Do You Use It?

It's the best thing for the hair under all circumstances. Just as no man by taking thought can add an inch to his stature, so no preparation can make hair. The utmost that can be done is to promote conditions favorable to growth. This is done by Ayer's Hair Vigor. It removes dandruff, cleanses the scalp, nourishes the soil in which the hair grows, and, just as a desert will blossom under rain, so bald heads grow hair, when the roots are nourished. But the roots must be there. If you wish your hair to retain its normal color, or if you wish to restore the lost tint of gray or faded hair use

A MAGISTRATE'S RULING

On Hotel Keeper's Obligations—Strong Drink Is Not an Accommodation.

Windsor, Sept. 28.—Magistrate Bartlett yesterday morning dismissed the case against Joseph James, hotel-keeper, charged with refusing to sell liquor to colored men. The complainants were ex-Ald. Dunn and Stephen Haines, president of the Longshoremen's Union.

SWALLOWED A HATPIN.

A Newark Child's Life Saved by X Rays and Surgery.

Newark, Sept. 28.—A delicate surgical operation was performed at the German Hospital last evening, by means of which a hat pin five and one-half inches long, was removed from a child's stomach. The child, who is now recovering, was Lena Stripe, 3½ years old, the daughter of August Stripe, of Harrison. She was playing on the floor on Monday, and found the hat pin, which she put in her mouth. It slipped down her throat, and she was taken to the hospital, where it was found protruding from the throat, but the child in breathing drew the pin down into her stomach.

The little girl was taken to the German Hospital, where the location of the pin was determined by means of the X-rays. The pin was shown upright in the chest, and the child, only a short distance from the heart. A slight change in the position of the pin would have caused it to pierce the heart. On this account the utmost caution was necessary in the operation for its removal, which is pronounced entirely successful.

Mary Hero, 7 years old, of Demott street, West Hoboken, swallowed a melon seed seven weeks ago. As it caused her no pain she did not inform her parents. On Sunday she complained of a sore throat and was taken to Dr. White, who subjected her to the X-rays. The photograph showed that the melon seed had lodged in her windpipe. An operation will be required for its removal.

DIED IN SAVING OTHERS

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Wm. Colpo, a flagman employed by the Erie Railroad Company to protect the level crossing at Niagara avenue, lost his life on Sunday while trying to save that of several others. A carriage containing four or five persons approached the crossing as an express train came rushing along. The party evidently did not see Colpo waving his flag, and drove towards the tracks. Colpo rushed across the track, yelling at the driver of the carriage to go back. Colpo could not clear the track ahead of the train, and was instantly killed. He was about 60 years old, and leaves a large family.

Dr. Hobbs' Sparagus Kidney Pills Make the kidneys strong and healthy. They cause the kidneys to filter all the urine, and rid the system of all acids and other poisons. They cure rheumatism, gout, eczema, anemia, pimples, bad blood, Bright's Disease, Malaria, Backache, Kidney Pains, Dropsy, Pain in the Abdomen, Frequent Urination, Inflammation of Kidneys, Female Weakness, etc.

I think if it had not been for Sparagus Kidney Pills I should not be alive now. I was very badly off, could not pass but a few drops of water at a time, and it seemed as though it would kill me. What was passed was thick and high-colored, and would settle like brick dust. I had dull, heavy pains across my kidneys and bladder. I had tried everything I heard of, but got no relief until I tried your remedy. I have not taken a whole box, yet call myself cured. I can now do my work, and commend your pills to others who are afflicted with the same trouble. MRS. A. B. PATTERICK, Morrisville, Vt.

THE NATIONAL LEAGUE.

Buffalo, Sept. 28.—The National League season closes Oct. 3, and Louisville has Sept. 28 and 29 and Oct. 1 open. Oct. 1 is an open day for all the clubs, and Baltimore will probably play off its postponed game with Washington then. As Baltimore has a game with Washington Sept. 29, it is rather hard to see how they could manage to work in a game with Louisville on the day after the Orioles are at Cleveland. One possible chance for them would be to play their extra game with Washington Sept. 28, and then schedule a game with Louisville on the open date, Oct. 1. There are a good many "ifs," however, in the way of such a plan being resorted to by Baltimore to fill out their games schedule, and raise their average, as neither Louisville or Washington would go out of the way to help the Orioles. The game between Baltimore and Boston yesterday resulted in a Waterloo defeat for the oyster-shuckers. The latter tried four different pitchers, but failed to check the desperate onslaught of the slug-bats from Beantown, who banged the leather for 22 hits and 19 runs, defeating the Orioles nearly two to one all the way through. Score:

Baltimore	10	13	5
Boston	19	13	22

Batteries—Amos, Hoffer, Naps and Corbett and Robinson; Nichols and Bergen.

