, seconded by W. T. Hamilton, and carried unanimously. In the resolution many gratifying features of the work were brought out, showing that solid and substantial progress had been accomplished during the pastorate now drawing to a close. Rev. Mr. Morrison made a suitable reply.

REV. E. C. OAKLEY'S RESIGNATION.
The board of the First Congregational Church will on Wednesday evening consider the resignation of Rev. E. C. Oakley. Mr. Oakley yesterday announced from the pulpit his decision to resign, and intimated that he wished his resignation to take effect on July 1. Mr. Oakley arrived at this decision only after mature reflection. The affairs of the church are in such a condition that he has found it impossible to make any progress, and so great has been the financial strain that he has found it necessary to return to the treasury from time to time a large percentage of his salary.

During the twelvemonth just past, the sum raised for all purposes was over $10,000, an increase of $1,000 over the preceding year.

CENT A MEAL.
Economy in Food.

"Ease in getting a meal and economy, are two important things," a lady teacher says about the fully cooked food Grape-Nuts. "I started in on Grape-Nuts because it needed no preparation whatever, and I wanted a little lunch before going to bed, so I had cream and sugar ready and a package of Grape-Nuts. Pouring a little of the food into a saucer I treated it with good rich cream and a little sugar at times, usually it was sweet enough."

I had a meal that satisfied hunger and I began to sleep well nights. After a while I concluded to make my breakfast of Grape-Nuts and a little fruit rather than go to the boarding house. I found that I began to improve very rapidly in health, and my work became a pleasure.

"I have made a most important discovery, that is that I can have a meal served at a cost of about one cent that is the most nourishing meal I have ever been able to find, delicious in taste and a real good food cure for stomach and bowel troubles."

"I have many friends using Grape-Nuts Food regularly." This lady lives at Grosbeck, Ohio. Name given upon application by the Postum Cereal Company, Limited, at Battle Creek, Mich.

year. The congregation expect to reach the goal set in the raising of $4,000 to clear off the debt of the church.

The pulpit in the morning was occupied by Rev. Dr. Courtice, editor of the Christian Guardian. He took for his subject the parable of the wheat and the tares, and after speaking of the world as the field in which the sower went forth, he said that the history of the past indicated that Christianity is destined to spread through all the earth. He spoke of the increased opportunity for the work of the church in the twentieth century, and instanced the countries which are being opened to the reception of Christianity. The preacher spoke of the phenomenal rise of the United States and Japan as being probably the two most important features of the past century's history, and said that this century would be marked by Canada and China assuming a similar important place among the nations of the world.

Beginning to possess this century, as the United States did the century just closed. A large portion of the doctor's discourse was devoted to the Christian socialism and the need of the church to awaken to the demands of the age.

In the evening Rev. T. E. Morton, superintendent of the new Methodist Mission, Toronto, preached from Revelation, xli, 16: "The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal."

Taking as his theme, the Christian church, as typified in the New Jerusalem of the text, the preacher said that true Christianity is cubic in character. Its length is the period from Calvary to the end of the dispensation, its breadth is such as to reach out to all classes of men, while in its height it should reach to the very throne of God. The life of the Christian depended upon its intense spirituality, and the church itself was daily imbued with the Spirit of Christ.

WELL-KNOWN MAN DIED ON SUNDAY.
George T. Trebilcock, of South London, Succumbed After a Short Illness.

Another of London's prominent young business men has passed to his last rest. At 9 o'clock on Sunday morning Mr. George T. Trebilcock, the well-known South London grocer, succumbed to an affection of the throat, culminating in lung trouble, after a comparatively short illness. About the middle of March Mr. Trebilcock, realizing that his ailment was becoming serious, went to the Muskoka Sanitarium at Gravenhurst, in the hope of regaining his health, but without avail, and he returned to his home only a week ago, since which time he failed rapidly until the end came yesterday.

In 1855 his mother, Mrs. Harriet Trebilcock, of Dundas street, bringing her young family to London shortly after the war, was educated in the old Bond street and Union schools, afterwards learning the hat and cap trade with Mr. H. Beaton. Subsequently in July, 1881, he took over the grocery business in South London, and was on by the late Orville E. Smith, who was a victim of the Victoria disaster on May 24 previous. Mr. Trebilcock was married in his youth to Miss Nettie Keast, who, along with three children, Miss Hattie and Masters Bert and Fred, survive to mourn the loss of a loved one. No children of his father. He also leaves his aged mother and three brothers, Messrs. J. C. of this city; W. H., of St. Paul, and A. E. of Toronto to mourn his untimely end.

The late Mr. Trebilcock always took a lively interest in amateur sports, was a successful baseball player and cricketer, and was fond of the gun and rod and line. Only a couple of weeks previous to his going to Muskoka he had been participating in the city whist league matches. He was a conservative Liberal in politics and a member of the executive of No. 6 Ward Liberal.

He was also a past regent of the South London branch of the Canadian Royal Arcanum, which he joined in 1882, being one of its charter members. Always of a lively, good-natured disposition, and enthusiastic in whatever he took an interest in, his genial companionship will be missed in many circles, both social and business. His death has been a great loss to the surviving members of his family, who will have the deepest sympathy of the community in their sad bereavement.

The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock to Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

LIVED IN LONDON OVER FORTY YEARS

A Credit to London.

Gentlemen should pay a visit to the "Semi-Ready" Wardrobe, 146 Dundas street, London, just to see what enterprise and money have accomplished since the Men's Outfitting Company, capitalized at $50,000, took over the agency for the "Semi-Ready" brand of clothes for gentlemen, some weeks ago.

