Members Say Fee System Is Unfair—Motor Day for Orphans.

Motor Day for the inmates of local charitable institutions will be observed in London, some day in June. At a meeting of the London and Western Motor Club, held last night in the Tecumseh House grill, 150 members offered the use of their cars for the occasion, when orphans and invalids will be given an outing. The matter was brought up by Dr. Harry A. Kingsmill and all the members received the suggestion with enthusiasm. The exact date will be decided later.

Dr. Perry Ernest Doolittle, of Toronto, president of the Ontario Motor League, addressed the members on the subjects of the league, its work in the past, its achievements in the good roads movement and its plans for future activity. Local motorists were urged to join the London and Western Motor Club which is affiliated with the Ontario Motor League. An agitation is being carried on to have the Province construct provincial good roads, levying the cost partly on the Province and a whole and partly on the land adjoining the roads.

To Erect Signs.
Dr. Doolittle outlined the history of the good roads movement which was started some years ago by the cyclists and is now chiefly advocated by the motorists. The work of the league in erecting signs and mile posts was dwelt upon. The Government has never erected any sign posts or in any way marked the division of counties and the main roads. More than 1,000 signs will be erected by the Ontario Motor League. Every main cross road

GAS PURIFIER TO REMOVE ALL ODORS

To Build $200,000 Plant to Take Smells Out of Tilbury Product.

SUPERINTENDENT STATES

Frank C. Tomb Says Southern Ontario Company Will Construct It at Port Alma.

The Southern Ontario Gas Company will install a $200,000 purifying plant at its fields at Port Alma, Tilbury district, to purify all the natural gas to be sold in Western Ontario. This plant, according to the announcement of Frank C. Tomb, superintendent of the company's land department, who was in the city for a few hours yesterday, will be in operation next fall.

"In Woodstock," said Mr. Tomb, "we are putting the gas through the old artificial gas plant purifier, and the result is satisfactory. We are selling, at present time, in Woodstock, one hundred per cent. more gas than ever before. In Brantford, where such an objection was made to the sulphur odor, we are putting a portion of the gas through the artificial gas purifier, but owing to the large consumption, are not able to treat it all in this way. Hamilton is also getting a large share of Tilbury gas, which is being used principally for manufacturing purposes. I haven't heard a single kick in that city."

First of Its Kind
"The purifying plant that we will erect at the Tilbury fields will be an innovation in the gas business. It will cost approximately $200,000, and will be the first of its kind in the world. It is the first time that any gas company has ever attempted to purify its product, but it is being done in consequence of the sentiment in some parts of the district."

More than twenty municipalities of considerable size are being supplied from the Tilbury fields at the present time. They include Woodstock, Paris, Galt, Hamilton, St. George, Chatham, Blenheim, Ridgeway, Kingsville, Leamington, Essex, Windsor, Sandwich, Walkerville, Sarnia and Wallaceburg. In addition, a number of villages and many farms are being supplied.

Mr. Tomb characterized as ridiculous the charge that the Tilbury gas has an evil effect on vegetation. In Kingsville alone, he said, one man was paying the company about $80 a month for natural gas to operate his greenhouses.

Says Nothing of Oil Springs.
The land superintendent refused to discuss the company's position as far as the new oil springs gas field is concerned.

He was also silent as to the company's attitude toward London and St. Thomas. It is said that there is a strong prospect that east end manufacturers will take steps to connect up with the company's pipe line which runs by London but a short distance from the city.

The permission of the city council would be necessary in this case.

Interesting Story of Unusual
Country and People Told in Bright Word Pictures.

As previously announced, The Advertiser is presenting to its readers "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose." This latest book, written by Willis J. Abbot, the well-known writer on international subjects, and is the acknowledged reference work of the great waterway. It is a beautiful large book, fully double the dimensions of the usual size novel, printed from new type, bound in tropical red velvet cloth, with the title stamped in gold and inlaid with a beautiful color panel showing the famous Culebra cut. It contains more than 600 magnificent illustrations, which include magnificent water color studies reproduced in full pages in all their natural beautiful colorings.

While the older members of the family will gladly welcome this book, the children should also familiarize themselves with its contents, for it contains valuable knowledge concerning this new little "old" strip of land between the two Americas. It acquaints you with the people of Panama and the canal zone, telling you of their appearance, their dress, their home life, their social life, their industries, their sports and pastimes. This is not only entertaining, but it is highly important information from an educational viewpoint, and should be read by every man, woman and child who is interested in the world's development and progress.

Under unusual conditions this beautiful big book would readily sell for at least $4, but realizing the world-wide interest in the Panama Canal, daily newspapers throughout the United States and Canada are making this great distribution for the benefit of their readers, recognizing the fact that exact knowledge on this timely subject is an essential part of the education of all who would advance. So for a short time this volume will be presented to readers for only six certificates and the small expense amount named therein to cover the expense of distribution. Clip the certificate today. It is printed elsewhere in this issue.

STRICKEN UNEXPECTEDLY

Joseph Cranston, of Lucknow, Died
While Visiting His Nephew.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Lucknow, March 25.—Death came very suddenly to Joseph Cranston, a resident of Lucknow, some time during Tuesday night. He was on a few days' visit to a nephew in Ashfield Township and Wednesday morning was found dead in his bed. He had suffered somewhat from heart trouble for some time, and death was likely due to that cause. Mr. Cranston was about 60 years of age and since the death of his wife several years ago had lived with his brother, Robert, also a widower. Before retiring to Lucknow deceased had lived on a farm in Ashfield Township. Two sons are in the West.

John MacKenzie, aged 19 years, died at his home here today after a short illness which terminated in an affection of the heart. Deceased was the only son of Mrs. (Rev.) E. A. MacKenzie and for the past few months was junior clerk in the Moisons Bank. The funeral will be held at Kinloss Cemetery Friday afternoon.

By means of the simple forms, requisitions are made and filled with amazing promptness, without storehouse overstocks, largely because one of the aims of the system is to keep a two months' stock of materials and supplies in greatest demand on hand in storehouse all the time. Every form is designed to secure, in addition to contributing to the permanent records, the closest kind of control reports over the quantities and cost of supplies and materials for each function of the company's great enterprise. LIVING ON THE ZONE

Employees of the Canal Are Neither Overworked Nor Underpaid and Live Well Generally.

By Willis J. Abbot, Author of "Panama and the Canal in Picture and Prose." Copyright, 1913, Syndicate Publishing Co., New York. All rights reserved.

Probably it was more a desire for experience and adventure than any idea of increased financial returns that led young Jack Maxon to seek a job in the engineering on the canal. Graduated from the engineering department of a state university, with two years or so of active experience in the field, Jack was a fair type of young American—clear, wholesome, healthy, technically trained, ambitious for his future but quite solicitous about the pleasures of the present, as becomes a youth of 23.

The job he obtained seemed at the outset quite ideal. In the states he could earn about $175 a month. The day he took his number on the Canal Zone he began to draw $250 a month. And that $250 was quite as good as $300 at home. To begin with he had no room rent to pay, but was assigned comfortable, if not elegant quarters, which were shared by another man, carefully screened and protected from all insects with netting, lighted by electricity, with a shower bath handy and all janitor or chambermaid service free. Instead of a boarding-house table or a cheap city restaurant he took his meals at a commission hotel at a charge of 30 cents a meal. People say that the fare could not be duplicated in the States for 75 cents, but I prefer to quote that statement rather than to make it on my own authority. By taking two meals a day and making the third of fruit, or a sandwich at a Y. M. C. A. clubhouse, he would cut his restaurant charges to $18 a month; the whole three meals would come to $27.50, so, however voracious his appetite, Bachelor Jack's charges for food are light, and for shelter nothing. Clothing troubles him little; his working clothes of khaki, and several suits of white cotton duck will cost him less than one woollen suit such as he must have "up home." All seasons are alike on the Zone, and there is no need of various types of hats, overcoats and underwear.

All in all, Bachelor Jack thinks he has come in for a good thing. Moreover, he gets a vacation of 42 days on pay, a sick leave of 30 days on pay—and the sanatorium on the island of Taboga being a very pleasant resort, few fall to later slight ailments requiring precisely 30 days' rest—and nine holidays, also with pay.

But a vision of better things opens before him—is always spread out before his enraptured vision. His friend who came down a year or two before him and who is earning only a little bit more money sets a standard of living which arouses new ambitions in Jack's mind. His friend is married. Instead of one room shared with one or more tired engineers subject to grouches, he has a four-room apartment with bath—really a five-room flat, for the broad screened balconies, shaded by vines, form the real living-room. Instead of eating at the crowded, noisy hotels, he has his quiet dining-room, and menus dictated by individual taste instead of by the mechanical methods of a chief of subsistence. Practically everything that can be done for the household by official hands is done free by the commission—free rent, free light, free janitor service, free distilled water, free fuel for cooking—the climate saves that bugbear of married life at home, the annual coal bill. Moreover, the flat or house comes to its tenant free of furniture, a dining table, six dining chairs, a sideboard, a bedroom, mat, two centre tables and three wicker porch chairs.

Housekeepers must buy their own tableware, bed clothes, light furniture and bric-a-brac. But here again the paternal commission comes to the rescue, for these purchases, and all others needed for utility, comfort or beauty, are made at which they can buy Douillon tableware, Irish linen, Swiss and Scandinavian delicatessen, and French products of all sorts. And so Jack looks from his bachelor quarters over toward Married Row, and it looks good to him. Where he at home prudence would compel the consideration of cost. Here the paternal commission puts a premium on matrimony. Very often, so often, indeed, it is almost the rule, Jack returns from his first vacation home with a wife, or else coming alone is followed by the girl, and all goes merry as a marriage bell.

CASE OF BEAUTIFUL FRENCH SLAYER STIRS ALL FRANCE—KEPT IN FAMOUS CELL

Mrs. Henriette Caillaux

The beautiful Mrs. Henriette Caillaux, wife of Joseph Caillaux, whose assassination of Gaston Calmette, editor of Figaro, has stirred all France, is in the cell which, at different times, was occupied by Louise Michel, Theresie Humbert, Mme. Steinheil and Mme. Henrilli.

The slaying of the editor is the culmination, it is said, of one of the greatest love and political dramas in the history of France. Mrs. Caillaux is the second wife of M. Caillaux, who was the French finance minister.

Has Three Cells

Mrs. Caillaux is being showered with attention. She receives a huge bouquet of flowers each day, baskets of fruit and scores of letters. The place in which she is incarcerated is unique. It is an apartment of cells, as it were. One of the cells serves as a bedroom, another as a dining-room and a third as a workroom. All open into the same corridor, which is inclosed by a finely-meshed wire netting.

CLAIMS RIGHTS OF FRENCH ARE BEING TAKEN FROM THEM

Napoleon Champagne, M. P. P., Promises to Start Language Trouble.

BRIBE TO GOVERNMENT

Hints That Satisfactory Handling of Teaching Question Will Make Many Tories.

[Canadian Press.]

Toronto, March 26.—Napoleon Champagne, M. P. P. for East Ottawa promises to break forth in protest against the Government's action in restricting the teaching of French in the schools of Ontario. Mr. Champagne protests that the inherent rights of the French are being taken away and that in no other place in the British empire have they been robbed of their rights as they have been by the Ontario Government.

He points to the fact that in Wales for 600 years they have had a language that is not the English tongue. That in India every tribe had its own language. In South Africa, he said, "The flag was shot to pieces, and it ain't put together again yet. In South Africa the Boers have their own language." Mr. Champagne hints that if this matter is handled to the satisfaction of the French-Canadians, seven-eighths of them will forever be Tory, and that if it is not, there is a possibility that the French-speaking people may make another move to cut away from British connection.

FIELD MARSHAL

Government of the memorandum to Gen. Hubert Gough, commander of the Third Cavalry Brigade in Ireland, which the two generals had been led to believe was approved by the cabinet.

Field Marshal French and Gen. Ewart were joint signatories with Col. Seely, secretary for war, of the two repudiated paragraphs that brought about the proposed resignation yesterday of Col. Seely.

Much comment was aroused today by a conference at the War Office of all the principal commanding generals of the British army, including Field Marshal French, Gen. Ewart, Gen. Sir Horace Lockwood Smith-Dorrien, aide-de-camp general to the King, and Lieut.-Gen. Sir James Moncreiff Grierson, general in command of the eastern district of England, with headquarters in London.

Col. Seely and Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, also had a long conference with Premier Asquith.

Announcement Promised.

Premier Asquith, according to a statement by David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, was to make an announcement, on the adjournment of the House of Commons tonight, on the subject of the reported resignations of Field Marshal French and Adjutant-General Ewart.