OTHER NATIONAL LEAGUE GAMES.

At Pittsburgh—Pittsburgh 5 13 1
Chicago 4 7 3

At New York—New York 3 7 4
Washington 2 10 1
Batteries—Meekin and Warner; Morcor and McGuire. Game called.

FLYING.

The St. Thomas baseball club is to depart for Cleveland and Kiebs to Buffalo. With the exception of Pitcher Kiebs, the other players have secured positions in the city.

It is now announced that Manager Watkins, of Indianapolis, will assume charge of the Pittsburgh team about the middle of next month.

Detroit lost the last game of the season to Toledo Sunday. The score was 14 to 9. The team disbanded after the game.

Blake, of Columbus, and Metz, of Indianapolis, are both on the hospital list, with strained backs. Fisher and Kahoe took their places on the initial card yesterday.

Blake, who has been holding down the right garden for Connie Mack's previous season, was back in his old position for Cleveland in Sunday's game. And still Mack claimed that he was not a farmer player.

Pitcher Pappalau claimed that Grand Rapids owed him $70, but was very much surprised to learn that he had been given that amount by the management. He will appeal the case to the Western League board, and if he loses the board will take it to the National board.

Cedar Rapids, the pennant winner in the Western Association, and St. Joseph, the second team, are to play a series of three games at Cedar Rapids for $500.

The "History of the Boston Baseball Club," a 300-page book, is soon to be on sale as a testimonial to the Boston players. It will contain a full history of the development of the game in the city, and is expected to be the most detailed history of baseball yet published.

Connie Mack says that his team for 1903 will be about the same as this year, with the exception of Lewie Stafford and Pitcher Bert Jones. Mack thinks he will keep all the others who have been reported as likely to be drafted, excepting perhaps Blake.

President Hart, of the Chicago Club, is going to present at the National League meeting a programme of measures to kill off rowdy ball players who address the umpire on any subject whatever, complete power of suspension for the league president, a schedule and season contract for umpires, and a prohibition on games being protested until 24 hours after they have been played.

TORONTO WINS AGAIN.

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Inability to hit the ball when men were on bases, and errors by Earle and Ryan in the seventh inning of yesterday's game lost the second of the series between the Stars and Toronto for the Steiner cup to the Canadians. Score:

Syracuse	2	4	3
Toronto	6	9	3

Batteries—Malarkie and Ryan; Dineen and Snyder.

ATHLETICS.

MATTHEW VS. GARRARD.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 28.—Matty Matthews, of New York, won from Frank Garrard, of Chicago, in 20 rounds before a crowded house at the Olympic Club last night. C. A. A.'S ANNUAL MEETING. Toronto, Sept. 28.—The annual meeting of the Canadian Amateur Athletic Association was held here Saturday night. President G. H. Goodham presided. Club in expelling five of its players was taken up, and the players in question were suspended.

C. C. Hughes, of the A. A. U., in a long speech, advocated an alliance between his association and the C. A. A. A. A sub-committee, consisting of T. B. Taylor, W. G. Finlay and G. M. Higginbotham, was appointed to deal with the matter.

These officers were elected: President, H. Brophy, Montreal A. A.; first vice-president, Geo. M. Higginbotham, T. A. C.; second vice-president, R. J. Cook, Shamrock A. A.; secretary, E. H. Brown, Montreal A. A.; treasurer, W. H. Dods, Montreal S. S. Club.

WHEEL.

Loughhead, Kiser and Gardner, scratch men in the two-mile handicap, were not able to get a place in the trial heats to qualify for the finals. Jimmy Michael, pated by a sextette and a quad, did five miles in 9:22 1-5, breaking the track record of 9:41 4-5, made by himself in this city one year ago. Summary:

BARRE BEATEN BY TOWNS.

London, Sept. 28.—George Towns, of Australia, beat Barry yesterday in a boat race over the championship course from Putney to Mortlake, by three-quarters of a length, for a purse of $1,000.

For the many serious ills that women are heir to, Paine's Celery Compound is truly an invaluable blessing. It speedsily purifies the blood and banishes backaches, headaches, tired feelings, languor, nervousness and heart trouble. No other medical discovery has ever given so a record of cures. Mrs. A. Legault, St. Andre street, Montreal, says: "I cannot help telling all sufferers what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I would have been a lost woman had I continued six months longer in suffering. My case was a long one. Headache, insomnia, nervous prostration and loss of memory made up my troubles, and I feared they would lead to insanity. I went to several doctors, who treated me with all their skill, but I did not get any better. As I am the mother of seven children I became disheartened with failures and being obliged to spend so much money, I was advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle gave me little relief, but the second I took with much more faith on my nerves. I continued using the compound, and after taking nine bottles I can positively say I am cured."

