REV. DR. FALCONER UNANIMOUS CHOICE FOR MODERATOR OF GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Rev. Dr. Somerville, of Owen Sound, Withdraws in Favor of Easterner --- Retiring Moderator, Dr. Armstrong, Discusses Home Life and Religion in Schools.

With the great majority of the 400 delegates in attendance, and almost as many Londoners present as interested spectators, the 32nd annual session of the General Assembly of the Canadian Presbyterian Church was opened at 8 o'clock last evening in the First Church, corner of Park and Duf-

The opening proceedings were simple, but none the less impressive, consisting as they did of the singing of the Doxology, a prayer by the retiring moderator, Rev. Dr. Armstrong, of Ottawa, asking for divine guidance for the assembly in its deliberations of the coming week, and the reading of a passage of Scripture.

The gathering was thoroughly representative of the church in Canada. Every presbytery from coast to coast is believed to have its delegate or delegates present to assist in the important work before the assembly. Clergy and laymen alike were thereveterans in the church work, some of 50 years' standing, who have seen Presbyterianism advance steadily from a comparatively small position until it has reached its present large and influential proportions. There were also the younger generation of clergy and lay workers, in addition to the missionaries from the home and foreign field, and the men who are guiding the work at the several Presbyterian colleges throughout the Dominion. Such a religious gathering has not been witnessed in London in many years.

The Election of Moderator.

The event at the opening session of the assembly which always creates the keenest interest among the delegates is the election of a moderator. Dr. Armstrong, one of the pioneer preachers of Ottawa, held the position during the past year with credit to himself and satisfaction to the assembly. Those most prominently mentioned as his successor, for some time past, were Rev. Dr. Falconer, of Pictou, N. S., one of the foremost ministers of the church in the Maritime Provinces, and Rev. Dr. Somerville, of Owen Sound, who as being thorought office of moderator.

In retiring, Dr. Armstrong said he. had attempted to discharge his duties always bearing in mind the welfare of the church, and he felt that in his work he had the good will and confidence of the members. He referred to the death during the past year of Dr. Warden, the treasurer of the church, and a number of others, the list being longer than usual, and he closed "his little modest work," as he expressed it, with "a modest little suggestion"-that the assembly should relieve the new moderator from his pastoral work that he may have a little freedom and be enabled to go about more in the discharge of his duties. A Plea for the East.

Nominations for the office of moderator were then called for, and the name of Rev. Dr. Falconer, of Pictou, N. S., was submitted by Rev. Dr. Scott, editor of the Presbyterian Record, coner as one who was eminently fitted true. Fox, the accused, therefore laid up to Waterloo street. There it is for the position. HUGE FORTUNES IN RICHEST MINES

Diamonds Worth $288,651,280 Dug from the Field in Six Years.

Washington June 5 .- Mr. Gardner F. Williams has become a permanent citizen of Washington, after having served nearly twenty years in South Africa as general manager of the De Beers diamond mines, undoubtedly the most profitable business enterprise in the world, as well as one of the most interesting. While he was in charge, from March, 1889, until July, 1905, they produced $288,651,280 worth of diamonds, and paid in dividends the enormous sum of $171,812,915. The Calumet and Hecla copper mines of Michigan, which are generally supposed to be the nost valuable mineral property in the world, paid $87,850,000 in dividends up Kimberley mines produced diamonds to the value of $246.818.985 under Mr. Williams' management, and the other properties of the company, the Wesselton, produced $23,003,960; the Bultfontein $1,723,555, and the Jagersfontein

Mr. Williams has retired from business, has bought a lot at the corner of R. and Twenty-second streets, and is going to build himself a home there, having selected Washington as the most attractive and satisfactory place to live of all the cities he has seen. He went from California to South Africa in Thos. R. McNair, E. K. Simpson. 1884, to be superintendent of the De Beers mines, and in 1887 became general manager. Since then he has had Williams, succeeded him. The latter was educated at the University of California, went to South Africa in 1898 to become an assistant to his father, and, during the last year, has been in entire

When I asked Mr. Williams "What is a diamond and where did it come from?" he modestly admitted that he did not know. He said that he had handled hundreds of millions of dollars' worth of them, but "after sevento drive a coach and four through the Sparta, W. B. Midford. theories which have been propounded than to find evidence to sustain them. All that can be said is that in some unknown manner carbon, which existed down deep in the internal regions of the earth, was mysteriously changed by some process of nature from its black and uninviting appearance to the most beautiful gem that ever saw the light