A question was asked at the opening of the session by a member, who inquired whether the two generals had resigned. Mr. Lloyd George replied in the absence of the Premier, who had gone to Buckingham Palace to see King George.

The reply of Mr. Lloyd George was taken generally by members as a confirmation of the report that both generals had tendered their resignations. One evening newspaper says definitely that Field Marshal French has resigned, and a news agency adds that Adjutant-General Ewart also has handed in his papers.

Popular Move.

London, March 26.—Premier Asquith was generally conceded today to have regained the support not only of the Liberals, but of the Irish and Labor members of Parliament, by the stand he took in the House of Commons yesterday, in repudiating the guarantee given to the mutinous army officers in Ireland that they might decide whether or not they would serve against the Ulster Unionists.

The Government, however, is not considered as being altogether out of trouble yet. It has still to deal with the army officers under the new conditions established by the Premier's speech. It is believed that as soon as the Government formally withdraws the guarantee given by Col. Seely, secretary for war, and Field Marshal Sir John French, the officers will again resign their commissions, and as one of them said: "This time in earnest."

There is also to be settled the question of what the army council will do.

Will Disrupt Army.

Brig.-Gen. Gough, commander of the Third Cavalry Brigade, in the course of an interview, said:

"If Premier Asquith withdraws the guarantee, he will have to throw over the army council, and the Government will be faced practically with the disruption of the army."

The Liberal press in the provinces, while indorsing what Premier Asquith has already defined, says he must go farther, and actually withdraw the guarantee given to the officers. The newspapers say the Premier must make it quite plain to all officers of the army and navy that they must under all circumstances obey the orders given them.

Many Liberals, "no, think Premier Asquith should have accepted the resignation of Col. Seely, for he always has been suspected of being really more Unionist than Liberal in his sympathies.

Election In June?

The Liverpool Post, a Liberal newspaper, says that the month of June is given as the latest date for a general election. It intimates that, as a result of the intervention of King George, an agreement has been reached by the Unionists and the Liberals, under the terms of which the home rule for Ireland bill and the Welsh disestablishment bill shall be passed, with the understanding that a general election shall follow. The only thing not absolutely settled in the agreement between the parties will be, says the paper, that the plural voting bill also should be passed. The difficulties in regard to a solution of the question at issue over this latter bill are considered as likely to be surmounted.

Was a Black Day.

[Canadian Press.]

London, March 26.—The view of the morning Liberal papers is that although yesterday was the blackest day the Government has experienced in all its existence and in the words of the Daily Chronicle, "It seems as if its life was not worth forty-eight hours purchase," now the air has cleared and the Government is rehabilitated and in a stronger position than ever.

Cardinal Bissetti, appointed grand prior of the Order of the Knights of Malta, an office held by Cardinal Rampolla.

The Chronicle remarks that in the face of the common danger from the Tories and the army combining together, labor is now making common cause with Liberalism and whenever the general election occurs, instead of engaging in fratricidal strife, labor leaders and Liberals will stand shoulder to shoulder in the defence of civil authority and the rights of a free democracy.

Failure of a Plot.

The Daily News, in an editorial says: "It may be that the Curragh incident by which the Opposition hoped to destroy the Government, the Parliament act and popular liberties at one blow, will be found to have been one of the most fortunate episodes for the Government in this prolonged struggle."

The Express asserts that all general officers commanding divisions throughout England are under orders to report at the war office between 11 and 12 o'clock today.

Post Is Dissatisfied.

The Morning Post, still insisting on the existence of a plot and urging the Unionists in Parliament to compel the Government to divulge the nature of the verbal instructions given to General Paget argues that Colonel Seely's real motive and only reason for adding the two clauses to the guarantee given to General Gough was to prevent the disclosure of the plot. The Post believes that Mr. Asquith refused to accept Col. Seely's resignation because Lord Morley was also involved.

According to the Daily Mail, on Tuesday night when the additions to the Gough letter became known, Chancellor Lloyd George threatened to resign unless the War Secretary resigned but when the matter came before the cabinet yesterday it became evident that Col. Seely's action involved Mr. Churchill and Lord Morley and though the cabinet might have survived Col. Seely's retirement it was impossible to lose three ministers without disrupting the cabinet. Hence the Chancellor of the Exchequer withdrew his opposition.

Labor Papers Complicated.

The labor papers are dissatisfied at the official denunciation of the king.

The lobby correspondent of the Daily News says that Colonel Seely added the two offending paragraphs just after he had been in conference with the king at Buckingham Palace.

The Daily Citizen, a labor organ, says that the exoneration of the king by Premier Asquith and Colonel Seely was only to be expected, and adds: "It does not affect the statement we made Tuesday."

GUNS UNNECESSARY HERE

Magistrate Declares "Gats" Are Superfluous in London.

R. L. Frost, one of the contractors on the McCormick factory, charged with pointing a revolver at Charles E. Young, appeared before Magistrate J. C. Judd today. He was found guilty and fined $10 and costs.

Young, in the witness box, swore that he went behind a shanty on the property of the New McCormick building and while there Frost pointed a revolver at him, at the same time yelling, "Get to off this property."

"I pointed the gun at Young, but it was unloaded at the time. As he left the property I loaded the weapon and in a few minutes he came back with Officer Thomas Noonan," said Frost as reply.

In finding Frost guilty Magistrate Judd stated that he thought it was entirely unnecessary for a man to have a gun in his possession in London.

How To Remove Hairs From Chin, Lip or Cheek

(Beauty Culture.)

It is an easy matter to banish every trace of objectionable hair and leave the skin soft and smooth and free from blemish. Just get a small, original package of powdered delatone and with water mix enough paste to cover the hairy surface. Let this remain on the skin for 2 or 3 minutes, then remove, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. No failure will result from this treatment, but be certain it is delatone you get.—adv.

The Raphael Store has secured an enviable reputation for the taste with which its styles of pretty frocks are always selected, while the prices on them are apt to be an astonishing revelation to those who have been having such dresses made, or buying them at other stores.

Delicate chiffons, chiffon taffetas, messalines, crepe de chins, Canton crepes—are some of the materials of which these gowns are developed. There are bouffant and spiral flounce types, and models with frill and ripple flounces, and with "1890" apron tunics. At $10.75, at $16.50 and at $27.50 are very remarkable values in style and distinction, with others, of course, very much higher in price.

LONDON, THURSDAY, MARCH 28.

THE TRANSCONTINENTAL REPORT.

BY THE time Mr. Graham got through with that notorious Transcontinental report Tuesday night it was emphatically a thing of shreds and tatters. It was not worth as a campaign document the $50,000 and more that the Government paid for it, though the commissioners had done their best to earn their money, even to the extent of misrepresentation and falsification. Doubtless the Government realized the fact when it was first submitted to them; otherwise it would not have been necessary to have a garbled condensation of it sent broadcast through the Conservative press bureau before anyone else could get hold of it and expose it. Had they believed in its efficacy as a club to batter the Laurier administration no such picaresque political dodge would have been adopted.

The general tenor of Mr. Graham's criticism has already been indicated in The Advertiser and other Liberal papers, for the proper and legitimate line of attack was clear even after a perusal of its premature abridgement. But the ex-Minister of Railways entered upon all the details, and dissected them minutely. Every item which went to make up that lost forty millions was taken up carefully and its falsity or fallacy clearly demonstrated. Legal and railway authorities were quoted against the commissioners. Even the declarations and acts of the present Government were ranged against them in Mr. Graham's attack. For, after all, while his speech was nominally a defence of the Liberal policy, and a most conclusive one, it was made also the means of a most damaging assault on the commission and the Government which created it.

The object of the Government in appointing the commission was clearly two-fold—to fish for misconduct on the part of the Liberals, and to injure the Transcontinental Railway. To secure the accomplishment of its purpose it selected the members of the commission with good judgment. One member was a Conservative lawyer, a noted partisan, and a man who had been most active in his condemnation of the proposed railway. For the other they borrowed the employee of a rival line, with about as much friendship for the Transcontinental as a rival can have. It did not want the Transcontinental built, and if that could not be prevented, the next best thing was to prevent its being constructed as a first-class road. What was to be expected from two commissioners of this description? Just what we have got, a report full of false statements and fallacious deductions.

The attempt to injure the Liberal party will be a failure, for the commissioners could find no evidences of graft or misappropriation of money. And their severest criticisms only prove that the Liberal Government was building such a road as it had originally proposed, and which was approved by both parliament and the people. The attempt to injure the Transcontinental will have more success, for the report will justify the present Government in degrading the character of the road, and completing it in accordance with a lower and weaker standard. But the most serious and injurious effect is the damage done to the character of the Dominion by the advance publication of a document that reflects not only on the honesty but the business judgment of the Canadian people. The false impression thus conveyed will linger long after the fullest explanations and is the most conclusive proof of the partisan bias of the report. The attempt to hurt the Liberals will fail; the attempt to injure the Transcontinental will only partially succeed, because a large portion of the work was done before its character was changed. The injury to Canada will be more serious and more lasting whether intended or not.

TENNYSON TO THE MINORS?

A RECENT number of the London Nation takes up the cudgels against the memory of Tennyson. Isn't this crusade of Georgian greatness against "mid-Victorianism" going rather far? Tennyson is described by the Nation as "one of the most splendid of minor poets." After all, then, it was only an easy descent to Alfred Austin. The monarch of Victorian poetry is admitted to have been representative of his age, to have voiced its science, its social aspirations, its new theology that did not "empty out the baby with the bath." But it was a silly age that produced Dickens, Darwin, Gladstone, Lord Shaftesbury, General Gordon, Livingston and Lloyd George.

Like his age, Tennyson is accused of being soft-headed, weak in ideas and dealing in slush. This is rather hard on a large part of "In Memoriam" or "The Ode On the Iron Duke" or "Crossing the Bar."

Another charge, generally brought by the apostles of violence, is that the old master is too "safe and sane," as they say in the United States. He expresses very finely a belief in the immortality of the soul which to the initiated may reveal itself as sufficiently advanced, but the expression is ingeniously though simply contrived to satisfy also the common mind. Very likely the politics of Tennyson's later years, especially his jingoism, his insularity, may prejudice a reader of radical opinions against the poetry itself. Certainly women of any independence can find little to respect in Tennyson's general attitude towards their sex, especially when Browning's "Men and Women" is put in contrast. But the great poet who did not keep up with the march of political and social opinion, and who like Milton patronized womanhood, had nevertheless better sides to his head.

The Nation sums him up as one whose "art at its best is founded upon art, not art founded upon life." "The most beautiful line Tennyson ever wrote" is stated to be "The horns of Elfland faintly blowing." That may be a very good sample of Tennyson's "art founded upon art." But here is something that ten men would quote for one that would sigh over Elfland: "Where freedom slowly broadens down From precedent to precedent." This is not "art founded upon art," and there is an immense mass of such fine observation in Tennyson. Even a suffragette might allow the beauty of "Her eyes are homes of silent prayer," which expresses life and with an English accent. Any page of Tennyson will show this power. Minor poets are not the treasure of a nation which sees life glassed in such lines.

Tennyson may not succeed like Browning in vitalizing individual persons, but none the less he gives a transcript of the society in which he lived, its high dream of perfection such as Watts could paint, as well as its scientific activities.

Yes, too much of his age, says the Nation. "The great mass of his work bears its date stamped upon it as obviously almost as a copy of the Times." "But O for the touch of a vanished hand" may be hackneyed enough, but it is not of any particular date. So also "Tis better to have loved and lost, etc."

WORKINGMEN'S COMPENSATION.

AFTER long delays the Ontario Government has at last brought down a measure for compensation to injured workmen based on Sir William Meredith's bill. It has been modified in some details; and these not for the better. But as a movement in the right direction, recognizing a just and humanitarian principle, there is no doubt the Liberals in the Legislature will give it their support. They might desire improvements, but it is better to accept an imperfect measure than to give cause for further delay. We will take what the Government is prepared to give, and trust to time and experience for the necessary reforms.

But if passed, it is very desirable that the new law should come into effect as soon as possible. There has been too much delay already. The time necessary to get the machinery in working order should not be long. The Government has known for some time what was coming. The ministers have known just in what shape the bill would be presented, and in what shape it would be passed. With the overwhelming majority at command the result was a foregone conclusion, even if the Opposition should not assist in its passage. There is no reason why the preliminary organization should not have been so far advanced as to allow the act to come into force promptly after the adjournment of the Assembly.