Death has again visited Griffin's Corners, and taken away one of the oldest settlers in the person of Mr. Wm. Martin. Mrs. Chas. Goby died on Sunday of consumption.

Life's Sharp Corners

There are many sharp corners in life's rough road that turn a man from the pleasant pathway of health into the arms of sickness and disease. Whether life or death wins depends on how you are prepared for these sudden attacks. It's the weak and healthless system that the culture of disease picks out for its victim. It's negligence that puts you in this state of susceptibility to disease.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt purifies the blood, builds up the system, and fits you for the fight against disease. Eminent European physicians bear testimony to its effectiveness as a preventative and cure for Sleeplessness, Loss of Appetite, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Constipation, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Spleen Affections, Nervous Depression, Indigestion, Sea Sickness, Flatulency, Gout, Fever and Skin and Kidney Complaints. It purifies the blood and clears the complexion.

Here are some extracts from the many testimonials we have received from eminent physicians and prominent personages:

From Dr. W. H. Wright, L. R. C. P. I., L. M., M. R. C. S. E., L. S. A. I., Medical Officer of Health, London, England.
"I find it simply invaluable. I now use no other medicine, and take great pleasure in recommending it to all my friends."

COLOURS STREET METHODISTS.

Most Successful Anniversary Services and a Lengthy Programme.

The anniversary entertainment of the Colborne Street Methodist Sunday school was held last night, and proved one of the most successful ever held under the auspices of the school. There were about 500 people in attendance. Above the pulpit was erected a platform with tiers of seats, and profusely decorated, upon which sat about 150 of the school children, whose rendition of the several pieces spoke volumes for the choir master and musical director of the affair. Superintendent J. Nicholson occupied the chair, and Mr. Geo. Stead presided at the piano. The following is the programme rendered: Chorus, by Miss Nobbs' class—Misses Catherine, Straton, Graham, Siddle, Brown and Stevenson; recitation, "The Temperance Alphabet," Master M. Charlton; trio, "Red, White and Blue," by the Misses Elms; Florence Haystead and Florence Gaze, cantatas, by the Junior boys—W. Morgan, W. Evans, W. Scott, G. Scott, H. Elms, W. OUR CANADIAN WOMEN

And Their Many Troubles.

Paine's Celery Compound a Life-giver.

For the many serious ills that women are heir to, Paine's Celery Compound is truly an invaluable blessing. It speedsily purifies the blood and banishes backaches, headaches, tired feelings, languor, nervousness and heart trouble. No other medical discovery has ever given so a record of cures. Mrs. A. Legault, St. Andre street, Montreal, says: "I cannot help telling all sufferers what Paine's Celery Compound has done for me. I would have been a lost woman had I continued six months longer in suffering. My case was a long one. Headache, insomnia, nervous prostration and loss of memory made up my troubles, and I feared they would lead to insanity. I went to several doctors, who treated me with all their skill, but I did not get any better. As I am the mother of seven children I became disheartened with failures and being obliged to spend so much money, I was advised me to try Paine's Celery Compound. The first bottle gave me little relief, but the second I took with much more faith on my nerves. I continued using the compound, and after taking nine bottles I can positively say I am cured."

Death has again visited Griffin's Corners, and taken away one of the oldest settlers in the person of Mr. Wm. Martin. Mrs. Chas. Goby died on Sunday of consumption.

Life's Sharp Corners

There are many sharp corners in life's rough road that turn a man from the pleasant pathway of health into the arms of sickness and disease. Whether life or death wins depends on how you are prepared for these sudden attacks. It's the weak and healthless system that the culture of disease picks out for its victim. It's negligence that puts you in this state of susceptibility to disease.

Abbey's Effervescent Salt purifies the blood, builds up the system, and fits you for the fight against disease. Eminent European physicians bear testimony to its effectiveness as a preventative and cure for Sleeplessness, Loss of Appetite, Biliousness, Sick Headache, Constipation, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Spleen Affections, Nervous Depression, Indigestion, Sea Sickness, Flatulency, Gout, Fever and Skin and Kidney Complaints. It purifies the blood and clears the complexion.

Here are some extracts from the many testimonials we have received from eminent physicians and prominent personages:

Sir Oliver Mowat, Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario.

The announcement that Sir Oliver Mowat will soon return to his native Province to take a position at the head of its Government as representative of the Queen, will be received with much pleasure by the large majority of the people of Ontario.