"The chemical composition of diaand combustible, but it was not until 1694 that Newton's assumption of its Fingal. combustibility was actually proven; lization of the diamond carbon is still respectively. uncertain. The proofs are most conclusive that the diamonds in the South African mines were not formed in situ, but have been driven up from below by volcanic action. I have been of the Big Party of Londoners Spend Pleasant opinion that diamonds were crystallized in very much the same way as quartz or other minerals, but under peculiar circumstances, possibly of pressure and heat, that gave them their emarkable individuality and beauty. "There are, as I have said, no end of theories to explain how they were made and how they happened to be buried in old volcanic craters. Sir William Crookes concluded that the diamonds found in the South African mines are crystallization of pure carbon in molten masses of iron which form a part of the internal regions of the earth. Another great chemist believes that a diamond is the crystallization of carbonic acid gas reduced to a liquid state by enormous pressure in a subaqueous olcano, while we have another fantastic theory from Meydenbauer, a German chemist, that the diamond came with the fall of meteors, a direct gift from haven. Sir William Crookes does not consider this theory so fantastic as you would suppose. He declares: 'I am bound to say that there are many circumstances which show that the notion of the havens raining diamonds is not impossible.' The Ava meteorite, which fell in Hungary in 1846, contained graphite in cubic crystlline form, which chemists have thought was produced by the transformation of diamonds, and diamonds have actually been found in meteorites in Australia, Russia and in Canyon Diablo, Arizona. "However," said Mr. Williams, "Africa is a fairy land with caverns filled with buried treasures, gold, diamonds, garnets, rubies, sapphires, agates and other gems, buried a thousand feet in the dark recesses of extinct volcanoes."

MASONS AT LAMBETH

Evening There.

About 100 local Masons last night visited Lambeth Lodge, and spent a very pleasant evening. The trip was made via the Southwestern Traction 500 Wiil Study Educational Methods in Company's line, and it just required eleven minutes to make Lambeth. Fifteen minutes was all the time that was taken up on the return trip.

The visit was merely a fraternal one. Worshipful Master Crinklaw, of Lambeth Lodge, made the Londoners welcome, and gave all a good time. Lambeth also elected officers during the Among the local Masons was Dr.

Tancock, D. D. G. M., Dr. W. A. Piper and others General Manager Mower, of the traction company, also took in the trip, and looked after the comforts of the passengers. The ride was a most delightful one, and it was immensely appreciated by all who participated in it. The quick time and the easy-running cars made the trip through one of the most beautiful parts of Middlesex an ideal one. The first car left for Lambeth at 7:40, and the last trolley arrived home about midnight.

Alvinston Family Wants Adoption Papers for Little Ward.

The regular monthly meeting of the Protestant Orphans' Home was held at the home on Monday, the chair being occupied by the president, Mrs. C. McCallum. The devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Ziegler and Mrs. Gregsten. The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and adopted, proving most satisfactory. The visitors reported having found the home clean and in good order, and the children well cared for and healthy. The communications were next subproperty and land will cost in the mitted, one being from a home in Alvinston where one of the home boys has recently been placed on trial, the foster parents expressing entire satisfaction with their little charge, and

Any member of the House who thinks he has been misre ported, or maliciously misrepresented by a newspaper, with respect to some occurrence in the House, is doing his duty by himself and his constituents in calling attent on to the fact, and if the offense is a grave one, disciplining the guilty reporter. In the present case the article written by the representative of La Presse was not by way of reporting the proceedings of the House, but was merely an expression of opinion. Every leader of the Liberal party has had to endure the quietly." treatment from unscrupulous newspapers, but they have been big men, and have suffered in silence. La Presse has said nothing worse of Mr. frid Laurier, or Mr. Tarte, by dozens of Conservative journals in Ontario.

If Mr. Foster was built on a broader gauge he would ignore the whole matter. Newspapers which employ such own? weapons do themselves more injury than the objects of their attacks.

CANADIAN CLUBS.