It does not appear, however, that any such promptness will be shown. The bill as presented to the House left the time of its coming into operation indefinite. It might have been postponed for a year or two. But in moving the second reading the minister announced that he would offer an amendment making the bill effective not later than next January. And he intimated that he might be able to get it started as early as the first of November next. It is not necessary to wait that long. If he had said the first of July that date would not have been too early. Of course, it is easy to see a reason for this delay. It might come very convenient to postpone the act until after an election was held. Thus there would not be time to give it even a partial test or to discover any defects. It would be removed from the sphere of practical discussion, and the Government would claim the credit of having done something for the workingman, before it could be shown whether what had been done was good or bad. They expect that the beneficiaries of the act will willingly agree to six months' further delay if it will provide a little political capital for the Government.

The discouraged and the downcast should recall that everything comes out all right in the last act.

On the Spur of the Moment

The Robin.
The robin is a handsome bird.
And musical forthwith,
But morally he is absurd,
He cannot tell the truth.

I saw one out in my front yard,
And merrily did he sing.
I thought that he sang by the card
And that, at last, 'twas spring.

Somehow I did believe in him,
I took my stormhouse down.
I put up my screens with joyous vim,
For hadn't spring struck town?

I let my furnace fire go out,
I put on B.V.'s
The sort of clothes that reach about
As far down as the knees.

And then the blizzard came along,
The worst I'd ever heard.
I listened for the robin's song,
But couldn't find the bird.

THE LONG AGO.
No voice to call from the room overhead,
"Harry, stop reading and go to bed!"

Blithe is the tale of the merry men,
Near Tunstall Moat in a greenwood glen.
With Lawless, plain to the reader's view,
Planning deeds for his jolly crew.

Scheming priests and daring knights,
Brave attacks and midnight flights,
Lovely lass with the eyes of blue,
Light are the hurts that are borne for you!

Thus I sit, as across the page
Forgotten battles storm and rage.
My Youth stands by and dreams awhile.

Looks at me with a kindly smile;
Looks at the boy of yesterday.
Who sat and read in the old chair,
here.

Read as the clock was rushing around
To bedtime hour, fearing the sound
Of his mother's voice—to hear her say:

"It's getting late, put that book away!"
Oh, years long flown and Youth long sped
Where is the voice from the room overhead?
Still are the words that my mother said:
"Harry, stop reading and go to bed!"

AN ANTI-NOISE CRUSADE.
[The Commercial West.]
The Northern Pacific Railway Company, realizing that unnecessary noise around trains, and particularly sleeping cars, should be "cut out" at night, so as to avoid disturbing the rest and nerves of passengers, has started an anti-noise crusade. Loud talking, ringing of engine bells, sounding of whistles, blowing off of steam, and other noises, are to be avoided or reduced to a minimum, and coupling cars, setting out or picking up cars, etc., is to be controlled by signals and done as silently as possible. Instructions have been sent out from headquarters to trainmen and station agents to hear these facts in mind constantly and reduce all avoidable noise and talk to the lowest limits.

Vernal Ode.
[S. E. Kiser.]
I sing a song of spring;
Oh, happy time,
When everybody wants to rhyme,
And everything
Seems ready to explode with song;
When every brook that flows along
And every bush and every tree
Seems somehow to appeal to me
To let my fancy have full sway.

I sing a song of spring;
Oh, happy days,
When women gaze
At everything
The shopman cleverly displays—
The gowns made in the latest style—
The hats that in a little while
Will be upon the garbage pile:
I sing a song of azure skies,
Of gladness in the lover's eyes
And all that sort of thing
I sing.

Of cooing doves upon the eaves
I try to sing,
But where I sit the breezes bring
The heavy smoke of burning leaves;
My eyes get misty and they smart,
The spring song dies within my heart;
I wheeze, I choke,
It is, alas, no easy thing.
While one is busy breathing smoke,
To sing
Of spring.

IMAGINE IT!

What's this dull town to me?

What was it I wished to see,
What wished to hear?

What made the ball so fine?

What when the play was o'er,
What made my heart so sore?

THE HOROSCOPE

HOROSCOPE.

FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1914.

Let not the skies beguile
E'en though many stars smile.

Astrologers find this a doubtful day and issue the warning to be careful, for while Mercury, Saturn and Jupiter are all in benefic aspect, Mars is in a place strongly evil.

Overbearing persons and those who are determined to lead are believed to be unfortunately governed in such an aspect as today's and they may defeat the kindly aims of men and women who are under the friendly sway of the other planets.

There is a good sign for the dissemination of truth and knowledge. Writers who devote themselves to science or philosophy should benefit greatly by the influences of Mercury. Conversation, lectures and whatever contributes to the enlightenment of the mind are all under the best direction of the stars.

Business matters of every sort begun under this configuration are believed to be most fortunate, granting largeness of view and wise foresight at the same time, promising stability and permanence.

It is an auspicious time for making alterations or changes in offices or shops. Saturn gives success in dealings with plumbers, shoemakers, harnessmakers, miners, masons, potters, gardeners and florists.

This planet culminating in India denotes disgrace to public men and many problems for the British Government. The aspect of Mars is held to presage many warlike demonstrations on the part of foreign powers and difficult diplomatic problems for the United States. The president will suffer from severe criticism, for there is an evil omen connected with Mexico, which is still under a sinister rule of the stars. Much bloodshed is indicated. An aviator will perform a deed of great heroism.

There is a prophecy that from this time on music will occupy a larger place in American life than at any previous time in its history.

Scandals concerning educational matters are presaged. Public schools will undergo drastic reforms, the seers announce.

Persons whose birthdate it is have a favorable augury for the year. They will be especially lucky if they were born when the moon was in the middle of Aquarius. Much joy in the home circle, increase of income and other pleasant things are predicted.

Children born on this day have happy omens. Although they may be quick-tempered, they are likely to be lovable and kind and sympathetic. Boys will rise in their business careers and girls will marry successfully, winning love and kindness.

FOUR RICHEST AMERICAN WOMEN

Three Are Widows and One Was Until Cupid Crept Into Her Life a Second Time.

These are the four richest American women.

The fortune of Mrs. Mary Harriman, widow of E. H. Harriman, is estimated at $175,000,000. That of Mrs. Hetty Green's is believed to be next, amounting to about $100,000,000. Mrs. Margaret Sage, widow of Russell Sage, is a close third, with about $90,000,000. And Mrs. Frederick C. Penfield, who was Mrs. Anne Weightman Walker before her last marriage, is the fourth of the quartet, with a fortune of $80,000,000.

Each of these women, though left with a large sum of money, has shown her ability, not only to increase it, but to spend it wisely.

Each seems to have made it her aim to continue the policies and to carry out the wishes of her husband.

Each seems to possess the remarkable business capabilities which made the husband a giant of the financial world.

Aside from great wealth, all four women possess a remarkable personality which distinguishes them.

All are interested in the workers and the workings of the world; doing something definite to help; contributing largely and consistently to many philanthropies and charities.

"SWEETBRIAR."

A-1, 2 and 3. You should write for full information to the Superintendent of Nurses, St. Joseph's Hospital.

4. Some physicians and beauty folks think that freckles are caused by too much iron in the skin. They usually show most on people with a delicate, thin skin. A simple remedy is to apply buttermilk and lemon juice, diluted in water is also good.

5. Yes, this would be very nice—but as for a style, you must consult a fashion book.

Is This a Book?

Dear Miss Grey: I see in the evening Advertiser where Hazel is inquiring about a doll hospital for her little sister. I am positive that there is a place of this sort in Toronto. I know how her little sister feels, for I have been in the same position often myself. I wonder if it would be too much trouble if I were to ask you a few questions myself?

1. Who is the author of a book called "The Survival of the Fittest?"

2. Do you consider Mrs. Meade's books good? I do, but some people think them light and frivolous. Hoping I have not put you to too much trouble, and hoping Hazel's sister finds her hospital, I remain as ever, yours truly,

"B.A.B.E."

A-1. I do not know of a book of that name, and inquiry at the Public Library or book-shops has failed to elicit any information.

2. Judging from what I have read of Mrs. Meade's books, they make excellent reading for girls.

Thank you for your kind hint re the doll hospital.

A Cheery Letter.

Dear Miss Grey: This is my first attempt to write, and hope I will not take too much of your valuable space. I certainly enjoy reading the woman's page, and it has helped me in many ways. I think the "Old Songs" column just splendid, and I am saving them all, many of them I used to know, but had forgotten the words, and as one of my girls said: "The old songs seem like a story you can't forget." I noticed where a reader asked how to make "pink cake." I use cake coloring. It is a red liquid, and can be bought at any grocery at ten cents per bottle. I often make a ribbon cake by making a light cake, put half the batter in a shallow pan, color the other half pink, and spread over the white part, and bake as any light cake.

Then again, I saw of a reader being

"pested" with hens tearing up the flower beds. I will tell you how I cheated them last year: I got chicken wire, and spread over the bed, fastened it close to the ground with little stakes, and used longer ones to raise it up in the centre. I had lovely dahlias, geraniums, etc., that grew up, and completely covered the wire, but imagine if you can how disappointed the hens were.

Now, Miss Grey, in closing I must congratulate you on the good advice you give the young people. I pity you, too, when I notice how often you answer the same questions. And to think that some people imagine you a man, I would like to know of a man who would answer the same question three hundred days in the year for years.

Dear Miss Grey, I would like to know of a locality where women have such a hard life as the writer of "The Woman on the Farm" pictured them. I think that writer should hunt up an old history, and find when slavery was abolished. I feel sure my country sisters would not change places with our city cousins, even if we could. I will now close, wishing you many happy days in the good old summer time.

I AM ANOTHER FARMER'S WIFE.

P. S.—I would be very glad if sometime you could publish the words of a song entitled, "The Man Behind the Plough." I have forgotten most of the words, but it is a few words in favor of "Us Poor Farmers."

A—It is like a ray of sunlight on a dull day to receive such a letter in the morning mail. And not alone because you said such kind words about the humble self and the woman's page. To be sure, it is absurd to think that a man would have patience to answer all the queries. And it was very merciful for you leave a blank, rather than enumerate the number of years I am to serve in this capacity.

I quite enjoyed your letter all through, particularly that bit about the chicken-wired flower beds.

Hope we may be able to locate the song you ask for.

She Need Not Rise.

Dear Miss Grey: I come to you the first time for advice, hoping you will be able to answer all my questions. Please publish the answers as soon as you can. I take the Morning Advertiser.

I am a business girl. Nearly every day my employer introduces me to one or two of his friends. I am always at my desk and it is very inconvenient to rise every time. Is it absolutely necessary for me to rise every time?

2. What is the meaning of "Peg o' My Heart?"

3. Are Christian Scientists allowed to attend services in any other churches?

4. How do you take an egg shampoo?

5. Do you think a black satin dress and white serge coat will look nice for Easter with a little black hat?

Thanking you very much in anticipation, I am, very sincerely,

MADGE.

A-1. It is not necessary for you to rise at all upon being introduced under the circumstances you mention. Simply acknowledge the introduction by a smile and nod.

2. "Peg o' My Heart" is the name of a popular play in which the little heroine is playfully termed "Peg o' My Heart" by her father. A song of the same name has also been very popular during the last year.

3. Yes, I believe so.

4. Break the egg and vigorously rub it into the scalp, then rub with sufficient soap to make a lather. After shampooing for several minutes, wash with very warm water two or three times until all the egg and soap are removed; rinse then through cooler waters until the last is quite cold.

5. Yes, indeed. This would be very smart and pretty.

The Poor Thing!

Dear Miss Grey: I am a constant reader of your page and find it very interesting. I congratulate you on the work that you are doing, "changing others' troubles." You certainly must have a very large vocabulary to answer such questions that are asked and a very big heart to sympathize with so many. I am very anxious to secure some good remedies for boils. Could you give me the information? If so, I thank you for your trouble. Hoping to see this in print very soon, so as to cure a sufferer, I remain your thankful reader,

BILLIKINS.

Ans.—Poor fellow, my sympathy for you is indeed very real, but alas, I know of no remedy for your affliction. Have you not consulted a doctor? You should do so at once and undergo a course of treatment.

HOW TO CHOOSE YOUR NEW SPRING WALLPAPER

Lady Writer Advises Quiet Designs for Living-Rooms—Oilcloth Papers for Kitchen.

In spite of the growing popularity of tinted rooms, wall paper is still preferred by many home owners, writes Agnes Athol in Pictorial Review Magazine. One reason is a desire for a definite pattern, a less changeable, and a more permanent instinct among those who have made no particular study of pictures and therefore look to their walls to add decoration. It is curious to note, however, the inverse ratio of cost to designs on wall papers. Roughly speaking, the cheaper the grade of the paper, the louder and larger the pattern. As the price mounts, the designs become more dignified, finer in tint and more conservative in every way. We have all wondered why landlords papered our houses with such unforgettable, screaming designs. Here is the answer: It is a matter of cost.