When the veteran statesman was requested by Sir Wilfrid Laurier to lend his aid in the formation of a Liberal Administration at Ottawa, Sir Oliver cheerfully responded, taking up the arduous duties of Minister of Justice and Government leader of the Senate. For some time, however, it has been well understood that when the term of the present Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario was concluded, Sir Oliver Mowat would be offered the honor of the appointment. Such a rounding-off of the honorable gentleman's remarkable public career will be regarded as eminently fitting by the people of Ontario generally. Sir Oliver's long experience in the management of men and affairs eminently fits him for the position. He will be gladly welcomed back to the scenes of his former labors, and everyone will wish him thorough enjoyment of his new honors.

Not every man who has passed his seventy-seventh year would be able to take that pleasure in serving the public which Sir Oliver does. Though born on the 22nd of July, 1829, the veteran statesman today possesses health of body and freshness of mind such as are vouchsafed to few at his time of life.

Sir Oliver's life has been a busy and eventful one. With the exception of the years from 1864 to 1872, when he was a judge on the superior court bench, he has been continuously in public life since he was returned to the old Parliament of Canada as member for South Ontario in 1857. He has been a member of three Governments of Canada. He held office in the shortest-lived Administration in Canadian history—that known as the Brown-Dorion Government—which in 1858 was swindled out of its rights by the famous "double-shuffle" expedient. And he broke the record of the world by holding the Premiership of Ontario continuously from 1872 till 1896, when he placed his mantle on his trusted lieutenant, Hon. A. S. Hardy, and lent his aid to his old friend, Mr. Laurier, in the formation of the new Liberal Government of Canada.

Such has been the busy and phenomenally successful career of the new Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario. Could there be anything more appropriate than that now, with his ripened experience and mellowing powers, he should be enabled to serve his fellow-countrymen as representative of her Majesty at the head of the Government of his native Province?

Prof. McCallum, of the Provincial University, who was secretary of the Canadian committee of the British Association for the Advancement of Science, at its late meeting in Toronto, is the city on a brief visit to his brother, Dr. H. A. McCallum. He says that the visit of hundreds of British scientists to Canada, and their tour to the Northwest and the Pacific Coast, will be of great advantage to this country. Every scientist, as he comes back from his trip, is enthusiastic over the resources of the Dominion, and the great future that is before it.

Fostering the War Spirit.

One thing that should restrain Canadians from becoming jingoists, in imitation of the firebrands who, on the smallest pretext, try to inflame public opinion in Great Britain and the United States, is the knowledge that in the event of war between the motherland and our neighbors, Canada might be the chief battle ground. Those of us who advocate conciliation and a refraining from foolish bravado are not afraid of warfare when it is necessary. What we object to is the cultivation of the spirit of drifting into hostility that can and ought to be averted by the exercise of common-sense and the cultivation of the love of fair play. Many of the wars of the past were really the results of ill-temper and braggadocio carried to a point where they could not be controlled.

Roderick Campbell, F. R. G. S., writing from Herts, England, says that Canada can give homes to 100,000,000 of souls. That would be a big population, but then the Dominion is about the biggest nation in the world, in point of extent, and but a small portion of its boundless resources are yet put under tribute for the sustenance of humanity.

The Ottawa Journal complains that the Canadian Postoffice Department charges too much for stamped envelopes. There's a convenient remedy: buy your own envelopes and put stamps on them. We don't see that it is the duty of the government to go into active competition with printers. If it furnishes stamped envelopes let it do so at a good profit—Hamilton Times.

Quite right. Why should the Dominion Government go into the envelope-selling business any more than into the novel-selling trade?

Exciting Times in Germany.

Germany is today more excited over her political future than at any time since the empire was formed in 1870. On Emperor William and his advisers is laid the blame for the present extraordinary outbreak of feeling against the German ruler and his coadjutors. Something of a climax was reached last week, according to our cablegrams, when Herr Haussmann, leader of the South Germans, in a speech at Mannheim, reviewed the recent record of the reichstag and the government at Berlin. Herr Haussmann was particularly outspoken in condemning Emperor William's utterances and views political. Satirizing the emperor's divine right speech recently delivered at Coblenz, Herr Haussmann said:

"We are not afraid of a coupe d'etat. German citizens know their strength. Nobody can withstand the will of the nation, neither man, minister nor emperor. Nobody is able to crush that will. German spirits are not controlled by cannons, but by thoughts, and they will be squelched under the picket. Things cannot continue much longer as at present. For the good of Germany there must needs come a change for the better quickly."