The suggestions made by James J. Hill at Ottawa and at Winnipeg in his speeches are valuable. Would not the establishment of a Canadian Club in London be a move in the right When James J. Hill spoke In Winnipeg before the Canadian Club he had an audience of twelve hundred, so it is said, comprising the leading business men of the city. KENT'S GOOD FRUIT CROP Splendid Growth of Strawberries, Cherries, and All Kinds of Apples.

Ridgetown, June 5.-We are now in position to give an authoritative forecast of the fruit crops throughout East Kent.

Strawberries-While this early fruit was slightly touched by frost the injury was nil, and the many patches will produce large quantities of these luscious berries, which are the first of our early fruits. The home grown product will be on the market by the latter part of next week. Cherries-The prospects were never better for this fruit. The trees are loaded, and, while the black knot has done some damage, there are still a goodly number of trees left. Apples of all kinds promise well.

especially the Northern Spy, which seems to be the favorite summer apple in the west. There will also be a bumper crop of pears. Plums and peaches, however, have suffered, and the crop in most orchards will be a light one. However, there are some fairly good reports coming in. Berries, currants and small fruits of this nature will be an average yield. Farmers are going in for beans with vengeance, and thousands of acres have gone in during the past two weeks. There will also be a large acreage of corn, for this is one of the main foods for cattle and swine, and

BOILS ALL OVER HIS FACE AND NECK

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS DID FOR HIM WHAT FOUR DOCTORS

FAILED TO DO KREWATIN, ONT., July 28th. 1905. MESERS. THE T. MILBURN Co., LID.,

TORONTO, ONT. DEAR SIRE:—I am writing to let you know what Burdock Blood Bitters has done for me. I am a young man, twenty years old, and a year ago last March I began to feel dull and sick, and was greatly troubled with boils coming out on my face and neck, mostly on the latter. I would no sooner get rid of one than I would have, perhaps, two or three more appear.

I had four footors trying to cure me but they had very little success. They would stop them for a month or six weeks and then they would be as bad as ever again.

Almost every patent medicine, advertised Admest every patent medicine, advertised to cure boils, I could get hold of. I tried, but still without success. At last one day, last spring, someone happened to say; "why not try taking Burdock Blood Bitters for the blood?" I was willing to try anything and immediately sent for a bottle, but at the time was doubtful if it would be of any use. However, I used that bottle and while were However, I used that bottle and while I was taking it I began to feel better, although I still kept having a few boils but not nearly such bad ones. I did not miss any work, while otherwise, I used to miss, sometimes, a week out of every month. I kept on taking the medicine until I had taken six bottles, and needless to say, I was not sorry I did so when I tell you I have not had a boil appear for the past three months. Everybody was surprised when they months. Everybody was surprised when they heard that Burdock Blood Bitters had done for me what four doctors failed to do. PACKERS CLAIM ALL IS CORRECT

Before Congress Deny Story Told by Inspectors.

STOCKYARDS DECLARED CLEAN

Diseased Animals Not Used in Any Way -Putrid Meat Not Packed in Any Form.

Washington, June 6. - The House committee on agriculture today leard the Chicago packers on the eill-Reynolds report regarding conditions in the Chicago packing houses. The statement for the packers was made by Thomas E. Wilson, manager for the Nelson-Morris Company, who said he was an employe of the Nelson-Morris Company, but in this intance was authorized to speak for all the Chicago packers.

Commissioner Neill and Dr. A. D. Melvin, of the department of agriculture, were present. Mr. Wilson made a generous denial of the existence of conditions as set forth in the report. He invited the committee to come to Inicago and spend a week in personal investigation of conditions. Some. of the suggestions made in the report, he said, had already been complied with by the packers, such as additional sanitary facilities.

There was nothing in the charge that canned meats were boiled in water to "freshen them up." Mr. Wilson said canned meat was as good after five years as when it was put up, provided no air got to it. If air had reached the meat it would be utterly spoiled. When the cans were put in hot water it was to sock off the old label, which, he said, was an injury to the appearance of the goods on sale.

He denied absolutely that any diseased cattle or hogs were butchered fer food. In every carload of cattle or hogs he said some were likely to be dead and some diseased. The dead or diseased hogs and cattle were sent to the Standard Rendering Company, which was an entirely different institution from the Standard Slaughtering Company. The rendering comturned the dead and diseased eattle into grease, which was a coproduct in the manufacture of soap.