Attractive Designs. Many charming wall papers may be found ranging in price from 16 to 30 cents a roll. Tiny stripes, small flower motifs and soft, indefinite backgrounds are all pleasing; cartridge papers are papers cost about 36 cents a roll, but are durable and satisfactory. Flowered borders for bedrooms add immensely to the effect and may be had for from 3 to 40 cents a yard.

Several of these flowered borders are made to imitate chintz and blend with chintz or cretonne bedroom fittings. On the whole the prettiest wall papers and most fascinating colorings are those intended for the second floor rooms. The variety of individuality and possibility for a good choice equally comprehensive.

There are many wall fabrics. Oilcloth finishes for the kitchen and bathroom are good, and they make splendid linings for dress and storeroom closets. Linoleum is commonly seen applied to dining-room or library panels; but one of my friends used it effectively on the walls and ceilings throughout a seashore bungalow.

Painting on walls the most common, too. Japanese grass-cloth and some of the rich-looking tapestries of silky-surfaced cotton material can be used in the same way.

Neutral tints, such as tans, browns, gray-greens, olive, smoke-grays, whether expressed in paint or paper, will give the most satisfaction in those rooms where we commonly come into contact with those outside the family—the living and dining-rooms. Four methods of obtaining these neutral backgrounds are available—tinting, papering, using a fabric cover, or a wood fibre wall-board, either over plaster or instead of it. The expense of the different methods cannot be compared except for specific cases, because of the wide range in qualities in each medium, and also because of the differing rates for labor in different parts of the country.

If the work is done by professional painters, paperers or carpenters, the labor will approximate twice the cost of the actual materials. The ambitious and energetic family can, however, acquire sufficient information to do the most goodly wall coverings to prepare the walls and do the work without paid help.

To Remove Paper.

Should you have wall papers just now and wish to replace them with paint—one of the flat tone or colour paints will give you the most wear—you can wet down the old paper with a big sponge wrung out of hot water, and with a thin scraping knife get the loosened paper off very easily. The bare plaster must be "sized" before it is painted; that is, covered with a mixture of glue and varnish which any paint dealer will tell you about, in order to stop the pores in the plaster.

The paint will then cover the evenly and go further. If you decide to tint throughout, you may be certain of lovely soft colors in perfect harmony with your hangings and furniture. Those who do not care for absolutely bare painted walls may relieve them with stencilled borders or friezes, which are very easy to apply. Many of the flat, or lustreless, paints can be cleaned safely with a damp cloth; but for rooms like the kitchen, where hard usage is inevitable, an oil or enamel finished paint is better. In most of the rooms it is customary just now to extend the ceiling down fifteen or eighteen inches on the walls, giving it at a moldings below which the border pattern may run. Cream white is preferable to dead white for the ceiling tint.

Remember when filling a cake tin to spread the batter as much to the sides as possible, leaving a slight depression in the center. Then, when the cake is baked, it will be level and more easily loosed.

9884—A Charming Gown (Suitable for Dressy and General Wear)—Costume for Misses and Small Women (With Lining and Chemise, and With or Without Tunic).

This attractive model portrays a lovely combination of embroidered and plain voile in the new blue shade. The lines are youthful and becoming, and the style may be easily adapted to any of the materials now in vogue. The waist has the dip shoulder, lengthened by a sleeve in kimono style, and finished with a wide trimming band, that forms a round collar over the back. The gathered tunic shows a pretty style feature, and is finished with a full circle. This model in linen or lawn with bands of embroidery would be pretty. The pattern is cut in four sizes: 14, 16, 17 and 18 years. It requires 4 yards of 10-inch material for a 16-year size, for waist and tunic, with 2½ yards for the skirt. The skirt measures 1½ yards at lower edge, in a medium size.

THAT IS NEWSTHE CANADIAN LEAGUE HEAD ASKS
FOR MUNICIPAL CENSUS RETURNS

President Fitzgerald Gets Mayors and City Clerks To Swear to Last Population Figures in Order To Secure Class "B" Rating—Harry Brant Sold.

BY JINX.
President Fitzgerald of the Canadian League has written to the mayor and city clerk of every city on the Canadian League circuit in an effort to have them prepare sworn figures of the present population of the cities. The figures will have to be taken from the last municipal census and by this means the Canadian League is endeavoring to ascertain the total population of the league in order to make another application to the National Association of Minor Leagues for Class B rating.

President Fitzgerald is confident that the league will be granted the higher rating if the figures reach the necessary 400,000 mark. The National Association has practically agreed to accept the municipal figures and it is up to the Canadian League owners to see that they are made out and sent in as soon as possible.

In case the next request is turned down a plan has been suggested by Dr. F. C. Reisinger, manager of the London team, whereby the league can have Class B rating this year. An appeal of the decision can be made to the National Association.

DICK IRVINE SCORED
ALL MONARCHS' GOALS

Westerns Easily Beat T. R. and A. A. in Second Game.

SHOWED A LOT OF SPEED

Contest Was Rough and Ready Affair, With Both Teams Offenders—Score Was 9 to 2.

Toronto, March 25.—When the Allan cup trustees barred Dick Irvine, the Winnipeg Monarch centre player, they practically handed the Allan cup to the Regina Victorias. The form he showed tonight against the T. R. and A. A. team was a sample of his regular form. It was the second game for the Victorias and the Monarchs team won, thus making a tie. Nine to two was the score, and Dick Irvine notched every goal for his team. The crowd was considerably smaller than on the first night. There was nothing to tonight's game, but the Monarchs, who replaced the entire line-up, showed a lot of speed and skill. The entire forward line seemed to be on their toes at all times, and when again overhauled in front of their defence, the visitors' defence did not have as much speed as the forwards, but they were both careful play-carriers.

The visitors had everything tonight and are easily the best team in these parts during the last season.

A Rough Affair.
The game was a rough and ready affair and was enlivened by the tripping, hooking and other infringements of the rules. Both teams were offenders and the penalty bench was generally occupied by players who replaced Stuart in goal for the Monarchs, gave an excellent exhibition of goal-tending and frequently earned the applause of the spectators. It was at first expected that the third and deciding game would be played next Saturday, but it was finally decided that the tie should stay the O. H. A. championship holding the cup for the first six months and the Monarchs for the second six months and the tie should stay the O. H. A. championship holding the cup for the first six months and the Monarchs for the second six months.

The teams:
T. R. and A. A.—Goal, Smith; defence, Stevenson and Heffernan; rover, McKenzie; centre, Gordon Meekling; left wing, Harry Meekling; right wing, Brown. Monarchs—Goal, Murray; defence, A. Irvine and Del Irwin; rover, Maxwell; centre, Dick Irvine; left wing, McPhee; right wing, Hay.

Referee—J. B. McArthur.
Judge of Play—O. Bernhardt.

WOODSTOCK FORM TENNIS LEAGUE

Individual prizes will also be given to winning teams. The series will consist of three games. The following teams have signed their intention of playing in the league: College, Collegiate, Y. M. C. A. and the City. Meeting will be held shortly and all necessary arrangements made.

A DAY IN THE SPORTING WORLD

SIDE LIGHTS ON
MANY SPORTSSTALLINGS, EVERS' HELP, HAS PUT THE BOSTON BRAVES ON BASEBALL
MAP—"FASTEST CROWD OF YOUNGSTERS 'VE SEEN," SAYS FULLERTON

[BY HUGH S. FULLERTON.]

Staff Special.
Macon, Ga., March 25.—Boston is the pepper-pot team of the National League. The transformation of a hopeless joke into one of the liveliest, fastest and most dangerous clubs in the country is one of the modern miracles of baseball. I saw the Braves in their second and third practice sessions of the year and attended school in the lecture-room. In twenty years I never have seen so much life, determination and fighting spirit in any team.

There are 27 of them on the grounds, almost everyone young, speedy and ambitious. It is the fastest crowd of youngsters I ever have watched.

This is almost certainly a first-division ball club—and if Stallings has luck in developing pitchers and catchers, it may be a serious pennant contender.

George Stallings, twice canned out of the American League, is demonstrating the fact that he is one of the great leaders of men on and off the field—and this year he has a bunch of boys willing to follow where he leads.

Now, speed and brilliancy at second base and shortstop is two-thirds of the total defensive strength of any team, and the essential of all championship clubs. With Evers and Maranville working together Stallings has speed, brilliancy and Evers' experience of 12 years to help the "Rabbit" develop.

Stallings' methods are interesting. I had the pleasure of going through a full day with his team. All players must be down by 5:30 and at breakfast. At 9:30 school starts.

Then the players dressed and walked or trotted a mile to the grounds, and worked an hour and a half. Then back to lunch, and at 2 o'clock at it again, harder than ever, hustling, trying, watching each other, and LEARNING.

You fellows ought to see the Rabbit and Crab work together. They work as if made for each other. Maranville's style of passing the ball is exactly that of Tinker at his best—just the way that enables Evers to make the pivot throw most rapidly and with least danger of error.

The catching department is not strong. Gowdy and Ben Whalen are the regulars. Gowdy is a big, husky fellow, who has improved greatly. Walter Kenefick is promising. Dick Lewis, an ex-best man prospect, is Fred Tyler, who is a brother of George Tyler, the pitcher.

Stallings knows he must find pitchers, and that finding good pitchers is like finding radiating fire. He has Adolf Luque, the Cuban, and 13 others.

Tyler, with competent catching, is a great left-hander. Of the new men, I fancy Crutcher, greatly. He is in good enough condition to tell something of what he can do, and he shows a lot. Bill James is the fellow Fielder Jones declared would be a marvel—and Stallings thinks the same. Rudolph is likely to develop into a marvel at any minute.

The infield probably will be Charlie Schmidt, at first—a butcher, who can hit for some time and flew into a rage for the coming season. Election of officers resulted as follows: Hon. President, J. C. Cronbie; president, R. J. Coltrane; vice-president, R. F. Neel; manager, G. H. Richardson; secretary, F. S. Gibson; treasurer, P. C. Southern.

New uniforms will be ordered and the team will be open for games as soon as weather conditions are favorable. It is hoped that delegations from the various city baseball clubs will wait on the city fathers with a view of having the diamond at the Athletic grounds put in condition.

great left-hander. Of the new men, I fancy Crutcher, greatly. He is in good enough condition to tell something of what he can do, and he shows a lot. Bill James is the fellow Fielder Jones declared would be a marvel—and Stallings thinks the same. Rudolph is likely to develop into a marvel at any minute.

The infield probably will be Charlie Schmidt, at first—a butcher, who can hit for some time and flew into a rage for the coming season. Election of officers resulted as follows: Hon. President, J. C. JIMMY CLABBY MUST

LIVE AN EXEMPLARY LIFE

Sentence of Three Years in Jail, and $500 Fine Suspended If He Fulfills Certain Terms.

Los Angeles, Cal., March 25.—Jimmy Clabby, the Hammond, Ind., middle-weight fighter, who claims the middle-weight championship, will live a model life for the next three years if he fulfills the terms of an agreement he entered into today. If he fails to live an exemplary life he will be sent to jail for three years and will be forced to pay a fine of $500.

Clabby and his trainer, Arthur McQueen, was sentenced to three years in jail and to pay fines of $500 each, by Police Judge White, for having beaten Charles Laurance, a policeman, in a street fight on January 28. Sentence was suspended by reason of the fact that Clabby agreed to pay Laurance $1,000 damages and live an exemplary life.

According to the probation agreement outlined by Judge White, neither man shall drink, engage in controversy, or visit any place where he may be exposed to temptation for three years. It also is stipulated that neither shall they stay out all night.

DUNLAP'S SHOWING WITH NAPS WILL HARDLY EARN HIM A PLACE

Former London Shortstop Is Not Showing Up Particularly Well With Cleveland Club—Made Three Errors in Recent Practice Game.

[BY JINX.]

It is not likely George Dunlap, the last year shortstop of the London team, will be retained by the Cleveland American League Club, to which club he was sold near the end of last season. According to some stray remarks let out by Manager Birmingham as to Dunlap's showing in practice games, he will not do for fast company just yet. In a game at Atlanta a week ago, Dunlap, who has been playing at short field in all the practice games since Chapman was hurt, made three errors out of six chances. He also failed to get a hit.

Hartford Looks Better.