It need astonish no one if this outspoken German is clapped in jail for a long period, as one who speaks ill of the emperor! But if it should happen to be the fate of Herr Haussmann to be sent to prison for exercising his right as a freeman, he would find associates there—editors, statesmen, and other leaders of the people who are in jail for simply expressing the conviction that the emperor is not a heavenly ruler, that it is possible for him to err, and that in some respects he is far from being what he ought to be. Were that to be the fate of Herr Haussmann, however, there would still be thousands of Germans outside prison walls ready to take up the position assumed by him. In the Contemporary Review of last month, the writer of "The Revolt of South Germany," a remarkably well informed man, asserts that never since the formation of the empire has the feeling been so strong against Prussia, and hence against the government. "Everybody is in opposition," he says, "and there is a real danger of the refusal of the will of the state by the whole body of organized society." He quotes Prof. Reinhold, of the University of Berlin, hitherto a strong defender of the government, as saying: "The next election in Germany will produce quite unexpected results, unexpected by the Prussian Junkers and the emperor's entourage; the united, almost unanimous, opposition of an angry and indignant people against the authority of the government." The emperor is largely to blame for this condition. His "will-of-the-king-is-the-law-of-the-land" sentiments are not acceptable to South Germany, and he has attached to himself and given the greatest power and privileges to the leaders of the Junker party—"those fossilized feudal nobility whose motto, 'Nobody below the baron' can be considered a human being, has caused them to be hated by every person of intellect in the whole world." The insolence and intolerance of this class pass all description. "They claim a monopoly of all social and political superiority and even an exclusive autocratic power. They deny any rights to the 'non-nobles,' and refuse to acknowledge even their formal right to liberty." Prof. Reinhold writes:

"I happened to be in Heligoland a few years ago, accompanied by a conservative member of the reichstag. I told him I detested the democratic catch-word 'militarism' and the stupid cry of 'Junker and Junker government' as particularly odious and absolutely senseless. A few days afterwards I was introduced to some large proprietors from Mecklenburg and Pomerania. They seemed to be quite charming people. But in the course of our conversation I soon came to learn the meaning of the word Junker. Upon my asking one of these gentlemen how it was they could get away from their estates during harvest time he answered with loud laughter, 'Why, only stupid people work,' and this sentence was applauded by his friends with boisterous hilarity so frequently during the next few days that their company became unbearable to me. This experience came to me like a revelation. I have a great many old school and college friends who live in North Germany and who were formerly known as staunch Conservatives. To my great surprise I had ascertained a short time before my trip to Heligoland, that they had become Advanced Liberals and voted for the Progressist candidates in parliament. I wrote to several of them, and they answered one and all in the same strain: 'In our part of the country it is impossible to vote otherwise: the pride, superciliousness and arrogance of these Junkers are too great; they drive us into the other extreme; a same and moderate Liberalism has become an impossibility in our province."

Thus it is that while many Germans do not indorse the Socialist programme, they are driven into a position of non-resistance to it, so thorough is their detestation of the overweening pretensions of the emperor and so intolerant the conduct of his more recent advisers. Unless the liberties of the German people are respected as they have not been for a considerable time past, Germany will speedily have all the work she can do at home without bothering herself about alliances abroad.

The St. James' Gazette, which is once more raving and uttering all sorts of threats against the United States, is the yellow journal of the British metropolis. It is as vicious in its own way as is the worst of the yellow newspapers of the United States. The better class newspapers in both countries, as well as the reflecting people, are not in favor of the constant use of irritating language against those who may disagree with them on international questions. These disturbers of the peace are not worthy of the countenance of decent people.

A serial poem by James Whitcomb Riley, which he calls "The Rubaiyat of Doc Sifers," will be printed in the November and December numbers of the Century. Mr. Riley has in his characteristic vein described a quaint and lovable Hoosier village doctor, giving anecdotes and descriptions of the doctor's ways and doings from the point of view of an old fellow-townsmen.

Harper's Magazine for October is a capital number, full of good things, literary and pictorial. The paper of note and substance is, of course, Capt. Mahan's analysis of the strategic features of the Gulf of Mexico and the Caribbean Sea, while the fiction tells powerfully with the opening chapters of "McLennan's" "Spanish Jodel" and the beautifully illustrated by Myrbach; but there is the "Great Stone of Sarsaparilla" in which the drawings are unsurpassable, being, as they are, by the Boutet de Monvel of Franklin square, Peter Newell.

Ontario's Finances

The Provincial Government Aided by Its Surplus.Not a Dollar of Taxation Collected by the Administration.Provincial Institutions Maintained Out of Well-Cared-For Resources.