The store and fittings would do credit to New York, while the stock is large enough for any city in Canada. The new manager, Mr. J. H. Brownlee, is a custom tailor of wide experience, who now devotes all his time to the Company's interests.

During a conversation a day or two ago, Mr. Brownlee expressed the utmost satisfaction with his reception in London. He thinks nothing too good for Londoners, and will keep before the public the best goods obtainable.

Death of Mr. Alexander Leslie, One of the City's Oldest Inhabitants.

Mr. Alexander Leslie, one of the oldest residents of this city, died yesterday morning at his residence, 81 Wilton avenue, after a long illness.

Mr. Leslie was one of the pioneer nurserymen of the district, having come to London from Montreal over 40 years ago. He was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, in 1844, and retired from active business life about 15 years ago, and for the past four or five years had been an invalid.

The surviving members of the family are: Mrs. Leslie, his widow, who is now residing at the Canadian Express Company, Kingston; O. B. and Alexander, with the same company here; Dr. Wm. H. Leslie, missionary, under the American Baptist Board at Bamba, Matoko, Congo Free State; West Africa; and Misses Annie and Bessie E., at home. Mr. Leslie's widow also survives him.

The funeral, which will be private, will take place Tuesday afternoon.

An immense region in Northern Ontario, covering 15,000,000 acres and stretching from Quebec westward to Thunder Bay, on the north shore of Lake Superior, is now recognized as being well adapted for farming.

WORKMEN AT DIVINE SERVICE.

Representatives of City Lodges Visit Lambeth Brethren.

Eloquent Sermon of Rev. Dr. McCrae on Christian Co-operation—Noble History of A. O. U. W.

Representatives of the Ancient Order of United Workmen lodges of this city paid their annual visit to Lambeth yesterday to attend divine service along with brethren from other lodges of the district. Notwithstanding the threatening appearance of the heavens, which, however, later on cleared away, there was a large crowd of people present to listen to an able sermon by Rev. Dr. D. L. McCrae, of the Presbyterian Church of North Westminster.

The London lodges were represented as follows: Star Lodge, by Stephen Grant, grand lodge financier; J. Barr, David Tripp, Jas. Clark, A. Campbell and G. Barr, Westminster, by Past Master Fred McMillan and H. Gardner; Fidelity, by Past Master Armitage, Past District Deputy Grand Master Oliver and Edward Marshall; London, Robert Rider; Woodbine, David Hynd and T. Glover, past master; Grant Lodge, by Chas. Howard; Electric Lodge, by E. B. Hargreaves, R. E. Matthews, H. Richardson, J. R. Depotte and W. Armstrong.

The members of the different lodges formed in procession over one hundred strong, and marched from the Union Hall to the new Methodist Church, where the services were held.

REV. DR. MCCRAE.
As a prelude to his discourse Dr. McCrae stated that it was always a pleasure for him to perform a kindly service for any organization that was seeking to do good. He did not share the belief held by even some good Christian people that fraternal organizations were a hurt to the church of God. He maintained that they were a great help to the church. Though not himself a Workman, he wished to be counted a half-brother to them, as he was thoroughly acquainted with the excellent work they had done, and knew that many a home had been brightened, cheered and comforted through the efforts of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. According to last year's report there were in Ontario alone 450 lodges with a membership of 41,000, and the sum of $92,000 had been paid out. He stated that the order had a noble history, and strongly urged that they should see that their lives were in keeping with the great work they had undertaken.

THE SERMON.
Dr. McCrae took for his text Isaiah, xl, chapter and 7th verse—"So the business men encouraged the golden smith, and he that smoothed with the hammer him that smote the anvil, saying, it is ready for the soldering." These words illustrate a great law of God's providence and kingdom. The lesson is that of co-operation, which is God's purpose as regards all mankind as well as the church. The prosperity of the state depends upon the observance of the great principle of co-operation, or working together. The text also embodies the principles of the Ancient Order of United Workmen. The preacher here also dwelt upon the importance of getting down to ideas. He felt that the one great need today was the breaking down of the barriers that divide men from men. Much of the preaching is full of meaningless phrases, quite different from the preaching of Christ's time. Christ enquired to get great ideas into men's minds, because ideas rule the world.

The principle of co-operation is manifest even in nature; for example, witness the beautiful balancing of the clouds, by which God has turned the universe of nature into a great anvil. The different things of God's universe are never incompatible. They preach the creed of brotherhood; but it is only where the Gospel of Christ has come that we are led to see this. In heaven's attitude we find no hospitals, orphan asylums, nor any other means of helping the needy in distress. Brotherhood, like water, cannot be higher than its source; hence all true brotherhood must be bound by golden chains about the feet of God.

In conclusion, the speaker said: "It is not enough that you give advice to your brother, you must lend a hand. 'Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfil the law of Christ.' The great need of Christianity is not loud-mouthed professions, but beautiful, brotherly and charitable living. The principles of your order are noble principles, but let your lives be even nobler than the principles you profess."

At the close of the church service the members of the different lodges adjourned to the hall, where Jas. Connolly, master of the local lodge, in a timely speech welcomed the visiting brethren. Stephen Grant, in a short address, spoke of the able sermon they had been privileged to listen to, and concluded by moving a vote of thanks to Rev. Dr. McCrae, which motion was seconded by Mr. Oliver. Votes of appreciation were also tendered to visiting brethren and to the choir for the excellence and propriety of the music furnished for the occasion.