Birmingham will likely retain three of the four recruits for utility men, and dispatches from the south claim that Wood, Knight and Hartford are all making better showings than Dunlap. H. T. McDaniel, a Cleveland scribe, writing in the Sporting News, has the following to say:

With Turner in Hot Springs, Dunlap has been playing shortstop in the exhibition games, while Hartford has been assigned to duty with the Yankees. Though Manager Birmingham has never dropped a hint as to the makeup of the team, Hartford appears to be the likelier to stick if Joe decides to carry three utility infielders.

Hillyard Doing Well.

Oskee Neale has not yet appeared in any of the games played by the Cleveland A. A. team, the former Toledo A. A. team, but Jack Hilliard, the Peterboro man, is cutting a big swath. Hilliard has been playing the left garden and hitting the ball like a fiend. Against the Boston Braves recently, he made a double in two times at bat, and had a couple of putouts. In another game against the same club he was sent in as a pinch hitter and came across with a nice single which brought in a run.

Killilea With Grand Rapids. Martin Killilea, the former Hamilton infielder, has been signed up by the Grand Rapids team in the Central League and latest reports are that he has nailed the third base position on that club. He has quite recovered from the broken leg he sustained last season in the Canadian League, and the injury does not seem to have affected his work on the bases to any extent. He is clotting the ball in mid-season form also.

WILL DEFEND TITLE IF AT ALL POSSIBLE

Miss Ravenscroft, Champion Golfer, Not Sure of It.

[Canadian Press.] New York, March 26.—Refusing to state positively whether she would return to America to defend her national golf title, because she did not know how conditions were at home, Miss Gladys Ravenscroft sailed on the Carmania yesterday for her home in England in company with Miss Marie Dodd, the champion woman golfer of Great Britain and Canada.

Miss Ravenscroft said she disliked to allow her title to go by default, and if possible to return she would like nothing better than to do so.

TONSILITIS, SORE THROAT, CHEST COLDS CAN BE CURED OVER NIGHT

They Vanish Quickly If Nerviline Is Well Rubbed In.

When the throat tickles, when it hurts to draw a long breath, when you feel as if a knife were stuck in your side, it's time to draw out the congestion that will soon become pneumonia.

An ordinary cough syrup has no chance at all—you require a powerful penetrating liniment.

Probably nothing is known that possesses more merit in such cases than Nerviline. Rub it liberally over the sides and chest—rub it in hard. The warm soothing effect of Nerviline will be apparent in five minutes. Nothing like it for quick relief—takes soreness out of the throat in one rubbing—breaks up the chest cold, draws out the inflammation, stops the cough quickly.

It's amazing the number of uses a good liniment like Nerviline has. No home is complete without it. Neither greasy or bad smelling, but pleasant, penetrating and soothing.

Rub it on for rheumatism—it destroys the pain—drives it right away. Try it for stiff muscles, swollen joints or toothache—it works miracles in just such cases.

Give Nerviline a chance on your neuralgia, prove it out for lumbago, see what it can do for sciatica. No pain relieving remedy compares in power to cure, with Nerviline. Largest sale in Canada of any liniment for nearly forty years. The reason is plain. It satisfies every time. The large 50c family size bottle is more economical than the 25c trial size. Sold by dealers everywhere or the Catarrhzone Company, Kingston, Canada.

FEDERAL LEAGUE WILL BE STRONG ON DISCIPLINE

Stiffer Fines Than in Other Leagues Will Be Automatically Levied on Unruly Players.

New York, March 25.—Before returning to Chicago today President Gilmore, of the Federal League, said he was well pleased with the progress of the Federal League Park in Brooklyn, and said it would surely be finished before the start of the season.

"Also I expect to see Tom Seaton pitch the opening game in Brooklyn," continued Gilmore. "He will positively play for Brooklyn, and I know nothing of any trade being arranged with Chicago."

When asked about the discipline which will be enforced on Federal League diamonds, President Gilmore said the Federal League umpires have been instructed to rule firmly. "We will go even further than the National and American Leagues in preserving discipline. Any player who is ordered out of a game automatically fines himself. If the player fails to pay his fine within 48 hours the player's club will automatically be fined $100."

CAMNITZ TRIES TO GET EVEN WITH PITTSBURG

Has Motion Filed Compelling Barney Dreyfuss to Show All His Players' Contracts.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 25.—Attorneys representing S. H. Camnitz, Federal League agent enjoined temporarily last Monday from interfering with members of the Pittsburgh National League team under the state labor contract law, today filed a motion in Chancery Court here asking that President Dreyfuss be required to produce in court all his players' contracts. The Federal League representatives contend that the complaint held by the Pittsburgh management is indefinite. George P. Whittington, of counsel for Camnitz, tonight declared that the validity of baseball contracts containing the reserve clause would be subject to a rigid legal test if the motion filed today is granted.

BRAMPTON LACROSSE TEAM MAY GO TO VANCOUVER

Brampton, March 25.—The mayor of Brampton, several aldermen and prominent business men took part in a meeting in the City Council Chamber tonight called to discuss the question of raising funds with which to send the Excelsior Lacrosse Club of this town to Vancouver to contest for the Macmillan Cup. NON-UNION MAN WINS AGAINST PLASTERERS

Important Decision Given by Vancouver Court.

[Canadian Press.]

Vancouver, March 25.—Justice Murphy handed down an important decision in the case of a man named Sleuth, against seven union plasterers. Sleuth was a non-unionist and, owing to the action of union men, he was deprived of earning a living. The judge held that the law is clear that a violation of legal right committed knowingly is cause for action.

Combination of two or more persons, said the judge, without justification, to injure any workman by inducing employers not to employ him, is, if it results in damage to him, actionable. Prima facie, combination to interfere with the civil rights of another, whether it be the right to full freedom in disposal of his own labor or his own capital or any other right of citizenship, is an unlawful combination, because such interference, if carried into effect, is actionable.

And wrong and it is this fact, and not any mere malicious motives, which constitute a combination or conspiracy.

Two firemen killed by a falling wall.

[Canadian Press.]

Sioux City, Ia., March 26.—Two firemen were crushed to death under a falling wall and a number of persons narrowly escaped early today when fire burned a quarter of a block containing Frank's Hotel. The damage to several firms burned out was $250,000.

The dead are: Frank Fulton and Cyril Lawton.

THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

Author of "Graustark," "Truxton King," Etc.

Even as he wrote his long, triumphant letter to Hetty Castleton, the picture of Sara Randall enfolded upon his mental vision. He could not drive it out. He thought of her as she had appeared to him early in the spring, through all the varying stages of their growing intimacy; through the interesting days when he vainly tried to translate her matchless beauty by means of wretched pigments; up to this present hour in which she was revealed, and yet not revealed, to him. Her vivid face was always before him, between his eyes and the thin white paper on which he scribbled so eagerly.

His letter to Hetty was not a triumph of skill and diplomacy, achieved after many attempts. He found it hard not to say too much, and quite as difficult not to say too little. He spent hours over this all-important missive. At last it was finished, and he read it over, searching for the slightest flaw; a fatal word or suggestion that might create in her mind some acute suspicion, and yet she would understand that he had wronged everything from Sara's lips. Her secret was his.

There was no mention of Chellis Randall, but once Sara's name used. There was nothing in the letter that could have betrayed their joint secret to the most acute outsider, and yet she would understand that he had wronged everything from Sara's lips. Her secret was his.

before yesterday. I daresay he found matters worse than he suspected, and has been delayed. He has been negotiating the sale of some of his property in Belfast—factory sites, I believe. He is particularly anxious to close the deal before he leaves England. Had to lift a mortgage on the property, however, before he could think of making the sale. I asked him to four thousand pounds to tide him over. Of course, he is eager to make the sale. Good, I almost had to beg him to take the money. Terribly proud and haughty, as the butler would say. He said he wouldn't sleep well until he had returned the filthy lucre. We are looking for him back any hour now. But if he shouldn't be here by Friday, I should advise you to look farther for a father-in-law, Brandon. The Colonel is a bad lot. Estates in the north of Ireland. Poor Leslie. She laughed softly.

BRITAIN CLAIMS $25,000 UNDER TREATY OF GHENT

Washington, D. C., March 25.—Violation of the Treaty of Ghent, which restored peace between Great Britain and the United States, after the war of 1812, is alleged as the basis for a claim for $25,000, pressed today by the British Government before the British-American Pecuniary Claims Commission now in session here.

Miss Elizabeth Caidenhead, a British subject, from Kingston, Ontario, was killed in the streets of Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., by a bullet fired by a man named Brady, an escaping military prisoner. The suit, taken up today, was brought by the British Government in behalf of Miss Caidenhead's heirs.

TWENTY CENT EGGS! HOUSEWIVES HAPPY

Big Local Supply and Importations Have Effect—No Sign of Cheaper Butter.

Eggs took another decided slump on the market on Thursday, and were bought in large quantities as low as 18c and 19c per dozen. Single dozens brought only 20c. The decline in price is due to the large quantities produced in this vicinity, and also to the fact that eggs are being shipped here in quantities from the Southern States. Dealers expect that the low price will continue until Easter.
Butter was rather scarce, and sold at quoted prices.
The market was small and varied. Small quantities of vegetables were offered at unchanged prices.
Potatoes sold for 85c and 90c per bag wholesale, and 85c retail. Demand was slow, on account of the weather.
Apples were offered in fair quantity, and brought 12c and 13c per barrel.
The demand for dressed hogs was very slow, and they sold for 12c. Other meats were scarce and sold at quoted prices.
No maple syrup was offered, although it was expected by buyers.
Oats and wheat were scarce and sold at quoted prices.

Winnipeg, March 25.—The wheat market was dull and very little business was transacted in any department. Winnipeg prices opened 1/4c higher to 1/2c lower and closed unchanged to 1/2c lower. The cash demand for wheat was quiet and no export inquiry, with few offerings on the market.

Cash demand for oats was fair, while there was little or no inquiry for flax. Cash wheat closed unchanged for contract and other grades. Cash flax closed 1/4c higher for three grades.

The total number of cars inspected Tuesday was 206, as compared with 544 last year, and in sight were 290 cars. Cash grain:

OFFERS HERSELF FOR MISSION WORK

Members of Women's Auxiliary Applaud Announcement of One Woman's Desire.

NO CHANGE IN THE RULES

Several Motions in This Regard
Are Lost—Rev. T. B. Clarke
Asks Help for Orphanage.

The annual sessions of the Huron Women's Auxiliary were resumed this morning at 9:30, with Mrs. E. B. Sage in the chair. An announcement read by Mrs. Sage to the effect that since the convention commenced a member of the Women's Auxiliary had offered herself for work in the mission field, was received with enthusiasm.

The presentation of reports was continued. Mrs. Gahan, diocesan editor of The Leaflet (the official organ of the W. A. in Canada), in giving her report urged the need of reading the publication and of gaining all the missionary knowledge possible. This was also emphasized by Miss Moore, who presented the report of the literature committee.

The general board proposed issuing a missionary calendar as a means of dispensing more information. Miss Elliott read the report of the committee for work among non-Christian foreigners.

Changes in Constitution.
Quite a lengthy discussion took place regarding a proposed change in the constitution. A resolution was made to the effect that it would save much trouble to the reports of committees were accepted as read, and the roll call omitted.

An amendment was moved asking that the roll call be continued, and a second amendment was advanced, asking that the roll call be done away with, but reports to be discussed as at present. All three motions were put before the meeting, and lost.

Officers to represent Huron Diocese at the triennial to be held in Vancouver in September, were appointed as follows: Mrs. Sage, Miss Gower, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Gahan, and from the delegates, Mrs. Barrett (Windsor), and Mrs. Warren (Galt), Mrs. Gossard (Aylmer), and Mrs. Craig (London). On behalf of the outside branches of Huron W. A. the retiring corresponding secretary, Mrs. Falls, of London, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of roses by Mrs. Arthur Shore, of Ridgeway.

An Athabasca Visitor.
A visitor at the sessions this morning was Mrs. Weaver, of Vancouver. Athabasca, who, with her husband, has been a missionary of the Anglican Church there for many years. Mrs. Weaver is a former Londoner.

Rev. T. B. Clarke was present and made an appeal to delegates from the country for settings of eggs, and a cow, for the orphanage which he is endeavoring to establish just outside of London. Mr. Clarke's appeal seemed to be received with favor. One of the methods proposed by which his work might be furthered was to collect a mile of coppers from the children of the diocese, each child to send one yard. If this scheme was adopted some six thousand dollars would be raised, it was estimated.

King Gloom.

Square project, and Manager Glauvitz's German jokes were missing.