While Mr. Wilson was describing the method of preparing canned meats. Representative Scott, of Kansas, a member of the committee, asked: "How about the rope and other foreign matter found with the scraps on the floor?"

Mr. Wilson explained that what was probably seen in this instance was the string on the knuckle end of what had been dried before. This string was used with which to hang the beef in the smokehouse, and when the beef had been sliced off the knuckle end was left. The bone in that would smash the machine if an attempt was

"I don't believe Mr. Neill got any statement from any one that they were going to chop these pieces up. If he did, it was from some one who did not know, or he did not get the whole statement."

Representative Hastings asked about the dirty floors.

"These floors," replied Mr. Wilson, "are scrubbed every night as clean as wood can be scrubbed. They are as clean as any kitchen."

Taking up the recommendations of srs. Neill and Reynolds, looking to aprovement of conditions, Mr. said the packers did not object iment regulation of sanitary but that they did object acy of agriculture being I what is sanitary. ry branch of the

He said the packing business would be benefited by the inspection of the different branches from "the hoof to the can." Good inspection is what the packers want, he declared.

In addition to the question of who shall be the judges of sanitation, Mr. Wilson said that the only other suggestions made by the Neill-Reynolds report to which the packers would have any objection is the requirement that the date of canning be placed on all canned articles. He said that would serve no purpose except to in-Jure the canned meat business.

Yesterday the Empress of Ireland essayed her progressive trials, that is to say, trials of speed at different knotages per hour, over a measured mile on runs each were made at twelve, foureen, sixteen and eighteen knots and afterwards four more runs at full power, when a maximum speed of 20 and a quarter knots was attained. Considering that these trials were carried through with one boiler held in reserve it indicates that the Empress of Ireland is fully and adequately equipped as regards horsepower. The fact that the vessel is built to earry 6,500 tons cargo, besides her 1,800 passengers of all classes, must also be taken into account when comparing her speed with that of other trans-Atlantic steamers. Following upon progressive trials the Empress Greenock late last night on a twelve ours' run with the view to testing her consumption at eighteen knots' peed. The passage accomplished was to the Isle of Man and back and was completed about on today, when the

An Ideal All-Around Newspaper.

Probably no other newspaper in the United States can show so brilliant an array of special features suited to the tastes and needs of every member of the family as The Chicago Record-Herald. Its regular daily and Sunday features include the letters of William E. Curtis and Walter Weilman, besides the special dispatches from the great centers. Next in importance comes The Record-Herald's unparal-Winnipeg, June 7.—According to the its own special cables and those of leled foreign news service, embracing ported, and all were sanguine in their passed in scope and accuracy. Among other noteworthy features are its popular sporting page, its sound editorials, Kiser's humorous "Alternating Currents," the lively "Stories of the Street and Town," the railroad and insurance columns, music and drama, society and clubs, daily reviews of the latest books, the continued story, the "Woman Beautiful" department, the daily fashion article, "Meals for a Day," news of the lakes, etc., besides a complete array of local and domestic news-all uniting to give the people of Chicago and the Northwest a complete and interesting all-around newspaper.

The Sunday Magazine of the Record-Herald is an artistic and literary triumph. Famous authors and illustrators, fine paper and presswork, combine to make it the rival of the great independent periodicals and a distinct departure in Sunday journalism.

God has given every vantage ground to parents in family life to train their children into goodness. They have the soul of the child, innocent, before evil has developed or erroneous prejudices preoccupied it, when it is plastic and delicately susceptible to impression, when it is credulous and ready fully and frankly to trust their teaching. They have the opportunity to train it not occasionally, but constantly, while in the Bible the suitable facilities and instrumentalities required to enable them to bring the best impressions to our spirits. They have also the vast vantage ground in the fact that it takes many years for a child to grow into manhood. It would be a great advantage to have our children trained to an intelligent interest in the sacraments.

The Dispute in England.

In England today the whole community is agitated-the very foundations of society quiver-foe meets foe in deadly shock of wordy battle. The dispute is to determine how far religion shall enter into the school system of the land. All that is contemplated is simple instruction in the religion. The introduction of so much religious instruction in our schools would incur little difficulty, and would do much good. In the Protestant schools of Quebec we see a practical solution of the problem. There, for all mediate schools there is provided a which are obligatory unless where exemption is asked in writing by parents.