Hon. A. S. Hardy, speaking at Erin, Ont., last week, said: I will take up one other point and then leave the matter to my colleagues, as I see the time is getting on, and this other point relates to the arguments of our opponents, who say that we are face to face with direct taxation. They say it is a platform speech, in their arguments throughout the country; they argued it in the house, that we are face to face with direct taxation, and Mr. Matheson said in the beginning of 1896 that we would have a deficit of $600,000 in that year, and he goes around declaring in his speeches that we had that deficit in 1896. He is the figure man for the opposition at the present time, and he does the calculating, except when Mr. St. John takes a hand in, and then the figures come entirely different. (Hear, hear.) If you don't know Mr. St. John and if he comes here just go a little slow when he calculates. (Loud laughter.) Mr. Matheson's figures I have given you. What are the true facts? I have the figures that are given in the financial statement given out, which are laid upon the desk of each member of the house. When the treasurer makes his financial statement he places it in the hands of Mr. Whitney, Mr. Matheson and Mr. St. John, and every member. And what does this statement show? Our ordinary expenditure for 1896 was $3,415,274, and our ordinary receipts were $3,262,429, making a deficit, instead of $600,000 as stated by Mr. Matheson, of $152,845. (Loud cheers.) That is the statement of the ordinary receipts and expenditures of government. But if you add the expenditure on account of railway grants and other expenditures on account of capital, the gross expenditures amount of $3,705,519, and the receipts to $3,691,171, leaving at the very most a deficit of $14,348 after including all items of whatever description, and yet Mr. Matheson goes around declaring that we are facing a deficit of $600,000. What are you going to do with the gentlemen who make statements like that kind, and which are published every day in the papers and read by men who have not the opportunity of calculating it for themselves? But what becomes of that deficit? We charge it up against

THE SURPLUS, which is shown in this sheet I hold in my hand to be $4,732,552. That is the amount of our credit as the general surplus after 25 years of expenditure. (Cheers.) They cried "direct taxation" 24 years ago, when I first ran for Parliament, and their leading men were in the country and they declared that Mr. Mowat then meant direct taxation within the next five years, and within the next Parliament, and they said, further, that we would have a door tax, a window tax, a watch tax, a horse and carriage and other taxes. There was just as much truth in their statements then as there is now. Messrs. Whitney and Matheson to the contrary notwithstanding. But there is another feature to be considered. They say we must have direct taxation and cannot get along without it. We have got along without it for a quarter of a century. In many of the states they have a land tax. You know that all the taxes which are collected from you go to municipal and school purposes. The Dominion collects its revenue by custom and by excise. Ontario makes no general taxes. (Cheers.) The Liberal party has shown its capacity for government—(cheers)—notwithstanding the declarations of our opponents that we are face to face with direct taxation. All this time it imposes upon the people of this province—(loud cheers)—but has carried about as I have shown you, the government of the province without taxing you, but

GIVING YOU BACK MILLIONS of dollars. Show me another government that has done more and then I will say that we are entitled to no more credit than other governments. (Loud cheers.) We say further, you shall not have direct taxation. (Cheers.) We can see our way to go along without imposing direct taxation or sending the tax collector round to you. (Hear, hear.) What say our opponents? They say we cannot get along without it. That is inevitable, it must come. That is their policy. That is what they mean by it. Hold them in their hands. They mean direct taxation. They say we should not collect timber dues, upon which we got, perhaps, three or four million dollars per annum. Where is the money to come from if not from timber dues of our opponents? They say we should collect no license fee of $300,000 per annum, that is specially appropriated to the maintenance of our asylums, our prisons, our homes for the unfortunate and our system of public institutions. This money goes to support these institutions. They say, "No, you must not collect that." Why? They want to drive us into direct taxation. (Hear, hear.) They know it would be a disaster to the ministry that proposes it, and therefore they have been trying to drive us into direct taxation for years past, but we have FOOLED AND FOILED THEM, and we have got along without taxing you. (Applause.) They think that we have committed a crime because we have not put the tax collector upon you with another column in his book for the collection of so much more. We have not done that. They say "You are living upon your capital in collecting timber dues." They want to judge us by a standard by which they are not prepared to judge their own friends; they want to set up a standard that has been applied in this country anywhere, when they say that we should not apply the revenues from timber. No sound principle has been admitted by any government in the Dominion. The course that was pursued by both governments and by both parties, who agree that the fees collected from timber dues should go into the annual receipts to be applied to the meeting of the annual expenditure. That has been the practice from the dawn of our government, and it is only now that they want to make us believe that we have a deficit by striking out of the annual receipts the fees collected from a glaring and distinct fraud, and no sane man can take any stock in it when he knows what the real truth is. It is a very singular thing that they should set up this standard as against us, knowing several provinces where they do not collect timber dues, and under our conservative rule; Nova Scotia, of which Sir Charles Tupper was prime minister; Manitoba, New Brunswick, every province, and in so far as my knowledge goes every country in the world does the same thing. In order to enable them to show a deficit, they say, "You must not count that in." If you do not take it in, then you have the alternative of the tax collector, and that is their policy.