Gloom With Big "G."
A general atmosphere of gloom hung over the ancient pile, which the best efforts of City Treasurer J. S. Bell, Industrial Commissioner Gordon Philip, Assessment Commissioner Stephen Grant, City Engineer W. N. Ashplant and other officials, try as they might, could not destroy. In the city clerk's office, Assistant City Clerk P. R. Hughes and his assistants pursued their daily vocations in the same old way, and the other city machinery pounded along mournfully in the absence of the chief officers.

Even the acting mayor, Controller J. P. Moore, failed to show up, and Controllers Hubert Ashplant and G. E. Ross, who did not go with the delegation to Ottawa, did not put in an appearance. There were no meetings, no fights, no discussions, and the city hall reporters seized the occasion to renew old friendships and replenish their stock of anecdotes.

No Friday Meeting.
It is unlikely that a meeting of the board of control will be held tomorrow morning, as the Ottawa delegates will not return before noon.

Edward Wilson Dies Suddenly at Home
Succumbs to Heart Affection After Work—Was Well-Known Tailor.

Suddenly, from heart affection, Edward Wilson of the Slater & Wilson tailoring firm, died at his home, 65 Palmer avenue, West London, on Tuesday, after working as usual all day Monday, when he had apparently been enjoying good health. He was 44 years of age, and was born in Yorkshire, England, coming to London some eight years ago.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Sarah Wilson, two sons, Selwyn and Norris, and one daughter, Effie, all at home. The funeral will be held Friday afternoon at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

Services will be conducted by Rev. J. A. Kirtland, of Kensington Methodist Church.

Rebels Repulsed at Gomez Palacio
No Details of Fighting, But Artillery Duel Goes On—Messages Say Villa Has Not Got to Torreón.

[Canadian Press.]
Juarez, Mex., March 25.—At noon an unofficial report was received saying an intermittent artillery duel was carried on at Gomez Palacio during the night. There were no details.

El Paso, Texas, May 25.—That the rebels have taken the offensive at Gomez Palacio, was the assertion made today by Miguel Diebold, inspector of Mexican consulates.

Senator Diebold exhibited messages from Mexico City as his authority for the statement. One message declared the rebels had not approached Torreón proper, but had had their hands full at Gomez Palacio, three miles distant. He asserted that the "Federalists" were about to take the offensive, and that for this purpose a flanking movement was being started.

Accident Victim Was London Man
Remains of Man Killed at Ingersoll Identified as Jerry Fitzpatrick, of This City.

Was a Horse Trader
Established Reputation Here Years Ago—Police Look for Companion.

Jerry Fitzpatrick, of this city, well-known as a horse trader, was the man killed on the Grand Trunk Railway west of Ingersoll Tuesday night, and whose terribly mutilated remains were found Wednesday morning.

Identified today by George Hughes Jr., of 561 Bathurst street.

It was at first believed, from papers in the dead man's pocket, that the man was a relation of a former employee of Mr. Hughes, and a wife was sent to him to go to Ingersoll to identify the body.

The local detective department received a message from Mr. Hughes to the effect that the man was Jerry Fitzpatrick, a former well-known horse trader of this city. Identification was established by a number of trinkets found in the dead man's pockets.

Of late little has been heard of Fitzpatrick, who used to room at Fred Bugler's, corner of York and Thames streets.

According to Ingersoll dispatches Fitzpatrick and a companion, Karl Hodges, left London at 11 o'clock Tuesday night. An effort will likely be made to locate Hodges, that he may testify when the inquest is resumed next Tuesday night.

Chief of Police Williams today learned that the man was supposed to have two sisters living in Detroit and immediately wired the City of the Straits police to ascertain if this was the case. An inquest is held to ascertain just how the man met his death.

Building Operations
West London Booming.
A syndicate acquiring considerable properties on the highland west of the Wharncliffe road and north of Mount Pleasant avenue, but some distance from both streets, has cabled to George A. McGilivray, who is now in England, asking him for prices and terms for a right-of-way to connect its holdings with Mount Pleasant avenue.

Options have recently been taken by another local syndicate composed principally of well-known local men on property owned by R. A. Y. Stinchcombe on the west side of the Wharncliffe road. Every lot on Moyer avenue, a new street which is to be opened up by the Moyer estate on the Moyer property, and running from the Wharncliffe road to Albion street, has already been sold in advance of the commencement of improvements on the property.

Plans Ready.
The great majority of purchasers and most of the syndicates have already building plans ready, and a building boom will open in the course of a few weeks in West London. In addition to the boom in East London and West London, a steady growth of building and real estate activity prevails in South London and in other suburban parts of the city.

Scarcity of Houses.
A careful canvass of the city reveals the fact that houses are unusually scarce in London at the present time. Cottages and centrally located houses at a reasonable rental especially are wanted. Local real estate men say that they could rent any number of houses if they could get them. One firm which deals in rentals mostly, declares it could rent 75 houses inside of three days if it had them. The owner of an apartment-house that he has a list of over fifty for the first vacant one. It seems that notwithstanding the great building activity of late years that the demand is still far larger than the supply for some time to come.

Social Game—Gambling
One Leads Directly to Other, Says Evangelist Brown.

The social game of cards in the home is an opening that leads to gambling, and the social game to a drunkard's life, declared Evangelist John E. Brown, in the Wellington Street Methodist Church last night.

"Daniel" was the subject of his sermon, in which he showed it necessary for man to have the same excellent spirit, as did Daniel, in order to overcome temptation. The sermon was a special address to young men, and there was a large attendance. The Williamson quartette sang several selections during the service.

Benefits of Radicals.

Summarized briefly, the memorial of the Hydro-electric Radicals, read by T. J. Hannigan, emphasized strongly the great benefits that would accrue throughout Western Ontario by the completion of local electric lines or the system of railways other than steam.

The subsidy of $6,400 per mile to such roads, as should be recommended by the hydro-electric commission, was asked for. The names on this memorial included James T. Petrie, president of the Niagara District Hydro-electric Railway Union; W. J. Mooney, president of the Western Ontario Union; J. W. Lyon, of Guelph; I. Carter, G. B. Ryan, J. T. Hannigan, G. Powell, Hamilton; Alex. Simmers and George J. Thorp, all prominent figures in the Niagara and Western branch of the union.

Far-Reaching Effects.
The memorial of the Waterways Union pointed out that the question of the development of the natural route to the ocean is the largest and most far-reaching in its consequences since the inception of the Canadian Pacific Railway. The memorial reviewed the entire waterway problem in Canada. It was signed by the officers of the union, D. B. Detweiler, president; J. W. Lyon, secretary-treasurer; Mayor Graham, of London; W. B. Burgoyne, St. Catharines; Scott, Galt; A. Bauer, Waterloo; G. B. Ryan, Guelph; Alexander Stewart, Guelph; and Controller Thomas Church, of Toronto.

Want Request Refused.
The memorial from the Ontario Municipal and Electrical Association and the Hydro-electric Radial Union urged, in addition to provincial development by the hydro-electric commission, the refusal of the request of the Niagara-Welland Company for a renewal of its charter for the development of power in the Niagara region, as well as the request of all other power companies for similar charters.

Mr. Lyon, president of the Radial Union of Ontario, Mr. Petrie, president of the Niagara District, and W. J. Mooney, presented this memorial along with the officers of the Ontario Municipal Association. J. W. Lyon is president and Phillip Pocock vice-president.

BORDEN NON-COMMITTAL.

Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works, and Hon. Wm. White, minister of finance, were with Premier Borden during the reading of the memorials.

Ovation for Beck.

Hon. Adam Beck was given an enthusiastic ovation. He said he felt he could hardly add anything to what was stated in the memorials. The confidence by the province in distribution of power developed in a manner that would prove profitable and not a drawback to the farming community. It would tap.

Keep People on the Land.
The great problem confronting Ontario today was that of keeping people on the land; keeping the boys and girls there, if possible, to bring back boys and girls.

"We appreciate your grants, but feel something more should be done," he said. "The object is to give motive power to the farmers. The high cost of living is created largely by shortage of supply, the middleman and transportation. If motive power solved the problem of farm labor in Europe, what will it do in Ontario?"

No More Paper Radicals.
"We may proceed without a subsidy, but we must have sympathy. We are tired of paper radicals."

LUCIE—in loving memory of David Lucie, who died at Komoka one year ago today, March 26, 1913.

Then so sad, and O, how sudden
Came the call that took him home,
But we know the Saviour's throne,
So we kneel our Heavenly Father,
In mercy and in love,
To bring him to the last great day
To himself and our father above.

To all of which we wish to emphatically state

FIRST REIGNING QUEEN TO VISIT THE U. S. A

This Distinction to Belong to Eleanore, of Bulgaria, in May.

[Canadian Press.]

Sofia, March 25.—Queen Eleanore of Bulgaria, who some time ago declared her intention of visiting America, today announced that she would depart on her tour from the Bulgarian capital during the third week of May.

She will be the first reigning Queen to visit the United States, and intends to make a study of the institutions and of the people of America.

LONG PRISON TERMS FOR THESE CROOKS

Boston, March 26.—The jury in the so-called "de luxe" book case today returned a verdict of guilty against the three defendants, Glenn F. Farmer and James Powers, of New York, and Samuel Rosenfield, of Chicago. Rosenfield and Farmer were sentenced to state prison, the former for a term of from six to eight years, and the latter for from three to five years. Powers was given two and a half years in the House of Correction.

The men were accused of conspiracy to defraud Mrs. Mary L. Rogers, of this city, and of the larceny from her of $87,087.

How a cut led to 4 years of suffering

Mr. J. E. Arsenault, a Justice of the Peace and station master at Wellington, on the P. E. Ry., says: "Four years ago I fell on a freight truck, sustaining a bad cut on the front of my leg. I thought this would heal, but instead it developed into a bad ulcer, and later into a form of eczema which spread very rapidly and also started on the other leg. Both legs became so swollen and sore that I could only go about my work by having them bandaged."

"I consulted two doctors, and tried all the salves, liniments and lotions I heard of, but instead of getting better I got worse."

How Zam-Buk cured.

"This was my condition when I got my first box of Zam-Buk. Greatly to my delight that first box gave me relief. I continued to apply it to the sores, and day by day they got better. I could see that at last I had got hold of something which would cure me, and in the end it did."

"It is now over a year since Zam-Buk worked a cure in my case, and there has been no return of the eczema."

Purely herbal in composition, Zam-Buk is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose veins, piles, ringworm, inflamed patches, cuts, burns and bruises. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for 60c.

THE DOCTOR SAID "I CAN'T HELP YOU"

Suffered 10 Months with Kidney Complaint—Gin Pills Cured.

Dunvegar, Iverness Co. I am perfectly cured of Kidney complaint after using Gin Pills. Six hours after taking the first Pill I obtained relief, and now after three months I feel as well as ever.

I suffered ten months and the Physician attending me advised me to go to the Victoria Hospital at Halifax, as he could do nothing more for me. I may add that I used a great deal of medicine, and strictly followed my physician's directions regarding diet, etc., but without avail, until providentially I learned of your most excellent remedy. I am recommending Gin Pills. (Signed) LEWIS MACPHERSON.

Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere at 50c. a box—6 for $2.50, or sent direct. Write for sample, free if you mention "this paper."

FOREIGNERS SAFE IN TORREON BATTLE ZONE

Officials at El Paso Know Very Little of Action at the Front.

[Canadian Press.] El Paso, Texas, March 26.—An authoritative telegram received here states that foreigners in the battle zone at Torreon are safe.

Officials here were still without information as to the progress of the action at the front, save for the acknowledged fact that fighting continued at Gomez Palacio. Whether the battle had continued since Monday morning, or was interrupted and then renewed, was not known. A mere cessation of firing was said to account for the premature report that the rebels had taken the town.

Rebels Repulsed.

Washington, March 26.—This message sent from Mexico City last night was received at the embassy here today: "Rebels once more routed and repulsed at Gomez Palacio, with heavy losses while trying to approach Torreon."

A CONSISTORY SOON.

Rome, March 26.—It was tentatively decided today by the Pope to hold a consistory either at the end of April or the beginning of May, unless unforeseen circumstances should intervene. It is assumed that about a dozen cardinals will be appointed.

HIGH CASTE HINDU IS HELD FOR DEPORTATION

Action of U. S. Immigration Authorities Important—Sedition Talk Responsible.

[Canadian Press.] San Francisco, March 26.—Har Dyal, former lecturer on Hindu philosophy at Lehigh Stanford University, was arrested here last night by the immigration authorities, charged with being illegally a resident of the United States. He is held for deportation.

It was said on high authority that Dyal's deportation is desired by the British Government. While in this country, it is alleged, he has advocated sedition in India, and reports received here within a day or so were that an Indian malcontent was arrested with papers from Dyal, urging summary action.

The arrest was made after an address by Dyal at a small hall in Fillmore. Because of his culture, standing and independence means, it is expected to bring the focus of attention regarding Hindus to a focus unclouded by any other issues. He is a high caste Hindu, descended, according to scientists, from the Aryan conquerors of India.

The position of the local immigration authorities regarding Hindus in general is that they are likely to become public charges, even if they have money when they land.

Government Order Invalidated by Court

Belfast, March 25.—The assize court today decided that the Government prohibition of the importation of arms into Ireland was invalid, because the act of union provided that all subjects should have the same privileges in respect to trade. The decision was rendered in an action for damages by a merchant, from whom six cases of arms had been seized.

300 LONDON AND DISTRICT RADIAL-WATERWAYS DELEGATES

Big Representation Leaves City by Special Train to Present Claims to Federal Government—Reinforced En Route by Many Deputations.

More than three hundred Western Ontario men left London last night on special Canadian Pacific and Grand Trunk trains en route to Ottawa, as part of the great waterways-radials deputation that presented its claims before R. L. Borden and his cabinet ministers.

The Canadian Pacific special, which pulled out at 7:40 p.m., with six coaches, and a baggage car, was the official London train. It carried members of the city council, board of trade, board of education and other local representatives, along with delegations from a dozen or so Western Ontario municipalities. The cars were all tagged and the passengers had little trouble in finding their locations for the long night journey to the capital. City Passenger Agent William Fulton was at the station to look after the housing of the delegates, and jumped aboard at the last minute to personally escort the pilgrims.

One Woman Passenger. There were two delegates and little delegates, and they were all filled with optimism. The only lady passenger was Miss Mary Grant, clerk of London Township. Wives of some of the delegates accompanied them to the station, but Miss Grant was the only woman aboard when the whistle screamed a warning blast and the special rolled out of the city.

Dr. H. A. Stevenson, of the water commission, comprised the badge committee, and pinned a shining blue ribbon on each delegate, setting forth that he was from this or that place, but a member of the London contingent. Not all the members of the city council were on hand for the trip, but most of the aldermen were there with their little gripsacks. Prominent among them was Ald. W. A. Wilson, who swore by all that was true and holy that he'd have it out with Col. Sam Hughes or bust a sinner.

A Representative Delegation. The delegation was remarkably representative. It comprised men in all walks of life, and from every branch of civic and semi-private affairs, all working toward the same end. At Woodstock and Guelph additional cars were switched on to accommodate delegates from those cities and their surrounding districts. The London special was given preference over other trains and is expected to arrive at the capital about 8 o'clock this morning.

Many by Grand Trunk. The Grand Trunk special which left London at 7:30 carried more than 150 delegates from the city and many of the surrounding towns. During yesterday afternoon every train into the city from north, south, east and west brought its quota of those who are to represent their respective districts. The London and Huron morning accommodation brought many farmers and residents of the towns along the line, while morning and afternoon trains arriving on the Stratford branch brought city representatives by the dozen. London was the rendezvous.

The special, consisting of a baggage car, day-coach and three Pullman sleepers, was given running orders over all trains, while stops were made at only the principal centres between London and Brantford. Leaving the city at 7:30 the train was timed to arrive at 8 o'clock, Woodstock at 8:15, Paris at 8:45 and Brantford at 9 o'clock. The remainder of the run was made on "no stop" orders, to insure an early arrival at Ottawa.

LIBERAL MEMBERS SHOW THE NEED OF MORE RADIALS

Urge Unanimity of Opinion in Legislature on Advantages of Electric Roads Constructed Under Direction of Hydro Commission.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Parliament Building, Toronto, March 25.—With practical unanimity the benefits of radial railways were discussed in the Legislature this afternoon. The matter was brought up on a resolution by Mr. Marshall (Monck), which set forth that cheap and convenient electric railway transportation facilities was one of the most urgent needs in many rural sections and the towns of the province and that the House should memorialize the Government of Canada to grant aid to radial railways constructed by the municipalities under the direction of the hydro-electric power commission.

Mr. Ellis (Ottawa) moved an amendment eliminating the latter portion and substituting words to the effect that the Legislature urged upon the Dominion Government the importance of the question and the wisdom of encouraging the construction of municipal hydro-electric radial railways, and also the importance of co-operating with the province in developing water power created by existing canals and canals under construction and capable of such development by the utilization of water necessarily supplied thereto and not required for navigation purposes.

Mr. Rowell (Ottawa) moved an amendment between the motion and the amendment except that Mr. Marshall's resolution was more specific. He agreed with Hon. Mr. Foy that the finding of the House would have greater weight with the Dominion Parliament if unanimous and intimated that the Opposition would concur in the resolution as amended by the member for Ottawa.

J. C. Elliott (West Middlesex) could see great improvement in the conditions of farm life when light railways were bringing cheap transportation facilities to the door of the farmer.

CONTINGENT FROM GALT.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Galt, March 25.—Tonight the Galt contingent of the Ottawa delegation which will wait on the Government and urge the deepening of waterways and extension of the hydro-electric lines left for the capital. It comprised Mayor Buchanan, Reeve Edwards and Ald. Taylor, representing the council; Ex-Mayor Scott for the board of trade, and Dr. Dakin and E. B. Fawcett, of the hydro commission.

THREE HUNDRED FROM BERLIN.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Berlin, March 25.—A special train of ten Pullman cars and one day coach, carrying nearly 200 delegates on the great waterways and hydro-radial deputation, pulled out of the Grand Trunk Station at 8 o'clock tonight en route for Ottawa, where the deputation will lay three important matters on hydro-electric radial and Great Lakes waterways development before the Government.

Berlin, Waterloo and immediate vicinity contributed about 60 delegates, including the Berlin city council and members of other public bodies. Stratford, St. Marys and other points west of here sent about 200. D. B. Detweiler, president of the Great Waterways Union, will present the memorial from that organization and T. J. Hannigan and G. P. Hamilton, Guelph, will present the hydro-radials and power memorials.

SIX FROM ST. THOMAS.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, March 25.—Only six members of the city council joined the delegation to Ottawa from here. They were: Mayor Johnson, Ald. Mosher, Morris, Thompson and Hammond. Ald. Roche left earlier in the week for the capital. Several citizens availed themselves of the opportunity to accompany the delegation.

LAMBTON WELL REPRESENTED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Petrolia, March 25.—Twenty-five delegates left this afternoon for Ottawa by special Pullman. The delegates represented: Petrolia, Enniskillen, Oil Springs, Brigidon, Moore and Dawn, while two delegates got on at Wyoming representing Plympton Township.

The delegation is made up of the following: Petrolia—Reeve C. O. Fairbank; also warden of Lambton; Town Engineer C. A. Jones, ex-Mayor E. Pollard, Mayor R. Sturtevant.

Enniskillen—Reeve T. Simpson, Deputy E. Standish, Councillors G. Jackson, J. Jardine, A. Kay; Township Clerk E. Wyant, W. A. Brock, R. Park, G. Pierce, J. McDougall and P. Stewart.

COMPENSATION BILL UNJUST TO PHYSICIANS

President of Ontario Medical Council Shows That Fees Cannot Be Collected.

Ottawa, March 25.—Dr. Max O. Klotz, of Ottawa, president of the Ontario Medical Council, tonight issued a statement attacking the proposed Ontario men's compensation act. In part it reads: "The members of the medical profession of Ontario find, on looking through the provisions of the proposed workmen's compensation act, that they have been entirely overlooked. That can hardly have been an intentional oversight on the part of Sir William Meredith, who drafted the bill, and it is to be hoped that the Government will see that justice is done to the practitioners who are such a necessary factor in all cases of accident.

Under the terms of the proposed bill it is absolutely impossible for the medical attendant to collect any fee except in the event of an employee's death, where such employee leaves no dependents, should the employee die, leaving behind him dependents who include even such distant relatives as the illegitimate grandfathers, aunts and uncles, or illegitimate members of the family participate in whatever sum the board may distribute as compensation. Section 19 of the proposed bill, expressly stipulates "that no sum payable as compensation shall be capable of being assigned, charged or attached, nor shall it pass by operation of law except to a personal representative, nor shall any claim be set off against it."

PNEUMONIA SERUMS SUCCESSFULLY USED

Discoveries Announced From Two Sources in the United States.

[Canadian Press.] New York, March 26.—Discovery of a specific serum for the treatment of lobar pneumonia was announced today by the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research. In a statement sent to physicians, the institute announces that it is prepared to treat patients suffering from the disease in acute form, and that results of experiments indicate the efficiency of the discovery in lowering the mortality from this malady.

Coincidentally, it was announced from Bellevue Hospital that a pneumonia serum, developed in its laboratories, was recently used successfully upon a staff physician of that institution.

DRIVEN FROM HOME, BOY NOW IN JAIL

Exiled Englishman Under Arrest at Detroit, Mich.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Detroit, March 25.—After being expelled from his home in England for falling in love with a servant, Robert S. McKirdy will tomorrow morning be sentenced by Judge Tuttle, under the Mann act, for bringing Margaret Louise Lockridge to Detroit from Wingham, Ontario, for immoral purposes. He pleaded guilty today. A prominent Toronto banker and friend of the young man's father, appealed to the judge for leniency. McKirdy's parents in England are wealthy, it is said. The boy fell in love with the maid, his people objected, and sent him to Canada. There he made good for himself. Leaving Toronto in 1911, McKirdy went to Wingham, and there met the Lockridge woman. They came to Detroit, and lived here a short time. Then they went back to Wingham. Last November they returned to Detroit, and were arrested by the immigration authorities in December. Judge Tuttle will hear more of the boy's life.

SAYS COLONEL SEELY ATTACKED LORD ROBERTS

Dublin Dispatch Says Secretary For War Blamed Veteran Soldier. London, March 26.—The Dublin correspondent of the Times states, on the authority of one who was present at the war office conference, that after General Gough had carried his point, Colonel Seely asked: "What are we to do now for the sake of the army?" General Paget replied: "You may make a scapegoat of me."

Another Dublin dispatch says that Colonel Seely hotly attacked Lord Roberts in the presence of General

Gough and the other officers, exclaiming: "It is all your fault. You are entirely to blame."

GARBAGE CAUSED DEATH

Inspector Finds That Hogs Are Being Fed on Refuse.

That the death of many hogs has been caused by the feeding of garbage, and not through the effects of an epidemic, was the statement made by Inspector Dr. Tennant, who has been making a thorough investigation of the hog cholera scare.

The finding of many droves of hogs infected with hog cholera led to the supposition that a serious epidemic had laid hold of the porkers of Western Ontario and a rigid investigation was started to determine the cause of the disease. Droves found to be affected in West-ster Township were destroyed, and where the disease was found to have obtained a foothold farmers were not allowed to resume the raising of pigs for a period of three months.

A story in circulation to the effect that the importation of hogs from the United States was responsible for the outbreak was denied by Dr. Tennant, who states that the feeding of garbage caused the disease in every case.

PEA CANNERS SAY COPPER IS HARMFUL

Ask the Government to Prohibit Its Use—Delegation at Ottawa.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, March 25.—A delegation of pea canners waited on Hon. Messrs. Nantel and Reid today. They contended that the sale of canned peas containing copper should be prohibited in Canada. Action to this effect has been taken by the United States Government on the ground of a report interpreted to condemn the use of copper salt as being harmful.

A very long discussion took place between the ministers and the delegation, which was led by J. E. Armstrong, M. P. for Lambton.

Dr. McGill, the chief analyst of the department, was also present in order that he might give information concerning the technical side of the question. It was stated at the interview that the report upon which the United States Government based its action had been carefully studied as to detail by the experts of the inland revenue department and that they have not been able to reach the same conclusion, unless copper, as used in coloring vegetables, can be shown to be poisonous. Chemists claim that copper used in coloring vegetables in the proportion of an eighteenth part of a million is not injurious to health. The Canadian adulteration act cannot be read as prohibitive in connection with green peas imported from France and other countries.

In the meantime the delegation was assured that the question was being very carefully studied by the department in order to protect the home industry as well as the consumers.

EUCRE TOURNAMENT PRIZES AWARDED

Trophies of Recent Competition
Presented at Hyman Hall by George S. Gibbons.

The London Liberal Club held a successful and well attended social evening in Hyman Hall last night. Whist, euchre, pedro and other games were played during the earlier part of the evening. A fine musical and literary program was rendered. Those taking part were A. Guymer and G. Guymer, violin solos; Sid Rankin, recitation; Tom Selby, solo; M. Kotch, monologue; Reginald Hodgins, accompanist.