Albany, Sept. 28.—"Mrs. Evan Maynard," called the clerk of the Supreme Court, in the suit of J. H. Maynard against Linde in Dam to recover damages for alleged malicious prosecution in having caused the arrest of Dane on a charge of arson. The clerk repeated the name again, but he called in vain. Slowly the counsel for the defense rose and said: "Your honor, our principal witness died of grief and a broken heart during the trial of this case. I am sorry to say that she died in the house, that we are face to face with direct taxation, and Mr. Matheson said in the beginning of 1896 that we would have a deficit of $600,000 in that year, and he goes around declaring in his speeches that we had that deficit in 1896. He is the figure man for the opposition at the present time, and he does the calculating, except when Mr. St. John takes a hand in, and then the figures come entirely different. (Hear, hear.) LIFE SAVED.—Mr. James Bryson Cameron writes: "I was confined to my bed with inflammation of the lungs, and was given up by physicians. A neighbor advised me to try Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, stating that his wife had used it for a throat trouble with the best results. Acting on this advice, I procured the medicine, and less than half a bottle cured me. I certainly believed it saved my life. It was with reluctance that I consented to a trial, as I was reduced to such a state that I doubted the power of any remedy to do me any good."

BREAKFAST—Peaches and cream. Crisp bacon and sweet potatoes. Southern corn pone. Coffee.

LUNCHEON—Marooned rarebit. Tomato salad. Banana short-cake. Tea.

DINNER—Corn and tomato soup. Rolled flank steaks, brown gravy. Mashed potatoes. Squash. Grape ice. Tea.

Cut out these recipes and paste them in a scrap-book.

Crisped Bacon and Sweet Potatoes—Take cold steamed sweet potatoes, cut in halves; wrap each half with a thin slice of bacon and fasten with a wood toothpick. Place in a pan and in a hot oven until potatoes are a nice brown and the bacon crisp.

Southern Corn Pone—Mix with cold water into a soft dough one quart of yellow cornmeal, sifted, a teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of butter, melted. Mold into oval cakes with the hands and bake in a very hot oven, in well-grassed pans. To be eaten hot. The crust should be brown.

Banana Shortcake—Into three cups of sifted flour rub two tablespoonfuls of butter; add one-half of a tablespoonful of sugar and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Mix to a soft dough with cold milk and bake in one hour; then cut it in half crosswise, and scoop out the pulp; rub four bananas through a colander, add a half cup of sugar; then stir in one-half of a cupful of thick cream, beaten stiff, and spread between and over the cakes. Serve with sweet cream.

Macaroni Rarebit—Into a frying-pan put one teaspoonful of butter; when hot add one cupful of cold boiled macaroni, cut fine; add one small cupful of grated cheese and two well-beaten eggs. Dust with pepper, cook until set, and serve on toast. If cheese is fresh, add a saltspoonful of salt.

Corn and Tomato Soup—Scald and skin one quart of tomatoes, add one quart of any good stock, one-quarter of a small carrot, one small onion, one bay leaf, one clove, six peppercorns, and, if possible, one tablespoonful of chopped ham. Cook all together very slowly for half an hour, then take from the fire and rub through a fine sieve. Return to the fire and add one tablespoonful of butter rubbed to a paste with two tablespoonfuls of flour; stir until the soup is smooth and slightly thickened, add a large teaspoonful of salt and a cupful of scraped corn; cook ten minutes longer and serve.

Flank Steaks—Purchase two flank steaks and have the butcher season them. Lay on each steak a dressing made of one cupful of bread crumbs, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, a saltspoonful of pepper, a tablespoonful of chopped onion, browned, and a tablespoonful of butter; fasten with strings; when nicely rolled sprinkle with one-half cupful of salt, a dash of pepper, and bake in a hot oven, basting often, for 35 minutes. Place on a hot platter, make a rich brown gravy and pour over them.

Grape Ice—Make a syrup with one and one-half pounds of sugar and one pint of water; bring it to the boiling point and pour it while hot over four pounds of ripe grapes, which have been mashed to a pulp. Let stand over for one hour, then rub through a sieve, add the juice of one lemon and perity is heard everywhere, and it is evident that there has been neither the exaltation of the boom times on the American side of the border, nor the consequent depression that has so long prevailed with us. The cities I have visited so far confirm this impression of reviving prosperity. We stopped over at London about one day, and were deeply impressed with its loveliness. Its wide avenues—lined often with four to six rows of thrifty trees—its pleasant homes, with their ample and carefully kept grounds; its fine system of electric transit, and its general air of prosperity and quiet happiness, combined to make it, in our eyes, after a sojourn of nearly seven years in Chicago, a veritable metropolis of Arcadia. London was just in the throes of its Western Fair, which annually attracts the farmers of Western Ontario. The fair this year surpassed all former years in the excellence of the stock and abundance and quality of fruit exhibited."