George S. Gibbons presented the prizes won in the recent eucure tournament. The winners were A. M. Ashford, Joe Russell, F. G. Blake, George Miller, C. B. Manness, C. Cooper and G. Plumridge. Mrs. J. M. Ashford, 365 Grey street, wife of the first prize winner of the eucure tournament, won the ladies' limerick contest with the following limerick, entitled "The Snuffragette":

We women want votes, to get them we'll die,
We refuse to continually bake pudding
And pie.
Equal rights with the men
Our slogan has been,
And to prove we have grit we will make a good try.

Friends of Mr. Ashford, whose prize was a gold watch, presented him with a beautiful gold fob during the evening. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

WANTS WORKMEN'S BILL EFFECTIVE SEPTEMBER 1

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, March 25.—The Legislature spent this evening considering the workmen's compensation bill. Mr. Rowell sought to introduce an amendment, bringing the law into force on September 1 next, but this was rejected, as Mr. Lucas thought great harm would be done if the act was proclaimed before the commission was ready to fulfill its provisions.

Dr. McQueen made a point that medical fees should be provided out of the compensation. In many other states $100 was allowed for this purpose. Mr. Rowell said that the essence of any such provision was one of the weaknesses of the Washington act. Mr. Lucas pointed out that any sum earmarked for medical fees, even for first aid services, would have to come off the amount of the workmen's compensation. The act was in its experimental stages, and had better be left as it was in this respect.

A change was admitted from the draft bill, that a workman particularly injured would only receive 55 per cent. of the diminution of his earnings, instead of the amount of his impairment to 55 per cent. of his earning capacity.

SENATOR CHOQUETTE DEFENDS HIS BILL

Says Booksellers and Newspapers Support It—Answers
Senator Dennis.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, March 25.—The debate was resumed in the Senate today by Senator Choquette, of Quebec, on his bill to amend the criminal code by forbidding newspapers to reproduce portraits of persons charged with crime.

In reply to Senator Dennis, of Halifax, who last week made a speech against the bill, saying the bill proposed to heap opprobrium on the heads of the publishers and booksellers of Canada and said there was no demand for Senator Choquette's bill, Senator Choquette read a letter from the secretary of the Retailers' Association, written from Toronto. The letter said that the booksellers of Canada were in favor of the bill. Senator Choquette read a letter from a man "who had been on the Supreme Court bench of Nova Scotia for 23 years," and who approved his bill. From all other parts of the country he had received letters of commendation. Newspapers themselves had expressed themselves in favor of the bill passing.

Papers Giving Approval.
The Acadian Recorder, of Halifax, was one of them, also La Patrie, of Montreal. La Presse, of Montreal, the Ottawa Citizen, L'Action Sociale, of Quebec, had approved of his bill and condemned Senator Dennis' attitude toward it. He regretted the attitude of the Montreal Gazette, but that was the affair of that paper, which was generally sound.

If he proposed, pictures would be published only by the authority of the Provincial Attorney-General of a province and the courts, the picture would mean something. It would then really be taken as the picture of a criminal and the person would be regarded as a criminal. In this way the newspapers would serve a useful purpose, to the cause of justice.

Senator Dennis had said Parliament could do better by enacting a law to prevent immodest spectacles on the stage, the display of posters advertising them and also dealing with women's costumes, especially the slit skirt and the absence of underwear. Senator Choquette agreed as to the stage, but thought it would be a bold man who tried to regulate feminine fashions. He would be running his head against a stone wall.

Would Sew Up the Slit, Too.
However, if Senator Dennis would bring in a bill to forbid the slit skirt or any other fashion tending to immorality, Senator Choquette said he would second the bill. Senator Dennis had talked of "gagging the press." But Senator Choquette declared that there was no proposal to "gag" the press. Senator Choquette declared that the opposition of Senator Dennis to the bill was inspired by material considerations. He strongly insisted that the bill was needed to correct and check the growing tendency toward yellow journalism.

Senator Coffey adjourned the debate.

Change in Roadway Lessens Efficiency

Character of Trans-Continental Practically Ruined—Cost Is Not Excessive.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, March 25.—The Transcontinental debate promises to finish this week and run into next week. Today a speech which had been begun yesterday was finished and two others were completed.

Hon. G. F. Graham in two hours ended the analysis of the report which he commenced the day before with five hours' attention.

It is agreed by both sides that Mr. Graham has done a splendid piece of work. He said that the report of the investigators was an attack upon the integrity of the engineering profession in Canada, that it was an attack upon the executive management of Canada, and that it was an attack upon the people of Canada. "It was announced that Canadians could not manage their own affairs, and that report was one which has seriously affected the credit of Canada in the money markets of the world."

Attack on Capitalization.

The capitalization of the road had been attacked. The reply to this in the first place, was that it was the finest line of rail ever built, costing $54,000 per mile, the western American lines had cost $73,000 per mile, while the Transcontinental, which was of a vastly higher standard, had been built through more difficult country, had cost but $55,000 per mile. The Algoma Central, through a similar region, had cost $152,000 per mile. Mr. Graham estimated the assistance given to the C. P. R. at five hundred million dollars.

Projected as a Level Line.

The road had been projected as a level line. Under Mr. Cochrane, grades had been tolerated, which would practically ruin the character of the road as at first projected. This would diminish its efficiency, great work had been done upon Canada, which had sought the construction of a perfect transportation system across the continent.

In conclusion, Hon. Mr. Graham moved an amendment, accusing on the Government, for accepting and submitting to Parliament a dishonest and misleading report.

The conclusion of Mr. Graham's speech was marked with great applause, Hon. Dr. Beland leading in three cheers for the man from South Renfrew.

Mr. Middleboro Speaks.

The speech from the Government side, which followed, was made by Mr. Middleboro, who did not attempt to reply to Mr. Graham, or a defence of the Gutelius-Staunton agreement. He analyzed the project from its inception in a historical way as being a "stagnant corpse," and actual cost, the reasons for the excess cost and the question of whether the railway would accomplish its purpose.

The speech was regarded by the Conservatives as something rather inadequate to the occasion.

Frank Carvell, for the Liberals, made a close analysis of the manner in which the road had been constructed. He said that Staunton and Gutelius were either dishonest or incompetent, and that in either case the Government was responsible for the report which they had made, and which had been presented to Parliament.

The debate was adjourned by the chief Conservative whip, Mr. Stanfield.

Meeting of Organization in Cronyn Hall.

By a unanimous vote of the assembled delegates to the Women's Auxiliary of Huron Diocese, now convening in Bishop Cronyn Hall, Mrs. (Rev.) G. B. Sage was re-elected president for the ensuing year, during the sessions of the annual conference.

First vice-president, Mrs. De la Hooke; second vice-president, Mrs. Richardson; recording secretary, Miss Taylor; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Bartlett; treasurer, Mrs. Smith; dorcas secretary, Miss Gower; and Miss Gower, treasurer of the Junior branches, Miss Priddis; Zenana secretary-treasurer, Miss Battersby; convener education committee, Mrs. Weller; E. C. D. fund committee, Mrs. Weller; Indian affairs, Mrs. Robinson; non-Christian foreigners' affairs, Miss K. Elliott; nominating committee, Mrs. Chalmers; and Mrs. Lloyd, Port Stanley.

Bishop Congratulates Auxiliary.

Bishop Williams congratulated the Women's Auxiliary upon the wonderful work which had been accomplished since it was collected on Tuesday evening and at last report, it amounted to $1,006.93. This announcement was received with enthusiasm.

"The relation of the W. A. to the Missionary Society of the Church in Canada" formed the subject of a forceful and enlightening address given by Bishop Williams. Step by step he traced the manner in which the mission society had been formed, and the manner in which the Canadian Church Missionary Society, which branched off the parent organization.

"The energies of the church in the mission field were divided. Some branches of the Women's Auxiliary worked for both. The Women's Auxiliary was not definitely connected with either organization, the title it was termed 'auxiliary,' the title was but nominal—it remained practically an independent society, securing its own information about mission societies, exercising its own discretion as to where it should send its missionaries, and so on," said his lordship.

On several occasions after the establishment of the Missionary Society of the Canadian Church, efforts were made to have the two societies work together. Especially after the decision of the Canadian Church to undertake the evangelizing of Honan, in China, the Canadian diocese in Japan, and Kangra, in India, the need of co-operation was felt. It was not, however, until last year that this was effected, but already the benefit of the present arrangement, whereby the Women's Auxiliary assumes the responsibility of work among the women and children in foreign fields, has been felt. Much has been accomplished, his lordship said, through concentration of effort, and co-operation of the two societies. The work was carried on by means of a consultative committee consisting of eight members from the board of management of each organization.

Toronto "Home" Does Good Work.

Following the address by Miss Connell, of the Deaconess Home, Toronto, an interesting report was presented by the convener of the social service committee, Mrs. Gossage. Miss Connell told of the excellent work being carried on by the home in the preparation of deaconesses for work in the mission field or in settlement work. The regular course included a study of theology, medicine, voice culture, physical training and general knowledge necessary for a missionary. In Toronto the student-deaconesses did excellent work in the poorer parishes, held mothers' meetings and worked amongst young business-women. Miss Appleyard, sister of the Rev. W. Appleyard, who is a city and graduated last year, and was now working under Bishop Stringer, at Carcross, in the Yukon.

service committee, one but newly appointed by the W. A. It was recommended that all the branches be advised to investigate conditions of the new comer and non-churchgoer in each parish; that a permanent committee be established in London with representatives in each deanery to devise plans for carrying on this work under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary.

Work in Foreign Quarter.

Mrs. F. P. Batts of this city, president of the junior branch of Memorial Church, told of the work that the girls had been carrying on amongst the foreign children in that parish. Many garments had been made, and little treats provided, and in this way they were becoming acquainted with the new-comers. A good way to get the mothers interested was to hold mothers' meetings once a week, where cooking, sewing and other domestic branches might be taught, and the women influenced to attend church. The report of the social service committee was carried.

Various reports of work undertaken by the W. A. in the diocese occupied the remainder of the afternoon. Mrs. Brown presented that of the Junior branches; Mrs. Edwards the report of the Extra-territorial Fund, and Mrs. Robinson the report on Indian work. The Zenana report was read by Miss Battersby, and that of the Dorcas work by Miss Gower, secretary-treasurer. This latter report contained some most important information. Ninety-one bales, valued at over $9,000, had been sent to various mission stations and hospitals in North-east Canada, and five bales to China containing articles for the lepers and orphans.

A resolution of regret was passed at the decision of Mrs. Falls, corresponding secretary, to retire from her office.

Bishop Occupies Chair.

A throng that filled Cronyn Hall to overflowing greeted Rev. Dr. Tucker and Rev. J. R. Shields Boyd, the two speakers, at the evening meeting. It was an enthusiastic audience, and the inspiring message brought by the speakers was loudly applauded at intervals. The Bishop of Huron occupied the chair and with him on the platform were some of the most prominent clergy in the diocese. The bishop, in his opening remarks, congratulated the auxiliary on the success of the undertaking, and also upon the substantial increase in the missionary giving which had been noticed during the year. They had given almost $9,000, which was within half of the whole amount contributed by the Church Missionary Society itself for the diocese. "The men would have to look to their laurels, he said.

Address by Dr. Tucker.

Dr. Tucker's address took the form of an illuminating account of the great work accomplished by the Edinburgh conference in furthering the cause of missions throughout the world. He himself was a delegate to that conference and was afterwards named as a member of the continuation committee. He later accomplished a great deal in perpetuating the good results of the conference.

The speaker reviewed briefly the conferences which preceded the great conference in Edinburgh. "But the Edinburgh conference came as the climax of all these small conferences," he said. "It was a congress rather than a conference. Every member was delegated by some missionary society. We had from 1,200 to 1,500 delegates and they were not mere members, but had 175 missionary societies behind them."

In most interesting manner some of the good results which followed the conference, including the world tour by John R. Mott in the interests of missions. Its results will be felt for years to come throughout the world, he said.

Address on "China."

"China" was the theme of the address by Rev. Boyd, and he had much first-hand information of interest to give to his hearers. "Christianity is the only power that can hold China today," he said. "Her great need at the present time is great moral leaders, honest men of deep convictions. She is passing through a transition stage today and no prophet can foretell what the outcome will be, but I believe that the nation that was there in the dawn of history has good things ahead of it and is not going to break up just yet."

"We believe God's clock is going and there's a great work being done in China," he said in concluding his remarks. "Certainly there's a great opportunity. Today is China's day. Are we going to miss it?"