Has Traveled Far.

Evangelist Yatman's Experience in Disturbed Lands.

Work Among the Lepers at Hawaii and the Kaffirs of South Africa.

Rev. C. H. Yatman addressed an- other large gathering at the First Methodist Church, last evening, and in the afternoon gave an address at the Auditorium on "Christian experiences."

In the evening the evangelist spoke of his work among the lepers of Hawaii and the Kaffirs of the South African diamond fields. The incidents referred to by Mr. Yatman occurred during his tour around the world, which was begun shortly after his first visit to London. While he was in Honolulu several suspected cases of leprosy were examined. Thirty-one received sentence of banishment to Molokai. Mr. Yatman spoke to them through an interpreter. Banishment to Molokai meant waiting for death, and the agony of the poor victims, saying a last good-bye to their friends, was extreme. Similar Mr. Yatman was allowed into the diamond compounds where the Kaffirs are employed, and preached to them through two interpreters. A particularly pathetic incident referred to by the speaker occurred in the diamond fields. A number of Kaffirs were blown to pieces by dynamite. The injured were taken to the hospital, where Mr. Yatman preached to them and the power of the simple gospel was wonderfully shown.

Mr. Yatman left the city today for Jamaica, Long Island. It is his intention to spend the remainder of the year in the States, but in the spring he is under promise to go to Alaska.

Middlesex Fall Assizes.

Opened Before Chief Justice Armour at the Court House.

Verdict for $400 for Plaintiff for Seduction. No True Bill for Murder Against Mary McGraw—Other Cases Postponed.

The Middlesex fall assizes were opened yesterday at 2 o'clock, Hon. Chief Justice Armour presiding. The scene at the court house presented no new features. The usual groups of men clustered round the main entrance, and ladies almost filled their waiting room. The grand jury arrived early, and awaited instructions at 1:30. The petit jurors, 48 in number, were all present before the opening of the court.

Judge Armour was a little late in arriving, and meanwhile the old court room filled rapidly with spectators. Among the legal luminaries in the court were: J. J. McLaren, Q. C., Toronto, who is conducting the cases for the crown; A. B. Aylesworth, Q. C., Toronto; J. J. McEwen, Parkhill; A. B. Shaunessy, Petrolia; A. Ball, Woodstock; George C. Gibbons, Q. C., E. Meredith, Q. C., James Magee, Q. C., R. K. Cowan (local master in chancery), Talbot Macbeth, I. F. Hellmuth, H. C. Pope, T. H. Furdon, F. Love, George C. Mann, H. Gault, J. Mulken, J. H. Tennent, T. G. Meredith, R. M. C. Tootle, C. H. Ivey, J. Macpherson and many others. Mr. J. Agnew is the court reporter.

The criminal cases are but three in number, but of interest to the residents of London and the surrounding country. They are: Queen vs. Mary McGraw, child-murder; Queen vs. Hodgins, criminal assault; and Queen vs. Francis H. Butler, charged with keeping a common gaming house.

It was 2 o'clock before the judge took his seat on the bench, and Deputy Sheriff Waterworth, the newly appointed collector, opened his first assize court. Col. John Macbeth, clerk of the crown, occupied his accustomed place, and after the roll call the grand jury elected R. W. Jackson, foreman. The judge, in addressing them, outlined the duties devolving upon them. "The cases, enough to say," he said, "are serious in their nature. The first was that of infanticide. If they could not conclude that the accused was guilty of this crime, they could, under the circumstances warranted it, return a true bill against the accused for concealing the birth of the child, which was a very serious matter. The other case was that of a criminal assault. He dwelt upon the seriousness of the crime, and concluded by instructing them regarding their visits to civic and county institutions.

The Dominion Savings and Loan Company vs. Spruel was the first case called. This was an action for the specific performance and sale of a farm in Mono, Dufferin county. Only one witness, Thos. McKim, of Shelburne, was examined, whereupon the judge took the case from the jury and granted the decree, and ordered specific performance with full costs, no defense being entered. Furdon, for plaintiff. Aaron Bell vs. London Furniture Company—This was an action for $1,500 damages for the loss of three fingers in a machine, under the workmen's compensation act for injuries act.
